BLANTON FROM TEXAS SPEAKS AGAINST MEASURE

NO ROLL CALL BALLOT

LAW TO BE IN EFFECT 15 DAYS AFTER IT IS SIGNED

WASHINGTON, March 21. (P)—The house of representatives voted final passage of the 32 percent beer and wines bill today, but senate adjournment before the vote took place made it impossible to send the legislation to the White House for President Roosevelt to sign it before nightfall as had been planned.

Roosevelt's 'New Deal': When Cards Made History

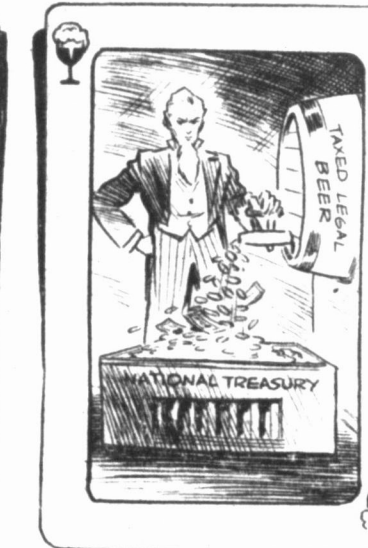

THE cards were shuffled. . . The president began to deal them almost before the players were seated. . . It was the promised "new deal."

"SOUND Banking" was the first card. Long lines of depositors at bank windows. . . Huge sums pouring into hoards. . . Bank holidays. . . Gold going abroad. . . Collapse threatening the entire economic system.

"ECONOMY" was the second card. The president said a $5,000,000,000 accumulated deficit threatens. . . The government's credit must be preserved. . . He must cut a half billion or more to bring the budget into balance.

"BEER" was the third card. Majorities in both chambers of congress were pledged to prohibition change but other matters seemed more pressing. . . Beer could wait. . . Then, suddenly again, in a two-paragraph message, the president asked congress to legalize beer.

"FARM RELIEF" was the fourth card. Farmers organized to prevent—by force, if necessary—the sale of their farms to satisfy mortgages. . . They picketed roads to keep food out of cities. . . There could be no recovery unless farm purchasing was replenished.

"UNEMPLOYMENT Aid" was the fifth card. Between 11,000,000 and 12,000,000 were jobless. . . Incomes of millions more were slight. . . Jobs fewer. . . The president said he should provide funds for the states, would spend millions in reforestation, other millions in public construction.

COULD PUT TO WORK 250,000 MEN BY JUNE

WANTS AUTHORITY TO PROCEED WITHIN TWO WEEKS

CONSERVATION PLANNED

PROJECTS TO INCLUDE FORESTRY, FLOOD CONTROL

WASHINGTON, March 21. (P)—President Roosevelt sent to congress today the first of his plans for restoring employment, one putting a quarter million men to work in the forests, and immediate steps were taken to put the undertaking into law.

PAMPA TOPICS OF OUR CITY

Actions of most legislatures convince us that what this state and its nation need are not more representatives of the "common people," but more democratic "dictators" who represent equal opportunity for all people, the "common" included.

As Walter Cline puts it, things have come to such a pass in the oil-politics-proration business that we ought to get well or die. . . This convalescence is all too costly and too slow.

Mrs. Gushaw thinks Mr. Gushaw is a kindly husband, largely because Mr. Gushaw is a meek, long-suffering fellow who doesn't gushaw.

Personally, I think the depression will be over when skirts become shorter and growlups note suddenly that another flapper generation is at large in the land.

The age of marvels won't be over as long as no'e vaulters can fly high in a sandstorm and come down every time in the little sand pit on the other side of the bar.

We may take up the proposition made by State Press at the end of this column—if we can find the necessary habits this side of the Atlantic.

INSURANCE PROBE? Charges have been made that eastern insurance companies eager to bring about repeal of the Robertson law in Texas have inspired demands for investigation of Texas companies.

THEY have a right to know that one Texas company paid its president $51,000 in 1931—they paid that exorbitant sum. Another official of that same company drew $25,025.

KNOW THE CABINET? How many members of President Hoover's staff can you name? If you don't know, ask Mrs. Pampan or Miss Hazel Christian—we can help you to their memory scheme.

HOUSE VOTES TO BAR BILL AMENDMENTS

JONES DOES NOT LIKE FARM MEASURE BUT TO SUPPORT IT

WASHINGTON, March 21. (P)—The administration farm relief bill was taken up by the house today with the membership bound, by a 182 to 102 vote, to vote on its passage after four hours debate, with all amendments barred.

The vote forecast passage of the measure, though Speaker Rainey said the final vote probably would not come until tomorrow in view of the extended time allowed for oratory.

The republican attack on the bill, promised earlier by Representative Snell, opposition leader, developed before the rule for its consideration could be adopted.

Snell, fighting the iron-clad rule which he termed "a dose of castor oil without any palliative," said the farm measure was a "pure democratic patronage bill."

With reference to the farm bill, Representative Jones said in a statement: "I am not in accord with some of the provisions of the proposed measure, but in view of existing conditions, I do expect to support the president in his request for the"

Walker Receives Fund For Relief C. H. Walker, chairman of the Gray county federal relief committee, has received the second quarterly allotment of $2,000 on the $5,000 given the county for relief this month.

BEGIN BUILDING BATH HOUSE AT SWIMMING POOL

Plans For Attractive Structure Given Approval

Work preliminary to laying the concrete foundation for the bathhouse at the municipal swimming pool was started today.

Plans submitted to the city commission last night were accepted with minor changes. An attractive house with stucco finish, having two wings, will extend along the west and south sides of the pool, affording some protection from the wind.

Bursting Ohio River Takes Nine Lives; Mississippi Is Due To Rise Soon

CINCINNATI, O., March 21. (P)—Flood waters threatened new destruction in Cincinnati, wearing down a levee protecting homes and the municipal airport in the extreme east end.

The airport superintendent reported the levee, a mile and a quarter long, showed signs of giving way, and residents of Robb avenue and streets nearby began to move out.

All available police cars were rushed to the 1 1/2 mile front to move out their belongings as possible before the threatened break.

Meanwhile, streams in southern Indiana overflowed from heavy rains and helped swell the Ohio, already far out of its banks and inundating thousands of acres in city and country with unestimated damage. At least nine persons have lost their lives.

Already suffering from its worst flood in 20 years, Wheeling, W. V., was expected a fresh inundation, and Cincinnati was bulwarking a levee to prevent the waters from sweeping over the lower east end of the city.

National guardsmen were called to Portsmouth, Batavia and Manchester, O. Several feet of water covered the business district of Manchester.

Red-Headed Girl Of Amarillo Ties Up Train Service

AMARILLO, March 21. (P)—A red-headed girl, emulating her counterpart in history, tied up passenger train service on the Rock Island between Amarillo and Tucuman, N. M., for an hour last night.

LATE NEWS

WASHINGTON, March 21. (P)—The formation of a new bank, the National Bank of Detroit, with capital of twenty-five millions of dollars was announced today by the Reconstruction corporation and Alfred P. Sloan, president of the General Motors corporation.

WASHINGTON, March 21. (P)—The house today adopted the conference report on the $5,000,000 California earthquake relief bill. It now goes to the senate.

WASHINGTON, March 21. (P)—Secretary Frances Perkins today outlined a sweeping reorganization of her labor department including complete overhauling of the employment service, a scientific survey of the statistical service and a consolidation of the immigration service.

HEARNE, March 21. (P)—W. H. Rouse, about 55, today shot and killed his wife during a struggle for a pistol, injured his son, Alvin, 21, probably fatally, and then shot and killed himself.

Former Student Poison Victim At Abernathy

LUBBOCK, March 21. (P)—J. B. Huggins, about 25, son of the late Fritz C. Huggins, widely known cattleman, died of poison this morning in an ambulance en route here from Abernathy, Huggins' home.

After mixing sodium cyanide with water in a glass Huggins went to the yard of his home, telling his mother he intended to kill birds which had been nipping green tops in their garden. Soon he came in the house, told his mother to call a doctor and was in convulsions when the physicians arrived.

Huggins recently returned from Galveston where he was a student in the University of Texas medical branch. He previously attended West Texas State Teachers college and Texas Technological college.

PAMPAN'S SON KILLED; WIFE BADLY INJURED

HIGHWAY ACCIDENT IS FATAL TO WAYNE FORTENBERRY

CONROE, March 21. (P)—Milton Wayne Fortenberry, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fortenberry of Pampa, was killed yesterday in an automobile collision on the highway 10 miles east of here. The boy's mother and small brother were critically injured and removed to a hospital here. Mr. Fortenberry received minor injuries.

The Fortenberry family was in one car. In the other was Clyde Douglas, 38, traveling man from Winchester, Ky. Physicians said he would recover.

Mr. Fortenberry owns and operates the O. K. Spring shop here. The family resides at 701 North Faulkner streets. They have been residents of Pampa and Gray county for a number of years. Mr. Fortenberry's father is a wheat farmer south of Pampa.

Baker School In Need of Groceries

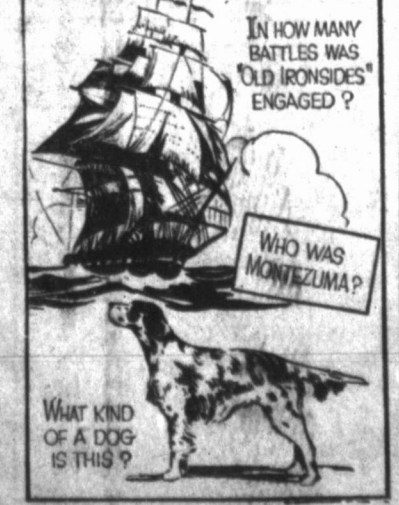

An acute need brought about by the lack of contributions during the bank moratorium has prompted the sponsoring of a food shower today for the cafeteria at Baker school.

The cafeteria, which is feeding 46 needy children each day without cost, is especially in need of staple groceries, sugar, sweet potatoes, Irish potatoes, and crackers being mentioned by Principal J. A. Meek. The Parent-Teacher association is sponsoring the shower and is asking for the cooperation of the public.

What-A-Calf On Parker Ranch Has 2 Heads, 3 Eyes

Here's one for Ripley. In Lipscomb county this week Bruce Parker, local attorney, saw a calf living—with 2 heads, 3 eyes, but only one lower leg. His brother, Vernor, owns the freak and is attempting to save its life.

INTERNATIONAL FRIENDSHIP
 Sinclair Lewis, novelist, believes that America and England must draw closer and closer together in the troubled years ahead of us. But he believes that in order to do it they will have to throw overboard "all his hands across the sea nonsense."

Friendship and co-operation between nations, he believes, are hindered rather than helped by excess sentimentalism. The propaganda which the international relations societies hand out, Mr. Lewis abruptly calls "slap," in its place he wants to see a little healthy realism.

Such realism, he says, would recognize the fact that Americans do not like any number of things about Englishmen, and that Englishmen do not like an equal number of things about Americans. Those things being admitted, there would be room for the two nations to get together on a firm basis.

In these remarks the novelist seems to have touched in the one great obstacle in the way of international friendship. It is failure to understand the nature of this obstacle, or even to recognize its existence, that brings sour note into so many international adventures.

When two nations become allied in any great cause—and generally that means an alliance in war—they start out with a great chorus of cheers, many fine speeches and a fine glow of friendliness.

Then, presently, they discover that things aren't going to be quite as harmonious as they had expected. Each side finds that the other has its little peculiarities—and, for that matter, its big ones, too. The sentimentality gives way to disillusionment. Generally on active fronts follows.

There are records of American mobs having stoned French troops during our war for independence. Any veteran of the A. E. F. can testify that by the time the World War ended the A. E. F. and the French were muttering out of the corners of their mouths at one another. Sailors from the American and British fleets fought one another with vengeful enthusiasm whenever the occasion offered.

That is the way such things usually work out. Mr. Lewis' idea is to take the unpleasantness in advance and not to expect too much. It would open the way for much sounder international friendships.

Cadet Saves Life In 'Chute Jump

SAN ANTONIO, March 21. (AP)—A Kelly Field cadet saved his life here today when he made an emergency jump with his parachute after the plane became disabled.

The cadet, Phillip B. Keln, was practicing aerobatics four miles northwest of Kelly Field when his ship fell out of control over rugged terrain. The plane was demolished when it struck the ground. Cadet Keln, however, floated to earth safely with his parachute.

The 23-year-old cadet is a resident of Oklahoma City and a graduate of the University of Oklahoma.

Red Cross To Take Over Board's Wheat

WASHINGTON, March 21. (AP)—Henry Morgenthau Jr., farm board chairman, announced today that the Red Cross had agreed to take over the balance of stabilization relief wheat held by the board by August 1, and the balance of stabilization cotton by October 31.

Congress made available for relief purposes a total of $5,000,000 bushels of stabilization wheat and 844,000 bales of stabilization cotton of which a large amount still remains undelivered.

Of the cotton, 295,580 bales have been delivered, and of the wheat, 70,016,510 bushels have been turned over to the relief agency.

T. G. Carledge of San Angelo is visiting friends here this week.

The WORLD of STAMPS

By QUINTON JAMES
 Past rather than present glories are reflected in the new stamp issue for Trans-Jordania. Most of the 13 values have an archeological tinge—the pictures recalling Graeco-Roman civilization in what is now a British mandate.

The ruined temple of Artemis at Jerash, formerly Gerasa, is pictured on the 5 and the 100-millime denominations. The nymphocion in the same town appears on the 2m.

On the 10 m and 200m is shown a castle at Ajlun, probably one built by the Crusaders. El Khazneh, "the treasure house of the Pharaohs," in Petra, sometimes called "the city of ruins," is pictured on the 15m and the 500m. The 4m shows a castle at Kerak, stronghold of the Saracens.

Modern times are reflected on three of the values, the 20m showing the Allenby bridge across the Jordan; the 50m, a grazing scene; and the 1-pound, Emir Abdullah. The 1m, labelled "Mushetta," shows a group of what might be either Bedouin or Arab warriors.

The 3m and 90m, labelled "Kas Kharran," presents what appears to be a Saracen castle.

Roosevelt Sends His Greetings To Dallas Meeting

DALLAS, March 21. (AP)—President Roosevelt today sent the following telegram from the White House to Dr. John O. McCreynolds, president of the Pan-American Medical congress:

"I extend to you and your fellow members of the Pan-American Medical congress on behalf of the government cordial greetings on the opening of the fourth congress, the first to be held in an English speaking country.

"The medical profession is deeply interested in the accomplishments of this meeting which means so much to the health and welfare of the nation, to say nothing of the promotion of friendly relations and mutual understanding between the United States and her sister republics of Latin America.

"I am confident that you will find a most hearty welcome by the medical profession and an earnest desire to cooperate with you in every way in furthering the high object of the congress. I wish the members of the fourth congress every success in their great undertaking."

Supply Your Own
 The new Nicaraguan stamps, issued to commemorate the inauguration of the Rivas railway, have a double interest for the layman—they have no gum, and they are almost as large, 2 1/2" by 1 1/4", as coin envelopes.

They show scenes along the new railroad.

Values are 1, 2, 5, 10, and 15 centavos for regular postage; 15, 20, 25, 50 and 100 centavos for air mail.

Four For a Fortune
 The romance of rare stamps hit a new high the past week when Emil Bruechig, New York dealer, announced he had sold a block of four of the 24-cent 1910 United States airmail invert for $15,000, the largest price paid for a philatelic item in recent years.

Because of the tales and the prices connected with these stamps they have become almost legendary.

A dealer, buying several sheets of the first official United States airmail issue the day they came out, May 13, 1918, noticed that one of the sheets contained the airplane printed upside down. His 100 were the only ones that got into circulation.

He sold them for $15,000, and they found their way into the hands of Col. E. R. Green. Rumors that Col. Green's collection went down with his yacht catapulted the value of those he had sold in spite of the fact that the reports were proved false.

A single specimen sold in New York recently for $2,750.

HEARINGS TO CONTINUE
 Further hearings in the 1932 Louisiana democratic senatorial primary investigation were decided on today by the senate's special campaign funds committee, but no date was set.

I. Kroening of New York is looking after business here this week.

District Agent Visits Several Homes In County

Miss Minnie Mae Grubbs, district home demonstration agent, visited Miss Ruby Adams, Gray county agent, yesterday and held conferences with a number of women in the county.

The two visited Mrs. Fred C. Fischer of the Merten club, who is a prospective hooked rug demonstrator. They also saw Mrs. C. B. Haney, whose American cheese will be entered at the Plainview dairy show in April. Mrs. C. V. Talley of Laketon another entrant in cheese, and Mrs. W. D. Benton were likewise interviewed by the agents.

Miss Adams will attend the Plainview show, talking two women entrants with her.

Texas Tech Students Hitch-Hiking Their Way From Idalou Every Day

LUBBOCK, March 21. (AP)—Texas Technological college students have learned a lesson from the hitchhikers and are "thumbing" their way to an education.

Several students living in neighboring cities up to 20 miles away stay at home and depend on "lifts" by motorists to get them to and from Lubbock.

Among these are Wayne Stell and Theron Jay of Idalou, a little town 15 miles northeast of Lubbock, who have not been absent from their classes a day since the school year began last September. Snow a foot deep in December and below-zero temperatures during the early part of February did not keep the youths off of the highway to the Tech campus.

"It means that we must get up early," they said, "something most college boys don't like to do. We get cold at times, too. But it is our only chance to get an education."

They find the motoring public as a whole accommodating, and their notebooks and other equipment stamp them as different from the "average" hitchhiker.

Stell is a sophomore in the school of liberal arts, and Jay, a freshman engineer.

SYNOPSIS: Margaret, an English girl married to Jules Molteni, half Moorish agent of the rascalous King of Mescheria, ends herself helpless under the unprovoked attack of the Kaid's son, Rical. Meanwhile Major Riccoli of the Foreign Legion arrives at Mescheria to complete his traitorous design against France with the Kaid's help. In his command is Otha Bellème, Margaret's first sweetheart—but she does not know it. Otha and his friends in the Legion are told of dangerous doings to come.

Chapter 35
SUSPICIOUS ORDERS

"WELL, what do you think of that, Bob?" asked Joe, as they made their way to a shady corner of the courtyard that they had made their own.

"Don't much like it," replied Otha Bellème, but I suppose we've got to obey orders. Hint of treachery about it, isn't there?"

"War is war, my child," observed Tant de Solf. "There has been a state of war between this country and France for years. It is notorious that this Kaid has raided French territory, besieged if not captured French posts, captured French convoys, cut off and annihilated relief columns."

"H'm. All's fair in love and war, eh?"

"And suppose it doesn't come off?" observed Joe Mummyery. "According to Vittorelli, the Major has wangled us in here to seize the Citadel for France. But what price us, if they do the seizing—and seize us for the Kaid?"

"Us for the 'ooks," observed Sailor Harris tersely.

"Ar, that's right," agreed William Bossum. "If the Kite lets us come 'ere, 'e knows enough to look after himself, don't he? What's the odds against us in this castle alone? Not to mention that lot we marched through, comin' in, armies of 'em."

"I suppose the Major'll wait until he gets reinforcements," commented Père Poussin.

"I doubt it, my child," replied Tant de Solf. "He'll seize the castle, and then send for the reinforcements in case there's trouble in the city—as there will be."

"Why not get the reinforcements first and make a sure job of it?" objected the old soldier.

"Because the Kaid wouldn't let them come, my good camel. He's not going to let a French army march in here, is he?"

"No," agreed Otha. "He's not. And the mystery to me is that he let us come."

"Mystery's right," agreed Joe Mummyery. "It's a rum go."

"Well, duty's duty," said Tant de Solf decisively, "and orders are orders. If we can seize this robbers' nest for France, they'll give the section le fougeron."

"What's that?" asked William Bossum.

"The collective decoration given to a unit for valor," was the reply. "And every man of us will wear a shoulder-cord plaited in two colors. And you take it with you, too. If you go to another company. Yes, we shall capture the castle, cover ourselves with glory and get the oord of honor."

"Get a cord of some sort, I've no doubt," growled Sailor Harris.

That evening a ceremonial banquet, half Moorish, half European, was given in honor of the distinguished visitor—the French officer understood to be the representative of his great country, and the head of the military mission sent by France to the Kaid.

At this feast of welcome, which Margaret forced herself to attend, the effect of the sour looks that she received from her mother-in-law, El Isa Beth el Ain, from Zalanb and the girl Sara, should have been entirely counteracted by the definitely sweet ones of the guest of honor.

Apart from the fact that his was a type that she did not admire, Margaret found him interesting when he would cease from fulsome flattery, and talk on the matters, or rather matter, that apparently obsessed him—the subject of himself and his career.

As all roads lead to Rome, so all topics, however apparently unpromising and alien to the theme, led to the career of Major Riccoli, past, present and future.

When at length, the banquet finished, the other ladies retired, Margaret rose, and remarking that she was going for her evening stroll on the battlements, left the lamplit garden, soon to discover that she had been followed by Major Riccoli.

"May I walk with you, Mademoiselle?" he asked as he overtook her. "Such an oasis in the desert is my life. It is hard to be a..."

and to love beauty. To know the love of beauty and the beauty of love.

Margaret, untruthfully stating that the pleasure would be entirely hers, led the gallant and ardent officer to her favorite and private spot upon the battlements, and to the subject of France, Bordeaux and the remarkable son of that city, Monsieur Aureille de Touens who became King of Araco.

"Then indeed were the flood-gates opened, and what had been a babbling brook—that had reminded Margaret of "Men may come and men may go but I go on for ever"—became a torrent in full spate. After the uttering of that name, Margaret had no need of further speech, nor any slight anxiety as to Major Riccoli's attitude and conduct.

While that subject occupied his mind, no room was left for thoughts of love or love-making.

"Ah, that was a man indeed," he mused. "But mad, you know, mad. A megalomaniac. Through his own ambitious schemes he fell like Vaurou again—if he did fall—and is not at this very moment a great ruler in his own right, a king, an emperor, in the great and unexplored interior of this mighty and marvellous continent."

"And who was Monsieur Vaurou?" asked Margaret, anxious to keep the mind of this amorously enterprising officer to the one subject that she judged to be more powerful in interest than even love.

"Vaurou? You know not of the brave Captain Vaurou, and his bid for power and wealth and fame? No, being English, I suppose you would not have heard of him. The military authorities, whom he defeated, defeated and outwitted, did not exactly advertise his name to the world.

"Ah! that was a man—such another as Aureille de Touens of whom you have just spoken; such another as Voulet and Chanoine; but not so mad.

"Vaurou! A simple captain of artillery, and now perhaps an emperor. But as to the truth of that, no man knows. No European, that is to say, although the military authorities and the French government pretend to know. No European knows for certain, but it is my opinion—and believe me, Mademoiselle, my opinion is worth having—that millions upon millions of Africans know; Arabs, Negroes, Tounges, and possibly races of whom we have heard nothing.

"Otherwise, tell me this. Why is there to this day throughout the Southern Sahara, a persistent and widely prevalent rumor of a White Sheikh? Yes, of a Great White Sheikh whose orders all men obey, and whom they fear and reverence as the Senussi fear and reverence their great religious and political leader, the Sheikh el Senussi himself.

"What did Vaurou do? I'll tell you, Mademoiselle.

"Finding himself stuck in the desert, buried alive, forgotten, neglected, lost in a wretched hole called Mescheria, he determined to carve out a career for himself. Why should he, a man of courage, ability, brains and ambition, be doomed to rot in Mescheria, while in Paris, guttersnipe politicians made themselves figures of international importance, masters of Europe—and main generals of their worthless military protégés, panders and toadies?

"Why should he? A man mentally as great as they, and indeed far greater. Why should he consent to grow grey in obscurity, poverty and misery while these dogs carved out careers for themselves?

"He would not consent to it.

"Since no brilliant career to fame and power lay open to him, he would carve out one for himself.

"Skillfully and cunningly he opened negotiations with a great Arab sheikh, paramount ruler of the Beni-Amama and allied tribes—and when his plans were made and the time was ripe, he departed from Mescheria with the whole of his battery complete and entire, guns, limbers, ammunition-column, men, horses, mules and camels. He was, of course, received with open arms by the Arabs, who led him deep into the desert where perhaps no white man had ever been before.

"Deep and ever deeper into the desert, until they came to the capital of Beni-Amama, a native city which—as the French military authorities afterwards discovered to their cost—he turned into a great fortress, a real citadel.

DE-HOARDED GOLD IS VALUABLE MONEY THAT CAN'T BE SPENT BUT CAN RESTORE NATION

Huge Amounts of it Come Out of Hiding on Demand Of Government.

By J. R. BRACKETT

NEW YORK, March 21. (AP)—The most valuable money in the world is rapidly becoming a money that can't be spent.

Gold is this most valuable money Government edict now prevents its ordinary use, and government pressure brought some $100,000,000 of it out of hoarding within a week.

And by the mere movement of these private hoards into official resting places in bank vaults the Federal Reserve system can increase the $100,000,000 in Federal Reserve notes redeemable in gold.

Gold The Measuring Stick This is an example of what gold has become in the long evolution of money. Impractical as a money for everyday use because of its scarcity and fragility, it is a base and a measuring stick for other money.

Federal Reserve notes are the nation's most widely used currency. When the bank holiday began about $5,000,000,000 worth of them were in circulation. By law these notes are backed with 40 per cent gold and 60 per cent government bonds or business men's notes. Thus, by law, $1,400,000,000 in gold (40 per cent) and $2,100,000,000 (60 per cent) in bonds and notes was all that was needed to support the $5,000,000,000 of Federal Reserve notes.

Benefit From De-Hoarding The new Federal Reserve bank notes need no gold for backing, since they are issued on bonds and other collateral deemed sufficient by the Federal Reserve banks. Three billion or more could be issued in this form of money.

But the more gold in the banks the greater the possible issuance of Federal Reserve notes and the less need there would be for the new money.

Gold in itself cannot now be used for hand-to-hand money. For that matter, up to the bank holiday, the SHOWN ABOVE are some of those who rushed their gold to the Federal Reserve banks after the government had warned them holding it. The sketch suggests why Uncle Sam wants the gold taken out of hoarding. Federal Reserve notes are 40 per cent gold and 60 per cent bonds or business men's notes. If a hoarder brings in a $10 gold piece to the bank, it may be put with the bonds and notes and $25 in currency issued, thus aiding business.

United States was the only major nation which freely coined gold for the public. In France, Belgium, Holland and Switzerland, the remaining free gold standard nations, gold is kept only in bars worth about $8,000 each.

No one knows how much gold there is in the world. Authorities estimate that since 1492 some $22,000,000,000 has been brought to some form of use. There is today something more than $12,000,000,000 held by government and central banks. Billions more are in the form of gold ornaments. Other billions are in huge hoards in the far east.

About 1,100,000,000 troy ounces of gold have been mined since 1492.

himself. The legislation will mark the federal government's first move in the field of direct relief.

TROTZKY SAYS U. S. TO EMERGE FROM CRISIS MASTER OF CAPITAL

By PRISCILLA RING, Associated Press Staff Correspondent.

Copyright, 1933, by Associated Press

ISTANBUL, Turkey, March 21 (AP)—The United States will emerge from the present crisis more the master of world capital than ever, believes Leon Trotsky, exiled Russian revolutionary leader, but he foresees no happy world for the master to command.

From his place of exile on Prinkipo Island, near here, whence he insatiably watches world movements, Trotsky gave the Associated Press his prophecy for America. "You ask my opinion of the 'dollar' crisis," he said in French. "Considered technically, this crisis will soon be over. From the broader aspect the question needs a serious examination beyond the scope of an interview.

"Briefly, I can say that since 1917 I often affirmed that world capital would develop under the increasing hegemony of the United States, especially under the hegemony of the dollar over the British sterling. American capitalism's four years' crisis and especially the bank crises of 1931 and 1933, though important in themselves, do not check American capitalism's increasing hegemony but rather are part of that increase.

"America's excessive and precipitate growth gave the country's economic structure a mixed character—inherences from the backwoods state, with the mingling of human strength's greatest conquests. The banking system especially evinces this contradiction.

"American capital became a world factor, nevertheless, and it still leans on a scattered system of provincial banks, recalling the epoch of 'Uncle Tom's Cabin.' When the organism weakens from lack of nourishment, all its faults and sicknesses come to the surface.

"When America's economic organism weakened under the world crisis influence, the obsolete character of its banking system was sharply revealed. The result of the two bank crises will undoubtedly be a grandiose centralization of the banking system ultimately, merely reinforcing United States financial hegemony."

Action on Claims Of Vets Stopped

Pending instructions to be issued as President Franklin D. Roosevelt acts under powers just given him to make economies in veterans administration, all rating of claims has been suspended.

The "economy bill" has stopped all progress on veterans' claims, a local ex-serviceman was informed today. The text of the new law and the regulations of the president are expected to be available soon, then the claims will be considered on the basis of this information.

F. D. R. Expected To Propose Fund For Needy States

WASHINGTON, March 21. (AP)—President Roosevelt is expected by his close advisers to send a message to congress within the next few days recommending an emergency unemployment relief fund of $500,000,000 for direct grants to the states.

The president also probably will include in his immediate emergency program a $40,000,000 appropriation out of unexpended funds in the treasury to begin his gigantic reforestation program.

These proposals, which the president regards of immediate urgency, will be submitted to congress in a special message probably as soon as the house passes farm relief legislation, expected by Wednesday.

A more permanent and far-reaching program of relief for the jobless will be submitted late, probably based upon legislation introduced today by Senator Wagner (D. N. Y.) for liberalizing construction loans through the reconstruction corporation.

The $500,000,000 proposal for direct relief was submitted to the president by the committee which has been studying the proposal for him, composed of Miss Frances Perkins, secretary of labor, and Senators Wagner (D. N. Y.), Costigan (D. Colo.), and LaFollette (R. Wis.).

It provides for administration of the fund under a relief director responsible solely to the president

Shark Liver Oil —New Medicine

ITHACA, N. Y., March 21. (AP)—Science announced today another economic depression chaser—shark liver oil—a new medicine.

The shark oil is a concentrate. It is announced as one of the richest sources of vitamins A and D and comparable to cod liver oil in vitamin potency.

A shark liver oil industry, the first of its kind in the world, perfected quickly during the past year by scientists both at Cornell university and at Miami, Florida, is getting ready to start in the southern city. This is announced here by R. P. Nichols, of Miami, Cornell graduate and son of the famous Cornell physicist, Professor E. L. Nichols.

'Treasure Map' Believed Found In Menard Fort

MENARD, March 24. (AP)—George and Ernest White while digging in one room of old Fort San Saba near here this week unearthed a flat rock about six inches thick with a map and other signs carved on it. It is supposed by some to be a diagram that may aid in finding a legendary treasure reputed to be hidden in this county.

For many years, prospecting has been done at intervals in efforts to locate gold bullion purported to have been buried by Spaniards near the old fort just before the people in the fort were annihilated by Indians. As the story goes, the fort was a stopping place for those transporting bullion from the mines in the west. It is supposed by many that much gold was buried here.

Numerous maps, accredited to the Spaniards have been produced, studied and followed, but so far as known no treasure has been found. It is said that some Indians knew where the gold was located and massacred occupants of the fort in the early days. Others say the Bowie mine is located in these parts. Thousands of dollars are said to have been spent searching for these lost treasures.

About 1,100,000,000 troy ounces of gold have been mined since 1492.

SUPREME COURT UPHOLDS STATE TAX ON NATIONAL BANKS; HOLDS STATE SCHOOLS MUST PAY DUTY

WASHINGTON, March 21. (AP)—The supreme court upheld today a Louisiana state tax on national banks and ruled that state universities must pay duty on imports for their own use, just as private colleges do.

It decided also to grant a hearing to John "Jake the Barber" Factor, who is seeking release from arrest in Chicago for deportation to England, where he is wanted on sensational swindling charges.

The bank tax case found the highest court agreeing with those of Louisiana in rejecting an attempt by Shreveport banks to escape the levy.

The state university decision resulted from an appeal of the university of Illinois which had heavy duties imposed on imports of scientific instruments.

In the Factor case, the defendant was refused release on habeas corpus by the seventh circuit court of appeals. The supreme court will hear arguments later.

The court refused to pass on the following cases:

The appeal of the Laredo National bank of Laredo, Texas, from the ruling of the fifth circuit court of appeals holding that Bernard Gordon, a New York lawyer, was entitled to a fee of $12,500 for acting as counsel for it in two cases which were compromised before being brought to trial.

The conviction of Jack Cleary and Pete Chavez in Santa Fe, N. M., on an indictment charging them and eight others with using interstate express facilities to promote a race horse lottery, known as the International Sweepstakes association, selling lottery tickets on the Saratoga handicap of August 6, 1931.

They were sentenced to a year and a day in the penitentiary, and Chavez was fined $5,000.

The appeal of the J. K. Hughes Oil company, operating oil properties in Texas, for review of a fifth circuit court of appeals decision sustaining the commissioner of internal revenue in refusing to permit it in making out its tax returns to deduct as an expense, a part of the cost of drilling.

The request of Charles E. Ritchter, stockholder in the insolvent First National bank of Laredo, Texas, and

Chambless Given 33 Years In Pen

FORT WORTH, March 21.—(AP)—Chambless, 21, who pleaded guilty to participation in the robbery of the Grapevine Home bank on Dec. 30, has been sentenced to 33 years in the penitentiary by Judge George E. Hosey, who added as final words: "Go to it and be a good boy."

"I probably will be," answered the prisoner, trying to smile. La Stewart, co-defendant in the case, given 25 years by a jury in local criminal court, was taken to Dallas recently to face other charges. He has not yet been sentenced.

Ralph Beckham, charged with burglarizing the house of C. S. Rice, was given 2 years. He pleaded guilty and asked a suspended sentence.

J. B. Chastain, charged with taking goods belonging to Baker Henry, was assessed 5 years. He, too, asked a suspended sentence.

The two-year sentence given Paul Ellis on a charge of burglarizing the Western Supply company was suspended.

the bank, for review of the lower court decision holding valid the contract under which assets of that bank were sold to the Laredo National bank.

The plea of S. O. Pottorff, receiver of the First National bank of El Paso, Texas, for a test of the lower court decision holding the underwriters Lloyds, America, entitled to use $200,000 United States treasury and liberty bonds to reimburse the El Paso-Hudspeth counties road district of Texas the balance of $155,811 it had with the bank at the time it became insolvent.

GROWING A FLOWER GIRL ILLUSION: The magician exhibits a flower pot with hinged sides on a table in the center of the stage. He opens the sides to show that this container is empty. Closing it up, he places a screen between it and the audience. After a short period of magic incantations he removes the screen. The astounded audience sees a beautiful girl, covered to the shoulders in lovely flowers, rising from the 'empty' con singer. Where did she come from? EXPLANATION: The girl was hiding behind the drape of the table. There is a trap door in the bottom of the flower pot, with a hole large enough to allow her to crawl through. The flowers, called 'magicians' feather flowers,' are a regular part of a magician's outfit. The flower girl wears a rubber tunic and a bathing cap to keep the flowers compressed into small space. She slides the tunic down and the flowers expand when she emerges. IT'S FUN TO BE FOOLED ... IT'S MORE FUN TO KNOW A trick frequently worked in cigarette advertising is the illusion that mildness in a cigarette comes from mysterious processes of manufacture. EXPLANATION: All popular cigarettes today are made in modern sanitary factories with up-to-date machinery. All are heat treated—some more intensively than others, because raw, inferior tobaccos require more intensive treatment than choice, ripe tobaccos. The real difference comes in the tobaccos that are used. The better the tobacco, the milder it is. It is a fact, well known by leaf tobacco experts, that Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand. That is why Camels are so mild. That is why Camels have given more pleasure to more people than any other cigarette ever made. It's the secret of Camels' rich "bouquet"... their cool flavor... their non-irritating mildness. Give your taste a chance to appreciate the greater pleasure and satisfaction of the more expensive tobaccos. NO TRICKS JUST COSTLIER TOBACCOS IN A MATCHLESS BLEND

CAFETERIAS GIVE 5,255 MEALS TO NEEDY THIS YEAR

SHOWER TODAY CONDUCTED AT BAKER SCHOOL

STAPLE FOODS ASKED; MANY PUPILS NOW BEING FED

FIVE THOUSAND two hundred fifty-five meals have been given without charge this year to needy children of Pampa through three cafeterias, Junior high, Baker, and Horace Mann, it was announced this morning. As a result, undernourishment and poor school work were averted in scores of instances.

Those in charge of the cafeterias spent $764.85, making the average expenditure per meal 12 cents, 7 mills.

A food shower is being conducted today at Baker school, where 46 needy pupils are on the free meal list. The need is unusually great at this time, said Principal J. A. Meek, because of the lack of contributions during the bank moratorium. Staples, such as sugar, sweet potatoes, Irish potatoes, and crackers, will be particularly appreciated it was said. The cafeteria served 811 free meals last month.

Baker Parent-Teacher association, which is sponsoring the shower, is asking that donations be made by the public at large.

Cotham Funeral Set For 4 P. M. This Afternoon

Funeral services for Mrs. Palmer Cotham, 22, who died in a local hospital Sunday night, were to be conducted at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the chapel at the Stephenson Mortuary. Burial was to follow at Fairview cemetery.

Services were to be in charge of the Rev. F. W. O'Malley, pastor of the First Christian church. Music was to be by the Stephenson quartet.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Cotham is survived by her mother, Mrs. W. J. Bell, Pawnee, Okla., and an aunt, Mrs. Joe Meadows of LeFors, who are twin sisters. Mrs. Bell arrived here last night. The Cothams had been residents of this city for nearly four years.

Pallbearers named were I. P. Simmons, Alva R. Simpson, David C. Dunbar, Clifford West, Cecil Fitzgerald, and Leo C. Williams.

TWO HUNDRED PRESENT FOR RECITAL HERE

INSTRUCTORS PRESENT LARGE GROUP IN PROGRAM

TWO HUNDRED persons assembled at the Methodist church last evening to hear a recital presented by a large group of talented young pianists, pupils of Mrs. R. C. Wilson, Mrs. Helene Vaughn and Samuel F. Pendleton. The setting for the program was made unusually attractive by the addition of greenery and floor lamps.

Assisting artists were Mrs. John V. Andrews, soprano, who pleased the crowd with two selections, Absent (Metcalfe) and Spring Is Here (Higgins), and Miss Dorothy Meers, violinist, who played Serenata (Toselli).

Contest numbers, played by Bruce Cunningham, Virginia Callison, and La Verne Hill, pupils of Mr. Pendleton were well-interpreted and evidenced careful training, as did numerous other selections played by pupils of the three instructors. There were 11 boys on the program, two of the outstanding numbers being Cinderella (Kuhn), played by Gerald Brown, and San Souci (Powers), played by La Rue Little.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Graham returned Saturday from San Antonio where Mr. Graham had been since February 1.

Mrs. R. B. Fisher and baby son, Brent, returned Sunday night from Cherokee, Okla., where they were guests of Mrs. W. L. Owen for a week.

Little Colton Cockerill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Cockerill, returned home Sunday after visiting her grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. H. S. Cockerill of Moreland, Okla. She was accompanied home by her grandparents, who returned to Oklahoma yesterday.

Brownwood Emerson is ill today.

Mrs. J. E. Ward and Mrs. Bert Moore are in Amarillo today.

Borger School Man To Address P.-T. A.

B. C. Schulkey, superintendent of the Borger schools, will be speaker at a meeting of the city council of Parent-Teacher associations Thursday afternoon at 8 o'clock in the high school cafeteria. The Parent-Teacher association and school will have charge of the program. Election of officers also will take place.

Parent-Teacher presidents for this year and next year, delegates of the various associations, and all other persons interested are asked to be present.

M. D. Simpson of Fort Worth was Pampa visitor yesterday.

ply distributors—free to you. And not only that—you're so used to it you would be offended if the banks withdrew a single one of the free services which are, in times like these, hard to bear." We agreed with him, and we think a reasonable service charge would be wholly justified.

PAMPA A LA MODE

Pampa Daily News: Outlawing most of the current attire for men, merchant tailors prescribe dress coats with longer tails, gray tuxedos, and silk waistcoats in pastel shades. This should give men something to think about while they meditate behind the curtains at the pants presser's.

State Press in Dallas News: Mr. Hinkle of the Pampa News arrayed in one of the new dress suits at the next press convention! We hope to see him swishing around in a tailed coat at the evening assembly and in a gray tuxedo, with a silk waistcoat of a pastel shade, at the informal banquet. That style will be accepted as de rigueur at Pampa if Mr. Hinkle will give it his imprimatur by adopting same, for his own mode. But there may be some trouble in the other Panhandle towns. These are times when new clothes for social parties are not being bought in quantity by conservative plainmen: They probably will try to make it through another season with last year's clay-hammer coat and last season's tuxedo, not to mention last year's pearl studs and wing collar. Perhaps a few of the more meticulous dressers of Borger will be unwilling to see Pampa take the lead in sartorial advancement, and as likely as not Dalhart will not consent to drag along behind while wrapped in the habiliments of 1931.

Since Col. Ernest Thompson quit Amarillo for Austin, the Panhandle metropolis has shown less luminously at North Plains soires, Lindsey Nunn, Norris Ewing, and the fastidious Colonel Tack being largely depended on to keep the glass of fashion unsmudged.

FOUND! the "hidden quart" CONOCO

...Mechanic Elder Schaffner Found the Hidden Quart... Also that Without it, Motors Show 50% to 60% Greater Wear ...So He Switched to Conoco

THAT STAYS UP IN YOUR MOTOR AND NEVER DRAINS AWAY

* The Germ Process (exclusive Conoco patent) imparts to this motor oil that peculiar ability to penetrate and combine with metal surfaces. Of the first filling about one quart will "hide" itself up in your motor's precious working parts. This hidden quart never drains away. It becomes a part of the motor itself, worth its weight in gold.

MECHANIC SCHAFFNER REPORTS ON DISCOVERY:

"I never did believe what Conoco Germ Processed oil would do; not until an Essex owner, with 25,000 miles on his speedometer, asked me to check his motor and put in new parts where necessary. It surely surprised me; clearance of pistons was only four 1-thousandths; of bearings only three 1-thousandths of an inch.

"This owner said he had used Conoco Germ Processed oil since the car was new. I have overhauled many another Essex at 25,000 miles, which has not used this oil, and found the wear 50% to 60% greater. Now I recommend Conoco Germ Processed Oil to my friends, and have changed to it in my own car."—Elder Schaffner, Highland, Ill.

Stop Cruel Motor Wear... Escape its Painful Cost
Don't Wait Another Day to Drain and Refill With Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil

To a motor, lack of lubrication is cruelty indeed. You are too "humane" to permit it, if only you knew the truth. But motors suffer in silence till costly damage is done. Then you pay... and pay... and pay.

This is proved. Even with the crankcase empty, due to accident, users of this oil have driven many miles, without damage, on the "hidden quart" alone.

Isn't it smart and thrifty to have a "hidden quart" in the parts of your motor, where you are sure it cannot fail? It is so simple to be safe so foolhardy to be in doubt. Tend to it today. Go now, drain and refill with the "hidden-quart" oil. Do it for safety's sake.

STUDEBAKER CARRIES ON

Receivership proceedings find World's Oldest Vehicle Manufacturer with assets exceeding liabilities by Over $70,000,000

Facts Leading To Court Action Revealed

STUDEBAKER is still Studebaker in spirit, scope and service.

There has been no change, except for the better, in the policies and program of the historic Studebaker institution.

And Studebaker is fortunate that the men appointed to administer its affairs are H. S. Vance, vice president of The Studebaker Corporation; Paul G. Hoffman, vice president of The Studebaker Corporation, and A. G. Bean, president of The White Motor Company—men schooled in the traditions which have given Studebaker its world-wide prestige.

The great South Bend plants of Studebaker, closed since the announcement of the bank moratorium, will re-open Tuesday, March 21, under the direction of these seasoned automotive executives.

The New Strength of Studebaker

The Studebaker Corporation and its subsidiaries (including The White Motor Company and The Pierce-Arrow Motor Car Company, which are not included in this receivership) had on Jan. 1, 1933, excluding good will, net assets of $77,622,293 in excess of all liabilities and a book value, excluding good will, of $26.22 per share of Studebaker common stock. Of these total assets, net current assets were $21,781,243 or $8.84 per share of common stock. Cash alone was more than $9,000,000.

Directors of Studebaker consented to the friendly receivership, despite the company's strong financial condition, because in their opinion the best interests of Studebaker would be protected until certain legal entanglements in connection with the proposed merger with The White Motor Company are adjusted.

The Studebaker-White Merger

Six months ago it was decided unambiguously by the respective boards of directors of The Studebaker Corporation and The White Motor Company, that many economies and commercial advantages would result from a merger. A plan looking toward this merger was submitted to the stockholders of The White Motor Company. Within a short time 95 per cent of The White stock was turned in, manifesting the almost unanimous approval of White stockholders.

In recent months, however, holders of approximately 3 per cent of The White stock have threatened litigation against the merger unless their stock were purchased at a price which Studebaker directors felt to be unreasonable and upon terms which it was impossible to meet. Studebaker recognizes the right of minority stockholders to set any price they please on their White stock—even, as in this case, a price higher than it has commanded on the open market at any time since 1929. In addition to private negotiations for this minority stock, Studebaker offered a plan of consolidation under which its value could have been established by court appraisal but the minority stockholders refused to accept it.

The Studebaker Corporation issued $14,900,000 in notes in connection with the acquisition of the assets of The White Motor Company. As a result of the attitude of the small minority group, these assets of White have not yet been merged with those of Studebaker. Furthermore, the terms under which these notes were issued have made it impossible, in the present banking situation, for Studebaker to secure its customary financial accommodations.

Studebaker's competitive position in the industry has been improving steadily. During each of the past four years Studebaker-built cars have secured a larger proportion of total registration than in the previous year.

The four lines of trucks—White, Pierce-Arrow, Studebaker and Indiana—now sold by The White Company, showed a larger dollar volume last year than any competing company except Ford and Chevrolet. With these four lines of trucks, White branches made a better showing in January, 1933, than in January, 1932, when general conditions were much better.

There will be no variation whatsoever in the quality of Studebaker and Rockne workmanship. Studebaker and Rockne automotive products will continue to be built without interruption or change, by Studebaker men. This pioneering organization has already faced and fought and triumphed over more "depressions," wars and "bad times" than any other company in the automobile business.

Studebaker now confidently carries on, assured that it can continue to offer the American public the kind of automobiles and service for which the name Studebaker is distinguished.

BROWN

1932," Killefer told the Associated Press. "I do not know where the Browns will finish in the race but I state here emphatically that the team will show more good all-around baseball than last season.

"Defensively the Browns should be one of the best teams in baseball. We have added in Sam West the cream of defensive outfielders. He proved that last year by handling more chances than any other outfielder in the league.

"West will play center field and Reynolds left. Bruce Campbell will give us a real punch in right field. Rick Ferrell, when he signs up, will do the bulk of our catching. He had a great season in 1932 and should rank with any receiver in the league. I don't think our infield could be faster or better on defense. The youngsters, Art Scharin, who came up from the Texas league late last season, gave one of the greatest exhibitions of third base that St. Louis fans have ever seen. He rounds out the combination, with the holdovers, Burns at first, Melillo at second and Levey at short."

The Browns will have no trouble cutting down to our player limit of 25 by May 15. In fact they are within that limit now. They have only one reserve infielder, Lin Stortz, and two outfield substitutes, Ted Gullie, who hit .354 in the American Association last year, and Debs Garms, former Texas league slugger.

Killefer may miss his ace southpaw, Stewart, but he is relying on Irving (Bump) Hadley, George Blaholder, Lloyd (Lefty) Brown, Dick Coffman and Jack Knott for first-string duty. Hadley came from the White Sox early last year. Brown won as many games as Stewart last season, 15, and lost seven fewer decisions than the pitcher he replaces. Coffman came back from Washington, in exchange for Charley Fischer. Vnott, a right hander, won 17 and lost 12 with Milwaukee in 1932. The veteran Sam Gray will head the rescue staff, aided by Wally Herbert, young southpaw, and perhaps Russell White, Newark, N. J., lefthander, signed this week.

The addition of Muddy Ruel has strengthened the backstopping reserves, which also include the veteran Benny Bengough, former Yankee.

Sunday School Boy's Tip Leads To Still Raid

AMARILLO, March 21. (AP)—A tip given by a Sunday school boy to his teacher, who had lectured a class on temperance, led officers early today to a 200-gallon still.

The Sunday school teacher told officers the lad peered through the window of a small corrugated iron house and saw the still in operation. Officers got 35 gallons of whisky and 500 gallons of mash in the specially constructed plant, and arrested two men.

One of those arrested was Robert Davis, "baby" brother of D. I. and Colquitt Davis, whose escapades terrorized Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas during December of 1930. D. I. was killed by officers in Wichita, Kansas, and Colquitt is serving a life sentence in the Oklahoma penitentiary for the slaying of an Ardmore deputy sheriff.

WOMAN ON TRIAL

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 21. (AP)—Mrs. Jean Collins, 33-year-old former school teacher from Sweetwater, Texas, today told a district court jury she was under the influence of liquor or a narcotic at the time Bert Allen, crippled war veteran, was slain last month.

A sacred fly of India plant at South Bend, Ind., grew to the height of 78 inches without soil or water, drawing the sustenance from the air.

WICHITA, Kan., March 21. (AP)—South Aita threatens to capture honors at the National Women's A. U. Basketball tournament. Of teams in the second round an dozen were from that section. Going over the first hurdle of the set without a mishap were three sets of tall Texans. The Dallas (Texas) Cyclones, former champions, by a bye as did the Durant, Okla., Cardinals, defending champions, who are listed as one of the three remaining contenders from the Sooner state. Among the other survivors are two from Arkansas, two from Kansas, and one each from Louisiana, Florida, Tennessee, and Mississippi. The Cardinals represent Oklahoma Presbyterian college for women.

Two of the Texas teams found the first round going easy, but the one from Canadian, barely eked out a 27-26 victory over the Wichita dependents. Fort Worth triumphed over the Chillicothe, Okla., Indians, 34-14, while Houston turned a 41-14 decision against the Minneapolis, Minn., Well-Streaks, long leader from the north.

The only Tennessee entry, representing the little town of Cleveland, emerged with a close first round victory over the Chillicothe, Okla., Indians, 28-26, and Shreveport, La., defeated the Topeka, Kan., Sevens, 25-7. The Kansas City Steuben club defeated the Reno county, Kan., Stars, 34-23.

Disposal Being Made of Farm Beard's Wheat

WASHINGTON, March 21. (AP)—Henry Morgenthau, Jr., chairman of the farm board, said today he would make public on April 1 a statement showing the rate at which the grain stabilization corporation is disposing of its holdings of wheat futures. The corporation, which Morgenthau intends to abolish when it has been liquidated, had holdings of more than 30,000,000 bushels of futures, mostly for May delivery. Morgenthau said it was the board's intention to dispose of these "in an orderly manner so as not to disturb the market." If any holdings remain for disposal in April a similar report for that month will be made May 1, he said.

Seventy Prospects For 1933 Season To Show Ability In Intra-Squad Fight.

Nearly everyone of the 70 boys out for spring football practice were to see action in the intra-squad game at 4 o'clock this afternoon at Harvester park. Assistant Coach Angus Fox, who has been printing his boys for the big event, reported them ready yesterday afternoon following a long, hard practice.

CHISOX CLUB IS STRONGEST IN 13 YEARS

SQUAD SEEMS TO LACK SUFFICIENT RESERVE IN THE INFIELD

(This is another of a series of stories analyzing major league prospects for 1933.)
By PAUL ZIMMERMAN, Associated Press Sports Writer.

PASADENA, Calif., March 21. (AP)—The winter trade winds have breathed new life into the Chicago White Sox.
Manager Leo Fonseca classes the present Comiskey plan as the strongest aggregation to date the Pale Hose since the Sox made their last appearance in the first division of the American league in 1929.

Fonseca is returning to active play in an effort to strengthen the outfield. A long winter conditioning campaign brought his weight down to the 185 pounds he carried as the leading hitter of the league four seasons ago, making him once again an active first baseman. Dykes, of course, is expected to complete the outer guard.

Present plans call for Luke Appling at shortstop and Minter Hayes at second, but Hal Rhyne constitutes the sole reserve unless Kress is pulled in from the outfield or Bill Sullivan, who joins the club in June is shifted from proposed catching assignments.

In Charles Berry and Frank Grube, veteran catchers, the Sox have plenty of strength, both defensively and offensively, behind the plate.
Their veteran advice will be necessary to help steady the pitching staff, although Fonseca considers it materially strengthened over last season. Two hurlers on whom he is depending for much assistance are Ted Lyons and Vic Frazier, both of whom were ailing last year.

Paul Gregory, the young right-hander who was the only member of the mound corps who won more games than he lost in 1932, is looked upon as the best prospect among the others. Ed Durham, formerly Pampa was placed on the front page of Florida newspapers last week when Pampa Pride, racing greyhound, owned and raised by Joe Benton, who resides southeast of Pampa, won the world series special stakes at the dog races in St. Petersburg, Fla. Mr. Benton has one of the largest "farms" of greyhounds in this section of the state.

The dog was sent to Florida last year and was trained by J. B. McCullough, formerly of Amarillo. Mr. Benton has seven other dogs in the McCullough kennels being prepared for races later in the year.

visiting here for a few days.
Fred L. Vance of Dallas was a with the Boston Red Sox, is expected to show better form under a change of coaches when leaving George Murray, a great prospect from Dallas of the Texas league, and Ed Walsh are considered among the best of the new prospects.

YOUNG GIANT FROM SOUTH SEAS ALL-AROUND ATHELETIC MARVEL

PULLMAN, Wash. (AP)—A blond young giant from the South Seas, a veritable one-man track team and a football player of promise, has captured the stock market at Washington State college.

He is Theodore Christofferson, 19, a freshman from the Hawaiian Islands, who carried the best distributed 200 pounds of brawn seen on this campus in years.
By preference a hurdler, "Christy" also can high jump, broad jump, throw the weights creditably, and run the sprints and biddle distances faster than most freshmen. In freshman football last fall he looked to be a halfback sensation in the making. Further than this the youngster does not know his abilities—he hasn't tried to do anything more.

Although not his best marks, the following summary of his work in an intra-squad track meet gives an indication of his ability:
Sixty-five yard high hurdles, :08.6; 65-yard low hurdles, :07.8; high jump, 5 feet 10 3/8 inches; broad jump, 21 feet 10 1/2 inches; 60-yard dash, :06.4.
In the same meet he ran in six relays, making the best 440-yard time trial. In addition he reached the finals in the javelin, shot and discus, although he never before had tossed the weights. Of his team's 77 points, Christofferson helped to account for 72.
After which track coach Karl Schludeman remarked: "He is the finest all-around track specimen I have ever handled. He will burn up this league and should be a figure in national track competition before his varsity career is advanced."
And the football coach, O. E. (Babe) Hollingbery, added: "He is one of the cleverest big men I have seen in a football suit. He has driving power, speed and headwork enough to look mighty good for his varsity team."

TERRY CALLS GIANT INFIELD BEST IN NATIONAL LEAGUE

New Club Has Power Or Plate and Outfield, Bu Hurling Corps Is Weak.
By PAUL ZIMMERMAN, Associated Press Sports Writer. LOS ANGELES, March 21. (AP)—With their defensive fences in good repair, save perhaps on the pitching hilltop, the New York Giants look to the 1933 National league pennant race with a feeling that last year's sad story will not be retold.

Manager Bill Terry has built up a sturdy reserve bank of his regular infield, mindful of the injuries which rather messed up things in 1931 and 1932. He has put new power into the outfield and more life back of the plate, leaving the only question mark in the pitching trade and the bullpen. The Giants' infield appears especially strong. Travis (Stonewall) Jackson has been more active than ever at shortstop since his legs were overhauled during the winter. Hughie Critz' confidence in his once ailing arm has been restored and Johnny Veres has improved his work at third and at the plate.

CANYON MEET WILL FOLLOW SANDIE EVENT

PAMPA AND AMARILLO ACCEPT CANYON INVITATIONS

Harvester thirls were through only 30 minutes of practice yesterday afternoon but it was a stiff workout considering accomplishments. Starting was featured in the dash events while the weight men worked fast and hard in the cold wind. Coach Mitchell is hoping for nice weather the rest of the week so that he can get his boys in shape for the three-way meet in Amarillo Saturday.

The following Saturday the Pampa teams will go to Canyon to an invitation meet. Amarillo and Canyon have already accepted the invitation along with the Harvesters and more are expected to take part. Clarendon is reported to have some of the greatest sprinters of the year. Several new boys are expected to show up during the next week or two of practice and the veterans are also expected to round into condition fast. Lack of practice showed in the meet here Saturday which the Sandies won by sheer strength to withstand the cold wind. The boys from Amarillo had been training for more than a month while the Harvesters had been out less than two weeks.

Simple services at the Marvin Methodist church, of which the 72-year-old political leader was a member, were marked by the singing of old-time religious hymns, requested by Johnson before his death Friday night.

A. B. Keahney was admitted to Pampa hospital yesterday afternoon following a stroke of apoplexy. His condition was as favorable as could be expected this morning.

Miss Mable Christopher of Miami underwent a minor operation at Worley hospital yesterday. She is to return home this afternoon.

MANAGER HARRIS CONVINCED DETROIT HAS UNUSUAL CLUB

Tigers Would Cop National Pennant If They Were In That League.

By BILL PARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer. "Bucky" Harris, manager, and Del Baker, coach, share the opinion that if their Detroit Tigers were in the National league they would have an excellent chance to win the pennant. The Tigers, however, will not have an opportunity to prove the contentions of Harris and Baker because they are in the American league where Harris claims they have to battle the three greatest teams in organized baseball, the New York Yankees, Philadelphia Athletics and Cleveland Indians.

"The National league has no club that can equal the power of the Yankees, Athletics or Indians," Harris asserted, "and I realize the Giants and Pirates are pretty strong ball teams. We've got a great ball team in the Tigers, but when it comes to beating powerful aggregations like the three clubs named you've got the toughest assignment in baseball. But us in the National and we'll be around the top every day."

Marberry Popular.

Big Fred Marberry, the Texan who pitched many years for Washington before the Tigers purchased him, probably is the most popular veteran in the Tigers' training camp at San Antonio. Each night when the rookies gather in the hotel lobby Marberry mingles with them and a session of baseball schooling starts. Farberry tells them about the funny plays of baseball and the smart ways and the rookies eat it up.

Manager Harris has tured "Schoolboy" Rowe over to Marberry for tutoring. The veteran spends much of his time showing Rowe tricks of the pitching trade and has promised "Harris that he will have the giant "Schoolboy" loose and ready for one of the first games of the season.

What The Economy Bill Is Designed To Accomplish

WASHINGTON, March 21. (AP)—The economy bill is designed to:
Reduce federal salary and veterans costs $500,000,000 a year.
Permit federal and military pay cuts up to 15 per cent.
Give members of the house and senate $8,500 instead of $10,000 a year.
Pay the vice president and speaker $12,750 instead of $15,000.
Let President Roosevelt, if he desires, reduce his pay from $75,000 to $64,750.
Restrict veterans' disability benefits largely to those whose ailments are attributable to service.
Remove the provision that certain constitutional bills may be presumed to have been caused by service.
Authorize a new survey of benefits to veterans' funding and since the Spanish-American war.
Cut civil war pensions 10 per cent for one year.
Let the president decide whether veterans with non-service connected disabilities shall be allowed hospitalization.
Authorize the executive to rule that no persons with an income above any amount he fixes shall receive a pension.
Make final all decisions by the veterans administration under presidential regulations, and bar court appeals.
Prevent emergency officers from obtaining retirement pay unless the disabilities causing retirement began between April 6, 1917, and November 11, 1918.

Noted Football Official Is Shot By Son In Fight

COLUMBUS, Ohio, March 21. (AP)—Dr. F. A. Lambert, nationally known football official and member of the advisory council of the national rules committee, was shot and probably fatally wounded by his son, Samuel, 17, early today during a family quarrel.
At a hospital, where Dr. Lambert underwent an emergency operation he absolved his son from all blame. Young Lambert described the shooting as accidental. He had been called by Mrs. Lambert, who told him his father had choked her and twisted her arm. Then, the youth said, his weapon was discharged accidentally.
Dr. Lambert's condition was described by physicians as "extremely serious." The bullet grazed his lung and pierced his liver.
Mrs. Lambert told police her husband had been drinking and that she called her son to her aid. When the son entered the bedroom, she said her husband picked up a revolver and that the youth grappled with his father for the weapon. As Lambert backed away the gun was discharged.
Dr. Lambert is secretary-treasurer of a serum company and has written several books concerning football rules.

BROWNS READY FOR NEW DEAL THIS SEASON

MANAGER BELIEVES HIS TEAM WILL WIN MORE GAMES IN 1933

(This is the fourth of a series of stories analyzing major league club prospects.)
By ALAN GOULD, Associated Press Sports Editor. Tired of standing pat and waiting for something to happen, the St. Louis Browns will toss a radically shifted lineup into the American league pennant race this spring, hopeful of shaking off the handicaps that have anchored the club in almost exactly the same spot for three years in a row.

They traded lustily during the winter with the Washington Senators, virtually picked the regular lineup before going into training camp at West Palm Beach and depend upon the "new deal" to produce results, even if actual pennant hopes still seem somewhere in the distant future.
It is an odd fact that the Browns have varied only a single game in the standing of club since 1929. They won 64 and lost 90 in 1930, finishing sixth. In each of the next two seasons they won 63 and lost 91, taking fifth place in 1931 and dropping to sixth last year as part of the parade passed them. The necessity of finding some escape from these doldrums was emphasized by Manager Bill Killefer when he pulled the strings that sent Left Stewart, Goose Goslin and Fred Schulte to the Senators—in exchange for Lloyd Brown, Carl Reynolds and Sam West.
"The new men not only add new spirit to the team but will strengthen it as compared to the Browns of

Pampa Expects To Beat Amarillo Next Saturday

Although they fell before Amarillo last Saturday the Harvesters really expect to mop up on Lubbock and Amarillo in Amarillo next Saturday. The meet showed the Pampa boys what they could do if they got to work. Tenary in the 220 yard dash showed plenty of speed but after not training for that distance, it paid. Ed Rockwell showed plenty of height in high jumping 6 feet after running the half mile. Sullins surprised everyone by defeating O'Keefe and jumping 19 feet 11 inches in an overfilled pit. Coach Mitchell has said that he could glory in a dual meet with Amarillo in two weeks.

Brother of Fred Minor Is Given Term in Prison

FORT WORTH, March 21. (AP)—A dramatic plea by Fred Minor of Denton, speaker of the house of representatives of the forty-second legislature, failed here today to save his brother, Rufus C. Minor, from a prison sentence for stealing money from the United States mails. The accused man, a former letter carrier, was sentenced in federal court to 14 months in Leavenworth penitentiary. Suspicious postoffice inspectors placed three marked $1 bills in a letter and deposited it in a box on Minor's route here last November 10. When the letter failed to reach the postoffice, they arrested the suspected carrier and found the marked currency in his possession. He entered a plea of guilty at the last session of federal court. Although the former speaker made an appeal for his brother that Judge James C. Wilson described as "pathetic and touching," a plea for suspended sentence was refused. "It will not do," said Judge Wilson, "for postoffice employees to get the idea that they can steal from the mail and not be punished." Fred Minor had blamed his brother's act upon worry over the care of a semi-invalid wife and three children and the harrowing effects of trying to make ends meet during the depression.

GOLF AND TENNIS

The Pampa golf and tennis teams have been showing people their wares in the last few weeks. The golf teams have been playing and winning from nearby towns. The volley ball team also has been playing regularly and preparing to give Pampa another victory on the courts.

Hollywood Sights

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD—In this unrelenting parade: For two and a half years she sat at home, not wishing to leave for long lest in her absence the telephone might ring. She cherished there a book of faded clippings, telling of past glories in the theater and on the screen. The telephone call she expected never came—until the other day. Rosa Rosanova is working again. John Ford had a bit for her in "Pilgrimage." Rosa is old, no longer beautiful. She played mother roles in Randolph Valentino's films, a decade ago. Her faded clippings tell about triumphs in the Moscow Art theater, on Broadway, on stage and screen—all memories now. She is happy with her bit, and philosophical. "What is life but a series of ups and downs? It is meant to be so, for the old must give in to the young. There is no alternative, for the immutable law of the theater orders it so."

Foot Note

Observed Groucho Marx, as the four brothers planted their eight feet in the west cement of the theater forecourt where like mementos of other screen immortals are preserved for posterity and publicity: "Well, I'm not the only heel to go down in history..." He was one of a mob of extras who seemed planted in the casting office. He was seedily resplendent in his best outfit, crowned by a silk top hat. The casting director appeared. "Nothing today," he said automatically. "Nothing for a man about town?" the extra persisted. "No, nothing—wait. Go to Stage 2. Seven-fifty." "How much?" incredulously. "Seven-fifty, I said," and the c.d.'s voice had finally in it. Oh, Well, it's Work The extra sighed. It was plainly a choice between dignity and doughnuts. He chose the latter. "I'll take it," he said. Then he straightened his shoulders, suddenly fired by professional pride. "But not with the hat, sir, not with the hat!" Clarence Johnson, employe at the Standard Food store, is in Worley hospital receiving treatment for cut arteries.

DID YOU KNOW—

Pampa high school golfers won 2 games out of 4 with Amarillo here last Saturday. Talley and Rockwell won their matches while Austin and Irving lost their encounters. Radford Cermans and Don Tale made a blood test last Thursday afternoon as a project in chemistry. Materials were obtained from the Worley Memorial hospital. The Senior party has been postponed indefinitely because of the nearness to "Sneak" day, which falls on or near April first. Every English student in school will be required to take ten lessons in library science before the close of school.

Hi-Y Boys Split Two Games With Amarillo Teams

Pampa Hi-Y boys split two games with the Amarillo club last Friday evening at 5:00 o'clock in the Pampa gym. The junior team defeated their foes 21-10, while the seniors lost their game 26-30. The junior team was composed of freshmen and sophomores, and the senior team consisted of juniors and seniors. A rally by the senior team in the last quarter netted some 10 or 12 points, but they were so far behind that it was impossible to gain sufficient points. Not once during the game did the junior team falter or fall behind. A return match of some sport will be arranged for and played before school is out. The Hi-Y meeting for this week will be in the library at 7:30 tonight.

MUSIC NOTES

The Glee Club is working on an operetta called "Lady Frances," which will be presented in the future. As yet the cast has not been definitely decided upon. Wednesday week the bank will present in chapel an Indian dance. La Verne McLendon will be an Indian princess and will do an Indian "Sun God" dance. "Pop" declares it isn't any wonder that band members don't have colds—some bright band student has been smearing a mixture of vaseline and quinine on the mouthpieces of band instruments.

Sidelights:

"Pop" patiently tightening the loose screws on a saxophone. Ralph Williams playing the piano while Mary Elizabeth looked on in wide-eyed admiration. A certain band member stuffing her tam into the mouth of her horn so that it wouldn't drown out the other instruments. "Pop" declaring that he wouldn't tell any reporter—yet.

Idahoan Gets Lock of Mussolini's Hair in Italy for Senator Borah

BOISE, Idaho, March 21. (AP)—Just to meet a "dare" of Senator Borah, Mrs. W. E. Graham, Boise, has brought from Italy a lock of what she believes may be Premier Mussolini's hair and is going to present it to the Idaho senator, tied with a little blue ribbon. "It was this way," she said. "She started a tour of Europe in 1929 by visiting first with Senator Borah in Washington. "What would you like me to bring you?" she asked. "Without a moment's hesitation, the senator replied: "Bring me a lock of Mussolini's hair." At lunch with Ambassador Charles G. Dawes in London, as one of a group of business and professional

JUNIOR CLASS CANDIDATES WIN HEATED POPULARITY ELECTION; SENIORS TAKE SECOND PLACES

The loyalty of the junior class and high-powered electioneering today resulted in the naming of the junior class candidates, Loraine Noel and Miles Marbaugh as "the most popular" girl and boy in high school. The senior candidates, "Hoot" Fullingim and Marjorie Butler, came out a close second. The closest race was between Marbaugh and Fullingim, the former receiving 230 votes to 213 for Fullingim. The election developed into a class affair with little emphasis being placed on personalities. The freshman class with the largest number of students apparently split its votes among the four candidates in the race. The junior class with the next largest vote, approximately 180 students, apparently "stuck together." The senior class with about 140 votes drew the largest number of votes from the other three classes. There was a wide margin between the total vote cast for Miss Noel and that for Miss Butler. Heated campaigning has enlivened the school for the past week and stirred up class spirit. Assembly last Wednesday was devoted to speeches for favored candidates. Halls and classrooms have been decorated with more placards and signs each day. And rumors of belt-lines were strong enough to make lower-classmen scam when any upperclassmen came into view. High school gentlemen ran true to form and chose a blonde as the most popular girl, Loraine Noel is president of the junior class, one of the pep squad leaders, and an outstanding student. Marjorie Butler, senior candidate, is the American beauty type, blue-eyed and brown haired. P. H. S. girls evidently like them tall and athletic, judging Miles Marbaugh and his close runner-up, "Hoot" Fullingim, are both over six foot three and basketball and football stars. Miles is captain-elect of the basketball team and an all round athlete. Other candidates were Alene Gregory and Harry Barnett, sophomores, and Evelyn Nash and Scott Mullins, freshmen. Pictures of the winners will appear in the Little Harvester soon.

Cast Chosen For Juniors' Comedy, 'No Trespassing'

Most people know that one of Pampa's classics is the annual presentation of the junior play, that is, a play by the junior class of the high school. This year's class has chosen an exceptionally fine play in "No Trespassing," a comedy-farce. The cast has been working for almost a week and a half and seems to be thoroughly enjoying the play, which is directed by Mr. Gordon and Miss Durrenberger. Proceeds from the play are to be applied on the annual Junior-Senior banquet which will be held sometime in May. It is expected that the play will be presented a short time before the day set for the banquet, but final arrangements have not yet been made. For the benefit of those who failed to read last week's Little Harvester, we repeat the cast; Peggy Palmer, played by Florence Sue Dodson; Mrs. Palmer, Helen Jo Daugherty; Barbara Palmer, Dorothy Harris; Mr. Palmer, Autry Holmes; Almeda Meador, Burnett Turman; Jim Meador, Burnett Lunsford; Bill Meador, John Moyer; Mr. Irving, Walter Moss; Cleveland Tower, Jess Patton; and the two feature roles Lisle Irving, played by Josephine Lane, and Harber Raynor, played by Richmond Eastup.

DROWNS ANYWAY

LUBBOCK, March 21. (AP)—The three pairs of wings of a bantam rooster, owned by Kirby McDonald of Lubbock, served him to no advantage when he fell into a stock watering tank. The pet drowned. The bantam's wings were three in a row on either side. The extra pairs grew onto the legs, one on the upper joint and the other on the lower joint. The lower wings dragged the ground.

House Kills Bill To Legalize Betting On Horse Racing

HOUSE TABLES PROPOSAL BY SINGLE VOTE

BILL TO REORGANIZE COLLEGES CHANGED BY COMMITTEE

AUSTIN Mar. 21. (AP)—A check of the House Journal today disclosed that Representative John W. Laird of Lufkin was not recorded as having voted yesterday on a motion that resulted in the death of a bill to legalize betting on horse races in Texas.

It had been reported that Laird was absent when the vote was taken and that his machine had recorded him as voting "aye" on a motion to reconsider and table the vote by which the bill failed to pass to engrossment.

Sponsors of the bill said last night it had been reported that Laird was absent when the vote was taken and that if this was true they would contest the vote.

The motion to reconsider and table the bill was carried 66 to 65 without his vote, Laird said.

The senate civil jurisprudence committee voted an unfavorable report on a house bill designed to relieve mortgage-burdened farm and home owners.

The house committee on education refused, 9 to 8, to vote a favorable report on a bill to reorganize the state's system of universities and teachers colleges.

Before the vote was taken on the motion to report the bill favorably, amendments were adopted which changed almost entirely the purpose of the bill.

Action on the report came in the house shortly after it was received from the senate. Debate was limited to an hour.

WORK

There are at least 14 states in which beer can be sold as soon as the federal government legalizes it, which will be 15 days after President Roosevelt's signature to the 3.2 per cent bill.

In other a varied situation exists. In some beer can be sold after a specified time; in some it can be sold in certain localities; in others proposed action to license or regulate the beverage is pending.

The 14 in which beer can be sold immediately after United States legalization are: Arizona, California, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Missouri, Montana, Nevada, New Jersey, New York, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Washington and Wisconsin.

When skilled artisans were needed to assist the crops, the president would be authorized to employ them at the prevailing wage in the locality.

"I estimate that 250,000 men can be given temporary employment by early summer if you give me authority to proceed within the next two weeks."

"I ask no new funds at this time. The use of unobligated funds, now appropriated for public works, will be sufficient for several months."

"We can eliminate to some extent at least the threat that enforced idleness brings to spiritual and moral stability. It is not a panacea for all the unemployment but it is an essential step in this emergency. I ask its adoption."
