FERGUSON ARGUES ROAD CASE

Gigantic Fireworks Display To Be Feature Of SANTA DAY Event

HUGE PARADE IN AFTERNOON TO BE VIEWED

CHILDREN WILL HAVE CHANCE TO TALK TO SANTA

WILL DISTRIBUTE GIFTS

THOUSANDS EXPECTED TO BE HERE ON THURSDAY

SANTA DAY, December 8, will bring jolly old St. Nicholas to Pampa for his second annual visit under the auspices of the Junior chamber of commerce and will at the same time usher in the happy Christmas season.

Rapidly approaching the boundaries of the north-ernmost corner of the United States, Santa Claus will soon abandon his sleigh and take the big airplane which will carry him to a number of cities for pre-Christmas appearances. When his plane is heard over Pampa, thousands of little tots who are writing letters and making preparations to welcome him will rush downtown to greet the old fellow in person.

Santa's appearance will be in a mammoth parade which will start at 3 p. m. next Thursday. A colorful display of merchants' floats will wind through the streets, with Santa Claus distributing token gifts to all the children and greeting them merrily. After the parade, he will visit his representatives in the various Pampa stores.

In the evening, one of the biggest fireworks displays ever seen in this section will be ignited at 8:15 o'clock at Harvester park. Twenty-four different fireworks displays will be ignited to give a spectacular and produce a spectacle of

Greeting Cards Can Be Mailed Cheaper

The postmaster general has recently called the attention of all postmasters to the fact that Christmas and New Year's greeting cards can be mailed for 1 1/2 cents when entirely in print and enclosed in unsealed envelopes.

If mailed in sealed envelopes the postage will be three cents. Such simple greetings as "Merry Christmas," "Happy New Year," can be written on the card, also the name of the sender can be written in. Other than the above the cards must be entirely in print to be entitled to the 1 1/2-cent rate.

The various offices will not give mail of the third class, (1 1/2 cent) delivery service and it will be necessary to have the correct address on all mail of this class to insure its delivery. Cards of the regulation postal card size when not mailed in envelopes only require 1 cent and can bear other than printed messages.

Christmas Customs from FOREIGN LANDS

In Italy, Christmas gifts are distributed by the Befana, an old woman of witch-like appearance and in black robes. Several days earlier, youngsters whisper their wishes to men dressed as shepherds who go singing through the streets, visiting each home.

18 SHOPPING DAYS UNTIL CHRISTMAS

In the OIL FIELDS

Oil production between October 11, when the last summary released by the oil and gas division of the Texas Railroad commission, and yesterday, when a new report was issued, jumped from 122,285 barrels to 142,308 barrels daily in the Panhandle field. The percentage of prorateable oil allowed to be produced dropped from 14.23 per cent to 13.94 per cent, but the allowable of 45,000 barrels remained the same.

The field's prorateable oil increased from 90,105 barrels to 114,050 barrels. The amount of exempt oil decreased, dropping from 6,270 barrels to 2,044 barrels.

During the period there were 15 completions in Gray county to increase the potential from 84,460 barrels to 101,361 barrels and the prorateable oil from 68,068 barrels to 87,136 barrels. The county allowable, however, was increased only 500 barrels.

Several wells throughout the field were turned into pipelines for tests last week. The daily production increased 3,596 barrels daily to take the total to 49,046 barrels. Five new producers were completed in Gray county, but not in time to effect the production to any extent. Magnolia completed a test on their Fee land. The Texas company brought in three wells and the Cambrian company the other.

No new locations were reported during the week.

Daily production by counties:

County	Wells	Wk.	Wk.
Perm.	251	5,377	5,051
Gray	802	28,986	31,328
Hutchinson	836	10,236	11,662
Moore	23	695	792
Wheeler	44	156	213
Total	1,950	45,450	49,046

Increase, 3,596 barrels.

Thompson New Vice-President Of Kiwanis Club

Fred Thompson was elected vice-president of the Pampa Kiwanis club in a run-off balloting for office Friday noon at the regular luncheon in the Schneider hotel. R. A. Selby was selected a director to replace Dan McGrew, who was elected president for the coming year.

A ladies' night banquet will be held in the Schneider hotel dining room the night of December 16. The "penny committee" announced that $22.37 had been collected from the jars in local stores in the first week that they were out, and that $35.55 had been collected last week. The money goes to the cafeteria fund.

Music for the day was furnished by J. N. Clark and A. B. Bourland, accompanied at the piano by Miss Jackie Jones. Miss Peggy Arnold and Paul LeBeuf gave a brief one-act play.

Visitors were A. A. Word of Spearman, F. A. Zimmers of Amarillo, and C. H. Walker and Edgar Clemons of Pampa.

Total of $546 Paid To Needs Laborers

Seventy-three unemployed men of the Pampa community were paid $546.50 yesterday morning for work done during the week on city streets, parks and at the water wells.

Half the men worked the first three days of the week and the remainder worked Thursday and Friday.

Eleven additional men worked yesterday completing street work started by the other two groups. Another group of men will be put to work tomorrow carrying on the work of building stone and cement drain ditches on sloping streets, cleaning out ground storage tanks at the water wells, and other necessary improvements.

More than 150 men have been given work since the money was received. The committee in charge meets every Saturday morning and hears a report from Charlie Mullen, who is in charge of placing the men.

Baker School Needs More Contributions

Contributions to the support of Baker cafeteria have enabled it to keep going, but additional ones are much needed, according to J. A. Meek, principal of the school.

Gifts of food are just as welcome as money. Recent dollar contributions were received from Mrs. Ruba McConnell, C. E. Ward, W. F. Moten, Bob Fuller, and the Rev. Joseph Wonderly.

Noon meals for the less fortunate children are being served at an average cost of 12 1/2 cents a meal.

BODY WOULD PUNISH BOLTERS

SWINDLER

While a weeping wife, two sons, and two daughters looked on, Charles F. Glaeser, lawyer and real estate man, was sentenced in a Chicago court to prison for what may prove to be the rest of his life. Through conspiracy and forgery, Glaeser embezzled more than $600,000 from trusting friends, neighbors and customers. Many of the 57 complainants against Glaeser were in the courtroom, loudly demanding justice. Glaeser's conscience tortured him into public accusation of himself two months ago.

WOMAN IN 'SILK STOCKING' DEATH BELIEVED KNOWN

Police Think They Know Identity of Slayer

DALLAS, Dec. 3. (AP)—Detective Captain Leonard Pack, heading the investigation of the "silk stocking" strangling of Mrs. Leonard Smiley Buchanan, 34, said tonight he would continue his investigation until he gained necessary evidence for the filing of a murder complaint before placing the case before the Dallas county grand jury.

Meanwhile, investigators busied themselves re-checking the stories of seven persons who attended a party in Mrs. Buchanan's apartment and that of Miss Jo Norwood across the hall last Wednesday night. The unclad body of Mrs. Buchanan was found on the floor of her apartment the next morning when the apartment house manager, unable to rouse her to answer a telephone call, entered with a pass key. Apparently she had been choked to death.

Detectives said they believed they knew the identity of the killer but the evidence was entirely circumstantial.

According to statements obtained by police, Mrs. Buchanan had an encounter with a woman at the party when she interceded in a dispute between the woman and one of the men guests.

Two days of investigation failed to shake the belief of detectives that the attractive blonde film exchange booking clerk was killed by a person, probably a woman, who acted in a fit of rage and attempted to revive the victim after choking her to death.

Officer Watching For Jay Walkers

Pampa's jay walkers are going to find themselves before City Judge J. H. Blythe or in the hospital unless the practice stops. Police Chief Jno. V. Andrews says. He has been watching the situation at the corner of Cuyler and Foster for the past few days and has decided to place an officer on the corner in an attempt to educate Pampans that a "stop" sign is for pedestrians as well as for motorists.

Several accidents have been narrowly averted during the last few days by jay-walking pedestrians who strolled across the street on a red light. Several persons have been warned.

On Friday afternoon an out-of-town man crossed on a red light despite the fact that Chief Andrews blew his whistle and warned him to wait for the green light. When asked to be more careful, the man became insulting. Later he found himself paying a fine in city court.

Amos Baker of Tulsa is a Pampa business visitor this week.

J. H. Bobbitt of Dallas was in the city yesterday.

WANTS LOYAL PARTY VOTERS TO GET PLUMS

DEMOCRAT EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE PASSES RESOLUTIONS

TWO MOTIONS DEFEATED

ASKS JOBS BE GIVEN TO 'STRAIGHT TICKET' VOTERS

AUSTIN, Dec. 3. (AP)—Behind closed doors, the state democratic executive committee today adopted resolutions demanding that only persons who supported the democratic ticket "from top to bottom" be favored with state or federal appointments and authorizing the committee chairman to investigate the qualifications of applicants for appointments.

Newspapermen and all others were barred from sessions of the committee. It was reported that other resolutions were proposed and wrangled over but only four were reported as having been adopted. Two of them commended the activities of Maury Hughes of Dallas, chairman, and Ed Husson of Houston, secretary, for their efforts in the last campaign.

Ex-Governor James E. Ferguson, husband of Governor-Elect Miriam A. Ferguson, addressed the committee briefly after the executive session had been concluded. Ferguson stated that under the present situation neither the governor nor the legislature could exercise control over the highway department or other departments of government. Ferguson urged the committeemen to talk to their senators and representatives in the legislature with the view of changing the condition.

Whiskey and Wine Seized in Raids

Officers of the sheriff's and constable's departments yesterday paid a number of "calls" in search of intoxicants. As a result, their liquor storerooms was given a few more gallons of whiskey and wine.

Legally, it was whiskey, but so powerful that a few drops which leaked out on a desk quickly removed the varnish. One man was jailed for grand jury investigation and another was sought.

Another raid of the week netted an iron still and two barrels of mash in an oilfield camp. The still, minus the coil, was under a house and carefully concealed. Half a gallon of liquor was taken from a man by a constable at another time and the man placed in jail.

The grand jury will convene tomorrow.

CHAMPION TEXAS STEER

"Texas Special" is his name, and he's 1200 pounds of the finest Hereford steer that came to the International Livestock Exposition at Chicago. His owner, W. J. Largent, is shown behind him, shaking hands with Walter Biggar, who came all the way from Scotland to see the show. Largent halls from Merkel.

CORN KING

For the third time, C. E. Troyer, 46, a Lafontaine, Ind., Hoosier, is Corn King of America. Troyer is shown above with samples of the Reid's Yellow Dent corn, which yielded him 101 bushels to the acre and won him his title at the International Livestock Exposition at Chicago. Troyer won the title in 1920 and 1927.

FIVE OIL WELLS BROUGHT IN FOR 9,000 BARRELS

Three of Largest Are Texas Company's Near LeFors

Gray county's oil production soared more than 9,000 barrels last week, when five new wells were completed. Three of the largest producers were in the LeFors area. A small well was completed south of Pampa and the other was on the county line west of the city.

The Texas company drilled in three wells for a total production of more than 6,000 barrels. The company's No. 22 Saunders in section 4, block 1, ACH & B survey made 3,900 barrels on test with the hole bottomed at 2,740 feet. First pay was topped at 2,675 feet in the granite wash formation. The new producer is in the big production area where Texas company and Skelly company have brought in a dozen producers during the last year. The pool is on the Saunders

REPEALISTS ARE COUNTING VOTE FOR TOMORROW

PROPOSAL WILL NOT BE SUBMITTED AGAIN IF IT LOSES MONDAY

GARNER SERVES NOTICE

WETS UNITED BUT DRYS ARE UNORGANIZED ON ISSUE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3. (AP)—Speaker Garner served notice today that if the democratic prohibition repeal proposal is defeated Monday no other opportunity would be given the house for another vote on the issue at the short session.

Firm in his decision to force the vote in the face of a doubtful result, the vice-president-elect said that if the present house repudiates the democratic national platform the same proposal would be submitted to members in the next congress pledged to support it.

Democratic leaders conceded that the outcome would be close but most of them were hopeful that the required two-thirds majority would be amassed behind the resolution. Wet bloc chieftains were rounding up doubtful votes while the drys had taken no steps to organize.

Representative McDuffie of Alabama, the democratic whip, expressed confidence the measure would be adopted. He based his prediction on a poll conducted by his assistant, Representative Milligan of Missouri, who informed Speaker Garner that "more than 150" democrats would vote for repeal. With more than 110 expected republican votes, Milligan said, "it will be enough to put it over."

The Texan will recognize either Representative Rainey of Illinois, democratic floor leader, or Chairman Summers of the judiciary committee, to offer the proposal on Friday, when he held in jail at Edinburg on a charge of murder.

Two Mexican youths, members of a posse of 200 officers and citizens, came upon the grave. Hogan had advised Hidalgo county officers three days ago that his wife had been missing since September 15. Officers said he told them he had not reported the disappearance of them because of humiliation, thinking she had left him voluntarily, but when pressed by neighbors, sought official aid.

The ranchman explained to officers that his wife went horseback riding with him on September 15, but became separated from him on the ride and when he returned home, he found her horse in its stable. His wife was not there and a large quantity of her clothing was missing, and her riding habit lay across a chair in the house.

After the disappearance was reported, officers quickly notified all of her relatives and learned that she had not been seen. The couple was never known to have had trouble, neighbors said. Two children of Mrs. Hogan by a former marriage live in San Antonio.

Hogan, officers said, claimed he searched for his wife until nightfall, after the horseback ride, but when he discovered her clothing gone, supposed she had left him voluntarily.

Gregg was convicted yesterday on a 12-count indictment.

The sentence was passed by Federal Judge J. C. Wilson. Counsel for the defense announced no appeal was contemplated.

The Merchants' National crashed last March, about six months after it had been merged with the First National bank of Brownsville. Gregg, who remained president of the merged institution until the end, pleaded insanity.

Judge Wilson, though saying he agreed with the jury's verdict, added it nevertheless was clear Gregg "had no actual intent to defraud anybody."

"And yet," he went on, "though there was no intent to defraud anybody, the public should demand of its bankers a strict accountability, and place consequences of real and substantial punishment. I'm one of those who believe in holding bankers to such a strict accountability. It is inconceivable what would happen unless such a policy was followed."

BODY OF WIFE REMOVED FROM SHALLOW GRAVE

Rancher-Husband Is Charged With Murder

MERCEDES, Dec. 3. (AP)—The body of Mrs. J. F. Hogan, 57, fully clothed and badly decomposed, was dug from a shallow grave a mile from her house on the Hogan farm near Mercedes, in a dense brush thicket late today. Her husband, J. F. Hogan, 54, who was arrested last Friday, was held in jail at Edinburg on a charge of murder.

Two Mexican youths, members of a posse of 200 officers and citizens, came upon the grave. Hogan had advised Hidalgo county officers three days ago that his wife had been missing since September 15. ### APPEALS COURT HEARS ALLRED ATTACK 'JIM'

NO INDICATION GIVEN WHEN RULING WILL BE STATED

MAY GO TO HIGH COURT

SPEEDY DECISION ASKED BY ATTORNEY GENERAL

AUSTIN, Dec. 3. (AP)—Eight of James E. Ferguson and others to tie up construction contracts of the Texas highway commission was before the third court of civil appeals for determination tonight, on appeal of the state from a district court order restraining further expenditures for work at this time.

Ferguson, husband of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, winner of the chief executiveship in a heated campaign last summer with Governor Sterling, seeking re-election, in which highway matters formed a controversial issue, pleaded his own suit before the tribunal.

James V. Allred, Texas attorney general and one of his assistants, Neal Powers, told the court a question raised by plaintiffs in the case whether the highway department appropriations passed by the regular session of the legislature were implicitly repealed by a subsequent law enacted by the third call session of the same legislature, was of the utmost importance and should be answered as speedily as possible.

Allred and Powers also attacked the sufficiency of the affidavits of Ferguson and his co-plaintiffs, Bay Sherry and John Chamberlain, as solely based on "information and belief" without any supporting evidence.

Ferguson appeared before the court as his own attorney, supplementing an argument made by Cecil Sherry, the veteran campaigner and political contender in Texas for fifteen years, employed gestures and language that have stood him in good stead on the stump, in telling the court what he believed were his rights as a taxpayer in acting to keep the highway commission from contracting for construction in excess of its ability to pay.

The Travis county district court had given the plaintiffs a restraining order on the eve of an advertisement letting a $4,000,000 worth of construction projects.

The plaintiffs alleged that the commission already had contracted to pay out an amount to it not in excess of the available funds for the fiscal year ending on August 31. The court did not indicate what it would decide the case, merely reserving subject to call after the arguments were concluded. It was possible the court would certify the law questions to the supreme court to facilitate a final decision in the litigation.

Donley is Uneasy About Ferguson's Highway Policy

CLARENDON, Dec. 3. (SP)—Considerable anxiety is felt here by Donley county over the Ferguson injunction restraining the state highway department from proceeding with highway contracts.

Mr. Ferguson is said to have told several Panhandle citizens that there was no money in sight for the work and that he would not allow it to proceed. He added, however, that he would favor the Panhandle projects when the funds were available.

Chairman W. R. Ely of the highway commission said that funds largely federal, were available for the projects.

PAVING PLANS MADE

PANHANDLE, Dec. 3. (SP)—Armstrong county commissioners have commenced the cooperation in expediting the paving from Claude north to the Carson county line on highway 117.

When a gap of about 5 miles is closed, the two cities will be connected by paving.

R. C. D. WILL CONVENE

Directors of the Pampa Board of City Development will meet at 7:30 o'clock Monday. Among the items of business to transact will be nominating of fourteen men as directors for the coming year. Of these nominees, seven will be chosen by the city commission and duly appointed.

A SAFE INVESTMENT: He that hath pity upon the poor lendeth unto the Lord; and that which he has given will he pay him again.—Proverbs 17:17.

Deflating Teaching: The Lions club of Commerce, where the East Texas Teachers college is located, has written a pertinent letter to the Pampa Lions club.

Let us look at some of the facts. The eight Teachers colleges are turning out teachers of good character, technical training, and a desire to make teaching their profession.

Yet despite the over-supply of teachers and the opportunity to get good ones at less money than for many years, we see a tendency on the part of legislators to let down the bars for certification, to lower the standard, to increase the over-supply.

The Commerce Lions club is launching a statewide campaign against making certification of teachers easy. In this The Pampa Daily NEWS heartily joins, with the hope that legislators may halt their thoughtless juggling of the futures of young folk.

If the 38,000 and more employed teachers of Texas were lined up shoulder to shoulder and one were to start looking them over from the foot of the list as to teaching preparation, he would have to walk 8 miles to reach the first instructor who had had two years of college training in his profession, 7 miles more to reach one with 3 years of training, and 15 miles to reach the first teacher with 4 years of preparation.

By every measure of value, there are far too few teachers employed in Texas. Classrooms are overcrowded, there are not enough desks to go around, and instructors are forced to try to teach under such circumstances. Yet more important than any consideration of crowding is the lowering of the standard of training for the teachers who stand before the students of all ages.

Liquidate Intelligence? Those who cry with justification against public extravagance can with logic demand better teaching and better trained pupils, but not by any reasonable process of thinking can they seek to lower the standards of certification, teachers' salaries, and to halt all expansion of housing facilities.

We need no liquidation of the state's educational system. Efficiency is needed, but that means fewer institutions in the business of grinding out teachers and a general raising of standards. There are thousands of school buildings which were obsolete a decade ago.

Roads, post offices, harbors—these are useful, but they cannot compare with education in importance. Children's schooling time cannot be recalled. Children are growing into adulthood in a world they cannot understand, whose perplexities include that amazing gulf between the producer and the consumer, where men walk idle in the midst of plenty, jobless because there is too much of everything and therefore not enough to go around!

Those who with economics of despair would liquidate intelligence to protect property of special interests are pointing toward the possibility of bringing up citizens who will take matters into their own hands. Yet in the face of financial woes, who are more patriotic, more pat-

ABOUT NEW YORK

By WILLIAM GAINES

NEW YORK.—If there's anything on earth Kay Francis wants, it's one of those "cute little penguins."

Oh, well, Kay always has been interested in strange pets. When she was a youngster, here in New York, nothing fascinated her more than the dinosaurs in the Museum of Natural History.

She still thinks nothing could be much more fun than having the bones of a prehistoric reptile to put together—unless it would be a penguin to play with.

Miss Francis—or Mrs. Kenneth McKenna—really is one of the most serious minded young ladies of the screen. She has fought her way up a shaky ladder to the Hollywood heights.

Kay's Climb: Kay was born in Oklahoma City, in 1905. But she spent most of her life in New York. Her maiden name was Katharine Gibbs.

She was educated in boarding schools, but her schooling ended when she was married for the first time in 1922. That venture into matrimony ended in divorce, in 1925.

She had to do something to make a living, so she took a secretarial course. Afterward she held several responsible positions. She was assistant social and financial secretary to Mrs. Dwight Morrow and Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, among others.

But Kay was possessed of abundant charm and beauty, and her friends insisted she should make more of these qualities. What, then? Why, the stage, of course.

Alas, Poor Yorick: By "sheer luck and juggling the truth," she convinced Basil Sydney that he should give her a part in his "Hamlet" in modern dress, which he did in 1925. Her role was the player queen.

Then came an accident which played havoc with her plans. She stepped on a rug, it slipped, and Kay suffered a broken collar-bone. When she was out of bed, all her money was gone and she was ready to take anything. She got a three-line part in a play called "Crime."

That brought Kay her chance in pictures. She made her debut in "Gentlemen of the Press" and since has been a much-sought-after actress.

Kay's contract now calls for half a year in Hollywood—half a year to roam. She and her new husband, McKenna, director and actor, are happy together, she says. She plans all her roaming to lead back to him.

Jimmy Durante (he of the extra large olfactory appendage) ups to everybody he meets to deny that the nickname of "Reno," ribbingly applied to Buster Keaton, fits him.

Vice-President-Elect John N. Garner and Mrs. Garner announce they'll attend no capital social functions unless "Jack's" official presence is required. It must be as hard to knot a bow tie in Washington as anywhere else.

It's a wonder Greta Garbo wasn't recognized sooner, despite her disguise. For she was the one woman not trying to look like Greta Garbo.

George Bernard Shaw declares the substitution of "Mr. Roosevelt for Mr. Hoover won't make any difference to anybody." Evidently the eminent playwright hasn't met Dolly Gann.

The hunger marchers who ate dinner and THEN took a taxi to the White House showed pretty good judgment at that.

The cigar industry plans a wide survey to determine if its product is losing favor. Possibly the experts will find someone's just dropped an "I".

TRANSLATION DUE: Houghton Mifflin company, publishers of John Drinkwater's play "Abraham Lincoln," have announced that, early in 1933, they will publish, under the title of "Lucrece," Thornton Wilder's translation of Andre Obey's "Le Viol de Lucrece," now being played on the stage by Katharine Cornell.

THE LIABILITIES of debtors reduced by 25 per cent! House rents radically lowered! A great building program to include the entire remodeling of a large city! Do you know which of the presidential candidates used these arguments?

Burton Stevenson's anthology of patriotic verse, "My Country," published this fall by Houghton Mifflin company, contains 270 poems and represents 150 American poets. Mr. Stevenson was, until recently head of the American Library in Paris. Possibly his long absence from his country has resulted, as it so often does, in an increase in patriotism. His book contains many selections suitable for recitation.

FARRELL AND GAYNOR AGAIN ARE TOGETHER

"TESS OF THE STORM COUNTRY" COMES TO LANORA

With the coming of "Tess of the Storm Country" to the La Nora theater today, the army of Gayner-Farrell fans will see their favorites in what is said to be the most exciting and dramatic offering they have yet made and a picture very different from any of their previous vehicles.

The story deals with the hectic adventures of a sea captain's daughter who comes to live ashore for the first time in her life.

With its opening sequences aboard the captain's schooner and the picturesque settings of the shore scenes the production adds a scenic realism to its swift-moving story. Miss Gayner works as the fiery and independent "fisher-girl" and Farrell's performance as the carefree young man who encounters love for the first time, are reported to rank among the star's finest portrayals. Dudley Digges, Miss Gayner's uncle in "The First Year," enacts the role of her nautical father in "Tess." Claude Gillingwater, June Clyde, and Edward Pawley have the other principal parts, with George Meeker, Matty Kemp and DeWitt Jennings also prominent in the cast.

The direction is by Alfred Santell, who made Miss Gayner's earlier "Friday Long Legs" and Farrell's "Body and Soul." The film was adapted from the novel by Grace Miller White and the dramatization by Rupert Hughes. S. N. Behrman and Sonya Levien wrote the screen play.

MITZI GREEN IS IMPROVED IN NEW ROLE

"LITTLE ORPHAN" HAS APPEALING PART AT REX

With every new appearance off the screen of their little Mitzi Green takes a higher grasp on the ladder leading to the heights of histrinics. She seems destined for a place among the great actresses-mimics of all time.

"Little Orphan Annie," now at the Rex theater, with Mitzi and May Robson, are the best reasons for visiting that house of entertainment offered in some weeks. It offers comedy, pathos, drama, tragedy, farce—everything a picture can offer.

And through it all marches young Mitzi in the little part, a Little Orphan Annie with talent amounting to actual genius. Oddly enough here is a little girl possessed of acting knowledge denied many a more prominent, more glamorous, more celebrated star of the screen sisterhood. There are moments in "Little Orphan Annie" when Mitzi, not by any mechanics of drama, but through sheer feeling of her character alone, will bring tears to your eyes and a tightness to your throat as can few other actresses. Mitzi may be young but she's not inexperienced. And she knows her theater.

The fine dramatic work of May Robson in the powerful character of the foster mother adds an exclusive distinction to the performance.

The story is grand. It is human. The plot, as is true of most worth-while pictures, is simple and direct. Annie, left alone when Daddy Warbucks, her quaint and kindly foster father, is called away, "adopts" Mickey, another little orphan. Mickey proves a problem. Annie heroically tends him for awhile. But essentially she is ready to turn him over to older hands. How she succeeds in having Mickey adopted by Mrs. Stewart, the kindly spinster with a heart as big as the traditional bucket, and how Annie herself finally wins through to happiness and a home, is a story tender and moving.

Small Buster Phelps as Mickey will win your heart. May Robson as the spinster, Edgar Kennedy as Daddy Warbucks and Kate Lawson as the welfare worker approach perfection. Radio Pictures must have fine-combed screen play by Wendell Lumber and Tom McNamara, and was directed by John Robertson.

This writer urges that you see the picture.

REBUILD FOUNDATION
SAN ANGELO, Dec. 3. (AP)—Work has been started on rebuilding the Johnson foundation dam on the North Concho river in the heart of San Angelo. The structure, which cost $18,000 originally, was washed out by a rise of the river last May. Mrs. Lou E. Johnson, widow of J. Willis Johnson, whose estate provided the foundation, advanced $16,000 to the foundation to rebuild the structure. This time, construction engineers promise, it will stay. The contract calls for 40 working days.

Houston Bowling Tournery Is Soon

HOUSTON, Dec. 3. (AP)—The first annual Houston open bowling tournament, offering around $5,000 in cash prizes, will be held here Feb. 17 to 26, inclusive, and 100 teams are expected to participate, officials have announced.

The tournament open to all bowlers, will have the sanction of the American Bowling Congress, of which the city association is a member.

Fifty teams from Houston alone will enter, and entries probably will come also from Dallas, San Antonio, Beaumont, Galveston, Fort Worth, Wichita Falls, Brenham, Fort Arthur, and from points in Oklahoma and Louisiana.

Supl. E. G. Sanders of LeFors was here on business Saturday.

Dear Santa Claus: Children of Woodrow Wilson school can hardly wait for you to come to Pampa Dec. 8. Pampa is not a very big town but we hope you enjoy coming. And I hope you visit the poor children and let them have a good time. Your friend, DAISY COOPER.

Dear Santa Claus: You are welcome to the city of Pampa. Pampa may not be the biggest town in Texas, but it is the best town. All the children of Pampa are waiting for you to come here. The little children of the first and second grades will write and tell you what they want. Your friend, STANLEY CANNON.

Dear Santa Claus: I am longing for Dec. 8 to come so all the children of Pampa may see you. The little children have already written you and told you what they want. All the children wishing that you would be here before Dec. 8 and are saying what they are going to get. Hearty welcome! With love EMMA BOONE TODD.

Dear Santa Claus: The people of Pampa are looking forward for you to come on Dec. 8 to Pampa. You are welcome to Pampa any time. Pampa is not the largest town in the state of Texas, but it is the best. Yours truly, H. T. HAMP-TON.

Mrs. S. M. N. Marrs, Austin, past president of the National Congress of Parent and Teachers; Mrs. Noyes Darling Smith, Austin, past president of Texas Congress; and Mrs. A. F. Wood, Athens, state president of the Texas Congress, were invited by the education committee of the Texas State Teachers association to broadcast during the next several months concerning the Texas educational program.

Schools in this state and nation are facing a serious situation. It is very necessary to surround them with an understanding public opinion. The teachers of today are called upon to justify the worth of school service, to magnify the importance of childhood, and to show that schooling pays in terms of a richer and finer life. Parents are urged to cooperate with the schools and stay close to them through the Parent-Teacher associations.

Some highlights of the twenty-fourth annual convention of the Texas Congress were: Mrs. E. H. Marek, first vice-president, stated that Texas has 7,000 more members this year than it had last year; Mrs. L. E. Ledbetter, chairman of Summer Round-Up, has registered 499 associations in this campaign; Mrs. Stephen Chames, executive secretary, reported the Texas branch has 2,065 local units, 51 city councils, 103 county councils, making a total of 2,219 organizations in the state. Texas rates first among the states in the amount of money appropriated to the endowment fund and seventh in life memberships; Mrs. J. M. Fouts, chairman of standards, announced that there were seven superior associations in the state and 41 standard associations; Mrs. E. W. Robbins, chairman of life memberships, awarded the state membership award to Mrs. R. M. Carter, Sherman, president, for pledging the most life memberships at the convention. The twenty-fifth annual convention of the Texas Congress will convene in Sherman for the 1933 meeting.

Mrs. Nell Haig, state publicity chairman of Washington, reminds parent-teacher workers that the thirty-seventh annual convention of the National Congress meets in Seattle, Washington in May, 1933. Educators are playing a prominent part in parent-teacher activities this year, according to reports received from many states indicating participation of teachers, principals, and superintendents.

A new correspondence course on parliamentary procedure is announced by the education division of the National Congress. This course was prepared to meet the demand by parent-teacher workers for instruction on this topic. This course consists of 10 lessons based on Robert's Rules of Order Revised, and the Congress leaflet on parliamentary procedure. A registration fee of $1 is charged for the course. Mrs. Florence V. Watkins, education secretary, is instructor.

A new publicity primer will be published about May, 1933. No more copies will be available until then. Substitutes for the primer to be used by publicists and found in most public libraries are: News Handbook for Press Committees, Louise Funsion Shields; Publicity for Social Work, E. G. Koutshar; Newspaper Writing and Editing, William G. Bleyer; Principles of Publicity, Quiet and Casey. Parent-Teacher Publicity Hints for Beginners, will be available from the national office December 1, price 10 cents. The Publicity Leaflet is also being revised and will be available about May 15, 1933.

WILL SING DUET Mrs. Earl Thomason and Mrs. Paul Hughey will sing a duet at the Builders class meeting, First Christian church, this morning, and at the 11 o'clock church hour. They will be accompanied by Mrs. Ramon Wilson at the piano.

joy being here. I hope you will have time to visit our school. I'm sure all the children would be glad I would like for you to visit each room a few minutes. Sincerely, yours, MINELLE BAIRD.

Dear Santa Claus: You are cordially invited to Pampa and all the children are looking forward for you to come. The children in the lower grades are writing to tell what they want. Pampa is little, but it is clean. It has plenty of children for you to make happy and they all want something. We are looking forward for you Dec. 8, remember. With love, BUDDY MITSCHER.

Yes, honesty, virtue, truthfulness are all old fashioned. But do you know the reason we have so many double minded, mamby pambly, question mark church members and ex-church members, swayed by every wind of doctrine, is because of the neglect of regular church attendance? People grasping at straws of psychology, clinging to this and that ism, and seeking to hold on to worn out heathen beliefs. Entirely ignorant of the word of God and, therefore, accepting any new thought of the so-called seer, crystal gazer, astrologer, or self named philosopher.

School Also Stressed "The next field of spiritual training will probably be the public school. You and I, as citizens, can determine what it shall be. If we become careless and do not support the highest ideals of superintendent, principal, and teacher we will have the wrong environment there. The fact that we have splendid Parent-Teacher organization in each of our schools cooperating shown our determination to make of our schools a safe training for Pampa's youth.

These three battlements of protection, namely, the Christian home, the Church of God regularly attended, and the public school manned by the highest type of teachers with the parents cooperating, will assure to most boys and girls a spiritual knowledge of God, and Christianity, which is our personal relation with Jesus Christ, the child will find for itself.

"By careful training we can lead the child to the throne of God, but The Gift, he must accept himself."

AMARILLO, MASON'S AND CORSICANA WIN GRID BATTLES

Middle West Places 4 Men On 1932 All-America

SANDIES NOSE OUTRANGER IN 7 TO 0 MELEE

MASONIC HOME MAKES BID FOR STATE TITLE

RANGER, Dec. 3.—The Amarillo high school Sandies defeated Ranger 7 to 0 today for the championship of districts 1 and 2.

Amarillo, with plenty of reserve strength, ran 22 men into the game, while Ranger was using only 13. After three plunges at the Bulldog line failed to gain, Enochs of Amarillo directed right end for three yards and a touchdown in the second period and Mann kicked goal for Amarillo's lone counter.

Soon after the opening kickoff, Ranger reached Amarillo's 11-yard line, their greatest threat to score. Dunaway intercepted a pass on his goal line and started a drive that ended on Ranger's four. In the third period, however, the Bulldogs ran and passed their way to Amarillo's 17. From here Lyon passed across the goal, but Enoch's knocked it down.

The Sandies penetrated Ranger's 10-yard line on three occasions but were able to score but once. The third threat ended with an incomplete pass across the goal line.

J. Bray, Ranger's center, played the greatest game of his career and was the shining light of the battle. His defensive work alone almost won the game for Ranger and certainly kept the Sandies from several more touchdowns. He made the Bulldog tackle and many of them were made behind the Sandie line.

BRAWNY LINE FLEET BACKS IN SELECTION

COMPETITION KEEN IN MANY PLACES ON OUTFIT

By ALAN GOULD, Associated Press Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3. (AP)—For the fourth successive year football stars who develop their brilliance in the great American midlands dominate the All-America team of 1932.

Their margin over the other three main sectors of the gridiron battlefield is not so pronounced as in the past two seasons but, midwestern players occupy four of the first eleven positions in the honor lineup. The east and south, including Texas, each gain three places and the far west only one in the eighth annual All-America compiled by The Associated Press.

The All-America squad of 38 players, including the "shock troops" of the second and third elevens, numbers 12 from the east, eight from the mid-west, seven from the south and six from the far west.

Fine support enabled Harry Newman, Michigan's resourceful and versatile quarterback, to emerge as one of the season's few dominating individuals. As a result of the stellar role he played in bringing about most of the Wolverine triumphs, by passing, running or kicking, Newman was virtually the unanimous choice of the nation's experts for the job of quarterbacking the 1932 all-stars. He is without question the ablest field general since Frank Cardozo plotted two straight unbeaten Notre Dame teams. He excels Cardozo as a passer and ball-carrier.

Two other mid-western aces, Paul Moss, racy Purdue end, and Joe Kurth, brilliant Notre Dame tackle, shared the distinction of being outstanding selections although close choosers felt there was little to choose in consistent performance.

McLean Crushes Lynx 14 To 6 For Football Title

Tigers Use Ground Plays to Annex Bi-District Crown; To Meet Olney Next.

A scrapping Tiger football team from McLean won the District 1 and 2 championship from the Spearman Lynx before a crowd of nearly 4,000 fans at Harvester park Friday afternoon, 14 to 6. The game turned into a battle of strong lines and fast, hard charging backs that couldn't be stopped under several plays a try.

The great line plunging of Crick Christian, Crockett, and Captain Switzer of McLean was matched by the offensive work of Madden Spearman fullback. The big fellow from the north plains is fast and hard-hitting and his sensational work accounted for the Spearman touchdown. He steam-rolled 40 yards in five plays to put the ball across the McLean goal line after Spearman had recovered a fumble.

Closer Than Figures

First downs and yards from scrimmage are not indicators of the closeness of the game. Although McLean outgained the Lynx from scrimmage, 231 yards to 98 yards, and made 13 first downs to 4 for Spearman the game was closer than the figures indicate. Many of the McLean gains were long and went for nothing when they lost the ball on fumbles or when the Lynx line held.

Fun-ling honors were about even until the last quarter when Spearman.

VISITORS BEAT PAMPA GIRLS

Veterans Swamp Green Team 41 to 14 in First Game of Season.

A team of veterans from White Deer swamped the inexperienced Pampa girls at the high school gymnasium Friday night 41 to 14. It will forward by the name of Pampa was the deciding factor of the game when it was found impossible to guard. She made 23 points during the game. Andrews, other forward, looped 11 points.

Captain Louise Walstad of the Harvesters made 12 of her team's points despite the fact that she was guarded closely by Haiduk. The local girls showed much promise but lack of experience. Captain Walstad and Amy Lard are the only veterans on the team. With more practice and a smaller coach, Coach Harry Kelley should develop a good team.

Louise Walstad opened the scoring by running in two baskets on nice passes from center but the White Deer offense got under way without further delay and clicked with precision throughout the remainder of the game. The two centers worked well and passed accurately while the work of the two forwards under the basket was outstanding.

It was practically impossible to keep up with the White Deer forwards and it made the guarding of the Pampa girls look bad at times. The Pampa centers, Lard and Heiskell, worked well together but had considerable back luck through slipping. DeAnn Heiskell's guarding was outstanding on the Pampa team.

CAGERS MAKE GOOD SHOWING IN FIRST GAME

CLARENDON BEATEN BY HARVESTERS IN 52-13 ROUT

Advance predictions that Pampa had the makings of probably the best basketball team in history drew a capacity crowd Friday night to the gymnasium where a flashing quintet of Harvesters opened the season by playing the Clarendon Bronchos 52 to 13 and by flinging a challenge to all concerned that they were after the district championship.

Free Captain Robert Woodward was chosen by his passing teammates to lead the scoring attack, and he accounted for 22 points by reason of adept passes. Miles Marbaugh, his partner on the forward line, was in second place with 13 points. The game was chiefly a passing demonstration with Woodward and Marbaugh on the receiving end. The victory was due to superb passing and team-work. Each man contributed equally to the result.

The Clarendon team was badly out-classed but had enough ability to make the Harvesters hustle. The most pleasing feature of the Pampans' assault was a passing technique with an utter absence of fumbles.

(See CAGERS, page 8.)

Planters Plaster 19 to 6 Defeat On Horace Mann

The Woodrow Wilson Planters won a 19 to 6 game from the Horace Mann team Friday noon, largely through the line plunging ability of Charles Pafford, fullback David O'Keefe, halfback Pafford went through for two touchdowns on straight line smashing football. O'Keefe made the other counter after a nice run.

A. C. Miller scored the Horace Mann counter after he had been assisted by Carroll, Montgomery, and Albert Kemp in carrying the ball down the field after taking it on downs. The inexperienced west ward boys played strong football considering the short time they have been working under H. L. Ledrick, of Harvester fame.

Coach Watson Savage had his Planters clicking well and as a result they didn't have to punt during the entire game. Their line was strong and made holes for the backs to slash through. However, the Horace Mann line held many times close to their own fifteen.

Horace Mann used in the starting lineup: A. C. Miller, Carroll Montgomery, Albert Kemp, James van Houton, Cecil Branscum, Morton Peterson, Buster Stapp, Truman Rumpel, Lawrence Calloway, Joe Nelson and Calvin Stidham. Woodrow Wilson started Ray Boyles, John Kidwell, Odell Frair, Jess Hamilton, Hugh Anderson, John Rogers, Richard Neaves, Derwood Mumford, David O'Keefe, Grover Heiskell and Charles Pafford.

Substitutes for Horace Mann were James Beck, Eugene Campbell and George Ray Anderson. Woodrow Wilson, Lawrence Oliver, Frank Brown, Stanley Cannon, Max Oakes and Bill Coons.

Pampa Loses Close Game to Borgerites

Friday night in Borger, the Thirty-Footers of Pampa won two out of three games from the Borger All Stars but lost in total pins 2731 to 2735. The Borgerites topped 1,600 pins in the first game to take the lead that was never overcome.

Weisbeck of Borger rolled high series with 616 pins, and also high game with 235 pins. Frank Fisher was high series man for pampa with 585 pins. Dan Baxter rolled high game with 211 pins and F. A. Peek was second high with 205 pins.

Pampans making the trip were Baxter, Darby, Powell, Peek, and Fischer.

MUSTANGS PLAY BEST GAME TO HOLD HUSKERS 21 TO 14

All-American Center Keeps Inspired Mustangs From Tying Score.

By BILL PARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer.

DALLAS, Dec. 3. (AP)—Coach Dana X. Bible, who for twelve years coached A. & M. in the Southern conference and won five football championships, returned to his old stamping grounds today and watched his Nebraska Cornhuskers defeat the Southern Methodist university Mustangs 21 to 14 in an inter-sectional game. Southern Methodist scored on a line plunge and a forward pass. The game was played in warm weather and on a dry gridiron.

The Cornhuskers, playing before an estimated crowd of only 3,000 people in a stadium that seats 45,200, demonstrated why they won this year's Big Six conference championship by playing a slashing ground game combined with a baffling aerial attack that scored all three touchdowns. The Mustangs, who finished fifth in the Southwest conference this year, played their best football game of the season, but could not muster enough power to crush the stalwart Nebraska front wall that played in-

World's Fair to Open 6 Months From This Date

CHICAGO, Dec. 3. (AP)—On the man-made sands of "exposition land" the Chicago world's fair of this generation, will open six months from today.

A half-century from its opening the 1933 century of progress exposition presents a breath-taking panorama. Its locale is Chicago's civic front yard, where engineering ingenuity brought land out of water. The back-drop of its startling geometric structures is broad Michigan avenue, with its serrated line of skyscrapers. Fronting the exposition grounds is the blue of Lake Michigan.

More than $9,000,000 has been spent so far. Facilities to care for 40,000,000 persons, expected to visit the exposition during its five months of life, have, or are being installed.

O. D. Ferryman of Wheeler visited friends here yesterday afternoon.

Ugliest Man to Wrestle Arthur Wednesday Night

There will be extra seats built at the Pla-Mor auditorium Wednesday night when that veteran of veterans, Dutch Mantel comes back to the mat as a lay-off of many months. The ugliest man in the universe that night will meet a wildcat in Ernie Arthur, middleweight champion of Canada, nearly a year ago that Dutch made his last appearance on a Pampa mat, and it was only at the insistence of many friends that he consented to wrestle again. He's bare body and no style of wrestling.

The semi-final should be a regular main event when Red Michael, local flash, meets Ross Austin of Baltimore. Promoters have at last succeeded in finding a suitable opponent for the redhead. Austin stayed a long time with a cousin of Jack Reynolds' in Amarillo last week and was immediately signed to meet the local product who has been going wild for the past few months.

A good preliminary bout is being arranged and fans should get an evening's entertainment starting at 8:30 o'clock. There was no match last week due to the absence of any well-matched boys. The Travis, the boy who defeated Joe Kopecky twice in a row, is in Amarillo king of the lightheavies and without a suitable opponent.

ARMY BLASTS NAVY 20 TO 0

Texas Terror and 'Ball of Fire' Vidal Lead Rout of Midshipmen.

By The Associated Press.

Army's decisive triumph over the Navy, the smashing of Auburn's hopes of clear title to the Southern conference championship, and Alabama's victory over St. Mary's Gaels headed the dying football season's slender program yesterday.

Navy put up a brilliant defensive battle against overwhelming odds in the annual service duel at Franklin Field, Philadelphia, but surrendered finally, 20-0. A capacity crowd of 70,000 saw the Octagon triple threat, battled gallantly but in vain against Army's superior manpower.

Carolina Ties Auburn.

Auburn, with the Southern conference crown within its grasp, had South Carolina well beaten for three periods and the Gamecocks rallied furiously to push over two touchdowns in the fourth quarter to gain a 20-20 tie. This unexpected deadlock threw the championship situation into an all but hopeless deadlock with Auburn, Tennessee, and Louisiana State all in a position to claim at least a share of the crown.

Louisiana State played through a four-game conference schedule without defeat, Tennessee, which defeated Florida, 32-13, today, won seven conference contests and tied one; Auburn won six and tied one.

Alabama Whips Gaels.

One dazzling 71-yard run by John (Hurry) Cain enabled Alabama to trim St. Mary's, 6-0, and maintain its record of never losing an inter-sectional game in the Far West.

Two other inter-sectional engagements ended disastrously for the South, however, as Mississippi bowed to Tulsa, 26-0, and Loyola of New Orleans dropped a 21-12 decision to Detroit.

Auburn's All-American. Captain Jimmy Hitchcock was a star and so were Philip and Dwayne, but the real hero of the thrilling battle was Harold Mauney, a 164-pound sophomore quarterback, who never gave up and filled his mates with inspiration that led them to finish on even terms with the heavily favored Plainsmen.

Mauney, almost single-handed, scored Carolina's first tally. He raced the kickoff from his 5-yard line almost to midfield and nearly slipped loose for a longer dash. Then, behind fine interference, he plunged and pounded for continual gains. Finally, with a gracious gesture, he called on his senior ace, Earl Clary, to lug the ball across.

HOSTESSES CHOSEN

Hostesses for the bridge party to be sponsored by members of the Business and Professional Women's club tomorrow evening will be Miss Clara Lee Shewmaker, Miss Mildred Overall, and Mesdames Lee McConnell, Glen Pool, D. E. Robinson, and Christine Smith. The party will be at 8 o'clock in the Rose building club rooms.

HEALTH GENERALLY GOOD

General health conditions in Gray county continue good, although common colds are widespread and several hundred persons affected.

Appearance of a case of diphtheria in a county school last week aroused some apprehension, and immediate steps were taken to combat a possible epidemic.

MANN CONVICTED

NEW YORK, Dec. 3. (AP)—Oscar H. Mann, president of the Kansas City chamber of commerce and Missouri chairman of the president's commission on unemployment, was convicted late today in federal court on charges of violating federal lottery laws in the promotion of a "charity frolic and dance" enterprise for the fraternal order of Eagles.

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 3. (AP)—(U. S. D. A.)—Cattle trade during the week under review at most points was marked by a sluggish demand for killing cattle weak to unevenly lower prices which paced quotations at new low levels for the season. Matured fed steers found an especially slow demand with values generally 25-50 lower. Light steers and yearlings sold to the best advantage and at Chicago finished the week at a substantial advance. Chicago had an extreme top of 8.00 on heavy steers and secured 7.75 for choice yearlings. Bulk of short fed steers, however, are selling downward from 6.00 with well conditioned heavy steers at some markets having to sell under the 5.00 mark.

Fire Hazards at Christmas Time Cited by Chief

How to make Christmas fireproof was told in a unique statement issued by Fire Chief Clyde Gold yesterday in cooperation with the Texas Fire Insurance commission. The instructions were phrased in the form of questions as follows:

Do you know—

That evergreen trees decorated with highly inflammable materials often ignite?

That cotton or lighted candles should never be placed on the Christmas tree?

That the cotton beard of Santa Claus frequently catches fire with serious results?

That the old yuletide custom of placing a lighted candle in the window near curtains has cast many a cloud of gloom?

That small children should never be permitted to handle fireworks?

That Christmas bonfires constitute a serious danger to both life and property?

That it is dangerous to start grass fires at any time?

That toy electric trains, motors, and other appliances should be attached to light sockets until all fuses and connections are in perfect order?

That pennies or wire should never be used in replacing blown out electric fuses?

That the fuse is the safety valve on your wiring system to protect you from fire?

That the Christmas holidays which should be a period of untroubled cheer may become one of sadness because of thoughtlessness of some one about fire hazards?

That about one fire out of every ten during the Christmas season results in a fatality?

Be careful. Don't let fire mar your Christmas joy. A house of merriment is better than a house of mourning.

WATER REPORT MADE

The city water report made public yesterday, showed that the city water wells pumped 14,470,000 gallons of water during November. The consumption of water in October was 16,500,000 gallons. The decline was due to the continued decrease in the amount of water used on lawns.

WHEAT MOVES UPWARD

CHICAGO, Dec. 3. (AP)—Wheat jumped up briskly more than a cent; a bushel late today on rumors that a new bull pool in wheat was being formed with international backing.

The rumors, however, were not confirmed, and the wheat market at the last made a quiet backward movement in which most of the price gain was lost. Contributing to the transient upward impetus of wheat and provisions showing 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 cents advance. Canadian export business totaled as much as 1,700,000 bushels.

Wheat closed irregular, 1/4 off to 1/4 up compared with yesterday's 1/4, corn unchanged to 1/4 to 1/4 lower, oats unchanged to 1/4 to 1/4 down, and provisions showing 2 1/2 to 15 cents setback.

Before the wheat market began to mount, the speculative bid had a sold-out appearance, and there were indications that domestic millers had absorbed the floating surplus of wheat and provisions. Under such conditions, a comparatively few good-sized purchase orders proved sufficient to hoist the market in rapid fashion from the day's low point.

Bulls received timely help from reports that United States visible stocks of wheat were now smaller than in each of the last three years on Dec. 1, and that from July 1 to Dec. 1 this year, the usual period of accumulation, the increase was only 13,000,000 bushels, against a ten-year average increase of 59,000,000.

Provisions lacked support. Closing indemnities: Wheat—Dec. 42 1/2-43, 44 1/2; May, 47-47 1/2, 48 1/2-49; July, 47 1/2, 48 1/2-49; Corn—May, 27 1/2-28, 28 1/2-29; July, 29-29 1/2, 29 1/2.

STOCK VERY SLOW

NEW YORK, Dec. 3. (AP)—Activity in security markets today was barely sufficient to keep the machinery functioning.

Prices eased a shade and then firmed as shares covered for the week-end, with that result that losses in leading issues were virtually recovered. Net changes were fractional. Sales totaled 399,550 shares.

TO EXHUME BODY

CLEBURNE, Dec. 4. (AP)—Penn J. Jackson, county attorney announced that the body of Mrs. J. D. Martin, who died in convulsions several months ago at her home north of Grandview, would be exhumed tomorrow morning. A court order for the exhumation was issued Wednesday.

sonic Home's powerful football team took the first hurdle in its fight for the state schoolboy championship today by crushing the Woodrow Wilson Wildcats of Dallas, district 6 title, 40-7, before a crowd of fans at the Texas Christian university stadium. The display of offensive football that the charges of Coach H. N. Russell staged, completely overwhelmed the Dallas champions and left little doubt but that the home team would have a definite factor in the state tournament.

The victory sent the Masons into the second round of play with the Sherman Bearcats. These two clubs will probably meet next Saturday for the right to go into the semifinals.

Mason followers got a scare at the start of the game when the Wildcats pushed over their touchdown in the first three minutes of play after recovering a fumble on the Home 25-yard line. But with the score 7 to 0 against them, the Russellmen came to life with a will, scored one in the first period and four touchdowns in the second quarter to completely rout Coach H. N. Russell's charges. Another touchdown in the third period and reserves played most of the last quarter.

Houston Whips Beaumont. HOUSTON, Dec. 3. (AP)—John Reagan's polished, clever backfield was hitting on all cylinders here today and the Bulldogs from Houston Heights wallowed in defeat.

Corpus Christi and John Reagan will battle Friday, Dec. 9, at Corpus Christi.

Corsicana Wins. CORSICANA, Dec. 3. (AP)—Corsicana high advanced to the quarter finals of the interscholastic league football race for the third successive year by defeating the Brackenridge Eagles of San Antonio, 13-0, here this afternoon, before an estimated crowd of 3,500.

The Tigers will meet Greenville next week in the quarter final round.

between Kurth and his running mate in the Rambler line, Ed Krause.

Don Zimmerman, Tulane's fleet back who had his greatest season despite the loss of experienced running mates, and Captain Milton Summerfelt, stalwart Army guard, also were clear-cut choices of the big majority of critics.

Injuries Shelve Three. The closest and rivalry for other positions all were keen as a variety of factors figured in the tabulation of final All-America results.

Ernest (Pug) Renner, Northwest's 1931 all-star halfback, gaining this honor again. A broken ankle in mid-season against Harvard abruptly shelved Dick King, regarded by Major Ralph Sasse as one of the greatest ends in West Point history. The doctors kept Orville Motler, Southern California's field general, and the outstanding back on the Pacific coast, from finishing his career as an All-American.

King's inability to finish the season left the race for the other flank position wide open. It was won, after a flock of arguments, by the fiery young Mexican, Jose Martinez-Zorrilla of Cornell, whose ability to knife through interference, rise to emergencies and block kicks combines to furnish a fine running mate for Paul Moss, a specialist in pass-catching and punting as well as an excellent defensive end.

Kurth, a polished lineman in every respect, and Ernie Smith, trombone-playing star of the Southern California forwards, easily won the favor of experts for the tackle positions. Their running mates, Krause of Notre Dame and "Tay" Brown of U. S. C., were their principal rivals and were given the preference in some minority reports. Pennsylvania's Howard Colehower, Pittsburgh's Walton, Cornell's Abe George and Duke's Freddie Crawford also were standouts. Brown University struck an unusual note by having a pair of Brown brothers in the tackle positions.

In the choice of running mate for Summerfelt at guard, the added weight and drive of Captain Johnny Vaught of Texas Christian gave him the edge over Captain Ed Smith, key man of Colgate's sturdy line. At center, Lawrence Ely of Nebraska foremost lineman the Big Six has developed since the day of Ed Wier, gets the call over "Pete" Gracey, Vanderbilt's great snapper-back.

Ely, big and powerful, not only opened exceptional fields in his own territory, such as Paul Young of Oklahoma, but successfully combated such intersectional foes as Minnesota and Pittsburgh. He helped give the Pitt Panthers the toughest afternoon they had all season. Gracey is classed as the best center the South has produced since Peter Pung of Georgia Tech. Without him, Vanderbilt's defence was riddled in its closing game with Alabama.

Fast, Versatile Backfield. The quartet selected for the All-America backfield emphasizes the importance of forward passing in the modern game. Harry Newman of Michigan, Warren Heller of Pittsburgh, Jim Hitchcock of Auburn and Leon Zimmerman of Tulane all rank among the greatest of collegiate passers. All except Heller are good kickers, with Newman an expert at placements. All can run, block and tackle with the best of talent in these specialties.

All except Zimmerman starred on undefeated teams and the pole-vaulting Tulane athlete's brilliant achievements loom all the greater because he lacked a high-class supporting cast. Despite the fact he no longer had such blockers as Felt and Payne to clear a path for him, Zimmerman was not stopped by any of the stronger teams played by Tulane. The experts found it difficult to leave off the first string All-America such versatile backs as Beattie Feathers of Tennessee, Cliff Montgomery of Columbia and George Sander of Washington State. Although not quite so polished a performer as Heller, Pittsburgh's Mike Sebastian frequently proved tougher to bring down in a broken field. The Southwest's critics ranked Harrison Stafford of Texas as the best running, blocking and passing back since the days of Gerald Mann and Joel Hunt.

A PATH TO PARADISE

by Coningly DAWSON

SYNOPSIS: Knowing that Clive would disapprove, Santa telephoned her first husband, Dicky, intending to tell him he must not see her again. They spend the afternoon discussing the reasons for her first marital failure, and how to avoid them with Clive. But Clive believes she has put in the day nursing a headache, and when he returns from work finds her tears into his bed surrounded with hot water bottles!

York to bring them back to spend the week-end. A flutter of snow was falling. On the drive across the New Jersey meadows the chauffeur informed them that ice was holding on some of the ponds above Montclair.

"I've not skated for ages," Santa became all eagerness. "Don't you remember how we used to, when you were at Princeton, long before—"

He could have supplied the unspoken words: "Long before Dicky appeared on the horizon."

"Long before," she refashioned her sentence, "either of us dreamed of marrying."

He squeezed her hand beneath the rug.

"There was never a time when I didn't dream that we might marry."

Perhaps the magic of snow accomplished the miracle. Something of its transforming whiteness seemed to drift into their hearts.

Old scars were blotted out. They became tender, gay, romantic. As with lovers, every moment together became seriously precious. Avoiding her parents' residence, they drove to Eagle Rock, where they dismissed the chauffeur, tramped a short distance to a lake and hired skates.

The place roused memories. It had been one of the scenes of their boy and girl courtship—their first courtship which had failed. They seemed not so much to have returned as never to have progressed.

Clive mustered courage. Hand-in-hand, arms crossed, as they skimmed the surface, he asked, "What happened to Dicky?"

Color flooded Santa's face.

"He knew he wasn't wanted."

"He should have realized that sooner. At the same time, he butted in to help us."

"I got rid of him for your sake."

"For both our sakes," he corrected. "But we don't need to be discourteous—you and I who are so sure of each other."

"Let's go home. I've had enough," she announced.

As he knelt to unfasten her skates, he murmured:

"I get just as big a kick out of doing this as I used to. There aren't many husbands who could say that."

Hugging arms, they commenced the descent through powdered woods in search of sophistication as represented by a taxi.

"We've been asses," he whispered. She nodded.

"So much to make us happy."

"Supposing we'd never married!"

"Don't," she implored him.

"I understand, Santa. It's taken me all this time. One can't wipe out the past like figures off a slate. If I'd had a wife before you, I'd want to mention her. If I didn't, you wouldn't know all about me. She'd be a blind spot in our lives. Here am I, wanting to know all about you and preventing you from telling me."

In a small voice she questioned, "What is it that you want me to tell?"

"Nothing," he halted in the dusk. "How cold your cheek is! There's nothing I want you to tell me. I'm not curious. But don't hide things. If you're convinced you ought to see Dicky—"

"You think I ought?" She clung to him.

"I'm willing. That's for you to decide."

Clive and Santa decide to let down the bars to Dicky tomorrow—but are they wise?

Hand in hand, arms crossed, they skimmed the ice.

touchdown of the game. There were few on account of the strong wind which swept at angles across the field. Punting against the wind was almost an impossibility.

Harvester park has been the scene of many gridiron classics, but the game Friday put up by class B teams has never been surpassed.

Christian Shows How. McLean took the wind at her back and received. Cricket Christian reeled off 12 yards on the first play and then added 8 more. Spearman held and Tolliver punted.

Spearman tried three plunges but failed and Atherton punted to his 27-yard line. Crockett then took the game in his hands and reeled off two gains for 27 yards and a touchdown. His scoring run was 17 yards around left end. He added the extra point.

The rest of the quarter was spent in an exchange of boots, with McLean gaining three to one in yardage. Madden's driving charges was outstanding and many times he carried the ball out of danger.

Taking advantage of the wind in the second quarter, Atherton booted and then recovered a fumble on McLean's 40-yard line. Madden carried the ball 21 yards off left tackle and followed with another 5 yards. Thorn made 6 yards on two plays. Madden dashed to the McLean 1 foot line. He advanced the ball six inches on his first charge and then put it over. Atherton's boot hit the cross bar and bounced across the middle of the end post for no count.

McLean was content to hold the ball after the kickoff and the half ended with McLean in possession on her 48-yard line.

Costly Losses. Spearman almost scored against the wind when McLean lost 30 yards on two bad passes from center and a fumble which Cator recovered. Spearman punted and McLean charged it out of danger throughout the entire quarter. Atherton got off a 73 yard punt with the wind but Christian carried the ball out of danger.

With the wind to their backs, McLean's Tiger started a concentrated drive in the last quarter with Christian, L. Christian, and Back carrying the ball to the 1-foot line, where they lost it on a fourth down. Spearman punted, and McLean again marched the ball to the 1-yard line, but lost it again.

Madden ran the ball out 20 yards on a beautiful play but Atherton's punt blew back and McLean took the ball. Crockett and Christian crashed through to the 12-yard line and Christian took it the rest of the way after he rolled off a pass of Spearman players at the line of scrimmage. The play appeared stopped but the whistle was not blown. Elleson added the extra point.

The game ended two minutes later after Atherton had passed 2 yards to Thorn for the only completed pass of the day.

the passion-to-star personality. If they continue to submerge personalities, they should develop a team that will win many more games.

It was evident that Coach Mitchell's intention is to develop a team and not one or two stars. He has made a good start.

The Harvester offense clicked with precision and the boys looked like veterans. The entire first string were lettermen but they have been practicing only two weeks after a strenuous football schedule.

The boys went under the basket for most of their shots and only a few missed the net. Despite a bad ankle, Hoot Fullingim got his share of the tips-offs at center. Wayne Kelley and Jess Patton played almost perfect games at defense, letting few Clarendon players through for close tries.

Fourteen Harvesters saw action during the game. Bill Kelley, Dick Sullins, J. R. Green, Orville Heiskell and Lester Sartin and others showed worlds of promise and should make strong players before the season is far advanced.

Green, stocky Clarendon forward, was the best man on the Broncho team. He accounted for nine points. Martin, big center, made the other four points. Both players guarded well but it was O'Neal that looked strongest on defense.

Second String Enters. The game opened with Woodward scoring six points in the first minute of play after a series of swift passes. Marbaugh and Fullingim followed in quick succession and Wayne Kelley got in with a nice basket. The passing combination continued to work like clock-work throughout the half, with the team showing beautiful cooperation and no sign of "hogging" the ball, a defect common in most teams. Many times the boys had an open floor before them but passed to other players if they had any chance of a shot. The guards broke fast and were never penalized for not having the ball past the center of the floor in 10 seconds while Clarendon lost the ball several times on the new ruling. Fouls were few.

The Harvesters had the game sewed up with a 36 to 9 score at the half and soon after the third period got under way. Coaches Mitchell and Fox started substituting and the first string was not sent into the game until late in the last period. The substitutes looped five points.

Bob Fuller handled the game and his callings were not questioned despite the numerous changes in the rules.
