

TEXAS GARNER MEN STAGE FIGHT

Carrier Pigeon Notes, One Fake, Cause Stir In Lindbergh Inquiry

Some of the bitterest calamity howlers are men who wanted to get so rich they could ignore the problems of the poor, with whom they find themselves classed.

There is more in life than material prosperity. What are we doing to lift the depression of souls, of intellects, of fellowship one one with another?

The nation is suffering from the cost of idle equipment, the most important of which is the think-tanks.

But, speaking of the depression, there are some people who, fortified in some office, have not learned of it and look with pity upon anyone who talks seriously about it.

Many papers note we are having "prevailing spring weather." Yep, how these winds do prevail.

That type of person who thinks every crime is an "inside job" must be disappointed in the Lindbergh case up to now.

Those who believe implicitly in heredity may believe that young Lindbergh is merely off on a lonesome jaunt of his own choosing.

Roswell has just held a republican city primary. Roswell usually goes democratic, but the republicans usually make a race of it. Two-party politics is unknown in the Panhandle, but if immigration continues strong in the next few years the G. O. P. may start "making" the city ticks also.

Congratulations
Dimmitt high school girls do not know that small town lasses are supposed to be meek and docile in the presence of their sisters from the bigger cities. Saturday night they retained their state basketball championship by defeating all opposition at Celeste. . . . Small towns are not doomed to obscurity. They can gain fame and honors by sticking together and working harder than their opposition. More power to them, and may there be more Dimmitts!

BOYS ADMIT DECEPTION

TIME PASSES WITHOUT SINGLE TANGIBLE CLUE

JERSEY CITY, N. J., March 21 (AP)—Henry (Red) Johnson, sailor suitor of Betty Gow, the Lindbergh baby's nurse, was exonerated by local police of any complicity in the kidnaping. Johnson was picked up in Connecticut shortly after the kidnaping and was later subjected to lengthy examination here and in Newark.

HOPEWELL, N. J., March 21 (AP)

Investigators in the Lindbergh kidnaping were excited for a time today by two notes, supposed to have been found on carrier pigeons. One was quickly revealed to be a hoax and the other could not be verified.

The investigators were otherwise without any tangible result in their long search for the missing baby. The ten o'clock bulletin of the New Jersey state police, issued by Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, said the two notes several hours later boys in east Stroudsburg, Pa., admitted writing one of them as a prank and tying it to the leg of a dead pigeon.

The other note was reported to have been in code and found on a bird beaten down in a storm in Connecticut. The informant of the police said he did not see the note and he refused to name a local bootlegger who he said decoded it. "All lines unsafe. Kid in yacht. Making no port. Well-trained care outside United States jurisdiction. Return bird."

Missing Plane Hunted in Storm

STUEBENVILLE, Ohio, March 21 (AP)—Authorities here were notified this afternoon that two sacks of air mail and part of a pilot's uniform, believed to be from a missing T. W. A. mail plane, had been found on the Riverview country club course five miles north of Steubenville.

The sheriff and a party of officers left immediately to search the region, in the belief that the plane, carrying Pilot Hal George and Mrs. Dr. Carrol S. Cole, passenger, had made a forced landing or crashed in that vicinity.

Residents here reported that a plane passed over Steubenville about 3 a. m., when the weather was very "thick" and that the ship was so low it almost struck the upper reaches of the Fort Steuben bridge over the Ohio river.

If there's an abnormal demand for the new civic bonds which have been issued in Barcelona, Spain, that probably will be because lovely Lillian Ellis has increased their face value. The features of the famed Continental actress, pictured above, have been reproduced on the securities.

NEWS FLASHES AT PRESS TIME

SAN ANTONIO, March 21 (AP)—Second Lieut. William Lamar Parkham, 23, of Nashville, Ga., student officer at Ran Field near San Antonio, was killed today when the plane he was flying crashed near Marion, a mile west of the huge airfield.

NICE, March 21 (AP)—Prince Nicholas of Rumania told the Associated Press today he was going back home to take up his old place in the court of his brother, King Carol.

BRADENTON, Fla., March 21 (AP)—Charles Gelbert, holdout shortstop of the St. Louis Cardinals, today signed a one-year contract. Although no figures were given out, it was reported he received between $9,000 and $10,000. He had asked for $12,500 and had been offered $7,500, or $500 more than his previous 3-year contract had called for.

WARREN, O., March 21 (AP)—John De Marko, 30, of Youngstown, the second of two men indicted in connection with the kidnaping of 11-year-old James De Jute, Jr., of Niles, today pleaded guilty to a charge of harboring and concealing a kidnaped person and was sentenced to one to 20 years in the state penitentiary.

Dr. Brinkley Sues Howe and Paper For Large Sum

AMARILLO, March 21 (AP)—The Amarillo NEWS and GLOBE was sued today by Dr. J. R. Brinkley, goat brand specialist, for $600,000. Dr. Brinkley pleaded that he had suffered "humiliation, mental anguish and actual loss" because Editor Gene A. Howe, in his personal column, prescribed Brinkley as "the world's greatest bunk artist." He asked for $100,000 actual damages and $500,000 exemplary damages.

The statement appeared in Howe's column during a heated newspaper controversy between Howe and Fred R. Kreiger, editor of the Gruver (Texas) NEWS, over their physical characteristics. Kreiger, protesting because the NEWS-GLOBE published an article on conditions in Russia, written by A. B. McDonald of the Kansas City STAR, and because the newspapers carried cigarette advertisements, referred to Howe as "Louzy Jackass." He said the Amarillo man was lantern-jawed and an ignoramus. He sent the Amarillo editor a picture of a jackass to run at the head of his personal column, and Howe followed the suggestion.

Howe, in retort, said Kreiger was a "wind-blown hippopotamus" and that any editor who spelled lousy with one "z" should resign. Then, because Kreiger had been giving some publicity to Dr. Brinkley, Howe made the reference to the former Kansas physician. "It was the mildest statement in the whole controversy," Howe said. "It may be that again I have been talking when I should have been listening. It's the greatest compliment I ever had, however, to be sued for $600,000. I'm having my bankers investigate and may enter a counter-suit for $2,000,000."

BAND TO GIVE CONCERT

CITIZENS IN WELCOME TO BIG PARTY TODAY

Inclement weather prevented R. E. "Pop" Frazier and his band from playing a welcome for the Santa Fe and A. & M. college farm and home train at Mobeetie today, but a dozen Pampa citizens were on hand to greet the travelers. The train is due to arrive here this evening at 7:30 o'clock. It will be welcomed by the high school band. The special will carry exhibits showing tried methods of making the farm self-sustaining and of cutting production costs. Extension specialists will make brief talks on home improvement, dairying, poultry raising, advanced methods of livestock raising and farm practices. A live stock exhibition demonstration purposes will be carried on the train.

Exhibits of special interest to women and girls will be included. These have been arranged under the supervision of Mrs. Alfred Torfson, state home demonstration agent of the extension service.

Following the talks at the various stops, visitors will be invited to go through the train. Passenger coaches will be used for meetings if the weather is still inclement. An electrically amplified voice amplifier will be used if the weather will permit an open-air meeting. The talks will be readily heard by persons staying in their cars.

Exhibits will show results of new methods in producing better profits and better living on the farm. Featured will be dairying, poultry raising, livestock, soil improvement, home improvement. Information concerning 4-H and women's clubs will be available.

Local Men Attend Legion Convention

Dr. R. A. Webb, American Legion eighth district committee man, returned today from a convention of the adjoining seventeenth district at Brownwood. Cecil Miller accompanied him. Dr. Webb said the convention, with more than 600 registered delegates, was an excellent one. He asserted that an address by R. P. Backman, noted Dr. Molay speaker, was worth the trip. The subject was the Russian boy's opportunity under communism.

On the return trip, the local men were delayed in Hall county by a terrific dust storm.

Japan Opposes Withdrawal of Her Troops to International Settlement Area.

SHANGHAI, March 21 (AP)—New parleys for peace and new trenches for war were under way here today. Japanese and Chinese negotiators continued peace parleys under the auspices of neutral observers, while out along the Japanese front line to the northwest Japanese soldiers worked feverishly on new trenches, barbed wire barricades and sand bag redoubts. Those actually connected with the negotiations, the Chinese and Japanese representatives and the foreign officials, professed to see hope for success of the parleys but there Dallas Milk Producers Must Find Market at Once for 15,000 Gallons.

DALLAS, March 21 (AP)—A group of North Texas dairymen went ahead today with organization plans despite active opposition from several major concerns which ceased buying milk from them. Some were given outright to charitable organizations, while most of the rest was diverted to creameries which manifested no opposition to production.

Oklahoma Ice Laws Set Aside by Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, March 21 (AP)—Oklahoma laws restricting the sale of ice were set aside today by the supreme court. Justices Brandeis and Stone dissented from the majority opinion which held that the state had no power to interfere unnecessarily with private business of impose unnecessary restrictions on it.

The decision added that states had no power to enforce such laws as those in Oklahoma which might prevent persons who wanted to manufacture and sell ice from going into the business. States, however, the court said, might impose reasonable regulations under which anyone who desired might sell ice.

The case came from Oklahoma City, where the state had placed the sale of ice under the control of its corporation commission.

SPRING'S HERE BUT 'NORTHER' IS ITS HERALD

HOT SOUTHWESTERLY WIND IS BANISHED LAST NIGHT

FREAKISH WINTER HAS NO EQUAL FOR A LONG TIME

Spring arrived officially Sunday, but Pampa folk this morning had to look twice at the snow-whitened wind-swept ground to assure themselves that they were not well back into the winter season. Heavy garments, many of them packed away in the belief that the last norther had been experienced, were hastily donned this morning. There was not much snow, and the temperature was 28 degrees above zero, but the suddenness of the change made the norther especially biting. The forecast for tonight was fair, colder except in the Panhandle; Tuesday fair, rising temperature.

Yesterday the cotton patches of Donley county were swept of their sand and dust, which was strewn over Gray county until late in the afternoon, when the norther hit and very quickly blew the dust back to Donley again. The dust was so heavy that the sun could barely be seen, and robbed of its brightness, it looked like a moon. The wind early Sunday afternoon was almost led—but that was yesterday. This morning fine snow filled the air at intervals, but drifted or melted quickly. It was disagreeable this morning—and tomorrow will be to say the least, different.

WASHINGTON, March 21 (AP)—Spring is here—and for millions of Americans the twelve months past ended will linger in memory as "the year without a winter."

The last six months saw the most freakish weather in the history of the U. S. weather bureau. In the east, youngsters with new Christmas sleds waited in vain for the snow. It fell instead on orange groves of sunny California. Most of the U. S. A. hardly knew winter was around until he launched a cold wage in the second week in March.

From the Mississippi Valley eastward the mercury hovered from eight to ten degrees above normal levels.

In the far west it hung perversely six or eight degrees below the usual figure. The east section had the lightest snowfalls ever, while the west dug itself out of blizzard after blizzard.

The winter of 1931-32 may become famous as the winter that ended the drought. In states where drought hit hardest, two years ago, it was so wet the usual outdoor farm work was hindered. From one and a half to two times the normal precipitation fell throughout the country, except in the northwest and Florida. Most of it came as rain, not snow.

RAIL EXTENSION AGAIN IS DENIED BY COMMISSION

WASHINGTON, March 21 (AP)—The interstate commerce commission today reaffirmed its decision that the Abilene and Southern railway's proposed extension from Ballinger to San Angelo, Tex., is unnecessary. A division of the commission on August 7, 1930, refused the Abilene and Southern permission to extend its line between the two points. The distance of about 39 miles. Application was made for a hearing by a full commission. This was granted and today's decision followed.

The commission in making today's decision said, "from the tangible and certain facts of the situation we are unable to escape to conclusion that the need for the proposed extension is less, rather than more, than appeared when the decision by division 4 was made."

ALFRED PETSCH SAYS STERLING SURE TO RUN

SAN ANTONIO, March 21 (AP)—A fight, believed to be over the chairmanship of the Texas Garner-for-President steering committee, appeared to be well under way this morning as members of the committee, representatives from each of the state's senatorial districts, gathered for a meeting with representative Sam Mayburn, National chairman, here.

At the beginning of the session, Senator Walter Woodward of Coleman left the chairman's chair and his place was taken by Senator Hopkins of Gonzales. E. O. Thompson, mayor of Amarillo, made a fiery speech, as did also Maury Hughes of Dallas. Edgar Witt, lieutenant governor, also spoke.

Shortly before the meeting closed Representative Rayburn took the floor and delivered a speech, the text of which was kept secret. Representatives were present each of the senatorial districts, the districts being either represented by appointees of the Garner convention or by proxies.

Paul Wakefield, secretary to Governor Sterling, voted the proxy of Preston Martin of district No. 22. Each of those attending the meeting was pledged not to divulge events of the conference. Each maintained silence as he walked from the chamber.

TWO PAMPANS GIVEN COUNTY OFFICES ON SATURDAY

TEACHERS AND PARENTS HOLD FINAL SESSION

MRS. MURPHY CHOSEN PRESIDENT OF COUNCIL

Mrs. Murphy was elected president and Mrs. Claude Lard, secretary of the Gray County council of Parent-Teacher associations for next year when the last council meeting of this year was held Saturday in McLean. Both women are officers in the Baker Parent-Teacher association, Pampa.

MRS. W. B. MURPHY

Mrs. R. L. Appling of McLean was named vice-president and Miss Lela Little, Laketon, was chosen treasurer.

Luncheon was served by the McLean home economics class to 75 members and visitors of the council. The table was beautifully decorated with ferns and the colors green and white with a shamrock design used in stressing the St. Patrick theme in the menu.

Opening the business session at 1:30 was a song and prayer led by the Rev. W. A. Erwin and the introduction of special guests.

Mrs. V. E. Fatheree of Pampa was appointed parliamentary for the day. She also took prominent part in the meeting by discussing the Children's Charter. Superintendents in the county then were introduced.

Following an entertaining number by the McLean home economics department, a talk on the duties of a county health-nurse were made by Miss Ivan Mayfield of Pampa, public school health supervisor. Supt. E. C. Sanders of LeFors addressed the group on the wise use of leisure. Mrs. Coff entertained with a vocal solo.

Several talks pertaining to the county nurse project were made, and Mrs. Callahan, president of the Carson county council, spoke. An invitation to hold the first fall meeting in Laketon was accepted. Votes of thanks were given those who had offered their services in making the council's endeavors successful during the last year, and a talk was given by each new officer. Committee chairmen also were appointed.

Those attending from Pampa were County Supt. John B. Hessey, Judge S. D. Stennis, Principal R. A. Selby, Miss Ivan Mayfield, Mrs. Teresa Humphries, Miss Vida Cox, Mrs. V. E. Fatheree, Mrs. J. B. Matter Studied At Churches of Christ Sunday

The subject of the lesson-sermon was "Matter" in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, March 20.

Psalms 46:10 furnished the golden text: "Be still and know that I am God: I will be exalted among the heathen, I will be exalted in the earth."

The following passages from the Bible (II Peter 3:10,13) were included in the lesson-sermon: "The heavens shall pass away with a great noise, . . . the earth also and the works that are therein shall be burned up. Nevertheless, we, according to his promise, look for new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness."

Embraced in the service were also the following citations from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy—pages 267, 272:

"Every object in material thought will be destroyed, but the spiritual idea, whose substance is Mind, is eternal. The offspring of God start not from matter or ephemeral dust. They are in and of Spirit, it divine Mind, and so forever continue. . . . Under the supremacy of Spirit, it will be seen and acknowledged that matter must disappear."

Steadily increasing gold production in South Africa during the last three years was climaxed with a record output in 1931 of 10,874,145 ounces.

U. S. exports of cotton for the six months of the season ending with the beginning of 1932 increased 11 per cent over the same period of the year before.

EVERY INCH A HEROINE

To be a fitting mate for America's hero, it took a heroine. Thousands of girls would have deemed it triumphant to have been selected as the wife of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, but by far the majority of these would have lacked the willingness, to say nothing of the ability, to make the sacrifices, to brave the dangers, and to gain the achievements of Anne Morrow. For her, marriage to Lindbergh was not a goal toward which all her efforts were bent. It was, on the other hand, the very beginning of her remarkable progress.

Before her marriage, Anne's life indeed was an easy one. She had wealthy, brilliant, influential parents to whom she might turn for aid or sojice at any time. She was a quiet girl, whose education was in the refined atmosphere of girls' educational institutions. Her adventures were of an intellectual type, and poetry evidenced no small ability in that field. Physically, she was never very strong.

Then came a task seemingly impossible for a girl of Anne's type—but she did not flinch as she undertook to become a suitable life partner for a daring adventurer. Where is another man or woman who, with no more background for such work than was hers, who has learned aviation, navigation, and telegraphy in so short a time? Where is another person whose training has been of intellectual culture—not of adventure—who has so successfully braved such dangers of aviation?

Although she was in the scrutinizing presence of many reporters—hence, of the entire world—and although her every mistake would have been scorned as it was compared with Lindbergh's skill, Anne learned in a short time her husband's profession. Then she risked her life often not merely with him, but flying alone both in airplanes and in gliders. She has undertaken flights over water with him, acting as navigator and pilot by turns. She has ignored any desire she might have had for a full wardrobe and has made a trip as far away as the Orient with only few pounds of garments to displace precious fuel and food. She has defied headaches, and quite possibly heartaches, to be with her mate on breathtaking flights day and night, at home and abroad. She has known the anguish of a death message by cablegram. She has climaxed her experiences with motherhood.

And now, adding to the price she has willingly and courageously paid to be a worthy mate for a hero, Anne Morrow Lindbergh is experiencing with bravery the indescribable heartaches occasioned by the kidnaping of her son. Who will say that her record, measured in terms of masculine or feminine courage, is any less impressive than the colonel's?

WELFARE OF CHILD WILL BE STUDIED HERE ON THURSDAY

COUNCIL OF TEACHERS AND PARENTS TO MEET ALSO

The Parent-Teacher association study course will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Mrs. J. L. Lester's room at the high school and will be followed at 3:30 o'clock by a business meeting of the city council of Parent-Teacher associations.

The study class will be based on the following points of the children's Charter:

Point 6—Every child's right to promotion of health and wholesome recreation, discussed by Mrs. O. E. Palmer.

Point 7—Every child's right to a home environment which provides for the child's needs, Mrs. E. Bass Clay.

Point 8—Every child's right to a school environment equipped for sanitation, safety, and comfort, Mrs. J. C. Browning.

Several important business matters are to be considered.

Date for Dime; "Bureau" Helps Timid Students

COLUMBIA, March 21. (AP)—A "dating bureau" is the newest money making scheme of enterprising students at the University of Missouri.

A dime is the "service charge" asked by "Cupid" in his announcements on campus bulletin boards. Within 48 hours after establishment of the bureau, "Cupid" reported applications, accompanied by dimes, from 22 young men and 17 co-eds. For the more fastidious who object to "blind" dates, "special requests" will be filled whenever possible.

W. L. Simmons of White Deer made a business trip to Pampa Saturday.

SHE KNOWS HER ACCENTS

Gina Malo, actress, who formerly lived in Cincinnati, Ohio, is a master of accents, whether they be American, English, Hungarian, or French. She is now playing on the London stage.

LONDON, March 21. (AP)—Life is just one funny accent after another to Gina Malo, pretty American actress who really is just plain Janet Flynn, of Cincinnati, Ohio. Four years ago she went to Paris and had to remove the Broadway from her vowels to sing to stardom in the French versions of "Show Boat" and "Chicago."

An American producer took her back to New York under contract to keep the co-la-la manner, take the name of Malo, and not disclose to any one that she was really good Irish-American.

Sister MARY'S KITCHEN
By SISTER MARY, N.E.A. Service Writer
When meat is off the menu desserts made with eggs are most acceptable. Such desserts are high in fuel value and contribute protein to a marked degree. It is only when the dinner is light in food value that a pudding rich in milk and eggs is suitable.

Custard pie is a universal favorite but baked custards are rather more desirable when there are small children in the family and they furnish variety in flavor.

Caramel Custard
A perfectly made caramel custard is one of the most delicious desserts in a cook's repertoire and in a season when eggs are cheap she surely is justified in serving it often.

Use two cups milk, 3 eggs, 3-4 cup sugar, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon vanilla.
Scald milk, melt sugar in an iron frying pan until a light brown syrup. Stir sugar constantly while melting. Pour about half the caramel into the pudding mold, turning mold rapidly to coat entire surface. Add scalded milk to remaining caramel and cook and stir until melted. Remove at once from fire and add gradually to eggs slightly beaten. Add salt and vanilla and pour into prepared mold. Place in a pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven. Be sure that the water does not boil during the baking. Test by inserting the point of a silver knife in the center of the custard. If the knife comes out clean the custard is done. It takes about fifty minutes to bake a large custard. Individual custards will bake in thirty minutes.

When the custard is cold, unmold onto a chilled serving dish. The caramel will run down over the mold and form a sauce around it.

MONDAY'S MENU
BREAKFAST: Halves of grapefruit, cereal, cream, baked egg-rye muffins, milk, coffee.
LUNCHEON: Cream of onion soup, croissants, lettuce sandwiches, rhubarb Betty, grape juice.
DINNER: Spinach timbals, beaten potatoes, parsnip patty cakes, endive with hard cooked egg dressing, floating island, crisp cookies, milk, coffee.

BREAKFAST HUMOR—HEALTH KEY

Mary White, the daughter of Governor George White of Ohio, has proved herself a gracious "first lady" at 25, but she harbors no desire, she says, to become mistress of the White House, although her father is mentioned frequently as a possibility for the democratic nomination.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, March 21. (AP)—The First Lady of Ohio has no desire to be the First Lady of the United States.

She is Mary White, 25 years old, daughter of Governor George White, who probably will receive the first votes of the Ohio delegation for the presidential nomination at the democratic convention.

The duties of the Ohio executive mansion are quite enough for her, Miss White says.

One of these duties is looking after her father's health. "She has a convenient yardstick for that," he relates. "He is always in good humor at breakfast, which I consider a good sign that he is well," she says.

Another duty is housekeeping, and she and her younger sister, Charlotte, a student at Ohio State University, find the executive mansion quite big. Both like housekeeping, however.

Yet another is entertaining. Many parties, teas, and receptions have been held at the executive mansion in the first year Miss White has presided there. She reveals that a hostess at the executive mansion is likely to make a miscalculation in her supplies just as any other hostess might do.

"One day when entertaining a number of women at tea I exhausted the cookie supply," she relates. "But she adds with humor, "We made out anyway. Since then my supplies have been adequate for the occasion."

The first lady and her sister plan to add to their duties this summer. They are going to plant a flower and vegetable garden "bigger than ever." The one last summer was not large enough.

Another duty of a first lady, in the opinion of Miss White, is to keep shop talk out of the executive mansion.

"We do not discuss politics at home," she says. Although she was active in her father's campaign, she says she has no idea of how her father's prospects stand for the presidential nomination.

Since her mother's death three years ago Miss White has been the homemaker in the White household. Besides a sister she has three brothers, one a professor in an eastern college, and two who are students at Princeton. She like to fly, but does not aspire to be a pilot.

Stranded Aviators Are Given Help

SOUTH PORCUPINE, Ont., Mar. 19. (AP)—Weakened by hunger and injuries, seven men were located beside their airplane on a little lake in the midst of dense brush today after they had waited helplessly 60 hours in bitter cold and occasional snowstorms.

They had started by air to Timmins from Ottawa Wednesday and were forced down when within a half hour's flying time of their home. Ad Ehr, one of seven pilots who had searched the rugged country for them two days, located the men.

He found the pilot, Clare Leavens, Belleville, and the six passengers suffering with cuts and bruises received when the cabin monoplane crashed during a snowstorm on the lake of ice 20 miles east of Timmins.

Their injuries had prevented them from attempting the arduous journey to summon help and they remained by the plane, partaking sparingly of the half dozen sandwiches and seven chocolate bars that was their only nourishment during the long wait.

Ahr arranged to bring the seven men here in successive hops.

MANY PRESENT AT REVIVAL ON SUNDAY NIGHT

TEN ARE BAPTIZED AT CHURCH; OTHERS ALSO JOIN

Despite the dust storm last night a crowd filling the large main auditorium of the First Christian church listened intently to a strong earnest appeal for decision as Evangelist F. W. O'Malley preached on the text "Escape For Thy Life." The argument from scripture, illustrated by incidents from history, ancient and modern, was that religion was a question of life or death, involving personal action, prompt and decisive. As ancient cities and empires however great have crumbled to decay, so the trifling, vain, life of worldly indulgence and sinful practices—and associations will perish, and those who have not come into the salvation that is in Christ Jesus, by the obedience of the gospel, will be involved in the general doom, not forever from God and heaven.

The morning sermon was on "The Christian Teaching" showing the terms of salvation and the way of life taught in the New Testament scriptures.

There were ten baptisms, and six additions to the membership by transfer. With the other lights turned out, and only the soft light of the beautiful baptistry window shining, and reflected as it seemed from the waters of a flowing river, the administration of the baptismal ordinance is very impressive. As beholders read the words glowing at the top "Then cometh Jesus to the Jordan unto John to be baptized" they were almost melted to tears as they thought of the sinless Son of God walking over the stony path-way for nearly seventy miles to set an example before mankind, of fulfilling righteousness" by thus obeying God's command, as he faultlessly obeyed all others. We should "follow in his steps."

There will be preaching every night at 8 o'clock. The women's prayer meeting will be at 2. Sermon subject tonight is "The March of the Conquering Christ," a message to inspire, and to strengthen faith.

Baptist Class Is To Be at Revival And Sit in Group

Officers of the Fidelis Matrons class, First Baptist church, are asked to be in their classrooms at the church by 9:30 o'clock Wednesday morning. The entire class membership is to be present by 10 o'clock and is to attend the revival meeting in a body. An attendance goal of 100 per cent is set for this meeting.

All organized classes are helping to make the revival a success.

SENATORS' LUCK WILL DEPEND UPON THEIR RESERVES

ACCIDENTS TO REGULARS ARE MUCH FEARED

VISIONS OF PENNANT ARE STRONG AT CAMP

By RALPH WHEATLEY

BILOXI, Miss., March 21 (AP)—Between practice the Washington Senators lounge on the hotel green, listen to the gulf waters and dream of the American league pennant flying over their ball park at the end of the season.

They firmly believe they will cop the flag this year. They believe they can lick any team in the league if their regulars can stay on their feet. But old man accident stands in the background like an ogre.

For this team does not have strong reserve strength and their manager, Walter Johnson, has impressed on them the old baseball theory that "a ball team is only as strong as its utility supply."

"Blues, Cronin, Kuhn—beat that for an infield," challenges Johnson. "But outside of Joe Judge, we have no utility infielder."

"We are all right in the outfield with Manush, Reynolds and West as regulars with Harris and Rice to back them up."

"Our catching staff is satisfactory, as we have Bolton and Berg to support Spencer. There is Gharney in a pinch."

Then Johnson moves to the pitching box and there he pines for one more seasoned pitcher that he "ain't got."

The list shows two crack pitcher, McWherry and Crowder, and three fair ones, Brown, Fischer, and Weaver, but five pitchers are not enough. Delaney, Friedrich, and Ragland are looked on as possibilities but there is no doubt about the Senators needing pitchers.

Even at that, Johnson believes his team will finish on top. Barring injury, he believes his other players will make up for the deficiency in pitchers.

Sarazen Hikes His Season's Earnings

CORAL GABLES, Fla., March 21 (AP)—Gene Sara has swelled his season's tournament earnings by $2,525 through winning top money and the day's low score prize of $25 in the $10,000 Coral Gables-Miami Billmore open tournament. He shot 73-70-75-69—287 to nose out Walter Hagen and Paul Runyan, Metropolitan open champion, who tied for second place with 288 and won $1,125 each, yesterday as the final classic of Miami's winter golf ended.

YANKS ARE CHAMPS

ST. PETERSBURG, March 21 (AP)—The New York Yankees have annexed the spring "championship of St. Pete." They clinched the title with their fifth victory over the Boston Braves, the other team that trails here, yesterday, and they did it with a decisive 18-5 triumph.

Where Uncle Robbie sat
The Brooklyn Balmness Boys, a rollicking baseball troupe that toured the National League for years with an act consisting of making three outs on a home run, are going to school now.

What used to be the jolly Robbies has become the Brooklyn Institute for Bigger and Better Baseball, under the direction of perfect Maximilian Carey, a smart and earnest young man who has changed the ribald training camp of other years into a baseball reformatory where pep talks are regularly administered and where the fellows are supposed to behave.

Even the old hotel at Clearwater, Fla., where you Uncle Wilbert Robinson used to house his cast, has been deserted for a more pretentious hostelry where the clerk doesn't carry the keys in his pocket, and where the window shades actually are on rollers that roll.

The Sagging Throne

At the rickety little ball park where Uncle Robbie used to herd his athletes together and try vainly to remember their right names, all is hustle and bustle and drills and instruction.

I looked for the rickety little bench in front of the crude grandstand where Robbie used to hold his court. It was still there, still sagging a trifle perhaps from the burden of Uncle Robbie's benevolent weight. It's emptiness was pathetic.

Robbie sat there in the spring for many years. There he issued his boisterous, good-humored commands. From there he used to send as many as three athletes to play right field. There he sat and read his mail and told hilarious tales of the old days of pennant winning teams he had served as manager and coach.

Cuss Words and Fun

There he wagged his stub of a finger at one of his athletes after

Chicago Team Tournery Victor

CHICAGO, March 21. (AP)—The National Catholic prep basketball championship today was Chicago property, with St. Patrick high school as the custodian.

St. Pat defeated another Chicago team, St. Mel, 22 to 20, in the final round of Loyola university's ninth annual tournament. The result was an upset, St. Mel having defeated St. Pat three times during the season.

Third place was won by Father Ryan high of Nashville, Tenn., which defeated Campion Academy of Prairie Du Chien, Wis., 25 to 22, in the consolation game.

Senators Receive Some "Experience"

BILOXI, Miss., March 21. (AP)—Back in camp with the first defeat of the training season hanging about their necks the Washington Senators polished up today for a resumption of exhibition games the middle of the week.

The Washingtonians chalked down to experience the licking given them at Mobile yesterday by Louisville, 7 to 6. Rookie Bob Friedrich, making his big league bid on the mound, let himself get slaughtered for the whole opposing tally, with a plain and fancy wildness that allowed four walks after three runs had come across the plate.

Houston Solves Infield Problem

HOUSTON, March 21 (AP)—The Houston club's last serious current problem—second base—had been solved today with the acquisition of Bill Narlesky from Columbus of the American association.

Narlesky goes to work with the Buffs this afternoon when they tangle with Columbus in the round robin for the championship of the Cardinal chain. Houston must win to retain the leadership of the series.

Ray Moss, pitcher, remained a holdout today on the Buff list, but has been given permission to work out with the squad and doubtless will sign before the week is out.

Dazzy Vance Is Hit Very Hard

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 21 (AP)—It isn't often that Dazzy Vance has to give up any pitching honor to the other Brooklyn moundsmen but he had to do it in the Dodgers' exhibition game with the St. Louis Cardinals.

The Dazzler pitched two home run balls in the third inning yesterday and finally got the Card out after six runs had crossed the plate. In the next frame Babe Phelps stepped up and retired the world's champions on three pitched balls.

WILL MEET ATHLETICS

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., March 21 (AP)—The Phillies rested today in preparation for their game with the Athletics at Fort Myers tomorrow. They defeated the St. Louis Browns, 4 to 2, in a ten-inning game at West Palm Beach yesterday. The Phils tied the score at two-all in the ninth inning and won in the extra frame when Russ Scarrit hit a triple.

CINCINNATI PILOT VIEWS EXTRA STRENGTH

YOUNG SPUDDERS SHOW MUCH ABILITY IN GAME ON SUNDAY

Both hurlers and field men brilliant; victory goes to Heath clansmen.

WICHITA FALLS, March 21 (AP)—The Spudders went back to routine work today following a nine-inning intra-squad skirmish yesterday which was won by the Heaths over the Taylors, 6 to 5, and which displayed three rookie outfielders as the leading lights of the day.

Each of the trio of youngsters, Mauldin, Jarvis, and Fowler contributed batting and fielding acts that gained the applause of the 6,000 fans assembled for the occasion.

Six juvenile pitchers shared the ossing in three-inning turns, and Byram and Alfrey were the most successful. Alfrey turned in three coreless innings and Byram might have been as fortunate but for misplays by his mates.

MAY USE NEWCOMERS

SAN ANTONIO, March 21 (AP)—A hurler wearing Chicago regimentals for the first year may draw the assignment of pitching the opening game of the 1932 season for the Chicago White Sox.

Wally Berger, however, is still holding his head up. He seems to have escaped the batting slump that has descended on his mates; batted out a home run yesterday and has made some spectacular plays in the field.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 21 (AP)—The Boston Braves are giving—thanks today—the Yankees are not in the National league. The Shupert Rifles handed the tribe its fifth straight lacing yesterday, 18-5, and hit for 44 bases against three Boston pitchers.

PHAR LAP IS EASY WINNER OF BIG PURSE

Australian Veteran Is Likely To Pass Earnings of the Great Sun Beau.

AGUA Caliente, Mex., March 21 (AP)—Phar Lap, just another piece of horseflesh which sold for $800 four years ago, showed into second place among the world's leading money winners today through victory in the Agua Caliente handicap.

In one great stride yesterday the Red Ranger from Austria moved in past Gallant Fox to bring his total earnings in this quartet of years to $332,750.

Like the flash of lightning his name implies, the giant gelding thundered down the stretch to win the handicap, with its $50,000 first place money, by two lengths in the track. The ease with which he left seconds.

Phar Lap had no equal on the track. The ease with which he left the other 10 starters in the wake of his flying hoofs set the 15,000 persons who jammed this Baja California track to wondering just how long it might be before he surpassed Sun Beau's $376,744.

Buccaneers Win Over Buff Crew

GALVESTON, March 21 (AP)—The Galveston Buccaneers beat Houston here yesterday, 3-2, by timely hitting. A double by Keith scored two runs in the second while McGhee's single tallied Rye in the fourth. Singles by Kool and Carey and a double by Sanders accounted for the Buff tallies in the fourth.

Lefty Garwood, rookie, who relieved Perez, southpaw, in the fifth, held the Bucs runless and to two hits.

San Antonio Is Hunting Players

SAN ANTONIO, March 21 (AP)—Homer Hammond and Claude Robertson, president and manager of the San Antonio baseball club, went to the Orange, Tex., camp of the Kansas City Blues to get a left-handed pitcher, a shortstop, an outfielder and anything else the Blues are willing to part with in exchange for an option on the Indian playing talent.

Defeats by the Chicago White Sox, 16-2 and 8-4 have demonstrated that the Indians need a shortstop badly, can use another outfielder and ought to have southpaw pitcher.

The tribe plays the White Sox again Wednesday, Texas University in Austin Thursday and Texas University here Saturday.

COMPETITION GROWS KEEN

Two Frenchmen Will Fight Powerful Americans in Third Indoor Match.

NEW YORK, March 21. (AP)—Prospects of greater competition to come as well as some fine tennis matches right at hand were in the air today as the third international indoor tennis match between France and the United States got under way at the seventh regiment armory.

The United States stood as a one-sided favorite to break the tie from the two previous team encounters as a result of last week's play in the National indoor tennis championships. The three French standard bearers were shut out and the victorious Americans made up the United States team for the international matches.

Gregory Mangin of Newark, surprise winner of the singles title, and Frank Shields of New York, runner up, played in the singles and George Lott Jr., and John Van Ryn, the doubles champions, were named to take care of that part of the competition.

Jean Borotra and Christian Boususs have been chosen to do the work for France, leaving Antoine Gentien, youngest and weakest of the invaders, entirely out of it.

What was the immediate cause of the broadcast was not known. However, pointing to its records of boxers and wrestlers, managers, and contracts, the association in its statement said:

"The attention of the National Boxing association has been directed to a decided movement upon the part of certain managers and so-called booking agencies for boxers, to make a 'racket' out of the boxing sport by matching inferior boxers with outstanding contenders, and it is said that some of these agencies even go so far as to arrange fake boxing matches with a full understanding between the contestants beforehand."

STOPS BEST QUES

NEW ORLEANS, March 21. (AP)—Beryl Richmond, left-handed ace of the Baltimore Orioles, indirectly is responsible for undoing new batting punch in the Cleveland lineup—the lower half of the batting order. Richmond stopped the free-hitting Averil and Porter but failed to hold Bill Kamm, Eddie Morgan, Luke Sewell, and Eddie Montague, who displayed some unexpected prowess at the plate yesterday and gave the Indians an 8 to 5 victory.

This Game of GOLF

Notes on the first Gasparilla open at Tampa. "Twenty years ago," said Willie Macfarlane, "or a bit more, when I first came to this country, if 32 competitors qualified in an open tournament like this one the list would be thick with Smiths and MacDonaldis and other obvious Scotsmen. Now in the 32 here, we have one native and at least 30 native-born Americans, mostly youngsters."

The old game has changed a lot, in the last two decades. Macfarlane played some fine golf in the medal rounds, and in winning his way to the finals where the youthful Paul Runyan defeated him, 3-1. He produced cards of 69-67-136 to tie with Dick Metz, who did 67-69-136.

Metz, incidentally, accomplished in his first round and a half an ambition cherished by every expert golfer—to score 27 consecutive holes in better than 100.

Dick's first round was 67, and the first nine of the afternoon rounds was 32, which makes 99. Metz messed up the last hole for a bad 6 which kept him in a tie with Macfarlane and went as far as the third round, with Wild Bill Melhorn, who got his powerful game organized on the last nine and touched off so many 3's under the San Angelo kid that he went out, 4-3, after looking very much like a winner in the first nine.

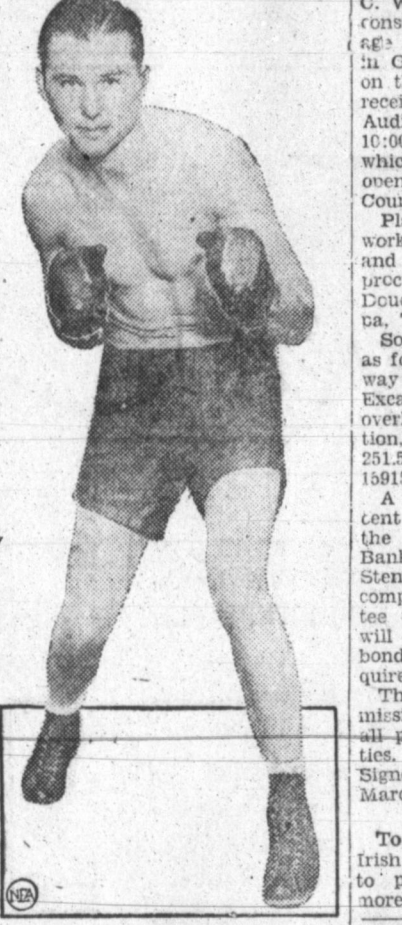

Qualify—No Good! One disappointment was the failure to qualify of Tommy Mynamoto, the little Japanese open champion. Tommy missed it by two strokes, and those two strokes were expended before he got started on his second round—he pulled two drives out of bounds.

I asked Bob Harlow, tournament manager, if Tommy spoke much English yet—Arthur Sato, California amateur, acted as interpreter in the west coast events.

"Why, yes," said Mr. Harlow. "He says: 'Corn makes four boiled eggs; black tea. Also, 'Qualify—no good' and about those two drives out of bounds: 'Plenty punk'."

As stated, the co-medalists were

KITTY FREW by JANE ABBOTT

SYNOPSIS: Recently a bride, Kitty Frew finds herself working in a store, because her husband would rather live with his wealthy parents than get a job. She tells her half-brother David that Gar will come for her. Although Gar's mother influences him against her, Kitty expects him to agree to work.

Chapter 17

DAVID shook his head. "He did not look at her. "Oh, David—why doesn't he send me some word?—I—I can't bear it!"

"Oh, yes, you can, Kitty," David spoke gruffly.

She'd said that before, to David, and he'd answered her like that. And invariably she'd stiffened herself to her unbearable heartache. She did now with a quick lift of her chin which David saw.

"I'm eating with you girls to-night. Oysters—" he indicated a carton he was carrying carefully. "Maybe Max will drop in and give us some music."

And just as David wanted her to, Kitty thought of Max and his music. The fun of sitting around the old table, in what Dorcas called her "night-club," eating the oysters.

Dorcas was there before them, a big gingham apron tied around her. The lamps were lit, a little fire kindled on the hearth. Coffee was boiling.

Dorcas usually enlivened such times with a vivid recounting of her day. Her assignments ranged from accused criminals to socialites.

Today she had had a particularly delightful experience. The Times though its publicity had been uncovering rare old editions for a local bookstore. A letter had come to Dorcas' attention, written in a fine script. Reading it, seeing the delicate pointed handwriting, she had sensed a story and followed it up.

"I wish you could have seen him, David—you'd use him for a character. He had a shawl around him, actually. White hair, like a fine little mist around his head and pink cheeks. And blue eyes like a child's. And so polite—I must have the only comfortable chair in the room and he must stand bowing until I sat down. And David, what do you think he owns? A first edition of the Old Curiosity Shop—You should have seen how he entered it. It had been given to his father by Dickens himself. Will he sell it? Thank God, no."

But Dorcas' enthusiasm was for the little old man rather than for the rare old book. He didn't know anyone in Winton; he lived here because his grandson had put him here in the back room of a boarding house. Dorcas had touched on a hunger that had not been satisfied. "He's an exile."

A mischievous look had leaped to her eyes. "I'm going to take him with me to Aunt Lydia's, Sunday. She says there aren't any real gentlemen left in the world. I'm going to show her she's wrong. Won't they look sweet talking together?"

Frequently Dorcas spoke, with affectionate amusement, of her Aunt Lydia, who was, she had explained to Kitty, her one root. Kitty had gathered that to a certain age this relative had directed Dorcas' life. She it was who had sent Dorcas to the girls' school near Poughkeepsie, of which Dorcas spoke often, scornfully. Dorcas had left it to "go on her own." But her precious independence hadn't quite barred Aunt Lydia. Every Sunday she dressed with great care and to a degree of elegance in marked contrast to the carelessness of her appearance during the week and went to her aunt's for dinner. But Aunt Lydia, as far as Kitty knew, never came to Ketchum Street.

Max Adler appeared with his violin before they had cleared the meal away. And after him Mark Quinn, bursting in noisily. He'd been promoted at the garage. Now he could afford an extra evening with the life class. He sat on David's cushion before the fire staring into it, dreaming, until David ordered him off. Emil Schelling ran up smiling, expansive with the good fortune of a new pupil. Max played for them, one thing after another, walking up and down the length of the room while he played. Kitty, relaxed in the deep chair that was always hers, closed her eyes and her brain to everything but the thin, sweet, fitting tones. On his cushion David dropped his cheek against his hands, where they clasped his knees, and watched Kitty. Mark Quinn, his back to the others, stared into the little fire. Emil Schelling beat his fingers noiselessly against the arm of his chair, his face illumined by some inner ecstasy. A great contentment hung over them; time

Mrs. Frew's day began early with a prescribed system of exercises. After this she ate her breakfast which Cora brought to her room. She ate leisurely, heartily. When Cora carried her tray away she lay on her chaise-longue and read for an hour, the morning paper, a magazine, perhaps a book of new fiction. After that, for another hour, she submitted herself to Cora's clever fingers and Cora's cleverly directed flattery, finding both stimulating. At eleven o'clock she received Pound to go over with him the orders for the day.

But on the morning following Kitty's flight from the house Pound came to her door a full half hour before she expected to see him. Pound was so obviously disturbed that Mrs. Frew dismissed Cora at once.

"Well, Pound?" "It's Mrs. Gar, madam. She's gone."

Mrs. Frew's expression did not alter though Pound, if he had not been so completely held in his distress, might have heard a quick in drawing of her breath.

"What do you mean, Pound?" "She went last night. She went alone. Mr. Garfield had gone out—I think he went out to dinner. I likely, and she went out just after him. She took her bag, madam. I called a taxi for her. She seemed—well, she seemed upset, madam. If I may be so bold, I'd say Mrs. Gar hasn't been happy all the time. She acted like she had something on her mind. I worried about her going like that. I thought maybe I ought to tell some one. But Mr. Gar isn't in his room."

Gar's excited plans for recovering Kitty came in conflict with his mother's intents tomorrow.

GRAINS STRONGER

CHICAGO, March 21 (AP)—Announcement that France had raised her wheat import quota 5 per cent helped give an early upward trend to grain values today. Statements credited to Chairman Stone of the federal farm board that proposals to finance United States wheat sales abroad implied no suggestion of dumping in Europe or elsewhere acted also as a strengthening factor. Opening unchanged to 1/2 higher, wheat afterward advanced 1/2, around. Corn started unchanged to 1/2 up and subsequently showed a general rise.

Stinnett Bank Bandits Believed to Be Identified

TUCUMCARI, N. M., March 21 (AP)—Arrested here early Sunday morning, two men today were said to have been identified as the robbers who last Tuesday held up the first state bank of Stinnett, Tex., and escaped with about $5,000 after locking seven persons in the vault.

G. W. Nowson, cashier of the bank, connected the pair with the looking. One of the men, wearing a straw hat, was being returned by Hutchinson county officers today. The other refused to return. Tucumcari officers said they had information which would lead to recovery of the loot.

STUEBENVILLE, Ohio, March 21 (AP)—Part of an airplane and a dozen air mail sacks found on the West Virginia bank of the Ohio river this afternoon at Brown's Island, five miles north of here, led to the belief that an east-bound transcontinental western air lines mail plane, missing ten hours, had crashed into the river with its pilot and a woman passenger.

Miss Viola Bostick was discharged from Pampa hospital on Sunday.

GARNER--

newspaper men in the capitol press room today prepared statement stating that Governor R. S. Sterling would be a candidate for re-election. He went even further and said the governor would be re-elected.

"If you are interested in coming Texas political history you had better make your own plans according to these certain facts," Petch said. He announced Governor Sterling would "go before the people of Texas with a platform demanding reformation in the tax system with the purpose of shifting the burden from the tax-oppressed to those who can pay, with regulation of the public utilities, with a plan to cut out duplications in the state government and reduce expenditures with reorganization of our educational system.

"He has not been a spectacular governor, hasn't made much noise and had very little trouble with the legislature and everybody else when considering the tremendous difficulties which beset every governor in these times of distrust and stress," Petch said.

"The Texas people will be enthusiastic about East Texas martial law just as soon as they learn the truth about the matter."

The Fredericksburg legislator said the people "will approve of Mr. Sterling's record of going into the office a rich man and after less than two years service being as poor as any candidate in the governor's first race."

Governor Sterling's formal announcement for re-election is expected this week.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN Washington

BY RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—There's only one thing surer in Congress than a prohibition fight—and that's a bonus battle.

Those two issues are often buried. But they never die. In fact, you can hardly keep them buried overnight.

The proposal to cash the adjusted compensation certificates of all war veterans at a cost of nearly $2,500,000,000 was commonly regarded as interred at least for this session after the American Legion voted last fall to defer it and after it became certain that the federal deficit would be far greater than anyone had anticipated.

But here it is again, rising from the earth like your old friend John Barleycorn. And rapidly gathering strength.

The Patman cash bonus bill has a fine chance of passing the House and the Thomas cash bonus bill is likely to pass the Senate. There is no doubt that Patman's bill will go through the House if it once gets on the floor. And if the Ways and Means Committee, which has promised hearings on it after the tax bill fight is concluded, will not report it—as is doubtless will—Patman expects little trouble in getting the 145 signature necessary to bring it out of committee for a vote.

All members of the House are up for re-election this year. Only a third of the senators are, but that fact can't be depended upon to stop the bill when it gets going.

Federal Reserve banks as security for the currency paid out, is regarded with equal disfavor by financial experts, who fear it would threaten the Reserve system in addition to battering down the bond market.

Those who believe the cash bonus proposal will go crashing through both houses may be wrong, but we will soon be finding out.

The best bet for stifling the bonus bill at the outset seems to be the hope that the Legion can hold its members in line against it. Many of the local Legion posts have been endorsing the Patman measure, along with the Veterans of Foreign Wars—it's chief sponsor, the Disabled American Veterans and other organizations.

Last year, before the compromise bonus loan bill was passed the Legion leadership was forced by rank and file demand to change its position. If Congress can be convinced of a strong sentiment among veterans against bonus cashing at this time it will not be so likely to be seized by the type of panic which usually grips it on such occasions.

Both Republican and Democratic leaders are birding themselves to suppress the bill, but their impotence against veteran legislation has often been proved.

Patman is a jolly, carefree soul in these days of deficits and heroic efforts at budget balancing. How to get those billions to pay the vets? "Easy," says he—just issue currency notes for the necessary amount. All that new money in circulation will mean prosperity and everything! Whoops!

Treasury officials, however, contend that this would be merely fiat money. It is asserted by opponents that money in circulation would be increased about 50 per cent and that the value of the dollar would depreciate proportionately. And that to issue all that money without placing any gold behind it or any provision for paying off the notes would be likely to drive the United States off the gold standard.

HUGE OIL RESERVES CITED BY SPEAKER, WHO ADMITS FIGURES USED ARE VERY UNCERTAIN ONES

AUSTIN, March 21 (AP)—Estimation of the oil and gas reserves of an area such as Texas is a question of "shrewd guessing of the unknown," Donald C. Barton of Houston, consulting geologist and geophysicist, said in a paper prepared for delivery before a business planning conference at the university of Texas today.

"The reserves in sight in the known sands of producing oil fields can be estimated with fair accuracy, that is, the actual ultimate production may prove to be 25 per cent less or 50 per cent more than the estimated reserves," Barton said.

He said "most geologists now days are scared to make any estimates of reserves of oil outside of the known sands of known oil fields."

Barton said that the known reserves of oil in sight and in the known sands of the known oil fields of Texas are of the general magnitude of three to three and one-half billion barrels.

He listed the reserves of recoverable oil in sight in Texas as follows: East Texas, 2,000,000,000 barrels; Yates (Pecos county), 280,000,000; Hendricks (Winkler county) 81,000,000; Big Lake, upper pay sands only (Reagan county), 42,000,000; Church and Fields (Crane county), 16,000,000; Crier-McEvoy (Cotton county), 26,000,000; McCamey-Taylor (Upton county), 20,000,000; Chalk, etc. (Howard and Glasscock counties), 22,000,000; Luling (Caldwell and Guadalupe counties), 21,000,000; Salt Flat (Caldwell county), 11,000,000; Lytton Springs (Caldwell county), 12,000,000; Sommeret (Bexar county), 1,000,000; Mexia (Limestone county), 5,000,000; Wortham (Limestone county), 1,000,000; Powell (Navarro county), 3,000,000; Van Van Zandt county), 214,000,000 Gulf Coast, 650,000,000.

SPRING--

conditions can largely be placed on warm southerly air," says Forecaster Charles E. Mitchell. "A great area of high pressure has remained almost constantly over the eastern Gulf of Mexico and the South Atlantic states and eastward over the ocean. This more or less stationary high has sent warm breezes up over the country."

AMARILLO, March 21 (AP)—Snow driven by a 40-mile northwest wind swept the Texas Panhandle today to make a mockery of the official opening of spring.

The temperature dropped to 26 degrees during the night after setting a new maximum for the season of 82 degrees yesterday. Snow fell intermittently today, and at times almost obscured office buildings a few blocks away.

Similar conditions existed throughout the Panhandle. Only in the Eastern Panhandle and Western Oklahoma had enough snow fallen to cover the ground. From Canadian and Spearman east for 200 miles the Santa Fe railway reported from two to three inches of snow. It was still snowing and drifting with a wind of 50 miles velocity.

The Northwest Panhandle, from Boise City, Oklahoma, to Clovis, N. M., and east to Canadian, had received only light snow. Texline reported a temperature of 20 degrees.

The forecast for Amarillo and vicinity was continued cold with light snow tonight, and fair and warmer tomorrow.

O'NEILL'S NEW HOME ON SEA ISLAND IS SECLUDED WORLD ALL ITS OWN

DRAMATIST'S MOODS AND TASTES REFLECTED IN 22-ROOM RESIDENCE

SEA ISLAND BEACH, Ga. (AP)—Here among the moss-draped sanctuaries, restless waves and shifting sand dunes, Eugene O'Neill, the dramatist, is building a house.

It is not an ordinary home, for it reflects the tastes and moods of both the playwright and his wife, Carlotta Monterey O'Neill, the former actress. It will contain 22 rooms.

It is not to be a social rendezvous but a workshop, livable, lovely and a world all its own with complete seclusion wrought on all but the seaward side by a wall of towering oleanders.

There will be a full view of the sea through the loggia of the home and from the graduated terraces, with only a few scattering palm-trees to stay the sometimes brisk sea winds.

The O'Neills decided to build a home here, when they came to Sea Island Beach a few months ago, when the dramatist fled from the laudations that attended his production of "Mourning Becomes Electra." Mrs. O'Neill said this island seemed a sort of fulfillment of the "blessed islands" about which she spoke so often in the trilogy.

The new home is Spanish peasant style of architecture. It contains only one social room, a huge living room; tiny guest cabins with built-in "bunks"; and two complete and very spacious suites.

O'Neill's own room is a tremendous one with an adjoining study, whose appointments will be suggestive of the sea, which leads to a sun deck which gives a far-reaching view for miles of land and sea.

A courtyard fringed with Christmas berry and lined with azaleas will form the inviting entrance while leading from the passage will be the terrace. Outlining the patio will be shrubs and flowers to lend color and fragrance and beauty.

A 22-room residence that will be a workshop rather than a social rendezvous is being built by Eugene O'Neill at Sea Island Beach, Ga. Above is an architect's drawing of the home. Below are shown the dramatist and his wife, Carlotta Monterey O'Neill, former actress. Mrs. Charles Thomas was taken to Frank R. Knight of Groom under-Pampa hospital for medical treatment yesterday.
