Hoover Recommends Sales Tax But Congress Discusses Beer

Well, well, well—just look what the Hansford County News up and says: "This week The News received a copy of the Pampa Daily NEWS. It is a first class city daily, well edited and artistically made up. It is a credit to the city of Pampa. Clarence N. Nunn, a grandson of Dr. J. E. Nunn, and the son of Lindsay Nunn, is the general manager of the paper. He is ably assisted by a corps of efficient young newspaper men."

Today's congratulations: To Ed Deahl, Panhandle bank president and connoisseur of fine horses, who fearlessly chased and summarily captured a brace of Oklahoma bandits. Next to winning a horse-race, we imagine Ed got a superlative thrill out of that little chase.

Big promises are made in behalf of Santa Claus on SANTA DAY. What a pity it would be if, after all this publicity on the generosity of the old fellow, he should not have proper cooperation. Therefore, get ready to help Santa have a gigantic party for the less fortunate. We'll keep you informed.

Our hunch: That the country doesn't want outright repeal half as much as some people imagine. The solution of one problem isn't the creation of an equally big one in its place.

Speaking of the wet-dry problem it has to get some wetness on our 1932 weather report. Did you know that the rainfall is under 50 per cent of normal of this year to date?

Strange is the tobbogan of a human character when a starts flipping. For instance, George Birdwell, supposed "brains" of the "Bredly Boy Floyd" gang of bank robbers. Residents of Childress county, reading of his recent death in a bank raid, recalled that fifteen years ago Birdwell was a respected farm employee near the town of Tell. He was a hard worker and reliable. He married a Tell girl. He expressed a desire to educate their two children.

Then the war. Birdwell enlisted, served as a machine gunner. After the war, he returned to Tell, worked for a while on a farm. Better money in the Tulsa oil field lured him to the derricks. He made contacts, including some bad ones. Machine gunners were in demand for bank robbing. Once started in this life of violence, he could not get out. Now "the killer" is gone, and the Tell girl who married him is seeking funds from friends who had not known them for a number of years except through the headlines.

While Jim Ferguson and Jimmie Altred are arguing over figures to determine whether the highway department is contracting for more work than it can pay for, a glimpse into other phases of highway construction should be timely. Wheeler county voters will go to the polls December 31 to "un-vote" $220,000 of her paving bonds.

Christmas Customs From FOREIGN LANDS

In Norway, the room containing the gaily decorated tree is kept carefully locked until Christmas Eve. Then Father Christmas drives up to the door in his sleigh, drawn by reindeer, and flings the portal open to the joyous youngsters who greet him with Christmas carols.

MEMBERS PAY NO ATTENTION TO SUGGESTION

NOISE SO GREAT THAT CLERK'S VOICE IS DROWNED OUT

MARCHERS GIVE PLEA

DEMONSTRATORS HAND CURTIS PETITION AND LEAVE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6. (AP)—President Hoover informed congress today that new taxes and more economies were vital, but after listening to a hurried reading of his annual message, the members devoted themselves again to prohibition—a topic he left unmentioned.

The liquor question was made the basis of the first senate legislative action, through return to the judiciary committee for prompt study the Glass resolution proposing substitution for the eighteenth amendment of a new one, protecting dry states and barring return of the saloon.

The house had assurance from Chairman Collier of the ways and means committee that a beer bill would be worked out in his committee without delay. After a bare hour in session, it adjourned for the day.

The demonstration of unemployed which police permitted to come within two blocks of the capital was over, as far as congress was concerned, at a point and almost before it began.

The column of 3,000 marchers moved on through the business section of the city after delegations presented to Vice President Curtis and Speaker Garner petitions listing their unemployment relief and insurance demands. The police guard around both house and senate was relaxed.

Scant attention was paid in either branch to the presidential message. Conversation was general and in the house it rose to a point, that, if drowned out the reading clerk's voice. A few members read printed

Highway Patrol Inspects Pampa, Issues Warning

Warnings from five members of the state highway patrol were being pondered by about 200 Pampa residents this morning.

The patrolmen "dropped in" last night and made whole inspections of automobile lights, truck loadings, and other practices involving state laws. Only a few arrests were made, but next week it will be different.

The negligence of many citizens in having their lights working properly was termed appalling.

Russell Funeral To Be At Sapulpa

The body of E. A. Russell, Sapulpa, Okla., oil man, who died at the home of his brother, W. O. Russell, Miami, yesterday morning, will be sent to Sapulpa this afternoon by the G. C. Malone Funeral home. Mr. Russell died following a brief illness.

A daughter, Mrs. Shearn Moody of Galveston, and a son, Lieut. B. V. M. Russell, with the aeronautics department of the U. S. navy, stationed at Indianapolis, arrived here yesterday and will accompany the body of their father to Sapulpa.

Mr. Russell was well known in this section, having visited here during the past several years.

The WORLD of STAMPS

The Pampa Daily NEWS is pleased to announce that the department of stamp collecting herewith will be a weekly feature for philatelists. The NEWS would like to have contributions from stamp collectors on why they follow the hobby. The Rev. A. A. Hyde, who calls attention to the fact that Franklin D. Roosevelt is a collector of stamps, has contributed an interesting article on his experience.

By QUINTON JAMES Mussolini's effigy appears for the first time on Italian postage stamps—two specimens of the commemorative series of 20 stamps recently issued on the occasion of the Fascist Decennial. One of them shows him a-horseback.

Sixteen of the stamps are for ordinary mail, from five centesimi to five lire; two for special delivery, two for airmail.

The stamps exhibit "action pictures" of the accomplishments of the first decade of Fascism—the

A few months later I bought 300 mixed stamps for a dime. My, what a new world was opened to me!

The first commemorative issue of postage stamps any country had ever issued were still being sold at

EINSTEIN COMING TO AMERICA DESPITE WOMEN'S CLAIM HE IS MEMBER OF COMMUNIST GROUPS

Scientist Gets Angry When Questioned By Consul

BERLIN, Dec. 6. (AP)—Dr. Albert Einstein and Frau Einstein were advised by the Associated Press this morning that the state department had granted them permission to come to the United States. They said they would leave December 10 as scheduled.

Nobody seemed more surprised than the Einsteins themselves when they were reached by telephone at Caputh and advised that a visa had been granted and the incidents of the last few weeks cleared up.

The Women's Patriotic corporation of the United States recently objected to the projected visit of Dr. Einstein on the grounds that he belonged to communist organizations, an objection that was forwarded to Berlin.

The correspondent reached Frau Einstein at the Einstein summer home.

"The professor and I assure you we were quite determined last night to turn our backs on America forever. Now that the visa has been straightened out, of course, we can leave on the S. S. Oakland as scheduled."

Today's development followed swiftly on the appearance of the consul general here for questioning.

The professor, whose theories of relativity have helped revolutionize mathematics in recent years, was asked the usual routine questions put to persons going to the United States.

When the consul general started asking about his political affiliations, the professor became indignant, and demanded to know what the proceedings were about.

Frau Einstein was even more indignant. She denied her husband was a communist, insisting he had no political faith except that he was a confirmed pacifist.

Then it was announced the professor would not fill his engagements with fellow scientists in California, and later become associated with Princeton university, had been planned, unless matters were set a light before noon today.

JURY CONDEMNS PRACTICE OF KEEPING STATE PRISONERS AT COUNTY'S EXPENSE

Recommends That Men Be Sent Immediately To The Penitentiary.

High commendation for Gray county officers, but criticism of the state system which makes it necessary for the county to keep state prisoners in jail after sentencing were contained in the grand jury report filed with Judge W. R. Ewing last yesterday.

The jury was discharged after Judge Ewing expressed his thanks for the services of the men. The report follows, in full:

To the Hon. W. R. Ewing: We, the undersigned grand jury empaneled by you at the beginning of the September term of this honorable court, having finished our labors, beg to submit the following report: We have endeavored to diligently inquire into and investigate every felony violation of law in Gray county, which has been brought to our notice and we have returned bills of indictment in those cases which from our investigation we believe would stand the test of the law and which upon trial would result in convictions. We have endeavored not to indict cases which were doubtful, realizing that "it would entail a considerable expenditure of the taxpayers' money and in all probability would result in unsuccessful prosecutions. We have, to the best of our ability, complied with the charge and instruction you gave us when we were empaneled, and have investigated those matters and offenses which you gave us in charge to investigate. We have learned that since our first sessions at the beginning of the term of court, the majority of the cases which we indicted, where the defendants were under arrest, have been tried before you and convicted. We desire to commend the court, the district attorney, and the other officers of the court for the promptness and dispatch which they have been finally sentenced to the state penitentiary for indefinite periods of time and before they are taken up by the penitentiary authorities; it works an injustice upon the county, for it means the county bears the expenses and an injustice upon the local officers who must constantly be on the guard to keep these convicts safely until they are delivered to the penitentiary au-

SANTA DAY PLANS COMPLETE

HUGE PARADE WILL FEATURE YEARLY EVENT

BEST DECORATED HOME TO BE AWARDED CASH PRIZE

MANY TREES FOR SALE

SCHOOL CHILDREN TO BE DISMISSED AT 2:30 O'Clock

Officials of the Junior chamber of commerce's SANTA DAY project for next Thursday were able to announce "ready" last night when chairmen were asked by President Jim Collins to state progress.

The big parade will form on South Bigler street at Brown and at 3 p. m. move north over Cuyler to Francis, turn west to Russell, turn south to Kigsmill, west to Somerville, south to Foster, east to Ballard, and north to Francis, where the floats will "fall out."

A fine response to the chamber's plea for floats was reported. Business men are preparing the floats and decorating their windows, and street lights of assorted colors are being strung. Several new strings of lights have been purchased. The lights will remain until after Christmas. Citizens are urged to decorate their homes. A prize of $5 will be given for the best decorated home. The Junior chamber went on record commending the sale of decorative Christmas trees by the American Legion and recommending that citizens use them liberally.

School children will be dismissed from school at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon to see the SANTA DAY parade. Supt. R. B. Fisher announced this morning. School buses will not leave until 4 o'clock, so that children living in rural sections may witness the parade.

Parents who do not plan to accompany their children to see the parade are urged to notify the children's teacher of their willingness to have their children see the parade unaccompanied, so that the school will not be held responsible. Rural schools of this area will be turned out Thursday in time for the children to greet old Santa Claus and obtain gifts from him on his pre-Christmas visit.

In the evening at 8-15, the gorgeous fireworks display will begin, and officers of the chamber said the entertainment would start promptly. The fireworks pieces are already here.

MEETING ON WEDNESDAY

The Pampa city commission will convene at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday instead of tonight, it was stated this morning.

The B. C. D. meeting scheduled for last evening was postponed from want of absence of members from the city. The substitute date had not been fixed this morning.

Proposals for a poultry show were developing so rapidly today that the prospects were good for an event in January.

The Board of City Development will call a meeting of all interested parties early next week. Prizes will probably be given only for first places, and ribbons for seconds and thirds.

Farmers, encouraged by the current price for eggs, have made inquiries about a show. Many farmers are available for the showing in this territory, according to poultrymen.

The local show usually is held in December, but was postponed this year.

MANN IS FINED

William Mann, who recently was acquitted of the fatal shooting of John Clugey, was found guilty of carrying a pistol and fined $100 by a county court jury yesterday.

BABE DIDRIKSON TRICKED INTO ADVERTISING SCHEME BY A. A. U. OFFICIAL, HER EMPLOYERS SAY

Claims Jacoby Tried To Make 'Pro' Out Of Her

DALLAS, Dec. 6. (AP)—Homer Mitchell, president of the insurance firm that employs Mildred Babe Didrikson, superwoman athlete who has been ruled ineligible by the National Amateur Athletics Union, because her name and picture appeared in an endorsement of an automobile advertisement, today demanded a thorough investigation by the A. A. U.

Notified of the suspension, Miss Didrikson denied she had endorsed any model car, although she did have a picture made of herself and the automobile of the incident, Didrikson, through Homer Mitchell, said:

"A few days ago, Foster Jacoby, Texas A. A. U. official, came to me and wanted me to go with him to a local automobile dealer. I consented. Mr. Jacoby, Gordon Perry, owner of the automobile agency, and myself got in one of the new cars and drove around a bit. They both tried to get me to sign an endorsement of the car. I told Mr. Jacoby, the A. A. U. official, that it would impair my amateur standing. He didn't seem to think so, but I refused to sign. I did have my picture made with the car, but strictly instructed them to not use it in any kind of promotion work. The next thing I hear, is my suspension. If anyone is to blame, it is the A. A. U. representative who has been trying to get me to turn professional since my victories in the Olympics at Los Angeles."

Homer Mitchell plans to fight for Miss Didrikson's reinstatement thru the courts if necessary. He made a statement today and bitterly assailed the local representative of the A. A. U. and the national body in general.

E. Gordon Perry, president of the Perry Motor company, Dallas automobile dealer, said today that Miss Didrikson did not receive a cent for her praise of the new automobile which was published in a newspaper advertisement.

Revival To Open At Church Tonight

Revival services at the Central Baptist church will open this evening at 7:30 o'clock with the Rev. Thomas J. Doss, pastor of the First Baptist church of Bowie, in charge. The services will be held twice daily, 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m., for about two weeks. L. W. Hardcastle, assisted by G. C. Stark, will have charge of the music.

LATE NEWS

SHREVEPORT, La., Dec. 6. (AP)—Sawing their way through chilled steel bars and using a plated rope, made from mattresses from mattress coverings to lower themselves four stories, three prisoners, Charlie Chapman, 33, convicted bank robber of Oklahoma, Gerald Cramer, 29, New Orleans, and Dan Davis, 17, Alexandria, accused of highway robbery, escaped from the Caddo parish jail here last night.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6. (AP)—Stocks rallied briskly today in the sharpest upturn in several weeks. Leadership generally centered $1 to about $6 higher under a squeezing of the short interest during the last half hour.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6. (AP)—Chairman McNary of the senate agriculture committee reintroduced today the farm relief bill authorizing the farm board at its discretion to put into effect the equalization fee, export debenture or domestic allotment plan to control surplus production.

FORT WORTH, Dec. 6. (AP)—Export demand for sorghum grain from the Texas Panhandle has been practically eliminated due to German tariff restrictions. E. B. Reiner, manager of the Continental Export company, Fort Worth, testified to this effect at the interstate commerce commission grain rate hearing here Tuesday.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6. (AP)—Legislation to legalize and tax the sale of 2.75 percent beer and wines was drafted today by Chairman Collier of the house ways and means committee, as the basis of hearings beginning tomorrow. Collier explained that while the bill places alcoholic content of beer at 2.75 by weight, this percentage was chosen simply as a basis on which to work

Woman Is Slain In Amarillo By Mother of Four

AMARILLO, Dec. 6. (AP)—Officers said today that domestic difficulties extending over a period of several months led to the slaying of Mrs. May Stewart, 35, by Mrs. Edna Myers, mother of four children, in front of Mrs. Stewart's home last night.

Mrs. Stewart and Harry Myers, husband of the accused slayer, were standing in front of Mrs. Stewart's home when Mrs. Myers drove up with her 17-year-old son, Robert, and opened fire. A short time later Mrs. Myers surrendered to police while Mrs. Stewart was dying in a hospital a few blocks away.

Here is the gun," Mrs. Myers said, as she walked up to the police sergeant's desk. "I shot Mrs. Stewart. I shot her twice, I think. I tried to get her to quit, and now it's come to this."

A little later Mrs. Myers told District Attorney Edward W. Thomerson that "I bought the gun this afternoon for this purpose, and drove out into the country to see if I could shoot."

The son, a witness to the shooting, said: "I had no idea mother was going to kill her. I didn't even know she had a gun."

Mrs. Myers was charged with murder. She made bond of $2,500. The Potter county grand jury will investigate the shooting Wednesday, Thomerson said.

COURT ORDERS ROAD ACTION BE DISMISSED

INJUNCTION PREVENTED COMMISSION FROM LETTING JOBS

RULING ENDS DISPUTE

TRIAL OF CASE BEFORE JURY NOT LIKELY AFTER RULING

AUSTIN, Dec. 6. (AP)—Action of the third court of civil appeals today in dissolving a temporary injunction awarded James E. Ferguson and others to restrain the Texas highway commission from awarding further construction contracts, left the highway department free to authorize lettings at once.

AUSTIN, Dec. 6. (AP)—The third court of civil appeals today ordered dissolved a temporary restraining order given James E. Ferguson and others by a Travis county district court to enjoin the Texas highway commission from awarding any more construction contracts at this time.

Ferguson, Bailey Hardy and John Chamberlain, had obtained the injunction on allegations that the highway commission planned to contract in excess of the highway fund's ability to pay during the current fiscal year which ends next August 31.

It also was contended that the third special session of the legislature implicitly repealed the appropriations voted by the regular session for the highway department and that work it was contemplated to let was not provided for in specific appropriations.

Jaysees To Hear National Officers At Banquet Tonight

Members of the Junior chamber of commerce will meet at banquet tables tonight at the Schneider hotel for their annual installation of officers and to receive their national charter.

Jerry Vinson of Wichita Falls, national officer, will present the charter. Another national director who will attend is Wiley Richardson of Oklahoma City.

George Limerick will have charge of a surprise entertainment program. The session will start at 8 o'clock in the Schneider dining room.

CAGE SCHEDULE FOR PAMPA SUB-SECTION COMPLETED

ELIMINATION GAMES BEGIN ON JANUARY 6

PAMPA WILL PLAY AT McLEAN IN FIRST BATTLE

The Harvester basketball schedule in sub-section B of district two was completed yesterday when four schools in the sub-section were represented at a meeting in the office of R. B. Fisher, chairman of this sub-section. McLean was not represented, but Coach Odus Mitchell called Coach Garrison Rush last night and scheduled his games.

It was decided that the five high schools in the sub-section, comprising Gray, Roberts, and Memphis counties would arrange a home and home schedule and that the rural schools in the sub-section would eliminate down to one team and that the team left in the race would play one game with each of the five other teams. Girls' teams will use the same schedule.

The rules, drawn up by the representatives of the Texas Intercollegiate league, stated that home and home games would be played between teams having regulation gymnasiums and that only one game would be scheduled with other teams. If such arrangements were

BABE HAS PICTURE 'TOOK'— LOSES AMATEUR STATUS

Only Victory in a Damage Suit Will Reinstate Dallas Girl.

By HERBERT W. BARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer. NEW YORK, Dec. 6. (AP)—An enterprising bit of automobile advertising has deprived Mildred Babe Dirlikson of her amateur status.

The world's greatest woman athlete—as most authorities are agreed—was disqualified yesterday from further amateur competition because her name appeared in an advertisement booning the latest model of an automobile manufacturing concern.

The next move, Dan Ferris, secretary-treasurer of the Amateur Athletic Union, made plain, is strictly up to Mildred.

He pointed out that the advertisement, in which Miss Dirlikson was quoted in glowing praise of the new model, was a palpable violation of the A. A. U. rules and automatically disbarred the Texas star from amateur competition.

Down at her home in Dallas, Miss Dirlikson said it was all a big mistake.

"I let this automobile company make a picture of me," she explained, "but I told them not to use it. They did so without my permission. I do not intend to turn professional before next summer—"

Stagg Is 'Open For Proposals'

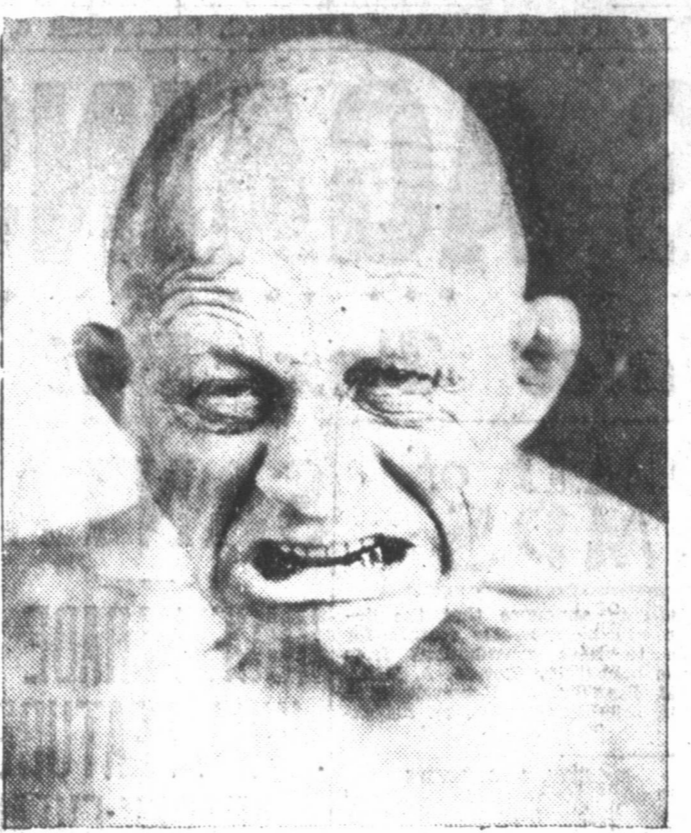

CHICAGO, Dec. 6. (AP)—With the definite assurance that Amos Alonzo Stagg, for 41 years director of athletics and football coach at the University of Chicago, would not be appointed, reports persisted today that George Venker, football and basketball coach at Iowa State college, has the inside track as the successor to Stagg.

Thomas W. Metcalf, new director of athletics at Chicago, however, said he has made no definite selection. Metcalf at present is director of athletics at Iowa State, having resigned to succeed Stagg.

Stagg will sever all connections with Chicago when his enforced retirement becomes effective next June. He has refused to accept an honorary post created for him as chairman of the university's committee on intercollegiate athletics. Stagg said he could not accept a position without work and that he would be a "nuisance" in this new position.

Stagg, in refusing the honorary post, gave up a salary equivalent to the amount he is now receiving as director and football coach, reported to be $8,000 a year. He will retire on his $3,000 annual pension.

DUTCH MANTELL
The good looking gentleman pictured above is Dutch Mantell, Duke of Luxemburg and prize winner in a beauty contest against the world a couple of years ago. The old gentleman will take the mat at the Pils-Mor auditorium tomorrow night against Ernie Arthur, Canadian wildcat and holder of the middleweight crown for Canada. The match will go the limit but no one can guess what the limit will be. The Canuck is reported to be a tough hombre himself. Red Michael and Ross Austin, Baltimore, will tangle in the semi-final which should be a second main event.

HARVESTERS WILL ENGAGE EXES TONIGHT

NEW UNIFORMS ARRIVE AND WILL BE WORN THIS EVENING

Two basketball games will be played in the high school gymnasium Friday night, coaches announced this morning. The girls' team will meet the fast Groom girls at 7 o'clock and one hour later the Harvesters will clash with their old rivals, the Shamrock Irishmen.

The new Harvester uniforms have arrived and will be worn Friday night for the first time. They are green and gold combination, both sweaters and trunks.

The Harvesters will scrimmage a team of ex-Harvesters about 7 o'clock tonight. The exes have gathered a strong combination and the workout should be one of the best this season. The Harvesters went through a tough practice yesterday afternoon in preparation for the fast Shamrock quartet. The Irishmen have a letterman squad and last year they were hard to beat. They fell before the Harvesters by only three points.

Coach Harry Kelley put his girls through two hours of offensive work last night and feels that they will be ready for the Groom girls, who were so hard to eliminate from the Pampa tournament last year. The Pampa girls are inexperienced but willing, and should strike their stride before long.

The Harvesters opened the season last Friday with a 52 to 14 win over the fast Clarendon Bronchos. The boys have a fast, offensive combination coupled with a strong defense. There is no outstanding star on the team and every point depends on the passing of some player.

TEMPLE NEW IN FOOTBALL

'Pop' Warner Will Coach at Eastern School Next Five Years.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 6. (AP)—Temple university, youthful, rising figure in the field of intercollegiate football, is to come under the guidance of the veteran coach whose name has been synonymous with the development of gridiron strategy for nearly four decades—Glenn S. (Pop) Warner.

Chartered as a university in 1907, the year Warner began his second term of coaching at the Carlisle (Pa.) Indian school, Temple played its first intercollegiate football in 1925, the year after Warner went to Stanford, the university he is leaving to assume his position here.

In eight years Temple, under the leadership of Henry J. (Heinie) Miller, former all-American end at the University of Pennsylvania, has made a notable record with 50 victories, 15 defeats and eight ties, and alumni officials, in signing up Warner, have expressed the belief the school is on the threshold of a place among the top flight of gridiron elevens.

In coming to this young institution, Warner, when he announced his decision at Stanford university yesterday, said he considered the opportunity at Temple much the same as that offered him at Carlisle in 1907 and Pittsburgh in 1914. A certain dissatisfaction among Stanford alumni over their team's showing this year—Stanford was defeated four times and tied once—plus a tempting offer from Temple prompted Warner to accept the job here.

It is understood, although no official announcement was made, that his salary is to be $15,000 a year. He has signed a five-year contract.

Bowling Scores

The Junior chamber of commerce bowling team slipped into the City league lead last night by taking three games from the Kiwanis No. 2 team which had been defeated only four times until last night. The Jaysees needed their handicap in the first game only. W. O. Workman of the Jaysees rolled high game with 210 pins. C. L. Stine of the clubmen had high series with 519 pins. Jim Kolb of the Jaysees was second with 511 pins.

TROJAN COACH SAYS HUNK'S PRAISE JUST TOO PERFECT

Finds No Satirical Remarks To Spur His Men To Beat Ramblers.

By PAUL ZIMMERMAN, Associated Press Sports Writer. LOS ANGELES, Dec. 6. (AP)—Coach Howard Jones of the University of Southern California football team likes Notre Dame's grid mentor, and all that, but Hunk Anderson has been a big disappointment.

This was apparent today, four days short of the game here between these two schools, as Troy's head man stirred through a pile of newspaper clippings. He looked up with a heavy sigh and it was apparent the caustic comment Jones sought to help fire his players for the game had not been found.

"Everywhere, it seems," said the Trojan tactician, "Hunk has talked about what a fine team is Southern California, and what a great coach I am and that's all."

"Well, I want to return the compliment. I'm not joking when I say I never have seen a Notre Dame which wasn't high class and I don't except this one. I frankly feel Anderson has done a splendid coaching job."

It sounded like a speech before the Mutual Admiration Society, but Jones was only warming up to go out and drive his team through another hard practice session for the struggle with the westbound Ramblers.

POLITICS at random

By BYRON PRICE.

It is notorious that official communiques never tell the real story; and it is safe to assume that that rule applies with special force to the White House statement immediately following the much-advertised Hoover-Roosevelt conference on war debts.

Scarcely has an equal number of words been called from the dictionary and put together into sentences saying so little. Only four of the lot indicated action: "progress has been made."

Whatever world of meaning may be hidden behind that short clause must await, evidently, the disclosure of developing events. In his later statement setting forth his own views, the president did not mention the conference. The president-elect has been equally silent.

Not a Failure.

This need not mean, however, that the meeting failed to live up to expectations. Those who know the thoughts of these two men will have little difficulty in envisaging what the talk must have been like, once cigar and cigarette were burning and the first amenities had been cleared away.

Surely it is safe to suppose that in one respect president and president-elect met on common ground and parted in complete accord.

They undoubtedly discussed, and agreed upon, the major consideration which brought them together, namely, that they had the joint responsibility of seeing to it no debtor nation profited unduly by taking advantage of the uncertainties attending a change of administration in Washington.

Moratorium Disappointing.

It no longer is a secret that Mr. Hoover was disappointed at the results of the celebrated moratorium. It bridged an emergency, whereas he had hoped it would mark a definite turn upward in world affairs.

He must have recalled to his visitor that what he had in mind originally was to give Europe a holiday to put her house in order, especially in these respects:

The German indemnities, about which something conditional only was done later at Lausanne. The failure of European nations to stabilize their own currencies—a difficulty but partially met. The tariff walls among European neighbors, based purely on retaliation, which still go on. And the disarmament problem, which remains unsolved.

It is conceivable the outgoing president counseled his successor that in considering any further holiday the United States must weigh what Europe has done with the holiday now ending.

The Air Cleared.

Mr. Roosevelt, on his part, must have been a most eager listener. It would have taken few words to explain his reasons for declining to tie himself now to any definite policy. Not only does he lack authority, but a prior commitment on debts would be directly contrary to his theory of how he should approach the presidency.

He hopes to treat the foreign relations of the country, including the debts and the tariff, as one fabric. He refuses to prejudice any situation which may arise while he is president. He wants to remain free to work out his problems as they present themselves and to work them out in one piece.

So, on both sides, the meeting must have cleared the air considerably. Being broadly interpreted, the four words "progress has been made" may well mean that Mr. Roosevelt proposes to leave Mr. Hoover alone in his present proper domain, and Mr. Hoover proposes to leave Mr. Roosevelt alone to his.

A 'Cooling-Off' Period

The argument presented in defense of unlimited debate is that it provides a cooling-off period, and is a safeguard against hasty and ill-considered legislation. However valid that argument may be, the fact remains that senate talk-fests have long been a major obstacle to the carrying-out of decisive administration programs.

Woodrow Wilson was so exasperated over the filibuster which killed one of his war measures that he pleaded with the senate to amend its rules so that "a little group of wilful men" could not defeat the will of the majority. The senate did make a change, but it was not very effective.

Theodore Roosevelt once found a way of getting around the difficulty. Describing the incident later, he said in effect:

"I knew if I negotiated a treaty for the Panama Canal strip, and sent it to the senate, it would be debated without end. So I took Panama, and let the senate debate me."

May Get Action

Of course it may be that the present senate, smarting under the pressure of the election, will be willing to substitute action for words, and live up to the high professions of intended accomplishment now voiced by its leaders. I may be. But the wise will not count on it.

Louis Blaylock Dies at Dallas

DALLAS, Dec. 6. (AP)—Dallas mourned today for its "first citizen," Louis Blaylock, 83, former mayor, capitalist, publisher, and civic leader. He died yesterday at his home after a long illness.

He was active in city politics for 18 years, serving as police and fire commissioner, finance commissioner and mayor, and was founder of the Blaylock Publishing company, which for many years published the Texas Christian Advocate, organ of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in Texas.

Blaylock was one of the wealthiest men in Dallas, being an extensive owner of real estate and stock in various institutions.

IOWA CORN CROP OVERFLOWS

Iowa's record corn crop of 540,000,000 bushels has filled all elevator space and immense stocks are being stored in open cribs, great piles held together by wires. Six thousand bushels are piled up on the farm of R. R. Fairchild near Rembrandt, Iowa, as shown here. Many farmers will use corn for fuel in view of the great crop and low prices.

Airway To Oklahoma City Is Now Lighted

AMARILLO (AP)—The third lighted airway out of Amarillo is now in operation between Amarillo and Oklahoma City.

The last of the 18 beacons along the route are ready for operation, their installation having cost more than $18,000, not including the cost of the beacons. Three of the beacons are visible for 75 miles from the air. Four emergency landing fields also have been equipped along the route.

The route will be lighted to Tulsa by December 1.

U. S. MARINES BEING TAKEN OUT OF NICARAGUA AT LAST

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Dec. 6. (AP)—The final exodus of United States marines under the United States withdrawal policy was under way today, and the entire force of 700 is expected to be evacuated by January 3.

The first unit of departing American troops numbered about 300 men. They left Managua yesterday for Corinto and embarkation for home today.

United States Marines were first landed in Nicaragua in 1912, and remained 13 years. They were withdrawn in 1925, but sent back in 1927 to help maintain order. At that time insurgent, Augustino Sandino, was engaged in activities in the north, and has engaged in military conflict with the marine trained national guard since then.

The country meanwhile is quiet. The latest contact between national guard and Sandino groups occurred Sunday in the form of a 15-minute skirmish near Jinatago. Two Sandinistas were slain and three captured. There were no guard casualties.

BISHOP HUNTS DUCKS

PLAINVIEW, Dec. 6. (AP)—Bishop Hiram A. Boaz, of Houston, did not return to his home after closing the Northwest Texas Methodist conference in Amarillo until he had sent out ahead of him a shipment of wild ducks.

The bishop and his party, including Presiding Elder L. N. Lipscomb of Amarillo, killed 35 ducks on a lake near Hart.

Coyotes Die Under Automobile Wheels

DALHART (AP)—These Panhandle coyotes have just got to learn that they can't outrun these Panhandle automobile hustlers. J. G. Hammond, coming home from Boise City rounded a curve and saw a coyote a few rods ahead. The coyote yelped at the approaching car and then sped away down the highway. In 100 yards he was a dead dog.

McD. Thaxton, Lamesa, up here planting wheat, also ran one down in the road with his car. Henry White on like manner, and a Dumas doctor is similarly responsible for the annihilation of one coyote.

New Goodyears for Christmas

Have Santa put on your list a set of New Goodyears . . . A Christmas Gift that will be enjoyed by the whole family.

A set of Goodyear Tires is truly a "gift that keeps on giving." They will give you trouble-free driving all winter and still be good next spring and summer.

New Goodyears now will provide the cheapest insurance against accidents that money can buy. Protect the safety of your family and eliminate punctures, blow-outs, skids and other dangers of icy pavements and slippery roads this winter.

You need the mighty grip of the famed Goodyear All-Weather Tread—the world's first choice for safety. Study the deep-slotted, sharp-angled blocks of rubber—see how they are in the center of the tread, where they belong, for sure stopping, road-gripping traction.

It will pay you to put on New Goodyears, especially when the price is such that you can say to yourself: "Why buy any second-choice tires, when first choice Goodyears cost no more?"

MANY PARENTS, TEACHERS TO BE INVITED TO PAMPA

TO HEAR TALK BY NATIONAL WORKER SOON

MRS. C. E. ROE TO BE NAMED LUNCHEON HONOREE

Saturday, Dec. 17, will be a day of much interest for parents and teachers of the North Plains. Many of them will come to Pampa at that time to hear Mrs. C. E. Roe, field secretary of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, who is making a speaking tour of a few Texas cities.

Plans for the occasion were made at a meeting of the board of managers of the city council of Parent-Teacher associations yesterday afternoon in the central cafeteria. It was decided to give a luncheon at 12:30 o'clock under the direction of Mrs. A. N. Dilley Jr., assisted by Mrs. J. M. Turner, the place to be announced later. The luncheon will be for a selected group of officials, but an address at 2 o'clock in the afternoon will be for all persons interested in Parent-Teacher work.

Mrs. H. G. Myers, assisted by Mrs. Claude Lard, will be in charge of the luncheon and afternoon programs. Mrs. Harry Marbaugh was asked to secure a place for the assembly.

Mrs. J. E. Griggs of Amarillo, district Parent-Teacher president, will share honors with Mrs. Roe at the luncheon. Others attending will be the board of managers of the city council of Parent-Teacher associations, the city and county superintendents and their wives, principals and their wives, the past-presidents of the city council, the president and past president of the county council, and the two local district officers, Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, a vice-president, and Mrs. G. C. Malone of the district program committee.

Mrs. Roe will come to Pampa under auspices of the city council, including associations of the following schools: High school, Junior high, Baker, Horace Mann, Woodrow Wilson, and Sam Houston.

W. J. Morrison of Tulsa is looking after business here this week.

D. C. White of Lubbock is visiting friends here today.

T. B. Smith underwent an operation at Pampa hospital yesterday.

Fred O. Rankin was admitted to Pampa hospital Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Lewis are the parents of an 8-pound son born at Pampa hospital yesterday.

Baked Goose Dinner Is Served at Festive Christmas Party Given at Schneider Hotel Monday Evening

The beauty of the Christmas season was reflected throughout a dinner bridge party given at the Schneider hotel last evening for members of the Amusu club, their husbands, and three tables of other guests. The hospitality was that of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Schneider.

A baked goose dinner was served at 7 o'clock in the dining room, tables being prettily decorated in the Christmas colors. During the serving of the dessert, a clever Christmas contest was held, the prize going to J. M. McDonald and Mrs. J. M. Dodson.

Dinner over, members were invited to another entertaining room, where tallies, fastened to small toys, were taken from lighted Christmas trees. Nine tables of bridge were in progress, and at the close of the games, prizes were awarded as follows: High among members and husbands, Mrs. Charlie Thut and W. A. Bratton; high among guests, Mrs. McColm and Mr. McColm.

Club members and husbands attending were the following: Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Buckler, W. A. Bratton, Tom E. Rose, Mrs. Clifford Braly, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. William M. Craven, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Dodson, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Kelley, Mr. and Mrs. L. N. McCullough, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Thut, Mr. and Mrs. George Walstad, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Walker, and the host and hostess.

Special guests were Mrs. Harry Burr, Mrs. Jean Smith, Mr. and Mrs. McColm, Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Wirsching, L. P. Sills, Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Rainouard, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Doak.

Gas Franchise at McLean Purchased

McLean's long gas franchise fight has been settled with the resident company buying the new franchise granted D. W. Humphreys, it has been learned here.

The price was "one dollar and other considerations." D. A. Upham, owner of the McLean Gas company, agreed to adopt the rates specified in the Humphreys' franchise, or 30 cents per thousand cubic feet, with reductions for school and church use.

Professor Dennis was chairman he was asked to codify the football rules and to write proper definitions. From there, Brochever takes up the story of the prolate spheroid.

The background on all this hysteria concerning the prolate spheroid is out at last, thanks to the diligence of Lou Brochever of Cornell.

Group 5 to Fill Christmas Basket

Arrangements to fill a Christmas basket this year were made by members of group 5 of the Women's council, First Christian church, last evening in the home of Mrs. L. K. Stout, 1315 N. Gray.

The remainder of the evening was spent in piecing one quilt and quilting another. Three visitors, Mrs. Ora Duenkel, Mrs. Ethel Olsen, and Miss Ina Poole, one new member, Mrs. John Beverly, and the following regular members attended: Mesdames C. W. Stowell, C. A. Clark, F. H. Meski, Mrs. B. G. Gordon, E. C. Wilson, R. P. Pauley, Getrie Arnold, E. M. Voss; Misses Florence Jones, Jewel Montague, and Cleora Stanard.

Chinese General Flees To Siberia

TSITSIHAR, Manchuria, Dec. 6. (AP)—Japanese army headquarters today confirmed the report that the rebel Chinese general, Su Ping-Wen, had fled into Siberia.

At the same time it announced a raging snowstorm has halted the advance of the Japanese force before which Su Ping-Wen and 1,000 of his men fled. The snowstorm stopped the Japanese at Yakeshi, 45 miles east of Hailar.

The Japanese said the rebel general, who has controlled one-fourth of Manchuria for several months, left the border city of Manchull by train Sunday.

Russian news sources (the Tass Agency) under date of Chita, Siberia, said General Su and his men had appeared there, and were disarmed by Russian authorities.

(Moscow dispatches said the general's train was halted at the border, but proceeded under orders of Chinese officers to Chita. There all soldiers and officers were interned.)

The Japanese here said they had intercepted a radio message from General Su to General Chiang Hsueh Liang, former Manchurian war lord, saying Su had escaped to Siberia and would go to Peiping through Mongolia within the month.

Mrs. O. L. Belk returned yesterday from an extensive visit with relatives in Chickasha and other points in Oklahoma.

LOVELY PARTY SPONSORED BY BUSINESS CLUB

YULETIDE DECORATIONS ARE EMPLOYED FOR OCCASION

Lighted with red candles, and decorated with Christmas suggestions, the Rose building club rooms were made very attractive for the fortnightly bridge party sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's club Monday.

Refreshments were served at the close of a series of bridge games. Mrs. Joe Lazarus was awarded for high score among the women and T. E. Simmons for high among the men.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Lee McConnell, Mrs. Glen Pool, Mrs. D. E. Robinson, Miss Clara Lee Shewmaker, and Miss Mildred Overall. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Massa, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Dilley Jr., Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Simmons, Glen Pool, Charles Woolley, Frank Hunt, C. A. Stuckey, and Mesdames H. A. Neath, Lillian McNutt, E. L. Fowler, Violet Gher, Joe Lazarus, Sam Penberg, M. P. Downs, W. H. Lang, Finis Jordan; Misses Vivian Taylor, Louise Durbenberger, Polly Mitchell, and Hazel Christian.

ATLANTA'S BEEN STOLEN!

At any rate the real estate dealers say that six vacant houses are vanishing every week, and they think something ought to be done about it.

George B. Lyle, a member of city council, has agreed to ask that body to authorize appointment of six supernumeraries to the police force, to handle the specific job of watching vacant houses.

The real estate men say the houses probably are being carted away piecemeal for use as fuel.

Lou gets the "assist" but the "putout" goes to Professor Emeritus Louis M. Denis, long the head of Cornell's department of chemistry, former president of the Cornell Athletic Council and an original member of the Eastern football rules committee.

"He decided to start at the beginning and state what sort of an implement should be used in playing the game. The only definition of the ball to be used was Walter Camp's. It read: 'The ball is an oval leather cover containing a rubber inner, which is inflated by means of a small air pump or the lungs.'"

PRAYER WEEK OBSERVED BY BAPTIST FOLK

PROGRAM DIRECTED BY MRS. LEECH ON MONDAY

First Baptist women began their observance of the Lottie Moon week of prayer yesterday afternoon when they heard a program directed by Mrs. F. Ewing Leech, mission chairman.

Following a devotional by Mrs. C. L. Stephens, the Rev. C. E. Lancaster introduced the Rev. M. O. Cheek, returned missionary from China, who spoke in interest of the Lottie Moon Christmas offering.

"Last year," said Rev. Cheek, "there were more converts baptized than ever before in mission work. The doors are open in the foreign countries and workers are crying to go. For the cause of Christ, give to the Lottie Moon Christmas offering, thereby helping to return missionaries and to keep those who are already in the foreign fields."

The following attended: Mesdames Martha Williams, J. C. Barnard, W. D. Benton, C. E. Lancaster, J. A. Arwood, L. H. Greene, B. O. Barrett, John H. Ayres, A. L. Lee, Joe R. Foster, F. Ewing Leech, R. PARENTS WILL ORGANIZE NEW STUDY GROUP

TO DEVELOP SKILLED LEADERS IS ONE PURPOSE

Plans to organize a study club were formed by the executive committee of the Woodrow Wilson Parent-Teacher association at a meeting yesterday afternoon in the home of Mrs. A. N. Dilley.

The purpose of the club will be the development of fully informed membership and leaders skilled in the technique of Parent-Teacher work, and will deal with the organization, conduct, and program of service of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. Certificates will be awarded by the national congress.

Purchasing of playground equipment was chosen as the next project of the association. Mrs. W. R. Wanner, assisted by Mrs. T. C. Lively and Mrs. Annie Daniels, was chosen to head this work.

Mothers night was set for Friday, Jan. 13. The men are to entertain and be in charge of the program at that time.

Christmas parties for children were discussed by room mothers, definite plans to be made later.

At the close of the afternoon the hostess served fruit cake and coffee to Mesdames H. R. Thompson, J. V. Kidwell, George Cotton, Jess Southern and Nell Bever. Bob Chafin, G. D. Stockton, W. R. Wanner, P. O. Anderson, T. C. Lively,

Chesterfields are Milder
Chesterfields Taste Better

To make tobaccos mild and mellow for Chesterfield cigarettes, just about four miles of warehouses are filled with mild, ripe Domestic leaf, stored away to age for two years. The greater part of 90 million dollars is invested in these tobaccos. Is it surprising that Chesterfields are milder? That they taste better? Everything known to Science is used to make Chesterfields right! They're mild—and yet They Satisfy.

if then." Col. M. J. McCombs, athletic director for the Dallas insurance company by which Miss Dirlikson is employed, immediately entered a suit which she is quoted as praising.

"Our main interest," he said, "is to get Babe reinstated. She not only tells me she did not give anyone permission to use her name but says she has never seen the model car which she is quoted as praising."

Apparently a court suit is the only possible road leading to Miss Dirlikson's reinstatement. As to that, Ferris had this to say: "If she did not sanction the use of her name, she can prove it by bringing suit against the company for impairing her amateur status. If she wins her suit, the A. A. U. immediately would reinstate her. On the face of things, we cannot believe she did not know her name was being used in the advertisement. Ignorance of A. A. U. rules would not be a valid excuse. A star athlete ought to know the rules of amateurism."

Babe Is Mad.

DALLAS, Dec. 6. (AP) — Mildred Babe Dirlikson, the boyish looking world's champion athlete who has broken just about every woman's record on the athletic program, either officially or unofficially, was indignant today at the action of the National Amateur Athletic Union in declaring her ineligible for further competition. It happened just as she was training to add the art of tumbling to her repertoire.

Secretary Daniel J. Ferris of the A. A. U. in New York announced last night she had disqualified herself as an amateur because her picture appeared in connection with the advertisement of an automobile, published Sunday all over the nation.

"I let this automobile company make a picture of me," the Babe explained, "but I told them not to use it. They did so without my permission."

She indicated she was particularly peeved because the Golden Cyclone, girls' basketball team of Dallas of which she is captain, hopes to win back the national championship this winter. Col. M. J. McCombs, athletic director of the team, said if the A. A. U. was final, he would see that a damage suit was entered immediately against the automobile firm which published the advertisement.

In the last few weeks, the Babe has been in training with Marshall Brown, who coached Rowland Wolfe, Dallas youth who won the Southern National and Olympic tumbler titles this year. Brown says she already is showing surprising ability.

McLean Poultry Show To Be Held December 16-18

McLEAN, Dec. 2. (Special) — Plans are being perfected for the fourth annual poultry show which will be held December 15, 16, and 17. The show is expected to be a high quality show, with many fine and highly bred utility birds. A feature of unusual attraction will be the fancy stock. Besides the regular standard breeds of poultry, some highly bred pigeons will be shown.

Another feature to be stressed will be a large display of capons with special prizes for the capon trios. Single capons and trios will be shown.

It is time now to select birds and free service along this line can be secured by calling A. A. Tampke. He urges that this selection be made early to avoid the rush at the last few days before the show.

Due to depressing conditions, the management has decided to include only the territory known as "McCommunities" which were included in the trade trippers' program last summer. By this means the citizens of McLean will be assured that any prize offered will go directly to only those exhibitors who aid in promoting business and other activities in and about the vicinity of McLean trade territory, merely the Colonel Is In Again. Advice from Atlanta indicate that Colonel Tillinghast L'Honnemedieu Huston has "taken over" the affairs of the Crackers. That ought to mean big things for Georgia baseball.

Probably the first thing the romantic engineer who used to own half of the Yankees will try to do is to buy Babe Ruth. That is the way Colonel Tili goes about things—always on a big scale.

The Atlanta club went into the red last season, so the colonel's venture may be regarded in the light of an experiment. The colonel never was a hand to pass up an experiment, and quite a few of them have cost him part of the fortune he piled upon Cuba where he remained to buy docks and whatnots after having served as a captain in the Spanish-American War.

The Yankee Experiment. It was regarded distinctly as an experiment—and not a very happy one at that—when he and Colonel Jacob Ruppert put up something like $200,000 apiece some 16 years ago to buy the Yankees.

Ten years ago, differing with Ruppert on the choice of managers for the team (Ruppert wanted Huggins and Huston wanted Uncle Wilbert Robinson), Colonel Tili sold his interest to Colonel Jake for monies in the neighborhood of $1,500,000. So it wasn't such a dismal experiment after all.

Reclaims Island

Then there was the experiment of Butler Island. Something like a century ago, Major Pierce Butler, an English army officer, reclaimed from the islands in the Alleghaha river, not far from Darien, Ga., some 1250 acres for the growing of rice. Major Butler worked 1000 slaves in his project.

For years it was one of the richest plantations in the south. Besides rice, the major planted indigo, sugar cane, date palms, oranges, peaches and other fruits and vegetables.

But after the Civil War, the plantation was allowed to fall into decay.

The dikes broke and the river turned the land back into desolate swamp.

Builds and Rebuilds

Having a great deal of time on his hands after selling the Yankees,

Colonel Tili saw in Butler Island a chance for another experiment. He brought in tractors and dredges to reconstruct the work that slaves had done originally. Butler Island came up out of the mud. He planted figs, peaches, oranges, lemons, grapefruit, onions, celery and whatever else he could think of.

The unruly river swept over the island, spoiling his patient handiwork, ruining crops. But Colonel Tili came right back and chased Old Man River away from his door all over again.

Buys Some Babe Ruth

Then he bought cows, Guernseys and Holsteins. He brought in a white-faced Hereford bull that cost him $10,000 and christened the animal Babe Ruth. He bought a Holstein bull and christened that one Babe Ruth II. He built a modern dairy, installed milking machinery and all that, putting his milk room behind plate glass windows where it can be seen from the Dixie highway by passing tourists.

His experiment at Butler Island complete, it was only natural that the colonel should look around for another one—and he has found it in Atlanta. Those familiar with the decline of minor league baseball during the last decade know it is no small chance Colonel Tili is taking. But that's what Colonel Tili thinks chances are for—to be taken.

One-Act Plays To Be Given at Assembly Hour

Assembly tomorrow will be in charge of the dramatics class. According to Miss O'Keefe, they plan to give a summary of the progress made by the high school in one-act play contests in the last two years.

Students who are interested in dramatics are urged to enter in time to prepare for the interscholastic league contests. Work is under way in all of these events now. Trials for one-act plays will be held Thursday, Dec. 22, from 1 to 6 p. m. Five plays will be presented and the most likely one of these will be chosen as the one-act play for the contest.

The plays to be presented are "The High Heart," "The Giants' Stairs," "Sounding Brass," "He," "Thursday Evening." Parts for the winning play will be chosen at a later date.

Students interested in acting are urged to try out for plays now. One passing in three subjects is eligible to try out.

Popular Songs To Be Sung By Pep Squad Girls

Those who have admired the Pep Squad's performances of a pep nature will be interested to know that plans are now under way for a program of popular songs to be presented in assembly by this group.

The Pep Squad has been divided into soprano, alto, and tenor groups which are practicing regularly. Those who do not wish to continue in the club in its new capacity have dropped Pep Squad and are attending study hall the sixth hour.

HIGH SCHOOL ATTENDANCE OFF ONE PER CENT DURING SECOND SIX WEEKS; ILLNESS BLAMED

Figures covering attendance in the high school during the last six weeks periods were officially issued from the registrar's office today.

There has been a very slight drop in attendance during the last six weeks. A total of forty-five students have been dropped, while thirteen new ones have been registered.

The percentage of attendance has dropped from 96.9 per cent the first six weeks to 95.6 per cent this last six weeks. A great part of the drop has been due to illness of students because of weather conditions and various holiday seasons taking several out of town on vacation.

The present enrollment is 729, of which 368 are boys and 361 are girls. There are a total of 15 post graduates attending the high school.

Hi-Y Group To Play Games at Gym This Eve

Instead of the business meeting planned for tonight, the Hi-Y will meet in the gym at 8 o'clock for a recreational hour. The business meeting has been postponed indefinitely on account of the absence of several members.

Boys who wish to take part in the games are requested to bring their tennis shoes, since players are not allowed on the gym floor in any other type of shoe.

About thirty-five boys attended the meeting last Tuesday and played basketball. All boys wishing to join Hi-Y are invited to attend tonight.

Senior Calendar Adopted by Class

A senior class meeting was held this morning at 8:45. The chief business was the adoption of the calendar of the year, which was presented by the executive committee.

This calendar will be presented to the advisory committee for approval. The calendar included the following affairs:

A Christmas party, December 16.
A party about February 14, probably in honor of the juniors.
Senior Sneak Day.
Baccalaureate services.
Class day.

The class dues was another topic discussed. They were set at 50 cents a semester, and $1.00 a year.

The following committees were appointed to arrange for and plan the party to be held December 16: Entertainment, Charles Frost, Geo. Keahey, Louise Walstead, Mildred Marshall, Franklin Baer, and Myrtle Gilbert; refreshments, Clinton Evans, Ruth Reynolds, Siler Faulkner, Vendell Kees, Ciella Nichols, and Janice Downs.

About 185 Pupils In School Sports

That 52-13 victory over Clearmont (in basketball) is a long way from the 7-6 victory in football. It also rounds like a football score of the Harvester team of yore.

Dear Old P. H. S. was going to claim some of the football heroes of the Fat-Lean game as her own. That is, before the game.

In Pampa high school there are approximately 185 aspirants for basketball, tennis, or volleyball fame. The ward schools are hitting the 200 mark in the inter-ward school contests. Junior high has turned to basketball with 35 coming out to a gloomy coach.

Tennis practice has begun in earnest. Practices are at 8 o'clock in the morning and after school. The coaching is in the hands of Robert Brown, former tennis star of Pampa high school.

The volleyball team, under Mr. Lester, will play the town team Wednesday night at 8 o'clock. There will be no charge and everyone is cordially invited.

The new Harvester basketball uniforms have arrived and make the girls' flashy suits of last year seem like back numbers.

Plans and rumors of inter-class football teams have been going around school. If the games are arranged, Harvester will be excluded from this competition.

The gym classes, both boys and girls, have taken up basketball. Tournaments may be arranged between classes.

Band Numbers for Chapel Announced

Although the football season is over, the band still remains important among school organizations. The band played as a guest band at the McLean-Spearman football game Friday and in the gym for the basketball game Friday night.

The band will play the following numbers for chapel Wednesday: "Campus Capers," "The Home Town Band," "The Artillery March."

NEW STUDENTS

Several new students have entered Pampa high school recently. Among them are Eunice Jones, Irie Brazell, Esia Braze'l, Elden Brazell, and Woodrow Byrum. We wish to extend a hearty welcome to these newcomers.

Third Funeral Held in Alamo

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 6. (AP)—For the third time since the battle of the Alamo taps sounded within the gray walls of the old shrine for the dead as a distinguished company of pioneers, sons and daughters of the founders of Texas, paid their farewell tribute today to Nettie Houston Bringham, daughter of General Sam Houston.

In a silver casket covered with mounds of flowers, the six flags of Texas standing like sentinels in the back ground, the daughter of the great general lay, a faint light burning her graying hair, as civic leaders and aged veterans gathered inside the building where 183 frontiersmen under Col. William Barrett gave up their lives in 1836.

Mrs. Bringham was the victim of an automobile accident which occurred near Schulenberg Saturday night. She died in the Santa Rosa hospital early Monday of her injuries.

Today her body lay in state from 8 to 10 a. m. in the Alamo, as people of all classes filed past the bier. Funeral services were held at 10 a. m. The Rev. T. F. Sessions, pastor of the Alamo Heights Methodist church, opening the ceremony with a prayer which had for its theme the hope that lives of patriots will help to guide the ordinary man thru times of stress and storm.

Only two other funeral services had been held in the Alamo, it was said by those who knew it. One was for General Funston, 16 years ago, and a service was held shortly after the world war for unknown soldiers who had died in France.

Dr. T. J. Worrell of the city health department is endeavoring to apply bacteria culture for the science needs.

The three Spanish II classes are working on a Spanish newspaper. Latin II classes have been reading short Roman stories and have just started Caesar—with much growling on the part of students.

TABLE DEALS FOR PLAYERS

AN ELECTRIC bridge table that shuffles and deals without error was hailed by bridge experts as the most ingenious gadget displayed at this year's National Bridge Exposition at Grand Central Palace in New York, sponsored by Culbertson. Work and other star bridge players.

Photograph on right shows table, with top removed, being demonstrated by Laurens Hammond, Chicago electric clock manufacturer who invented it. The top picture shows experts from National Bridge Headquarters playing contract on the sensational new table. Cheating is said to be impossible with the electric tables, which will be exhibited soon throughout the country.

On one side of the table is a little compartment into which thirteen cards are automatically dealt. After shuffling and dealing the cards the mechanism automatically stops and the players are ready for the next hand.

WASHINGTON—Legislation endorsed by organized labor, embracing most of the more popular progressive measures as well as proposals of special interest to wage earners, is likely to take a decided spurt in the next Congress.

Measures strongly opposed by organized labor, such as the sales tax, probably will have to be passed in the forthcoming short session or not at all.

These predictions may be made partially on the theory that President-elect Roosevelt will be more likely to aid than to obstruct progressive and labor legislation, but more especially because of at least 29 years no congress has been elected with professed so much sympathy with the masses of workers as does the Seventy-third.

Bank President Takes Robbers Single-Handed

PANHANDLE, Dec. 6. (AP)—Two men, captured single-handed after a 30-mile chase late yesterday by Ed Deahl, president of the First State bank of Panhandle, were in jail today and Deahl had recovered $3,100 taken at noon yesterday by two robbers who entered the bank.

The men held gave their names as James K. French, 38, and Frank Scrivner, 32, who told officers he was an ex-convict. Both claimed Bristol, Okla., as their home.

Deahl and Oma Capadacy, employe of the First National bank, and Russell Downs, bookkeeper, were in the bank when an unmasked man entered and commanded them to get into the vault. He carried a cloth sack in which the money was placed. While the robbery was in progress, County Commissioner M. G. Weeth entered and was herded into the vault.

A second man entered but returned to the automobile the robbers had left outside with the motor running. "Don't look at me that way," one of the men commanded Deahl when he observed the banker staring intently at him.

"I'll be seeing you again and it won't be long," Deahl replied. "You can't get away with this kind of thing."

As the robbers left, Deahl seized a gun and fired at the car. Joined by Deputy Sheriff M. D. Eagle, he pursued them five miles but Eagle got out to summon Sewell Thorp, another deputy, and Deahl continued alone. Near Berger, he overtook them and as they got out of their car, he commanded them to hold up their hands. By that time the two deputies arrived and the men were taken to jail. All of the loot was found in the car.

"You win, mister," the deputies quoted the man who identified himself as Scrivner as saying, "you almost won while we were at the bank. I could tell you meant business."

horities. It seems to us that it would be more economical and by far more satisfactory for the county to arrange, if it must do so, to have convicts transported immediately to the penitentiary by the local officers than to keep them confined in the county jail at the county's expense until penitentiary authorities see fit to remove them from the jail. However, we do not intend to say that the county should be blamed for the system or the situation in which we find ourselves with reference to these convicts. It is a matter that the state prison officials should correct.

42 Bills Returned
We have examined 177 witnesses during our deliberations and have been in session 11 days, during which time we have had the cooperation and advice of the district attorney who has been with us in all of our deliberations. We wish to express our appreciation for the services rendered us by the riding bullfights, especially the constable at Pampa, Mr. Frank Jordan, and his deputy, Mr. R. H. Mumford. These men have been in constant touch with us and have rendered us most valuable service. Had it not been for their speedy and efficient work our deliberations would have lasted much longer and the expense of this grand jury would have been greater.

For our work, we have returned 42 bills of indictment, one of which was for a misdemeanor violation of law. We have examined into 75 violations but have voted no bills in those cases which, according to our understanding, would not stand the test of the law and would have only incurred that useless expense to the state.

We ask that this report be received and filed and that we be finally discharged.

Signed: J. L. Stroppe, foreman, A. C. McKay, Byrd Guill, W. E. James, E. J. Dunigan, Jr., F. J. Lipquist, Siler Faulkner, George Trout, M. R. Landers, P. B. Farley, J. C. Gray, J. Stephens.

Something Every Car-owner Should Know.

Your Motor Makes 3,000 to 5,000 Revolutions Before Oil Circulates to all moving parts!

WHEN you start your car in the morning, your oil is in the crankcase. Your oil pump immediately starts pumping the oil.

But it takes several minutes, at the least, for even the quickest-circulating oils to reach all parts of the motor. During that time, your motor turns over 5,000 to 5,000 times!

What happens to the unprotected parts of your motor during that time? Engineers say that your motor undergoes, during that period, half of all the wear it suffers!

Only one oil can give you full protection during the starting period... Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil! It is the only mineral oil that penetrates and combines with metal surfaces. Other oils drain back into the crankcase during idle periods, leaving parts dry.

A "Hidden Quart" of Germ Processed Oil stays up in your motor and never drains away! The "Hidden Quart" is always on duty, protecting every part from the second you touch the starter. It protects you from costly starting wear and gives your car longer life.

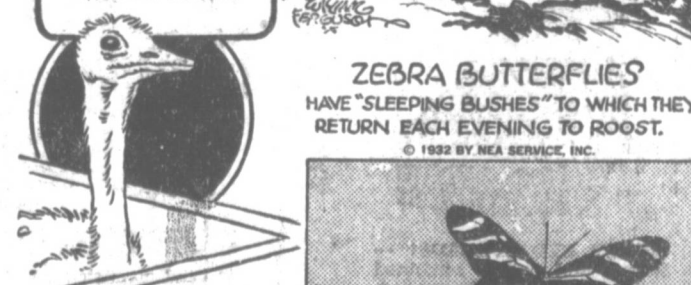

Like most good oils, Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil is thoroughly dewaxed and circulates freely at subzero. Change to Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil now.

— THIS CURIOUS WORLD —

THERE IS NOT A SINGLE STATE IN THE UNION WHERE TEMPERATURES OF 100 DEGREES HAVE NOT BEEN RECORDED. ALSO, FREEZING TEMPERATURES HAVE BEEN RECORDED IN EVERY STATE.

ZEBRA BUTTERFLIES HAVE "SLEEPING BUTTRES" TO WHICH THEY RETURN EACH EVENING TO ROOST.

AN OSTRICH EGG THAT WAS PUT AWAY IN A DESK DRAWER, AND FORGOTTEN, HATCHED OUT A HEALTHY YOUNG OSTRICH SEVERAL WEEKS LATER.

THE SOUTHERN TIP of the Florida peninsula is the only portion of the entire United States that has never been visited by freezing temperatures since the beginning of weather records. ZEBRA BUTTERFLIES are sound sleepers. After they go to sleep on their night roosts, it is possible to pick them up, one by one, without any disturbance. Naturalists, in making identification marks on certain individual butterflies, clipped small slices in their wings as they slept, and even this did not waken them.

many of the United States post-offices. In 1892, our government prepared a beautiful set of large stamps in commemoration of the 400th anniversary of the landing of Columbus. They were also to be used in housing the great world's fair in Chicago. As the fair did not get under way until 1893, the stamps were not placed on sale until that year. Unlike some of the recent commemorative issues, they were issued in such large quantities that they remained on sale for several years. They were, however, finally recalled and destroyed in Washington, D. C.

Lost Collection

My first collection was lost but, as I recall, it contained only one stamp of any value, namely the 12c Hawaiian of 1892. This was taken from a letter to my father from his aunt, who had long been in the Sandwich Islands as a missionary. Since that time I have made up and traded or sold several different collections. I have at times stopped collecting for four or five years only to return to it again. My present collection dates from 1919, when so many new countries of Europe emerged from the great war. Incidentally some of those countries were still-born, therefore no longer exist as separate governments. My collection is largely made up of stamps issued during and since the world war, of which I think there are no issues of more historic interest.

One might wonder wherein a boyish fad could grow into a lifelong hobby. "What is there in it," is the question most often asked a stamp collector, whose scientific name is "philatelist."

"Mind-Relaxing"

In the first place, let me say, it is a mind-relaxing study compared to most studies which are mind-taxing.

In the second place, it gives one a world vision. I have had some correspondence with collectors in at least fifty countries, hence I can never think of America separate and aloof from the rest of the world. Now can it ever be in the future however hard we may try to make it so. There are too many ties between nations. For an indoor recreation, there is nothing more profitable with the exception of proper reading. Knowledge of history, of geography, of archæology, of racial customs, of botany, of aviation, of zoology, and many other subjects may be gained by a study of the postal issues of the nations.

For the one who cares to do so, stamps may be used for an investment or he can make of them a business by trading and sales. The present American standard stamp catalog is a book of over 2,000 pages, listing 200,000 major and minor varieties of stamp and selling at $2.50, just for the wonderful information it contains. In fact, millions of dollars are invested in stamps by dealers, and four great weekly stamp papers are now being circulated. Add to this dozens of monthly journals and various house organs which would do justice to the largest mail order firms. This ad is appearing in a current weekly stamp news, $10,000 COLLECTION WANTED—The publishers of Weekly Stamp News have a client who is in the market for a fine collection of U. S. only, worth from $5,000 to $25,000, for spot cash.

Worth Huge Fortune

What a wide range in stamp collecting! From the boy spending his ten cents for a small packet to the Frenchman who invested $10,000 each week and whose collection brought two million dollars at public sale. Or from a one-cent British Guiana stamp sold at $50,000 down to a current United States stamp used in such quantities that it is reclamation of the swamps, the foundation of the juvenile organizations, the militia, the corporative state, the development of sports, recreation, colonies, army, navy aviation, archaeological excavations. One stamp is devoted to religion, another to Italians living abroad, two of the Fascist exposition. The five-line stamp is sold at 7.50 lire, 2.50 of which goes to Fascist charities. The stamps are good for mailing purposes up until December 31, 1933.

Another Von Hindenberg Collectors interested in portraits can now add another of Paul von Hindenburg, president of Germany. On the "Präsidentenmarken" is a new issue, brought out to commemorate his recent eighty-fifth birthday, the profile of the president appears as a medalion or plaque in the center of the stamp.

The Hindenburg, commemorative issue of 1927 shows him full-face, as does the issue of 1928, in which his picture alternates on the various values with that of the late President Ebert. The portrait of 1928 makes him look a bit more venerable than that of the year before, while this year's seems to express ageless strength. The issue is comprised of the following values: 4 pfennig, light blue; 5 pf., green; 12 pf., orange; 15 pf., carmine; 25 pf., dark blue; 40 pf., violet purple; 50 pf., chocolate brown.

Recalling Balloon Ascents Three stamps—75 centimes, brown; 1.75 francs, blue and 2.5 francs, violet—showing Professor Piccard's ship on Nov. 26. The date marked the sixth anniversary of King Albert's appeal for the creation of a national fund for scientific research, the assembling of which allowed the financing of the ascents.

Fisher felt that there were so many rural schools and town schools without gymnasiums that it would be impossible to schedule games with every team in the four weeks allowed for a sub-section champion, and ruled that the teams without regulation gymnasiums must eliminate themselves. The ruling left Pampa, LeFors, McLean, Miami, and Canadian in the first section and Allison, Glazier and M. K. in Hemphill county, and Albrecht, Hopkins and maybe one or more rural schools in Gray county, in the elimination class. A PATH TO PARADISE

by Coningly DAWSON

SYNOPSIS: Clive feels himself pushed again into the background, this time by his wife Santa's insatiable desire to reform her former husband, Dicky. Santa is so blind that Dicky persuades her he really is producing plays on Broadway until the name of Lou-Lou, long-time friend of Dicky's, comes into the fray. Then she understands: she sees a possible ally in Lou-Lou.

Chapter 23

STAGE DOOR JOHNNY

LIVE was lacking in finesse. He had never had underhand dealings with women. To get in touch with Lou-Lou he chose the course that was most direct. Having waited till his wife and Dicky were settled for the evening, he slipped into his coat and sat.

Hearing movements, Santa called, "What are you doing, darling?"

"Appointment with a friend."

"That brought her into the hall on the run."

"What sort of a friend?"

"Sort of business friend."

"That's a fib. You can't lie like the truth, besides—"

He glanced back in the act of escaping.

"Besides what?"

"You mustn't leave me alone with Dicky."

"Santa, you're a fraud. Being alone with Dicky ought to be second nature."

As he bent his steps toward the glare of Broadway, he thought furiously. This Dicky business was becoming more serious than he'd anticipated. More serious than even Santa imagined.

The rendezvous that he was planning was a strategy of desperation. He set himself a problem in arithmetic: if his marriage had taken nine months to degenerate to this middle, how many more months would it require to bust up completely?

Having reached the theater where Lou-Lou resided, he bought an orchestra seat and handed a note to the clerk in the office.

"Please have it delivered."

The note read:

My dear Miss Lou-Lou, excuse my familiarity—it's the only name by which I know you. If you can spare me a few moments, I shall be most grateful. My business is urgent. It concerns a friend of yours—Richard Dak.

He had written it over as many times as a school-boy, his object being to spur curiosity and at the same time to prevent her from mistaking him for a stage-struck Johnny.

He felt furtive, almost wicked—a young man on the loose. He was doing no worse than Santa. Nevertheless, as he sank in his seat, he was thankful for the darkness.

During the intermission an attendant tapped him on the shoulder.

"At the end of the performance Miss Sandrelle will see you in her dressing-room."

He picked up a program and read Lou-Lou Sandrelle on the list of actresses. Sandrelle was as good a name as any if you had been christened Smith or Jones.

Miserably self-conscious, at the final lowering of the curtain he wandered into the foyer. Everyone respectable was departing.

"I have an appointment with Miss Sandrelle," he muttered, and was directed to the stage entrance.

Thence he was handed on through scenery in process of being dismantled, till he found himself outside a door in a gloomy passage. With a sinking heart he tapped.

"Come in, O' it's you!"

She grinned like a street-urchin, only partially clad and totally unembarrassed.

"I troubled you, Miss Sandrelle—"

"If you're a friend of Dicky's," she cut him short, "you're a friend of mine. What about him?"

Perching on a stool before the mirror, she began to powder her arms and throat. That done, she reddened her lips and dabbed her ears with perfume. Clive had never been treated so slight so intimate by any woman except Santa.

"You're a nice boy," she spoke again, attempting to put him at his ease. "I've a date with a beau. That's the reason I'm squeezing you into my spare moment."

"Is your date with Dicky?"

"And if it is?" She glanced across her gleaming shoulder.

"He won't keep it." Clive sank his head. "We're companions in misfortune—sorry in the same boat. I hate to tell you. He's with my wife, and there he'll stay till I return to break up the party."

"The big, soft lump!" was her only comment.

SANTA DOUGHBOYS

McKINNEY (AP)—Ex-service men will again play Santa Claus to underprivileged children of McKinney and surrounding communities on Christmas eve, local Legion post officials have announced. The meeting place in the city hall has been turned into a workshop where old and worn toys will be renovated. On Christmas eve, accompanied by Santa, the toys will be loaded in a big truck and distributed in this city and other Collins communities. With a new process rubber latex is applied by a spray gun to metal utensils and fittings to protect them from acid corrosion, the rubber being built up in layers.

FERGUSON ASKS FOR TRIAL OF HIGHWAY CASE ON OWN MERITS BY JURY IN DISTRICT COURT

Action Is Placed on Travis Civil Docket

AUSTIN, Dec. 6. (P)—James E. Ferguson, who obtained an injunction restraining the Texas highway commission from spending any more money for construction at this time, today made application for a jury trial of the case on its merits in Travis county district court.

Ferguson paid the jury fee and had the case placed on the civil jury docket, which will not be called before next Monday.

James V. Allred, attorney general, filed an answer to Ferguson's original petition, on which the court granted the former governor and others a temporary injunction tying up highway construction funds.

Allred excepted to the sufficiency of the affidavit as too vague and indefinite. To the Ferguson allegations that the highway commission was spending in excess of its ability to pay the attorney general replied the claims were mere "conclusions and not allegations of fact."

Meanwhile, the third court of civil appeals was expected to hand down a decision soon on law points involved in the litigation. Appeal from the court order granting the temporary injunction was carried to the appellate court last Saturday.

F. M. Fitzpatrick and W. V. Dunman of Waco, filed in the district court an application for permission to intervene on behalf of McClellan county on the state's side in the suit.

copies that were distributed. There was no applause until the end when some republicans clapped.

Immediately after the reading, Senator Huey Long of Louisiana, made the first senate speech of the session, observing that while Governor Roosevelt was elected on the issue of "decentralization of wealth" there seemed to be in Mr. Hoover's message "quite a little effort to roll along the sales tax in a quiet, easy way."

Scores Banking System.

Blanketing manufacturers' sales tax covering virtually everything but food, and an additional 11 per cent pay cut for federal employees was laid before a waiting congress by the president.

The president after asserting that measures already adopted had "undoubtedly saved the country from economic disaster, devoted a full session of his message to criticism of the nation's banking system. He declared "widespread banking reforms are a national necessity and are the first requisites for further recovery."

"As a system," he said, "our banking has failed to meet this great emergency."

Under heavy police escort, delegations from 3,000 demonstrators who marched to the capital in orderly ranks, today presented Vice President Curtis and Speaker Garner with petitions for cash relief to the jobless and for unemployment insurance.

GENEVA, Dec. 6. (P)—China called on the assembly of the League of Nations today to denounce Japan as the aggressor in Manchuria, and Japan replied that the military occupation of that province was an act of self-defense.

M. D. Bentley of McLean is in the city today.

COURT--

Another contention was that the commission planned to award excessive contracts as a part of a scheme to embarrass the administration of Governor-Elect Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, wife of James E. Ferguson, the principal plaintiff in the injunction case.

The law question was presented to the appeals court last Saturday and contentions of James V. Allred, attorney general, who prosecuted the case for the highway commission, were upheld in virtually every particular.

Ocie Speer, attorney for the plaintiffs, indicated an appeal would be taken to the supreme court. Fifteen days are allowed in which to perfect an appeal.

When the court handed down its decision, Allred and Speer were engaged in Travis county district court, where the case originated, in a controversy over a setting for a trial of the case on its merits. Decision of the appeals court likely will make it unnecessary for the attorney general to press further for a trial on its merits.

Status of Suit Puzzling

However there was considerable uncertainty as to the status of the suit as a result of the opinion of the court of civil appeals.

Allred said he would have to investigate to determine if the commission could go ahead and award the contracts on which it had taken bids on November 28 and 29 or whether the commission would be required to wait until the mandate issued. Issuance of the mandate would be delayed if a motion for rehearing was filed or if an appeal was taken to the supreme court, it was understood.

The attorney general stated the decision had the effect of ruling the suit out of the district court and said he believed it would be necessary for the plaintiffs to amend their petition and would require them to allege "palpable abuse of discretion of fraud."

"The plaintiffs are out of court as far as the case is concerned in the district court," Allred stated. "It would likely Speer would ask leave of the district court to amend, pending perfection of his appeal to the supreme court."

It was claimed the law passed by the legislature reimbursing counties out of the highway fund, and appropriating money to do that, had repealed the highway department general appropriation law previously enacted.

Opinion Cited

The court held that the purpose of the act to reimburse counties was for the relief of taxpayers from burdens imposed by obligations incurred in the construction of state highways.

"Otherwise there is not the slightest intimation in the chapter or elsewhere of any purpose or design to effect in any degree the orderly operations of the highway department under existing law, practices and policies, or to impede the improvement of the state highway system by inhibiting all construction theretofore contracted."

The court opinion by Chief Justice James W. McClendon stated, "We say otherwise." Because the chapter does expressly withdraw from the state highway fund one fourth of the gasoline tax and allocates it to the purposes of the chapter. To this extent the amount of the original appropriation is reduced, and as regards this withdrawal the appropriation may be said to be repealed by necessary implication.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 6. (P)—Cotton opened steady today. Liverpool came in about a penny points better than due and sterling was also firmer. First trades here showed gains of 5 to 6 points and the market continued to improve after the start on moderate trade-buying induced by a firmer opening of stocks. January traded up to $5.64 and March to $5.76, or 13 to 15 points above yesterday's close.

Near the end of the first hour the market continued steady, keeping at the highs in moderate trading. Following the advance of the early trading, cotton became quiet and so continued all morning as traders again appeared indisposed to operate in advance of the government crop report due Thursday.

Prices maintained near the early highs most of the morning, however, by the firmness of other markets and January made a new high at $5.67, or 14 points above the previous close.

Near noon the market eased 5 to 8 points from the top on a moderate reaction in stocks and some hedge-selling.

A private authority estimated the crop at 12,316,000 bales and the ginnings to December 1 at 11,225,700 bales.

Army Major Has Conference Here

Major George A. Corbin, infantry D. O. L. of the United States army, will be in Pampa tomorrow night for a conference with members of the Reserve Officers' corps. The meeting will be held at 8 o'clock in the office of Dr. W. Purviance in the Rose building.

Major Corbin is the contact officer between the regular army and the reserve officers in the Pampa handle. He offices in the Federal building in Amarillo.

At the present time there are 26 reserve officers living in or near Pampa and they are urged to attend the meeting tomorrow night.

TAX COLLECTOR INDICTED

PLAINVIEW, Dec. 6. (P)—A Lamb county grand jury today presented an indictment charging Gaston Patterson, former Lamb county tax collector, with fraudulently converting to his own use $1,725.41 of the county's funds. Patterson resigned his office Nov. 22 after a suit filed by Meade Griffin, district attorney, seeking his ouster.

It should not be a hard task; nevertheless, some educating of the people may be necessary. The surplus bonds are the residue of the million dollar issue voted in April of 1928, and since the money was specified for certain roads, it cannot be spent for any other purpose. Of the original issue, $116,000 worth of bonds never was issued. The state took over part of the Wheeler county program.

Gray county is waiting for the state auditor to check up on her claims for exemption from bond payments. Some idea of the procedure may be obtained from this children's news item: "Interest and principal on about $300,000 bonded indebtedness of Childress county's road building program will be met by the state, according to L. L. King, county judge, following a check made of county funds by L. E. Nichols, state auditor. For three days, Nichols examined the bond records."

One cent of the income from the gasoline tax will be diverted to take over indebtedness incurred by counties in aiding the state in construction of designated inadequate for the intended purpose, roads. Should the one cent prove which is very likely, the counties will receive their proportionate part of what is available.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Dec. 6. (P)—Grain prices averaged higher early today, owing to expectations that unofficial domestic monthly crop reports would make a bullish exhibit. Reports of harvest delays in Argentina were also a strengthening factor.

Opening 1/2 to 3/4 up, wheat afterward reacted somewhat. Corn started unchanged 2/8 off and later held near the initial limits.

Parade of floats, with Santa Claus greeting children, 3 p. m.
Santa's frolic on streets and in stores, 3:45 p. m.
Huge, free fireworks display at Harvester park, 8:15 p. m.

CHILDHOOD'S DAY OF DAYS!

That's what next Thursday—SANTA DAY—will be to the young folk of this territory. They will greet old St. Nicholas in person on his pre-Christmas visit under the auspices of the Pampa Junior chamber of commerce. And what fun!

Santa Claus was crossing New Mexico this morning en route to some New Mexico and Texas cities where he will make brief stops before coming on to Pampa Thursday, December 8. Because of the warm weather, he was compelled to abandon his sleigh at Seattle and is making his trip in the United States by airplane.

Coming by Plane.

When his plane is heard over Pampa Thursday afternoon the children will know that he really and truly has arrived. Thousands of persons—young and old—will be on hand to meet and greet the jolly old patron saint of childhood. Merchants, his representatives, will make up a huge parade of floats which will form on South Cuyler street soon after noon. It will move through the business section at 3 p. m., opening the official Christmas season and portraying the spirit of Christmas in unmistakable fashion.

Somewhere in the parade—watch close, children—will be old Santa himself, his big tummy shaking with good natured laughter as he passes out gifts to the children in token of his visit. Every child "for miles around" should be on the streets by 3 p. m. on SANTA DAY.

To Visit Stores.

Followed by big crowds of boys and girls, Santa Claus will play about on the streets for an hour or so after the parade and will visit the stores before leaving for his return trip to Santa Clausland. His visit will furnish the children with their best opportunity of the year to see him in person and to tell him what they wish for Christmas. Santa Claus, too, will have a chance to confer with his agents, including the merchants of the Pampa Daily NEWS, the welfare agencies, and others who help him carry out his marvelously generous program.

Those children who are unable to come to town to see Santa—if there are any—should write him a letter in care of The NEWS. Many children have already done so, and Santa has been much pleased by their missives of good cheer.

Stay for Fireworks.

There will be a very, very good reason to stay in Pampa until after dusk. At 8:15 p. m. the Junior chamber of commerce will stage a huge, free fireworks display at Harvester park. Elsewhere in this paper is a description of the marvelous rockets and ground pieces which will set the heavens aglow.

This will be the second visit by Santa Claus under the auspices of the Junior chamber. Last year, the first major project after the organization of the chamber was the sponsoring of the first SANTA DAY. This year President Jim Collins and his officers and directors made early plans for the second event. He appointed the following committees:

Steering Committee—Gilmore Nunn, chairman; H. L. Polley, R. R. Watson.

Finance—H. L. Polley, chairman; Gilmore Nunn, Guy McTaggart, Joe Lazarus, J. D. Cobb.

Parade—C. E. Kennedy, chairman; H. V. Murry, Dr. C. H. Schulkey.

Window Decorations—R. E. Watson, chairman; K. L. Dunn.

Food—Jack Dunn, chairman; Bob Fuller.

Fireworks—D. A. Finkelstein, chairman; Clyde Gold.

Favors—G. C. Hubbard, chairman; H. E. McCarley, Dr. R. M. Johnson.

'Mine With Iron' Door Located In Arizona, Report

TUSCON, Ariz., Dec. 6. (P)—Arizona's "Mine With the Iron Door," one of the state's two reported treasures of high grade gold ore for which countless prospectors have searched in vain, was reported located today.

Supposedly abandoned years ago because of Indian threats or other trouble, the mine was said to have been found by Charles W. McGhee, who, with a brother and a partner, had been prospecting in the Santa Catalina mountains.

The three prospectors excitedly told of their find on arriving at the small settlement of Oracle, northeast of here. Word of the discovery was brought here by Kirke T. Moore, Tucson business man.

Moore said McGhee reported finding the abandoned mine in an almost inaccessible spot at the head of the Canada del Oro, not far from Sombrero peak. The entrance was hidden by a huge pile of rock. After clearing the entrance, the man said they came to an iron door which led to a shaft in which there was a wide vein of ore.

Like "the Lost Dutchman Mine," the "Mine With the Iron Door" was supposed to have been abandoned a century or more ago. Many have been the men who sought to relocate both mines and their reported valuable gold deposits.

Some of the prospectors who entered the mountains never returned. Their skeletons were found later. Only last year, A. Ruth, a retired civil service employe from Washington, D. C., set out in search for the Lost Dutchman Mine with what he said was an authentic map of its location. His body was found several weeks later.

Kitts Begins His Campaign for Title

HOUSTON, Dec. 6. (P)—Jimmy Kitts, the new Rice Institute basketball coach, has begun his campaign for a Southwest conference championship.

Kitts, who gained national recognition with his brilliant Athens, Texas, high school teams, has begun practice with his Rice varsity squad.

The Kitts system, which works best with tall players, should work well at the institute, observers believe, since he will have available an unusually lanky squad.

Five lettermen, Koch, Dixon, Alexander, Thompson, and McCullough, have returned.

CHAMPAGNE CROP SHORT

RHEIMS, France (P)—Champagne of 1932 vintage will be fine in quality but small in quantity, experts announce. Because demand for the sparkling wine has decreased, the producers plan to blend most of it with lower quality previous vintages so as to improve the general quality of the stocks.

Old Settler Saw Camels Sent to Texas in 1860

FORT DAVIS, Dec. 6. (P)—Bill Kingston, 73 years old, who still wrestles calves in the branding pens, recalls when Uncle Sam's war department brought camels into Texas in the 1860's. "Uncle Bill," who has lived in Jeff Davis county for 47 years, has been county commissioner for 16 years.

When he was a boy his stepfather ran a tannery in San Saba for the Confederacy, and after the war between the states closed the family became refugees in Mexico. It was on their return that Kingston recalls when he saw the camels. "It was close to Val Verde," he said. "I was eight or nine years old. We were traveling along the road with our ox teams and riding horses when we met a long train of queer looking animals, and it took several minutes for it to dawn upon

SPIRIT OF CHRISTMAS CALLS FOURTH HOARDED DOLLARS FOR PAMPA'S MARVELOUS VALUES

Paradise of Bargain Goods Here for Shoppers

There IS a Santa Claus, there is a Christmas spirit, and there is a quickening of business because the spirit of the season is one of generosity.

Generosity calls money from the sock and fills the stockings of children with gifts. This same spirit carried throughout the year would make business good indeed.

Pampa streets are busy because of Christmas business. Pampa is the shoppers' favorite trading point at this time of the year for good and very sufficient reasons. There are ample stocks of toys and gifts, manufactured to sell at the lowest prices in years. The goods available offer exceptional values both as to price and quality. The genius of American manufacturing has been put into everything offered this year.

There is a reason, of course; manufacturers know that business is harder to get and that shoppers have learned to expect 100 per cent values. A glance into Pampa show-windows reveals the myriad, things which will please recipients, inside, the crowded stores are filled with people and goods — and clerks. Scores of additional clerks are necessary to handle the Christmas business.

All the beauty which Christmas colors and decorations provide will make Pampa a very attractive city throughout the Christmas and New Year's season.

FOURTH IN AIR

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6. (P)—The United States stands fourth in relative air strength in comparison with other major powers.

This was stated today by F. Truette Davison, assistant secretary of war for air, who based his estimate on the full air strength this country could employ in a particular operation where armies, navies, and air forces would be used to their full capacity.

WRONG DIAGNOSIS? The place of the old "family doctor" in the general scheme of things would seem offhand, to be almost beyond the reach of change.

Surveying the whole field of medicine in the United States, the committee recommends that medical service be furnished largely by organized groups of physicians, dentists and nurses, set up around a hospital or clinic.

In all of this, obviously, there is something very like an approach to state medicine; and it is a little bit hard to see just what place would be left for the old-style general practitioner, who knows the names, case histories, dispositions and family skeletons of his patients and who is to them a sort of combination of healer and old family friend.

Indeed, the American Medical Association has already criticized the plan as an approach to socialized medicine. Spokesmen for the association have said that the proposal would "substitute mass production for private practice," to the harm of doctor and patient alike.

Back of it all, of course, there lies a fundamental economic problem. Many, many people cannot afford the medical care they need; at the same time many, many physicians are not making a living wage.

But it is just possible that the real cure lies deeper than a mere reorganization of the medical profession. The wage-earner's inability to pay for the care he needs, and the doctor's inability to get the income he deserves—aren't these a part of a larger problem whose solution depends on a restoration of economic health to the whole community?

In the long run, what we need to aim at is a restoration of prosperity on a broader and firmer base than we have ever had before.

GOVERNOR STERLING BELIEVES IN DRIVING AND HUNTING LICENSES

By CHARLES E. SIMONS. AUSTIN (AP)—Governor R. S. Sterling has become an advocate of a drivers' license law that would apply to every operator of a motor vehicle over the public highways.

The governor recently was shaken up in an automobile accident on the Austin-San Antonio road near Kyle. The automobile in which he was riding with Rep. Pat Dwyer of San Antonio was forced off the road and turned over a couple of times, inflicting painful bruises and cuts on both the governor and Dwyer.

Governor Sterling expressed the opinion that the driver of the automobile that caused the accident was "either drunk or crazy" and in any event should not be allowed to travel public roads and endanger traffic.

The governor strongly favored a universal drivers' license law, in discussing his probable action on a bill passed at the fourth called session of the legislature exempting farmers and stock raisers from the chauffeur's license law when operating their own trucks to carry their products to market.

A census recently taken in India indicated a population of approximately 361,000,000 as compared with 312,885,980 ten years ago.

Scanning New Books

By JOHN SELBY. NEW YORK—It is almost sufficient to say that John Erskine has been "at it again" to explain what his new "Tristan and Isolde" is like.

Erskine has been fortunate enough, after doing essays and other literary odd jobs, playing piano, lecturing and managing a music school, to find a formula for literary creation that seems infallible.

In this case he puts a good deal of emphasis on there being two Isolde's, and even more emphasis on the presence of Palamede in the story—Palamede having hitherto been rather slighted by historians, perhaps because, as Erskine suggests, he was too much of a gentleman, and a heathen Saracen as well.

Seven Stories. The seven pieces that make up Elizabeth Madox Roberts' "The Haunted Mirror" probably wouldn't sell to those magazines that pay high prices for tricky variations of the standard plots, highly glazed with young love.

HOOKS and SLIDES

WILLIAM BRAUCHER

Two Former Braves

Outfielder Lance Richbourg, an ex-Brave, is Exhibit B. He matriculated for baseball at Grand Rapids, in the old Central League 12 years ago, and now he has reached the ripe age of 33. The Braves found they could no longer use him, and he reached the Cubs on waivers last year. He is an eight-year man and can be depended upon to hit better than 300 but slipped rather badly in his last year at Boston.

Exhibit C is Bob Smith, a 33-year-old pitcher, who also is an ex-Brave. The Reds, badly in need of pitchers to help Red Lucas, will find in Smith a pitcher who probably will win 10 games if the going is friendly.

Moore May Click

Johnny Moore, Exhibit D, is the kind of ball player that Donie Bush's teaching will make him into a valuable piece of baseball property. Until this year he had been something of a baseball commuter, between Reading, Los Angeles and Chicago. He is a workman like young fellow, with possibilities. He can hit .300 in the National League just about whenever he wants to. Maybe he didn't want to in the world series in which he batted .000 in two games, going to bat seven times.

The Reds have passed along one of the most colorful figures in the game one guy who is sure to pack them in at Wrigley field, and have received in return four players who are pretty sure to offer problems to the Red management.

Some Problems

Of course, Donie Bush has met problems before. You might say that when he was boss of the White Sox he was up against even bigger problems than the Reds of 1932 now. At least he has Red

Lucas to hit them for him, and to pitch when not hitting.

Mr. Hafey, whose best baseball days are behind him, may be classed as another problem. George Grantham, another good hitter, is not a sure felder. Bush may settle that problem by putting Grantham on first base where he won't have to get in the way of so many ground balls.

Hollywood Sights

By ROBBIN COONS.

HOLLYWOOD—Rambles behind the reels:

The precarious livelihood of the professional movie extra is made more difficult and hard times than that of any of her craftsman or laborer hereabouts.

In other cities a mechanic out of a job seeks new employment in other machine shops, a taxi driver in similar dress hunts another taxi to drive, and a waitress makes the rounds of the restaurants. But here mechanic, taxi driver, waitress, all perhaps after seeking in vain in their respective fields, may turn to the casting director's window as solution to their plight.

The chances are against them, nevertheless they do "clutter up the offices," as one professional told me the other day, and make it more difficult for the job-givers to separate the "real talent"—his own words—from the "intruders."

Stop-Gap Jobs. "When business picks up generally," he said, "these people will go back to their jobs, and leave the movie business to those who are interested in it as a career."

Reri, Tahitian heroine of "Tabu," will be back in Hollywood and "hopes to make a picture," she postcards from Berlin. First, however, she'll work the stages of Berlin, Paris and London.

Oliver Twist Again. When Herbert Brenon brings "Oliver Twist" to the screen as a talkie it will be at least the third time the Dickens classic has offered inspiration to a director. The screen's first Oliver, within memory, was dainty Marie Dorso, star of more than a decade ago—and what has become of her, by the way?—and its second was Jackie Coogan. Brenon has not selected his cast, but Jackie's brother, Robert, may have "matured" enough since "Skipper" to be a possibility.

What Zasu Pitts' weaving hands are in the Hollywood feminine contingent, Leatrice Tracy are becoming among the men stars—superlative authors. And getting recognition, too.

HOLLYWOOD—Clyde Beatty will be one film star who never uses a double and probably couldn't if he wished.

One of the films in the current zoo cycle is "The Big Cage," based upon the life story of this 27-year-old Ohioan who has thrilled hundreds of thousands with his daring in exhibitions with lions, leopards and other wild beasts.

Beatty himself is starred, and after watching him demonstrate his act recently I dare say none of Hollywood's intrepid doubles would swap places with him even for an instant.

Armed only with a chair, a long whip and a pistol loaded with blank cartridges, Beatty presents 140 pounds of sheer courage and determination as he stands alone in the cage surrounded by two or three dozen snarling animals, and of which may leap at him from behind at any moment.

No Soft Job. Aside from being constantly alert, muscles taut, Beatty doesn't look nervous in the least, and it's no tame, toothless aggregation of movie animals he has around him.

He cracks his whip, infuriates them, and they charge. He fends them off with his chair and just in case they get too mean he fires his pistol in the air, covering them.

But his mastery of the beasts seems more mental than physical, and an onlooker would suspect that this young man never enjoys himself more than when he is in the cage. In a lather of perspiration from his exertions.

Yes, even in Hollywood, where jobs are scarce as the next place, I don't think Mr. Beatty will have any competition in his particular art.

Needed: A Song Bird. In the early days of the talkies much confusion was caused on sound stages by the intrusion of insects, birds, bats and other winged creatures difficult to locate and put out. Their noise interfered with recording, of course.

But now here is a studio actually in trouble because it can't find a bird to "sing its heart out" on a limb near the scene of an airplane crash—one of those dramatic contrasts, you know.

Canyon Heifer Has Butterfat Record

CANYON, Dec. 6. (AP)—An 18-month-old heifer, Tarzan's Sybil Girl, owned by Tierra Blanca Farms at Canyon, was the youngest cow in the United States to produce 50 pounds of butterfat during August. Her production was 51.91 pounds.

Tierra Blanca owned eight other Jerseys, two of them under two years old, which qualified for the 50-pound roster of the American Jersey Cattle club during August, a month when production usually is lower because of hot weather.

One of the honor cows was You'll Do's Blanche Gypsy, grand champion of the Panhandle-Palms Dairy show at Plainview, whose production was 80.49 pounds.

ROBBERS STAB TWO. EL PASO, Dec. 5. (AP)—Walter E. Burgess, of Redlands, Calif., was fatally stabbed here early yesterday, apparently by robbers. About a block away, a young unidentified Mexican was stabbed to death a short time later. Both appeared to have been robbed. Three men were seen to run away when Burgess fell mortally wounded, witnesses told officers. He died without regaining consciousness. He was the son of Grant Burgess of Redlands.

BOOKER, Dec. 5. (AP)—Dr. I. T. Smith of this city has brought enough babies into the world in the last 19 years to make a city twice the size of Booker. He has attended 1,625 births since coming here in 1913. "Where are they now?" is the question the chamber of commerce would like to have answered.

West Texans About 2,000 Years Ago Were Snail-Eaters and Cud-Chewers and Sat While Sleeping

DEL RIO, Dec. 6. (AP)—Shades of delectable dainties! Millions of them consumed by the earliest West Texans were excavated by the Jackson archaeological party who completed exploration of Seminole caverns recently. The caverns are located about 50 miles west of Del Rio.

Small-eaters were our earliest West Texans. Countless numbers of shells were excavated in the kitchen middens of Seminole caverns, where a priceless collection of anthropological data, including six skeletons, hundreds of arrows, bows, flint knives and ornaments, were found.

A description of the findings permits a reconstruction of the life of the inhabitants of the caverns 2,000 years ago. Judging by the skeleton and skull of the cave man, he is classified with that race about which very little is known, the Basket Weavers, Flat Tops, or Cud Chewers. He was a short, squat, fellow of low mentality and fierce determination — if the lower jaw bone is to mean anything more than that it was developed to that extent by cud chewing. Of necessity he was industrious.

He hunted with bow and arrow and made his kill of small animals with a rabbit stick, resembling the Australian boomerang. He fished with nets made of lechuga or some corresponding fiber, bits of which were unearthed.

Prickly Pear Hats. With the animal skins derived from his hunting, which his squaw dressed, the caveman rudely fashioned clothing for the winter months, since no clothing was needed at other seasons in this section. To fasten his garments together, he used guajilla fiber, sewed with polished bone awls, many of which were included in the collection. On his feet he wore barrachas made of woven fiber and held in place by strips of fiber and held in place by two thin great toe and fastening at the ankle. His headgear was a peaked helmet made of two flat prickly pear leaves sewed together by washukta fibers. About his neck he wore conk shell, a strand six inches long and three inches wide, punctured by five holes drilled at different angles in the shells.

The skeletons, found in a sitting position, told of the age-old superstition prevalent among the Indians of a happy hunting ground where one must be sitting ready at an instant's notice to die.

Finding of a crude egg-shaped abrading stone, weighing approximately 300 pounds, indicated that perhaps during the long summer afternoons when heat made hunting impossible, the native passed the time polishing bows, sharpening arrows and filing the awls and flint knives. The exploring party dug an eight-foot trench, 2 feet wide and 100 feet long through the flooring, requiring the work of five men for four weeks.

Those making up the party sent out by the archaeological department of the University of Texas were: A. T. Jackson, head of the expedition; Jack Laughlin, Del Rio; C. A. Mathers, Liberty Hill; Mack Henderson, Llano, and Eddie McCarsen, Comstock.

The precarious livelihood of the professional movie extra is made more difficult and hard times than that of any of her craftsman or laborer hereabouts.

In other cities a mechanic out of a job seeks new employment in other machine shops, a taxi driver in similar dress hunts another taxi to drive, and a waitress makes the rounds of the restaurants. But here mechanic, taxi driver, waitress, all perhaps after seeking in vain in their respective fields, may turn to the casting director's window as solution to their plight.

The chances are against them, nevertheless they do "clutter up the offices," as one professional told me the other day, and make it more difficult for the job-givers to separate the "real talent"—his own words—from the "intruders."

Stop-Gap Jobs. "When business picks up generally," he said, "these people will go back to their jobs, and leave the movie business to those who are interested in it as a career."

HARVEST DAY IS CELEBRATED BY METHODIST WOMEN

GATHERING IS FINAL ONE OF CURRENT YEAR

NEW MEMBERSHIP FOR CIRCLE GROUPS ANNOUNCED

Harvest day, an annual festival marking the year's close for all Methodist Women's Missionary societies, was observed by the First Methodist group of Pampa yesterday with a luncheon at the church. Sixty-five women attended.

Gold paper was used to decorate the table, made more festive with decorations of pumpkins, potatoes, turnips, and carrots. The menu included chicken and dressing, cranberry sauce, slaw, candied yams, mince-meat pie, and coffee.

Following invocation by Mrs. C. A. Long, Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, toastmistress, proposed a toast to Mrs. W. Purviance, past president, and Mrs. Purviance in turn suggested a toast to the present presiding officer, Mrs. Joe W. Shelton.

After proposing a toast to officers and members, Mrs. Hunkapillar announced the program, giving minute personality sketches of the participants.

Roy W. Tinsley, accompanied by the piano by Mrs. F. P. McKimling, gave a violin solo, and a piano quartet, composed of Mrs. L. N. Atchison, Mrs. Fred Cullum, Mrs. C. M. Barrier, and Mrs. L. A. Estes played "March Militaire." A one-act play was read by Mrs. Paul Jensen.

Stunts Given

Then came the following three stunts: An impromptu artist, Mrs. Sherman White; Dr. Googehelmer and his ten-in-one medicine, Mrs. John B. Hessey and helpers; pipe organ stunt, Mrs. Carl Sturgeon.

A regular meeting then was conducted by Mrs. Shelton, who used "Our Gifts to Christ" as a devotional subject. She was assisted by Mrs. J. M. Fitzgerald, Mrs. John B. Hessey, and Mrs. Albert Wood.

The meeting was the last of the year, the next gathering to be the second Monday in January.

New Circles Announced

Mrs. Shelton announced the following circle membership groups:

Circle 1—Mrs. Albert Wood, chairman, Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, study leader, and Mesdames Bill Alexander, L. M. Walter, N. D. Jiver, Carl Boston, S. C. Evans, Kretz, T. L. Certain, C. L. Children To Be Given Real Tree And Many Gifts

Santa's pre-Christmas promises will be carried into effect for the less fortunate children of Pampa on the morning of December 24, when a big Christmas tree party will be held for a selected group.

Churches of the city, with the cooperation of the Welfare Board, Salvation Army, Elks, and other organizations, will hold the tree at a point to be selected and will have the names of the children on the gifts when Santa Claus arrives. It is believed that not less than 500 less fortunate children will be given tickets to the tree by the time the organizations complete their lists.

Only those children known to be of the less fortunate families will be given tickets.

Those who attend will hear an appropriate program and will receive candies and fruits in addition to toys, if the expected response is made by the community. Clubs and church organizations will have meetings in which each member will take toys. Last year more than 300 children children were made happy at a similar event.

The tree will be held at 10 a. m., December 24.

SANTA and the MAGIC DOLL

SYNOPSIS: A lazy Gnome carving a soldier in Santa's toyshop lets his knife slip, and makes a very ugly clown that Santa names Pinocchio. As a penalty the Gnome must make the most beautiful doll ever created in the toyshop.

Chapter II. THE BEAUTIFUL DOLL.

THE lazy Gnome had no easy task before him when he was ordered to make the most beautiful doll ever created in Toyland.

You remember, Santa had ordered him to do so after he made Pinocchio, the clown with the long nose.

He thought and thought, and the more he sat around and thought, the less he seemed to know. So he went outside and sat on a snowball feeling so blue that a group of little snow elves came and sat by him.

"We know somebody who would help you," one of them whispered. "Who in the world could it be?" asked the Gnome.

"The Snow Princess," they answered.

"Please take me to her," said the Gnome. So they all romped off to a hill of snow where the sun was shining so bright the whole hill glistened, and right on top was a beautiful, tiny throne of ice on which sat the little Snow Princess. Her whole robe looked like diamonds and she wore a tiny crown of star-shaped snowflakes.

"I've been thinking about you," she said to the Gnome. "My fairies make ice-pictures on windows and hang lacy icicles around the roofs,

Amarillo Budget Slashed In Half

AMARILLO, Dec. 6 (AP)—Amarillo's city budget for the year shows that operating expenses have been cut in half.

Expenditures for the year ending April 15, 1933, will total $411,477.11, compared with $755,912.72 in 1930-31, and $673,055.63 in 1931-32. Present operating costs, however, are $30,000 a month, or $360,000 a year.

Mayor Ross D. Rogers said a large part of the saving was brought about by the elimination and consolidation of offices.

Every department is operating with the least number of employees without impairment to service," he said. "Further savings will be put into effect wherever, and whenever, possible."

warm as fur.

"Now my gift," said the Snow Princess, and she stepped down from her throne to place a tiny crown of flashing stars on the doll's head and to hand her a little wand, tipped by a single star.

"Your name will be Inga, the Beautiful," she said. "And no matter where you go the snow fairies will see that you are safe and happy."

Just as the moon started to come up the Gnome, after many thanks to the Princess, started back to Santa with Inga, the Beautiful.

Tomorrow: Inga Meets Santa.

CHICAGO, Dec. 5 (AP)—Sixteen-year-old Charles Bertrand Arnsack Jr., was sentenced to one to 14 years in Pontiac reformatory today for killing his step-grandmother, Mrs. Ellen O. Saxe.

Investment income and real estate rentals received by Washington university are estimated this year at $200,000 less than formerly.

Miss Harrison Chosen Teacher

Miss Mattie Lou Harrison of Hereford has been employed as music teacher for the Hopkins schools to fill the unexpired term of Miss Katherine Brooks, who resigned recently to become the bride of "Lefty" Freshour.

Miss Harrison is a graduate of West Texas State Teachers college, Canyon, with a Bachelor of Science degree in music, and has served as teacher of public school music in the Friona schools for the last two years. She will have charge of the glee club and orchestra work.

Woman Spends $1.50 Month—Feeds Her Family of Twelve

GAINESVILLE, Dec. 6 (AP)—A Cooke county woman has learned to feed her family on an average of $1.50 per month, and the accomplishment is the more remarkable because the family numbers twelve.

Mrs. Herman Speake, 4-H club pantry demonstrator of the Mt. Pleasant community, has 1100 containers of canned vegetables, fruits and meat, and there will be approximately 200 more cans added this winter, as there are two beeves and eight hogs to be killed and prepared for canning. All of the food canned was grown on the Speake farm, excepting tomatoes and d peaches.

Six children of the Speake family are attending Gainesville public schools, and they brought with them a large portion of the canned goods from the family pantry with which they prepare their own meals at their rooming house.

GIFTS That Plug In—

Will be especially welcome this year because they are useful. Gifts that plug into your electric sockets are not just ordinary gifts, they DO SOMETHING. They toast your bread, percolate your coffee, curl your hair, light your cigarette and literally dozens of other things you haven't thought of.

It is wonderful that the same wires that bring heat to make coffee, toast bread or cook a meal, will also bring cold to refrigerate your food. Which reminds us that an electric refrigerator is a Christmas Gift which will be appreciated by the whole family, especially Mother.

No Social Swank About Mrs. Garner

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6. (AP)—Mrs. John N. Garner has declared for southern hospitality rather than social swank, and gave up her seat in the speaker's box of the house of Texas visitors.

"This is our banner busy day," said Mrs. Garner, "pounding the typewriter keys."

"We can't even take time to eat in a day light this."

"If I stay down here while the house is in session, it will give me a fine chance to get some work out."

However, she wore one of her prettiest dresses, dark blue crepe with a cleverly contrived collar of Scotch plaid with blue predominating.

Its novelty lay in tailored tabs in the lapels which followed the V front, to turn trickily at the left side, to a tailored sash on the left side.

She graciously greeted all who sought her out in her sequestered first floor office at the capitol, and showed some of them her new coffee percolator.

It was sent to her by Scott Ferris and Ben Barnett, of Oklahoma City, who had read that the percolator which was used on her busy days last session had disappeared—probably the prize of souvenir hunters.

Hardly had she got the first percolator dusted off when a second arrived from Charles Edison, son of the famous inventor.

"An Associated Press dispatch brings to my attention the baffling mystery story of the missing Garner percolator," Mr. Edison wrote.

"During these history-making days when the vice-president is waging such an energetic battle for the repeal of the eighteenth amendment, it seems thorough, incongruous that you should be denied the congressional privilege of a cup of good coffee."

Mrs. Garner beamed upon both percolators and went back to her desk.

HOW'S your HEALTH

RAW MILK AND TEETH

The development of sound teeth, it has been shown, can be influenced by diet, in which the important factors appear to be the presence of an adequate supply of vitamin D and calcium.

To this subject the director of dental studies at the London hospital dental school makes a new contribution advocating the liberal use of raw milk. According to the facts which he presents, the administration of a diet rich in vitamin D is in itself not adequate to prevent the development of dental caries, or tooth decay.

He cites in proof of his contention the fact that caries is found in 50 per cent of the Chinese coolies who work in Malay stripped to the waist.

These coolies are exposed to the powerful sun, and receive what might be considered the equivalent of adequate doses of vitamin D. Similar observations have been made in South Africa.

In milk, he claims, there is a balance of vitamin contents and an abundance of calcium in a particularly suitable form, which favors the development of sound teeth and therefore resistance to caries.

He advocates the use of raw milk for the reason that boiling or pasteurizations appears to alter and render ineffective part of its vitamin content.

Raw milk, he therefore urges, should form part of the daily food of the individual from the time that the child is weaned until 14 years of age.

There is, of course, one serious drawback to this recommendation and that is, that ordinary raw milk is not safe for human consumption. It raw milk is to be used, it must come from cattle tested and found free from tuberculosis.

Also, the milk must be handled with great care to prevent contamination.

NEW FIRST LADY SERVES UNEMPLOYED

Unemployment aid was one of the campaign points made by President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt, and here you see Mrs. Roosevelt (at right) engaging in active relief work. She helped serve food to unemployed women and their children at the Grand Central restaurant in New York.

"It's a SIX at $60 Less than Last Year."

It takes Values like this New Plymouth to start Business Going Again"

BY WALTER P. CHRYSLER

"We are all anxious for the return of better times. But I for one do not believe that better times will be brought back just by talking... or by merely waiting. Someone must start something... and with that idea we introduced the Plymouth Six.

"We made it a completely new car. We spent $9,000,000 on tools, equipment and research. Our raw material commitments amount to $42,000,000.

"We did all this because we were convinced that there are many people who can buy new cars now... if offered an outstanding value—So look at the new Plymouth before you buy."

PLYMOUTH engineers knew that you wanted a smooth surge of power... so they built a 70-horsepower Six with Floating Power! They knew that Americans hate to be squeezed in... and so they designed a full-sized family car!

They made it safer than other low-priced cars... by giving you hydraulic four-wheel brakes, a safety-steel body, a safety-glass windshield!

They achieved new economy of gas, oil, tires and upkeep.

NEW LOW PRICES: Business Coupe $495, Rumble Seat Coupe $545, 4-Door Sedan $575, Convertible Coupe $595; all prices F.O.B. factory. Convenient terms. Optional—Automatic Clutch $8; Duplate Safety Glass Windows—Coupe $10, Sedan $16.50.

SANTA RECEIVES LETTERS FROM MANY KIDDIES

Dear Santa Claus: I'm a little boy looking for you. Please bring me a "tryke" and some boots and candy. Your friend, DON LANE.

Dear Santa: I am so glad that you're coming to Pampa. I hope I get to see you. Please bring me a wind-up train, pop gun, car, and saxophone. Your friend, JOHN ROBERT LANE.

Dear Santa Claus: I am a little girl 6 years old and I have been pretty good. Am going to try to better, though. I would like to have a doll and big doll bed, ball, suit case. I have a little sister. Please bring her a doll and vacuum cleaner. I will be looking for you Christmas. Love, NORMA JEAN and SUE DODSON.

Dear Santa Claus: I am a little girl 5 years old and I live with my grandparents. I love them and help them lots. I would like to have a nice doll, electric stove, set of dishes, and some story books. This will be enough for me. Remember the other little girls with the other toys. Lovingly, COLEEN MCLEMORE.

Dear Santa: Please bring me a doll trunk, a tricycle, a pair of house shoes. I will be 5 years old Christmas day and try to be a good girl. CRMA JEAN MCCARTY.

Dear Santa Claus: It is warm today. My name is Doris Taylor. How many reindeer do you have? I want a doll for Christmas. The doll I want is a boy doll. We are making the little town of Bethlehem. With best wishes, DORIS TAYLOR.

Dear Santa Claus: How are you, old fellow, and how are your reindeer? I have been a good boy and want to see you Dec. 8 and I want to see Mrs. Santa Claus, too. Please bring me a BB gun and my brother one, too. One day my brother said that Santa Claus made the toys that he saw in Penney's. CHARLES HARRELL.

Dear Santa Claus: How are you, old fellow? This is Eloise Taylor, and I am in the low third grade

Dear good Santa: I sure was and hope to be in the high third at Christmas. I hope you have enough toys to supply us all. How is Mrs. Santa Claus? Do you have any clarinets? If so, I want one, please. I live 3 miles west of Pampa, and don't forget to drop by my home. With love, ELOISE TAYLOR.

Dear Santa: Please bring me a doll in a wardrobe trunk, a pair of skates, and a pair of house shoes. I am 7 years old and go to Woodrow Wilson school. Please remember all the other little children. As ever, MITA ROSE MCCARTY.

Dear Santa Claus: How are you? And your reindeer? I am fine. I am writing this letter for my language lesson. I want a big doll and a big buggy. A small tricycle. How is Mrs. Santa Claus? I want a table, too, and a set of dishes. Best wishes, SYBIL RICHARDS.

Dear Santa: I have been a real good girl this year. I wish you would bring me a car with a horn and trunk on it. Don't forget to bring some good oranges, candy. Your little friend, VERNELL BYNUM.

Dear Santa: I want you to come to Pampa. Bring me a football, a cedar chest, and a caterpillar. With love, BILLY DENSON.

Dear Santa: I want you to come to Pampa. Bring me a watch and a ring. With love, LAVAUGHN TAYLOR.

Dear Santa: How are you getting along, jolly old fellow? How are your reindeer getting along? I want a football and a watch. With best wishes, W. C. EPPERSON.

Dearest Santa Claus: I am a little girl 6 years old. I have tried to be pretty good this year. I would like to have a doll with roller skates in a suitcase and a story book. My little brother is 3 years old. He wants a fire truck, a little gun, and a big rubber ball. Oh, yes, be sure to bring mother, dad and our big sister something. With love, your friend, CLARANCE AND BETTY JEAN JONES.

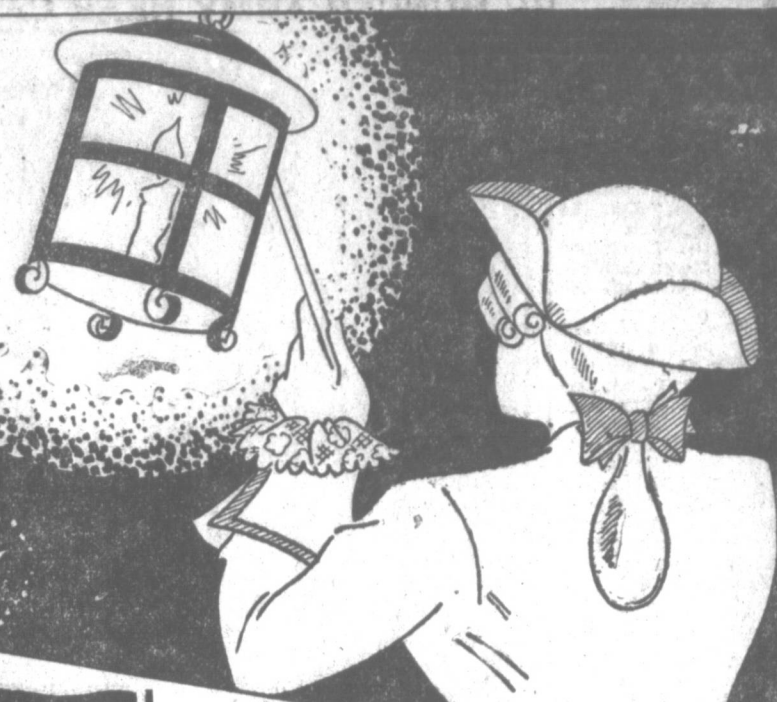

Dear Santa Claus: How are you? I hope you are all right. I want a cornet and gloves. With best wishes, EDWARD VINCENT.

Dear Santa Claus: I would like to be with you. How are your reindeer today? Is it cold at the North Pole? I want a cowboy suit. Best wishes, J. R. MCKAMY.

MULE LIKES CATTLE
CROWELL, Dec. 6. (AP)—W. L. Ricks, a dairyman here, has a mule that recently attempted to adopt a newly born calf. So determined was the mule to mother the calf that it had to be hobbled before it would desist.

For the past several years the mule has shown a friendly interest in cows and some months ago attempted to adopt a two-year-old heifer.

GOOD CHEER

works display is to commence, six-9-inch salutes are to be fired into the sky, exploding with brilliant illumination and electric flashes, announcing to the public that the big event is about to begin.

The grounds will be illuminated by 12 red and green flares, then the following pieces will be set off one by one:

Weeping Willow—Flight of three 4-pound weeping willow rockets which, on reaching their altitude, will throw out a mass of golden fire, taking the shape of a willow tree with its long, hanging branches.

Parachutes—Flight of three 4-pound parachute rockets, releasing at a great height floating stars of heavy caliber and rare brilliancy, suspended from parachutes, which change colors several times before disappearing in the distance.

Flame flower—Bursting at a high altitude, these 9-inch red shells leave a trail of flame in their wake. Pansy blossoms—Produced by the discharge of 9-inch blue and yellow shells, intermingling to create a bed of pansies in full bloom.

Chinese Jade—Two 9-inch green shells, spreading over a large area in the heavens, releasing volumes of jade green trailing stars.

Electric Light—Three 3-pound electric rockets, bursting in mid-heaven where they form an Aurora Borealis with showers of electric jewels of emeralds and sapphire tints.

Golden Fancy—Three 3-pound golden rockets, spreading misty threads of fire which float through the air like billowy waves.

Startled Covey—Six large tourbillions rise madly from the ground as quail aroused by a hunter.

The Spectrum—Two 12-inch shells which break into all the colors of the spectrum, with all their different shades and tones, forming a riot of color in the sky.

Splitter Comet Shell—When these shells break high in the air, the heavens are filled with stars which split into shapes resembling spiders before falling to the earth. They are 12 inches in diameter.

Tree of Liberty—This is a beautiful ground display piece.

Ruby Jewels—Two 12-inch red shells releasing hundreds of ruby stars, spreading over a great area.

Flight of Golden Pheasants—These are six large tourbillions.

Surprise Shell—One 9-inch, 3-shot artillery shells. This is a combination of three shells in one, surprising in the brilliancy of their coloring.

Holly Branches—One 9-inch, 2-shot fancy red and green shell. The intermingling colors of this shell remind one of bright red holly berries with their leaves of green.

Ocean Spray—One 9-inch, 2-shot shell, breaking waves flashing their silver spray on high.

Then will come a discharge of three large batteries of colored stars. Showers of Gold—A 12-inch, 2-shot gold magnesium shell, releasing stars of trailing gold, drooping as they fall earthward.

Garden of Roses—A 12-inch, 2-shot shell producing a dazzling effect, transforming the sky into a fairy land of color and beauty.

Shamrock—12-inch, 2-shot shells of green with the dainty leaf of Ireland's favorite plant.

Niagara Falls—Spectacular piece 25 feet in length.

District Is Divided Into Four Sections

CANYON, Dec. 6. (AP)—Sections and sub-sections of district No. 1, Texas Interscholastic League, for basketball eliminations have been announced by W. E. Lockhart, director general.

The 22 counties in the district were divided as follows: Section 1, sub-section A: Briscoe, Swisher, and Castro; sub-section B: Randall, Farmer, and Deaf Smith.

Section 2, sub-section A: Carson, Armstrong, and Donley; sub-section B: Gray, Roberts, and Hemphill.

Section 3, sub-section A: Oldham, Potter, and Moore; sub-section B: Hartley, Dallam, and Sherman.

Section 4, sub-section A: Hutchinson and Hansford; sub-section B: Ochiltree and Lipscomb.

After the explosion, Kleinman was found dead in bed, with the tube of a gas heater under the cover. Physicians said he apparently had been dead several hours before the explosion occurred.

SANTA CLAUS—SETTLERS—

Overton, chairman; F. L. Stallings, Harry Walker.

Shoppers' Paradise. While SANTA DAY ushers in the official Christmas season, it does by no means mark the end of the interesting days ahead for the children.

Pampa stores are filled with toys and marvelously priced gifts for youngsters and oldsters. The city is a shoppers' paradise. Shores of clerks have been added to enable the shoppers to be promptly served.

Soon Pampa streets will be gaily colored with Christmas bulbs. Windows already are filled with pretty gifts in clever arrangements. Homes, too, will be decorated, with a prize awaiting the winner of the decoration contest. Another prize will go to the firm with the prettiest window. The American Legion is selling Christmas trees in all sizes and prices.

Come to Pampa on SANTA DAY, and remember that Pampa is Santa Claus' fairyland, filled with toys sent from the old fellow's own factories.

BE SURE TO ATTEND SANTA DAY NEXT THURSDAY!

us what they were. "We'd heard about the army experiment down here in Texas of trying to use camels for beasts of burden and we finally awoke to the fact that we were witnessing that experiment."

"I recollect very clearly that there were four drivers, Arabs I suppose, wearing red coats and blue pants, riding the animals and tending the column. Our horses cut up right smart. It's just a picture in my mind's eye from the past. But I reckon I saw history in the making."

The government is said to have given up the experiment about 1870 when it was found camels were not adaptable to West Texas.

JANESVILLE, Wis.—Peck's Bad Boy had nothing on Clarence Smith's pet black crow.

Among the bird's misdeeds police listed: Theft of a letter advising Maitland Farmer of the death of his mother.

Solving a woman's weekly washing by pulling out all the clothes pins as it hung on the line.

Theft of groceries and odds and ends from porches.

Condemned to die, "Blackie" won a reprieve when Clarence tearfully promised to keep him locked up.

Vote For Self May Elect Man To John's Seat

BROWNSVILLE (AP)—If all the candidates now being discussed as prospects to run in the special election to fill John Garner's place in congress make the race, the one who can get his own and the vote of some other person in the district apparently will win.

Notwithstanding that less than half a dozen persons have actually announced, the political ambitions of the district's population, kept dormant by Mr. Garner's strength, are forcing literally hundreds of prospects into the field.

Those who have formally announced are county Judge Oscar C. Dancy of Cameron county and Representative Milton H. West both of Cameron county and residents of Brownsville; Charles R. Tips of Three Rivers, and Gordon Griffin of McAllen, a leader of the good government league in Hidalgo county.

Among others being considered or "urged" by their friends are Tom Murray of Mercedes, chamber of commerce man and former Boy Scout executive; Judge Volney W. Taylor of Brownsville, Mrs. Volney W. Taylor of Brownsville, vice-presdent of the Texas Federation of Women's club; W. R. Montgomery of Edinburg, former state representative; D. P. Strickland of Mission; Sid Hardin of Mission, recently elected county attorney; Hal Brennan and R. Lee Bobbitt, former state attorney general of Laredo.

Hobbs Must Still Have Lot of Dough

LITTLEFIELD, Dec. 5. (AP)—More than three years ago D. C. Hobbs, then owner of the Yellowhouse gin, gave Roy Davis a check for a 530-pound bale of cotton at the prevailing price of 16.60 cents a pound. The check was for $86.98. Another check was for $3.74 in payment for seed above ginning costs.

Davis placed the checks in a bill fold and somehow forgot them. A few days ago he found the checks while looking through the bill fold. The checks were presented to Mr. Hobbs, who in turn went to the First National bank here and cashed them.

Two Dead After Gas Explosion

TAYLOR, Dec. 6. (AP)—Two persons were dead today after an explosion of accumulated gas wrecked a boarding house here.

Lydia Queton, 19, a waitress at the boarding house, died early today of burns. The body of Louis Kleinman, 58, wholesale dry goods merchant of Dallas, was found in bed in his room soon after the explosion last night.

Two other persons were burned badly but were reported as improved. They were Oscar Lau, who lived in a room adjacent to that occupied by Kleinman, and Mrs. A. Schartz-Bohler, daughter of Mrs. E. W. Harver, who operated the rooming house.

Lau was believed to have ignited
