

OHIO GOVERNOR ALLOWS MILLS TO REOPEN

FOUR CONVICTS NEAR CAPTURE, OFFICERS SAY

THREE TAKEN, LEAVING ONLY 10 NOW AT LARGE

HUNTSVILLE, June 25 (AP)—Three more of the 19 convicts who fled on muleback from the Eastham prison farm Tuesday have been recaptured, the state prison system was informed today, and four others were believed surrounded after kidnaping a young couple.

The triple capture brought to ten the number of incorrigible inmates whose freedom was cut short by poses and bloodhounds. Near Glen Rose, officers from several counties believed they soon would nab the four men, one believed to be Harry Roberts, robber from Throckmorton county, who kidnaped and released without harm Harold David, 23, and Mildred Nearing, 18.

The couple was kidnaped at Corrigan, where they had gone to attend a movie, and after riding most of the night in David's automobile with the four convicts, were released four miles west of Covington.

The captured convicts were Clyde Brown, 26, serving ten years for theft from Rusk county; Aaron Burleson, 28, of San Antonio, serving 7 1/2 years for robbery, and Jack Sanders, 31-year-old Dallasite serving 20 years for robbery.

Brown was caught by two business men at Lovelady as he tried to board a train and the others were arrested by the sheriff of Centerville. Warden W. W. Wald of the state prison here went to Centerville today to return them.

The four kidnapers, David said, tied up a nightwatchman and mechanic at Covington and stole another automobile, which they wrecked during their night of eluding pursuers.

At Covington they forced Jim Holloway, night watchman, to go to the home of J. A. McNally, mechanic, and force the latter to open a garage. They took an automobile belonging to M. T. Davis, bank president.

One of the convicts got into the Davis car with the two kidnap victims. The machine was wrecked four miles west of Covington and the couple hitch-hiked back to town. The fugitives continued their flight in David's car.

The girl said "I thought it was a trick when the four men came up and one of them said 'stick 'em up.' I thought they would take the car and let us go but they didn't."

"I was scared to death. They drove all night and once they ate some groceries they had. They offered Harold and me some but we didn't have any appetite. "I'm still scared."

Prisoner Kills County Doctor At Plainview

Ginger Girl Quiets Down

Much of the ginger has been taken out of pretty 22-year-old Ginger Baker in the Gray county jail today and she had decided to quiet down. Miss Baker is the Newark, Ohio, girl who put new life into the jail following her arrest Thursday night on a downtown street.

A few hours in the "dark cell," the cell where unruly prisoners are put to think matters over, convinced Miss Baker that discretion is the better part of valor.

However, it was not until she had broken up most of her cell furnishings and won for herself a fine of $100 and costs, that Miss Baker finally was subdued.

She and her girl friend, Miss Anne Sxx, also 22, and from Columbus, Ohio, still were in jail this afternoon, their fines unpaid.

FRENCH, BRITISH SHIPS ALSO TO PATROL SPAIN

Great Britain and France have decided to fill the gap left in the "hands of Spain" sea patrol by the withdrawal of German and Italy with their own warships, it was learned tonight.

They did not wait for Italo-German approval. This decision came after a tumultuous House of Commons debate. Liberal and labor opposition strenuously protested the neutrality plan was a "farce" and should be scrapped.

In Rome, Virginia Gayda, the writer who often acts as Benito Mussolini's mouthpiece, told Italians to "be calm!" Gayda predicted nothing "dramatic" would happen in the Spanish situation unless "new and intolerable complications ensue."

While Germany was reported insisting that the International non-intervention committee prevent foreign arms and volunteers reaching Spanish government forces, Eden told the House of Commons that Soviet Russia, as well as Germany and Italy, had sent "very large" arms shipments into Spain.

At Valencia, seat of the Spanish central government, two Americans who had been detained during an espionage roundup were released, but four others were held for questioning.

ALLRED MAY BE CANDIDATE FOR 3RD TERM

GOVERNOR DELUGED BY LETTERS, CLAIMS SECRETARY

AUSTIN, June 25 (AP)—Possibility that Governor James V. Allred might shatter precedent in Texas and stand for a third term aroused considerable speculation here today.

Secretary of State Edward Clark, close friend of the governor, said the latter was being deluged with letters urging him to seek another term and that while Allred had no definite plans as yet for the future he would "be responsive to wishes of the people."

"Many of the governor's close friends think that he should carry his program to a successful conclusion," Clark said. "If he served another term, he would have opportunity to work a solution to the financial problems of the state."

Recently former Governor James E. Ferguson, in announcing that his wife, former Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, had no desire again to seek the governorship, commented there was talk that Governor Allred would stand for a third term.

Mr. Ferguson did not say, however, that Mrs. Ferguson would not run again. In effect, he said that she did not want the office, unless there should be widespread did not believe such demand would arise, although she was receiving thousands of letters urging her to become a candidate.

Others who have been mentioned as possible candidates include Attorney General William McCraw, Ernest O. Thompson, member of the railroad commission, and R. L. Bobbitt, chairman of the highway commission.

GERALD MANN CALLS FOR WAGE-HOUR LAW

HOUSTON, June 25 (AP)—Gerald C. Mann, former secretary of state of Texas, called today for a state minimum wage and maximum hour law for correction of undesirable conditions "by appeal to constituted authority."

He pleaded before the Young Democrats of Texas, meeting in convention here, for fair play toward capital and labor but warned against appeal to violence, intimidation and mob spirit. "It is un-American and unbecoming to the true spirit of American labor," he said.

He lauded the Democratic party as "the friend of the man who toils for his daily bread," and said that its obligation was "to see that justice prevails among all men."

AGED MOTHER OF FOUR PAMPANS DIES IN OHIO

SENTENCED TO LIFE

HUNTSVILLE, June 25 (AP)—Homer Jack Turney, 26, Houston convict, faced a life sentence in prison today for stabbing to death Alto Crowson a fellow-prisoner, in a penitentiary movie chapel last May. A jury found him guilty last night of driving a knife into Crowson's neck as the China Grove convict watched a moving picture. Turney said the life sentence did not worry him.

He pleaded before the Young Democrats of Texas, meeting in convention here, for fair play toward capital and labor but warned against appeal to violence, intimidation and mob spirit. "It is un-American and unbecoming to the true spirit of American labor," he said.

He lauded the Democratic party as "the friend of the man who toils for his daily bread," and said that its obligation was "to see that justice prevails among all men."

All labor entitled to a living wage, he said, "a day short enough to guarantee to him time enough to enjoy his own friends and proper working conditions. Capital is entitled to be secure in the ownership and control of its property."

NEW YORK, June 25 (AP)—Sounding a warning note with respect to over-production, "The Lamp," official Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey publication, indicated that gasoline consumption this year will show a gain of about 10 per cent over last year while crude oil and product consumption will be up 9 per cent.

Dust Storms Turned Dust Bowl Into Desert 20,000 Years Ago, Says Geologist

DENVER, June 25 (AP)—Geological records of the past 50,000 years tell what must be done if the midwest dustbowl does not want to return to the desert it once was.

These records were given to the American Association for the Advancement of Science today by Dr. M. M. Leighton, chief of the Illinois State Geological Survey, Urbana.

This "bowl" was a geological maelstrom up to about 20,000 years ago. Since then it has settled down to a pastoral sort of peace, never really threatened with interruption until man started to settle it.

Before the peaceful period there were dust storms so terrific that they deposited in Nebraska 42,000 square miles of the present soil, to a depth of scores of feet. This deposit extends into northern Kansas.

Bybee And 2 Fugitives Believed Seen In Pampa

BRITAIN URGED TO 'KEEP COOL'

Britain's Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain promised the house of commons today he would do everything in his power to keep the Spanish civil war from bursting into a general conflict.

He urged Great Britain to "keep cool." He advocated renewed efforts to withdraw all foreign fighters from Spain and filling in of the gap in the neutrality patrol of Spanish shores that resulted from German and Italian withdrawal.

White Chamberlain opened a common debate, German and Italian warships were strung along Britain's "empire line" in the Mediterranean, near Spain's bloody shores.

The sea power of Britain and France was well represented there, too. France and Great Britain urged Germany and Italy to approve their proposal that Anglo-French warships take over the portion of the international patrol which Germany and Italy abandoned. That portion lies on the east, or Spanish government, coast of Spain.

Future Italian cooperation in the patrol was said in Rome to depend on Franco-British collaboration in presenting a firm front against "Bolshevism."

In Italian political quarters there were fears that some new incident might force Italy and Germany to withdraw from the European non-intervention committee as well as the patrol.

Insurgents within the peninsula continued their advance on the northern Spanish civil war front. They swept government forces from the industrial region along the west bank of the Nervion river, west of insurgent-conquered Bilbao.

LONDON, June 25 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden stepped into bitter commons debate over the Spanish crisis today to declare that Soviet Russia, as well as Germany and Italy, had sent "very large" shipments of arms in Spain.

He duelled verbally with white-maned David Lloyd George, who guided British destinies in the world war.

Eden joined the present premier, Neville Chamberlain, in urging a "keep cool" attitude toward Italy. Germany withdrew from the Spanish neutrality patrol.

King Peter Shows Mates He's a Good Scout

Being a modern king saves 13-year-old Peter II of Yugoslavia from the role of poor little rich boy who can't play with the gang. Though he's their ruler, the fellows at the Boy Scout camp on the grounds of the royal summer residence at Lake Bled have initiated him into the democracy of the boys' world. At left, King Peter happily submits to the ritual of having water poured down his back before a swim. And at right there is graphic evidence of his excitement over the good-fellowship of a water fight (he's the right-most lad in the group)—he forgot to remove his wrist watch before plunging into the water.

BOARD FAILS IN EFFORT TO SETTLE STRIKE

NEW VIOLENCE FEARED AS CALL TO WORK IS ISSUED

(By The Associated Press) YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 25 (AP)—A "back-to-work" call to 10,000 workers in Youngstown Sheet and Tube's huge Campbell plant was sounded today by W. B. Gillies, vice president of the company, as dynamite explosions boomed a prelude to the reopening of strike-locked Mahoning valley steel mills.

The steel executive announced the "go ahead" move after a conference with civil authorities and national guard officers, mapping strategy to carry out Governor Martin L. Davey's order for military protection for men who return to their jobs.

As maintenance crews stoked the great open-hearth fires, ready to start the industrial wheels rolling once more, President Roosevelt's federal mediators in Cleveland conferred by telephone with Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins in Washington, D. C.

They decided to remain on the job at least until they hear from Bethlehem and Inland Steel Corporations concerning a proposal made last night for a "man-to-man" peace conference with John L. Lewis' CIO.

Republic Steel and the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co., the other two strike-affected concerns in the seven-state labor deadlock, rejected the proposal.

Regional leaders of the Committee for Industrial Organization at Cincinnati, Ohio, sent an appeal today to each of the general city CIO organizations to send a delegation of between 50 and 100 members to Columbus tomorrow to protest to Governor Davey against the use of national guardmen to reopen steel plants in northern Ohio.

Telegrams of protest were sent to President Roosevelt, Secretary Perkins and other officials. Fred Foss, assistant to Regional Director Paul W. Fuller, estimated 2,000 delegates for Cincinnati would go to Columbus Saturday. He said no effort at a mass march upon the governor's office would be attempted.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 25.—Dynamite blasts boomed an overture to a back-to-work movement in the strike-locked steel mills of the Mahoning valley today as Governor Martin L. Davey, of Ohio, announced the plants could resume operations under national guard protection.

In Cleveland, members of President Roosevelt's mediation board planned to leave for their homes tonight after an unsuccessful attempt to settle the strike, which has made 100,000 idle in seven states, with an appeal for a "man-to-man" conference.

Miners' pickets peacefully strode up and down at entrances to Bethlehem Steel's Cambria works in Johnstown, Pa.

POISON YOUR GRASSHOPPERS, URGES MAYOR

ANTI-BETTING BILLS SENT TO GOV. ALLRED

Residents of Pampa today were asked to start a relentless war on grasshoppers and to assist them. Mayor W. A. Bratton has asked Ralph Thomas county agent to mix a quantity of government approved poison which will be available at the vocational agricultural building on the high school campus beginning this afternoon.

For a few cents, residents will be able to buy enough of the poison to spot lawn and garden. "If everyone will cooperate and use the poison, we will soon rid the city of the pests," Mayor Bratton said. "Prof. J. L. Lester will be in his office and will handle the sale of the poison. Citizens should take their own containers."

C. B. Gable of College Station, assistant to the state leader of grasshopper control, was a visitor in Pampa today. He accompanied Mr. Thomas on a visit to several sections of the county.

He had been serving a long term in the penitentiary for robbery. Leader of last Tuesday's break, Bybee is considered to be one of the most dangerous and hardened of criminals.

Reported Near Tyler Associated Press reports today indicated that Huntsville prison authorities, up to the time of the Pampa report, had suspected that Bybee was hiding somewhere near Tyler.

Sheriff Talley communicated with the Huntsville warden early today and told him about the local tip. The warden stated that the descriptions of the three men reported here tallied to the smallest detail with three of the escaped convicts.

Seven of the 19 convicts who made the break Tuesday have been recaptured, and today airplanes, bloodhounds and an army of civilians and officers were combined in a hunt for the 12 still at large.

LIVE COALS CAUSE Garbage Truck Fire

Live coals dumped from a trash barrel this morning badly damaged a truck hauling garbage to the dump ground. Contents of the truck caught fire while it was being driven on East Brown avenue and the fire department was called to extinguish the blaze.

The fire had spread through the contents and was eating into the truck bed when firemen arrived. Water from the booster tank on one of the large trucks soon had the fire under control.

Fire Chief Ben White again issued a warning to Pampans not to burn trash in barrels. The practice endangers surrounding property, he declared. Several fires in the city have been caused by sparks from burning trash.

MODERN MENUS

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX

Ripeness in a melon is no test of its flavor. How did it ripen? Answer that and you can tell in advance how it will taste. Ripening on healthy vines is the secret of well-flavored melons. And the best way for you to tell if a melon has ripened on the vine is to examine the stem scar.

If the scar is smooth, clean and cuplike, it means that the melon was picked at "full-slip," or when ripe enough for the fruit to separate easily from the stem. A melon picked at "half-slip"—or at a less ripe stage—will have some of the stem adhering. If there is a little secretion of sugar around the stem scar it is a safe indication that the melon is sweet enough for your table.

Which Melons Are Which?
Do you know your melons? They rate careful study, particularly from June on, when the market is full of them. Americans eat many melons. Cantaloupe which are really muskmelons. A cantaloupe is really one kind of a muskmelon. Other muskmelons are honeydews, casaba, Persian.

The honeyball, recently grown more popular with American families, is a cross between a Texas cantaloupe and honeydew. It is round, and its flesh is thick and green in color. Your melon season will last well into October, so plan to use as many of these blessings to hungry men as your inventive stem for menu making can accommodate.

Melons of almost any type have a chummy way with cottage cheese. Cut the melons in half and scoop out centers. Mix cottage cheese with tender chives, chopped, and place the cheese in center of the cold, but not overchilled, melon. Makes an ideal summer luncheon dish.

Honeydew served in gleaming crescents with sections of vivid green lime alongside make a cooling and as welcome a summer dessert as any epicure could wish for. They are equally delicious for breakfast.

Cantaloupe Salads
Lay the strips on lettuce leaves and serve with a French dressing made of olive oil and pepper. There are many varieties of melon salads, ice creams, etc., but a melon is usually able to stand by itself and as a general rule is far better for the most part as melons, not as something else to put in a fruit cup. Given a chance, they can reveal flavor and zest all their own.

MANY RELICS WILL BE DISPLAYED AT DALHART

DALHART, June 25—The key to the first jail in Old Tascosa, famous place of bow-legged men, well-oiled guns and itching trigger fingers, will be one of the many interesting exhibits in the Old Relic and Photo Hall, planned especially for the western pioneers and the eastern visitors who will attend the second annual XIT Ranch Reunion to be held in Dalhart, August 9-10. Billy the Kid frequented Old Tascosa. Dick Chamberlain, Dalhart, owns it as well as a pair of hickory stirrups in which the booted feet of the noted Col. Charles Goodnight when in 1875 he was catching, with a branding iron and drift fences, his colorful story into the history of the Texans Panhandle.

The Old Relic and Photo Hall will be designed so the XIT and other pioneer cowpokes can sit, as around a campfire, and discuss the days of the free range, rustlers, dogies and cattle brands, said Eck Brown, general chairman of the XIT Reunion committee.

COMPROMISE VICTORY CLAIMED BY ROOSEVELT

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—Administration leaders flatly claimed enough Senate votes today to approve a compromise on the Roosevelt court bill.

Opposition leaders, however, said they would permit none of the compromises now being discussed to come to a vote, and claimed a good chance to sidetrack the entire issue.

Administration leaders said they had a minimum of 54 votes lined up for a compromise authorizing the President to appoint new justices to the Supreme Court at the rate of one a year for each incumbent over 75 years of age.

They conceded they would face a filibuster but claimed strength to break it.

Private conversations of leaders on both sides indicated the first test would come on a motion to postpone consideration indefinitely or return the bill to the judiciary committee.

Administration forces said they could defeat such a motion. Opposition leaders said the result would be exceedingly close and no one could forecast the outcome.

A team of horses owned by John S. Wood of Crozet, Va., died at the same time—one reared up and fell dead on the other which was killed by the fall.

LABOR CHIEFS BRING CHARGES BEFORE NLRB

FORT WORTH, June 25 (AP)—The wave of bitter labor strife in the east and Midwest has its smaller counterparts in Houston, Dallas and Fort Worth today.

Labor leaders here and in Houston had moved to bring their cases against employers before the National Labor Relations Board and in Dallas two committees for Industrial Organization men said they were prepared to begin organizing workers at a Ford plant there.

The second day of strife in the strike at the Lone Star Gas Co. sent three emergency workers to hospitals for injuries they blamed on strikers. Five attacks were reported during the day and 12 assault charges were filed against strikers.

In New York Albert Sidney Johnston, Texas Public Safety Commission chief, announced Rangers would not be removed from the plant as long as "police fail to keep order."

The CIO in Houston filed charges of intimidation and coercion of employees against the Texas Refinery at Galena, taking their complaints before Dr. Edwin A. Elliott of the NLRB.

The CIO organizers in Dallas announced their intention of unionizing the Ford workers a day after they engaged in a fracas with Ford employees.

YOUR CHILDREN

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON Do not laugh at the wisdom of babes, or the funny words they use. When one of them says, "It's a perfectly dangerous day," meaning, "It's a gorgeous, merely look impressed, and agree that it is certainly fine weather."

Soon enough, they will learn the right words in the right place, but to smile, repeat or criticize will make them shy and afraid.

We have a small visitor of three she delights me beyond words. Today in the bathroom, she has splashed water everywhere with two blue glasses and a well-filled bowl.

"I'm wetting the bunnies," she said sternly, fixing me with grey blue eyes. "They pop right up and bite the kids." I never heard her say "kids" before.

Words Splendidly Fresh In a minute she had followed me to my room to watch me dress. "What's that?" she demanded, pointing to a mark on my arm.

"I think it's a mosquito bite," I suggested. "Well, she said, 'you have to hoo! them off or they'll buzz you.' And she made a swooping motion with her little fat hand."

"Hook 'em off." Superb. I thought her words exactly right. And her "buzz" was rather good, too.

Almost in the same breath, and apropos of nothing, she planted her feet before me, hands behind back and said earnestly, "You're a nice one. You're nice, yes." And then she turned without taking a breath and said, "Where'd you get that?" meaning electric fan on a table.

Her mind jumps from this to that faster than one can easily follow, but she knows just what she is saying. And not for worlds would I discourage that happy prattle and the adventure into words. She is one of three grandchildren who are my dearest and loveliest friends.

They are all here, little steps of humanity, in dots of suits and dresses against the heat.

Creation One, at the moment, is drawing on the floor beside me. He is five. I am watching him from the corner of my eye. His hair for form is amazing. He is not copying, but drawing and coloring a tree. Now the red goes on in dots. Oh, a Christmas tree. And if you could see it, it might astonish you. As symmetrical as a clock. This morning he drew a steam shovel to the life.

His big interest is to make or draw things. We'll remember that, as early traits are important and can so easily be lost sight of through the years.

Then, there is the baby, who trots around imitating the others. Yet she has her own ideas, too. I made them all crowns yesterday, but although the others wore their proudly, she lifted hers off her curls, and put it on "Mister," the black dog.

We laugh with them, never at them. They know the difference, be sure of that, regardless of age.

REICH SENDS CHINA FAST TORPEDO BOATS SHANGHAI (AP)—German-built speedboats equipped with two torpedo tubes and capable of a speed of 45 miles an hour are the latest acquisitions of the Chinese government.

Two of the craft have been delivered here and it is understood eight more are to follow.

It is reported that the deadly craft are to be stationed in the Yangtze river at Chingkiang, not far from the Pacific Ocean. A dozen similar craft, built in Britain, are reported to have arrived up the river.

ALARM CLOCK STOPS TRAFFIC FINES ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP)—A businessman here uses an alarm clock in his store to avoid paying traffic fines.

He sets the alarm hourly, just five minutes before it's time to move his car from a restricted parking area. After paying $4 in parking fines he decided it was cheaper to buy an alarm clock.

STORIES IN STAMPS BY I. S. KLEIN WON FRIENDSHIP OF INDIANS

ONLY 40 of the original settlers at "amestown, in 1607, remained by the end of that year, and those suffered from disease and starvation. Among them was Capt. John Smith, soldier of fortune and bold adventurer. Determined to save the colony, Smith visited the hostile Indians and gained their friendship, but not before he had been captured and saved from death by Pocahontas, daughter of the Indian chief, Powhatan. He brought back corn for the white settlers, and increased their farm land.

Additional colonists came and, in two years, Jamestown had a population of 500. Smith was its governor, but late in 1609, he returned to England. In 1614 he led another band of colonists to America, explored the coast of New England, and was about to settle there when a French warship took him and his followers prisoner. He died in 1631, at the age of 51 years.

His portrait appears on the one-cent stamp of the three issued in 1907 on the tercentenary of the founding of Jamestown. (Copyright, 1937, NEA Service, Inc.)

As Soviet Flyers Ended Flight From Russia

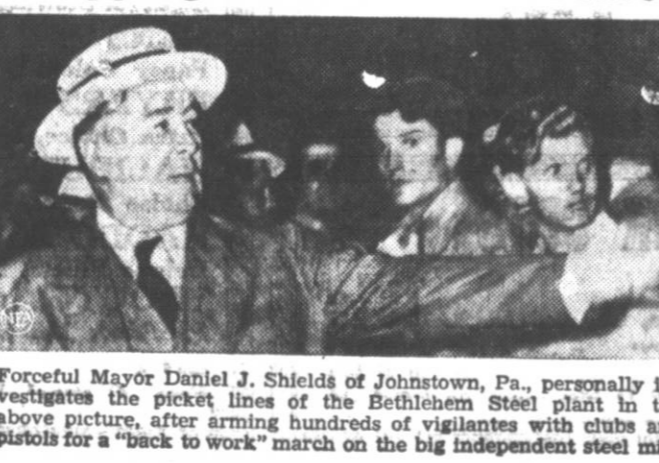

Dropping out of the skies in their ultra-streamlined "glider type" plane, pictured in upper photo at its landing, after a history-making non-stop flight of more than 5000 miles, three Russian flyers are shown in lower photo as they stepped from their craft in Vancouver, Wash., 63 hours and 17 minutes after the takeoff in Moscow. These pictures were flown to San Francisco and from there transmitted by Acme telephoto. Bad weather forced the flyers to land short of their goal, San Francisco. From left to right, they are: Co-pilot G. P. Baldukov, Pilot Valeri Chkalov and Navigator A. V. Bolechov.

Tax 'Avoiders' Named by Irey

Stressing the fact that they were only "avoiding" taxes (and not illegally) by forming dummy foreign corporations, smiling Elmer L. Irey, right, intelligence unit chief of the Internal Revenue Bureau, named several wealthy men investigated by his office, as the congressional probe started. Among them were the four pictured here: Charles Laughton, upper left, film star; Jules S. Bache, upper right, New York banker; Wallace Groves, lower left, chain store operator; and Jacob Schick, razor magnate.

FOR AND 350 GUESTS GET TOGETHER ON ISLE

ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 25 (AP)—Informal "harmony" talks between President Roosevelt and Democratic congressmen, beginning today on pine covered Jefferson Island, may have an important bearing on many administration proposals. Although party leaders in charge of the week-end meetings at a two-story fishing lodge insisted they were primarily social, some of the 350 guests said these subjects might be disclosed: 1. Compromise on the Roosevelt court bill which the Senate will take up next week. 2. The date of adjournment of congress, forecast by many members as late August. 3. Details of the wage-hour, government reorganization, housing, farm, and other administration bills.

Mr. Roosevelt crushed down Chesapeake bay last night to be at the island this morning to welcome the first contingent of visitors.

CLIVE NEAR DEATH. HOLLYWOOD, Calif., June 25 (AP)—Clive Clive, English stage and screen actor, was near death today from a pulmonary and intestinal ailment. Attaches of the Cedars of Lebanon hospital said he was getting steadily weaker.

BROCKELHURST CONDEMNED TO DIE BY JURY

LONOKE, Ark., June 25 (AP)—The state called Bernice Felton to trial on a murder charge today, demanding that the 18-year-old girl be condemned to death as was her sweetheart, Lester Brockelhurst.

He was convicted for the killing of Victor Gates of Little Rock during a "crime tour" with Bernice last spring.

Early today the slim young woman remained outwardly calm, even in the face of Prosecutor Geo. Hartje's declaration "I shall leave no stone unturned in demanding the same penalty for her."

The Felton girl's attorney entered an outright plea of innocence for her. Brockelhurst had entered a plea of insanity.

The Brockelhurst jury deliberated only 22 minutes before giving the extreme penalty.

Climaxing an eight-hour trial, the execution verdict swept the crowded court room into an emotional uproar set off by collapse of the convicted man. A few minutes after the prisoner was carried unconscious to his cell, his father, L. W. Brockelhurst Sr., also collapsed.

Mrs. L. W. Brockelhurst, wife and mother, sobbed loudly, then said: "I've got to bear up, both my boy and my husband need me."

The state built its case around the testimony of New York State Trooper Joseph Hunt and Sheriff Troy Carroll of Lonoke.

Hunt told of arresting Brockelhurst and the girl at Brewster, N. Y., May 13 on a traffic charge. He said the man confessed voluntarily to killing Gates near here, Jack Griffith at Fort Worth, Texas, and Albin Theander at Rockford, Ill., during a two months aimless hitchhike tour.

Sheriff Carroll testified that Brockelhurst admitted he killed Gates after the elderly business man had given them a ride from Little Rock.

Travel by dog team is still the prevailing method of transportation in Alaska.

Probers Argue Over Calling James Farley

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—Members of a Senate committee investigating the steel strikes argued among themselves today whether Postmaster General Farley should be summoned to testify.

Senator Bridges (R., N. H.) said he would repeat his demand for Farley's appearance, despite indications that administration supporters would back Chairman McKellar (D., Tenn.) in insisting that Bridges first say what he wants to ask the postmaster general.

The argument over calling Farley arose after W. W. Hoves, assistant postmaster general, said Farley had had little or nothing to do with the immediate strike-mitigating policy.

Chairman Tom Girdler of Republican Steel, testifying yesterday, called John L. Lewis' Committee for Industrial Organization an "irresponsible, racketeering, violent, communistic body." He said he would not sign an agreement with the CIO unless compelled to do so by law.

Captain James L. Mooney of the Chicago police, describing the May 30 riot in which ten persons in a crowd of strike sympathizers were fatally injured, told the committee that police were forced to shoot.

"We had to do what we did and we did it," he said, "I don't care if there were people killed. If we hadn't done what we did there'd have been more."

One policeman's affidavit asserted shots were fired first from the pickets' ranks, but Mooney testified he "couldn't" say.

TAX AGENTS QUIT FOR PRIVATE CASES, SAYS CHAIRMAN DOUGHTON

WASHINGTON, June 25 (AP)—Chairman Doughton (D., N. C.) of the congressional tax committee said today resignation of internal revenue agents to handle private tax cases was "almost a scandal."

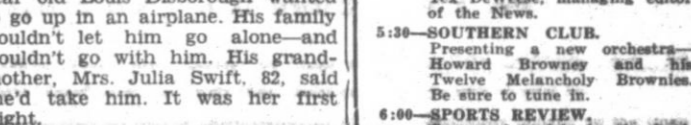

Senator La Follette (Prog. Wis.), calling the turnover of bureau employes "one of the real problems in the struggle of the government to collect taxes," asked for the list yesterday.

Present statutes, Rep. Cooper (D., Tenn.) said, forbid individuals to practice tax law before the treasury within two years after they have given up departmental jobs. But they still can use the knowledge they have gained with the treasury, he added, and let a partner handle actual dealings with the department.

Investigation of tax dodging will resume Tuesday. Explanations will be given of individual cases in which the treasury contends taxes have been reduced through personal holding companies. Helvering named nearly 60 persons yesterday, contending they had used that method. He did not charge it was illegal.

The PAMPA DAILY NEWS

Independent Democratic newspaper, publishing the news fairly and impartially at all times.

VALUE OF NOT HEALING DEMOCRATIC SPLIT

The deserving Democrats who gather with President Roosevelt on Jefferson Island, in Chesapeake Bay, at the end of this month seem fated to do a lot of very pleasant eating.

This serial get-together is commonly spoken of as a love feast, despite the fact that precious little love is involved.

Now every President runs into a certain amount of party dissension in his second term. That is inevitable, from the nature of politics.

But what Mr. Roosevelt and his party leaders are up against is something quite different. It is no mere second-term restlessness.

A good many responsible party leaders do not believe that it ought to go in that direction, and have parted company with him.

Should a breach like that be healed, in the best interests of all concerned? Might we not have a more healthy and responsible political setup in this country if the breach widened.

Mrs. Grover Cleveland received the first parcel post package in the United States, Jamaica officials sent her a feathered fan on adoption of the parcel post treaty with the United States.

A realignment of political parties has been long overdue. For many years the difference between the two parties, as parties, has been less noticeable than the difference between the two wings within the parties.

And so, while it is to be hoped that the Democrats feel well and enjoy themselves, it is quite possible that both the feasters and the country they serve will be in better shape if the expected reconciliation does not take place.

BE WISE—AND LIVE

Independence Day is not far off, and the problem of a safe and sane Fourth is once more up for consideration. But nowadays it is the adult, rather than the child, who needs protection and restraint.

The newspapers of July 5 will most certainly publish a long list of Fourth of July casualties. A distressing number of them will be due to fireworks, in spite of years of safety campaigning.

The roads will be crowded on July 4. If you are going out in your car, take a little extra precaution—and keep your name out of the next day's newspapers.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON.—If what's been going on in Washington leaves you a bit woozy, don't get excited. The mounting temperature here is responsible for much of it.

Most congressmen thought they were going to smoke the pipe of peace at the three-day excursion with the President on Jefferson Island in the Chesapeake. But quite evidently the President had several purposes and peace was only one of them.

Washington right now is stickier than a Brazilian jungle and congressmen would like to be home telling the annual church picnic what a wonderful guy the President is instead of having the President looking down their necks here.

Have you ever been beamed on by the President? A lot of these congressmen have, and it's the experience of a life time.

A congressman who has been beamed upon finds it tough to go back on the hill and smack down one of the President's bills. There was a lot of beaming scheduled for Jefferson Island, the idea being that three days of it in a row would melt a lot of legislative ice.

The trouble for the President was, however, that these congressmen have been beamed on

TEX'S TOPICS

There was much joy in the "fiats" last night, one hears, over the acquittal verdict received by Negro Archie Nelson in his "murder without malice mix-up," just concluded in Gray county district court.

Otis Hendrix, the constable, is a bit unhappy about losing his capable assistant, Deputy W. J. Mannion.

If Russia wants to imitate American efficiency, it might start sending execution announcements by form letter.

The western hemisphere has 17 Spanish speaking nations, all members of the short-wave shouters union on the radio.

A person would have to read about a dozen and a half books every day in order to keep up with those published in the United States alone.

A half ton of coal is required to start a freight train and bring it to running speed.

Should a breach like that be healed, in the best interests of all concerned? Might we not have a more healthy and responsible political setup in this country if the breach widened.

Yesteryear In Pampa

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY A membership drive ended in the American Legion, which had enrolled 200.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY Senator Clint C. Small was a visitor in Pampa and announced his plan for the state to take over county road bond issues.

The grass in Central park had grown high enough to be mowed for the first time.

time and again and some are tanned and toughened, so to speak.

Both Carroll and George White, the producers are reputed broke.

The muddled situation developed here could not be better shown than by the way Senator Robinson, usually the administration spokesman, bucked the idea of an unrestricted appropriation of $1,500,000,000 relief money for the President to distribute.

The President wanted the lump sum with no tags, but Senator Byrnes of South Carolina, who is a leader of the President's "loyal" opposition, asked that the cities and local communities put up 40 per cent of the money for WPA projects, or less if the President found they could not pay so much.

Let Us Consider, For a Moment, the U. S. Public Debt

IF ALL THE TAXPAYERS IN THE COUNTRY WERE STOOD ON END, ENOUGH LOOSE CHANGE WOULD ROLL OUT TO REDUCE THE DEBT A LITTLE.

IF $36,000,000,000 COULD BE GATHERED TOGETHER, PUT INTO ONE BIG BAG, AND PLACED ATOP THE TREASURY BUILDING, MR. MORGENTHAU WOULD BE OVERJOYED.

People You Know

By ARCHER FULLINGIM

Well, the LaNora theater certainly gets its share of the women folks this week. They rushed to see Robert Taylor who is "darling" to many feminine devotees.

There were three young women who saw the picture six times. (They came alone.) There were more young husbands among the men in the house than any other kind of males.

Perhaps thousands of persons with psoriasis during the greatest prevalence of leprosy, from 1000 to 1400 A. D. received the same brutal treatment as did real lepers, who were forced to carry a bell or clapper to warn the healthy from their path.

How's Your Health?

Edited by DR. IAGO GILDSTON for the New York Academy of Medicine

Few diseases have as long a history as psoriasis. This common skin affliction is described in the Egyptian work called the Papyrus Ebers, written about 1500 B. C.

Perhaps thousands of persons with psoriasis during the greatest prevalence of leprosy, from 1000 to 1400 A. D. received the same brutal treatment as did real lepers, who were forced to carry a bell or clapper to warn the healthy from their path.

This, That and Everything

BY WILLIAM HUSLEY CLARK

Some of us are so superstitious that we hesitate to violate even the most far-fetched signs. For example some of us will not begin a task of several days duration on Saturday.

A wild flight of imagination when coupled on some episode of misfortune coincident with ominous occasion creates complications that produce psychic bedlam. It often is the case that regard for these sinister signs proves very fatal.

The man was driving down the highway when suddenly a black cat crossed immediately in front of him. Quick action was required in order to avoid passing over where the cat ran—so without taking time to look for approaching cars, he swerved to the left in time to crash with a passing car.

First Convict Ever To Be Paroled From Alcatraz, A Texan, Depicts Life On 'Rock'

This is the first of four stories on life "inside Alcatraz," related by the first convict ever to be paroled from the federal prison for incurables.

By A. W. "BIGFOOT" DAVIS
(As Told to Douglas Hicks)

I'm the first parolee from Alcatraz, The Rock.

Five months ago they swung open the gates of the great double-tough federal prison in San Francisco Bay and let me go.

Out through the gates which will never swing open for so many of the men who are there.

Away from the most feared, most mysterious, most famous prison in the nation, if not in the world.

Nobody out in the world knows what life is like on The Rock. Rumors, wild and fantastic because facts are not known, go from mouth to mouth.

To spike these stories, to drive away the fog of mystery, I will tell the things I saw and did and heard at Alcatraz.

What Al Capone and Machine Gun Kelly, Alvin Karpis and Harvey Bailey, Doc Barker and George Bates, John Paul Chase and Volney Davis—whom whose names have been black and big across the tops of thousands of newspapers—are doing.

Country Boy From Texas

They called me Bigfoot Davis 12 years ago when I showed up at Port Arthur, Tex., and got a job there. I held seven years steady as oil treater and acid recovery man for an oil company. I'm 34 now.

Before that I was a country boy in a South Texas county, near Houston. I got strong as a bull punching cattle and wrestling sanded rice, and I never turned down a fist fight in my life.

It was Feb. 1, 1934, when three federal narcotic agents arrested me in a Port Arthur doctor's office for delivering a package containing two ounces of heroin. Federal Judge Randolph Brant gave me two years in prison and a $1,000 fine.

I went to Leavenworth, then to a federal honor camp at Kootenai, Idaho, and finally—in leg irons and handcuffs—to Alcatraz with four others.

Too Many Stories

It was the morning of May 31, 1936, when the train stopped at the pier in Oakland. Four men got in our coach, one who played a big part in the picture of my next seven months.

He was Deputy Warden Shuttleworth of Alcatraz, a stocky, round-faced, dark-haired man, always smiling. Sometimes I wondered if he means it. The other three were guards. They took us down to where a 63-foot speedboat, the "McDowell," was waiting at the pier.

As we chugged across the water, and the island got higher and nearer, I felt mighty blue.

I knew I had only a short time "to throw." I could do that much "standing on my head."

But too many stories about how tough Alcatraz was had been going the rounds to make me feel very good. We circled the island and came alongside a pier on the southeast side.

No Greetings On 'Rock'

They marched us out of our cabins, still in leg irons and handcuffs, and into a black truck with solid sides and grilles back doors. It may be 125 yards or 150 yards in a straight line from the pier to the top of The Rock where the prison buildings are. The road zigzags, making it much longer.

I climbed out of the wagon. The prison building has three stories above the surface and one set down into the stone. I guess it's about a block square, built of rough concrete and iron.

I glanced around me. It was 9:30 a. m., but I only saw about 10 inmates out working around the grounds.

The others, I learned later, were in the laundry and other buildings, separate from the main building, but inside the prison stockade or enclosure.

There were no greetings or looks of interest from the other inmates as we climbed out. They flicked us a glance, kept at their work.

Just Keep Quiet

Mighty plain and easy to see were the guards in their steel towers, machine guns, automatic rifles and pistols around and on them.

Our truck backed up to a door at the east side of the main building. We walked straight down a hallway to a dock. Behind it sat Deputy Warden Shuttleworth, who had come from Oakland with us.

He told me I was Number 311. That served for a name for the next seven months and 15 days.

"Be quiet," he told me. Do as you're told and you'll get along.

The guard took me into the bathroom. Off came the cuffs and irons. I took a shower. A doctor examined me.

Then we went into an issue room. They pushed across a counter our clothes, a change of everything. I got long-haired drawers, gray overalls, a blue flannel cap, comfortable tan brogan shoes, a blue coat.

He Never Smiles

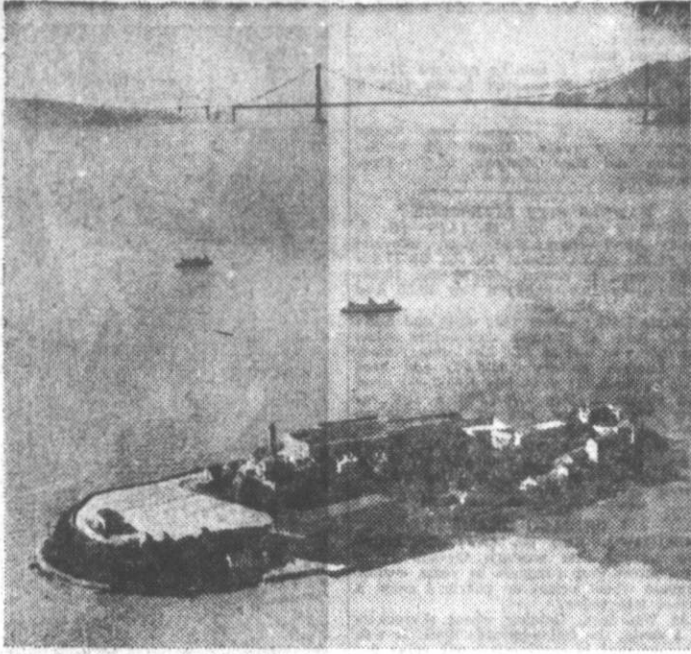

A medium-sized, pleasant-looking man about 60 or 65 was standing in the issue room when we went thru. He was Warden James A. Johnson. I saw him many times later. He doesn't look sour, but I don't think I ever saw him smile.

They took the five of us up the stairs to the cellhouse and assigned us temporary cells on the floor called the "flag." I don't know why they call it that. Our cells were side by side. Mine was No. 322. The door clanged shut behind me. I looked around me.

My new home was 7 1/2 or 8 feet from the cement floor to cement ceiling, from 8 1/2 to 10 feet long, 5 or 6 feet wide. My bed was a steel frame bunk which folded down from the wall and had no springs. A little table with jointed legs could be folded up from the wall. There was a little chair, too.

Cells On 'Broadway'

There were a toilet, a shelf, and a wash basin in the cell.

I was in Alcatraz, the toughest brig in the world.

What would my folks think if they knew I was here? What would people do when I got out and they found I had been to Alcatraz?

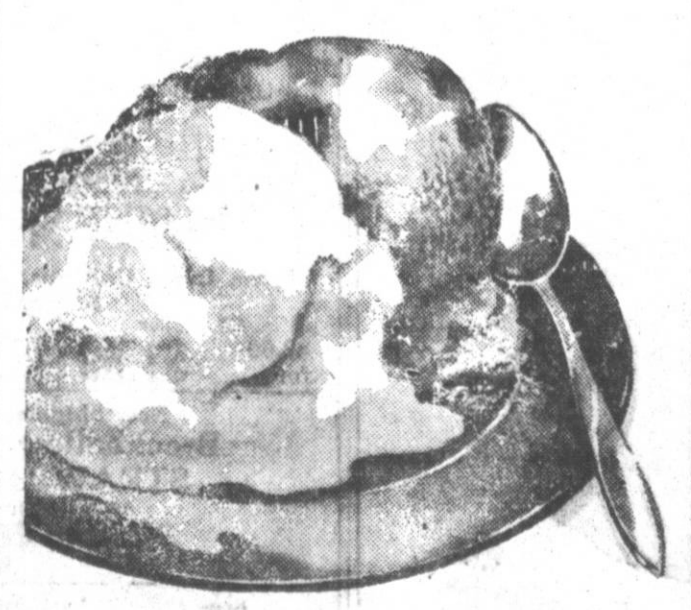

I lay there in my underwear, the blankets protecting me from the chill, on edge and not sleeping much. I could hear men snoring, crying out in their sleep.

PLANES HELP HUNT FOR 12 MISSING CONVICTS

HUNTSVILLE, June 25 (AP)—Airplanes and bloodhounds aided an army of officers and civilians today in a hunt for 12 of 19 toughened convicts who escaped from Eastham prison farm Tuesday.

The hounds followed trails growing colder through the heavily-forested East Texas bottoms and late last night no sign of the missing 12 had been reported.

Two planes took to the skies yesterday in an effort to spot hiding places of the convicts. O. J. S. Ellington, general manager of the prison system, said one ship was privately owned and the other was piloted by a man who recently finished a cotton field dusting job.

Seven of the recaptured prisoners were back into their cells. They included W. C. Gresham, a life-term killer; James Henry Mitchell, under 72-year sentence, who surrendered to two civilians, and five others. The leader of the break, W. H. Bybee, was believed hiding near Tyler.

BRITAIN ALREADY HAS 9 MILLION GAS MASKS

LONDON, June 25 (AP)—The British government is speeding fulfillment of its pledge to provide every man, woman and child in the country with a gas mask in case of war.

Already masks have been manufactured for 9,000,000 of the 45,000,000 people in the British Isles, especially the Irish Free State. That disclosure was made yesterday by Geoffrey Lloyd, under secretary of the home office, in the House of Commons.

The present program calls for the production of 30,000,000 masks to supply immediate protection to inhabitants of the dense industrial districts.

Instructors on 30 trucks, equipped with special gas chambers, will visit towns and villages in every part of the country to test the masks under actual gas conditions and give demonstrations on use of the equipment.

Volunteers will be allowed to enter the gas chambers wearing the masks so the confidence in them may be made general.

Advertisements for a new apartment block in London's fashionable Regents Park district emphasize the buildings have bombproof and gas proof shelters.

YOUNG DEMOS NOT TO DISCUSS COURT REFORM

HOUSTON, June 25 (AP)—Young Democrats of Texas, described by their president as still New Dealers, gathered for the opening of their two-day convention here today.

The Texas club's national committeeman, Earle Mayfield Jr. of Tyler, gave the delegates a cue the contentious subject of the President's court reform should not be brought up for discussion.

"Essentially the Young Democrats are still New Dealers," Mayfield explained. "There is a divergence of opinion on policies, but we believe that the national situation is fairly well taken care of at this time." He said the court reform plan would not receive attention.

"We feel strongly, however, a need for judicial reform in Texas," he added. "We are going to ask that state judges be retired without pay at the age of 60 and that the number of judgeships in Texas be materially increased."

The convention also will ask for closer cooperation and combined federal and state control of labor in regards to strikes, he said.

About 1,000 are expected for the meeting.

NO. 2 (Continued From Page 1)

Many officials mapped re-opening plans at conferences in the strike-affected cities. Steel mills of the Mahoning valley strike-locked for 30 days, were told by Governor Davey they could reopen immediately under the full protection of the national guard.

The famous "status quo," requested by Secretary of Labor Perkins and enforced in Ohio by militia was ended suddenly.

"Men who want to work shall enjoy that privilege," those who wish to continue to strike, "aren't entitled to do so," the governor said in a late night order to the adjutant general.

The governor acted immediately after President Roosevelt's three-man mediation board at Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co. "We cannot, in justice to our employes, sign a contract with CIO."

This was accepted generally as marking the definite collapse of the board's four-day efforts to find a common ground for mediation of the costly strike. The board members themselves were frankly disheartened.

Martial law was being lifted on another tense strike front—Johnstown, Pa., where state police, under orders from Governor Davey, forced closing of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation's Cambria works last Sunday.

Miners' March Expected. Fears were expressed by Johnstown officials of a "march of miners" into town today as a demonstration of miner support for the striking CIO steel men.

Governor Davey's new militia orders were hardly an hour old before dynamite blasts echoed down the strike front at Warren, Ohio, where Republic Steel's plant has been operating throughout the strike.

One explosion occurred near the gates of Republic's open hearth, and police arrested a man on suspicion. The other directed at a car in which national guardsmen were riding.

No one was hurt. The soldiers fired at the car from which the bomb had been thrown, but it disappeared.

Guardsmen at Warren had reported earlier that they had uncovered caches of clubs and iron pipes within 100 yards of the Republic's plant. Under an order, all CIO pickets at Warren were disarmed two days ago.

Federal Bakery trucks with food for workers inside the Republic mills were overturned yesterday, and the company continued to use airplanes to get supplies to the workers.

Opening Takes Time. Guardsmen commented today that several members of CIO are also members of the militia serving on the strike front. One trooper said there were six CIO members in one company of 54 soldiers.

Lifting of martial law at Johnstown did not signal immediate reopening of the Cambria works with a payroll of nearly a million dollars a week.

Company officials pointed out that furnaces were banked when the closing order was issued by the governor and that it would require some time to reheat them and start pig iron and steel ingots moving to the finishing mills.

Talk of the "miners' march" caused Mayor Lynn G. Adams, superintendent of the Pennsylvania state police, to cancel an order which would have seen 200 state highway patrolmen back to their regular posts.

"We have no objection to the miners' coming, as long as they remain orderly," he said.

Ray Thomas, spokesman for the "back-to-work" movement in this area, said the companies probably would insert notices in the newspapers announcing a new opening date. He thought the plants might try to reopen tomorrow or Sunday.

Sheriff Ralph Eider was confident he had adequate men to meet any emergency the reopenings might entail. In addition to 300 special deputies, the militia is charged to lend its full support.

"Our militia," said Governor Davey last night in his letter to the adjutant general, "is to give every assistance to the local authorities to prevent lawlessness of every description as it relates to the strike situation, without which wholesale slaughter is almost inevitable. The rights of all citizens must be protected."

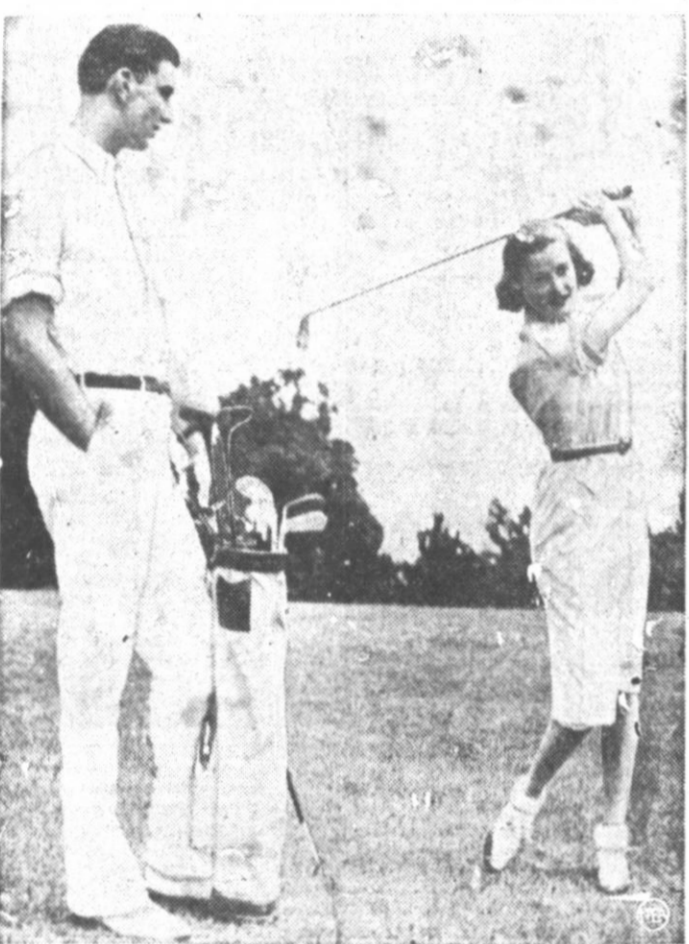

The federal mediators at Cleveland sought as a final truce gesture to induce the four steel companies—Republic, Youngstown Sheet and Tube, Inland Steel and Bethlehem—to agree to secret elections, and if such elections should favor CIO as the bargaining agent, then the companies were to sign contracts with that union.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, June 25 (AP)—Selling in bulls helped steer the stock market off the bullish track today and numerous losses running up to about 3 points were registered in thin trading.

The market reacted to the downside after a previous slow advance had carried into early dealings. Pessimism over rail profits seemed to have been generated chiefly by May earnings figures, indicating net income was lagging behind expansion in gross as result of larger expenditures.

The weekly carding report revealed a moderate gain against seasonal expectation. Santa Fe fell more than 3 points before it braced for a small rebound in late trading. Metal shares suffered from weekly profit-taking while the financial district tried to make out the meaning of latest maneuvers in the steel strikes among the British, European powers interested in the Spanish conflict.

Transfers approximated 600,000 shares. SCIENTISTS SEEK TO KILL SCHOOL GERMS

BOSTON, June 25 (AP)—Harvard scientists turned their eyes toward the nation's school rooms today hoping to rid the air of infection among children.

William F. Wells of the Harvard school of public health disclosed that bacteriology had proved "in semi-enclosed spaces, persons are habitually exchanging germs from each other's noses and throats."

Laboratory work, he said, has demonstrated that an application of the ultra-violet ray, under the right conditions, kills these organisms almost instantaneously.

Officer Irvin has put that many miles on the Harley-Davidson two-cylinder motorcycle since it was purchased on October 29. The machine will still turn up about 100 miles an hour, according to the officer.

TEXAS LEAGUE LEADERS NATIONALIZATION OF OIL INDUSTRY FEARED

DALLAS, June 25 (AP)—William R. Boyd Jr., executive vice president of the American Petroleum Institute, inveighed today against what he termed the growing trend toward nationalization of the oil industry. He said the development of the industry was one of the most successful of modern times and urged a better "understanding of industry" to counteract possible drift toward political control.

The public's free access to use of the nation's oil is the industry's chief guarantor of freedom, he told delegates to the National Oil Scouts Association convention.

Boyd urged that America be told "the truth" about the oil industry. More than one million men and women are employed by it, he said; employs in drilling and production are the fourth highest paid among all workers in non-manufacturing work; refinery wages average 34 per cent higher than manufacturing wages, and filling station employees are better paid than the average retail sales workers.

Bruce Barkis of Los Angeles said it has been estimated that 1,500,000,000 (billion) barrels of oil have been behind casings, where the total reserves of the nation are only around 13,000,000,000 (billion) barrels.

Modern methods have simplified the problem of recovering this important reserve, he said.

Red Sox And Grove Whip Detroit As Yankees Win

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

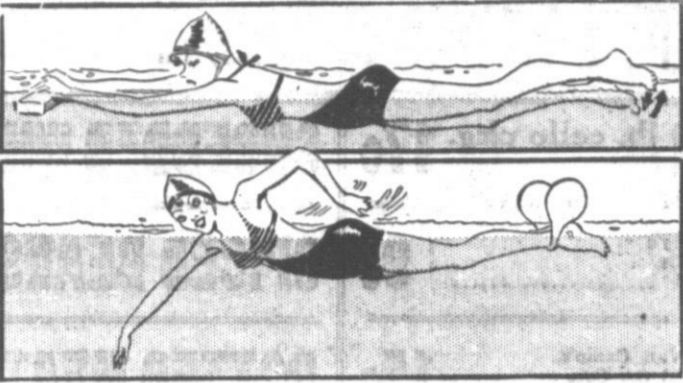

After topping the White Sox in four straight and the Indians in two out of three, the Boston Red Sox just wound up taking two in a row from the Tigers, whitewashing the Detroit 9-0 yesterday behind the rejuvenated elbowing of Lefty Grove, now boasting a winnings streak of three.

Since the Yankees, after spotting the St. Louis Browns six runs in three innings, came from behind to club out a 9-6 win, this defeat for the Tigers boosted the world champions' league lead to three full games, and left the third place White Sox only one game back of Detroit. The White Sox, like every other club in the loop, had a lot of fun with the weak and woeful Athletics and posted a 7-2 triumph.

Chicago's Cubs retained their one game National league lead by banging out four hits for as many runs in an eighth inning spurt, to whip the Giants 10-5 in the "rubber" game of their series. The Cardinals bunched all their run-making into three big innings and trampled the Brooklyn Dodgers 13-3, thereby boosting their second place margin over the Giants to a full game.

Lou Fette, the new "old dependable" of the Bees, stopped the Pirates 9-6, ending Boston's 11-game losing streak, and the Cincinnati Reds took the Phillies sixth place standing by whipping the Quaker City clouters, 6-4, with the aid of Lefty Lee Grissom's one inning rescue hurling.

GET IN THE SWIM!

Top, the board exercise to perfect the flutter-kick, and below, the water-wing exercise to strengthen the arm movement.

By JACK POBUK

If you are planning to enter a swimming meet don't limit your preparation to one week of training. Champions train all year round. You should take a tip from them and follow a program of moderation in diet, an abundance of sunlight and fresh air, and regular daily exercises of some sort.

During the week prior to any contest this is a good schedule to follow:

Monday: Practice on boards and wings (explained below) about a quarter mile each. Bob about three minutes, rest, and then take a short swim.

Tuesday: Practice start, trying to get as much distance as possible in your jump. Then take long swim.

Wednesday: Endurance swimming.

Thursday: Time trials.

Friday: Several short swims. Be sure to get nine hours' sleep each night, eat light food, take brisk walks, and do some calisthenics.

Exercises:

The Boards: This exercise perfects the flutter kick movement. Take a piece of wood, two inches thick, eight inches wide, and 36 inches long. Hold board in hands and assume floating leg position and start executing the flutter kick.

Practice kicking the board up and down length of pool.

The wings: Place water-wings around ankles, assuming floating leg position and execute arm movement. Swim length of pool in this manner about 16 times.

JACOBS SAYS GERMAN MUST BATTLE JIM BRADDOCK NEXT

CHICAGO, June 25 (AP)—Producer Mike Jacobs pulled the curtain on another act of his heavyweight show today and out on the stage—badge, nightstick and all—walked Officer James J. Braddock, late heavyweight champion of the world.

Jacobs insisted that Max Schmeling, tentatively set for August 9 at London's White City arena.

Jacobs had planned a joint promotion with General A. C. Critchley of White City to match Farr with the winner of the Louis-Braddock engagement, but the White City group lined up Farr to meet Schmeling for the "title" inferring of course, that Schmeling was champion by virtue of once knocking out Louis and then being walked out on by Braddock last June 3.

With the idea being that any match involving Louis might "chill" the Farr-Schmeling event, Jacobs said he was seriously considering the Louis-Harvey-Doyle offer.

CEMENTERS HAVE WON 20 AND LOST 5 GAMES THIS SEASON

Ed Lowell and his Halliburton Cementers from Duncan, Okla., 1936 National Semi-Pro champions, will be in Pampa Sunday afternoon and Monday night for games with the Pampa Oilers.

With a team composed of former major and minor league players, the Cementers have won 20 and lost 5 games this season. Of the 17 players on the Halliburton Roster, not a single one failed to "make" professional ball. Several spent from one to five years in the big time.

A Pampa Oiler team that has hit its stride, it is hoped, will be primed to take on the Oklahomans. Dale Mills, Carl Stewart and Harvey Hutton will be all ready for the call to the mound with Mills the probable choice for Sunday afternoon. The former Portland chucker likes the weather warm which leads fans to believe he will get the call Sunday with either Stewart or Hutton named for Monday night. Sam Dailey will be in reserve.

Halliburton will present a pair of hurriers with 7 wins and no losses in Munn and White. It was the veteran Harry White who saw his teammates come from behind to take a 9 to 5 game from the Oilers in Duncan three weeks ago.

Frank Cliff, well known here as a House of David star, will be in the outfield for the Cementers. Behind the plate will be the giant Utt who was with Fort Worth early this season. Other players, including Bruce Sloan, formerly with Eason Oilers of Enid, Okla., well known to Pampa fans will be on duty with the Cementers.

Game time Sunday will be 3 o'clock with the Monday night game set for 8:30 o'clock. Admission will be 25 cents for women and

Quarterfinalists Battle in Tourney

DENVER, June 25 (AP)—Sectional supremacy, as well as further promotion toward the throne room, was at stake in today's 36-hole quarter-final matches in the trans-Mississippi golf tournament at the 6,669 yard Cherry Hills course.

By an odd quirk of the draw, each of the four engagements brought together players from the same neck of the golfing woods.

For instance, Johnny Dawson, still tenaciously defending his championship, faced a fellow Chicagoan in Arthur L. Doering, a Stanford University student. They tied off first at 9 a. m. Mountain Time.

Gus Moreland, Peoria, Ill., Walker Cup player, tangled with another midwesterner in Eddie Held, 24-year-old St. Louis campaigner. Both Moreland and Held have won the title twice before.

The third match was an all-Dallas affair between Reynolds Smith, Texas amateur champion and a Walker Cup star, and Chunky Don Schumacher. Smith was the tour-

INDIANS LEAD BEAUMONT BY SEVEN GAMES

Oklahoma City's Indians looked down from Olympian heights today on their lower-placed rivals, bitterly battling for what's left of Texas league honors.

The Indians have steadily increased their lead over the pack, and now are sailing along seven and a half games ahead of second-place Beaumont. The Shippers and three other teams, Fort Worth, San Antonio, and Tulsa, are in stone-throwing distance of each other for runner-up honors.

San Antonio did itself no good in its tussle with Dallas last night, dropping the game 5 to 3 and falling into a tie with Tulsa for fourth place. Fred Marberry allowed eight hits but knew when to crack down. Tulsa advanced a shade, dropping Galveston 9 to 6 after granting the Pirates a four-run lead.

Houston continued as Oklahoma City's punching bag, dropping a 10-2 struggle that ran the Indians streak to six straight. Four of the north-erners' scores resulted from Houston bobbles.

SHEIK LOSES TO REYNOLDS IN MAT BOUT

By HARRY E. HOARE
AMARILLO, June 25.—Although overweight and not in the best of condition, Jack Reynolds showed more than 4,000 wrestling fans why he is still veteran champion of the world when he won the last two falls to beat Sheikh Ben Ali Marallah in a catch-weight non-title bout here last night.

The man who has held the welterweight championship for nearly 10 years, with only a lapse of a year when Lord Finney of Ireland had the crown perched on his head, played defensive wrestling last night and as a result lost the first fall in 15 minutes when the Persian slipped across a Japanese Crab hold to make Reynolds pat the mat. Reynolds apparently let the sheik get so that he could slip into his famous split but Marallah put on too much pressure.

Employing the same defensive tactics, Reynolds got his break in the second fall to win in 17 minutes. Apparently in trouble, Reynolds charged to make the kill. Reynolds flipped him off his feet and grabbed a rolling cradle to pin Marallah's shoulders to the mat.

The crafty champion let Marallah get another Japanese Crab hold at 12 minutes in the final fall and the sheik felt he was on his way to victory over the champion when Reynolds wriggled like an eel between Marallah's widely spread legs and presto, the sheik was in one of Reynolds' famous leg splits and the match was over.

A dead mute with a beautifully proportioned body, Tarzan Krause, and Vic Webber wrestled to a draw in the semi-final.

With only two holds applied—a headlock and an arm stretch—Tony Piluso and Buck Lipscomb had a bloody match with Lipscomb winning on a foul. The two were out of the ring as often as they were in and Referee Clements was on the canvas more than the wrestlers when Lipscomb would sock him from behind to get at Piluso. It took Dutch Madsen and Big John as guards outside the ring to separate the pair.

Tex Hagar, a mighty mite, won the opener from Jittery Joe Bauer in 12 minutes with a series of drop kicks and a body smother.

The grandstand at Tri-State park was nearly packed and 1,700 ring-side seats were crowded, as Dutch Mantell staged another of his successful matches.

Skelly Noses Out Texas Company In Last Inning

UP ON HER HIGH HORSE

Velvet, with Miss E. Tinkler astride him, has plenty to spare going over this jump during the children's jumping competition of the Richmond Royal Horse Show, at Richmond, Eng.

A home run in the last inning of the game, with two men on base, gave the Skelly-Schafer softball team a 10 to 9 victory over the unbeaten Texas company last night under the lights at Road Runner park. The Pampa Jaycees took a 9 to 4 decision from Canadian in the nightcap attraction.

Pampa's Sluggers, girls softball team, won an abbreviated game from the Canadian Krazy Kats, 10 to 5, with DeAun Heiskell and Doris Gee the winning battery. Surratt was on the mound for the Kats.

Skelly's home run was fired by Sorenson, scoring his two teammates ahead of him, to win the game in the last half of the seventh with two men out.

Texas had charge of the home runs until the last inning with Pitcher McBride, who plays in the outfield when not on the mound, hitting for the circuit with the bases drunk. McBride also hit a triple with two on base. The other Texas home run went to Stueben.

Mayo and Ray worked as the winning battery while Texas started Stancill, relieved him with Brown, and ended up with McBride on the mound. Covington was behind the plate.

A home run by Red Weathered in the first inning, with a pair of mates on base, put the Jaycees in front against Canadian. W. J. Brown hurled nice ball for four innings before being relieved so that he would be able to chunk against Humble this evening. Harvey was his battery mate. Atkinson and Mangel finished as the Jaycee battery.

Cliff went four innings for Canadian before Lefty Wilson took over.

SEMINOLES SEEK HAVEN IN 'LOST RESERVATION' IN OLD MEXICO

WEWOKA, Okla., June 25 (AP)—Oklahoma oil derricks which brought riches to the Osages, but only misery to the Seminoles, today sent restless tribesmen once more on a search for the legendary "happy hunting ground" in Old Mexico.

Four Seminole chieftains took a petition to Mexico City asking President Lazaro Cardenas to grant them land their forefathers owned before the U. S. Civil War brought them to Oklahoma.

Lunching with Cardenas at Chapultepec castle, the chieftains declared their 4,000 tribesmen wished to leave Oklahoma forever and return to the tepees of their ancestors in the wilderness of Coahuila.

Members of the delegation were Peter Tiger, Deward Hargo, Pete Miller and John Moran, representing the Seminole reservations at Konawa, Hazel, Bowlegs, Ada, Wewoka and Sasakwa.

As Indian history has it, Co-wok-o-choe, who was elected chief after the second Florida war, led the first band of Seminoles into Mexico to seek a new home. Part of the tribe remained behind in the Oklahoma Territory which had been allotted to them.

When the Civil War came, the band returned to aid relatives in the United States. The fighting proved so disastrous that only a few survived and these did not return to Mexico.

The Seminoles eventually forgot the location of their old homes and the tribesmen who had lived there died.

Today it is not known whether the grave of Co-wok-o-choe is in Oklahoma or on the "lost reservation" beyond the Rio Grande.

But the legend and the longing for the "lost reservation" persists.

The monotony of life among Oklahoma's drab oil derricks is detested by the Seminoles who dream constantly of another emigration to a land untouched by civilization.

Luis P. Abreau, Mexican consul at Oklahoma City, secured the four chieftains their audience with Cardenas.

things he did and the deluge of proposals was checked.

Several bills, whose sponsors did not believe what the governor said or had confidence in their powers to change his mind, were pressed ahead and felt the keen edge of the gubernatorial veto axe. A number of others were amended to remove the remission features and as a result were allowed to become law.

How many millions the governor prevented from being diverted from the treasury none could say, but the total unquestionably would have been large. One bill which he vetoed would have remitted $300,000 a year for 10 years to Harris county, diverting from the general revenue fund over the period a total of $3,000,000. Others vetoed proposed remissions to create the Pease river flood control district and aid certain East Texas counties pull out of financial hole resulting, ostensibly, from the federal government buying a lot of that part of the country for reforestation and federal land cannot be taxes.

Then there was the general remission measure, known as the Mauritz bill because it was written by Rep. Fred Mauritz, farmer-rancher of Ganado. It would have remitted the state's share of ad valorem taxes to all the counties, estimated at approximately $10,000,000. The house passed the bill with a whoop, but it died in the senate where its chief distinction, notwithstanding a majority of the upper house probably favored it, was that it delayed action on other matters, including the bill to repeal the race betting law. Before it succumbed beneath other legislation the senate amended it to provide it would become effective only if the money it would remove from the treasury, or prevent reaching there, was replaced in another way.

On the last day Gov. Allred could act on measures passed at the general session—June 11—he dictated a message to the legislature explaining why he cut down the soil conservation bill, which many thought very important. Again his chief objection was that it remitted taxes, which he figured would amount to approximately $1,500,000 a year. It was, incidentally, the last of the remission bills to reach him.

Only one remission measure received his approval and it could hardly be placed in the category of the others. That one continued for five more years the remission to Galveston county to assist in paying the costs of protection against storms. In a way it was a hang-over.

CAPITOL JIGSAW

AUSTIN, June 25 (AP)—Early in the regular session of the legislature Gov. James V. Allred announced he would not approve bills remitting taxes to governmental subdivisions unless new revenue to replace remissions was supplied. At the time bills making remissions to many individual counties were popping in house and senate and the governor felt if any ad valorem tax money was to accrue to the state he had better act quickly and use plain language. THE SAFE, SENSIBLE WAY TO RELIEVE CONSTIPATION

Every one knows the dangers of constipation. Pills and drugs usually bring only temporary relief. That's because common constipation is due to meals low in "bulk."

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN contains "bulk" that does not break down in the body as does that of many leafy vegetables. ALL-BRAN absorbs twice its weight in water and forms a soft mass that gently sponges the intestines.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a food—not a medicine. In addition to "bulk"—it gives vitamin B to tone up the system, and iron for the blood. It is a healthful way to get rid of constipation and all its evils.

Eat two tablespoonfuls daily with milk or cream—three times a day in severe cases. Or use it in making bran muffins, breads, in salads or soups. Guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

KIRKVILLE, Mo.—If George White goes back into the fireworks business, he'll insist that customers go somewhere else to sample their purchases.

One of his patrons lit a bunch of firecrackers right at the counter of his roadside stand. The stock and stand went up in a glorious display of premature Fourth of July. Firemen couldn't do much about it. Zooming skyrockets and Roman candles kept them at a respectable distance.

BUTTON, BUTTON—KANSAS CITY—"Where's the phone?" a customer asked David McIntosh, night club proprietor. It was pointed out.

"Where's the phone?" McIntosh asked police later.

The instrument, pay box and all, had disappeared with the customer.

Unable to drive, the wife locked the car and trudged off too, leaving it in the street for police to haul away.

BUSINESS PROSPECT ST. PAUL—Two good Scandinavians struck a serious blow at the good old Scandinavian custom of afternoon coffee in the heart of the Scandinavian belt, too.

Ludwig A. Johnson, Minnesota state capitol custodian, issued orders, with the sanction of Governor Elmer A. Benson, terminating coffee brewing in capitol offices.

The order wasn't aimed at the custom. Its object was economy. Johnson said the more than 30 electric coffee makers in use in the capitol burned too much electricity.

KILLING WORK MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Overproduction was given as the reason for the death of the "two-in-one" hen owned by Miss Ruth Knie.

Shortly before Easter the hen, Biddy, produced a double egg, a hard-shelled egg inside a thin, soft-shelled one. A couple of weeks later, she came up with another, but one shell had broken.

The other day she laid the third, willed under the strain, and died.

32 BUT NOT FOR YOU. OKLAHOMA CITY—Beer—the 32 kind—is legal in Oklahoma, but highway patrolmen had better not let Public Safety Commissioner J. M. Gentry catch them drinking it in public.

The patrolmen may down their "suds" at home, Gentry said, but here again he added a knowing smile.

The patrolmen are subject to call 24 hours a day, and woe to the man who shows up smelling of liquor.

Both Labor And Industry Objects To Part Of Bill

By RODNEY DUTCHER, Pampa Daily News Washington Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—The desire of some labor leaders to collect everything possible in the way of union dues appears alongside the unwillingness of many manufacturers to pay higher wages as a factor in the opposition to the Black-Connelly wage and hour bill.

The most contentious point in the bill is its section five, which would give the proposed labor standards board power to fix a "minimum fair wage" in individual industries up to the equivalent of $1,200 a year.

It is probable that the blank spaces in previous sections will be filled in so as to fix a general minimum wage and hour standard of 40 cents an hour and 40 hours a week, which would be the equivalent of $800 a year or $16 a week for anyone who had 50 weeks of employment.

The theory behind the measure is that there is no collective bargaining worth talking about for the wage group which earns less than $800 a year, and that many workers in the range between $800 and $1,200 have no money with which to organize and bargain collectively. Thus after the bill previously has authorized the board to vary its non-oppressive standards upward or downward, section five authorizes the board to establish a minimum fair wage in cases where facilities for collective bargaining are inadequate or ineffective, and where lower wages paid by some employers threaten to undermine the labor standards of other employers. But there are labor leaders who foresee that many unskilled workers will feel less incentive to join unions if and when the government fixes wages for them at between $16 and $25 a week.

So, they shy away from it. On the other hand there are labor leaders who say that the head of a family who makes less than $25 a week is unlikely to have enough food in his stomach to make good fighting union material.

Headache For Hull.
The bills introduced by Senator Hugo Black and Congressman Wm. H. Connery are almost identical—but not quite.

Connery made a slight excision which has given another severe headache to Secretary of State Cordell Hull, who every other week has to worry about some new direct or indirect attack on his trade treaties.

The original bill, as in the Black bill, legally defined the goods affected as those "produced, manufactured, mined, handled, or in any other manner worked on in any state." Connery cut out the word "in any state."

And that means, according to the lawyers, that the Connery bill would prevent importation into the United States of foreign goods produced under lower labor standards than those set up by the board. What this would do to American import trade and to those Hull trade treaties would be more than plenty.

Repercussion From England.
The administration's definite movements toward rebuilding the American Merchant Marine are also getting in Hull's hair.

When Roosevelt asked Congress for $160,000,000 the other day for construction of new ships under supervision of the maritime commission, repercussions from England began to reach Washington at once.

Word was emphatically conveyed that the British, didn't want to lose any of their profitable ocean-carrying trade and that the proposed American ship building program seriously threatened current preliminary negotiations for a reciprocal tariff treaty between this country and Britain.

But it appears Hull will have to worry along on that one as best as he can. Roosevelt and Chairman Joe Kennedy of the maritime commission are determined to build ships.

Will Have Five Men Now.
Those who saw the Black-Connelly bill its final mimeographed form before introduction noticed that last-minute penciling had changed the Labor Standards board from a previously contemplated three-member commission to a five-man group.

Explanation turns out to be that it's a new administration policy to have five-member commissions in the future and no more trios.

This proposal was adopted from a confidential document known as the "Draper report," which was a study of the management of TVA supervised by Assistant Secretary of Commerce Ernest Draper. The report says that three-member commissions always tended to line up two members against one, which was the way it happened when Director Arthur Morgan of TVA, split with Directors David Lilienthal and Harcourt Morgan, whereas there was a better chance of less trouble and more cohesive action among a quintet.

Chapter II

No more shots were fired, but Officer Jim Burke caught a glimpse of frozen drama when he entered Potter's store.

"Well I—it's all I can say, now," Stuart was obviously embarrassed.

"Now, now, Jim, it's all right! It's all right," Fred greeted him.

"The hell it is! I wish I'd killed him right then!"

"Now, now, gentlemen—let's all calm down—let's all—"

Fred Potter and Mr. Blake, Sr. were bustling about in a silly manner.

"Listen, officer," said he, "don't ever kid a stranger about hunting for gold."

"Who you weren't kidding?"

"Not Stuart Blake's but a feminine voice, answered the officer."

"Wait—wait a minute—I'll tell the whole story, Jim!"

"You weren't fresh."

"Yes, I was. You said so. Anyhow it's the way we say things, not what we say, that sounds awful sometimes."

MESSAGES FROM GENESIS.
Text: Hebrews 11:3-10, 17-22.
By WM. E. GILROY, D. D.,
Editor of Advance.

The Messages from Genesis that we have been studying during the last quarter are linked for review with the powerful sermon on faith in the 11th chapter of the Epistle to the Hebrews.

The author of that chapter, seeking to enforce the nature and power of faith, drew illustrations from these stories in Genesis, giving us an example of the proper use that we ourselves may make of these stories from the childhood of a race.

Two precautions are necessary in our reading, studying, and teaching of these lessons if we would interpret them correctly, and derive from the mine their moral and spiritual lessons.

We must remember that they are stories that come from the early history of an ancient people, and like all such stories, they were gathered together by later writers who sought to record and treasure for the people their spiritual history. They are stories full of eastern imagery.

On the other hand, their moral and spiritual teaching is not to be lightly esteemed because it is in this ancient setting. If we read the Old Testament intelligently, we can see how the conception of God grew in the minds of devout Israelites.

The thought of a tribal God concerned primarily for themselves as a chosen race gradually enlarged until in such a book as the Book of Jonah we have a conception of a God of grace and love concerned for all people.

In the later chapter of the Book of Isaiah we have the representation of the suffering servant, revealing the expiation of the innocent for the guilty that found its fulfillment in the atonement of Jesus and in the Christian doctrine of the cross.

But to view these stories just as ancient tales reflecting the conception of a tribal God is to miss something of the reality of the faith and moral integrity that were at the very foundation of this larger conception of the God of the whole universe, a God of mercy and justice.

There is the story, for instance, of the conflict between the herdsmen of Abraham and Lot, and of Abraham's fine attitude of peace and willingness to set peace about his own material interests. There is the revelation in Jacob of the finer qualities in a man that strive for mastery in the presence of trickery and deceit and the temptation to see nothing in life but his own interests. There is the sermon on forgiveness and magnanimity, virtues that we surely have not conspicuously attained in our modern world, that is preached so clearly in the powerful story of Joseph.

The fact is that when we seek the moral and spiritual element in these ancient stories, we find things that speak to us concerning all the needs and problems of our life today, and suggest the moral and spiritual elements that we must recognize if we would build aright in our individual lives and in society.

The study of primitive society makes clear basic facts and principles that are apt to be lost sight of in a complex society. For instance, in the patriarchal era that we have been studying the herdsmen who grabbed a well for himself was an anti-social and ungodly man. We do not always see so clearly that men who do what corresponds to that in modern society are equally anti-social and ungodly. Genesis has much to teach.

RESTRICTIONS TIGHTENED AGAINST TRANSIENTS

WASHINGTON (AP)—A WPA survey of 12 representative cities shows a revival of restrictions against transient workers, along with hoboes, bums and tramps.

Troubles stacked against the transient—along with railway police and watchdogs—include difficulty in qualifying for WPA jobs, ineligibility for social security benefits, and employer antagonism toward non-residents.
