Gas Hearing Is Underway

Baker school reports the gift of $5 to the cafeteria by Jess Wynne. An anonymous citizen made a larger cash gift. Someone left groceries at The News for the school while this writer was out. We did not get the name, and we wish the donor would telephone us so that we can give proper credit.

This being Monday, we will talk a bit with our contemporaries:

David M. Warren in Panhandle Herald: When a sound business needs financial accommodation, it borrows money on proper security from another and more prosperous business. The time comes for payment, and the first business asks for an extension of time on the grounds that it is unable to spare the money from its business.

The war debt question should be considered by a business commission, made up of men who understand the problem in all its phases. It should be immune to political influence. Then it will get somewhere.

That is a good, sound American idea. But Europeans do not segregate diplomacy and business. American bankers made the mistake of thinking that foreign people, firms, and governments could and would look at debts as matters of "common American honesty." After all, we live in a new world and we are entangled in the affairs of an old one.

Ernest O. Thompson of the Texas railroad commission is presiding here at a hearing of operators of natural gasoline plants in the Panhandle field in regard to the applications to process gas containing hydrogen sulphite for the purpose of extracting natural gasoline therefrom and concerning applications for installation of gas-lifts. It was not until late Saturday night that the commissioner decided to attend the meeting.

So many representatives arrived this morning that the hearing was transferred from the local office of the oil and gas division of the commission to the city commission room in the city hall.

Previous efforts of the commission to settle the natural gas production problem to the satisfaction of both independent and major companies ended in Federal court interference. Major companies operating interstate lines have been upheld in their contentions that the railroad commission authority does not permit enforcement of the ratable taking act, so far as applied to natural gas.

The hearing follows the commission's order of the local office of establishing field rules for the conservation of gas, dated December 12 immediately following a state wide hearing in Amarillo.

The hearing being conducted today is to take each plant as a unit to show the required volume of gas processed and the disposition of the residue, together with information concerning each individual well connected thereto and those to which connections are desired, showing the volumes of gas, amount of oil and water, rock pressure, and working pressure.

Mr. Thompson left at noon after accepting applications on processing of sour gas in excess of plant residue disposition which was not an issue in the meeting. Certain groups in Hutchinson county desire to use sour gas for the manufacture of casinghead gasoline without having a use for the residue, which is against the rules of the commission. They desire the commission to set aside the ruling in certain instances.

GAS-LIFT APPLICATIONS ARE ALSO BEING CONSIDERED

Taking of detailed statements on the called hearing question was to start this afternoon.

Gray county tax assessing is being started, with making of the rolls complicated by the state amendment which provided exemption of homesteads for state taxation up to $3,000.

Notations of property designated as homesteads are being made on the rolls as the deductions are made according to law. The law provides that property of a person applying for exemption "shall be used as a home," but has the additional provision that the homestead may contain more than one parcel in order to reach the $3,000 exemption.

LATE NEWS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—Representative Patman (D., Tex.), announced in the house today that proponents of cash bonus payment would meet late today to decide whether to seek action on the veteran proposal this session.

DEPEW, Okla., Jan. 16. (AP)—The State National bank here was robbed this morning by three men who escaped in a new automobile. The amount of loot was approximately $2,500. The robbery kidnaped three bank officers and two customers when they left but their captives were released unharmed several miles from the town, in two groups. No one was injured during the robbery.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—Senator Tydings (D., Md.) announced in the senate today that a complete poll of its membership showed more than enough votes to pass the Philippine independence bill over President Hoover's veto.

AUSTIN, Jan. 16. (AP)—The Texas legislature will meet in joint session at 11:30 a. m., tomorrow in the hall of the house of representatives to inaugurate Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson as governor and Edgar E. Witt as lieutenant governor. The inaugural ceremony will start promptly at 12 noon.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—Speaker Garner today invoked the procedure of suspending house rules for consideration of the Jones bill to make available $103,000,000 for 1933 crop production loans to farmers.

Fire Destroys Empire Garage

A garage at the Empire Gas and Fuel company headquarters west of Pampa was completely destroyed by fire about 11:30 o'clock this morning. A Ford coupe owned by Preston Wilson and a Chevrolet sedan belonging to Johnnie Mead were burned. Two other cars were removed from the burning building before they caught fire.

The Pampa fire department answered a call to the camp and with 120 gallons of water from the booster tank on the big American-LaFrance truck put out the flames and kept them from spreading to a house and other nearby buildings.

Officers Seize Whisky in Raid

Officers of the sheriff's department made a raid in South Pampa Sunday night in which they seized 10 gallons of whiskey in a keg, a pint container full, 6 empty 10-gallon kegs, parts of a still, including a pressure tank, and 2 sacks of sugar.

A man arrested in connection with the raid was to be arraigned this afternoon.

To Practice Scout Roundup Program

Scoutmasters of the Adobe Walls council will meet in Pampa next Friday evening to plan and rehearse the program for the Scout roundup here February 11.

The meeting Friday will be at the Central Baptist church, according to J. W. Martin, chairman of the roundup.

J. I. Downs and Younger Cockrell left yesterday on a business trip to Austin.

WEST TEXAS—Mostly cloudy in south, rain in southeast, rain turning to snow in north, colder, cold wave in north portion with temperatures 10 to 22 tonight; Tuesday, unsettled, snow in north, rain or snow in south portion, colder, cold wave in southeast portion where temperatures 20 to 26 indicated by Tuesday night. FIRST POULTRY SHOW ENTRIES DUE WEDNESDAY

Coops Are Installed In Johnson Building

Carpentry work in preparing the Johnson building on West Foster avenue for the Pampa poultry show which will be held Thursday, Friday, and Saturday began this morning.

Whether more coops than are available now will be needed is a problem before the show committee. Out-of-town entries are expected to be numerous. They will begin arriving Wednesday afternoon. The deadline for entering is Thursday noon.

George Briggs, secretary of the show, and County Agent Ralph Thomas will have charge of registrations. C. C. Dodd, Irvin Cole, and S. E. Love will classify and arrange the birds.

Competition for substantial prizes, which this year are merchandise and ribbons, will be keen. It is hoped that hundreds of persons will attend the show.

Mrs. Ben Wilson Dies At Stokes Home Near City

Mrs. Sudie Inez Wilson, 22, wife of Ben Wilson, died at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Stokes, 5 miles south of Pampa this morning. She had been in failing health for some time.

Funeral services will be conducted for the bereaved tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Pentecostal church in the Talley addition. Services will be preached by the Rev. Sister Stratton, pastor of the church, assisted by the Rev. C. E. Lancaster, pastor of the First Baptist church, Brother Adams, pastor of the Assembly of God, and Brother Raines, pastor of the Pentecostal Church of God. Burial will be at Fairview cemetery. Arrangements will be in charge of the Stephenson Mortuary.

Mrs. Wilson is survived by her husband, her parents, five sisters, Mrs. W. L. Cunningham, Mrs. E. C. King, Mrs. J. E. White and Miss Fay Stokes, all of Pampa, and Mrs. H. D. White of Commerce; also two brothers, Ed. Stokes and L. E. Stokes, both of Colorado City.

CITY JOBS ARE GIVEN 65 MEN BY COMMITTEE

Caliche Being Placed On Streets; Tent City Cleared

About 65 men were given employment today through the federal relief committee.

They were given work at the city waterworks, where an exhaust pipe destroyed by a gas explosion is being rebuilt, cleaning alleys, working at the city park, and placing caliche on streets.

One of the recent tasks of the men was cleaning up the site of the tent city in southwest Pampa, where highway 33 will presumably be routed.

Cold Wave For West Texas Is Due Here Today

NOTIFY STOCKMEN!

That was the warning sent over the wire this morning by the Associated Press in its daily weather forecast, and unless the weather bureau was reading the signs wrong, the annual January "sum-met spell" is going to make an exit late today. The weather prophet in the Panhandle has not a great deal of prestige on the capricious Staked Plains, because Panhandle weather may start to do something and then change its mind. So after all the blizzard may not come, but it was forecast.

The cloudy weather will turn to rain and the rain to snow, the forecast said. Colder weather will turn to a cold wave with a temperature of from 10 to 22 tonight. Tuesday will be unsettled; snow in north, rain or snow in south portion. It was forecast that the cold wave would move south Tuesday.

"Notify stockmen" means that ranchers and cattlemen should provide facilities to enable their livestock to weather a blizzard of unusual proportions.

STERLING WITHDRAWS CHOICES; FERGUSON APPOINTED TO BE CONFIRMED.

AUSTIN, Jan. 16. (AP)—Governor R. S. Sterling today withdrew three appointments to the University of Texas board of regents after Attorney General James V. Allred held that he did not have the right to make those appointments. That

College Youth Is Stabbed

ALTERCATION FOLLOWS EXPULSION OF ONE YOUTH

BOY INJURED IN NECK

FIGHT TAKES PLACE IN HOUSE NEAR TEXAS COLLEGE

FORT WORTH, Jan. 16. (AP)—William Turpin, 18, student at the North Texas Agricultural college, was stabbed seriously at a boarding house in Arlington this morning, and Orren W. Sisco, 18, former student, was charged with assault to murder.

The stabbing was said to have been the culmination of previous trouble between the youths.

Sisco, with slight cuts on his face, was brought here for questioning. Bond was set at $1,000.

Turpin was brought to a hospital in Fort Worth his larynx was punctured and his condition was weakened from loss of blood. Attendants said a transfusion might be necessary.

Sisco, whose home is in Waco, was expelled from the college Saturday for alleged "assaults on two students" and "unsportsmanlike conduct," according to Dean E. E. Davis.

He returned to the campus Monday to get his belongings.

The stabbing occurred in Sisco's room at the boarding house operated by Mrs. John Booth on College avenue, Arlington. It is not known when Turpin went to the room. Mrs. Booth said she heard a commotion, went upstairs and saw Turpin standing, with blood streaming from his throat. As she entered the room, she said, the youth collapsed.

Sisco declined to comment.

W. E. Turpin, Arlington, father of the wounded youth, said his son and Sisco had fought on December 21. The elder Turpin said he did not learn of the fight until recently.

The college had information that the differences between the students were over a slide rule and note book.

Crash Injures 2 White Deer Motorists Here

A Buick coupe driven by two White Deer youths crashed through the guard rail at the end of Ripley street, Amarillo highway, where it crosses the Santa Fe track, and smashed the telephone pole across the ditch before it came to a stop about 5 o'clock yesterday morning.

The occupants were treated for cuts and bruises at Worley hospital but their injuries were minor and they left soon after receiving first aid.

Public Invited To Oil Institute Meet

The public is invited to attend the meeting of the Panhandle chapter of the American Petroleum Institute tomorrow evening at the city hall.

Acid treatment of oil wells will be the subject of papers to be read at the meeting. Floyd Hatfield and C. E. McDaniel of Borger and Jack Moyer will be the speakers. Dan Grubbs will be in general charge of the program.

AUTOMOBILE OF CITY POLICEMAN IS TAKEN HERE

Weldon Wilson's Car Is Stolen From Driveway

Another car, left less than 15 minutes with the key in the lock, was stolen last night from the driveway at Weldon Wilson's home on North Somerville street. J. B. Wilson, brother of the owner, drove the car on the driveway and went into the house for a few minutes, intending to take it to the owner, a city officer on night duty.

No one heard the car being taken from the side of the house. It is believed two or three men pushed the car into the street before starting it, or that it was towed away from the house.

The theft was the third during the last week. C. S. Barrett's car was stolen from in front of the First Baptist church Wednesday night, but was recovered the next morning in Arnett, Okla. The following night a new Ford V8 sedan was stolen from in front of the Miller-Lybrand company. It has not been recovered. All three cars had keys in the locks.

Officers recovered the Hawthorne bicycle stolen from Doris Gee at the central high school campus Thursday afternoon. It was found in an alley in northeast Pampa.

Stinnett Jailer Kills Prisoner In Escape Plot

STINNETT, Jan. 16. (AP)—In an attempt to escape from the Hutchinson county jail, John (Shine) Popejoy, 52-year-old prisoner, was shot to death, and Dan Cambern, jailer, suffered bullet wounds.

Popejoy, awaiting trial for robbery of the First State bank of Stinnett, made his break for liberty when the jailer entered his cell to remove dishes. He had obtained a firearm and shot Cambern as he fled.

He did not get outside the jail. Investigating officers said Cambern fatally wounded him as he ran. Cambern was taken to a Borger hospital for treatment. The jail attempt to escape took place late yesterday.

City Police Arrest 10 During Week-End

City officers arrested 10 persons over the week-end in a drive on vagrancy. Nine were charged with vagrancy and the others with breaking glass bottles on the street.

Three of the persons charged with vagrancy pleaded not guilty before Judge J. H. Elythe this morning and were released on bonds of $25. Three entered pleas of guilty and went to work on the streets. The others decided to "lay out" their fine or hunt someone to "pay them out."

MORRIS SHEPPARD NOT ALLOWED TO TALK ON PROHIBITION

FAVOR MORTGAGE BILL

DECISION TO LEGALIZE BEER IS AGAIN DELAYED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—Refusing to yield the floor for a previously announced speech on prohibition and preventing an agreement to vote tomorrow on the Philippine veto, Senator Long (D., La.) today began the fifth against the Glass banking bill, day of the senate filibuster.

The Louisiana, having the floor by prior right when the senate recovered, declined at once to give it up to Senator Sheppard (D., Tex.) for his customary annual address on prohibition—this time to commemorate the thirteenth anniversary of the 18th amendment.

"If the senator will withhold that speech until the end of the week," Long said, "he can deliver his remarks over the death of prohibition."

"Of course I cannot agree to that," Sheppard returned with a smile.

The house, however, continued to make good time on farm questions, taking up a crop production loan bill, a further farm-aid measure was in sight through announcement of Chairman Steagall of the house banking committee that Wednesday or Thursday his committee would work on a temporary farm mortgage relief bill, designated to cut interest rates and give direct aid in some cases to halt foreclosure.

The drastic rewriting of the alcoholism plan, passed by the house and now in the senate agriculture committee, was held up while Senator Smith (D. S. C.) caught a train for New York to consult with President-elect Roosevelt.

Delay also met the Collier-Blaine bill to legalize beer and wine, as the senate judiciary committee put off its decision until next Monday.

Denies Accusation

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—Secretary Stinson reiterated today that the United States had reached no understanding with China to supply money, arms and munitions to aid in its dispute with Japan.

The denial of the secretary, made at his regular press conference, followed closely the lines of the one made under his instructions by Ambassador Grew to Tokyo to rumors that had sprung up in Japan.

TREND BACK TO THE FARM

America's farm population is growing. In spite of an agricultural depression that is both extensive and severe, the number of people who live on farms has increased by hundreds of thousands. Today, the Department of Agriculture believes, the total is not far below the record of 32,000,000 set away back in the palmy days of 1910.

This, of course, is due chiefly to the depression—the industrial depression; not the agricultural one. Young men and women who left their farm homes in the boom years of the 20's and went looking for jobs in the cities have been glad enough to get back home lately; men who had been city workers for years have taken over idle farm land in preference to staying in town on charity.

For the man on the farm has one huge advantage over the man in the city, when times are bad—he is right at the source of the food supply. As long as he has a few potatoes, a few vegetables, a few chickens, a few pigs and cow or two he can keep on eating, even if his pocketbook is flat.

One wonders, though, how long this swing back to the farm will last. For the farmer has to pay taxes; he has to keep his land and equipment in shape; he has to buy stock, feed, fertilizer, seed and the like; he has, all too often, to carry a mortgage; and to do all of these things he has to have a cash income. Living at the source of the food supply doesn't help you much if a deputy sheriff comes along some day and puts you off because you can't pay what you owe.

Several years ago a New York business man found a way to make farm life pay. He bought a small farm and raised produce for his own consumption instead of for the market. He bought small mills for grinding grain, pressure cookers for canning vegetables, and so on; and presently he found that he was producing practically everything that his family ate, from green vegetables to wheat flour and corn meal; the income from his city job carried his farm's expenses, and he was about twice as well to do as he ever had been before.

Will we, some day, come to some system as that for large numbers of the population? Theoretically, the plan is perfectly feasible. In a time like this it might be worth thinking about.

Senator Dill's proposal that a group of "average men" be selected to drink several kegs of 3.2 brewery beer to test its intoxicating effects kindled in many a patriotic American a sudden burning desire to be of service to his country.

The suspicion grows that ex-Mayor Jimmy Walker's forthcoming book will be rather disappointing. For it's doubtful if Jimmy can be as clever or naive as when testifying under oath.

The opossum is 80 million years old, has had almost no brain development, and doesn't seem to mind. Man is between one and two million years old, is mighty proud of his cranium.

The successful man we like best is the one who attributes his fortune to hard work, perseverance, clean living and the $100,000 left him by his late uncle in Oklahoma.

program, and went home happy from the annual chamber of commerce banquet here. Meetings like that one will "humanize" anyone. (Yea, verily. And right along this line we call attention to the plan of Roy Bourland, chairman of the B. C. D. road will committee, to promote such gatherings in the coming year. Intercommunity friendship will be the goal. There is no essential difference between the country folk and the city folk, particularly in this section. There are few of us who do not come in from the ranches and farms, and mighty, mighty few who do not get real pleasure out of "going back home.")

Cecil Bonney in Roswell Dispatch: There are probably 5,000 prime turkeys in the Valley at this time which the farmers are anxious to sell. Present prices are such that these turkeys can be purchased cheaper than for many years, and turkey meat is no longer a luxury from the standpoint of price.

(Then why not do a bit of advertising and create a demand for the birds? Foods compete with each other just as do business firms. Advertising is the key to demand. Cranberries are being divorced from the Thanksgiving table and made a food for any time they are available, and in their canned state through national advertising. We have always thought that the cattle industry and the packers could have prevented the huge losses occasioned by popularity of Hollywood diets and other fads simply by meeting propaganda with the facts attractively set out in advertising.)

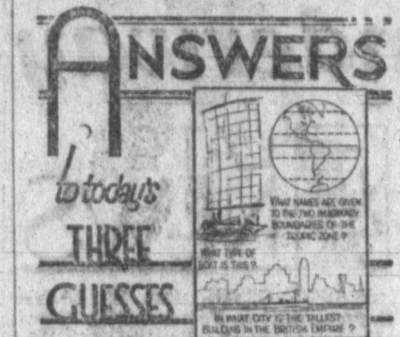

T. T. Waggoner in Claude News: Liquor has done more to deprive women and children of their just deserts than anything else. For this reason, we believe that the women's votes along with the vote of men who have experienced liquor days when children went without food and clothing, medical attention, and shelter will be sufficient. This, too, is an age of automobiles to retain the 18th amendment, and airplanes when a partially drunken driver is ten times more dangerous to innocent women and children than ever before in history.

(A drunk man is robbed temporarily of reason and muscular control. An Abilene man is charged with murder because while allegedly in such a state he ran into and killed another motorist while driving in the city. There is no doubt that, no matter what is done with prohibition, such happenings must be avoided. Moreover, there are many business men who should give thought thought to the trade which would be lost to the liquor traffic if easy liquor, liquor advertising, and habit-forming schemes were permitted.)

Miss Irene Duncan and Mrs. Allen of Amarillo were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Laird yesterday.

Buying Barbara

By Julia Cleff-Adams Author of "YOU CAN'T HARRY"

SYNOPSIS: Just back from an all-night party at a London night club, where he has blackmailed his hostess out of 150 pounds Mark Lodely, gifted artist, is invited to lunch by Mrs. Armitage. He is to love with the sister of the telegram, Barbara Quentin and Barbara is Mark's fiancée. Mrs. Armitage secured Barbara's promise to postpone the wedding a year so that she could see her son, who is an artist, and Barbara can then make a choice between them without handicap for anyone.

Chapter 27

A CHORE FOR POOLE
KENNETH POOLE, looking as ruddy and smooth as though he had risen from eight hours' dreamless slumber, helped himself largely to ham and eggs and said: "I'll yaffle this last one, if you're sure you've finished. I gather Mrs. Lodely breakfasts upstairs."

"She does," Armitage pushed back from the table and began luxuriatingly to fill his pipe. "So does her son. At least, he did yesterday."

"I'm not sure I understand Lodely's type enough to understand Lodely," Poole went on. "He certainly lost his wool just before he went to his bye-byes. Couldn't follow his line of reason, quite," he paused, before adding very casually—"I got the impression you could, though."

"Spoken in the best Poole manner. Oh, Mr. Armitage, what a charming boy that secretary of yours is! Something so sympathetic about him." He dodged the box of matches hurried at him and sobbered.

"Lodely has cause for, at least, excuse to bait me," Farrell admitted. "But I'm beginning to fear he dislikes me for the wrong reasons. There's nothing more obstructive to progress."

"Mind if I ring for some more toast?" asked Poole helpfully.

"Why not order yourself an omelette as well? You've got to keep your strength up—somehow."

"Now why in the world didn't you suggest that just after the first? You've spoilt what might have been an excellent breakfast." Poole turned his reproachful gaze from Armitage to the opening door—and the reproach vanished. "Hello! I say, Gaffen, you really are a bit of a thought-reader, aren't you? Toast—hot, thin toast—a whole rackful of fresh toast borne in upon a thought-wave."

"We haven't forgotten your breakfasts, sir," said the beaming Gaffen. Armitage might not respect living, intelligent response from his domestic staff, but he was amply aware that it was Poole—distant cousin, private secretary and unofficial second-in-command—who held their hearts. "We fancied you might be glad to enjoy a good British breakfast again."

"All the same, I put on nearly two pounds in New York," said Poole. "Mrs. Lodely, sir, has come down," said Gaffen to Armitage. "She is in the drawing room. She would be glad if a moment with you at your convenience."

As the door closed upon the butler, Armitage stood up.

"By the way, Poole, I forgot to tell you, but Mrs. Lodely is to be your holiday-task."

Poole looked horrified.

"Haven't you got mining interests in Venezuela or fishing rights round the Pole that I ought to see about instead?" he asked earnestly. "I mean, Mrs. Lodely's most interesting and all that, but the only thing we have in common is that she went with the Belvoir hunt one day last year and I went out with the Belvoir hunt one day last year. And it wasn't even the same day."

"Well, you'll have to go on discussing that lamentable mischance for at least another week," returned Armitage heartlessly. "I'll look after Mark, but I'd be grateful if you could take the lady off my hands. Do the usual shows with her and so on."

"Right you are, gov!" Armitage left the cheerful morning room and sought out Mark's mother.

"I hope you got some sleep?" he asked.

"Slept like a 'og—i always do!" When she had laughed, she continued: "I'll hear they'll have done the elevator job by tomorrow night. You don't tell me it's your habit to cut up your house to suit everyone who comes to stay with you for a few days?"

"I'd been planning to extend the elevator shaft for a long time," evaded Armitage. "As for this talk of a few days, surely you'll give us longer than that? Poole has only just got back after a tough month in the States and he's looking forward to a little fun."

Farrell has an unexpected set-to with Mark, tomorrow.

Sister MARY'S KITCHEN

Noodles are a valuable addition to the emergency shelf, so if you have some egg yolks left from cake making, why not make up a big batch of this popular paste-food to have on hand? There are many excellent brands on the market, to be sure, but the housewife who has more time than money can afford quite a saving if she makes her own.

Since it's a good idea to make enough noodles for several meals at one time, add one or two whole eggs to the yolks in order to increase the quantity and quality. One tablespoon water is always added for each egg yolk.

In calculating quantities it is well to remember that one egg or one yolk and one tablespoon water will make enough noodles to serve four persons with a generous amount of noodle soup.

The following rule makes an extra amount for storing.

Noodles
Three egg yolks, 1 whole egg, 3 tablespoons water, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 2 2-3 cups flour (about).
Beat yolks of eggs, water and the whole egg unit thoroughly blended. Add salt and enough sifted flour to make a very stiff dough. Knead well on a lightly floured molding board. Divide into six parts and roll each as thin as possible. Cover with a clean cloth and let stand 30 minutes. Roll each separately, like a jelly roll, and cut in very thin slices. Shake out slices and toss lightly on board to dry. When thoroughly dry, store in covered jars or boxes for future use. When wanted cook 20 minutes in boiling meat broth or salted water.

Noodle soup makes an excellent winter luncheon dish. Or noodles cut in tiny straw-like lengths add much to the cup of dinner consommé or bouillon. Noodles served in a clear dinner soup should be boiled in salted water and drained before adding to the prepared meat stock.

Noodle balls suggest an appetizing way to use left-over meat or meat from the soupbone. Carefully trim off fat and gristle and chop meat very fine. Add one raw un-beaten egg and mix well. Add milk if necessary to make moist enough to stick together. Prepare noodle

Tomorrow's Menu
BREAKFAST: Orange juice, cereal cooked with dates, cream, broiled bacon, crisp toast, milk, coffee.
LUNCHEON: Fried noodles in cream sauce with hard cooked eggs, rye bread, hearts of celery, canned peaches, coconut cookies, milk, tea.
DINNER: English mutton chops, scalloped potatoes, stewed tomatoes, raw turnip and lettuce salad, whole wheat rolls, quince bavarian cream, milk, coffee.

paste as usual, using one-third the rule. Roll thin and cut in two-inch squares. Fill with prepared meat and draw corners together.

CONSTIPATED 30 YEARS

Woman Finds Relief Only After Years of Suffering. Now Eats Anything And Sleeps Fine

"For thirty years I had chronic constipation. Sometimes I can not go for four or five days. I also had awful gas bloating, headaches and pain in the back. Adierika helped right away. Now I eat sausage, bananas, pie, anything I want and never feel better. I sleep sound all night and enjoy life."—Name on request.

If you are suffering from constipation, sleeplessness, sour stomach and gas bloating, there is quick relief for you in Adierika. Many report action in thirty minutes after taking just one dose. Adierika gives complete action cleaning your bowels tract where ordinary laxatives do not even reach.

Make This Simple Test.
You can easily prove to your satisfaction that Adierika is superior to other remedies. Take a dose of any medicine that acts on the lower bowel only, as most laxatives and physics do. After your bowels have moved, then take just one dose of Adierika and in a short time you will be astonished at the additional old poisonous matter and GAS that is brought out. This old matter may have poisoned you for months causing gas, sour stomach, headaches and nervousness.

Dr. H. L. Shoub, New York, reports: "In addition to intestinal cleansing Adierika checks the growth of intestinal bacteria."

J. E. Puckett says: "After using Adierika I felt better than for 20 years. Awful impurities were eliminated."

Gives your stomach and bowels a real cleansing with Adierika and see how good you feel. Just one spoonful relieves GAS and chronic constipation. FREE SAMPLE on request. Address Adierika, Dept. 539, 86 S. Wabasha, St. Paul, Minn. Sold by all druggists and drug departments. Sold in Pampa by Pampathree Drug company. Adv.

POLICE SLAY CUBAN

HAVANA, Jan. 16 (AP)—Tipped by informers, police searched the residence of Leonor Carvajal in Cerro, a suburb, last night and found six rifles, ammunition and a sack of dynamite. An armored truck waited nearby. At midnight three unidentified men appeared, and when they were ordered to halt fired upon the police, who returned the fire, killing one of them. The other two escaped.

Amateurs Will Show Increase, Says Official

ateur sports, and particularly those over which the amateur athletic union has jurisdiction, should and I am sure will be participated in more extensively than ever during the current year.

The Amateur Athletic union and collateral organizations must accelerate their efforts and amplify their programs to provide wholesome recreation for the countless thousands who suddenly find themselves with many more hours of leisure time on their hands.

Such sports as track and field, swimming, boxing, handball and wrestling probably are the most inexpensive sports to engage in. They are within reach of all. Here is a fine opportunity for each state in the union to do something for these young men.

If every state would order all of its National Guard units to throw open their armories on at least one night a week for informal athletic activities and on another night provide a sport program including contests in all of the sports for which they have facilities, then the major problem of finding suitable places for recreational and athletic activities during the winter months would be solved. The World's fair in Chicago and the World's fair in London, similar activities can will be the mecca of amateur sport carried on in all parks and municipal playgrounds with the assistance of city recreation commissions, municipal park board and West Point boxing captain, is coaching the Maryland fistic team this year for the first time.

SIX TILTS ON SCHEDULE FOR PRESENT WEEK

MUSTANGS WILL MEET LONGHORN ON WEDNESDAY

By BILL PARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer.

Southwest conference basketball fans will have to be alert this week to keep tabs on the championship race. Six title games are billed, starting Monday night and ending Saturday night.

While each will be important, the feature spot on the calendar goes to the Southern Methodist and University of Texas meet Wednesday night at Austin. This game will mean the smashing of the first place tie between these two institutes.

Southern Methodist basketballers have whipped Texas Christian and Texas A. and M. for an undefeated conference record. The University of Texas stopped Baylor in a single game and smothered the University of Arkansas in a two-game series for three championship victories.

A terrific battle is expected Monday night at Fort Worth. The Texas Aggies, who probably are madder than ever since their defeat Saturday night by Southern Methodist, will play Texas Christian.

Friday, Texas Christian plays Baylor at Waco, and Rice Institute goes to Fayetteville to play Arkansas Friday and Saturday nights. The other Saturday night game will be at College Station between the University of Texas and Texas A. and M.

The Longhorns increased their championship chances Friday and Saturday by sweeping a two game series from the Razorbacks, 26 to 28 and 31 to 28. Making the most of Bill Kubricht's advantage of getting the tip-off, the Longhorns riddled the basket with an assortment of shots that sent the Razorbacks tumbling into the conference cellar. Both clubs employed a tight man-for-man defense.

The Methodists had to play hard basketball from start to finish Saturday night to defeat the Texas A. and M. Aggies, 28 to 24. Two mid-court shots by Marcum, Texas A. and M. guard in the last five minutes, made the score close.

Led by the accurate goal shooting of Harry Journey and Hokie Snider, the Owls atoned for their previous 35 to 18 licking at Texas A. and M. by taking Baylor for a 45 to 18 clearing at Houston.

HARVESTERS EXPECT HARDEST GAME AT LUBBOCK ON FRIDAY

Westerners Have Defeated Sandies; Have Strongest Team in History.

Gray Is Leading In Scoring Race

The Harvesters will meet what is expected to be their hardest opposition of the year Friday night, when they invade Lubbock to play a single game with the great Westerners. They will rush home Saturday to play the LeFors Wildcats in LeFors Saturday night.

Lubbock and Pampa are on even basis as far as the dope basket can produce. Both have defeated the Amarillo Sandies by the same margin, but Lubbock defeated Amarillo in Amarillo while Amarillo lost to Pampa away from home. The Harvesters claimed the Sandstorms 32 to 29. The Westerners did the trick 35 to 32.

Coach Odus Mitchell has doctored on a week of hard practice for the Harvesters. They have had three easy games during the past week which was not too good for them. They have been clicking well against all opposition lately, but may find it difficult to get going against the big Westerners who have been holding Texas Tech to a few points in exhibition tilts.

Big Kill Kubricht, University of Texas center, lost his Southwest conference basketball scoring lead to Pampa's Jack Gray, University of Texas forward. In the two games against the University of Arkansas, Gray scored 27 points against 12 for Kubricht.

Gray's 12 field goals and 9 free shots let him lead with a total of 33 points in three conference games. The conference scoring leaders follow.

|-------------------|------|
| Players— | Pts. |
| Gray, Texas | 33 |
| Kubricht, Texas | 31 |
| Moody, A. and M. | 30 |
| Kendall, Arkansas | 28 |
| Francis, Texas | 28 |
| Price, Texas | 25 |
| Snider, Rice | 18 |
| Baccuss, S. M. U. | 16 |

The Westerners depend largely upon their offense which is reported to be one of the best seen this year. They are fast breakers and wicked passers according to reports. The attack is led by a big center and two fast forwards.

Work on a zone defense and polishing the new offense will take up most of the week. Coach Mitchell said this morning, Miles Marbaugh, high point scorer of the Texas penitentiary, the conditional pardon went to H. E. Green of Mitchell county, serving thirty-five years for murder. Joe Dunwoody, serving ninety nine years from Collingsworth county for murder for a game Friday night, and a parolee in the case of a general parole. He had served two years and nine months.

The Harvesters will go to Allamore for a game Friday night, and will accompany the Harvesters to LeFors Saturday night.

DUNWOODY PAROLED

AUSTIN, Jan. 16. (AP)—Governor R. S. Sterling filed with the secretary of state today proclamations authorizing issuance of one conditional pardon and twenty-three general paroles to inmates of the Texas penitentiary. The conditional pardon went to H. E. Green of Mitchell county, serving thirty-five years for murder. Joe Dunwoody, serving ninety nine years from Collingsworth county for murder for a game Friday night, and a parolee in the case of a general parole. He had served two years and nine months.

BASKETS and BANKBOARDS

LAWRENCE, Kansas, Jan. 16. (AP)—Basketball has been blessed to an unusual degree by having a professional and an investigating mind to determine its present and future fortunes.

Dr. James Naismith, scholar and inventor, the game owes its origin. The birth of basketball was from a class assignment problem by Dr. Luther Hasley Gulick of Springfield, Mass., College in 1892.

From that time until the present we have had men the like of Dr. Joseph Raycroft of the University of Chicago and Princeton, Ralph Morgan of the University of Pennsylvania, L. W. St. John of Ohio State University, William McKinley Zacher of Yale, Messrs. Geo. T. Hepburn, A. E. Metzdorf, and Dr. John Brown of New York, as well as Oswald Tower of Andover, Mass., nurse and guide the destinies of this young indoor giant.

In defining research Webster says, "research is careful or critical examination in seeking facts or principles—a diligent investigation."

The Joint Basketball Rules Committee appointed Floyd A. Rowe of Cleveland, Ohio, chairman of their research committee. Dr. W. E. Meanwell of Wisconsin, J. H. Crocker of Canada, E. J. Hickey, Springfield, Mass., Herbert G. Reynolds of Chicago and the writer are the other working members.

John Gunn of Stanford University was appointed chairman of the research committee of the National association of Basketball Coaches. Gunn has appointed a coach from each of the eight national collegiate districts to aid him in his investigations.

The findings of Chairman Rowe's committee and Coach Gunn's investigations had much to do with the rule changes this year.

The following are some interesting conclusions:

Free Throws Vital.
41.3 percent of the fouls attempted were shot from the foul line by the teams winning.

47.8 percent of the fouls attempted were shot by the losing team.

8.9 percent fouls per game on the average were made by the winning team.

10.1 percent fouls per game were made by the losing team.

Hudson Hamm of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., won the Florida public-courts tennis title this year for the fourth time.

Foresee Fight For Leadership Of Republicans

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—Rumblings among republican foremen forecast a stirring contest soon between the old guard and followers of President Hoover for control of the party organization.

Already a move has been started to resist any effort by Mr. Hoover's friends to have him retain the titular leadership of the party after he retires from the presidency.

Indications are that the struggle, now being waged behind the scenes, will break into the open after March 4. Mr. Hoover's friends, however, appear confident that he will have little difficulty in holding the reins.

That Mr. Hoover desires to continue as the dominating factor in the organization with a view either of seeking the presidential nomination in 1936, or dictating the nominee, is the belief generally held by republican circles.

But members of the old guard, who considered themselves slighted during the Hoover administration, are talking about having the present party set up "cleaned out from top to bottom" and a new organization created, with a conservative bias but a slant satisfactory to the liberal element of the party.

They want to take over party control early in the spring to prepare for the congressional campaign in 1934, with the hope of recapturing the house and electing a speaker, and thus to pave the way, by a legislative record route, to seize the administration in 1936.

Lee Saunders and Barry Hagedorn, representing El Paso, said that city was ready to support the enterprise. In the past El Paso has supported organized baseball strongly.

Marty Fiedler, spokesman for Albuquerque, said his club was ready to participate. Jerry Malin, Amarillo sports writer, expressed the opinion that the Panhandle city would be ready to support the enterprise.

Lubbock delegates got together after the meeting and elected John Dealyne as president of the local baseball club. Plans were made to meet requirements of league membership.

Hawk said at Amarillo that he believed such a baseball league as was proposed would be a success in the region.

"We will give fans fast, interesting games at low prices and will keep expenses to a minimum," he said. "I will be glad to serve as president of the organization."

"Although I have not been able to study the proposition as I should like to, I am confident of its success and will do all that I can to guide it along business-like lines."

HOOKS and SLIDES

Net Quite Good Enough.
The Boone has gone back to the minor leagues to join the "not quite good enough" brigade, along with Nick Cullop, Carey Selph, Bevo Lebovieve and other fine ball players who flopped after major league trials. Brooklyn has sent him to Toronto.

Boone presents an odd study. He has been a sensation in five minor leagues. Four big league teams have had him up, and each time he was sent back for "development." He leaves a trail of broken batting records in nearly league in which he played, except the majors.

Ike is an old Alabama boy. He played on the University of Alabama team in the days of Luke and Joe Sewell and Elgie Stephenson.

Some Batting Records.
He started professionally with Cedarhurst of the Georgia State League. He hit .419 to lead the league. In the following year, 1921, he played with New Orleans, and here again he led the league with a batting mark of .389.

Ike seemed destined for a bright career when the Giants bought him. But after McGraw had seen him in training camp, he mailed Ike to Little Rock. Here Ike slumped, hitting only .323.

McGraw then consigned him to San Antonio, in the Texas League, in 1923. What did the young man do but hit .402, a record in the Texas League that still stands.

The Boston Red Sox were the next to bring him to the big show. He stayed with the Sox for two years each year hitting .333. Finally he was deemed too cumbersome as an outfield chaser and was peddled to the Missions in the Pacific Coast League. He hit .381.

Sets All-Time Mark.
In 1927 Ike was purchased by the White Sox, but an attack of appendicitis kept him out all season. He was restored to the Coast League. Playing with Portland and the Missions, he mashed the old apple for .352.

That's pretty fair hitting, .352, but in the following year with the Missions, Ike led the league with a mark of .407. His most amazing performance was in the following year, however, when he plastered the ball for an average of .447, an all-time Coast League record. He hit nearly every other time the bat went to bat!

Brooklyn decided to take him on after that year of blasting in the coast league. After a brief trial, he was expressed to Newark, and he battled .358 to lead the International League.

Last year he played with Jersey City, and slumped to .323, the lowest mark he ever scored for a season.

Fair Fielder, Too.
Now Ike happens to be a big fellow, but worse outfielders than he have played regularly in the majors. He is six-foot-two, with a chest like a barrel. He uses a short, heavy bat and is rather a punch-hitter than a swinger—but he punches the leather hard enough to send it winging over the fence often.

He has a good arm and is accurate on most fly balls. Then why, at 35, is he hunted to the minors again, this time probably for keeps?

The big fellow simply seemed to lack something every time he came up. What was it? I don't know.

In two of his years in the coast league, Ike led the fielders in percentage. In one year he led in chances accepted. He never has achieved repeat as a ball hawk, but he always has been reasonably sure as a right fielder.

Like Carey Selph, and scores of others, Boone doesn't feel at home in the major leagues. For years the White Sox tried to lure Selph away from Houston. He wouldn't come. Last year, finally, Fonseca succeeded in bringing him up. He was a bust. This year he will manage the Houston team in the Texas League. Like Boone, he is through with major league ball forever.

PLANS FORMED TO ORGANIZE CLASS D LOOP

TENTATIVE APPROVAL GIVEN PROPOSAL AT LUBBOCK

LUBBOCK, Jan. 16. (AP)—A Class D baseball circuit to be made up of teams representing cities of West Texas and New Mexico has been tentatively organized at a meeting here.

Sportsmen from El Paso, Amarillo, Lubbock and Albuquerque elected Wilbur C. Hawk, Amarillo publisher, president of the contemplated league. It was arranged to hold another meeting on or about February 26, to decide definitely whether to go through with the project.

J. Alvin Gardner, president of the Texas League, acted as temporary chairman at the initial meeting yesterday.

If the plan is called out, at least two other cities will be invited to enter competition. San Angelo and Roswell were mentioned as likely additions.

With the exception of El Paso, West Texas cities have had no organized baseball for about five years. El Paso and Albuquerque became free agents with the collapse of the Arizona-Texas league near the close of last season.

Lee Saunders and Barry Hagedorn, representing El Paso, said that city was ready to support the enterprise. In the past El Paso has supported organized baseball strongly.

Mobeetie Beats Allison To Win Cage Tournament

Mobeetie won its own basketball tournament Saturday night with a last-game victory over Allison. The Allison and Canadian girls' teams tied and Canadian won the toss. In winning, Mobeetie defeated Ericace, Wheeler, Shamrock and Allison.

Shamrock nosed out the Pampa high school Gorillas Friday night, 21 to 19, in one of the best games of the tournament. Shamrock then lost to the winners, Hopkins, the other Gray county entry, lost in the third round of play to the Allison teams which has regained early season form. Allison started out with nine consecutive wins and then slumped.

The girls' division was keenly contested. Twenty-two teams entered the tournament.

Violent Deaths Claim 11 Texans During Week-End

Accidents, shootings and a hanging ended the lives of eleven persons in Texas over the week-end.

The capsizing of a boat on Lake Worth Sunday resulted in the drowning of Howard Meggs, 28, and Jack C. Webb, 37. Three other persons in the boat were rescued.

Explosion of a refrigerator fluid supply tank at a sandwich shop two miles north of Tyler Sunday night killed W. L. Williams, 36, proprietor.

Dewitt Reed, prominent Corpus Christi businessman, died at a San Antonio hospital Sunday as a result of injuries received New Year's day in a polo game when he was thrown from a horse against sideboards of the playing field.

An automobile struck a freight train at an Eagle Pass grade crossing early Sunday, killing Joe Boesch, 29, and Joe Stratton, 21. The car's gasoline tank exploded, burning them and two others. Harold Berry, 19, and Miss Cary Stratton, 18, were in a serious condition. All lived at Brackettville.

Accidental discharge of a shotgun caused the death of W. M. Ball, 55, a citrus grower living near Mercedes. His body was found hanging against a wire fence Saturday. The shot struck him in the left eye.

At her Kerrville home, Mrs. Nina Shumate, 40, was found mortally wounded. A pistol lay beside her. She died Friday night without making a statement.

Burns incurred when he had a stroke of paralysis and fell into a fire caused the death of John J. Mangham, 58, of San Benito, Saturday.

A man identified as John E. Fennell of Fort Worth was found dead in jail at Taylor Saturday. He apparently had hanged himself.

Texan Advises Young Cabinet For Roosevelt

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Jan. 16. (AP)—President-elect Roosevelt is seriously considering the persistent advice of friends to employ a youthful cabinet. This idea was advanced first by the elder statesman, Col. E. M. House, intimate of Woodrow Wilson.

Of course, Mr. Roosevelt feels free to pick his own cabinet. None other than William G. McArdoo, senator-elect from California whose announcement at the Chicago convention cleared the way for Roosevelt's nomination, is backing up the claim for a free hand in cabinet selection.

The president-elect, nevertheless, is resting strongly on the wisdom of some of the party men of tested knowledge such as Senators Glass, of Virginia, and Walsh, of Montana. He would welcome their entrance into the cabinet, it is understood.

The same process which is turning him to younger America is believed to have eliminated such veterans as Owen D. Young, of New York, and Newton D. Baker, of Ohio, the war-time secretary of war.

RULES HELP BASKETBALL

Elimination of Stalling Is Increasing Popularity of Game.

By L. W. ST. JOHN, (Chairman of the N. C. A. A. Joint Basketball rules committee and athletic director of Ohio State University.)
(Written for the Associated Press)

COLUMBIA, O., Jan. 16. (AP)—Basketball in 1933 continues as a healthy and profitable sport. Changing financial conditions have been met by a widespread reduction in admission prices, resulting—along with other influences—in increased attendance.

Basketball, in most colleges, is the only sport besides football that pays its own way. In secondary schools, the game does even better and in many cases it goes a long way toward supporting the athletic program. In a great many states, strong state high school athletic associations are almost exclusively supported by the income from basketball tournaments. This condition will continue nationally as long as the game holds the present measure of spectator and player interest.

A leading factor in the extensive interest shown in the game this year is found in the new rules. An increase in "stalling" tactics and more prevalent than this, a great increase in deliberate and delay of play, was operating previous to this year to lessen interest in the game.

It was asked of the new rules that they speed up offensive play and, if possible, reduce stalling. This the new rules have done. Contrary to fears expressed by many persons, there has been no increase in whistle blowing; in fact, the tendency has been towards less interference on the part of officials. In five major games witnessed to date, I have seen no violation of either the ten-second or the three-second rules. There is distinctly more offensive play than heretofore and, consequently, a marked tendency toward higher scores.

No Technocrat Named To Study Economic Crisis

NEW YORK, Jan. 16. (AP)—No technocrat was named to the commission of seventeen which Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler has announced will investigate the economic crisis and suggest corrective action.

The commission of Howard Scott, Professor Walter Rauschenbush and other members of the technocracy group was widely noted today. Technocracy's headquarters is at Columbia university, of which Dr. Butler is president.

The commission of seventeen, whose formation was announced last night, will consider specifically such subjects as:

The part played by the price system in the direction of production, the fluctuating relationships of income, investment and consumption within the price system; price controls to maintain stability of internal prices and of international exchange parities in periods of industrial expansion and reaction; the adequacy of present monetary systems under modern industrial conditions; the economic consequences of improvements in productive technique; and the formulation of consequent policies.

The commission includes seven members from Columbia, four from other universities and six men active in public affairs.

Doctors Give Creosote For Dangerous Coughs

For many years our best doctors have prescribed creosote in some form for coughs, colds and bronchitis, knowing how dangerous it is to let them hang on.

Creosolium with creosote and six other highly important medicinal elements, quickly and effectively stops all coughs and colds that otherwise might lead to serious trouble.

Creosolium is powerful in the treatment of all colds and coughs no matter how long standing, yet it is absolutely harmless and is pleasant and easy to take. Your own druggist guarantees Creosolium by refunding your money if you are not relieved after taking Creosolium as directed. Beware the cough or cold that hangs on. Always keep Creosolium on hand for instant use. (Adv.)

LARGE GROUP EXPECTED TO HEAR DR. HILL'S ADDRESS

Crowd of More Than Hundred Parents and Teachers Gathers Saturday

EDUCATOR WILL SPEAK HERE ON TUESDAY NIGHT

CHRISTIAN CHURCH IS CHOSEN AS PLACE OF GATHERING

The tremendous interest shown by Pampa residents in timely matters of legislation affecting the schools indicates that a large crowd will hear the lecture by Dr. J. A. Hill of West Texas State Teachers college here tomorrow evening.

Plans for the lecture, sponsored by the city council of Parent-Teacher associations, were completed this morning. It will be given in the First Christian church auditorium instead of in the city auditorium, as was formerly planned, and the gathering has been called for 8 o'clock.

Olin E. Hinkle, managing editor of The NEWS and alumnus of the college, will introduce the speaker, who will lecture on educational issues of the day.

Other numbers on the program, arranged by the Horace Mann Parent-Teacher association, include the following: Scng. "Texas, Our Texas," by the congregation, led by Miss Loma Groom; invocation, the Rev. F. W. O'Malley; quartet number, "Home," E. B. Fisher, E. D. Zimmerman, Emmitt Smith, and J. C. Walters; remarks, Supt. R. B. Fisher; songs by the Treble Clef club, "Aldah's Holiday" and "Hills of Home"; benediction, the Rev. A. A. Hyde.

Attendance Same At Sunday Schools

Sunday school attendance in Pampa was about the same yesterday morning as it was the Sunday before, some of the schools reporting slight increases and others slight decreases.

Following are some of the attendance figures for yesterday: First Christian, 281; First Methodist, 275; First Baptist, 792; Central Baptist, 128; Church of Christ, 130; Presbyterian, 132.

The figures for the Sunday before were as follows: Christian, 277; Presbyterian, 125; Methodist, 470; Central Baptist, 147; First Baptist, 818; Church of Christ, 138.

The Rev. H. R. Whitley of Haskell has returned home after spending a week in Pampa. He preached at the First Baptist church Jan. 8 and was one of the teachers for the study course held at the church all last week.

WIDOWS OF UNITED PRESIDENTS WIDOWS

Although the death of Calvin Coolidge leave no ex-President living in United States, six widows of chief executives still survive. Shown above, most of them figure little in the news for they have dropped back into quiet civil life.

Living Quietly, They Are No Longer in Public Eye

By SIGRID ARNE
 WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. (AP)—The death of Calvin Coolidge adds the sixth to the number of widows of chief executives who still survive their husbands.

The widows of former presidents include Mrs. Benjamin Harrison and Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, both now living in New York; Mrs. Thomas J. Preston, Jr., (formerly Mrs. Grover Cleveland) of Princeton, N. J.; Mrs. William H. Taft and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson of Washington and Mrs. Coolidge.

As is considered befitting the dignity of their position, these women have dropped back into civil life. They have accomplished their purpose so well that it comes as somewhat of a surprise to many to learn, for instance, that Mrs. Harrison still survives her husband. She was his second wife, a niece of his first wife.

Never 'First Lady'
 Mrs. Mary Scott Dimmick of Harrison, as she calls herself to distinguish from the first Mrs. Harrison, never occupied the White House as first lady, but she lived there two years attending her aunt.

She married Mr. Harrison in 1886, three years after his term expired. After his death in 1901 she traveled extensively. Mrs. Harrison is now 74 and lives with her daughter, Mrs. James Blaine Harrison, in New York.

The first marriage of a president to take place in the White House was that of Grover Cleveland to Miss Frances Folsom, a girl of 22. About five years after the death of Mr. Cleveland, Mrs. Cleveland married Thomas J. Preston, Jr., professor of archeology at Wells college, from which she was graduated. Since then she has made her home at Princeton university and has identified herself with university activities.

Mrs. Roosevelt in News
 The activities of her family have served to keep Mrs. Roosevelt, now 71, more constantly in the news.

Her own interest in politics drew her from seclusion in the campaign just past when she introduced President Hoover for his New York address.

She has remained a sort of dowager queen in American life. Among the visiting celebrities who have sought her out have been the Prince of Wales, who saw her in 1924, and the crown prince and princess of Sweden, who visited her in 1926.

TREBLE CLEF CLUB WILL GIVE RECEPTION; RE-ELECTS MRS. PHILIP WOLFE AS PRESIDENT

With all federated clubs in Pampa as guests, members of the Treble Clef club will give a reception from 8:30 to 10 o'clock the evening of Jan. 31 at the Schneider hotel. The club will present a program.

SPEAKER

Dr. J. A. Hill, president of West Texas State Teachers College, Canyon, will speak on educational issues of the day tomorrow evening at the Christian church. His coming is sponsored by the Pampa council of Parent-Teacher associations, and the public is invited to attend.

Texas Newly-Weds Enriching Clovis

CLOVIS, N. M., Jan. 16. (AP)—Texas couples, bent on getting married and determined to evade the laws of their own state, brought Clovis one of its greatest incomes in 1932.

Records in the offices of the county clerk show that 1,230 couples came across the state line during the year rather, apparently. That give the three-day notice required by Texas laws. Local business men estimate that each couple, together with wedding attendants and relatives, spent an average of $12.50.

The county treasury was enriched by $2,076 for marriage licenses alone.

There were 25 more licenses issued in 1932 than in the preceding year, a total of 1,384.

BACK HOST AT GRAY COUNTY COUNCIL MEET

SUPT. R. B. FISHER OF PAMPA IS ONE OF CHIEF SPEAKERS

A crowd of more than one hundred persons assembled in Back Saturday for a meeting of the Gray county council of the Parent-Teacher associations, and the next meeting was set for March 11 in McLean.

The meeting, presided over by Mrs. W. B. Murphy, was opened by invocation offered by Supt. G. C. Boswell of McLean, a song, "Onward Christian Soldiers," led by R. E. Page of Alameda, and a reading, "The Worst Command," by Ernest Barker.

Miss Ivan Mayfield spoke to the group on problems relating to the summer round-up. She stated that 94 per cent of all children were born perfect but that before they reached the school age 49 per cent of them had physical defects.

Vocal solos, "I'm New You and You Knew Me," and "At Home in Dear Old Scotland," then were given by Mr. Page, accompanied by Mrs. Tom Rose.

Supt. R. B. Fisher of Pampa addressed the crowd on "How We May Best Safeguard the Child Through this Crisis." He pointed out that, comparatively speaking, the amount of money spent on education was very small, and that the income from oil alone in Texas would pay in a few hours the amount spent on education in an entire year. "Don't sleep on your rights," he urged.

Following a recreation stunt led by Principal A. L. Patrick, Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar gave an instructive talk on Founders day and the endowment fund, and Mrs. Tom E. Rose was in charge of an illustration of correct use of parliamentary law.

The following persons attended from Pampa: R. B. Fisher, John B. Hessey, Mrs. J. L. Lester, A. L. Patrick, Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, Mrs. Tom E. Rose, Mrs. Claude Lard, Miss Ivan Mayfield, Mrs. J. D. Lawson, Mrs. Roy Kilgore, Mrs. W. B. Murphy, Mrs. O. E. Palmer, and R. A. Selby.

Hopkins and Back schools were displaying national certificates showing 100 per cent efficiency in summer round-up work.

Pope Proclaims Year of Prayer

VATICAN CITY, Jan. 16. (AP)—A papal bull today set aside the 12 months beginning April 2 as a holy year of prayer, penance and pilgrimage to Rome and Palestine. The author, Pope Pius XI, declared it should lead to "social, political and international peace."

An "extraordinary holy year" and "a general and highest jubilee" was to mark what was believed to be the 19th centenary of the "passion of Jesus Christ, his crucifixion and death for the salvation of men."

The document was read yesterday in St. Peter's and readings were set later in St. John Lateran, mother church of Rome; Mary Major and St. Paul's, outside the walls. The dean of proto-notaries read it to the congregation in St. Peter's.

The Pope's recent protests against restrictions upon the church in Spain, Mexico and Russia were recalled in this passage: "Oh, may the most merciful Lord bring about that the holy year which we shall shortly inaugurate will bring peace to souls, to the church that liberty everywhere eye her . . . to turn its mind from earthly and decaying things . . . He urged prayer and penance, not only for those of the church, but for "all mankind led astray by so many discords and hostility, laboring under so many miseries, and fearful of so many dangers."

Smitty's Orchestra Will Play Tomorrow

Smitty and his Thrill Harmony 8-piece orchestra will play for a dance at the Pla-Mor tomorrow night. Admission for men will be 40 cents, and ladies will be admitted free of charge.

The director stressed the fact that his was not a jazz orchestra but a thrill-harmony orchestra, stating that the form of music was "all the rage" in the east.

The pottery ordered by the Arno Art club for exhibition purposes arrived this morning and will be shown at the Pampa Hardware store on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of this week. The public is invited to view this pottery.

PRESIDENTS OF CLUBS WILL BE SUPPER GUESTS

EVENT WILL BE GIVEN BY A. A. U. W. ON THURSDAY

The president of the Little Theater and presidents of all women's federated clubs in Pampa will be among guests at the old-fashioned supper to be given by the American Association of University Women Thursday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the Seafelder hotel. Reservations for the event, said officials this morning, may be made as late as 9 o'clock Wednesday morning.

The occasion is the annual Founders day celebration of the local branch of the A. A. U. W.

Darrell Jackson, Amabillo attorney, will be principal speaker, discussing the early 90s. He and his wife, Amy Jackson, will wear old-time costumes, as will most of the other guests at the supper. Mrs. Jackson, a teacher of art, has just completed illustrating the Junior League cook book. Another special guest will be Gene Howe, more commonly known as "Old Tack," and Mrs. Howe. Mrs. H. H. Hicks of Pampa will be toastmistress.

Mrs. J. B. Massa, program chairman, Mrs. Hicks, and Mrs. T. E. Rose have arranged other features for the supper which they have not yet revealed.

Decorations will be in keeping with the old-time theme, and Mrs. A. H. Doucette, Mrs. G. C. Walstad, and Mrs. W. Furviance have been placed on a committee to locate old-fashioned clothes.

Borglum Making Ingersoll Statue

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 16 (AP)—Gutzon Borglum, noted sculptor, has completed a model for the statue to be erected as a memorial to Robert G. Ingersoll, famous orator and lecturer, and has forwarded photographs of it to the national committee supervising the work.

The model, completed at Borglum's studio in Brackenridge Park, shows Ingersoll standing in a characteristic pose. It was made from existing photographs of Colonel Ingersoll, gathered for the sculptor by the national committee.

Hoover a Candidate?
One member of President Hoover's cabinet is being quoted around Washington as fully convinced Mr. Hoover will be a 1936 candidate for the republican presidential nomination.

That "painful" democratic income tax boost proposal now is interpreted by some politicians as merely a scare-crow, really designed to impress both congress and the public that government expenditures must be reduced, or else.

Each of three leading aspirants for speaker—Messrs. McDuffie, Callaway and Byrns—is exhibiting privately a letter which he regards as somewhat of an endorsement of his candidacy; imagine the bewilderment of the house democrats, because one of these letters is signed by Robert Jackson, secretary of the party national committee; one by James A. Farley, the national chairman, and one by Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Senator Huey Long's assault on Senator Carter Glass' branch banking project was something more than another senate debate; it was the first major set-to between the conservative and not-so-conservative wings of the supporters of Mr. Roosevelt, with both sides quoting him to justify their attitudes.

It now seems assured that whatever the constituted leaders may say some form of currency inflation will be attempted most earnestly by many of the rank and file at the coming special session of congress.
