Mother Kidnaps Own 3-Year Old Child From Wealthy Home
DISTRICT ATTORNEY 'CONVINCED BLANTON WRONG MAN'

Private note to Earl Brame, Amarillo Kiwanian: Yessir, we'll see you in Amarillo, and adequately!

Note to Pampa fans: The Harvesters have heard of football. They hear it from waking until they retire, then their dreams are about the game.

The grand game of football is and should be played by the boys themselves. When the kids take the field it is their game and they must think and act the best they can.

President Hoover recently called for a good campaign poem. A demagogue from Indiana responded with the following:

I HEARD--
Dr. H. H. Hicks acting as toastmaster at the "feed" given to the football boys in the cafeteria last night, and if there is a better one in this city, where is he? Doc can give 'em and he can take 'em.

WOMAN DECLARES SHE HAD AUTO ON OCT. 14

AMARILLO, Oct. 27 (P)—"I'm convinced they've got the wrong man. They'll have to find someone who looks like Buddy Blanton," said District Attorney Durwood L. Bradley of Lubbock today after he had completed taking testimony from 22 witnesses at a court of inquiry to check Blanton's written alibi statement in connection with a charge of robbery with firearms at that city on October 15.

Structure To Be 119 Feet Long On Foster
Pampa's new federal building will be 119 feet and 10 inches long, facing on Foster avenue, and 94 feet 5 inches wide, with fullsize basement, according to plans and specifications received yesterday afternoon by Postmaster D. B. Cecil and by Glover and Boyington, local contractors.

CAREFUL GIRLS

CHICAGO (P)—A more or less permanent wink, says Dr. L. H. Wolf, may be in store for the woman who wears a slanting hat with a brim seen constantly by one eye. It tends, he adds, to give the wearer a squint which may last a long time after the hat is discarded.

DAILY NEWS RENTS CITY HALL FOR ELECTION PARTY NOV. 8

There will be no standing out in the cold on election night, November 8, for those wishing fast reports on both state and national elections. The Pampa Daily News has rented the city hall for the evening of November 8, and there will be held a mammoth election party.

HOOVER SAYS TREATY-LIMIT NAVY NEEDED

MOST POWERFUL NAVY IN WORLD MAY BE NECESSARY
ARE WAITING ON EUROPE
IF ARMS LIMITATION FAILS, U. S. SHOULD BUILD NAVY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27 (P)—A Navy built to the London treaty limit and "equal to that of the most powerful in the world" is considered by President Hoover a necessity if arms limitation efforts fail.
The president's view as expressed in a formal statement commemorating the eleventh annual observance today of Navy day.

Pampans Asked To Make Trip To Webb School

Wanted: Pampa citizens to attend a box supper in the Webb community 10 miles east of LeFors at 8 o'clock tonight.
This is a good will, get-acquainted trip, with the invitation extended by the Webb population.

NEW CHIEF

The trouble-fraught post of the head of the police department in the nation's capital will be filled by Ernest W. Brown (above). He has been appointed to succeed Brig. Gen. Pelham Glassford, who resigned after a long controversy with the District of Columbia's police commission.

THEATER TRIAL TO HAVE CAST OF 40 PERSONS

Stage Audience Will React in Typical Manner
The cast of "The Trial of Mary Dugan" by Bayard Veiler which will be presented by the Little Theater at the La Nora theater, Nov. 2 at 8:15 p. m., comprises 26 persons who have speeches in the plays, and in addition, an audience of a dozen people. This audience will sit on the stage at the north end and will react in—well, in the manner of audiences.

Flowers May Be Entered In Show Without Charge

All flower growers of Pampa and vicinity are invited to enter cut flowers without charge in the Presbyterian flower show tomorrow.
The blossoms are to be brought to the church between 8:30 and 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.

ADOPTION PROCEEDING OPOSED BY YOUNG MOTHER

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 27 (P)—Mrs. Ruth Borman, 17-year-old mother, was found at a residence in Newhall, Los Angeles suburb, today, with her three-year-old daughter, Nancy Ruth Buchanan, who was kidnapped from her nursery yesterday in the home of her guardian, Mrs. Violet C. Buchanan, wealthy Los Angeles resident.
The mother was located with her child after police had questioned M. E. Warner, 24, a friend of Mrs. Borman, who told authorities he had driven the mother to the home of Mrs. Buchanan, where she entered the nursery and took her child.

Everything But Fun Pooh-Poohed At Grid Dinner

A softly lighted harvest atmosphere prevailed as 35 Harvesters and the same number of football fans sat down to a bountiful chicken dinner at the Junior high school cafeteria last evening.
The table decorations included shocks of kafir corn, oranges waxed to resemble pumpkins, and "rail" fences made of stalks.

FINE LUNCHEON SET OFFERED FREE WITH NEWS SUBSCRIPTIONS

Those who have been asking when The News would have a special subscription offer now have their question answered. And what an answer it is!
To subscribers by mail the price for a year's subscription has been reduced to $4 for this special period. And ABSOLUTELY FREE there will be given a 22-piece rose-pink glass luncheon set or the same set in sparkling crystal glassware.

BEAUTY?

Ah, there's So-and-So, the ravishing beauty. And there's that divine Such-and-Such. And so spoke the onlookers at one of those gaudy Hollywood movie premieres. Then along came Edna May Oliver in her party clothes, registering whatever this expression may signify. And the crowd roared.

PAMPANS IN NO HURRY TO BUY TRAIN TICKETS

As Usual Fans Wait Until Last Day To Act
It's an old story. Probably 400 or more Pampa citizens will go to Amarillo on a football special train if one is operated. But today less than a score of tickets had actually been purchased of the 200 which must be sold by Friday noon.

School Teachers To Be Banquet Guests

All public school teachers of Pampa are invited to be guests of the Pampa Rotary club and Rotary Annex at a banquet this evening at 6:30 o'clock at the Methodist church.
The following program will be given: Music, Marton's Texas; welcome, Tom E. Rose; response, R. B. Fisher; International broadcast (P); Rotary history, Phillip R. Pond; vocal solo, Mrs. L. N. McCullough, accompanied by Mrs. Tom Rose; talk on Rotarians and Teachers, Charles C. Cook.

FEW INJURED WHEN BOBBIES CHARGE CROWD

LEADERS SINGLED OUT AND ARRESTED AMID JEERS
MARCHERS STRIKE BACK
CHARGING POLICE MET WITH BARRAGE OF STONES

LONDON, Oct. 27 (P)—Rioting occurred on Edgeware road where thousands of "hunger marchers" were entering Hyde Park today to organize for their protest against revision of the British Dole system. Police charged the crowds, swinging long batons to the right and left. Several were injured.
It was estimated that 50,000 people, mostly spectators, were massed in the park where many of the marchers were assembling and their leaders were making speeches.
At the scene of the fighting, police singled out leaders and arrested them despite shouts of protest from the crowd. The trouble began when a brick was thrown through a postoffice window at Great Cumberland place. Stones and sticks were hurled at charging police.
In the park a living wall of police, shoulder to shoulder, kept back the crowd as the marchers entered. The famed free speech arena, near the Marble Arch, was enlarged to (See POLICE, Page 2)

New Committee Forms Plans To Dispense Relief

The group formed here to dispense federal work-relief will be known henceforth as the Pampa Relief committee.
The committee, headed by C. H. Walker, met yesterday and was to convene again at 2 p. m. today. Besides Mr. Walker, those present yesterday were Alex Schneider, M. K. Brown, and W. A. Bratton. Mr. Bratton will be treasurer. Another member, John R. White, county commissioner, was not present. City Manager C. L. Sims was a visitor.
When the federal relief arrives, the first men to be given work will be those known to need it badly. Those with large families will be favored. New applicants will be questioned to determine their needs. The Board of City Development, the City of Pampa, the Welfare Board, and county commissioners will assist in finding work. The prevailing minimum wage scale will be 30 cents an hour, and upward when skilled labor is required on construction projects.
Records of all work dispensed will be kept for frequent reference.

OPEN WAY FOR CENTENNIAL

The voters of Texas should not fail to support the amendment providing for a proper observance of the one hundredth birthday of Texas when it occurs in 1936. The mistaken idea that ratification in the November election means the immediate appropriation and expenditure of a large sum of money should be corrected. Ratification of the amendment merely clears the way for legislative appropriation later when the project takes on definite shape and when the general industrial condition seems to warrant it. It is not the intention of any advocate of a centennial to force such a movement onto a state in financial distress.

But the people should prepare the way for a recognition of Texas' century of patriotic and progressive history. Few political units in the world have a history comparable to that which was made while Texas was battling for liberty. It might have been that the devotion to the cause of liberty in the human race came to a cream state at the Alamo and San Jacinto—not to mention Goliad. No event in all history is more worthy of adequate remembrance.

But that is merely the sentimental side of the picture. Texas should be registered to the world in the true colors of its quantity and quality characteristics. Purely as an advertising proposition there is merit enough to justify every Texan to authorize with his ballot the acceptance of a psychological moment in the state's economic affairs to combine the ideally patriotic with the materially progressive and display Texas in legend and advertising copy to a quarter of the population of the North American continent.

All that is needed is an attractive excuse for seeing Texas. The millions of visitors will take the World Fair content of the offering as a matter of course, but they really will have been drawn here because of a long-contained desire to see the Texas which, turned back on its north border line will deposit Brownsville on the Canadian border of North Dakota and turned east on the Arkansas line will lay El Paso on the Georgia sands of the Atlantic Ocean. It will be keen to see the highway that is 79 miles longer between Texarkana and El Paso than it is between Texarkana and that Chicago which made Lake Michigan's sand dunes famous.

Those are the potentialities that should be made possible by ratifying the amendment November 8. We shall not want the project carried out unless conditions warrant it, but it is preposterous to say in 1932 that the financial, industrial, and crop conditions of Texas will not support a visitation of 10,000,000 tourists four years hence. It is just as reasonable as to make a guess on the Texas weather for the centennial year.

Authorize the centennial by ballot. If Texas can afford it, the project will be carried out. If it can not afford it, no intermediate legislature will vote the taxpayers' money for it—STAR-TELEGRAM.

testimony in the first act, and the defense in the second and third acts—the scathing cross-examination of the defense witnesses by the district attorney and the defense attorney.

The cast follows:

Judge Nash, Julian Barrett; clerk of the court, Bill Webb, Pauline Agguero, Miss Carraker, Dr. Welcome, Dub William; stenographer of court, Lewis Curry; Edward West, attorney of defense, Paul M. Le-Bauf; James Madison, negro elevator man of the Park Gardens apartments, Elmer Fie; Police Inspector Hunt, Tom Herod; Police Captain Fricke, R. G. Allen; Dagmar Lorne of the Follies, Maxine Lyons; Mary Dugan of the Follies, Miss Lucille Ewing; May Harris of the Scandals, Mrs. Raymond Harrah; Jimmy Reed Cries; Fernie Arthur of the Follies, Miss Flo Perry; Mrs. Edgar Rice, Mrs. H. H. Hicks; Patrick Kearney, detective; Henry Plaisted, Mr. Clemmons; assistant district attorney, George Funn, and four court attendants, two scrub-women, two cleaners.

The plot of the three-act melodrama concerns the fatal stabbing of Edgar Rice in the Park Gardens apartment of Mary Dugan with a knife owned by Miss Dugan. Her fingerprints are found on the knife. Her clothing is blood-stained.

"Exhibits" which the state introduces in evidence include her blood-stained night-dress, the knife, photographs of of finger-prints on the knife and of the woman's right hand, the fur coat she was wearing when arrested.

sented here are the facts that the description of the car used in the holdup tallies fairly well with that of Blanton's car, and the testimony of the two Lubbock citizens that he was in Lubbock that night."

It was reported here that officers already are at work trying to find a youth who resembles Blanton in appearance. Blanton's sister, Ruth, 19, was a voluntary witness at today's court of inquiry and offered two letters from Blanton's wife who is at her home in Hobbs, N. M., showing that she has his automobile on Friday, October 14. The letters were mailed from Hobbs and she referred to the car and to leaving Amarillo on October 20 and October 21, following the Lubbock tragedy but before Blanton was arrested here early Sunday morning, October 23, at a dance hall.

Blanton's movements were traced from Saturday afternoon, October 15, to after midnight that night and the following Sunday, almost minute by minute, with corroboration by witnesses, and exactly as he had described them in his statement to Lubbock officials, officers here said.

Mother Defies Law

The findings of the mother and her child allied fears that the disappearance might have been the work of extortionists, who twice previously had threatened Mrs. Buchanan with abduction of the girl if she failed to pay them $12,500.

When police reached the Newhall address, which proved to be a small shack on the outskirts of the town they found the mother asleep with her daughter.

At the police station she confronted Mrs. Buchanan and with tears streaming down her face, told a pathetic story of an intense longing for her daughter, which finally drove her to carry the child away from the home of her guardian.

When police mentioned a "kidnaping" she turned on them scornfully, crying out:

"She is my baby, even if the courts

For every "hunger" marcher, one of London's poker faced apple-checked "Bobbies" acted as escort in the park, protecting the demonstrators in their right to protest the government's D.C. administration, but also as an ever-present reminder against accompanying strong words with deeds.

While the mass demonstration was orderly in the main, an ugly situation arose between police and some sections of the crowds. One crowd of about a thousand men gave continuous trouble in the Marble Arch area.

Traffic was practically at a standstill there until mounted police broke through and, galloping up and down the street, kept the jeering, boisterous agitators off the thoroughfare.

Hoover to Blame For Smash-Up Of This Affair

By DALE HARRISON

NEW YORK, Oct. 27. (AP)—Daniel Rubenstein's regard for Patrolman George Wandling has soured. Rubenstein, a restaurateur, has had Wandling on the free list for meals ever since Wandling thwarted a robbery at the Rubenstein restaurant two years ago.

Recently Rubenstein turned his back on the democrats and announced to Wandling, who is called the "Adonis Cop," that he intended to vote for President Hoover. Officer Wandling couldn't see it that way. He was eating a meal at the time, so Rubenstein handed him a check for 85 cents.

"From now on, you pay," said Rubenstein, "I vote for Hoover and you vote your way and quit eating for nothing."

The adonis cop paid; but subsequently, in patrolling his beat, he observed that Rubenstein's cellar door was open. He called for a policeman. "My, my," said the officer, "this is a very sorry business. There is an ordinance—I am sure there is an ordinance—which states specifically that cellar doors must not be left open."

By roused Rubenstein. He passed some remarks hinting that Wandling was merely vengeful because he wasn't getting any more free meals. Wandling pooh-poohed this allegation as absurd and ridiculous. As an officer of the law he had taken an oath to see that cellar doors were not left open. Rubenstein was arrested.

The judge said to Rubenstein: "Even if you gave the patrolman free meals, you had no right to break the law."

There was, however, a medium to comfort to Rubenstein; Wandling has been taken off the beat.

Offers Children In Exchange For Food

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 27. (AP)—Informed that the county cannot grant relief to persons who refuse to relinquish their property as security, Tony Savone, Madison, offered his four children.

"You wanted my property; here it is," he said, as he brought four girls, the oldest six and the youngest 2 years old twins, to the headquarters of the relief department. Thereupon he departed. Mrs. Ruth Welton, relief worker, later returned the children to their home, but Savone said he would take them back as soon as his scant food supply is depleted.

Mrs. Earl Walker Dies at Hospital

Funeral services for Mrs. Zella Alice Walker, 25, who died in a local hospital Saturday night were to be conducted at the chapel of the Stephenson Mortuary at 5 o'clock this afternoon with the Rev. Jesse F. Wiseman, pastor of the Church of Christ, officiating. The Stephenson quartet will furnish music.

The body will be sent to Denison on the 7:30 Fort Worth and Denver train tonight. Burial will be tomorrow afternoon at noon. Mrs. Walker is survived by her husband, Earl Walker, one small son, Dan Jack, her parents, and four brothers and four sisters.

A W ingshous electric motor, stolen Tuesday afternoon of a sewing machine in the basement of the city hall, was found by E. L. Anderson in the men's rest room this morning. City officers, working on the case, expect to make an arrest soon.

The sewing machine was owned by Mrs. W. H. Davis, manager of the Welfare board, and was being used in making of clothing from Red Cross cloth. The thief apparently took the motor but got "cold feet" and returned it sometime last night.

The motor was stolen while Mrs. Davis was investigating a case between 5:30 and 6 o'clock.

Party Pledge Not Binding, Is Claim

Under present conditions, the democratic party pledge is not binding and support of Orville Bullington, republican gubernatorial candidate, is advisable in the interest of honesty in government, it was declared at a Bullington rally in the courthouse last night.

A few more than one hundred persons were present. The speakers included Chas. C. Cook, M. K. Brown, and a few others who made brief remarks.

The campaign against Fergusonism may be made countywide.

Habitual Killer Slays One Who Befriended Him

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 26 (AP)—An ex-convict named George Downing, convicted of murder, confessed to prosecute Donald J. Hoskins early today the slaying of a second victim, Mrs. Daniel J. Bonzo, 44, wife of the chief record clerk at Ohio penitentiary.

Mrs. Bonzo, beaten to death at her home here yesterday, had befriended the former convict, John Downing, 44, and his confession as related by Hoskins said, "she's been like a mother to me. I don't know why I did it."

Downing was paroled from the penitentiary October 6, last year, after serving about seven years of a life term for the slaying of Mrs. Allan Williams, 38, of Cincinnati, in 1925.

The slaying of Mrs. Williams was one of Cincinnati's most sensational murder cases. Downing pleaded guilty to the crime and threw himself on the mercy of the court, claiming he was drunk when he robbed the woman, then strangled her with a silk necktie.

Judge Dennis J. Ryan sentenced him July 3, 1926, to life imprisonment, stipulating that he spend each May 15 in solitary confinement "to ponder over this terrible crime."

The prisoner was released from the penitentiary Oct. 6, 1931, however, after his sentence had been commuted by Gov. George White upon recommendation of Dudley Oak, assistant prosecutor of Hamilton county.

Gold Star Member Defined for Unit

The terms "Gold Star mother" and "Gold Star member" have been defined for local members of the American Legion auxiliary by Mrs. T. B. Rogers, auxiliary unit president. Quoting from a resolution adopted by the auxiliary's recent national convention, she explained that a "Gold Star mother" is the mother of a man who lost his life in World War service or who died from the results of such service before July 1, 1921, the official termination of the war. The term "Gold Star member" means a member of the auxiliary who is the widow, sister or daughter of a man who died under the same conditions.

Sam Houston Pupils Hear Good Program

Basing his talk on the writings of Paul, Rev. Jackson of the Church of the Brethren addressed Sam Houston school pupils yesterday morning. Baker school contributed the following numbers to the program: Two readings, Mary Jane Griffith of Mrs. B. G. Gordon's room; play, "The Arrest of Carelessness," by high third grade pupils of Miss Bernice Larsh's room; scarce crowd dance, pupils of Miss Cleo Snodgrass' room.

Class Teachers To Entertain Pupils

The junior B. Y. P. U. leader, Mrs. G. L. Moore, the sponsor, W. C. Brown, and the Junior Sunday school class teachers, Mrs. L. L. Brewer, Mrs. G. C. Stark, and L. W. Hardcastle, of the Central Baptist church will entertain their classes with a Halloween party Friday evening at 7 o'clock. All juniors are invited to be at the church for the event.

Intermediates To Have Spooky Party

The intermediate department of the First Baptist church will have a Halloween party tomorrow evening beginning at 6:30 o'clock in the church basement. Teachers and many of the young people will wear masks, which, however, are optional.

Mrs. E. L. Anderson, superintendent, is in general charge.

IT WAS THIS WAY CUMBERLAND, Md. (AP)—J. W. Duckworth, appealing from a conviction of drunken driving, told in circuit court he drank "pain killer" to ease a toothache. An impediment in his speech, he said, caused police to think him drunk. The troublesome tooth was pulled last month. The jury yesterday smelled the "pain killer," examined the extracted molar, and then acquitted Duckworth.

G. F. Hicks of Kansas City was in the city on business early this week.

Here's more evidence of the recent reconciliation between Rudy Vallee, of crooning fame, and his pretty young wife, Fay Webb. For shown seated with Fay on the opening night of a night club in New York is Judge Hyman Bushel, Rudy's attorney, who is credited with having patched up matters after Fay had let it be known she was contemplating divorce. Fay looks cheerful again, doesn't she?

Three Shot To Death in House Razed By Fire

BLOOMFIELD, Ky., Oct. 27 (AP)—Lacking tangible clues, authorities today sought evidence which might aid them in their investigation of the killing of three persons whose charred bodies were found yesterday in the ruins of a farmhouse near here.

That robbery was the underlying cause of the tragedy that took the lives of an unidentified man and Mr. and Mrs. Lud Ingram, recluse farm couple, was the belief generally expressed by authorities.

Neighbors of the Ingrams, both of whom were about 70 years of age, found the bodies after the four-room frame home occupied by the couple had been badly damaged by fire.

Authorities said the Ingrams were reported to have drawn their savings of approximately $8,000 from a bank only recently. It was this report that caused them to advance the robbery theory. The money could not be found.

The unidentified man had been shot through the head. Under the body was a pistol from which two shots had been fired. Near the Ingrams' bodies was another pistol, with one chamber empty and the bullet apparently recently discharged.

Deputies said they believed the unidentified man shot the Ingrams and in turn was shot by one of them. What appeared to be bullet wounds were found in the aged couple's heads.

Jockey Suffers Fractured Skull

Elston had not regained consciousness since his fall, and his condition was pronounced serious.

After winning two races on the day's card, Elston's mount, Black Dust, fell while in close quarter on the last turn. Jockey Monte Parke, who rode Lady Couven on to win, was blamed for the accident and suspended by the stewards for the remainder of the meeting.

This Woman Lost 45 Pounds of Fat

"Dear Sirs: For 3 months I've been using your salts and am very much pleased with results. I've lost 45 lbs., 6 inches in hips and bust measure. I've taken 3 bottles—one lasting 5 weeks. I had often tried to reduce by dieting but never could keep it up, but by cutting down and taking Kruschen I've had splendid results. I highly recommend it to my friends."—Mrs. Carl Wilson, Manton, Mich.

To lose fat SAFELY and HARMLESSLY, take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—don't miss a morning. To hasten results go light on fatty meats, potatoes, cream and pastries—a bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle—but don't take chances—be sure it's Kruschen—your health comes first—get it at Richard's Drug store, or any druggist in America. If not joyfully satisfied after the first bottle—money back.

Opera Soprano Shot at Theater By Her Husband

BERLIN, Oct. 27 (AP)—The soprano star, Gertrude Bindernagel, sang in the tragic opera, "Siegfried" last night, and a few minutes later was the victim of a gun attack by her husband.

The husband, Wilhelm Hintze, a banker, appeared at the stage door and his wife emerged drew a pistol and shot her down.

Early today an operation was performed for removal of the bullet from a kidney, but physicians said the noted singer's condition was "practically hopeless."

Miss Bindernagel, the police said, started divorce proceedings against her husband last week. Hintze submitted quietly to arrest. He told police he "wanted to teach her a lesson."

Police said, however, that he tried to commit suicide after firing at his wife, but the gun failed to work.

Miss Bindernagel is 39 years old and Hintze is 53. He is a former colonel in the famous Potsdam first guards regiment.

Mrs. Albert Converse of Miami stopped here this morning.

E. J. Eichhorn of Oklahoma City visited with Murray Freundlich yesterday.

By BYRON PRICE.

Despite all the talk about empty campaign treasuries, the political parties appear to be making out financially on a scale far exceeding expectations.

Special trains carry the presidential nominees across many states. Hundreds of lesser spellbinders travel more simply, but far and wide. The biggest halls in the country are hired. Radio time is bought in quantity. Heavily-staffed headquarters are maintained, not only in one city, but in several.

These items run into real money. Just how much the public never will know. The laws requiring publicity of campaign expenditures are full of loopholes, as the legal and financial experts of all party organizations well know.

The manner in which campaigns are conducted likewise presents many natural obstacles to the most honest of political stewards. It is utterly impossible to get reports into national headquarters of all the expenditures made locally and for which local funds were supplied.

It is impossible to say just how much of a certain sum, spent in a certain state, went in the interest of the national ticket and how much for local candidates, down to county sheriff.

Reports will be made from time to time and a figure struck off for the record, but unless this year is different from other years the indicated total will be wide of the true facts.

Expenses Cut. Each of the two major parties began the campaign with a rather vaguely defined intimation that it expected to spend about a million and a half.

Of course some economies have been obvious. The paid workers, while apparently about as numerous as in previous years, are receiving smaller salaries. A reduction in the volume of campaign literature has cut printing and postage bills.

They appear to have been a considerable falling off in paid advertising in newspapers.

Yet with all of this it is hard to figure out, item by item, how either the democratic or the republican establishment could have been carried along on the present scale within a million-and-a-half budget.

Campaign More Spirited.

The explanation of the present spending is that the presidential campaign, in its closing days, had become much more spirited than either side expected.

Responding to the request of President Hoover himself, voiced in his telegram to Chairman Sanders after the Maine election, the republicans have undertaken an attack of great intensity—and consequently of much expense.

The democrats did not feel they could let this new element in the campaign go unmatched, and they, too, have gone in for a whirlwind finish.

Thus no one, at this stage, is talking much about objectivity. The talk is rather that no expense should now be spared.

Getting It Somewhere

Where is the money coming from? Appreciable sums must be arriving from some quarter, either as contributions or loans, for the parties must pay cash for the loans which make up the bulk of their expenditures and can do only a small percentage of their business on credit.

Neither party has yet disclosed any important loans, but it would not be surprising if some showed up in the final accounting. For the party which wins, this will not be a very serious matter. That party will be a going concern, and its creditors will not be over-disposed to press for payment.

But it is entirely possible that the party which loses will wake up on the day after election with a large headache due only in part to the political aspects of the case.

Aged Woman Dies In Road Accident

CANON CITY, Colo., Oct. 27 (AP)—An unidentified woman believed to be about 70 years of age was struck and killed by an automobile on a highway near Canon City last night.

Letters in the woman's possession gave the names of Bert Steffens of Amarillo, Tex., and Louis Steffens of Ely, Nev., believed by officials to be her sons.

Officers said the woman probably had been blinded by the lights of the automobile, driven by Adolph Falso, a rancher near here. She had been walking along the highway.

WAFFLE SUPPER TO BE GIVEN AT BAKER SCHOOL TOMORROW; CAFETERIA TO BE BENEFITTED

The public is invited to attend a waffle supper tomorrow evening between the hours of 5 and 9 o'clock at Baker school. Proceeds will be for the benefit of the general fund of the Parent-Teacher association and for the school cafeteria.

Members of the Parent-Teacher association are sponsoring the event. Mrs. C. E. Simmons, general chairman, has asked that the following committees meet at 1 o'clock to complete final arrangements: Waffle—Mesdames W. B. Murphy, J. M. Moore, Earl Roof.

MISS BUCKLER IS CAPABLE LEADER OF TRAVEL STUDY

Miss Margaret Buckler, having recently been abroad, was in charge of an interesting program on European travel given at a meeting of the Junior Twentieth Century club Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Clarence R. Barrett.

Discussions were given as follows: Some ways of teaching Europe (giving names of ships, time, price, and manner of entertainment en route); Miss Buckler; some statistics on Europe in comparison with the United States regarding size, surface, drainage, production, and inhabitants; Mrs. Charles Todd; some reasons why we should know Europe better than the other continents; Mrs. Dick Walker; sketch of proposed itinerary for the year's study, mentioning some of the outstanding points of interest Mrs. Roy Bourland.

During the business session the group voted to give $25 to the fund for the permanent headquarters for the Texas Federation of Women's clubs, Austin.

CONTRIBUTION IS TO BE MADE SOON BY STUDY GROUP

Decision to contribute $25 this year to the fund for the permanent headquarters for the Texas Federation of Women's clubs, Austin, was made by the senior Twentieth Century club at a meeting Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. W. A. Bratton.

Mrs. Ivy E. Duncan, leader, opened the discussions with a talk on the principles of interior decoration stating that comfort as well as beauty must be considered. She discussed formal and informal arrangements.

Mrs. L. B. Hughey used rugs as her subject, discussing them from

SHOWER GIVEN BY ONE GROUP OF TEACHERS

CENTRAL CHURCH FOLK STUDY; COMMITTEE MEETS TO SEW

Yesterday afternoon was an unusually busy one for three groups of Baptist women in Pampa.

The primary teachers and officers of the First Baptist church met for a luncheon and shower, the Central Baptist W. M. S. held a business and study meeting, and another group of First Baptist women met at the city hall to sew.

SHOWER EXECUTED WITH BEAUTY

Lovely pink and white decorations were used in the primary room of the First Baptist church yesterday for a shower given for Mrs. Ernest Fletcher. Mrs. Fletcher, associate superintendent, was honored by members of the department and by other friends in the church. The event was held following the 1 o'clock luncheon.

Mrs. J. E. Roberts gave a reading, after which Marian Arwood, wearing Red Cross uniform, entered with a little wagon bearing a white box, over which was a basket decorated with pink and white and bearing dozens of attractive gifts.

Those attending were Miss Ruth Henry, Miss Geneva Groom, and Mesdames Herman Whitley, Lloyd Bennett, Dee C. Campbell, P. O. Anderson, R. L. Edmondson, Seth Beauchamp, N. B. Ellis, John Oakes, Carrie Harris, W. O. Workman, J. E. Campbell, R. D. Morris, J. E. Roberts, J. J. Long, Aubrey Elmore, W. T. Reeves, Ollie White, Eugene Johnson, D. R. Henry, G. H. Hallowe'en Theme Is Evidenced In B. & P. W. Party

The Pampa Business Women's club held its regular social meeting in the club rooms in the Rose building with the following hostesses in charge: Lillian McNitt, Vera Lard, Esther Clark and Lillian Jordan.

The club rooms were cleverly decorated with Hallowe'en colors and the guests were met at the door by a witch, who had them write their names with invisible ink. These names were later used in finding bridge partners. Mrs. E. L. Fowler won high prize and Mrs. Mildred Overall, low, at the close of the games.

After a clown sketch given by Kathryn Vincent and Mrs. Frank Keelin, each guest tried her skill in pinning a tail on a cat. Mrs. E. Gee won the prize in this contest.

Refreshments of pop corn and apples were served to the following: Mesdames Frank Foster, Noel Thompson, Glen Pool, Mabel Gee, M. P. Downs, Christine Smith, Katherine Beverly, Bob Robinson, Frank Keelin, Ed Fowler, Finis Jordan, Lee McConnell, Misses Louise Durbenberger, Mildred Overall, Clara Lee Shoemaker, Kathryn Vincent, Lillie Dalton and the hostesses.

Fads in furnishings and the psychology of picture hanging were discussed by Mrs. Paul Kasishke. "Pictures," she said, "should suit the room in which they are placed. Light pictures should be in light places, dark pictures in dark places, narrow pictures in narrow places. The frames should be a shade lighter than the darkest tone of the picture. Pictures should be hung at a level with the eye."

Chicken pie and hot tea served at the close of the meeting to Mesdames Clifford Braly, W. A. Bratton, W. R. Campbell, A. H. Doucette, Ivy E. Duncan, R. B. Fisher, J. M. Fitzgerald, William T. WOMAN TELLS HOW SHE WON SECOND PLACE

DIFFICULT PROBLEMS MET SUCCESSFULLY BY MRS. ANDIS

(Editor's note: This is the second of a series of articles written by prize winners in the county home demonstration yard improvement contest. The author is Mrs. G. C. Andis, near Jericho, winner of second place.)

By MRS. G. C. ANDIS, Jericho

When I was appointed yard demonstrator for our club in 1932, I did not see how I could make a showing of any kind as we had just moved to the place where we were then living and there was not a flower of any kind, only a few hollyhocks, and not even a flower bed.

As times were so hard, I did not think I could spend very much for shrubs and evergreens, but decided I would do the best I could. My husband and son dug the flower beds, taking the sod they took off to fill several low spots in the lawn, then leveling the flower beds with fresh rich dirt. After the beds were finished, my husband would water it every evening until the dirt was settled. Then came the problem of getting the shrubs.

While visiting my sister-in-law in Clarendon, I told her of my difficulty. She told me of different shrubs and suggested that I call on friends who had various varieties. They gave me 26 plants, including six Spireas, three Bird of Paradise bushes, two star Jasmines, five roses, two salvias, four lilies and two ribbon plants.

I told Miss Ruby Adams of my luck and she drew plans for the landscape with the available shrubs in mind. I had to buy only three plants. My husband went out the breaks and brought back wild plum and native cedars. The day of the planting saw every club member and six husbands to do the work, present.

Elaborate Banquet Served Here for Berean Class of Christian Church

My Beauty Hint

Tables abounded in seasonable beauty when members of the large Berean class, First Christian church, attended a banquet Tuesday evening at the church.

The tables were arranged in a U-shape and were decorated with pumpkins, shocks of corn, and yellow flowers. Lights were covered with witches and other Hallowe'en symbols.

Sam Keith was toastmaster for the occasion, introducing a varied program of talks and music. The addresses included one by the president, Charles Frost. Mrs. F. W. O'Malley is the teacher.

Mrs. H. L. Ledrick and Mrs. H. H. Ibbell assisted in serving the following menu: Baked chicken and dressing, peas nested in potatoes, pickles, salad, pumpkin pie with whipped cream, cocoa, chocolate nuts.

Among those attending were the following young people: Misses Willie Isbell, Arlene Herling, Blanche Wentworth, Dorothy Ann York, Nellie Meers, Virginia Roberts, Rosa Bell Reed, Edna Zimotony, Lorene Turman, Virginia Patton, Ray Blalock, Lorene Keith, Claudia Altberry, Bernice Voss, Vendell Keys, Margaret Williams, Josephine Gantz, Patricia McKee, Maxine Gowen, Mary Ellen Cary, Wilma Twentier, Helen Riggins, Claudine Laurence, Pauline Windson, Frances Talley, Hester Lester, Dorothy Meers, Mildred Grumpe, Elcie Mundy, Alice Reedy, Zelma Cannon, Ethelne Gillham, Florence Potts, and Mildred Cook.

Clinton Meek, Bert Stevens, Sam Keith, Andrew Walker, W. J. Brown, Miss Adams brought the girls from the Grandview club to watch the planting, making a total of 22 present. Miss Adams followed the landscape plan and the men did the work under her directions.

Later, with the assistance of my husband, I made flower beds along the fences at both sides of the yard and planted flowers for color. I planted 14 kinds of perennial flowers and 12 kinds of annual flowers. As we have plenty of water, I was able to keep them well watered.

Looking over my yard, I find that I have 14 perennials, 12 annual flowers, and 37 shrubs and rose bushes living and all for $1.50.

CLUBS FORMED IN JUNIOR HI SCHOOL TODAY

By MARGARET LINDSAY.

Good teeth are of utmost importance from the standpoint of health—for beauty, they are vital. My beauty hint, therefore, has to do with their daily care.

I keep a supply of tooth brushes on hand, and never use one too long. I use a mouth wash frequently, and find that dental floss is an essential as a tooth brush. One of the simplest aids in keeping the teeth in order is massage of the gums, I find. A soft tooth brush will serve for this.

NO IMPROVEMENT SEEN

Mrs. Ethel Wilson McConnell, who has been ill in Wichita Falls for three months, has shown no improvement, relatives said this morning.

Mrs. A. L. Reamsnyder of Roxana shopped in the city yesterday.

Miss Cleo Brown, teacher at the Hopkins school, visited friends here yesterday afternoon and last night.

VARIOUS INTERESTS OF STUDENTS TO BE INCLUDED

No matter what a Junior high school child's interest, he is able to find a club to correspond with that interest. Yesterday the students indicated the clubs of which they desired to be members, and the suggestions were approved or disapproved by the teachers. Today the organization of the various groups was to take place.

Pupils are not allowed to belong to two clubs of the same nature. Membership of the leaders club is elective. Of those in each room wishing to join this club, the room elected two.

Following are the Junior high clubs and their sponsors: Girls glee club, Mrs. A. M. Teed and Miss Helen Martin; boys athletic, L. G. Schroeder; boys outdoor, Tom Herrod; Girl Scouts, Miss Opal Cox; girls outdoor, Miss Madge Rusk; leaders, Miss Juanita McAllister; harmonica, Emmitt Smith; dramatic, Miss Jones; sixth grade arithmetic, Miss Jones; sixth grade English, Miss Marguerite Terrell; Needle Craft, Miss La Pool; handicraft, Mrs. Elma Phelps; poster, Miss Roy Riley; inventors, Emmitt Smith.

Seventeen Articles Made by Christians

Women of the First Christian church completed 17 garments, including shirts, children's dresses, and women's dresses, when they met at the city hall Tuesday afternoon to sew for the needy. They used the print materials furnished by the Red Cross.

Those assisting were Mesdames J. G. Gantz, J. H. Jones, Eckard, Sherrod, Paul Hill, Foster, H. H. Isbell and Hamp Brown.

"Nature in the Raw is seldom MILD"

THE BLACK PANTHER "Nature in the Raw"—as portrayed by the great animal painter, Paul Branson... inspired by the natural ferocity of "Bagheera," the black panther in the famous "Jungle Book." "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes.

No raw tobaccos in Luckies —that's why they're so mild

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". # BOYS LOOK CAPABLE OF WRESTLING SANDIES SATURDAY

SCRIMMAGE IS MOST SAVAGE OF THIS YEAR

EVERY MAN FIGHTING HARD TO START GAME

Pampa's Harvesters went through another tough workout yesterday afternoon in preparation for their most important game of the season Saturday afternoon with the Amarillo Sandies on Butler field. The practice lasted more than three hours and the boys just had time to get their shower before the banquet served in the cafeteria.

Passing, punting, place kicking, blocking, tackling, and defensive work was on the program, and there was no rest for anyone. A scrimmage followed with the first string using the entire list of plays. The boys will go through another tough session this afternoon to polish off their week of hard work. Tomorrow will be given over to signal practice and smoothing of plays.

The two-hour scrimmage was tiring and only the chicken and trimmings served at the cafeteria brought the boys back to life. Wise cracks and speeches followed the food, then the wrestling match finished the big evening.

To judge by the work of several substitutes yesterday afternoon, a few regulars may be on the bench when the game starts. They put up more fight than the regulars.

Coaches Mitchell and Fox will take the team to Amarillo early Saturday and will register at a hotel, where the boys will take a long rest before the game. They will eat a special dinner some time ahead of the starting whistle. The coaches refused to mention any starting line-up yesterday. After the showing made by some of the substitutes, they considered changes. A pretty good idea of the starters should result from the heavy workout this afternoon.

The boys will be outweighed and will be the underdogs when they take the field.

Second Round of Bowling Tonight In City League

Second round of play in the City bowling league will take place at the Pampa Bowling Alleys tonight with all six teams in action. Four teams rolled last week, but the other two failed to get together since that time and they will have to roll ahead of the regular schedule tonight.

Teams entered in the league are the Texas company, Phillips, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Standard Food and two teams from Kiwanis club. The Standard boys and the second Kiwanis team are scheduled to bowl at 7 o'clock.

Mustangs Have Powerful Team

The Gorillas and the Claude Mustangs are scheduled to play at Harvester park at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The game was matched yesterday morning. Claude has a big, fast team that has lost only two games this year, one to the Clarendon Bronchos and the other to the Panhandle Panthers.

Gorilla stock took a big rise last Friday when the little fellows held the Canadian Wildcats to a scoreless tie at Canadian. Since that time Coach Warren Moore has been drilling his boys hard and scrimmaging them with the Harvesters. They are full of fight and fans should see a good game.

There are several promising boys on the Gorilla squad and they will be the boys to fill Harvester vacancies next year. They are learning fast and showing plenty of spirit.

GRINS from the GRID

By O. W. "RED" SEVERENCE (Written for The Associated Press)

Coach Ray Morrison's Southern Methodists were leading 40 to 7 in the annual game with Arkansas in 1931 and almost all of the Texas players were having a Roman holiday piling up the score on their weaker opponents.

Almost all for "Red" Jackson, big Irish tackle, was having a great deal of difficulty with the Arkansas guard playing against him.

Scrampling for every inch, the guard was giving "Red" the fight of his life.

Finally, as the teams lined up for another play, "Red" asked in a disgusted tone, "Say, what's the idea of playing so hard? We already have you beaten so bad you haven't got a chance to win."

"I know it," the guard replied. "But I'm trying to make the Arkansas first team."

"Well, Buddy," was "Red's" comeback. "I'm trying to make the S. M. U. first team, too, so ease up a bit and maybe both of us can make the grade."

PIRATES PLAY MIAMI FRIDAY

Important Game Will Begin At LeFors; Sectional Title At Stake.

One of the most important class B games of the season will be played at LeFors Friday afternoon when the LeFors Pirates meet the fast Miami Warriors. The game will be called at 4:30 o'clock by Referee W. O. Workman of the local high school faculty. L. G. Schroeder, also of the local faculty, will act as umpire. Kincaid of LeFors will umpire.

A win for the Pirates will place them within one game of the sectional title while a win for Miami would put the race in a three-way tie. The Pirates swamped Wheeler last Friday to make them favorites in the encounter Friday. However, the LeFors boys will have to stop Curly Owen, 200-pound Miami fullback. The Warriors will have them on experience and size.

Crach J. H. Duncan of the Pirates coached in Miami last year and he is anxious to defeat his former coach. Price, formerly of Mobeetie, is at the helm of the Warriors.

Pirate field is located two blocks south of the square. Admission will be 35 cents for adults.

The LeFors starting line-up will probably be: Bunner, le; Wood, it; Cox, lg; Brown, c; Combs, rg; McDonald, rt; Biers, re; Stewart, e; Carter, left halfback; Bagwell, rh; Echard, f.

When the Southern Methodist university Colts swing into action Friday against the Terrill school Tigers, big Don Saulsbury, former Harvester fullback and All State player in 1930, will be in the Colt backfield according to the Port Worth STAR-TELEGRAM. With Saulsbury will be Robert Wilson, former Corsicana All State quarterback, and two more well known stars who have yet to be named.

Head Coach Jimmie Stewart and his assistant "Del" Delcambre can start eight former "Big" high school All State players in the game. Stamps who won the guard position two years ago is a member of the Colt squad this year.

Don has been showing up well in practice and in scrimmages against the Mustangs, press reports say. He weighs 185 pounds this year.

Don Saulsbury In Colt Lineup For Saturday

When the Southern Methodist university Colts swing into action Friday against the Terrill school Tigers, big Don Saulsbury, former Harvester fullback and All State player in 1930, will be in the Colt backfield according to the Port Worth STAR-TELEGRAM. With Saulsbury will be Robert Wilson, former Corsicana All State quarterback, and two more well known stars who have yet to be named.

Stagg's Physical Condition Good

CHICAGO, Oct. 27 (AP)—A worried old man, the lines of uncertainty written all over his brow, stepped into a doctor's office for a physical examination.

An hour later, his eyes ablaze with determination, he strutted out to hand father time another licking.

It was Amos Alonzo Stagg, 70-year-old Patriarch of American football.

"Through? Through?" he repeated. "I guess not for a while yet. I'm in good physical condition. My blood pressure's 130. A lot of young men would like to be that healthy."

The physician's pronouncement of physical fitness has fired the comeback spark to a roaring flame in the Staggian heart. And today, cheered by thousands of alumni, students and an admiring administration, he appears to have clinched his campaign to stick as head football coach at Chicago, almost certainly for another year and probably for the rest of his life.

"The luring offers from universities have come his way since his retirement" under the hard and fast 70-year rule was announced two weeks ago today, but he has turned them down to stay at Chicago.

Plenty of Seats For Tech-Notre Dame Tilt Friday

LUBBOCK, Oct. 27 (AP)—Plenty of seats, priced at exceptionally low rates, for the Texas Tech and the Notre Dame "B" team football game here Friday night will be available for visiting fans, late arrivals and fans who have not ordered reservations.

Commenting on the probable sell-out of grandstand and bleacher seats, Assistant Coach (Dutch) Smith, said that additional seats would be erected if the demand warranted it.

The Texas Tech Matadors are undergoing strenuous physical and mental training this week in preparation for the game, one of the biggest on Tech's schedule. Coach Pete Cawthon has his cohorts in perfect physical condition for tough assignment Friday night.

The Notre Dame contingent, under the direction of Tommy Yarr, all-American center and Notre Dame captain last year, is expected here today with his Notre Dame team. Both Tech and Notre Dame will indulge in light workouts at Matador field today. Tech is a member of the Border States Athletic conference. The Matadors are pacing this conference race with one win and no defeat.

Miss Nellie Nichols of White Deer was a Pampa shopper this morning.

PIGSKIN DOINGS

TODAY'S HARVESTER.

One of the fastest backs on the Harvester squad this season is Leon Robinson, 17-year-old senior. Leon runs the 100-yard dash and the 440 yard dash on the track team and is shifty with his speed. Leon weighs 145 pounds. He is playing his third year of football, having had two years' Gorilla experience. Leon is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Blane Robinson.

There are many interesting races in class A high school football this week. The Pampa-Amarillo game just about leads the works in interest. Several other undefeated teams swing into action.

To Give Ball To Every Foursome At Golf Course

Mark Heath, owner and manager of the Red Deer golf course, will give a Reach Eagle golf ball to every foursome that plays over the course Sunday. The ball will go to one member of match play winners who will agree to match for the winning two with low medal ball or let it go to the player or match score.

There will be no entry fee, just the regular green fee and because of that it will be impossible to give two balls to each foursome. Players must compete in foursomes for the ball.

If A and B defeat C and D, match play, the ball will go to A and B, who will agree before the match how it will be decided which player will get the ball.

Mr. Heath expects to announce the dates of home and home games with the Hillcrest club of Amarillo and also of the rubber match with Borger.

Koy Is Marked Man for Ponies

DALLAS, Oct. 27 (AP)—Bohn Hilliard and Ernest Koy have grabbed the touchdown headlines for the University of Texas this season, but the Southern Methodist Mustangs, scheduled to play Texas Saturday in Austin, are not planning to stop Hilliard and Koy but have Harrison Stafford as their "marked" man.

Working on the theory that no backfield man can race for touchdown without interference, the Mustangs have drilled all week to stop Stafford, who is probably the best interference runner in the conference, and who leads the way for Hilliard and Koy.

"They can put the heroic stuff in the headlines about Hilliard and Koy, but Stafford is the punch behind the line of scrimmage. He is one of the greatest in the conference at interference running, tackling and blocking, and he is the man we will be after," commented Captain Howard Sprague at yesterday's practice.

Glen Larrimore, sophomore guard, broke his left ankle yesterday in a scrimmage against the freshman team. He is the only Mustang who is not ready to start against the Texans.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Melet of Wichita Falls are visiting friends here for a few days.

BROCK LOSES FURIOUS BOUT TO CLINGMAN

A packed house of wrestling fans witnessed one of the greatest matches of the season at the Pampa auditorium last night when Sailor Otis Clingman won two straight falls from Eddie Brock of Centralia, Wash. Clingman took the first fall in 29 minutes with one of his famous drop toe-holds. He repeated for the second fall in 15 minutes.

Red Michael and Delmar Quinby wrestled to another 20-minute draw in the semi-final. The match was fast and furious from the first going with the big Borger boy rushing the Pampa redhead. Michael matched his science against Quinby's terrific strength and held him although he could not get a pinning hold.

Barber Kelley threw Andy Gump in three minutes on a questionable decision. Fans failed to see any shoulders to the mat, but the referee did. Pug Stalcup won the opener from Speck Cockburn in four minutes.

A floodlight picture of Clingman, Brock, Dutch Mantell, and Referee Oscar Dotson was taken before hostilities begun. Brock opened with an arm and scissor hold and let Clingman work to come out with a toe hold which was exchanged several times in the first few minutes. Brock used his well known football shoulder block with success and only Clingman's speed and experience got him out of difficulties. Headlocks and splits were exchanged before Clingman then Sonnerberg Brock four times. He landed the fifth into the referee's midriff as the latter was helping Brock up, believing he was in the ropes.

Clingman found himself in a rocking chair split that put him in a bad way, and as he came out he received a couple of Sonnerbergs and a few shoulder blocks. Brock then came up with a Japanese key hold, one of the deadliest of toe holds, and the Pampa boy stayed in it for more than four minutes before he finally broke it as the crowd took its feet. Clingman then Sonnerberged the Washington boy four times and while Brock groggily gained his feet Clingman slipped in with a drop toe-hold and Brock patted the mat.

Brock started fast in the second fall but the cool Clingman let him work frantic a while he rested. Brock used a hammerlock, followed with a split, added a Japanese toe hold and a couple of Sonnerbergs which left Clingman in bad shape as the match progressed. However, the veteran came back with a few dives and an arm bar. Brock got a flying scissor and things looked bad for the Pampa. Brock used a few rabbit punches for the first time in the match and Clingman retaliated, following up his advantage with a few Sonnerbergs and a drop toe-hold which ended the match.

Both boys received a tremendous hand. Every available chair and bench were taken and more than 200 persons had to stand. Members of the Harvester football team and their coaches were guests of Rob Roy at the match. Roy Welch of Borger challenged the winner.

Maple Leafs to Defend Trophy

NEW YORK, Oct. 27 (AP)—Six of the national hockey league's nine clubs, including the Toronto Maple Leafs, holders of the Stanley Cup, open the National Hockey league season for 1932-33 two weeks from tonight.

The Maple Leafs, starting the defense of the famous trophy they won last spring for the first time, play their first game on their home ice against the Boston Bruins. Other opening night games are the New York Rangers against the Maroons at Montreal and Chicago at Detroit.

Openings for the other teams struggle along for three more days. Saturday, November 12, Ottawa's Senators play their first game since they suspended operations at the end of the 1930-31 campaign with the Maroons and the Montreal Canadiens entertain Boston. The New York Americans start off the next night aiding in Chicago's opening.

Rangers To Play Oklahoma Aggies

DALLAS, Oct. 27 (AP)—The Jefferson university of Dallas and the Oklahoma A. and M. Aggies of the Missouri Valley conference will meet in a football battle at the Dallas fair park stadium on Friday night, November 11.

Definite booking of the game was announced last night by Coach Nick Dobbs of the Jefferson Rangers. Confirmation was extended in a telegram from Coach Lynn Waldorf of the Oklahoma Aggies. A $3,500 guarantee was the lure that got the game with the Aggies.

Both teams are undefeated and untied this season. Jefferson is a non-conference team. Both clubs have defeated the Oklahoma City University Goldbugs, the only undefeated major team of 1931.

Democrats Fire At Each Other In State Race

By The Associated Press.

Political guns boomed and echoed across Texas today as democrats and republicans opened an intensive drive for the governorship.

At the same time Maury Hughes, democratic state committee chairman, was appealing to a rally in Dallas last night for party loyalty in support of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, the democratic nominee for governor, her republican rival, Orville Bullington, was firing a salvo at democratic chieftains in an address at Sweetwater.

Roy Miller, state director of the national democratic campaign, in a speech at Fort Worth had referred to Bullington's threat of election as a fleeting fancy of a passing show.

Bullington came back last night with the retort that Miller was "the high priest of the sulphur lobbyists of Texas." He charged that Miller and James E. Ferguson, husband of the democratic nominee, were "the stinkiest twine of lobbyists for special interests."

"They are sore and scared," he said, "because I am about to wreck their gravy train. If you will elect me governor, he shouted, 'I will put on my boots and spurs and ride both of them off of Capitol Hill.'"

—HOVER TO... 24

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27 (AP)—Turning all else aside, President Hoover prepared today for his fourth western campaign swing, beginning tonight, and his initial invasion of the eastern sector Monday, when he will speak in five states within a single day.

Plans for an elaborate speaking schedule in the important eastern states were completed as the president hastily mapped out the speech he will deliver at Indianapolis tomorrow night in a bid for Indiana's 14 electoral votes.

The two swift dashes away from the capital will carry the president before a score of audiences in eight states with a combined strength of 180 votes in the electoral college.

His plans beyond Monday still were uncertain, but the chief executive was weighing suggestions from his friends for a trans-continental tour that would carry him to his home at Palo Alto, California, for election day.

Chaplin Wins Again As Plea Is Denied

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 27 (AP)—A wistful plea against exploitation of his children in the movies, where his own fame and fortune were founded, has won for Charlie Chaplin another victory in his contest against the plans of the mother of his two sons, Lita Grey Chaplin, to place them before the film camera.

Mrs. Chaplin was denied the right to make a movie contract for Charles, Jr., 7, and Sidney Earl 6, when she appeared yesterday in superior court. The comedian's former wife sought such right by an effort to abrogate a previous decision in favor of the actor, which inserted in their 1927 divorce decree a clause that both parents must consent before the boys could be employed.

Feeder Loans Are Being Speeded Up

FORT WORTH, Oct. 27 (AP)—Feeder loans are being hurried as much as possible, Tom Yarbrough, president of the Regional Agricultural Credit corporation at Fort Worth, said today.

Banks are co-operating in some cases by advancing money to applicants on sound security, he explained, and the credit corporation will reimburse them. Bill of lading drafts are provided applicants so they can draw on the corporation for money with which to transport the cattle from the place they are bought to the feeding ground.

"The corporation is adopting as liberal a policy as possible," Yarbrough explained. "There are a number of questions that have to be worked out though. Some of these will be taken up at the meeting of the board of directors here Friday.

"It is expected the money will be available on the first Texas loan within a few days."

Saul Refuses To Talk About Lindy Kidnaping Case

SEVILLE, Spain, Oct. 27 (AP)—Juan Saul, detained by police yesterday for questioning in connection with the kidnaping of the Lindbergh baby, said today that he would disclose nothing about that crime except to American police.

"Newspapers have offered me big money for what I know," he said, "but I'm not selling it. I know the names of the people who got the $20,000 ransom in the Lindbergh case, but I will talk to nobody but the American police."

Saul said he had worked for a while in a well known hotel in Florida and "got to know a lot of prominent people" there. He named some of the people, but he had nothing to say about the details of his acquaintance with them nor would he disclose the name of the hotel where he said he had worked.

SUCKERS, EH?

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 27 (AP)—Gland rejuvenation was termed a deception and goat gland curse as "bill for suckers" by Dr. Hugh Cabot of the Mayo clinic, Rochester, Minn., in an address before the Interstate Post Graduate Medical association of North America here today.

"I would be tremendously worried," Dr. Cabot added, "if all these old men were rejuvenated."

Both Sides Rest In Donna Trial

RIO GRANDE, Oct. 27 (AP)—The prosecution and defense rested today in the trial of four men for alleged conspiracy to kill three political enemies at Donna. The defense did not offer a witness.

Motions for instructed verdicts of acquittal for four of the defendants—L. E. Fargel, E. J. Farnsworth, L. E. Schultz and W. H. McLeland—were denied by the court which shortly before had granted such a verdict for Walter Van Allen was holding that the state had offered nothing to show Van Allen to Bullington's that of election.

Thus, of the eight men originally indicted in an alleged conspiracy to hire the assassination of Walter Weaver, counsel for the Donna irrigation district, Harry Ridgway, last February, only four remained for the jury to pass judgment on, three having been granted immunity by testifying for the state. They were Stokes Cheney, Luther Lepley and George W. Ruthven.

Bullington Moves Into South Plains

LAMESA, Oct. 27 (AP)—A jump of 130 miles from Sweetwater, where he spoke last night, brought Orville Bullington, republican nominee for governor, into enemy territory for his first address today.

Bullington's campaign trip today carried him through an area that was favorable to the candidacy of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, his opponent, in the democratic primaries, Dawson county, of which Lamesa is the seat of government, was perhaps the strongest in all West Texas in its support of the democratic nominee in the recent primaries.

O'Donnell, Tahoka, Brownfield and Levelland were on today's schedule and Lubbock tonight. The trouble delayed the candidate on the long drive from Sweetwater and it was after 11 a. m. when he began speaking.

Believe American Missionary Slain

PEIPING, Oct. 27 (AP)—American authorities said today Consul General Adams at Hankow was investigating reports from missionary sources that Chinese communists had slain the Rev. Bert Nelson of Minneapolis, whom they had been holding two years.

Chinese advices to Adams recently were that the Rev. Mr. Nelson was in good health, but had been removed to the northern part of Hupeh province by the so-called "Red Army No. 1" under pressure of the anti-bandit drive by General Chiang Kai Shek.

The missionary advices were that Mr. Nelson was slain probably about August 23.

Operator Urges Special Session

TYLER, Oct. 27 (AP)—Charles F. Reeser of Fort Worth, president of the Texas Oil & Gas association, told a meeting of East Texas oil interests here last night that the only solution of the situation in the industry was a special session of the legislature to pass a law giving the Railroad Commission power to adjust production of all oil fields in the state to market demand.

He declared that a bill to provide such a law would be introduced either at a special session of the legislature, called by Gov. R. S. Sterling, or at the next regular session.

Little Theater to Meet This Evening

A regular meeting of the Pampa Little Theater will be held tonight, beginning at 7:30 o'clock, in the basement of the Brunow building. All members are urged to be present. Important business will be transacted, it was said. Details of presenting the group's play Nov. 2 remain to be worked out, and these will be discussed tonight.

AX-SLAYER SENTENCED

FLYDADA, Oct. 27 (AP)—Mrs. Ruth Kane, 31, was under a five-year penitentiary sentence today for the ax killing of J. A. Cunningham, 74, rancher who had employed her as housekeeper. She was convicted last night by a district court jury on a charge of murder for the killing of the aged ranchman last April 23. Her daughter, Edith McComas, 15, fainted during the arguments of District Attorney A. J. Polley, who demanded the death penalty.

Police Break up Student Seige Of Night Court

NEW YORK, Oct. 27 (AP)—A seige of the white way's famous night court by 750 college students ended early today in suspended sentences for 14 youths and a co-ed seized by charging police reserves.

Free-for-all fistfights featured the demonstration, which swirled in front of the building, forcing Magistrate August Dreyer to adjourn court because all his policemen were outside helping quell the students.

The demonstration grew from a protest meeting by students who demanded "free speech" and reinstatement of Oakley Johnson, economist, who was dropped from the faculty of the college of the city of New York.

Students supporters said he was dismissed as a communist sympathizer. College officials, denying this, said he was an "extra" instructor dropped because of a budget cut.

One hundred fifty members of the college Liberal club gathered to protest last night in a college building. Police, called by an assistant librarian, charged them in a flying wedge and ejected them. Fred, Donald Henderson, economics instructor, and three students were arrested, charged with disorderly conduct.

Crowds of students followed them to night court, scene of many a midnight drama. "Free our students, free Professor Henderson!" they clamored, marching up and down the street.

SWEDEN'S CROWN PRINCE WEDS

Two of Europe's oldest royal families were linked in the wedding on Oct. 20 at Colburg, Germany, of Crown Prince Gustaf-Adolph of Sweden and Sybille Calma, daughter of the duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha. Gifts from all over the world poured in on the couple, who some day may occupy Sweden's throne.

AMARILLO SELECTED

FORT WORTH, Oct. 27 (AP)—Decision of the grand chapter of Texas, Order of the Eastern Star, to hold its next annual meeting in Amarillo was expected on the floor of the convention at First Baptist auditorium sometime today.

The choice of Amarillo as the host city is regarded as a certainty by officers of the state organization. Beaumont also had bid, for the convention.

NOTES ISSUED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27 (AP)—The Reconstruction corporation today authorized issuance of a billion dollars of notes bearing interest at 3 1/2 per cent to mature April 30, 1933. The notes are to be issued to replace $675,000,000 of 3 1/2 per cent notes already authorized and purchased by the secretary of the treasury, which matured today.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27 (AP)—For the fourth successive session the stock market wobbled uncertainly in a narrow trading rut today. The list closed with a number of the leaders fractionally higher, but a midday rise had been largely cancelled. The final tone was steady. Transfers were only about 600,000 shares.

THE KADIAK BEAR, or giant brown-bear, is the largest carnivorous animal living in the world today. One specimen that lived for years in the National Zoo at Washington, stood 50 inches high at the shoulder, and could take an apple from the end of a stick held at a height of nine feet. The range of the animal is limited to a narrow strip of land along the Pacific coast region of Alaska.

Study Past State-by-State Votes in Making Your Forecasts

Tennessee's vote for president in 1928:

Hoover	195,388
Smith	167,343

Before 1920, Tennessee has been regarded as a member of the "solid South," although the republican vote in presidential years often was heavier than in most southern States.

The state's second republican vote since reconstruction was cast for Herbert Hoover in 1928, after a campaign fought largely over Alfred E. Smith and his prohibition views.

In the same year the state elected Henry Horton (D) as governor with a vote of 186,546 against 124,733 for Raleigh Hopkins (R), and gave a majority of 55,000 to K. D. McKellar (D) for the senate.

In the state elections of 1930 Horton was re-elected and W. E. Brock (D) and Cordell Hull (D) won majorities of about 95,000 each for the short and long terms, respectively, in the senate.

The state this year is witnessing a three-cornered race for the governorship, with Lewis S. Pope (D) disputing the nomination of Hill McAllister in the democratic primaries. John E. McCall won the republican nomination in a primary in which 11,272 votes were cast. Republicans never before had cast more than 60,000 votes in a primary. In the democratic primary 284,836 votes were cast.

Issues in the present presidential campaign have been economic, with prohibition in a minor role. Tennessee has 11 electoral votes.

New Mexico's vote for president in 1928:

Hoover	69,645
Smith	48,211

New Mexico, which has voted for presidents five times since its admission to statehood in 1912, has cast its three electoral votes in the last three elections for republican candidates.

In 1928, when the state gave a majority of 21,434 votes to Herbert Hoover, it elected Bronson Cutting (R) as senator with 68,070 votes against 49,913 for his democratic opponent.

In the state elections of 1930, New Mexico chose a democratic governor, Arthur Seligman, with a majority of 7,000 votes. In the same year S. M. Bratton (D) was elected United States senator by a vote of 69,362 to 48,699.

Senator Cutting has been republican national committeeman in New Mexico until this year, when he and a group of supporters abolished the republican state convention to form a third "progressive" party. This group has placed a "progressive" state ticket in the field, reserving the right to withdraw any of its candidates in favor of republican or democratic candidates who meet with its favor.

Prohibition, being a predominantly a stock-raising and farming state, interest in the present campaign has centered chiefly around the agricultural relief programs of the two parties, with prohibition also a subject of considerable discussion.

Senator Arthur Capper (R) was re-elected in 1930 by 132,000 majority, for a full term, and in the same year George McGill (D) defeated John R. Allen (R), 288,289 to 276,833, to fill Charles Curtis' unexpired senate term. Harry H. Woodring (D) won the governorship with a plurality of less than 300 over his republican opponent in a warm three-cornered race in which Dr. John R. Brinkley, independent, ran strongly.

Prohibition and farm relief have been major issues in this campaign. State platforms of both parties oppose prohibition change.

The situation is complicated somewhat by another three-cornered race for the governorship, with Governor Woodring seeking re-election, opposed by Alfred M. London (R) and Dr. Brinkley.

Kansas has nine electoral votes this year. It has 10 in 1928.

Kansas' vote for president in 1928:

Hoover	513,672
Smith	193,003

Kansas usually is counted a republican state, but has voted for candidates of other parties four times in the last 10 elections. In 1892 it voted for the people's party candidate, in 1896 for Bryan and in 1912 and 1916 for Wilson.

Herbert Hoover's record majority in 1928 was attributed in part to the prohibition views of Alfred E. Smith, since Kansas has been a staunch of dry states. Charles Curtis, strongly dry, was presidential candidate then and now, is a native Kansan.

Senator Arthur Capper (R) was re-elected in 1930 by 132,000 majority, for a full term, and in the same year George McGill (D) defeated John R. you implied by your extravagance that you were prosperous. "So I shall be when the old man dies."

"But you're not and you weren't when we became engaged. You must have known that your real estate development was on the rocks. A short life and a merry one was your policy; you grabbed me as a life-saver."

"His face quivered. "There was only one reason—that I loved you."

"You've a quaint idea of love," she retorted. "Your love wasn't like mine. Mine was new; yours was shop-soled. At home I was treated as innocent. You've thought it clever to treat me as a blackguard."

"Lord, Santa, you're bitter! You were the one who didn't want me to be questioned. In your heat you doubted me and yet you were afraid of losing me."

She stared at him forlornly. "I'd better get dressed," he ended the discussion.

She sat still as a statue when he'd gone. Ten years from now, unless he did something drastic, he'd be just as unconvinced by her arguments. Somehow she must save him. If she were to leave him, she might frighten him. Suddenly, in an appalling flash of insight, she realized that her physical longing was to get away from him. Acting on the impulse, with no thought of consequences, she slipped to their bedroom and began to pack.

As she finished strapping her trunk, she looked up to find Ann, hunky and cheerful, smiling in on her.

"Tell Mr. Dak I'll be away for a few days," she spoke breathlessly. "And if you ask my opinion which you haven't," Ann grinned broadly "I think you're doing the right thing, Madam."

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 27. (AP)—Cotton opened steady today in Liverpool, but about as due considering sterling's weakness and first trades here showed gains of 2 to 4 points. There was fair trade-buying at the start and a moderate volume of business.

The market was moderately active during the morning. Prices eased for a time on heating, December advancing to 6.26 and March to 6.38, down 9 points from the early highs and 5 to 6 points under yesterday's close. Later, however, prices rallied on good trade buying, both from home sources and foreign traders.

Stocks also showed improvement and wheat was higher, December advancing to 6.39 and March to 6.51, up 13 points from the lows and 7 to 8 points above yesterday's close.

Arguments Begun In Walker Trial Arguments in the robbery trial of Bert Walker began this afternoon in 31st district court.

Walker, implicated in the robbery of J. D. White and others at a luncheon in the Taylor addition in August, was not seen by the victims but was alleged by the state to have been outside.

Chief argument was to be over whether there was sufficient corroborative evidence to back up statements by Arnold Chambliss, also charged with the same offense. The state used many witnesses to trace movements of Walker, Chambliss, and D. C. Holley earlier and later than the time of the robbery.

Corner-Stone of Museum Building To Be Laid at Canyon November 5

CANYON, Oct. 27.—Saturday, November 5, will mark the laying of the corner-stone for the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum building, which ceremony will be the culminating event in the forenoon's entertainment of the West Texas State Teachers college annual fall homecoming.

Features of the corner-stone laying service which is to be held under the auspices of the Clarendon Masonic lodge, will be a tribute of appreciation from Dr. J. A. Hill, president of the college to those who have supported the project, and a short talk by J. O. Guleke of Amarillo, a member of the State Board of Education, who will speak on behalf of the State of Texas. A representative of Alva Bryan, of Waco, grand master of the Masonic lodge of Texas, is also expected to be present.

The museum building, located on the southwest corner of the Canyon college campus, is a long low structure of Texas sandstone, of a structure of Texas sandstone, of a try. The large center room is called Pioneer Hall, at one end of which is a semi-circular art gallery to be called the Mary E. Hudspeth room. This room is a gift from the ex-students of the West Texas State Teachers College and is given in honor of Miss Hudspeth, for many years dean of women and at present head of the modern languages department of the college.

Representative Clyde Warwick of Canyon and Senator C. C. Small of Amarillo, were instrumental in securing the $25,000 from the state legislature for the erection of this $50,000 structure, the other half having been raised by popular subscription.

A PATH TO PARADISE

by Coningsby Dawson

SYNOPSIS: When Santa Dawn tells Dicky, her fiancé, that she has decided to follow Clive, her sweetheart of long standing, to Europe and marry him, Dicky "comforts" her. She marries Dicky, but on the way to Havana Dicky drinks too much, and calls her "Lion-Lion." The truth about Dicky's past suddenly dawns upon Santa—too late. Many things have made the situation what it is chiefly her mother's jealousy of Clive, which prompted her to keep Santa in an artificial European atmosphere until she became an accomplished heartbreaker. For Clive had been the son of Eric Dawn's first love, who flitted him before his marriage to Santa's mother.

Chapter 9 THE WRONG CHOICE Nine o'clock on a November morning—a chill Chicago sky. Marriage wasn't all that it was cracked up to be. Selling little and pulseless Santa stood gazing down from her apartment at the pigmy stream of automobiles racing far below along Lake Shore Drive. At nineteen, surely, she had the right to be happy. All those people down there, were they happy?

Behind her Ann, the cheerful, dumpy maid she employed, announced: "Breakfast's ready, Madam."

Santa flinched. It hurt to be addressed as madam. Her idea of heaven was to find herself again a fluffy debutante. Dicky's friends wore moustaches and were as ancient as her father; their wives had reached the trying-to-be-young stage. To have no one else with whom to associate when you yourself were really young was pathetic.

A discreet cough brought her back to the present. "I heard you the first time, Ann."

Turning from the window, she faced into the tastefully furnished room. If making a home held a husband's affections, she'd done her best. And she'd cost him nothing. An estate which netted her fifteen thousand a year had been Grandfather Sumners' wedding-present. Dicky ought to be grateful. This was the one morning of all mornings to have shown his gratitude.

She pulled herself together. Why not make another try? She would promise, if he'd promise. That his mood might be receptive she must appear conciliatory. Transferring the breakfast to a tray, she carried it to his bedside.

"Morning, Dicky!" He rolled over and yawned. "What time is it? Goodness, you're up bright and early!"

"Isn't early Dicky. All the future U. S. Presidents have been in their offices for half an hour."

"Never yearned to be President. Wouldn't accept it if they offered it me." He raised himself on his elbow.

"Don't distress yourself; they won't."

"How about a kiss?" he invited her. She smiled.

"So you have remembered?" He ruffled his blond hair. "Remember what?"

Her smile faded. "You haven't."

She poured his coffee, sugared and milked it. "I could throw it at you," she spoke crossly.

"What to do with him? After his least pardonable follies he always greeted her with this blissful air of innocence. He had no memory for yesterdays—made her feel that her grievances were imaginary."

"What's up? You're disappointed."

"Not at all." She shrugged away. "It only happens that today is the first anniversary of our wedding."

"That so?" He helped himself from a dish to disguise his confusion. "What's this—bacon?"

"Our first year together is ended," she persisted. "Has it satisfied you?"

"Let's leave post-mortems to coroners," he grinned.

"I'm not satisfied," her voice pursued him.

"That not odd. Who is? He assumed the light comedy manner of a bachelor uncle. "Given the choice, do you suppose anyone would go through the ceremony twice—that's to say with the same person?"

"You mean that we've made a mess of things. If the fault's mine, tell me."

"It's the first time you've owned that you could have a fault, Santa. Your parents taught you to believe that you were perfect."

"As your women friends taught you. But this post calling the kettle black gets us nowhere. Can't we do better?"

"I stands on you."

"All right then," she made a weary gesture, "you're the one who's perfect. What's my failing that most annoys you?"

"Well," he pondered. "That you're a drill-sergeant—seem convinced you were born to run me."

"But Dicky," she protested in patient denial, "I don't want to run you. If I drag you from your bed and try to spur your ambition, it's because I share your fortunes. I'd have anything to have a husband on whom I could depend."

"You've said it. He pointed an accusing finger. "You don't trust me."

"O, Dicky, must I tell you that again? You're irresponsible as a mischievous boy. What happened last night was an example. You take me to a dance and then vanish. A couple I hardly know feel sorry for me and bring me home. You return to yourself hours later. How would you put your time was obvious."

"Last night was an exception," he avoided her eyes.

"They're all exceptions," she accused him. "You're becoming a Locke-hound. The habit's growing. We people steer clear of you."

"He sat up with as much dignity as a man in pyjamas can muster. "So that's your opinion of me on our first anniversary!"

"Which you didn't remember," she challenged.

"Rubbish!" he coaxed. "We don't get along too badly."

She perched herself on the foot of the bed. "An older woman might have handled you, Dicky. There're 14 years between us. We belong to different generations."

Any reference to his age irritated him. "Handled! There you go. Can't you get it into your head that a man detests to be managed? And the difference in our ages was your reason for accepting me. You were sick of boys; a man of the world could make allowances."

She nodded. "But I didn't realize that men of the world make allowances in order to be excused. I've been excusing you since the third night of our honeymoon."

"The trouble between us," he blustered, "is that you have money at a moment when I haven't."

"I knew that was coming." Her face darkened. "You paid for the honeymoon; since then I've paid for everything."

"My bad luck," he countered. "Was I to blame that my real estate venture went bust? I certainly did you royally so long as I had money."

"And yourself as well. Your money lasted as long as our honeymoon."

"Everything depends on the interpretation," he sneered.

"It does." She continued relentlessly. "You've never played the game by me. If you had, I'd stake you with my last dollar. But from the first day you misinterpreted yourself. You didn't lie outright, but
