Witnesses Claim Husband's Infidelity Drove Mrs. Myers Insane

TESTIFY MAN SPENT ALL ON OTHER WOMAN

AMARILLO ON TRIAL FOR SLAYING MRS. MAE STEWART

FOUR CHILDREN NAMED 'TEMPORARY INSANITY' IS PLEA MADE BY DEFENDANT

AMARILLO, Dec. 20. (A)—Defense counsel paraded a score of persons—friends, neighbors and those who had business dealings with the defendant—to the witness stand today in the trial of Mrs. Edna Myers, charged with the slaying of Mrs. Mae Stewart on December 3.

Without exception they testified regarding the domestic and financial difficulties which confronted Mrs. Myers during the weeks immediately preceding the fatal shooting of Mrs. Stewart while she was in the company of the defendant's husband, Harry Myers.

Through this proponderance of testimony the defense attorneys sought to establish "temporary insanity" which they charged was brought on by the attentions of the slain woman toward the defendant's husband. All of the witnesses testified that Mrs. Myers did not appear normal as she struggled to save her home from foreclosure, after her husband had stopped making the loan payments without her knowledge, and as she tried to provide for her four children.

Mrs. Gene Hudson, a close friend of Mrs. Myers, said the defendant told her that Myers had quit supporting his family and was "spending all of his money on Mrs. Stewart." She said Myers bought the house where the shooting occurred and gave it to Mrs. Stewart. She also testified regarding a fight between Mrs. Myers' daughter and Mrs. Stewart a few days before the slaying.

Several police officers, who said they had knowledge of Mrs. Myers' domestic troubles, were among the array of witnesses.

The state rested after presenting its fifth witness.

MACK GRAHAM AND SANDERS ARE ELECTED

PRESIDENT AND TWO VICE-PRESIDENTS ARE CHOSEN

NEW OFFICER IS ACTIVE

HARDWARE DEALER HAS BEEN CONSISTENT CIVIC WORKER

Travis Lively, local hardware dealer and consistent participant in city affairs, last night was elected president of the Board of City Development for 1933. He has two more years to serve as a member of the Board.

Mack Graham, wholesale gasoline dealer, was elected first vice-president and P. O. Sanders, abstractor, was made second vice-president. President Lively will appoint a director of finance and a fifth member of the executive committee, which will include the officers just mentioned above.

Within a short time after the new officers and Board take office January 1, members will be made chairmen of all permanent committees. These chairmen will choose members of their committees from the citizenship outside the Board.

President Lively during the last year has been chairman of the agricultural committee and has sponsored the good will trips to various communities. Trade extension will be a major activity of his administration. Manager George Briggs last night read from the minutes of the old Board and discussed problems which will come before the new administration.

The current Board discussed and approved the poultry show which will be held in January.

The Board also adopted a resolution expressing its appreciation of the work of its president, C. H. Walker, during the last year.

GAS EXPLOSION ROCKS PHILLIPS BIG GRAY PLANT; FOUR MEN IN HOSPITAL WITH SERIOUS BURNS

Portion of Building Blasted Away In Accident

Four men suffered severe burns about the head and hands when gas exploded in the Phillips Big Gray booster station west of LeFors, at 4 o'clock this morning. Leaking gas had filled the building and before the engines could be shut down the collected gas exploded, burning the men and tearing out a portion of the building.

The men burned, J. A. Turner, W. A. McAnally, W. G. Snyder, and George Fogleman, were rushed to Pampa hospital, where their burns were treated. W. G. Snyder, most seriously burned, is still in the hospital, but the other men were able to return to their homes after receiving treatment. The blast was heard quite a distance from the plant. Houses nearby were shaken.

The leak was discovered just as the explosion occurred. The damage was not great, Ben Williams, superintendent of the plant, said this morning.

DEMOCRAT IS FIRM AGAINST HOOVER IDEA

CONGRESS IS GROWING STEADILY COOLER TOWARD PLAN

OPPOSITION SOLIDIFIES

REGULAR DIPLOMATIC CHANNELS ARE FAVORED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (A)—Democrats today were clearly shying away from active participation in President Hoover's proposal for a commission review of the war debts problem, and he ahead on his own initiative.

The president and Governor Roosevelt were understood already to have exchanged views and that the democratic president-elect is leaving the issue with this administration. The governor's attitude was described as sympathetic but firm against dividing responsibility with the president.

Friends of the president-elect were convinced he would stand by his previously announced policy that debt negotiations should be conducted through regular diplomatic channels and separately with the debtor nations.

Meanwhile, it became apparent that democrats in congress were not inclined to listen to the presidential suggestion that members of congress serve on the debt commission.

Senator Swanson, of Virginia, democratic member of the American arms delegation who had been regarded as perhaps the first choice of the president for a place on the debts agency said:

"The power to negotiate all foreign relations is left with the president under the constitution. The president has adopted have been left entirely with him under law and custom. I think a situation has developed that makes it wiser for the United States to conduct separate negotiations. The United States is really the only creditor nation and joint negotiations could only bring a solid front against us."

"Of course, any negotiations that the president may effect are not operative until congress has approved."

Because she liked a gayer life than teaching school in Newport, Ohio, Hilda Shaw, above, forged her father's name to savings deposit certificates totaling $1600 and used the money to take trips to New York and Pittsburgh and to entertain her boy friend. That is the accusation in three charges of forgery on which she was held by the sheriff when the victimized father refused to prefer charges.

HELP US FIND THESE

A little girl, 10 years old, lost a string of amber beads yesterday on the sidewalk south of the First National bank building. The beads were a gift and are valued highly by the owner. Will the lady who picked them up please leave them at The NEWS office, or call the Pampa, so that he may call for them? Let's make this little girl happy by finding her beads.

On Saturday morning at 10 o'clock every child in the community of three or younger will be a guest of the Pampa Daily NEWS and La Nora theater. Six reels of pictures which children like will be shown and fruits and candy will be distributed by Santa Claus. Pampa Lions will assist in holding this year's party. Don't forget that this party is free to all children of 14 years or younger.

Not that we like to alarm anyone unduly, but DID YOU KNOW? That evergreen trees decorated with highly inflammable material often ignite?

That cotton or lighted candles should never be placed on the Christmas tree?

That the cotton beard of a Santa Claus frequently catches fire with serious results?

That the old yuletide custom of placing a lighted candle in the window near curtains has cast many a cloud of gloom?

That small children should never be permitted to handle fireworks?

That wrappings from Christmas packages should not be allowed to accumulate?

That Christmas bonfires constitute a serious danger to both life and property?

DISMISS ORDERS RESTRAINING COMMISSION FROM INTERFERING WITH EAST TEXAS OIL WELLS

Operators Ask That Injunctions Be Set Aside

AUSTIN, Dec. 20. (A)—Judge W. F. Robertson of Travis county district court today set aside restraining orders issued by him last week on application of certain operators in the East Texas oil field to keep the Texas Railroad Commission from interfering with production of their wells.

Judge Robertson noted that production orders complained of in applications on which the restraining orders were based had been superseded by the commission's edict shutting down production in all wells of the field.

Pointing out that all production of oil and its transportation had been forbidden in the East Texas field, Judge Robertson said under the existing situation "interest of plaintiffs could not be continued."

Plaintiffs which had obtained restraining orders were Swiss Oil corporation, Cullen Oil company, Whinnle Oil corporation, Pine Petroleum company, P. D. Bowen, Luling Oil and Gas company, Ebony Oil company, Boone Oil corporation and Rector and Davidson.

Attorneys for the plaintiffs asked the court to set aside its orders, explaining that their wells had abided by the commission's close down order or last Saturday and had not produced oil since then and did not intend to produce any oil contrary to that order.

Pampa Schools Close Thursday

More time for fun—this was the glad news which spread throughout the Pampa school system.

The trustees of the independent district yesterday decided that the Christmas holiday period would begin Thursday at 9 a. m. instead of Friday at noon. This will give the teachers more time to reach their homes before Christmas, and is in line with the arrangements announced in other cities.

This change will mean that last chapels in the grade schools will be held on Thursday instead of Friday. The last high school chapel will be on Wednesday at 10 a. m. as usual.

Supt. J. A. Meek of Baker school said that the last chapel before the holidays in his ward would be Thursday at 9 a. m. He added the confidential note that children of South Pampa school were hoping that somebody would bring them a couple of turkeys for their last cafeteria meal Thursday noon.

Rural schools will close Friday afternoon. All schools will resume work January 2, with semester examinations looming over the young folk soon after the New Year gets under way.

C. E. "Dan" McGrew attended the Kiwanis club luncheon in Amarillo yesterday.

Salvation Army Solicitors Visiting 300 Persons Today in Annual Home Service Plea

Chairman O. L. Doak of the Salvation Army advisory board was actively assisting in the annual home service appeal today.

"We are encouraged by public expressions regarding the work of the Army," Mr. Doak said, "and we feel that the success of the drive is merely a matter of seeing the people. The soliciting teams are at work, but the rush of holiday business is reducing the time which they can give daily to our campaign."

The appeal is due to end Friday, although the follow-up work and that of some solicitors in completing their rounds may require several days longer and some work after the holidays. More than 300 names are in the hands of the solicitors, and 200 additional cards were to be given out this afternoon.

Concerning endorsements of the Army, that of Dorothy Dix, noted writer, was cited this morning.

"The Salvation Army—God bless it," was her benediction in a recent column from her pen. She was writing to a young girl who needed help which the Salvation Army was peculiarly fitted to give.

The Army, it was pointed out, is located in 83 countries and colonies. Its activities include nearly every phase of the betterment of human lives religiously and socially.

"Others" is its motto.

"Individuals cannot live alone," said Mrs. Phil T. Rainey of Dallas.

LATE NEWS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (A)—Congress came to grips today in the beer legislation dispute, all other issues giving way to a grueling debate in the house on the first regularly sponsored attempt to modify the Volstead act since this prohibition enforcement law went into effect.

WEBBER FALLS, Okla., Dec. 20. (A)—Two roughly dressed men held up the cashier and janitor of the American State bank here as it opened this morning, looted the safe of $1,500 and escaped eastward in an old Buick automobile.

DALLAS, Dec. 20. (A)—Coach Jack Sutherland and his Pittsburgh University Panthers, undefeated Eastern football machine, arrived here early today and retired to the Dallas Athletic club for a short rest.

LONGVIEW, Dec. 20. (A)—Work of taking bottom hole pressure in the 9,300 wells in the East Texas oil field started today under the supervision of E. O. Buck, petroleum engineer of the state railroad commission in this area. Representatives of the commission had 11 "bombs" to gauge the pressure and expected to obtain two more, Buck said.

INFLUENZA EPIDEMIC IS GENERAL OVER TEXAS; RESULTS IN CLOSING OF SCHOOLS

Numerous Deaths Reported; T. C. U. Closes When Students Become Ill.

By The Associated Press

A widespread influenza epidemic affecting thousands of persons in Texas has resulted in closing of a number of schools and has kept physicians busy treating victims of the contagion.

Dr. J. C. Anderson, state health officer, announced at Austin that the epidemic was general over the state. His department was receiving reports of numerous deaths in cases where patients contracted pneumonia. However, in many instances the malady seemed to have reacted mildly.

Classes were dismissed at Texas Christian university because some 40 per cent of the students living in dormitories were afflicted. Academic work will not be resumed until Jan. 3.

At the University of Texas about 200 students were absent from classes but authorities were not planning to suspend work until the usual holiday closing date, Thursday.

Austin city schools dismissed school Monday, three days ahead of schedule. The school board reported 44 teachers out with influenza and about 37 per cent of the students missing from class for the same reason.

Eight deaths attributable to influenza occurred at Lubbock. There were three such fatalities at Amarillo in December, as well as one pneumonia death developing from influenza.

Schools at Spur were closed a week ago. Longview likewise dismissed classes, one-third of the students being afflicted.

San Angelo schools closed last Friday, a week ahead of schedule, as did those at Lampasas, Cameron and several in Bell county. Temple reported five deaths in the last week from pneumonia.

CENTRAL CITY, Neb. (A)—The Central City ladies aid society lives up to its name. It was meeting at the home of Mrs. Charles Matthis when some one rushed in shouting that the house was afire. Five ladies are credited with carrying out a piano. They saved all the other furniture, too, except a dresser.

Jaysees Present Ribbons, Gold To Prize Winners

Pampa Jaysees this noon feasted on turkey and all the trimmings at the Schneider hotel and enjoyed the Christmas program in which the Rev. C. A. Long presented a charming legend of the season.

John Osborne presented awards to winners of the Santa Day parade and Christmas window decorating in behalf of the club. The parade prizes, which were ribbons, went to Montgomery Ward & company, Pampa Office Supply company, and Texas Furniture company. The first prize for best decorated window was a $5 gold piece presented to Mitchell's store, with second and third place ribbons going to La Nora theater and Thompson Hardware company, respectively.

Plans for tomorrow night's Junior chamber of commerce-Veterans of Foreign Wars charity benefit dance in the Wayne-Merten building were completed. Admission will be thru presentation of a $1 basket of food at the door. These baskets will be distributed to needy families Saturday evening.

Gilmore N. Nunn, vice-president, announced that in organizing for the coming year the members would be given their choice of committees on which they will serve. Several members expect to attend the national Junior chamber convention in Dallas February 24-25. A ladies' night program will be held here January 20, with special features to include a broadcast by the national headquarters. A national director will be chosen here soon.

It was announced by President W. T. Fraser that there would be no luncheon next week because of the nearness of the regular meeting time to Christmas. Visitors today include Dr. W. C. Mitchell, C. H. Walker, G. E. McTaggart, R. A. Thompson, Earl Shelton of Amarillo, and the Rev. Jesse F. Wiseman.

C. C. Roe of Tulsa is transacting business here for a few days.

Dick Dublin of the Montgomery Ward staff is ill of influenza.

Poll Taxes Are Coming In Slow

Poll tax payments are lax this year as usual, but many citizens are beginning to wonder how many will be paid before the January 31 deadline.

The total paid this morning was only 195. Few elections are in sight, although there will be a number of state constitutional amendments and election of two independent school district trustees on the first Saturday in April.

Some residents appear to believe that prohibition will be submitted in the form of an amendment, and the ultra drys are considering a poll tax paying campaign in an effort to defeat any move of the wets.

Because of the recently adopted amendment, any bond issue must be submitted only to assessed property taxpayers. The fee system is likely to be the subject of an amendment under which abolition of the system will be asked.

Poultry Show at McLean Has Varied Entries

Thirty-Nine Breeds Represented in Exhibit

McLEAN, Dec. 20. (SP)—Despite the snow and cold, the McLean Poultry show which was held from December 16-17 had an entry list of 345 of the best poultry, turkeys, pigeons, rabbits, and eggs ever exhibited in this territory.

Never before were bantams, game chickens, and rabbits given so much attention in a local show. There were 39 breeds and varieties on display—the largest number ever shown during a McLean show. Ribbons for the first four places, about $100 in cash prizes, and considerable merchandise were awarded the winners.

Mr. Quattelbaum of Clarendon gave the winners in both the club division and open classes a fine cooker for having the best display of Rhode Island hens. These two prizes went to Archie Hilber and J. W. Burrows. W. H. Floyd of this city gave to winners of both white and brown egg entries 25 baby chicks. The winners were Frank Wilson and C. A. Myatt. Mr. Myrick of Amarillo gave a setting of eggs to L. O. Floyd, who exhibited the best pen of Australorps.

JAPAN IS AT CRISIS

Manchuria is a long, long way off, and such places as Tsitsihar, Changchow and the Nonni river have a quaint and impossibly remote sound.

But appearances can be deceptive. The Balkans are far away, too, but a terroristic campaign that culminated in a murder at a town called Serajevo ultimately led 2,000,000 American soldiers across the Atlantic.

All of this is by way of introduction to a remark which Tokio's delegate made not long ago before the special assembly of the League of Nations.

"Sixty-five million Japanese of pure blood stand together as one man," he said, referring to his government's Manchurian venture.

That question is worth pondering. Because Japan has pursued her course in flat defiance of world opinion, we have let ourselves suspect that her leaders have, actually, gone mad, after a fashion; worse yet, we have persuaded ourselves that it may be our duty to help bring them to their senses.

Japan must expand or wither. She needs new land for her surplus population. She needs new raw materials of all kinds—foodstuffs, minerals, oil, timber and the like.

Manchuria offers all of these things in abundance. Furthermore, it is about the only place on earth available to the Japanese that does offer them.

These are points we need to remember. If we forget them we can very easily get ourselves into a very costly and bloody war.

Scoffing at suggestions of his friends that he be made Ambassador to France, "Jimmy" Walker says "running an embassy is an expensive business."

It was a pretty stiff fight John Barleycorn put up in his comeback attempt at the house the other day. Some folks will suspect he'd been doing some secret training since he was knocked out 12 years ago.

Men will walk out to sea to fight in the next war, says J. E. Williamson, the undersea explorer. Picture diving-suit doughboys chuckling mermaids under the chin and going A. W. O. L. off the Grand Banks.

Mussolini's modesty is simply overwhelming. The monument, dedicated to him and which he unveiled recently, weighs a mere 300 tons and is only 100 feet high.

Hospital official officials announce that babies now are $15 to $30 cheaper than they used to be. And the quality's just the same.

Favors Will Take Bar Examinations

E. C. Favors, young Erath county man who has been reading law in the office of County Attorney Sherman White, will leave tomorrow to visit relatives before going to Austin to take the state bar examinations in January.

He has been here several years, during which he has studied law intensively. He attended a resident law school in Fort Worth for a year and took special correspondence.

Constable Frank Jordan and Deputy Constable R. H. Mumford have returned from a business trip to Memphis.

Not wait: that newspapermen usually made their questions short and to the point and didn't ask to see him while he was engaged unless it was something important that needed attention without delay.

If newspapers printed only what were necessary to sell papers, they could save great expense by not gathering much routine matter. But in their public service capacity and in their desire to share their space with readers of varied interests, they delve into nearly all human activities.

Commenting on a trip to be made by a Texas Tech official in regard to the future of the institution, Chas. A. Guy, the "Plainsman" of the Lubbock Journal, comments as follows:

Personally, the Plainsman would hate to be in Tom Garrard's shoes when he goes to Fort Worth in a day or so to meet with other members of the board of education.

That pennies or wire should never be used in replacing blown out electric fuses?

That the fuse is the safety valve on your wiring system to protect you against fire?

That during the Christmas holidays which should be a period of unmixed cheer, may become one of sadness of someone about fire hazards?

That about one fire out of every ten during the Christmas season results in a fatality?

The state of Texas has hundreds of thousands of dollars invested in its educational plants at Canyon and Lubbock but some guy with a flair for getting his name in the paper awoke after a nightmare and suggested that we junk those investments and send all our kids to Austin, College Station or Timbuctoo for their higher book learning.

In other words, he is taking the stand that the son of a Travis county farmer, who can walk to the university every morning, has a right to higher education at the state's expense but that the son of a Swiss county farmer, who can't walk very well to Austin daily, hasn't that right?

Wheeler To Vote On Cancelling Highway Bonds

WHEELER, Dec. 20. (AP)—Wheeler county taxpayers are being offered the privilege of canceling $220,000 worth of road bonds, voted to pave the county's highways. They will vote on the matter December 31.

Of the original total, $116,000 had not been issued. The commissioners had placed $84,000 in escrow with the state highway department, just prior to the special session of the legislature last August which provided for the state to take over construction of state highways. The other $20,000 was part of an issue of $200,000, made last June 8, and

B. C. D. Is Studying National Problems

Two questions submitted to the Pampa Board of City Development for study and balloting have been received from the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. One referendum concerns proposed changes in the banking system. Exhaustive data is furnished on each subject, in the form of a debate in which various opinions are cited. The B. C. D. will probably appoint committees to study the two subjects before a vote is taken in January.

which had not been delivered. It is impossible to use the bonds for any other purpose, but the taxpayers must vote to cancel them.

City Employees To Work Monday

City officials and employees will be in their places as usual Monday, the commission decided last night. Some of the employees were needed in their jobs, and it was decided to take off only the usual Sunday, which next Sunday will also be Christmas day.

The commission passed another plumbing ordinance and discussed the newly adopted junk dealers' ordinance, which will probably be amended to include all second-hand dealers as well.

A payment of $923.88 to the B. C. D., its share in the collection of delinquent taxes, was made.

New Premier To Allow Debts To 'Sleep Awhile'

PARIS, Dec. 20. (AP)—Joseph Paul-Boncour officially took over at noon today the premiership and foreign ministry from Edouard Herriot, who resigned last Wednesday when the chamber of deputies postponed the December debt payment to the United States.

The impression spread in diplomatic circles that the tendency of the new government was to allow the American debt problem to lie dormant for the present.

This idea was voiced by the newspaper Paris Midi also, which said a number of ministers believed the problem would be best treated by allowing it "to sleep," in the meantime, however, pursuing semi-official conversations with Washington until the arrival of power of President-Elect Roosevelt.

The new Paul-Boncour cabinet, meeting for the first time, turned its attention to a policy on debts, Debts and budget problems furnished the principal items for a ministerial statement it will draw up. A succinct outline of the debts situation and of future debt negotiations with the United States will be forthcoming, it was said. Much space was to be devoted to the reported gray financial situation in France and measures to cope with it.

Game-Fixing Date Postponed Again

The District 1 football meeting scheduled to be held in Plainview today has been again postponed, this time until after the Christmas holidays. The meeting was postponed from last Tuesday because of weather conditions. The date has not been set.

At the meeting, coaches will arrange the 1933 football schedule if they can get together on dates. Pampa will seek to get the Thanksgiving day game played here with Amarillo, while Lubbock may be seeking the same date with Amarillo.

R. B. Fisher, superintendent, and C. M. Mitchell, coach, will represent Pampa high school at the meeting.

SOFT BEDS IN SPANISH ARMY

MADRID, AP.—"You're in the army now" has a less forbidding sound for Spain's recruits. The war ministry has decreed that soldiers' bedding be made of soft cotton wool instead of the traditional hard esparto grass matting in which old timers bunked.

Coach Kelley will visit his father-in-law in Sylvester, Texas, and hunt. R. E. (Pop) Frazer will spend the holidays in Fort Worth and Dallas. When Pop returns he will bring new music, and will start everything on a classical basis.

Glims—Glimmers Of P. H. S. Sports

Who said girls' basketball was a baby's game? Saturday night the Harvestettes and the Canyon girls opened their box of tricks and gave the spectators as good an exhibition of boxing, wrestling, football, and some basketball as ever graced the courts in Pampa.

It was one of the first over-time games played in Pampa in a long time between girls. In five games the Harvesters have made 168 points to their opponents' 60, or an average of 33.6 points per game to opponents' 12.

Pampa fans have a proposition before them. If in the future the referee is booted in any way, the game will automatically be awarded to the opponent. So Mr. Basketball! Fan, keep your mouth shut and think; very few people can read minds.

In a scrimmage last week the Harvesters defeated a gym class basketball team 102-7. The Harvesters declared it was one of the hardest games they ever played; in fact, some of the boys were breathless with excitement. Oh, yeah!

The Gorillas played Hopkins yesterday in their first real game. The Gorillas will play work during the vacation; Mr. Moore is going home. We hear that there is a woman in the case—his mother.

Burl Bufkin, of Amarillo, and University of Washington squad made the mythical All-Pacific, O. K. Don Salsbury.

The Brumley mug pulled into town yesterday followed by Parks, Parks and Morris Enloe are the only graduates of the 1932 basketball squad.

So, folks, with a fond cheerio, a toodle de doo, and a Merry Christmas, so long.

Classes Enjoy Theater Parties

Theater parties at the La Nora were enjoyed last week-end by both the junior and the senior classes with a fair representation of the elements present in spite of the inclement weather.

Thursday evening about 65 juniors saw "Me and My Gal" featuring Spencer Tracy and Joan Bennett. Afterward refreshments of pie and hot chocolate were served at the central cafeteria.

Friday evening about 75 seniors laughed their way through a Tom and Jerry comedy and "The Golden West," starring George O'Brien. Following the show they went to the cafeteria and played games. Refreshments of punch and sandwiches were served, with the Christmas theme carried out.

CASTS SELECTED FOR 5 PLAYS ONE OF WHICH WILL REPRESENT PAMPA IN DISTRICT CONTEST

Home Ec Classes Serve Luncheons

The Home Economics 2-A girls cooked and served buffet suppers Wednesday and Thursday of last week. The girls acted both as hostesses and guests.

The Home Economics 2-B girls of the clothing department are making clothes and toys for Christmas for a little boy and girl aged 4 and 5 respectively.

The Home Economics 2-B girls served a luncheon Saturday to a group of P.-T. A. women in the home economics laboratory honoring Mrs. Roe, national field secretary.

Mrs. Alexander's chemistry classes have been having a hot time this last week. They made some nitric acid as part of the regular course of study, and it is a safe bet that ninety-nine percent of the classes got a taste of what nitric acid can do if it is really concentrated. No serious damage was done except to the nerves of some of the girls and also the boys.

Mock Trial Held In History Class

Billie Boyington was indicted for robbery by the History III class in its mock trial on Monday, Dec. 15, and tried on Dec. 18. A verdict has not yet been rendered.

Joe Stephens and Beryl Henwood represented the state in the prosecution, while Worth Seitz was the only counsel for defense. Charles Frost, a visitor during the court, was made court clerk. Elden Brazell was the judge.

POLICE REORGANIZED

The Junior Police met at 11:45 in Mr. Sone's office today to reorganize their squads. The squads will be on duty at noon and after school this week. Those present were Harlan Martin, Bennett Kell, Charles Tognas, J. G. McConnell, John Lawson, Richard Wilks, George Lane, and Joseph Hodges.

CHAPEL PROGRAM

The chapel program for Junior high for this week as announced by Mr. Selby is as follows: A Christmas Reading—Retha Holmes. A Bible Story—The Glee Club and Elizabeth Ward. "The Christmas Gimme"—Room 71. Robert Fletcher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Fletcher, is ill of "flu."

CASTS for the five plays from which the contest play will be chosen have been announced as follows:

"The Captain Keeney, Norman Carr; Mrs. Keeney, Louise Walstad; Mate, Walton Heard; Steward, David Whittenton; Cabin boy, Ben Slaughter; Director, Jim Stone.

"Sounding Brass"—Warden, Clinton Evans; Mrs. Calvin, Lois Manness; Walter, Jim Arnett; Director, Charles Frost.

"The High Heart"—Sam Davis, Jack Mann; Agnes Cranston, Dorothy Harris; Major Cranston, Jim Stone; General, Henry Gullum; Lieut. Richards, Richmond Eastup; Mrs. Peyton, Ruthanna Jackson; Director, Clinton Evans.

"Thursday Evening"—Gordon, Bob Woodward; Mrs. Johns, Mildred Marshall; Gordon's mother-in-law, Lois Manness; Director, Charles Smith.

"The Glant's Stairs"—Sheriff Earnes, Clinton Evans; Mrs. Weatherburn, Vandell Kees; Tili, Adale Smith.

It's Work For Harvesters In Christmas Week

What's the matter with Pampa? This is a question some people may ask, but there's nothing the matter, at least not now; all the boys have had the flu and are prepared for a happy Christmas and a merry New Year.

But, according to Coach Mitchell, the boys do not know what they have been talking about. In other words, the Harvesters play Shamrock tonight, Hedley here Thursday night, and at Hedley Friday night. Monday and Tuesday nights of next week the Harvesters play Plainview here, and Wednesday and Thursday nights they play Big Lake here.

By a glance at the games the Pampa fans may be assured of plenty of entertainment; that is, if the score is right; but that should not make a difference, because it might give us a better team. The Harvestettes will play Shamrock here tonight and will journey to Canyon Thursday with a 20-21 defeat to be revenged.

Buying Barbara

SYNOPSIS: Mark Lodely has found someone to marry and hurries as fast as his crutch will permit. Outside, in the old Yarn Market, waits his fiancée, and unknown to both, Farrell Armitage, the wealthy proprietor of the Yarn Market, awaits Lella, daughter of Sir James Cane, Cane is the surviving member of the long since defunct firm of Quentin, Lodely & Cane. The Quentins and Lodelys were impoverished by the crash; Cane was not. Mark's mother has cherished for years the memory of a telegram she saw Cane stuff into his pocket the day her husband committed suicide—a bankrupt.

Chapter 5 "LET ME GO!" SHE GASPED FARRELL looked about him. He was walking along the sea side and Lella had said she would be in this neighborhood at about this time. She could give him a lift back to South-the-Water, Cane's big, white house on the bay. Out of the entrance to High street a big truck came clattering; it had no lights and the tagate thought it was being a. . . too fast. As it plunged towards him across the clear space of the Yarn Market, he was abruptly recalled to his own immediate foreground. On his left was the sea wall, parked alongside it was a second truck also with no lights. As Armitage's eyes fell upon it, a girl in dark furs darted out of its shadow and began to run swiftly out into the Yarn Market, towards the bank. The bulk of the stationary truck hid her from the driver of the oncoming vehicle and if she heard his groan and rattle she was oblivious. Armitage shot out a long arm and plucked her back; she half fell against his shoulder and incontinently to himself, he laughed.

"Let me go!" she gasped furiously. She swung her free hand up and struck him smartly on the jaw. He laughed again—this time with conscious enjoyment—and then the dark mass of the second truck crashed past them.

"Oh!" cried the girl. In the next second she had wrenched herself free and resumed her dash across the open space. Armitage, watching her, saw that she made for the bank. He screwed up his eyes and discerned a figure crumpled upon the steps. The girl was bending over it.

It seemed to him fitting that he should cross the Yarn Market also. A slight bruise was forming on the edge of his jaw and he wanted to make her beg his pardon for it. At the same time he hated to embarrass her.

He was soon near enough to her to see that the figure she supported was that of a man, a cripple, apparently, for a crutch had slithered a foot or two away. Armitage lengthened his stride, but as he stepped on to the pavement Lella Cane's scarlet roadster slid out of the bottle-neck of High street and drew up before the bank. Armitage could see the gleam of Lella's eyes as she leaned over the side of the gay little car. Her voice rang high in the crisp evening.

"Barbara Quentin? What is it? Can I help?" The girl had drawn the cripple to his feet. Armitage was now at her elbow but she ignored him, answering Lella in a voice that was at once soft yet lingeringly clear.

"Mark has slipped on some orange peel. He's very shaken. Could you take him home? . . . Oh, but Mark, it's only three paces and Lella will help you get in. Do try, Mark!" "Here, ease over on to me!" protested Armitage, as he heard the Barbara girl's breath catch under the strain of supporting Mark; but short of re-arranging the whole grouping, he could not lighten her burden to any great extent.

"You've done it," encouraged Lella from the wheel. "Sit back, now, Mark, you're all right. I'll have you home in five minutes. . . Hop in amongst the jam-pots in the rumble, Barbara? No? . . . Oh, it's you, Farrell! I wasn't sure. No room for you, I'm afraid. See you at dinner." "You've forgotten my crutch, Barbara," called the cripple and she ran round with it. Armitage saw her lay her hand on the thin finger. "Mark, is the pain bad? Are you much hurt?" "How on earth can I tell? I may have broken something. Tell for I must have that canvas—bring it yourself if he has no one he can send." "I will—I promise I will. But wouldn't it be better if I came home with you first?" "No, it wouldn't. Go to Cane's at once or he'll be shut." Lella laid the clutch in, nodded to Armitage and drove off. The

HARDEST BATTLE THIS SEASON EXPECTED WITH SHAMROCK

The Harvesters are all ready for their big game with the Shamrock Irishmen at the high school gymnasium tonight at 8 o'clock. The girls' teams from the two schools will play at 7 o'clock. Admission will be 10 cents students and 25 cents for adults.

Coach Mitchell will have his full strength to hurl against the Irishmen, classed as one of the strongest outfits in this part of the country. The Irishmen have a full letterman team available in the Shewmaker brothers, Cherry, big center, Carver and one over Clarendon.

They held the Harvesters to a three-point margin last season.

The Pampa boys will be going after their third consecutive victory when they take the floor against the Irishmen. They have two victories over Panhandle at Canyon, and one over Clarendon.

Coach Harry Kelley has made several changes in the girls' line-up and should give the Irish girls a hard battle. The Pampans lost by one point to Canyon in two overtime periods Saturday night.

Thursday night the Harvesters will play the first Hedley Owls here. The game will start at 7:30 o'clock. A preliminary game will start at 6:30 o'clock.

Four games have been scheduled for next week. The Plainview Bulldogs will be here Monday and Tuesday while Big Lake will play Wednesday and Thursday nights. Both teams have enviable records. Plainview was a district winner last year. Big Lake was runner-up for district honors and has a letterman team back for this season. They are taking a long trip during the Christmas holidays.

Babe Preparing For a Tumbling Career on Stage

By BILL PARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer.

Miss Mildred Babe Didrikson, the Texas prodigy and Olympic athlete and Olympic champion, is suffering from headaches that she doesn't mind in the least. Babe is not ill from natural causes or from her recent suspension from National A. U. competition, but because of a bumping head in a wrestling match.

Babe is taking daily tumbling lessons at the Dallas Athletic club gymnasium where her head sometimes comes in contact with the bare floor instead of the tumbling mat.

A rumor growing out of Babe's sudden decision to learn the art of tumbling, is that she will turn professional next summer even if she is reinstated into the good graces of the national A. U. and is made eligible for Simon-pure competition the remainder of the winter. Evidently she is preparing in advance for athletic feats she can do on the stage. Throwing the javelin, putting the shot and running hurdles, of which Babe holds records, would be difficult to perform in the limited space behind the footlights.

Babe Didrikson never received half the flattering big money offers that were reported after her sensational victories at the Olympic meet. She did receive and reject a few that were substantial. Today she regrets her action. She realizes that money is more valuable than silver, bronze, and gold medals.

The investigation of her amateur status may leave Babe in the realm of professionalism, but if she is reinstated, don't be surprised to read of her turning professional on her own accord sometime next summer. Boxing, tumbling, harmonica playing are some of the things she desires to do behind the footlights. Babe is really clever with the harmonica, but the only tune she plays on it now is the A. A. U. blues.

B Squad Downs Hopkins 19-10

The Harvester B basketball team was kept playing at top speed from the first whistle to win 19 to 10 from the Hopkins Whitebirds at the high school gymnasium yesterday afternoon. Although Hopkins had not a chance to practice for nearly two weeks because of bad weather, they showed a fine combination.

Clovis Green, big Harvester center, was high scorer with seven points. Pinnell, whirlwind forward, took second high scoring honors with six points. The other counters were well divided among team members of both squads.

Coach W. B. (Red) Weathered, former junior coach here, has a promising looking squad that would give teams in this section keen competition if it had an adequate in-door gymnasium in which to work.

Coach Fox of the Harvester B squad used Clovis Green, Admiral Hamilton, Stevens, Faulkner, Heard, Howard. The Hopkins boys who saw action were the Vanderburg brothers, the Mackie brothers, Pinnell, apt Vaughn, Gerdis Schmidt was referee.

CHAMP GAME AT CORSICANA

Game To Be Played Next Monday Afternoon At 2:30 O'Clock.

CORSICANA, Dec. 20. (P)—The powerful football teams of Corsicana High and Masonic Home, which have swept all opposition aside to reach the finals, will battle here next Monday for the interscholastic championship of Texas.

The site for the final game was decided by the toss of a coin after a two-hour conference last night between Coach John A. Pierce of Corsicana and Coach Russell of the Fort Worth school. The game was scheduled to start at 2:30 p. m.

Masonic Home reached the finals by defeating the Amarillo Sandies 7 to 6. Corsicana eliminated John Reagan high school of Houston 19 to 7.

Baseball Once Flourished In Floyd Capital

FLOYDADA, Dec. 19. (P)—Ghosts of a day when baseball flourished in Floydada were recalled here when John H. Reagan and S. F. Conner dismantled the old baseball park grandstand.

Built in 1920 at a cost of approximately $1,300 when 18 men each contributed $100, the park was a popular place for many years. The grandstand and fenced grounds were located in the northeast part of town, on property owned by the city of Floydada.

Contrary to the usual story of such undertakings, the project paid out. Soon after building, it was found that the fences were too close for baseball, and the $300 expense of moving them back was paid out of income.

Baseball flourished for two or three years, then football became popular and interest in baseball began to dwindle. But the original 18 men received back their $100 investment with dividends. Just how much more is not known. Stock was sold like any other investment.

A year or so ago the site was abandoned. Stockholders decided it was best to dismantle the property. The lumber was used to build bleachers at the high school football field.

Missouri Bars Waters-Hollis

The Missouri Athletic commission has discovered that Teddy Waters and Ken Hollis are one and the same wrestler, according to word coming from Springfield, Mo. The commission will allow him to fill his schedule under both names, but after that he will probably be barred from the state.

Waters has been seen many times on a Pampa mat. He wrestled Sallor Cline Clingman, Jack Rose, Joe Kapokky, and others here. He has not appeared here as Hollis, but Hollis has been heard of in these parts.

Texas is badly in need of an Athletic commission, in the opinion of many wrestling fans. They feel that there would be a little more wrestling for good money if there were some way of controlling the game. Wrestling is becoming a barbaric sport in Texas, claim the fans who are anxious to see it controlled. All that is barred in matches in this state is gouging.

Ponzi Stars In Billiard Meet

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (P)—Andrew Ponzi's chances of winning the national pocket billiard championship are so faint as to be virtually indiscernible but the chubby Philadelphia, has gained a stranglehold on individual honors.

Today, with the tournament in its closing stages, he had chalked up the three highest runs, 73, 72, 71, turned in the two best games, four and six innings; figured in the tournament's closest match, a losing 125 to 111 duel with Jimmy Caras; and gained its most decisive victory, a 125 to 2 decision over Pasquale Natale last night.

Virtually eliminated from the title chase when he dropped successive matches to Ralph Greenleaf and Caras, Ponzi returned to form with a bang in his duel with Natale. The Philadelphia was in front all the way.

Amarillo Seeks Washington Post

AMARILLO, Dec. 20. (P)—Grover B. Hill, Amarillo rancher and livestock broker, will ask to be appointed assistant secretary of agriculture under Franklin D. Roosevelt. He has been a leader for many years in the Panhandle Livestock association, and the Texas-Southwestern Cattle Raisers association.

R. E. Underwood, Amarillo attorney, who managed the Roosevelt-Garner campaign in the Panhandle, said Hill would have the endorsement of Panhandle democrats, every citizen's organization in the southwest, and Congressman Marvin Jones of Amarillo, chairman of the house agricultural committee.

Mrs. J. F. Carter still is ill of influenza but has improved.

THIS LADYLIKE?

The gentle art of wringing another's neck in the wrestling arena is threatened with still more feminine sex into the mat business. The above photo, taken in London recently, shows two representatives of shy and retiring womanhood having it out on a padded floor. The young lady on top is attempting to flatten the shoulders of her opponent, while the opponent is getting in a nice nose hold.

Texas Special Raised By Naive Farmer Youth

ARLINGTON, Dec. 20. (P)—Jubilant over his indirect victory in raising "Texas Special," the Texas Hereford steer that won the grand championship at the Chicago International Livestock show, Marvin Maberry, 17-year-old Fisher county farm youth, has returned from a complimentary trip to the Chicago show as guest of a railroad, and plans to concentrate on efforts to raise another champion.

Marvin, recounting parts of the trip, naively told of "the second time I had ever ridden on a railroad train, the first time I ever went to Texas, and the first time I ever slept in a Pullman berth." He is a senior in the McCaulley high school, and was one of 20 Texas boys who won the trip.

"Texas Special" was exhibited by C. M. Largent and Sons of Merkel, who bought the steer from John M. Gist. Gist had purchased it from Maberry after the animal was declared grand champion at the Lubbock 4-H meet, in competition with 119 steer calves.

Young Maberry related that "the calf was born on our place three miles south of McCaulley," and "right from the start my father told me it had the stuff to be a champion."

Marvin is in club work in Fisher county under Knox Parr, county agent. He and his younger brothers, Frank Jr., and Jack, are feeding three calves each for purpose of 4-H competition.

Bartering Fills Food Pantry of Wheeler Woman

WHEELER, Dec. 20. (P)—Use of the barter method, made it possible for Mrs. C. H. Riley, Wheeler county farm woman, to have one of the best filled pantries in the Panhandle.

She exchanged a bushel of butter beans for a dozen quart jars. Money she received from the sale of eight quarts of blackeyed peas bought a dozen quart jars and 100 pounds of cabbage. She traded 14 half-gallon jars of blackeyed peas for groceries that could not be grown at home.

Irish potatoes, pears and apples were received in exchange for turnips. She traded 20 bushels of corn for an equal amount of wheat which was ground into flour.

Her pantry now includes 95 varieties of food in 525 quart jars. In addition she has stored pears, apples, onions, peanuts, popcorn, cabbage, turnips, pumpkin, dried pumpkin, squash, pie melons, green and ripe tomatoes, sweet and Irish potatoes, syrup, soap, flour, six varieties of dried peas and beans, eggs and lard.

Hemingway Riled At Happy Ending

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 20. (P)—A print of the movie "Farewell to Arms," unhappy ending and all, is to be sent to Ernest Hemingway at Pig-got, Ark., author of the novel from which the picture was made, for a Christmas showing. Paramount studios announced today.

Hemingway previously had said he would not attend a showing of the film because, he complained, Paramount altered the ending of his story to create a "happy" denouement.

The original story saw the heroine die. The film with the unhappy close recently was given its premiere in New York City.

Hemingway's disagreement with Paramount snags in studio circles of the argument which Theodore Dreiser threatened legal action.

Dreiser had with the same concern over the filming of "An American Tragedy." In the present instance, however, the author has pursued a policy of negative disapproval. Dreiser threatened legal action.

Paramount is releasing both the "happy" and "unhappy" versions of the film for showing in the United States.

DIDRIKSON IS OUTSTANDING

Texas Girl Voted Leading Athlete For 1932 By Sports Writers.

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (P)—There is no doubt about Babe Didrikson's place as the outstanding American girl athlete of 1932, regardless of any doubt existing as to her future as an amateur competitor.

With some belated additions to the voting, Miss Didrikson today leads all rivals in the second annual Associated Press poll, on the outstanding feminine athlete of the year. With 81 votes out of a total of 215 cast.

The Texas girl nearly doubled the total of her nearest rival, Helene Madison, world champion free style swimmer, who finished with 45 votes.

The tennis queen, Helen Wills Moody, placed with 24 and Virginia Van Wie, golfer, fourth place by a narrow margin over Eleanor Holm of New York, best of the backstroke mids.

Here's the feminine "first ten" of the year, based on results of the poll among sports writers and editors throughout the country:

1. Babe Didrikson, track.....81
2. Helene Madison, swimming.....45
3. Helen Wills Moody, tennis.....24
4. Virginia Van Wie, golf.....18
5. Eleanor Holm, swimming.....16
6. Helen Jacobs, tennis.....6
7. Stella Walsh, track.....5
8. Helen Hicks, golf.....3
9. Katherine Rawls, swimming.....3

Many 'Horny Frogs' Mailed at Amarillo

AMARILLO, Dec. 20. (P)—Horned toads—not the T. C. U. champions of the Southwest conference, but their mascot—are more popular as souvenirs than any other product of West Texas, according to Amarillo postal officials.

The little horny frogs—which really do not have horns and are not toads—are mailed from the Panhandle in large numbers, either by visitors or residents, from the area who have curious friends in other sections of the country.

Several conditions contribute to the toad's popularity, postal workers say they believe. In spite of their vicious appearance, the toads are harmless. They refuse to fight even when picked up in bare hands. Their only protection is a drop of blood which they shoot from one eye.

They can be prepared for mailing easily. Any pasteboard carton with holes punched for ventilation is accepted by the post office. They require no care whatever. Even the ventilation is an unnecessary precaution considering the 31 years Eastland's famous "Rip" spent in the courthouse cornerstone.

Dalhart Children With Harry Lauer

DALHART, Dec. 20. (P)—Maidie and Ray Blatherwick, children of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Blatherwick of Dalhart, will appear in Amarillo December 27 with Harry Lauer. About year ago they toured Europe, playing engagements at London, Paris, Berlin, and the other big centers.

While the children accept the plaudits of theater-goers, their father follows the love-cowboy bootmaker. His shop on Denrock avenue in Dalhart is a denizens for cowhands and ranch owners who demand genuine cowboy boots, hand made and hand toiled.

MIX TO RETIRE HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 20. (P)—Two Mix, cowboy film hero, has announced he will retire from the talking screen Christmas day, and said the retirement probably would be permanent if he could arrange to return to a circus.

HOOKS & SLIDES

He Never Played
It has been repeated several times, when those little groups of willful sports scribbles get together to settle the major issues of the day, that it was just as well Colgate was not invited to play in the Rose Bowl Jan. 2.

The reason advanced was that Colgate would have been murdered by that Southern California team. But I'm not so sure about that. And my chief reason for entertaining a doubt about the slaughter of Colgate is in the person of Andy Kerr, who teaches the Red Raiders of the Chenango how to raid.

Precedes Pop
Kerr knows Pacific coast football. It was Kerr who set Pop Warner up in business at Stanford, in a way Kerr was assisting the Old Fox at Pitt when Warner received the offer to coach on the coast. The Old Fox's contract still had a year to run. He solved the problem by sending Kerr along to install the Warner system at Pitt.

A Good Ball Club
The strength of his team this year at Colgate, an unbeaten, undefeated, unscored-on ball club, could not be accurately gauged because the schedule was not so tough, for instance, as Pitt's. But Colgate had a splendid team, just the same, with deception, speed and power, and it was a club that would have given a good account of itself against the Trojans.

Kerr is unique as a coach. He never played football, but he can teach the game to young men in a capable manner. He has the sort of personality that young men like to play for. To be a successful coach, a man must have such qualities.

Without the background of playing experience, which is a background that often inspires young men to emulation, Kerr wins young men's admiration and respect for his football knowledge.

Fate—and Size
Kerr was graduated by Dickinson college, 32 years ago. With his mother, he went to Johnstown, Pa., to teach in a business college. He used to watch the high school football team work out, and from time to time contributed valuable ideas to the teacher who was coaching the boys.

In 1904 he was given a teaching job in the high school, and at once began to over-emphasize football for Johnstown. Kerr's salary was $900 a year. At that time Central High of Pittsburgh was a bitter rival of Johnstown's. The coach at Central offered Andy a $500 raise to come and coach. Kerr did not like to leave Johnstown, and let it be known he would stay if he could have a $100 raise. Board members who were against "this football foolishness" turned him down, and he went to Pittsburgh.

From Central High he went to Pitt to coach fresh basketball. Then he worked into football and became coach of the varsity track team. When Warner went to Pitt from Carlisle, he made Andy full-time assistant coach.

Terrible Swedes Play at Canyon Tomorrow Night

Many Pampans basketball fans plan to go to Canyon tomorrow night or Thursday to see Olsen's Terrible Swedes play the Canyon college Buffaloes at the college gymnasium. The Swedes, best known traveling basketball team in the country, have an enviable record but the Buffaloes have an imposing one themselves.

The Swedes played 116 games last year and lost only 10 of them. They played before more than 100,000 fans in every state west of the Mississippi. The Buffs have lost but 34 games in 11 years of competition against some of the best college and independent teams in the nation. They won 199 games in that time.

C. M. Olsen, manager of the Swedes, chooses his team from the entire nation and members retain their amateur standing. Emory Johnson, giant center, hails from California. Sew Lewka was a University of Iowa forward who can pick the ball out of the air in one hand from a dribble and hold it with hand down. Lefty Schnack is from Central Teachers college, Edmond, Okla., and plays the ball forward job. Guss Babb, guard, hails from Pittsburg, Kansas, and Wayne Howdshell was a former Kansas Aggie.

The game will be a battle of giants. The Swedes will average 6 feet 2 inches in height, while the Buff's starting line-up will tower 6 feet 4 inches. Corner is the scoring ace of the Buffs, and is an All-T. I. A. A. forward. Giant Fortenberry, center, measures 6 feet 7 inches.

The games will start at 8 o'clock. Admission will be 50 cents.

SOUNDS REASONABLE

SAN MARCOS, Dec. 20. (P)—If, in your slumber, your sub-conscious self does not precipitate you into dream land do not brag about it. Highly intelligent folk, observes W. I. Woodson, head of the psychology department at the San Marcos Teachers' college, dream much.

Earl Avell of the Cleveland Indians topped rival American league batsmen in 1932 by hitting for seven bases or more in 11 different games.

Seventeen lettermen from the University of Michigan Big Ten championship football team will return for play next year.

Stanford, Kerr returned to take a coaching job at Washington and Jefferson, and under his regime the Presidents rode high and wide over some of the best teams in the country.

Last year he was offered a $60,000 contract for six years at Western Reserve, but turned it down. That was Colgate's good fortune that he didn't get that $100 raise at Johnstown. One such small matters destinies often are hinged.

TROJANS MAY CHANGE STYLE FOR PITT TILT

DETERMINED OFFENSIVE MAY BE DEVELOPED BY JONES

By PAUL ZIMMERMAN, Associated Press Sports Writer.
LOS ANGELES, Dec. 20. (P)—Coach Howard Jones, University of Southern California's grid generalissimo, called his Trojans for another secret session today to cope with the Pittsburgh situation which will arise in the Rose tournament football game January 2.

Followers of the unbeaten and untied Trojans would not be surprised to see the style of play considerably revamped for the Pittsburgh game, though there has been no indication from behind the locked gates as to just what the changes, if any, might be.

Last year the Southern California end bobbed up with a rushing type of defensive game against Tulane after depending mostly on waiting tactics through the regular schedule. Each succeeding big game the men of Troy have played this year has revealed some change which was intended to throw the opponent off the track of the usual play revealed in scouting reports. There was little doubt but what a change of assignments has been ordered for Pitt.

With Southern California's knowledge of the Panther attack somewhat sketchy because of a lack of first hand information on the team, Jones may concentrate more on developing a more determined offense and let that stand in a large degree for a defense as well.

His veteran line is expected to cope with Pitt in a fashion, but the Sunday quarterbacks argue that to keep the ball as much as possible is perhaps the best way out of a bad situation.

Eastern critics already are booming Cliff Montgomery, Columbia quarterback, for next year's All-America team.

Mrs. Ollie White is ill of influenza.

MRS. GARNER WILL USE ORIGINALITY IN SOCIAL LIFE

IMPORTANCE OF HER POSITION IS RECOGNIZED

GLAD TO PRESIDE FOR SENATE GROUP'S ACTIVITIES

By BESS FURMAN
Associated Press Staff Writer
(Copyright, 1932, by the Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20. (AP)—Mrs. John N. Garner is giving careful thought to a question that others have been interestingly discussing—what she will do socially as the vice-president's wife.

Some time ago the Garners announced that, in keeping with their custom of simple living, they will accept only "official" invitations.

But today Mrs. Garner told for the first time just how she feels on the subject. She does not minimize the value of sociability in official life. On the contrary, she is deeply determined to uphold the dignity of the vice-presidential position. But she thinks individuality should be expressed by each hostess—and if she so chooses, she might even introduce some social innovations!

For Example
"Alice Longworth, as speaker's wife, by not holding the traditional 'at home' to the house membership, and may work it out yet, before Mr. Garner's term as speaker closes.

"The point is that it isn't necessary for people to follow each other like sheep in social events."

What Is Worthwhile?
Mrs. Garner looks at sociability from the practical viewpoint of a career woman, and is putting to her tentative program the test question: "What is really worthwhile?"

There's the question of holding "at home" and of making formal calls. The vice-president's hostess traditionally starts off the cabinet, "at homes," and Mrs. Garner hasn't turned thumbs down on that, although she wouldn't meet it carried to the old extremes.

"Mrs. Joseph M. Dixon of Montana and I used to go calling together," Mrs. Garner said, and genuine reminiscence pleasure lighted her eyes as she turned back to the slow-swinging pre-auto social regime.

Once "Peddled Cardboard"
"We used to say we 'peddled cardboard.' We'd call, and call, and call, and then we were calling on would call, and call, and call, and we'd probably never meet the whole season.

"A group of us who lived at the same hotel would have 'at homes' together. And two thousand would come! When I think back to the times I have stood for hours in line, shaking hands with a thousand, or two thousand, I can't believe that form of 'at home' is worth while, though I might enjoy a smaller one."

Glad to Preside
One social post Mrs. Garner does deem eminently worth while, that of presiding officer of the ladies of the senate, who meet for luncheons and do Red Cross work. It is always vested in the wife of the vice-president.

Asked if she would accept it, Mrs. Garner said: "There is no question of my not doing it, for its simply an honor accorded to the wife of the vice-president. And I have known so many of the senators' wives, for so many years, I shall feel I am among friends."

HOME IS STILL SOCIAL CENTER, TEACHER SAYS

DENTON, Dec. 20.—The centralization of all social living in the home has not changed despite national economic reverse, according to R. J. Turentine, director of philosophy and education at Texas State College for Women (CIA).

In his discussion of "Changes in American Home Life" Turentine quotes the Hoosier poet who said:

"Home folks at home,
I know one ole feller
At ain't got no home,
Invite him. He may hesitate some,
But invite 'im, he'll come."

He maintains that in these significant phrases are expressed the unchanged and unchangeable centralizing and integrating natural human desires upon which the perpetuity of the American home safely and permanently rests.

American home life has been given extensive and critical consideration through the press and from the platform during recent years. Psychologists, sociologists, economists, social welfare workers, clergymen, political thinkers and thoughtful citizens from the humblest walks of life to the president of the United States have expressed alarm at the rapid changes taking place in family life. The home is and must remain the basic unit of American life.

Turentine does not attempt to solve the depression by use of the home, but he does point out and emphasize the fundamental value of the home, even through it has decreased from a twelve-room brick house to a two-room cottage or apartment.

Puppet Show Will Hold Interest At School Thursday

Featured by the story of the birth of Christ told by means of a puppet show, an interesting program will be given at Sam Houston school Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. The public is invited to attend.

Other numbers will include group singing of Christmas carols, the reading of an original poem by R. T. Seeds, and the reading of "Christmas Gift" by In-gene Stewart.

The puppet show will be presented in three scenes by the following pupils of Mrs. T. A. Cox's room: Therolene Devore, Billy Massey, Joyce Turner, James Williams, Darile Johns, Royce Cupp, Bobby Smith, Hugh Monroe, Charles Riggs, Martin May, Alvin Reeves. Carols will be sung by Betty Baker, Jessie Farmer, La Verne Hill, and Geraldine Smith.

COMING EVENTS

WEDNESDAY
Altar society members will bring gifts costing not more than 25 cents when they attend a Christmas party at 2:30 o'clock in the home of Mrs. H. B. Carlson, 631 N. Faulkner. Mrs. Agnes Croft will be co-hostess.

Dorcas class, First Baptist church, will meet at 2:30 o'clock with Mrs. H. M. Lister.

Women's council of the First Christian church will meet at the church at 2:30 to hear a Christmas program led by group 1. At 1:30 o'clock, promptly, an executive meeting of the council will be held.

THURSDAY
Jolly 8 club will have a Christmas party and exchange of gifts in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Collins.

Little Theater will meet at 8 o'clock in the basement of the Brennow building. A play, "Wood Hauler," written by Mr. Harris, local man, will be presented by Mr. Harris, Bill Murray, and Paul LeBeuf.

The public is invited to attend a Horace Mann school program Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. A puppet show will feature the program.

CHILI SUPPER IS GIVEN NEWS STAFF MONDAY

GAMES ARE PLAYED BY BIG "FAMILY" OF NEWSPAPER

Members of the NEWS staff and their wives spent Monday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Olin E. Hinkle, 437 Yager, with Mr. and Mrs. Phil R. Fond and Mr. and Mrs. Hinkle being hosts and hostesses.

A chili supper was served at 6:30 o'clock in rooms decorated to suggest Christmas, and games of many kinds followed. Fruit cakes, Christmas gifts from THE NEWS, were distributed by Gilmore M. Nunn.

Two Christmases Are Observed To Kiddies' Delight

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Dec. 20. (AP)—Enjoy the boys and girls of Yugoslavia—they have two Christmases.

The first comes, as it does in America, on December 25. Two weeks later along rolls the Greek Orthodox Christmas. It is held on January 8 because it is reckoned on the "old style" calendar of Julius Caesar.

Very similar to the American celebration is the observance in Croatia, a predominantly Catholic section. The Christmas tree is supreme there and everybody says "merry Christmas." The yule log rules the day in Serbia, which is nearly 100 per cent orthodox, and the people say "Christ is born."

The customs of the orthodox population, very picturesque, stretch back into the misty past. The morning before Christmas the boys of the family go out to seek the yule tree. One boy kneels before the pine little oak and says an old prayer. Then he throws a little wheat into the branches, and kisses the tree.

This branch is later put into a can of milk to make sure that until next Christmas the cream will be heavy.

Solemnly, then, the tree is cut down and carried home. Father carries the log into the house, while other members of the family throw wheat over him and the log. When the log starts burning, the mischievous of the house gets a bundle of straw, the walking stick, and some reds, imitating a hen's cackling. The children follow, peeping like chickens. They tear the straw away from her, throwing it on the floor.

There are other picturesque customs, too, and Christmas day is spent in visiting, eating, drinking, and singing.

Program Will Be Given at Hopkins

The first and second grades of Hopkins No. 2 will give a Christmas program Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

Numbers will include the following: "The Big Welcome," Jerry Cooper; song, "Up on the House Top," primary and second grades; play, "The Walking Stick," and song, "Away in the Manger," by five little girls; "Why Do Bells for Christmas Ring?" Doris E. Goodman; song, "Silent Night, Holy Night," first and second grades; play, "The Hiding Place," four children; song, "Jingle Bells," primary and second grades; "Best Christmas Wishes," Billy Abernathy.

After the program, Santa will visit the rooms and give each child a Christmas gift.

Misses Nan Crouch and Margaret Hamrick will be in charge of the program. Parents of all children are invited to attend.

COUNCIL SESSION POSTPONED

The regular meeting of the city council of Parent-Teacher associations has been postponed from Thursday of this week to some time in January.

A tree will be held at the Episcopal church.

Business and Professional Women's club will sponsor a Christmas carnival and dance at the Pla-Mor.

Frances Perkins of New York May Be First Feminine Cabinet Member

NEW YORK (AP)—An energetic, alert-looking woman with a flair for statistics may be the nation's first feminine cabinet member.

Widespread reports say that Miss Frances Perkins, industrial commissioner of New York state, may be chosen secretary of labor by President-Elect Roosevelt, although no announcements have been made.

Miss Perkins, known to all who deal with labor statistics as sponsor of New York state's elaborate figures on employment and other important labor matters, is generally identified as a liberal.

She has worked diligently for social welfare projects, notably of late in encouraging responses to nationwide pleas for unemployment relief. She has been insistent in her demands in New York state for adequate care of the workers and has cited her statistics frequently in proof of the need.

Investigations of the New York State Factory commission, which enabled much legislation of social character, were directed by her.

A graduate of Mount Holyoke college in 1902, Miss Perkins also studied at the University of Pennsylvania and obtained a master of arts degree at Columbia university.

She was executive secretary of the Consumers' league in New York from 1910 to 1912 and lectured in sociology during that period.

Recently Miss Perkins was named by a group of Massachusetts progressives under leadership of Prof. Felix Frankfurter of Harvard as the type, which the group would like to FRANCES PERKINS seen chosen for the Roosevelt cabinet.

Miss Perkins, 50, is the wife of Paul C. Wilson, but she has used her maiden name in her professional career. They have one daughter, Susanna.

Possessing a ready smile and flashing eyes, she impresses listeners with her desire to explain subjects under discussion, and she is frank in answering questions.

SHOWER GIVEN AS FAREWELL EVENT MONDAY

MRS. PAUL HUGHEY IS HONORED BY HER FRIENDS

Mrs. H. H. Isbell, 211 N. Howard, maintained with a handkerchief shower Monday afternoon as a farewell courtesy to Mrs. Paul Hughey.

Mr. and Mrs. Hughey will leave Thursday to make their home in Greenville, after residing in Pampa for 7 years. Mr. Hughey was formerly connected with the Gulf Production company, after which he was connected with the Gulf refinery, being operator of the Gulf station on Foster avenue.

Several games were played, and each guest wrote advice to the honoree, telling what they wanted her to do at various times.

During the social hour, fruit and candy were served.

The guest list consisted largely of members of the women's council of the Christian church, for which Mrs. Hughey was reporter and secretary-treasurer and the Gay Friday Bridge club, which had been the source of many hours of pleasure for the honoree. The following attended: Mesdames W. A. Martin, E. L. Reese, Carl Dunlap, Bill Kinzer, Tom Eckard, E. C. Shearer, C. D. Lynch, Ethel West, Paul Hill, Don Hurst, F. W. O'Malley, Tom Lane, C. P. Woodward, C. E. Hutchins, Connt Thom, Bert Isbell, H. J. Lipold.

Various members of the Builders class, of which Mrs. Hughey is reporter, also called during the evening, bringing gifts.

Primary Children To Attend Party

Children of the primary department, First Baptist church, will attend a party and Christmas tree Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the church. The department, headed by Mrs. Wilson Hatcher as superintendent, is for boys and girls 6, 7, and 8 years of age.

MEETING POSTPONED

The meeting of the First Baptist W. M. S., formerly planned for yesterday, was postponed. The organization will meet again until the first Monday afternoon in January, when a general business session will be held.

Floyd and Charles Douglas Hatcher, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Hatcher, are ill of "flu."

GIVEN AWARD

A real smile of triumph is that which Miss Betty Hatson (above) is flashing. For she has just won the Mary Lewis scholarship for singing after a contest judged by a number of vocal artists.

High School Will Observe Yuletide Season Wednesday

Christmas will be observed by high school students at a special chapel program Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock.

The program will be opened by girls of the pep squad, who will sing several songs, directed by Mrs. E. L. Norman and Miss Angela Strnad. Songs by the boys and girls glee clubs, directed by Miss Josephine Cariker and Harry Kelley, will be sung, and a quintet composed of Clotilde McCallister, Marjorie Enloe, Dorothy Dodd, Howard Zimmerman, and Charles Frost will entertain.

The Rev. A. A. Hyde will lead a devotional period and will talk on some phase of Christmas, while Supt. R. B. Fisher will speak on the New Year.

FUNCTION FOR YOUNG PEOPLE IS GAY EVENT

GALA EVENING SPENT AT METHODIST CHURCH

About 50 young people of the senior department, First Methodist church, gathered at the church last evening for a festive Christmas party.

The church program was gay with Christmas decorations provided by Burk Mandy, Warren Finley, Wiley P. Jacobs, and Principal A. L. Patrick, and as guests they were served presentable holy and ping-pong parties with names of historical characters.

Included in an entertaining program were Christmas songs led by Howard Zimmerman, a Christmas reading by Mrs. William T. Fraser, and a quartet selection by Howard Zimmerman, Charles Frost, Marjorie Enloe, and Clotilde McCallister.

Games were played, a Christmas tree was held, and refreshments were served. Many gifts brought to the party will be given the community Christmas tree.

The event was under the direction of the recreation committee, composed of Louise Walstad, chairman, Howard Lane, and Harriett Hunkapillar. A. L. Patrick and Miss Ruth Siddons assisted the young people.

The informal party will be at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, the primary and beginners party, Friday afternoon after school, and the junior gathering Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

WITH flu in the community, everyone is warned against the dangers of colds just now. Colds pull down body resistance, and often pave the way for an attack of flu and its serious complications. In the present emergency, the wise course to follow is that outlined in Vick's Plan for better Control of Colds:

To Prevent Many Colds: At that first feeling of stuffiness or nasal irritation, snuffle or sneeze—Nature's usual warning that a cold is coming on—use Vicks Nose & Throat Drops, the new aid in preventing colds, Vicks Drops aid Nature in throwing off the infection that threatens. They prevent development of many colds.

To End a Cold Sooner: If a cold has developed, or strikes without warning, vigorous measures are necessary. At bedtime, apply Vicks Vapo-Rub. Its direct, double action—continuing through the night—brings quicker relief. During the day use the convenient Vicks Nose Drops every few hours as needed. They add to comfort—help shorten the cold.

Hopkins Scouts To Give Program Tomorrow Night

Boy Scout troop 18, Hopkins, will give a Parent's night program tomorrow night starting at 8 o'clock in the Phillips Community hall at Hopkins school No. 2. Parents of Scouts and others interested in the Boy Scout movement are invited to attend.

The boys have prepared an interesting program for the occasion.

The program will include:

- Assembly (bugle call).
- Entrance of troop with colors.
- Pledge of allegiance to the flag and the Scout oath.
- Welcome address by Scoutmaster John Shannon.
- Signalling "Welcome to our Parents and friends" by troop members.
- First aid skit (demonstrating the use of the Scout first aid kit and the necessity of carrying one.)
- Building of a signal tower on the stage.
- A talk on scouting by the chairman of the troop committee.
- Awarding of badges by the chairman.
- First aid demonstration:

 - Wolfe patrol—man with broken spine, cut on top of head and fractured arm between wrist and elbow.
 - Bear patrol—artificial respiration in case of drowning, asphyxiation by gas or shock.

- Three short skits by members of patrol.
- "Give me the beef steak." "At the railroad crossing." "Fresh Fish for sale."
- Campfire songs.
- Scoutmaster's five minutes.
- Repeat the First Scouts law.
- Taps (bugle).

GARNER TRACHER DIES
FORT WORTH, Dec. 20. (AP)—Funeral services for J. N. Ellis, 83, who first taught in Texas schools in the early sixties, will be held here this afternoon.

Ellis was an early teacher of Speaker John Garner when the speaker's father was a patron of the schools at Detroit, Tex.

Mrs. Ed Damon and daughter returned to their home in Kingsmill this afternoon.

POULTRY—

were given as follows: For best cock, C. J. Moutt; best cockerel, Mrs. Nick Graetz; best hen, Archie Hibler; best pullet, J. Billingslea; best young pen, James Massay; best old pen, Archie Hibler; best buck and best doe, Leslie Jones; best doe and litter, Elmer Rigdon.

The show was judged by Dr. George P. Groat of Panhandle. A. A. Tampeke, head of the department of vocational agriculture in McLean high school, was manager of the show, and John Harding of McLean high was secretary.

High Wind Fills Road With Snow

Last night's strong wind drifted the north-south road to the caliche pit east of the city until it was found impossible for trucks to get through this morning, Charlie Mullen of the employment board said. He has had several trucks hauling caliche to be used on the park walls.

More than 50 men went to work this morning shoveling snow and clearing drains ditches after yesterday's thaw, which left pools of water in many places. Street crossings were dangerous slippery this morning and efforts were to be made to clean them as soon as the ice melted sufficiently.

Driving was also dangerous on the slippery streets and many motorists took the precaution to have chains put on this morning.

Seabury Cracks Whip At Jimmy's Friend, Betty

NEW YORK, Dec. 20. (AP)—The Seabury whip which has whistled over the heads of officeholders more than two years cracked sharply again today at former Mayor James W. Walker. Tammany Hall, two state supreme court justices, a borough president, a city commissioner, and even the brown-eyed actress, Betty Compton.

Fort the first time in his inquiry into a city's political sin, Samuel Seabury mentioned Miss Compton by name. Heretofore it has always been an "unnamed person" to whom certain monies were paid from (presumably) the funds of Walker, then mayor.

Seabury referred several times by name to Betty Compton, the actress who sailed for Europe on the same boat with Walker and who has been his companion at several European resorts. Both are abroad.

Setting forth that a check for $7,500, drawn against Mayor Walker's account, was paid to Betty Compton, and that securities totaling $41,666.92 were paid to her from the account of Russell T. Sherwood, missing fiscal agent of Walker, Seabury said:

"No reason has been suggested why Sherwood, the $3,000-a-year accountant, should give Betty Compton securities of any such value."

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Dec. 20. (AP)—Reports that Canada and Argentine were competing sharply and offering wheat at lower prices led to early downturns today in grain markets here. Prospects that the United States government crop report, expected tomorrow, would make an unfavorable exhibit failed to act as an immediate offset.

Opening at 1/4-3/4 setback, Chicago wheat futures held near the initial range. Corn started 1/4-3/4 down and subsequently altered little.

Wheat closed unsettled, 1/4-3/4 under yesterday's finish, corn 1/4-3/4 off to 1/4-3/4 up, oats unchanged to 1/4-3/4 down, and provisions unchanged to 20 cents decline.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 20. (AP)—Cotton opened a shade easier today as Liverpool cables came in lower than expected. First trades here showed losses of 2 to 3 points, but the market rallied on trade buying and the report to the census bureau that ginnings for the last period ending December 13, totaled 454,287 bales lower than expected.

The market ruled very quiet all morning, the next approach of the Christmas holidays apparently influencing traders not to operate to any large extent. There was some liquidation of January in advance of first notice day Friday. The more active months were a shade easier in sympathy with other markets. March trading down to 6.05 and May to 6.14 or 4 to 5 points under the earlier highs and 3 to 5 points under yesterday's close.

Near noon, the market continued quiet and at the lows.

Mighty McCall Is Carbon Copy Of Leo Baldwin

By BILL PARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer.

Husky Scott McCall, who lumbers and like giant in slow motion in the Masonic Home backfield, is a carbon copy of the former sensational Leo Baldwin who starred for Wichita Falls high school, and later for the University of Texas.

Big McCall is a slow starter as Baldwin was. He droops his wide shoulders and lets his big arms dangle down gorilla fashion, when he is preparing to receive the snapback from center. That was also the way Baldwin played. Memories of Leo Baldwin come floating back when McCall starts with the ball. He steps here and there, picking select holes, stepping over players on the ground as he slowly stabs his way through his opponents.

Baldwin was good. McCall is good. The Corsicans Tigers, who battle Masonic Home for the Texas Interscholastic League state championship football crown, are going to find it difficult to tame McCall. Minus their huge, charging quarterback, the Masons appear to be just an ordinary high school football team, but with Scott McCall in the line-up, they take on the appearance of a team capable of whipping most any high school aggregation in the land.

Those who never had the luck to see Leo Baldwin play some of the football that stamped him as one of the Interscholastic League's great all time stars, would see the ghost of Baldwin, in the playing of Scott McCall.

Scout Council To Meet At Panhandle

Hyde, Pampa, will select a nominating committee to select officers for the coming year. The annual meeting will be held in Pampa January 10 and officers for the year will be elected.

Members of the executive committee from Pampa are Rev. Hyde, M. K. Brown, J. O. Gillham, George Pringle, D. C. H. Schreyer, John Hessey, Rev. James Todd, Jr. and Harry E. Hoare.

LETTERS—

I get to see you. I am five years old. I try to be a good little girl and help my mother. I wash dishes and sweep floors for her. Santa, I would like to have a little accordion and some new shoes, if you have them. If you haven't anything you have for me will be O. K. Your little friend, DOROTHY JUNE JOHNSON.

Dearest Santa Claus: I am waiting for your coming and I hope I will get to see you and talk to you. All the girls and boys have been trying to tell me there isn't a Santa Claus but I still believe there is. You may bring me a story book, candy, doll, doll buggy, fruit, shoes, dress, purple, and a ribbon for my pigeon. LOVE IRENE POOLOS, P. S. Call me over the telephone when you're here. My number is 312.

SANTA—

has all the keys. My little mirror tells me so."

Santa threw up his hands and dropped into a chair puffing from all his hunting.

"I might have known," he said. "I'm not through with that witch family yet. Why that's the witch's brother. He must have been here last night."

They all sat and thought for a minute, and then Pincocchio stepped out and said, "Santa. I believe it's up to me to go get these keys back for you. I know the road and I wouldn't be so afraid as some toy that hasn't been there. You can't go yourself, because you've got to be here to see that everything goes all right."

"Well, I hate to trust you little things in such bad country," said Santa. "But I guess I'll have to. But take good care of yourselves. Here's a little gold bell. If you get into any great difficulties, just ring it, and I will hear you."

"That dwarf must be very strong to haul off the keys to the toy trains and carts," observed Inga.

"That's just what I was thinking," said Pincocchio. "He isn't much bigger than we are but he's very strong. We'll have to find some way of trapping him."

So they thought very hard as their little coach rumbled along the woodland paths. Hours went by and the crisp cool air of the woods began to make them hungry.

Suddenly right along the path they saw a cunning little house, all white with a bright red chimney.

"It would be so much more fun to stop here," said Pincocchio. "So they pulled up their six little horses and stopped outside the house. Pincocchio rapped on the door but nobody answered.

"Hello, there!" he shouted. And nobody answered. So he stepped inside and Inga followed. There was the cunningest little table all set with de'l dishes, with places for two, and there was a steaming lunch on the table.

"Oh, let's sit down and eat," said Pincocchio.

"All right," said Inga, and she slipped off her pretty white wrap and ate down.

But just as they started to drink the little cups of milk standing there, they both dropped right off to sleep. You see, the lunch had been placed there by the dwarf and it was bewitched. He was afraid to have the dolls come to his underground home, not that they could do anything to him, but he knew that all the good fairies would help them if they learned why the dolls were coming.

Just as soon as they were asleep he sneaked out of a cupboard where on their little feet and hand-cuffs he had been hiding, and put chains on their little hands, and carried them off to his dark, underground home. He put them in a back room, and pushed a rock in the doorway, and left them.

The room where he had put the two dolls was so cold and dark Inga began to cry.

It seemed they had been there for hours and hours when they heard a queer little gnawing sound right under their feet.

"What's that?" cried Inga, jumping to one side.

And just then a little pile of dirt seemed to push up, and a little brown mole came up out of the ground.

"How do you do, folks?" he said. "I knew you were here so I just made my way in from the hillside. Don't cry any more, Inga. You two just follow me."
