Jury Asked To Decide Whether Missing Banker Is Dead

TWO MEN SAY THEY SAW HIM IN OLD MEXICO

WIFE WOULD COLLECT LIFE INSURANCE POLICY

ARGUMENTS UNDERWAY

WOMAN BELIEVES HER HUSBAND IS DEAD LEGALLY

FORT WORTH, Oct. 28. (P)—Is Sidney B. Norwood dead?

If so, did the missing Cleburne banker, whose wife seeks to collect $100,000 insurance on his life, die before the lapse of the policy on October 23, 1928.

Without adding to the testimony of two witnesses that they had seen Norwood—shabby, gray-haired, but alive—in Mexico at two different points in July, 1928, attorneys for the insurance company closed their case this morning and attorneys for Mrs. Norwood rested a few minutes later.

Before closing, the insurance company attorneys read into the record the statement that nearly a score of indictments in the state courts are pending against Norwood in connection with the crash of his bank in addition to five federal indictments.

PLEA OF MEN GIVEN SERIOUS CONSIDERATION

WILL DECIDE WHAT HE WILL DO SOON, HE ANNOUNCES

AUSTIN, Oct. 28. (P)—Governor R. S. Sterling told a delegation of oil men today that he was giving serious thought to a plea of operators in the East Texas field for a special session of the legislature to consider amendments to existing proration laws.

"I will decide definitely what I shall do soon" the governor told newspapermen after his conference with the delegation.

Since a three-judge United States district court declared invalid proration orders effecting proration in the East Texas field issued by the Railroad commission, administrator of conservation laws, there had been clamor for a legislative meeting to make corrections in the statutes.

The court held that the commission had exceeded its authority in fixing the allowable of the field in that it apparently considered "economic waste" while the law under which it acted directed that only "physical waste" be taken into consideration.

Seventy Injured In London Riot

LONDON, Oct. 28 (AP)—Sixty or seventy persons were nursing injuries today in the wake of the riot that raged in Hyde park as the climax of the "hunger army's" march on London.

A dozen of the casualties, three of them policemen, were seriously hurt in the furious melee that transformed the fashionable park into a battleground yesterday and last night.

The signal for warfare was a brick heaved through a postoffice window near the park. The missile was thrown just as 2,000 hunger marchers from all parts of the island marched wearily into the park behind red banners to the tune of "The Red Flag" and similar songs.

The policeman nearest the brick-leaver swung a club, and before many minutes passed, a pandemonium came.

Completely organized to fight in the presence of 100,000 persons that jammed the park, the police charged again and again, especially along the Bridge path west of the Marble Arch.

Each charge provoked a barrage of stones and mud. Even the trees and railings in the park were mutilated by the mob in its desperate effort to gain the upper hand.

But the police prevailed, and slowly but surely cleared the area.

HARVESTERS NOW PRIMED TO UNCOVER SCORING PUNCH

OFFICIALS ARE MAKING FINEST IN SOUTHWEST

BOYS VOW THEY WILL FIGHT AS NEVER BEFORE

A light signal practice was scheduled for this afternoon at Harvester park, when the green and gold clad Harvesters were to polish off a week of intensive training for the annual tilt with the Amarillo Sandies at Butler field Saturday afternoon. The starting whistle is set for 2:30 o'clock.

J. Monroe Sweeney of Mineral Wells, one of the best known football officials in the southwest, has been agreed upon as the referee. Sweeney has never been known to let a game get out of hand. His chief assistant will be the old veteran, Ziggy Sears of Fort Worth, who will be umpire. Bill McMillan of Lubbock has been selected as headlinesman and Frank Kimbrough of Plainview will act in the capacity of field judge.

Never before has such an array of well known officials been gathered to handle a high school football game. Every man has been a football star in his day and each has had years of experience officiating. Fans will not be able to say that one of the other team was officiated out of the game with the officials named for tomorrow's big battle.

Coaches Odus Mitchell and Argus Fox had not decided on their starting line-up this morning. They were still hoping that one or maybe two cripples would be able to start the game by tomorrow afternoon. However, the probable starting line-up will see Patton and Kelley, ends, Fullingim and Walker, tackles, Schmidt and Nelson, guards, Green, center, Hamilton or Turner, quarterback, Stevens and Sullivan, halves, Poole, fullback.

A two-hour session yesterday afternoon on top of one that lasted 3 hours Wednesday took down many rough spots on both offensive and defensive play. The Harvesters are expected to give the smoothest exhibition of the year, win or lose, when they play the Sandies. They will enter the game the underdogs, doped to lose by four touchdowns.

The Sandies hold a lopsided win over the Plainview Bulldogs and a victory over the Canyon college freshmen, while the Harvesters won from Plainview by three touchdowns and lost to the freshmen. The Harvesters played both games with a patched line-up while the Sandies were as full-strength for both games.

"We are going to be battling to the last minute and determined to break the Amarillo tradition of never having lost a game since Butler field was named," Captain Jim Poole declared. "The boys are in better condition than at any time this season and although we are handicapped by injuries, I am sure our substitutes will come through."

"We know our boys, what they can do and how they can fight, and we are not worried about the Harvesters letting us down tomorrow afternoon," Coaches Mitchell and Fox declared. "It is going to be an uphill fight but we have come through with flying colors before and should be able to do it again. The boys will give their best and fight to the limit."

A special train has been ordered to carry fans to the game while others plan to motor. Plenty of seats will be available until 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. Coaches will take the team to Amarillo early tomorrow morning where they will rest before the game.

New Stamp Brings Many Collectors To Post Office

Stamp collectors made a rush on the local postoffice this morning when they learned that a new stamp had been placed on sale. The new issue commemorates the 150th anniversary of the birth of Daniel Webster who was born in 1782. He died in 1852.

The stamp is the same purple color as other issues and is of three-cent denomination. It bears the picture of Daniel Webster but in the opinion of collectors, it does not resemble the well known statesman and orator. The features appear thinner than in other pictures available.

The stamps went on sale when the office opened this morning.

The men halted the couple on a pretext that their car was stalled. When Jones got out to help them, the men flashed "DARROUZETT" (Lipscomb Co.) hand the clothing from the car.

PIGSKIN DOINGS

TODAY'S HARVESTER

The player to take the first prize for pep, energy and fight is Lester Sartin, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Sartin. He plays end and his continuous chatter and ability to "take it" make him a problem. It is almost impossible to keep him out of a game and he relieves Jess Patton regularly. Lester is 18 years old and a junior. He weighs 152 pounds and is playing his second year of football. He is a brother of Walter Sartin, star end of the Harvester squad in 1928-29.

Roy Bourland speaks wise words sometimes. This morning he said a mouthful—"It is not words and ability that win football games, but fight, and I believe those Harvesters of ours have enough to beat the Amarillo Sandies tomorrow afternoon." Roy, for a solid I agree with you. We have a long team of able boys without any outstanding stars and give me such a team any time.

I am going to be all eyes for that scoring punch tomorrow. It has been whispered to me that it has been found at last. It sure was lost good and deep somewhere.

Bowling Scores

The City Bowling league may have eight teams competing before the season is a week older. Two more teams, the Voss Cleaners and the Kiwanis club team No. 2, played last night with the cleaners taking three straight games. The Standard Food and the Faculty may enter teams to compete with the Phillips Jaysees, Texas and Kiwanis No. 1 teams already entered.

The Jaysees and Phillips rolled again last night and the Kiwanis No. 1 and the Texas company also met for the second time to even standing. Results of the games have not been determined, since the handicaps have not been arranged. Roff of the Kiwanis No. 1 was again high series bowler with games of 193, 188 and 213 pins. FAVOR FROGS AND MUSTANGS TO WIN TILTS

MORRISON TRYING TO GET AIR ATTACK TO WORKING

By BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Texas Christian university Frogs will be after their third Southwest conference victory tomorrow. The University of Texas Longhorns will seek their second conference win. The wisecracks of football claim that both teams will realize their ambition.

Texas Christian, boasting a powerful senior team, meets the Baylor university Bears at Fort Worth. The Texas Longhorns, with one of the greatest backfields in history of the conference, entertains Southern Methodist at Austin.

There will be two non-conference games. Texas A. and M. invades Shreveport to play Centenary college. Rice remains at Houston to battle Creighton university. Centenary is favored over the Aggies. Creighton and Rice are scheduled for a toss-up battle.

After a week of scrimmage sessions against the freshmen who used Baylor plays, the Texas Christian huskies tapered off today for their conference battle. The Frogs have stopped Arkansas and Texas A. and M. Coach Francis Schmidt has his cohorts ready, with the exception of Lon Evans, who is nursing a minor injury. He may not start. Richard Oliver, leading conference scorer, is ready to take a few tears through the powerful Baylor line that stopped Texas A. and M. last week and earned a scoreless tie. Baylor is expected to unleash an aerial attack to gain yardage, along with the brilliance of Frank James' punting.

Having tested their aerial defense and found it airtight, the Texas Longhorns are marking time until they can get at Southern Methodist in an effort to avenge a 9 to 7 defeat last year. The Longhorns beat Rice last week and left the game in excellent condition to give the Mustangs a battle this week. They need only a few touches to put them on edge. Having failed to stop the small Centenary backs, little hope is held for the Mustang line that must stop the smashing and ramming of Ernest Koy, Bohn Hilliard and Hank Clewis, and the interference running of Harrison Stafford. In practice this week, the Mustangs appeared to be pessimistic about their chances against Texas, and to make matters worse, Glenn Larimore, star sophomore guard, broke his left ankle in scrimmage Wednesday. Coach Morrison still is trying to get his aerial offense to working, and hopes it will start clicking against Texas.

Creighton university, a team that uses both the Notre Dame shift and the Warner double wing back system, catches the Rice Owls after a big let-down by the Owls following their last week defeat by Texas. Lou Hassell, Rice's 1931 all-conference tackle, has turned in his uniform because of injuries that ended his gridiron career. Ox Hinman, tackle; Fay Lagow, guard, and Kelly Scott, halfback, are not expected to start for Rice because of injuries.

Having failed to score against Texas Christian and Baylor, the Texas Aggies go against one of the strongest Southwest teams tomorrow in the Centenary Gentlemen who have defeated Texas and Southern Methodist of the Southwest conference. Harold Oslin and Ralph Murt, small but elusive Centenary backs, have not been stopped this season. The Aggies are badly crippled with five regulars nursing injuries.

PHILLIPS DECLINES TO MEET DANCIGER IN RUN-OFF

The Faculty and the Danciger Dorcos will play for the City Play-ground championship in a three game series. The Faculty won the first half of the split season and the Dorcos won the second game when the Phillips Oilers defaulted. The play-off game to decide the winner of the second half.

The Oilers claimed they should have won a disputed game from the Faculty last Friday. The score was 5 to 2 in favor of the Faculty at the end of the fifth inning. It came too dark to finish the game before the last man in the sixth inning was out, and at that time Phillips was leading 6 to 5. At a meeting of the league officials and team managers it was agreed that the score should revert back to the fifth inning and the Faculty was declared the winner, which placed Phillips and Danciger in a tie for first place, each team with

Coach Believes His Ponies Will Beat Longhorns

By BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Old John Public, after his usual careful study of the situation, has established the University of Texas as a three touchdown favorite over Southern Methodist university in their Southwest conference game Saturday at Austin. The critics, who are reputed to know their football, agree with John Public. But there is one man who stands alone in the crowd, with sincere confidence that his boys of Southern Methodist will take the Longhorns.—Coach Ray Morrison.

If it doesn't matter that the North Texas Teachers of the Lone Star conference held his Mustangs to a scoreless tie. It doesn't matter that Texas Tech of the Border conference beat the Mustangs, 6 to 6. The Mustangs' 13 to 0 loss to Rice, and their 18 to 7 defeat by Centenary is of no worry to Coach Morrison, nor have these defeats shaken his solid confidence that Next Saturday the Mustangs will beat the Longhorns.

Previous to the Longhorns' victory over Rice, Morrison said: "I'd like to see Texas beat Rice and pull the Owls down even, giving the Mustangs a chance at the title. If Texas beats Rice we'll take the Longhorns the next week."

It has been six days since Morrison made the prophecy. Meanwhile, Texas beat Rice, 18 to 6, and Southern Methodist lost to Centenary, 18 to 7. It simply doesn't matter to Morrison.

Southern Methodist practice field each afternoon, he fires his cohorts thru scrimmage with all the zest possible, and when he turns to talk to a spectator or a sports writer, he says: "We'll give them all a surprise Saturday. We're going to beat Texas, and that will be a laugh for the smart boys to shake off their cleats."

NEGROES, 'VOODOO' GOAL POSTS FOR KENTUCKY TEAM

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 28 (AP)—Some sports enthusiasts use rabbits' feet for luck, but in Kentucky, Voodoo incantations have entered football. Three afternoons this week, six huge negroes, garbed in long white robes and carrying a black coffin, performed weird ceremony on the University of Kentucky playing field.

The Voodoo priests conducted mystic rites near the goal posts, designed to bewitch the goals so Alabama players will be unable to cross them Saturday. The coffin, piled high with flowers, contained the "Alabama Jinx."

Kentucky has been unable to defeat Alabama since 1922. The rites also are intended to cast a spell over the line and keep it inside the coffin until after Saturdays game. Just to make sure, the coffin and jinx will be buried after a huge Kentucky pep rally and funeral procession tonight.

Phillips declined to play the tie and second half was awarded the Dorcos.

The managers of the two teams will get together to decide on the dates and places the games will be played.

Petition to Keep Stagg Is Before University Head

MAY CHANGE BOIT

CHICAGO, Oct. 28 (AP)—Petitions asking the retention of A. A. Stagg as head football coach at the University of Chicago, bearing more than 3,000 signatures, were up for consideration by Pres. Robert Maynard Hutchins, and the board of trustees today.

The petitions were signed by members of the varsity and freshman football squads and various campus organizations. Copies also will be sent to Thomas N. CHICAGO, Oct. 28 (AP)—The Chicago stadium's proposed ten round between Mickey Walker and Ed Levinsky, may turn out to be a meeting of Walker and either Johnny Risko or Max Baer. Jack Kearns, Walker's manager, says his man already has defeated Levinsky, they would rather try it over with Risko, who won the decision over Walker in their last meeting. Baer, whom Walker has not met, also would be acceptable for November.

"HIGHEST TEST"

at the price of ordinary gasoline

Cooler days are here again. But your motor will run with Summer smoothness, if the tank is filled with Phillips 66... the greater gasoline.

Here is a motor fuel with amazing high test. Made so by the skill and resources of the long-trusted Phillips refining organization. Yet sold at the price of ordinary low-price gasoline, because Phillips—the world's largest producer of natural high gravity gasoline—can afford to do so.

Phillips 66 never fails to make your motor do its best, since we scientifically control the volatility of this greater gasoline, increasing its high test as your weather gets colder. The result is split-second starting on freezing days. More power, pep, and mileage every day in the year. But don't expect these results, unless you stop for gasoline only at the Orange and Black 66 shield. That is where you get extra high test without a penny of extra price.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 28 (AP)—Cotton opened quiet but steady. Liverpool cables came in slightly better than due but first trade here showed no change to 3 points down. Some hedge selling near the start was absorbed by moderate trade buying but later in the first hour, prices eased on lack of buying support. December declined to 6.29, and March to 6.46, or 3 to 6 points below yesterday's close.

Near the end of the first hour, trading was very quiet but December contracts had recovered two points from the lows.

The market ruled very quiet all morning as traders seemed disinclined to operate in advance of the general elections and the next government crop report due November 9. There was some hedge-selling which caused December to ease to 6.25 and January to 6.40, or 6 to 10 points down from the early highs and about the same decline as compared with yesterday's close.

Near noon prices moved up 2 to 4 points on moderate trade-buying. A private estimate guessed the crop at 11,455,000 bales which was 15,000 bales more than last month's estimate by the same authority.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 28 (AP)—Steadiness characterized grain values early today. A reason given was that Liverpool wheat quotations showed fair strength, and that cables reported scarcity of nearby deliveries of wheat in Great Britain.

Opening at 1/4 off to 1/2 up, Chicago wheat futures held near afternoon levels.

Jury Charge Is Pointed In Trial Of 4 Donna Men

By WILLIAM S. WHITE
Associated Press Staff Writer
RIO GRANDE CITY, Oct. 28. (AP)—Arguments of counsel in the trial of four Donna residents accused of conspiring to murder three political enemies got under way today and were expected to take some five hours.

Judge Hood Boone read to the jury a somewhat lengthy charge containing two particularly important provisions.

The first stated that it was not necessary, in order to establish a conspiracy, to prove the persons charged "came together and actually agreed in terms to have that design and pursue it by common means if it can be proved they pursued the same objects, using the same means, one performing one part and another a different part with a view to attainment of the same object."

The other was that "mere knowledge of an intention of others is not sufficient to render a person so knowing guilty of crime of conspiracy, but person knowing an intention of others must do or agree to do some positive act" before he could be guilty.

The defendants on trial are W. H. McLellan, L. E. Schultz, E. J. Farnsworth and A. F. Dargel. Walter Van Allen previously had been granted an instructed verdict of acquittal.

The judge instructed the jurors that Ruthven Stokes, Chieny and Luther Lepley, who were among the original eight defendants but were granted immunity for testifying for the prosecution were accomplices in the eyes of the law and their testimony valueless to the state unless it was corroborated, in the opinion of the jury, by other testimony.

The court also instructed the jury that if it concluded Dan Singletary was an accomplice, his testimony, to have weight, must be considered true and also must have been corroborated, in the jury's mind.

Singletary had testified he had acted as a go-between for the alleged plotters, but at the same time warning the men described as the intended victims—Walter Weaver, counsel for the Donna irrigation district; Harry Ridgway, manager of the district, and T. W. Hooks, Weaver's political and business associate.

FORT WORTH, Oct. 28 (AP)—A mysterious explosion, heard for miles, wrecked a two-story brick residence early today.

The other picture, which has been in the family of Mrs. O. H. Both for more than 80 years, is the First Prayer. It shows a plump, full-faced child with large innocent eyes, chubby hands pressed with palms together, saying the familiar prayer of childhood: "Now I lay me down to sleep, I pray the Lord my soul to keep; If I should die before I wake, I pray the Lord my soul to take." It also is a product of Currier & Ives.

A facsimile of Robert Burns' Tam O'Shanter, showing the sketchy but easily legible penmanship of the bard, is another entry.

Tech Will Meet Ramblers Tonight

LUBBOCK, Oct. 28 (AP)—Eight thousand football fans are expected to gather at Matador field tonight when the Tech Tech eleven meets the Notre Dame B team in one of West Texas' gridiron features this season.

The Notre Dame squad, 25 strong, picked from a squad of 140 eligibles after Coach Hunk Anderson had chosen 35 players to stand off Pittsburgh tomorrow, arrived here last night under the direction of George Kozak, regular tackler last year and assistant coach now.

The game has attracted several hundred fans from all over west Texas including points as far as Wichita Falls and Fort Worth.

The game is the eighth on Tech's schedule of twelve games this season and the Matadors will be seeking their seventh victory.

LUBBOCK, Oct. 28 (AP)—Although 21 year old H. C. Blanton's alibi that he was not in Lubbock October 15, when two M-System executives were held up and Robert Tharp was wounded fatally, was strengthened in court of inquiry, the grocery employees and customers who identified him as the gunman in both robberies have not changed their expressed opinion, two investigators said here this morning.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

General Topic: The Christian and the Law Observation (World's Temperance Sunday).

Scripture Lesson: Rom. 13:1-7; Gal. 6:7-10.

Introduction

There is a difference between law observance and law enforcement. There is also a difference between a true Christian and a person who has never accepted Jesus as Saviour and Lord. Law observance is the voluntary act of the citizen who out of loyalty and good common sense meets the requirements of the law. Law enforcement is an act of the constituted authority by which unwilling citizens are compelled to meet the requirements of law.

Remember that prohibition was adopted after a century of struggle for it, during which the friends and foes of liquor fought ardently for every foot of territory, and during which every possible scheme of liquor control was tried. The experiences of the nation led to the adoption of the Eighteenth Amendment, and by the largest majority ever given for any part of our present constitution.

Obedience to Law, v. 1. "Let every soul be in subjection to the higher powers." That is, to the ruling authorities of the state. There was so much in Christianity that was opposed to the wicked sway of Rome that without this rule of obedience the Christians would have felt themselves urged constantly to revolution and revolt, and the church, in contests with the civil powers, would soon have been destroyed. The time for that contest was in the future. It was just like the matter of human slavery. The early church was far too weak to abolish that iniquitous institution, but it planted and nurtured on earth a spirit which was ultimately to destroy it. We may not forget that the emperor of Rome at this time was the inhuman monster, Nero. If Nero could urge the Christians to obey him, what ruler would he not advise them to obey?

"Therefore he that resisteth the power, withstandeth the ordinance of God." We are living in days of open defiance of law, on an extent and scale—and not of the authority of wicked men exercising cruel power, but defiance of just rulers, seeking to enforce just righteous, and beneficent laws, laws enacted in orderly fashion by democratic assemblies. We find college presidents and professors, members of legislatures, and runners in seeking to persuade the people to disobey the Eighteenth Amendment to the constitution, an amendment adopted by a far greater majority than any preceding amendment. It is no wonder that crime flourishes openly as never before.

The Aim of Law The aim of law is to promote order and peace, to protect the good in their good deeds, and to restrain the evil from their mischief. The rulers are not a terror to good works, but to the evil. "Such is always the fact in principle, and such, taking life as a whole, is the tendency, even at the worst, in practice, where the authority in any degree deserves its name" (Moule). It was generally so, even in the Roman Empire, particularly in those laws that regulated the social conduct of the people. It is certainly true in respect to the laws under which we live today—they do not restrain men from good deeds, but from those that have evil results in society. Whether one shall have then, a sense of freedom and protection when he thinks of the laws, or a sense of restraint and fear, depends upon the kind of life he lives. Who in our land feels the restraint of the law? The man whose inclinations and habits are against public order and social good. Think of the laws against murder, theft, gambling, trafficking in liquor.

Harvest of Lawlessness In the second passage of our lesson Paul reminds us that lawlessness is not only wrong in principle, but is evil in its consequences. He warns us that God cannot be hoodwinked or mocked. There is a spiritual law that reacts against evil with the certainty of sunrise and sunset:

"whatsoever a man soweth to the flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption." Let a man repudiate the higher law of righteous living, and give himself to the satisfaction of his selfish and baser appetites and dispositions, and as surely as poison produces death, his lawlessness will produce chaos and rottenness. We are today reaping in America the harvest of the drink habit and the liquor traffic, the fruits of seeds sown in the decades of our history before 1920. The lawlessness of today is not a fruit of prohibition but of liquor. We can never eliminate lawlessness by legalizing a business that is lawless at heart, and encouraging an appetite that destroys self-control and all moral sense.

Sowing and Reaping

"For whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap." Gal. 6:7. "There are those who feel that they have escaped the results of immoral conduct, if they have been able to conceal from the world their wrongdoing. Others seem to imagine that if the wrong is merely forgotten and regarded as a matter of the past there will be no harvest of suffering or pain." Still others seem to imagine that religion is a device intended to secure immunity from the results of moral fault. Men deceive themselves by believing that the paying the penance or the confession of a fault to a priest or minister will prevent a wrong course of action from producing any distressing consequences."—Prof. Charles R. Erdman. But not "like produces like," and if you sow a shameful deed you are sure to reap the penalty of shame and ruin. This is a universal law of God, and to no one is it more closely applicable than the drunkard. At the same time, the nature of the narcotic drug with which he poisons himself is such that it infallibly leads to self-deception. No tippler realizes that a wreck he is making of his life.

Eighteenth Amendment

Perhaps no provision of the constitution ever went into that instrument after more consideration and deliberation, more agitation, more discussion, than the Eighteenth Amendment. Thirty-three States prior to its adoption had established state-wide prohibition; the subject had been discussed among and before the people for the last fifty years; every state legislature had adopted the principle in some form or other. Finally, the amendment came before congress, was discussed in both bodies of congress, went to the respective legislatures of the states, was considered by the legislatures, and ratified by all the states except two. Certainly no one can contend that this provision of the constitution is there by accident. Certainly no one can successfully contend that it went there without proper discussion and consideration. The amendment is the culmination of the wish and purpose of the American people. It carries the same sanctity and the same force as any other provision of the constitution. It is there, and so long as it remains there, it is vital to the cause of good government, to the cause of constitutional government, and to the cause of law and order, that it be lived up to and maintained in all its integrity. There can be no more vital problem presented to a free people than the problem of whether or not they can hold and maintain the constitution which they have deliberately written.—Senator William E. Borah.

Special Lessons

1. Success for the wet cause "would inevitably mean a return of the old saloon."
2. "There is no substitute for the saloon which has been suggested since prohibition went into effect that was not tried out and that did not fall before national prohibition came in."
3. "The anti-prohibitionists are spending hundreds of thousands of dollars every year to advertise the failures of the law, and they add imaginary failures to help their cause out."
4. "There is no law in America as well enforced as prohibition is—not even the law against murder."
5. "All the great moral reforms have been won over a hostile press—a press that supports the immoral end of every moral question."

Annual Whoopee Party at LaNora On Hallowe'en

On next Monday night the LaNora theater will have its annual Hallowe'en, whoopee party—noisy hats, horns, noise makers of all kinds, balloons, confetti, streamers, and other novelties will add to the merriment to be presented at the local cinema.

The feature attraction for this occasion will be Lowell Sherman, Lila Lee, and Peggy Shannon in "FALSE FACTS". This is a timely moving picture and in line with the festive spirit which will prevail. Doors will open at 11:30, and the fun begins exactly at 11:45.

TURKS ARREST PEASANTS FOR SHOOTING AT MOON

ISTANBUL (AP)—Hundreds of Turks were arrested during the recent eclipse of the moon.

Despite the republic's taboo, these old-timers fired pistols and rifles at the demonic bear whose effort to eat the moon is the peasant explanation for eclipses.

The peasant idea is that unless the bear is shot he will start eating the sun, and then the world will end.

The press supported the lotteries, slavery, the gambling houses and the houses of prostitution, but we must have prohibition. We cannot fill the skies with aero-automobiles, build skyscrapers—and have this work done by men with boozey brains. If prohibition fails, civilization fails.—Dr. Gilbert J. Raynor.

Heavy Political Cannons To Roar In Fiery Windup

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. (AP)—Rolling their oratorical big guns into position, both major political parties are opening during the final 10 days of the presidential campaign a barrage of speech making so effective that few voters would escape their fire.

For days, while the firing on the front has been steadily growing in intensity, the party generals have been mobilizing their forces behind the lines for a final "big push" that would make their previous campaigning seem mild in comparison.

Both parties have called out their heavy artillery for the big drive. Former Governor Alfred E. Smith leads off for the democrats today with speeches in Providence and Boston, while President Hoover will open up the republican barrage tomorrow night with a speech at Indianapolis.

From then on, both sides will throw everything they have into the fight, with the two presidential candidates leading the way. Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, democratic nominee, his speeches scheduled for next week in Boston, Brooklyn and New York City, while President Hoover is already slated to speak in Baltimore, Philadelphia, Newark and New York.

The death rate of Tennessee, 10.8 deaths per thousand population, is below the average rate the country over.

Senator Cutting Assails Hoover

DENVER, Oct. 28. (AP)—In a double barreled barrage against President Hoover's record in office, U. S. Senator Bronson Cutting, progressive republican of New Mexico, has announced his intention to vote for Franklin D. Roosevelt for the presidency of the United States. Senator Cutting praised Roosevelt as an "idealist who has been able to put many of his ideals into practice" and declared the democratic presidential candidate "is his own master and makes his own decisions."

Pointing out that no one supported Mr. Hoover more enthusiastically than he did four years ago, Senator Cutting said, "it is not pleasant to admit political errors."

Glass Body Sent To Mount Pleasant

The body of Richard Glass, 20, was sent to Mount Pleasant Tuesday night by the Stephenson Mortuary. The youth was killed Monday morning near Miami when the truck he was driving overturned in soft gravel. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Glass.

Richard graduated from Wellington high school in 1929 and last year received an appointment to West Point. He was well known in this section of the Panhandle.

Besides his parents he leaves one brother, W. L., Jr.

The tobacco acreage this year in Kentucky decreased 24 per cent.

Woman Seeking Insurance, Says Husband Is Dead

FORT WORTH, Oct. 28. (AP)—Seeking to save her husband from arrest, Mrs. Emma Norwood in 1923 ceased her attempts to communicate with him by letter, she testified in forty-eighth district court Thursday morning during the trial of her suit to collect on a $100,000 insurance policy.

A note of humor, as well as a partial explanation of the failure of Norwood's bank, was injected into the case with the testimony of Jake Cohen, 80, Cleburne cotton man. "Do you know what caused the trouble at the bank?" Cohen was asked on direct examination. "Peanuts," answered Cohen briefly.

Counsel sought an explanation of this puzzling reply. "I knew they had bought a lot of peanuts—$1,000,000 worth—and the price went down," Cohen elaborated.

The reply recalled the attempt of Norwood about 1920 to corner the peanut market of the United States. Inability to command transportation facilities for delivery of the peanuts after sale, and a drop in price of the commodity was said to have caused Norwood heavy losses. Many attributed Norwood's operations in the peanut market as one of the causes of the bank's failure.

At the close of 1931 there were 366 coal mines operating in Kentucky.

Teddy Jr., Speaks In Favor Hoover

MANILA, Oct. 28. (AP)—Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., governor general of the Philippines, said today in a speech urging President Hoover's re-election that to keep the United States "American" is "the issue in the campaign."

"We will fight it out on those lines," he said. "We do not wish our country to be made a laboratory for wholesale experiments in government ownership, tariff tinkering or currency inflation."

PICCARD BALLOON STAMPS

BRUSSELS (AP)—To commemorate Professor Piccard's stratospheric flights the government will issue three special balloon stamps. They will remain in circulation for six months.

The cost of education per student has dropped in some cases as much as $150 a year at the University of Michigan.

Fury of Oregon Forest Fire Shown And Described Vividly in Newsreel

The devastating fury of the forest fire that harried Northwest Oregon, leaving thousands homeless and destroying hundreds of millions of feet of standing timber, is shown in vivid detail in the current issue of the Pampa Daily NEWS-Universal Newsreel at the La Nora theater.

In recording the spectacular scenes as the torrent of flames swept over the country side, the newsreel cameramen stuck to their posts until the fire literally licked at their clothing. Graham McNamee, world-famous radio announcer and the newsreel's talking reporter, graphically describes the holocaust.

Carried by a high wind, the fire springs up in hundreds of new places daily. Towns, logging camps, railroad trestles, and bridges are devoured in its path. Men and women fight until exhausted to drive the conflagration from their homes but finally give up and throw themselves in the tepid streams for safety. It is the worst forest fire in the history of the northwest.

Many other important events are reported by McNamee, including Japan's talking movie in Manchuria, in defiance of the League of Nations. Ambassador Muto's official visit to the Manchukuo regiment, Henry Pu Yi, surrounded by Japanese officers and with the "banquets" of thousands of school children ringing his ears, is a significant occurrence that may mark a turning point in history. The critical situation in the Fulton county coal mine war, with National Guard troops as the buffer between two belligerent labor unions, and the great homing pigeon derby in which 10,000 birds are released in Washington as a bi-centennial celebration event, with a pigeon named "Jimmy Walker" as the first home in New York, also are to be seen in the newsreel.

The University of Michigan's 15-6 gridiron victory over Northwestern in the first major football battle of the season, with a play-by-play description by the veteran sports announcer, McNamee; "Jimmy" Walker's welcome upon his home-coming to New York; scenes showing the operation of an automobile that uses coal for fuel; and a demonstration of houses made of glass bricks, are interesting additions to the newsreel.

Scanning New Books

By JOHN SEELY

NEW YORK—Dead more than 20 years, Mary Baker Eddy still is a living force in the spiritual life of this country. She is more; she is the subject of vehement and often acrimonious controversy.

That being the case, a biography of Mrs. Eddy stands a good chance of becoming the focal point of a literary and emotional cyclone. "Mary Baker Eddy, The Truth and the Tradition," by Ernest Sutherland Bates and John V. Dittmore, contains the makings of such a storm.

For ten years and more Dittmore was an official of the Christian Science church. During his directorship hundreds of letters and documents from and to concerning Mrs. Eddy were collected for the archives of the church. These, Dittmore says, had been copied or photostated, for his own files, and with the addition of considerable material collected independently they form the basis of this new effort to interpret the founder of the Christian Science church to the general public.

Without dissenting observation before, "Footloose in the British Isles," and perhaps there may be some connection between the fact that he generally sidesteps pretty descriptions of the scenery for tonic and salty comment on life, and the circumstance that all 22 books still are in print.

Pirate History

The fortunate Philip Gosse has dared carry what for most of us is a boyhood passion into adult life: our interest in pirates and the bounding main. Gosse has written "The History of Piracy" with a straight face and a pleasant literary style, and made it seem a logical thing to do.

While Gosse was thus involved, "The Strangest Friendship in History" was being written by George Sylvester Viereck to present the story of Woodrow Wilson's connection with Colonel House. The book contains a large amount of information, and emphasizes strongly the so-called "regency" of the second Mrs. Wilson, as well.

Mr. Franck Again That accomplished vagabond, Harry A. Franck, has been abroad again, this time for 16 months in the British Isles. Franck had done 22 books of travel observation before. "Footloose in the British Isles," and perhaps there may be some connection between the fact that he generally sidesteps pretty descriptions of the scenery for tonic and salty comment on life, and the circumstance that all 22 books still are in print.

Of novels there is no dearth this week. Among the best is Hans

WHERE 18 DIED IN BUS PLUNGE

Eighteen persons were drowned when the combination bus and truck plunged into the Mississippi river near Natchez, Miss. Above is the scene at the river, with the bus partly submerged. The driver had reached the river just as the ferry pulled out and the bus whirled out over the bank. Authorities dragged the river to recover bodies of the victims. Most of those killed were negroes.

Finally, there is for the still numerous admirers of Ellen Terry a reprint of her famous "Memoirs," with additional chapters taking the story through the last 20 years of the actress' life, written by Christopher St. John and Ellen Terry's daughter, Edith Craig.

'Ma' Gets 100 Letters a Day From Jobless

AUSTIN, Oct. 28. (AP)—Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, democratic nominee for governor of Texas, receives on an average of one hundred letters daily from men and women requesting employment.

The applicants are taking it for granted Texas will not break her custom of electing a democrat as chief executive and are pinning their hope for jobs on that longstanding habit—and Mrs. Ferguson. It always is an annoying task for a governor, or one elected to any state office, to handle applicants for positions. Every time there is a change in department heads there is the problem of picking from a very large group of persons, all of whom claim some part in having put the administrator of the office in power, a limited number of employees.

Governor R. S. Sterling, defeated for a second term nomination by Mrs. Ferguson, has not been convinced that Mrs. Ferguson will have places to fill.

Five World Powers Blaze Peace Trail

NEW YORK, Oct. 28. (AP)—Five world powers—the United States, Great Britain, France, Russia and Japan—were breaking trail today toward new alignments intended to promote peace and security.

As reflected in Associated Press dispatches from several capitals, their activity also introduced three powerful factors into the international problem. These factors were:

1. Improved relations between Russia and Japan despite the trouble in Manchuria that lies between them.
2. The proximity of a treaty of non-aggression between France and Russia stipulating that France will give no aid to a country attacking Russia, and vice versa.
3. Apparent Anglo-American unity at Geneva, implying that the world's two largest naval powers have reached an agreement in principle to harmonize their views on disarmament.

ROOSEVELT REFLECTS WARMTH OF SOUTH

His arms high in the "gather-me-in" gesture of a Mammy singer, Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt is shown here as he reflected the warmth of an ovation given him by Atlanta school children as he toured the Georgia metropolis. The Democratic candidate for president is holding luck omens given him by the children, who turned his visit into a holiday.

bidding was described by her husband as identical with what any of his male tournament partners would do.

Mrs. Jacoby opened with a bid of two diamonds. West and east were silent throughout the auction. Jacoby responded with a bid of two no trump, showing weakness. Mrs. Jacoby rebid her diamonds, and then Jacoby knew his bust hand was one of great assistance to his partner because of his singleton king of clubs and his four trumps. He bid five diamonds, and Mrs. Jacoby raised the contract to six. The adversaries cashed only a spade.

Mrs. Jacoby had learned well her husband's theory and practice of an opening two bid. He bids two of a suit when a hand seems most likely to produce game with that suit as trump. When a hand contains ten aces with all suits stopped and no one real powerful suit he usually bids two no trump originally where many players would open with two of a suit.

Tennessee's lumber production reached its peak in 1909 when 1,223,849,000 feet was produced by 2,643 mills.

GEM THIEF CAPTURED

Though dying his red hair, growing a moustache and wearing shell-rimmed glasses enabled Arthur Barry to play hide-and-seek with the police for more than three years, the notorious jewel thief—whose loot is said to total about $2,000,000—in shown here (center) in the hands of the law again. Two Newark, N. J., detectives, Howard A. Fallon (left) and Frank Carr, are seen grilling Barry after his capture in a farm house near Sparta, N. J. Barry, who, with three companions, shot his way out of the Auburn, N. Y., prison in 1929, has denied having any connection with the Lindbergh kidnaping case.

Tips on CONTRACT

Mrs. Jacoby Makes A Slam! By Tom O'Neill.

A tennis star whose knowledge of contract began with romance is progressing in the game as the bride and pupil of a bridegroom.

From the standpoint of technique, without regard to other considerations, Mrs. Ely Culbertson long has been her husband's favorite partner, and the former Mary Zita McHale of Dallas, Texas, is approaching the point where she will be sitting opposite her husband, Oswald Jacoby, in outstanding tournaments.

Knowing nothing about contract until after she and a visiting New York expert, whose avocation is tennis, had met on a Dallas court, Mrs. Jacoby in a short time has developed so that her bidding seldom leaves anything to be desired. Her husband regards her approaches toward game contracts as very good, indeed.

In rubber bridge many players prefer to cut for partners after every rubber or to pivot. Mr. and Mrs. Jacoby, on the contrary, like to be partners in set games and have been increasingly successful. Jacoby finds his wife still rather nervous in dummy play. She does not understand very well the art of defense, in which he is a past grand master, both in psychic bids and in the play of the cards to set contracts of the opposition. If those deficiencies are overcome as well as she has mastered bidding, Jacoby has hopes of a family pair national championship.

On a hand with which Mrs. Jacoby bid and made a small slam her

Republicans Say Tide Is Turning In Favor Hoover

By BYRON PRICE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. (AP)—The great quadrennial spectacle of American politics has come to its climactic final act with the stage crowded with celebrities and a capacity house roaring for its favorites.

A week from Tuesday the country will choose between Hoover and Roosevelt, determine whether a democratic or republican congress shall sit on capitol hill, and vote thirty-four new state administrations into power.

The potential magnitude of these decisions in the making of national history is reflected in the mounting tension of the last furious rush of campaigning.

In the big October push of the republicans. Led by President Hoover in person, has made a new kind of party precedent.

In their frequency and their intense activity the speaking trips of the president break the custom of most of his predecessors for a generation. His speeches themselves, by their direct references to his opponent, are a departure from his practice of four years ago.

Republican managers, declaring the party organization greatly heartened by the Hoover campaign, now assert that the tide of popular favor has set itself definitely in his favor. The democrats reply that nothing will come of it in electoral votes. Governor Roosevelt, returning home after his last extended swing into the west and south, declared himself convinced that the tide was running strongly democratic.

Propose Bill to Put Unclaimed Dollars to Work

AUSTIN, Oct. 28. (AP)—Unclaimed millions of dollars now lying idle in Texas banks would be returned to circulation if a bill to be sponsored at the regular session of the 43rd legislature by Senator George Purl of Dallas, is enacted into law.

Purl stated that investigation had disclosed millions of dollars in banks unclaimed because depositors had been lost track of. Many of them have died without their families knowing the money was on deposit, and the funds have lain there unknown to anyone but the bank officials for years.

He cited several instances of funds that had been in Dallas banks, some for a quarter of a century, without any claim being made against the accounts. One deposit was in excess of $25,000. Purl stated some of the money was put in the banks for safety by traveling representatives unwilling to carry it with them on their trips. They might make a business deal and deposit the money in a bank in the town where the transaction was closed and then go on to another city, intending perhaps, to issue a draft on the deposit. Some may have died en route without anyone knowing about the deposit. Purl said the deposits could have been made in many ways without becoming known to anyone but the depositor and the banks.

Purl stated his bill would propose that the banks be required to advertise the account that had remained dormant for a period of ten or fifteen years. Two years after the accounts had been advertised, or some other specified period, they would be escheated to the state if no claim had been made on the banks. The money would be held in the state treasury for another specified period subject to withdrawal by persons who could establish a valid claim to it.

Walker Assessed Seven-Year Term

A 31st district jury last night brought in a verdict of seven years' imprisonment for Berl Walker, charged with helping plan and execute a robbery at a house in the Talley addition last August. The jury was out about three hours.

Walker was not seen by J. D. White and other victims of the hold-up, but was implicated by Arnold (Shorty) Chambliss, confessed participant, and through circumstantial evidence.

The young man previously was given a 9-year sentence for the robbery of the Danciger refinery, where he also was not seen, but was claimed to have helped plan the raid.

Italy Observes Close of Tenth Year of Fascism

ROME, Oct. 28 (AP)—All Italy turned out today to celebrate the tenth anniversary of Premier Benito Mussolini's fascism.

The event was marked by a nationwide holiday, and the climax of a week-long series of inaugurations designating fascist progress.

Perhaps the most important event on today's program was the review of 15,000 disabled war veterans by the premier and 100 foreign and military naval attaches, four of them Americans. The invitation to the foreign group to ride with Il Duce when he reviews the parade set a new fascist precedent.

Other events included inaugurations of new public works, swearing in of new fascists, the reading of Mussolini's message in every community of the nation, band concerts, and ringing of bells for a half hour during the forenoon.

The premier's message to Italy today said the land, seas and skies "everywhere bear marks of the power and will of fascism. Great masses of workers in the fields and cities are asking to fight under our banners."

It said the second Fascist decade "requires additional exertions and sacrifices. We confront new tasks together with an added sense of our responsibility and with a solidly fraternal spirit. Remembrance of normal trials vibrates in our hearts as an impulse toward the future."

Gas System for McLean Assured

McLEAN, Oct. 28.—A new gas system for McLean is virtually a certainty.

D. W. Humphreys, to whom a new franchise has been granted, has written that he intends to start work on his system in the near future. He promised to give employment to every available man in McLean when work starts.

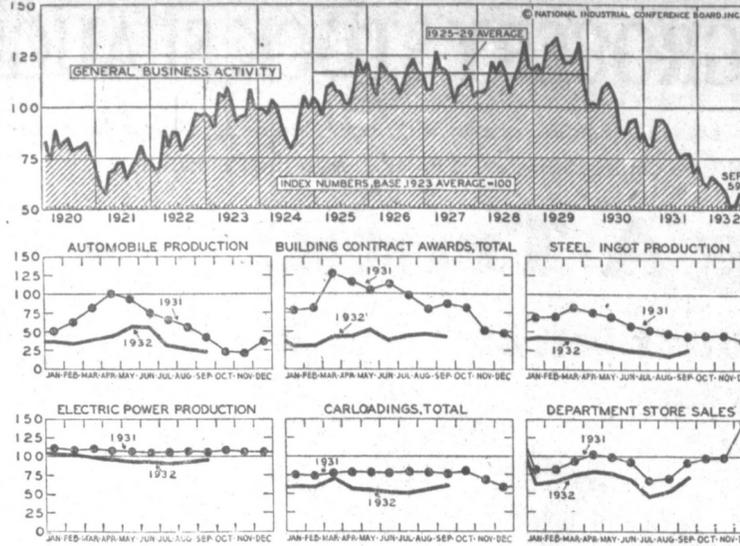

Meanwhile, the city will continue its suit against the McLean Gas company, seeking 30-cent fuel.

Calles Is Obstacle

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 28. (AP)—A lasting settlement of differences between the Mexican government and the Roman Catholic church, Archbishop Leopold Ruiz y Flores, exiled Mexican prelate, declared here last night, cannot be attained so long as the Mexican congress is made up of representatives subservient to the demands of former President Plutarco Elias Calles.

Indiana has 1,016 townships with a total of 9,096 township officials.

BUSINESS TRENDS—Activities Continue Gain

(By The Associated Press)

Gains in the heavy industries are noted for the first time in many months in the September report on business conditions made by the Conference of Statisticians in Industry.

The conference, which operates under the auspices of the National Industrial Conference board, reported that business activity in September showed significant advances.

"The composite upward movement of basic factors of production and trade was of more than a seasonal nature," the conference said. "The advance in September following hard upon business improvement in August is the record monthly gain since the spring of this year."

Economists regard gains in producers' goods, steel, for example, as especially significant since producers' goods are made by the heavier and most basic industries.

"The automotive industry," the conference noted, "continued to contract its output during the month by an amount greater than usual at this time of year."

"The steel and iron industry stepped up its production rather markedly in September, when no change over August is normally seasonal."

"Electric power generated also increased more than usual during the month as a whole, but the improvement in the last week of September and the first half of October showed some signs of slowing down."

Lions Club Has 3 New Members

Pampa Lions devoted their Thursday luncheon to business matters. Musical entertainment was furnished by Howard Zimmerman, talented high school bass, accompanied by Prof. Emmitt Smith.

New members of the club are U. G. Kerrs, C. A. Clarke, and Judge W. R. Ewing. Guests were I. A. Freeman and Ernest Vandenburg.

CHILD WEDDINGS INCREASE

MYSOORE, India (AP)—Fifty children, including 39 girls, less than 5 years old are listed as married in Mysore State. Child brides between 5 and 10 total 21,224 while married boys of those ages number only 359. Marriage of girls less than 8 years old was banned by a law passed in 1884.

The textile industry continued to step up its activity.

"Employment in the manufacturing industries for the country as a whole increased 4.5 per cent. Payrolls increased 5 per cent. These gains of more than a seasonal nature, following those in August, are of significance at the present juncture. Hourly earnings declined, but weekly earnings improved."

Legion Will Give Program at Camp

Carrying its work to nearby communities, the American Legion post will give a program at the community house of the Cabot company Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Refreshments and entertainment will make the evening enjoyable. All ex-service men are urged to attend this meeting.

Party Attended by 26 Boys and Girls

Twenty-six boys and girls, costumed, masked, and blowing horns and whistles attended a party for the Livingstone union Tuesday evening at the First Baptist church.

Halloween games were played, and refreshments of orangeade, jokes and popcorn balls were served.

Miss Geneva Groom is leader of the group, and other adults attending were Mrs. Lewis H. Davis, Mrs. Stevens, and Mrs. T. F. Morton. Mrs. Morton amused the children by telling fortunes and ghost stories.

P. O. Sanders and Clarence Barrett are in Amarillo for jury service today.
