Los Angeles Alienist Says Hickman Is Clearly Insane

'WORST FORM' OF MENTALITY SAYS EXPERT

Innermost Secrets of Family Are Bared in Court

ASSERT YOUTH SHOWED 'CHANGE'

Mother and Brother Calm, But Father Sheds Tears

(By the Associated Press.)
HALL OF JUSTICE, LOS ANGELES, Feb. 3.—Today was alienists' day in the sanity trial of William Edward Hickman, kidnaper-killer of Marian Parker, with one of yesterday's defense alienists resuming the witness stand. Defense Attorney Jerome Walsh indicated before the session's opening that most of the day would be monopolized by his medical experts.

Wet weather and spasmodic downpours outside, failed utterly to dampen the ardor of trial visitors.

The first witness on the stand was Dr. R. O. Shelton of Los Angeles former member of the San Diego county lunacy commission. He resumed the medical explanation he began late yesterday of the reasons for his opinion the defendant suffered from dementia praecox, "one of the worst types of insanity."

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 3.—The horrifying details of the murder and mutilation of little Marian Parker, the pitiful thoughts and schemes of the killer and the innermost secrets of the Hickman family have found their way into the records of the sanity trial of William Edward Hickman, confessed slayer.

Before the close of yesterday's court session two of the three expert witnesses for the defense had started to draw from the evidence the conclusions with which his attorneys will attempt to convince the jury of eight men and four women that Hickman was unable to distinguish between right and wrong at the time he kidnaped and murdered the Los Angeles school girl.

The appearance of the prisoner's mother, Mrs. Eva Hickman of Kansas City, on the witness stand was one of the dramatic events of the trial. His father, William Thomas Hickman of El Paso, and the defendant's brother, Alfred Hickman of Kansas City, had preceded her as witnesses.

"He is my son," said the mother, identifying the youth in whose defense her own past and alleged mental weakness have been paraded through the trial. "He was good to me and then he changed," she continued. That change, she declared when he had returned to Kansas City after his arrest and conviction in Los Angeles of check forgeries.

That change also was noted in the testimony of the brother. He declared that the accused youth seemed to have things on his mind which he did not want to tell about. He said that he did not think the fact that Edward, as he was known in the family, had murdered a man here in December, 1926, had any part in causing him to be sullen when he returned to Kansas City last summer.

In contrast with the relative composure of mother and son on the witness stand, Hickman's father testified in a voice that trembled and tears rolled down his face as he told of his married life. He told of threats made against his life by his wife, and declared he believed she was insane and her father "rational but peculiar."

He admitted that, after leaving his family while William Edward still was a small boy, he married again in Northern Mexico.

Mrs. Hickman in her testimony had declared she once had attempted suicide "because nobody seemed to want or care about" her. Hickman denied that his relations with other women, which featured defense depositions, had anything to do with his wife's mental condition.

LOCAL CHARITY BOARD IS NAMED

To Sing Here This Evening

Eva Munster Banks, prima donna, assisted by Miss Margaret Harris, pianist; Miss Ruth Abramson, reader; and Prof. Otto Schick, violinist, will be presented in recital at the High School auditorium at 8 o'clock this evening by the music department of the Presbyterian church.

Rev. W. L. Evans Is Chairman; By-Laws Adopted

Pampa Associated Charities, for which money recently was solicited in connection with the annual Red Cross roll call, was formally organized yesterday for the administration of the fund. The drive has not been fully closed, and the soliciting teams will finish their work within a short time.

Representatives of various churches and clubs, voting on recommendations of a nominating committee, chose the following administrative board; Chairman, the Rev. W. L. Evans secretary, Olin E. Hinkle; treasurer, J. O. Gillham; other directors, the Rev. James Todd and the Rev. D. H. Truhitt. The nominating committee was composed of Otto Studer, Scott Barcus, and Mrs. A. R. Sawyer.

By-laws adopted at the same time provide for expenditures only on recommendation of directors. Case records will be kept, and investigations made by the chairman and others.

Associated Charities will work in co-operation with the Red Cross chapter, of which Mrs. M. P. Downs is nurse with headquarters in the city hall. She assumed her duties Wednesday. The city commission and school board have been asked to help support her work, which will be connected with both city and school work. The National Red Cross organization will send a field nurse here next week to help outline her program.

Local Man, 75, Sees First Movie

After living 75 years without seeing a moving picture show, T. L. Pullen, local pioneer, thinks he has missed a great many pleasures.

While standing in front of the Rex theatre this week, he remarked to Roy Sinor, the manager, that he had never seen a movie. He was invited to see the "Lone Eagle," then showing, and finally was persuaded to do so. He was greatly surprised at the reality of the picture, and thought the airplanes were almost too realistic.

He declared himself an enthusiastic, though somewhat amateurish, movie fan, and said he planned to attend often.

PORTO RICANS ASK FREEDOM

Lindbergh Is Custodian of Request From Legislators

(By The Associated Press.)
SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Feb. 3.—A plea for the freedom of Porto Rico in the form of a "message from the people of Porto Rico to the people of the United States" was entrusted to Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh today at a special session of the Porto Rican legislature which conferred a medal of honor upon the American aviator.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Feb. 3.—A people in whose veins flows the blood of the Spanish conquistadors today honored an American who conquered their hearts without bloodshed.

Coming to this sixteenth century Spanish city, now one of the Caribbean suburbs of the United States, from St. Thomas, Virgin Islands, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, detoured to pay his respects to St. Croix, another United States Island possession, by flying over it. His flying time from St. Thomas to San Juan was 2 hours and 5 minutes. While Lindbergh flew alone a West Indies aerial express plane, the Santa Maria, carrying a dozen passengers, accompany him.

In greeting Lindbergh, Governor Horace H. Towner said he voiced the heartiest spontaneous welcome of all the people of the Island.

Fresh Graves Show Rebel Casualties in Nicaraguan Warfare

(By The Associated Press.)
MANAGUA, Nic., Feb. 3.—Fresh graves along the trails of Northern Nicaragua today indicated that an indeterminate number of rebels had been slain in recent encounters with American Marine patrol.

The patrol reported to headquarters that seven rebels were known to have been killed and four wounded in five engagements, but that the Marines were unable to determine the exact number of casualties since the rebels carried off their wounded. A wounded pack animal was the only casualty to the patrol.

Blood Transfusion Helps Girl Whose Legs Were Removed

CHICAGO, Feb. 3.—A blood transfusion, performed in a last minute attempt to save the life of Miss Sadie Holland, whose legs were amputated when gangrene set in following a "beauty" operation, had resulted in a slight improvement in her condition today.

Dr. Paul Magnusson performed the transfusion yesterday after Miss Holland suffered a secondary hemorrhage and her condition became alarming.

Dodge Nominated for U. S. Attorney in North Texas

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Norman A. Dodge, was nominated by President Coolidge today to be United States attorney for the northern district of Texas.

ELECTRA PILOT LOSES CONTROL ON TAKE-OFF

"Frozen" Levers Are Blamed for Accident Late Yesterday

RESIDENCE HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Scott Vincent and J. B. Rose Are Injured Passengers

"Frozen" controls, apparently caused when his two passengers touched auxiliary levers, brought Pilot J. S. Phillips of Electra to the ground about 6:30 o'clock here yesterday when he crashed on the take-off.

The plane narrowly missed the M. P. Downs residence, struck a telephone pole, and fell on a lawn. Scott Vincent, one of the passengers, sustained several broken ribs, an injury to his knee, and probably internal injuries. J. B. Rose, the other passenger, was shaken up and cut about the head. The pilot has minor cuts.

Phillips is a veteran flier and former Army pilot, and has been doing passenger flying for several years. This was his first accident since the war. His plane, equipped with an O. X. Curtis motor, was damaged to the extent of more than $2,000. The nose crashed into the earth, the motor was torn from its housing, and one wing was torn off. He was taking off from the football field and rising over the Channing addition when the accident occurred.

Hundreds of persons rushed to the scene, and the Malone ambulance was called. Injuries, however, proved less than at first feared.

The flier arrived here shortly after 5 o'clock, bringing C. L. Steel, Electra jeweler, here on a business trip. The accident occurred on his second passenger trip.

Mr. Steel chose airplane transportation because of the rush of business, and expected to fly back today.

Phillips, the pilot, says that Pampa is becoming well known in the Southwest, and that such trips may be expected to become common. He declared that need for a dependable, marked and map designated landing field is a great necessity here.

Mexican Rebels Are Killed in Battle— Priest Is Drowned

(By The Associated Press.)
MEXICO CITY, Feb. 3.—Dispatches from Guadalupe today said that General Anselmo Garcia, chief of the presidential guards, announced that a Catholic priest, Crescencio Esparrago, and 45 rebels, were killed as a result of a clash with Federal soldiers on the hills near Cotija, State of Jalisco, Wednesday.

Six hundred rebels commanded by Esparrago and Luis Guizar Morfin fought with the presidential guards in a battle lasting more than three hours. The rebels were forced to withdraw, abandoning 28 dead and carrying off many wounded, including Morfin.

The Priest and 18 others tried to escape by crossing a river and were drowned.

Recoups Fortune for Use in Texas Oil

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—The New York Times today says that Joshua S. Cosen, for many years a leading figure in Wall Street and the oil industry, has recouped his fortune and is re-entering the oil business on an extensive scale.

The new company will be incorporated in Delaware, but will have its headquarters in Fort Worth, Texas.

COLLAPSE OF CASTLE KILLS ELEVEN MOORS

(By The Associated Press.)
MEQUINEZ, Morocco, Feb. 3.—Eleven Moors, crushed to death, today were taken out of the ruins of their homes which were demolished by the collapse of the ancient wall of the Palace of Mulai Thamel.

The Palace was built in the 16th century and it is thought that the wall collapsed because of decay.

STUDENT PREXY IS KIDNAPED DUCKED, PADDLED AND SHAVED

(By The Associated Press.)
SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 3.—Seized by nine hooded men when he was called to the door, Marion A. Zioncheck, president of the University of Washington student body, last night was bound and gagged and driven to the shores of Lake Washington, where he was ducked, paddled and his head shaved.

The kidnaping was the high spot of two months of dispute between campus leaders over student policies, Zioncheck being the center of one group while the university daily newspaper headed the other faction.

Zioncheck said he was called to the door presumably to receive a letter, but was grabbed by nine hooded men who whisked him away in an automobile to an unfrequented spot. There he was trussed to a tree, and all but a small portion on the top of his head shaved. He declared he was paddled when he refused to take various oaths. Later his clothes were removed and he was again tied and thrown twice into the water. Then he declared he was left to find his way home.

Six City Blocks Razed in Great Fall River Fire

FALL RIVER, Mass., Feb. 3.—An irregular area covering six city blocks was a mass of charred and burning debris today as the result of a fire which swept the center of this city's business district with a loss estimated at from $7,000,000 to $12,000,000 by Mayor W. Harry Monks and fire Chief Jeremiah Sullivan. Unofficial estimates by insurance men put the loss upwards of $25,000,000.

More than a score of buildings including two theatres, six banks, three hotels and several of the largest office structures were reduced to blackened walls and glowing pits of ruins. First apparatus summoned from points as distant as Providence, R. I., and Boston and a dozen other cities jammed the streets and continued to pour thousands of gallons of water into the debris.

The blaze which started in the abandoned No. 1 mill of the Pocasset Manufacturing company on Pocasset street swept with startling rapidity all before it, and it was not until 2:30 o'clock this morning that it was finally under control, eight hours after the first alarm had been sounded.

Ice formed quickly on the ruins as tons of cold water quenched the glowing debris. Fire apparatus, hose lines and even one fireman froze to the pavements. The fireman had to be chopped free by his comrades.

The fire deprived scores of lawyers, brokers and agents and other professional men of their offices, particularly in the granite block and the Buffington building, another large structure which was razed. In many cases valuable records were lost.

Western Union to Install Clocks in City Next Month

Seventeen Self-Winding synchronizing clocks will be installed in Pampa next month by the Western Union. This service will come from the Naval Observatory at Washington through the local branch of the Western Union.

This will be the first installation of such clocks in Pampa. A master clock in the Western Union office will control the seventeen clocks in the city. Every morning at three minutes to 11 o'clock the master clock will be regulated from Washington and it in turn will regulate the other clocks.

The instruments are being manufactured in New York for shipment here. They should arrive about March 15 and will be installed immediately in the following places; The Pampa Daily News Office; Pampa Drug No. 1; Pampa Drug No. 2; Masters' Cafe; Piggly-Wiggly; Schneider hotel; Adams hotel; Crescent theatre; Texas garage; B. and C. Cafe; Studer, Stennis and Studer; Gray County state bank; Dixie Barber shop; Underwood Motor company; Bonney's cafe; White Deer Land company and Lone Star structure which was razed. In many cases valuable records were lost. One newspaper lost all its equipment, while another suffered severe damage. The plant of L. Independent, French language newspaper, was destroyed. The Herald-News, which had just moved into a new building, was a heavy loser, the basement of the Fall River Globe was flooded by water.

TEXAS CO. WELL INCREASES FLOW AFTER DEEPENING

After being deepened eight feet, the Texas company's No. 4, Saunders in the J. Eustis survey, about two miles east of the townsite well as LePors, began flowing 37 barrels an hour yesterday afternoon and has been holding steady since.

This well was brought in last summer for a small producer at 2,732 feet, but when deepened yesterday to 2,740 feet the flow increased. The company plans to let the well flow natural at the present time may deepen it more later.

Underreaming is in progress in the Delaney et. al's No. 1 Jackson in section 88, block B-2, the discovery well of the new Bowers pool. Following a water flow thought to have come from below, but since found to be breaking in from above pay.

The well came in last fall for more than 7,000 barrels and continued to flow more than 5,000 barrels until water broke in. It is expected that the flow will be restored in the near future.

The LePors Petroleum company's No. 1 LePors townsite is making about 60,000,000 cubic feet of gas, which is flowing wild preparatory to skidding the rig.

The gas was let in following the decision to move the derrick and drill a new well.

Tribute Is Paid By Gr. Britain to Her Great Soldier

(By The Associated Press.)
LONDON, Feb. 3.—While all England mourned and three sons of his king led the three-mile processions from St. Columbia's to Westminster Abbey, the body of Field Marshal Earl Haig today was borne through the streets of London in one of the greatest military pageants in the history of the historic British capital.

It was a pageant of poignant memories. The Casket was wrapped in a weather-worn union jack which had served a similar function on the Cenotaph—Britain's memorial to her hero dead. The body also was borne on the gun-carriage on which had been mounted the gun which fired Britain's first shot in the World War. It was the same gun-carriage too on which the body of Britain's unknown soldier was taken tenderly to his last resting place.

Today, seven mounted men drew it slowly and men's heads everywhere were bared as the casket came into sight and passed along the thoroughfares.

Attorney Burke Mathis made a business trip to Memphis today.

THE STORY THUS FAR

The thing that baffles Vance most is the jewel case. It had been opened with a steel chisel after unsuccessfully being pried with a poker. Spotswood had gone out with Margaret Odel the night she was murdered. When he left her he told Jessup to call a cab. They heard a scream from her room, but when they reached her door were told everything was all right. The next morning she had been found strangled. Vance believes two men were in the apartment, one in a clothes closet, the other the murderer. Investigation discloses that Cleaver has been seen with her the most, and finger-prints in the apartment lead to the identification of Tony Skeel.

CHAPTER XVI

He hung up the receiver and rubbed his hands together. "Now we're sailing," he rejoiced. Vance had gone to the window and stood staring down on the "Bridges of Sighs," his hands thrust deep into his pockets. Slowly he turned, and fixed Heath with a contemplative eye. "It simply won't do, don't you know," he asserted. "Your friend, the Dude, may have ripped open that bally box, but his head isn't the right shape for the rest of last evening's performance."

Heath was contemptuous. "Not being a phrenologist, I'm going by the shape of his finger-prints." "A woeful error in the technic of criminal approach," Sergeant Odell replied Vance dejectedly. "The question of culpability in this case isn't so simple as you imagine. It's deuced complicated. And this glass of fashion and mould of form whose portrait you're 'carry-in' next to your heart has merely added to its intricacy."

(Tuesday, September 11; 8 p. m.) Markham dined at the Stuyvesant Club, as was his custom, and at his invitation Vance and I remained with him. He no doubt figured that our presence at the dinner-table would act as a bulwark against the intrusion of casual acquaintances; for he was in no mood for the pleasantries of the curious.

Rain had begun to fall late in the afternoon, and when dinner was over it had turned into a steady downpour which threatened to last well into the night. Dinner over, the three of us sought a secluded corner of the lounge-room, and settled ourselves for a protracted smoke.

We had been there less than a quarter of an hour when a slightly rotund man, with a heavy, florid face and thin gray hair strolled up to us with a stealthy self-assured gait, and wished Markham a jovial good evening. Though I had not met the newcomer I knew him to be Charles Cleaver.

"Got your note at the desk saying you wanted to see me." He spoke with a voice curiously gentle for a man of his size; but, for all its gentleness, there was in it a timbre of calculation and coldness. Markham rose and, after shaking hands, introduced him to Vance and me—though, it seemed, Vance had known him slightly for some time. He took the chair Markham indicated, and, producing a cigar, he carefully cut the end with a gold clipper attached to his heavy watch-chain, rolled the cigar between his lips to dampen it, and lighted it in closely cupped hands.

"I'm sorry to trouble you, Mr. Cleaver," began Markham, "but, as you probably have read, a young woman by the name of Margaret Odel was murdered last night in her apartment in 71st Street."

He paused. He seemed to be considering just how he could best broach

"You're not on the witness-stand in your own defense, Mr. Cleaver, however, much you appear to regard yourself as eligible for that position."

a subject so obviously delicate; and perhaps he hoped Cleaver would volunteer the fact of his acquaintance with the girl. But not a muscle of the man's face moved; and after a moment, Markham continued.

"In making inquiries into the young woman's life I learned that you, among others, were fairly well acquainted with her."

Again he paused. Cleaver lifted his eyebrows almost imperceptibly, but said nothing.

"The fact is," went on Markham, a trifle annoyed by the other's deliberately circumspect attitude, "my report states that you were seen with her on many occasions during a period of nearly two years. Indeed, the only interference to be drawn from what I've learned is that you were more than casually interested in Miss Odell."

"Yes?" The query was a noncommittal as it was gentle.

"Yes," repeated Markham. "And I may add, Mr. Cleaver, that this is not the time for pretenses, or suppressions. I am talking to you to-night, in large measure ex officio, because it occurred to me that you could give me some assistance in clearing the matter up. I think it only fair to say that a certain man is now under grave suspicion, and we hope to arrest him very soon. But, in any event, we will need help, and that is why I requested this little chat with you at the club."

"And how can I assist you?" Cleaver's face remained blank; only his lips moved as he put the question.

Lomski Favored to Defeat Veteran McTigue Tonight

Hard Fists of Youth Expected to Retire Former Champ

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Mike McTigue carrying the scars of some 150 battles, returns to the pugilistic wars tonight in a 10-round bout in Madison Square Garden with Leo Lomski, hard-hitting youngster of Aberdeen, Wash., who aspires to scale the heights of the light heavyweight division. Lomski is favorite at 2 to 1 to take the verdict.

McTigue twice wore the 175-pound mantle, stripping it from the shoulders of the singular senegalese the late Batling Siki, in a 20-round bout in Dublin, Ireland, in 1923.

In 1925, Paul Berlenbach wrested the title from McTigue in a 15-rounder and the following year saw the championship pass from Berly to Jack Delaney in a 15-round tussle.

Delaney voluntarily relinquished the leadership of the light heavy ranks when he found it impossible to make the 175-pound limit. Then, the New York State Athletic commission tossed the title back to McTigue.

Burdened with the age of 35 years, Mike found himself out-smarted by the agile Tommy Loughran last fall and so must start all over again in a campaign for the emblem.

Lomski, as the age of 24 shapes out at a solid boxer who has no respect for the scientific points of the game but instead relies on two hard fists which whip furiously in close fighting.

German Doctor Defeats Americans at Middle Distance

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Dr. Otto Pletzer, German philosopher and foot-racing champion, has to his credit a sensational victory over some of America's foremost middle-distance runners as a result of his much discussed indoor debut.

While the doctor's most formidable American rival, Lloyd Hahn spent his time coasting to an easy victory in the mile run, the German star last night brought a Madison Square Garden crowd of 12,000 spectators to its feet yelling as he raced to a thrilling triumph in a 1,000-yard race over nine American runners. The occasion was the annual meet of the Milrose A. A.

There was no record-breaking to the debut of Dr. Pletzer, who holds the world's half-mile standard, but the tall, blond teuton exhibited a flashy brand of speed as well as unusual gameness in winning under strange and difficult conditions.

Ray Dodge, member of the 1924 Olympic team and former national 1,000-yard champion, furnished the chief opposition for Pletzer after the pack sifted out. These two put up a stirring nip-and-tuck duel over the last three laps of the six-lap race but Pletzer had the most in reserve and won by five yards in 2 minutes, 18 3-5 seconds. The world's record for the distance, 2:12 4-5, is held by Hahn.

Hahn had no difficulty in winning the Rodman Wanamaker mile for the second straight year, hanging up his seventy consecutive triumph of the season as he romped home ahead of Ray Conger and Joe Sivak of the Illinois A. C. in 4:18 3-5.

AGGIE BOYS ACTIVE
The agriculture boys of 27 and 28 are proud of the work they have done this year, and in order that they may be remembered, they have voted to have a group picture taken of the three classes for the annual.

A number of the Agriculture boys have ordered agriculture caps, of the state department colors, cardinal and white.

Harvesters to Meet Miami There in a Game Tonight

Following up their recent victory over the Amarillo Sandies, the Pampa Harvesters left early this afternoon for Miami where they will meet the Warriors tonight and endeavor to subdue them like they did the Sandies.

The local boys seem to have hit their stride and will be hard to stop. Miami has one of the best high school teams in the Panhandle due largely to the school gymnasium where practice may be held regularly.

The Pampa team depends on the weather man for practices and are somewhat handicapped playing on an indoor court. The "wind" of the players is affected after practicing on the outside and then playing indoors.

Coach Verde Dickey will probably start the same team he used to defeat the Amarillo Sandies.

A call was received from Miami this morning asking the local high school girls team to play Miami in the preliminary game.

Ruth Shows How His Weight Stays Below All Danger

(By The Associated Press.)
PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 3.—Babe Ruth today denied reports that he was overweight and asserted that he would be in better condition at the opening of the spring training season than he was last year.

He said he was five pounds lighter now than during the 1927 baseball season and that he had never felt better. Ruth came here for a brief visit with Jack Schafer, a personal friend. "I feel as fit as ever," said the Bambino. "I tip the old scales at 219 pounds, while last year at this time I was up to 232. During the 1927 playing season my average weight was 224 pounds; still I managed to make 60 home runs."

THE CANARY MURDER CASE

"Knowing this young woman as well as you did," explained Markham patiently, "you are no doubt in possession of some information—certain facts or confidences, let us say—which would throw light on her brutal and apparently unexpected murder."

Cleaver was silent for some time. His eyes had shifted to the wall before him, but otherwise his features remained set.

"I'm afraid I can't accommodate you," he said at length. "Your attitude is not quite what might be expected in one whose conscience is entirely clear," returned Markham, with a show of resentment.

The man turned a mildly inquisitive gaze upon the district attorney.

"What has my knowing the girl to do with her being murdered? She didn't confide in me who her murderer was to be. She didn't even tell me that she knew any one who intended to strangle her. If she'd known, she most likely could have avoided being murdered."

Vance was sitting close to me, a little removed from the others, and leaning over, murmured in my ear:

"Markham's up against another lawyer—poor dear!... A crumpling situation."

But, however inauspiciously this interlucory skirmish may have begun it soon developed into a grim combat which ended in Cleaver's complete surrender. Markham, despite his suavity and graciousness, was an unrelenting and resourceful antagonist; and it was not long before he had forced from Cleaver some highly significant information.

In response to the man's ironically evasive rejoinder, he turned quickly and leaned forward.

"You're not on the witness-stand in your own defense, Mr. Cleaver," he said sharply, "however much you appear to regard yourself as eligible for that position."

Cleaver glared back fixedly without replying; and Markham, his eyelids level, studied the man opposite, determined to decipher all he could from the other's phlegmatic countenance. But Cleaver was apparently just as determined that his vis-a-vis should decipher absolutely nothing; and the features that met Markham's scrutiny were as arid as a desert. At length

Markham sank back in his chair.

"It doesn't matter particularly," he remarked indifferently, "whether you discuss the matter or not here in the club to-night. If you prefer to be brought to my office in the morning by a sheriff with a subpoena, I'll be only too glad to accommodate you."

"That's up to you," Cleaver told him, hostilely.

"And what's printed in the newspapers about it will be up to the reporters," rejoined Markham. "I'll explain the situation to them and give them a verbatim report of the interview."

"But I've nothing to tell you." The other's tone was suddenly conciliatory; the idea of publicity was evidently highly distasteful to him.

"So you informed me before," said Markham coldly. "Therefore, I wish you good evening."

He turned to Vance and me with the air of a man who had terminated an unpleasant episode.

Cleaver, however, made no move to go. He smoked thoughtfully for a minute or two; then he gave a short, hard laugh which did not even disturb the contours of his face.

"Oh, hell!" he grumbled, with forced good-nature. "As you said, I'm not on the witness-stand... What do you want to know?"

"I've told you the situation," Markham's voice betrayed a curious irritation. "You know the sort of thing I want. How did this Odell girl live? Who were her intimates? Who would you have been likely to want her out of the way. What enemies had she?—Anything that might lead us to an explanation of her death... And, in-

MEXICAN IS MURDERED

(By The Associated Press.)
FORT WORTH, Feb. 3.—An unidentified Mexican was murdered and robbed Thursday night in an alley in the downtown section. He was shot through the heart.

Pockets in the dead man's coat and trousers were rifled, indicating that robbery was the motive.

accidentally," he added with tartness, anything that'll eliminate yourself from any suspected participation, direct or indirect, in the affair."

Cleaver stiffened at these last words, and started to protest indignantly. But immediately he changed his tactics. Smiling contemptuously, he took out a leather pocket-case and, extracted a small folded paper, handed it to Markham.

FORECASTING—As long as the ground hog legend remains in the memory of man, just so long will there be individuals who have faith in its purported significance as a means of forecasting weather. People are like that.

And in the past there have been persons who claimed to do long distance forecasting, and who were believed. There are a few of both kinds left. Much prejudice has existed on the subject, and the truth or falsity of the claims of rival weather men have been hard to determine.

It has been disconcerting that some of the long distance predictions have come pretty close to the facts. Of course, careful checking revealed scores of failures to every "hit," but both sides have their followers. Recently the U. S. weather bureau has been accused of not living up to its opportunities scientifically.

It is now proposed to do as far as possible scientifically what, it is charged, has been attempted by guess very largely in the past. The government meteorologists are not very sure of their ground however. One of them said recently:

"While the prolonged researches of the professionals have disclosed thus far little more than encouragement, faint suggestions, possible clues—something to be studied further—the self-constituted forecasters seize upon, distort, and exaggerate the suggestions of the students, and paraphrase their technical language into plausible effusions in order to justify their claims and their guesses to the credulous public."

Despite this official discouragement of reliance upon long forecasts, many publications print lengthy economic articles of advice based upon advance predictions. It is likely that the government will not countenance future guesses as long as doing so will encourage inexpert forecasting, for publicity given pure guesswork has hurt markets, affected crop acreage, and done much other mischief. These facts no doubt account for most of the apparent antagonism of the weather bureaus to quack forecasting.

The weather man is not always right, but it is better to calculate scientifically and miss owing to the irregularities of weather factors than to guess a long time forward and do damage through inculcating confidence in uncertain predictions.

to be handy and not because he is unique or has acted reprehensibly. "The tariff on hides would probably put into the pockets of the cattleman at least $5 a head on every cow that he owns, and he needs it," said Congressman Claude on the floor of the House.

Well, it so happens that Hudspeth is a stock raiser and owns plenty of cows. Assuming that he owns 10,000, for the sake of illustration, the tariff on hides would put at least $50,000 in his pockets. On the other hand, Hudspeth comes from a cattle-raising district and represents many cattlemen besides himself, so that his support of a hides tariff is both a duty and a pleasure.

At least one of the most rabid farm senators owns considerable farm land which he expects will appreciate in value if a good farm relief act is passed. But he represents many other farm land owners, too. Such instances probably would prove innumerable if the facts were checked. There are few if any farmers who do not represent some special interest in some way. The trouble is that many special interests are making legislative favors for themselves, even with each other.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON — Perhaps some day all members of Congress will be required to make a public statement of their property holdings and security holdings, but it won't be soon. Nothing like that has happened since the Mulhall investigation of the early Wilson days.

But it must have been noted some day how much more passionately a congressman can speak for a measure which will put money in his own pocket than for some other measure which will only put money in another man's pants. Like many other things that go on here every year, the subject offers a field for academic speculation as to just where to draw the line between good ethics and bad.

Take, for instance, the plea of Congressman Claude B. Hudspeth of Texas who wants a duty on hides. Take Hudspeth just because he happens

CENTRAL WARD NEWS

The first grade pupils in Mrs. Lester's room were greatly surprised Monday when Hugh Anderson invited them all to remain for his birthday party from 2:30 to 3:30 p. m.

Mrs. Anderson, Hugh's mother, brought a lovely birthday cake decorated with seven tiny candles and candy enough for all. Hugh received several nice little gifts as a few of the children found out about the party in time to get something for him.

The children played several of the games that they have been having in their school work and every one had a very enjoyable half-hour. At the end of which time each little one thanked Mrs. Anderson and Hugh for the lovely party.

The teachers and pupils in the Central ward school wish to take this means of thanking the school board and the superintendent for the nice pickers installed in our halls. These pickers enable us to keep the halls and rooms in splendid order. There had been so many nice things done for the school this year and we appreciate them so very much.

The first four grades had chapel exercise in the main auditorium on Tuesday morning for the first time this year. We shall have this pleasure every other Tuesday morning for the remainder of the year. We certainly thank Mr. Campbell for making arrangements for us to do this. The teachers of these four grades certainly thank the pupils for the splendid order we enjoyed. We could never ask for better order any where. We are proud of these youngsters.

FORMER STUDENT RETURNS

We wish to welcome as a senior and as a fellow student Mildred Fahy of Panaca, Nevada. Mildred was a student here last year until the latter part of the term and has many friends in Central High who are eager to welcome her.

The most popular boy and girl of the senior class were elected Friday at one o'clock. Angela Ballew and Thomas Clayton being the honored ones. We seniors are going to "back them up" and make them the most popular in school.

The Spanish club will meet next Wednesday Evening at 7 p. m. There will be a special program. Every member is urged to attend.

Lamar School Notes

The Seventh Grade

Listen, my friends, and you shall hear Of the many things met in the Seventh year.

"Please, girls, keep your hands on the ball."

Miss Roberson will say, And you know she repeats that several times a day.

She is our basketball coach you know, And always wants us to play just so.

In our arithmetic class there isn't much fun.

For here the class troubles have just begun;

Mr. Allen will look and look and look, And then will assign us a half a book.

Miss Moore is our teacher in spelling, And I have an idea, though its kind of teaching

Then she wishes some of us were not so dumb

Yes, I 'magine that would relieve her some.

In geography, Miss Baker, will say,

"Well, I hope you have a good lesson today."

She never scolds and never gets mad;

But when we don't have our lessons its just "too bad."

Miss Cariker is our English teacher, you see,

And she sometimes makes us breath out—"Gee!"

I wonder what all this red ink means today,

Maybe we will find out if we wait until next May.

Miss Riley teaches us writing and drawing,

Often, I believe she thinks we need "learning."

But she never lets on by work or sign

Just as patient as Job till the end of time.

In history Miss Durrenberger roars,

"Keep your eyes on your book."

But in history, arithmetic on subjects like these,

It is always, "Girls, quit flirting with my boys,

You treat them just as if they were so many toys."

So on we go scared half to death,

FORENSIC CLUB PINS

The Forensic club has ordered pins. Each active member is entitled to wear a pin. The pin committee of the club has done much good work toward selecting these pins and each member should consider it an honor to be entitled to a pin from the first speaking club of Central High.

DO YOU KNOW?

1. That there are 1800 pupils in the Pampa schools?

2. That there are 52 teachers in the Pampa schools?

3. That the Central high school has 32 credits affiliated with the University of Texas?

4. That there are 8 different courses in the curricular?

5. That Pampa has the best superintendent and principal in the Panhandle?

6. That 31 teachers of the Pampa school hold degrees?

7. That the Pampa teachers are growing teachers?

8. That the Harvesters won 8 football games out of 10?

9. That Pampa needs a gymnasium?

10. That the boys and girls of Pampa are of the highest type mentally, physically, and morally?

11. That Pampa must have a city library?

12. That Pampa is on the All-Southern officiated list?

13. That the members of the school board are determined to have a first-class school.

14. That the people of Pampa boost their school.

SPANISH CLUB MEETS

Last Wednesday evening the Spanish club, El Circulo Castellano, met with an interesting program. The program was as follows:

1. Song, America.

2. Roll call answered by a current event.

3. Game—"Juego Geografico."

4. Play—"La Manzana Envenada," Catherine Vincent, Fern Hughey, and Melba Graham.

The rest of the meeting was a business discussion. The program for the next meeting contains a play, a debate, and a Spanish dance. Every member is especially urged to attend. Learn a proverb.

Afraid, even to take a deep breath.

But when we leave the seventh grade my teachers

Will breathe and shout and then run wild.

CHURCHES

UNION SERVICE

Sunday evening at 6:30 o'clock, all the young people's organizations of the churches of Pampa will meet with the Epworth Leagues at the Methodist church. The purpose of the meeting is to link the religious activity of that group closer together and also to create a spirit of friendliness and cooperation between them. The program will begin and end promptly, allowing everyone plenty of time to get to his respective church for the preaching service.

"Jesus, the Center of all Our Young Peoples' Work" will be the subject of the evening and will be presented by the League, the host of the Union. Special numbers, however, will be given by visitors. Mr. McSkimming will play a piano solo, Miss Vincent will read. These two are from the Presbyterian church, Miss Chambers and Miss Lester, of the Christian church, will sing a duet.

ian church, Miss Chambers and Miss Lester, of the Christian church, will sing a duet. Let every young person attend so that a genuine united fellowship may be felt. It is hoped that at a later time, a similar meeting may be held in one of the other churches and perhaps later a City Federation established. Be prompt that the program may begin and end on time.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

Preaching is at 11 a. m., on the first and third Sunday of each month. Bible study is held each Sunday at 10 a. m., and there is communion at every morning service. You are invited to attend these services at the church six blocks east of the high school. CHARLES BANKHEAD, Pastor.

CATHOLIC CHURCH

Catholic services will be held at 11 o'clock Sunday at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Sunday School, with B. E. Finley as superintendent, begins at 9:45 a. m. We have a class and a hearty welcome for all ages. Come and enroll in one of our classes and learn more of the Bible and of God as your Heavenly Father.

Morning worship and the sermon begin at 11 o'clock. The subject of the sermon will be "The Fruitful Life." Communion service and reception of new members will be offered, and there will be special music by the choir. The evening service will begin at 7:30 p. m. There will be special music by the orchestra and choir. The subject of the sermon will be "The World's Greatest Tragedy." Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Mann will sing two special songs by request. Just before the sermon they will sing "The Old Rugged Cross," and at the close of the sermon they will sing "Kneeling at the
