LIBBY TO GET TWO MILLION

'MODEST SUM' GOES TO HEIR OF REYNOLDS

FIFTEEN MILLION WILL BE USED TO BUILD MEMORIAL

ENDOWMENT PROVIDED

FIRST WIFE AND CHILD WILL ALSO SHARE IN LEGACY

GREENSBORO, N. C., Jan. 21 (AP)—

The Greensboro Daily News says it learns "from a reliable source" the infant son of Libby Holman Reynolds and the two-year-old daughter of the former Anne Cannon will each receive about $2,000,000 of the estate of their father, the late Smith Reynolds, while the remainder will be used for an endowment under terms of settlement now being worked out by representatives of the Reynolds, Cannon, and Holman families.

The paper says the residue of the estate, after provision for the two children of the tobacco heir who was found fatally shot at his Winslow-Salem home last July 6, is estimated at $15,000,000, which would be used to provide a memorial for young Reynolds and his father, the late R. J. Reynolds.

Announcement that Libby Holman Reynolds, former Broadway singer, was willing to relinquish claim to the bulk of her husband's estate after a "modest" settlement for herself and her baby was made a few days ago by her father, Alfred Holman, Cincinnati.

A settlement of approximately $1,000,000 was made upon Anne Cannon, who was Reynolds' first wife, and their daughter, Anne Cannon Reynolds, 11, at the time she obtained a Reno divorce six days before the 20-year-old heir to millions married Libby Holman in November 1931.

The Daily News says A. L. Brooks, Greensboro attorney, is representing Mrs. Joseph F. Cannon, Concord, grandmother and guardian of Anne Cannon Reynolds, in negotiations for the settlement.

He was quoted as saying upon his return here from Washington today that the negotiations are "progressing rapidly" but he was unwilling to discuss the proposed settlement further.

BEST POULTRY DISPLAY IN SHOW OWNED BY WHITE DEER CITIZEN; PAMPANS WIN 4 SWEEPSTAKES

Wheeler Raiser Has Best Cockerel In Event

POULTRY raisers removed the prizes of their flocks from the Pampa Poultry show Saturday afternoon and many of them went to Pampa stores to get the prizes of merchandise offered by the merchants. The prizes were large enough to justify the trouble necessary in preparing the birds for exhibition.

Substantial attendance marked the show to the end. Those in charge of it were well pleased with the event. The honor of having the best display went to J. R. Bertrand of White Deer. Sweepstakes prizes were awarded as follows: Best cock, Rhode Island Red entered by Mr. Bertrand; best cockerel, also a Red, entered by J. H. Walls of Wheeler; best hen, a Buff Orpington, entered by Mrs. J. R. Henry of Pampa; best pullet, an American White Leghorn, entered by Allen Hudgel.

Jim Collins Honored as Most Useful Young Man

Hail Jim Collins, young civic leader, as the most useful Pampa citizen under 35 years of age in 1932!

Collins received the National Junior chamber of commerce award at the Jaycee banquet Friday evening because of his having been selected by a committee of six business men who were ineligible for the award.

He was president of the Junior chamber during most of 1932 and was active in many civic activities. He is an employee of the Southwestern Public Service company.

LIONS SHOW NO SPIRIT BUT ARE KILLED ANYWAY

Cats Shot Close To Camp of Missouri 'Hunters'

WOLF ISLAND, Mo., Jan. 21 (AP)—Denver M. Wright's lions were ready for the taxidermist tonight. They died today before the guns of the St. Louis leather manufacturer and his hunters who used them as prey in a hunt designed to bring to Missouri all the glories of an African big game hunt.

However, the hunters agreed the huge cats appeared utterly incapable of living up to the standard expected of hunted lions. They refused to leave the vicinity of the camp on Hog Island in the Mississippi river near here, they played about on the sand near the barbed wire barricade erected for protection of the hunters, and they paid little attention to the hunters who tried to goad them into some semblance of savagery.

When the hunt was decided on today the members of the expedition armed themselves, some with rifles and others with tin pans so as to drive the lions to the willow underbrush on the island.

Wright and three fellow hunters approached one of the animals which arose and attempted to rush the men. Wright wounded the animal and his son, Charles, killed it with another shot, at the edge of the river.

The other lion, after being produced by a member of the party with a long pole, was dispatched by Wright, his son, Ted Bennett, Dorena, Mo., and John Clift, East Prairie, who riddled the animal with gunfire. Both animals were close to the hunters' camp when shot.

The hunters, disappointed at the lack of spirit shown by the quarry, said the rainy and dismal weather may have dampened the lions' spirits.

Wright said he planned to bring the carcasses back to his suburban home in Brentwood where they will be mounted and placed beside the two young lionesses which were shot by interlopers on a previous hunt staged by him.

Robert Paul and Joyce Certain of Miami will leave Worley hospital today.

Roy Williams, manager of the Worley hospital, is ill with influenza.

LESS EXPENSIVE MATERIAL IN POST OFFICE WILL LOWER COST

MANY changes in material to be used in Pampa federal building have been made to lower the cost, according to a list received by Glover & Boyington, local contractor, who placed the third low bid at the original letting last November. All bids were rejected as being too high.

INDIANAN FLAYS MOVE

SENATE DEMO LEADER SHOUTS 'CHEAP POLITICS'

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (AP)—President elect Roosevelt's agreement to discuss war debts with Great Britain in connection with "world economic problems" was hailed today by Chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee as "a matter of very great and heartening significance."

While Borah was throwing his powerful support back of the incoming policy in a formal statement, some of Mr. Roosevelt's friends on Capitol Hill interpreted his move as the first step toward joint consideration of the debt and other international problems that the forthcoming world economic conference.

The Hoover-Roosevelt communiqué of yesterday announcing the incoming administration would receive British debt representations stirred up a torrid Senate debate during the day in which Robinson, of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, branded as "cheap politics" a change by Robinson, Indiana Republican, that it was "usurpation of authority."

The Republican contended Congress, with full power on the subject, had "closed the door" to further debt discussions, but the Democratic leader replied it would be an act of gross discourtesy for this country to refuse to discuss the question with Great Britain.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21 (AP)—Recognizing the support of Republican independents in the recent campaign, President-Elect Roosevelt virtually has decided to place one of that group in his cabinet.

A source close to the incoming chief executive envisaged the possibility of nationwide interchange of goods—and possibly the use of the "moneys" of the various exchanges among themselves to aid the process. Other economists doubt the process.

Rites For Mobeetic Resident Are Held

Funeral services for J. D. Luttrell, 64, who died at his home in Mobeetic yesterday afternoon, were conducted by the Rev. W. B. Harrison in Mobeetic yesterday. Four nephews, E. F. Luttrell, E. D. Roberts, Tom Roberts, and J. D. Roberts, all of Pampa, attended services. Paul Carmichael also attended.

Mr. Luttrell is also survived by one sister, Mrs. Dora Roberts, and her brother, H. H. Luttrell, both of Mobeetic. Mr. Luttrell had been a resident of Mobeetic for the last four years. He had been in failing health for several months. He was well known in Pampa, having visited here on several occasions.

SCRIP AND BARTER BEING TRIED FOR MONEY

QATS for a haircut! Real estate for coonskins! After a certain amount of such trade, a barter exchange needs money. The above shows some of the new "money" circulating in parts of the nation.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Does American need more money? In the form of barter and scrip substitutes for money are springing up to aid the unemployed. This is the first of three articles discussing these developments.

By J. R. BRACKETT

NEW YORK, Jan. 21 (AP)—Unemployed America is making a new "money"—not silver coins or greenbacks—but scrip used to build up barter.

Product worth millions of dollars are being "swapped" in the United States and between $1,000,000 and $2,000,000 in some form of scrip money now is in circulation, according to the estimates of Jacob Baker, operations director of the Emergency Exchange association.

At 150 groups are formally organized to facilitate this swapping which has sprung from the cross-roads to the status of a real aid to the unemployed.

In their further development, Baker and others interested in barter's extension envisage the possibility of nationwide interchange of goods—and possibly the use of the "moneys" of the various exchanges among themselves to aid the process. Other economists doubt the process.

Police Drive 500 Miles Friday Night

Chief of Police Jno. V. Andrews became more convinced Friday night that it is just as impossible to catch tire thieves by patrolling the city in cars. While six officers, regulars and special men were covering more than 500 miles between dark and dawn, five tires were stolen from four cars.

Each of the police cars registered more than 90 miles during the night. One of the cars drove along the streets, where four of the tires were stolen, a few minutes before the owner of one of the pilfered cars chased the thief away according to a check of time.

Another attempt to stop the loss of cars, tires, and accessories was being undertaken last night by the enlarged force of officers.

STATE EDUCATION BOARD URGES 5 SENIOR COLLEGES; ABSORPTION OF W. T. S. T. C. BY TEXAS TECH

Drastic Curtailment Throughout State Recommended

AUSTIN, Jan. 21 (AP)—Drastic curtailment of the work of the Texas State Teachers' colleges was advocated by the state board of education in its biennial report, made public today. As a combined economy and efficiency move the board suggested the transformation of most of the colleges into junior colleges and the possible abolition of one or more.

The board recommended the consolidation of the two institutions at Denton, the college of industrial arts, and the North Texas State Teachers' college. This combined institution would be retained as a senior college. The other senior teachers' college would be Sam

The curtain was painted about two years ago by Mrs. Alma Turman, local teacher of painting and one of the outstanding artists of the Panhandle. The curtain is really a huge painting of the sea at sunset. Little Theater members made trip after trip to the city auditorium last week just to enjoy the painting. "It's more beautiful than one can imagine," Mrs. E. M. Conley, president of the Little Theater, said. "Save in the sky, I have never seen a sunset as beautiful."

By turning on blue lights the scene becomes the sea in moonlight. A mechanical moon is being devised by Stage Manager Paul M. LeBeuf's staff of "chemical engineers," R. B. Allen, Art Swanson, and Ed Damon. The staff will also give the sound of the sea and motion to the waves painted by Mrs. Turman.

The truth of her accusations against John J. Halloran, wealthy lumberman whom she seeks to involve as accessory to the crime, was under the attack of Halloran's counsel, when the convicted murderer admitted placing a portion of Miss Samuelson's body in a small metal trunk.

Pampan Crawls Half Mile With Broken Limbs

William F. Basham, Pampa youth, crawled almost one-half mile although suffering from a broken arm, broken knee cap and possibly serious back and head injuries, last night after he according to reports fell from the rear door of the Ford World and Denver motor coach. He collapsed as he reached the farm home of Tom Catlin, about four miles east of the city.

The injured youth was rushed to Worley hospital in a Stephenson Mortuary ambulance and the full extent of his injuries was not known late last night. It took the plucky boy more than an hour to crawl from the right-of-way to the farm home, against a terrific wind and through the breaks.

He was able to tell physicians at the hospital that he was going to LeFors and that he thought there was a smoking car on the rear of the battery car, known as the "doodle-bug", and that he opened the rear door and fell from the moving vehicle.

LOVE DESTROYS FEAR: There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear; because fear hath torment. He that feareth is not made perfect in love.

MEETING CONDITIONS
We know not where Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson's program of economy may lead, but there is much to commend in her preliminary statements urging reductions in operating costs rather than elimination of necessary functions. There is danger, in any movement to reduce governmental costs, that the grain will be blown away with the chaff, i. e., that what is worthwhile and necessary to the proper functioning of government and society will be wiped out along with non-essentials.

There is room, in Austin and in Pampa, for further reductions in the costs which make taxes necessary at a time when many people and numerous firms are losing money—when taxes become charges against the capital investments. There should be, in the reduction of costs, a sharing of readjustments by those holding offices and jobs. While some consolidations can and should be made, essential services can be retained if operating costs, including salaries, are equalized. And by this sort of equalization, we mean not only as between various public offices and services, but likewise with the ability of taxpayers to pay. It is not a matter of what we would like to do, but what we can do. Delay will prove costly and project any readjustments into a period where they should not be made—near election time. Equalization of assessments must be given close attention, but not now.

On Tax Payments

It is a matter of regret, as well as concern, to a number of local firms that they cannot meet their taxes in full and on time. It is a matter of cash and collections, rather than lack of accounts receivable in which potential profits accrue. The ordinary method of tax collecting is to collect all taxes at one time. In good years a surplus is available for this purpose, but not now. And if no surplus is set aside for taxes, loans are made for the purpose. But loans are not possible in many present instances, because they were necessary to meet other year-end demands.

Under these conditions, it is obvious that some adjustment to tax payments to business conditions is necessary. We are of the opinion that uncertainty of these adjustments is a deplorable factor. Hope of interest and penalty remissions inspires many persons not to pay taxes who really could. We believe that, under present conditions, no penalty should be charged. The purpose for which the penalty was devised is not now served in most instances.

Tax supported institutions do not need all their income in one month. They do not, as a matter of fact, require it in two or any given number of installments. They do, however, require steady incomes. The question naturally arises: Can tax payments be scaled to some system in keeping with these gradual demands. We commend this question to authorities who make tax regulations. We feel sure that there are firms which could, willingly with interest, pay taxes in installments which would serve public needs. Such a plan, with all possibility of interest remittance removed, would encourage tax paying to the fullest extent of the ability of individuals and firms. We readily admit that no plan of collections is without possibility of abuse. Much depends upon the spirit of the citizenship and the willingness of all to help. . . . In this connection, it is pertinent to say that many of the oil companies and firms allied with the oil industry have shown commendable cooperation in paying their taxes early. The schools, particularly, are beneficiaries of this fine spirit. The exceptions to the rule do not detract from the praise which belongs to those who pay promptly when they are able to do so. This community and this county rest, in tax stability, upon the oil industry, and it is vastly to the relief of taxpayers that the long life of operations hereabout is assured.

Of Income Taxes

Beginning Monday, this column will run a series of brief articles on making of personal income taxes; Those who must pay these taxes, those who must make out returns even though their exemptions exceed the levy, and all interested in knowing how the tax is applied should read these articles. As an introduction, we present here a thumbnail summary:

WHO? Single persons who had net income of $1,000 or more or gross income of $5,000 or more, and married couples who had net income of $2,500 or more or gross income of $5,000 or more must file returns.

WHEN? The filing period begins January 1 and ends March 15, 1933.

WHERE? Collector of internal revenue for the district in which the person lives or has his principal place of business.

HOW? See instructions on Forms 1040A and 1040.

WHAT? Four per cent normal tax on the first $4,000 in excess of the personal exemption and credits. Eight per cent normal tax on the balance of net income. Surtax on net income in excess of $6,000.

DON'T prepare your return without first studying the instructions on the form.

DON'T procrastinate. Early assembling of data permits a careful consideration of all tax problems.

DON'T destroy the memoranda from which your return was prepared.

DON'T omit explanation when such information is essential to an intelligent audit. Attach memoranda to your return.

Soviet Abandons Grain Collecting System for 'Tax'

MOSCOW, Jan. 21. (AP)—Vyacheslav M. Molotov, president of the union council of peoples' commissaries and Joseph Stalin, leader of the Communist party, today issued a decree canceling the present grain collecting system and substituting a "tax" in kind.

Under this plan the Kremlin expects to quell sluggishness of the peasantry which resulted in greatly reduced deliveries to the government in 1932 and a consequent serious food shortage for a large part of the population. The order, which had been expected for some time, gives the peasants the advantage of knowing in advance their obligations to the government, contrasted to the collection method under which the amount they were called on to deliver to the state depended on the actual size of the crop and the more they produced the more the government took.

The decree fixes 1933 quotas for collectives and individuals in the form of a special tax, consisting of a percentage of the crop from each hectare (2.47 acres) calculated on the plan for spring sowing and the actual sown acreage of the previous winter crop for which the government will pay the usual fixed prices.

MONGOLS RATED TOUGH FIGHTERS AND ONLY LACK OF LEADER HELD AS PREVENTING THEIR UPRISING

By JOHN GOETTE, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

CHIA HO, Mongolia, Jan. 21. (INS)—The utmost political importance attaches to this section of Asia, sealed capital of Outer Mongolia from whence Soviet Russia directs its policy of Mongol absorption. China has so far encroached upon Mongol sovereignty and soil that this part of Inner Mongolia is officially known as the Chinese province of Suiyuan.

Added to that, I listened to Mongols seated beside me about the sheep dung fire burning in the open brazier of the yurt, discussing the Japanese seizure of Manchuria and their armed penetration into Mongol territory not very far to the east.

All hands agreed that evening that it is but lack of a leader which prevents the Mongols from rising and reasserting the birthright which is theirs and which the historical Khanz Kublai and Genghis, carried to the very gates of Vienna seven centuries ago.

The Mongols are tough fighters. They look down on the Chinese and the latter fear them when they get on the loose. No Chinese bandit will enter Mongol bounds and in recent scraps between Mongol and Chinese troops, it was the latter who lost out. However, China has its way with the Mongolians today because the Mongols are too scattered to care.

It is hard to believe the young Mongol who kept feeding the fire across from me could have done the things which he has. The flames threw his flat, high cheek-boned profile into soft relief. He seemed more girl than bandit raider, killer and torturer. Victims slood and burned are attributed to his hands.

Like the others squatting on the floor of the yurt with me, he was temporarily leading the life of a simple herder and trader. The women will, undoubtedly come again, however, when he will turn back to his calling. In the meantime, he is a considerate, gentle, intriguing host.

The Chinese pioneers in this high spot of Asia are no less toughy. As a guide for the trip there was a tall Chinese whose exploits as a bandit leader and ex-Christian soldier in the Sino-Mongolian border were no less stirring to listen to than those of the Mongol host. While they do not come as armed invaders, it is the knowledge that the Mongols are for the moment easy going and that the Chinese government is behind their encroachment, which carries the Chinese farmers into this area.

Symbolic of this occupation was the caravan of camels and ponies which I passed going over the pass. The Chinese were carrying lumber for their houses, supplies, and most of all, the boards fashioned for coffins. The latter was the simplest: "We are settling down forever. We have even brought the coffins in which we will eventually sleep in Mongol soil."

'MUMMY' WILL SHOW ART OF MAKE-UP MAN

KARLOFF AGAIN SEEN IN SINISTER ROLE OF THE FILMS

Karloff, noted creator of sinister screen roles, and today acknowl- edged as filmdom's supreme make-up artist, has achieved a new and startling masterpiece of the make-up which he uses in his latest picture, "The Mummy," at the La Nora theater today, Monday and Tuesday.

Surpassing even the hideous "Frankenstein" in cleverness, the "mummy" make-up took Karloff eight tedious hours to don. The transformation of the actor in the ho-ho, 700-year-old mummy was accomplished in the following manner:

The face, of course, was the first consideration. It was dampened with water, and then completely covered with thin strips of cotton even the eyelids were not spared this nerve-wrecking process. Collo-dion was then applied, and the mask touched up with spirit gum to hold it in place. Work was stopped at intervals in order that a drying machine might be applied to set the facial wrinkles. The next step was the pinning back of the ears. Make-up clay was used to give Karloff's head the serrated appearance of a mummy. Twenty-two different varieties of make-up paint were then applied to the actor's withered countenance.

Swathed from head to foot in bandages which had first been acid rooted and passed through a warm oven, Karloff was ready to step on the set and submit to another eight hours of grueling work before the cameras. His supporting cast in this fantastic story of the reincarnation of an Egyptian mummy included Zita Johann, David Manners, Arthur Byron, Edward Van Sloan, and Bramwell Fletcher, Karl Freund directing.

It is interesting to note that Karloff occupies the same dressing room at the La Nora as the actor who was by another make-up master, the late Lon Chaney.

SOWELL FATALLY HURT JACKSONVILLE, Jan. 21. (AP)— Jesse James Sowell, 33, was killed last night after jumping or falling from a moving truck. He and two companions had stopped their car in the rain to adjust its lights and when a truck approached, Sowell stepped out of the way and waved to the driver. As the truck turned aside he fell against it.

Pampan Denies Vets Placing Price On Patriotism in Demanding Bonus

"In asking for immediate cash payment of their adjusted service certificates, world war veterans are merely demanding the same recognition that the government has extended to others since the armistice was signed," said a statement issued here by Commander J. W. Woodworth of Pampa Post No. 1657, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, in commenting on the charge of the National Economy League that the veterans are "selling his patriotism for price."

"There were 7,000 war contractors who received adjusted pay amounting to billions, directly and indirectly, after the war was over," declared Commander Woodworth, "and many of them had invalid and legal contracts which were violated by congress. They were paid in cash."

Railroad operators received a guaranteed income during the war equal to the average return for three previous years, which was the most prosperous period of railroading in the United States. In addition, the railroads were given $3,000,000 a day extra pay for the next months after being released from government operation. Their adjustments in pay amounting to between one and two billion dollars. They were paid in cash.

There were about 500,000 federal civilian employees during the war. All of the employees, who received $2,500 a year or less, had their pay adjusted and the average employee received a cash bonus of $1,000 extra pay.

Foreign countries, our allies, during the war, were loaned millions of dollars by the government after the war was over. They used a part of this money to pay their own debts on companies and business aggregating as high, in some instances, as $7,290 each. When the railroads and war contractors and others received their cash adjustments from the government, there was nothing said by those who today compose the National Economy League about 'selling their pa-

South Plains Has Greater Rainfall Than Pankhandle

Pankhandle precipitation in December, as in most other months, varied greatly as to towns and counties. Gray county statistics, compiled here, show this area to receive about the average rainfall for upper plains counties. Rains were heavier on the lower plains. Total December rainfall (including melted snow as precipitation, was as follows in towns reporting: Amarillo 37 of an inch, Canadian 1.15, Canyon 50, Childress 5.05, Claude 1.29, Dalhart .86, Dimmitt 1.28, Pollett .68, Friona 1.28, Lubbock 2.48, Miami 1.94, Paducah 3.95, Pampa 1.27, Plainview 2.23, Quanah 6.10, Shamrock 3.25, Snyder 4.10, Spearman 1.06, Tulia 1.67.

These reports were received by O. H. E. Hinkle, local federal cooperative weather observer. "Triumph for a price." If this theory is just and equitable as far as corporations and civilians are concerned, then this theory is perfectly proper and ethical in regard to veterans.

NOVEL FILM'S HANDLING SAID TO BE CLEVER

DREAMING PAINTER OF SIGNS MEETS HIS IDEAL GIRL

Distinctly American in theme, yet marking a radical departure from American methods of treatment, "Face in the Sky," which comes to the Rex theater today, promises to be one of the most interesting screen offerings since the coming of talking pictures. A notable trio of film favorites, Spencer Tracy, Marion Nixon, and Stuart Erwin, have the leading roles.

The plot concerns a traveling sign-painter, always dreaming of his glorious future. He meets a little country girl who is likewise a dreamer. With the aid of his clumsy helper, the painter assists her in escaping from her drab existence on a Vermont farm, only to fall in love with her. They are separated when the farmer overtakes them, but meet again under unique circumstances in New York City.

In the handling of the story, Lachman is said to have made his American audiences the ability that has made him a sensation in European directorial circles. One of the few American painters to be awarded the distinction of the Legion of Honor by the French government for his work, Lachman brings a keen sense of artistry to his screen efforts.

Tracy, hitherto famous for his "hard-boiled" portrayals in pictures, is cast in an entirely different type of role. Miss Nixon is cast as the New England girl whose dreams lead her, beyond the confines of the farm and whose dainty features become the "face in the sky." Erwin here returns to the "dumb" roles that originally made him famous.

Sam Hardy, Sarah Padden, Frank McLean, and Russell Simpson head the supporting cast.

Amendment Can Work Hardship On Home Owner

That the summary tax sales amendment passed last fall was very unwise, as it will work hardship on some tax collection officials and loan associations of Texas. One official, writing to County Attorney Sherman White, said that it is very apparent that should a mortgagee be unable to pay a mortgage, the amendment would force the mortgagee to take a chance upon the summary sale of its security under such a law, and it would therefore be forced to pay all delinquent taxes immediately on default by the mortgagor. This would mean that an immediate foreclosure sale of the home owner for repayment to it of the tax money so expended, and upon failure to make such payment, the mortgage company, in many cases, would be forced as a matter of business policy to foreclose its entire indebtedness in accordance with the provisions of its mortgage for failure to pay taxes, and thereafter foreclose its lien upon such failure to pay the delinquent taxes and the total debt.

Every reputable mortgage concern wishes to carry its debtors as far as possible, and up to the present time, the method of collecting state taxes has been a great help, both to the individual owners and to the mortgage company as well. The amendment would force time to pay and increase the notice of foreclosure. The recent law reducing the fees of the district attorney, the sheriff, and the district clerk has been a great help but this amendment if enforced, will destroy all the good that was expected to come from such prior legislation.

Snow Falls In Southern Part Of California

By The Associated Press. Freshish mid-winter winds which brought torrential rains and blizzards together with property damage and various climatic changes to scattered parts of the nation had died down today, but the devastating effects remained. Idaho and other western states presented scenes of snow drifts that piled as high as six feet, while Southern California checked the havoc wrought by a drenching downpour of rain accompanied by a gale that endangered lives and shipping.

Most of Money Taken in Bank Robbery Found

Cedell Chambers, 21-year-old local youth, is in jail at Fort Worth charged with the robbery of the Grapevine bank in Tarrant county December 29. Of the loot taken by him, a $200,000, and by a youth, named Les Stewart, all but about $300 was recovered. The loot originally was about $2,800. Chambers led officers to a farm fence where a sum in currency was recovered. Stewart, who was the first to be charged with the robbery, had failed to find the cache, and many farmers had searched for it. Chambers' slaying was quickly substantiated by Los Angeles authorities who had held him for investigation. The youth was taken to Fort Worth by Constable Frank Jordan and John Sturgeon, local attorney, after he fugitive voluntarily gave up here.

UNVEILING "THE MUMMY"

Scene from "The Mummy" at LaNora.

GODINO SIAMESE TWINS ARE IDENTICAL IN TEMPERAMENT

There have been but two sets of male Siamese (joined together) twins—Chang and Eng, brought to America from Siam sixty years ago, who have been dead nearly fifty years; and Lucio and Simplicio Godino, who were born on the Island of Samar in the Philippines 21 years ago.

There are no other male joined-together twins on earth. The Godino boys are unique in many ways. They are the only ones who ever received higher educations. They have been developed into athletes by long years of scientific training. They are linguists and they are musicians of professional standing.

Lucio and Simplicio are more closely in sympathy mentally, physically, and spiritually than have been other Siamese twins. Their community of tastes and feeling is remarkable. In this way they seem to be one individual. A desire to swim, to golf, to drive their motor car, to dance or to read seems to register in their minds instantaneously. They become tired at the same time, and sleep comes to them as it would to a single person. They awake together. Lucio and Simplicio like the same food and drink, and they become hungry together in many ways. These things have not been true with other twins. In fact, the two sets now alive—girls of course—have not even bordered upon this communion. When one of the Godino boys is ill the other twin has not been the least affected. However, in all cases in the past, when one Siamese twin has died the other has survived but a few minutes. But it is a striking fact that the apparently twin twin did not show any noticeable likeness until it made his last breath.

However, the Godino boys, with trained minds, bodies and with artistic temperaments, have seemed always to be more nearly one individual than have the few others of their type known on earth. This may be due to their remarkable course of instruction or it may be due to the living tie that binds them. Nobody really knows, not even one of the scores of noted scientists that have examined them.

The Godino boys with their charming wives, will be seen at the La Nora theater Wednesday and Thursday, February 1 and 2.

'Ay Tank Ay Go Back to U. S.' Says Greta Garbo

STOCKHOLM, Jan. 21. (AP)—The glamorous Greta Garbo hasn't said "Ay tank maybe ay go back to United States" yet—but it was learned from reliable sources today that she would be on her way in a week or two.

From the time she left the American shores last July 31, after her simple farewell to Hollywood—"ay tank ay go back to Sweden"—the movie star has been as secretive in Europe as she ever was in the United States. She spent most of the time quietly with her family on an island near here. Later during her visit, she appeared more often in public, going to theaters, shopping and riding horses. She appeared in better health.

"I shall tell you nothing of my plans," was her plain warning when she arrived here and was guided away from a great crowd by her brother, Sven Gustafson. Greta Garbo was a dancer in Sweden before she went to Hollywood.

PARIS, Jan. 21 (AP)—A regal trousseau of luxurious silks and furs, designed for the bride of a Roman prince, drew the eyes of fashionable Europe to the recent wedding of Princess Sveva Vittoria Colonna and Prince di Savoia which took place in the historic old Colonna palace in Rome.

A TROUSSEAU befitting a queen was designed for wear by Princess Sveva Vittoria Colonna at her recent marriage to Prince Pio di Savoia at Rome. Sketched above is her wedding gown of white satin with a five-yard train coming from the waist. The dress buttons in back and the veil is of tulle. One of her evening gowns was in white tulle, with a full skirt flaring just above the knee. Another was of blue chiffon made on princess lines and buttoning in front.

The evening gowns in the trousseau vary from designs of slim sophistication to more youthful effects. One is a black crepe model fashioned on flowing Greek lines, another is of white tulle with a shoulder cape seamed to resemble a butterfly's wings, while a third is of white cloque with a decolletage threaded into a necklace of the fabric.

For cocktails and afternoon parties Princess Vittoria has a black crepe frock with an openwork yoke and short sleeves and a pale blue marocain fashioned on the same lines.

A coat of beige wool trimmed with brown astrakan and a traveling coat of brown corduroy velvet are other additions to her trousseau.

TALKS BROADCAST BY NATIONAL LEADERS ARE HEARD

With main speakers—presidents of the Junior and senior national chambers of commerce—in New York and Washington sending brief but inspiring messages over a radio network, Pampa's Junior Chamber observed the 13th anniversary of the U. S. organization in a banquet and dance at the Schneider hotel Friday evening.

In concluding the banquet which was attended by one hundred Jaysees, guests, and ladies, Judge Newton P. Willis, guest toastmaster, called upon Judge W. R. Ewing to present the National Junior Chamber's award to a Pampa citizen under 35 years of age who rendered the best civic service in 1932. The medal was given Jim Collins, president of the Jaysees in 1932. Mr. Collins responded with a pledge of continuing to give freely of his time to civic needs.

President W. T. Fraser opened the meeting while the Thrill-Harmony orchestra was playing a lively thrill-harmony prelude. Then he turned the meeting to Judge Willis. Entertainments included tuba solo by Emory Smith; vocal solo, playing in accompaniment, Emmitt Smith; vocal solo, Miss Irma Groom, accompanied by Miss Jackie Jones; and a sing-song conducted by a member of the orchestra.

Special guests of the evening included Judge Ewing, John Sturgeon, W. H. Curry, and Dan McGrew.

Featuring the program were two talks broadcast from New York to all Junior chambers assembled in anniversary banquets all over the nation. The radio chairman was Courtland Biss, national president, who in the course of his remarks attacked what he termed unjustified federal expenditures to veterans whose injuries were not based on war policy. This cost, he said, reached 400 millions annually.

"Our country is not one cent for caring of such veterans but liberal compensation and care for veterans actually injured in war service, and for their dependents," he added.

The main broadcast, by President H. S. Harrigan of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, concerned the work of the Junior chamber in training young men for success, for leadership, and at the same time in including a sense of civic responsibility. This civic sense arrives too late in the course of the many men who otherwise would become grunts, he said, not only locally, but nationally, the speaker said.

ARTISTS BALL WILL BE GAY

The gaiety which naturally and spontaneously exudes from unconventional costume balls will draw the larger part of Pampa society's dancing crowd to the Little Theater's "depression dance" at the Pia-Mor Thursday evening.

The dance was offered as an opportunity for the guests to use their imagination instead of their pocket-book in providing "depression" costumes for themselves. A few days later, many announced they were going to wear dresses of 1930, 1912, 1894, 1876, and it is likely that every period of history will be represented in the costumes worn.

Only yesterday, a local Lothario who said he represented a select group of fraternity men telephoned Mrs. Ruba McConnell, chairman of the dance committee, to say that he and his friends would come dressed in Roman togas. It is also known that several men will come dressed in the bed sheet of the late Ku Klux Klan.

To encourage motley garbs, Mrs. McConnell and Mrs. Julian Barrett, will have prizes ready for the best costumes. They will have the Pia-Mor's ball room decorated in a manner that will accentuate the more amusing and diverting aspects of the late depression. Invitations were mailed Friday to many guests.

Proceeds of the dance will be used to pay for the stage built in the city club room by the Little Theater. Joe Norman's orchestra will furnish the music.

HARVESTERS ARE VICTORS OVER ALL SUBSECTION TEAMS

PAMPA HANDS LEFORS TEAM 45-19 DEFEAT

HARVESTERETTES LOSE TO PIRATE LASSIES 41 TO 12

Pampa's Harvesters defeated the LeFors Pirates 45 to 19 in LeFors last night to bring their string of consecutive conference victories over all teams in the sub-section to five.

The Harvesters clicked fairly well against the 1st Little Pirates who were guarded closely by the strong defense which has featured the Harvesters play all season.

Woodward led the Harvester scoring with 18 points and was followed by Marbaugh with 10 points. The LeFors points were well divided with Stewart leading with six.

The line-up with points scored follows: HARVESTERS - Woodward, 18; Marbaugh, 10; Fullingim, 2; Wayne Kelley, 3; Patton, 3; Bill Kelley, 3; Sartin, 3; Heskell, 2; Faulstich, 1.

PIRATES - Carter, 3; Stewart, 6; Matthews, 2; Cumberland, 4; Combs, 2; Ehard, 2; Berg, Schooley and Still.

Harvesterettes Injured in 34 To 14 Defeat

A crippled team of Harvesterettes returned from Allison yesterday after suffering a 34 to 14 defeat by the Allison girls Friday night.

The Allison team, one of the fastest and most experienced teams encountered by the Pampa sextet this year, jumped into an early lead which they held throughout the game.

The Pampa team, coaches and fans, 20 in number, were guests of Allison citizens at a luncheon preceding the game. Coach Harry Kelley of the Harvesterettes was loud in his praise of the Allison team and citizens for their sportsmanship in using a Pampa referee.

Coach Harry Kelley used 11 of his Harvesters in an effort to stem the avalanche of shots but to no avail. His team, after clicking a gainst Miami, has gone into another slump.

Harvesterettes who played were: Walstad, Murphy, Shields, Neal, Frazier, Williams, Heskell, and Still.

Bowling Scores

Managers and captains of teams in the City Bowling league will meet at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night in the Pampa Bowling alley to discuss several important matters which have cropped up recently.

The Kiwanis No. 2 Bowling team jumped into the lead in the City Bowling league with three straight wins over the former leaders, the Jaycees who went into third place behind the Voss Leaders as the result of the wins.

HARVESTERS FAIL TO HOLD PAGE IN GAME

PAMPA GUARDS LEAVE GAME IN LAST QUARTER

A tired Harvester basketball team fell before the Lubbock Westerners Friday night in Lubbock, 29 to 23. The boys played a single game from the first whistle and were unable to stay with the inspired Westerners.

Soon after the fourth quarter opened, Wayne Kelley and Jess Patton were forced from the game on personal fouls after the Harvesters had started a rally that knotted the score for the fourth time.

WOULD BAN IT CAGE GAMES

Board Recommends Football Games Be Played on Saturdays Only.

AUSTIN, Jan. 21. (AP)—The state board of education, in its biennial report made public today, recommended that the practice of holding high school football games on Fridays or other school days be discontinued and that all contests be held on Saturdays.

"It is true," the board said, "that some high school coaches wish to be free to attend college games on Saturdays; it is true that gate receipts in some communities will be smaller on Saturday; it is true that some boys have to work on Saturdays and hence could not participate in or attend Saturday games.

The board also recommended that basketball competition be limited to Friday and Saturday nights. Eight football games per season were suggested as a minimum, and the board recommended that basketball contests be limited to 15 between Dec. 1 and March 1.

"Tournaments should admit only a limited number of teams," the board said.

"The value of inter-school sports is questioned by practically none of the educators who chose to submit statements concerning the same," the board reported.

"Ninety per cent of the public schools of Texas need outside competition. This value can be obtained without interfering with school time and without disturbing factors. If so there would be a net educational gain and an increase in educational return for the money expended in public education."

HOLDOUTS IN MOOD TO SIGN FOR PAY CUTS

CLUB OWNERS COLLECT MANY CONTRACTS IN LAST WEEK

By ALAN GOULD. Associated Press Staff Writer. NEW YORK, Jan. 21. (AP)—It remains to be seen whether the alacrity of the athletes to reach for their fountain pens so far is merely a bit of stage business, calculated to put far into the more recalcitrant players, but it is a fact the magnates, within the first week, have carried most of their objectives in the annual major league salary campaign.

Not even the holdout tactics of so formidable a pair as Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig or the apparent rift between George Earnshaw and the Athletics have obscured the rapidity with which club owners have collected signed contracts. Conspicuously in the fold so far are Babe Herman, Heinie Meine, Goose Goslin, Charley Gehring, Joe Vosmik, Letty O'Doul, Glenn Wright, Bill Terry, and the Waner brothers, among them a number of last year's loudest salary kickers.

The world champion Yankees, in good times or bad, can depend upon the ballyhoo for a debate with Ruth, although it is unusual for Gehrig to have any salary difference with his employers. Neither case is serious. The Babe already has pointed the way to a compromise by expressing willingness to take a much as a 15 per cent or $11,000 cut and probably will sign for an agreed $62,500. Gehrig failed to reach an agreement over the size of his "cut" at a conference today with Secretary Ed Barrow but he, too, can be termed upon to come to terms shortly.

Pennant challengers such as the Washington Senators and Pittsburgh Pirates appear to have avoided or minimized salary disputes by the simple expedients of not trimming too heavily or granting raises to a favored few. The Waners and Larry French, in addition to promising youngsters, benefitted from the Pirates policy of liberality, predicated upon high hopes of a drive to the top of the National league.

Rob Is Favorite In Pacific West

Rob Roy, local wrestler, is "setting the Pacific coast on fire" according to word from Eugene and Portland, Ore., where he has been wrestling for the past month. The Pampa lighthavy has defeated some of the topnotchers in his class.

His latest victory was over Walter "Tank" Achin, whose record was snapped at 12 wins. The Pampa Sectel man won two out of three falls in the Labor temple at Portland.

The Portland paper said: "Achin's skill with jujitsu, which twice saved him from almost certain falls in the first five minutes of the main exhibition on Herb Owen's card, failed him in the pinch. Roy took the first fall in 11:11 on a reverse back slam after the Chinese grappler from Dayton, O., had survived one modified airplane spin and a shoulder butt that all but ruined his interest in the affair.

A self strangle hold gave Achin the second fall after 18 minutes and 6 seconds of wrestling. The Chinaman twisted Roy's arms across his neck, pinning his hands behind his head so that Roy was forced to pound the mat or choke.

FISHER WINS SCHEDULE WAR BY SERIES NEAT MANEUVERS

Pampan Breaks Turkey Day Game Tradition By Pouring It On.

Supt. R. B. Fisher went to a meeting of the executive committee of District I of the International League, composed of Class A school superintendents, and in the words of the Lubbock Avalanche "raised hell" before he attained his goal—ending of the Lubbock-Amarillo football monopoly on Thanksgiving dates. After this year, the schools will draw by lot for the coveted date.

A motion to allow all five schools in the district to draw for the Thanksgiving date in 1934 was passed by a vote of 4 to 1 after Mr. Fisher had "romped" on the Berger and Plainview representatives for not voting on the previous motions made by the Pampa superintendent. On his motion that Pampa, Amarillo and Lubbock draw for the Thanksgiving date, neither the Plainview school head nor the Berger superintendent voted. Mr. Fisher told two men that as long as their schools participated in the district schedules they should show enough interest in the games to at least vote.

The Avalanche commented as follows: "In his own words and for publication, Mr. Fisher came to the Plainview meeting 'to raise hell' about the Lubbock-Amarillo Thanksgiving game which has become almost a fixture in the District I program.

Although he succeeded rather well in "controlling his temper," Mr. Fisher, in no uncertain terms, discussed what he termed the "usurping of the best football date by Lubbock and Amarillo," to the exclusion of the third member of the "big three" in District I.

"There has been insufficient time for the Lubbock-Amarillo game to be called traditional," Mr. Fisher said, "and Pampa, being one of the strongest schools and teams of the circuit, should have a right to schedule a game with Amarillo on Thanksgiving day."

Neither Lubbock nor Amarillo representatives chose to mix with Mr. Fisher in a verbal clash. It developed later, however, that Lubbock did relinquish the November 11 date with Pampa. The Harvesters will meet Amarillo on that date this year and Lubbock is withholding a conference game on the holiday.

Mr. Fisher attempted to show that Amarillo-Pampa football games drew a bigger gate than any other contest and that it "was hardly fair for Pampa to be excluded."

Following death of the motion to allow the three schools, Amarillo, Lubbock and Pampa, to draw for the turkey day date this year, C. E. Davis, Plainview superintendent, moved that after this year, all five schools in the district draw for the Western League Status Is Like 'Jigsaw Puzzle'

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 21. (AP)—Pident Dale Gear announced tonight no decision had been reached at an all-day conference with Western league and Western association baseball owners as to the future makeup of their minor league holdings.

"Did you ever try to work a jigsaw puzzle?" asked the president of the club. "That's what we are up against. Nothing has been done definitely."

The conferees went back into their huddle tonight and Gear said there was no indication they will wind up their business before tomorrow.

The depression-ridden club owners are seeking support from the major leagues, Gear said. Two representatives from the big time, Phil Bartleme of the St. Louis Cardinals and Steve O'Rourke, Detroit, attended the sessions.

Trapshooter Makes New World Record

VANDALIA, O., Jan. 21. (AP)—A. J. Stauber, Los Angeles, Calif., established a new world record on registered trapshooting targets for a season by winning the high average title of North America during 1932 with a mark of .9940 on 1,000 clays.

This is the official mark released today at the permanent record of the Amateur Trapshooting association. The association is the governing body of registered shooting in the United States, Canada and the Panama Canal zone.

Stauber also established another record by being the first man to win two national high average titles in one year. His mark of .9687 won him the doubles championship.

PAMPANS WIN ARGUMENT IN GRID SCHEDULE

Pampa successfully broke the traditional Thanksgiving Day rivalry which has existed between Amarillo and Lubbock for a number of years when moguls of the District I Class A schools met in Plainview Friday. However, the change in scheduling of conference games will not appear until 1934.

Coach Odus Mitchell and Supt. R. B. Fisher went to the meeting determined to get a "break" on the holiday encounter and a motion by Supt. C. E. Davis of Plainview that Thanksgiving Day and Armistice Day games be decided by drawing, was carried. It was agreed, however, that if both teams agreed, their date of play could be changed from the schedule drawn.

The Harvesters will meet the Amarillo Sandies on Harvester field November 11. The Harvesters will go to Lubbock the following week on November 18. The season, as far as the home team is concerned, will open October 28 at Plainview. Berger will come to Pampa either November 4 or on Armistice Day. Supt. C. E. Davis will change their Thanksgiving day game to be played in Amarillo. Pampa and Berger will meet on the earlier date.

Amarillo is scheduled to play in Lubbock but Tech has a game scheduled with Kansas State for that date and it may be that the game will be played in Amarillo. Amarillo will have only one conference game at home unless the Lubbock tilt is transferred. Plainview will invade Amarillo September 30. It was also decided that a Class A basketball league for the 1933-34 season be organized and a committee will be appointed to work out the details and report back at the September meeting.

HOLIDAY GAMES WILL BE DECIDED BY DRAWING

The schedule follows: Oct. 28—At Plainview. Nov. 4 or 28—Berger at Pampa. Nov. 11—Amarillo at Pampa (Armistice Day). Nov. 18—At Lubbock. (Note: Berger and Pampa will play on Thanksgiving Day if Amarillo plays in Lubbock. If the Lubbock-Amarillo game is changed to Euler Field, Berger and Pampa will play on November 4.)

Sept. 30—Plainview at Amarillo. Nov. 11—At Pampa (Armistice Day). Nov. 18—At Berger. Nov. 30—At Lubbock. (Thanksgiving Day). Lubbock. Oct. 28—At Berger. Nov. 18—Pampa at Lubbock. Brown County's Sheriff Retired From Office Jan. 1 at Age of 73

BROWNWOOD, Jan. 21 (AP)—M. H. (Mose) Denman, who retired as sheriff of Brown county January 1, claims to be the oldest man ever to hold that office in Texas. He observed his 73rd birthday May 1 last. Denman was defeated for re-election in the run-off primary last August.

In three different periods Denman served as sheriff 14 years. He was elected first in 1906 and held the office three consecutive terms. Then he was defeated and remained out of office four years. He was elected again and served two more terms and again was defeated. He did not seek the office again until 1928 when he was elected once more. When Denman was first elected the peace officers rode after criminals on horseback and "shot it out" with them sometimes. A photograph of him taken during his first term reveals a typical western sheriff—big black mustache, wide brimmed hat, a pistol at his side, and mounted on a large black horse.

One case in which Denman took part brought him nation-wide notice. It happened in September, 1903. Denman went to Tombstone, Ariz. after a man charged with stealing cattle in Brown county. The man was arrested but resisted being taken from the state. Extradition papers from the Texas governor to the Arizona governor were honored after several days. Upon receipt of the papers Sheriff Denman went to the Tombstone jail, took his man, placed him in a hack and drove out of town. The man cried as they went through the streets, "He is kidnapping me."

Denman went a short distance from town to a place he had stationed three saddle horses, and a guide. He loaded his men on a horse and the three rode across the desert 175 miles to Sansonum, almost dying of thirst before reaching their destination. There Denman put his prisoner on the train and they were soon across the Arizona line.

The Texas sheriff on reaching El Paso learned that rangers and other officers had sought his arrest as a kidnaper.

HOOKS and SLIDES by WILLIAM BRAUCHER

What! No Racing?

Cross Materialism, or shall we call it our de-emphasis, has swept the slim racing shells from the river. Poughkeepsie will be just another Hudson harbor June 28. The broad-backed, mighty muscled heroes of other years, shooting their slim shells along under the great bridge, will not be there.

You may remember the scream that went up concerning football overemphases for several years before the 1932 grid season. Talk of professionalism and proselytizing, huge gates, and all that.

Keil for Good

Well, it seems we had a depression. Last year the old football gate just wasn't what she used to be. Admission prices were reduced in many quarters, but the fans stayed away in flocks.

Here is the result. Old Man River will bear no colorful burden as he rolls past. Poughkeepsie in an otherwise perfect June. The last pure college sport has been martyred because the game they branded unclean has not earned enough dirty money to maintain rows in the style to which it had become accustomed. A couple of well, wells!

The Story of Stanford

Romance danced along the sunset-shimmering waters on that June day at Poughkeepsie as the strong backs bent in rhythmic beat and those colorful galleys glided along.

There was the storied rivalry of the Glendons, Ebrights, Ten Eycks, Courtneys and other wanted coaches. Not this year!

Then there was the day in 1915 when a handful of willful men from Stanford appeared mysteriously. There was no college fund to defray their expenses. How they managed to cross the country never has been told. They put their last dime on the line to pay the freight on their shell and bummed their way as best they could.

They had no coach, with megaphone to shout instructions, from a launch as they stroked their shell up and down the Hudson. Their equipment, besides the shell, was eight sets of trunks and an awful lot of nerve. The river currents meant nothing to them. They had never participated in four-mile races.

Just Came to Row

Those Stanford boys of 1915 seemed to me to typify a spirit of splendid sportsmanship. Of the records, they didn't have a chance. Highly-trained eastern crews had been so well prepared for the race that the coxswains knew every stroke in the mile.

What they knew about four-mile racing, these stalwarts learned as they went along. Their only system was to keep up with the others and pass them when the pinch came.

Passing the two-mile flags they were going strong. Over the third mile they kept gaining on the leader. As they pushed their fragile shell under the railroad bridge, at the three-mile mark, they had passed all the others but Cornell.

In that last grueling mile, the raw youths from the Pacific gained, beat after beat, on proud Cornell. The tiring thica crew just managed to keep a shade in front as the two shells darted across the finish line.

Still in the Race!

The Stanford boys didn't know the race was over. Increasing the number of strokes to the minute, they kept on gaining speed after the four miles were done, while a Cornell crew drooped and sagged over the oars.

They might have driven that little boat right up to Pier 9, New York City, if a motor launch hadn't raced out and headed them off.

To get back home they had to sell their shell, but that paid the fare of only a few of the gallant band. The others remained in Poughkeepsie washing dishes until they could nurse enough coin together to make the trip.

Great stories have been read at Old Poughkeepsie.

HOW'S your HEALTH

Edited by Dr. Inga Goldstein Academy of Medicine

Bone Growth and Cereals. Historians have distinguished between the races that were essentially agricultural and those that lived by the produce of milk giving flocks. The first were land-tied; the second nomadic.

The agricultural group subsisted largely on cereals, while the nomadic group lived on meat, milk and milk products.

The conquerors came from the nomads. Of the two types of diet, it would appear that the meat and milk diet produced a superior type of constitution.

In the ordinary diet two sets of factors operate—one promoting the growth and development of the bone, and the other apparently retarding it.

In the first group are such foods as milk, cheese, butter, egg yolk and the fat of meat and of fish. These foods favor bone calcification and growth through their calcium and of vitamin D content.

Cereals are, of course, important in our present dietary. They are rich in carbohydrates and thus supply a large portion of the energy content of our food.

For economic as well as for scientific reasons, cereals should not be eliminated from the diet, yet if they make up too large a portion of the food intake, particularly during the growing years, they are likely to retard bone growth and in extreme cases to produce disease conditions.

Dr. H. Chick, in a lecture before the Royal College of Physicians of London, reports that the Eskimo, subsisting on their natural diet of fish and meat with large supplies of fish liver and fish oil, maintain a high standard of health and have perfect teeth, while their breast-fed infants are free from rickets.

THE TURN OF THE YEAR

The turn of the year always brings with it a feeling of hopefulness... a renewed desire to help bring about an improvement. By custom also it is a time of inventory. A year's operations are closed. What was the result?

For most of us in Texas, as elsewhere, 1932 was a year of problems.

We in the telephone business were no exception. Like everyone else, we had our troubles.

Curtailed business activity and necessary retrenchment in homes resulted in serious losses in telephone revenue. Every employee is working part-time. In spite of drastic economies, net telephone earnings fell below the actual cost of money.

A difficult situation

This is trying enough to those businesses whose prices were not restricted by regulation in the period of high activity. Consider then the situation of the telephone company. When many businesses might have taken advantage of prosperous times to build up large reserves against the day when prices might drop, the telephone business was restrained by regulation to earning little more than the cost of money.

We believe that this situation is fair. For our operating policy publicly announced even before the boom years, is to render telephone service at the lowest cost consistent with financial safety. It does mean, however, that telephone earnings which were restricted at times of peak commodity prices, and are now below the cost of money, cannot in fairness be further reduced.

Business recessions — and regulation

Some idea of the peculiar hardships worked by the present business recession upon a regulated business, such as the telephone company, can be gained from this recent ruling by a regulatory commission:

"Were the utilities unregulated, as is true of private enterprises; if they were free during prosperous times to fix rates without regulatory control, then they could with justice perhaps be subjected to the price fluctuations suffered by private business, during economic depressions. If, however, they have not been permitted to earn more than a fair return during prosperous times, this fact must be given due consideration when we deal with their rates and their rate of return during periods of business depression."

Notwithstanding these difficulties and others peculiar to the period, we believe you will agree that your telephone service on the average was good. Interruptions to service were the lowest on record. New telephones were installed on the appointment plan, at a time set by the subscriber. Long distance calls were handled faster than ever before. Telephone lines and switchboards were carefully maintained to insure continued satisfactory service, and the Bell Telephone Laboratories searched on with unabated efforts for ways to effect improvements and economies.

Thus, despite the hardships of the year, some progress was made in 1932. We hope that 1933 will see still greater progress, not only in maintaining the quality of your service, but in helping to work a way out of the difficulties that surround us all.

During 1933, for example, the thousands of telephone employees will continue to spend their pay in Texas. They will put back into circulation more than a third of the money you pay for your telephone service.

The telephone company in Texas will pay out in taxes nearly three million dollars... another sizable part of the total sum that you pay us. This will help to defray the expenses of federal, state and local governments.

Our plans for 1933.

Recognizing the importance of good telephone service to a state with the area of Texas, the telephone company stands ready to spend substantial sums in 1933 to keep in good condition its poles, wires, switchboards and other equipment.

For many years we have had high faith in the stability and growth of Texas. We have backed that faith by raising the necessary money to erect the telephone plant which serves 276 communities and provides much of the long distance telephone service which Texans use.

The rigorous experiences of the last three years have not shaken our belief in the future of Texas. We intend to go forward, along with other Texans, in the firm conviction that gradually we shall work our way out of the difficulties of these days.

ON CHILDREN'S BOOKS

The six little Mexican girls to whom Norma Archibald Smith dedicated her new book for children, "Bee of the Cactus Country" (Houghton Mifflin company), were her favorite pupils when she had charge of a Spanish school in Magdalena, Mexico. Owing to the lack of text-books, she was obliged to provide the material for all her lessons and translate it into Spanish. Furthermore, having lived in Santa Barbara, studied in the college there, and been principal of the girls' high school in Tucson, Arizona, Miss Smith may well say, "If I do not know the Cactus Country, the Mexican child, and the Spanish language, I don't know who does."

Emma Brook is a Minnesota artist and author of several widely popular books for children. She spends most of her summers abroad "trailing about in the Apennines and the Pyrenees, hobnobbing with the peasants and sketching them and their d'keys and oxen and ducks." New England, however, is the scene of the latest book she has illustrated, "The Little House in Green Valley" by Clara Whitehall Hunt and published by Houghton Mifflin company.

An admirer of Eliza Orne White's books, after reading her most recent one, "The Four Young Kennedals" (Houghton Mifflin company), felt sure that the author must be young and energetic but her age is seventy-six! She ascribes her ability to write sympathetically about children to the fact that she so vividly remembers her own states of mind when she was a child.

VANCE IS CHANGED

Philo Vance has changed a little, some of the reviewers of S. Van Dine's new mystery story, "The Kennel Murder Case," seem to think, writing in advance of its publication by the Scribners on Friday the thirteenth of January, Christopher Morely, for example, in the Book of the Month Club News, observed, "Constant association with District Attorney Markham and the New York police headquarters has worn down the edges of his connoisseur palaver."

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 21 (AP)—Cotton was rather quiet today and prices were disposed to ease off after a slight gain at the start on trade buying and price fixing. Hedge selling in a narrow market forced prices down in the second hour of the only active months at the end, July and October closed at net declines 7 points.

The opening was steady as Liverpool cables came in about as due. Private cables said the market was quiet with some trade calling with Egyptian advance, but reacted on week end realizing. There were no Manchester advices. First trades here showed gains of 2 points and the market improved a little further in the first hour on price fixing and trade buying. March advanced to 6.15, May to 6.32 and July to 6.45. 2 to 2 1/2 points above the close of yesterday.

NEW YORK STOCKS

By JOHN L. COOLEY, (Associated Press Financial Writer)

NEW YORK, Jan. 21 (AP)—Today's stock market represented a minimum of effort on the part of professional traders and close to a minimum of accomplishment.

There were enough small gains by noon to lift the averages a minor fraction. With the turnover only 365,577 shares, spots still persisted in shares still maintaining a recent characteristic of the market. Consolidated gas of New York was lightly sold presumably from the sources that have recently put it under pressure; no particular reasons therefore have been advanced except that a trading investment trust has taken profits. U. S. Steel was down half a point but the preferred rose nearly as much. Tobacco leaned toward firmness. Corn products jumped 1 1/2, then lost much of its rise. American Telephone softened fractionally toward the close. Wool, 22 1/2. Colonial Dairy, B. H. Macy, Westinghouse, American Can, General Electric, Allied Chemical and Union Carbide were steady. Rails stayed on a siding.

KANSAS CITY LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 21 (AP)—(U. S. D. A.)—The cattle market during the week under review was on a weight basis. Demand continued to center upon the lighter weights of fed steers and yearlings with prices for such offerings holding about steady. Lower grades of light steers and yearlings sold to an especially good advantage. Medium weight and heavy steers along with heavy beef cows and heavy heifers were tendered a general decline of 25 while at some centers heavy steers scaled above 1400 lbs. slumped 50. Choice yearlings generally commanding a 1.00 or more premium over the comparable grade of big weight steers. Chicago had a top of 7.10 on yearlings and secured 6.25 for highly finished 1325 lb. steers. Majority of heavy steers offered had to sell from 4.00-5.00. There was a fairly broad country demand for stocker and feeder steers at steady to 25 higher rates. Receipts at eleven markets for the week totaled around 151,000 as compared with 145,513 last week and 158,074 the corresponding period a year ago.

Lighter receipts of hogs resulted in a general price advance of 15-25 with St. Louis reporting a late top of 3.60. Total offerings for the week were 42,000 short of last week and 166,000 under a year ago.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Jan. 21 (AP)—Tumbling of wheat prices today followed early gains that were attributed more or less to steps toward settlement of England's debts to the United States. More than a cent a bushel reaction took place in wheat values,

Previously had denied touching the bodies after the two women were slain in their Phoenix apartment the night of Oct. 16, 1931.

She had clung tenaciously to her testimony of the last five days that "Jack Halloran picked up Sammy's body, Mrs. Samuelson's body in his arms, and laid it on Arne's bed," and had insisted that when she visited the apartment again the next night, Halloran had told her both bodies were in the trunk.

Taken To Prison.

Halloran's attorney, Frank O. Smith, dropped his questioning of Mrs. Judd as soon as she had made her admission, and she was returned to the state prison at Florence.

Smith's line of questioning drew the condemned woman into discussions of articles concerning the murders as published in Los Angeles newspaper and a letterly authorized by Mrs. Judd.

"Of course, Mrs. Judd, that portion of the statement in the newspaper about you putting parts of Miss Samuelson's body in a trunk and hat box in the apartment is true, isn't it?" asked Smith.

"There is nothing in that article about that," replied the witness. "It isn't even mentioned."

"Perhaps you remember it better than I do," said Smith.

Then he read from clippings of the newspaper articles:

"Sunday morning when I lifted Sammy from the trunk, I tried to place her in my own little metal locker trunk . . ."

STATE BOARD--

Houston at Huntsville. Texas Tech at Lubbock would remain a senior institution, although the engineering and architecture departments would be abolished. The University of Texas and Texas A. and M. would continue as senior institutions.

As for the Southwest Teachers' college at San Marcos, the board said in conclusion: "Another question which arises is whether the state can justify the maintenance of two institutions within 25 miles of each other." The board already had pointed out that San Marcos was only 33 miles from Austin, seat of the University of Texas.

Would Abandon Two Classes.

The board recommended that graduate work be limited to the University of Texas and Texas A. and M. Senator Joe M. Moore of Greenville already has introduced a bill to carry out that purpose. The board advocated further that all work of high school level now being offered and given in any of the state colleges be discontinued. However, under agreements made by the state and colleges at John Tarleton Agricultural college at Stephenville must be continued.

The board suggested that Texas Tech could absorb the upper classes of Sul Ross of Alpine and West Texas Teachers of Canyonville. It added that the combined institution at Denton could take the upper classes from East Texas Teachers of Commerce at only a slight additional cost.

In similar manner, Sam Houston Teachers' college could absorb the junior and seniors from Stephen F. Austin at Nacogdoches. There need by very little discussion about the possibility of the University of Texas absorbing students in upper classes from Southwest Teachers and from the College of Arts and Industries at Kingsville, the board said.

Tuition Recommended.

"The Texas A. and M. college can, with little, if any, additional cost absorb those upper levels students coming to it because of the concentration of certain special offerings at fewer institutions. This is particularly true in the fields of agriculture and engineering."

In support of its contention that there should be only five senior state colleges in Texas, the board pointed to the expense of maintaining small classes for juniors and seniors in the other institutions.

The board suggested that each Texas student at any of the state colleges be charged a fee of $25 a semester and that an out-of-state student be assessed $50 a semester.
