CONQUEST OF SPAIN NEARS BLOODY CLOSE

(Editor's Note: Edward J. Neil, has just finished six months with the Spanish Insurgent armies. During that time he covered at first hand Generalissimo Francisco Franco's major campaigns. In the following account, written while he was vacationing in London, Neil gives an analysis of insurgent strategy to end the war.)

By EDWARD J. NEIL
LONDON.—Correspondence of the Associated Press.—The defenses of the Spanish Republican Government — to Generalissimo Francisco Franco's strategists—are a row of dominoes on end ready to topple one after the other when the first is knocked over.

And the first domino is Lerida, deep in a beautiful river valley of the northeastern mountains 80 air miles east of Zaragoza. The other dominoes in order are Barcelona, Valencia and Madrid; and when the toppling starts, the strategists say, the actual fighting will be over in two months and the war cleaned up before the end of its second year. It is now in its 17th month.

Ranged in the bitter cold of the Aragon front between Huesca and Zaragoza a quarter of a million of Franco's insurgent soldiers are ready for a push at the first domino, Lerida, and the civil struggle is stirring again to a climax.

Lerida lies in the line of Franco's impending march toward Barcelona, Spanish Capital, and the Mediterranean coast. It dates back to the days of the Roman Empire.

In all the centuries of Spanish war history, Lerida, now a center for huge Barcelona's water and electric supplies, never has fallen without a costly assault, only another 80 miles further east, toppling thereafter.

This is the strategists' scheme: Facing capture in Barcelona, as the "key" to the capital fell, the government of Premier Juan Negrin would flee up the mediterranean coast and across the border into

COMMISSION WITHOUT POWER TO CUT RATES

AUSTIN, Dec. 7 (AP)—The Railroad Commission's hearing on proposed reduced livestock rates in drought areas ended abruptly today when the rail lines decided to offer no testimony.

Their attorneys took the position the commission was without power to extend the lower rates. The hearing was an application of ranchers, who claimed conditions were worse than two months ago and that the 25 per cent reduction on cottonseed cake and other feeds now in effect should be continued through the winter.

Counties involved were Atascosa, Bee, Brooks, Dimmitt, Duval, Frio, Goliad, Gray, Hemphill, Hutchinson, Jim Hogg, Jim Wells, Kinney, Kleberg, Karnes, LaSalle, Lipscomb, Live Oak, McMullen, Maverick, Medina, Ochiltree, Roberts, Starr, Terrell, Uvalde, Valverde, Webb, Zapata and Zavalla.

Ten other counties were eliminated from the application yesterday because no testimony was offered concerning their conditions. The railroad's not only opposed the extension but had gone into district court here in an effort to enjoin enforcement of the existing charges. District Judge Roy C. Archer indicated it would be several days before he would be able to start trial of the injunction suit.

PLASTER CEILING OF SCHOOL ROOM FALLS

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 7 (AP)—Oklahoma City school officials ordered all plaster ceilings replaced today after one crashed down on 31 pupils at Westwood grade school yesterday, injuring 15 children.

Physicians attempted to save the life of 9-year-old Doris June Alkman with a blood transfusion. She was in a critical condition, her throat slashed deeply. Fire chief George Goff blamed faulty construction for the collapse.

Mrs. Ila Chipman, 32-year-old English teacher, noticed sand falling from a widening crack in the ceiling and ordered the children to file out. The first pupils barely had reached the door when "the entire ceiling fell with a terrible crash."

YOUTH INJURED AT OIL WELL

Details of an oilfield accident in which W. L. Stice was critically injured yesterday afternoon have not been learned by Cree and Hoover Drilling contractors, his employers. Stice is in Worley hospital suffering from a compound leg fracture, fractured elbow, fractured rib, severe face lacerations, contusions of the body, scalp wounds and shock.

Stice was at work on the Cree and Hoover No. 4 Cole well, two miles south of Pampa, when the accident happened. No one saw the youth become tangled in the cat line. Attending physicians today said his condition was critical but that he was holding his own.

TWO 'HUMAN CLOCKS' LISTED FOR DIAGNOSES

CHICAGO, Dec. 7 (AP)—Two "human clocks" were listed at the Hines hospital today for diagnoses.

Charles W. Hester, 43-year-old Oklahoma, was the first to seek a cure at the hospital for a tickling in the head. Yesterday Mrs. Josephine Kaumanns of Chicago sought aid for the same affliction.

Hester said his head began tickling after a shell exploded near him during the World War. Mrs. Kaumanns, a widow with four children, told physicians a tickling audible to persons several feet away began in her head last March while she was using a telephone.

Pampa chamber of commerce leaders agreeing to help Panhandle secure a special train to Wellington Friday for the class B, region 1, championship football game. The train would come to Pampa over the Santa Fe and then go to Wellington over the Fort Worth and Denver. Tickets would not be more than $1.70. Pampa fans who will ride the special are urged to call the chamber of commerce office, phone 384, or Dick Hughes, phone 206. "Let's get behind the special," said Prexy Hughes of the Jaycees today. "Panhandle tried to get the game played in Pampa so let's get behind the Panthers and go to Wellington Friday to see a real ball game. Pampans have wanted to see Antelope Austin of Wellington and Electric Sparks of Panhandle opposing each other in ball-toting roles and Friday will be their last opportunity."

FLAMES SHOOT FROM FAUCETS

Residents of a portion of the Talley addition Sunday afternoon found gas instead of water when they turned on their taps. Luckily one person promptly notified firemen and city water works department officers and the water line was isolated until the error had been corrected. Had an explosion occurred consequences might have been serious at many of the residences.

Leo Bowden, residing on North Wells street, turned on the water in his bathroom but no water flowed. Instead, gas roared from the faucet and a mild explosion followed. No one was injured, and a small blaze, promptly extinguished, followed the explosion. Bowden called the fire department, however, and an immediate investigation followed. Mr. Bowden said flames shot from the garden hose in his yard "like a blow torch."

Water Works Superintendent Andy Crocker discovered that an employee of the Smith Brothers Refining Co. which is drilling a well near the city limits, had connected a high pressure gas line with the city water line, thinking he was connecting the water line from the city to the well. The gas forced the water back into the line.

Water works department employees called the section of the line and opened a plug at the end of the main, forcing the gas from the line. Residents were without water only a few hours.

FIREMAN'S BALL TO BE TONIGHT AT SOUTHERN

Pampa firemen tonight will hold their annual ball at the Southern club, with Avil Schneider and his orchestra furnishing the music with "Little Egypt" an added attraction. Dancing will begin at 9 p. m., and last until tomorrow morning. Admission will be $1 a couple. Proceeds from the dance will go to the firemen's training fund and for use in case of injury to volunteer firemen. The dance is sponsored by the volunteer firemen who derive all benefits from the dance.

CONGRESS AUTHORIZES $222,000 MILEAGE FUND

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7 (AP)—Congress has authorized a $222,000 mileage fund to pay members' travel expenses to and from the special session.

There was laughter, but little opposition when Chairman Taylor (D-Colo.) of the House Appropriations committee offered the proposal yesterday as a resolution which "speaks for itself." The House passed it, 327 to 37, and the Senate followed suit a few minutes later. Each Senator and Representative is entitled to 20 cents a mile for the round trip, whether he goes home or stays in Washington for the Christmas recess.

400 BUSINESS MEN LISTEN TO NOTED EXPERT

More than 400 Pampa merchants and sales people heard Henry W. Stanley of Dallas speak last night, in the city auditorium and a much larger crowd is expected to attend the closing session tonight, at 8 o'clock when the noted speaker will discuss "Turnover: The Pulse of Business" and "The Retail Sale."

It will be Mr. Stanley's last appearance in Texas. He leaves next week for Pittsburgh where he will become connected with the chamber of commerce of that Pennsylvania city. A forceful speaker, Stanley doesn't give dry statistics that bore listeners but he mixes humor with his remarks and presents facts and figures in such a way that they "go home."

Store owners or managers, accompanied by their entire sales force, attended last night's session when Mr. Stanley discussed the merchandising outlook and an economic review describing the various cycles of economic trends, and the place of the retail sales person in the present economic picture.

Between discussions tonight Mr. Stanley will call for an intermission. Mr. Stanley was introduced by Tom Aldridge, chairman of a business men's committee which was largely responsible for the large turnout last night.

Tonight's topics will be of great interest not only to sales people but to the public in general. At noon today Mr. Stanley spoke to the Pampa chambers of commerce in joint session at the Methodist church. His topic was "What business expects out of a chamber of commerce."

"MARSH BUGGIES" TO BE USED IN SEARCH

BEAUMONT, Dec. 7 (AP)—High wheeled "marsh buggies" equipped with two-way radio sets prepared to move into the boggy lowlands of southern Jefferson county today in search of a duck. M. M. Cooke, a duck hunter local since Saturday.

Five planes, three from the army's Barksdale field at Shreveport, La., joined in the search again and planned to establish radio communication with ground parties in the "marsh buggies" if the body was spotted.

More than 50 men 30 from the Beaumont CCC camp were on the fringe of the marshy land awaiting arrival of the buggies.

Cooke, 52, a civil engineer of Dallas, came here last week-end for a duck hunt. Darkness engulfed the area yesterday before army fliers could lead ground parties to the spot where he reported a reclining man was sighted.

SENATE UTILIZED FOR BOARD'S BID OPENING

AUSTIN, Dec. 7 (AP)—One of the largest crowds of contractors to gather in Austin for such a purpose was present today when the Board of Control opened bids for construction of the new state hospital for insane at Big Spring.

The crowd was so numerous the Board of Control utilized the Senate chamber for the meeting. A correspondingly large number of bids for construction purposes was submitted.

H. C. Meyer, board member, estimated at least six hours would be required merely to read and note the bids and determination of the low bidders, to be followed soon by awarding contracts, would be impossible before late tonight or tomorrow.

The legislature appropriated $817,000 for construction but made no provisions for operation. The Board of Control has estimated at least a year will be required for the building, which it is hoped can be started about January 1.

Bids were on construction of the administration, psychopathic, power, general hospital, employees, dormitory, store room, north and south ward buildings as well as on sidewalks, sewage and other construction. One of the first bids estimated 300 working days would be necessary.

To Arms, Redskins Are Coming

Bellevue Falls, Va., started a campaign for enforcement of its ancient "blue laws" which forbid work and sale of anything unnecessary on Sunday. The same law requires men to protect women from prowling Indians. While officers arrested more than 100 persons for doing business on Sunday, Francis Clark (left) and Daniel Thompson decided to live up to the other provision of the law, hence the muskets on their shoulders as they went to church.

ANOTHER COLD SPELL STRIKES

Livestock warnings for the north portion of West Texas were coupled today with the weather bureau's prediction that it will be much colder in the Panhandle tonight.

The weatherman also indicated that it will be colder tomorrow after a night of lowering temperatures.

Brunt of the new cold wave, the season's fifth "norther" had begun to be felt in Pampa and vicinity by mid-afternoon today.

Locally, there was a three degree drop of the mercury between 10 and 11 o'clock this morning when it fell from 35 to 32 degrees. However, at 12 noon there had been an advance of two degrees to 34, just two points above freezing.

At sunset yesterday, the reading was 30 degrees and the lowest point last night was 24 degrees, according to the United States Weather Bureau thermometer at the KPDR radio transmitter station.

While the weather bureau's prediction of a new norther on the heels of yesterday's cold wave also included the livestock warnings, it was also pointed out that tonight's cold spell was not expected to be more severe than its predecessors.

THREE TO BE CLEARED IN FEDERAL OIL CASE

MADISON, Wis. Dec. 7 (AP)—Federal Judge Patrick T. Stone announced today he would grant motions for directed verdicts of acquittal for three more individual defendants in the federal government's gasoline price fixing case.

They are J. A. Welch, Shreveport, La., sales manager of the Louisiana Oil and Refining Company; R. R. Irwin, of the Kansas City Office of Socony-Vacuum Oil Company; and Ira Smith, Tulsa, Okla., gasoline buyer for the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana.

The judge said he still was considering motions on behalf of other individual defendants, of whom 38 remain.

Originally 23 companies and 46 of their executives and other employees were brought to trial Oct. 4 on charges of conspiring to maintain artificially high prices of mid-west gasoline.

SAGEBRUSH BEING CUT OFF BRIDGE LOCATION

Work of cutting sagebrush off the right-of-way of the Pampa-Borger road at Spring creek was started yesterday by Allhands and Davis, grading and drainage contractors, who had a tractor and grader in use at the location.

A shipment of two tractors, two elevating graders, a bulldozer, a 1 1/4-cubic yard power shovel, and an air compressor were unloaded at Sikeston Monday. The contractors have also begun building a blacksmith shop in the town.

CHIANG FLEES FROM DOOMED CAPITAL CITY

SHANGHAI, Dec. 8 (Wednesday)—A Chinese army 200,000 strong massed along the battlements of historic Nanking today for a stand against 75,000 Japanese maneuvering for frontal attack. Advance units of the Japanese army were already outside the city's gates, and a communique said these forces were attempting to scale the city's historic battlements with medieval ladders.

Japanese officers who announced the attack said a spearhead of the invaders was attempting to climb the city's massive battlements with scaling ladders—a maneuver handed down through the middle ages. Gates of the apparently doomed city were closed. Chinese had started a final stand which seemed destined to fail.

Japanese asserted that their main force had not yet reached the city but added that they were "progressing satisfactorily and according to schedule." The spokesman did not say how soon he expected the fall of the one-time fountainhead of nationalist China.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, China's leader, had left Nanking, Chinese advisers disclosed. He and Madame Chiang, head of China's airforce, were said to have departed by airplane for Nanchang, capital of the interior province of Kiangsi. The government evacuated two weeks ago.

Meager foreign dispatches trickling through from Nanking confirmed Japanese reports that Nippon's warplanes had pounded the city since the evacuation. However, however, did not mention the extent of casualties or damage.

90 Planes Bomb City
Japanese had asserted that 90 planes raided the city in the most intensive bombardment of the war thus far.

The raids apparently were aimed at military objectives in the city's environs. Japanese claimed their air force had struck at towns and cities of the lower Yangtze valley as far as Anking, deep in Anhwei.

KANSAN ARRESTED AND HELD FOR OFFICERS

Sheriff's officers here today notified Sheriff Henry Heinze of La Crosse, Kas., that they were holding L. J. Copenhaver, whom the local officers have been informed is wanted in that state on a felony charge.

A waiver of extradition was signed by Copenhaver, and a telegram dispatched by county officers this morning to the Kansas sheriff, who is expected to come here for the prisoner.

Copenhaver was arrested here Monday afternoon by Deputy George Inman and Texas Highway Patrolmen J. L. Pingent Jr. and Norvell Redwine.

He was charged with driving a car without a Texas license. A checkup with General Motors Acceptance Corporation offices in Amarillo brought forth the information that the man arrested had been wanted by Kansas officers.

15 Shopping Days Till Christmas

Public Invited To Attend Program

Helpful suggestions for Christmas decorating will be given this evening by the Pampa Garden club members at an open meeting to be held at 7:30 o'clock in the city club rooms for those who are interested in decorating their homes.

In the absence of Mrs. J. B. Massa, Mrs. Lynn Boyd will have charge of the program and will give the five points of decorations used by the national contest rules. Mrs. Ewing Leech is to present "Christmas Nomenclature." The discussion on interior decorations will be given by Mrs. Roy Waltraubstein instead of Mrs. Massa.

An extensive paper on the care of Christmas plants will be given by Mrs. W. C. Landrum. All numbers on the program have been planned so that those who care to may take notes on the arrangements and ideas offered. Attractive lighting effects will be shown.

The men of the town are invited to attend this program as they are often the ones who have to work out the Christmas decorations. The public is urged to hear these discussions as many worthwhile ideas will be given. No charges or offering will be made.

Mrs. Landers Heads Missionary Society

By ISABEL DAUNER.
HIGGINS, Dec. 7.—Mrs. Roy Landers was elected president of the Women's Home Missionary society at a recent meeting held at the Methodist church. She succeeds Mrs. Sue Patton, who efficiently served in that capacity for the past year.

Mrs. H. H. Hale was named vice president and Mrs. Walter Berry secretary. Other officers chosen were: corresponding secretary, Mrs. Patton; pledge superintendent, Mrs. Sam Manning; superintendent of supplies, Mrs. Elvie Dearing; World Outlook superintendent, Mrs. J. R. Barnes; study superintendent, Mrs. Edith Hennwood. Installation of officers will be held the first meeting in January.

Try steaming Brussels sprouts, broccoli, celery, asparagus, onions, carrots, cauliflower or turnips. They will keep their shapes better and won't lose so much flavor. They also will cook in less time than they would if they were boiled. Use a regular steamer or put the vegetable in a large strainer or colander and suspend it in a kettle of boiling water an inch above the water line.

Bill on Hat

What will Paris do next? Wearing a live pigeon on your hat is a good trick if you can induce one to stay put. And we certainly can be thankful that the style doesn't run to turkeys, instead. Think of toting a 10-pound bobber on your noggin!

Glorifying Yourself

By ALICIA HART.

If you want to look your best at holiday parties, be sure that arms, elbows and shoulders are smooth and white. Nothing mars the appearance of a lovely gown and otherwise handsomely groomed woman more than darkened, rough elbows or chapped arms.

Be sure to use your bath brush every day, scrubbing elbows and massaging arms and shoulders. This keeps them scrupulously clean, of course, stimulates circulation, removes bits of dry skin. Also, remember that lemon juice is an excellent elbow and hand bleach.

If your skin is very dry, better get a special body lotion and slap it on after each bath. Some types of hand lotion will do the trick, but be sure the one you select can be absorbed quickly. Leaves no oily residue on the skin. Otherwise your clothes will suffer.

When making up for an evening party, smooth foundation lotion on arms, shoulders, neck and back, then powder carefully. Press the powder on firmly, let it set, whisk off the excess. This way you'll stay powdered all evening, but you won't leave a trail of white smudges on the dinner coats of half the men at the party.

Unless you are wearing a masquerade costume or have gone in for 1900 effects, with bustle gown, hair pulled high and a black bow around your throat, don't wear a beauty mark on your cheek. It isn't done this season. And don't be persuaded to put rouge in the hollow of your throat or on ear lobes.

Rouge is supposed to enhance your natural coloring, so apply it where color would normally be if you were not so pale.

Even for the most formal parties, use eye makeup ever so sparingly. Mascara should make lashes look longer, much lovelier, not smeared and smudged. Eyeshadow, if used at all, ought to go on lightly and be blended expertly.

Modern Menus

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX

It used to be very Victorian to eat oysters by gas light in grand and over-decorated oyster places. Today, every housewife knows as much about the good taste of the fresh or frozen oyster as any gay belle of the "naughty nineties." Better try a few of these for special dinner when something different is wanted.

The main rule for cooking oysters reads something like this—Be Gentle and Be Brief.

Oysters en Brochette. (Serves 6.)

One pint Bluepoint oysters, drained, 12 slices bacon, cut in quarters. Arrange each oyster between two pieces bacon on toothpick. Place in pan. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Broil about three minutes; then turn and broil other side about three minutes longer, or until bacon is crisp. Remove toothpicks. Serve

Group Hears Interesting Book Review

Another of a series of book reviews being sponsored by the Pampa Public library was given last evening in the city club rooms by Mrs. Hol Wagner.

In reviewing the book, "The Return to Religion," by Dr. Henry C. Link, Mrs. Wagner gave the writers definition of personality which is "the extent to which the individual converts his energies into liabilities or actions which successfully influence other people."

Personality is developed through practice, the speaker pointed out. Various complexes may be overcome by attracting others through the church, by learning to play bridge, ping-pong, to dance, or any activity in which the person becomes interested in something or someone other than himself. Dr. Link has emphasized the importance of religion as the solution to many problems which must be overcome to achieve happiness.

The writer dedicated the book to "the millions of grandparents who, with less money, gave their children more than we are giving them today."

Preceding the review musical selections were played by Miss Helen Poolas and Gene Pinkbeiner in the club room which was decorated with an arrangement of yellow, white, and bronze chrysanthemums.

Mrs. James Todd, who introduced the speaker, told that the city library book will present a review each month to add funds for buying new books of interest.

Traveler Gives High Spots Of Round-the-World Trip

Many places of interest were visited by Mrs. Ray Woodward of Raton, Texas, a Pampa visitor, who recently returned from a trip around the world.

Before sailing, Mrs. Woodward went to Coney Island, Radio City, Rockefeller Center, Jack Dempsey's restaurant, Empire state building, and to hear Rudy Vaile play in New York City.

After traveling six days from New York, the ship docked at Havana, Cuba where the passengers saw the Maine statue, the old castle, the site of Christopher Columbus' burial place, and the banana, cherry, and coconut trees growing.

On the way to Balboa, the traveler spent a short while in Panama where it rained all evening. From the canal, the group went to Los Angeles where they remained for two weeks. While the ship was docked Mrs. Woodward visited Long Beach, and the Brown Derby, and Biltmore hotel in Hollywood. After a stay in San Francisco, the ship set sail for Honolulu. During her visit there, Mrs. Woodward toured the city in a taxi. She saw the pineapple and sugar cane fields, the Dole manufacturing company, Grand Royal hotel, and Chinatown.

The next place of interest was Kobe, Japan, a city which is built at the bottom of a mountain, where richness, cars, and electric cars provide the means of transportation. Mrs. Woodward visited silk manufacturing plants, temples, and an old palace into which no one was allowed to enter wearing shoes. The traveler rode on the Japanese trains, some of which are better than some of the trains used in the United States, and she visited in the larger air-conditioned stores.

A typical Japanese sunset was viewed by the spectators as they passed through the inland sea from Kobe to Shanghai. As the ship entered the Yellow sea, the passengers saw Japanese war ships, submarines, and airplanes. Along the Afangetze and Wapoo rivers, American refugees were put on the American ship, the traveler related. In Hong Kong Mrs. Woodward watched the making of ivory.

MOST WIVES DESPISE HUSBANDS, SAYS EXPERT

CHICAGO, Dec. 7 (AP)—A woman let it be known today that most married American women tend to despise their husbands.

"That might be no revelation for many husbands but for those in doubt Miss Agnes A. Sharp disclosed the tell-tale signs of such widely held dispositions.

The husband-despising wife betrays her secret, if it is a secret, by being slovenly in dress while in the privacy of her home, said Miss Sharp, who is assistant director of the Psychiatric Institute of Chicago's municipal court.

"Yes," said Miss Sharp, "women are more careless in their appearance around the home than men. Here's why: Women—and I'm speaking of American women of the middle, upper and professional classes mainly—tend to despise their husbands.

"They wear just any old thing—worn-out street dresses, stockings with runs, shoes with worn-down heels."

This outcropping of slovenliness, said Miss Sharp, begins in the thirties and forties.

"And how men resent it!" she exclaimed. "They can't see why the wife, who has a larger allowance, can't dress as attractively as the office stenographer."

COMEDIES TO BE SHOWN AT SATURDAY MATINEE

Five reels of pictures will be shown at the LaNora theater Saturday morning at 11 a. m. when kiddies will be admitted free in exchange for a new or serviceable toy which will be taken up at the door.

The American Legion is sponsoring the show. It is hoped that many children will bring toys to the matinee. The toys will be turned over to the firemen and will be distributed to underprivileged children Christmas.

SMUDGE FIRES LIGHTED AS FLORIDA SHIVERS

LAKELAND, Fla., Dec. 7 (AP)—Smudge fires were lighted throughout the vegetable and fruit growing sections of Florida early today to combat freezing temperatures, lowest of the year.

Killing frosts extended to the mucklands around Lake Okechobee, one of America's richest winter garden spots, and forecasters said truck growers faced losses from the cold.

Some damage probably resulted to citrus groves north of the Gainesville-Palatial line, E. S. Ellison, head of the state frost warning service, said, but the great citrus area south of there was not seriously threatened.

A certain amount of cold weather is beneficial to citrus, he said, in that it raises the sugar content of the fruit.

Losses to citrus in the northern part of the state, if any, cannot be gauged for a week or ten days, Ellison said. North Florida strawberries were endangered.

The frost station warned of a minimum temperature of 19 degrees above zero at Lake City in extreme North Florida, but expected the mercury to hover around the freezing point or slightly below in most places.

The near freezing temperatures were predicted for as far south as Miami.

Frost station officials said the cold would continue through tonight, probably, with rising temperatures tomorrow.

FIELD TO BE THAWED OUT FOR GRID BATTLE

CHICAGO, Dec. 7 (AP)—Asphalt burners were wheeled onto Wrigley field today to thaw the frozen gridiron for the National Professional League football championship game Sunday between the Chicago Bears and the Washington Redskins.

The burners were ordered into action by George Halas, coach and owner of the Bear to prevent a repetition of the kind of football experienced last Sunday in the Bears-Chicago Cardinal game.

Both teams found a ground offense impossible on the solid coating of ice and the game became more of a touch-ball affair with progress depending upon passes.

WALLACE ASKS INDUSTRY AND LABOR UNITE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7 (AP)—Secretary Wallace introduced into business discussions today the prediction that industrial production can be increased "at least 40 percent" within three years, of farmers, workers, business men and the government cooperate.

He proposed in a radio speech last night seven "common sense" ways of restoring trade: "Home construction, equitable tax law revision, farm legislation that is fair to producers and consumers alike, enactment of a 'well-drawn' wage-hour bill, maintenance of a 'healthy' securities market, continued government spending until private capital takes up the slack and continuance of reciprocal trade treaties.

Wallace's address was made simultaneously with the launching of a two-phase program by the committee for industrial organization to cope with the rising wave of unemployment.

Wallace also discussed the labor situation, saying: "If farmers block the efforts of labor to maintain fair wages, they themselves will be the losers when the workers have less money to spend for farm products.

"If workers carry on strikes against fair prices for food, then they will be the losers when farmers have less money to spend for industrial products.

"If business is to strive above all to pay smaller taxes and to keep wages and farm prices down, then business will lose the market for the things it has to sell.

"Business must take the government's word that government wishes it well and business must assume those responsibilities of leadership which business claims. Otherwise government will be forced to step in to the breach."

Chairman John L. Lewis of the C. I. O. in the first edition of his new paper, the C. I. O. News, explained that the affiliated unions propose:

"To establish unemployment committees and to take a series of definite steps to protect their jobless members; while at the same time a demand will be made upon Congress to adopt legislation to cope with the problem as a whole."

FAMED BIBLIOGRAPHER OF NEW YORK PASSES

NEW YORK, Dec. 7 (AP)—A man whose formal education never carried him beyond grammar school died yesterday, the holder of degrees from three universities and known throughout the world for his scholarly achievements.

He was Dr. Wilberforce Eames, 82, Chief Bibliographer of the New York public library.

Dr. Eames lived in a house so crammed with books that concrete floors were necessary to keep the floors from collapse. His research unearthed so many valuable historical facts that he won the nickname of "the Sherlock Holmes of literary detectives." He was an authority on languages of the North American Indian, and could read Japanese and Chinese and many of the Bantu dialects of Africa.

Teamwork Between Capital and Labor Urged by Tycoon

NEW YORK, Dec. 7 (AP)—William B. Warner, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, told that body today in convention: "The need of the hour is for teamwork between capital, labor, management and government. Business . . . is eager to do its part."

Warner saw "the elements of prosperity at hand if we have the common sense and energy to grasp them." These elements he said are:

- 1. For government—"Repeal or modification of those laws which have contributed to the present downward trend."
- 2. For capital—"Make available the funds necessary to enable industry to go forward and expand both production and employment."
- 3. For labor—"Avoid strikes and unreasonable demands."
- 4. For management—"Avoid laying off employes . . . go forward with expansions."

EDITOR OF MAGAZINE DEFIES NLB SUBPOENA

STEUERVILLE, Ohio, Dec. 7 (AP)—Attorneys of the National Labor Relations Board passed on to their chiefs in Washington today the next move in the "freedom of the press" controversy growing out of the Weirton Steel Company hearing.

They asked Chairman J. Warren Madden to decide what action should be taken against Hartley W. Barclay, trade magazine editor, and two Pittsburgh advertising executives, who defied subpoenas of the board.

In New York Barclay declared the subpoena infringing upon the freedom of the press.

The attorneys demanded to know where Barclay had obtained material for an article in "Mill and Factory" in which he characterized the Weirton inquiry a "colossal burlesque," a "curse of democracy," and a "silly waste of money."

The issue developed during the 17-week-long hearing into charges of unfair labor practices against the subsidiary of National Steel.

Einstein's Daughter Will Get Divorce

TRENTON, N. J., Dec. 7 (AP)—Advisory Master Norman T. Rogers said he would sign today an order recommending a preliminary decree of divorce from Margot Marianoff, daughter of Albert Einstein, the mathematician.

Einstein drew a number of state capitol employes from their work yesterday when he testified for ten minutes in chancery court. He told of witnessing his daughter's marriage to Dmitri Marianoff, a writer, in Berlin in November, 1930, and of efforts to bring them together after separation in August, 1934.

FRENZY REIGNS IN TOKYO AS JAPS ADVANCE

By RELMAN MORIN. TOKYO, Dec. 7 (AP)—Tokyo was in a state of ecstatic frenzy today, awaiting the fall of Nanking.

Nevertheless, it was generally believed the capture of Nanking would not mean the end of the war. Japanese thought Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek would concentrate his forces in Hunan province and attempt to continue fighting with some sort of aid from Soviet Russia.

The Japanese government was said to be considering issuance of a declaration withdrawing Japanese recognition of the Nanking government.

(Such a declaration would mean that Japan no longer recognized the regime of Chiang as the true government of China.)

Celebration of Nanking's imminent fall started last night. Police relaxed closing laws and the downtown district of Tokyo blazed with gaiety. Crowds milled through the streets. Cafes and restaurants were jammed until well past midnight.

Throughout the night handbells jingled endlessly as news boys brought fresh extras telling of each new Japanese advance.

The war office buzzed. War

Central Conference All-Stars Chosen

ARLINGTON, Dec. 7 (AP)—Coaches of the Central Texas conference selected five players from John Tarleton college on the all-star team announced today.

Tarleton was runner-up to Weatherford in the conference title campaign.

The team: H. Morgan, North Texas Aggies, and Boyd, Tarleton, ends; Bostick, North Texas Aggies, and Coats, Tarleton, tackles; Buckner, Tarleton, and Graham, Weatherford, guards; Johnston, Tarleton, center; Matthews, Tarleton, quarterback; Elder, North Texas Aggies, and Workman, Decatur, halfbacks; McClain, Weatherford, fullback.

Minister General Gen Sugiyama gave a banquet where guests toasted the army's forward steps toward Nanking. Medals, decorations and swords glittered about a giant table.

There were hysterical scenes at the stock market. Shares rose rapidly, spurred by the impetus of victory.

The daily average population of the Texas penitentiary system is 6,000 and varies but little from that figure throughout the year.

Your Intestines WANT to Be Regular
If your intestines could talk, they'd tell you that common constipation comes from NEGLECT. Modern meals too often omit Nature's "regulators"—the laxative parts of wheat.
You can avoid common constipation by eating Kellogg's All-Bran. All-Bran does TWO things. First, it gives you "bulk." It absorbs water and softens like a sponge—this water-softened mass aids elimination. And second, Vitamin "B"—the vitamin that tones up your intestinal tract and promotes a healthy movement.
Kellogg's All-Bran is a crunchy, toasted cereal. Eat it with milk or cream and fruits—or in cooking. But however you eat it, use it REGULARLY. Eat two tablespoons of All-Bran and drink plenty of water. If you do this every day you can avoid common constipation—and cathartics, too! Every grocer sells All-Bran. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Sleep while your want-ad works.

Washington Daybook

WASHINGTON—Anyone who can tell just how popular President Roosevelt will be next year will confer a boon on members of congress by letting them know.

Many are coming up next year for re-election—all the house and a third of the senate. If the President is slipping in popularity they can be independent as all get-out, and it will be good politics. But if the President in 1938 still cuts his old time wide swath with the voters, it won't do a congressman any good to be "against" Roosevelt.

Take Florida as a sample: Senator Pepper is finishing a two-year short term and will be up to succeed himself. Opposing him for the seat will be Representative Wilcox. Already they are sparring for position. Pepper evidently would like the Florida electorate to believe that Wilcox is anti-Roosevelt. Wilcox, it seems, would like Florida to believe that Pepper is subservient to Roosevelt while he, Wilcox, is independent, but not too independent.

It gives you an idea of how important Mr. Roosevelt's popularity trend is to his fellow politicians.

Diary: Economy note: Representative Phil Ferguson of Woodward, Okla., a member of the house rivers and harbors committee, says he is out to get all funds possible for flood control and reservoir projects.

Metaphorical note: Senator Josh Lee of Oklahoma says: "Today Europe is a powder keg and Asia is a volcano. The very earth of the eastern hemisphere is trembling under the tread of marching feet."

Secrecy note: Secretary Hull addressed 240 congressmen on the nine-power pact, neutrality and other international questions. No reporters were admitted.

Man About Manhattan

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Many and varied are the legends of artists who nonchalantly disregard their audiences while on stage, but the palm for extraordinary behavior still belongs to Vladimir de Pachmann, who thought nothing of opening his mail and answering correspondence while facing a white-tie crowd.

The great man once went so far as to borrow a program from someone in the audience when he forgot what he was scheduled to play. Then, too, there was the time he signaled the stage hands to shift his piano to another part of the stage.

"What is the meaning of this?" demanded the manager when he could catch his breath.

"My dear sir," cried Pachmann, "I am playing a waltz in six-eight time and there is a fat old crowd sitting in the front row fanning herself in two-four time. Am I to put up with that!"

Ethel Barrymore is an avid collector of prize-fight pictures. Phillips Barry is back in New York with the synopsis of a new play. He'll write it between now and March 1 . . . Babe Ruth says he will never attend another baseball game unless he is made manager of a big league club . . . What's he beefing about anyway? . . . The rowdiest entertainment in New York is not the wrestling matches . . . It's the ice-hockey brawls at Madison Square Garden.

On exhibition in the International building at Radio City are four wooden masks which were brought out of New Guinea by Pierre Ledoux. They're listed at $300 each, but Ledoux got them for the equivalent of about 20 cents. He swapped four mouse traps for them, and the natives just couldn't get over the idea of Americans fooling little mice with shiny spring traps. They laughed and laughed, and so did Ledoux.

Attending an informal party the other afternoon, I saw a half dozen pen sketches by Hans Kleiber, an ex-forest ranger who lives in Wyoming. All his subjects deal with wildlife, especially with mallard and pintail ducks coming into marshes to feed at twilight. You could almost hear the swishing of their wings.

Irving Kaufman points out that we may pine for the good old days, but the influence of those days are responsible for the rise of at least two of our younger, better actors—Maurice Evans and John Gielgud. Evans I agree, but in my book Gielgud is no star. Anyway, both reached affluence on the good old time religion of Shakespeare.

Sometime next month the Theater Guild is going to conduct the interesting experiment of running through a whole performance of "Madame Bovary" without lowering the curtain. The audience will see everything that takes place during a production, even to the changing of scenery and costumes. This is announced as a "course of instruction" and is available for all who pay one dollar at the gate.

People You Know

By ARCHER FULLINGIM

Hans Davis whose sense of humor is subtle, dry and always on tap sends in a clipping which appeared in the Pampa Daily News recently. The headline on the article was: "Convicts Escape By Jumping From Wagon."

The article was from Huntsville and told about Sam Houston college students getting a holiday because they won a football game. Wrote Hans:

"This brings to mind a story . . . Colonel Eob, an old southern planter was somewhat given to exaggeration, in fact it seemed impossible for him to relate the most commonplace incident and keep his story within the bounds of reason. Some of his acquaintances grudgingly admitted that he was the biggest liar in Alabama, which was a distinction for any man. The colonel had a negro slave who followed him constantly, and not only attended his personal wants, but also, upon request, verified any and all of the colonel's fishy stories as an eye witness. The colonel was describing to a neighbor one day how he killed a deer, saying "the bullet passed completely through his head going in at one ear and passing out the other, then adding as an afterthought "also through his left hind foot." The neighbor demanded to know how this could have happened, and the faithful old negro undertook to explain: "You see, when de kum I had de deer was sittin' down scratchin' his hind hind his left hind foot." The explanation went over apparently satisfactorily, but when the neighbor had gone, the old negro said, "Kum! Colonel Eob, an old southern planter was somewhat given to exaggeration, in fact it seemed impossible for him to relate the most commonplace incident and keep his story within the bounds of reason. The colonel was describing to a neighbor one day how he killed a deer, saying "the bullet passed completely through his head going in at one ear and passing out the other, then adding as an afterthought "also through his left hind foot." Book A Day

—By BRUCE CATTON

Winter winds and a southern cruise go hand in hand. Three new travel books offer you just this exciting sort of trip right from the depths of your arm chair.

The first is Charles B. Farmer's "West Indian Odyssey" (Dodge: $2.75)—and a most romantic story it is. Here is a guide to the West Indies and a picture of the color and drama of some of the most interesting islands on earth.

In a Santo Domingo cathedral rest the bones of Christopher Columbus, in Haiti are the ruins of Christopher's vast citadel; in the Virgin Islands stands Bluebeard's Castle. Mr. Farmer unfolds each of these stories, linking yesterday with today. One of the attractive features of his book is a short account preceding each chapter, of the history and geography of each town, city or island visited.

Tom Marvel's "Circling the Caribbean" (Harcourt, Brace: $2.50) covers much of the same ground, more superficially. Using the modern clipper planes and the back of a Jamaican mule, Mr. Marvel made a circuit of the Caribbean in two and a half months. His account is interesting, but one feels he might have mined his sources deeper, particularly the old sword of Caracas and Curacao, Barbados and Trinidad.

"Notes on a Drum" by Joseph Henry Jackson (Macmillan: $3) lacks the sweep of these first books; nevertheless it is entertaining. A traveler's story of Guatemala, it catches

Around Hollywood

—By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Two views of Carole Lombard in the role of Liar and one of Fred Astaire minus Ginger Rogers, brighten the preview week.

Miss Rogers having gone on her own in "Stage Door," Astaire undertakes a solo for the first time in "A Damsel in Distress." The picture doubles will be acclaimed for its own sprightly merits, its better than usual story, its twinkling music by the late George Gershwin, and its even more than usual display of Astaire's dancing tricks in eye-halting settings.

The damsel in question—an English girl mildly imprisoned in a castle because she wants to marry an American—is Joan Fontaine, who is required to dance but one simple number with Astaire, her province obviously being in the charm and beauty department. Actually supplanting Ginger Rogers here given their best opportunity for laughs, and abetting Astaire in the hooding end as well.

Even for Astaire-Rogers fans, the picture should carry appeal while wetting the appetite for the next co-starrer, already set.

Steal For Barrymore. In "True Confession" Carole Lombard and Fred MacMurray are merged under Wesley Ruggles' direction in a wild comedy no less funny for its strain on the credibility. Carole plays a wife whose gift for twisting the truth, for convenience rather than evil design, gets her involved in a murder charge. MacMurray is the painfully honest husband who serves as lawyer for the defense, wins her acquittal on a self-defense plea in the belief Carole really is a murderess, which she isn't.

The picture's tongue is in its cheek as often as Carole's is, this being her unconscious tip-off that creative genius is burning and another whooper is coming. Hilarity reaches its highest point in the courtroom scenes, where satirical irreverence of conventional procedure is manifest. Una Merkel, Porter Hall and Lynne Overman shine in support, but John Barrymore, in a pixie-like role that wanders through the reels to provide the climax, is the picture-stealer.

Well-Rounded Cast. In "Nothing Sacred" Miss Lombard lies again—pretending she is doomed to slow death from radium poisoning when she knows all along the country doctor (Charles Winninger) has erred in diagnosis. She lies when Fredric March, New York reporter in search of a human interest scoop, arrives to offer sympathy and a glorious final fling at his page's expense.

This situation starts proceedings as slumgatti as any this addle-pated movie year has seen, sparkling with Ben Hecht dialogue in the "Front Page" tradition, bristling with Director William Wellman's barbed and lusty pictorial satire of New York on a mass spree of sentimentality, and climaxed by a Lombard-March fist fight which tops all previous screen roughness of the sort. Discounting its necessarily macabre aspects, even the squeamish can find in "Nothing Sacred" a picture notable for savagely honest humor and gusto. Walter Connolly, Sig Ruman and several humor players make it a uniformly well-acted film which is, incidentally, in technicolor.

Utility Czars Made No Promise To FDR

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Pampa Daily News Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6—The net result of conferences between Roosevelt and public utility executives is simply this: If there is a demand for more electric power, the utilities will spend money to expand their plants; if there isn't, they won't.

And that's exactly where matters stood before Mr. Wendell L. Wilkie of the Commonwealth and Southern Corporation and Mr. Floyd C. Carlisle of Consolidated Edison Company called at the White House.

Private owner companies have sufficient facilities to meet the present electricity demand. Ordinarily the demand for electric power increases steadily, but if the business recession continues, the demand will be less.

It is estimated that the utilities will have spent about $400,000,000 for capital plant expansion before the end of 1937. If the recession doesn't continue the power companies will have to keep building next year to meet the increased need for power.

Utilities Want Assurance. Best estimates here are that the utilities might spend between $600,000,000 and $800,000,000 on expansion in 1938 if they became convinced and were subsequently reassured that the business curve would soon turn and climb upward again.

Rumors that a billion and a half dollars might be spent on utility construction—if the industry could be imbued with "confidence" by a change of administration power policy—seem to have been slightly exaggerated. But Roosevelt heard them and called in the utility men to tell them they were crying over spilled milk.

The President explained that government power projects were going to cover a very limited field. He suggested lower electricity rates and a utility building program to cover what he felt would be a resultant increased demand. Wilkie asked modification of the holding company act, an end to government subsidies for municipal power plants and certain other concessions.

Everyone Felt Better, Anyway. The chief result appeared to be that Roosevelt, Wilkie and Carlisle seemed to feel better after the conference. (No further federal grants for municipal power plants are contemplated. Validity of grants previously made by FWA is being tested before the Supreme Court.)

When you find such public power enthusiasts as Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska and Congressman John Rankin of Mississippi (tiresome in the face of whatever is happening to the administration power policy, it's fair to assume either that no great changes are being made or that Mr. Roosevelt is successfully kidding them along.

Norris and Rankin sponsor a bill which would create six regional planning authorities in addition to TVA, each with administrative power to initiate and carry out regional power, water, forest and soil projects as TVA does. But the administration has backed down on that one and will be content if it gets Congress to create a group of regional boards with authority merely to plan and recommend.

Power Bloc Not Worried, Yet. Actually—and it explains why Norris and Rankin aren't shrieking in protest—this is no costly concession, in view of all the rest of the trouble the New Deal administration is having with Congress. Planning must precede any actual initiation and execution of projects and the business of setting up planning boards and making plans will take some time. Much effort can be avoided and defeat possibly averted if the administration accepts the milder bill now and leaves the rest for the future. At any rate, that's the strategy on this phase of Roosevelt's special session program.

NERVOUS EXHAUSTION

By IAGO GALDSTON, M. D.
Three types of individuals are most frequently met among the nervous exhaustion patients, says Dr. O. L. Hartsock of Cleveland.

(1) The race horses. They are "unusually attractive and capable of speed, but attempt both to maintain the speed of the race horse and the stamina of the work horse. Insufficient rest to compensate for excessive use of energy is the downfall of these patients."

This is the largest group, made up of young and middle aged adults (females predominating). Its members are often above average mentally, attractive physically and talented artistically. Many of them are emotionally unstable, being easily elated or depressed. They are restless, can't relax easily and worry too much over trivia.

(2) The marathons runners. Their "goal" should be life span, but because they set their pace too rapidly they must fall by the wayside and watch the slower but better paced runner reach the goal.

They are highly capable, unusually ambitious and have robust constitutions. Because of the competitive struggle to attain a place in the world, because of their excessive activity in a too narrow groove with an actual wearing-out process which accounts for a more permanent type of trouble than a mere exhaustion of otherwise normal mechanism."

This is the smallest group. It includes an equal number of both sexes. They are slow, extremely cautious and not inclined to take on more responsibility than they can handle well. They pay undue attention to details.

The individuals of these three groups, when they have reached a state of exhaustion, all suffer a loss of self-confidence and have great need for a "sympathetic ear." Correction of whatever physical defects they may have is essential, but their need for good psychotherapy is even greater.

WILSON FAILS TO RIDE JAP IN MAT BOUT

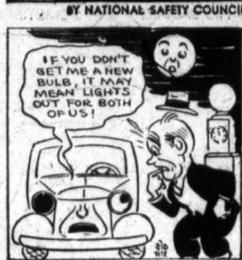

Benny Wilson of Fort Worth, who took second prize in the Fort Worth Stock show bronc riding contest last spring, failed to ride Tsutao Higami, little Japanese, last night at the Pampa Athletic arena and lost two straight falls, the last one when the Jap placed his famous sleep hold on the cowboy who was lulled to sleep for several minutes.

Higami, in the first fall, secured only one hold before he threw Wilson with an airplane spin and slam after 31 minutes of defensive wrestling. It was 25 minutes before the Jap secured a hold and he managed to hang on to it only 10 seconds. All the rest of the time he was on the receiving end. Several times he broke loose by pressing nerve centers.

Probably the outstanding exhibition of the night was between Sailor Moran and Andy Tremaine which went to a 30-minute draw. Moran roughed his way through while Tremaine used speed and science. The tricky Tremaine handed fans the number one treat of the season when he caught Moran in a flying drop hold.

It was one of the prettiest pieces of grappling ever seen here. Promoter Cliff Chambers said at the time that he had never seen the hold executed when the victim was on the dead run. Tremaine had backed Moran into a corner and when Moran broke free running toward the center of the ring, Tremaine secured the drop toe hold, which almost put the sailor out of commission.

Prince Agrees With Franco

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Frontier, Dec. 7 (AP)—Prince Xavier of Bourbon-Parma, head of the Traditionalist branch of the Spanish royal family, was reported today to have agreed with insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco "on the necessity of uniting all Spaniards worthy of the name on a basis of national and traditional principles."

While intense cold and snow suspended military operations along the entire Aragon front of northeastern Spain, dispatches from Salamanca, the Insurgent Capital, told of a conference yesterday in which Xavier and Franco discussed the present and future of Spain. The talks were followed by a communique.

(Prince Alfonso Carlos of Bourbon who 60 years ago attempted unsuccessfully to seize the Spanish throne died Sept. 30, 1936. In his will Carlos—who died childless—named Xavier, brother of former Empress Zita of Austria, to choose his successor as Carlisle Pretender.)

(Until he succumbed to injuries received when struck by an automobile in Vienna, Carlos had hoped his card would turn up in the Spanish Civil War. He had ordered 60,000 Carlisle to fight under the Insurgent banner.)

(Xavier was serving with the Insurgents at Pamplona when Carlos died. The last years of Carlos' life were marked by oft-reconciled quarrels with former King Alfonso of Spain.)

(The dispute between the Carlises and the Bourbons-Hapsburgs dates back to 1833 when the first Don Carlos, second son of King Charles IV of Spain, was barred from the throne in favor of his niece, Isabella.)

Wilson Slumbers

Jack Hagen and Cyclone Mackie went 20 furious minutes to a draw in the opener with Hagen the wolf, and a mean one at that.

Wilson, cocky as ever, opened the main event by holding Higami in a short arm scissor for nearly five minutes. He punished him with arm stretches, hammerlocks and other bad holds before getting rough. Then Higami went to work on the nerve centers. Wilson battered the little Jap almost unrecognizable but Higami had enough left to get Wilson in an airplane spin for the fall.

Higami reversed the order in the second fall, doing plenty of wrestling and placing Wilson on the defense. He slammed Wilson on the jaw with elbow punches before placing the sleep hold which is secured by pressing nerves under each of the victim's ears. It took Referee "Big Train" Clements about two minutes to bring Wilson out of his slumber.

STEPHEN LEE TRIGG PASSES AT AMARILLO

AMARILLO, Dec. 7 (AP)—Stephen Lee Trigg, 59, prominent Panhandle and eastern New Mexico cattleman, died in an Amarillo hospital yesterday morning of injuries suffered in a fall at Logan, N. M., Dec. 1.

Funeral services have been set for 2 p. m. today in Amarillo.

Survivors include the widow; two daughters, Mrs. Marvin McCullough of Wichita Falls, and Louise Trigg of New York City; a son, Stephen Jr. of the Trigg ranch in New Mexico; four sisters, Margaret Trigg Boyle of Fort Worth, Mrs. Eppie Robinson of Fort Worth, Mrs. Frank C. Kiker of Council Bluffs, Iowa, Mary Trigg of Fort Worth; three brothers, Dr. Henry B. Trigg of Fort Worth, Dr. Ross Trigg of Fort Worth and Dan Trigg of Tucuman, N. M.

Mr. Trigg bought horses in the Panhandle for the British government during the Boer war—1897. And it was through the contacts that he made and the country he saw that made him decide to stay in the Panhandle.

He came to the plains country from Fort Worth just after the old XIX ranch in the north Panhandle and purchased 27,000 cattle. The partnership was dissolved four years later with a huge profit to each of the principals.

In 1912, with his father, the late D. C. Trigg, and the late John Shelton, he leased a vast acreage for the Black Angus, one of the most ferocious of cattle, proved profitable for the former Texan, and many of his cattle were shipped to Hollywood for use in the motion picture industry as well as to the beef market here.

The Steve Trigg ranch headquarters is located about 37 miles west of Logan in San Miguel county.

Less than 20 years ago, Steve, his father and his brother, Dan, moved to New Mexico and purchased a large block of land from the Bell ranch. The Trigg brothers have operated in the vicinity ever since with Steve Trigg managing a 22,000-acre tract and specializing in the raising of Angus cattle. The Black Angus, one of the most ferocious of cattle, proved profitable for the former Texan, and many of his cattle were shipped to Hollywood for use in the motion picture industry as well as to the beef market here.

HIGGINS, Dec. 7—George Trenfield, farmer and rancher, north of here left Tuesday for Moultrie, Ga., with 40 head of Polled Hereford bull calves to be sold at auction at that place. Trenfield owns one of the best Polled Hereford herds in the United States.

Some bulls were sold this summer to go to parties in Hawaii. Three years ago at the Fort Worth stock show he sold some cattle for as high as $1500 per head. Trenfield was accompanied on the trip by his brother Paul of Higgins. They expect to return in about 10 days.

CHICAGO SPECIALISTS PUZZLED BY TICKING IN HEAD OF FORMER PAMPA PHOTOGRAPHER, C. HESTER

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—Charles Hester, "human clock" of Shawnee, Okla., and formerly of Pampa, Texas, wrapped a faded bathrobe about his shoulders last night and hoped modern surgery could undo damage done 20 years ago by an exploding German shell.

Hester is only 43 but his face is lined and his hair snow white. "The ticking never stops," he said. "It's made life a hell on earth."

Sometimes I think I can't stand it any longer.

It was on a gray day in September, 1918, that Hester stood with other members of his howitzer crew on the San Mihiel front.

"We'd been in action all summer," Hester said, "and this was a day just like any other. The Germans were potting at us and we were potting back at them. We were all standing in front of the gun when—"

A heavy shell whistled over from behind the German lines and exploded with deafening force near where Hester stood. A shower of mud flew up and arched over his head.

"The shrapnel didn't touch me," Hester recalled, "but something in my head started clicking and it's never stopped."

He went on until the end of the war and shortly afterward came home to take up his profession as a photographer. A little later he married. Today he is the father of four children.

Physicians at Edward Hines Jr. Memorial hospital admittedly do not know what it is that has caused Hester to be known as the "human clock."

They have two theories. One is that something has occurred inside the ear similar to hardening of the arteries. The other is that one or the other of two blood vessels running near the ear has been injured. They explained that an artery and a vein run side by side in this area of the head and that one may be interfering with flow of the other.

Hester, rocking back and forth on the long porch just off the diagnostic ward, doesn't know. All he knows is that there is a steady ticking.

"Have you got good ears?" he asked. "Then listen a minute."

He leaned forward.

And, sure enough, there it was, an audible ticking that seemed to come in rhythm with his heart beat.

COMMITION

CLEVELAND—Mrs. Simon Bryan testified her husband's mail was crammed with letters from a matrimonial bureau.

As if that wasn't enough, she added, her husband's dresser was decorated with photographs of the prospective brides.

Mrs. Bryan, 64, got a divorce.

DISCOURAGING

HUNTINGTON, Ind.—The bandit announced "This is a stick-up" and Albert Kindler, filling station attendant, laughed.

The bandit insisted he meant business, Kindler laughed.

The bandit brandished his gun, Kindler laughed.

The bandit, disgusted, spun on his heel and walked away. Kindler laughed.

MUSIC SOOTHES

SALEM, Ore.—State Treasurer Rufus C. Holman poised a blue pen over Oregon State College's request for 11 pianos.

"Isn't that where they teach people to be farmers?" he asked.

"Yes," said budget director Wallace S. Wharton, "but they have to have contented cows."

He got the pianos.

NO STRUDEL

LOS ANGELES—Mrs. Marie Vietzke likes applesauce.

But, she charged in a cross complaint for divorce from Clarence C. Vietzke, her husband locked the pantry and doled out food—and gave her no appetite at all.

STORK RACE

MUSCATINE, Ia.—The stork ran almost a dead heat with himself here in bringing two cousins.

He delivered a daughter, Joan, to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Weber at a hospital at 12:30 a. m., and a daughter, Francine, to Mr. and Mrs. John Weber, Jr., at the same hospital 25 minutes later.

LOST KINGDOM

By OREN ARNOLD, Copyright 1937, NEA Service, Inc.

Yesterday, Bob and Melissa are escorted down and out of the cavern and into a lost world—a world of strange ancient Indians who know no English and worship the sun.

CHAPTER XVIII
ROBERT BARRY was a trained scientist, specializing in the antiquities of man, fascinated always by their history, their manners, customs and languages. Because North American man seems literally to have been cradled in our Southwest, Bob Barry had centered his studies there. He knew many things from books and professors, many more from work in the field. And—common sense taught him not a few.

Remember the feller starving to death in Paris, Lissa? "What are you talking about?" she laughed at him. They had maneuvered to get food, and a couple of hours for rest and sleep.

"The American who saved his life with a pencil," Bob recalled. "He was trying to make the cave wailer understand him. Finally in desperation he sketched a picture of a cow, so he had a sizzling T-bone steak for dinner."

She laughed again. "Will you order T-bones now?" she suggested. "And you might draw a chicken and a bakery and a dish of peas, if your art is dependable."

He grinned, but he was serious too. He had some ideas. They had been resting inside a windowless room, on floor beds made of grass and woven fiber blankets. Brown folk peered in the lone door from time to time. Evidently these watchful ones saw when they awoke, for a crowd greeted them outside again.

For two hours and more, then Bob Barry "conversed" with the man who had accepted the watch. He was what he appeared to be—the leader, or chieftain. He wore more clothes than the others, but clothing in general evidently was not a bother to these folk; his pieces were ornamental, marks of distinction and rank.

Bob's hunch was right. The brown chief could understand much of the sign language which is universal among wilderness people. It is not always the same in every nation, but there is invariably a similarity. Close observers can "interpret" it readily, for after all it is communication reduced to the simplest of motions, about the common things to all. Bob could understand more if it than he could "speak," which is usual with any foreign language. But he labored at it, not unpleasantly, for most of the afternoon.

Listen, Lissa, we've stumbled onto something bigger and stranger than we could have hoped for in our wildest dreams." Bob was beaming when he joined Mary Melissa again. She had waited near the chieftain's house.

"Could you understand him, Bob? Did you learn much?" "Plenty! It wasn't all easy for him or me either, but we had a great talk. These people are not Indians. I'm convinced of that. I mean, not any of the tribes we know or have any record of. They may be kin to the Hopis or Zunis and Acomas, but they're a tribe of their own, right enough."

"Why, Lissa, honey, know what that old chief told me? That is the answer to our main question. This tribe is the remnant of the cliff-dwellers!"

"Really, Bob?" "Yessir! Centuries ago, evidently, the ancestors of these villagers built Defiance Castle and lived up there for protection. They fastened this valley, which has some springs in it, and the river courses on the other side of the cliff near our camp, remember? But enemies came raiding. They killed most of the other cliff dwellers and took the girls to be slaves. Probably the enemies were Yaquis, or Apaches."

"This castle, though, was hardest to attack, because it was so high and hard to get at."

"Then what happened, Bob?" The girl was intensely interested.

"These people, I mean their ancestors, made a smart move. They destroyed their front ladders, such as we built, abandoned their cliff home, and came to this hidden valley to live. The enemies didn't know about this valley, and there was enough rich soil here to support the few surviving cliff people. See?"

"Yes, but wouldn't the raiders find this valley in time?" "No, they didn't. The raiders did not live in this area. They came in from many miles away. When they thought all the cliff people had been killed or fled, they ceased coming."

"But Bob, why haven't white people found it? You say it's new to science and these people are living as they did 500 years ago?"

"Look around us, Lissa. See the great cliffs? This really is wide box canyon, a shut-in valley. As you know, this part of the Mexican border is sparsely populated, anyway. Few travelers would ever have cause to get over here. If one happened along, or if an aviator saw this valley, he would think it was some obscure Mexican settlement of no importance. This may actually be in Mexico; I don't know exactly where the international line is along here. Remember, we are many miles from any white town. So you see, sweetheart, we have actually stumbled into a lost kingdom. It was all sort of fantastic, but it made sense. The Lost People—Bob formally named them that—were indeed a turn-back of the human calendar. Their kingdom would be a microscopic point on the vast map of the United States or of Mexico. And by a freak of geography and circumstance, they had remained completely isolated from all the rest of the world, unknown to it. Probably it could have happened nowhere else in North America save in this arid, almost unknown Southwest.

Their box canyon would be one of 10,000 spots in the maze of mountains that make up Arizona, old and New Mexico. With a stream of irrigation and for drinking, the Lost People had existed here is a long self-sufficiency, a tiny utopia in its way, gentle folk who through many peaceful generations had lost their fear of enemies and their inclination to travel or expand. They were content to live and rest here, zealous worshippers of the sun.

"At least that's the best I can do at interpreting the story old what'shisname told me." Bob concluded, to Melissa, "except for one rather important thing. In fact, I think it's extremely important to you and me, Melissa."

"What is it, Bob? What did he say about us?" "Why these Lost People think we're messengers from their god, the Sun. We're pretty important demi-gods or something. We brought them a watch, yellow and shiny, a piece of the sun, as you observed. Now they beg us not to destroy them, not to reveal them to their ancient enemies outside. See?"

"Oh, I can't imagine all this. I just can't, Bob. It wouldn't be possible, if it weren't true!"

"Check, I agree. But here we are. Facts are facts. They never saw white people before, especially a beautiful white girl. You impress them tremendously, sweetheart. I mean, you're a greater sun god than I, because you're fairer, daintier, I imagine. They're going to stage a big party, a pow-wow and dance and our benefit . . . Scared?"

Mary Melissa was so frightened at all this that she trembled a bit. But she dimpled at Bob Barry. "Never, with you here, dear," she declared.

New Syphilis Treatment Obtained From Monkeys

By STEPHEN J. McDONOUGH, Associated Press Science Writer.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 7 (AP)—A new form of malaria obtained from monkeys in the jungles of India was described by physicians of the Rockefeller Foundation today as a successful treatment for the general paralysis of advanced syphilis. This form of malaria is the first ever found which is common to both man and monkey, said Dr. Lowell T. Coggeshall of the Foundation's international health division.

Speaking before a closing session of the Southern Medical association convention, he said physicians were given new hope for the treatment of advanced syphilis and the study of malaria itself.

This malaria germ, known as the "knowles" variety, has two advantages over other forms of the disease bacteria, he said, because it cannot be transmitted by mosquitoes of North America, and its effect in causing fever to burn up the syphilis germs dies out after two or three weeks.

Previously in the malaria treatment of paresis, the paralytic result of syphilis, the germs could not be closely controlled after they were injected into the body, Dr. Coggeshall explained. Now, however, it can be administered in much the same way as a drug which is rapidly eliminated from the body.

Dr. Coggeshall's report was supplemented by others from Dr. Daniel F. Milam, Dr. Ernest Kusch and Dr. H. W. Kumm of the Rockefeller Foundation. Thus far the new treatment has been applied to 50 patients having almost incurable syphilis, they declared. Of these, 25 per cent were cured, 60 per cent were improved, and the remainder received no benefit.

Medical approval of the use of castor oil in clearing up some cases of skin eruptions caused by dysfunction of the intestines was given today by Dr. Arthur G. Schoch of Dallas, Texas.

Clearing up of many cases of cancer of the breast which had spread to other parts of the body by stopping the secretion of female sex hormones with radium and X-rays was declared by Dr. George W. Wright of Monroe, La., to be "an astounding" forward step.

CRUDE OIL PRODUCTION DROPS 35,273 BARRELS

TULSA, Okla., Dec. 7 (AP)—The nation's production of crude oil decreased 35,273 barrels daily during the week ending Dec. 4 to an average of 386,907 barrels daily, the oil and gas journal reported today.

Oklahoma declined 11,725 barrels daily to 558,100. East Texas dropped 93,240 to 416,899 and the total State of Texas declined 17,599 to 1,394,344. Louisiana increased 3,385 to 246,270. California declined 2,000 to 700,000 and Kansas dropped 10,525 to 168,775.

Eastern states including Michigan were down 844 barrels daily to 186,148 and the Rocky Mountain section increased 1,216 to 76,310.

Dr. Ernest Kusch and Dr. H. W. Kumm of the Rockefeller Foundation.

Thus far the new treatment has been applied to 50 patients having almost incurable syphilis, they declared. Of these, 25 per cent were cured, 60 per cent were improved, and the remainder received no benefit.

'CATFISH' SMITH TO ENTER BORGER BULLDOGS IN PERRYTON TOURNEY

STRENGTH OF TOP QUINTETS TO BE SHOWN

The Perryton invitation basketball tournament this week-end may turn out to be the most important cage event of the season, except, of course, the district tournament. Its importance was heightened yesterday with the news that Catfish Smith of Borger, coach of the state champion Carey Cardinals, will enter his Borger Bulldogs in the list.

Perryton, the district champions who nose out the Harvesters last spring in the finals of the meet here, will be favorite to win the tournament, chiefly because the Harvesters won the district title last year.

A hasty glance over the district indicates that Perryton and Borger will be the teams to beat this year. Mini will come back with another good team, but the Bulldogs and Harvesters will be the boys to fear.

So that is why Coach Mitchell wants to have his team in fine fettle by Friday. The team will be finishing their second week of practice, and by Friday they should have their wind, and a certain polish. They should not miss so many crisp shots. If the Harvesters can hold the Bulldogs and the Rangers to a close score, the Pampa boys can hold hopes of winning back the district crown they lost last season. Because, the Harvesters basketballers in the past have improved more than other teams as the district advanced.

If they can be nearly as good as Perryton or Borger next week-end, they'll go to town in the succeeding six weeks.

Yesterday, Coach Prejan was in charge of practice in the absence of Coach Mitchell. Reynolds, Heiskell and Cox have not let down in their rehearsals to keep the positions they held last season, and a battle for the other two berths still continues with Andis, Foster, Dunaway and Cunningham the contestants.

The more the fans see Bob Andis the more they are convinced that he has a good chance to land one of the regular positions. If the boy keeps on improving, it'll be hard to keep him out of the starting lineup.

East Squad For Charity Battle Grows to Dozen

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7 (AP)—The East squad for the New Year's day East-West charity football game here grew to an even dozen players today. Latest to accept invitations were three of Fordham's unbeaten "seven blocks of granite."

Managing Director William Coffman announced seven seniors from the strongest teams west of the Mississippi had agreed to play.

The Fordham trio are Center Alex Wojciechowski, Tackle Al Eabartsky and Guard Ed Franco. Others who will play are Joseph Nee, Harvard guard; Elmore Hackney, Duke halfback; Fred Vanzy, Northwestern quarterback; and Ray Kovatch, Northwestern end.

Armstrong Kayoes Chavez in First

CLEVELAND, Dec. 7 (AP)—Dusky Henry Armstrong, world's champion featherweight, surveyed an array of 25 knockout victories in his 26 encounters of the current year—but also considered the winning ways of Lightweight Champion Lou Ambers.

The title holders were featured in a double windup last night on the annual Cleveland News Christmas toy fund show, which attracted 12,000 fans.

Armstrong, 134½, stopped Tony Chavez, 131, claimant of the Mexican featherweight title, in the initial stanza of a scheduled 10-round non-championship bout. Ambers, 138, flashed a lightning left and effective right uppercut to take a 10-round decision from Frankie Wallace, 138, of Cleveland.

The devastating little victors expect to clash in an outdoor show next summer with Ambers' crown at stake.

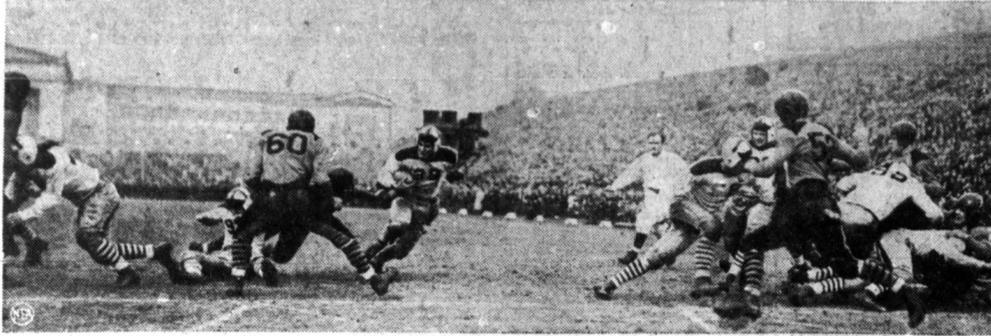

Chavez was down seven times—five of them for counts of from four to seven seconds—before the bout was stopped after two minutes and 14 seconds. He wilted under the Los Angeles negro's terrific right hand punches to the head.

OUTFIELDER LOSES HAND.
SEMINOLE, Okla., Dec. 7 (AP)—The baseball career of Hugh Alexander, rookie outfielder who went to the Cleveland Indians last season after less than two years in the minor leagues, was at an end today before he reached his twenty-first birthday. While working on his father's farm near here yesterday, the former Seminole high school athlete caught his hand between the cog wheels of a water well motor he was oiling. Physicians amputated the hand at the wrist.

It was also voted to help the plan of trying to get along without football protests by ordering each school to submit for publication in all the daily newspapers in the district a list of every gridiron candidate. This list will include all of the pertinent information regarding the player's eligibility record.

The committee also approved a plan offered by Jerry Mallin of the Amarillo News in which three play-

Phenomenal High School Boy Runs Wild Before 120,000

Look at that hole as Bill De Correvont scores a touchdown for Austin against St. Leo as the former won the Chicago high school championship before 120,000 persons at Soldier Field. So phenomenal has De Correvont's play been for two campaigns that the contest drew the largest football crowd in history—college or preparatory. De Correvont ran to two other touchdowns and passed over the St. Leo goal line for the fourth, as Austin prevailed, 26-0. De Correvont enters college next fall. The line has formed on the right.

Harvesters To Play In Amarillo On October 29

The Pampa Harvesters will open their 1938 conference football season against the Amarillo Golden Sandstorm, playing in Amarillo October 29, it was decided at a District 1 meeting yesterday in Amarillo. Pampa will play Lubbock at home on Armistice day and go to Borger on Thanksgiving Day.

The meeting rolled along nicely when eligibility, awarding of trophies, paying of bills and other routine matters were discussed, but all the time there was an undercurrent of unrest. It came to the front when discussion of football schedules for next year was announced.

Question of who would play who on Thanksgiving Day arose. Plainview flatly announced that the Bulldogs should have a Thanksgiving Day game on the holiday. Lubbock didn't know whether or not Texas Tech had a game on Armistice Day but knew that Tech field would be available on Thanksgiving Day.

Schedule Trouble
Lubbock presented an ultimatum on when it would play. Amarillo refused to accept. Then Lubbock and Borger tied up the argument and the superintendent members of District 1 association were forced to step in and vote on a schedule, which again left Plainview out of a Thanksgiving Day game. Preceding the vote, Coach Mitchell of the Harvesters succeeded in getting the Amarillo game set for early in the season and succeeding Lubbock for the holiday.

The Harvesters conference schedule follows:
Oct. 29—At Amarillo.
Nov. 11—Lubbock here.
Nov. 18—Plainview here.
Nov. 24—At Borger.

Coach Mitchell today was mailing letters to major high school teams in Texas in an effort to round out a "perfect" schedule for 1938. He was also on the track of an interesting out of state game.

Open Season Early
The season may open on September 10 next year in order to give the Harvesters an open date before crucial games. All games, with the possible exception of the meeting with Plainview, and night games, will be played on Saturday's the school board has agreed.

Supt. R. B. Fisher of Pampa presided at the session with O. J. Laas of Plainview secretary. Supt. C. M. Rogers of Amarillo, Supt. W. B. Irving of Lubbock and Supt. W. M. Mitchell of Borger were other members in attendance. Also present from Pampa were Coach Odus Mitchell, and Principal L. L. Sone of the high school and Principal R. A. Selby of junior high who attended a junior high district 1 session over which Mr. Selby presided as president. Plans for basketball, football and track and field were outlined.

The complete schedule for next year:

Oct. 8—Borger at Plainview.
Oct. 15—Plainview at Lubbock.
Oct. 22—Borger at Lubbock.
Oct. 29—Pampa at Amarillo.
Nov. 5—Amarillo at Borger.
Nov. 11—Plainview at Amarillo.
Nov. 18—Plainview at Pampa.
Nov. 24—Amarillo at Lubbock.
Pampa at Borger.

Formation of a basketball league was completed with the five towns forming a schedule of four games against each opponent. This league will be known as "The Five Basketball League." The committee authorized its chairman to award the championship cake team with a suitable trophy. This basketball league is not a part of the state league and will operate independently, but all rules and regulations of the regular league will be adhered to.

Plan Special Awards
It was also voted to help the plan of trying to get along without football protests by ordering each school to submit for publication in all the daily newspapers in the district a list of every gridiron candidate. This list will include all of the pertinent information regarding the player's eligibility record.

The committee also approved a plan offered by Jerry Mallin of the Amarillo News in which three play-

NATIONAL LEAGUE ARGUES FOR DEADER BASEBALL IN 1938

By PAUL MICKELSON.
CHICAGO, Dec. 7 (AP)—Stymied at almost every bid on the duller side of the American league meeting yesterday that the clinic lasted almost five hours—a record sitting. Nothing official was learned but by grapevine information came reports the Yankees argued so long and fervently for the old ball that they won the majority over.

Meanwhile, the only news from the huddle of club owners and managers came in the way of front office business, which was:
The National league re-elected Ford Christopher Frick as president for a three-year term at a good boost in salary, now estimated at $27,500 annually. It voted down the New York Yankee proposal to hike the player limit from 23 to 25 and the Americans the same old lively spheroid.

Alabama Named Nation's No. 1 Football Eleven

By HERBERT W. BARKER.
NEW YORK, Dec. 7 (AP)—Figured solely on the won and lost records, the nation's No. 1 college football team for the last five-year stretch is Alabama's Crimson Tide, prospective rival for California in the Rose Bowl game at Pasadena on New Year's day.

An Associated Press survey of the records for the seasons of 1933-37 inclusive, today revealed Frank Thomas, Tusculosa Terrors at the head of the parade of more than 100 of the country's leading college outfits.

During that time, Alabama piled up 40 victories against only three defeats and three ties for a winning percentage of .986 with ties disregarded. The Tide, in fact, has gone undefeated through the last two seasons—18 games without a setback and with only one tie.

Impressive as is this record, Alabama maintains only a slight edge over its two closest rivals, Minnesota's Gophers and the Pitt Panthers. Beaten twice this year, Minnesota nevertheless lost only three games in five years while winning 33 and tying four for a percentage of .917. Pitt, the nation's No. 1 array for 1937, won 40 games, lost four and tied four (including three consecutive draws with Fordham) for a 909 average.

Should Alabama bow to California on New Year's day the Tide automatically will drop back into a tie with Pitt for second place in the five-year standings while Minnesota moves into the pace-setting role.

As befits its sensational successes of the past season, the East places four teams in the "first ten" for 1933-37. Holy Cross, in fifth position, Princeton in eighth and Fordham in tenth are the others. The South has three—Alabama, Louisiana, which is No. 4, and Duke, No. 7. The Middle West pre-empts the remaining places with Minnesota in No. 2, Western Reserve in No. 6, and Michigan State, No. 9.

The Southwest's first representative in the list is Texas Christian at No. 18. Colorado tops the Rocky moun-tain section in nineteenth place while the Far West's leader, Santa Clara, is No. 20.

Among the colleges whose records were surveyed, Louisiana State's offense has been most potent. The Tigers from Baton Rouge have scored 1,098 points in 52 games against 1,093 for Dartmouth, which ranks No. 14 on the list.

Pitt's rugged lines give the Panthers the best defensive record—only 153 points by the opposition in 48 games.

Texas Tech of Lubbock was in twenty-fourth place.

Sophomore And Junior Cage Leagues Formed

Organization of a junior high and sophomore basketball league with schools in Pampa, Borger and Amarillo participating was completed yesterday when the district committee convened in Amarillo with R. A. Selby, principal of Pampa Junior high school, presiding. A schedule for the season was arranged, a track meet approved and the 1938 football season discussed.

It was voted to allow ninth grades to participate in the program which would give Pampa two teams, one of 30 passes for seven more touchdowns.

Some of the meanies are saying it wasn't flu that sent Travis Jackson to bed in Chicago but the news that Babe Herman has been washed on his ball club. Pampa was selected as the site for the track and field meet, to be held in May, date to be selected at a later time.
