

Eye-Witness Of Sweat-Box Death Says Guard Sought His Favor
CONTEST TRULING EXPECTED TODAY

SAW PRISONER TORTURED TILL HE WAS DEAD
CONVICT TOLD HE WAS ON WRONG SIDE OF FENCE
'LAUGHED IN HIS FACE'
WATCHED WHILE BODY WAS TAKEN FROM SWEAT-BOX

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 7. (P)—A former prison guard accused of murdering Arthur Mallefert by slow torture in a sweat box was described in testimony today as courting the favor and support of another convict who had seen the New Jersey youth chained in the box.
James H. Travis, a prisoner who served with Mallefert at the Sunbeam camp, gave that description as the first of the day's witnesses in the trial of George W. Courson in the trial of George W. Courson, former captain of the Sunbeam guards and former guard Solomon Higginbotham.
He said he saw Mallefert placed in the box and later witnessed the removal of his body.
He declared Courson "called me over to him one morning after breakfast and said:
'Travis, I appreciate the attitude you boys have taken in this, but you are on the wrong side of the fence.'
"The gate is wide open for you to get on my side."
"I laughed in his face and walked away," Travis added.
C. A. Avriett, attorney for Solomon Higginbotham, the other defendant, cross-examined Travis.
"Is it not a fact," said Avriett, "that if he was not for you that other man sentenced with you would not have been convicted?"
Denies Accusation
"That's a lie," the witness replied. "He is the reason I am on the chain gang now."
No explanation was made as to the identity of the other man. Travis was sent up from Miami for robbery. Another question elicited the information that Travis had served a previous prison term. "You are fond of these chain gangs, aren't you?" Avriett queried.
Travis grew red in the face as he replied, "I never heard of a chain gang until I came to Florida. I don't have 'em where I come from."
As Avriett sought to have Travis show clearly how the body of Mallefert hung in the sweat box from a chain which had been placed around his neck and tied to a rafter, the

Proclamation

WHEREAS, National Fire Prevention week has become an important and useful medium in the program of civic advancement; and
WHEREAS, it is impossible to even estimate the vast number of lives and the vast amount of property that may be saved each year by a more general and thorough understanding of fire prevention and more diligent attention to the removal of such hazards as bring danger of fire; and
WHEREAS, the records of our state indicate that much benefit is being derived from educational campaigns being carried on during fire prevention week and that such carelessness in regard to fire hazards is being eliminated as a result of the campaign;
NOW THEREFORE, I, W. A. BRATTON, mayor of the City of Pampa, Texas, do hereby designate the period from October 9th to October 15th inclusive as fire prevention week in the City of Pampa, and I hereby call on every man, woman, and child to diligently survey their premises with regard to fire hazards and especially inspect all electric wiring and gas connections, eliminating all possible rubber gas stove hose connections, and to remove from their premises all trash and rubbish that may create a hazard, thus protecting the lives and property of our community.
Given under my hand and seal of office this 7th day of October, A. D. 1932.
W. A. BRATTON, Mayor.

CHARGE OF VAGRANCY COVERS MANY OFFENSES WHICH SOCIETY TERMS INFRACTION OF STATUTE
Fourteen Ways To Be Vagrant Are Listed In Texas Laws—Gypsies Hard Hit, as Soothsayers

By OLIN E. HINKLE
The small but sharp distinction between an unemployed person and one legally guilty of vagrancy is one that is of unusual importance in judicial and city courts lately.
Vagabondage has always been in dispute, unless accompanied by some form of service, such as giving the news of other lands, as in ancient times, playing instruments, sharpening knives, and the like. The word vagrant is derived from the Improving business: Birmingham—Work-shirt and overall factories in Birmingham are working full time, with shipments equal to production. Overall factories are bringing in denim in greater quantity than for more than two years.

We don't understand the fervor of some West Texans who do not wish this state to spend a penny, officially, to stage a creditable centennial celebration. A moderate appropriation, supplemented by private funds, would bring thousands of cars to Texas. The tax income from the gasoline these tourists would spend would at least equal the state appropriation. Accordingly, we plan to vote for the constitutional amendment to make the appropriation possible. Texas' proud history should be symbolized in a manner befitting our heritage—or not at all.

CHICAGO WILL TAKE CARE OF INSULL COSTS
TO PAY FOR RETURN OF BROTHERS TO COOK COUNTY
LARGE SUM AVAILABLE
MARTIN IS IN CANADA AND SAMUEL IS IN EUROPE

CHICAGO, Oct. 7. (P)—Cook county decided today to pay "all reasonable expenses" for the return of Samuel and Martin Insull to Chicago to face charges of embezzlement and larceny.
Emmet Wheelan, president of the county board, announced the decision after appearing before the grand jury that indicted the Insulls. State's Attorney John A. Swanson had asked the jury to investigate what he termed "the refusal of the county to pay expenses of the case."
"The jurors apparently had the impression that the county board was trying to block the investigation, but I assured them of my utmost co-operation," Wheelan said after spending 45 minutes in the jury room.
Wheelan said Swanson had asked for $50,000 expense money for the case, but that the county board would not consider granting that.

Unique Events Due During Fire Prevention Week

Fire Prevention week, which starts Sunday and lasts through the following Saturday, will be of interest to the old and the young of Pampa.
For business men it will mean that their buildings will be inspected by firemen during the week.
On Monday afternoon, the high school band, pep squad, students in buses, Boy Scouts and civic club members will have part in a mammoth parade headed by a fire engine.
In connection with the week, talks will be made in the schools and fire drills will be held. Firemen are completing a model house 30 inches high which will show 30 fire hazards. On Monday this toy house will be placed in the lobby of the Woodrow Wilson school so that pupils may see the hazards and take the information to their own homes. Each day it will be moved to a different school. Later it will be returned to the fire station and saved for future use.

HOOVER AND SMITH MAY MAKE TOURS BEFORE OCTOBER ENDS

By BYRON PRICE.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 7. (P)—True to the advance notices, Hoover has opened with a week of redoubled political effort all along the line, topped by two of the most-discussed developments of the whole campaign—the Hoover trip to Des Moines, and the Roosevelt-Smith meeting at Albany.
The rallying of Republicans at the Iowa capital and of Democrats at the Hudson not only were first-page news in themselves, but each now seems likely to lead to other interesting things in the month remaining before the election.
Having had his first taste of cross-country campaigning since 1928, President Hoover is listening to advisers who think he ought to make several more such trips, including one to the Pacific Coast to cast his ballot on November 8 at Palo Alto. Furthermore, he is counseled to continue as he began at Des Moines, replying directly to the speeches of his opponent, and attacking the record of the opposition leaders.
Whether this advice will be taken, Mr. Hoover himself does not yet know. He will await further reports of the political effect of the Iowa trip, and will consider many other factors in the situation.

As a result of the bitter quarrel between the pope and the Mexican government, the papal legate, Archbishop Leopoldo Ruiz y Flores, above, has been exiled. He was deported to Brownsville, by plane.

LATE NEWS

NEW YORK, Oct. 7. (P)—A brisk but short-lived selling flurry sent the stock market into another slump today, but extreme losses of 2 to more than 5 points in many prominent issues were partially reduced in the last hour. Fresh selling appeared in the last few minutes, however, and the final tone was heavy. The turnover approximated 2,400,000 shares.

Firemen Want May Old Toys

Have you any old toys about the house which will never be used by your children?
This question is asked by Pampa firemen who wish old toys to repair and re-paint for distribution to needy children at Christmas. The firemen are ready and eager to start work.
A phone call to No. 617 will bring a fireman after your old toys, or you may leave them at the station. Last year more than 300 toys were distributed by the firemen.

Car Hi-jackers Used Discovered

J. T. McWhorter of Shamrock, who was hijacked on the Borger road west of Pampa night before last, yesterday afternoon pointed out a car here which resembled the one used by the men who robbed him.
Subsequent investigation showed that the car had been stolen from a local man's garage but returned before he discovered its absence. The robbery was after midnight.
McWhorter said that he could identify the robbers should they be apprehended.

Walker May Run For U. S. Senator

S. S. EUROPA, Oct. 7. (P)—Sources close to former Mayor James J. Walker, who is returning to New York from Europe aboard the Europa, said today they believed he would be more interested in a campaign for the United States Senate at some future time than that in running again for mayor of New York.
The matter was not discussed, however, at a smoking room conference aboard ship after midnight this morning at which Walker announced to his friends that he had declined to be a candidate for mayor at the November election.

EASY MONEY IN WRITING OF AMATEUR ADS

Readers of The NEWS Are Given Chance to Earn $130.—It's Real Fun.
Do you wish to make some money and learn at the same time? If you do, enter the Pampa Daily NEWS amateur ad writing contest. You have all read advertisements—now write some! It's really fun. There will be $130 in cash prizes. Don't wait—enter now.
Here are the rules:
1. Look over the list of merchants who are participating in this contest (Murfee's Inc., Malone Furniture company, Levine's, Brownhill, Pampa Furniture, Southwestern Public Service company, Pampa Hardware, Gray County Creamery, Culberson & Smalling Chevrolet company, LaNora and Rex theaters, Gordon store, Mitchell's, choose any one of them or all, and write one or more (as you desire) ads for each one you have chosen.
2. Each ad must be at least 20 newspaper inches in size (2 columns by 10 inches, 4 columns by 5 inches, etc.) or contain 40 regular square inches. You are allowed to make them as large as you like.
3. With each ad submitted include your name, address, phone number, name of the firm for which you wrote the ads, and business classifications of the firms, such as hardware, grocery, etc.
Each participating firm will publish four prize-winning ads so write several for each merchant to be sure of getting into the money. The sum of $250 will be paid for

Church Property Is Confiscated In Vera Cruz

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 7. (P)—Catholic priests in the state of Vera Cruz were deprived of their citizenship today by decree of the state legislature, and all church property was ordered confiscated by the governor for other purposes.
The action was taken at a special session of the legislature last night. The decree declaring the priests no longer citizens leaves them liable to expulsion from the country, under provisions of the federal constitution.
At the same time the legislature indicated its desire to encourage similar action in the other states, by voting to call the attention of its action to the other legislatures and to the federal congress.

Cunningham Heads Drive Committee

Jack Cunningham this afternoon was elected chairman of the Welfare Board financial drive which will be staged October 13.
Cunningham also is a member of the Rotary soliciting committee. John B. Hesse is chairman of the Lions committee, Rev. James Todd Jr. of the Kiwanis committee, and Sid Merton of the Junior chamber of commerce committee.
The goal set is $3,500.

BORGER FULLBACK INELIGIBLE BUT GOOD SUBSTITUTE READY

Jack Knight, Borger's giant fullback, has been found ineligible because of being over-age, it was learned here this morning.
This development was calculated to change the Bulldogs' plan of attack, which has been built in part around Knight's sensational passing ability. However, the fast Borgerites, intensively coached, have other offensive likely to give the Harvesters trouble.
Knight's ineligibility has forced changes in the Borger backfield. Morrison will be quarterback, with Haslam at right half, Hannah at left half, and Whittenburg at fullback; if information received by The NEWS is reliable.
Reserve seat sales here today were brisk indicating that Pampa will have between 700 and 800 representatives at Alamo stadium tonight, including students.

TWO CASES PENDING IN STATE SUPREME COURT CONSOLIDATED TO ASSURE EARLY DECISION

CHIEF JUSTICE ALMOST PROMISES ACTION BY TOMORROW
SATURDAY IS LAST DAY
MA'S NAME MUST BE CERTIFIED THEN OR NEVER
AUSTIN, Oct. 7. (P)—The Texas supreme court today consolidated the two cases pending in that court involving the Texas gubernatorial nomination.
The two cases were:
A certified question for the third court of civil appeals asking the high tribunal to rule on the right of District Judge W. E. Robertson to try a suit filed by Governor R. S. Sterling contesting the right of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson to the democratic nomination.
A motion filed by Mrs. Ferguson seeking leave of the court to file a petition for mandamus Mrs. J. H. Y. McCallum, secretary of state, to certify her as the nominee.
The cases were consolidated on the court's own motion. The court also suggested that arguments be dispensed with in the certified question case since the points involved were argued at length last Saturday when Mrs. Ferguson presented her motion for leave to file for a mandamus.
"We have concluded in view of the urgency of these matters, it is our duty under the summary election statutes to take submission without further argument," Chief Justice C. M. Cureton stated.
There was no objection on the part of counsel for either Mrs. Ferguson or Governor Sterling.

DEMOCRATS IN TEXAS TO AID THEIR PARTY
Medallions Will Be Put on Sale Here

Beginning tomorrow, Pampa democrats will have an opportunity to contribute to the campaign of the Roosevelt-Garner ticket.
Bronze medallions bearing the profiles of Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Garner will be placed on sale at the office of Silver Faulkner, county democratic chairman. With them will be given a certificate of membership in the Shareholders of America, the democratic campaign organization. They are priced at $1, although more may be contributed if desired.
The drive will take place all over Texas Saturday. It is hoped by Mr. Faulkner that many democrats of this community will rally to the party's assistance by buying a medallion as a memento of this year's campaign. His office is in the southwest corner of the first floor of the courthouse.
AMARILLO, Oct. 7. (P)—Clothing, firearms and musical instruments, identified as stolen in a series of burglaries in Lubbock, were found in five different places here. Amarillo police were informed by Geo. Eubank, police officer of Lubbock. The loot had been sold and resold.
The Lubbock officer said other loot had been recovered in Albuquerque, N. M., Hale Center, Willard, N. M., and Roswell, N. M.
Amarillo officers were told three suspects two men and a woman, were held in connection with the burglary, committed during the summer.

PURGING ITALIAN OF FOREIGN WORDS

Remember during the war, when everybody was deeply nationalistic and patriotic, how "sauerkraut" disappeared from the menu and bobbed up as "liberty cabbage"? And how the Germans, not to be outdone, suddenly discovered that there had been a deep infiltration of English and French words for which they at once invented German equivalents?

Well, 13 years after the war is over, Italy is swinging into action to purify the mother tongue of words which have slipped in from outside. It is becoming the duty of all good Italians, particularly writing men, to avoid foreign words as they would the plague of a Communist.

There is, for instance, that good old word—"taxi"—which has become well-nigh universal. But it jarred the fine ear of Benito Mussolini. There is nothing soft and melodious and Italian about those dreadful English "x" sounds. So the prime minister-dictator himself took a hand and invented the more mellifluous "tassi."

"Omelette" is banished back to that much-hated France from whence it came. You must ask for a "frittata." Don't spring that other universal English word "sandwich" on the restaurant keeper. Wrap your hungry lips around a panino imbottito. If you want to ask a dark-eyed damsel in your hotel if she likes "jazz" music, don't say it. There is a much prettier Italian word, bright from the mint—"grazzo." And when you take her back to home and mother don't give the street directions to a "chauffeur." Remember that the National Fascist Tranport Federation has had several meetings, wracked its collective brains and put forth the correct word—"autista."

Then, too, along with Reds and other agitators, there have been banned from Italy some queer words which look English, sound English, but have been twisted out of their original meaning and adopted by the French who, in turn, shipped them into Italy. Thus the French call a dinner packet or tuxedo—a "smoking." They called a morning coat a "redingote." The Italians will now turn a deaf ear when you mention either one of them.

what adds comfort and convenience and saves wear and tear on cars. The little stretch of road between here and Canadian is a mighty good thing to have and some day the road will be paved all the way to Amarillo and that will be better still. Yet the old time cowpuncher in the days of yore never dreamed of the day when a paved highway would wind its way through the hills and over the plains and the trails of the pioneers be lost and forgotten. It would be a good thing to locate old trails and mark them before they are lost forever.

Vesily, we live in a wonderful world even if we do have to pay dearly for the privilege. When the Panman was a boy living in Hemphill county that stretch of road from Canadian to Higgins was not even dignified by the name of highway. The sand was deep, the roads winding. Wagons of the freighters moved slowly along, the heels sinking by the sand and raising a cloud of dust as the mules struggled along under the persuasion of long, lashing whips. Then came the Model T Ford, which to say the least was not as sure a mode of transportation as that provided by the mule. Now the Model T always faster than the mule-driven vehicle. That Hemphill county sand held many a car until mule-power was applied to extricate it. Negotiating the sandy road through the sand-hill was something for the merchant to brag about, and one of such problems grew the chambers of commerce.

Soon those sandy roads will be a memory held only by the oldtimers, of whom, with the passing years, the Panman threatens to become one. Today concrete removes the sand as an obstacle and cars skim along almost without effort. Soon there will be all-weather surface from the Oklahoma line to Canyon and beyond. Roberts county hopes to bring the concrete to the Gray county line before snow flies. Gray county unfortunately will continue the hard-surfacing with caliche topped with asphalt. Concrete would have been better, but the taxpayers will, presumably, be relieved of the burden. We hereby promise to pay the Higgins News a visit when we can drive all the way without touching mud and sand.

Who Are Vagrants?
The following persons are and shall be punished as vagrants: 1. Persons known as tramps, wandering or strolling about in idleness, who are able to work and have no property to support them.

2. Persons leading an idle, immoral or profligate life, who have no property to support them, and who are able to work and do not work.

3. All persons able to work, who have no property to support them, and who have no visible or known means of a fair, honest, and reputable livelihood. The term "visible or known means of a fair, honest and reputable livelihood," as used in this article, shall be construed to mean reasonably continuous employment at some lawful occupation or other investments, which income is sufficient for the support and maintenance of such person.

4. All able-bodied persons who habitually loaf, loiter and idle in any city, town, or village, or railroad station, or any other public place in this state for the larger portions of their time, without any regular employment and without any visible means of support. An offense under this subdivision shall be made out if it is shown that any person has no visible means of support, and only occasionally has employment at odd jobs, being for the most of the time out of employment.

5. Persons trading or bartering stolen property.

6. Every common gambler or person who for the most part maintains himself by gambling.

7. All companies of gypsies, who, in whole or in part, maintain themselves by selling fortunes.

8. Every able-bodied person who shall go begging for a livelihood.

9. Every common prostitute.

10. Every able-bodied person who lives without employment or labor and who has no visible means of support.

11. All persons who are able to work and do not work, but hire out their minor children, or allow them to be hired out, and live upon their wages, being without other means of support.

12. All persons over sixteen years of age and under twenty-one, able to work and who do not work, and have no property to support them, and have not some known, visible means of a fair, honest, and reputable livelihood, and whose parents, or those in loco parentis, are un-

Don't cut corners at street intersections.

Don't operate your car with defective brakes.

Don't operate your car with defective or glaring lights.

Indict Former Bank Clerk For Embezzlement

AMARILLO, Oct. 7. (AP)—An indictment against Bert Raley, former employee of the First National bank of Amarillo, charging embezzlement of $82,000, headed a list of 23 true bills returned by the grand jury in the fall term of federal court here. Raley is held in California.

Sixteen of the 23 indictments were for liquor law violations. There were three indictments for counterfeiting, involving Harry E. Reed and Leo M. Pavey, former employees United States helium plant here, and B. L. "Buck" Lewis of Wheeler. E. R. Annis and James Leland were charged with burglary of the Lela Lake postoffice.

G. Hawkins, a transfer from Lubbock, was indicted for using the mails to defraud.

Transfers included Mrs. James E. Percer and Will A. Knapp of Lubbock, indicted for possession, sale and transportation of beer, and Renato Garrillo, Sabino Chavez and Edoa Chavez of Lubbock, charged with sale and transportation of beer. Those from the Abilene district included Pete Monus, sale and possession of whiskey; Robert H. Hansford, sale and possession of beer and whiskey; Valdo Feasel, sale and possession of beer and whiskey, all from Eastland county.

President May Make Sweeping Tour of Nation

ON BOARD PRESIDENTIAL SPECIAL, EN ROUTE TO WASHINGTON, Oct. 7. (AP)—A possibility that President Hoover may make a sweeping transcontinental speaking tour in his campaign for reelection was discussed by his friends here as the presidential special neared the national capital.

Some of Mr. Hoover's political advisers urged such a tour upon him in conference last night, saying the results of his present tour thru Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Pennsylvania indicate the political expediency of a swing across country to the west coast, in addition to the two trips already scheduled as his program.

The president, himself, over and over again said he was "heartened" and "encouraged" by his reception in the midwest.

In his last rear platform appearance last night, as his special train stopped in Johnstown, Pa., the president was urged by some of those in the crowd to make more speeches like the one he delivered at Des Moines. "We heard you last night," a man in the crowd shouted. "Give us three more like that and it'll all be over."

"Do you want some more?" the president asked.

"Yes," a chorus of voices replied. The train was then moving off and the president did not commit himself.

Johnstown was the last of more than a dozen towns and cities stretching from Chicago past Pittsburgh in which president and Mrs. Hoover made rear platform appearances to great crowds ranging, according to police estimates, up to 15,000.

Court Affirms Borger Recall Election Case

AMARILLO, Oct. 7. (AP)—The Borger city commissioners must order a recall election involving the issue of their removal from office, according to a ruling of the seventh court of civil appeals here.

The court sustained the action of District Judge E. J. Pickens in issuing a mandamus commanding Mayor John R. Miller and the four commissioners to order the election, and instructed Judge Pickens to issue a new writ "requiring the commissioners to call the election and fix a time" when the election is to be held.

Claiming that as interested parties they were not qualified to call the election, the commissioners had appealed from the mandamus.

Joseph H. Aynesworth, acting city attorney at Borger, told the Borger Daily Herald that the case would be taken "to the highest court to which it may be appealed." The commissioners may ask for a rehearing within 15 days. If a new hearing is denied, they may apply to the supreme court for a writ of error within 30 days.

Terms of the mayor and commissioners expire next April, but E. A. Simpson, of Amarillo, attorney for the citizens committee of Borger, said that if the case was carried to the supreme court he would ask that it be given priority because an election is involved. He said it would be definitely settled before the regular election in April.

Parade to Feature Fire Prevention Event on Monday

Pampa Lions have voted to enter a car in the Fire Prevention week parade to be staged next Monday afternoon.

The parade will include a fire truck, high school band, 14 school buses loaded with children, and cars entered by various organizations.

Announcements concerning the week were made by Fire Chief Clyde Gold and Supt. R. B. Fisher. Frank Culbertson, George Limerick, and W. V. McArthur were appointed to plan the Lions part in the parade.

The Shamrock Lions club will come to Pampa on the evening of October 20 for an inter-city dinner and will furnish the program.

The Lions will be represented in the Welfare Board financial drive by John B. Hessey, C. L. Craig, and John Osborne.

Club visitors were Clyde Gold, Travis Lively and Minor Huffman, the latter of Dallas.

CAR REGISTRATIONS

Recent car registrations, mostly of used vehicles, included the following:

Expelled Papal Legate Likely to Remain in Texas

LAREDO, Oct. 7. (AP)—Archbishop Leopoldo Ruiz Flores expelled papal legate from Mexico, said today he would remain in Laredo several days, deciding later where he would make his permanent residence in this country.

The archbishop ordered out of Mexico by President Abelardo Rodriguez as a "pernicious foreigner," said he had made no plans to go to Rome to report on his deportation unless summoned by Pope Pius XI. His expulsion resulted from his comments on an encyclical issued by the Pope Friday which discussed the situation of the church in Mexico.

Archbishop Flores arrived in Laredo early today by train from Tampico, Mexico, where a plane trip was interrupted by inclement weather. He was greeted this morning by Bishop Manrique Y Zarate, exiled bishop of Huejutla, Mexico, who had been here two years, and other members of the clergy. He received all callers cordially and commented that he was treated cordially by secret service men who accompanied him on the train.

He refused to comment on his expulsion from Mexico.

JURY DISAGREES

TAHOCA, Oct. 7. (AP)—A 106th district court jury was discharged by Judge Gordon B. McGuire about noon here after it had reported for the second time that it was unable to agree on a verdict in the case of Mrs. Ola Mae Redman, 33, charged with the murder of Howard Chase, 32. Each juror, answering a query by the court, said he believed no possibility of agreeing existed. Mrs. Redman, dark-haired and neatly dressed, retained a poker face on learning the result. Her husband and three small children were with her.

LIQUOR SUBS FOR CASH

CINCINNATI—The days when liquor sometimes substituted for currency were recalled today with the finding of an old bill of sale. It revealed that Andrew S. Farrar sold a corner lot in downtown Cincinnati to James and David Heuster for 40,000 gallons of whiskey. That was in 1842. Five years ago the property sold for $50,000.

KILLED AT PLAY WARDENSVILLE, W. Va.—Giving his children a drill in callisthenics, Wilbur H. Long said, "Now I'll show you how to 'skin the cat.'" "Watch Dad!" The children shouted as Long climbed a tree, swinging on a limb, he lost his grip and fell. He will be buried today. See Pampa Daily News want ads.

Milk Receiving Plant Destroyed In Bomb Blasts

BURLINGTON, Wis., Oct. 7. (AP)—Five men yesterday invaded the new $25,000 milk receiving plant of the Burlington Cooperative Milk association, kidnaped a watchman, and destroyed the building by exploding two bombs.

The blast occurred about 1 a. m. shattered windows within a radius of ten blocks of the plant. About an hour later, John Eisenbart, 55, the watchman, appeared at the police station. He said five men accosted him with revolvers in the building.

The men set two bombs, he said, and then rushed him to their automobile outside. They bound his feet and hands with rope and sped away with him.

Before the car reached the city limits, Eisenbart said, the explosions occurred. The men took him about a mile outside the city and dumped him out. Eisenbart worked his bonds loose and returned to the scene of the wrecked building to find firemen seeking his body amid the debris.

The new plant was opened September 22 by dairy farmers supplying milk to the Chicago Pure Milk association. The farmers previously had been collecting their milk at privately owned plants here but started their cooperatively owned venture in efforts to cut out middlemen's profits to enable them to make more on their product.

The Chicago association loaned the local farmers most of the money necessary for installation of machinery in the plant and the farmers intended repaying the money through savings effected in the cooperative venture.

Eisenbart said he was unable to give a good description either of the car or of the five men. He had seen none of them before, he said.

New Kyne Serial Starts at Rex

The long-awaited bombshell of serial action, "Heroes of the West," will definitely come to the Rex, today in its initial episode, with Noah Berry, Jr., prettier Diane Duvall and Onslow Stevens in the featured roles.

The chapter thriller, embracing "The Tie That Binds," by Peter B. Kyne, is a story of the lawless, dauntless days of the early West, the days of the pony express and the building of the first great railroad across the American Continent.

The building of this great steel highway was fraught with the greatest danger, and called for the highest courage of John Blaine, to whom a contract was awarded to build a section of the road. With his son, Noah—a boy of eighteen—adventure-loving and ambitious to become a famous Indian scout—and his daughter, Ann, a girl of twenty-one, John Blaine trekked across the treacherous country, Indian infested, and established his construction camp in the heart of Wyoming, bordering hostile Indian country.

All forces seem to unite to defeat Blaine's construction of the road on time—the crookedness within the camp and the consequent Martin—the conspiracy and plot of Blaine's political enemies and their determination to get his contract away from him—and the repeated attacks of hordes of savage Redskins.

Can all of these obstacles be overcome—the contract retained—and the road built on time? Will they survive the deadly attacks of the savages, who, resenting the coming of the railroad, tear up the tracks and invoke their Great Spirit to help them destroy the white man and drive him from their lands?

WANTS BALLOT PROBE PORTLAND, Maine, Oct. 7. (AP)—Maine's state election post mortem entered a new phase today with the announcement of Burleigh Martin of Augusta, defeated Republican candidate for governor, that he would ask permission to inspect all the ballots cast for governor. Martin, trailed Louis J. Brann, Democrat of Lewiston, by 1,553 votes.

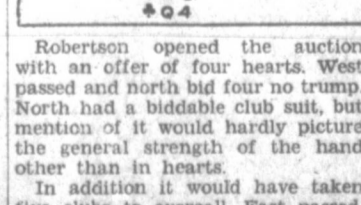

Tips on CONTRACT

RAISING PARTNER'S PRE-EMPTIVE BID By TOM O'NEIL It takes a hand of great strength to overcall or raise a partner's preemptive game bid. Usually such an original bid is made on a hand of great length in one suit, a hand which would be useless with any other suit as trump or at no trump.

The bid ordinarily is an overbid. It is predicated on the assumption that several tricks in partner's hand will produce game and, at the worst, opponents will be deterred from entering upon a game contract which they can fulfill.

Necessarily the responding hand, unless of exceptional strength, passes a preemptive original bid. The only purpose of a raise or an overcall would be to invite slam.

In a deal at which the responding hand was well justified in an overcall, Orlo Robertson of New York was the declarer. The hand:

Robertson opened the auction with an offer of four hearts. West passed and north bid four no trump. North had a biddable suit, but the question of it would hardly picture the general strength of the hand other than in hearts.

TWO PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATIONS MEET THURSDAY

CAFETERIA TO BE AIDED BY FOOD SHOWER

MEMBERS MAKE PLANS FOR CONTRIBUTING CANNED GOODS

Women who attended the Horace Mann Parent-Teacher association yesterday—more than 100 of them—promised to make contributions of canned food to the school cafeteria, thus aiding in the attempt to keep needy children of the school from going hungry.

Plans also were made for a Halloween party, this function to take place shortly before All Saints day. The program, led by Mrs. Frank Stapp, was opened with two quartet selections by R. B. Fisher, Emmett Smith, E. D. Zimmerman, and L. C. Walters.

Scout Executive C. A. Clark introduced Minor Huffman of Dallas, regional deputy executive, who addressed the crowd. Mr. Huffman discussed the ways in which home, church, and school contribute to the progress of civilization. He stressed the importance of worthy use of a boy's leisure time.

"Scouting attempts to fill a boy's leisure time with worthwhile things," he said. "Its program is one of activity. More than 800,000 boys and men in the United States are interested in Scout work."

The speaker told of the honesty tests given to Scouts and stated that "Scouting developed character. Character is caught, not taught," he said, "and Scouts are trained by example."

A group of Scouts demonstrated knot-tying, giving signals, rendering first aid treatment, and making Indian signs.

Good Reports of Activities Made By Church Group

The Women's council of the First Christian church, meeting in various homes yesterday afternoon, reported much service done during the last month. The combined attendance was 77 persons. In addition to business sessions, lessons on the book of Acts were taught and refreshments were served.

Twenty-five women, including 19 old members, three new members, and three visitors, were at the meeting of Group 1 in the home of Mrs. E. A. Shackleton.

The monthly report of the group was as follows: 100 calls; 161 chapters of the Bible read; 60 garments made; and 30 bouquets given.

Mrs. F. W. O'Malley led the devotional, basing her remarks on the third chapter of Proverbs. The lesson told in story form by Mrs. G. B. Cree, was based on Acts 26, 27 and 28.

Twenty-five women also attended a meeting of Group 2 in the home of Mrs. H. J. Lippold. They heard a devotional led by Mrs. Joe Berry and a lesson led by Mrs. W. A. Martin.

The group reported 50 calls and 128 Bible chapters read. Group 3, attended by 11 members in the home of Mrs. John Tate, reported 60 calls, 400 Bible chapters read, 43 new garments given and 60 old garments given during the last month.

Mrs. Will Kinzer was in charge of the devotional, based on the fifth chapter of Luke, and Mrs. L. A. Estes directed the lesson.

Mrs. Roy McMillen, council president, was a special guest at a meeting with Scout badges, and Mr. Huffman presented the Boy Scout charter to the Parent-Teacher association.

Mrs. T. A. Cox's second grade room was presented the picture for having the largest number of mothers present.

Madge Rusk to Be Class Head

Election of officers took place at a meeting of the Fidelity class, First Baptist church, Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. J. S. Wynne, 317 N. Frost. Miss Roy Riley and Miss Leora Kinard were co-hostesses.

Following are the officers selected: President, Miss Madge Rusk; first vice-president, Miss Donna Lee Strope; second vice-president, Miss Louise Durrenberger; third vice-president, Miss Wilma Chapman; fourth vice-president, Miss Ethel Greenway; secretary, Miss Neva Pergen; reporter, Miss Flo Perry; group captain, Miss Eurltha Henry and Miss Margaret Jones.

It was decided to hold regular class meetings, combining social and business activities, on the first Monday of each month. Three girls will be hostesses on each occasion. On Oct. 31 a Halloween party will be given.

The class started a drive for new chairs, cushions, and drapes for the classroom.

New Officers of Class Assemble

All newly elected officers of the Bethany class, First Baptist church, met in the home of their teacher, Mrs. C. E. Lancaster, Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock for a business session.

Plans for visiting the unenlisted and the absentees were made and enthusiasm regarding the future of the class was shown.

A social hour followed the business session, and the hosts served sandwiches and tea.

meeting of Group 4 in the home of Mrs. J. Fred Curry. Sixteen women attended.

Mrs. C. E. Hutchins led the devotional on procrastination, and Mrs. Martin was in charge of the lesson.

The monthly report was as follows: 29 calls, 251 chapters, 24 garments given, and one basket given the needy.

FIRST SESSION FOR YEAR HELD AT ONE SCHOOL

SAM HOUSTON PARENTS AND INSTRUCTORS INTRODUCED

The Sam Houston Parent-Teacher association held its first meeting of the year 1932-33 yesterday afternoon with 50 persons present.

Mrs. J. M. Dodson, program leader, led the group in singing America, after which Principal A. L. Patriek led in prayer.

The main objective for this year, which is that of furnishing an adequate supply of library books for each room, was explained by Mr. Patriek and Mrs. L. Baum and was adopted by the association.

Mrs. Dodson then introduced the following numbers: Song, A Yaller Dog, Donda Dodson, accompanied by Mrs. Dodson; violin solo, Roy Tinsley; quartet selection, E. D. Zimmerman, L. C. Walters, R. B. Fisher, and Emmett Smith.

After a few remarks concerning interests of the school, Mr. Patriek introduced the following teachers: First grade, Mrs. C. W. Stowell and Mrs. John I. Bradley; second grade, Miss Lillian Mullinax and Mrs. L. C. Peddicord; third grade, Miss Jewel Montague and Mrs. J. L. Lester; fourth grade, Miss Florence Jones and Mrs. Sam Irwin; fifth grade, Mrs. L. K. Stout and Miss Violet Durrett.

Room mothers were announced as follows: Mrs. Stowell's room, Mrs. L. A. Baxter and Mrs. W. V. Murry; Mrs. Bradley's room, Mrs. W. C. de Cordova and Mrs. Mel Davis; Miss Lillian's room, Mrs. J. Fred Curry and Mrs. John I. Bradley; Mrs. Peddicord's room, Mrs. T. R. Martin; Mrs. Lester's room, Mrs. H. G. Myers; Mrs. Montague's room, Mrs. Raymond Harrah and Mrs. E. M. Conley; Miss Jones' room, Mrs. S. G. Surratt and Mrs. Austin; Mrs. Irwin's room, Mrs. Roy Bourland and Mrs. J. W. Garman; Mrs. Stout's room, Mrs. W. O. Workman and Mrs. John B. Hesse; Miss Durrett's room, Mrs. C. A. Long and Mrs. F. M. Culbertson.

Miss Mullinax's room received $1 for having the largest number of parents present.

At the close of the afternoon, refreshments of coffee and doughnuts were served.

Officers of the association this year are as follows: President, Mrs. C. P. Buckler; vice-president, Mrs. L. N. McCullough; secretary, Mrs. W. Stowell; treasurer, Mrs. I. Baum; historian, Miss Jewel Montague.

Kiddies Have Own Circus Animals At School

There were two circuses in town yesterday—one under the "big top" and another in Mrs. C. W. Stowell's room of first grade pupils at Sam Houston school.

Old catalogues formed the stuffing for remarkably life-like elephants made of wrapping paper by each child in the room, and pearl buttons were the eyes. One boy made a tent topped with the American flag, which was placed on the sand pile, and another boy brought wooden animals from home. Horses and riders were made of paper. Then, so the animals would have something to eat, wheat was provided (this being, in reality, grass). Paper animals, some of them in cages, formed the border for the room.

HARVESTERS FULL OF FIGHT FOR BORGER GAME TONIGHT

BACKS INJURED BUT LINE DUE TO HOLD FAST

HUNDREDS OF PAMPANS TO SEE DISTRICT BATTLE

A weakened team of Harvesters will invade Borger tonight for the first conference game of the season. The game is scheduled to start at 8 o'clock at Alamo stadium which is on the left side of the road after going under the railroad tracks on the Panhandle-Borger road.

Harvester coaches had not decided on a starting backfield for the game last night. The line will see Patton, Kelley, Schmidt, Walker, Powell, Nelson, and Green starting. However, the backfield is the worry. The weather, but one of them will start. Coaches said yesterday that they would not decide until game time. They also had not decided who to start in place of Sullins who is scholastically ineligible for the game. H. L. Ledrick will probably get the call at quarterback.

Sami Turner at one halfback position.

Ernest McDuffie, Clinton Bert Stevens, and Robert V. are all available for the back position. Clovis injured wrist has mended. He will be the selection game with Fullingim as a reserve.

A strong delegation of will make the trip, visit stadium for the first time seeing the Harvesters wear artificial lights for the first time. The green and gold clad players apt to find it difficult for a few plays but they should be accustomed before long.

The Harvesters opened the season last Friday with a 26 to 0 over Clovis high school while Borger Bulldogs were being held scoreless tie by Spearman. B has a light, fast team with a dangerous overhead attack. The Harvesters have been drilled hard during the week on an aerial defense.

The Plainview Bulldogs will here Oct. 15 for the second consecutive game of the season.

Coaches put their charges through a stiff signal practice and a defense workout yesterday afternoon. They used several crisp backfield men in an effort to work off some of the sore spots. The team was scheduled to leave a school and workout as soon as they settle.

The probable Harvester line: Patton, left end. Walker, left tackle. Nelson, left guard. Green, center. Schmidt, right guard. Powell, right tackle. W. Kelley, right end. Ledrick, quarterback. Turner, right half. McDuffie or Adair, left half. Pool (C) or Marbaugh, fullback. Bill Honey of Amarillo, S western conference official, will referee. Davis Hill of Amarillo school faculty will be umpire. Bob Vaughn, superintendent of schools in Panhandle, will be linesman.

BORGER, Sept. 7.—A touchdown, at least, should be the margin of victory over the Harvesters tonight, is the prediction of six touchdown victory of visitors in the general preview.

But, Coach Atkins said that although his team will win the game as the underdog, weighed 12 to 15 pounds to the man, they are not by any means going into the game beaten. They are going in to win and they expect to have some surprises for the Pampans.

There will be a rally in the school at assembly this afternoon. Last night the team went to bed early to rest for Borger high's first class A game. Rollo West, one of the Bulldogs' quarters, has been out of practice all week because of a death in his family, but the remainder of the squad is trained to perfection. Wednesday night the Bulldogs and Phillips 66 had a scrimmage practice in the stadium. Yesterday the boys had nothing but formation drill.

Jack Knight, Borger's giant fullback and passer, was reported to be ineligible for the game, but confirmation was lacking.

Promoters Hunting Foe For Michaels

Local wrestling promoters are looking for someone in the same class and weight as Red Michaels, local flash, or even someone a little higher up. Red has been over-matched and outwrestled nearly every match since he returned from San Antonio last month.

Wednesday night the red-thatched boy was sent into the ring with a young giant from Borger. He managed to stay the limit with him. The previous week the local boy went against Henry Clausen with 12 years experience in the ring to his credit. Red opened his return engagement by throwing Howard Belcher of Amarillo, in the same class.

Michael weighs 152 pounds and is a junior middleweight. He can make the welterweight class with little difficulty.

The mat card for next Wednesday night has not been arranged.

LEONARD TO FIGHT AGAIN

Odds Are Against Former Champ in Bout Tonight With McLarin.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (AP)—Back into pugilism's "big money" crashes Benny Leonard tonight in what may be the last stand of his courageous fight to regain the fistic heights he once knew.

The former lightweight champion, now 36 years old and more than a little bald, tackles rough, tough and before everything else young Jimmy McLarin, belling welterweight, from Vancouver, in a 10-round bout in Madison Square garden.

McLarin, 25-year-old "veteran" of the ring wars and known for several years as one of the hardest punchers in the business, rates a 2 to 1 favorite in the betting despite his unimpressive showing against Lou Brouillard in his last appearance here. McLarin took a sound trouncing in that bout but most experts concede Leonard little chance against him tonight.

Benny has bowled over a score of minor opponents in his comeback campaign, shaved his weight from 130 pounds to a pound or two less, replaced flabby tissue with generally good condition but the Leonardship

JAYSEES BEAT TEACHERS 5-4 IN FIRST LOSS

DRAIN AND DANCIGER BOYS SHUTOUT NEWS 7-0

The Faculty playground ball team in the City league fell before the Jaysees' onslaught yesterday afternoon 5 to 4 for the first loss in the second half of the season. The teachers lost only one game in the first half to take first place.

The NEWS lost a 7 to 0 game to Danciger, getting only one hit off their former teammate Harry Drain. Danciger scored their last five runs in the last inning as the light failed.

Poe, formerly of the Santa Fe and Patrick of the Faculty mixed in a hurlers' duel. Poe allowed four hits and Patrick five. Not a player on either team made two hits.

The big three of the Jaysees, Olsen, White, and Nash, were in fine form yesterday, scoring all the team runs and getting three of the five hits. Coburn and Woodward got the other safe blows. Nash of the Jaysees made his first errors of the season yesterday when he let two hot ones get away from him.

FIFTY-TWO GOLFERS DUE TO BEGIN MATCH PLAY SUNDAY

Three Flights Will Have 12 Players Each and Another 16 Players.

The Country Club invitation golf tournament will get under way Sunday morning with 52 golfers in action. Entrants must tee off on their first round matches by 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon or forfeit unless they have made special arrangements with their opponents and tournament officials. Flights one, three, and four will have 12 players each, and flight two, 16. If there is any player whose qualifying score has been overlooked and his name not placed on the playing list or anyone who desires to qualify between now and Saturday night, call Dr. H. H. Hicks or Don Donovan and the names will be added to the list. No entry will be accepted after Saturday night.

Play will continue through October 16 when prizes for winner and runner-up low and high qualifying score, most birdies and most eagles and the driving contest will be presented. The list of prizes is exceptionally good.

The course is in excellent condition. The greens have been worked over since the recent heavy rains, which placed the fairways in the best condition of the year.

Pairings for the opening round of play follow:

Flight One.
Mark Heath versus Ben Ferris.
Clyde Fatheree versus Don Donovan.
Floyd Hoffman versus R. G. Allen.
Marvin Harris versus Tommy White.
Mack Graham versus Grover Austin.
Tom Perkins versus H. H. Hicks.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

General Topic: THE CHRISTIAN IN THE FAMILY.

Scripture Lesson: Luke 2:40-52; 10:38-42.

40. And the child grew, and waxed strong, filled with wisdom; and the grace of God was upon him.

41. And his parents went every year to Jerusalem at the feast of the passover.

42. And when he was 12 years old, they went up after the custom of the feast;

43. And when they had fulfilled the days, as they were returning, the boy Jesus tarried behind in Jerusalem; and his parents knew it not;

44. But supposing him to be in the company, they went a day's journey; and they sought for him among their kinsfolk and acquaintances;

45. And when they found him not, they returned to Jerusalem, seeking for him.

46. And it came to pass, after three days they found him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the teachers, both hearing them, and asking them questions;

47. And all that heard him were amazed at his understanding and his answers.

48. And when they saw him, they were astonished; and his mother said unto him, Son, why hast thou thus dealt with us? behold, thy father and I sought thee sorrowing.

49. And he said unto them, How is it that ye sought me? knew ye not that I must be in my Father's house?

50. And they understood not the saying which he spake unto them.

51. And he went down with them, and came to Nazareth; and he was subject unto them: and his mother kept all these sayings in her heart.

52. And Jesus advanced in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and man.

Luke 10:38. Now as they went on their way, he entered into a certain village: and a certain woman named Martha received him into her house.

39. And she had a sister called Mary, who also sat at the Lord's feet, and heard his word.

40. But Martha was cumbered about much serving; and she came up to him, and said, Lord, dost thou not care that my sister did leave me to serve alone? but he therewithal said unto her, Martha, Martha, thou art anxious and troubled about many things:

41. But one thing is needful: for Mary hath chosen the good part, which shall not be taken away from her.

Golden Text: I will walk within my house with a perfect heart.—Ps. 101:2.

Time and Place: Christ in Jerusalem at the age of twelve, April, A. D. 8. Christ visiting Mary and Martha in Bethany, December, A. D. 29.

Introduction

The individual's first and closest contacts are with his family. The home is manifestly the shelter and atmosphere of the family, which is the unit of social life. The influence of the home, accordingly, is simply incalculable; especially with the young. The church, the school, the playground, the place of work are all of less importance in this respect. It should be evident, then, why such large parts of this quarter's study (the next three lessons) is devoted to the family and the home.

Our prime purpose in this lesson is to emphasize the worth of the Christian in the home, and of how each one of us should help to make his home such that Jesus will be honored in it and such that he would always be a welcome guest. Some of us have a motto in the dining room which says that Christ is the head of this house, the unseen guest at every meal, the silent listener to every conversation. This lesson ought to help us make such a motto a joyous and blessed reality.

Jesus in the Nazareth Home

"And the child grew." Every view of the person of Christ admits that his human-divine nature developed. That development took place first in the Nazareth home. The character of Jesus tells us what sort of a home it was. The Son of God could not come otherwise than out of a godly home. Mary must have been "blessed among women" for what she was as well as for what he was. We have both internal and external evidence as to the atmosphere of the simple, homely life of that Galilean family.

There were seven children; so plenty of calls for self-denial, that disciplines edifies. But, likewise, plenty of opportunities for love and mutual helpfulness. Not poverty, but frugality, and industry. There was thorough instruction in that Old Testament which is a whole literature and whose mastery is a liberal education. Synagogue schools, that were soon to become common, probably did not exist in Jesus's boyhood.

Jesus at Twelve Years of Age

The only incident out of the boyhood of Jesus which the Scriptures record is that in our lesson—the visit to the Jerusalem when he was twelve years of age. He went with the family, to attend the feast of the Passover. That holy pilgrimage was characteristic of the Nazareth family. It was preeminently religious. When the time rolled round for the national celebration of the deliverance from Egypt by the grace of Jehovah the carpenter's shop was closed, the household affairs laid by, and the little group joined their friends and relatives in the long journey, worshipping and praising God. Josephus tells us that many tens of thousands attended the great feast, among them thousands of family groups (for the passover was celebrated by families), but none came with greater reverence and solemn thanksgiving than the family of Joseph and Mary.

Jesus Tarries in Jerusalem

The time came for the happy pilgrims to start back to Nazareth. Joining other groups from Galilee, among them relatives and friends, they set out, the men walking and talking together, and likewise the women, while the children now journeyed with one group, and now with the other. Evening came, and the members of the various families came together for the night. Then it was that great distress fell upon the family of Joseph, for Jesus was nowhere to be found. They searched for him in vain. There was nothing to do but to return to Jerusalem, which they did the next day. With what fears and sorrow, we may gather from the words of Mary when they finally found the boy in the Temple the day after their return to the city: "Son, why hast thou thus dealt with us? Behold, thy father and I have sought thee sorrowing." How many mothers have known her fear and distress! We see true motherhood—the spirit that compels to seek and to find the missing child, that never gives up until he is at home again.

Jesus, the Obedient Son

We may be sure that it was not through wilful disobedience that Jesus did not leave Jerusalem with his family. There was no refusal to go. We have in this incident, rather, a testimony to his supreme interest in religion. So full of zeal was he for his Father's house that all human relationships became secondary. The words and spirit of Mary when he was last found in the Temple indicate that up to that time he had been thoroughly trusted and had never been a disappointment. There was no rudeness, no perversity in his nature; hence the extreme surprise of his mother. His wonderful spirit is further revealed in the statement that "he went down with them, and came to Nazareth, and was subject unto them." For him such obedience was the part of virtue; it ministered to his own manhood, and helped to make the home at Nazareth all that it should be.

Jesus in the Bethany Home

The story of our lesson shows our Lord as a guest in the home of his friends, Martha, Mary and Lazarus. After he began his ministry, at the age of thirty, he had no permanent home. On one occasion he said to a would-be-disciple, "The Son of man hath not where to lay his head." But he loved the quiet and ministry of home life.

The doors of the Bethany home were wide open to the Saviour. Its members looked forward to his coming, and each of the sisters did her best to make him welcome. In the story of our lesson a most interesting and instructive situation develops. Martha's hospitality centered about the dinner table; Mary's about conversation. Martha was busy in the kitchen; Mary sat at the Saviour's feet listening to him. After awhile Martha was wearied by her work and angry with Mary for not helping her. He told Martha that all her wearying toil was unnecessary; a simple meal, just one thing to eat, would be enough. Recall his principal, "Man does not live by bread alone." To him food was secondary. As for Mary, she had chosen "that good part," she had sensed the primary thing, the spiritual food, and it should not be taken away from her. Many of us, like Martha, set material standards, not only for hospitality, but for all home conditions. Our Lord says there is something higher and better—feeding about the Bread of Life, gathering about the Saviour as the center of life.

William E. Gladstone

W. J. Bryan said of Mr. E. Gladstone, the great British prime minister: "Gladstone built upon the Bible, and he built so well that he towered above the other figures of his time. For twenty-five years Gladstone was the most potent individual power on this earth. People in other lands learned to know him. He rose among other men as some mighty mountain peak towers above the surrounding foothills. And what was his strength. It was that he built upon Bible truth, and while he was ready to die for the truth at any time, he lived for it until he came to die. That gave him his power."

Special Lesson

"It would be difficult to enumerate all that religion owes to the family. Its vitality depends directly upon the interchange between the two. A religion reduced to public ceremonial, with no echo about the hearth, disdainful of the family altar, a religion that fathers and mothers do not help to teach, cannot do otherwise than decrease in influence."—Charles Wagner.

Court Over-Rules Re-Hearing Motion

A motion for a re-hearing in the suit of the Fort Worth & Denver railroad and R. E. Johnson over the price to be paid for right-of-way here was overruled in the Seventh Court of Civil Appeals at Amarillo.

The case originally was reversed on a fundamental error, then Johnson was given a rehearing and the first judgment was affirmed. The law firm of Cook, Smith, Teed, Sturgeon, and Wade will likely seek a writ of error in the Texas supreme court.

The judgment, declared excessive by the railroad and the citizens' committee on right-of-way, involves about $1,800.

AUTHOR CLARENCE B. KELLAND BLAMES SWANKY MERCHANT FOR BIG CLOTHINGS BILLS OF WIFE

Refuses to Pay Bill In Amount of $3,313

NEW YORK, Oct. 7. (AP)—A considerable number of married men and their wives, and the merchants where those wives run bills, will follow with interest the action of Clarence Buddington Kelland, the writer, in the matter of a bill of $3,313 which he proposes not to pay if he can help it.

The bill is from Hattie Carnegie, Inc., dressmaker, and purports to be for purchases made by Mrs. Kelland between Feb. 27, 1931, and the same day in 1932.

court action which the concern instituted to collect the amount of the bill, that he is not liable for its payment because the articles purchased were not "necessaries."

But further than that, he sets forth that something should be done to discourage firms from permitting women to run large bills in the belief that the husbands have the money and can pay them. His fight, he states, is against the practice of "plying" women to buy goods they do not need.

Mr. Kelland wants to know what line of reasoning a firm could believe that his financial condition at any time would justify a characterization of hose at $6.50 a pair, dresses at $225 and $250, perfume at $25 and a cloth coat at $420 "as necessities for my wife."

He said that in the period covered by the bill he gave his wife $7,000 which seemed to him sufficient for her needs.

Mrs. Kelland, supporting her husband, stated that the purchases were made with the understanding that she was to be billed, and not her husband. She added that "she thought at the time" she would be able to make payment, but that "events have altered conditions." She said efforts to arrange payment by instalments had been unsuccessful.

Kelland fought a suit in 1930 on somewhat different grounds. The Salon de Trousseau, Inc., sued to recover $4,650 for linens. At that time the author said his wife had placed a small order and that the firm had delivered very much more.

An effort by Hattie Carnegie, Inc., to have summary judgment given against Kelland was denied by the court yesterday, and the case was set for later trial.

Sister MARY'S KITCHEN

By SISTER MARY, NEA Service Writer.

Attractive garnishing and appropriate serving are economical measures well worth careful consideration. Simple, everyday dishes gain new interest, and the little extra time invested in dressing up the daily meals will yield ample returns in pleasure and profit.

One of the simplest methods of improving the appearance of the ordinary meat-and-potatoes-and-vegetable meals is to arrange the potatoes or starchy food in the form of a border with the meat in the center and the other vegetables as a "garnish" on the outside. Plain, homely fare presents an attractive and festive appearance when served in this fashion. Mashed potatoes, Irish or sweet, mashed squash and well-cooked rice can be used as a border with excellent effect.

Greens also present a more inviting appearance when served either in a molded form or in the form of a border. This method of serving is attractive for cabbage or sauerkraut. Arrange in a border ring and fill the center with fluffy mashed potato piled high in irregular contour. Surround border with brown sausage cakes or crisp link sausage.

Mashed potato is perhaps the simplest and easiest border to prepare. Rice or thoroughly mash potatoes. Then for each two cups of mashed potato, add 4 tablespoons salt or cream, 1/2 teaspoon salt and two tablespoons melted butter. More milk may be needed to make the potatoes the right consistency. Beat with a slotted spoon until light. Butter a deep pan or bowl on the outside and place it in the center of a hot-platter or chop plate. Press a mound of prepared potatoes around the bowl. Then remove bowl and fill with meat, fish or a creamed vegetable.

Macaroni, spaghetti and noodles make satisfactory borders, too. Fricassee chicken in a border of noodles with a garnish of candied sweet potatoes is so inviting that one forgets it isn't spring chicken.

Stuffed tomatoes, stuffed peppers, glazed or buttered onions, beet marbles and grilled tomatoes

Head-on Crash Framed By Cops, Proves Wash-out

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7. (AP)—The advance notices said there'd be an accident and a goodly crowd was on hand.

Traffic Policeman H. F. Skinner drove one way down the street in his auto at 20 miles an hour. From the opposite direction at the same speed came Traffic Policeman H. B. Mohler.

In the interest of safety they were to crash and crash hard. Delegates to the National Safety congress lined the street, ready to add distinction to any hot main dish. When the same foods must be used repeatedly in order to reduce the cost of meals, attractive and unusual ways of serving do much to break the monotony.

gasp at this demonstration arranged for their benefit by the metropolitan police.

A spectator already picked out since this was a put up job—stood by to notify police of the accident in the regular way. The police were all set to rush in, investigate and remove the debris and injured, as explained in a pre-crash announcement to the press by Inspector E. W. Brown.

Policeman Skinner and Policeman Mohler pulled their caps down firmly, took tighter grips on the steering wheels and drove on steadily toward each other in midstreet. One was in a taxi-cab—just to make things more realistic—the other in a sedan.

The crowd teetered in excitement on the curb as one bumper nudged toward another. An expectant gasp arose but as quickly died.

There was a feather bump and the soft whistle of escaping air as the two cars swerved and came peacefully to a standstill, side by

Nothing Venture

by Patricia Wentworth

SYNOPSIS: Ferdinand Francis, Nan Weare's only aid in solving the mystery of her husband Jervis's disappearance, dashes off to New York to trace a pair of men, one answering Jervis's description. Nan is left alone at the Weare country estate to face the fact that Rosamund Carew and Robert Leonard, whom she suspects of kidnaping Jervis, both have alibis.

Chapter 41
MRS. MELLISH AGAIN
Mrs. Mellish came into the library. Nobody would have known that she had been cooking. She wore her black afternoon dress, with a medallion brooch depicting a pink church leaning a little sideways against a background of bright blue sky. She had an air of dignity and leisurely calm as she came to a standstill at a respectful distance and waited for Nan to speak.

"Please sit down," said Nan. "I'd rather stand, ma'am." "Did she do it on purpose? Did she know how difficult it was to talk to someone who stands literally, as well as morally, on her dignity?" Nan braced herself.

"I'd like you to sit, Mrs. Mellish." She indicated a chair near her own. After a momentary hesitation Mrs. Mellish advanced another chair—one without arms and straight in the back. Upon the extreme edge of this chair she seated herself, her body stiffly erect, and her hands neatly folded. After a suitable pause she said:

"Yes, ma'am?"
"Nan leaned forward. 'I want you to help me.' Mrs. Mellish registered a blank inability to understand how she could possibly be of any assistance to Mrs. Weare. After a further pause she again said:

"We're in great trouble about Mr. Weare," said Nan.
Mrs. Mellish said "Yes, ma'am?" for the third time.
Nan got up abruptly. If she were to sit still and listen to Mrs. Mellish saying "Yes, ma'am?" anything might happen. She felt a passionate desire to pick up the nearest book and send it crashing through the window, or, better still, straight at Mrs. Mellish's head.
She let the curtain fall and turned round again.
"You've known Jervis a long time."

"Yes, ma'am."
"You knew him when he was a little boy."
"Yes, ma'am."
"You've known him all those years. We're in dreadful trouble about him—we think—that something—must have happened."

"Yes, ma'am" said Mrs. Mellish. There was a little heavy brass box on the telephone-table; it was used to hold stamps. Nan wrenched her eyes away from it. She wanted to pick it up and throw it at Mrs. Mellish—hard. With an effort, she stood where she was.

"Do you know of anything that might have taken him away suddenly?"
Mrs. Mellish considered this in silence. She had been brought up to tell the truth, and classed lying with dirt, unpunctuality, gossip, and communism. There were worse sins, such as stealing, atheism, and immorality; but they hardly came within the purview of the respectable. After a suitable pause she compromised by saying:

"I can't say that I do."
"You'd tell me if you did—wouldn't you? Mr. Francis has gone to New York to make inquiries there, but—I don't feel as if Jervis had gone to New York."
Nan turned away and walked to the end of the room and back again. Mrs. Mellish never moved at all. She was sitting there because she had been ordered to sit; otherwise, she would have risen when Mrs. Weare had risen; but, having been ordered to sit, sit she would until she was ordered to rise. A stubborn sense of her own superiority upheld her. She knew her place. If Mrs. Weare didn't know hers. She looked up and saw Nan standing over her.

"Mrs. Mellish—you know something. What is it?"
Mrs. Mellish reinforced her dignity. This wasn't any way for a mistress to behave, and she didn't hold with it.

"You know something—"
"Indeed, ma'am—"
"Yes, you do!" The urgency of the tone melted into appeal. "Oh, won't you tell me?"
Mrs. Mellish sat up a little more stiffly.

"If I may put the question, ma'am—what makes you think as I have anything to tell?"
"You have—haven't you? I want you to tell me what it is. It mayn't seem an important thing to you—it may even seem a very, very little thing—and you may have some reason for not wanting to tell me; but won't you please put all that on one side and just tell me what it is? We've got nothing to go on, and it's like being shut up in a pitch dark room—even the least glimmer of light might show us where the door is. Don't you see that?"
There was another pause, and Mellish said:
"No, ma'am."
The tears rushed into Nan's eyes.

They were so hot with anger that they burned there. She stepped back because the impulse to take Mrs. Mellish by those plump cushioned shoulders and shake her until her eyes bulged and her teeth rattled was simply overpowering. After a moment she said:

"You do know something—I know that you do! Why won't you tell me what you know?"
The subtle air of offense which had accompanied Mrs. Mellish to this interview became more noticeable. It wasn't for anyone that knew her manners to color up and behave hysterical like Mrs. Weare was doing. Mrs. Mellish thanked Providence she was not as other women were. She thanked Providence that she'd been brought up respectable. At her husband's funeral she had shed a widow's decorous tears, but she had been careful not to let them spoil her crape. She despised Nan, a good deal for her changing color and the quiver in her voice. She did not speak.

Nan went back to her chair and sat down. It was no good appealing to Mrs. Mellish. She knew very well that she was being despised, and the Forsyth pride stiffened her back. She allowed the silence to lengthen. Then she said, in a voice which Mrs. Mellish had not heard before:
"I'm waiting."
"I beg your pardon, ma'am?"
"I'm waiting for you to tell me what you saw or heard on Tuesday night." Nan's voice had no quiver in it now. It was hard with authority.

Mrs. Mellish looked up, a little surprised, and met steady eyes with something behind them that demanded an answer. The change flurried her a little. Unconsidered words sprang to her lips.

"Nothing that was to say anything, ma'am."
"Then you did see something?"
Mrs. Mellish recovered herself. "I couldn't say, ma'am."
"I think you must say."
Mrs. Mellish bridled.

"I'm sure I'm the last to keep back anything as would be any help," she said. With the fingers of one hand she pleated a fold of the white linen handkerchief on her knee.
"Yes. What did you see?"
"I'm a poor sleeper," said Mrs.

Mellish, "and when I don't sleep, it's my habit to make myself a cup of tea."
"Yes?" said Nan.
"I'd run out of tea," said Mrs. Mellish. "I make so bold as to keep some handy—I've a caddy that was given me by Mr. Weare for the purpose. Tuesday night, my caddy was empty, and I went down to fill it. It might have been three o'clock or thereabouts."

"Yes?" said Nan. "Go on, please."
Mrs. Mellish meant to take her own time.

"I went down the back stairs, and so I come up. I had my candle in my hand, and when I come up to the second floor, the door through to the landing was half open. I put my hand on it to bring it to, and I heard a door open along the corridor."

"Yes?" said Nan. "What door was it?"
"It was Mr. Jervis' door—Mr. Weare. I should say—so I blew out my candle, it being an awkward time of night to meet a gentleman, and me in my dressing gown."
"Yes?" said Nan rather breathlessly.

Mrs. Mellish, tomorrow, at last tells whom she saw in Jervis' room.

In registrations for the primaries last May democrats recorded a gain of 18,500 over their 1928 figures and the republicans a gain of 10,000. In the republican primary Rep. Willis C. Hawley was defeated for re-nomination, and varying interpretations were placed on the result.
