MANY 'PHONE ORDERS HAVE BEEN HALTED

Company Officials Say That Rescinding Is Larger As Campaign Continues in Amarillo. "War."

MAYOR DISSENTS

Thompson Declares Opposition Is Offering Month Free Service to Those Who Keep Connections.

AMARILLO, Nov. 6. (AP)—Officials of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company said today that as the city's fight for lower rates grows older the number of those rescinding their orders to have their telephones taken out was growing larger.

"We have interviewed 332 whose written orders were received and have had to disconnect only 106 subscribers, or less than one-third of them," said G. N. Halley, district manager. "Of the 42 hotels with private telephone service, three out of the 17 having switchboards and only two out of the remaining number have disconnected their service."

"We have received a total of 969 written orders up to last night, after duplications were eliminated. We have 637 of these yet to interview."

On the same date last November we had disconnected 96 subscribers. We had received only 23 orders for new connections, compared with 39 this year.

Mayor Ernest O. Thompson countered with the charge that the telephone company representatives were promising those who rescinded their "disconnect" orders a month's free service if the rates were not reduced, as an inducement to keep their telephones connected.

"Telephone customers will at least get a month of free telephone service," the mayor said.

Halley in Denial
Halley emphatically denied that any concession was being offered those keeping their telephones. "We merely explain our side of the issue," he said.

Mayor Thompson said each mail brought new orders to disconnect telephones. He said the total at noon today was 1,052 subscribers.

Castro Farmer Will Know Fate From Jury Soon

DIMMITT, Nov. 6. (AP)—The fate of Frank Barrett, 42, Castro county farmer and confessed slayer of his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Nona Barrett, was in the hands of the jury today after one of the shortest murder trials on record.

Barrett pleaded guilty and offered only the defense of mental incapacity. His wife and daughter, and his brother testified that he was subject to "spells" at which times he was not mentally responsible.

The case went to the jury late last night. No reports had been received from the jury today.

Barrett went to the home of his daughter-in-law in the big square community last June 8 and shot her down in the presence of her baby daughter. His son was away from home. He carried the baby to his own home, then went with neighbors to the scene of the slaying. He was arrested the night following the murder and has been in jail since his arrest.

Catholics Will Travel to Dublin

NEW YORK, Nov. 6. (AP)—The Rev. Stanislaus A. Przybysz of Chicago announced today he had chartered the liner Berengaria to carry a thousand pilgrims to the Eucharistic congress of the Roman Catholic church in Dublin, June 22 and 26, 1932. The ship will leave on June 15, he said.

The organizer of the trip is known as a back to the land apostle. He recently launched a number of farm colonies in Illinois, Texas and Florida with a view to removing the foreign masses to the open as a means of relieving unemployment.

SHOWING IN WILD CAT

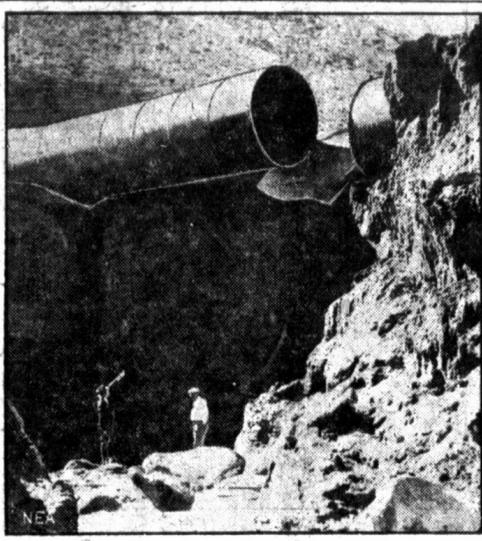

SAN ANGELO, Nov. 6. (AP)—John F. Shirley and D. H. Byrne, No. 1 Monroe, Ward county wildcat about 13 miles southeast of the Wheat deep, high gravity, sweet oil field in Loving county, prepared to test an oil showing this morning. It encountered oil yesterday in sand from 4,000 to 5,000 feet that rose 150 feet in about two hours.

No. 1 Monroe topped the Delaware lime, the producing formation in the Wheat field, at 4,630 feet, 1,276 feet below sea level. It is 330 feet from the southeast and southwest lines of section 3, block 1, W. & N. W. Ry. Co. survey.

MUSICIANS IN SESSION

SHERMAN, Nov. 6. (AP)—Musicians from 14 North Texas counties convened here today for the seventh annual district meeting of the Texas Federation of Music clubs.

Where Acqueduct Was Blasted

Climaxing a renewed outbreak of a bitter controversy between the city of Los Angeles and ranchers of Owens and Antelope valleys over the city's purchase of water rights, the above nine-foot aqueduct in Grapevine canyon siphon, 53 miles north of Mojave, was dynamited by vandals. The deep ravine below the pipe was made by the water rushing out.

KIWANIANS IN YEAR'S CLOSE ALLOWABLE IS 125 BARRELS

Barquet Will Mark End of Successful Period of New Civic Club.

Judge Newton P. Willis will be toastmaster tonight when the Kiwanis club holds its first annual banquet at the Schneider hotel, beginning at 8:15 o'clock.

Members, their ladies, and numerous guests will comprise the attendance. The visitors will include presidents, with their ladies, of other Pampa civic clubs, and a delegation of the Amarillo Kiwanis club which sponsored the local orchestra. The Melody Maids orchestra of the Amarillo club will furnish music. Amarillians also will present several stunts, and the Canadian Kiwanians will be heard. District Governor Ed Miller will make an address.

State Inspector Is Well Pleased

H. T. McCorkle, state food and drug inspector from Austin, is in Pampa this week assisting Dr. T. J. Worrel, assistant city health officer and sanitation inspector, in an inspection trip over the city.

"Cafes, drug stores, meat markets, slaughter houses and other stores are being visited and a close examination of the premises and stocks are being made."

No serious infractions of the state food law have been found. The inspection will continue into next week. Particular care will be made in the inspection of slaughter houses, which must come up to state requirements, Mr. McCorkle says.

"We have found Pampa firms using care in seeing that their stocks of meats, drugs, etc., are kept in the best possible condition," Mr. McCorkle said this morning.

VELMA CREIGHTON ACQUITTED
HASTINGS, Neb., Nov. 6. (AP)—Mrs. Velma Creighton was acquitted by a district court jury here today of receiving property stolen last February in the $27,000 Hastings National bank robbery.

SLOW PAYMENT OF PLEDGES HAS DELAYED WORK ON RAILROAD

Much right-of-way for the Fort Worth and Denver railway line through Gray county has been contracted for, but the land has not been acquired because the money for which to pay for the land is not available, according to A. J. McAllister, collector for the railway committee of the Pampa Board of City Development.

"Pampa citizens who signed pledges to give money for the purchase of the right-of-way have not come to the front and honored their pledges, and as a result work on the line is being held up and many men are out of work, according to Mr. McAllister."

"We are going to have to take some other method of collecting the money if signers will not honor their pledges," Mel B. Davis, chairman of the committee, declared this morning. "We need the money badly, and the sooner it is in our hands the earlier work can be advanced over the line," he said.

A. C. Lamar of Oklahoma City arrived here this morning on a business trip.

C. T. Bowen of Amarillo visited friends here yesterday.

Hal Grady of Stillwater, Okla., has taken up his duties as assistant to C. B. Akers, manager of La Nora theater.

Japanese Troops Whip Bigger Army

REPORTS ARE AT VARIANCE ON REASONS

Both Sides Claimed Other Made First Move, And Rurcia Again Charges Imperialistic Plot.

U. S. IS ANXIOUS

Japan's Spokesmen Declare Enemy Raised White Flag And Then Opened Fire On Advancing Troops.

TOKYO, Nov. 6. (AP)—Japanese troops crushed a Chinese army in a three-day battle in Manchuria, and sent them flying northward in disorderly retreat, said dispatches from Mukden today to the Renzo news agency.

The Japanese lost 130 killed in the Noori river bridgehead area in North-Central Manchuria. The battle ended at 1:30 o'clock tonight when beleaguered Japanese launched an offensive which dislodged the Heilung-Kiang province army.

LONDON, Nov. 6. (AP)—Japan's side of the story of severe fighting in Manchuria, contained in a dispatch to The London Daily MAIL from Mukden, places the responsibility on the Chinese troops under General Ma Cheng-Shan and charges that the Chinese forces attacked after first hoisting the flag of truce.

Wounded List Large

Many Japanese were wounded in the engagement. The dispatch said Japanese troops, it said, arrived at the bridge over the Noori river and found it destroyed. Crossing the river by ferries, they found two smaller bridges also destroyed. They then crossed marshes toward the hills of Hsingan, three miles to the north of the main bridge, and encountered the main line of General Ma's army, which included 5,000 infantry, 20 guns, 12 trench mortars, and 500 cavalry troops guarding the flanks.

There was a brief skirmish, the Japanese reported, and the Chinese raised a white flag, but as the Japanese troops advanced under a truce a heavy artillery and machine gun fire was directed on them from the hills.

China Disagrees

GENEVA, Nov. 6. (AP)—The League of Nations had before it today China's story of the killing of more than 120 Chinese soldiers in active fighting and military operations by Japanese troops against a considerable Chinese force advanced under the league stop the "incendiary activity" of Japan.

"This can't go on forever," a Chinese official told the Associated Press. "If we keep refusing to fight we will soon be pushed out of our own country and the Japanese will be in complete control. The Chinese general, Ma Cheng-Shan, has a strong army, he said, "but is trying to carry out his orders not to engage in battle with the Japanese."

Welfare Group To Be Enlarged

At least three new members will be added to the steering committee to handle the Pampa Welfare drive, it was learned this morning. A representative from the Business and Professional Women's club, the American Legion, and the American Legion Auxiliary will be added members.

Present members are representatives from the Lions club, Kiwanis club and Rotary club.

Members of the committee will meet at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the chamber of commerce rooms to complete plans for the drive. The date and probable quota will be discussed at the meeting.

Jobless Ministry Will Be Avoided

BEAUMONT, Nov. 6. (AP)—A movement to avert having a jobless class among Methodist ministers was introduced today at the state conference of the Methodist church, South.

Delegates voted to favor for membership only those ministers for whom appointments were available.

Presiding elders with lists of names to submit were asked to withhold them for the present unless a place was available.

Presiding Elder E. R. Barcus of the Jacksonville district said he could see no advantages to the men coming into the conference and Bishop H. A. Boas, chairman of the conference, said the body was large enough.

Nine young men, passed upon yesterday by the examining committee, were brought before the conference and admitted on trial.

Walker, a grader operator, was shot to death on a Llano street Sept. 11, 1930.

Click testified he shot because he had learned Walker had been associating with his wife.

Tucumcari Slayers Guilty

Killed Henry Hatcher As He Tried to Remove Them From Train.

TUCUMCARI, N. M., Nov. 6. (AP)—Found guilty of second degree murder in connection with the death of Henry Hatcher, special officer for the Southern Pacific, on Sept. 23, Frank Emulevich and Richard Cooper today were awaiting sentence.

Emulevich said he shot Hatcher with Cooper's gun when the officer tried to remove them from a train. A statement made by Hatcher after his death in an El Paso hospital was accepted as evidence.

Two Texans Killed As Plane Crashes At Waco Airport

WACO, Nov. 6. (AP)—Ed Ockander, 24, and J. G. Lancaster, 35, were killed at East Waco airport today when the airplane in which they were flying crashed. They were operating a privately owned plane. The cause was being investigated.

C. H. Green, airport mechanic, witnessed the accident. He told of seeing the plane flying upside down at about 1,000 feet elevation.

Suddenly it began a long dive to the ground. The pilot attempted to loop out of his inverted position as the ship neared the ground but was unable to avoid crashing.

Ockander was an experienced pilot. He had been flying about five years and held a transport pilot's license.

Lancaster was a student flyer. He recently purchased the plane involved in the accident. He had planned to receive his pilot's license this month.

Lancaster had practiced landings earlier in the morning. Investigators expressed their belief that Ockander was at the controls while Lancaster was in the cockpit, as Lancaster had no knowledge of stunt flying.

Pantages Counsel Loses Big Point

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 6. (AP)—Pantages counsel for Alexander Pantages, theater owner charged with attacking Eunice Pringle, young dancer, will not be able to interrogate the girl about the $1,000,000 civil action for damages she filed against Pantages after his conviction at the end of his first trial.

Superior Judge Clair S. Tappan ruled last yesterday the suit had no part in the present trial. The defense sought to question the girl about the suit.

Miss Pringle has finished her eyes-examination. She denied any improper conduct in her past life.

Pantages is accused of having attacked Miss Pringle when she went to his office to solicit employment. The first trial resulted in his conviction and a sentence of from 1 to 50 years imprisonment. The new trial resulted from the failure of the judge to allow the defense to go into the past life of the complaining witness.

New Gang War in Chicago Is Seen

CHICAGO, Nov. 6. (AP)—A new gang war for control of suburban Cicero was seen by police today in the slaying of Salvatore Loverde.

Loverde was found wounded fatally in a club in Cicero yesterday. He had been shot three times. Police said they believed he was a member of the Capone gang and added they attached considerable significance to the fact Loverde was slain on the same day Ralph Capone joined his young brother, Al in the county jail as an income tax dodger.

BRISK WORK BEING DONE BY NEW JUNIOR CHAMBER

Delegation to Leave Sunday For Miami, Okla., To View Sales Day There.

Swift action in starting its activities has marked the organization of Pampa's new junior chamber of commerce, of which C. B. "Brownie" Akers was elected president last night.

The first project will be sponsoring of an excursion to Miami, Okla., to see that city's 156th monthly sales day project. The group will leave in automobiles early Sunday morning, driving to Tulsa the first day and continuing to Miami early Monday.

The expense will be small and the benefits large, Mr. Akers declares. The committee arranging the trip, composed of Earl Tisley, Bob Brashers, Paul M. LeBeau, and Clarence Kennedy, urges everyone who would like to make the trip to notify the B. C. D. at once so that transportation may be arranged. All farmers, business men, and other citizens are urged to join the excursion.

Another project of the junior chamber will be a pre-Christmas celebration. This will be arranged by H. L. Polley, Jack Cunningham, and Frank Carter.

Membership in the chamber has mounted to 56 and is rapidly growing. The membership fee is $6, payable in two $3 installments during the year.

AGED DEMOCRAT DIES

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 6. (AP)—Death yesterday ended the political service of Charles A. Greathouse, 62, secretary of the Democratic National committee since 1922.

He died in a hospital here almost two weeks after an operation for gall stones had been performed. He was 62 years old.

GETS LONG SENTENCE

COMANCHE, Nov. 6. (AP)—A 15-year prison sentence was given J. P. McCarty in district court today by a jury which convicted him on a charge of murder in connection with the death of his father.

PASSING ADDS STRENGTH TO GARNER RACE

Texas Republican Succumbs To Complications Following An Appendicitis Operation—Was Born 1874.

WAS FOR PARTY

He Had Signified Intention To Ignore Opportunity To Put Fellow Texan Into Speakership Post.

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 6. (AP)—Death struck unexpectedly into the Republican ranks today when Congressman Harry M. Wurzbach of Seguin, member of the national house of representatives, died of complications after an appendicitis operation that never was considered serious.

Wurzbach, Texas' only republican congressman, represented what was known as a "show" string (fourteenth) district, the tier of counties comprising it stretching from the hills of Kerr county to the coast at Corpus Christi.

The congressman had won many spectacular political battles not only with the democratic opposition but with members of his own party as well to remain in Washington.

Last November he achieved the greatest victory of his career when he defeated the democratic nominee by the widest margin he ever was able to put between him and his opponent.

Elected In 1929

When Wurzbach, then county judge of Guadalupe county, was first elected to congress on Nov. 2, 1920, defeating Carlos Bee of San Antonio, a democrat of high rank in those days, politicians did not know what to think about the banner Jeffersonian state of the union and electors of the district were little less surprised.

Wurzbach often said that but for the democrats' suffrage he could not stay in congress. The democrats sought hard to replace him each of the five times he had sought reelection after his victory of 1920.

His hardest political battle, doubtless, came in 1928, when Augustus McCloskey, county judge of Bexar county for many years and a member of the political ring that had been established by the redoubtable late John W. Tobin, opposed him. McCloskey won out on a vote of the returns, but Wurzbach, always an uncompromising aggressor, challenged the correctness of the count and later was vindicated when the committee of elections in the national house found he had received a majority of the votes and directed that he be seated.

Was Greger's Foe
Soon after giving the republicans their only representation in Texas' large delegation, Wurzbach in some manner engendered the disfavor of E. B. Greger, Texas' national committeeman, long a power in the party in Texas, and other leaders. From that time on he always had opposition within his party when he came up for renomination. But he went resolutely on about the business of winning regularly every two years in a democratic district not only without the aid of his own party, but with its active opposition.

With the division between the two major parties in the house still so close that organization is doubtful, it may be the Texan's death will bring about election of a demagogue Texas—John N. Garner—to the speakership.

Last spring when it became evident Garner could win the speakership with defection of probably a single republican the proposition was put up to Texas' lone republican member.

"Couldn't you, as a Texan anxious to see your state have the speakership, find it convenient to vote for Garner on the score of state patriotism?" he was asked.

"Couldn't do it."
"No," he replied. "As much as I admire Mr. Garner and as much as I love Texas and would like to see a Texan speaker, first of all I am a strict party man and would be obliged to vote with my party in the matter of deciding the speakership."

When that statement was made Congressman Wurzbach was a fine (See WURZBACH, Page 5)

Wasteful Governments

Superfluous units of government inherited from periods marked by conditions which no longer exist are coming in all over the country for scrutiny. They relate chiefly to counties and townships, and although Texas has no troubles in the latter field because it has no townships, it does have plenty of room for reform which will have salutary effects both political and economic in the field of county government with the conflict between these and municipalities within their borders.

The report comes from New Jersey that officials are being supported by taxpayers notwithstanding that their functions have practically disappeared. Other states are in the same predicament in that the functions of many officials, if they have not disappeared, are no longer useful because the work is being done by others. Former Governor Lowden of Illinois, who came into national prominence making him the leading candidate for a presidential nomination 10 years ago by reason of his successful work in consolidating departments, commissions and bureaus when governor, says now that economy in local government will not be accomplished until local consolidations of the same character are carried out.

This subject attracted more than ordinary attention at the recent National Tax association convention at Atlanta. One member requested the views of delegates regarding abolition of townships, and it turned out that practically all the members thought the township unit no longer serves a public purpose. While the support of the township organization usually is small in each case, the aggregate cost is worth considering. In Texas, the precinct system, although it involves smaller cost than the township organization usually is small in each case, the theless counts up in the aggregate. All of these functions that are necessary might readily be absorbed by the county government, eliminating unnecessary expense.

Pictures of Illustrious Texans Crowd Senate Chamber and Have to Be Re-Arranged by State Official

AUSTIN, Nov. 6. (AP)—Paintings and pictures of distinguished soldiers, illustrious statesmen and famous personages that have been given space from time to time in the Texas senate chamber have accumulated so rapidly that a rearrangement had to be undertaken. Captain A. W. Holt, sergeant-at-arms of the senate, to whom was left the task of re-hanging the paintings in symmetrical fashion, found he had been given a difficult assignment. He found that it would be necessary to undertake a "weeding out" process, as it were. Some of the paintings would have to be removed to the ante-room and it was up to him to use whatever talent he possessed as an "interior decorator" to make the eliminations. Personalities were to play no part. He made a sincere effort to place the frames as one with an eye to symmetry would arrange them. It so happened he found it necessary to place paintings of three Texas soldiers and the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical college service flag in the ante-chamber.

Bruce W. Bryant, first assistant attorney general, resigned a district judgeship and accepted his present assignment under James V. Allred at a sacrifice in compensation because he had a hankering for official life in Austin and a liking for the spirited young district attorney. His district judge's salary was in excess of his remuneration as a state interpreter of the law. His judicial district was the thirty-ninth and he made his home at Haskell.

He knows the story behind Old Glory, a community in his old district. Until the United States entered the world war and sent her youth to France to fight against Germany Old Glory was Brandenburg. It had been settled by thrifty immigrants from Germany, who became loyal Americans. Many of the descendants of those who came to Old Glory. Those who stayed at home decided that Brandenburg should be Old Glory and so they petitioned the Postmaster General to change the name of the post-office. Their prayer was granted.

Bryant, by the way, is the father of the capitol press room, where the newspaper correspondents write their stuff. After serving as a member of the Texas legislature he was appointed superintendent of public buildings and grounds, holding the place until its functions were taken over by the board of control. It was during that tenure that he selected and assigned the "press room" to the newspaper gang. Incidentally, it was that service that imbued him with the inexplicable liking for life under the capitol dome.

Prisoners to Have Daily Papers Soon

HUNTSVILLE, Nov. 6. (AP)—The daily newspaper will soon replace the "Grapevine Telegraph" as the greatest bearer of information to the men "behind the walls" of Texas state prison.

Three hours after W. A. Paddock of Houston, chairman of the prison board, announced yesterday the three-year ban on newspapers for prisoners was lifted, every man within the walls and on the farms had received the news—"Grapevine Telegraph."

The prison board said colorful stories of crime in newspapers prevented earlier removal of the ban.

Sisterhood of Cows Brings Prosperity

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 6. (AP)—The meek sisterhood of cows is blazing the trail back to better times in the northwest. Wheat, with climbing prices, beats the drums in the hopeful parade but the lowly bovine is credited with doing the biggest business in the cash windows.

While wheat and its cereal cousins are staging comeback dramas in the world's markets, the cow with her milk and butterfat has been putting on a show which finds farmers cheering for the first time in months.

Statisticians of the Minneapolis Federal Reserve bank today told the story of figures arraying price increases affecting the ninth reserve district, Minnesota, Montana, North and South Dakota, upper Michigan and Northwestern Wisconsin. Private bankers and statisticians rounded out the story with estimates that the upward movement of grain and dairy prices in the last four months has increased the potential farm income of the area—some of it already realized—from $65,000,000 to $85,000,000. In these estimates they disregarded feeds, some of which may find their way to market instead of being used up on farms because of the changed price trend.

Butter, reserve bank statisticians showed, has treated its way back from a low mean price in July of 20 1-2 cents a pound to 29 1-2 cents in October, with the rise still on. These nine cents mean from $3,500,000 to $6,000,000 more monthly to the farmer depending on production

Franciscans Are In Santone Again

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 6. (AP)—The Franciscans are back in San Antonio.

Surrounded by the adobe walls which protected their predecessors while they ministered to the sick and soothed the sorrowing 200 years ago, the Sons of St. Francis have taken possession of beautiful old Mission San Jose after an absence of the order from the shrine for 138 years.

The old mission, most beautiful of the places of instruction and worship created by the Franciscans in 1720, had fallen into disuse. The holy chapel had been thrown open to visitors as a show place. Although the friars of two centuries ago built some of the most beautiful missions in America, they did not own or come into temporal possession of a foot of the land.

Formal presentation of the old mission to the Franciscan order was made at ceremonies here recently by the Most Rev. Arthur J. Drossaert, archbishop of San Antonio, who blessed the cornerstone of a new monastery recently completed at a cost of $20,000.

Three members of the orders present at the ceremonies were the Rev. Vincent Schrepp, O. F. M., provincial of the Sacred Heart province; the Rev. Bonaventure Alerding, O. F. M., superior of the San Jose mission; and the Rev. F. Emery, O. F. M.

Marketing of dairy products in October were lower in volume than July, a normal change, but farmers found that while it took 60,731,000 pounds of butter to produce an income of $12,450,000 in July, only 34,400,000 pounds in October brought in $10,161,000.

The farmer who planned in July to feed his wheat this winter is thinking again today while the mills which turn it into flour reported a brisker demand for breadstuffs than for some time past.

This week's meeting of the O. D. O. club was held in the home of Mrs. Roy Kilgore.

At the close of an afternoon of bridge, Mrs. J. H. Dehnert was favored for high score. Mrs. George Nix for second high, and Mrs. Peed, special guest.

Dainty refreshments were served to Mesdames George Nix, Henry Martin, Robert Montgomery, G. Ritzenhouse, J. H. Dehnert, F. J. Landry, and Peed.

blue cover and gold lettering, was presented each member. The book contains programs for every meeting through next May, as well as the list of officers, members, emblems, and other information.

The losing side of a membership contest which has just closed served refreshments at the close of the afternoon. The serving was done under the direction of Mrs. H. D. Jones, Mrs. Earl Roof, Mrs. M. D. Dwight, and Mrs. C. E. Simmons.

FIFTY PARENTS AND TEACHERS AT GATHERING

There are three classes of homes, good, bad, and bewildered," said Mrs. V. E. Fatheree in addressing about 50 members of the Horace Mann Parent-Teacher association Thursday afternoon. "The Parent-Teacher association is sponsoring a movement for courses in parent training in the schools," she said, and added that training for parenthood was the main object of the Parent-Teacher association.

The meeting was opened with the singing of America, and Supt. R. B. Fisher led in prayer. A song by the glee club, under the direction of Miss Loma Groom, then was sung preceding Mrs. Fatheree's talk.

A song, "That Little Boy of Mine," sung by Superintendent Fisher, was followed with an encore, "Mighty Lak a Rose." He was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Fisher.

Mrs. Lewis speaks

Mrs. Joe Lewis then spoke on "Spiritual Training in the Home." She said in part:

"Even as a child is taught to apply certain rules in arithmetic to solve his problems, he should also be taught to obey the laws of the land. Obedience to these laws brings freedom and harmony. Likewise, spiritual training and obedience to spiritual laws bring joy to all alike."

Tells of Schools

Mrs. T. A. Cox, in speaking on "Spiritual Training in the Schools," said that the motto of Horace Mann teachers was as follows: "Matter is vital, but the soul of a child is immortal."

Superintendent Fisher told of national education week which will be observed next week, and Miss Josephine Thomas announced the chapel programs that will be held during education week. All parents are invited to attend.

An appeal was made by Miss Violet Durrett for books to be placed in the school library.

A reading, "The Book House," by Geraldine Smith closed the program.

Camera Angles

Before she could even walk or talk, Jean Marsh was a movie actress. She made her debut at the age of nine months in "Hearts Aflame." Miss Marsh excels in swimming and horseback riding and also likes tennis and golf. Interior decorating is her hobby, second only to her ambition to sing in light opera. She was selected as one of this year's baby stars.

Sam Houston Group Hears Good Program

Observance of the 22nd birthday of the Texas Parent-Teacher association was attended by 70 persons yesterday afternoon at Sam Houston school. The largest attendance was from Mrs. L. C. Peddicord's room, which was awarded for this distinction.

The group was invited to attend a meeting of the high school Parent-Teacher association on the evening of Nov. 19 at the First Baptist church. The dean of women at West Texas State Teachers college will speak at that time on "The Modern Girl."

Principal A. L. Patrick told of the observance of education week beginning Monday and asked that all parents visit the regular classes and attend the series of daily chapel programs.

It was decided to serve a turkey dinner to J. L. Lester and boys in his manual training class to show appreciation to the boys for their work in making tables for the cafeteria.

Mrs. G. C. Malone spoke on the birthday of the state Parent-Teacher association. She stated that it was organized in Dallas 22 years ago this month.

Mrs. H. D. Keys, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Marvin Lewis, entertained with a croquet solo.

The crowd then went to the cafeteria to view the equipment and to be served tea, wafers, and jellied vegetable salad. The salad, served by officers of the association with the assistance of Mr. and Mrs. Wood, was made in an electric refrigerator from Thompson Hardware company. An exhibition was given of the use of an electric refrigerator in the schools.

A birthday cake, topped with 22 candles, was cut and served as part of the birthday observance.

A fine cooker was presented by the Parent-Teacher association by Mr. and Mrs. I. Baum.

Legion Auxiliary Holds Gathering

The American Legion auxiliary held a regular meeting at the Legion hut Thursday evening with 25 members present. Two candidates, Mrs. Gordon Ingie and Mrs. E. A. Hampton, were accepted as members of the organization.

An interesting report was given by Mrs. Clyde Garner, rehabilitation committee chairman, in regard to the adopted soldiers of the organization. Mrs. J. G. Osgood, welfare chairman, also reported.

A quilt will be awarded by the auxiliary Nov. 11 at 8 o'clock.

The following members were present: Mesdames F. E. Wallace, Dodson, W. P. Vincent, Gordon Ingie, E. O. Smith, S. A. Burns, Ray Anderson, O. K. Gaylor, D. E. Ceall, Woodward, Albert Wood, J. A. Pearson, F. M. Culbertson, W. M. Voyles, L. R. Hartell, Arnold, J. G. Osgood, Clyde Garner, Hogsitt, Roy Sewell, W. C. de Cordova, Tom Jackson, W. B. Murphy, Roy A. Webb and Al Lawson.

WEDDING WILL BE SOLEMNIZED

A White Deer wedding of much interest will be solemnized when Miss Isabel Skibinski and Bruce Urbanczyk are married the morning of Nov. 18 at the Sacred Heart church. Bonds were read last Sunday.

The wedding will be followed with a breakfast in the home of the bride's parents, and a dance will be given that night.

The Rev. Edward Clinton will officiate for the wedding.

Miss Skibinski is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Skibinski, and Mr. Urbanczyk, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Urbanczyk.

Bible Gleaners Have Luncheon, Business Meet

The Bible Gleaners Sunday school class held a covered dish luncheon, followed with a business meeting Wednesday at the First Baptist church.

Much interest was shown in choosing group captains to increase the class membership. Calls were made in the afternoon.

The following members were present: Mesdames W. W. Lipscomb, James Williams, Roy Conner, N. B. Cola, Paul Crossman, Earl Tillstrom, Fred Williams, G. Epps, J. T. Morrow, M. F. Potts, S. J. Hawkins, C. C. Matheny, W. E. Jordan, and R. L. Bowden.

Corn Husking to Draw Huge Crowd

GRUNDY CENTER, Iowa, Nov. 6. (AP)—Out here where the state's largest football stadium seats 42,000 and picking corn only recently has become a major sport, preparations are afoot to entertain 75,000 visitors at the national corn-husking contest Nov. 13.

All the earmarks of an inter-sectional athletic contest will be in evidence, although this nubbins derby was originated only eight years ago.

The field on the Clyde Wilhelm farm west of here, locale of the competition, was planted with hybrid corn, carefully cultivated all summer and now has been specially prepared for the contest.

New wagons will be furnished the huskers from Iowa, Indiana, Illinois, Nebraska, Missouri, Minnesota, Ohio and Kansas, and each will follow a team of selected, uniformly hued horses.

Fred Stanek, four times national winner, says he won't compete because the prizes of $200 aren't big enough. But Guy Simms of the Nebraska, runner-up last year to Stanek at Horton, Kas., is considered by some to be a "good horse."

Funeral for Infant

Funeral services for the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Hughes will be conducted at 5 o'clock this afternoon from the G. C. Malone Funeral home. Burial will be in the baby garden at Fairview cemetery. The baby died at the home of its parents, 704 North Gray street early this morning.

The parents are the only survivors.

TEXAS SLATE MAY CHANGE ON SATURDAY

Aggies and Rice Primed To Fight Leaders For Conference Honors.

DALLAS, Nov. 6. (AP)—Tomorrow night the Southwest conference football race, now a deadlock between Southern Methodist and Texas Christian, may be minus an undefeated leader. If not, it will be no fault of the Texas A. and M. Aggies nor the Rice Owls who are tied for third place with a victory and defeat each.

At College Station the Aggies are set for their fourteenth annual game against Southern Methodist. Not since 1927, when they won a 39 to 13 game, have the Aggies succeeded in beating Southern Methodist. Blessed this season with several powerful driving backs, a brilliant end in Charlie Malone and a light but fighting front wall, the Aggies are determined to smash their jinx.

Smothered 20 to 0 last year by Texas Christian, the Rice Owls will invade Port Worth not only in search of revenge but with a keen desire to amputate the Frogs from their undefeated petal in the Southwest conference pond. The Owls have not played since Oct. 24 when they whipped the University of Arizona 32 to 0.

At Austin, the University of Texas battles Baylor in a conference setto. The University of Arkansas is at Chicago for Saturday's game against the University of Chicago, but these two games are second choice affairs with four of the leaders furnishing the headlines.

Individual battles by claimants for all-Southwest conference honors will be a feature of the Aggie-Mustang tilt. Charlie Malone and George Ekontz will face each other as ends. Captain Carl Moulden of the Aggies and Marlon Hammon of the Mustangs will be opposing tackles. The Mustangs are favored with an overhead game, but the Aggies appear to hold the upper hand on a running attack.

The Owls are set to fire the works against Texas Christian to remain in the conference running. Employing the Notre Dame system, the Owls are equal favorites with the crippled Frogs who must play without Ben Boswell, all-conference lineman and field goal ace. Boswell is out with an injured knee. The Texas Longhorns, 1930 conference champions, are favored to defeat Baylor.

Chastain to Get Big Chance With Stribling Crowd

DALLAS, Nov. 6. (AP)—W. L. (Pa) Stribling, father-manager of Young Stribling, was busy today looking over his latest "find" and making plans for his son's climb back into the championship ring.

Arriving in Dallas yesterday, Stribling announced he had purchased the contract of Clyde Chastain, Dallas middleweight, whose photograph resembles that of Gene Tunney.

Air-Liner Carries Five to Deaths

CAMDEN, N. J., Nov. 6. (AP)—Five men—two pilots and three passengers—were burned to death when a Newark-to-Washington passenger airliner, maneuvering for a landing at the Camden airport last night, fell into the soft turf of a nearby golf course and burst into flames.

Something went wrong—an investigation today hoped to fix the responsibility—and the plane dropped like lead, its nose burying itself in two feet of earth. Flames wrapped about the wrecked liner as it struck the earth, driving back hundreds of persons who sped to the rescue of the crash victims. Terrific heat made rescue work impossible and the bodies of the victims could not be reached until a fire department had extinguished the flames.

At the controls of the ship was Floyd Cox, a veteran flier with more than 3,000 hours flying experience. In the cabin behind were Vernon Lucas, a fellow pilot going back to his Washington home after a flight to New York; Elmer Smith, advertising manager of the Washington Herald; George B. Taylor, director of the laboratory division of the Chestnut farms dairy in Washington; and Francis R. Ehle, of River-ton, N. J., president of the International Resistance company. All were burned beyond recognition, although none were crushed.

MAN IS HANGED STATE PRISON, FORT MADISON, Ia., Nov. 6. (AP)—Joseph A. R. Altringer, 33, Dubuque, was hanged for the killing of Earl Robert Fuller, 12-year-old Dubuque lad. The trap was sprung at 7:05 a. m., and he was pronounced dead at 7:10.

LEFORS AND WHEELER TO BATTLE HERE TOMORROW

Play-Off Contest Will Be Bitter One—Scoreless Tie Previous Result.

Wheeler and LeFors high school elevens, having fought to a scoreless tie in their previous encounter, will meet tomorrow on Harvester field at 3:30 o'clock to settle the issue. Admission will be 50 cents. Wheeler's Mustangs have had good success this season, and LeFors' Pirates have not been defeated. In the previous battle, each penetrated the other's 20-yard line only once. Each made just one first down. The rivalry was so keen that pugilistics could not settle it.

Depression Hits Atlantic Coast—Light in Panhandle

AMARILLO, Nov. 6. (AP)—Frank A. Seiberling, Akron tire manufacturer, told a group of Amarillo business men while on a visit here that the so-called business depression was darkest along the Atlantic coast, and that business conditions were brightest in the middlewest and the southwest. Seiberling said that Denver and Amarillo were the first cities visited by his party—on a 20,000-mile tour that will take them throughout the United States and to Hawaii—that showed no ill effects of the depression. "The depression, which is the eighth I have gone through, is gradually lifting," Seiberling said. "I do not believe that special legislation will be successful, but the president's plan to relieve the banks is going to be effective. It is largely a state of mind, and the restoration of faith in the nation's business will mean the return of prosperity."

KANSAS STATE AND AMES TO HAVE BATTLE

Crucial Encounter to See Powerful Elevens in Death Struggle.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 6. (AP)—This is a crucial week-end for Kansas State and Iowa State, both hoping for their first conference football championship. They meet at Ames tomorrow. Neither has been defeated in Big Six competition, the K-Aggies having won three games and the Cyclones two.

Coach Bo McMillin left "rambling" Ralph Graham, sophomore backfield ace, in Manhattan when his purple squad entrained last night. Graham was injured in the West Virginia game Saturday. If the Aggies can manage a victory without Graham they face Nebraska the following week-end at Manhattan with an undefeated record for the season.

The Kansas university Jayhawkers left last night for a conference tilt with Oklahoma at Norman, leaving behind a star ball-lugger, Elmer Schmale, 209-pound defensive full-back and offensive power, was found ineligible because of scholastic deficiencies which he may make up later. Nebraska's interconference tilt with the University of Iowa at Lincoln will celebrate the return to play of George Henry Sauer, injured backfield star. Missouri plays Drake at Des Moines tonight.

"Fix Lights" Device Invented by Officer

AMARILLO, Nov. 6. (AP)—Night motorcycle patrol work was one stop after another for R. C. Moore of the Amarillo police department until he invented a labor-saving device of his own. Moore was always stopping to warn motorists that their headlights were defective until he designed a "fix lights" message that could be flashed to motorists without stopping them. The invention is a piece of cardboard backed by red tissue paper and fitted over a headlight. The message is cut in the cardboard. When he meets a motorist with defective lights, Moore flashes the light behind the cardboard. He has found it effective. NEW YORK, Nov. 6. (AP)—Bar silver spurred 1-4 cents an ounce in the New York market today to a new high for 1931 at 34 cents an ounce.

Mickey Walker to Get Another Chance Against Stribling

NEW YORK, Nov. 6. (AP)—Mickey Walker's third chance at a ranking heavyweight probably will come against Young Stribling in Madison Square Garden Dec. 11 for the New York American's Christmas fund.

Negotiations have reached the point where Stribling's handlers have agreed to the match, which, if completed, will send the Macon heavyweight against a major opponent for the first time since his decisive defeat by Max Schmeling in Cleveland July 3.

Walker originally offered his services to the Christmas fund with the idea of meeting Sharkey again. The Boston sailor, however, turned down the bout. A definite decision as to the Walker-Stribling tangle was expected within a day or two.

Rogers Lingers at His Old Pastimes

KINGSVILLE, Nov. 6. (AP)—Will Rogers' old loves, the lasso and the sun tanned men of the cattle country, had caused the humorist to drop hours behind time today in his schedule of travel. When the time came yesterday for him to depart for Uvalde for a brief visit with Congressman John Garner, he was roping calves on the back stretches of the gigantic King ranch. Meanwhile, Congressman Garner stood in the sun at the Uvalde airport, waiting in vain for his guest. At night, Rogers sat down cross legged on the open range to eat a real chuck wagon supper. He planned to fly to Uvalde today. Rogers originally planned to leave Kingsville at 3 p. m., meet Garner at Uvalde at 4 p. m., and depart by train from there shortly after 6 p. m. for the west. His baggage was placed on the train at San Antonio. Rogers flew to the ranch with Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Lapham. Captain Frank Hawks also was a guest at the ranch.

GORILLAS AT GROOM TODAY FOR BIG TILT

Powerful Eleven to Battle Locals—Mitchell May View Contest.

The Gorilla football squad is in Groom this afternoon meeting the big Groom Tigers in what is expected to be one of the toughest games of the season.

The team left the gymnasium at noon and planned to take a rest in Groom after the ride. The game will not be called until 3:30 o'clock. Several members of the Harvester squad planned to make the trip if coaches did not call practice this afternoon. Coach Odus Mitchell of the Harvesters plans to go to Groom and see his future football players in action.

The Tigers have been rocking along at a rapid pace after getting started late. They use their power to crush all little opponents but they are apt to find a tough little team in the Gorillas. The Pampa team plan to take to the air to overcome the weight handicap. The Batutal tribe in the Belgian Congo produces such perfectly developed men physically that it is often called upon to supply chiefs to other native tribes.

Talk of Billions Heard at Suit

TOPEKA, Kans., Nov. 6. (AP)—Figures running far into the billions were mingled with other statistics as a witness and attorneys sought today to establish the value of the Cities Service company's extensive gas reserves in the mid-continent area.

The witness was Ralph W. Davis, consulting geological engineer. In testifying at the public service commission's investigation into reasonableness of inter-company charges entering into retail gas rates charged by Cities Service subsidiaries in Kansas, he testified, he estimated the "intrinsic value" of the organization's gas reserves, including wells, at $20,588,000.

Davis said more than 98 per cent of the Cities Service gas reserves are in the Panhandle field in Texas and the new Hugoton field in southwestern Kansas. Company reserves in Oklahoma, Missouri, and Kansas, excluding the Hugoton field, were placed by the witness at 23 billion cubic feet.

Nan Britton Is Denied Damages

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 6. (AP)—Nan Britton, author of "The President's Daughter," has lost her $50,000 libel suit against C. A. Klunk, Marion, O., hotel operator who helped distribute the book, "The Answer to the President's Daughter."

A federal court jury late yesterday found "no cause for action" in Miss Britton's suit which was filed on the ground that the book which Klunk circulated defamed her character.

Miss Britton, who in her book declared the late President Warren G. Harding was the father of her 12-year-old daughter, announced through her attorney she would appeal the case to the United States' supreme court if necessary.

Klunk made no comment on the verdict, which was returned after an hour and 10 minutes' deliberation during which three bills were taken.

The trial almost from the start was one of book against book. "The President's Daughter," in which Miss Britton set forth her claims of her daughter's paternity, was published in June, 1927, four years after Mr. Harding's death. A year later, "The Answer to the Presi-

Border Broadcast Station Planned

EAGLE PASS, Nov. 6. (AP)—The Texas-American borderland's second powerful broadcast station was nearer a reality today.

Chambers of commerce of Piedras Negras and Eagle Pass in joint meeting here yesterday endorsed plans of A. G. Akersoyd, and C. L. Robertson of San Antonio to establish a 100,000 watt transmitter in Piedras Negras.

It would be used as the key station in rebroadcasting chain programs originating on low waves in Central American countries.

A 75,000 watt transmitter recently was installed at Villa Acuna, opposite Del Rio, Texas.

dent's Daughter," written by the late Joseph DeBarthe was published denying Miss Britton's claims and tarring her degenerate.

Counsel for Klunk argued that the allegations in "The Answer" were true and that excerpts which Miss Britton cited as libelous were from her own book.

Marshall Petain Is Still Trickster

NEW YORK, Nov. 6. (AP)—Marshall Henri Petain, one of France's wartime strategists, still knows a trick or two.

The white-haired general, who decreed "they shall not pass" when the Germans threatened Verdun, was homeward bound today, chucking over a ruse whereby he saw New York and Boston incognito after he had (officially) left the United States.

The marshal came over for the Yorktown fete last month. Hardly a moment did he have to do what he most wanted to do, that is explore some of the sights of New York and Boston.

So Oct. 27 the marshal went to Newport, R. I., to be entertained with a parade and speech-making commemorating the 151st anniversary of the landing of Rochambeau. After that was over, there came the next day a dispatch saying:

"Two French destroyers steamed out of Newport today headed homeward with Marshal Henri Petain."

That evening Marshal Petain, smiling, turned up at Boston. With the aid of General Pershing the French army and the proper American officials he slipped off the destroyer in a motor boat, landed quietly, and gone off in a big motor car to have some fun.

days' from the date of the governor's proclamation, leaving it optional with the chief executive when to issue the call. He could delay his call indefinitely.

Governor Sterling was in Houston for the week-end, but it was believed here he likely would give the full 30-days notice, since the district is a large one, comprised of 11 counties. It was pointed out that candidates probably would ask for ample time to canvass the area.

Considerable time would be consumed in gathering and canvassing the results by the secretary of state before a certificate of election could be issued, making it probable Congressman Wurzbach's successor could not be elected and seated before the year.

Officers of the group include: Vice-presidents, R. S. (Bob) Brashers and H. L. Polley; secretary, A. Frank Hill; advisory secretary, George Briggs; treasurer, J. O. Gilliam. Directors, from and by whom the officers are chosen, are Mr. Akers, Julian N. Barrett, Mr. Brashers, Mr. Gilliam, Mr. Hill, Olin E. Hinkle, Joe Lazarus, Mr. Polley, R. A. (Bob) Rose, and R. R. Watson. Of these five will serve one year and five, drawn by lot, will serve two years.

Congratulations to the young men of Pampa have been received from the National Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Wichita Falls Junior chamber.

Pampanos who will make the trip to Miami will meet at 6 o'clock Sunday morning at the Courthouse cafe and will leave following breakfast. It was decided at a meeting of the committee today.

The expenses of the trip will be shared and should not cost more than $5 for the round trip. Persons taking cars will not share in the car expense for the trip, but the occupants will divide the cost. Farmers are particularly invited to make the trip, as it will be of vital interest to them. They will see how farmers from a radius of 100 miles of Miami take their live stock, produce and anything they have for sale to Miami and have it auctioned.

Twelve business men have already signed to make the trip. The committee hopes to have at least 25 business men and farmers make the trip.

specimen of physical manhood. Although the strenuous campaigns he had been forced to make in a big district drew heavily upon him he always managed to emerge with unimpaired health.

There was widespread doubt if another republican could win the district in the special election that must be held within 30 days, under Texas law as interpreted by authorities. In fact, republicans themselves were without suggestion of a single outstanding man among their number who could successfully oppose some well known democrats who were likely to aspire to the vacant seat.

It was pointed out that with Garner's future as speaker of the house at stake the democrats would have a powerful argument for favor.

Wirtz May Run

Among the democrats mentioned was former State Senator A. J. Wirtz of Seguin, in the favor of the fallen Wurzbach. He often in the past had been mentioned as a probable successor to Wurzbach in event the republican congressman should decide to retire.

It was reported that Carl Wright Johnson, San Antonio attorney, likely would have the favor of Mayor C. M. Chambers and the official organization that Tobin left behind, although that ring had suffered serious defections in recent years.

Brother Is Democrat

Another likely candidate was the dead congressman's brother, W. A. Wurzbach, democrat, now county judge of Bexar county, having won that office in a stiff fight with the Chambers organization, which in the past few elections had turned against Congressman Wurzbach while in the first years of his tenure it was friendly to him.

Representative's Wurzbach's constituency consisted of 11 counties of which the total population was estimated at 500,000. The counties of his district are Aransas, Bee, Bexar, Blanco, Guadalupe, Karnes, Kendall, Nueces, San Patricio, Wilson, and Comal.

Wurzbach was born in San Antonio May 19, 1874, and was educated in schools here, supplementing that education by a law course at Washington and Lee university.

Although funeral arrangements had not been definitely made, it was understood services would be held here Sunday.

Could Delay Election

AUSTIN, Nov. 6. (AP)—A special election for the fourteenth congressional district to fill the vacancy in the national house of representatives caused by the death of Harry M. Wurzbach of Seguin, only republican Texas member of that body, will be called by proclamation of Gov. R. S. Sterling.

The Texas law directs that the election be held "not to exceed 30 fore congress assemblies."

Michigan Governor Doubts Fair Play Of Alabama Courts

LANSING, Mich., Nov. 6. (AP)—Governor Wilber M. Brucker will send a representative to Alabama to investigate charges a negro under arrest here would not receive a fair trial if returned to the southern state to face a murder charge.

The governor announced this decision today at the conclusion of an extradition hearing for Dove Ballard, accused of killing Charles L. Sims, deputy sheriff of Butler county, Alabama, last August. Ballard claims Sims was shot accidentally.

Counsel for Ballard told the governor if Ballard were returned he would be lynched or would not get a fair trial. Sheriff J. C. Canant of Butler county in person and Governor B. M. Miller of Alabama, by telegram, assured Governor Brucker Ballard would be given a fair trial by a jury.

"There is no question that Ballard killed a deputy sheriff," Governor Brucker said. "Those who commit crime should pay the penalty. Ballard must be tried in Alabama if at all. I am not inclined to make Ballard a free man in Michigan to become possibly a bootlegger or criminal."

King George Does Not Impress Gandhi

LONDON, Nov. 6. (AP)—Wearing a loincloth and shawl, Mahatma Gandhi attended a formal reception at Buckingham Palace and stood before the king from whom he has been trying for years to wrest the vast Indian empire.

It was the first time the humble little nationalist leader, who claims to represent 60,000,000 untouchables and 300,000,000 other Indians, met King George V, and he seemed to like it immensely.

"The king and queen were most friendly and gracious," he said. "I also liked the Prince of Wales."

The prince had come by airplane from Liverpool to attend the stately tea party to which about 600 guests were invited.

Before the function was half over Mr. Gandhi left the palace, for he has no patience with social gatherings, and the conversation bores him.

The Mahatma showed none of the signs of awe frequently manifested by subjects of the king. When the king, dressed in morning attire, offered his hand, Mr. Gandhi shook it heartily and, after bowing reverently, raised both his hands in front of his chest in the manner of a Buddhist priest—the most decorous form of Indian greeting.

Wine Concentrate Plan Abandoned

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6. (AP)—Those who have depended on Fruit Industries, Ltd., for their enjoyment of home-fermented wine must hereafter attend to the fermentation and bottling themselves.

That concern has announced it no longer will put the keg in the cellar, or have anything to do with what happens after original sale of their grape concentrates.

Furthermore, concentrate sales will be made hereafter only through established stores, not by means of direct-to-the-home delivery. Even at the neighborhood stores it no longer will be possible to buy the product known as Vine-Flo.

The action was taken after the Ukiah Grape Products company had got into trouble with the courts.

Donald Conn, managing director of Fruit Industries, said the recent decision by a Kansas City federal court holding the Ukiah company guilty of violating the prohibition act was "sufficient notice" for Fruit Industries to change its practices.

It was further influenced by its relations with the farm board, from which it has received $3,500,000 in loans. For months high officials have been looking on with wonder and concern while the concentrate companies did a rushing business, putting their containers into the home, attending then through the period of fermentation, and finally bottling the liquid under labels bearing the names of all the old pre-prohibition vintages.

Conn, sitting in a comfortably furnished room in Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt's law office, declined to say whether official pressure had been brought upon his organization, a California cooperative whose greatest business is in making sacramental and medicinal wines, jellies, sauces and other by-products of grapes. Mrs. Willebrandt, former assistant attorney general in charge of prohibition, now is counsel for the company.

Farm Board Involved?
When Prohibition Director Woodcock headed off the distribution change, he said "I am very pleased with this action." He joined with Chairman Stone of the farm board in denying they had demanded it.

Prohibition enforcement has been pleasure with what he said was a legal decision in the Ukiah case, Woodcock added.

The home manufacture of wine strictly for consumption within the home has been held legal under the prohibition law.

Both the government and the farm board have been subjected to caustic criticism by wets and dries alike for giving financial assistance to Fruit Industries.

Senator Sheppard, Texas democrat and co-author of the eighteenth amendment, said the withdrawal of Vine-Flo "does not get at the real abuse, which is the whole wine grape industry."

"Eighty thousand cars of wine grapes go north and east to make wine—but only a few thousand are used in the production of concentrates and wine bricks," he added.

Another democrat—Senator Tydings of Maryland—expressed displeasure with what he said was discrimination against home beer makers.

KING OF BOMBERS HELD

CHICAGO, Nov. 5. (AP)—James Belcastro, who wears the police-given title of "king of bombers," and is further designated by the Chicago Crime commission as "public enemy No. 4," has become a character for investigation in the government's deportation campaign. Arrested yesterday by detectives in his west side butcher shop, the gangster was turned over to federal operatives who later released him under $2,500 bond to appear today for further questioning.

Gems of Peril

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Rich old MRS. JUPITER is robbed and murdered during the engagement party she gives for her secretary, MARY HARKNESS. Mary's suspense brother, ED- DIE, is supposed to have been upstairs at the murder house. Only Mary knows this.

Mary's fiancé, DIRK SUTHER, advises her to keep silent about having arranged to admit Eddie secretly until he can locate the boy. Mary prevents a maid from telling BOWEN of the story about the unknown stater. Dirk tele- phones that he has had a call from Eddie and will take Mary to see him that afternoon.

Dirk overhears and Bowen drives Mary to the rendezvous. Eddie is killed by a car as he crosses the street. He mumbles about a 25 before he dies. Weeks pass and INSPECTOR KANE drops the case, believing Eddie the murderer. When Mary explains, Kane tells her both MR. JUPITER and Dirk believe the same.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XI

BEFORE the disclosure that not only Inspector Kane, but old Mr. Jupiter himself, and even Dirk, believed her brother had robbed and murdered Mrs. Jupiter, Mary sat stumped.

"Even if that were true, as you say," she got out presently, "there still remains the question—who killed Eddie?"

Kane lifted exasperated eyebrows. "But you saw the car that killed him," he said, as if dealing with an unreasonable child. "Just another of those hit-and-run drivers. It's murder, of course. But nine out of 10 of them aren't caught. It's too bad. But if you look at it another way, it's mercy."

"You can sit there and say that! Amusement and desperation made her bold.

"But what do you want the matter stirred up for?" Kane was getting wrought up. "You ought to be glad it's finished. Your brother's better off where he is than if he'd lived. To take the rap. You'd rather see him killed accidentally than live to go to the electric chair, wouldn't you. Believe me, he's lucky."

"Electric chair?" The gray eyes blazed scorn at him. "You don't mean that. And Eddie wasn't killed accidentally. You know better than that, too. You can get eye-witness testimony of a dozen people—"

"Eye-witness testimony isn't worth a damn," said Inspector Kane with finality. "People don't know what they see. If one says it, they all say it. They want to get in on the excitement, that's all."

"But Mr. Bowen and I both saw. We're not just—people."

Kane laid a pencil down with a decisive rap.

"You're 'hypped' on the idea that somebody was after that brother of yours. And George Bowen is a reporter for a sensational newspaper. He'd see anything that would give him a big story."

Mary shook her head. She was not much older herself than the "baby brother" she was finding excuses for, but she had grown up swiftly in these recent weeks.

New dignity sat on the girl's slim shoulders and her voice was calm and determined.

"No, you're wrong. You can't dismiss us as lightly as that. I may be an imaginative woman, and a relative, but Mr. Bowen is neither. And he seems to be the only person besides myself who cares what happened to Eddie. Even Dirk, my fiancé," she stumbled on the loved name, "has changed lately. He doesn't want to talk about the case. I don't know why, unless— But she decided to keep her personal affairs to herself. She drew up sharply.

"Say," Bowen exclaimed, "I've been looking everywhere for you!"

"I do know that Eddie was killed, deliberately. Mightn't it have been the other fellow, the one he owed money to? Why hasn't anyone found him? He's the one who's really to blame!"

"What do you know about the other fellow?" Kane asked suspiciously.

"The same as you do. That if Eddie did it—and I don't believe it for a minute—he was made to do it by the man he owed money to."

KANE smiled tolerantly. "I wouldn't say that, Miss Harkness. That's only a theory. You've nothing to back it up."

"Haven't I? Then I'll find something. I'm going to prove that Eddie had no part in that crime if it's the last thing I ever do." Her small fist beat the table by way of emphasis.

Kane pursed his lips.

"As you please, Miss Harkness," he said, "but I think you're making a big mistake. You're a very lucky girl. Mary moved impatiently, but he fixed her with an earnest eye and continued, "You're no relation to the Jupiters, are you?" he asked abruptly.

"Why no," Mary replied in surprise.

Kane nodded his head sagely.

"Well, for an outsider, you're sitting in the lap of Luck, if you only knew it. Those two old people set great store by you, and I understand one of the last acts of that old lady's life was to ask her lawyer to draw up adoption papers for you."

The storm of resentment that had racked Mary during Kane's revelations had left her more calmly purposeful than she had ever been in her life.

"Thank you for all you have poored like steam. It was dark inside and the only water, a repellent-looking creature in greasy black, stared at his pretty visitor as if a woman's presence in the place were rare indeed.

When they had ordered and sent him away, Bowen apologized.

"This is an awful dump, but it's a good place to talk. Take your things off!" He took their wet coats, the one he had loaned her and his own, and hung them to dry over the back of the two vacant chairs at their table. Then he looked about cautiously. The place was empty except for two men who rose to depart, toothpicks in mouth.

MARY said, "You're funny. What're you doing it for—to cheer me up?"

"You did look kinda dithery. Don't know what dithery is? Well, no matter. Bigger things on foot." Turning serious abruptly, he lowered his voice discreetly. "Listen. Remember when your brother was hurt, his talking about a fly?"

Mary nodded.

"Well, it kinda stuck in my mind. Thinks I'll hit myself out to the race-track some sunny afternoon and nose around."

"There's a race-track gambler hanging around Jamaica that everybody calls 'The Fly.'"

"Do you suppose it could be—?"

He threw out his hands and shrugged. "I haven't found anybody yet that's seen him with your brother. But they all know Eddie down there. Sooner or later I'll find out what the tie-up was. Anyhow, it's a tip."

"Did you see him?"

"No, and that's a funny thing. Nobody's seen him for a couple of weeks."

Mary calculated rapidly. "It was two weeks ago tomorrow night—"

Bowen nodded. "Correct."

Excitement flamed in the girl's cheeks and brought stars to her eyes.

"Oh, if it should be—!" She grasped both his hands with her own and gave them a glad squeeze.

"If you help me to clear up all this—trouble, I'll—I don't know what I'll do!"

"Hold it, hold it!" chided the other. "I've got a weak heart. Besides, we haven't got to first base yet in the matter of evidence."

"But we will! Oh, I knew all along there was something back of this." Her face clouded again at the recollection of her recent interview with Kane. "Maybe he'll do something about it now!"

Bowen observed her bitterness, and guessed its cause.

"Listen," he told her sternly. "All I ask is—don't say a word about this to Kane."

Curiosity prompted her to ask his reason.

"Well, more than one reason." They drew back while the murderous-looking waiter served their food—large plates heaped with steaming spaghetti and meat; bain. Bowen jerked a thumb after the waiter's retreating back. "Two years out of Sing Sing—him. He's got to stay where the police can keep an eye on him or go back to Sing Sing. Good guy. He wouldn't cut your throat for less than a dime."

An angry survey of her plate dispassionately, he added "Go ahead, eat your lunch. Poison's no, his kid. But as I was saying, if we find the guy that killed your brother, I want the story—I don't want the other papers to get it. And another reason is, if the Fly is the man I think he is, I'll take more than Pretty Jim Kane to bring him in."

East Texas Curb Benefit to Crude Oil in Southwest

DALLAS, Nov. 6. (AP)—Increased prices for crude oil posted throughout the midcontinent area by major purchasers have dispelled the gloom in which the industry had groped for many months.

The most discernible justification for the increases was the confidence oil men derived from the evident determination of Gov. R. S. Sterling of Texas to maintain order indefinitely in the East Texas field with martial law, to insure the immunity of proration plans from legal attacks. He also indicated he would take steps to halt unnecessary drilling of Texas to maintain order in the oil men were beginning to talk of the return of "dollar oil" to the market with more assurance of fulfillment, as several purchasers posted prices ranging as high as 86 cents per barrel.

The Magnolia Petroleum company led the way in Texas, posting a 15-cent increase Monday in all Texas fields excepting Darr Creek, where the price was raised 8 cents to 69 cents per barrel at the wells. Magnolia prices in Oklahoma fields likewise were boosted 10 cents per barrel. Magnolia's top was 83 cents per barrel in East Texas and several other fields.

That action was followed quickly by the Texas company, Humble Oil and Refining company and the Gulf Pipeline company. The Texas company posted a price of 86 cents for best grades of Gulf Coast crude.

The Sun company and the Atlantic Oil company also joined in the price advance, the Sun company announcing a price of 83 cents for East Texas crude and Atlantic company officials stating that company would follow the Humble company's schedule in fields in which it is a purchaser.

Governor Sterling was credited with starting the tide of optimism last week when he asserted he intended to place production proration in East Texas on an acreage basis, rather than the present well basis of 150 barrels daily, as soon as an equitable acreage basis could be devised.

CUT TAX LEVY

MULESHOE, Nov. 6. (AP)—The Muleshoe city commission has voted a 15 per cent tax reduction, cutting the levy from $1 to 85 cents. An increase of more than $65,000 in property valuations made the reduction possible. Of the increase, $55,000 was said to be new wealth.

CITY MANAGER APPOINTED

LUBBOCK, Nov. 6. (AP)—W. H. Rodgers, who has been acting city manager of Lubbock since last April 15, has been given a permanent appointment. James L. Holt was named secretary-treasurer. He also had been acting in that capacity since last April.

Panhandle Wheat Crop 60 Millions

AMARILLO, Nov. 6. (AP)—Figures released by the railroads indicate that the 1931 Panhandle wheat crop exceeded 60,000,000 bushels.

The three railway lines, the Santa Fe, Fort Worth and Denver, and Rock Island handled 40,382 carloads of wheat from Texas points in the territory north of Lubbock. Figured on an average of 1,500 bushels to the car, more than 57,000,000 bushels already have been shipped. Grain men estimate that 5,000,000 bushels or more is still stored on the farms and in elevators.

It is known that some of the border towns handled wheat brought from New Mexico and the Oklahoma Panhandle, but a maximum allowance for that brought across the line would still leave more than 60,000,000 bushels for the Texas Panhandle, north of Lubbock.

It was by far the largest wheat crop ever harvested in this territory. The yield of 1930 was doubled, and the former record crop of 1929 was exceeded by 18,000,000 bushels.

The acreage was estimated at 2,750,000.

COTTON CONCENTRATED

LUBBOCK, Nov. 6. (AP)—More cotton has been concentrated in Lubbock and at other concentration points on the South Plains this year than ever before, local cotton men declare.

There are several contributing factors to this situation, first, concentration at ports in Texas, notably Houston, Galveston and Texas City; second, reduction of cotton freight rates; third, concentration on the part of the federal government in the collection of drought production loans.

BIG BEAN CROP

AMHERST, Nov. 6. (AP)—Lamb county farmers are harvesting more than 500 acres of soy beans, said by County Agent D. A. Adams to be the largest soy bean crop ever grown by a South Plains county.

Adams introduced the crop as a substitute for alfalfa in 1929 with one demonstrator. He had three demonstrators in 1930, but this year 52 farmers planted from five to 50 acres. The yield is averaging more than a ton to the acre.

Cheaper Highway Sanction to Spur Hard Surfacing

AMARILLO, Nov. 6. (AP)—Counties of highway division No. 4, of the north Panhandle, which heretofore were unable to pave their highways apparently have had their problems solved by the endorsement by the state highway commission of a cheap type of construction.

Chairman W. R. Ely of Abilene recently told W. T. Lampe, chairman of the highway department of the Amarillo chamber-of-commerce, that the commission would approve and grant aid on a penetration top caliche and asphalt paving that can be put down in the Panhandle for $10,000 or less per mile. Most of the material for this type of work would come from the Panhandle, where a high grade caliche is found in large quantities.

Lampe returned from a conference with Ely with the announcement that the highway chairman would approve such paving plans as each county worked out, and construction at a price they could afford to pay.

MILLIONS OF POUNDS USED BY OUR GOVERNMENT

CUT CITY EXPENSE

MIDLAND, Nov. 6. (AP)—Operating costs of the city of Midland will be 50 per cent less next year, figures compiled by Mayor Leon Goodman show. A. J. Gates, city manager, has resigned, and his work will be done by the council and mayor. Gates is credited by city officials with having handled Midland's affairs efficiently during the period of the greatest development Midland has ever known.

BUILDS NEW REFINERY

BAIRD, Nov. 6. (AP)—The Octane Oil Refining company is building a modern refinery five miles east of Baird at the Chataqua switch. About 1,400 barrels of oil will be used daily from the Woodley and adjoining fields. The estimated

WILL SELL AUTOS

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 6. (AP)—All city automobiles, about 60 in number will be sold at public auction after Dec. 31, according to a city ordinance now being drawn. The ordinance also would prohibit use by city employees of city owned cars. It does not apply to automobiles used by Mayor C. M. Chambers and the city commissioners.

DANCES PROPOSED

WACO, Nov. 6. (AP)—At its meeting two weeks hence, the Waco high school board is to act upon the recommendation of Principal E. T. Genheimer of Waco high school that school dances hereafter be permitted in the high school gymnasium. Meanwhile, the school board is making a survey of public opinion in the matter before taking final action on Genheimer's recommendation.

This Game of GOLF by O.B. KEELER

I do not know just why I was mildly astonished recently when first the Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews and then our own United States Golf association modified the rules to permit the removal of all loose impediments lying on the putting green "either with the hand or the club."

Perhaps I just don't expect to see the rule-makers of golf change rules, any more than I expect to see the rule-makers of football let a meeting get by without altering something.

The original form of the rule in question specified four loose impediments which might be brushed aside with the club. Others must be lifted with the hand.

I remember it was stated, solemnly, that a live worm is a loose impediment, and may be lifted.

Now the club is given equal rights with the hand, in the removal of loose impediments on the putting green. It might be well for everyone to remember that for purposes of rule-construction the "putting greens" means all surface within 30 yards of the hole, except hazards.

Thus, a ball may be on a putting surface, and not be on a putting green, if it is more than 20 yards from the hole.

Rule Strict

An odd little construction might intervene here, on the "putting green"—that is within 20 yards and just so the loose impediment is itself not more than 20 yards from the hole.

But when the ball lies more than 20 yards from the hole, even on a putting surface, loose obstacles may NOT be picked up at a distance of more than a club-length of the ball, until the player comes within range of the 20-yard-from-the-hole regulation.

I saw George Dunlap, well known in Pampa competitions and at Pinehurst, in a match in the North and South amateur at Pinehurst, absent-mindedly walk along looking at the turf between his ball and the green, which was a short pitch away, and pick up some loose pieces of paper scattered on the turf some rods in front of his ball.

The referee very kindly but firmly called George's attention to the circumstance, and told him he had lost the hole, to which he agreed promptly.

Just A Spider

And you may have heard of the adventure of Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, in a match in the women's national championship at Virginia Hot Springs in 1928—how she asked the referee, Mr. Ganson Depew, what could be done about a large spider in the line of her putt.

"It must be lifted," he told her. "But I don't want to lift it," objected Mrs. Hurd. "It looks as if it's dead, but I'm not sure."

And the gallant Mr. Depew himself lifted the spider, which really was very dead, and put it in his pocket, to save, he told me, for the archives.

The player now could remove the spider with the putter.

"We do progress, in a way."

AGED GERMS ARE BLAMED FOR DEATH

Can germs survive 240 years and still be fatal, is a question being debated by European scientists following the death of Philip Kurmyave, a stonemason, at Kesmark, Hungary. While making repairs and alterations in the ancient Roman Catholic church at Kesmark, Kurmyave opened a tomb in which a mother and her four-year-old child had been buried 240 years ago. Shortly after he had completed his work the man was taken violently ill and died the following day.

The attending doctor declared that death was from infection. As the mother and child are believed to have died from an infectious disease, some doctors are suggesting that the germs transformed themselves into spore, survived the tomb for nearly two and one-half centuries, and were absorbed into the system of the stonemason.

MARY HAS COLD

AUSTIN, Nov. 6. (AP)—Mary Garden, ill with a cold, has gone to Chicago, where she will rest several days. She sang here last night "under great difficulty," she said. She cancelled a concert booked for Abilene.

Miss Garden said she contracted the cold in Wichita Falls. Warm weather in this section aggravated her illness, she said.

TEACHERS GENEROUS

DALHART, Nov. 6. (AP)—Members of the Dalhart public school faculty have volunteered to donate a month of their pay, if necessary, in order that the school district may have a full term of nine months.

Hawk Would Merge Fair and Centennial

AMARILLO, Nov. 6. (AP)—A movement to consolidate the Golden Jubilee celebration of the State Fair of Texas and the Centennial Anniversary of the Independence of Texas as at Dallas in 1936 will be endorsed by Wilbur C. Hawk, president of the Tri-State fair, in a story appearing today in the Amarillo News.

"Since the State Fair of Texas has an adequate plant and 180 acres of grounds, properly functioning administrative machinery, plenty of transportation facilities, it would be an economy to combine the celebrations and hold them in Dallas as the State Fair of Texas and the Texas Centennial," Hawk said.

"Dallas also is centrally located and has ample hotel facilities."

Hawk said he believed the people throughout Texas would approve the plan. He is president of the second largest fair in the state.

He suggested that 1936 be set aside by Texas people to see Texas, including the Golden Jubilee and Centennial.

BATTLES OPEN HUNT SEASON

Free fights marked the opening of the stag-hunt season in England this year. They were the result of demonstrations by members of the league for the prohibition of cruel sports, who have condemned all hunting of animals with the aid of dogs as not being humane. One of the fiercest battles was at Exmoor stadium, she works in her three-room cottage so close to the stadium that she can almost see to do her work by the powerful flood lights.

Miss Crouch attends classes most of the day. It also requires a lot of time to solicit laundry work and to make deliveries. Consequently, it is necessary that most of her work be done at night. Her work, especially the ironing, must be done with meticulous care, for she has the big laundries in Amarillo, 18 miles away, to compete with, and she must give satisfaction to keep her customers.

"The biggest problem I face is that of getting a fair price for my work," she said. "People simply will not pay an individual as much as they pay the laundries."

Some of the faculty members and students send their work to Miss Crouch, and she does the linens for one of the girls' dormitories. She made $7 the first week but is trying to increase her income.

"It's hard, but I'm going to stay," she said.

DOG IS SECURITY

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Nov. 6. (AP)—A hunting dog has a recognized value in the Ozarks, even in police court.

Love's Young Dream Is Rudely Shattered

SCARSDALE, N. Y., Nov. 6. (AP)—A lad accused of being an unwelcome Romeo who bunked in the cellar of the home of the girl of his dreams was haled into court today by an angry father, Aaron Sapiro, Sapiro, the lawyer who once sued Henry Ford for a million dollars, charged the young man with unlawful entry. He said he didn't know much about the youth, who described himself as George Russell, 24, except that he was an acquaintance of his 17-year-old daughter.

Judge Carter continued the case. In 1927 Sapiro sued Ford for alleged libel against the Jewish race but the suit was settled out of court when Ford made public retraction of statements in the Dearborn Independent.

BIG BLAST FOR SCOTLAND

Scotland is awaiting the report of the biggest blast ever set off in that country. Preparations for the explosion are being made at quarries near Oban. The powder shaft, sunk into the mountainside on the northern shores of Loch Etive, is now completed. This shaft has taken more than a year to construct and contains more than 10 tons of explosives—sufficient to dislodge over half a million tons of granite, which will keep the 300 employees busy for two years. The top of the shaft is more than 500 feet up the quarry face, and its charging was a highly dangerous operation, each portion of explosive having to be carried by the workers over steep grades. The quarries are at present working night and day to supply granite chips for road construction in all parts of the country.

SANTA FE, N. M., Nov. 6. (AP)— Federal charges of a conspiracy to violate the federal anti-lottery laws in connection with the Saratoga sweepstakes case brought two pleas of guilty and one of not guilty before Federal Judge Colin Neblett today. Twenty men had previously been indicted by a federal grand jury.

Electricity Taken Out of Atmosphere

NEW YORK, Nov. 6. (AP)—A revolutionary electrical discovery announced as promising sufficient power to realize the theorist's dream of commercial transmission of the elements has been made public by the American Institute of Physics.

With apparatus costing only $90 this discovery produces 1,500,000 volts of the same kind of electricity as lightning. It will be built up to 15,000,000 to 20,000,000 volts immediately and has ultimate possibilities of a 50,000,000 volt energy.

The discovery is an idea of a young scientist, R. J. Van De Graaf, who was graduated from the University of Alabama in 1922. He conceived it while working as a national research fellow at Oxford university, England. With aid of a national research council fellowship, he continued this work at Princeton and there recently obtained proof of its practicability.

A 56-year-old New York beggar, after twice being imprisoned, admitted he begged to get money to play the lotteries.

The police department of Peabody, Mass., is supplying rifles and ammunition to anyone wishing to park in secluded parts of Peabody at night.

"No Harsh Irritants for Lupe I'm a LUCKY fan"

"No harsh irritants for Lupe. I'm a Lucky fan. There's no question about it—Luckies are certainly kind to my throat. And hurrah for that improved Cellophane wrapper of yours—it really opens without a tug-o-war—thanks to that tab."

Lupe Velez

What a grand addition to Hollywood and the screen is Lupe Velez, the wittiest and liveliest little Mexican beauty who ever hopped the Rio Grande. Hollywood adores her. She will cavort for us next in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's fine picture, "The Cuban Love Song."

Made of the finest tobaccos—
The Cream of many Crops—LUCKY STRIKE
alone offers the throat protection of the exclusive "TOASTING" Process which includes the use of modern Ultra Violet Rays—the process that expels certain harsh, biting irritants naturally present in every tobacco leaf. These expelled irritants are not present in your LUCKY STRIKE. "They're out—so they can't be in!" No wonder LUCKIES are always kind to your throat.
