Almost unprecedented in West Texas is the drastic program drawn in Lubbock to suppress what is admittedly characterized as "gang rule." Several outgrowths of the trouble are little short of startling.

We have the extraordinary action of the Lubbock bar association in agreeing not to defend anyone, for one year, charged with theft, burglary, robbery, or murder, unless appointed by the court to assure the defendant of their statutory guarantees. . . . This step, if carried out, may mean an influx of out-of-town attorneys who do not have such scruples. We have nothing but commendation, however, for attorneys who place the welfare of their communities above their personal incomes. The country has seen too much of that type of practice which encourages crime through advising of criminals in ways to escape conviction.

District Judge Clark M. Mullican, after delivering a sharp lecture to the bar to "cleanse itself," declared in favor of a new policy on what is generally frowned upon as "gun toting." He admitted that he carried a pistol for self protection and recommended that business men keep arms handy to defend their lives and their property. This is a bold pronouncement. Carrying a gun does not assure personal safety and it is often productive of regrettable affairs.

But there is a distinction between carrying a gun against a known enemy and carrying one to assist in putting down a crime wave which clearly is a menace to the community. Gun toting ordinarily is too dangerous to countenance because it leads to shootings by hot-headed individuals whose fists would do much less harm. Moreover, a pistol in the hands of an untrained citizen is often more of a menace than a protection. The professional gunman has the advantage because he is the aggressor and can shoot first. . . . But here is another distinction—Lubbock has declared war on the crime wave. The assumption is that citizens will take reasonable personal risks in order to rid the community of hijackers and murderers.

Lubbock will not be long troubled. When a community is really aroused, crooks seek more friendly quarters. Crime cannot flourish where the bar and public officials are antagonistic. It is not to Lubbock's credit that rather well known criminals took up abode there, but it is vastly to the credit of the community that, realizing its mistake, it makes criminals highly unwelcome. Other cities may well take notice. Crime rule is foreign to the very fiber of West Texas civilization. True Texans will wage unrelenting war before paying tribute to alien or criminal racketeers and hijackers.

Those who go to Canyon Friday night should realize the dramatic rivalry which exists between the Harvesters' and college freshmen's coaches. Coach Mitchell Jones of the Yearlings and Coach Odus Mitchell of Pampa were classmates and teammates from 1921-25. Mitchell was noted T. I. A. end and Jones was widely admired as one of the pluckiest little linemen in the conference. Jones, weighing but

That several local nitrods just couldn't wait for the hunting season to open so they turned over a waste paper box at the rear of a North Cuyler street store and proceeded to kill the rats found there with boards. Before the case was over, 20 tired business men, and others, were in action. The kill amounted to 23. Bert Curry and Six Owens were timid by-standers.

EX-CONVICT IN CONFESSION HE SLEW STUDENT

CLAIMS SHOOTING OF ALDRIDGE WAS ACCIDENT

MEANT TO ROB YOUTH

STATES GUN WENT OFF WHEN BOY HIT HIS HAND

AUSTIN, Oct. 19 (AP)—John M. Pickett, 28, ex-convict under parole from the Texas penitentiary, who had come to Austin seeking employment as a stone setter, today assumed responsibility for the slaying of Edgar C. Arledge, Jr., 21, University of Texas senior, shot to death one month ago.

Arledge was killed by a bullet while seated in an automobile beside his sweetheart. The young woman was slightly wounded by the same bullet that took Arledge's life.

Pickett took Austin and San Antonio police authorities to the site of the shooting, on a lonely side street on the outskirts of the city under a couple of mesquite trees, and gave them the details of the murder.

"It was an accident," the former convict told officers. He said he was out to burglarize or rob, but not to kill.

"I saw the automobile parked there and through the rear window of the car, saw that a boy and girl were the occupants," he said.

He said he cocked his 38 calibre pistol and approached, intent only on relieving the couple of money or valuables.

Pickett said that when Arledge heard footsteps he started the motor of his automobile.

"Visitors' Day" Will Be Planned As Next Event

PAMPA DAY, henceforth to be known as VISITORS DAY, will not be held this month because of the inadequacy of time left in which to plan the new arrangements. In adopting a plan which will be permanent and which will be announced in detail soon, the committee headed by H. D. Keys chose a method which will make possible city-wide cooperation.

In addition to entertainment features the VISITORS DAY program each month will include a plan under which actual cash will be distributed. Of this, more will be said later. Everyone will be treated alike and opportunities for the large and small purchasers will be identical.

Chairman Keys appointed these committee chairmen: Cash plan, L. O. Johnson; publicity, Olin E. Hinkle and Jimmie Drake; ticket details, Travis Lively; finance Joseph R. Lazarus; entertainment George Limerick.

VISITORS DAY under the new plan will not change from month to month except for entertainment features.

Welfare Fund Under Thousand Short of Goal

Pampa's welfare fund today had reached $2,600, with the $3,500 goal still unattained.

Chairman Jack Cunningham pointed out, however, that the companies and supply houses had not been heard from and that several teams had not completed their soliciting in the city.

He urged that the solicitors here complete their work by Friday or if they cannot do so, to notify him so that other arrangements can be made. He complimented Pampa citizens on their willingness to sacrifice in order to contribute their part.

WEST TEXAS—Fair colder, frost in north and west portions, probably freezing in the Panhandle tonight; Thursday fair, colder, in southeast portion.

AW-WAH! AW-WAH! S'FINOLE, Okla.—Ghosts beware! Police Judge Hoffman has obtained permission from the city council to put negro prisoners to work at beautifying the cemetery. The work would begin at 1 a. m., with guards close enough to prevent escape and too far away for comfort.

WED? CHAPLIN LAUGHS

Smiling at persistent rumors that they soon will be married, and laughing aloud at reports that they already have been wed, Charles Chaplin and Paulette Goddard are seen together in Hollywood in increasing frequency. Here they are as they appeared at a recent movie first night. Chaplin neither confirms nor denies the reports that the platinum blond will be his third bride. Miss Goddard, recent divorcee, tells questioners she is "more interested in my movies work."

EXPERIENCED CAST AND GOOD DIRECTOR ASSURE SUPERIOR PERFORMANCE OF 'GHOST HOUSE'

The cream of Pampa's entertainment forces, under the professional direction of Miss Agnes Anderson, has been organized for the presentation of a superior performance next Monday and Tuesday evenings at the city auditorium.

Almost nightly rehearsals have been held recently for the mystery play, "Ghost House," which will be presented by a cast of 12 persons, supported by two girls' choruses, a men's chorus, the Treble Clef club, the high school orchestra, and a group of children.

All three acts take place on the same night—a stormy night in March in Brown Manor. Act 3 is transferred to the basement of the house.

The identity of one character, the stranger, will be kept secret until the night of the play. Following is the remainder of the cast: Mandie, colored cook, Mrs. Earl Powell; Fautette, eccentric maid, Mrs. H. H. Hicks; Barbara Brown, Miss Florida Freeman; Martha Brown, her dignified aunt, Mrs. E. C. Will; James Oliver, the butler, C. W. Stowell; Benton Thompson, lawyer, T. A. Freeman; Donald Kent, man-about-town, Tom Herrod; Mrs. Richard Bates, would-be social leader, Mrs. A. N. Dille, Jr.; Richard Bates, her husband, A. L. Patrick; Ted Wilson, newspaper reporter, Elmer Fite; Inspector Brooks, from headquarters, Dick Hughes.

The Ghost chorus is composed of

VOTERS WHO HAVE MOVED TO NEW PRECINCTS MUST CAUSE NAMES TO BE LISTED AGAIN

The usual voting regulations will apply in the general election of November 8; that is, only those holding poll taxes or exemptions may cast their ballots.

In addition, those Pampans who have moved from one precinct to another since obtaining their poll tax receipts must go back to the assessor and have their names placed on the precinct voting list of their new location. This must be done, in cities of 10,000 population or more, at least four days before the election.

The ballots will approximate the size of the front page of The NEWS. The party nominees will appear in vertical columns, with the constitutional amendments at the bottom.

Jobless Urged To Register at Once

Only 125 unemployed men and women have registered with the Pampa Welfare board. The names are being taken so that the names of unemployed men will be available when the federal relief money is received. Most of the money will be used to give unemployed persons work.

There are many hundred unemployed men who have not registered and are urged to do so. Persons registering first will be given the first work, members of the board declare. If there are unemployed men who are waiting until the money is received with the intention of registering and getting work immediately, they will be disappointed. Immediate registration is advised.

The application for relief funds approved by Gov. Ross Sterling. It is now before the federal relief board for final approval and authorization of payment.

LOVE VERSES OF PREACHER READ TO JURY

'SUICIDE NOTE' NOT IN HANDWRITING OF DEAD WIFE

COURTSHIP IS PICTURED INTIMACIES OF AFFAIR DESCRIBED BY WITNESSES

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Oct. 19 (AP)—The love verses of a 52-year-old preacher to the pretty young Sunday school teacher he married after the death of his first wife were couched with an officer's recital of allegedly admitted intimacies today as prosecutors pressed ahead with the Rev. S. Althea Berrie's murder trial.

The Rev. Mr. Berrie, his 19-year-old wife and the large crowd of spectators listened intently to every line of the poetry, read by Phil K. Oldham, county attorney.

Witnesses said the verses had been given the state by the pastor's second wife, who told them Berrie had written them to her.

Testimony he believed a "suicide note" purported to have been written by the first Mrs. Berrie was not in the woman's handwriting was given by Tom King, vice-president of the Citizens National bank.

John Wolsey, former chief of police, told of taking Berrie and his young wife to his office for questioning after an investigation of the alleged poisoning of the first Mrs. Berrie got under way.

"He denied he'd been at the deluxe cafe with Ida Bess, Bright the second wife, or ever had been with her except in church work," Wolsey said. "After talking to Ida Bess, I talked to Berrie again and he said he had met her there three, four or five times, also at various other places."

Handwriting Not Same Wolsey testified further that the pastor said he met the Sunday school teacher at a rooming house and that the two had been intimate from about Christmas time up until Mrs. Berrie's death last March.

"He said he loved her more than any other woman he'd ever come in contact with—long before the first wife died," Wolsey added.

The state introduced a photostatic copy of the "suicide note," signed "Fannie," which Berrie contended he found in a Bible which his son brought to his cell. Prosecutors said they had been unable to obtain the original.

"This handwriting is not the same as this," said M. T. Cole, another banker witness, with copies of the note and a letter of Mrs. Fannie Berrie in his hand.

There was an audible stir in the courtroom when County Oldham read some of Berrie's verses to his bride which ended:

"Oh, why can't we be free."

From Mrs. Lucy Thompson, a member of Berrie's church, County Attorney Phil K. Oldham drew testimony of the minister's atten-

Thieves Steal 75 Bronze Turkeys

A reward of $25 is being offered for information leading to the recovery of 75 bronze turkeys stolen during the last two weeks. More than 300 turkeys have been stolen in the Panhandle this month, according to John V. Andrews, chief of police, who is seeking the information.

The last flock stolen had the back like the other turkeys, but they were small and there is only a small stub where the toe should be. Any person having information is urged to get in touch with Chief Andrews immediately.

PAMPA JUNIOR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO AFFILIATE WITH NATIONAL ORGANIZATION

Dallas Leader in Movement Is Principal Speaker in Local Program

All steps necessary to affiliate with the National Junior chamber of commerce were taken last night following the local organization's banquet, at which Howard Hayden of Dallas, vice-president of the national body, was principal speaker.

Mr. Hayden explained that the national organization had grown to include units in more than 150 cities and several foreign countries. It serves as a service bureau and a clearing house for all kinds of suggestions concerning the work of its members. It works in harmony with the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, the senior organization.

The speaker gave a portion of his address to the subject of im-

Chuck Wilson Shot To Death in Mutiny Near Prison Farm

(By The Associated Press)

Deep conviction that the old truths are still the real truths has made Calvin Coolidge one of the most successful expositors of the conservative doctrine. Enigmatic silent, possessor of a dry humor, long experienced in the warfare of political campaign, and popular with many especially because of his presidential administration during a prosperous period, republicans consider "Coolidge one of their best vote-getters."

Since 1928 when Coolidge said he did "not choose to run" for re-nomination his name constantly has been before the public as a possible "czar" for this or that industry, or as chairman of this or that commission.

His writings kept him important in the public eye, and his recent acceptance of the chairmanship of the National Transportation Committee placed him again in a place of official prestige.

His campaign manner is not startling. His voice, never oratorical, is effective nonetheless in the certainty it evinces. His entrance into the present campaign with a speech in New York was enthusiastically welcomed by the republicans.

As the 1932 presidential campaign thunders down the home stretch, democratic leaders are pinning their hopes to carry doubtful eastern states largely on the standard-bearer of 1928—Alfred E. Smith.

Silent for weeks after he was defeated for nomination in the June convention by Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Smith finally decided to lend his support to the party ticket by taking the stump in states that had given him loyal support in the election four years ago.

Smith, a harsh-voiced, hard-hitting realist in political debate, has a power of expression and a knowledge of the mechanisms of American government learned in a hard school that make a marked man of him.

In action on a political platform, Smith is a dynamic personality.

He scorns the accepted tricks of oratory, clings tenaciously to the pronouncements of the common from which he rose.

And when he reaches full stride, his face grows red with earnestness, his voice grates harshly with emphasis and his Irish eyes glare with the light of battle.

'SPORT OF KINGS' DRAWS TURF FANS, 140 THOROUGHBREDS TO PANHANDLE'S THRILLING RACES

Best Horses, Jockeys In Southwest At New Downs

Boy, you should have been at the horse races at Panhandle yesterday! A pretty good bunch of Pampans, Gilmore Nunn and I took 'em in—all six of them. If you didn't go Tuesday or today, have a look at them tomorrow or the next day—and you'll take a long look. They're more than what they're cracked up to be.

One whole section of the grandstand was filled with Pampa people—Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Saunders, Claude Ledrick, Dave Pope, H. J. Lippold, J. S. Wynne, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Cary and that extraordinarily bright son of theirs, C. A. Forsyth, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Attebery—and there must have been other turf fans from Pampa we didn't see. Many from Amarillo and Borger attended.

The races are advertised as the "Southwest Race Meet," and they're all of that. Why, Judge Asbery A. Callaghan and Ed Deahl, banker, both of Panhandle, told us that they have every race event in the southwest back of the map except Waggoner's Arlington Downs and we believed every word of it. They had the evidence to prove it. It would be a safe gamble, since the subject is horse races, that four age days of Arlington Downs could not compare with the "Panhandle Downs" in color, good horses, good jockeys, good music, enthusiasm,

Youths Charged In Cattle Theft —Bond Is $750

Charged with the theft of nine yearling heifers belonging to Joe Loper, two White Deer youths were held in jail here today for lack of $750 bond.

The heifers had not been located, but evidence was deemed sufficient to hold the boys for the grand jury which meets next month. The youths are Herman Dorsey and John Dorsey.

Sheriff Lon Blansett began the investigation with tire tracks of a truck as the only evidence October 5. Armstrong county officers were here last night in connection with theft of two cows from a farmer of that county. The cows were located and warrants will probably be issued today in that county against two defendants.

CONVICT FROM PAMPA KILLED DURING CHASE

RUNS FROM HAY FIELD AFTER GUARD IS INJURED

TRAILED THAT EVENING

REFUSES TO PUT UP HIS HANDS WHEN HE WAS CORNERED

EASTHAM STATE PRISON FARM, Oct. 19. (AP)—Chuck Wilson, serving a 20 year robbery sentence from Pampa, was shot to death last Saturday after a mutiny at Eastham State Prison Farm and J. E. Hinson, prison guard injured in the mutiny, was reported in a serious condition at his home near here today.

The prison officials did not announce the break, but confirmed it today when they were questioned.

Wilson was shot to death by a posse when he refused to put up his hands, Captain E. B. Monzingo said. Two other convicts who participated in the mutiny, H. P. Daniels, serving 20 years for robbery by assault from Bexar county, and Buchanan Sloan, serving 15 years for robbery by fire arms in Hall county, were captured after a chase that lasted all Saturday night.

"Guard Hinson was working with some men in the field, taking up hay," the captain said. "Some how or other he got too close to the men and one of them knocked him off his horse with a pitchfork."

"He was badly hurt and fell bleeding in the hay field."

"Wilson, Sloan and Daniels then made a break for liberty. They urged the others to come along, but the rest of the work gang stayed by the guard. They put him in a wagon and brought him to the hospital."

"We got out the guards at once and trailed them. The three men split up and about 8 o'clock that night we cornered Wilson."

"The posse ordered him to throw up his hands and he refused. The guards thought he might have been armed—the three convicts took Hinson's pistol and shot gun—and they cut down on him. He was killed instantly."

"We called the other two all Saturday night—for about 15 or 20 miles, and caught them over near Madisonville."

Captain Monzingo said he made a full report of the break to Lee Simmons, general manager of the prison system, and that Simmons came out.

Captain Purviance is president of the Pampa chapter and is a medical reserve officer.

Lieut. Alden E. Spees, troop school instructor, will preside at tonight's meeting. He is anxious that every reserve officer in the city be present. Members of the medical fraternity also are invited to the meeting.

Pampa has an active reserve of officers club.

Pistol Cocked: "I stepped up to the front door and threw my flashlight in his face," Pickett stated.

Pickett had been paroled from the penitentiary on July 15, 1931. He had been convicted on two charges of burglary.

Pickett was sentenced to the penitentiary from Crosby county for five years on Jan. 1, 1927, and later removed from the penitentiary on a bench warrant, taken to Wise county on a bench warrant, he was assessed a 20-year sentence there on Jan. 1, 1928.

VOTERS—

Each amendment will be in two paragraphs, one starting "For" and the other "Against". To vote for an amendment, the paragraph starting "Against" must be marked through, or the reverse if the amendment is not approved.

How To Mark Ballot: When a voter desires to vote a ticket straight, he shall run a pencil or pen through all other tickets on the official ballot, making a distinct marked line through such ticket not intended to be voted; and when he shall desire to vote a mixed ticket he shall do so by running a line through the names of such candidates as he shall desire to vote against in the ticket he is voting, and by writing the name of the candidates for whom he desires to vote in the blank column and in the space provided for such office; same to be written with black ink or pencil, unless the names of the candidates for which he desires to vote appear on the ballot, in which event he shall leave the same not scratched.

There is no statutory law prohibiting a "mutilated" ballot from being counted, providing the intent of the voter can be reasonably judged by the lines drawn through the names or down the party list. It is sufficient to draw lines "up and down" through party lists, except the party desired to be approved, when the voter desires to vote "straight". In splitting a ballot, however, the names of those candidates not approved must be clearly marked out, and the names of those approved left untouched.

Removal of Voter: If a citizen after receiving his poll tax receipt or certificate of exemption, removes to another county or to another precinct in the same county, he may vote at an election in the precinct of his new residence in such other county or precinct by presenting his poll tax receipt or certificate of exemption or his affidavit of his tax to the precinct judges of election, and state in such affidavit where he paid such poll tax or received such certificate of exemption, and by making oath that he is the identical person described in such poll tax receipt or certificate of exemption, and that he then resides in the precinct where he offers to vote and has resided for the last six months in the state. But no such person shall be permitted to vote in a city of 10,000 inhabitants or more, unless he has first presented to the tax collector of his residence a tax receipt or certificate, not less than four days prior to such election or primary election or made affidavit of its loss and stating in such affidavit where he paid such poll tax or received such certificate of exemption, and the collector shall thereupon add his name to the list of qualified voters of the precinct of his new residence; and, unless such voter has done this and his name appears in the certified list of voters in the precinct of his new residence, he shall not vote.

HEAVY BUCKS DEFEAT SMALL GORILLAS 13-6

PAMPA BOYS SCORE IN LAST HALF, HOLDING TEAM SCORELESS

A 215-pound tackle and a 170-pound quarterback spelled defeat for the Pampa Gorillas and victory for the White Deer Bucks at Harvester field yesterday afternoon. The Bucks emerged from a first half offensive with 13 points while the Pampa boys made 6 points in the last half and held the Bucks scoreless.

D. Sturgis plowed through the light Gorillas for both his team's touchdowns. Jackson, the big tackle, made the necessary holes, plowing through the little Pampans at will. Evans, Gorilla quarterback, scored after Gregory, Elkins and Tenare had made gains and White Deer was penalized 15 yards for substitutes talking. The penalty placed the ball on the one-yard line and it took four tries to put it over.

Coach Warren Moore's over-enthusiasm for his victory over Groom and before they came to life, two touchdowns had been made and an extra point added. They started to fight and carried the game during the last half. The back field was light but fast and their defensive work was outstanding. The line leaked badly, mostly because the boys refused to get down and hit the offensive low.

The Bucks' big backfield was composed of C. Langham at fullback, Stugis, quarterback, and J. Crowley and O. Cunningham, halfbacks. They are big and powerful and with more experience will make things miserable for some of the Class B contenders.

McAuley and Gregory played defensive games while Elkins was outstanding for the Gorillas. The Gorillas will go to Canadian Friday for a tilt with the big Wildcats. Coach Moore is going to do considerable "working over" before the big game. He is not satisfied with the way the boys are handling themselves with the season half gone.

CHAMP GAME ON THURSDAY

Phillips Needs One Game to Win Title of Second Half Of Ball Season.

The Faculty playground ball team is scheduled to go to Phillips tomorrow afternoon to play the last game of the second half with the fast Phillips Oilers.

If the Oilers win, they will be champions of the second half of the season and will play the Faculty in a series for the league championship. A win for the Faculty would put the second half race in a three-cornered tie with Faculty, Phillips, and Danciger in the running.

Patrick of the Faculty and Hieronemus of Phillips should give a real pitching exhibition when the two teams meet. Besides being the league-leading hurler, Patrick also excels in hits and runs scored and is tied up for home run honors. Hieronemus is well up in the league batting and win column.

Both teams will endeavor to be at full strength for the important affair which will start about 5 o'clock on the fast Phillips diamond, one mile south of Bowers City. Many Pampa fans are planning to attend the important game.

Bowling League To Begin Season Tomorrow Night

The City Bowling league, class B, will open the season at the Pampa bowling alleys tomorrow night with the Junior chamber of commerce, the Kiwanis club, the Texas company, and Phillips teams in action. Two other teams, not yet recruited to full strength, will bowl later as only four teams can bowl at one time.

Team captains will draw for opponents which they arrive for the games. It has been impossible to arrange a schedule and set the opening games. The league will play on a handicap basis which will give each team the same chance.

Team members are urged to be on hand at 7:45 o'clock so that play can start on time. Three games will be bowled each Thursday night until the close of the season when awards will be made.

The Commercial league, class A, has been bowling for the past month.

ROB AFRAID OF GOTTON PICKER KOPECKY SAYS

MAKES TRIP TO PAMPA TO SEE IF ROY IS STILL HERE

The main event at the Pla-Mor auditorium tonight will see Rob Roy, mayor of Goodnight and pride of Pampa, meeting Sir Joseph Kopecky, cotton picker from Taylor, Tex., in a finish match. The meeting has been long in the air but was not settled until Kopecky proceeded to hurl insults at the Scotchman which he couldn't swallow.

Kopecky is old, experienced and tough while the Pampa boy is comparatively new to the game. However, Roy has been meeting some of the best in the country and Kopecky will not find the chump he expects. "Kopecky is always ready to pick a set-up but he may get a shock tonight," Dutch Mantel announced upon his arrival here this morning. "That Rob Roy will not take a back seat to anybody."

"I know he is afraid of me so I came over to see that he didn't run away," said Sir Joseph as he drove up to The NEWS in his big Auburn this morning. He was informed by a number of hearers that there was no chance of the Scotchman pulling out as he was more anxious for the match than Kopecky at which the tough boy seemed somewhat surprised. "Ain't he afraid," said Joe and the reply was "Not on your life, he is all loaded for bear tonight." Joe left the office with a frown on his face, evidently surprised and worried.

The semi-final will bring Tex Thrower, Borger ice man, and Red Michael, local boy, to the mat. Both are about the same weight and with about the same experience. It should be a hot match from the first as the redhead dislikes everything about Borger.

The opening event will be a surprise.

3 Ex-Harvester Stars Enroll at Canyon College

Three graduates of Pampa high school enrolled at West Texas State Teachers college, Canyon, yesterday after L. L. Sone and Odus Mitchell of the local high school staff visited President J. A. Hill, Dr. Harris M. Cook, professor of education, and Travis Shaw, secretary, Monday afternoon.

Enrollment was made possible thru the student loan fund which was placed at the disposal of the boys for tuition fees. The college officials agreed to the late enrollment upon the recommendation of the local teachers.

The three local boys, Albert Lard, Durwood Martindale and Lloyd Moore will be out for football with the freshman team and may see action against the Harvesters, who invade Canyon Friday night. They will be playing with Ralph Poe, captain of the team, and a former Harvester.

Two or three other local boys may enroll within the next week.

HARVESTERS MAY FACE TEAM OF GREAT EXES FRIDAY NIGHT

Poe, Lard, and Moore Due To Be In Game; Lineup May Show Changes.

The Harvesters went through another long workout yesterday afternoon in preparation for their game with the Canyon college freshmen under the lights at Buffalo stadium at 8 o'clock Friday night. New plays and several changes were worked during the practice.

The Harvesters will be meeting four former green and gold stars when they invade Canyon Friday night. Captain Ralph Poe will be at center for the Freshmen. Lloyd Moore, great end, enrolled at Canyon yesterday and will probably get in the game. Albert Lard and Lloyd Moore, two of the greatest backfield stars ever to wear the green and gold, will also be in a Canyon uniform, having enrolled yesterday.

The game will be no light workout and the crippled Harvesters will have to play smart and steady football to come out on the winning end of the score. Powell, Walker and Ledrick will not play. Coach Mitchell said yesterday. Walker and Ledrick were in uniform yesterday, but did not get into the practice.

A hard scrimmage is scheduled for this afternoon with polishing set for tomorrow.

The Harvesters won over the Freshmen 36 to 7 last year. The Canyon boys were the first to cross the Harvester line last year. Clarendon high school has already crossed the line this season.

It is expected that a changed lineup will take the field against the fish. Injuries will necessitate some changes but others more drastic may be noticed. The Harvesters have lacked a scoring punch this season.

A play by play description of a practice scrimmage was broadcast over Southern California's station to satisfy fans who were not permitted to be present.

G. Frank of Wichita Falls is in the city today.
M. R. Gayle of Dallas is here on business for a few days.

Pampa football fans, students, and some members of the faculty have the wrong conception of a second string football team such as the Gorillas of Pampa high school.

They believe that the coach should take his boys out and win games like the Harvesters, but they are wrong. A team such as the Gorillas is for the purpose of building up future Harvesters and not for winning games. Of course to win games is great, and shows that the team is strong and all that, but consider whom the Gorillas have self "Should they have won any of their games?"

The Gorillas lost to Panhandle, one of the fastest Class B teams in the country. They defeated Groom, which also has a great team. The boys succumbed to White Deer, also a strong Class B team. Give Coach Warren Moore a few of the Harvesters and with the material he has, he will win games, and plenty of them but that is not in the books.

The coach look about 40 boys over less than a month and a half ago and every one of them was green. They were small and full of fun rather than work, and already he has whipped together a surprising fast and heady team. Take a look at the boys, only three of them have had any previous football experience. There are not three boys on the team who will weigh more than 150 pounds. They have been up against teams averaging 165 and 170 pounds. Panhandle had two backfield stars weighing more than 200 pounds. Groom had some whales and the White Deer Bucks were grid mountains. It seemed a shame that the Gorillas should go up against them, but they fought with a surprising courage and never gave up. Of course they made mistakes; so do the Harvesters. The boys need more experience before they can be expected to go up against big, strong teams. They get cocky like boys will and that has to be taken out of them.

May Ban Radio From American League Parks

CHICAGO, Oct. 19. (AP)—Banning the radio from the American league baseball parks next season will come up for serious consideration at the annual meeting in December, President William Harridge indicated today.

There is a growing sentiment, President Harridge said, against the broadcasting of baseball games. The eastern half of the league, is solidly opposed to the radio, three of the clubs—Philadelphia, New York and Washington— even forbid telegraphic reports to be filed out of the park for broadcasting purposes.

"I cannot forecast how the club owners will vote," President Harridge said, "but it would not surprise me if all the clubs voted to throw the broadcasters out. Several baseball leaders contend that broadcasting kept thousands away from the world's series games in New York, particularly the first game, when the weather was threatening right up to game time."

The decision of the major leagues to extend the 1933 season a week longer means that the world series will start about Oct. 4 with the regular season concluding on Oct. 1. This fall the first game of the world series was played on Sept. 26. The 1933 races will probably open on April 12. This inaugural game falls on Wednesday, whereas Tuesday has been the customary day for blasting the baseball season open.

Brigham Young university's football team travelled 48 hours by automobile from Provo, Utah, to play Occidental college at Los Angeles.

Colorado's most promising candidate is 22 years old Ed Frante, who stands 6 feet 5 inches and weighs 220 pounds, who has won 21 of 28 bouts by knockouts.

JIMMIE FOXX TAKES AWARD

Athletic Star Voted Most Valuable Player in American League.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19. (AP)—A committee of the Baseball Writers' association of America has designated Jimmie Foxx of the Athletics as the American league's most valuable player in 1932, thereby turning this year's major league selections into an all-Philadelphia affair.

Foxx polled a total of 75 points out of a possible 80 to win the American league award by a decisive margin from Lou Gehrig of the Yankees, who received 55 points.

Chuck Klein of the Phillies was announced yesterday as the committee's choice as the National league's most valuable player, beating out Lonnie Warneke of the Cubs and Frank O'Doul of the Dodgers. Announcement of both winners was made by J. Roy Stockton of St. Louis, chairman of the selection committee in each league.

Foxx's winning total was made up of five first choices, one second and two thirds. Gehrig was picked for second place by a 14 point margin over Heinie Manush of the Senators with Earl Averill of the Indians fourth with 37; Lefty Gomez fifth with 27; Joe Cronin, Senators, and Babe Ruth, Yankees, tied for sixth with 26.

Foxx enjoyed his most spectacular season in the campaign just closed. He was nosed out for the league batting championship in the closing days of the season by Dale Alexander of the Red Sox, but counted 58 home runs, only two below Ruth's all-time record, led both leagues in runs batted in with 167 and compiled a batting average of .364.

The complete results of the American league balloting, scoring ten points for first, nine for second, etc., follow:

Foxx, Athletics, 75; Gehrig, New York, 55; Manush, Senators, 41; Averill, Indians, 37; Gomez, Yankees, 27; Cronin, Senators, and Ruth, Yankees, 26; Lazzeri, Yankees, 21; Simmons, Athletics, and Gehringer, Tigers, 13; Alexander, Red Sox, and Cissell, Indians, 10; R. Ferrell, Browns, 9; Grove, Athletics, Allen and Dickey, Yankees, 8; Goslin, Browns, 7; Weaver, Senators, 6; Davis, Tigers, Harris, Senators, W. Ferrell, Indians, Levey, Browns, and Lyons, White Sox, 5; Sullivan, White Sox, McNair, Athletics, and Jolley, Red Sox, 3; Crowder, Senators, and McManus, Red Sox, 3; Walker, Tigers and J. Sewell, Yankees, 1.

GIVE YOUR KITCHEN NEW FACE

Touching up will also help the baby's toys.

By MARGERY TAYLOR

Copyright, 1932, by the McCall Company for The NEWS

The kitchen is a good place to begin a paint orgy.

Even if the walls do not need painting, the details done in contrasting color will give plentiful opportunity for proving artistic prowess—and, well handled, they will make the job look professional.

Cabinet trim, hinges, catches and door pulls can be made delightful decorative in blue, green, red, or almost any bright color if the kitchen is white or ivory. For a green kitchen yellow, orchid or peach is the proper contrast.

Breakfast and sunrooms may be given a very novel effect if the window frames and sashes are painted to match the furniture. The unattractive bathroom becomes a beauty spot with a ceiling painted rose, blue or orchid, for instance, with curtains in harmony.

For the cellar, that stepchild of the house, the best treatment is paint and lots of it. White, or white and yellow will give it an above-ground look; painted cement floors are best for the laundry and for the recreation room, which you should create immediately if you haven't one already. White cellar stairs help greatly in preventing scraped elbows.

EIGHTY-EIGHT PARENTS ATTEND EVENT AT BAKER SCHOOL

To fathers of Baker school pupils, under the supervision of Principal J. A. Meek, goes the credit for an interesting program given at a meeting of Baker Parent-Teacher association last evening at the school.

Three of the fathers presided at the registration table, and 88 parents registered.

The crowd gathered at 7:30 o'clock, when Sid Merton, pianist, entertained for 15 minutes and A. L. Patrick directed games for the same length of time.

Ukulele, piano and vocal selections were given by Emmitt Smith, Lucile Conklin, and Mildred Holt, after which Miss Louise Smith entertained with a piano solo.

"Arrest of Carelessness" was the title of a clever playlet on fire prevention given by high third grade pupils under the direction of Miss Bernice Larsh.

Three songs were sung by a group of fifth grade pupils supervised by Mrs. A. J. Johnson, after which Sam Hayden, principal of the negro school, played a piano selection and gave two original readings, "Pampa" and "Fire's Out."

Climaxing the entertainment was a short play, "What Ails Me?" by Mrs. Claude Lard, Mrs. A. L. Jones, and Mrs. W. G. Irving, all members of the Parent-Teacher association.

My Beauty Hint

By SUSAN FLEMING

A lovely face needs attractive ankles to complete its appeal even more than pretty ankles need an alluring face to round out their success.

Dancing—aesthetic, ballet and ballroom—helps reduce ankle width. There is also a simple morning and evening exercise which I recommend.

Stand on the bare feet and rise very, very slowly to the toes, hesitate a moment and drop back on the heels very slowly. Do this ten or twelve times twice a day and time will do the rest.

FROCKS OF WOOL SMART FOR EVENING

PARIS (AP)—Woolen evening frocks are here for winter parties. They are made of featherweight wool crepes which fall in soft lines about the figure.

One of the smartest models of black wool cut along princess lines is finished with a little shoulder cape of silver sequins studded with light blue threads.

Another of pale blue wool has a simple round décolletage edged with a ruche of twisted blue and white wool strips.

PARIS (AP)—Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt is among smart Americans who are wearing the new long sleeved dinner gowns this fall.

Included in her wardrobe is a dinner gown of pale duck's egg blue crepe fashioned with long sleeves shirred from shoulder to wrist to give a modified leg of mutton effect.

The gown has a high necked front and a deep vee back-outlined with a narrow shirred trim.

A nine year record was broken when for the first time since 1923 Washington State failed to score against Southern California in the recent football game.

The Campaign Puzzle

Study Past State-by-State Votes in Making Your Forecasts

Connecticut's vote for president in 1928:

Hoover	296,614
Smith	252,940

the state has given the most votes to a democratic presidential candidate but once, in 1912.

Alfred E. Smith and his prohibition views were able in 1928 to reduce the republican majority in the state to less than 45,000.

Democrats succeeded in the 1930 elections in obtaining narrow majorities for Wilbur L. Cross, former dean of the Yale graduate school, for the governorship and for two of their five candidates for congressional seats.

J. Henry Horaback, republican national committeeman, attributed the 1930 results to economic conditions. The prohibition issue also figured in these campaigns.

Prohibition has been a widely discussed issue in the current campaign. Both parties have included repeal planks in their state platforms.

Connecticut supported Alfred E. Smith for the democratic nomination throughout the convention battling at Chicago. State leaders who supported Smith have since given their endorsement to the party's nominee.

Connecticut has eight electoral votes this year. In 1928 it had seven.

Utah's vote for president in 1928:

Hoover	94,618
Smith	80,985

Utah, one of the two states carried by Taft in 1912, has established a republican record broken only by its vote for Wilson in 1916.

In the presidential campaign of 1928 Utah was keenly interested in the prohibition views of the two candidates. The attitude of the Mormon church is dry, and the voting strength of the state long has been cast on that side.

Utah has had no senatorial or gubernatorial elections since 1928. In the congressional elections of 1930 republican candidates were elected in both districts in the state by a combined majority of 8,099 of a total of 141,340 votes (or candidates of the two major parties. The combined republican majority in the two districts in the 1928 was 19,226 of a total vote of 175,054.

Utah in 1928 elected a democratic senator, William H. King, by a majority of 20,363, and re-elected George H. Dern (D) as governor for his second term.

Silver is an issue of major importance in this year's presidential campaign, as well as in the senatorial campaign in which Reed Smoot (R), dean of the senate, is opposed by Dr. Elbert D. Thomas (D), professor of political science in the University of Utah.

Utah has four electoral votes this year, as formerly.

West Virginia's vote for president in 1928:

Hoover	375,551
Smith	263,784

Herbert Hoover's majority in West Virginia in 1928 was the largest this usually republican state had ever given a presidential candidate. West Virginia has voted for only one democratic candidate in 40 years, giving its vote to Wilson in 1912.

The prohibition views of the rival candidates formed an outstanding issue in the 1928 presidential campaign, but popular attention was divided between that contest and a lively race between M. M. Neely (D) and Henry D. Hatfield (R) for the senate. The lake cargo coal freight rates case formed a major issue in the senate campaign, in which Hatfield was elected, 327,266 to 317,620.

Neely was a candidate again in 1930, defeating James Ellwood Jones (R) by a vote of 342,437 to 209,427. Economic conditions and coal freight rates were the issues most widely discussed in this campaign.

Registrations in both parties have shown an increase in 1932 over 1928. Republican registration has increased from 445,579 to 473,045. Democratic registration rose from 363,531 to 450,376.

Economic and taxation programs have been outstanding in this year's political discussions in both state and national fields.

West Virginia this year has eight electoral votes, as formerly.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 19 (AP)—Cotton had a disappointing opening today after Liverpool cables came in much better than due although sterling was easier. First trades here showed no change from the previous close and prices eased two to three points right after the start on hedge-selling. December dropping to 6.29 and March to 6.43. Later in the first hour prices rallied, partly on the cables but mainly on the firmer opening in stocks, December advancing to 6.34 and March to 6.47, up 4 to 5 points from the lows and two points above yesterday's close. Near the end of the first hour the market was steady at the best. The W (R)... 9 1/2 @ 11 1/4 and crop summary was about as expected, but indicated that picking was nearly completed all over the belt. The market ruled very quiet all morning with prices fluctuating rather nervously but within a narrow range. After rallying 5 to 7 points in the early part of the second hour on stocks' steadiness, December reaching 6.36 and March 6.48, the market gradually eased on lack of support and more or less hedge-selling. December dropped to 6.28 and March to 6.41, or 7 to 10 points under the early highs and 4 to 6 points under yesterday's close. Near noon, the market rallied 2 to 4 points on shorts covering. The feature of the day was the large exports, totaling 73,793 bales, of which New Orleans alone exported 54,813 bales.

The PEOPLES COLUMN

Editor, The NEWS:

It is going to be natural for some borrowers to want to collateralize their loans to the Secretary of Agriculture. All loans must be paid by November 30th next or fully collateralized. The government has ruled to allow farmers who have borrowed crop production loans to put up enough cotton at 9 cents clear of all claim and labor expense to cover their loan to the government.

This plan of collateralization is often misunderstood to be full payment of obligation. This is not the truth. To collateralize cotton means to put enough cotton up at stipulated price as security or to stand good for the obligation. The secretary of agriculture is permitting crop loan borrowers to put up enough cotton at 9-cent clear of all expense, etc. to cover loan. This cotton must go through the Cotton Cooperatives of Texas, or be stored in a Federal Bonded Warehouse, insured and storage paid six months in advance. Then the warehouse must send receipts to the Crop Production Loan Office, 500 Dallas Power and Light Bldg., Dallas. The borrower who collateralizes his cotton has to March 1933 to sell cotton or order sale at any time the market seems most favorable. After the above date, the secretary of agriculture shall take charge of cotton and sell it.

Collateralization does not mean payment but rather an extension. If cotton any time sells for less than nine cents at which it was collateralized, the borrower has to pay the difference up to the amount of loan. If cotton brings over nine cents when sold, the government will refund to the borrower the amount over the loan. Upon full satisfaction of the amount of collateralized cotton, the rest of the crop will be released in due course of time to the farmer to use as he needs or sees best.

It is suggested if one does collateralize cotton that sufficient margin over amount be put up that more funds will not have to be secured if cotton does not bring nine cents and furthermore, any overpayment will go to the borrower. It is better to have a paid note ready at the best.

The W (R)... 9 1/2 @ 11 1/4 and crop summary was about as expected, but indicated that picking was nearly completed all over the belt. The market ruled very quiet all morning with prices fluctuating rather nervously but within a narrow range. to the farm and held an investigation. Monzingo got in touch with Wilson's wife at Pampa and she told him she was unable to make funeral arrangements, he said. "We just buried him here on the farm," the captain added.

"Little Chuck" Wilson was convicted here in connection with the fatal shooting of C. H. Taylor, Phillips employe, the night of Jan. 27, 1931 on the road between LeFors and Bowers City. Wilson was arrested the same night by Sheriff Lon L. Blansett and Deputy Harris King. He had served less than one year of his sentence. His wife lives at LeFors.

Government expense should be reduced to the minimum. Thus borrowers who have not paid or fully collateralized thereby are adding hereafter additional government expense. We earnestly request the cooperation of all interested parties and particularly every borrower who has not to date paid in full or fully collateralized his note that he do so at the earliest, humanly possible date, thereby assisting in reducing further government expense on your account.

C. L. GEESEY, Field Inspector.

A PATH TO PARADISE

by Coningsby DAWSON

SYNOPSIS: Clive waits in the deserted house of Santa Dawn's parents for Santa. He waits to propose to her, but Santa has broken her date with him. Santa is beautiful, gay, irresistible, the young man of her own and other sets. When she finally returns Clive cannot penetrate her flippant pose, and dashes out of the house when she insists she must "sample" many suitors to know whether she wants him. But Mrs. Dawn hurriedly snatches her daughter away to Europe, feeling that Clive is making an impression after all.

Chapter 2 CLIVE'S NIGHT RIDE

From the hotel behind him Clive could hear the hum of a car. From the verandah where he sat alone in the blue August dusk, he could see dim shapes of girls escaping with their escorts. In the rose-garden below the terrace, engines began to sputter. With groping headlights automobiles shot out, gathered speed and vanished.

He could guess their errands. In imagination he followed them. A girl and a man who had not known each other till within the past few hours, met accidentally on the bathing-beach or golf-course, had taken a momentary shine to each other. Tomorrow they would be paired differently.

What did they gain by experimenting? When the real thing arrived, it would find them with blunted appetites. On the other hand there was the bird in the hand theory. One might sleep through life saving up for a great event that never happened.

Suddenly he caught a glimpse of himself. Could Santa see him now, how she would laugh!

"Clive, darling, you are a dumb-bell."

Because he was saving himself for her, he was acting like a monk. She wouldn't thank him for his loyalty; she would treat it as an infirmity.

Time enough for that when you're married," she would tell him. Her name spelt magic; she was aptly called. Her face was instinct with longing, yet longing that was impersonal. Her dark bobbed head was boyish; her hazel eyes melting. She had a trick of meekness, very appealing, in the way she employed her capable hands. She created the impression of needing protection.

It was out of the question that any girl should live up to her appearance. She didn't attempt to; she was outrageously modern. Welcoming all and sundry with gay impartiality, she led them as a flock beside the still waters of her gentleness in the pathetic belief that she could restore their souls. Clive's soul was an example of her restoring.

Since her mother had whisked her off to Europe, his days had been a protracted torment. On shipboard, in a train, through a chance meeting at some hotel she might pick up a more eligible Apollo. Every detail of her conduct and attire would be planned to advertise that she was accessible. Each time the picking-up process had been accomplished her mother, having shed an aroma of respectability, would discreetly vanish.

The correctness of Clive's prophecy had been reflected in her correspondence, which had consisted in the main of picture-postcards signed hurriedly. "With all my heart—Santa." Then had come the cabled news that she was returning and an invitation, amounting to a command, that he should spend the first week-end at her parents' country-house.

He wired her his challenge in mid-ocean. "Lighted you've finished sampling. Injured silence had followed. Were he to say for reinstatement, he would become her dog-Fido. In a tions to Ida Bess prior to Mrs. Berrie's death. The witness said he saw Berrie grasp the girl's hand in the church study, where she was doing some typing for the minister, and look into her face "in a silly way."

Were Affectionate Mrs. Thompson related that on one occasion, when she was visiting at the Berrie home, Ida Bess had been restrained from entering Berrie's room while he was undressed. Another time she said the girl held the minister's hand when he was ill and on a third occasion she saw the girl in Berrie's lap during an automobile ride.

Two physicians, Dr. L. S. McAllister and Dr. J. G. Rafter, both of whom examined Mrs. Berrie when she was stricken with her fatal illness, testified they believed she had been poisoned. Further state testimony related to the chemist's report of the finding of poison in Mrs. Berrie's viscera after exhumation of her body.

Clive's heart beat in his throat. He slit the envelope. "Must see you. Important. Santa."

Springing to action, he rushed into the hotel. At the desk he learned that by the earliest train he couldn't reach New York much before the next evening. His shortest means of travel was to drive, as he had come, by automobile.

From being old and done (old and done at 22) he had joined the ranks of the young and gallant. He cast about for parallels to the grandeur of his passion.

His choice fastened on Gaston de Foix, the greatest general in Renaissance Europe, dead and buried at twenty-three, his fame accomplished, who at the siege of some Italian town (was it Brescia?) when wall were slippery with blood and men were faltering, had bound his right arm to his side with his lady's scarf and led the assault carrying his sword in his left hand to prove—O, splendid example!—how invincible youth is when it has been enslaved by a woman.

Santa's genius for extracting proposals was forgotten, together with the many times when she had almost engaged herself to other chumps.

For the past week he had been analyzing with elderly clearness the phenomenon of infatuation: how a man could be such an ass as to get that way, to stay that way, and infinitely more complicated, why it was that when J's dreams had been realized, he frequently and disastrously recovered.

Under the spell of speed and moonlight such enquiries looked thin blooded. Santa's telegram could have but one interpretation.

And so he drove through the night, tearing the silence of deserted country roads into shreds, desecrating with his motor's high whine little New England villages. He was speeding to answer Santa's call!

(Copyright, 1931-1932, Coningsby Dawson)

There are danger signals in Santa's past. Will Clive heed them, tomorrow?

Are You Living In The Dark Ages?

If your living room is dark and gloomy you're still comparatively benighted. There's nothing like light to brighten your surroundings. Take stock frankly—are your rooms hospitable or forbidding? Wouldn't a lamp here, a splash of warm light there enliven, beautify your home? You owe it to your family, to your guests. Every arm chair should have a reading lamp beside it to prevent eye strain. Proper light for the card table is absolutely necessary. Perhaps a newer, more modern central fixture would help solve your problem—or more suitably placed wall brackets.

Decide upon the type of lighting your room needs—then visit your dealer's display of smart new lamps and fixtures. You'll find just the improvements your home requires—at extremely reasonable prices. The change in your rooms will surprise you!
