Huge Amount Of Merchandise For Poultry Show Prizes Listed

TWINKLES
"Love-In-a-Mist" if you must, but by all means see the Pampa Little Theater's production of that name tonight at LaNora theater at 8:15 o'clock. A comedy that's not a farce, a cast fitted ideally to the parts, a precision imparted by a skilled director, a stage built with such productions in mind, no advance in price—these factors will assure you of first rate enjoyment. We'll see you there tonight.

To judge by some comments we hear, it should be spelled Tech-KNOCK-racy.

And it seems a shame to propose to knock the Tech out of Texas Tech when technology and technocracy are becoming such important words.

Times are getting better in East Texas, are they?—they have quit milking the jackrabbits.

Predictions for the new year nationally range from blackest pessimism to frank optimism. It is probable that the average viewpoint—for gradual improvement and reasonable advances and setbacks—will prevail.

Arthur N. Hyde, secretary of agriculture, believes that reduced stocks of farm commodities at home and better conditions abroad give hope for better farm incomes in the next few years. The difficulty is that a 3-year cycle is needed for a very definite change. If a good start is made in the right direction in 1933, this writer will be satisfied.

We do not deal in predictions as to commodity prices. We merely report that some economists predict relatively cheap hogs, weak cattle market, listless sheep and lamb demand, and much improved prospects for poultry. Wheat prices should hardly be worse, hence, with a prospect of a short crop, the price curve should move upward somewhat. The American farmers are cutting their production, but it must be remembered that their prices are affected greatly by the world supply. We have an exporting nation; splendidly equipped with machinery. The cotton situation shows little change in sight.

From the producers' standpoint, there is optimism in ability to reduce overhead in a way that formerly was thought impossible. The ability, however, was bad news to hired hands of the farm and laborers in general. Reduction of overhead, although necessary because of high taxes and lowered incomes, has brought additional unemployment. The responsibility of congress to erect a tariff structure fair to agricultural crops with exportable surpluses may not be acted upon soon, although there are various proposals for making the tariff effective as to agriculture. Many observers classify 1933 as a critical year in the effort to restore to farm families their fair share in the national income.

The farmer, however, shares the various ills which affect other people, and he cannot be expected to emerge into the profit column until conditions improve generally. He is vitally concerned in the buying power of city workers, just as they are involved in his ability to buy manufactured products.

Even the farmer, close to the soil, is watching the stock market. He has come to associate its ups

GALLOWAY IS JUDGE

PRIZES FOR SINGLES AND PENS ARE IMPOSING

An imposing premium list of merchandise for winners in the Pampa poultry show of January 19, 20, and 21 was announced today by the Board of City Development and other sponsors of the event.

Orders for the merchandise will be awarded as the poultry is judged by R. B. Galloway, who is with the Hardeman-King company of Amarillo. Names of several merchants who will furnish additional prizes were not available today because they had not selected the merchandise, but these will be announced later. The prizes will be in classes not yet listed. The show's prize committee reserves the right to rearrange the awards after the registration of entries begins, if the number of entries warrants.

The premium list follows:

SINGLES
Rhode Island Reds—Best cock, dress shirt from Kees & Thomas; best hen, $2 merchandise from City Drug store; best cockerel, $2 merchandise from Standard Food store; best pullet, crank case change from Plains One-Stop Station at corner of Ballard and Kingsmill.

Birthday Cake in La Nora Theater For Anniversary

A huge, gorgeously trimmed birthday cake with two candles, placed in the foyer of the LaNora theater, last night called attention of patrons to the fact that all next week the theater will be observing its second birthday.

Three big circular layers, the largest more than 3 feet in diameter, are covered with icing in delicate colors and many frills. The work was done by Perry Faust of the City bakery. The center of the cake may be synthetic, but the exterior view is one to touch the appetite.

The birthday anniversary week will be launched at 11:30 p. m. Saturday, when the rollicking New Year's prelude will begin. For this occasion, Manager George Limerick has chosen a lively comedy-drama that exposes the balmy racket and which is alive with personality.

PAMPA OIL TERRITORY HAS INCREASED POTENTIAL THOUGH FEW WELLS DRILLED IN 1932

Long Life of Pools Is Stabilizing Factor

Gray county's oil and gas field has barely been tapped and the Panhandle field is anything but exhausted. This was proved during the last year, when no outstanding wildcats were drilled and no new pools developed, yet production gained over decline in both oil and dry gas.

Gray county provided the most activity during the year, with the potential passing the 120,000-barrel mark. The county had more than 85 per cent of the new production of the Panhandle field, which amounted to more than 60,000 barrels. There are 807 active producing oil wells in the county and 1,861 in the Panhandle field.

Under proration, the present Panhandle allowable is 43,000 barrels. Of that amount, Gray county is allowed 25,000 barrels. The majority of producers in the field are in favor of proration, which has been largely responsible for the connecting of many wells with pipelines. There are only a few wells in the entire field not connected at present. W. B. Hamilton of the oil and gas division of the railroad commission has been largely responsible for the connecting of 300 wells during the last two years.

Many Hearings. The railroad commission held five hearings in the Panhandle during the year, three in Amarillo and two in Pampa. Three of the hearings were for the study of the Salvation Army Drive Closing

The Salvation Army home service appeal was drawing toward a close today, although much follow-up work must be done. Many of the persons listed as prospective givers had not been seen.

No definite goal of money has been set, and the program will depend upon the funds collected. Rev. A. A. Hyde commended the work today. He said: "It has been my pleasure to observe the workings of the Salvation Army in Sherman, Denison, and Paris before my coming to Pampa. It is indeed a great agency of God for ministering to suffering humanity and it has been a great in carrying the gospel to those the churches do not reach. It has a field of service no other organization reaches. Pampans can well afford to support the work of the Salvation Army with their whole heart."

Try-Outs For Next Play Monday Night

Try-outs for the third Little Theater play of the season, "Children of the Moon," will be held Monday night at 8:30 at the Pampa Office Supply company. Mrs. E. M. Conley, president, announced today. The new production will be the most serious type of play yet attempted by the Little Theater. It delves into the realm of fantasy and its mystic beauty is one of its most appealing features. All interested persons are invited to try out for parts.

INTERCEDES FOR MOONEY

ALBANY, N. Y., Dec. 30. (AP)—President-elect Roosevelt today promised Mrs. Mary Mooney, mother of the imprisoned Tom Mooney, that he would write a letter in behalf of Mooney to the governor, Ralph of California. Mr. Roosevelt told Mrs. Mooney he would write to Ralph after he retires as governor. He added that he could not say what he would write into the letter.

QUINTET TAKEN IN 45 MINUTE BATTLE; 15 OFFICERS MAKE ATTACK

JAY, Okla., Dec. 30. (AP)—Sixteen Kansas and Oklahoma officers closed in on a group of five outlaw suspects hiding in a hill retreat on the "DC" ranch near Kenwood, Delaware county, at dawn today and wounded two of the men. Deputy United States Marshal Charles Warner of Tulsa was wounded in the arm during the gun battle. The five suspects were captured and taken to the Edwards county jail in Kansas. The men captured were Jack Atkins and "Big Boy" Baulker, both wounded; J. C. Casey, Elmer Ross, and Don Blend. All were wanted for questioning in connection with

'FIBBING' COMEDY TONIGHT

'IDEAL' CAST WILL PRESENT SECOND PLAY

'LOVE-IN-A-MIST' IS DUE TO BE LAUGH-HIT OF SEASON

BIG CROWD IS EXPECTED

ACTION IS BASED ON 'WHITE LIES' OF HEROINE

The amusing, exasperating, but withal human experiences that befall one Diana Wynn and six other persons who were drawn into the web of her fabrications will be told in detail by a capable cast at the LaNora theater beginning at 8:15 o'clock this evening when the curtain rises on "Love-In-a-Mist."

"Every member of the Little Theater is proud of the rehearsal," Mrs. E. M. Conley, president, said this morning. "Dress rehearsal last night convinced me that it will be a new high mark in Little Theater achievement. The stage setting will be the best we have ever provided."

A big crowd is expected, but George Limerick, manager of the LaNora, is confident that the 1,400 seats in the theater will seat every customer. The spectators need not fear that he will be unable to hear part of the dialogue. The "proceedings" in "The Trial of Mary Dugan" were audible in every seat in the house. Mrs. T. F. Morton, director of "Love-In-a-Mist," said today that her cast will be heard tonight and that the players know their lines.

Characters Interesting. The play itself is a high-class comedy. It requires an excellent cast for a successful production. Mrs. Morton believes that her cast is "ideal." Mrs. Jean Barrett will assume the role of Diana Wynn, the girl who fibs and fibs and fibs; Gilmore N. Nunn will be Gregory Farnham, her exasperated but sincere lover; Howard Nellis will interpret the role of Count Scipio Vorelli, and Mr. Nellis is likely to steal the show with his Italian accent, musical voice and touching sincerity; Miss Florita Freeman will be Miss Sidney Rose Wynn who loves the Italian count; Miss Louise Harton is the aunt, Miss Ann Wynn. The other characters are Miss Peggy Arnold, Kizzy, and James Todd Jr., Colin, negro servants.

The plot of the play is briefly: Diana is a girl who becomes engaged to several men all of whom are unaware of her engagements. She really loves Farnham. She becomes engaged to the count because he told his mother he would die if Diana did not return his love. Sidney Rose is in love with the count but does not want anyone to know it.

Prices of admission will be 40 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

McGrew Presides Over Kiwanians For First Time

Pres. C. E. McGrew presided over the Kiwanis club today for the first time since his election. He was called out of town before Christmas due to the illness of a brother. A roll call of the members today revealed that the Kiwanians were originally from thirteen states, but practically all of them have lived in Texas and Pampa for many years.

Paul LeBeuf was presented a "Hero Motif" by Judge Newton P. Willis. John Roby, who has been absent from the club for several months, rejoined today. He was a charter member of the Pampa club. Bill Aven, Kiwanian from Amarillo, and Mr. Warren were among the visitors.

OUR CONGRATULATIONS! J. T. Crawford was receiving birthday congratulations today. He was 88 years old. The Crawfords came here from Weatherford in 1896, and formerly were from Tennessee.

DIANA AND GREGORY

MRS. JULIAN BARRETT. This is the fabricating, truth-stretching heroine of "Love-In-A-Mist." As Diana Wynn she keeps seven people in hot water through the three acts and gets herself involved in situations of an astounding nature. Her fault is that she just can't keep from telling a brave youth that she will marry him when he swears she's going to kill himself if she doesn't. Truth will be "pinned" to her tonight when the play is produced.

GILMORE N. NUNN. It is Mr. Nunn as Gregory Farnham who has excellent reasons to become exasperated in "Love-In-A-Mist." And why not? Diana with whom he is in love tells so many little "white lies" that he doesn't know whether she's in love with him or a dozen other fellows, including Count Scipio Vorelli (Howard Nellis).

SPORTSMAN INDICTED AS AN ACCESSORY IN TRUNK DEATHS

Phoenix Lumberman Charged With Full Knowledge Of Slayings

PHOENIX, Ariz., Dec. 30. (AP)—J. J. Halloran, Phoenix lumberman and sportsman, was indicted by the grand jury today in connection with the Winnie Ruth Judd murder case and shortly afterward accepted a bench warrant charging he was an accessory in the slaying of Agnes Anne LeROI and Hedvig Samuelson.

Halloran appeared at the court-house almost immediately after the superior court clerk had notified him of a secret indictment and a bench warrant. He posted $3,000 bond and was released pending preliminary hearing next Tuesday.

The charge against the lumberman was based on alleged attempted concealment of a crime. He was not charged with implication in the slayings themselves. The maximum term of imprisonment is 10 years.

HERE'S LAST OF PRINTED BALLOTS FOR STAR POLL

All Votes Must Be Received By NEWS by 10 O'Clock Of Saturday Night.

The vote closes Saturday night late. Ballots received before 10 p. m. Saturday will be counted. Votes may be telephoned to The NEWS if desired. The last printed ballot is herewith presented—don't forget to use it in time.

Much interest has been aroused in the selection. The result will be known only when the ballot box is opened Saturday night. No inking of the standing of the leading nominees is available.

Placing emphasis upon leadership is a widely used way to emphasize the need for unselfish public service. Within a short time, some young man of under 35 years of age will be given a National Junior chamber of commerce medal for local work. This is independent of the ALL-STAR poll.

You don't need a poll tax for this poll, just clip the ballot and vote for five persons, or telephone The NEWS at 686 or 687 before 10 p. m. Saturday night.

E. G. STARK AND R. B. STOUT ARE ALSO SELECTED

OTHERS ARE NOT CHOSEN

DEPUTIES FOR L'FORS AND M'LEAN NOT APPOINTED

C. E. (Tiny) Pipes who will become sheriff of Gray county next Monday morning, announced this morning that he had selected H. C. (Bud) Cottrell, E. G. Stark, and R. B. Stout as his Pampa deputies.

The sheriff-elect said that he had not chosen deputies for McLean and LeFors.

A. J. Davis, special officer for the Santa Fe, will hold a deputy commission under Mr. Pipes, the latter stated.

"In deciding on the men to serve under me," Mr. Pipes said in a statement to The NEWS, "I have given the matter my full time and consideration, and I am sure that the three men selected to help me in the duties of the sheriff's office in Gray county, will give me and Gray county, their full loyalty and devoted service."

Cottrell Well-Known. Cottrell is ready for the going to strike. The sheriff's force will do everything possible to cooperate.

On the Jekyll and Hyde of Business; Bankruptcy as an Honorable Privilege Abused

Bankruptcy is defined, on the one hand, as "legal insolvency"; this applies to the realm of law, social order, and honesty. On the other hand, it is defined as an "utter lack, as of pride"; this applies to the jungle rule of the survival of the fittest, nothing barred.

There is the rule of the jungle in this world, and there is the rule of law!

The former moves men to commit injustices of a million varieties on their fellow men; under jungle law no man's mother, sister, children, home, liberty, rights, property—and in these times of economic stress, property is by no means the east of these.

Under the rule of law, protection is provided for all these, and provided in proportion as law is efficiently and honestly administered and its power and authority respected and honestly administered and its power and authority respected and obeyed. But law, having been written by man, is human, and can be cheated and imposed upon, taken advantage of, and used as a tool for dishonest furtherment when in the hands of unscrupulous people.

We have, all of us, seen what it is. We have seen how it works. We have felt, however briefly, the fetid breath of anarchy on our cheeks. We have learned how frail is the barrier which divides civilization from the primal jungle—and we have been given to see clearly what that barrier is.

It is the law! It is the might of the law, wisely and fearlessly administered! Because law is not fool-proof, however, and when who make an honest endeavor to enforce it are often the victims of circumstance; the privileges and saving graces of law are oft times converted into the treacherous weapons of swindle.

Bankruptcy is one of the privileges often misused! In the truest sense of the word, bankruptcy is the legal right through which a man may naturally and properly unburden himself from a financial strain that has robbed him of all strength, of all hope, and of all of contact and life among his fellowmen.

Under these circumstances, when a man has made every honest effort possible to repay his creditors, both through unending labor and willingness of cooperation, bankruptcy is as noble as the complacent gesture of the heroic martyr.

In the opposite sense of the word—one which many communities are learning to define—bankruptcy means betrayal of trust, bespeaks of deceit, and reeks with malice aforethought. Under these circumstances, when a man asks the faith of the public and pretends to justify it, then uses the bankrupt laws to evade honest obligations, he is guilty of nothing short of heinous robbery.

It is the moral duty of every citizen of every community to frown upon dishonest use of the legitimate bankrupt act; moreover, to exert every good influence to direct financial support to those firms which are reliable, integral units of the business structure and growth of a city, instead of unthinkingly sanctioning support of any blood-sucking leech of business society, the boom-crang bankrupt artist!

It does seem that the age that produces a stabilizer to take the roll out of ocean liners should be able to take the squirt out of grapefruit.

and down with his own condition. Stocks were distinctly bearish in 1930 and 1931. They broke away from this trend in 1932, reaching maximum highs in September. They are finishing the year well above the summer low.

The Insull and Krueger collapses were severe, earnings declined, and deficits piled up, but buoyancy slowly developed despite these shocks. The country stayed on the gold standard. Gold outflow stopped in June. A huge stock buying pool, the federal tax measures, bolstering of the R. F. C., and seasonal upturns tended to give confidence nationally and territorially.

The bond market was demoralized in June but is ending the year much improved. With money rates at extremely low levels, even high grade issues were hard pressed to stand up. Hasty dumping of bank investments to raise cash added measurably to the heaviness of the bond market.

Electors' List Lost—Texas Has Seige as Result

AUSTIN, Dec. 30. (AP)—Texas had quite a siege of confusion over her democratic presidential electors this time.

First, the legislature passed a law authorizing a direct vote on president and vice-president instead of the 18 congressmen and two United States senators. Someone questioned the constitutionality of that plan.

Uneasy lest the republicans might take advantage of a technicality and deprive the democrats of Texas representation in the electoral college in event of a close election, managers of the Jeffersonian party decided to stick with the old plan of putting the electors on.

Then there resulted considerable confusion in getting the list of democratic electors. They were chosen at the party's state convention in Houston last May, but the roster was misplaced for the time being.

Post-election difficulties have cropped out. The democrats got their electors chosen to the electoral college, but Mrs. Jane Y. McCallum, secretary of state, is unable to find four of them: R. T. Wilkerson Jr., J. W. Purcell, Robert D. Cunningham and N. C. Outlaw. Where do they live? She tried to get their addresses from the state democratic organization, but in vain. Before she can notify them she must find their postoffice addresses.

Trying Period May Be Boon To School System

AUSTIN, Dec. 30. (AP)—The trying financial period through which schools are passing may in the end prove a boon to the system of public education in the opinion of L. W. Rogers, state superintendent of education.

"Patiently, the present is not the time for expansion of scholastic programs and administrative organizations," Rogers stated. "The immediate and imperative responsibility of the state, as well as local school units, is to safeguard the interests of the children now enrolled in school—to see that the children of this generation do not suffer irreparable loss while Texas is balancing its budget."

"But, on the other hand, present adversities may afford opportunity for a reorganization of our school system on a sounder and more equitable basis and provide the necessary legislative incentive for the accomplishment of that desirable end."

Rogers said that he believed education in Texas was "at the crossroads."

"Texas' schoolhouse doors must be kept open," he stated. "Short-sighted and selfish groups, who would balance the state budget at the expense of the children of Texas, are being resisted to have their way. Public education is the one function of the state that cannot be materially retarded without irreparable loss."

"Road building programs may be temporarily curtailed or abandoned and the resulting loss may be compensated by increased activity later; likewise in many other fields of public service temporary losses may be repaired, but not so in the field of public education. What the children of Texas lose today cannot be made up for in the future. To the extent that efficiency of the schools of today is reduced by inadequate support, will the quality of the citizenship of tomorrow be impaired."

Miss Helen Robb returned to Breckenridge yesterday morning after visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Robb.

County was interested in bonds because of inability to sell paving bonds for intra-county highways. Date of sale is still problematical.

'Ignorance Curve' Is Attempt To Plot Actions of Entire Population

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE, Associated Press Editor. ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Dec. 30 (AP)—The "ignorance curve" plotted by C. F. Kettering of General Motors, is based on Methane, or Marsh gas, because of its striking resemblance to human institutions.

Mr. Kettering explained the curve today. Yesterday he told economists at an unemployment symposium of the American Association for the Advancement of Science that it was "more surprising than any of the curves that were exhibiting on charts of the depression."

There are a lot of atoms in Marsh gas, more billions of them in a small puff of gas than there are humans alive. Scientists know a lot about these carbon atoms in one single molecule of methane.

They know 80 per cent of what the atoms are doing, an achievement comparing favorably with what is known of the doings in one single human being.

When the carbon atoms get together in this way there are millions and millions of things they might do which could not be foretold from the 80 per cent knowledge about what one group of atoms was doing.

It was like an economist trying to forecast what the millions of men in a nation would do by estimating according to the comparatively few men he actually knew to 80 per cent of certainty.

Kettering's carbon atom curve starting with 80 per cent knowledge dropped quickly down to almost nothing. As extra molecules were added to the population, these were more and more changes for unexpected happenings and greater and greater ignorance of what would take place.

"This ignorance curve," said Kettering, "is a warning to keep us from attempting foolish things like declaring a moratorium on invention with the idea that we can predict what the result of that action will be."

"We have plotted too many curves of what we know. We should begin to plot also what we don't know. We have mistaken mathematical relationships for quantities for understanding of fundamental principles."

COMMISSIONED SOFIA, Bulgaria, Dec. 30 (AP)—Nicholas Muschanoff, who resigned as premier yesterday, was commissioned by King Boris today to form a new cabinet.

Scientists Will Make Survey of Galapagos Isles

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 30 (AP)—Just 100 years after Charles Darwin revealed the little string of volcanic Galapagos Isles on the equator to be a paradise for naturalists, a little band of scientists embarks today on a survey expected to result in these now scientifically famous islands being made a sanctuary for the strange forms of animal life existing there.

The expedition is the third and round-up investigation headed and financed by Captain George Allan Hancock, Los Angeles banker and oil operator by vocation and explorer by avocation. The Smithsonian institution of Washington, the San Diego zoological society and the University of Southern California are represented.

Captain Hancock explained one of the objects of completing the survey is to provide a report for the government of Ecuador, which owns them, with recommendations they be set aside as a permanent sanctuary of scientific research.

Buccaners and whalers based in these islands, 730 miles off the coast of Ecuador in the Pacific, long before Darwin visited them on the Beagle 100 years ago. A few years before the Darwin visit, Charles Island, one of the 10 larger ones of the Galapagos, was made a convict settlement to which political exiles were sent.

Darwin found that most organic productions there were aboriginal creations found nowhere else. Geologically recent in its rise from the Pacific, he reported, this group both in time and space brought the researcher somewhat nearer to that mystery of mysteries, the first appearance of new beings on earth.

Many expeditions since Darwin have studied the rare specimens—tortoises, marine and land guanas, blue and red footed boobys, anglefish, frigate birds, red lizards, and a multitude of reptiles, insect, bird, fish and microscopic organisms.

At the old convict island of Charles, the party will visit Dr. Charles Ritter, self-exiled Berlin raw food theorist, who fled from his wife and Berlin social circles in 1929, taking with him Frau Koerwin, Berlin socialite, for a back-to-nature life on the equatorial island.

CHICAGO, Dec. 30 (AP)—The K-9 night club in swanky East Walton place was raided by prohibition agents assisted by city police early today, but more than 100 men and women dancing at the time were allowed to go unmolested. Two men, said by police to be proprietors of the place, were arrested, although the prisoners denied ownership. The officers reported a small quantity of liquor was seized.

'CULLUD'

JAMES TODD, JR. One would never believe that the gentleman above could transform his Illinois accent into mellow Alabama of the "cullud" variety, but he does that very thing in "Love-In-A-Mist" which will be produced at the LaNora theater tonight.

Mr. Todd will take the part of Colin, negro servant in the Wynne colonial mansion.

'A Mere Nothing' Exclaims 'Roxy'

NEW YORK, Dec. 30 (AP)—Not that S. L. Rothafel (Roxy) is slipping or anything, but tonight he opens a theatre which is not the largest in the world—a little thing that can seat only 3,700 persons.

The entertainment wizard who opened the gigantic music hall in Rockefeller center will preside over the "first night" of the RKO-Roxy movie theater, in the same $250,000,000 amusement center.

Besides the picture—the world premiere of "The Animal Kingdom" starring Ann Harding and Leslie Howard—there will be an orchestra of 50 pieces, a group of dancing girls, a vaudeville star with his company, singers and other features.

There are some superlatives about this theater, though. There's the largest single chandelier ever built, which weighs six and a half tons, and the largest movie screen.

STALIN CLAIMS AMERICAN BOOK IS 'REAL FANCY'

Says That Campbell 'Fabricated' in Interview

MOSCOW, Dec. 30 (AP)—Joseph V. Stalin, in a signed magazine article published today, accused Thomas D. Campbell, Montana's reputed owner of the largest wheat farm in the world, of showing "a real American fancy" in a book he wrote about Russia.

The head of the communist party and "strong man" of Russia said Campbell, who was special agricultural adviser to the Soviet government, "invented" details of an interview he had with Stalin in Moscow in 1929.

Stalin's attack on Campbell's book, entitled, "Russia, Market or Menace," appeared in "Bolshevik," the all-union communist party's official magazine. Appended to Stalin's article was a written record of the interview.

"Mr. Campbell, in his book, mentions the record of the interview with Stalin but he did not consider it necessary to publish it in this book," the article said. "Why? Is it not because publication of the record would destroy Campbell's whole plan concerning sensational tales built around the 'interview' with Stalin, which would be necessary to create advertising for Campbell's book in the eyes of American petty bourgeois?"

"A book in the English language written by a well known agricultural man, Mr. Campbell, who has been in the U. S. S. R., under the title 'Russia, Market or Menace,' recently appeared in America," the article said.

"In this book Mr. Campbell exposes incidentally the 'interview' with Stalin which took place in Moscow in January, 1929. (Campbell, who was special investigator of Indian reservation farm lands in the United States during the world war, became adviser for Russia in the operation of 10,000,000 acres in that country in 1929.) The interview is remarkable in that each sentence is an invention or a sensational misrepresentation having no relation to the question of Trotsky for the book and its author."

"Mr. Campbell fabricates more and more when he ascribes to Stalin words like 'under Trotsky (exiled Russian Bolshevik) they really tried to extend communism all over the world and this was the first reason for the rupture between Trotsky and himself (Stalin), that Trotsky trusted world communism while he (Stalin) wanted to limit his activity in his own country.' In fact the conversation with Campbell had no relation to the question of Trotsky and Trotsky's name was not mentioned."

Stalin denied the Soviet government or any of its agents could undertake work of "interference" with internal affairs of another country, adding the Soviet government could not be held responsible for "legal activities" of the American communist party in that respect.

Discontinuance of Light Is Successful

Pampans, both motorists and pedestrians, cannot seem to get used to the fact that the stop and go light at Cuyler and Easter has been stopped as an experiment. In fact, they appear to be more careful than when the light was in operation, police officers believe.

Cars and pedestrians stop going both ways to see how the light looks and then proceed. City commissioners decided to cut off the light as an experiment to speed traffic. The only danger would be that drivers will not stop when crossing Cuyler street or making a left turn. Officers have been instructed to keep a close watch on violations.

Changes Made in New Postoffice Building Plans

Although the architect has made changes in the plans for Pampa's federal building and forwarded his information to Washington, no word has been received locally as to the decision reached by the treasury department regarding the acceptance of revised bids for the construction of the building.

All bids submitted Nov. 23 were rejected as being too high, due largely to a 10 per cent cut in the appropriation after the plans were completed. The department then asked the architect to make changes that would reduce the cost without the necessity of drawing a new set of plans.

It is not known whether the changes will be satisfactory to the department. If not satisfactory, a new set of plans will have to be drawn and publication of request for bids asked, which would delay construction several months. If the changes are acceptable, contractors who bid on the job the first time will be notified and asked to submit revised bids, it is believed locally.

Glover and Boyington of Pampa submitted the third low bid at the November 28 letting. The low bid of $145,050 was by a Detroit firm.

Much Influenza Reported Among Needy Families

Much sickness has been found, among the families on the Welfare Board list, Mrs. W. H. Davis, manager, reported this morning. One physician has been unable to handle all the calls being received for help.

Most of the sickness is a bad type of influenza that causes high fever and a bad cough. During the last two days, Mrs. Davis has assisted 25 families with medicine and medical care. There have been from one to eight ill in the families.

Work secured through federal relief will be at a standstill after next week unless the appropriation for the first three months of 1933 is received. Only 12 men were given work today.

Although the University of Louisville football team lost every game 4 1/2 seasons and scored only 48 points, it had a poorer record three years ago, when 12 games were lost without a point being scored by the Cardinals.

Morrison Osborne underwent a minor operation at Worley hospital yesterday.

LA NORA—

"The Half-Naked Truth" parallels some of the real-life exploits of the late Harry Reichbach, generally conceded to have been the most spectacular press agent Broadway ever knew. Lee Tracy plays the role of the press agent, Lupe Velaz plays opposite him as the girl who became famous through high pressure publicity.

It was Reichbach who conceived the idea of having a lion brought in a trunk to a hotel room occupied by a T. R. Zann. After this story "broke" it was revealed that "T. R. Zann" was none other than Tarzan, which at that time was the tale of a silent motion picture about to open on Broadway.

He also had tarbark placed on the streets outside the house being occupied by Mrs. Pat Campbell, noted actress. There was a great hullabaloo about that. The excuse was that Mrs. Campbell's sensitive ears could not stand the noise of the rumbling traffic. The publicity which accrued from that stunt went into reams.

On Sunday a film from the book that startled the nation, "I Am a Fugitive From a Chain Gang," using the same name, will open for a 3-day run at LaNora. Cruelties of the chain gang system are vividly pictured.

Peculiarly enough, the true story of the fugitive broke into print as the picture was released. Through the interest of the governor of New Jersey, Robert E. Burns, the fugitive, will not be extradited to Georgia, where he would have to serve out his term on the chain gang. The role of Burns is played in the movie by Paul Muni, well remembered because of his work in "Scarface."

KLEIN LEADS NATIONAL IN HIT AVERAGE

BEST SLUGGING CLUB WAS PHILADELPHIA PIRATES

By HUGH S. JULLERTON, Associated Press Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Dec. 30. (AP)—Chuck Klein hit the ball the hardest; Hack Wilson missed them the oftenest; and Lloyd Waner and Randy Moore the least often. Bill Terry drove in more than 100 runs for the sixth consecutive season and Mel Ott drew 100 walks. The Phillies were the best slugging club. The Cubs did most of their winning at home while the Pirates led the way on the road.

These are the high spots of the group of miscellaneous official records which the National league made public today to clean up the winter statistical season for major league baseball.

The young Philadelphian, Klein, third in the batting averages, led in slugging by a wide margin. Going to bat 650 times, he hit for 420 bases to complete a slugging percentage of .546. Ott, of New York, with 340 total bases, was second with a .508 mark, and another Giant, Terry, with 373, third at .491.

Although Don Hurst of the Phillies led in runs batted in with 143, six ahead of Klein, Terry's 117 gave him the only record on the list. It was his sixth straight year above the 100 level, equalling the mark set by Jim Bottomley of St. Louis.

Wilson, who did some heavy hitting for Brooklyn, found himself in a familiar position at the top of the strikeout list with 85 whiffs. L. Waner of Pittsburgh and Moore of Boston fanned only 11 times each. George Watkins of St. Louis was hit by pitchers eight times.

As a club, the Phillies hit for 2,438 bases and slugging percentage of .422. They batted in 780 runs and drew 446 walks. Brooklyn recorded the high mark of 574 strikeouts and Pittsburgh the low of 385.

Pirates Steady Hitters.

The home-run-abroad standings showed Pittsburgh was the most consistent club although Chicago, earning a .588 average at Wrigley field, won the pennant. The Pirates were second with a home mark of .552 and led in the road games with .506, the only club to break even away from home. The Cubs were third at .481, trailing Brooklyn.

The St. Louis Cardinals shut out every club but Pittsburgh to lead with 13 and Cincinnati took 12 blankings, one or more from every rival.

Of the ten players who played for two teams during the season, only two showed any marked improvement after the change. Danny Taylor and Harvey Hendrick went into the 300 batting class with Brooklyn and Cincinnati respectively by after post starts with Chicago and St. Louis.

Paul Outpoints Fidel LaBarba in Convincing Bout

CHICAGO, Dec. 30. (AP)—A few more victories over opponents like Fidel LaBarba and any lingering doubts as to Tommy Paul's right to the featherweight championship will have to be dismissed.

The clever little Buffalo boxer, who is recognized by the National Boxing association as ruler of the 126-pounders, but who lacks the approval of the boxing authorities in his home state, last night gave a convincing demonstration of his ability by outpointing LaBarba in a ten-round non-title bout at the Chicago stadium. The chunky Los Angeles featherweight, who lost to Ed Chocolate for the New York brand of the title, by an extremely close margin recently, was favored to take a reef in Paul's claims, but did not have what it took to do so.

One of the first long-distance runs was from New York to Chicago in 1908, the 1,200 miles being covered in relay by 2,000 boys in 120 hours. M. D. Cracker of Cleveland conceived the idea.

HAPPY NOSES OUT PAMPA IN LAST MINUTE OF GAME 21-18

Harvesters and Jacks Split Two-Game Series; Battle Is Rough.

Scoring two field goals in the last minute of a rough-and-tumble game, the Happy basketball team rushed from behind last night to nose out the Harvesters 21 to 18. The contest was similar to the tilt of the previous night when Pampa won 21 to 20, except that it was decidedly more rough.

Two of the Happy boys emerged from the fray with "black eyes" and most of the Harvesters were nursing minor injuries and bruises. One of the Happy Jacks was bleeding from the mouth. However, the game was not a free-for-all as these injuries might indicate. The boys were super-charged with an intense desire to win, and Referee Morris Elliot, substituting for Bob Fuller who was ill, had about all he could do to keep the game in hand.

Trojans Are Still Favorites to Win

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 30. (AP)—Southern California's unbeaten football team moved into the final stage of its Rose tournament campaign today with bold intentions of meeting disappointment to Pittsburgh Monday.

Coach Howard Jones planned only a casual workout this afternoon as the final important gesture to the game at Pasadena which will mean either the termination of the Trojan winning streak at 19 games or 20 straight triumphs.

With the squad in fine physical condition, his team continued to be favorites over the Panthers who have not lost a game in 14 starts, although two ties mark their grid journey since last suffering defeat.

Coach Jones contemplates starting the regular season with a 19 to 0 victory over Notre Dame.

TUSCON, ARIZ., Dec. 30. (AP)—Without a single player after seven days of hard practice, Coach Jock Sutherland said today his Pittsburgh Panthers were ready for the University of Southern California Trojans. The two teams meet Monday in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, California.

Paul Cuba, left tackle, the only member of the squad to suffer serious injury during the hard scrimmages, was said to be fit again and it was announced he would play.

"I still say Southern California will lick us, simply because it has a better club," declared Sutherland, who admitted he liked the role of being an underdog in the forthcoming struggle.

Santa Monica Open Will Begin Today

SANTA MONICA, Dec. 30. (AP)—The Santa Monica $2,000 amateur golf tournament opens today with half of the 146 teams in competition. The other half will play Saturday.

Sub-par performances were almost certain on the basis of practice rounds which saw leading professionals scoring six under par figures of 71.

At the top of today's players were such teams as George Von Elm and Stanley Turner, Los Angeles pro and amateur, defending champions; Al Espinosa, Akron, Ohio, pro, and Robert Sweeney, British amateur; Horton Smith, Oak Park, Ill., and George P. Shaw, Hollywood amateur, and Abe Espinosa and John Dawson, Chicago pro and am-

Frank Hogan Is Sold to Braves

NEW YORK, Dec. 30. (AP)—The Boston Braves will have to provide food for Frank Hogan's voracious appetite during the 1933 National league season.

The large catcher was sold to the Braves for cash by the New York Giants yesterday, the eleventh player since the close of the Giants' disastrous 1932 campaign. The amount of money was not revealed but was believed to be in the neighborhood of $20,000.

Hogan, one of the many Somerville, Mass., boys who "made good" in big league baseball, will feel quite at home in Boston. He made his major league debut there with the Braves who sold him, along with outfielder Jimmy Welsh, to the Giants in 1927 in the amazing deal that sent Rogers Hornsby to the Hub.

Trading of the big catcher has been forecast ever since the Giants secured Gus Mancuso, young backstop, from the St. Louis Cardinals. Terry sought to trade him during the baseball meeting here in December but could not get the players he wanted in return. Hogan then went on the block for cash and Boston put enough on the line to persuade Terry to let him go.

Hogan has been one of the league's leading catchers for several years despite his bulk and slowness. His batting fell off to .287 in 1932, his worst season. His fielding held up well, however. He compiled an average of .983 and handled 522 chances, more than any other backstop in the league. He set the league fielding record for catchers at .996 in 1931 but Earl Grace of Pittsburgh eclipsed it last season.

Walter Peckinpah, son of Roger Peckinpah, Cleveland Indians baseball manager, was one of the stars on the Elyria high school football team this year.

East and West Will Hold Last Practice Today

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 30. (AP)—Football stars of East and West today go through their last strenuous sessions of practice in preparation for their charity contest here Monday.

Drills yesterday were among the hardest which either squad has had in the 10 days of preparation. The East eleven met Ernie Nevers pickup team in a "return" engagement and defeated it for a second time by a 5-touchdown margin. Bart Viviano, Cornell fullback, and Dick Fencil, Northwestern end, were the outstanding performers.

The Western squad workout was featured by a long period of pass defense practice and the announcement by Coaches Dana X. Bible and Orin Hollingbery of a tentative picked.

Miami Open Golf Tournament Begins

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 30. (AP)—A field of the nation's finest golfers look to the tees today to compete for 22 money prizes in the $2,000 Miami open tournament.

Tommy Armour of Detroit seeking to repeat his 1931 victory, and more than 100 other professionals and amateurs were present at Miami Golf Springs course.

The entry list bore other famous names: Gene Sarazen, Walter Hagen, Denny Shute, recently winner of the $10,000 Miami Biltmore open; choice for starters on the line. They are: Ends, Steve Hokuff, Nebraska, and Ralph Stone, Olympic club of San Francisco; tackles, Bill Morgan, Oregon, and Jack Johnson, Utah; guards, Clem Senn, Washington State, and Charles Molinari, Santa Clara; center, Lawrence Ely, Nebraska. A backfield has not been picked.

John Revolta of Menominee, Mich., runnerup, Ed Dudley; Billy Burke, former national open champion; Cyril Walker, Johnny Golden, Al Watrous.

The field will play 36 qualifying holes, 18 today and 18 tomorrow. The low 64 professionals and ties and the low 15 amateurs and ties will play the final 36 holes Sunday.

CAGERS WILL TAKE A REST

Harvesters Will Not Play Matched Game Until Next Friday Night.

Stale from too much basketball and Christmas holidays, the Harvesters basketball team will not be seen in action again until the latter part of next week. The boys will not practice until Monday afternoon, when a light workout is on schedule. The four games played by the team this week was a little too much for them but the practice was necessary, Coach Mitchell said.

The Harvesters are to open the Panhandle league Friday night in McLean and follow up with a game here Saturday night with Canadian.

However, a change may be made in the schedule to allow a game with the Amarillo Sandies. Friday night is about the only time the Harvesters and Sandies can get together here, and it may be that the game with McLean will be changed.

Coach Harry Kelley of the girl's team will be home Sunday and will call practice for Monday afternoon and every afternoon thereafter until the first game in the Panhandle league schedule starts. The Pampa girls will play the same night as the Harvesters whenever the opposing school has a girl's team.

The sub-section schedule has been completed but will not be available until R. B. Fisher, chairman, returns from the Christmas holidays. The sub-section includes Pampa, McLean, Miami, LeFors and Canadian; also one rural school in the three counties include—Gray, Robert and Hemphill—that team to be decided by rural competition.

Further Action Against Insull In Greece Futile

ATHENS, Greece, Dec. 30 (AP)—Further proceedings cannot be taken in Greece against Samuel Insull on the same charges on which a court ruled Tuesday he was unextraditable, a legal authority said today.

The decision was binding upon Greek executive authorities, barring them from further steps should they be so inclined, it was declared. President Georgopoulos of the court of appeal, said today there had been no attempt by executive powers to influence the court. (It ruled Mr. Insull could not be extradited to the United States on the evidence which was intended to show him guilty of larceny and embezzlement in connection with the collapse of his middle west utilities enterprises.) "Even had they tried to influence us," the court president said, "Greek judges, you know, pay no attention to anybody's pressure."

M. Georgopolous, who is one of the most distinguished Greek jurists, said all the judges believed Mr. Insull was innocent of any criminality.

ELABORATE COATS WORN WITH SLIMPLE FROCKS
PARIS (AP)—A combination of elaborate coats and plain frocks is attracting many smart women. Among them is the Comtesse de Saab, who wears a simple frock of black satin jersey trimmed only by a scarf of ruffled ribbon, with a coat of black diagonal wool accented by flaring collar banded in silver fox. With the costume she wears black accessories.

ONE WAY TO TEST CLOTH
In purchasing cotton materials scratch the surface with the finger nail to test durability, the department of agriculture advises. If the yarns are readily displaced the fabric will fray at the seams when used in a garment.

E. C. Davis of LeFors suffered severe burns about the head and hands in a gas explosion in his home last night. He was taken to Worley hospital for treatment but was later able to return home. The building was not burned.

Lions' Resolutions Serious, Amusing

New Year's resolutions, humorous and serious, were made by Pampa Lions at their session Thursday. With Dr. H. H. Hicks presiding, the wisecracks were numerous. Clyde Fatheree opened the meeting as vice-president in the absence of President John Sturgeon, who was in Austin.

J. M. Saunders was introduced as a new Lion. Visitors included J. R. Armstrong of Amarillo, Howard Newbury, and J. B. Bourland.

E. M. Boyd of Kingsmill was in the city this morning.

DANCES PROVIDE ENTERTAINMENT FOR YOUNG PEOPLE

ABOUT FIFTY ENTERTAINED AT HOTEL BY MISSES COLE AND FREEMAN THURSDAY

STUDENTS HONORED AT MANY EVENTS THIS SEASON

Holidays spent in Pampa have been busy, socially speaking, for the many college and university students spending Christmas and New Year with families and friends here. Numerous dances have been given in their honor, some of the guest lists including older persons as well.

Last evening about fifty young people, principally students, were entertained at the Schneider hotel by Miss Florida Freeman and Miss Lucille Cole.

Dancing was enjoyed from 9 to 12 o'clock in the hotel ballroom, refreshments of punch and cookies were served.

The series of dances was opened Wednesday evening before Christmas, when the Junior chamber of commerce-Veterans of Foreign Wars charity ball was held at the Wynns-Merten building, admission being through presentation of a $1 basket of food.

The Elks club annual charity ball was held at the Schneider hotel the following evening.

An elaborate dance was given at the Pia-Mor on Friday evening of last week under the sponsorship of the Business and Professional Women's club.

The largest dance of this week was the one given Tuesday evening at the Schneider hotel by Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Brown. The 125 guests were served a buffet dinner at midnight.

Miss Florence Sue Denson and Miss Bernice Lyon joined in entertaining about 35 couples at a dance at the Schneider hotel Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Saunders entertained at a dance Tuesday evening to honor their son, Maurice.

San Diego Guest Is Complimented At Bridge Party

Mrs. Scott Christian of San Diego, Calif., was the guest of honor Wednesday evening when bridge was played in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Saunders.

Mrs. I. B. Hughey won high score among the ladies, and De Lea Vicars was high among the men. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

Guests were Mrs. Christian, Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Hughey, Mr. and Mrs. De Lea Vicars, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Wynne, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Eller, and Mack Harmon.

PERSONALS

Miss Floy Starnard will leave Sunday morning for Denton to resume studies in Texas State School for Women.

Misses Mary Evelyn Herbert and Georgiana Mager of Amarillo are guests of Miss Beulah Robertson.

Sherman White, county attorney, was in McLean on business yesterday.

Mrs. S. Denny of Panhandle was a Pampa shopper yesterday afternoon.

Miss Julia Dart of Mobeetie was a shopper here yesterday.

T. C. Coffey of Skellytown was a Pampa visitor this morning.

Earl Clayton of White Deer was a visitor in the city last night.

H. G. Greenhill of Amarillo is here on business today.

Dick Donnelly of Kingsmill was in Pampa last night.

T. W. McNaught of Portsmouth, Ohio, is visiting friends here this week.

Ed Thom of Kingsmill was a Pampa visitor last night.

G. C. Resenthal of Cisco is a Pampa visitor today.

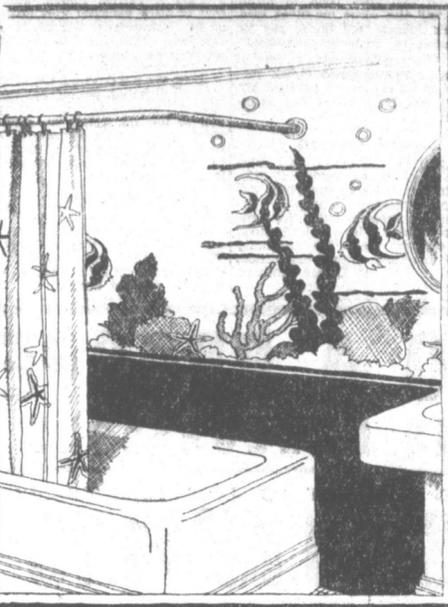

Canyon and Borger Guests Honored at 6 O'Clock Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. K. M. Patterson gave a 6 o'clock dinner Wednesday evening honoring their house guests, Mrs. Carrie Belle Johnson of Canyon and Miss Ruby Gibson of Borger. The invited guests were students of West Texas State Teachers college who are home for the Christmas vacation. Among these were Ralph Poe, former Harvester football star.

of Kemper Military school, Boonville Mo., and their niece, Miss Phyllis Christian of San Diego, California.

Dancing and bridge were diversions when Miss Beulah Robertson entertained in the home of Mrs. Guy Saunders Wednesday evening to honor Misses Mary Evelyn Herbert and Georgiana Mager of Amarillo.

LIKE HOLLYWOOD BATHROOM

It's simple to put gorgeous sea murals on the wall.

By MARGERY TAYLOR. Copyright, 1932, by The McCall Company for The News.

Those of us who have looked longingly at paintings of movie stars' bathrooms, the walls brilliant with murals of deep-sea scenes, may now take heart.

Probably painters of murals, or even expensive wall papers, may be beyond us. But now the simple magic of transfer patterns makes it possible for anyone of average dexterity to stamp the most gorgeous designs on walls or shower curtains, the resulting outline being filled in with oil paint.

And should even that be too great a tax on our abilities the same effect may be achieved by stamping the pattern on glazed chintz, cutting it out, and applying it with rubber cement.

The designs include the most exotic fish in quite unbelievable colors, delicate coral and waving, cool seaweed. You may cover the wall with seaweed, coral, and snub-nosed, fantail fish, and apply starfish to the shower curtain. Or the other way about.

As for color—the sky's the limit. There are green, black, yellow, jade green and coral on a blue wall, for example. Nor must one stop at the bath—screens and window shades cry for similar treatment.

BRIDGE PARTIES HELD BY MRS. BRATTON AND MRS. PEAKE TO HONOR MEMPHIS, TENN. GUEST

Miss Elizabeth Farley of Memphis, Tenn., has been guest of honor this week at two parties, one given by Mrs. W. A. Bratton and the other by Mr. and Mrs. John L. Peake.

Miss Farley, a niece of Mrs. Peake, is a Memphis teacher.

Two tables of bridge were in progress in the Bratton home yesterday afternoon, the players being Mrs. George Limerick, Mrs. H. L. Polley, Mrs. Dan Gribben, Mrs. T. E. Simmons, Miss Ruth Ann Mitchell, Mrs. Arthur M. Teed, Mrs. Pluma Jean Smith of Springfield, Colo., and Miss Farley.

Other guests at the tea hour were Mrs. Philip Wolfe, Mrs. May Foreman Carr, Mrs. H. H. Hicks, and Mrs. John L. Peake. Mrs. Wolfe, accompanied by Mrs. Carr, sang two lovely selections.

At the close of the games, Mrs. Teed, winner of high score, and Miss Farley were presented gifts, and a dainty salad course was served.

The event given by Mr. and Mrs. Peake took the form of a star party on Tuesday evening. Tallies were star-shaped, as were the red and green cakes served with other refreshments, and the favors.

Mrs. Dick Hughes scored high among the women, and W. A. Bratton was high among the men, awards being given to them and to the guest of honor.

Refreshments of pineapple parfait, turkey sandwiches, coffee, and cake were served at the close of the games.

Guests were Miss Farley, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bratton, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brashears, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Hughes, Harold Justice, and Mrs. Pluma Jean Smith.

My Beauty Hint

A busy life that means rush, rush, rush all day long, requires some relaxation before one keeps a social engagement in the evening.

To renew vitality and rest the nerves, sit aside five minutes. Select a quiet place where you will not be disturbed. Lie flat on your back, letting your arms rest above your head. Don't even use a pillow. Relax thoroughly, by closing your eyes and keeping all but pleasant thoughts out of your mind.

You'll be surprised to discover how refreshed you are after five minutes of rest.

Fosters Return After Attending Family Reunion

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Foster and Jack, Don, Lois Irene, and Frankie Foster have returned after attending a family reunion in Drumright, Okla. There were forty persons attending, representing Drumright, Chandler, Okla., Oklahoma City, Hartlingen, Wichita, Kansas, North Carolina, and Pampa.

Christmas dinner was served in the home of Mr. Foster's niece, Mrs. Chester Brakey, and a Christmas tree was held in the home of Mr. Foster's brother, Bart Foster.

REUNION HELD THIS WEEK IN VINCENT HOME

OLDTIMER'S BIRTHDAY IS OBSERVED BY VISITORS

Mrs. Katie Vincent has as her guests several nieces this week. Mrs. C. T. Boone, Miss Marian Mackenzie, and Mrs. Lela Purviance arrived from Wichita Falls by airplane yesterday afternoon and will remain until after the week-end. Two other nieces, Maribelle Crawford and Betty Jo Crawford, of Amarillo, arrived on Tuesday. A great niece, Miss Eileen Bunting, returned to her home in Waynoka, Okla., Wednesday afternoon following a visit here.

The young visitors are celebrating with their grandfather, J. T. Crawford Sr., the latter's 88th birthday, which is today. Mr. Crawford has been a Pampa since 1905, coming from Weatherford and being a former resident of Tennessee.

Mr. Crawford was a special guest at the 6 o'clock dinner served by Mrs. Vincent on Christmas day. Others attending were Clifford Vincent and family of Miami, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. J. Vincent, and Miss Kathryn Vincent.

Russian Wives Will Be Denied Bread and Sugar

MOSCOW, Dec. 30 (AP)—On the eve of the end of the five-year plan Russian housewives under 56 learned today that beginning with the first of the year they will be deprived of bread and sugar, of which they now receive small rations.

This action, reflecting the food shortage in Russia, is an extension of the government's "no work-no food" policy and apparently is designed to inject more women into industrial occupations with the view to ultimate abolition of the home as the unit of family life.

At the height of the campaign which has been waged for several years to draw more women into industry a census of Moscow showed that there were approximately 100,000 housewives in the city at the end of 1931. At that time it was estimated that the number would be reduced by half at the end of this year. Eighteen per cent of the 100,000 were over 60.

Now they are entitled to 400 grams of bread a day and 800 grams of sugar a month from the government's regular supply stores, but after January 1 they must go into factories to earn their bread and sugar, or pay the exorbitant prices at the private market where bread now costs $3.50 for 400 grams as compared with about 10 cents or less at the government bakery.

All healthy women not engaged in "socially useful" work will come under the category of housewives. The wives of a number of high government officials are included in that category.

Woman Hanged For Poisoning Son in Africa

PRETORIA, Union of South Africa, Dec. 30 (AP)—Mrs. Daisy de Melker was executed this morning for the murder of her son, Cecil Rhodes Cowie, by poisoning.

The trial, lasting nearly six weeks, was one of the most sensational in South African criminal history. On charges of poisoning two husbands, she was found not guilty. Mrs. de Melker, a frail woman, maintained her innocence to the end.

Her husband, Sidney de Melker, a noted rugby player, and her step-daughter paid a final visit yesterday. Almost simultaneously the governor-general rejected a last appeal for a reprieve.

Mrs. de Melker was the second woman hanged in Transvaal since the union was formed in 1910.

NEW YEAR Church Services

Sunday will mark the beginning of a new year and with it will come a period of renewed enthusiasm on the part of religious workers. New officers of many church groups will go into office with the first of the year, and some of these groups are undergoing complete reorganization. Announcements for Sunday services follow:

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Room 2, First Nat'l Bank Bldg., Sunday, 11 a. m. Subject: "God." Sunday school, 9:30. Wednesday evening, 8 o'clock. The reading room is open Mondays, Wednesdays, and Saturdays from 1 to 4 p. m. Here the Bible, authorized Christian Science literature, and works of Mary Baker Eddy may be read, borrowed, or purchased.

The public is cordially invited to attend the services and to use the reading room.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

500 E. Kingsmill. Bible study, 9:45 o'clock. A full attendance of pupils and teachers is urged. Communion, 11 o'clock. All church members are expected to attend.

There will be special New Year sermons preached both morning and night by the minister. The three Christian Endeavor societies, 6:30. —P. W. O'Malley, Minister.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

We cordially invite you to join us in our New Year's service Sunday morning. Make the First Presbyterian church your church home during the coming year. Give your soul an opportunity to grow.

Sunday School at 10 a. m. New Year's message, "Sirs, we would see Jesus," 11 a. m. Evening service, "Stewardship of time," 7:30 p. m.

You will find friendship, a spirit of worship, and an opportunity for service if you have a desire to serve the Master, in the fellowship of this church.

—A. A. HYDE, Minister.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Corner Kingsmill & West Street. No day in the year is like New Year's Day. It is the passing of a mile post in the annals of time. It is not an orgy of mirth without meaning. The approach of New Year will afford but few joys in achievements and things accomplished, but New Year is rather a time for serious thoughts and solemn resolves, noble hopes.

The whole program of church activities Sunday will be to help each life in the New Year that we approach. Morning subject, "Building in the Year 1933," evening, "Seeking to Excel." Bible School at 9:45, training service 6:15, evening worship 7:30.

Miss Grooper together with many of the regular singers will be back to assist in the music. The full program of week day activities will be resumed at 7:00 o'clock Wednesday evening. Those without a church home will find a welcome and help to come this way Sunday.

—C. E. LANCASTER, Pastor.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

General Topics:— JOHN PREPARES THE WAY FOR JESUS.

Scripture Lesson:— Mark 1:1-11.

1. Beginning of the gospel of John... 2. Even as it is written in Isaiah the prophet...

The Simple Life of John v. 6.

"And John was clothed with camel's hair." Camel's hair was woven into a rough mantle which John threw over his shoulders...

The Coming Saviour, v. 7.

"And he preached, saying, There cometh after me he that is mightier than I." If John had been an ambitious or conceited man, he would have rested on his own fame, his great crowds, his powerful influence, and would have sought merely to magnify them.

The Baptism of Jesus, vs. 9-11.

"And it came to pass in those days." About thirty years and six months after the birth of John...

Buying Barbara

By Julia Cleff-Addams Author of "YOU CAN'T MARRY"

CHAPTER 13 BARBARA DESPERATE "THAT'S a— an interesting— quite an interesting piece of work. Isn't it?"

The words came clearly—Farrell thought that Barbara Quentin, whatever her extremity, would always speak with that chiselled clearness; but the lingering softness of voice had gone. It was the voice of a woman, harsh with fear and grief...

"What about a cup of coffee?" Farrell asked.

"The emerald suits her coloring, doesn't it, I tell you? The emerald certainly suits her better than it suits me. And then here's a little sea-scape. It looks like Bogey Cove. I—that effect of sunlight on the sand is— There's a favorite of mine! It's the back of King's Barn, seen through the blossom of the pear tree. The pear tree is—is—there's a beautiful pear tree—"

The desperate voice broke at last. He was still quite unable to look at her. He swung away and walked across the echoing boards to the window. The cotton curtain tore from its rings as he dragged it back and leaned his forehead against the pane.

He stood there for some minutes, intently listening for a sound from her—any sound. He felt indifferent whether she cried or cursed or pitched to the floor, provided she broke down in some way. There seemed to be nothing to think about except perhaps that it had been too easy a victory, after all; a mere walk-over.

He turned. There had only been the faintest whisper of a movement, but she was crunched, palms down, upon the floor gazing almost vacantly at the portrait. The emerald at her throat swung within an inch of its painted likeness.

The Descent of the Spirit.

"And straightway." The first use of Mark's favorite, vigorous adverb. "Coming up out of the water." v. 10. Our Lord was earnestly praying at the time (Luke 3: 21), as he was at so many other of the great crises of his life.

The Voice of the Father, v. 11.

"And a voice came out of the heavens." Twice besides this the heavenly voice came to Jesus, namely, at his transfiguration and during the last week of his earthly life.

INVARIABLE TOKEN OF EXCHANGE SOUGHT BY TECHNOLOGISTS--PRICES ARE TABOO

But Obstacles in Using of Energy as Token Seen by Experts of Country.

By J. R. BRACKETT. (Copyright, 1932, By The Associated Press.)

NEW YORK (AP)—A new "money," an exact, invariable token of exchange based on energy, is one of the tentative proposals of Howard Scott, director of Technocracy, as a need of this economic system.

This is part of the paradox of poverty in the midst of plenty, wherein huge factories lie idle, producing and physically able to produce, but prevented from doing so because of the lack of purchasing power among the people—a lack partly accounted for, according to Scott, by the concentration of money in the hands of the few. Says "Price System" Finished. Does Scott propose the total abolition of the price system, of banks, of interest, of mortgages and finally of the dollar itself?

The present system is finished, Technocracy says, and the country must realize that the price system will no longer work. Neither Scott nor Technocracy has publicly explained fully what a new system of direction would include, so far as the replacement of the present exchange system is concerned.

A unit of "value" under the price system, as Scott describes it, is a "certification of debt"—a lien, theoretically, against a physical entity. Under technological control, a unit of "measurement" would be a "certification of available energy produced."

Instead of trying to value goods in terms of dollars of variable purchasing power, Technocracy would measure the energy produced—so to speak, would measure the income instead of the capital—in calories, ergs, foot-pounds, British

Thermal Units, horsepower or with some of the other terms for energy measurement which are theoretically exact and which would be used up.

This, Technocracy holds, would prevent debt and huge accumulations of wealth. The individual would receive a proportionate share of the energy produced. He would spend it in certain ways for the things he desired. The energy unit would not be a measure of desire as is the dollar, but a measurement of what actually was available and might be economically given to the people. All of this implies central distribution of income and a more rigid control of the division of goods.

Economists are critical of such proposals. George Soule, economist and associate editor of the New Republic, says if the nation could have such control as this, present old-fashioned money would do quite well.

As for Scott's statements that energy units would furnish exact measurements, an economist for a Wall Street financial house points out that the amount of energy produced from coal oil and waterpower is variable and that the measurements of it are also variable. Unless Technocracy proposes absolute control of the entire economic system, this economist says, the more efficient user of fuel would receive more income and would accumulate things, again unless the state prevented such accumulation.

Boottleg "Energy Money"? Another economist holds more or less facetiously that "energy money" could be quite easily bootlegged. The hills might be full of " illicit skills" for the manufacture of energy which would be wired secretly to towns and cities.

It might be transported across national lines, if such lines were allowed in a technologically controlled system. And what would happen if transmission of power were made possible by radio, a possibility now receiving considerable study? There would be, the economist said, factors tending to make energy extremely unstable.

Many economists have proposed a commodity dollar to alleviate the generally admitted evils of the present variable dollar. Such a dollar would be allocated purchasing power according to a commodity index and would vary as the supply of the various commodities varied.

Thus, money would always have approximately the same purchasing power and debts would not vary in their burdensomeness.

Oldest American Love Story Tells Of Aztec Maiden 'Who Got Her Man'

ATLANTIC CITY, Dec. 30 (AP)—The oldest love story in America, about an Aztec princess who won the man of her choice despite all obstacles, was told today before the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

And they lived happily ever after, according to the old deerskin manuscript on which the story is written in picture writing. Events in southern Mexico dating back 350 years before the Spaniards came in 1519 are recorded on the deerskin, described by Herbert J. Spinden of the Brooklyn museum.

It tells the tale of a lady named "Six Monkey." She was the "little sister" of several brothers.

As a young girl she had much difficulty in gaining permission to marry the man she wished, named "Eleven Wind." But finally the wedding was celebrated with gifts, a dance and a joint bath for the bride and groom.

In the next year two of Princess Six Monkey's ambassadors were insulted by two young chieftains with the insults portrayed by knives coming from the young men's mouths.

Princess Six Monkey declared a war of revenge, first asking advice of an old "death woman" at a temple of skulls. Like Jean d'Arc she led her forces against the two towns of the young chiefs, and captured her enemies.

A few days later one of the captives was sacrificed by cutting his heart out before a temple, while the other was led away by the ambassadors and sacrificed at another place.

A ceremony followed, perhaps a coronation, in which Princess Six Monkey was anointed, and then she and Prince Eleven Wind ruled in peace. Later they had two sons, "Four Wind" and "One Crocodile," and the eldest in his turn was married to a girl of his proper station in life, Lady "Ten Flower."

Funeral Rites For Jordan Infant Held

Funeral services for Mable Diana Jordan, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Jordan, were to be conducted at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the chapel of the Stephenson Mortuary with the Rev. C. E. Lancaster, pastor of the First Baptist church, in charge of the service. Burial will follow in the baby garden at Fairview cemetery.

Jaysee Bowlers Lead By One Game

The Junior chamber of commerce bowling team in the City league continued to cling to a one-game lead although the team lost two out of three games to the Texas company last night at the Pampa Bowling alleys. The Kiwanis No. 2 team also lost two out of three games to the Phillips company to hold second place in the league race.

Five games will be rolled next week, when both the Commercial and City League teams roll a complete series. Games will be rolled Monday and Thursday night in the City league and Tuesday night in the Commercial league where the Thirty Footers have a commanding lead.

Bill Thomas will leave Saturday morning for Abilene, where he will visit for a few days.

imum penalty upon conviction would be five years' imprisonment.

The indictment came two days after Winnie Ruth Judd, condemned to die for the slaying of Mrs. Leroy, and under a second charge of murder in connection with the death of Samuelson, appeared before the grand jury.

Specifically, the true bill charges Halloran "well knowing the said Winnie Ruth Judd to have committed the said crime of murder, and with full knowledge that a felony to wit murder, had been committed by the said Winnie Ruth Judd, did then and there conceal the commission of said crime from the magistrate and did harbor and protect the person of said Winnie Ruth Judd."

OIL—

gas situation and the other two for the prevention of waste of oil. Many orders were issued as the result of the hearings.

Oil prices during the year varied from 50 to 90 cents a barrel for top gravity. At time the top price is 82 cents a barrel. Although many companies have gone on the five-day week, it has meant little to employment but has been the means of keeping the present employment stable.

Deepening of 25 wells in the Bowers and Brown-Pinley pool added approximately 15,000 barrels production to the county output during the year. The wells were drilled mostly from the lime to the deeper granite wash pay. A few were drilled deeper in the same pay from which they were producing.

The biggest play of the year was in the LePors area, where the Skelly and Texas companies brought in many producers on the Saunders, Williams, and Davis leases. The largest producer was the Skelly Oil company's No. 6 Saunders in Section 4, Block 1, ACH & B survey about a mile southeast of LePors, which was completed for 6,404 barrels a day.

Much future development can be started at any time the need is felt. Wildcatting has been held to a minimum and there are many extensions to the various fields proved but never drilled. Geologists are of the opinion that a trefed goes north of Pampa and along the Canadian river in Roberts and Hemphill counties. H. M. Stalcup, vice president of the Skelly Oil company, in an address before the Panhandle chapter of the American Petroleum company here, stated that he expected to be coming to the Panhandle oil field 20 years from now and finding it still a big find.

The potential of the Gray county field November 1, 1931 was 119,000 barrels and on Nov. 1, 1932 it was 122,000 barrels, giving the potential a boost of 3,000 barrels, which was unusual when one considers the decline in production of old wells each year. The decline between those dates is estimated at 57,000 barrels, while new production is figured in excess of 60,000 barrels.

All eyes are now on the East Texas field, which can temporarily make or break the oil industry. Opening of that great field would cripple the Panhandle market. Producers feel that the railroad commission will keep the East Texas field within limits to protect other sections of the Texas oilfield.

Leases Are Expiring. Unless leases are renewed, many wells will be drilled during the coming year, due to expiration dates. Drilling has been curtailed as much as possible during the last year. Pipeline companies cut their takings because of lack of demand.

The great Panhandle gas field is capable of producing enough gas to supply much of the country. The flow, however, has been prorated to insure ratable taking. Waste gas has been reduced many hundred million cubic feet during the year. Casinghead gas production has been reduced materially during the year, due largely to cut-back orders and natural decline. The gas potential of the field runs into billions of cubic feet.

Ed Allen of Amarillo was a Pampa visitor yesterday.

When Jim Bottomley takes up his new job as first baseman for the Cincinnati Reds next season, he'll take a bride with him from St. Louis. She'll be Betty Brawner, above, of St. Louis, whose engagement to "Smooty Jim" has just been announced. The wedding is expected to take place in February.

HOOKS and SLIDES
by WILLIAM BRAUCHER

Namby-Pamby Ball Players.

Baseball moguls and old-timers at the recent minor league convention in Columbus, O., bewailed the fact that baseball is fast becoming a game for "big sissies."

Tris Speaker recalled the good old days when an out-of-the-way word provoked a flurry of hard fists and brought on bruised heads and sometimes an ambulance.

Rube Marquard, when the name of John McGraw entered the conversation, stood on his hind legs and howled that the old type of fighting manager, who could say "No" to an umpire without quaking in his boots, left with the exit of Jawn.

George Burns, former big league first sacker, opined that the vicious hostility that used to hold forth between the bleacherites and outfielders was so colorful that it filled the stands every day, and that probably attendance, now in the doldrums, would increase if this situation was in evidence now.

Say It Isn't So, Boys! If what the boys say is true, then the grand old game has gone to the dogs—wags. Ticket takers might as well apply for a job at the World's Fair next year, managers should look up the nearest home themselves ought to start training for six-day bicycle racing.

But a hasty glance over the past year seems to indicate that all these barker stories aren't exactly correct. The ball season of 1932 produced two memorable scraps that would rival any of the old-time brawls, and several fielder-bleacherite encounters that should have increased attendance considerably.

Dickey vs. Reynolds. How about that Bill Dickey-Carl Reynolds affair? Wasn't that a scrap, Tris? Or maybe breaking a guy's jaw is considered a pink tea affair these days.

Here's all that happened on that day of the memorable fight between the Washington Senators and the New York Yankees.

Dickey had been bumped around at home plate the day before at Boston. In trying to catch Reynolds between third and home, Bill hit him in the back with the ball. Reynolds was tired of getting hit with the ball. So he came in standing up and bumped Dickey.

Dickey proceeded to bump Carl so hard on the jaw with a rock-like fist that he broke it, the jaw, in two places.

The afternoon then went along smoothly. Babe Ruth took one of Buddy Myers' legs from under him at second. Allen hit Buddy on the arm with a hard pitch, and Gehrig turned him upside down. Gehrig retaliated by sliding to first with his feet in the air and cutting Lou's pants with his spikes.

YEHUDI MENUHIN, 15 YEAR OLD CONCERT VIOLINIST, CANNOT REMEMBER WHEN HE DID NOT PLAY THE VIOLIN.

BEFORE THE INVENTION OF TELESCOPES, THE MOON WAS BELIEVED TO BE MADE OF GLASS, AND THE DARK MARKINGS ON IT WERE THOUGHT TO BE THE REFLECTION OF LAND AND SEA AREAS HERE ON EARTH.

A DOG IS ABLE TO PERSPIRE ONLY THROUGH ITS TONGUE.

YEHUDI MENUHIN has heard the story of his early childhood so frequently that it seems a part of his own recollection, but he learned to play the violin so young that he does not actually remember the time when he could not play. His parents took him to symphony concerts when he was less than a year old, and at the age of five he made his first appearance as soloist with the San Francisco symphony orchestra.

For several years he was a member of the city police force, and served as assistant-chief of police under J. L. Dowers. Before coming to Pampa he had many years experience as a peace officer at Norman, Oklahoma.

Mr. Stark is also well-known in the community as a salesman for the Osborne Brothers Implement company. Mr. Stark has been employed as a switchman for the Panhandle and Santa Fe railroad. Both men have had experience as peace officers.

Several New Officers. Quite a number of other new faces will be seen in the Gray county official family Monday, when newly elected and re-elected office-holders take their oath and make their bonds.

C. E. Cary will become county judge, succeeding Judge S. D. Stennis, who is completing a 2-year term. John Haggard will succeed Lewis O. Cox as commissioner of precinct 2 and W. W. Wilson of McLean will replace M. M. Newman, veteran commissioner of precinct 4. D. R. Henry will become county treasurer, succeeding Miss Mabel Davis. Frank Hill will succeed Mrs. Louise Miller Dunn as district clerk. In the surveyor's office will be Warren T. Fox, who follows his longtime incumbent, A. H. Doucette.

Lewis N. Goodrich will become district attorney of the 31st judicial district Monday at Miami, where he will have several important cases. John Puryear will succeed his fellow townsman, Dewey Young of Wellington, as state representative of this district. Senator Clint C. Small of Wellington was re-elected.

ORDER ISSUED
AUSTIN, Dec. 30 (AP)—The Supreme court today issued an order in the case of Alpha Petroleum company against the Texas Railroad commission temporarily restraining the commission from further prosecuting a suit pending in a district court of Travis county against the company.

Several members of the staff at the Yale School of Medicine participated in the study which included the testing of speech mechanisms ability to perform acts of skill, eye movements and intelligence of persons who had undergone such operations.

The results of the study were included in a paper to be presented today before the Association for Research in Nervous and Mental Disease in New York by Dr. William German, assistant professor of surgery, and Dr. James C. Fox, associate clinical professor of neurology.

Operations performed in New Haven for the removal of brain tumors in four patients served as the basis for the study of the effect of resection of cerebral lobes. In two cases the right frontal lobe controlling the action of the left hand was removed almost entirely. In a third case the occipital lobe (posterior) was partly removed and in the fourth case the temporal lobe below the occipital lobe was partly taken out.

The university reported that while these operations were not unusual, they were among the first which were followed by detailed scientific analysis of the after effects.

Some of the conclusions arrived from the study were: Removal of the larger portion of the right frontal non-dominant lobe did not materially affect the movements or the intelligence of the individual.

Patients Recover. Removal of the dominant lobe, however, affected the ability of the patient to form words, but did not affect the comprehension of the meaning of words.

The temporal lobe is concerned with more complicated functions and its removal interferes with interpretation of words and with mental associations.

Removal of the occipital lobe interferes especially with functions such as reading and writing which depend on the more involved visual stimuli. The individual recognizes objects but cannot readily call them by name.

The study confirmed current scientific belief that intelligence is not located in any one part of the frontal dominant lobe can be shifted through proper training to the non-dominant lobe.

The four patients operated on recovered and were able to continue their daily activities to a considerable extent.

The study, it is thought, may prove significant in developing methods of diagnosing and locating brain lesions.

Mr. and Mrs. Odus Mitchell and children are visiting Mr. Mitchell's parents in Hale Center for a few days.
