

NEW CLUE IN SLAYINGS

Capone Fate Delayed

SENTENCE IS TO BE PASSED ON SATURDAY

Defense Attorneys Make Pleas That Indictments Were Unclear and Verdict Inconsistent.

APPEAL IS HINTED

Arrest of Judgment Would Mean Re-Indictment and New Trial for Snorky, Ace of Gangland.

FEDERAL BUILDING, Chicago, Oct. 23. (AP)—Sentencing of Alphonse Capone for violating income tax laws, was delayed at least one more day when Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson announced at the close of legal arguments today, "I will dispose of this case at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning."

The announcement of the court followed long arguments on the legality of the indictments and the jury's findings. The defense again intimated the case would be taken to the supreme court.

Argue Motion
Arguments were on the defense motion for a writ of arrest of judgment. Judge Wilkerson said he would rule on that motion and any other; the defense wished to present tomorrow, indicating that if he should deny the motions, he would sentence Capone at that time.

Defense attorneys contended that the indictments charging Capone with evasion of income taxes were insufficient, indefinite and unclear. Their motion, if granted, would force the government to bring new indictments against the gang leader and retry him.

In answer to a question from Judge Wilkerson, Attorney Pink said he was not "admitting the defendant's guilt" to counts in the indictment charging failure to file income tax reports in 1928 and 1929. These are only misdemeanor offenses.

"Different Matter"
"But," said Attorney Pink, "the counts do not charge the defendant with failure to file returns, they do charge failure to file returns with the proper officers." That's an entirely different matter.

Referring to the felony counts against Capone, Pink said the government pled count on count in these indictments and they succeeded only in getting the jury confused.

"It was a case of too much eagerness for a conviction to work out in favor of the cause of justice," the defense attorney said.

Movies of Last Week's Game Are Being Shown Now

Shots from the Pampa Harvest-Amarillo football game last Saturday afternoon will be presented at the LaNora theater today and tomorrow. C. B. "Brownie" Akers, manager, says he received the films yesterday and has them ready to show.

A representative of the Paramount corporation took pictures from the field and from the top of the press box. Actual play, the crowd, cars and pep squads are seen in the pictures. The two squads are shown before the game. Pampa smiling and confident, Amarillo nervous and doubtful.

The newest will come on the screen at 5:40, 7:30 and 9:20 p. m. today.

Gov. Roosevelt And Smith At Odds

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 23. (AP)—Two of New York's most famous democrats and long political allies, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Alfred E. Smith, were at odds today over a $19,000,000 state reforestation measure.

Their differences have arisen over a proposed constitutional amendment to be voted on at a New York state election Nov. 3. The amendment would authorize the state to spend $19,000,000 for the purchase of abandoned farm lands to be used for reforestation purposes.

Mr. Smith objects chiefly to a provision empowering the state to remove timber from these lands. Mr. Roosevelt supports the amendment.

Police held Mrs. Thrift without bond on a charge of murder.

Here's New Type of Airship

This weird device is a cross between an airplane and a helicopter and is called a "mobliopter." Harry Cordy of El Monte, Calif., seen at its side, is its designer. The wings fold in and flatten out as the ship rises and descends. These air screw drives on the top pull it upward, and the propeller pulls it forward. Cordy expects to test it soon.

Highway Officer Given Promotion

Lee Miller, for the past eight months highway traffic officer in this area with headquarters in Amarillo, has been promoted to the rank of sergeant and transferred to East Texas, according to W. A. Conwell who has worked with Sergeant Miller during his stay in this territory. Mr. Conwell came to Pampa yesterday afternoon and remained until this morning.

The Panhandle lost a great officer in Lee Miller. Officers Conwell declared this morning. "There never was a more efficient or courteous officer on the force than my buddy Lee Miller," he regretfully said.

Fampan who knew Lee Miller are sorry to see him leave but are glad to learn that he has received a promotion. They declare that Sergeant Miller will go high.

Report Mrs. Judd Will Surrender

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 23. (AP)—Police were informed today by J. R. O'Connor, former deputy district attorney, that he had obtained information which he considered reliable that Mrs. Winnie Ruth Judd, wanted for the Phoenix, Ariz., trunk murders, is hiding in the Cabuena hills near here. Police said O'Connor hinted she would surrender soon and lead insanity.

JUDGES ARE YET AT ODDS ABOUT WRIT

Robertson County Officials at Contempt Hearing But Jurist Cited Is Ignoring Claim.

"NO AUTHORITY"

Judge Davis Asserts That Injunction Was Made Returnable to Any Court and Time.

GROESBECK, Oct. 23. (AP)—The attempt of District Judge H. Fountain Kirby of 77th district court to cite his fellow jurist, Judge W. C. Davis, for contempt had met with little success today as Judge Kirby opened a hearing for other Robertson county officials also cited, without the presence of Judge Davis. Judge Kirby issued the citation against Judge Davis yesterday, after the latter had dismissed injunctions obtained by 18 truck operators against Robertson county officials attempting to enforce the state truck license law.

Authority Questioned
Judge Davis declared Judge Kirby had no authority in law for such action against him. The Groesbeck jurist retorted that Judge Davis had no authority to dismiss the injunctions without Kirby's notice.

T. L. Tyler, Robertson county attorney, and Sheriff V. C. Box of Robertson county appeared in court today with their attorney to present arguments against the contempt citation.

BRYAN, Oct. 23. (AP)—Judge W. C. Davis of the 85th district court, today held to the opinion he expressed last night, that Judge H. Fountain Kirby of the 77th district court at Groesbeck did not have authority to cite him for contempt.

Justifies Action
Judge Davis justified his action in dismissing injunctions Judge Kirby had granted 18 truck operators against enforcement of the state truck license law with the explanation that Judge Kirby should have made the injunction writs returnable in the district presided over by Davis, but that the writs were not made returnable at any specified time or court.

Although ordered by Judge Kirby to appear in court today at Groesbeck, Judge Davis did not go, being represented at the contempt hearing by County Attorney Oak McKenzie, F. L. Henderson, and R. V. Armstrong, of the Brazos county bar.

Democrats Are Leading House

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23. (AP)—The democrats for the first time in 13 years today outnumbered the republicans in the house.

The death yesterday of Representative Fletcher Hale of New Hampshire, a republican, left the house in the following: Democrats, 214; republicans, 213; farmer-laborite, 1; vacancies, 7.

Not since November, 1918, when Woodrow Wilson appealed dramatically to the country for a return of a democratic congress, and saw a republican majority elected have the democrats been in the ascendancy, even temporarily.

The present lineup, however, will not last until congress convenes in December.

Five special elections already have been set for Nov. 3 to fill vacancies caused by death. Two are in districts normally democratic and three are usually republican. Should they go as in the past, the house lineup would be divided, with each major party holding 216 votes. Representative Kvale of Minnesota, farmer-laborite, would retain the balance of power.

The other two vacancies present more difficulties, but Governor Larson of New Jersey has called a special session of the legislature in an effort to supply another republican vote for house organization.

Representative Ackerman, a New Jersey republican, died only last Sunday. Under the present law, a successor in that generally republican district could not be seated until January. However, Larson will ask the legislature to change the law to permit an earlier election.

The sudden death of Representative Hale will make it more difficult for New Hampshire to close the seventh house vacancy before Dec. 7.

Death has been a great scramble of the house membership lists since the elections last November produced the following lineup: Republicans 218, democrats 216; farmer-laborite 1.

Judge Is Taking No More Action Against Wolters

TYLER, Oct. 23. (AP)—Federal Judge Randolph Bryant today had returned to his home at Sherman without taking further action regarding his citation of Brig. Gen. Jacob F. Wolters for contempt of court, in failing to observe a federal court temporary injunction against interference with operation of five Brock-Lee Oil company wells in the East Texas field.

General Wolters, military commandant in the oil field martial law area, had been instructed by Gov. Ross S. Sterling to enforce prohibition rules of the state railroad commission and not to obey orders from anyone excepting the chief executive.

Judge Bryant granted the oil company a temporary injunction last week after the railroad commission issued a new prohibition regulation scaling production down to 155 barrels per well daily from the previous quota of 185 barrels per well daily.

The injunction was set for being Oct. 29 before a three-judge federal court at Beaumont.

Although Judge Bryant cited General Wolters yesterday to appear before the court and show cause why he should not be held in contempt, he said no action would be taken before the hearing Monday at Beaumont.

TEXAS BANKER'S FIRST JOB WAS AT $8.33 WEEK

DALLAS, Oct. 23. (AP)—Nathan Adams, director from the eleventh federal reserve district, obtained his first bank job as a cash boy at $8.33 a week.

Now he is president of the First National bank of Dallas, one of the south's largest financial institutions.

He was born 37 years ago near Pulaski, Tenn. He was forced to quit school in 1884 because of a foot injury. He came to Dallas in 1887 with $4 in his pocket.

His first job was with the Giles National bank. Besides his bank work he also has been a railroad engineer.

Now he is on President Hoover's committee of bankers who are fighting the depression.

Roll Call of the Red Cross Will Begin on Nov. 15

The Pampa Red Cross roll call will start Nov. 15 and last through the week with the quota 1,500 members. Miss Murray arrived yesterday afternoon and will remain in Pampa for a few days.

Rev. C. E. Lancaster, pastor of the First Baptist church, is chairman of the roll call.

Miss Murray discussed plans for the drive with the committee and reviewed the work done during the past year. Miss Murray visits in this area every few months, keeping in touch with the work of Red Cross representatives. Mrs. W. H. Davis is Gray county representative.

Dallas Man Is Killed in Crash

DALLAS, Oct. 23. (AP)—One man was killed and four other persons were injured on the highway near Edgewood early today when an automobile collided with a truck.

C. H. Herndon, 36, a gravel contractor, living in Dallas, died of a broken neck and fractured skull.

Henry P. Moore, 21, an employee of Herndon, was severely cut about the body and head.

Mrs. Mattie Venable, 50, of Irving, and her son, Matthew Venable, received minor injuries, as did B. Gibson, 19, of Edgewood.

The automobile in which Herndon, Moore, and Gibson were riding crashed into a truck loaded with furniture in which Mrs. Venable and her son were parked on the edge of the highway.

Night Watchman Bound and Robbed

ALVIN, Oct. 23. (AP)—Two young men kidnaped three men at varying times today and broke into the Alvin Hardware company building.

Night Watchman M. T. Hooper was waylaid, disarmed, bound and robbed. E. W. McDaniel, baggage man, encountered by the robbers, likewise was kidnaped. Both men were taken in an automobile several miles out on the Angleton road where they were freed.

C. C. Sheaffer, who was delivering bread, also was taken into the country and left to walk back.

A check revealed nothing of value missing from the town except some of Sheaffer's bread and cakes, and a bundle of laundry stolen from the hardware store.

Hooper lost his money, watch, hat and gun.

ARE OVER QUOTA
DALLAS, Oct. 23. (AP)—J. W. Hoopes, president of the Texas Bankers association, announced today that Grayson, Hall and Van Zandt counties had over-subscribed their quota in the plan to withhold 7,000,000 bales of cotton from the market until July 31, 1932. He said Grayson county had agreed to withhold 10,000 bales, Hall 5,000 and Van Zandt 5,000.

BROTHER OF MRS. JUDD IS TOO EVASIVE

College Classmate Reveals How Burton McKinnell Begged for Money, Revealing Sister Needed It.

CORONER ACTIVE

Woman's Husband Appeals to Her by Radio to Give Self Up—Attorneys Are Hired by Him.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 23. (AP)—Possessed with new evidence they said weakened the story of Burton J. McKinnell, university law student and brother of Mrs. Winnie Ruth Judd, hunted murder suspect, police awaited the outcome of the coroner's inquest into the slayings of Mrs. Agnes Le Roi and Miss Hedvig Samuelson today before requesting McKinnell.

At least a dozen witnesses were summoned by Coroner Frank Nance to testify at the inquest into the killings of Miss Samuelson and Mrs. Le Roi, both of Phoenix, Ariz., whose bodies were discovered in two trunks here. Mrs. Judd is sought in connection with the deaths.

L. J. Andrews, Phoenix county attorney, and Inspector David Davidson said they believed McKinnell had not told them all he knew of the whereabouts of Mrs. Judd who disappeared from his automobile on a downtown street station after they called at a railroad station for the trunk. Mrs. Judd fled after a station agent saw blood seeping from one of the trunks and questioned her.

Asked For Any Sum
They said they learned from Russell B. Howe, brother student of McKinnell, that a few hours after he and his sister had called at the railroad station to claim the trunk, McKinnell approached Howe with a plea for money.

"If you ever wanted to help me," Howe said McKinnell told him, "help me now. My sister has become involved in a terrible tragedy, a horrible crime and you must help me. I need money, anything, five dollars. I have none and she has practically none."

The alleged conversation occurred on the university campus and is in direct contradiction of McKinnell's declarations that he did not know where Mrs. Judd was after he left her on the down-town corner.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 23. (AP)—A renewed appeal to Winnie Ruth Judd to surrender and face charges of murdering the two women whose bodies were found in trunks here Monday night was broadcast today by her husband, Dr. W. C. Judd, who promised to provide legal defense.

Two attorneys were engaged by Dr. Judd to represent his wife in the event she is found alive. They are Richard H. Cantillon and Louis P. Russell. Cantillon was an attorney for William Edward Hickman who was convicted and hanged for the murder of Marion Parker.

"Every Confidence"
In revealing the engagement of the two attorneys, Dr. Judd said he had "every confidence" in his wife. "I want to assure her that if this comes to her attention that she will have every support and assistance I am able to give her," he said. "I am in deep fear that she is no longer living, but if this comes to her attention I earnestly beg and implore her to come to me or these attorneys at once and with every possible assurance that she will be protected in every possible way."

The inquest into the deaths of Miss Hedvig Samuelson and Mrs. Agnes Ann Le Roi, both of whom, police charge, were slain by Mrs. Judd in Phoenix, Ariz., was called for today. It promised to be a perplexing affair for more than a year ago the identification of the bodies.

Police said it was their belief Mrs. Judd was still in Southern California.

KEEP PEACE IN MANCHURIA

Any way you look at it, Manchuria is a long way off. Furthermore, most of the leading figures and places in the Manchurian mix-up have names that are hard to pronounce and hard to remember. The ordinary American, as a result, is beginning to get tired of hearing about it all and is wondering just why he or his government should worry about it.

Yet the whole business is not nearly as remote as it looks. Indeed, the very fact that the United States government is working its hardest to avert a war on the other side of the world testifies eloquently to the way in which modern society has made all of its members interdependent.

Offhand, it doesn't seem as if any Americans need care whether or not the Chinese and Japanese go to war. And yet, in the spring of 1914, no American would have dreamed that a war between Austria and Serbia could ever involve him.

The point is that there can no longer be any "isolated" wars. The ties that connect nation with nation have grown too complex, too strong. When an armed conflict starts, no man on earth is wise enough to say just how and where it may end. There may not seem any conceivable way in which an every-day American citizen could be concerned over a war in Manchuria; and yet,

He Would Let League Settle It

AUSTIN, Oct. 23. (AP)—Texas is perfectly willing to let the League of Nations decide whose duck pond it is on the Texas-Arkansas boundary, ownership of which has provoked several squabbles between the commonwealths.

Assistant Attorney General R. G. Waters who has been handling the steadily increasing file of correspondence between the states on who has jurisdiction over the hunters and fishermen who frequent the place, said he would gladly accept the suggestion of Attorney General Hal L. Norwood of Arkansas.

"I am certain Texas can prove her claim to that precious piece of Lone Star soil, even to the satisfaction of the league members," Waters said. "The trouble is Japan and China might not want to step aside for the Texas-Arkansas squabble."

such a war lasted long enough, he might eventually find himself in the midst of it. The world is just beginning to discover this fact; and the efforts that are being made now, by the great powers, to keep peace in Asia are entirely unlike what they would have been if a similar crisis had arisen 20 years ago. In that earlier time, the powers would have intervened—if they did intervene—through jealousy. They would have tried to keep Japan from seizing Manchuria so that they, themselves, at some favorable opportunity to seize it. Today, however, there is a dawning recognition of the fact that the world cannot afford to have a war start anywhere. Upon the speed and thoroughness with which that lesson is learned depends the hope for world peace, now and in the future.

Hoover, Laval and Interpreter in Conference

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23. (AP)—The great door of the White House swung open today to admit as a guest the second European premier to visit President Hoover.

Within Premier Laval of France and President Hoover will sit down to talk over the mutual problems facing the French republic and the United States just as Mr. Hoover talked with Premier Macdonald on naval armament two years ago. Such delicate subjects as disarmaments and such intricate ones as gold distribution and war debts were on the agenda.

Behind both of the statesmen was the shadow of two legislatures eager to scan and willing to criticize any agreements or solutions which may be reached. Both will ponder the reactions of congress and parliament before making commitments.

Yesterday the two men met and talked together. First when the smiling little Frenchman was welcomed after his arrival from New York and again last night when they sat alongside each other at a White House dinner given to a group of distinguished French visitors. An interpreter sat behind them.

Cover All Subjects Mr. Laval, in his first interview with American newspapermen, said the conversations would cover all the subjects relating to the problems of the two countries, with the economic stability of the world in the background. In his address immediately after he had landed, he said his first consideration in all his discussions would be the security of France.

American officials have shown plainly they will not entertain proposals looking to United States participation in any agreement which would force them into guaranteeing the security of a European nation. All such agreements reached heretofore by American diplomats have been rejected by the senate.

It has been made equally clear that the United States cannot be a party to pacts contemplating boycotts or blockades as support for one nation against another.

The premier and Secretary Stimson, well-acquainted because of previous meetings during the secretary's recent visit to Europe, took the opportunity while en route from New York to Washington to go over preliminarily the ground that he covered.

Until luncheon tomorrow the two executives will be closed together, either in the president's office or in the Lincoln study on the second floor of the mansion's residential section.

Defense Rests In Trial of Lawhon

GEORGETOWN, Oct. 23. (AP)—The defense completed its testimony today at the murder trial of Clint Lawhon, accused of shooting Lee Jones, a farmer, at a store near Taylor April 21.

Lawhon took the stand last night and testified Jones had accosted him a week before the slaying and cursed him. He claimed Jones had threatened him.

On the day of the shooting he said he met Jones in a store. He said Jones informed him he wished to see him outside. He said Jones again abused him and made a move as if to obtain a weapon in his truck. Lawhon said he drew his pistol and began firing. Other evidence showed the two men had been in disagreement concerning the marriage of Lawhon's daughter to Jones' son. The couple, witnesses said, did not get along and Jones wished them to separate. Lawhon said he wanted them to continue.

ACCEPTS PRISON TERM

HOUSTON, Oct. 23. (AP)—Covitt today accepted sentence of ten years imprisonment for the murder of his alleged paramour, Mrs. Marie Hart, five years his senior. The 23-year-old former Beaumont bellboy said he would not appeal. He was convicted by a jury Wednesday. He shot Mrs. Hart to death on the mezzanine floor of a hotel here June 1.

Agent Denies That He Accepted Money

HOUSTON, Oct. 23. (AP)—George Henry Wilkins, former federal prohibition agent, denied today from the witness stand that he ever accepted a bribe. He is on trial for extortion and bribery. The government contending he "went wrong" in that service here in 1926. Wilkins emphatically denied he ever had asked money of J. C. Hicks and Mrs. Nora Eudaley, who testified yesterday for the prosecution.

The former agent, concerning testimony he had eaten free meals at Hicks' restaurant, testified he "might have failed" on occasion to pay for them, adding that, in that event, he still "owed Mr. Hicks for them."

FEMININE FANCIES

By Hollyce Sellers Hinkle
Good gracious! A chain letter! Maybe these letters bring good luck to the senders, but think of the poor stenographers!

Many women are doing the same thing they deplore in men. They criticize a man's selection of another man for office in preference to a woman of better qualifications, yet they continually appoint women for no other reason than that they are women.

Miss Leila Enders, New Jersey state chairman of the National Women's party, rallying to the support of Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow as successor to the latter's late husband as senator, points to Mrs. Morrow's qualifications for the office. But the woman's page of the New York World-Telegram chimes in as follows:

Mrs. Morrow, should she be appointed, would be adding to a creditable line of widows who succeeded their husbands in political berths. First to accomplish it was Mrs. Mae Ellen Nolan. In 1923 she became a representative from California after her husband, John I. Nolan, died, and served for two years. Mrs. Nellie Ross succeeded William Bradford Ross as governor of Wyoming after his death in 1924. Incidentally she is one of those who are busy predicting a feminine landslide for the next administration, after ten years of neglect by Washington. The famous governor of Texas, "Ma" Ferguson, stepped into the forcibly removed gubernatorial shoes of Governor Jim Ferguson, her husband, when he was declared ineligible for re-election.

At the last statement, Texas smile, "Ma" Ferguson stepped into the gubernatorial shoes, all right, but did she walk in them, or was she led like a baby learning to walk? The Ferguson experience has taught Texas women a lesson. Not for a long time will they vote for a woman simply because she is a woman. To be elected, a Texas woman must have the qualifications equal or superior to men candidates for the same office. Texans have learned that to have an unqualified woman in office hinders, rather than helps, the chances of women in general in politics.

It is logical that Mrs. Morrow should succeed her husband. She is an intelligent, college trained woman, and an expert speaker. She impressed these facts through a campaign she conducted for her husband. Although she is inexperienced as an office-holder she has come in close contact with political affairs through her constant association with her famous husband and with others of high rank in government. She is not a baby-kissing, hand-shaking politician—and so much the better. She is not seeking the office—and that also is a good sign. We need more statesmen in office and fewer politicians.

Mrs. Morrow has real qualifications for the office. Let her merit win for her this office—not the fact that she is a woman.

Sheriff and Party Take Hunting Trip

Sheriff Lon L. Blanscet, his brother Herbert Blanscet, and District Attorney Raymond Allred left yesterday afternoon on a hunting trip to New Mexico. The party expects to be gone until the middle of next week.

They were undecided whether to go to Dark Canyon or beyond Magdalena in the Black range. H. Otto Studer says hunting is good at both places and that the limit should be bagged. The three men are crack shots. Although Sheriff Blanscet has only one arm, he can handle a rifle with the best shots.

FARMERS ARE KILLED
MIAMI, Okla., Oct. 23. (AP)—Henry Wallace, 65, and his son, Aaron, 36, farmers, were injured fatally last night when their wagon was crushed by an oil truck, the driver of which apparently blinded by the lights of an approaching automobile. The wagon was driven by Edgar Robinson, son-in-law of the elder Wallace. The Wallaces were walking behind the wagon. Neither Robinson nor Salsman were hurt.

More hogs went to market by motor truck in 1930 than any other animal, according to the Chicago Motor club. The number thus transported was 11,054,914.

WOMEN LAUGH AT DEPRESSION AT GAY PARTY

CLOTHING OF LAST YEAR SEEN AGAIN YESTERDAY; FRIENDSHIP CLASS GIVES ENTERTAINMENT

Last year's clothing—the more ragged the better—was worn to the "hard times" party given in the First Methodist church parlor yesterday afternoon by members of the Friendship class. Those in charge were Mesdames C. M. Barrier, Jerry Boston, Tom Cook, F. M. Culberson, and Fred Cary.

"We thought of serving crackers and water, but finally decided in favor of coffee and gingerbread," said one of the members.

Depression became quite a joke in the games played during the afternoon. An Irish potato was given as a prize at the close of a clever contest. The name of some "depression food" was pinned on the back of each member, who made every possible attempt to keep every other member from seeing it. Meanwhile, all were trying to see and to remember as many of the kinds of food as possible.

The merriment subsided long enough for a brief business session, when plans were made for a cooked food sale to be held at Piggly Wiggly No. 2 on Nov. 21.

Those registering were Mesdames Luther Pierson, Harry Anderson, S. A. Hurst, F. H. Sitton, S. C. Evans, S. P. Williams, John B. Naylor of Claremont, Travis C. Lively, H. R. Thompson, J. Frank Murry, C. B. Hanev, W. S. Tolbert, Fred Cary, F. M. Culberson, L. P. DuVall, Tom Cook, Roy Dyson, H. T. Wohlgenuth, C. M. Barrier, W. E. Shore, Ralph Chisum, Arthur Pavey, W. B. Hamilton, Jerry Boston, Mack Hammon, J. M. Saunders, Ray N. Johnson, V. L. Barker, Jack Mason, L. M. Guyer, Marvin Harris, Clifford F. Jones, Guy Farrington, Roy Tinsley, Rufe Thompson, Edwin S. Vicars, and W. Purviance.

Young Pioneers Taken To Jail

LAWRENCE, Mass., Oct. 23. (AP)—Sixteen boys, whose ages ranged from eight to 17 years, alleged members of the "Young Pioneers," were taken into custody early today by police who have patrolled the mill districts of this city during a strike of 22,000 textile operatives.

The boys were creating a disturbance with dishes, horns, and other noise making devices, police said, ostensibly for the purpose of arousing the strikers for picket duty at the mills.

After taking the youths to police headquarters, the officers notified their parents who later took them home. They were warned against further demonstrations.

Tells Big Story Of Getting Ashore

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23. (AP)—Fong Sai Gook, arrested by immigration authorities, explained truthfully to United States Commissioner Ernest Williams how he entered the country.

"I came on a big ocean liner which sank outside the Golden Gate. Three white men and myself were the only ones who did not drown. I swam ashore clinging to a bit of wood and carrying my trunk." Williams was interested, but entered an order to deport Fong to China.

The Diary of a Deb

(Editor's Note: This is the fifth of a series of eight articles written by Jean Woodson, Washington debutante, describing capital society life.)

By JEAN WOODSON —KEEPING FIT FOR SOCIETY WASHINGTON — The debts have a new fad this season.

We ride around in the wee small hours of the morning in quaint, little horse-drawn carriages — left over of the old parson and skirrruffled civil war days.

It gives us rest and relaxation after hours of dancing in a crowded ball room to escape into the cool night air with a few other debts and our escorts and hail one of the sleepy old colored drivers in uniform and high hat perched on the driver's seat.

We lean back in the deep-cushioned seats discussing the party or just keeping quiet and enjoying the moonlight on the Potomac while the old horses' hoofs beat a methodical clack-clack in the quiet of these traffic-stilled hours.

After the drive and perhaps a cup of coffee it's home and to bed. A deb simply must have her rest hours mapped out if she is to keep fit for society.

Already this fall I've been obliged to turn down a number of invitations much to my regret. But one just can't be on the go all the time. A deb's day runs something like this: Luncheon at 1 o'clock; the photographers or dress shop at 1:30 — for picture-taking and dress-fitting are part of every deb's coming out — a bridge tea at 2:30; horseback riding at 4; a dinner at 7, and a dancing party at 10.

In the height of the season the deb's usual retiring hour is 2 a. m. at the earliest. Often it's 4 or 5 o'clock in the morning after a brilliant big ball followed by a carriage ride or snuff and a shinning white enamel and nickel-plated lunch room where the girls' elegant evening coats do look quaint. But the capital has few classy all night restaurants.

I get up about 11 o'clock each morning and after a bath and shower have breakfast served in my private sitting room. I usually lounge around in pajamas until time to dress for my luncheon engagement. All the debts I know do their resting in garments quite as pretty and becoming as those put on for the society parade.

(Tomorrow Miss Woodson describes the start of the social season.)

They Might Have Been Deaf, Too

LONDON, Oct. 23. (AP)—A blind man, leaving the National Institute in Great Portland street, touched the arm of another man.

Thinking he was being offered a helping hand, he stepped off the curb to cross the street. After a few steps he was struck by a car.

The other man was blind, too, farms of Jake Eversman and other objectors to tuberculin testing of cattle. It was on Eversman's farm that hundreds of farmers gathered Wednesday night to oppose the tests. They later dispersed.

French Visitor Complimented

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23. (AP)—Movie microphones and a long string of questions stretched today between Mlle. Josette Laval of France and the White House.

As zestfully as she returned public greetings and charmed a gay group of the most select society, the little daughter of the French premier agreed to make some talkies and hold a formal press conference like any official.

The visit to the nation's best-known home with her father, to be the overnight guest of the President and Mrs. Hoover, was the big occasion, though. There was a suite sometimes called the "pink" one, awaited her coming. It is near her father's apartment and looks out over the lawn to Pennsylvania avenue.

She waited until the last minute to decide whether to go with her papa to honor the Unknown Soldier in Arlington cemetery. Last before going to the White House was a luncheon in the French embassy where last night she dined and danced among scores of Americans and some diplomats.

As the dancers moved under the glistering chandelier of the second-story ballroom of the embassy, heads turned continually toward the graceful Josette. She smiled back as directly and as graciously as she had to pedestrians who stopped to greet her from the streets. Her manner in the ballroom was more demure but no less vivacious. In a girlish white and navy-blue gown, she was the subject, evening long, of complimentary comments.

Phone Reduction Is Denied Abilene

ABILENE, Oct. 23. (AP)—Reduction in telephone rates in Abilene cannot be considered at this time, Mayor Lee York and the city commission were informed today by M. P. Caldwell, division commercial superintendent of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company. Caldwell headed a group of phone company officials holding a forenoon conference with the city authorities.

Net return on the Abilene plant was only 4.81 per cent in six months ending June 30, Caldwell said. This was based on plant investment placed at $1,039,920. The company in 1927 built a new plant here and changed from manual to dial system.

The mayor and commissioners were not ready to announce their next step in their campaign to bring down utilities charges here.

Texas and California are the only states among the 10 agricultural leaders which receive a larger proportion of their total agricultural income from crops than from live stock.

Senator Norris Is Doing His Painting

MCCOOK, Neb., Oct. 23. (AP)—Sen. George W. Norris is loathe to lay down his paint brush Oct. 30, and start to Washington for the opening of congress.

His main street home has just been remodeled and he and Mrs. Norris have moved in. It is a comfortable house and the senator likes to stay there. Besides, there are a lot of odd jobs to be done.

A reporter found him dressed in striped overalls and white shirt with the collar turned under, daubing a fence at the rear of the house. As he talked he dipped and brushed the wood carefully, going over the surface time and again.

Before his re-election last year, Senator Norris intimated he was weary and wanted to retire. Now he foresees more conflict in congress and prefers the repose of his home.

Week-enders Limp Off Huge Liner

NEW YORK, Oct. 23. (AP)—The SUN said today the liner Majestic returned last night from a 24-hour cruise with its bar depleted and a group of its passengers in bandages.

A rough and tumble fight between detectives, a coterie of convivial merry-makers, and several disappointed gamblers was the cause of it all, according to The SUN. The Majestic set out Wednesday night on its regular 100-mile cruise "to nowhere." There were 276 passengers.

The bar opened at 8:30 p. m. after the ship had passed the 12-mile limit. The SUN's story says. Drinking began moderately enough. After dinner a good many passengers went to a movie in the lounge, others strolled the decks in the moonlight, while a small—but powerful—minority adjourned to the bar.

Japan's Promises Depend on China

TOKYO, Oct. 23. (AP)—Kenkiichi Yoshizawa, Japanese delegate to the League of Nations council at Geneva, was instructed by the government today to inform the council that Japan will do her best to complete withdrawal of troops from outside the railway zone in Manchuria within three weeks if China agrees to cease alleged anti-Japanese agitation there.

It was emphasized here, however, that although Japan is conditionally prepared to make a concession over the question of withdrawal of troops in Manchuria to within the railway zone, it would be impossible to give a definite promise that the evacuation would be completed by Nov. 16 when the council next meets.

The progress of the withdrawal, it was pointed out, would necessarily be dependent on China's willingness and ability to maintain peace and order after the withdrawal.

It also was emphasized that these instructions to Ambassador Yoshizawa do not represent a new formula but are merely a further concession to the first of three formulae drafted by Sir Eric Drummond.

Swamp Valueless But Arkansawyer Wants It, Anyway

TEXARKANA, Ark., Oct. 23. (AP)—The meandering Red river, scene of the recent "battle of the bridges" between Oklahoma and Texas, threatens to precipitate another interstate controversy.

Two Texas rangers have set up headquarters on 4,600 acres of land near here to enforce Texas' claim a change in the river's course some 15 years ago left the land in Texas and not in Arkansas, as Arkansas contends.

The rangers arrived late yesterday from Gladewater and were accompanied by five Texas game wardens who posted "no trespassing" signs.

With the rangers in possession, the two states awaited a conference tomorrow between State Rep. R. M. Hubbard of Texas, acting as Gov. Ross Sterling's representative, and Governor Harvey Parnell of Arkansas at Little Rock.

Attorney General Hal L. Norwood said today the strip left after the Red river went on a "spree" 15 years ago was not worth a law suit and suggested the controversy might be submitted to the League of Nations.

"If Texas wants to assume jurisdiction," Mr. Norwood said, "it is not my intention to take any steps to prevent it. Probably Texas needs more territory but I think Arkansas is big enough. We might submit the question to the League of Nations as to whether those who hunt ducks on the lake should pay the license to Arkansas or Texas as this is about all that is involved that amounts to anything."

Two Texas rangers and five game wardens pitched camp yesterday on the disputed area—4,600 acres of land produced by the meanderings of the Red river during floods of 1908 and 1915.

Mr. Norwood said he and Attorney General Bobbitt of Texas recently went to the club house on the disputed area, and received affidavits from Texans that the Red river now runs where it has within the memory of man, and affidavits from Arkansawyers that the south bank of the lake formerly was the south bank of the Red river.

"The south bank of the lake appears to be the bank of what was once the river and I very recently made an investigation of this boundary dispute and have affidavits that where the river runs now is a channel that was cut through by overflows in 1908 and 1915."

"The official government survey shows that the land in dispute belongs to Arkansas. I do not believe that Texas could establish the fact that the land belongs to Texas. The territory is hardly worth a law suit. It would be more convenient for the Texas authorities to enforce the law in the disputed territory but if some persons should violate the law and be indicted in Bowie county, I doubt if it could be established that the venue was in that county."

CHAPTER I

MARY HARKNESS, gazing with Dirk Ruyter's arm about her, thought that she had never been so happy in her life. Not even that night in the garden a short while ago when she and Dirk had first known they loved one another. Not tonight at dinner with all her friends grouped about the flower-embellished table. Mr. Jupiter proposing a toast. Everyone's eyes upon them, merry and mocking, and trying to appear surprised.

Not even yesterday when she had tried on before the pier-glass in her room the first Paris dress she had ever owned. All these were rungs in the ladder of her present happiness. But when you were as completely, as idiotically blissful, as she was at this moment, you had to go something about it, and this was what she wanted to do—just dance, dance on forever with Dirk's arm about her, his dark tenor face close to hers, his lips at her ear murmuring tender banter, while the slow rhythm of the tango carried them dreamily down the length of the great ballroom on its sensuous tide.

A Paris dress! And five years ago she couldn't have bought one on Fifth Avenue, not even at a marked-down sale. That dress, like everything else good that had come to her in the years since her father had died, a suicide, and her mother soon after, had been the Jupiter's gift. She owed them everything—Dirk, in a way, if the younger member of Ruyter and Ruyther Mr. Jupiter's personal attorney, had not had to make so many visits to the house with a satchel of legal papers when the old gentleman's rheumatism kept him indoors and Dirk might never have met.

There had been an interval that was painful for both the Harkness children to remember. Mary, a hopeless novice and bungler at typing, pitting her superior "advantages" against the experience of other girls and losing out, often Eddie tramping about after office boys' jobs and plainly relieved when he did not get them.

At last, of course, there was the friend of a friend of a friend who knew of the children's plight and knew also the Jupiters and their peculiar needs. Someone who belonged in that world to which Mrs. Jupiter was a cross newcomer was just what she needed in a secretary. Later, when Mary had had to give up the small apartment she and her brother shared because her scruples interfered with his "life," she had felt that life could only be unutterably dreary even in such luxurious surroundings as the Jupiter home, separated from the "kid" brother she had always looked after and loved. But Eddie did not like to live where her money had the right; it gave her the right to say what she might and might not do.

Well, he had been "on his own" for a year now and he seemed to be making it. He had no job, but there was a fair living to be picked up at the race-track, he told her, and in other ways he did not elucidate. There was nothing she could do about it except worry a little and make him promise to come to her first if ever he was in need. She had not seen him of late, but she had been too happy and engrossed in her love-affair to think about it much.

THE GEMS OF PERIL

JUST now, when it seemed that near happiness had reached its crest, an inexplicable feeling of fear came over her. The world had dropped from beneath her feet once; it might again. Staring into the past with tragic, unseeing eyes she put her hand to her throat, which ached with pent-up tears.

Dirk tightened his arm about her, sensing her mood.

"Don't cry, little girl," he gibed, "you don't have to marry me. I can always jump off a bridge—or marry Gretz Garbo."

That wasn't a tactful thing to say, he realized in dismay even as he said it—that about jumping off a bridge. How had her father done it? Poison, he thought. But Mary laughed—her mood vanished as quickly as it came. Gretz Garbo was their name for the girl who had never quite given Dirk up—Cornelia Taber, of the silk mills, Tabors, who had everything money could buy except Dirk, and didn't like it in the least.

"It's a grand party," Mary remarked with a deep sigh of contentment. "The grandest party in fact that anybody I know has ever had. Mrs. Jupiter must be Santa Claus, to have done all this for me."

Dirk smiled, but he was not too pleased; he was in that stage of love in which he was jealous even of her gratitude. If people were to do things for her, he was the one to do them. Nice of the old lady, surely; but from now on Mary was his.

"Yes," he agreed, after observing his hostess judiciously from a distance. "She looks rather like a Christmas tree from here."

Mary squeezed his hand in quick

(time except how lovely she was and that she was his.

She had stopped speaking for some minutes before he was aware of it. He drew a deep breath and resumed his bantering tone.

"Will you do as much for me sometime?" he asked lightly.

"Of course," Mary laughed, wagging the finger that held her engagement ring under his nose. "Don't I drag this enormous rock around with me all the time though it nearly wrenches my arm off?"

"Don't jeer. Some day I'll turn you loose in the dime store and you can go the limit, my girl!"

Just then Mary caught sight of Spence's silver tchotchke to the hall doorway; his eyes roved the room anxiously. Mary slipped out of Dirk's arms.

"I see Spence over there, all awither about something. I'd better go over. Poor Spence, how he hates a mob like this!"

Dirk recaptured her hand. "Oh, let him stew." He was amiable but firm. "Some chap's probably gives him a laundry check for a bid. He'll get over it. Serve him right for giving up a promising career to bottle. Did you know Spence used to be a prizefighter in London? Fact."

"When did you and Spence get so chummy?"

"Waiting for you, my love."

Spence by this time had caught Mary's eye, and by violent exercise of the eyebrows conveyed his urgent need to speak to her.

Mary sighed. "I must go see what he wants." It was hard to come down to earth and remember that for all her Cinderella trappings, she was still a paid employe with duties to attend to.

Dirk whirled her away toward where the butler waited. Mary said, "I'll be back in five minutes. Go dance with Cornelia, why don't you? She'd love it," and laughed wickedly at his grimace of distaste.

The butler bent to her ear. "It's Mr. Eddie. Miss Mary. He's on the telephone."

"Eddie? You mean my brother, Eddie?" it came into her mind, irrelevantly, that it was after midnight. Why should Eddie call her at such an hour?

Dirk moved off obediently. She saw his dark head threading its way among the throng, saw Cornelia leave the man she was talking to and move off with him, looking terribly pleased. Swift, unreasoning jealousy smote her; need he have taken her quite so literally at her word?

She mustn't stand here, being jealous where everybody could see her. What was it she had come over here for? Then she remembered. Putting those two out of her mind, she went toward the telephone, a strange uneasiness clutching at her heart.

She turned away from the telephone with deep misgivings. The few frightened, jerky sentences her brother had gasped out filled her with alarm that grew deeper the more she thought about it.

Something must be very wrong indeed to have upset her brother's cool self-possession in any such manner. If there was anything Mr. Edward Harkness Junior had prided himself on since his prep school days, it was his nonchalance. "A man of the world"—that was Eddie, always. What could have agitated him so?

Kansas and Gas Company at War

TOPEKA, Oct. 23. (AP)—The state of Kansas and the Cities Service company came to grips again today in one angle of their gas rate, stock sales and merchandising controversies, this time at another court hearing involving the selling of the company's securities in the state.

The hearing was in a suit filed on the relation of H. W. Koenke, state bank commissioner, to enjoin the company, its president, Henry L. Doherty, and their employes and agents, from selling the securities in Kansas.

Seeking the injunction, Attorney General Roland Boynton contended neither the company nor Doherty, described in the petition as "a sole trader doing business as Henry L. Doherty & company," had obtained a permit as required by the Kansas speculative securities act.

The attorney general announced he would contend the law required holding companies holding or owning securities of public service utilities to obtain stock sale permits.

Florida this year produced approximately 129,000,000 narcissus bulbs.

BASEBALL IS STILL TALKED OVER NATION

Oscar Eckhardt, Formerly of Canyon, Goes Next to Boston Braves.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23. (AP)—Football being the sports page headlines these days by right of ancient precedent but baseball rumors are bound by no particular season of the year.

More trades and lineup changes have been made on paper—in the last month or so than the 16 major league managers actually made all last season.

Perhaps with good reason, most of the rumors have involved the Chicago Cubs who acknowledge Rogers Hornsby as boss. Picked to finish one-two in the National league race last season, the Cubs finished a disappointing third behind the St. Louis Cardinals and New York Giants.

Hornsby and the Cubs' owner, William Wrigley, already have announced that Hack Wilson has played his last game in a Cub uniform and the pudgy outfielder has been on the block ever since his suspension without pay for breaking training rules. Pat Malone, the big right hander from Central Pennsylvania, is another whose welcome in Chicago has worn a little thin.

Wants Chuck Klein
Hornsby has his eyes on Chuck Klein and Pinky Whitney of the Phillies but has small hopes of landing either one. The Phillies have announced that Klein is not for sale.

The champion Cardinals apparently are pretty well set for another year although third base may prove a problem before long. The Cardinals are grooming Burgess Whitehead from Columbus as an eventual successor to Frankie Frisch at second base and the slitting staff won't be harmed by the addition of Dizzy Dean, Tex Carleton and Ray Starr who, among them, accounted for 66 victories in the minors in 1931.

One of the most interesting prospects in the American league is Frank Crosetti, who batted .345 with San Francisco. He'll try to land the shortstop berth with the New York Yankees.

Need a Hitter
Washington is looking for a hard-hitting outfielder and might be willing to use Bumps Hadley or Joe Judge to get him. On the other hand, Johnny Gill from Baltimore may fill the bill.

If Charlie Gehring's arm fails to return to normal he may be shifted from second base to first with Big Dale Alexander going into the outfield where more punch is needed.

Still searching for batting punch, the Boston Braves have picked up Oscar Eckhardt from the Missions where he hit a tidy .306. Art Shires also will be wearing a brave uniform next season and probably will be the regular first baseman in place of Earl Sheely.

Jimmie Drake is able to be out after being confined to his home for the past week.

Jim Sanders of Amarillo transacted business here yesterday.

Haskell Is Due to Get Trimming

NEW YORK, Oct. 23. (AP)—An inter-sectional clash between the Haskell Indians and Temple at Philadelphia heads tonight's football program in the east.

The Indians have split even in four games thus far, beating Kansas and Texas Tech, but losing by one touchdown to Washburn and taking a 39-0 beating by the Oklahoma Aggies. Temple turned back Mt. St. Mary, Albright and Penn State before running into a strong Bucknell team which held the Owls to a scoreless tie.

Other games tonight involve Western Maryland and Duquesne at Pittsburgh; Grove City and Geneva, strong Western Pennsylvania small college arrays at Beaver Falls; Davis and Elkins, unbeaten in five games, and St. Francis of Loretto at Johnstown, Pa.; Loyola of Maryland against St. John's of New York at New York; and Morehead of Kentucky against Morris Harvey at Huntington, W. Va.

In the south, Catholic university will play North Carolina State at Raleigh and West Virginia will tackle Detroit at Detroit.

Sammy Mandell to Fight Tonight

CHICAGO, Oct. 23. (AP)—Sammy Mandell, former lightweight champion of the world, will return to the Chicago stadium where he defended his title in 1929 as a preliminary boxer.

Mandell has been signed to meet Ralph Lenny, clever Jersey City welterweight, in a 10-round preliminary to the championship battle between Bat Battalino, world featherweight titleholder, and Earl Mastro, Chicago's contender.

HERE FROM CALIFORNIA
Mrs. Charles Baceus of Los Angeles has arrived for an extended visit, with her nephew, Chris Martin, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hardin are the parents of an eight-pound son born at Pampa hospital Tuesday.

LUBBOCK WESTERNERS WILL PLAY ODESSA SATURDAY AS PRACTICE FOR LOCAL GAME

Hundreds of Fans to Come By Special Train and Cars October 31.

While the Harvesters tomorrow are considering the result of their tilt with the Erownwood Lions here today, the Lubbock Westerners will be entering the Odessa eleven at Tech field. Lubbock, like Pampa, was expected to rest this week but finally scheduled a game. Brownwood is considered much stronger than Odessa, although the latter is a powerful Class B outfit in the Permian basin.

"Supported by a special train load of Lubbock fans and hundreds who will make the trip by automobile, the Westerners will be in Pampa a week from Saturday knocking at the door of the powerful Pampa high school Harvesters, a team which threatens to go places in the state schoolboy race this season," shouts the Lubbock AVALANCHE.

The Harvesters are pointed for Lubbock. Lubbock is pointing for Pampa. Enough Lubbock fans believe in their club strongly enough to make the trek north to see the game, and Pampa believes in her repeaters to the point of offering every advantage except the final score.

Supt. R. B. Fisher wrote to Supt. M. H. Dunean of Lubbock as follows:

"We will meet you at the train, march from the depot to the school, where all Lubbock fans will be picked up in school buses and courtesy cars and delivered to the football field. Then we will beat your ears down, carry you back to the train, and send you home weeping."

Lubbock yesterday lacked only a few dozen of the necessary 500 tickets to bring the special train. Fare is $3.50 for the trip.

J. A. Pearson, W. C. de Cordova and John I. Bradley attended installation ceremonies of the Amarillo 40 and 8 society last night. Mr. Pearson was one of the speakers on the program.

OHIO STATE'S CHANCES ARE MUCH BETTER

But Northwestern Expected to Prove Formidable Foe Saturday.

CHICAGO, Oct. 23. (AP)—A lot of light probably will be let in on the midwestern football situation tomorrow.

Ohio State sprang into a menacing position last week by trouncing Michigan. Tomorrow the Buckeyes' darkest suspicions will be verified when they tackle Northwestern's powerful Wildcats at Columbus. Co-champions of the Big Ten last year and rated as just as strong this season, Northwestern rules favorite.

Notre Dame has mauled Indiana and played Northwestern to a scoreless draw in a game that proved nothing, due to weather conditions. Tomorrow, Rockne's heritage to Hunk Anderson will meet Pittsburgh, which is described as having the best line in the east, if not the best eleven. According to reports, the Notre Dame line is not all Coach Morrison wishes but the Irish will be favored to win as long as they can recall defeats no more recent than 1928.

Minnesota will meet its first Big Ten opponent in Iowa, and in spite of a 13 to 0 defeat by Stanford two weeks ago, figures to win over the Hawkeyes. Michigan's disappointed eleven will meet Illinois at Champaign, with the old rivalry the chief attraction. About the only thing to be decided when Indiana meets Chicago is which is the better team.

Purdue and Wisconsin will handle the Big Ten's inter-sectional assignments for the week, both playing in the east. Wisconsin is the choice

"Dub" Tourney Is New Scheme

NEW YORK, Oct. 23. (AP)—The unemployed of New York are to benefit from the ever-rising hope of the golf "dub" to do better next time.

A new style tournament has been arranged by the Metropolitan Golf association to bring about this result. For three days, Oct. 31, Nov. 1 and 2, any player who has a Metropolitan handicap may play as many rounds as he desires, paying a dollar a round. He may apply his handicap to the best score he makes and when the results are tabulated, the player who turns in the best net score at each club will receive a silver medal autographed by Bobby Jones. Special prizes will be given for the best two scores in the district.

CORTIN IS EFFECTIVE
CHICAGO, Oct. 23. (AP)—Mrs. Andrew Nelson, with the aid of cortin, has won her fight against Addison's disease.

Mrs. Nelson was in the last stages of the disease several weeks ago when two vials of cortin, which is obtained from the cortex of beef adrenal glands, were sent to her by airplane from the medical laboratory of the University of Buffalo, at Buffalo, N. Y.

to win its second straight over Pennsylvania, while Purdue, somewhat battered in the Wisconsin game, faces a tough one in Carnegie Tech.

TEXAS AGGIES AND BAYLOR ARE TO MEET

Athletic Relations Severed in 1926 Will Be Amicably Renewed.

By BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer
DALLAS, Oct. 23. (AP)—The renewal of football rivalry between Texas A. and M. and Baylor; the first eastern invasion of the University of Texas to play Harvard, and Southern Methodist's bid for her fifth straight victory feature the Southwest conference gridiron schedule this week-end.

In 1926 athletic relations between A. and M. and Baylor were severed. Tomorrow the ill feelings will be forgotten and these two schools will resume athletic relations in the only Southwest conference championship game.

Baylor, tied with Southern Methodist and Texas Christian for the conference leadership, employed a fine passing game to beat Arkansas last week, 19 to 7. A. and M. lost a stubborn battle to Texas Christian, 6 to 0. The Aggies will be at the pinnacle for the Baylor game since all regulars are free of serious injuries.

Having won two Southwest conference championships in four years the University of Texas invades Cambridge to play Harvard with a passing attack prepared especially for the crimson eleven. This game will be one of the outstanding inter-sectional tilts, with Harvard the favorite, but due to get a superb battle from the Texans.

Southern Methodist, one of the few undefeated 1931 teams in the country, will take on Centenary tomorrow at Dallas. The Southern Methodist team has scored four consecutive wins, registered 103 points and held opponents to 28 points. In 1927, Southern Methodist lost a 21 to 12 battle to Centenary. Tomorrow will mark their first meeting since 1927, and like the Mustangs, the Gentlemen will enter the game with a 1931 undefeated record.

Tonight at Abilene, Texas Christian will play Simmons university. Coach Schmidt plans to use reserves in this game, saving his regulars for next week's conference game against the University of Arkansas, at Fayetteville. Texas Christian and Simmons played a 0 to 0 tie last year on a rain drenched field.

Victorious last year, 21 to 0, Rice Institute is at Tucson, Ariz., to play the University of Arizona tomorrow in what is expected to be an easy game for Rice brilliant running attack.

The University of Arkansas, defeated in two conference games this year, takes on Louisiana State at Shreveport. Louisiana whipped Arkansas 27 to 12 last year, and is favored to repeat tomorrow.

Raymond Calloway of Woodward, Okla., is transacting business here this week.

Eugene Johnson of Childress, former Pampa, is visiting friends here for a few days.

It's "Kay Pone" and Not Rhyme With Maloney

CHICAGO, Oct. 23. (AP)—It's "Capone" (silent E), not "Cponey," his own attorneys to the contrary notwithstanding.

Alphonse Capone, sometimes called Brown, Ross, Phillips, Snorky and Costa, likes to have his real name pronounced in the Americanized way, with only two syllables. Government prosecutors respected his wish in the matter throughout his income tax trial, although the despised nickname "Scarface" cropped in now and then.

But Attorney Albert Fink, representing the gang chief for the first time, constantly pronounced the name as if it rhymed with "ba-voiney."

Michael Ahearn, who has been a member of the gangster's legal staff for years and should know better, was led astray by Fink. He pronounced it both ways.

Lindberghs Will Fly Home Today

ROCK SPRINGS, Wyo., Oct. 23. (AP)—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh took off from the Rock Springs airport at 8:12 a. m., Mountain Standard Time today on another leg of their trip from Victoria, B. C., with hopes of reaching New York tonight. There was a light wind but skies were clear.

The colonel said he would take the shortest route available, and would not necessarily follow the air mail line. The two are hurrying to their home from a vacation tour of the Orient cut short by the death of Mrs. Lindbergh's father, Senator Dwight W. Morrow.

Both expressed eagerness to see their baby son, Charles A. Lindbergh Jr., who is just 15 months old.

Bankers Plan To Finance Cotton

DALLAS, Oct. 23. (AP)—Reports to J. W. Hoopes, president of the State Bankers' association, yesterday indicated bankers would finance more than their quota of cotton in the 7,000,000 bale holding program.

Cherokee county reported it would withhold 40 per cent of its 1931 crop from the mart instead of the suggested 25 per cent.

One bank, which Hoopes declined to name, provided it alone would finance or refinance 15,000 bales.

Ellis county, leading cotton producing county, reported it would withhold more than its quota, and Travis county promised to hold back 10,000 of its 40,000 bales. Dallas bankers were expected to finance several times Dallas county's quota of 7,500 bales.

Chicago Boy Held For Two Crimes

CHICAGO, Oct. 23. (AP)—A 16-year-old boy was charged by police today with fatally shooting Mrs. Agnes Lavander, 35, Feb. 18, 1930, and attacking Mrs. Jane Meyers, 53, last Tuesday night.

Both crimes, to which police said the boy, Vernon Royals, confessed, took place on lonely spots near a Forest Glen railroad station.

Royals, a six-foot lad who weighs 170, pounds, was arrested Wednesday night near the scene of the crimes. He stubbornly maintained his innocence, police said, despite the fact Mrs. Meyers, who is under the care of a physician, identified him yesterday.

Jack Thompson to Meet Sturdy Boxer at Boston

BOSTON, Oct. 23. (AP)—Boston's first championship bout since 1920, slated for the Boston Garden tonight, appeared today to resolve itself into a battle between stamina and experience.

Young Jack Thompson of Chicago, welterweight champion of the world, had the experience and cleverness on his side of the ledger. The challenger, Lou Brouillard of Danielson, Conn., seemed physically the more fit.

Brouillard, who has yet to take part in a 15-round fray, was the favorite before the weigh-in. His victory over Thompson here several months ago had much to do with the way the odds went.

GRAINS WEAKER

CHICAGO, Oct. 23. (AP)—Grain prices sagged today after an irregular start. Corn market weakness had a general bearish effect, the impending movement of the new crop being unaccompanied by any adequate demand. Opening at 1-4 cent decline to 3-8 advance, wheat afterward receded all around. Corn started 1-4 off to 1-8 up and subsequently underwent a general setback.

CHALES SALE IN FIRST MOVIE AT LA NORA

Charles (Chic) Sale, now at the La Nora theater in his first picture, "The Star Witness," a Warner Bros. production, is held in high regard by millions as one of the really great creative artists. He is not a comedian in the ordinary sense of the word, but his humor lies in his character—in his Lem Putt Bessie Belch—Filbert Twitch—and Gran'pa Summerill, The Man Who Knew Lincoln—rather than in himself. Lem and Bessie and Filbert are among Sale's favorite characters though he has done over 30 others.

"I did not invent these folks," said Sale, replying to a question, as he sat in his canvas chair at the studio while "The Star Witness" was in production.

"I depict characters that I have known. I never unduly exaggerate them, nor do I color them in any way to make them offensive to the people I paint. I'm really one of them myself, for my entire youth was spent in a small town, and I'm still a small town man in my likes and dislikes."

Sale, who re-creates his famous character, Gran'pa Summerill, The Man Who Knew Lincoln, in "The Star Witness," considers simplicity the key to all true artistry.

"The little homely touches are the things audiences like," he declares. "I've been proving the truth of this for a good many years now."

Sale was born in Huron, South Dakota, a few more than 30 years ago. His father, a dentist, moved the family to Urbana, Ill., when Chic was a youngster. It was there that he made those small town contacts and observations which later provided the fund of material for his professional career.

Your Neighbor Saves Money at Wards—Why Don't You?

Woman Is Winning Fight to Keep Control of California Gold Mine

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 23. (AP)—Mrs. Ruth S. Graves, a woman with determined, flashing blue eyes, is making a fight almost lone handed over a famous gold mine in the Mohave desert.

Litigation and deputy United States marshals have figured in it, and there was a mile-a-minute ride with an injunction to halt the sale of the mine under a sheriff's hammer.

The late John Hays Hammond and Chauncey M. Depeew were stockholders in the mine, the Pacific, and had a part in its early development. It has produced more than $7,000,000 in gold, silver and copper. Tom Carmack, who discovered it in 1899, claims other millions are waiting to be mined.

More than a million dollars was spent in developing the Pacific. The main ore bodies then known were worked. Maneuvers among stockholders for control led to a gradual shutdown.

New companies were formed, new and allegedly illegal leases were made, taxes became delinquent and the title was snarled. The mine finally was ordered sold at San Bernardino, Calif., to satisfy a $6,037 judgment obtained by Martin Taylor.

Sheriff Ernest T. Shay prepared to auction it to the highest bidder at 2 p. m. At 1:58 his telephone rang. The United States marshal was calling from Los Angeles. He told Shay that Mrs. Graves, trustee for her two children who owned 16,000 shares in the original Pacific corporation, had convinced the court there was evidence of collusion between Taylor and John H. Hobbs, president of the corporation, to gain control of the mine and deprive stockholders of their rights.

Armed with a federal injunction, Mrs. Graves and a deputy marshal drove the 62 miles to San Bernardino in an hour and 15 minutes. The sale was halted and early this week William Griffith was appointed receiver.

"The fight has just begun," Mrs. Graves said today. "I lived there at the mine on the desert nine months in 1926 trying to straighten things out and we're not going to lose now. Other stockholders are joining me and we'll get the ore Carmack has shown us is there."

VETERAN OFFICER DIES
EL PASO, Oct. 23. (AP)—Walter Ryman, 58, customs agent and one of the best known federal officers on the border, died yesterday after a heart attack. His bride of a few months was with him. He was an expert on cattle classification and recognized as one of the most efficient men in the customs service. Friends said he could guess within a few pounds the weight of a herd of cattle. For the past two years he was stationed at Brownsville.

Seventy-five thousand sheep, and thousands of calves and steers are to be fed out of McCullen county around Brady this fall from the large variety of grains locally produced.

Mrs. Dick Hughes went to Amarillo this morning.

Wants Use of British Vessels to Be Discontinued

NEW YORK, Oct. 23. (AP)—Hitting at the use of British ocean liners for "nowhere" or "whoopie" cruises from American ports, Capt. John F. Milliken, secretary of the Neptune association, has written to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon protesting the continuance of the trips.

He said the vessels violated the coastwise laws because they did not call or stop at any foreign port before returning to New York. He also believes it is a violation of the prohibition amendment as the vessels bring liquor into the port for beverage purposes.

The Red Star liner Belgeland and Homeric made such cruises Columbus Day, and the White Star liner Majestic went out yesterday on such a trip.

Mrs. H. A. Isbell is returning to her home in Waynoka, Okla., after a visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Isbell.

"BULK,"
VITAMIN B, IRON
All in
Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

If you suffer from ordinary constipation, you will be benefited by Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Millions have found it brings relief.

Scientific tests show ALL-BRAN supplies "bulk," Vitamin B, and iron. "Bulk" promotes elimination. Vitamin B tones the intestinal tract. Iron helps build blood.

In the package, ALL-BRAN has a shredded appearance. But within the body, it changes to a soft mass, which gently cleanses the intestines. It is much like the "bulk" in lettuce or spinach. Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Try two table-spoonfuls daily for a week. ALL-BRAN is natural—far better than pills or drugs, which may cause too strenuous action.

ALL-BRAN is already cooked, flavored and krumbled—bran in its finest form. Serve as a cereal or try the delicious recipes on the package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Steel Magnates Feeling Optimistic

NEW YORK, Oct. 23. (AP)—Optimism was in the saddle at today's semi-annual meeting of the American Iron and Steel Institute.

Comment by steel company executives bore out the assertion of the institute's president, Charles M. Schwab, that industry had found its second wind, even though most of the gain so far noted was in intangible sentiment rather than in the order books.

Business feeling, speakers believed, had been strengthened by President Hoover's confidence program and the consensus was that the steel industry, although still "abnormally dull," had seen the worst.

Eugene G. Grace, president of Bethlehem Steel, said that while there had been no improvement in actual business, sentiment was "a little better" and that some consumers were taking more interest in their steel requirements. One of the most encouraging symptoms, he said, was the recent gain in commodity prices.

Tom M. Girdler, chairman of Republic Steel, saw signs of better conditions and believed the foundation was being laid for improvement in 1932.

Apartment Dweller Needs Road Maps

EVANSTON, Ill., Oct. 23. (AP)—William Dawson is one apartment dweller who needs a road map or something.

Last night he opened his kitchen door, crept in, closed the door, tipped toward the ice box, opened it, ate pickles and ham, then walked on in, laid down on the living room sofa, and prepared to slumber.

In a minute someone else began wandering around.

"Help! Burglars!" cried Dawson.

Kidnapers Given 60-Year Sentences

NEW YORK, Oct. 23. (AP)—Four men convicted of kidnaping Charles M. Rosenthal, youthful Wall street broker for $50,000 ransom, were sentenced today to terms of 60 years each in prison.

The kidnapers were Marcus Lumenthal, alias Jack Markham, Albert Sileo, alias John Rocco; Theodore Adanoffi, alias Harry King, the latter two both from Newark, N. J., and Nicholas Rutigliano, manager of the Hotel Vendig.

A mulatto girl, known as Betty Green, was tried with the kidnapers but was acquitted by the jury which found the four men guilty. The girl acknowledged she brought Rosenthal into the hands of the kidnapers but insisted she had no knowledge of the reason why they wanted him.

This Game of GOLF

by O.B. KEELER
The Hon. Rubber Tyre Jones, no longer a champion of any golfing domains, is coming in here and there for a bit of goodnatured kidding on the fact that Billy Burke and George Von Elm scored a good bit better than he in recent charity matches in the east.

the matter very seriously—certainly not Mr. Jones. One or two writers have attempted a comparison based on these rounds which furnishes the basis for an amusing argument.
As a matter of record, Bobby never has been a consistently spectacular exhibition player. At times he has played some very fine golf—as his record 66 at Oxhey, in the last round he played, and perhaps ever will play, in Great Britain.
He was in a fourball match with Harry Vardon, James Braid, and Ted Ray. The romance of the situation, and the companionship of these three grand veterans of the game, and heroes of his boyhood, inspired him to one of the finest rounds he ever produced.

Gives Full Value
Bobby tries hard enough and always manages to give the gallery a run for his charity-money, but he was consistently unable to win in California against the Dutra brothers. Nowadays he seems to be several strokes worse than the best man of a foursome.
A Jones record occurred to me the other day which I believe has never been in print and which makes it clear that Bobby is something of a golfer despite his plight in exhibition play.

No 80's in Open
During his career Jones played in 11 consecutive United States open tournaments, during a span when the event was rated properly as the major championship of the world. Certainly it was the one in which the competitor was under the severest pressure; that is, the game was played under the most punishing strain known to golf.
In the 11 championships, Bobby played 44 rounds, in the tournaments proper. He played in the course of four playoffs nine more rounds; and in the days when he had to qualify, he played yet nine more rounds.

That is, he played in connection with the major open championship of the world, 62 rounds of golf—all medal competition—in 11 years.
He never scored as high as 80, in any round of the 62.
The open championship records of other competitors in the vicinity—the nearest one, I believe, is 55 strokes worse in the 44 rounds of the 11 championships—reveal just what it means to get through even a half dozen championships without a card of 80, or worse.
Of all the records Bobby Jones left behind him, I think the greatest is that string of 62 consecutive rounds in connection with the biggest of all medal-play competitions—62 consecutive rounds, with not a card as high as 80.

Youngsters Get "Hot"
It is beginning to look that when these young professionals get "hot" there is nothing much the hard-bitten veterans can do about the matter.
The latest example is afforded by Paul Runyan, comparative unknown pro at the Metropolitan Country club, New York, who rounced Gene Sarazen in the finals of the Metropolitan P. G. A. tourney.
"No man in the world could have beaten Runyan today," Sarazen said after the match. Three down after the morning round, Sarazen started to play heroic golf, only to have the youngster score five birdies in the first nine, and end the match at the

Hollywood Sights

HOLLYWOOD—The safe establishment of Janet Gaynor in a screen niche of her own as the only actress portraying sweetly sentimental little girls should reassure film fans that the movies, for all the sophistication the talkies have brought, are still the movies.
Always the screen has had its angels of sweetness and light whose mission was to persuade the millions that there is a fairy godmother. For years Mary Pickford led them all, and now Miss Gaynor has succeeded to the throne that Mary, no longer youthful, abdicated when she made "Coquette" and grey lip cinematically.
And Janet is quite satisfied with her position. For at last she has attained a status in the films that is individual.
That such a star, frankly clinging to old-fashioned romance, has built up a big following should give producers of gang and sex melodrama something to think about.

Romances
The romance of Wesley Ruggles, the director, and Arline Judge, one of the year's crop of "baby stars," blossomed before Arline played one of the leading roles in Ruggles' latest picture.
And James Kirkwood's new bride, the extra girl in his picture, was interested in film work principally, their friends say, because Kirkwood was.

During A 'Find'
Jimmy Durkin, who will be known as Schnozzle on the screen, looks like the comedy find of the year. In the new William Haines film, "Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford," he almost runs away with all the honors, but there are plenty to go around. It's an unusually entertaining picture.
Jean Harlow continues to have pictures named after her unique

Veteran motorists and novices, too, unite in applauding the virtues of this sensational, performing gasoline. They tell how it snaps up pick-up, peps up power, adds mileage, and gives sweeter running.

The reason is simple. Phillips 66 is honest high test. (See figures above.) Made that way by the world's largest producers of natural high gravity gasoline. Made to deliver more value for the money.

And it does! Prove for yourself the difference it makes in your car, by stopping for a trial tankful at the Orange and Black 66 shield.

let's all go to Turkey

Eastward ho! Four thousand miles nearer the rising sun—let's go! To the land of mosques and minarets—so different from our skyscrapers, stacks and steeples.
Let's see this strange, strange country. Let's see the land where the tobacco* grows in small leaves on slender stalks—to be tenderly picked, leaf by leaf, hung in long fragrant strings, shelter-dried and blanket-cured. Precious stuff!
Let's taste that delicate aromatic flavor—that subtle difference that makes a cigarette!

XANTHI . . CAVALLA . . SMYRNA . . SAMSOUN . . famous tobaccos!

*Turkish tobacco is to cigarette's what seasoning is to food—the "spice," the "sauce"—or what rich, sweet cream is to coffee!
You can taste the Turkish in Chesterfield—there's enough of it, that's why. Chesterfield has not been stingy with this important addition to good taste and aroma; four famous kinds of Turkish leaf—Xanthi, Cavalla, Samsoun and Smyrna—go into the smooth, "spicy" Chesterfield blend.
This is just one more reason for Chesterfield's better taste. Tobaccos from far and near, the best of their several kinds—and the right kinds. And pure, tasteless cigarette paper, the purest made. The many requisites of a milder, better smoke, complete!
That's why they're GOOD—they've got to be and they are.
