Germ Found That Killed Babies

Discovery of the germ which caused deaths of 11 newborn babies in two weeks has led Dr. Francis A. Dulak, right, member of the staff of Chicago's St. Elizabeth hospital, to hope that lives of seven other infants infected by the virulent and little-known malady can be saved. Physicians and board of health experts found the germ after injecting white rats with blood from one of the dead infants. The rats died violently. The malady, enteritis, causes acute intestinal inflammation.

BLEACHERS TO SEAT CAST IN NEW MINSTREL

A stand similar to the bleachers on an athletic field may seem out of place on a high school auditorium stage, but when two-score Pampa men and girls sing with all the spirit of a pep squad, as did that part of the cast of the Lions club's annual minstrel, which rehearsed last night at the high school auditorium, the stand of bleachers, didn't seem incongruous.

Dignified Pampa business and professional men and a group of a dozen Pampa girls made melody that was stupendous, colossal, super-gigantic, and all the other adjectives, as they practiced for the songs they will sing at the Lions club minstrel show to be given December 21 at the high school auditorium. All proceeds of the show will go into the Lions club fund for crippled children.

Supt. R. B. Fisher led the group in the practice last night. Mr. Fisher had them sing "Roses in December," "Lulu Belle from Tennessee," and other songs. There was nothing drab about the singing; it was as new and as lively as one of Clarence Kennedy's jokes. Clarence is gag-man for the show. Ivy Duncan, Sherman White, Art Teed, and John V. Osborne proved that lawyers have voices for something else than saying "I object," as they sang last night.

F. E. Leech, Ralph Thomas, John B. Hessey, R. C. Wilson, Roy Miller, L. L. McCollm, did their share in the singing, as did Joe

CHINA IGNORES ULTIMATUM TO GIVE UP CITY

SHANGHAI, Dec. 11 (Saturday) (AP)—The Japanese command announced today that Kuan-chuanen, principal southeastern gate in Nanking's massive walls, had been captured by a detachment of Japan's ninth division.

Japan's rising sun banner was raised over the gate. Nipponese infantry surged through this breach, in the defenses of China's erstwhile capital and occupied adjoining sections of the walls.

Seizure of Kuangchuanen came as the climax of a battle which began with a Japanese general assault on Nanking early in the afternoon, after Chinese defenders had ignored a Japanese ultimatum demanding surrender by noon Friday.

Domel, the Japanese news agency, reported to Tokyo that Japanese troops were engaged in bloody hand to hand fighting in Nanking streets after seizing Kuangchuanen and another gate.

'MISSING LINK' FOUND BY DUTCHMAN IN JAVA

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (AP)—A new "missing link" between man and the higher apes has just been discovered on the island of Java, the Carnegie Institution of Washington said today.

Dr. G. H. R. Von Koenigswald, Dutch scientist of Bandung, Java, and a research associate of the institution, reported he had found part of the skull, the lower jaw, and a number of teeth of this part ape, part human creature near the Solo river.

This ancient man he added, "is the most primitive fossil man now known," and lived long before the original pithecanthropus erectus. The first of this species was found in Java in 1890 and was believed until now to have been the earliest man on earth.

Dr. John C. Merriam, president of the institution, said the discovery "is one of the most important finds in many decades."

The new specimen, he said, proves that pithecanthropus man had progressed above the mental and physical level of the great apes, and also that man has been walking upright and using his hands and brain for about 1,000,000 years.

The position of the ear and the socket for the movement of the lower jaw are typically human, the scientists declared, but the absence of a well developed mastoid process near the ear is "very aplike."

The skull was found broken into small parts and required work to reassemble. The rear portion of it was missing, possibly because the head-hunting customs of ancient who considered the brain of one of their fellows a rare table delicacy.

SOONER SOLON WILL BOMB 50,000 CROWS

OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 10 (AP)—The legislature is going after 50,000 crows tonight in the first of a series of help-the-farmer raids on the predatory birds.

Legislator Watts Brewer will set off 150 dynamite bombs, strung thru trees near Elk City. He predicted 50,000 birds would be killed.

A Year Ago --and Today

A new local feature will be found on the editorial page of today's Pampa Daily News.

It is titled "A Year Ago—And Today" and aims to take readers back a year ago to some outstanding news story, and then bring that particular event up to date.

You will find this to be one of the most interesting shorts among the Daily News' widely varied feature program.

Turn to the editorial page and read the "A Year Ago—And Today."

HOUSE DUE TO APPROVE FARM BILL TODAY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (AP)—House Chief Clerk, openly confident of victory, held their forces in line for a final vote late today on the long-debated crop control program.

They expected not only to pass the bill by a comfortable margin but to renege the compulsory marketing quotas on wheat, leaving the measure in substantially the form drafted by the agriculture committee.

New delays in Senate debate, however, created doubts that the farm legislation could be enacted during the special session. Senate leaders virtually gave up hope of a vote this week.

Before the final House roll call, Chairman Jones (D-Tex.) of the agriculture committee granted two hours of debate on a substitute bill to guarantee each farmer a cash income equal to his cost of production.

The substitute offered by Rep. Massingale (D-Okla.), would forbid purchases of farm commodities at less than the amount required to produce them. Even its supporters had little hope of success.

The administration program would seek to regulate the size of major crops by restricting the amount marketed. A majority of farmers receiving federal payments for their cooperation would have to approve the restrictions.

Changes Made
The tentative decision of the House early this week to eliminate wheat marketing quotas was one of two principal changes made in the bill during debate. The other would deny soil conservation payments to farmers who planted dairy feed crops on acreage withdrawn from soil-depleting crops.

Senate debate was slowed yesterday by a long discussion on the farm bill's tobacco sections, which had been expected to produce little argument.

Democratic leader Barkley said he hoped to get a final vote by Monday or Tuesday.

A vote early next week, however, would leave only a week before adjournment.

TEXAS FARMERS FIRST IN BENEFIT PAYMENTS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (AP)—The Bureau of Agricultural Economics reported today that Texas led all states in the amount of government benefit payments to farmers during the first ten months of this year.

The amount was $35,585,000 compared with $23,734,000 for the same period last year. Payments to all farmers totaled $355,000,000 compared with $232,000,000 for the same period last year.

Amounts paid to farmers in other western states for the ten months period included:

Oklahoma $14,535,000 and $12,087,000; New Mexico $2,890,000 and $643,000.

THAWING WATER LINE CAUSES FIRE IN HOME

Thawing a frozen water line with burning paper started a fire at the Joe Landry home, 324 North Banks street at 9:15 o'clock this morning and necessitated calling the fire department.

Water from the booster tank was used to extinguish the blaze which had started in the kitchen between the side wall and plaster. Little damage resulted.

Fire Chief Ben White said that his practice of thawing water pipes with an open flame was a dangerous one and that every care should be taken.

2 SECURITIES BOARD MEMBERS NOMINATED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (AP)—President Roosevelt nominated John W. Hanes of North Carolina, and Jerome N. Frank of New York, today to be members of the securities commission.

Hanes will succeed J. D. Ross of Seattle, who resigned when appointed administrator of Bonneville dam.

Frank, former counsel for the agricultural adjustment administration, takes the place of James M. Landis, who resigned recently to become dean of the Harvard law school.

Introductory offer, complete brake relining job, $6.95. Ford, Chevrolet, Plymouth. "Grizzly" lining. Motor Inn.

PARIS, Dec. 10 (AP)—The asserted scarfaced chief of an abduction-death syndicate, whose "expect in murder" slew Jean De Koven, Brooklyn dancer, escaped a police net and was sought today by roving patrols along the highways of southeastern France.

With him, police said, were his mistress and a third suspect. Judicial police first saw, announced their capture, but later changed this to say the three had fled their hotel at Nantua last night.

The trio fled, police said, after a mysterious telephone call to their apartment.

Authorities identified the alleged leader of the band that sought to build an efficient, profitable business on kidnapping and death as Roger Million, a Frenchman.

Employed Million to the man who employed Eugen Weidmann, 29-year-old German convict, as killer of the gang. Weidmann has confessed killing Miss De Koven and four men, one of them a member of the supposed syndicate in crime.

The third suspect was said by police to be one Jean Leblanc. All had been staying at Nantua, some 250 miles southeast of Paris, for the past month.

While detectives in Paris continued cross questioning Weidmann husky confessor of the five slayings, others began a systematic excavation around the St. Cloud villa outside Paris where yesterday were found the bodies of Miss De Koven and Fritz Frommer, who has been linked with the gang.

It was Weidmann's confession to

TWO HELD IN BRUTAL CRIME

CRETE, Ill. Dec. 10 (AP)—Two men named by a farmwife as the robbers who killed her husband and then shot her in an attempt to cover their identities were seized today.

Sheriff's deputies from Will and Cook counties, who quickly organized a hunt for the gunmen after the ruthless slaying last night, took John Jelliga, 33, into custody at his home in Whiting, Ind., and later arrested Mike Munias, 45, at his Indian Harbor, Ind., home.

Capt. John Surdukowski of the Whiting police said the farmwife, Mrs. Hulda Pansa, 38, identified them as the robbers and that both had confessed.

Mrs. Pansa told the story of the slaying after crawling and staggering a half mile over a snowswept road in near zero weather.

Her husband, Edward Pansa, 45, was shot to death last night as he lay on a sofa in his home with hands bound, pleading for his life. The robbers then walked into the bedroom into which they had pushed Mrs. Pansa, shot her in the head and left her for dead.

Partly paralyzed by the bullet, the woman made her way to the home of her brother-in-law. He had her removed to a Chicago hospital.

Mrs. Pansa said the two men, whom her husband recognized, visited the farm earlier in the day, returned shortly before dark, pulled guns and demanded $2,000 in "inheritance money" which, they said, she had received recently. Enraged when told she did not have it, the robbers hit the farmer over the head, bound him and then ransacked the house, finding $77.

3 Fliers Rescued From Tiny Tropical Island

MANILA, Dec. 10 (AP)—Life on a tiny tropical island isn't so bad if you pick the right island, said three high ranking Philippine army officers after their rescue today from four days on a Pacific islet.

The trio was welcomed and entertained by a fisherman and his wife, sole inhabitants of the island where they landed their airplane Monday with only ten minutes of fuel left in the tanks.

Major General Paulino Santos, Chief of Staff of the Philippine Army, and Colonel Fidel Segundo, Chief of the Intelligence Corps, talked in dialect with the fishfolk. They had never heard of Manuel Quezon, President of the Philippine Commonwealth. It was exciting news to the islanders that the Philippines took the first step toward independence from the United States two years ago.

One night Lieut. William Lee, U. S. A., of Weatherford, Texas pilot of their transport plane and chief of the Philippine air corps, drew a picture for the others of his wife and son huddled close together in bed praying for his safety.

"If my wife got the same idea," remarked General Santos, "The bed would probably break down."

The general is the father of seven children.

During their four days on the island, Lieutenants Lee learned to eat rice and eggs—their diet for every breakfast, lunch and dinner—with his fingers. The fishfolk's spoons were made of shells. They had no knives or forks.

Rescuing army officers disagreed as to the identity of the island and the island inhabitants didn't know. Lieut. Alfred Maxwell, U. S. A., sighted this morning from one of many planes sent out to find the officials, who were returning from Mindanao Island in the southern Philippines, where the government has been seeking to crush Moro insurgents.

Lieut. Lee, rated as one of the army's best pilots, said the plane would have to be dismantled to get it off the tiny island.

CONNALLY INTRODUCES FARM BILL AMENDMENT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (AP)—Senator Connally (D. Tex.) introduced today an amendment to the farm bill authorizing government expenditure of $250,000 in cooperation with the first state that would put up an equal amount for a cotton research laboratory.

Representative Kleberg (D. Tex.) has introduced a similar amendment in the House. Action by the Texas legislature last session indicates that state undoubtedly would be the first to qualify. It was tentatively planned the project be located in East Texas.

To Die

HAMMOND, Ind., Dec. 10 (AP)—Diminutive James Dalhoyer (above), cold-blooded "trigger man" of the notorious Brady gang which terrorized midwest bankers and business men for more than a year, must die in the electric chair for the ruthless murder of State Policeman Paul V. Minneman, a federal jury decided yesterday.

The fire station garage and work room was filled high with new and used toys this morning but firemen needed hundreds more. They do not want any child to be disappointed Christmas when the toys will be given to underprivileged children of the community.

They expect to get a whole lot more tomorrow after an 11 o'clock show at the LaNora, because the only admittance that will be charged kiddies to see the five reels of comedies will be toys. Each child may see the picture by leaving a new or old preferably new toy, at the door. No broken toy will be accepted. Only usable toys will admit children to the show.

Saturday afternoon the toys will be returned to the fire station where repairing and repainting every extra minute. Parents are urged to send a new toy by their children if they don't have an old one.

"Whether you send a new or an old toy, you are buying a Christmas present for some child that won't have any Christmas," he said.

The American Legion which is supplying materials for repairing and repainting the toys is sponsoring the toy matinee.

OLD TIME DANCE TO BE HELD TOMORROW NIGHT

The local American Legion, sponsors, hope to raise sufficient funds at the old time dance in the Red building on the high school campus. Saturday night to pay the last installment on the Harvester band uniforms.

It will be the last old-time dance until after Christmas. The dance will begin at 7:30 o'clock with Jeff Guthrie's orchestra furnishing the music. Floor managers will be A. A. Tieman and Dave Turcotte.

CHRISTMAS SUPERSTITIONS

The spirit of Christmas is exemplified in a Polish superstition which holds that Jacob's ladder is brought back to earth on Christmas Eve, and the angels descend, bringing peace and goodwill.

12 Shopping Days Till Christmas

The El Paso-Wichita Falls quarter-finals football game in the race for the state championship will be broadcast by KPND tomorrow afternoon.

The Daily News radio station will be a member of a state-wide network which will carry tomorrow's game. The broadcast will come direct from the stadium at Wichita Falls and is scheduled to be aired, beginning at 2:30 p. m.

CAR SPEEDS THROUGH CROWD AND KILLS TWO

DETROIT, Dec. 10 (AP)—For the second time within 36 hours, an automobile sped through an occupied street car safety zone today, killing two men.

The victim of today's accident, in which the driver fled, were Nicholas Branch, 39, and Leon Ochodowski, 47.

Wednesday night, a woman was killed and 25 persons were injured when an automobile plowed into a safety zone.

TO BROADCAST MINSTREL ACT

A 15-minute broadcast over KPND by members of the cast of the Pampa Lions club annual minstrel show will feature the program at the club's regular noonday meeting next Thursday in the First Methodist church basement.

The show is to be staged in the High school auditorium Tuesday night, Dec. 21. At their weekly meeting yesterday, the civic club members furthered plans for the show which is to be presented on a larger scale this year than ever before.

In the cast will be members of the club and a host of beautiful and talented girls. The cast will appear in evening dress.

End-men for the minstrel will be John F. Sturgeon, John B. Hessey, Roy Bourland, Joe Burrow, Bert Curry, D. I. Parker, Dr. H. L. Wilder and Clarence Kennedy.

Interlocutor for the show has not yet been selected. It was stated today by R. B. Fisher, who is directing rehearsals.

3 MEN CHARGED WITH STEALING A RAILROAD

MONROVIA, Calif., Dec. 10 (AP)—Three men were slated to go on trial here this afternoon on a charge of stealing a railroad.

More than a mile of abandoned track at the mouth of San Gabriel canyon, used in construction of San Gabriel dam No. 1, was dismantled and Mitchell E. Goff, Claude N. Wright and Kenneth V. Hobbs are charged with its theft.

Officers said the track, belonging to the county flood control district, consisted of about 100 tons of steel and 34½ tons of angle irons and rods and was sold to a Los Angeles scrap iron plant for $15 a ton.

TO GATHER AIR MAIL IN SMALL TEXAS TOWNS

HOUSTON, Dec. 10 (AP)—Pilots winged over 240,000 square miles of Texas today picking up airmail pouches to be delivered here in the first experiment of "airmail feeder" week.

Eight planes set out early in the morning in the flights. Mail pouches will be collected at small towns in the Rio Grande Valley, West Texas, the Panhandle, and East Texas, to test the feasibility of airmail service being established at small towns.

Postmaster J. S. Griffith, who guides the fliers the oath of postal clerks before they took off predicted 100,000 air mail letters would be delivered here.

BRITISH IGNORE WHAT HAPPENED LAST DEC. 10

LONDON, Dec. 10 (AP)—Stolid Britain today outwardly ignored the first anniversary of one of the most intense dramas of her long history—the abdication of Edward VIII.

The government completely "forgot" and the press barely took notice of the fact that one year ago Bachelor Edward signed the instrument of abdication at Fort Belvedere, relinquishing the throne to his next younger "family man" brother.

Edward spent the anniversary quietly in Paris with the woman for whom he gave up the kingship—American-born Wallis Warfield, now the Duchess of Windsor.

But the day was an unusual one for the king of a year in that he had no public engagements. The life of George VI for 12 months has been crammed with them.

For example he inspected four government airplane factories in the past three days and received various ministers, quietly following the government's carefully mapped program to build him up in the public eye as "another George V."

British officialdom has continued to ignore the existence of the Duke of Windsor, frowning on publicity or his activities.

EXANS ENDORSE CROP PRODUCTION CONTROL

FORT WORTH, Dec. 10 (AP)—The Texas Agricultural Association today was committed to compulsory crop production control.

Members of the association, at the annual convention here yesterday, elected officers and directors and urged the reduction of the nation's food surpluses.

Clifford H. Day of Plainview succeeded H. G. Lucas of Brownwood as president. Harvey Pigg, Ellis county farmer, was named vice president. Directors indicated that C. H. Matthews, of Eagle Lake, who had asked to be relieved as secretary-treasurer of the association, would be asked to serve again.

Junior High Will Present Operetta

"Windmills of Holland" an operetta, will be presented this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the high school auditorium by approximately 150 junior high school students under the direction of W. W. Brister and Winnifred Wiseman.

Colorful costumes will be worn in the presentation of the musical which gives the story of an American salesman trying to sell modern windmills to the Dutch, who prefer to use their old ones. A romantic trend is carried out in the story and songs.

Those playing the leads in the operetta are Roger Smith, Mary Nelson, Evelyn Auld, Louise Jackson, Richard Tremery, Ralph Price, R. T. Seeds, and Harry L. Price.

Admission to this program, which is believed to be the best ever presented by the school is 10 and 25 cents.

In Messiah

Emil F. Myers, well known soloist from Amarillo, will sing the beautiful tenor solo, "Every Valley Shall be Exalted," from the Messiah which is to be given here December 20 at the First Methodist church.

MIND your MANNERS

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. Is it permissible to write a note on a Christmas card?
2. Should a letter ever be signed "Hastily yours"?
3. When cards are bought and the names of a husband and wife signed, whose name is written first?
4. If a child's name is also signed, in what order are the names written?
5. Should "yours" follow such closings as "Sincerely" and " Lovingly"?

What would you do if—
You are sending a Christmas card to a friend who has never met your husband—

- (a) Sign it with both your names?
- (b) Sign your own name first?
- (c) "Alice Brown Jones"?

Answers.
1. Not only permissible, but more in the spirit of Christmas.

2. No.
3. Either way. Usually the name doing the writing signs his name last.
4. Husband, wife, child.
5. That is the preferred form—though some people think it makes the closing more formal.

Best "What Would You Do" solution—(a), though under some circumstances you might prefer (c).

Amarillo Chorus To Augment Local Choir in Messiah

Pampa's Civic chorus, assisted by several voices from the Amarillo Civic chorus, will combine to form a group of about 75 singers in presenting Handel's famous Messiah here on December 20 at the First Methodist church. Lester Aldrich will direct the production, with May Foreman Carr at the organ, Ann Pittman Howze at the piano, and an orchestra playing the accompaniment.

"Attendance at rehearsals has been fine, and we are expecting to give an unusually fine performance. Our city should be proud of the fact that it has a group of singers who possess the courage and ability to attempt a musical production of this magnitude and difficulty of this great oratorio," Mr. Aldrich said.

The final rehearsal will be held on Tuesday evening in the First Methodist church at 7:30 o'clock. It is very important that all singers who wish to take part in the Messiah be present at this rehearsal.

A group of local singers will go to Amarillo on Sunday evening, December 19, to augment the Amarillo choir in the presentation of the Messiah in the Polk Street Methodist church there.

Miss Sessions Directs Sam Houston School Assembly Program

Students in Miss Tildie Sessions' third grade room at Sam Houston school, assisted by entertainers from other rooms, presented an interesting program at the school assembly this week. Miss Sessions had charge of the program and Miss Julia Giddens played the piano accompaniment.

Numbers by Mike Sklepik's accordion band opened the program. Rhythm, "Gustaf's Skool," used as a culmination of letter writing in Miss Session's room, was presented by Billie Spehr, Paulette Traywick, Billie Kathryn Vian, Lyman Osborn, Frank Crowell, Mary Lou Land, Jo Beth Henderson, and Leon Meason.

"The Thread Selected the Needle," being used to reach the highest point in the study of farm and home life, was given by another group of Miss Session's students including Charlie Duenkel, Billie Cree, Eyonnie Berry, Vernell Benton, David Levine, Ari J. Berry, Colleen Austin, Neal Webb, Betty Lou Harris, Charles Stephens, and June Cummings.

Following this part of the program, Miss Helen Martin's high school girls' chorus sang and the devotional was given by Dr. W. M. Pearce, pastor of the First Methodist church.

"Carrousal," representing a merry-go-round, by the third grade pupils included Billie Searle, Charline Brown, Dell Scott, Patsy Jean Mills, Fred Frost, Patsy Ruth Dixon, Charline Brown, Norma Jean Ward, Donald Lee Lyons, Madine Rosenbalm, Don Alexander, Billie Jo Johnson, Kennith Hobbs, and L. E. Smith.

A piano solo by Nancy Joyce Graham of Miss Wilma Chapman's first grade and an accordion solo by Sarah Sebald, a pupil in Mr. McWright's fifth grade, entertained the group. A minuet given by Reba Jo Fagan and Glenda Stephenson, accompanied by Mrs. Fagan, closed the program.

Sam Houston P-TA Hears Program

Mrs. T. H. Henry opened the Sam Houston Parent-Teacher association program yesterday afternoon at the school by reading the national P-T-A president's message.

The Rev. Hubert Kratzer, pastor of Methodist-Harrah Methodist churches, led the devotional and read several poems, "Christ in Modern Poetry."

Following these selections, Miss Julia Giddens led the group in singing P-T-A songs. A quartet in a Miss Wilma Jarrell's room entertained with a song, "Christmas is Near," was the reading given by Dorothy June Johnson.

A fifth grade girls' chorus sang "Jingle Bells" and Mary Jo Cockrell gave a dance number. After this Colleen Kendrick read "I've Got a Pain in My Sawtooth." Both girls sang "Santa Claus is Coming to Town."

A. L. Patrick, principal of the school, gave the high points of his trip to the state P-T-A convention held recently at Beaumont.

The attendance award was won by Miss Hazel Wilson's room for the upper grades and Miss Chapman's room for the lower grades.

Guests at the program were Supt. Chester Strickland, Mrs. J. A. Arwood of Skellytown, and Mrs. Roy Holt from the Baker school.

Midas Touch Brings Glitter to Mode

The new winter costumes call for a heavily gilded season—with "gobs" of jewelry the keynote of the smartest costumes. Necklaces worn three or four at a time, bracelets in profusion. Earrings, clips—no restraint anywhere.

Gold and glitter flashed all over the Paris openings . . . and now gold jewelry becomes the fashion of the hour, lending glamour to the simple black dresses found in every smart woman's wardrobe. This interesting web-like necklace has bracelets to match.

Glorifying Yourself

By ALICIA HART.

One of the nicest Christmas presents for practically any woman you know would be a gift order on a good beauty shop. With this, she could select whatever beauty preparations she happens to need, take a course of face treatments, get a new permanent wave, have her hair cut and waved or just cut, depending, of course, on the amount of the gift order.

A couple of girls we know are going to give their mother a beauty day. They've paid in advance, and a few days after Christmas, the mother will be able to walk into the salon they selected, spend the day getting a facial and a body massage treatment, having her hair cut, washed and waved, nails manicured, feet pedicured.

A de luxe manicure case, containing every item needed for a home manicure, from scissors to clippers, will please one who does her own nails. And a tiny nail kit, equipped with a few emergency boards, two or three shades of polish, orange stick, polish remover and nail-white pencil, is ideal for one who has weekly manicures, but who grooms her own nails between appointments with the manicurist.

Almost every girl wants a new lipstick and a compact. Among the Christmas compacts, a trim square number and a black enamel case with a gold crown on top would be appreciated. And a smaller compact with case in alternating stripes of dark brown enamel and gold, packed with a matching lipstick, makes a perfect gift.

If you know her coloring, give face powder. If you don't but want to give it anyway, be sure that the powder is an easy-to-exchange brand. Bath powder especially if it is packed with cologne or soap or both, in matching scent, is a sure-fire present.

Landon Says He Would Refuse to Run Again

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (AP)—Former Governor Alf M. Landon of Kansas said today he would not be a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination in 1940 and would not accept the nomination should it be offered to him.

The 1936 nominee made the announcement to newspaper men upon arrival here for the Gridiron club, a newspaper men's organization, dinner.

Landon emphasized, however, that his statement did not mean he was withdrawing from politics.

"I am taking this step so I can be more active in Republican party affairs," he said.

Madame Secretary Snorts at 'Plot'

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Dec. 10 (AP)—A suggestion that the business recession was a plot by opponents of the Roosevelt administration drew ridicule from Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins.

"The other day I heard a whisper on a train about the recession being a plot," she said during a lecture. "I don't think that anybody in America has either the nerve or the intelligence to do such a thing—to take such losses in business and industry and the stock market."

"Even though we might want to discredit somebody, we don't risk our last dollar to do it."

The secretary said "unnecessary extension of inventories made in anticipation of a great rise in prices and a speculative, not an ordinary, profit" was one of the causes of a recession.

Bell H. D. Club Members Report Accomplishments

"I have more than 800 quarts of fruits, vegetables, and meats in my pantry," Mrs. George Kurtz said as she told the story of her work and of her canning this past summer and fall to Bell Home Demonstration club members and visitors Wednesday afternoon.

"I have traded cucumbers for tomatoes and peaches and have had very little expense on my pantry. I value it at $243.66. Also I have an emergency shelf most of the time to prepare for unexpected guests."

"My greatest benefit derived from my pantry work has been learning to balance my meats and I feel that alone will pay me for my time and effort," she continued.

Mrs. Kurtz has been assisted in her work by her daughter, Margaret, who desires credit for her work.

A business session with the club president in charge was conducted in which various committees and individuals reported their accomplishments. Plans for the annual Christmas party to be held December 20 in the home of Mrs. H. H. Keasbey, a luncheon consisting of Jon Mozetta, baked potatoes with cheese, lettuce roll, pineapple and carrot salad, snacks, and apple sauce cake with coffee was served to eight members and three visitors, Misses Geraldine Skibinski, Gertrude Kurtz, and Mrs. Julia E. Kelley. Miss Geraldine Skibinski joined the club at this meeting.

Dramatics Discussed By P-TA

Mrs. Tom Perkins presided at the night meeting of the Woodrow Wilson Parent-Teacher association Thursday evening in the school auditorium.

A report of the city council was given by Mrs. F. W. Shotwell who told of the accomplishments of the different Parent-Teacher associations in Pampa.

Woodrow Wilson band under the direction of Herman Trigg played two numbers, "The Band Played On," and "March Activities." The group was led in prayer by Loye Ruckman, who was leader of the program on "Practical Dramatics as a Hobby."

"Anything educational is practical. Dramatics creates ease of manner, imagination, stimulates creative ability, gives insight into good psychology, teaches you to act and to develop self control," Ben Gull said in his talk on "Practical Dramatics."

A girls' quartet composed of Carolyn Darnell, Anna Barnett, Emma Lee Paxton, and Marjorie Gaylor sang "Little Town of Bethlehem." They were accompanied by Miss Charlette Ratcliff.

In discussing "Marionettes as a Hobby," Carol Kiebrew said, "Marionettes are based on art. We must have art to have any kind of a hobby."

One marionette, a clown, gave a short performance. Mr. Kiebrew displayed several that were made by pupils of Horace Mann school and explained one that he was constructing.

Mrs. Lewis Leads Program of P-TA

HIGGINS, Dec. 10—The P. T. A. met at the school auditorium Tuesday night with Mrs. C. S. Carmichael, president, in charge. The program was arranged by Mrs. Gomez Lewis. After the regular business was disposed of several minutes of group singing was enjoyed and Supt. R. L. Snider gave the invocation.

The fifth grade entertainment under the direction of Mrs. D. Sparger was thoroughly appreciated. Mrs. G. W. Fritzen discussed "Practical Education" and Mrs. O. G. Henderson, "An Educator Looks at Home Work." Mrs. Russell Teter and Miss Quillian Garrison played an entertaining piano duet.

THEY DIDN'T KNOW THEIR ONIONS.

FILLEIGH, England (AP)—Daffodil soup served at the village school in Filleigh, near South Moulton, Devonshire, caused illness among nine students.

Two senior scholars prepared the soup, but they used daffodil bulbs instead of onions. All nine students recovered.

IDAHO YOUTH SUICIDES AND CHEATS NOOSE

BOISE Idaho, Dec. 10 (P)—Douglas Van Vlack borrowed death today to cheat the gallows. He died a suicide at 12:35 a. m. (M. S. T.), at about the hour he would have been hanged, fatally injuring himself, four hours before his date with the executioner. His parents, who had come from their Tacoma, Wash., home to bid him farewell, saw him leap 30 feet from the side of a cell to add his life to the three he had taken two years ago. Dr. G. H. Waile, prison physician, said: "Death was caused by a broken neck, probably a fractured skull, internal hemorrhages and other injuries. He did not regain consciousness." Thus did shocking violence mark the end of the 33-year-old former University of Washington business student just as it marked the trail that sent him to the death-house. That trial started on the Tacoma street from which, Nov. 23, 1935, he abducted 22-year-old Mildred Hook, his former wife. Two police officers who sought to halt him met death, one killed outright and the other dying of the Tacoma's bullets the following Dec. 8—Two years ago Wednesday. In quick succession Van Vlack ran his car into a ditch, forced Miss Hook to spend the cold night with him in a culvert, then shot her. On Nov. 2, officers found him, cold and exhausted, beside the highway. Extraordinary legal maneuvers that voided two previous execution dates staved off capital punishment for two years and 15 days. Van Vlack jumped at 7:50 o'clock last night from a cellhouse beam to the concrete floor a few minutes after he had kissed his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Van Vlack, goodbye.

BOYS WILL BE BOYS IN CO-EDS' PLAY. ANN ARBOR, Mich. (P)—University of Michigan co-eds have decided that men can do a better job of impersonating their own sex. So, for the first time in 25 years, male students will appear this year in the annual junior girls' play.

LIQUID COAL OFFERED AS OIL SUBSTITUTE

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 10 (P)—Dr. Thomas E. Baker, president emeritus of Carnegie Institute of Technology, offered "liquid coal" today as a substitute for diminishing supplies of petroleum and a stimulant for the mining industry. Asserting that the United States is studying liquefaction of coal because the "price of petroleum must rise," the founder of the institute's coal research laboratory said last night in a radio address: "The time will and must come when great quantities of coal will be used to propel motor vehicles. Coal is already furnishing what the Germans call 'ersatz' (substitutes) for natural substances and chief of these is a substitute for petroleum." He predicted that costs of manufacturing the derivatives soon would decline, opening a vast new market for coal producers. But Arno Fieldner, government expert, declared in a simultaneous address to the Coal Mining Institute of America, it would be advisable from a "conservation point of view" to delay the manufacture of gasoline from coal "as long as possible." The chief of the technological branch of the U. S. Bureau of Mines told the 500 coal operators that the cost of making motor fuel from coal in British and German plants had been estimated as three to four times greater than of producing gasoline from petroleum.

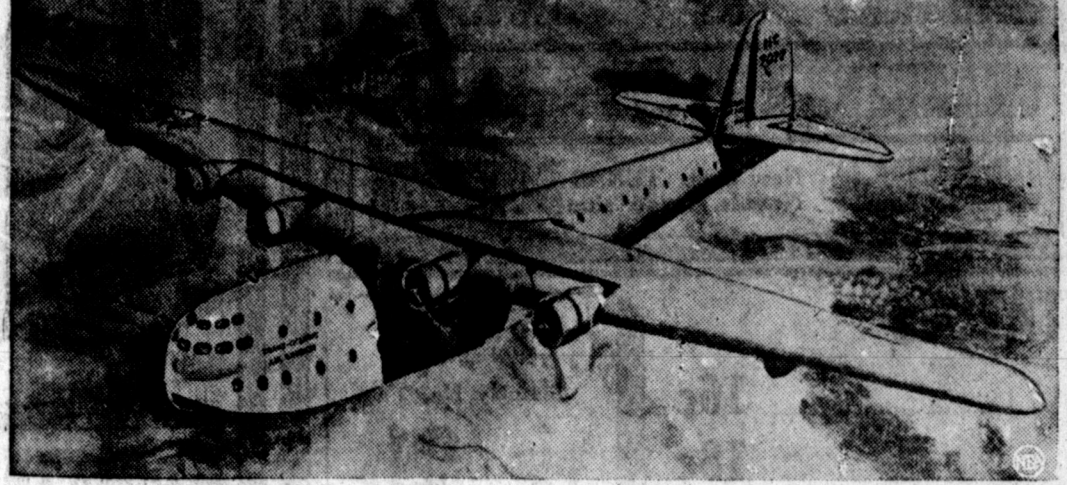

County Finance in South Condemned

DALLAS, Dec. 10 (P)—"Country store" methods of county government in the 14 southern states are condemned in "County Finance in the South" by Dr. Frank W. Prescott, issued by Southern Methodist University as one of the Arnold foundation studies in public affairs. Dr. Prescott, head of the Adolph S. Ochs department of government at the University of Chattanooga, also warns the county must be made more efficient if it is to continue as a unit of local government. He praises contributions to efficient government made by unofficial league of municipalities and taxpayers associations.

JAIL MUSICIANS KNOW THEIR BARS

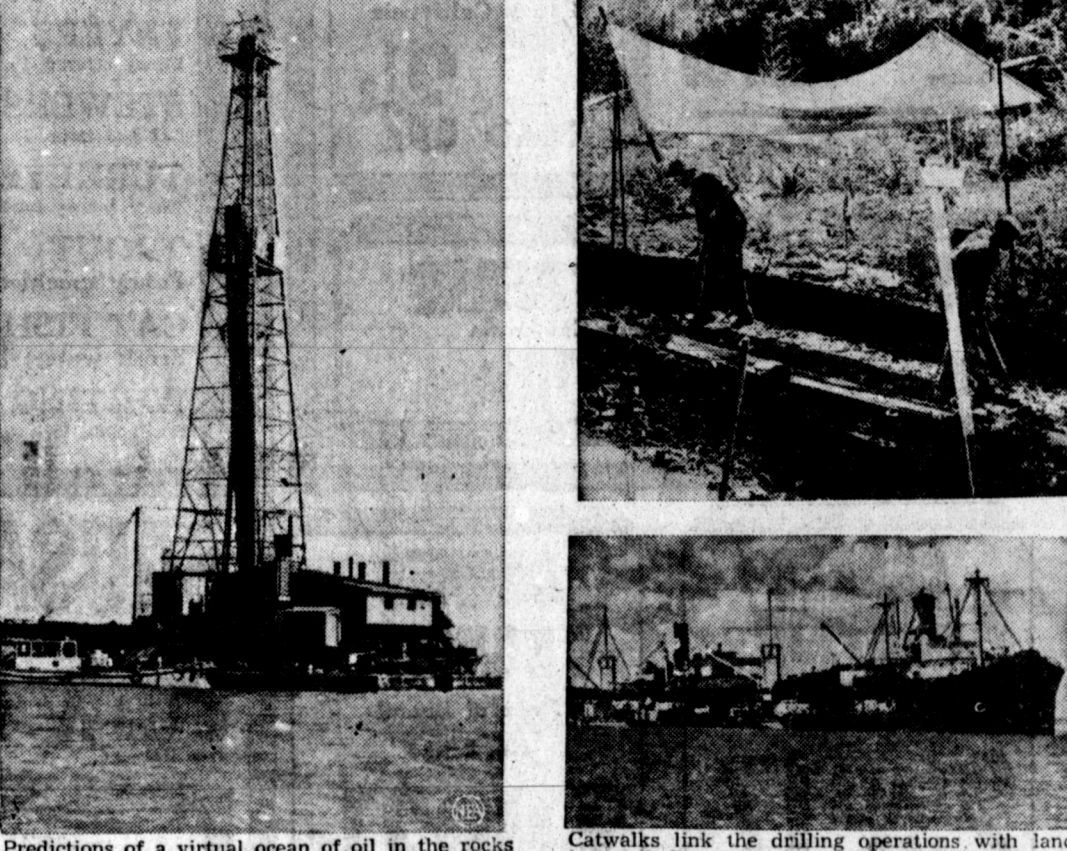

LEGGAN W. Va. (P)—Three string-strumming musicians in the county jail play from inside their cell block while the director stands outside but they boast it won't be long before they will charm more than just the inmates. Charley Johnson, Sam Eldridge, and Charley Cline twang the strings of their instruments while Moss Stele beats the baton on the bars. And Jailer C. W. Bias is just as proud as they are. He says: "The old grand opera hasn't got a thing on my boys."

Ocean of Difference In Liners of Future

The ocean liner of the next decade, the U. S. Maritime Commission fears, will be a huge air transport capable of making the crossing in one-sixth the time required by the fastest ship. That is why the commission recommends the construction of 50-ton, 50-passenger planes, like that shown in the artist's visualization above, to augment the merchant marine.

Oil Found Beneath Gulf of Mexico

Predictions of a virtual ocean of oil in the rocks beneath the Gulf of Mexico, 18 miles from land, have spurred Louisiana to embark on an ambitious project to tap the pool. Above, a barge floats the derrick and drilling equipment used to probe the ocean bottom for "black gold." Catwalks link the drilling operations with land in the shallower reaches of the oil field, and once abandoned wartime freighters, below, are anchored off shore to serve as storage ships. And on nearby islands men dig silt, at top, for use by drillers at sea in cutting through the rocks.

AUSTIN CENTENNIAL TO BE OBSERVED IN 1939

AUSTIN, Dec. 10 (P)—Although there is a year to go, a committee is at work on plans for an elaborate observance of Austin's centennial in 1939. Varied events will be linked in the common theme of the capital city's 100th birthday. Among suggestions is a revival of the once famous lake Austin boat regatta. The State of Texas plans to participate officially in two big expositions in 1939, the World's Fair at New York and the Golden Gate Exposition at San Francisco.

BANDIT GETS $9 IN CURB-STOP ROBBERY

DALLAS, Dec. 10 (P)—Police raised their eyebrows today at the appearance of curb-service banditry. A man drove a truck to a sandwich shop and handed a car hop a note. It instructed him to place the cash register contents in a paper sack (forhandedly provided by the bandit) and return it to him. Under threat of a gun the car hop delivered the note to his employer inside, who put $9 in the sack and sent it to the waiting robber, who drove away. The truck, which had been stolen, was found—but man and money were missing.

Spur Ranch Relics Displayed at Tech

LUBBOCK, Dec. 10 (P)—Relics associated with the early history of Spur ranch, a photograph of the first meeting of directors of Texas Technological College and a timetable on which ran the first regular train into Lubbock, Oct. 25, 1909, recently were presented to the West Texas Museum on Tech campus. The ranch exhibits, given by Clifford B. Jones, ranch manager and president of the Tech board of directors, include an English saddle, a stamp for wax seals bearing the imprint of a spur, a powder pouch for muzzle-loading guns, and a pair of rusty handcuffs. Ex-Govs. Pat M. Neff and W. P. Hobby, Amos G. Carter and Jones are in the photograph of the first Tech directors.

LEDRIK RITES ATTENDED BY RECORD CROWD

Mrs. Lee Ledrick's busy, Christian life was wrapped up in serving the home and her church, the Rev. James Todd said yesterday afternoon in an address at her funeral which was attended by a crowd that filled the First Christian church to capacity. Almost every old-timer in this section was present.

Rev. Todd remembered that in the early days there was a path between Mrs. Ledrick's house and the parsonage of the First Christian church. Mrs. Ledrick who died Wednesday of a long illness, always supported the church, and its ministers. He mentioned her keen interest in school affairs, and that she was a leader in welfare work. Mrs. Ledrick was a member of the First Christian church here for 30 years.

The altar of the church was entirely covered with floral wreaths and sprays. More than 100 friends and groups sent flowers. A choir sang Mrs. Ledrick's favorite songs including "I Gave My Life For Thee," which she sang when she was near death in a local hospital.

Immediate survivors were her husband, Lee Ledrick, Panhandle pioneer; two daughters, Mrs. Cassie Balthrop and Mrs. Vera Shriver; two sons, H. L. of Wickett and Mickey of Pampa. She was also survived by five sisters and hundreds of relatives. More than 100 kinsmen attended the funeral services at the church. Mrs. Ledrick was the daughter of the late Mrs. Marion Walstad, Panhandle pioneer.

Funeral services were under the direction of Duengel-Carmichael funeral home. John Mullen assisted Rev. Todd in the services.

Rev. Todd recalled interesting incidents that illustrated the humanity and Christianity of Mrs. Ledrick. He said she was not only interested in her own home but in the homes of all those families she knew. Wherever need was, Mrs. Ledrick was there also, the minister said.

MCENTIRE AND JACKSON WILL ACCEPT TERMS

CLOVIS, N. M., Dec. 10 (AP)—Ray Jackson and Marvin McEntire, Pampa youths convicted of second degree murder in connection with the shooting slaying of Ed Hargus, 54-year-old Roosevelt county farmer last July, will be transported in a few days to the state penitentiary at Santa Fe, sheriff officers here have indicated. Each was sentenced for 99 years.

Defense attorneys Howard F. Houk and T. E. Mears Jr., after conferring with the defendants and their families, have decided not to ask for a new trial or announce an appeal. Judge Harry L. Patton passed sentence only a few minutes after the jury returned its verdict, just before noon yesterday.

Since they did not lay the basis for an appeal before sentence was passed, it would be difficult to reopen the case, lawyers said.

Nearly 400 spectators jammed the courtroom Wednesday night for the closing arguments. Most of them remained until the jury went to bed. A big crowd was on hand when the verdict was announced yesterday morning.

The trial was unusual in that the defendants were arrayed against each other, though it was a joint trial.

POSSIBILITY OF FORECASTING DROUGHTS AND DELUGES SEEN

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 10 (AP)—The possibility of long-range forecasting of deluges and droughts today came out of the work of two research assistants at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, who for five days and four sleepless nights charted characteristics of a high pressure area in the Atlantic.

Meteorologists said they believed disastrous floods east of the Mississippi two years ago were largely influenced by this zone, known as the Bermuda high.

Research on the area is based on the impression that this body of upper air, when fully charted, will disclose definite seasonal and monthly trends which can be predicted with certainty and used to indicate the type of weather ahead over a long period than is now possible.

The interest of meteorologists in the high pressure zones is a comparatively recent development made possible only by the use of the radioteletypegraph, a device which soars into the stratosphere attached to a balloon, broadcasting to listeners below the pressure, temperature and humidity in the successive layers of air through which it rises.

With this instrument aboard a freighter, D. P. Kelly and D. S. Mackiernan Jr., of M. I. T., charted a 1,500-mile section from San Juan to New York, during the Bermuda high, a semi-permanent high pressure area centering off Bermuda.

The value of successive chartings of this area, said Prof. Carl G. Rossby, head of the M. I. T. division of meteorology, lies in the belief movement of air in the upper atmosphere is linked closely with mean monthly rainfalls.

FROM OL' KENTUCKY folk songs and hill ballads he has been singing since boyhood will be presented at the White House December 6 by John Jacob Niles. He accompanies himself with a dulcimer.

LOCAL WOMAN'S SISTER SUCCEUMBS AT SAPULPA

Mrs. Harry Nelson has returned from Sapulpa, Okla., where she attended the funeral of her sister, Mrs. George Conlee Wilson, 53, who died last Friday morning in the Sapulpa city hospital after undergoing an operation for appendicitis five weeks ago.

Her condition a week ago was considered highly favorable and her recovery seemed assured, but Mrs. Wilson was unable to overcome a gradually increasing critical illness. A blood transfusion Wednesday was of only temporary benefit.

She is survived by her husband, Judge Gaylor R. Wilson, an only daughter, Mrs. Richard M. Caldwell, two granddaughters, her mother, Mrs. T. E. Potter of St. Joseph, Mo.; six sisters, Mmes. Oliver Macy and J. H. Williams of St. Joseph, Mo.; William F. Ullman of Los Angeles, Calif.; Harry Nelson of Pampa; Misses Bertha and Edna Potter.

Mrs. Wilson went to Sapulpa in 1921 and was active in social and church circles and civic work there. She was a member of the Methodist church. Her term as president of the Sapulpa Women's chamber of commerce expired this month and she had held a number of other official posts in this organization. She was a former president of the Sapulpa Reading club, a D. A. R. member of the League of Women Voters, and territorial day organizer for the women's federated clubs.

Mrs. Wilson gained considerable attention of the years preceding her residence in Sapulpa for her voice and as a singer.

Among those from out of town with the family for the funeral rites were Mrs. Nelson from Pampa, Mmes. Macy, Charles R. Miller, and Bertha Potter of Dallas. She had visited in Pampa and was known by several residents here.

BLIND FAN BUYS FIRST COTTON BOWL TICKETS

DALLAS, Dec. 10 (AP)—Genial Dr. George L. Bennett, totally blind Dallas sportsman, today purchased the first two tickets to the Cotton Bowl football game on New Year's day.

Dr. Bennett, one of Dallas' most enthusiastic sports fans despite his impairment, demanded of J. Curtis Sanford, president of the Cotton Bowl association, that he be given "50-yard line tickets so I can see everything."

Dr. Bennett has a constant companion who attends baseball games, wrestling matches, fights and football games with him and informs him of the activity. He will be with Dr. Bennett on the 50-yard line when Rice Institute and Colorado, unbeaten Rocky Mountain rulers, clash in the Cotton Bowl.

Alanreed Beats Shamrock 32-6

ALANREED, Dec. 9 (AP)—Alanreed high school basketball teams opened the season Wednesday night by taking two games from the Shamrock Irish. The Alanreed girls winning by a score of 32 to 17 and the boys by a 32 to 6 score.

While they shot baskets from all angles, the Longhorns held the Irishmen to a single field goal James, a 6 foot 3 inch boy, led the Longhorns with 15 points. Weller Snyder, his co-captain, followed with seven points. Hill played a bang-up game at taking the ball off the backboards while Reeves and Arthur Snyder were defensive stars. Bruce was the chief threat with McLemore covered.

Eighteen points from the hands of Mary Oakley led the Longhorn Lassies to victory. Gibson and W. Elakney did excellent ball handling and had a share in the scoring. Pennington led the Irish Lassies with eight points.

Groom's Independents staged off a last quarter rally to defeat the Alanreed Independents 30 to 24. Clark was high scorer with Darnell in front for Alanreed.

SPANISH WAR PRISONERS HOUSED IN OPEN CAMPS.

BARCELONA, Spain (AP)—The 25,000 to 30,000 prisoners of the Republican government of Spain must be treated as "human beings" under the code of Manuel de Irujo, minister of justice.

A Basque nationalist and devout Catholic, Irujo said in an interview that prisons should aim at correction and not extermination.

Dealing with a prison population which has increased from a maximum of 10,000 persons before the war, Irujo said he insisted on modern sanitary equipment in prisons despite criticism from some persons who objected that prisoners were too well treated.

Prisoners are being evacuated from besieged Madrid, and many are being housed in open camps under normal, healthy conditions. In a typical camp at Albaterra in the Levante, Irujo explained, specialists are permitted to work outside the prison while others aid in constructing the Madrid-Tarancon railway.

3 ARTISTS ON PROGRAM HERE SUNDAY NIGHT

Three talented artists will take part in the service at the First Christian church Sunday night.

Beginning at 7:15, Howard House will give a 25 minute organ program. As Mr. House is leaving Pampa, this will be his farewell concert. His many friends who have enjoyed his music on the organ are invited to hear him one more time.

Fidel Reyes of Amarillo, a baritone, will sing and his wife, a dramatic reader, will read a program of sacred selections. Both Mr. and Mrs. Reyes are graduates of the school of Fine Arts and of the College of the Bible of Phillips University of Enid, Oklahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. Reyes sang and read one other time at the First Christian church of Pampa, but due to a snow storm very few heard them. Those who did were strong in their praise of the ability of Mr. and Mrs. Reyes.

For a year and a half Mr. Reyes has been minister of the Mexican Christian church of Amarillo. He turned down a career as a singer in order to devote himself to Christian service.

Everyone is welcome in this service but those who wish to get good seats are urged to come before 7:15.

Gene Finkbeiner was the pianist. Girls in the cast are Jerry Mitchell, Ruth and Ida Belle Wagnon, Alberten Schulkey, Helen Draper, Lillian Rice, Ruby Scaler, Jo Flaagan, Betty Jo Townsend, Katherine Barrett, Lorene Nicholson, and Dorothy Harris.

One of the acts of the show is singing by a group consisting of Lillian Rice, Ruby Scaler, Betty Jo Townsend, Joe Burrow, Dr. H. L. Wilder, Kenneth Bennett, and Clarence Kennedy.

John F. Sturgeon arrived too late to have a part in the rehearsal last night, but he made up for that by doing some great piano playing and singing of some of the classics of the Golden 20's, accompanied by some members of the cast of the minstrel show who couldn't get enough singing to satisfy them in the rehearsal.

The five slayings which put police on the trail of the gang. Investigators believed that Million could be identified as a man with whom Weidmann talked in the lobby of a Paris hotel last July, before he lured the Brooklyn dancing girl to the band's "villa of death" in St. Cloud.

During this morning's questioning, police said the slayer declared Million made an attempt to collect ransom of $500 from Ida Sackheim. Miss De Koven's aunt, several days after the dancer was killed.

Detectives also believed Million and his blonde mistress were the man and woman who passed several of the $500 worth of traveler's checks which Weidmann took after slaying the American girl.

The gruesome confession of the 29-year-old Weidmann, a fugitive from German military service, permitted French authorities to close the bulging four-month dossier on the disappearance of Miss De Koven.

It also delineated the twist of a killer's mind. In soft voice—almost regretfully—he related how he had enticed the girl to the lonely villa last July.

"The memory of this crime is more atrocious than that of the others. She was gentle, trusting and glad to have someone with whom to talk English, which I have known since my sojourn in the United States and Canada."

Weidmann said he returned from an American trip in 1930.

In Tokyo, a foreign office spokesman said a full statement would be issued on Japan's future policy in China after the anticipated fall of Nanking.

Insurgent sources said a government attack was beaten back in heavy fighting west of Madrid. A government communique said government planes scattered insurgent concentrations north of Zaragoza.

Twenty-eight government airplanes staged the second air raid on Palma, on the island of Mallorca, in two days. The damage was not reported. Insurgent reports said eight of the planes were shot down.

SIGNS OF NEW DROUGHT APPEAR IN WHEAT BELT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (AP)—The weather threatens to play a cruel control role all its own in the winter wheat belt next year.

Weather bureau officials said today signs of a new drought were appearing in the Great Plains region, where the bulk of the bread grain is grown.

What One Truck Did to 120-Foot Bridge

Frankfort's bridge—not London's—has fallen down and the light one and a half-ton truck, shown in the foreground of the above picture, caused it all. When the truck, driven by Landis Thompson, Sedalia, Ind., hit an end support, the entire bridge collapsed leftward. The roadway, center, shows the original line of the bridge, while the girders which formed the right side of the structure now lie across the floor and the superstructure is a mass of twisted wreckage, half submerged in the stream. The truck was damaged slightly, the driver bruised, and it will cost Indiana $20,000 to replace the bridge.

SHE FOOLED THE TEACHER and her 10-year-old classmates by dressing in a short skirt and baby socks and attending classes at Woolwich, England, masquerading as an 11-year-old girl. In reality, Mrs. Terry Cohen, shown with her husband and favorite doll, is 23 years old and a mother. She has stopped going to school, although authorities threatened to force her return.

Market Briefs

WOOL MARKET
BOSTON, Dec. 10 (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin will say tomorrow:

"There is a better tone in the wool market generally and more business is being done. Activity is most pronounced in the pulled wool section of the market, especially in scoured medium wools on the basis of about 55 to 58 cents for good to choice white types. There is moderate demand also for fine and fine medium territory wools in the clean range of 65 to 75 cents. Medium greasy wools are slow.

"Australia is up about 10 per cent for the week, with good topmaking fine wools costing 90 to 92 cents clean basis, duty-paid, at Boston. New Zealand markets are keen and slightly dearer and the same is true of South America, especially on low crossbreds.

"The piecegoods market is slightly better but can stand much more improvement. In the west, there is little new reported, growers choosing usually to hold for higher prices."

"Mohair continues slow and easy." The Bulletin will publish the following quotations:

Scoured basis:
Texas: Fine 12 months selected 77-78; fine short 12 months 73-75; fine 8 months 63-65.
Mohair:
Domestic, good regional bag, Texas spring, 60-65 cents; Texas kid, 75-80; Arizona and New Mexican, 57-58; Oregon, 55-60.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON
NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 10 (AP)—Prices continued to move upward under trade calling until the market showed net advances of 1 to 3 points.

Later, however, renewed profit taking and covering mixed fluctuations and near mid-session prices were 1 point net higher to 3 points lower.

December traded at 8.17, March at 8.23, May at 8.21, July at 8.24 and October at 8.30.

COURT UPHOLDS RACE STEWARDS
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Jockeys who go to court to protest fines or suspensions imposed by racing stewards found little encouragement in the latest ruling handed down.

The case of Jockey Donald Lyons was thrown out of court by Judge Maxwell McNutt, fluffed at a recent suspension at Bay Meadows. Lyons wanted to fight the matter out in court. McNutt ruled in effect, that in run of the mill cases of discipline the race stewards were supreme.

COUNTY TAXES GAIN IN YEAR

Taxes collected by the office of the county tax assessor-collector amounted to $101,362.73 for the period ending November 30, when split payment plan taxes were due. It was announced today by F. E. Leech, county tax assessor-collector.

This represents a $5,000 increase over the amount of taxes collected at this time last year, when the total was $96,787.39.

Of the amount collected this year, $2,044.50 was for delinquent taxes, $99,318.23 current taxes.

Next payment under the split payment plan is due June 30. Those who did not take advantage of the plan are due to pay all of the year's taxes on January 31.

On that date is also the final time for payment of poll taxes. Very few persons have paid taxes to date, Leech said. Poll tax fees are unchanged at $1.75.

In Pampa as in other cities of 10,000 population or over, voters who are entitled to exemptions are supposed to have these entered at the same time poll taxes are paid. Exemptions are granted in cases of voters who were over 60 years of age between January 1, 1937, and the next election, and in cases of voters who are under age on January 1, 1937, but who become of voting age between that date and the date of elections.

Gray county's tax valuation this year is $30,229,560, an increase of approximately three million over 1936, when the valuation was $27,941,535.

The county tax rate is $1.04 for this year, unchanged from last year, but the state tax rate has decreased from 62 to 49 cents.

AUNT NAMED GUARDIAN OF FRED BARTHOLOMEW

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Dec. 10 (AP)—Aunt Myrtle Bartholomew pulled the strings tight on young Freddie Bartholomew's purse today with a court decision naming her guardian of the 13-year-old film actor's estate.

The ruling yesterday virtually wound up the mass of litigation in which Freddie has been tangled nine months.

Only one suit is pending—that of Freddie's former agents, Myron Selznick & Co., for 10 per cent of his earnings. The concern contends its contract with Freddie was broken Nov. 8. The suit asks $39,600 but does not state how that figure was reached. Trial date has not been set.

The decision awarding custody of Freddie's estate to Miss Bartholomew marked his aunt's second victory over his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bartholomew. Nov. 2 she was confirmed as his guardian.

Evidence showed that while Freddie earned $100,000 the past two years, his estate was valued at $19,187.13.

"I would like my aunt to have full control of the estate," Freddie testified. "While she had charge of my affairs once before for a little over a year, she saved $20,000, but since the other parties have taken over the estate, it has depleted rapidly."

He said he would like to have his sisters provided for, "so they can have their schooling, but I think father is well able to take care of himself."

very small amount of temporary financing.

He shook his head when asked if the post of federal coordinator of railroads was to be revived.

Problem Most Difficult
Describing the railroad situation as the most difficult faced by the nation, the president recalled a 1934 statement by former Coordinator Joseph B. Eastman saying the carrier situation had improved temporarily but that no one on the commerce commission felt a permanent solution was at hand.

The president indicated the roads must readjust over capitalizations and abandon more trackage in areas that might be served by only one railroad and where trucks and buses could do the job.

For example, he said, if a road was capitalized for $200,000,000 and had only a net earning power for a $100,000,000 capitalization, a question was posed what to do about it.

Pressed for an explanation, the president replied that you can not get blood out of a stone.

FOUR YOUTHS KILLED.
AZUSA, Calif., Dec. 10 (AP)—Four youths were killed early today when a Santa Fe mail train struck their automobile at a grade crossing near Azusa city park. The victims were Archie Smith, Pat Pollard, and Paul and Keith Thompson, ranging in age from 21 to 23.

BROWN TOOTH STAIN STUDIED AT CANYON

CANYON, Dec. 10 (AP)—Two representatives of the United States Public Health Service are in this area studying the brown tooth stain, its prevalence and nature.

They are Dr. W. J. Pelton and Dr. F. A. Arnold, who currently are making group studies of children. The stain is said to be caused by fluorine in drinking water found in many parts of the Panhandle and in about 350 communities of this country.

Dr. Arnold said. Canyon's municipal supply, taken from deep wells, is comparatively free from fluorine but children who drink water from shallow wells in rural communities have been affected by the disfiguring stain.

Some persons appear to be immune and the investigators would like to know why. Teeth of animals, as well as humans, are subject to the brown stain.

DENIES STATE OWNERSHIP OF PADRE ISLAND

BROWNSVILLE, Dec. 10 (AP)—Harbert Davenport, Brownsville lawyer, questions the claim of high officials that Padre Island belongs to the state.

Davenport, who has conducted lawsuits involving titles on the island, said recently the "state confirmed the title on '11-2 leagues called Padre Island' by an act of the Legislature in 1852."

He said the island now is more than 11 1/2 leagues "and there may be some question whether the act of 1852 cleared title on all of Padre Island or merely the 11 1/2 leagues then constituting the area."

the late Pat F. Dunn. Dunn later sold the land to "a family named Jones of Kansas," Davenport said, but kept a vendor's lien, which, after his death went to his brother Burton Dunn of Corpus Christi. "I don't know who owns the land now," he said.

SKELETON IDENTIFIED AS NOT OF BLANTONS

RAYMONDVILLE, Dec. 10 (AP)—A verdict of "death due to natural causes" had been returned today after an inquest over a skeleton tentatively identified Tuesday as that of long-missing John Blanton.

Peace Justice Charles Mitchell of Lyford, where the body was found, said he believed the man had been dead four years. Sheriff Howard Cragg of Willacy county and other officers agreed. Blanton and his father, Luther, have been missing since Nov. 18, 1936.

Members of the Blanton family had seen a number of points of similarity between the skeleton and physical characteristics of John Blanton.

Final disposition of the remains was undecided.

GOREE PRISON AT HUNTSVILLE ALMOST CLINIC

HUNTSVILLE, Dec. 10 (AP)—The Goree state prison farm, four miles south of Huntsville, is more a hospital and clinic than prison, says Capt. Marcus Heath, in charge of this concentration of the state's women prisoners.

"Many women come here broken in health," says Captain Heath. "But medical treatment begins at once and continues until the doctor pronounces them healed. Case histories show, in the main, their criminal activities directly traceable to disease. Those able to work regularly during treatment, excepting contagious cases, and when they are discharged from prison re-established health assures them another chance in life."

The present inmates comprise 33 white women, six of Mexican birth, and 90 negroes. Many work in the garment factory and others are assigned to cooking, serving meals and as building tenders. The garden squad is formed of negro women and a few work in the vegetable house.

The garment factory is exceeded only by the automobile license plate and the packing plants as the prison system's most profitable enterprise, the 1936 annual report of the Texas prison board showing a profit equivalent to $28,000.

The women made 23,471 pairs of white duck trousers equivalent in value to $15,150, $10,643 in shirts, $9,247 in summer discharge suits, and $4,005 in overalls. About 75,000 yards of heavy ducking was bought at an expenditure of $17,591. Some of the garments were sent to insane asylums, homes for the aged, and juvenile schools.

The women prisoners soon will be moved to a new fireproof dormitory costing $40,000. The first floor contains the captain's office, visiting room, sleeping quarters for negro trustees, first aid room, operating room, workshop, dining room for whites and negroes, and kitchen, sleeping quarters and a recreation room occupy the third floor.

Dining room tables are made of pipe with concrete-terrace tops and have seats that swing beneath when not in use. Meals are served "family" style. The women are seated at the sound of a gong, Grace said, and they serve themselves. When all have finished Steward Curtis Owens taps the gong again and they march out. The meals take 20 or 25 minutes.

An average day's menu lists oatmeal, toast, rice, sweet milk, butter and coffee for breakfast; beef, spaghetti, tomatoes, sweet potatoes, radishes, brown gravy, peas, onions and hot corn bread for dinner. Supper is the same as dinner with light bread and a pint of sweet milk for each inmate added.

RELICS DISPLAYED AT MASONIC CONVENTION

WACO, Dec. 10 (AP)—Among unusual and historic objects displayed at the recent annual convention here of the Masonic Grand Lodge of Texas were a Toltec Indian war club and a miniature lodge room with complete furniture and tessellated floor. The room, three feet by 18 inches in size, was made by J. O. Russell, past master of the Grosbeck lodge. It contains 2,186 pieces of wood, all excepting the bases of the pillars taken from cigar boxes.

The war club was found 18 feet under the bed of the old Trinity river at Fort Worth and is well preserved. The carvings on the head, representing six birds, including an eagle and a duck, are sharply defined and the color of the wood seemingly natural.

Modern Menus

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX

Way up state in New York there's a gal who can toss a doughnut—toss it better any anyone else I know. And she isn't a Salvation Army lass, either. Her name is Lucy Maltby and in the judgment of thousands of people she is one of the best cooks and food thinker-uppers of grand victuals in these hungry United States. And she's big hearted, too, which will explain why she has given me some of her pet doughnut recipes for this column. So here you are for Miss Maltby's private doughnut recipes.

Doughnuts.
(About 2 1/2 dozen doughnuts.)
Two eggs, 1 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons shortening, 4 cups flour, 2 teaspoons salt, 5 teaspoons baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/8 teaspoon nutmeg, 1 cup milk.

Beat the eggs and sugar until very light. Add the melted shortening. Sift the dry ingredients together and add alternately with the milk and egg mixture. Roll on a slightly floured board to 1/4-inch thickness. Cut with a doughnut cutter and let stand 20 minutes before frying. Fry in hot fat (360 degrees F.), turning as soon as doughnut rises to brown on other side. Drain the doughnuts on brown paper and when cool roll in sugar.

Potato Doughnuts.
(About 3 dozen doughnuts.)
Four and one-half cups all purpose flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/2 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon salt, 3 eggs, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup mashed potatoes, 2 tablespoons melted shortening, 3/4 cup sour milk.

Sift together the first five ingredients. Beat the eggs slightly, add sugar gradually, beating it in. Add mashed potatoes and shortening. Beat in a portion of the sifted dry ingredients, add a portion of the milk, about 1/3, beat it in. Continue alternating dry ingredients and liquids, stirring after each addition until batter is smooth, but no longer as over stirring will make doughnuts tough. Chill dough. Roll out a portion of the dough at a time to 1/4 inch thickness. Cut with a floured doughnut cutter. Fry in deep fat heated to 360 degrees F., turning as soon as doughnut rises to the surface. Turn it over and brown the other side. Drain on absorbent paper and sprinkle with sugar if desired.

Sour-Cream Doughnuts.
(About 2 dozen doughnuts.)
Six egg yolks, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup thick sour cream, 4 cups pastry flour, 1 1/2 teaspoons soda, 1 1/2 teaspoons cream of tartar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg.

Beat the egg yolks until thick and lemon colored. Gradually add the sugar, beating while adding. Add the cream. Sift the dry ingredients together and add to the first mixture. Place in the refrigerator for five hours. Roll out to 1/3 inch thickness. Dip doughnut cutter into flour and cut out, cutting as close together as possible. Lower doughnuts into the fat heated to 360 degrees F. (a cube of bread browns in 60 seconds at this temperature).

Fry only a few at a time. As soon as the doughnut rises to the surface, turn it over immediately, using a long handled fork or wire whisk. Fry doughnuts until a golden brown. Drain from the fat, place on absorbent paper and when well drained, sprinkle with powdered sugar.

GREED DIMS LUSTER OF MAN'S MIRACLES

Thirty-six years ago, almost to the day, a gifted Italian sat him down, tapped a telegraph key, and performed a miracle.

His miracle of wireless telegraphy is a familiar one; by now, so familiar that most of the time we fail to recognize it as a miracle at all.

But it remains a miracle, nevertheless; and we might have a better understanding of the world we live in if we could remember that the whole structure of modern society is built on just such miracles, so that the mere existence of our complicated civilization is one of the most breath-taking miracles of all time.

The real truth about man is not all the sort of truth that the "realists" proclaim—that he is just another animal, with greed and self-interest his eternal motive-springs.

Consider Marconi's miracle, for instance, and all that has grown out of it.

The ship at sea is no longer isolated. Nation now talks with nation, over mountain barriers, limitless deserts and storm-bound ocean.

War, dictatorship, conscienceless wealth, unscrupulous demagoguery, oppression in any or all of its forms—these things are disastrously out of date in our modern age.

RAILROADS AND NEWSPAPERS

The railroad industry has applied for permission to raise freight rates 15 per cent, because its revenues are not sufficient in these days of higher costs and wages to pay expenses and leave an adequate amount for improvement and expansion.

In asking this permission, the railroads want to do only what most unregulated businesses already have done. For example, newspapers all over the country have been increasing their single copy prices and in most cases their monthly and annual subscription prices.

The railroads are in the same position as those newspapers. Everything the lines use costs more than it did a year or two ago, even a newspaper's main source of expense, newspaper, costs considerably more than it did.

Whenever a regulated industry asks permission for rate increases, the average human reaction is to protest at once, and hope that it will be denied.

WASHINGTON DAYBOOK
WASHINGTON—All is not quiet on the Potomac since 1,000 employees of the Home Owners Loan Corporation formed a group medical association, hired five doctors to treat them and their families, and got a chunk of federal money to help out.

Even frowning medical leaders here concede they will get it for less—and that is the source of much conflict as the association passes through its first month of existence.

Second protest was that group medical practice would remove healthful competition among physicians and allow medicine to go stale, would attract only second rate physicians, would reduce physicians' income to a minimum and, in the end, would leave few but the poor and jobless to be treated by doctors in private practice.

Physicians were particularly worried by a section of the group charter permitting extension of membership to all federal employes in Washington.

The income from membership fees is about $2,800 a month. That would allow an average of $400 a month each for the five physicians, $100 a month for the seven nurses and technicians and a bare scratching of $100 a month for support of the clinic and rental of beds and surgicals in local hospitals.

The salaries must be smaller or the clinic and hospital expenses puny or the association is eating into the $40,000 capital advanced by the HOLC to get it started.

NEW YORK—A kindly little man with a benign smile and fitted out in the cowl of an Irish monk is reaping a harvest of applause every night in the week and sometimes in the afternoon.

Think back a few years... Ten years anyway, perhaps a little longer.

They go behind the scenes in this play where a Catholic church is set down across the street from a Scottish nightclub.

When the Father witnessed a complete rehearsal he nodded approvingly, but added, somewhat dryly: "I'm almost afraid to give this to the laity for fear they may criticize us on Sunday."

And what does he think of it? "I've had 50 years of comedy—50 years of dance caps and pies thrown in my face—throwing pies they were, too. I'm tired. It's time I acquired a little dignity."

fact with numerous physicians in various parts of the world. But on the large matter of the relationship of the patient to the physician, it should ever be borne in mind that the element of personality harmony is of tremendous significance.

This phase of medical service has of late been neglected, the so-called scientific competence over-shadowing it. The counsel: "Choose your doctor as you would your most intimate friend," is therefore sound and sensible.

The Capitol Jigsaw

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, Dec. 10 (AP)—The fight over the Texas chain store tax law probably will be renewed soon and ultimately find a situs in the United States Supreme Court.

Attorneys for one major chain concern who attacked the law have been quoted that a motion for rehearing in a case before the Texas Supreme Court would be filed and an appeal, if necessary, taken to the highest court in the country.

If J. E. Hickman, Texas Supreme Court commissioner who wrote the opinion sustaining the law, has the right about the chain stores may also lose out in the United States Supreme Court.

For one thing, Judge Hickman said that while the act under attack was the first attempt of the Texas legislature to levy an occupational tax on chain stores, that form of taxation was "by no means a thing new in this country."

He pointed out that the United States Supreme Court had interpreted, in various instances, the federal and state constitutions as having the same requirements on the question of uniformity and equality of occupation on taxes within different classes.

Both the 14th amendment of the federal constitution and article 8 of the constitution require that all persons falling within the same class must be taxed alike.

Each recognizes the power of the legislature to make classification," he said, "and each requires that such classifications, when made, must not be unreasonable, arbitrary or capricious."

In an opinion by Justice Roberts, the United States Supreme Court reversed the trial court and sustained the act.

"The whole question was discussed by the learned justice," Hickman said, "and numerous distinctive features pointed out between the business of a chain store and that of other types, such as the following:

"Quantity buying, ability to pay cash and receive discounts, skill in buying, warehousing and distribution from single warehouses, capital, unified advertising, superior management, standard form of display, concentration of management in special lines and standardization.

"These distinctive features were held to be inter-related and interdependent in the chain store business. The opinion recognizes that some of them may be found in general independent stores, but states they do not all exist therein as in chain stores."

Hickman observed the highest court upheld the Indiana law and ordered the complaint dismissed "notwithstanding the trial court found from the evidence there was no reasonable basis for the classification."

"That decision has been consistently followed by the court rendering it as well as many other courts, state and federal," he said.

"A Florida law was stricken down because of an objectionable provision but the principle of the Indiana case was reaffirmed. The U. S. Supreme Court also reaffirmed the doctrine in sustaining chain store tax laws in West Virginia and Louisiana, Hickman said.

"It all leads to this," he declared. "To strike down the act we must hold the legislature acted arbitrarily or capriciously."

"Courts generally over the country, including the highest court in the land, hold that reasonable dif-

No matter how well it is done, academic history invariably lacks something. That something is the people themselves. It is a rare treat, therefore, to browse in such a book as Henry Beston's "American Memory."

Mr. Beston tackled a prodigious task in this book. Beginning with Jamestown and the first American settlements, he went back for his materials to the diaries, the reports, the letters, the writings of the people themselves.

The whole is a vastly interesting history, a resounding of the voices that were America—from John Smith and William Bradford to Hamlin Garland and John D. Rockefeller.

One scarcely knows how to review the book. Twenty-five chapters, broken into scores of separate, episodic accounts, each from a different hand, leave you finally with a wealth of impressions.

So you talk with the backwoods-men, the colonial housewife, the captive returning from Indian slavery, the Mississippi pilot, Cotton Mather, the statesmen, the trappers, the Indian hunters and Stonewall Jackson's men.

So they say
We expelled 86 last year for deserting their wives.

It would have been enormously useful to us, and the sooner it is revived under auspices of congenial to American labor the better.

Horses still have an important part in military operations... mounted troops are of great value in certain situations.

ferences justifying the classification exist.

"It cannot be demonstrated they do not exist.

The Texas law places a graduated tax on chain stores in the form of license fees ranging from $1 for one store to $750 for each one in excess of 50.

The Dallas district court held the law unconstitutional. The Dallas court of civil appeals certified the question to the Supreme Court but, in the meantime, wrote a tentative opinion reversing the trial court.

It is estimated the tax will yield from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000 annually, enacted in January, 1936, taxes are due from that date, that is, two years taxes now are due and another year will be due next month. Occupation taxes are payable in advance.

HARVESTERS WILL PLAY FIRST GAME IN PERRYTON TOURNAMENT TODAY

PERRYTON AND BORGER BLOCK PAMPA'S PATH

The Harvesters left at noon today for Perryton where their first foe in the invitation tournament will be the Perryton B team.

If they win that game they will play Gruver, and if they are again victorious they would play Perica, and if victory smiles on them a third time they will meet the district champions in the other bracket. The Borger Bulldogs of Coach Catfish Smith, state championship coach, are in the other bracket and it's almost certain that the teams that beat Perryton and Borger, if any team can, will play the finals tomorrow night.

Coach Odus Mitchell took only ten boys with him—Claude Heiskell, Teppy Reynolds, Norman Cox, Bob Andis, Junior Foster, Pete Dunaway, Jack Cunningham, Omer Harrel, A. C. Miller, Oliver Coshov, Glenn, all of whom are ranked in the playing lineup in the order named. So the first five men named on the squad are likely to get the call.

Boys Improving

Yesterday, the coach reported that the boys were beginning to show some improvement. They looked good the first two days out and then they didn't look so good. It required about two weeks for them to begin to show improvement. Coach said they were definitely improving. Observers at the practice yesterday noticed that Cunningham is battling desperately for a place in the lineup and that he has improved considerably. It may be that some of the starters may have to make way for him. Cox is the regular center, the position Cunningham also desires.

To Cut Squads

Henceforth, Coach Prejean's B squad and Coach Mitchell's A squad will practice together. Coach Mitchell will cut down his squad to less than a dozen pretty soon, and Coach Prejean will be expected to pare his down to a similar figure. At the present time about 30 boys are out for the two squads.

Most of the boys on Coach Prejean's squad were members of last season's Guerrilla football team. The organization of four high school teams eliminated the Guerrillas. Coach Bob Curry will coach the Sophomores. All boys who are in their third semester are eligible for this squad.

Many Sophs Out

Among the boys who are trying out for Coach Prejean's team are Walter Word, Grover Lee Heiskell, Doyle Auld, Jack Crout, R. G. Candler, Herbert Maynard, Douglas Keyser, John Elidwell.

A whole court-full of boys reported for the first sophomore practice yesterday afternoon, and almost as many were out for the Reaper team which is being coached by Mr. Huckleba.

Regular schedules for the Reapers and the Sophs have already been arranged. Opponents will be Amarillo, Pampa, Lubbock, Plainville. A schedule for Coach Prejean's B string will be devised soon.

Wild Horses and Cotton Pickers Meet at Conroe

DALLAS, Dec. 10 (AP)—The Robstown Cotton Pickers and the Conroe Wild Horses clashed at Conroe today in a quarter-final football game of the Texas Interscholastic League. The Wild Horses went into the fray as favorites, but with their southeast Texas backers mindful of last week's upsets.

Borger Defeats Groom 26 to 16

BORGER, Dec. 10.—(Special.)—The Borger Bulldog cagers ran away with their opening game of the season here Wednesday night by defeating Groom 26 to 16. Although Groom failed to offer much competition the game indicated something of the early season ability of the Bulldogs coached by "Catfish" Smith.

Buddy Barron, letterman center for the Bulldogs, led the scoring with 13 points. Dick Kendrick, veteran forward, ranked second with 9 points.

Coach Smith said today the Bulldogs would enter the Perryton invitation tournament Friday and Saturday. They play Darrouzett in their first game Friday.

Tunney Tries To Steal Jack Dempsey's Stuff

Golf, the Lazy Man's Game

Bobby Cruickshank, the Wee Scot from Richmond, Va., stoutly insists he isn't lazy, but the cameraman at the Forest Hills course at Augusta, Ga., recorded a good case against his claim. Anyway, Bobby, accompanied by his wife, is shown taking the easy way around the fairways as Benny Loving, young Washington pro, furnishes the motive power.

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (AP)—It begins to appear like this Dempsey-Tunney feud will go on forever in one form or another. Ten year's it's been since they last met under the ring lights at Chicago but they're still at it worse than the Hatfields and the McCoys.

Tunney started it the other day when he went democratic and paid a visit to Max Schmeling's training quarters at Summit, N. J. Everybody realized at the time it was a deliberate steal of Dempsey's stuff.

After all, being the most democratic of all ex-heavyweight champions is Jack's chief stock in trade.

So Jack struck back yesterday. Appearing in a cloud of cigar smoke at the training camp of Harry Thomas, who fights Schmeling Monday night at the Garden, the Old Mauler did ten rounds of demagoguing that made Tunney's effort look puny by comparison.

He started with a fast three rounds in the Camp Tavern, during which he shook hands with 18 sports writers, eight sparring partners and six other citizens. He tore through the noon meal behind a barrage of bruised hands and finished off in a red-hot Kelly-pool game with all the prize-fighters around the camp of all colors and creeds.

It was a grand exhibition, considering the length of time Jack has been out of training, and he finished without taking a deep breath. Gene Tunney, the critics agreed, will think a second time before he stirs up Dempsey again.

Jack got one poor break, however. Tunney, after watching Schmeling work out, was in a position to predict that the German would win his championship back by a knockout. Thomas' showing, on the other hand, left Jack and everybody else practically speechless. He must have saved up the worst he had just for Dempsey. A pair of negro spar mates plastered him around until it was ridiculous.

"It might be a good fight—for a few rounds," Dempsey said as he hastened away from the place. "I would judge that Thomas is very, very slow to get started."

That was about the most generous thing he could have said about Thomas.

SLED STOPS THIEF.

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—A boy coasting down a hill on a sled frightened a man who was attempting to wrest a purse from Mrs. Mary Gluchowski. The would-be thief fled.

wrestling at Cornell college in Iowa for 16 years, but in all that time not one of his pupils (in the 175-pound class) has been able to toss the old maestro, although he demands his title against them annually.

Bill McKechnie, Cincinnati pilot, always smokes a curved-stem pipe because it enables him to shoulder his gun while hunting without removing the pipe. . . . Marquette had his worst football season in 25 years, but no wolves are yelling for Paddy Driscoll's scalp. . . . Too bad about Harry Kipke, but it wasn't unexpected.

PAIR OF JACKS WILL GRAPPLE IN SEMI-FINAL

A pair of "Jacks" will feature the semi-final of Promoter Cliff Chambers' weekly wrestling card Monday night when Jack Hagen, crying butcher boy from Shreveport, La., tangles with Jack Mandell of St. Louis. The 8 o'clock preliminary will send Otto Ludwig against Benny Wilson in what should be a resumption of the Buck Lipscomb-Frank Wolff feud.

The best, however, is always saved for the last and the saying is true of the main event which is the "honey" of the season. Gust Johnson, favorite of the local mat, will meet Cyclone Mackie in what should be the fastest and smoothest battle of the year. Johnson has been touring the north and east for a couple of months and has taken everything in his path.

Unless Johnson has gone wolf on his trip or unless Mackie gets a sniff of loco weed before the match, science should prevail to give many fans the type of match they have been wanting. The Swede took both rough and clean maulers into camp when here before. Mackie leans toward science but often steps over the traces.

Anything can happen in the semi-final, excepting Mandell getting rough and tough. He is a speedster who uses leg holds like an octopus. Hagen will go either way, all depending on how he feels at match time.

The preliminary will be a blood and thunder affair. Already two are throwing words right and left.

Sport Sparks

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT

DALLAS, Dec. 10 (AP)—Nowhere in the world, claim the West Texas Teachers' basketball team, will be found to match it in height . . . average lowness of the starting five is six feet, five inches. . . . Its two stars, Ray Shackford, center, and Luther Stephenson, forward, stand six feet, nine inches and six feet seven inches, respectively. . . . Average weight of the Burfs is 185 pounds.

Governors James V. Alired and Teller Ammans of Colorado have invited Shrey Temple to resign as "the game of the Conon Bowl" in the New Year's day classic between Rice and Colorado. . . . Coach Harry Stiteler's Smithville high gridders have amassed a total of 436 points to the enemy's 27 in eleven games and again look like the class of the "B" schools.

Not only did Fordham rank Texas Christian as the best team they met in a tough season but also placed Davey O'Brien on their all-opponent team by their only unanimous vote. . . . Hardin-Simmons Cowboys, who haven't lost a football game since last year's 17 starts, also have quite a basketball crew. . . . They dropped only one of 17 games played last season—the final one of the year.

Give Gregg county the palm for being a football hot spot. . . . They are gunning for three state titles, one by the Longview High Lobos; one by Kilgore Junior college and another by the Kilgore Tigers, an undefeated negro high school team they say is quite an eye-ful. . . . Wally Bearden, the Southern Methodist fullback, once ran 106 yards for a touchdown while playing with North Texas Aggies against Decatur Baptist college.

Few recall it, but 50 years ago Dr. Rufus C. Bursleson, then president of Baylor University, banned football. . . . His action came after a 12-year-old youngster was killed in a game between Baylor high and a band of college boys. . . . That was in 1886. . . . Five years the sport lay dormant before its revival, only to be stopped again soon after the turn of the century when another death resulted.

Just to keep the records straight, there is only one "L" in the first name of Ole Cordill, Rice halfback. . . . And if you think he is good on the gridiron, wait until the basketball season gets under way. . . . Out at Colorado, Texas, 27-year-old W. A. Crowder, retired railroad official, still plays his nine holes of golf and hereby issues a challenge to some of the younger upstarts.

Mitchell Seeks Cage Games for Harvester Team

Coach Odus Mitchell and his Harvester basketball squad either want to take a road trip during the Christmas vacation period or play at home. They will play any night of December 29, 30 and 31 if games can be secured.

Any team or teams desiring to meet the Harvesters in single games or a series can get in touch with Coach Mitchell at Pampa High school, either by letter, telegram or telephone.

"We would like to schedule games in cities within driving distance of each other," Coach Mitchell said yesterday. "We'll bar no one on the trip providing they play within the Texas Interscholastic league rules and regulations."

Slingin' Sammy Called Better Now Than Ever

CHICAGO, Dec. 10 (AP)—How much better a football player is Sammy Baugh now than when he finished his college career?

That is one question which will be uppermost in the minds of thousands of fans at Wrigley field Sunday when the Washington Redskins, eastern titelholders, and the Chicago Bears, western section rulers, tangle for the 1937 National Professional Football league championship.

Baugh, at Texas Christian university, was generally recognized as one of the greatest forward passers ever developed in college circles. But as a freshman sensation of the pro league and the aerial spearhead of the Redskins this season it begins to appear that Baugh as a collegian may have been just a novice at the game when compared to Baugh of the play-for-pay circuit.

There isn't much question that Slingin' Sammy is better now than when a member of the collegiate all-stars, his pass helped whip the Green Bay Packers Sept. 1. It's a question of how much better—and Coach Ray Flaherty of the Redskins had this to say: "We will show Chicago a much finer football player than the Baugh who played with the collegians. He's learned how to run with the ball, which makes his passing ability even more dangerous, and he also can block and tackle."

GRID EXPERTS WRONG AGAIN

FORT WORTH, Dec. 10.—More than 200 sports "experts" in the southwest are not very expert—at least at predicting Southwest conference football winners.

"A. & M. or Arkansas will win the title (possibly the tie); Baylor will finish in the cellar."

These were the quite definite opinions—expressed compositely—of more than 200 Southwest sports writers and radio commentators, as expressed in a poll taken last August by J. Willard Ridings, director of the T. C. U. News Service.

Well, everyone now knows that Rice took the title, and that Baylor decidedly did not finish in the cellar!

Just for the fun of it, here are the pre-season rankings by the "experts," together with the actual standings after the season's play: Experts' consensus.

- 1.—A. & M.
  - 2.—Arkansas.
  - 3.—T. C. U.
  - 4.—S. M. U.
  - 5.—Rice.
  - 6.—Texas.
  - 7.—Baylor.
- Conference standings:
- 1.—Rice.
  - 2.—T. C. U.
  - 3.—Arkansas.
  - 4.—Baylor.
  - 5.—A. & M.
  - 6.—S. M. U.
  - 7.—Texas.

Bear Star

Back in harness once more after he and his mates had enjoyed a two-week rest, Dave Anderson, California's star fullback, shows just how the Golden Bears are taking their workouts while preparing to meet Alabama in the Rose Bowl on New Year's Day.

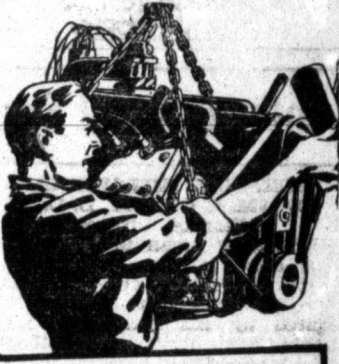

at Chicago is making any passes at Clark.

Three of the major conferences, the Southwest, Big Six and Rocky Mountain, so far are standing pat on what they have. And in the Big Ten, aside from Kipke, the pilots have no immediate cause for worry. There are few, if any rumors, afloat.

On the Pacific coast, no immediate changes appear in prospect.

In the deep south, three resignations already have been handed in. At Georgia, the athletic board accepted Mehre's quitting notice, ending his 10-year head coaching term with the Bulldogs.

Most interest at the moment centers on Mississippi State, where alumni and faculty leaders were reported as reaching a decision to offer Bernie Bierman, head man of Minnesota's mighty Gophers, the coaching job vacated when Lieutenant Colonel Ralph Sasse was forced to resign because of ill health. Also resigning in Dixie was Shorty Prospert, from Southwestern of Tennessee.

International Sunday School Lesson

CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP.
 By WM. E. GILROY, D. D.,
 Editor of Advance.

Christianity began in fellowship. Jesus drew to Him earnest men capable of devotion and interested in righteousness; and these men, inspired by His personality and teaching, went forth to tell others of the Master whom they had found, and brought them to Jesus. He taught these new disciples by example and through living with them from day to day. They met upon a plane of humility. He asked from them no obsequious devotion; only the loyalty of those who responded to the teaching of love and grace. The Christian church never comes nearer to its ideal, no matter how large it may grow or how extensive and varied its boundaries, than when it fulfills the simple principles of this early fellowship and brings men into relationships of love and comradeship. This idea of fellowship is not confined to our lesson or to any one interpreter of the life and words of Jesus. John, in his first Epistle, from which part of our lesson is taken, has given the very highest expression of the reality and privileges of Christian life. "If we walk in the light, as He is in the light, we have fellowship with another." Paul interprets the Christian experience in exactly the same way. Its nature and its climax are found in love, which is the theme of Paul's greatest sermon in the brief 13th chapter of I Corinthians. Paul stresses always upon fellowship in the church. The church is a "household of faith." Its members have the close relationship in an ideal church of those in a common family. All love is mystical in its nature. That is, there is something about it that is instinctive and intuitional deeper than words and actions; though love would not be very real if it did not find expression in words and actions. This mystic bond of fellowship in Christ binds us to Him, and binds Christians to one another in a world where Jesus is no longer seen as the disciples saw Him and knew Him. The New Testament commends those Christians who had not seen Jesus but who loved Him. That is the real love; not the response to the outward form, but the yielding of heart and mind to the teaching and example of Christ, so coming to know Him that He becomes the environment of one's very being. This is what Paul meant when he said, "If any man be in Christ, he is a new creature. Old things have passed away. Behold, all things are become new." Christ becomes the true spiritual environment of the sincere disciple. This earthly fellowship with Christ is the symbol and forecast of a larger heavenly fellowship in which the ideals of love and truth and righteousness will find their fulfillment: We live in a world which, despite many loving and devoted souls, is still marred with sin and hate. But in this other heavenly world there will be the society of those whose hearts and lives are purified and who live in the glory of a great experience from which all evil passion and hate have vanished. We call that heaven, and it would be a very real heaven if we could produce anything like that on this earth.

Letters To Santa Claus

Dear Santa Claus:
 This year is 1937 and so this year, if you do not mind, I will tell you what I want.
 A little airplane model and an airplane book and everything that goes to a football suit, and a BB pistol and this is the last thing I want and it is a chemical set.
 I sure do thank you, even if you don't bring it all.
 With love and kindness,
 D. B. JAMESON JR.,
 Kingsmill.

Dear Santa Claus:
 Please send me a card table and a comb and mirror set.
 JOYCE HARRAIL,
 605 N. Pros.

Dear Santa Claus:
 I want a doll that has lots of clothes with it, a microscope set, and a typewriter like my daddy's, and the Book of Wonder, and a dictionary and a picture show like the one over at school, and bring me lots of films for the show. Be sure and see me.
 With love,
 ELIZABETH ANN STURGEON,
 P. S.—And lots of games to play in the house and outdoors.

Dear Santa Claus:
 Please bring me a banjo and five dolls in a cradle. I would like a bazooka, too. I like school and study hard. I love my mother and daddy. I love you.
 LOLA FAYE BLANSCET.

Dear Santa Claus:
 My name is Betty Pauline Hawthorne. I have been a good girl. Please bring me a doll, doll clothes, cooking utensils and a rocking chair. Ina Jo wants a doll with hair, a set of dishes, doll clothes, and a rocking chair. Wishing you a merry Christmas.

Dear Santa:
 Please bring Mary Jean a little telephone and bring me a saw and hammer. That is all I want.
 Love,
 DONNIE BURNS

Cromwell Discussing Bank Bill

James H. R. Cromwell, wealthy New York husband of still wealthier Doris Duke, is a monetary system reformer. And so here he is in Washington with Speaker of the House Bankhead as they discussed the proposed bill that would give the government full control of the Federal Reserve banks. Cromwell is author of a book on monetary reform, and may also be appointed a senator from New Jersey.

WPA EXPANDED TO GIVE JOBS TO 350,000

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (AP)—Increased unemployment forced the administration today to expand WPA spending by $23,000,000 a month, despite Presidential economy plans.
The WPA employment rolls, now totaling 1,575,000 persons, will be enlarged to provide jobs for an additional 350,000 persons.
The announcement was made by administrator Harry L. Hopkins last night shortly before he left for a physical checkup at the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn.
The proposed expansion was reported to be slightly higher than earlier WPA estimates of the winter's relief peak, but Hopkins said it could be handled within his budget.
For the year ending next June 30, WPA has been allotted $1,275,000,000. It has been spending about $100,000,000 a month, and has $775,000,000 left. The increased expenditures can be carried on for a while without that appropriation.
Hopkins declared, however, that there was no implication in his announcement as "to the number of people who should be employed this winter." He said he was not considering at this time any request for additional funds.
"I simply say that on the basis of the realities of the present situation," Hopkins added, "we think the requirements of the relief problem so far as employable people are concerned indicate we should increase our number by 350,000."
Simultaneously with Hopkins' announcement an upswing in sentiment for more relief spending appeared in Congress.
Rep. Ellenbogen (D-Pa) proposed the appropriation of another $500,000,000 for relief funds, and Senator La Follette (Prog-Wis) disclosed he was studying the possibility that additional funds might be needed.

2,757 PLANES BUILT IN 9 MONTHS OF 1937

Aircraft manufacturers produced 2,757 airplanes in the first 9 months of 1937, a 25 percent increase over the corresponding part of 1936, according to a study made by the Bureau of Air Commerce, Department of Commerce.
Of the airplanes produced during this period, 1,821 were for domestic civil use; 484 for delivery to the military services, and 452 for export.
Among those for domestic civil use, monoplanes led biplanes 1,676 to 144. Among airplanes of various sizes the most numerous were two-place closed landplane monoplanes, of which 1,240 were produced for domestic civil use.
In addition to the 2,757 airplanes, manufacturers produced 22 gliders and 9 lighter-than-air craft.

CLIPPER GETS BACK AT FRIENDLY FOE

SANTA CLARA, Calif. (AP)—For several years Buck Shaw, as assistant coach, played second fiddle to Clipper Smith at Santa Clara University. Then Smith went to Villanova and in two seasons Shaw has put the Broncos near the top of the national football picture.
This year, however, Smith got back at his friendly rival. His Villanova team stood sixth in the Associated Press national writers' poll, while Santa Clara got only a tie with Notre Dame for ninth place.

LOST KINGDOM

By OREN ARNOLD, Copyright 1937, NEA Service, Inc.

Yesterday, apprehension lest the strange lost people harm them, Bob and Melissa plan to escape. And in their exhaustion of the moment they fall asleep.

CHAPTER XX

Just at dawn a weird chanting and hallowing awakened 'Lissa. 'Bob! Get up, dear Bob! It's starting already.' The day's festivities were indeed underway. The white couple had removed only their shoes at a moment or two. Already a great pile of wood had been assembled near the chieftain's house and other wood bearers were seen coming from far and near. Apparently every villager was contributing to the fuel supply and was making it an occasion for song.

The song had little but rhythm to recommend them. They were wordless, oftentimes discordant sounds in minor key. Yet they were in a definite pattern, the white couple discerned, and everybody seemed to know them.

The sun had not actually appeared as yet but the dawn was bright gray. It would be 9 o'clock or so, Bob observed, before the actual fireball itself would appear over the horizon. This was because of the cliffs that hemmed in this kingdom to protect and isolate it from the outside world. Studying the light, Bob decided it must be nearly 8 o'clock even now; they had slept very late, but they were refreshed.

"We're getting off to a good start, anyway," he told 'Lissa. I hope I can remember some of these chants.

Obviously the villagers knew exactly what they were doing for there was no confusion, and the pile of wood grew rapidly. Necessarily it was a mixture of scanty desert growth—dried cactus stalks, palo verde, miscellaneous brush and some extremely heavy mesquite and ironwood. Bob could not see much of it growing; he realized that the villagers were making a definite sacrifice to the wood itself, when they burned it in a worship ceremony.

In due time a red cliff top to the westward was suddenly illuminated, as if a gigantic stage spotlight had been turned on. In that moment a new sound dominated the valley, and the course of action of action everywhere was changed.

First a chorus of drums—the same tom-toms, Bob noted, that Hopi Indians used—reverberated throughout the canyon. It was a penetrating bass note, alarming, heraldic, of great volume.

OOM-OOM. OOM-OOM. OOM-OOM.

First a series of quick double notes. Bob and 'Lissa observed that six brown drummers were pounding tom-toms six feet high or so, massive noise-makers on the roof of the chieftain's house itself. The sound was fragmentary, perhaps it was meant to be.

The rhythm changed soon. OOM-OOM. (pause) OOM (pause) OOM-OOM. This was continued for perhaps a quarter hour—two beats one, then two again, and repeat. The white couple had heard many a fanfare of drums in the past few weeks, many a trumpet, wild blare, but never had anything impressed like this.

"Remember what I told you, Bob Barry!" 'Lissa was becoming alarmed. "If you love me you will try to stop this senseless business."

Bob nodded, in great earnestness. "But maybe I can't do that! Our own lives may be endangered if I try. The maidens may actually want to be sacrificed. I certainly do not. This is a delicate matter, and I'm trying to figure a way out of here gracefully—and safely."

"It's murder, Bob, and you know it."

OOM-OOM. OOM. OOM-OOM. No more wood was brought, but they were assembling now. And from a number of houses came men in fantastic costumes and skins and paints, with all manner of ceremonial objects dangling from them. Without any sort of preliminary, these men, evidently high priests of some form signalled to the drummers and the rhythm again changed. Now it became a one, one-two-three beat; OOM-oom. OOM-oom-oom-oom-oom, with double emphasis on the first, and rather slowly at the offset but gradually getting a little faster. It seemed to be perfect time for the extraordinary begun by the costumed ones.

The priests stomped and hopped and chanted and rattled the sticks they held, and soon the villagers all were chanting too, to make a rumbling background of sound. This continued for at least half an hour, but it stopped abruptly that 'Lissa almost jumped. The chieftain of the brown people walked to 'Lissa and Bob. He made motions.

"This is the moment!" Bob whispered. "We've got to make our choice! Now! Which maiden is to die. God, this is awful! 'Lissa!"

"No, no! I can't! Do something! Anything!"

Robert Barry swallowed then took a deep breath. He was still without much hope, and he didn't dare offend these people lest he and 'Lissa themselves be sacrificed. They sank to their knees. "Act it out!" Bob mumbled. 'Lissa was trembling.

Ignoring the four maidens, who had been brought out tied hand and foot, Bob kept pointing to the sun and talking steadily to the chief and gesticulating as impressively as he knew how, but actually without meaning. He kept up this mumbo-jumbo for two or three minutes. Then he looked impudently at the chief and began a serious sign talk, as they conversed at length the other day. Twice Bob had to resort to his pencil—which the brown folk seemed to regard as magic any way—but in time he got his thoughts crossed.

SUDDENLY then the chief issued a command to his people. Six or eight hurried away, while the assembly waited. To fill the gap, Bob orated meaningless to the sun. When the messengers returned with live rabbits, live snakes, and other small animals, 'Lissa's curiosity popped. She hadn't spoken for nearly half an hour.

"What is it, Bob?" She whispered. "What's happening?"

"I'm playing a hunch. Keep acting." Bob signed a bit more to the chief. Then, surprisingly, he took one of the wild rabbits, killed it, skinned it with his pocket knife, all with elaborate ceremony.

Each piece of the carcass he placed on the great pile of wood, but he presented the dressed meat to the chief, instructed him to cook it. Then, Bob obediently cut the things that bound the maidens, and set them free. He signed to the chieftain, folding his arms, standing beside 'Lissa with imperious mien.

The chief, duly awed by it all, shouted excitedly then to his people, and the fire was lighted. Quickly there was a frenzy of yelling and jubilant dancing.

The sacrificial maidens ran away to join their families. Dancing continued as the fire crackled higher and higher. The priests chanted, the drummers pounded on their tom-toms. Hysterical gladness and gratitude seemed rampant there, in wildest possible sound and motion. It was theatrical, intense.

"What is it, Bob? Tell me! What did you do?" 'Lissa clung to her lover's arm.

"I don't know where we go from here, sweetheart, but I think we bluffed that one through. I told we were messengers from the real sun god, and that he commanded and end of human sacrifice. I said the tribe is small now and no more people must be sacrificed from it. The maidens must bear children instead. In substitute, I explained a live beast should be killed, and its skin thrown on the fire, and the good meat eaten as a symbol of feasting and plenty. The sun god, I said, wants eternal happiness to reign here, not pain and blood and death."

She shivered a little, and snuggled closer, fascinated by the amazing pagentry before them. "Oh Bob!" she murmured. "That's the way I feel too, 'Lissa darling."
