

Convicted Bank Robber Is Killed in Stabbing at Farm

ACRE PLAN IS ENDORSED

SHORT FIGHT ENDS FATALLY DURING NIGHT

Ed Crowder Dies as Result of 15 Knife Wounds—Aubrey Salley, Robber, Is Held for Crime.

Battle Is So Fierce That Interveners Are Much Too Late—Little Warning of Bitter Trouble.

HOUSTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—Ed Crowder, 30, convicted Houston bank robber was killed late last night in a knife fight with another convict in the barracks of the Eastham state farm, according to reports from Capt. B. H. Monzingo.

In a desperate battle that threw the barracks into turmoil and sent several hundred convicts scurrying for safety, Crowder met death after suffering 15 stab wounds on his chest, back and body.

Aubrey Salley, serving 50 years from Dallas county on a highway robbery conviction, was placed in solitary confinement immediately after the fight, Captain Monzingo stated.

Short But Bloody The fight, according to prison barracks inmates and Captain Monzingo, lasted only a few minutes but was of such ferocity that building tenders and trustees were unable to separate the men until Crowder was wounded fatally.

"The two men had been quarreling a little in the day," Captain Monzingo said "but the picket guard did not think that they were very angry with each other."

After the close of the day's work, according to reports, the prisoner retired and nothing was heard of the quarrel until later in the night.

One of the men left his bunk and went back to the rear part of the building," Captain Monzingo said. "I don't know who started the fight, but one of them jumped on the other one and they had it out."

Other convicts, awakened by shouted curses and screams, dashed from their bunks and sought safety at the further end of the room.

A minute and a half later it was all over.

Immediately after reports of the affair had reached Captain Monzingo he called Lee Simmons, general manager of the prison system, and made a complete report of the affair. Simmons said an investigation would be started immediately.

Courthouse Will Close at Noon For Ball Game

Offices in the court house will close at noon tomorrow so that employees can attend the Pampa Harvester-Lubbock Westerner football game which starts at 3 o'clock at Harvester park.

"It will be the second time this year that all the offices closed at noon. The Amarillo game drew everyone to Harvester park and the Lubbock tilt is even more important.

The county clerk's department says that Charlie Thut will probably not make the office during the day. Charlie is the king football fan of the courthouse but there is little difference between Charlie's enthusiasm and that of Sheriff Lon L. Blanscet. John B. Sessy, Siler Faulkner, Tom Barnes, Sewing Leach, Ray Wilson, Mrs. Jack Dunn and the others.

City hall offices will close at 2 o'clock. George W. Briggs leads the city hall list of fans. He is closely followed by City Manager F. M. Dwin, C. L. Stine, Mrs. W. H. Davis and the rest.

Many offices will close at noon and a few warehouses and stores will be closed during the game.

Grocery Stores in Closing Agreement

Pampa grocers are formulating an agreement to close their doors at 7 p. m. instead of 8 p. m.

Those who have already signed the petition include Oil Belt, M. System 1 and 2, White House, Piggy Wiggly 1 and 2, Rabbit Cash, C & C System 1 and 2, Gray County, Barnes & Hastings, Home Supply, and Hely Selfy.

Others are expected to sign this afternoon. Leaders in the movement pointed out that hours were so long depriving employees of all social enjoyments.

GRAINS STRONGER

CHICAGO, Oct. 30. (AP)—Grain prices tended upward early today, influenced by Liverpool reports of scarcity of wheat sellers. Offerings of wheat at Liverpool, it was stated, were confined to tenders of ships from North America. Corn advanced at 1-8 to 1-2 advance and wheat rose further.

Harding's Life Is Debated

Parcentage of Girl Argued in Libel Suit Based on Answer to Book.

TOLEDO, Ohio, Oct. 30. (AP)—The trial of the $50,000 libel suit of Nan Britton, author of "The President's Daughter," against C. A. Klunk, Marion, Ohio, hotel keeper, continued here today with the jury listening to the reading of Miss Britton's book by defense counsel. The book, "The President's Daughter," alleged that President Warren G. Harding was the father of Miss Britton's daughter, Elizabeth Ann.

Reading by defense counsel from Miss Britton's book disclosed her assertion that letters received by her from President Harding, while he was United States senator, were from one to 60 pages long. Also that he had characterized both his letters and those he received from the plaintiff as compared to nothing but "French love letters." The senator had suggested the book states, that all communications interchanged between them be destroyed.

Concern for her child, Elizabeth Ann, became the ruling element in the mother after the death of President Harding while she was on a European trip from which she hurried home upon learning of his death, the book says. This is put forth by the author as the reason for her marriage six months later to a Captain Neilson, an ocean navigator, after he had agreed to set $50,000 aside in a trust fund for the daughter.

The book discussed, as read in court, the author's reluctance at first in telling the captain that she had a daughter and who was the father. The promised sum never was paid, the author says, and her divorce from the vessel master followed in a short time.

In the "Answer to the President's Daughter," written by Joseph de Barthe, Marion, Ohio, now deceased, and the offending book in the present case growing out of its alleged libelous contents, the assertion of Nan Britton that she had clandestine meetings with President Harding in the White House was discredited on the ground of impossibility. Counsel read portions from the book on this point as follows:

"Let us look for a moment at this historic place—the White House—in which the president's wife is supposed to have led a lonesome life in the executive mansion while the complaining witness found it so remarkably easy to gain admission at will day or night, and without the knowledge of the wife."

"It is impossible for any one to enter the White House except under rigid surveillance. If you doubt it, try it."

Parade to Follow Arrival of Train

The Lubbock special train will arrive in Pampa at 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon and will be met by the high school band and pep squad and hundreds of Pampa citizens. A parade will be formed and will go to the central high school campus where it will break up, Lubbock fans returning downtown for dinner.

Returning cars will pick up the Lubbock fans at the high school gymnasium at 2 o'clock and will drive them to Harvester park by way of North Cuyler street and in front of the T. M. Deal Oil and Gas station. Courtesy stickers may be obtained from the chamber of commerce.

As in the Amarillo game two weeks ago, the west side of the parking ground will be reserved for courtesy cars so that there will be plenty of room left for those providing transportation to the field.

Hutchinson Wells Must Be Closed

AUSTIN, Oct. 30. (AP)—The state railroad commission has been sustained today in its authority to conserve Texas' natural gas supply.

A Travis county district court yesterday granted the state's counter petition for an injunction to restrain the T. M. Deal Oil and Gas company of Amarillo from operating certain wells in Hutchinson county.

Labor Leader Is Thought Abducted

LAWRENCE, Mass., Oct. 30. (AP)—The belief that Mitchell "Red Mike" Schulman, Philadelphia labor organizer, had been abducted today stirred police and labor leaders to action.

Robert Watt, secretary-treasurer of the state federation of labor, reported last night he believed Schulman had been kidnapped and police immediately ordered a widespread search for the Philadelphia.

Watt told police Schulman had finished leading a demonstration at the Shawheen mills last night when three men in an automobile offered to drive him to labor headquarters. Schulman accepted the ride, Watt said, and has not been seen since.

Zooming Airplane Alarms Residents

Several Pampans expected to find an airplane in their front yard about 4 o'clock this morning and lights appeared in several sections, particularly in the east end of the city near the airport. A plane, flying low and apparently in trouble, circled the city several times but if it landed, no report has been made.

The engine of the plane was missing badly at intervals and the pilot appeared to be circling for a landing. Several persons drove to the airport, but did not find the plane.

JAPANESE IN APPROVAL OF THEIR COURSE

Public Opinion is Backing Government's Decision to Prepare to Remain in Manchuria Indefinitely.

Local Government of Chinese Too Weak to Offer Guarantees as Basis for Evacuation.

TOKYO, Oct. 30. (AP)—Japanese public opinion stiffened today in favor of the government's action in Manchuria and its defiance of the League of Nations resolution calling for withdrawal of Japanese troops from the occupied Chinese area by Nov. 16.

Japanese soldiers, holding several Manchuria cities were making preparations for cold weather duty in the Chinese province. Official circles here said evacuation of the occupied zones by Nov. 16 as desired by the League would be most improbable in view of the fact that so far there had not been the slightest indication the Chinese would be able to organize responsible local governments to assume police powers now exercised by the Japanese.

In this connection it was said, the Japanese themselves had aided to some extent in the organization of Chinese police forces which were assisting the Japanese in maintaining order.

As far as the Chinese government is concerned the question of direct negotiations between the two nations for an amicable settlement of the controversy, matters are at a standstill owing to the reorganization of the Chinese regime now in progress.

MOSCOW, Oct. 30. (AP)—The Soviet foreign office today maintained its insistence that it is not aiding the Chinese in Manchuria with guns, airplanes, and instructors. Highly denying contrary reports laid before it by Koki Hirota, Japanese ambassador.

The reports of Russian aid were based, the ambassador explained, on statements of General Ma of the Chinese forces at Tsitsihar. General Ma was quoted by the ambassador as having said an agreement exists under which he receives military airplanes, anti-aircraft guns, and aviators from the Soviet Union and that there are Soviet instructors in his army.

Two Miners Are Alive as Rescue

MOCANAQUA, Pa., Oct. 30. (AP)—Rescue workers shortly after 6 o'clock this morning brought out alive two of the six miners entombed last Saturday by an explosion at the local mine of the West End Coal company. The others were dead.

Those rescued are John Tomashonis, 40, and Joseph Matzoni, 22. Mine officials said both were in excellent condition considering they had been buried alive for five and a half days. Both will survive the ordeal, physicians said.

The dead: John Molitoris, 35, father of three children; James "Mus" 45, father of four; Henry Ceglarski, 23, single; and Paul Novak, 40.

With five more feet to go, rescue workers throughout the night redoubled their efforts to get thru rock and coal to the miners.

As hope for their rescue ebbed slowly away, a faint tapping was heard on the pipes run through to the spot where the miners were entombed.

Early today more signals came from the beleaguered barrier. They were received by means of blows struck on the coal ribs.

At daybreak today the men had been entombed more than 133 hours. From rescue workers it was learned that two of the dead men had been killed instantly by the force of the explosion and that the other two had been victims of after-damp.

Senator Fess to Retain His Post

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—Until the Republican party names its next presidential candidate, Senator Fess of Ohio expects to continue as chairman of its national committee.

Despite a previously expressed desire to be relieved before congress convenes, he has informed party leaders he will continue until after the convention next June.

No indication has come from President Hoover of his choice for national chairman and campaign manager should he be re-nominated.

JUNIOR CHAMBER WILL BE ORGANIZED HERE TUESDAY

Citizens Under 33 Years of Age Urged to Attend Interesting Program.

Steps to organize a junior chamber of commerce in Pampa will be taken Tuesday night, when every young Pampan interested in the organization of such a body will meet in the basement of the First Baptist church at 7:30 o'clock. Walter Nelson, junior mayor of Wichita Falls and former president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce of that city, will be the chief speaker on the program.

An interesting musical program is being arranged by Bob Rose. Interesting talks by young Pampans will also be heard. P. P. Reid, pioneer chamber of commerce secretary in Pampa, has been invited as the first guest and will tell of the honor chamber of commerce organization in Pampa.

Everyone in Pampa under 33 years old is invited to attend the banquet regardless of whether they intend to join or not. Tickets are on sale at the chamber of commerce rooms in the city hall. They are 75 cents.

Forest Fires on West Coast Feared

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 30. (AP)—High temperatures throughout Southern California coupled with low humidity, have created an "exceedingly dangerous" fire situation in the forest and brush areas of this section, forestry officials said today.

Los Angeles yesterday experienced the hottest Oct. 29 in the 54 years that the weather bureau has kept records. The mercury mounted to 94. Pasadena reported 95 degrees and Santa Ana 105 degrees.

The mountain areas are covered with heavy dry brush. A 100-acre blaze was reported yesterday in the Cucamonga mountains.

Women Voters to Meet in Galveston

GALVESTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—Promotion of education in citizenship, efficiency, and public welfare in government and international cooperation to prevent war, all objects of the Texas League of Women Voters, will be the fundamental issues discussed at the state convention in Galveston Nov. 3, 4, and 5.

Plans already are under way for the event, the program including many prominent women speakers. Among them will be Mrs. George Ethelorn of St. Louis, leader of campaigns for women's suffrage and an early officer of the National League of Women Voters.

RARE HIDE PRESENTED

CANYON, Oct. 30. (AP)—A cattle hide from the old Goodnight ranch is one of the possessions of the Panhandle-Plains Historical society. The hair on the skin is coal black, shiny, and coarse. The cattle is a cross between the buffalo and cattle. Col. Charles Goodnight, was the pioneer in making experiments with these animals and one of the few breeders who succeeded in producing the cross.

OKLAHOMA: Fair, frost tonight; Saturday fair.

—AND A SMILE SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP)—The pean problem is a hard nut to crack. Owners of pean trees, planted along the streets for beauty and shade, complain to the council that pedestrians, passing by before the owners, have arisen, are eating the nuts. The city fathers ruled there is no law against eating peans. If the property owners want to harvest the nuts, let them get up earlier.

TELEGRAMS OF PROTEST ARE ALSO SHOWN

Exception Made Where Single Acre Owned—61 Barrels May Be Produced On Such Leases.

NOT UNDERSTOOD

Governor's Group in Claim That Scheme Will Benefit Small Operator as Well as Big.

AUSTIN, Oct. 30. (AP)—Gov. S. Sterling today endorsed generally an acreage basis idea of fixing the allowable of the West Texas field as submitted by a committee commissioned by a mass meeting of operators at Dallas to present their plan for his consideration.

"I am frank to state that I believe this plan can and will be put into effect," he said.

He did not indicate when he, as supreme administrator of production in the field under martial law, would authorize a change from the existing 150-barrel per well allowable arrangement.

While the plan put forward by representatives of the Dallas meeting, headed by Charles F. Rogers of Fort Worth, president of the Texas Oil and Gas Conservation association, proposed limiting the production of the entire field to 100,000 barrels per acre, or approximately 60,000 barrels daily based on a proven area of 100,000 acres, it was revealed that the operator with a single acre would be permitted to produce a maximum of 61 barrels daily.

The allowable then would be increased at the rate of one barrel per acre up to 80 barrels for a 5-acre tract unit.

Revealing a stack of telegrams expressing disapproval of the so-called "four barrels to the acre" plan, Governor Sterling and members of the committee expressed the small operators did not understand the proposal.

Leans Backward

When the explanation was made that a one-acre operator would be permitted to produce as much as 61 barrels daily, Governor Sterling agreed with J. Edgar Pew of Dallas, representing the Sun Oil company, that those who worked the plan had "leaned backward to take care of the little fellow."

"I am certain that the small operators do not understand what you are trying to do for them or they would not be inspiring these telegrams of protest," the governor said.

He read several of them to the committee. The gist of the criticism being the governor would be favoring the "big fellow" and "destroy the small operator" were he to adopt the new idea of production.

One of the messages said if the chief executive "fell for" the big companies' plan to take the field away from the small operators they would "build a fire under your shirt tail when election time rolls around."

Capone Gangsters Leave Hangout

CHICAGO, Oct. 30. (AP)—Detective Chief William Schoemaker says he is sure "we've got Capone on the run."

He made this assertion last night after a raid on the stronghold of Alphonse Capone, convicted Alton overlord, disclosed that his followers had gone someplace else.

While the leader sat in a hospital bed, his followers left reading detective stories until his attorney, Michael Stern, decides about appealing to the supreme court for Capone's release pending appeal. His followers vacated their third and fourth floor headquarters in the Lexington hotel. Capone was sentenced recently to serve 11 years in Leavenworth for income tax evasions.

Chief Schoemaker staged yesterday's raid with the expectation of telling Capone's followers to get out. Readers found nothing but five radios, bedroom furniture, an electric refrigerator, kitchen equipment, a chef, a dishwasher, and a bus boy.

Irene Rich Will Contest Divorce

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 30. (AP)—Irene Rich, motion picture actress, plans to fight the divorce suit filed by her husband, David Eastman, here yesterday.

Blankenhorn charged, saying she alleged Mrs. Rich told him she didn't love him and that living with him had become burdensome and detrimental to her career. A divorce was granted.

"Mrs. Rich will contest the divorce," said Mendel Glusberg, attorney.

"It will be understood that no done with no bitterness. It is none between them. It is only for protection of her rights."

When you insist upon this proven, highest quality flour you do more than get excellent value for your money--you help every wheat farmer in the Southwest! Each year, the Great West Mill & Elevator Co., located at Amarillo, mills approximately 1,500,000 bushels of Panhandle-Plains wheat--the finest flour wheat there is. The four corners of the world buy this flour--and the money received goes almost entirely to Southwestern farmers, Southwestern wage earners, Southwestern business houses. You help yourself when you buy this good flour!

At Your Grocer's

FEMININE FANCIES

"No woman attains real beauty until the age of 35," declared Mme. Helena Rubinstein, beauty specialist. "Before 35 she can be charming, pretty, promising; but only when time has laid its softening hand on youth--when experience, love, suffering, living have ripened the green peach--can there be completion and loveliness."

That's all very fine--if Madam Rubinstein can convince the middle-aged husband.

Yet we believe it is half unfair to the middle-aged man to accuse him of admiring the younger woman. A young woman may be charming without effort, and that alone commands admiration. An older woman may be beautiful--but is she? Too often, she goes to one of two extremes. Either she allows herself to become run-down, unkempt, slovenly, and nagging, or else in her zeal to appear young she uses an unnecessary amount of rouge, applies an artificial looking dye to her hair, and assumes an unnatural degree of gaiety.

Ninety-five per cent of the wealthy women of America past the age of 25 look from 5 to 15 years younger than they really are," according to Mrs. Ruth D. Maurer, another foremost beauty specialist, who adds, "The 10 per cent of five women in moderate circumstances look 5 to 10 years older than they really are."

We can think of nothing that makes the older woman appear more disagreeable than to assume a "spirit of sacrifice." We don't mean by that she should not stand by her family in time of need and deprive herself of luxuries and even necessities in time of stress. There is nothing to add more beauty to a character than this willingness to help. But it is the "attitude" of sacrifice that is disagreeable.

Once we knew a middle-aged woman who kept house for her children and their children (all of whom were able to do it themselves), kept boarders (when the money was not needed), never had time to arrange her hair becomingly, never had time to select a pretty dress, never had time to attend a movie. Yet she had plenty of time to correct her son-in-law's slang several times at each meal and to chide her daughter for some of the latter's modern ideas. We would not blame this woman's husband for leaving home.

But we knew another woman, willing to deprive herself whenever necessary but who did not go out of the way in order to appear "sacrificial." She worked, but it was not with the "sacrificial smile--or frown." She had time to use make-up although she applied it moderately. She had plenty of time to keep herself neat and attractive, and she found time to attend movies and picnics, and to have a good time generally. Yet she found no time to frown when her children left the dishes unwashed or when they used language that might not be found in Webster. She had no time for nagging and criticism. She had no time for pettiness. This woman was truly beautiful and loved by everybody--even her "in-laws."

CAFETERIA TO BE INSTALLED SOON AS RESULT; MANY ARE ON PROGRAM DURING EVENING

Proceeds amounting to $68.40 received at the entertainment in the high school gymnasium last evening will be used by the Parent-Teacher associations of high school and junior high school to install a cafeteria next week in the red building on central campus.

There were at least 600 persons present, although complimentary tickets were given the pep squad and those on the program.

One dollar meal tickets have been printed and are to be sold to the students. In view of the fact that many students are financially unable to buy them, Pampa citizens are asked to buy some of the tickets for this group. School officials will be responsible for giving them to needy and worthy students.

Probably the most hearty applause during the entertainment came when John Sturgeon entertained with popular vocal and piano music. Lively music by the high school band began at 7:30 o'clock.

His First Dress Suit, a one-act comedy, then was presented by Malcolm Carr, Dorothy Doucette, Owen Wright, and Florida Freeman, under the direction of Miss Arless O'Keefe. Paul Camp managed the stage, the furnishings for which were provided by Pampa Furniture company.

Another band number was given while the stage was being cleared for the tumbling act which was presented by the physical education department of the school under the direction of Harry Kelley. Popular music was given by Emmitt Smith, Loulene Conklin, and Mildred Holt.

Much laughter resulted when Principal R. A. Selby, W. B. Weathered, and Emmitt Smith, all of junior high school, presented in pantomime Romeo and Juliet.

"Dog biscuits" was the theme of the climaxing number, a radio program which included "take-offs" on football boys, the school board, and school officials. Thurman Harris was announcer.

The pep squad and football boys sat in special sections and assisted with the program.

Those in charge of arrangements were Miss Bernice Whiteley, Mrs. Arthur Teed, Mrs. Frank McNeill, Mrs. C. P. Buckler, and Miss Arless O'Keefe.

Out-of-town Voltures have been invited to participate in this occasion. Lubbock and Amarillo Voltures have announced their intentions of remaining in Pampa Saturday night to attend the dance.

Admission tickets to the dance may be purchased from any of the Volture Local members or at the club rooms before the dance. Special officers who are requested to do usher duty at the Lubbock-Pampa football game will attend the dance to entertain guests and keep order.

IRRIGATION PAYS
MULESHOE, Oct. 30. (AP)—I. P. Willman, irrigation farmer in the Blackwater valley district, made more profit from three-acres of onions than from 350 acres of row crops. Willman realized $240 an acre from his onion crop. The three acres produced 45,000 pounds. He made $500 from two acres of grapes. His produce was marketed at the farm, he said.

Local Pupils to Be in Texas Band At State Meeting

Five boys from Pampa have been selected as members of the all-state band to entertain at the meeting of the Texas State Teachers association to be held in Amarillo Nov. 26, 27, and 28. The local boys are Henry Wilder, Curtis Stark, James McKee, Turney Mullinax, and Burton Doucette.

The selection of five Pampa students was considered a compliment to the local band, since Dallas, Houston, and other large cities of Texas are included in those represented. R. E. "Pop" Frazier, local director, and other musicians of Texas will assist Oscar Wise of Amarillo in directing the band.

Each of the 100 students in the group will wear dark suits, black socks, black shoes, black bow ties, and white shirts. They will rehearse Nov. 24, 25, and 26, and will play at the general sessions of the teachers, in addition to giving concerts at the hotels and other parts of the city. They will probably play at the Amarillo-Lubbock football game.

Refinery Blasts Hurl Flaming Oil

SOMERSET, Oct. 30. (P)—Buildings were damaged and school children standing 50 yards away were showered with burning oil in the second of two terrific explosions of undetermined cause at the Texas Petroleum Products company's refinery here yesterday.

The children were standing in a school yard watching a conflagration caused by the first blast which shook the town and its environs at 2 a. m. yesterday.

None was burned seriously although it was necessary to remove them to their homes for treatment.

The force of the explosions shook the city, shattering windows and cracking walls. Many families living near the refinery were forced from their homes by the heat and the threat of spreading flames.

MEETING WILL BE FIRST HELD IN PANHANDLE

CANYON, Oct. 30.—When the teachers of Texas assemble in Amarillo on Nov. 26, 27 and 28, it will mark the fifty-first meeting of the teachers of the state. It will be the first time that a state convention has come nearer than Fort Worth to the Panhandle.

During the last ten years the annual meetings have been held at Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth, San Antonio and El Paso. When it became known that the 1922 meeting would go to El Paso many veterans in the profession believed that the meeting would have scant attendance because the convention city was so far from the most populous parts of the state. Their predictions were proved mistaken for the El Paso meeting was one of the most successful in the history of the organization.

Alamo to Become Center of Park to Be State Owned

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 30. (P)—The dream of several decades soon will be realized, with the historic Alamo made the center of a state-owned park, premier shrine of Texas.

Before the end of November all land fronting on Alamo plaza in the block on which the Alamo chapel stands will belong to the state of Texas, according to a report made to Gov. Ross Sterling by the Alamo acquisition board.

Negotiations for the purchase of two pieces of property adjoining the south side of the Alamo which have a frontage on the plaza of 135 1-2 feet have been completed, according to Mrs. Clara Driscoll Sevier, chairman of the board.

The property will cost $220,000. Of this amount Mrs. Sevier will donate $65,000, $150,000 has been appropriated by the state and Dr. John B. Herff, owner of one piece of property, will make a $5,000 contribution.

Mrs. Sevier has been interested in saving the Alamo and property adjoining it since 1903. Through her efforts the Daughters of the Republic of Texas were able to acquire the property now immediately surrounding the Alamo about 25 years ago.

The plan for a park about the Alamo, which has been drawn by H. E. Kincaid of the city plan office, probably will be adopted, since it does not call for acquisition of property behind the Alamo.

The plan calls for the closing of the narrow street which now runs

Mexican Aliens Put to Death

HUNTSVILLE, Oct. 30. (P)—Victor Rodriguez, 20, and Nicandro Munoz, 26, Mexican aliens, were electrocuted here early today for the murder of Bert Ellison, border customs inspector, last October.

Rodriguez, first to die, went to his death with a shrug of his shoulders.

"I am dying unjustly," he murmured.

Munoz went to the chair 15 minutes later. He addressed the warden in Spanish, being unable to speak English.

Homecoming Day To Be Celebrated

CANYON, Oct. 30. (Special)—November 7 has been designated as homecoming day for the West Texas State Teachers college and plans are being made on the campus for the entertainment of a large number of visitors.

Mrs. Tommie Montfort and L. N. George are in charge of local arrangements and Willard Vineyard, of Amarillo, president of the Ex-Student association, will be present to welcome the old grads, their wives, husbands, and children.

Three special features of the day will be a great convocation in the newly decorated auditorium of the college, the football game between New Mexico Military institute and the Canyon Buffaloes in the afternoon, followed immediately by a program tea.

Florida citrus fruits were shipped last season to every state in the union except California and Arizona.

Walks Home to Find Mourners

CLEVELAND, Oct. 30. (P)—Eighty-year-old Leveyn Hall walked in on his own mourning party early today.

The aged man slumped over while sitting in a rocking chair at his home. His wife, Emma, could find no pulse. Neither could the police rescues squad she summoned and they departed with Hall for the morgue.

En route, they stopped at a hospital for an official death pronouncement. Physicians could find no heartbeats but decided to try a stimulant anyway.

Hall's eyelids flickered. The astonished physicians applied artificial respiration. Presently Hall sat up. He finished up by helping revive his wife who fainted at the sight of him.

"I guess I must have been out for a while," he explained.

Police took him home again and

The many attractions of the border city took the teachers there from every part of the state, and it is believed that the curiosity which prevails in older portions of Texas regarding the Panhandle will bring the attendance at Amarillo up to par in spite of the serious handicap of financial conditions. Those who attended the meeting at Houston last year found evidence everywhere of the interest which teachers have in this section of the state.

Although there has been a State Teachers association in Texas for nearly 40 years, it was not until about 1919 that the organization began to have a large enough membership and a sufficiently definite program to give it real power in shaping the growth of educational policies in Texas. Under the leadership of T. H. Shelby, then superintendent of schools, at Tyler, the Texas Outlook, the monthly publication of the association was begun. Bulletins had appeared a number of times before this.

The shortage of teachers which prevailed during the war years and for a time afterwards resulted in an upward trend in teachers salaries, and a growing feeling of professional pride. By 1921 the official enrollment in the State Teachers association had reached 15,000.

Since that time the organization has had a definite program which includes better rural schools, better salaries for and better preparation of teachers, as well as the development of a professional spirit in the 35,000 teachers of Texas.

The state meetings have been outstanding in importance because of the nationally known educational leaders who have appeared each year on the programs.

This year Willis A. Sutton, retiring president of the National Education association and superintendent of schools at Atlanta, Miss Florence Hale, president of the N. E. A. and rural supervisor of Maine, William John Cooper, United States commissioner of education, and Dr. Edwin A. Lee, director of vocational education in the University of California will be out of state speakers who will help Texas teachers to see what problems are common to the whole United States and thus see their own day's work in better perspective.

Panhandle Welcomes Teachers.

The entire Panhandle feels that having the State Teachers association meeting in Amarillo is an opportunity to extend western hospitality. Several section meetings will be held in Canyon at the State Teachers college. Drives to the oil field region near Pampa and Borger will be arranged. The Palo Duro canyon will be shown visitors who

LUBBOCK WESTERNERS ON WAY TO CANYON FOR WORK-OUT

WANT'S BEST TO BE MADE AT AMARILLO

Coach Odus Mitchell believes his Harvesters will have a defensive problem in turning back Lubbock's brilliant running and passing attack. He drilled on defense the first part of the week, but stressed the offense as perhaps the best defense after all. Mitchell has nothing to fear as he contemplates a strong line and capable reserves. His chief apprehension will be at center, where Ralph Poe will be outweighted 36 pounds by Captain Bob Crawford of Lubbock. Jim Green, tackle, is out with an injured shoulder, but Reno is experienced and capable.

The Mitchellmen have one serious injury, this being Joe Freeman's ailing knee. Freeman, giant lineman, was hurt in the Amarillo encounter and has been on crutches since. The backfield, unless Joe Kahl's injured toe is hurt anew, will be in prime condition. Kahl did a Quisoteseque broken field run in his bedroom and kicked a dress-

Thanksgiving, the district would be in an inglorious tie and would have to start over.

Defense Is Vital

Coach Odus Mitchell believes his Harvesters will have a defensive problem in turning back Lubbock's brilliant running and passing attack. He drilled on defense the first part of the week, but stressed the offense as perhaps the best defense after all. Mitchell has nothing to fear as he contemplates a strong line and capable reserves. His chief apprehension will be at center, where Ralph Poe will be outweighted 36 pounds by Captain Bob Crawford of Lubbock. Jim Green, tackle, is out with an injured shoulder, but Reno is experienced and capable.

er with his bare foot. He should be o. k. by Saturday.

No Speedsters Coming

While Coach Chapman of Lubbock is worrying about the dearth of backs who can run-like-bell after crossing the line of scrimmage, Coach Mitchell is chiefly concerned about getting his lighter backs across that line. The Lubbock oven weigh an average of 20 pounds per man in the backfield more than the Harvesters. Chapman has Quarterback ritton, Fullbacks Barnett and Davidson, and Halfbacks Scoggin and Merrill—all big huskies who can advance the ball. Chapman's tale of their sluggish toting is not taken seriously here. Merrill cannot be called slow, and the others are clever at following interference. The ends, moreover, get down under passes for long gains, sometimes beyond the safety.

Visitors Powerful

The effectiveness of the Lubbock backfield, illustrated by a total of 321 points scored against opponents this season, has made the fans forget last year's Messrs. Lawson, Watkins, Smith, and Teal. Lubbock's opposition has been relatively easy compared with the Oklahoma, Kansas, and Oil Belt teams conquered by Amarillo and Pampa.

By way of comparison, the opposing lines are taken into consideration at present. Coach Odus Mitchell's starting forward wall weighs 1,199 pounds; Lubbock's line weighs 1,171 pounds, a difference of 28 pounds. Lubbock many find some consolation in the fact that its line is more evenly balanced from end to end than Pampa's. At center for Pampa is Poe, 145 pounds, to oppose Captain Bob Crawford of Lubbock. Crawford weighs 181. Green, weighing 178 pounds, will be ready to relieve Poe for Pampa.

The guards are unequally matched. Pafford of Pampa weighs 212, and Schmidt, 166 pounds. Welch of Lubbock weighs 155 and Griggs, 156 pounds. All are playing second years as regulars. At tackles, Mitchell has Burch, 174 pounds, and Reno, only 155 pounds, against Bert Williams and Rosser Abbott, 185 and 170 pounds, respectively. Moore and Pool, Pampa's ends, are slated to weigh 148 and 175 pounds, respectively, with Kelly, a substitute, weighing 156. Will Ed Watson tops the scales at 181 and Walton Blagg, Lubbock's right end, weighs 143.

Coach Mitchell doubtless will base his offense around Captain Ray Chastain, the half back who dives off the spinnners; Martindale, half who has speed and flexible hips; Kahl, the slip of a boy who probably can outrun any player Lubbock has; and either big Paul Hill or Red Bost at fullback. Neither Hill nor Bost have proved capable of filling Don Saulsbury's shoes this year at full, but Hill is a 220-pounder who pushes well in a pinch and Bost is developing into a head-down plunger.

Traveling Today The Westerners yesterday completed their home training, and this morning started for Canyon, where this afternoon they will work out on Buffalo field. They will spend tonight in Amarillo and will journey here early Saturday. Charley Orenshaw, 145-pound quarterback, has replaced O. H. Britton, who has been indisposed on account of the shattering of a tooth in the Odessa game last week. Griggs and Calloun, linemen, have minor injuries.

Lubbock will bring a special train, paralleled by hundreds of other Panhandle fans traveling by car. A crowd of at least 9,000 is expected, but perhaps not the 12,000 who saw Amarillo and Pampa two weeks ago. The game is heralded as a headliner in the Texas Interscholastic league program for Oct. 31.

NEBRASKA TO TRY MISSOURI ON SATURDAY

Bo McMillen Goes East to Show West Virginia Midwest Styles.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 30. (AP)—While Bo McMillen shows West Virginia some of the better grade of midwestern football at Morgantown Saturday, four Big Six teams will be involved in a pair of games that may have much to do with determining whether McMillen's Kansas Aggies win the conference title. Nebraska, regarded as the chief threat to the McMillen men, plays Missouri at Columbia, and Iowa State meets Oklahoma at Norman.

The champion Kansas university Jayhawkers, defeated by the Kansas Aggies and Nebraska, entertain Oklahoma A. and M. Although West Virginia defeated the Aggies 23 to 7 at Morgantown last year, the Wildcats from Manhattan are favored to win Saturday and they may take advantage of the opportunity for national recognition by trying for a big score.

Nebraska must beat Missouri to remain in the running with the Aggies and a Husker victory would tie the leaders at three wins apiece. Coach George Veenker's Iowa State Cyclones have acquired the hue of the dark horse contender. More will be known of the caliber of Cyclone football after the test against the hard-fighting Sooners, who have been beaten twice in the conference.

Lubbock will bring a special train, paralleled by hundreds of other Panhandle fans traveling by car. A crowd of at least 9,000 is expected, but perhaps not the 12,000 who saw Amarillo and Pampa two weeks ago. The game is heralded as a headliner in the Texas Interscholastic league program for Oct. 31.

Ban on Kick-Off Has Little Backing

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (AP)—Agitation to abolish the kickoff as a result of the death of Dick Sheridan in the Yale-Army game has met with a somewhat chilly reception from the football rules committee.

Six members of the committee of nine, when asked for comment by The Associated Press, indicated they favored retention of the kickoff. Two others declined to comment and the ninth could not be reached for a statement.

H. J. Stegeman of the University of Georgia expressed the views of most of the rules committee members when he called the kickoff one of the most spectacular in the game and declared it resulted in no more injuries than other formations.

Opponents of the kickoff have taken the position its danger lies in the fact it permits formation of the prohibited "flying wedge." Ray Morrison of Southern Methodist wants the kickoff to remain just as it is but he favors the "complete elimination of the flying wedge which I consider the most dangerous formation in football."

M. J. Ahearn of Kansas State, W. O. Hupner of Southern California, W. G. Crowell of Swarthmore, and Amos Alonzo Stagg of Chicago all indicated they favored retention of the kickoff.

"It's elimination," said Stagg, "would not stop injuries in football," and added that punts also would have to be banned under the arguments advanced by opponents of the kickoff.

Hoover Is Shown to Have Opposed Separate Army

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (AP)—Col. Frederick Palmer's book, "Newton D. Baker—America at War," which is published today, portrays Herbert Hoover in 1917 as opposing a separate American army in France. Mr. Hoover's idea, according to Palmer, was to use American troops as "manpower" within the ranks of the allies.

Colonel Palmer writes that Mr. Hoover's army organization views were made in a letter written Feb. 13, 1917, to Col. E. M. House, President Wilson's confidential advisor. In the letter Mr. Hoover suggests that "if the government gave stimulus by provision of pensions, etc., a large body of men could be recruited and sent simply as man power to France."

Mr. Hoover believed this plan more feasible, Palmer writes, than the long training which would be necessary in the organization of an expeditionary force and in view of the fact that a large American army in France would

Temporary Speaker May Be Elected

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—The question of selecting a successor to Nicholas Longworth as speaker of the house is working more and more into the ascendancy as convocation of congress nears.

While one group of Republicans here belittles forecasts that the party will not organize the next house and elect its speaker, a new thought has been advanced into the discussion by Representative Treadway, a Massachusetts Republican.

He proposed that William Tyler Page of Maryland, clerk of the house, be elected temporary speaker or if a deadlock should ensue. Pointing out that the debt moratorium must be acted upon before Dec. 15, Treadway urged that if necessary committees be named only as needed to carry out President Hoover's recommendations. Membership of these would be divided equally between parties.

Selection of the speaker could then await solution of pressing problems. Meanwhile, Representative Wood of Indiana was greeting with a grin

Moses, Republican, New Hampshire, who "political difficulties in association."

"At the same time," Colonel Palmer continues, "Hoover thought we ought to have strong military forces in being at the end of the war to strengthen our hands at the peace negotiations, since our proposals might be in conflict with European proposals."

Colonel Palmer states that Colonel House apparently favored Mr. Hoover's plan and "suggested Hoover's suitability for this post."

In outlining reasons why the plan was not accepted by the United States, the writer terms Mr. Hoover's idea as one "fatal to our efficiency and to the very cause of the allies."

General Pershing is shown by Colonel Palmer to have over-estimated by 60 divisions the number of American troops needed to win the war. In an account of a conversation between Secretary Baker and Marshal Foch at the allied front, the French leader is quoted as telling Baker that 40 and not Pershing's estimate of 100 American divisions would be needed in France.

TEST OF MIDDLE AGE

There is one infallible way, says Novelist Edna Ferber, in which you can always tell when a woman has reached middle age.

When she says, "I want a place of my own in the country, with some ground, and some trees—a place that's peaceful and quiet"; then, says Miss Ferber, you may know that middle age has claimed her. She is past the first flush of youth, and the second as well. The alarms and excursions of the mundane world have no more attraction for her. She is about ready to go on the shelf.

Now all of this may be useful to know, in a day when mothers look as youthful as their daughters, and age is harder to guess than ever before. Yet one is entitled to wonder if Miss Ferber can be entirely correct. If so, then youth flies more quickly than we had supposed.

For this hankering for a place in the country is one of the most widespread of all hankerings, these days. It is voiced not only by the frankly middle-aged, but by the youthful as well; not only by dowagers, but by men—by men, in fact, of all ages, from the collegiate upward. And it represents, probably, a reaction to an urban life which has attained too fast a pace, an urban life which has made impossibly severe demands on the privacy and serenity of the individual citizen.

The cities of America are, in some days, her most admirable achievements. They have a lusty vitality, a limitless energy, a great optimism, and faith that can occasionally move mountains. They present inspiring sky-lines, architecture that carries the spirit aloft to a new freedom, a grandeur that is a tonic to the soul.

But we pay a terribly high price for them. They are crowded; some of them beyond all reason. They are noisy and dirty. They abound with miserable tenements and cramped apartments. The jerry-builder has flourished in their suburbs. The bill-board advertiser has bred in their vacant lots and along their outskirts. Depression moves parallel with inspiration.

From this the one great escape is the quiet place in the country, with some empty ground and some trees. We all long for it, instinctively recognizing that too much city can be a bad thing. It indicates middle age? It must be, then, that we age very quickly.

"Title Defense" Is In Name Only

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 30. (AP)—Tony Canzoneri's title "defense" against Phillie Griffin of Newark proved just a light workout for the chunky little New York Italian.

Canzoneri, who holds the world's championships, risked the lesser of them, the junior welter eight crown, last night but had no trouble keeping it in his possession, winning the decision by a wide margin after ten easy rounds. For the first five rounds, when Griffin appeared disturbed by the thought of being in the same ring with a champion, Tony hardly exerted himself at all. Then when the Newark boy began to fight, Canzoneri fought back, had Phillie up against the ropes a couple of times and put on one flurry that looked as if he might knock out his rival before he eased up again for the finish.

HAVE NO NEGROES

AMARILLO, Oct. 30. (AP)—Five Panhandle counties are without a single negro citizen, it is revealed by census figures released by the government. They are Dallam, Moore, Sherman, Roberts and Ochiltree.

Book Says Baker Kept Teddy From Going to France

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (AP)—The curtain of officialdom which has shrouded much of the eventful history of the war department in the turbulent days that preceded and followed American entry into the world war is again lifted in a two volume work to be published here today.

It is written by Col. Frederick Palmer and is based chiefly upon the confidential papers and files of Newton D. Baker, secretary of war in the Wilson cabinet, supplemented by two sets of the confidential telegrams which passed between the war department and the A. E. F. headquarters in France.

For the first time many events which shaped the policy of the American army and explained the action of high officials are revealed.

Secretary Baker also pronounced the final "No," the book says, on Theodore Roosevelt's plan to raise a special volunteer division to serve under him in France. The author quotes Joseph Tumulty, secretary to President Wilson, as saying the latter was about ready to accede to Roosevelt's request on sentimental grounds when Baker asserted it would have a bad effect on recruiting for the regular army and the national guard.

Zoning Decision Is Blow to Ordinances

AUSTIN, Oct. 30. (AP)—The supreme court has clarified the situation that obtains in many cities over the right of municipalities to pass ordinances forbidding construction of gasoline filling stations in certain districts.

In passing on the right of cities to bar such business enterprises from restricted residential areas, the court decided a case that came to it from Wichita Falls.

The opinion, written by Judge Joseph Ryan, member of the commission of appeals, and approved by the supreme court, said "the law can not and does not undertake to deny the ordinary right of an owner to use his property as he pleases upon a consideration thus purely aesthetic, even though it does result in pecuniary loss."

However, the opinion clearly stated that the court was not passing on any zoning questions.

"The fact that owners have invested hundreds of thousands of dollars in homes around the proposed filling station site, that the presence in the neighborhood of structures such as that contemplated (referring to the Wichita Falls filling station) renders less desirable, and even less valuable, their property for home purposes does not constitute the proposed structure a nuisance so as to enjoin its construction as an unlawful interference with the rights of such home owners," the opinion said.

"The same result might follow from the construction of a number of cheap and undesirable residence cottages in the same neighborhood."

Texan's Sacrifice Gets Carnegie Honor

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 30. (AP)—A Texan who gave his life to save another's today was named by the Carnegie Hero fund commission as among the 48 throughout the country who were recognized for outstanding acts of heroism.

He was William R. Billingsley, 46, a storekeeper, of Sparenberg. To his widow the commission has made the posthumous award of a bronze medal and given death benefits at the rate of $80 a month.

The commission reports that Billingsley "suffered fatal injuries rescuing Thomas A. Bryce, 21, a filling station attendant, from a homicidal attack at Sparenberg, May 1, 1930. A man wearing a mask entered the filling station, attended by Bryce at night, intent upon robbery. He threatened to kill Bryce, handling him roughly and punching him in the breast with the muzzle of a revolver."

"Billingsley, who lived across the highway, was attracted and he borrowed a shotgun and went to the filling station. Through a window he saw the man menacing Bryce with the revolver. He opened a screen door and the man fired through the glass of the main door, wounding Billingsley. The robber then opened the door and again fired at Billingsley, and Billingsley, who was unable to move the safety catch of his gun, struck the holdup man over the head with it and then fell. The robber fired twice more at Billingsley and then ran away. Billingsley was struck by three bullets and suffered injuries from which he died the following afternoon. Bryce was not injured."

KILLED IN ACCIDENT

VAN HORN, Oct. 30. (AP)—J. A. Partridge, motor parts dealer, was killed last night when the automobile in which he was riding overturned.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

ON MRS. JUPITER, wife of the millionaire automobile manufacturer, gives an engagement dinner and dance for her secretary, MARY HARKNESS, who is to marry DIRK RUTHER, blue-blooded young lawyer.

Mary receives a telephone call from her escapee brother, EDIE, saying he is in trouble and must see her. The house is strictly guarded against "gate-crashers" because Mrs. Jupiter is wearing the famous Jupiter rubies.

Mary arranges for Edie to be admitted secretly. When she goes upstairs to meet him she finds Mrs. Jupiter robbed and murdered in her room. Seeking Edie she finds him with CORNELIA TADOR, his childhood sweetheart. Edie advises her to keep silent about Edie until he can locate the boy. BOWEN, reporter for the Star, shows unusual interest in the case.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER VI

"WHAT do you know about telephone calls?" Kane asked.

"I don't know a thing, Inspector. I just asked," the Star reporter replied. The reporter, whose name was Bowen, turned away toward the stairs. "Well, I'll just run up and see how Bill's making out. I'd like to get a look at that necklace myself. No objection?"

"Go ahead."

They had all gone and Mary found herself alone with Mr. Jupiter in the library.

"She got up and went over and sat down beside Mr. Jupiter in front of the fire."

"Mr. Jupiter, there's something I must tell you—"

"Mr. Jupiter, there's something I must tell you," Mary said.

He looked up vaguely, as if becoming aware of her for the first time. Seeing the suffering in that lined face, Mary's heart failed her.

"Edie? Oh, yes," she smiled and roused himself. "I know you're going to leave us. Well, we expected that. But we didn't think it would be so soon. You and Edie going to get married right off?"

"No, no!" Mary assured him emphatically, much to her own surprise. "Not for a long time yet. He looked utterly bored; that also could she have said?"

"He was staring into the fire again. His face was working, like that of a child who is trying hard not to cry. Sick with pity, Mary looked away."

"It's not the same without her. It is, child," he said sadly.

Dr. Jordan's words flashed into her mind. Taking a deep breath, she plunged ahead.

"Mr. Jupiter, last night my— I had a telephone call from my brother. I haven't seen him for quite a long time. He called me up during the party, and—"

"I will. But he's so young. He isn't 21 yet." She hadn't thought of it before but now it came to her that whatever Edie had been up to, his punishment would be tempered for him—he was still a minor in the eyes of the law.

"I'm sorry to see you go, now more than ever," Mr. Jupiter resumed. "Eddie did not interest him much; he was of a different stripe from his sister, and he had never cared much about the boy. 'I'll tell you, if it wasn't for this Dirk of yours—we had plans about you, Mama and I. I don't know but she'd like them carried out anyway, now she's gone and can't attend to it herself.'"

Mary had no idea of what was coming; as he continued, her amazement grew.

"We always wanted a daughter, and after Bruce went away, and you came, Mama used to say how nice it was to have a young girl in the house."

"Of course, Bruce will marry some day; but then we never see as much of Bruce as we'd like to." The shadow of a very real bitterness crossed his face. "No, that might not happen anyway in our lifetime, and like as not it would be one of those foreign women he's always writing about. No, we thought we wouldn't wait for that. We had you here, and liked you, and we thought we'd just adopt you. Now, what would you have said to that?"

It was like a fairy-tale come true. She found herself laughing and crying at once.

"It would have been wonderful! Perfectly wonderful!"

"Yes—well," he said, pleased as a child, "we'll have to see about it when all this is over. Things are pretty bad right now. But you mustn't let it worry you, or change your plans a jot. Bruce'll be along any day now. I dare say there'll be an answer to my cable before the day's over, and when he comes he'll brighten things up a bit."

Mary tried to believe that this was so but could only reflect bitterly on what she had heard of the absent Bruce and his ways.

"Full that bell-cord, will you?" Mr. Jupiter asked, suddenly. But Spence when he came had nothing to report. The old man sank back. "I suppose there's hasn't been time."

ALTHOUGH she had never seen him, Mary's heart was hardened against him. It was plain to see how much his parents missed him, how puzzled they were by his continued absence.

Now she tried to soften the blow for the old man.

"He may be out of town."

"Well, he's no business to be!" he snapped. Instead of soothing him, the suggestion seemed to anger him.

Whether his grievance was justified or not, it was exceedingly bitter. Mary hoped for Bruce's sake he was managing to endure spring in Paris this year.

"We've taken a lot of comfort in you, Mary," Mr. Jupiter continued more gently. "You may as well have some of what we've got, along with Bruce. The Ruyters have got nothing. Never will have anything Steve's too close. He wouldn't plant a nickel that wouldn't raise a dolerone of those foreign women he's always writing about."

Mary sat stunned. They loved her enough for that—to have made her their own daughter, given her a share in the immense Jupiter fortune! But would he feel the same about it, when he knew?

"That would have been wonderful," she managed to say. "but—let's not think about it now."

The nurse Dr. Jordan had sent came in, starchy efficient, and interrupted them. "Time for Mr. Jupiter to get some rest," she told him firmly. Those were Dr. Jordan's orders. Bed, and his lunch one brought up to him.

"Faugh!" The nurse recoiled before his rejection of her. "Where's Spence? Who told Jordan to send a woman over here? You go back and tell him I said to mind his own business. I guess I've still got sense enough to know when to go to bed."

When the indignant lady had finally been persuaded that her presence was not wanted, and Mr. Jupiter had been delivered into the hands of his ancient servant, Mary thought herself of Bessie. It might not hurt to drop a cautious word.

Spence could not say where she was. She was a light-headed baggage and he would just like the job of discharging her if she didn't tend to business better than this.

"Oh, I wouldn't do that just yet!" Mary said hurriedly. "She's probably around somewhere."

"She'll be wherever the men are," was Spence's acid reply.

This proved true enough. For as Mary mounted the stairs to go to her own room she was surprised to hear voices on the landing, one of them the maid's.

"Don't you know any movie directors, honest?" she was saying. "Gee, I thought newspapermen knew everybody there!"

The voice of Bowen, the Star's reporter, replied wearily. "No, I don't, and if I did, what of it? Listen, sister, I've got an edition to catch. If you've got anything to tell me, let's have it and forget the Hollywood stuff. Come on, what's it all about?"

"Will you put my picture in the paper?"

"Sure, sure. Out with it." The reporter moved down a step. Time was short and he did not believe the girl had anything of importance to reveal.

"We'll, she lowered her voice to a whisper just as Mary hurried up the steps.

"Oh, Bessie," Mary interrupted coolly. "Spence is looking everywhere for you. Your friend will excuse you, I'm sure."

The startled maid jumped and fled past her down the stairs in precipitate haste, leaving Mary face to face with the embarrassed newspaperman.

"Have you finished your work?" she asked coldly. "Because if you have, you'd better go."

HOOVER WANTS APOLOGY FROM NAVY ADVOCATE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—Challenging statements of the Navy league, President Hoover announced that he would appoint a committee to which "agencies of the government will demonstrate" the league's charges to be "untruths and distortions of fact."

The league Wednesday issued a statement taking issue with Mr. Hoover's naval policies, and charging the president with an "abysmal ignorance" of the purpose and needs of the fleet.

The text of the president's statement follows:

"The Navy league states in its announcements that it has for a quarter of a century specialized in accurate information as to navy matters, and the principal activity of the league is to disseminate facts bearing on navy matters to the press."

"In order that the country may know the untruth and distortions of fact in Chairman Cardiner's recent pronouncement I will appoint a committee including members of the Navy league to whom agencies of the government will demonstrate these untruths and distortions of fact. Such an inquiry will involve the members of the league who have not participated in this statement."

Prime Minister Is Selecting Cabinet

LONDON, Oct. 30. (AP)—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald has begun the task of selecting the cabinet ministers on whom he will rely in his fight to re-establish complete international confidence in Great Britain's stability and to put the nation's economic house in order.

The first responsibility of the prime minister, equipped with his "doctor's mandate" by the overwhelming national government victory in Tuesday's general election, is to find a successor to Philip Snowden in the important post of chancellor of the exchequer.

Mr. Snowden did not stand for re-election to the house of commons, but he is expected to be elevated to the peerage and to take his place in the house of lords. Because of his frail health he has found it necessary to give up the hard work of the treasury post.

FALLS UNDER HOOVES
TAYLOR, Oct. 30. (AP)—Fred Stern, a farmer, was severely injured today when he fell from a load of hay, landing under the hoofs of the mule team drawing the wagon. He was battered and dragged for several hundred yards by the frightened animals.

vated to the peerage and to take his place in the house of lords. Because of his frail health he has found it necessary to give up the hard work of the treasury post.

Increase in Jobless Labor Head Reports

PASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—More trade union workers lost their jobs in October than the month before, but William Green has found at least two hopeful signs along the road toward winter.

As James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel corporation, was telling a senate committee that employment in his industry is on the upgrade, the president of the American Federation of Labor summarized a story of unemployment's trek in this way:

The number of men out of work increased two tenths of one per cent to 13.6 the first half of October. Green said such an increase "at this time of year is not unusual," since "a similar increase occurred in October even in the normal year of 1928." He added, if unemployment continues to increase at this rate "we shall have 7,000,000 persons out of work by January next."

Other figures show more men working on short schedules, which he said is a favorable sign when unemployment is rising.

Green recommended that wages be maintained, work hours be shortened and employment divided, minimum work forces be assured jobs from November to April, each employer take on additional workers, public undertakings be expedited, employment agencies be strengthened, the young remain in school, preference be shown for workers with dependents, and that relief from public and private funds be assured those who can not find work.

NEW GOVERNOR FORECAST

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 30. (AP)—Leading politicians here tonight said the state of Chihuahua would have a new governor before Sunday. The state legislature is trying to declare the governorship vacant, they said, and would, if successful, appoint Colonel Roberto Fierro, chief of the civil aviation department, to the post.

Cameron County's Paving Is Huge

BROWNSVILLE, Oct. 30. (P)—Cameron county will have nearly $1,000,000 in highways under construction when contract is awarded here Nov. 9 for the construction of another stretch of paving, known as the San Jose road to the coast. This paving will place the county high among those in the state in total amount of concrete paving. Construction work already under way includes the military highway in the San Benito precinct, a state highway on which $200,000 is being spent, the Harlingen paving program costing around $40,000, approximately $100,000 worth of paving in the Brownsville precinct, and the new paving project, which will cost probably between $175,000 and $200,000. All paving in the county is concrete.

Pink Grapefruit Is Called Spoiled

SAN BENITO, Oct. 30. (P)—Fred H. Scheer of San Benito thought that he would enjoy some Lower Rio Grande valley grapefruit while sojourning in Hot Springs, Ark., and ordered some sent him there. The manager of the hotel informed him regretfully, however, that the fruit was spoiled. Surprised, Scheer investigated and found that his valley friends had sent him a box of pink grapefruit and that the hotel manager thought the color due to decay. Scheer explained that it was a choice variety of fruit.

OFFICERS PLAN MUTUAL

SAN BENITO, Oct. 30. (P)—Lower Rio Grande valley peace officers in session here decided to look into establishment of mutual insurance, each contributing at certain sum when a fellow member dies. It is also hoped to establish a school of instruction.

Selecman Is Under Fire at Conference

BONHAM, Oct. 30. (P)—Enlivened discussions marked the opening sessions of the North Texas conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, south, today as the Rev. W. L. Tittle of Denton insisted by motion members of the board of trustees participating in fixing of their own salaries should be removed.

The discussion became general. Dr. C. C. Selecan, president of Southern Methodist university, said he was ready to resign now or at the expiration of his term. The motion was tabled, 101 to 52. The conference opened today with Dr. H. A. Boaz presiding.

A musical program was rendered in the afternoon by children of the Methodist church orphanage at Waco.
