Pampa Christmas Business 30 Per Cent Ahead Of 1936

HOLIDAY SPIRIT SPURS BUYING SURGE IN CITY

Indication that Christmas retail business in Pampa during the first half of December is 30 per cent better than it was for the corresponding period in 1936, was revealed today in a survey of representative stores.

These included department stores, women's apparel, drug, novelty, hardware, furniture, men's furnishings, shoe, and jewelry stores.

The percentage of increase ranged from 15 to 40 per cent. Two stores reported business "about the same" as at this period a year ago, but the others reported definite gains.

One furniture store reported that its increase in business represented an increase in all departments, and that the demand for better grades of furniture was noticeable.

One of the department stores last week had an increase in sales for the corresponding week of 1936 of 40.55 per cent, while the increase for the month to date over the same period a year ago was 61.78 per cent, and for the year, 37.35 per cent.

The Pampa Credit association reports that it is now making more reports than it did at this time last year. Also, there is more demand for local reports on Pampans than there was a year ago, when the percentage of requests for reports from other cities, today, the situation has been reversed.

Another significant factor is that the bureau has had 39 reports on persons who have recently moved to Pampa, as compared with 27 reports on persons leaving the city, indicating a gain in population.

Pampa merchants have not begun hiring of extra help to any extent to date, judging by the survey. In four stores, one had two extra salesmen, one had three, another five.

Walks Again

The millions who admire the never-say-quit courage of Jessie Simpson, New Jersey beauty contest winner whose legs were cut off by a train, will be glad to see her happily boarding a plane under her own power at Newark for a flight to Chicago to cheer up hospital patients. She's walking again, on artificial legs.

TELEGRAPHISTS CALL STRIKE

NEW YORK, Dec. 16 (AP)—The American Radio Telegraphists association (CIO) today called a strike of its member employees of the Postal Telegraph Company in New York and five other cities in protest against "low wages and long hours."

Company officials blamed the walkout on a struggle between A. F. of L. and C. I. O. unions for control of the communications field.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16 (AP)—C. I. O. headquarters announced today postal telegraph operators in six eastern cities went on strike today to force the company to negotiate with the American Radio Telegraphists association.

C. I. O. officials said the Washington office was "tied up in knots" but they had no reports so far on how effective the strike was in the other cities—New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Buffalo and Detroit.

DETROIT, Dec. 16 (AP)—Postal Telegraph Co. employees here struck today and one company representative said "practically all" of the teletype operators had ceased work.

BOMB WRECKS AUTO WORKERS HEADQUARTERS

DETROIT, Dec. 16 (AP)—Slight damage was caused today by the bombing early today of the United Automobile Worker's district office formerly used as headquarters for the union's campaign to organize Ford Motor Co. workers.

PANAY RAKED BY FIRE FROM MACHINE GUNS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16 (AP)—Secretary Hull announced today that official reports had confirmed that Japanese vessels machine gunned the American gunboat Panay after it had been bombed from the air by Japanese naval fliers.

In making this announcement at his press conference, the secretary of state said this information had been transmitted to the American ambassador at Tokyo for presentation to the Japanese foreign office in the form of representations to supplement facts already set forth in this government's formal note of protest of the bombing.

Hull gave no details of the information received by the state department concerning the machine gun attack.

He merely stated that partial official information already received from American government representatives in the far east confirmed press reports of the incident as dispatched yesterday by newspaper correspondents quoting eyewitnesses at the scene.

Hull added that he was expecting further official reports at any time which may give more details.

The Japanese, making every concession toward a satisfactory settlement of the Panay incident, augmented their efforts today by voluntarily detailing a company of

Postoffice Christmas Business Already Big; New Windows Opened

Postoffice employees have already noticed the increase in business this year over last and previous Christmas seasons. Postmaster C. H. Walker reported today. Early shopping and mailing is brisker than ever before and packages being mailed are larger than in recent years.

Business receipts for the year to date have already passed the total for 1936, Postmaster Walker also revealed, with the major Christmas business yet to be recorded.

Because of the early season rush, opening of new windows to better service was ordered this morning. The window immediately east of the mailing chutes has been opened for purchase of stamps. The regular stamp window will be for mailing parcels only. The other window, at the extreme east end of the lobby, will be for receiving packages.

The office will be open all day Saturday to accommodate the public. In the past, the office closed at 1 p. m. Saturday the closing hour will be 6 p. m.

Persons mailing Christmas cards are urged to remember "That first class mail is subject to directory service, forwarding and return and any kind of writing while third class or carrying one and one-half cent stamp, unsealed, can carry only a personal greeting with name and address not subject to any of the first class services. No sealed mail can be sent third class. First class, sealed, carries a two cent stamp within the city and a three cent stamp outside of the city.

LEWIS FLAYS OPERATORS OF 'LITTLE STEEL'

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 16 (AP)—John L. Lewis denounced operators of "Little Steel" today and told an uproarious convention of steel workers that his dream of seeing the nation's mill men "banded together" in unionism "has come true."

The founder of the CIO assailed Tom Girdler, president of the Republic Steel corporation. The labor leader took the platform after a delay of 20 minutes by an ovation, and declared: "You have found out for the first time in your respective lives that you could organize if you wanted to organize."

Turning suddenly to speak of the steel operators, and the strike in "Little Steel" companies last year, he went on:

"The name of Girdler should be synonymous with that terrible word, 'murder,' because Girdler murdered our members."

"No one need have any fear that Girdler can destroy this union because

In U. S.—Soviet Mystery

Above are passport pictures of "Donald L. Robinson and Ruth N. Robinson," who disappeared in Moscow. The State Department said investigation had failed to establish their true identity or nationality, and that passports were issued on the basis of documents belonging to other persons who are dead. The couple was listed at the National hotel in Moscow as being from New York City.

Russia On Trail Of Mysterious Americans

MOSCOW, Dec. 16 (AP)—Izvestia, organ of the Soviet Government, said today that Soviet authorities "have taken measures to seek out and arrest" the missing couple known as "Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Robinson."

This was interpreted in foreign circles to mean that the couple, who professed to be Americans, have been under arrest since their strange and unexplained disappearance last week, although the newspaper refrained from any such statement.

After publishing the announcement by the American state department that the "Robinsons" entered Russia under passports obtained fraudulently, Izvestia said:

"According to information received by the editor, the Soviet authorities have taken measures to seek out and arrest the persons mentioned in the Telegram (from the state department)."

The most puzzling question seemed to be the real identity of the couple and whether they actually were American citizens.

Referring to the New York investigation, Izvestia said: "The declaration of the state department leaves little doubt we are dealing with some kind of suspicious persons who attempted to pose as Americans."

"Attention is drawn to the fact that American Trotskyists are connected somehow with the affair, and now the Trotskyists are hastening to pull out of it."

The article referred to a pass (Russian official news agency) dispatch from New York which said an American Trotskyist leader named Schachtman had told newspapermen that the "Robinsons" were not Trotskyists but "innocent American citizens whom the Soviet Government had imprisoned."

NEW YORK, Dec. 16 (AP)—Mystery surrounding the whereabouts of "Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Robinson," who disappeared in Russia, deepened today as federal agents pushed a search.

BOY'S LETTER TO FDR BRINGS HIM RESULTS

DETROIT, Dec. 16 (AP)—Eight-year-old Colin Fraser, who appealed to President Roosevelt a few months ago in an attempt to end his 14-month exile in Canada resulting an immigration tangle was home today.

His application for a visa allowing him to enter the United States was granted yesterday.

Colin born in Edmonton, Alta., was the only one of five Fraser children not born in this country. He and his father, Thomas, a native of Scotland were deported in October, 1936 on the grounds they lacked proper visas and that Fraser had entered without paying a head tax.

WOULD CLOSE TEXAS FIELDS EACH SUNDAY

AUSTIN, Dec. 16 (AP)—Ernest O. Thompson, member of the Railroad Commission and chairman of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission, hinted strongly today that the Sunday oil shutdowns already in effect in east Texas would be extended to embrace all of Texas.

"The four shutdowns so far made have halted the pressure decline in the east Texas field," he said. "Medicine which is good for part of the state should be good for all of it. I'm almost persuaded" on the statewide Sunday shutdown matter.

"Texas has so many wells that it easily can supply on week days all the oil that will be needed during the winter months. There is no necessity for the wells operating on Sundays."

Part of the east Texas oil and business leaders protesting against continuation of the Sunday closing there said they felt their area was being discriminated against but would have no objection if the shutdown were made statewide.

One thousand and eighty-nine new wells have been completed in Texas since November 16, the current allowable is 1,395,000 barrels a day and gasoline stocks continued to increase, Thompson pointed out.

C. V. Terrell, the commission's chairman, said a new statewide production order probably would be made effective almost immediately after tomorrow's hearing. He stressed the need for curbing production.

"The drilling campaign which has been going on throughout the country so successfully has deluged us in oil," he said. "As a new well comes in, or a new field is developed, it means the old wells allowed."

POULTRY AUTHORITY TO SPEAK IN COURTROOM

W. C. Homeyer, former head of the poultry department at John Tarleton college at Stephenville, will be in Pampa tonight and will address poultry raisers and farmers interested in raising poultry at 7:30 o'clock in the county courtroom.

Feeding, diseases and care of poultry will be subjects discussed by Prof. Homeyer after which a round table discussion and questionnaire will be conducted.

"The meeting will be of interest to everyone raising poultry regardless of whether for pleasure or gain," County Agent Ralph Thomas said today.

Students In School Play To Speak Five Accents Here Tonight

The high school will proudly present "Come Out of the Kitchen," three-act comedy in the high school auditorium at 7:30 o'clock tonight. The performance will be repeated tomorrow night.

Seldom has the school been prouder of a play than it is of this one, and there are several reasons for this attitude. First, at least five different accents are spoken in the play, and the students do right well by them.

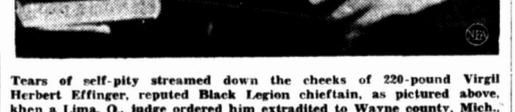

These accents have to do with the plot which concerns a family of children who rent out their magnificent Virginia mansion to a Northerner while their father has gone to Europe for his health. Because the new owner, played by Jack Cunningham, will permit no negro servants, the children decide to be the servants, so there is an Irish cook, Betty Rains; an English butler, Jimmy Mosley; a French maid, Betty Jane Hill, and a negro mammy, the Holloway girl.

In addition there is a snooty society climber who has schemes for her daughter, Edith Beckham, and a merry Crane, played by Cunningham. The role of the money-grab-

Black Legion Chief Weeps

Tears of self-pity streamed down the cheeks of 220-pound Virgil Herbert Effinger, reputed Black Legion chief, as pictured above, when a Lima, O., judge ordered him extradited to Wayne county, Mich., to face criminal syndicalism charges. The tears dried when the judge allowed defense attorneys to take the habeas corpus case to the court of appeals, giving Effinger another two months of freedom under $2,000 bond. Effinger, whose daughter, Betty, 16, has her arm around him, recently surrendered after being a fugitive for 15 months.

40-YEAR TERM GIVEN YOUTH

A sentence of 40 years, the longest ever assessed any person on trial in Wheeler county within the past 35 years, was the verdict returned by the district court in Wheeler at 10 o'clock this morning against Eugene (Stubby) Bearrow, who had been charged with the murder of Wilburn Nixon, 24-year-old Dozier farmer, near Shamrock, on Nov. 21.

The state, represented by District Attorney Lewis M. Goodrich, special prosecutor, Judge R. H. Cooke of Wellington, and Homer Moss, county attorney of Wheeler county, had asked the death penalty. Mr. Reynolds and Clayton Heare, of Shamrock, represented the defense.

The case went to the jury at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. They considered the case until 10 o'clock last night, resumed their sessions at 9 o'clock this morning and brought in the verdict one hour later.

The battered body of Wilburn Nixon was found along U. S. highway 66 three miles east of Shamrock, early on the morning of Nov. 21. Testimony in the case showed Nixon had been beaten to death following an automobile ride and drinking party.

WAR MAY BALK JAPS' OLYMPIC GAMES PLAN

TOKYO, Dec. 16 (AP)—The Olympic organizing committee today denied a report in the newspaper Asahi that Japan is "unable to give a definite answer" regarding its ability to stage the Olympic games in 1940.

The paper says that the war with China has delayed Olympic preparations, and to such an extent that "whether the government will continue to support the games is problematical. Its attitude will be based on conditions."

Members of the organizing committee told the Associated Press that "the report is entirely false."

The wedding will be solemnized in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Hudson of Amarillo with the Rev. John Scott of Pampa officiating. The ceremony will be read before a group of relatives and friends of the couple.

Increased attendance was reported in the B. M. Baker Parent-Teacher association meeting Tuesday afternoon at the school auditorium.

A program including numbers by the returned pupils of the first and third grades, carols by the students, and a talk by Mrs. Frank Stowell, of the Woodrow Wilson school, on "When the Family Entertains," was given. Mrs. Stowell pointed out that parents should entertain more and provide recreation for the children.

In the business session, Mrs. E. H. Eads was elected vice president to fill out the term of Mrs. Jack Ross who has moved from the district. Miss Bernice Larsh was selected as the city council delegate to take the place of Mrs. Ross, and Mrs. M. D. Dwight was appointed county council representative in Mrs. Roy Van Winkle's place.

Mrs. C. E. Cary and J. E. Meek discussed various phases of recent P-T-A convention which they attended in Beaumont.

The budget for the year was made out and approved, and the unit voted to cooperate with the Tuberculosis association in giving the tests in the schools.

Miss Larsh's room won the prize for having the most mothers present at the meeting.

Brandon-Jackson Nuptials Spoken

Entertainer

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Ouida Brandon and Marshall Jackson of Amarillo which was solemnized December 4 at the Polk Street Methodist church in Amarillo with the Rev. Grimes officiating.

The couple was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Nees.

After the ceremony, the wedding party, including Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Nees, Mary K. Martin, Frank Johnson, and the bride and groom, was entertained by Mr. Nees with a dinner at the Capitol hotel.

Mrs. Jackson, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Brandon of Pampa, was graduated from Pampa high school in 1930. She is manager of the local Postal Telegraph.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Lawrence of Weatherford, Texas, is employed at the Postal Telegraph in Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson will make their home in Pampa.

Gala Event Entertains Sorority

Another social gathering spurred on by the Christmas holiday spirit was the party given Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. D. C. Hartman, 1230 Christine street, for the Beta Sigma Phi sorority.

Decorating the living room and dining room were wreaths, bells, a lighted tree, and other Christmas ornaments. Small reindeer descending the side of a cotton mountain, flanked on either side by bells, centered the mantel. An attractive holiday arrangement was used on the dining table.

Mystery pals were revealed at the party and gifts were exchanged by Meses. Raymond Harrah, J. B. Masasa, Charles Wooley, Ann Kay, Clotilde Thompson, Sybil Weston; Meses. Lorene Nicholson, Maxine Burris, Johnnie Hodje, Ann Johnson, Lois Martin, Josephine Lane, Cleora Stanard, and the hostess.

Three-Act Play Given at Meeting Of Women's Council

A three-act play was the feature of the program presented at the meeting of the Women's Council of the First Christian church held yesterday afternoon at the church.

"Living for Jesus," sung by the 50 ladies, was played by Mrs. Ray Wilson at the piano and by Mrs. Walter Nelson on the violin.

In the business meeting, the group voted to cooperate in making the young people's district conference, which will be held in Pampa in February, a success.

Mrs. Charles Stowell led the devotional on "Meeting Human Needs," preceding the presentation of the play under the direction of Mrs. L. C. McMann.

The cast of characters included Meses. Dick Rhodes, Mrs. Price; H. H. Isbell, Mr. Price; Bert Stevens, Miss Whitney; Frank Leonard, Mrs. Brownson; Betty Tieman, Jenn; Janet McMillen, James Sanders, and Henry Buster Walker, Mrs. Price's children; Carolyn Sue Abbott, Beverly Jean Stalls, messenger boys; and Carol singers, girls' glee club of the Woodrow Wilson school.

Furniture for the play was provided by the Texas Furniture company.

Girls' Club Will Sing Xmas Carols

By VIRGINIA BLACKERLY. KELLERVILLE, Dec. 16.—Citizens of Kellerville will be entertained by the singing of Christmas carols on Christmas eve night, it was decided at a meeting of J. U. G. club at the school Monday night. A Christmas party was also planned.

Attending the meeting were Juanita Campbell, Mattie Campbell, Ina Lee Bidwell, Verena Sargent, Sallie Lou Sagner, Zeldia Marie West, Mildred Durrett, Virginia Blackerly, club members, and the following visitors: Mrs. Bidwell, Mrs. D. I. Blackerly, Mrs. E. C. West, and Margie West.

Group of Pioneer Women Honored At Holiday Social

One of the prettiest parties of the Christmas season was enjoyed by the Gleaners class of the First Baptist church Tuesday afternoon in the home of the teacher, Mrs. Elmer Barrett, Mrs. R. W. Tucker, superintendent of the adult department; P. O. Anderson, associate superintendent; and C. L. Stephens, secretary of the department. They were co-hostesses with Mrs. Barrett.

Every member of the class which is composed of women past fifty years old, with the exception of four, were present despite the bad weather. In the group was one lady almost 83 years of age, three who were 75, and three, 70. Each one told where she was born, her age, date of marriage, number of children, and why she came West.

Mrs. N. B. Ellis led in the singing of Christmas carols; Mrs. J. A. Meek told the customs of Christmas, and little Bobby Tucker read, "Christmas Morn." Mrs. P. O. Gaut gave a lengthy Christmas reading. Christmas decorations were used throughout the house and a Christmas tree, from which the gifts were taken, centered the room. Mrs. Barrett presented each member with an individual gift. As the closing feature, the teacher and class presented a gift to Mrs. Tucker.

Refreshments of fruit cake, whipped cream, and hot tea were served with apples and candy to Meses. Charles Boyd, I. S. Jameson, J. C. Barnard, Hawkins Price, Harris, Anna Brooks, Cannady, Pottter, John Henry, members. Visitors at the party were Meses. A. B. Ellis, J. A. Meek, Gaut, Patsy Ellis, Anna Bess Stephens, Florence Crocker, Bobby Tucker, and the hostess.

BINGHAM ILL. BALTIMORE, Dec. 16 (AP)—Robert W. Eingham, ambassador to Great Britain is in a "serious but not critical" condition, authorities at Johns Hopkins hospital said today.

The Marshall dam is a PWA project on the Colorado river 14 miles north of Austin. The letter came from Bull Creek, a community close to the scene of construction.

Roasting hints: chicken and duck require 30 minutes roasting per pound; turkey or goose require 25 minutes per pound. Fowl should be placed in a roaster and covered with a white cloth and basted every 15 minutes. The cloth should be rinsed in warm water every half hour and then replaced. The lid always should be placed on the roaster.

Eight members and two visitors, Meses. Wise and E. A. Eads, were present.

Meeting for the second time, the B. M. Baker procedure course group discussed "Officers and Their Duties and the Duties of the Committees" at the meeting held yesterday at the school.

Mrs. G. W. Turner enrolled to take the course, and plans were made for the next meeting which will be held next Tuesday at the school.

B-PW Will Have Yule Festival

Members of the Business and Professional Women's club will enjoy their annual Christmas party at the club rooms, Sunday, December 19, at 8 o'clock. It was announced at the monthly business meeting of the organization which was held Tuesday evening in the club rooms.

All members are urged to be at the club rooms by 2:45 o'clock Sunday in order to take the picture of the entire group.

After a sing-song led by Julia Kelley at the meeting, three new members were initiated into the club. The names of 11 prospective members were submitted to and approved by the group. Club members voted to give a Christmas basket to the Goodfellow club.

The program presented was a debate on "Is it cheaper to rent or own your home in Pampa?" with the affirmative by Christine Cecil and the negative by Laura Cornelius.

"Are goods produced for the consumer or the producer?" with Iva Ekern giving the affirmative and Sophia Behrman, the negative; "Wages should be raised rather than higher dividends paid," affirmative, Evelyn Hamilton, and negative, Clara Lee Shevemaker. Many interesting points were brought out by the opponents.

Those present were Evelyn Hamilton, Mildred Oyarall, Johnie Griffin, Eugenia Johnston, Julia Kelley, Lucille Douglass, Mable Gee, Georgia May Rogers, Vera Lard, Audrey Fowler, Lois Maguire, Laverne Coston, Lillian Jordan, Clara Lee Shevemaker, Grace Pool, Gladys Robinson, Christine Cecil, Ores Brock, Fat Austin, Iva Ekern, Laura Cornelius, Elizabeth Atchison, Lela Behrman, Gertie Arnold, Sophia Behrman.

Fifth Birthday Celebrated by Joan Estes at Party

A number of games were played in rooms attractively decorated in Christmas colors. After the gifts were opened, a pink and white birthday cake was cut and served with ice cream to those present. Small Christmas baskets filled with Christmas candy were given as favors.

Those present were Billie Joe Estes, Royce Wayne Estes, Helen Crawford, Margie Shenold, Merdie Dell Alam, Jackie Estes, Lou Ann Estes, Orvella Cordell, Martha Cordell, Richard Lee Summers, Alvin Simpson, Tommy McDonald, Richard Estes, and the honoree.

Mmes. L. W. Simpson and J. S. Botkin helped Mrs. Estes entertain the children.

Singer

Howard Zimmerman, a popular Pampa singer, will sing the bass solo, "For Behold, Darkness Shall Cover the Earth," in Handel's Messiah which will be presented at the First Methodist church next Monday evening.

Fifth Birthday Celebrated by Joan Estes at Party

Joan Estes celebrated her fifth birthday recently with a party given by her mother at her home.

A number of games were played in rooms attractively decorated in Christmas colors. After the gifts were opened, a pink and white birthday cake was cut and served with ice cream to those present. Small Christmas baskets filled with Christmas candy were given as favors.

Those present were Billie Joe Estes, Royce Wayne Estes, Helen Crawford, Margie Shenold, Merdie Dell Alam, Jackie Estes, Lou Ann Estes, Orvella Cordell, Martha Cordell, Richard Lee Summers, Alvin Simpson, Tommy McDonald, Richard Estes, and the honoree.

Mmes. L. W. Simpson and J. S. Botkin helped Mrs. Estes entertain the children.

Alpha Mu Chapter To Meet Friday

Dads Attend Annual B. M. Baker P-TA Program This Week

Asked to inspect the work of their children and to see the demonstrations in class work, an unusually large group of fathers attended Dad's Night session of the B. M. Baker Parent-Teacher association Tuesday evening.

Demonstrations of work were shown in penmanship by the class of Herman Jones; in reading, Miss Lela Clifford's class; Miss Lenora Jiles' fourth grade pupils drew a wreath and candle as a story was read; and the school glee club under the direction of Miss Sears entertained.

Numbers by the advance band, directed by W. Postma, and the discussion of the patrol group, under the leadership of Mrs. Annie Daniels, completed the program.

Special guests at the meeting were Superintendent and Mrs. R. B. Fisher.

Dinner and Bridge Entertain Husbands Of Sew and Chatter

Sew and Chatter club members entertained their husbands Friday at the home of Mrs. W. S. Brake with Mrs. Bob Carr, as co-hostess.

Dinner was served by Meses. and Meses. L. J. Flaherty, Bob Carr, R. A. Hipps, H. H. Boynton, W. S. Brake, and I. M. Westbrook.

High score went to Mr. and Mrs. Hipps.

Back P-TA Meeting Date Postponed

The regular meeting of the Back Parent-Teacher association which was scheduled for December 16 has been postponed until December 23. The program will include Christmas numbers by the school children.

Birthday Party Given Mr. Crites

HIGGINS, Dec. 16.—A few close friends and relatives gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elby Crites recently honoring Mrs. Crites with a birthday dinner.

Enjoying the occasion where Sheriff and Mrs. Everett Tarbox, Lipscomb; Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Crites; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Brown; Mr. and Mrs. Ora Vauters and daughters, Betty Ruth and Allene, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brown and family of Follett.

The first regular meeting of the Alpha Mu Delphian chapter will be held Friday morning at 9:30 o'clock in the First Baptist church parlors.

Mrs. Emma Lou Powell, national supervisor, is to conduct the lesson, which will be "The Aims and Methods of Orientation for Modern Times."

Mrs. T. F. Morton, president of the chapter, will present the introductory summary. Assignments on the program have been made to Meses. Raymond Harrah on "The Delphian Principles of Orientation"; Marvin Lewis, "The Delphian Plan and Orientation for Modern Times"; Paul Kasishko and J. W. Garman, "Delphian Orientation Through Art"; R. J. Hagan and James Arwood, "Some Modern Art-Movements and their Social Counterparts."

Other topics to be discussed are "Orientation Through Literature," Meses. Garnet Reeves and E. Williams; "Orientation Through History," Mrs. T. H. Henry; "Civilization: Unity in Variety," Mrs. Tom Duval; "Esory for Pleasure and Profit," Meses. D. C. McLaughlin and Roy McMillen; and "Delphian and Other Varieties of History," Mrs. H. B. Landrum.

Mrs. Art Swanson Elected President Of Forum Recently

At the regular meeting and Christmas party which was given this week by the Twentieth Century Forum club in the home of Mrs. C. N. Barrett, Mrs. Art Swanson was unanimously elected president of the club to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mrs. Edward H. Damon.

Mrs. Swanson has been an active member of the club for some time and she acted as hostess at one of the recent meetings.

The resignation of Mrs. Damon, who has moved to Bartlesville, Oklahoma, to make her home, was read and accepted by the members. Mrs. W. C. Stack was welcomed as a new member to the club.

Tex's Topics

Ben Bolton, who likes to hunt but hasn't been hunting this season, says that most hunting accidents happen at home and are caused by "unloaded guns". . . Principal L. L. Sone and B. G. Gordon, of the high school, in company with Hol (Donald Duck) Wagner, pick out days to go duck hunting when no self-respecting duck would think of venturing out of the house.

At the request of a reader, the asterisks are being put back in the column today. . . He says it makes the column "prettier". . . One advantage of the asterisk is that it helps to fill space. Have you been down to the Goodfellows' desk at City Hall and adopted a family for Christmas? . . . The Goodfellows of the American Legion, The Salvation Army and the various church organizations are coordinating their efforts to see to it that no needy family goes without a Christmas dinner.

It's pretty swell news today that Pampa merchants are doing a Christmas business that is just about 50 per cent better than their record business for last year. . . An unusual angle to the story is that many stocks are rapidly being depleted, many will have to be renewed for last minute shoppers—which is the best argument you can find in favor of early Christmas shopping.

Tennessee, probably taking a tip from California, has started an extensive advertising campaign, with a news and picture service. . . offered free to newspapers. . . first issue was released Nov. 15. . . Norris dam, the tree that inspired John Fox's famous "Trail of the Lonesome Pine," hills, waterfalls, Lookout mountain, and, of course, pretty girls, are the subjects of mats and glossy prints offered.

J. C. Kellam, Texas youth director, designated the period 1920-1930 as the "prodigal decade." at a conference of social welfare workers in Amarillo recently. . . He said youth problem existed before 1929, was put in focus by the panic. . . Names disappearance of free land, rise of corporate business, contracting markets, and increased mechanical efficiency as reasons why job-getting is difficult for young people. . . to get along youth must be able to do some one thing well, he believes.

Establishment of Big Bend National Park will bring an estimated four million dollars into Texas each year, including $225,000 by Uncle Sam for developing and maintaining the park. . . CCC will finish three years work in Big Bend State Park Wednesday (Dec. 15). . . has constructed roads, trails, bridges. . . cannot do any more work until state gets more land to be deeded to U. S. for national park. . . 788,000 acres would be included, counting the area of the state park, in the federal project.

Washington Daybook

WASHINGTON—Today's lesson is about philately; if that seems strange in these turgid times, we can only explain that we ran into Mr. Philip H. Ward, the philatelist, of Philadelphia, at the White House.

Under his arm he carried $100,000 worth of such stamps as amateurs rave about. He brought them with the idea of inducing the President to issue a Benjamin Franklin memorial stamp next year. Jimmy Roosevelt tried to get him to leave the stamps for the President to examine at his leisure, but no go.

Mr. Ward insisted that if the President saw the stamps he would have to see Mr. Ward also. For him to let the stamps out of his possession would cause the insurance to lapse. Mr. Ward, who is plump and jolly but deadly serious about the stamp business, denied the insurance angle was a dodge to force the President to see him and soon Jimmy and everybody else was believing him, he was so earnest about everything.

While he was waiting for the President to see the stamps and him, he showed them to anybody who wanted to see them. He knew the life history of each, how much it cost and how much it is worth now. Their value increases fabulously, at times, like lucky mining stock. Mr. Ward said stamp values didn't flop even during the depression.

He had one of those 1918 airmail stamps with the plane upside down. Only one sheet of those got out of possession of the postoffice department. A Washington bank clerk bought the whole sheet over the counter. Both he and the clerk saw the sheet at the same instant but the bank clerk made the quickest grab and dashed for the door. He got $20,000 for that 50 yard dash, a new high for such short sprints. In the beginning the stamps were retailed by a kindly philatelist to other philatelists for $250 each but now each stamp is worth $4,500.

Mr. Ward had some pre-Civil war stamps with a special history. After the Civil war broke out, Mr. Ward related, the Confederate postmaster general ordered postmasters in each Confederate state to repay the federal government for all stamps sold up to the time the state seceded.

That seemed pretty square shooting but Mr. Ward said the federal government didn't reciprocate. The government demonetized all the outstanding issues of stamps so the supplies in confederate postoffices weren't worth a penny. Even now they are only fairly valuable, they are so plentiful. A three-cent stamp brings only about a dime. Philatelists sometimes amuse themselves by putting one on a letter. He says most postal clerks don't know that such stamps are "demonetized" and so are worthless in the eyes of the government. The letters go right through.

Mr. Ward also had one pre-civil war stamp worth $10,000. It also was an upside-downer. The engraver put the flags on wrong and that issue went into philatelic history.

Dear Santa: See America First

Man About Manhattan

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—William Faulkner, author of "Sanctuary," "As I Lay Dying," and other pessimistic tomes, wound up a lively two weeks in Gotham by attending a party at one of those conchaves where the dowager hostesses make a point of landing some upper-bracket author as guest of honor.

So delighted was she at lassoing such a well-known young man that she called for him herself in a huge limousine. As they drove sedately through Fifth Avenue Faulkner suddenly paled. Clutching the chinchilla cloak of his hostess, he gasped: "I think I'm going to be ill!" . . . and was!

(Note: Next day Mr. Faulkner boarded a fast plane for Oxford, Miss., where he is now writing a new novel. The limousine episode had nothing to do with his departure. He would have left anyway.)

At the Army-Navy football game some young lady drew a large "X" with her lipstick on top of our hat. . . She is requested to forward her name and address immediately, as we positively refuse to be branded anonymously!

This also goes for the lady in Bismark, North Dakota, who chided us recently for a columnist boner and signed herself, "A Prairie Woman." . . It's getting so now, all a man runs into is aliases!

In a late hour spot the other night an irate diner summoned the waiter and sent back his eggs as unsatisfactory. A substitute order was hastily prepared, but these two met with disfavor and the guest clamored loudly for the manager. . . Trying to appear affable, the host personally saw to the next order himself, and when it too was rudely decreed, the boss exploded: "This is the best we can do, Sir! Who do you want to complain to now—Congress?"

"No," said the customer. "I want my eggs shirred—not scrambled!"

It isn't often that a dramatic failure on Broadway has any real significance, but "Barchester Towers" now proves the exception. . . This is the first time in 15 years that Ina Claire has arrived on the Rialto with a play that has not been a success. . . And so, with a shrug, and perhaps a little rosemary for remembrance (for her long, unbroken records of hits), the "soap bubble" charm of Miss Claire will have to begin a new skin. . .

In this comedy of manners Miss Claire is a divorcee who is suddenly plopped down in the quiet of a cathedral town. . . The reviewers, while none too charitable with Miss Claire's performance, were inclined to view the play itself as thin and unworthy.

Fredric March will have to charter a hall if he wants enough space to take care of his Christmas present which Florence Edridge, his wife, had all waiting and ready for him. . . It is a painting of herself and their two children.

People You Know

By ARCHER FULLINGIM

Every Christmas you hear some people say, "this doesn't seem at all like Christmas to me." Well, that was the way this one had been feeling until he stopped by Mrs. De Lea Vicars' on the way home yesterday. The few minutes spent in that house brought the Christmas feeling— not the Christmas spirit because you can't have that until you give. But Mrs. Vicars has the Christmas spirit. She gives more gifts, probably, every year than any other person in town. . . it is every December about this time, so her house now is almost bulging with gifts for her friends who may be poor and needy, but they are her friends if she gives them presents. She has friends among the rich, the well-to-do and among the poor, but most of her gifts will go to the latter. Already there is a pile of wrapped gifts that topples near the ceiling, and she hasn't started yet. There are gifts for young and old, and she has as many young friends as old. There is a row of dolls . . . and toys for boys as well as most of all there is a light in her eyes that reflects a feeling in her heart that most of us would like to have. That feeling has something to do with the display on her mantel-piece. At one end are figures of shepherds guarding standing and reclining sheep. Next is a miniature town, shok-ing the inn that had no room in it for the Holy Virgin. Next are arranged the figures of Mary, Joseph in the manger sitting around the Christ child, and barnyard animals are in the stable and around it. Next shows a series of mountain peaks, covered with deep snow, miniature pines, and there are rabbits, deer, sheep among them.

"Yes," shouted Blackmer, "but grab this lever quick before I'm killed!"

They got the car back, and Blackmer gave his autograph in, one suspects, a jittery scrawl.

In "Headline Huntress" Gloria Stuart wears a fox fur coat reputedly valued at $1,500—but she is beginning to have some doubts about it. In a number of scenes she appears with Rex, a tiny mongrel dog. Every time she walks into the scene, Rex leaps for the coat and clamps his teeth on hard.

"I've never been able to break Rex of the urge to hunt rabbits," remarked his master, Henry East—perhaps relevantly, although Gloria isn't sure.

In "Tovarich" the character bit of Alphonse—one of the guests at the dinner party—is responsible for an amusing "running gag." The bit is played by Curt Bois. In Germany, until rather recently, Curt Bois was one of the leading comedians. The usual ancestral reasons sent him to Hollywood.

Michael Whalen has been taking golf lessons at studio expense, for a picture. He has been taught to swing, but he still considers himself a golfless golfer. Just when the club is supposed to strike the ball they cut to a closeup of another player. When the ball is seen again it's zooming down the fairway.

Add I-mean-it handshakes: Bette Davis's.

Don't let it bother you—it doesn't worry Claudette—but watch next time you see her in a picture for one good view of the right side of the Colbert face. You won't find it. She has the notion that the left exposure is her "good camera side"—and in a recent film she had a set rebuilt to avoid making an entrance the other way!

Around Hollywood

—By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Brian Aherne's theory is that an actor this side of 40 can't contribute much in the way of a performance, because he hasn't learned enough about acting. Barbara O'Neil (the gracious young mother of "Stella Dallas") offers her own variant on that: "When I'm 30 I'll know enough to be an ingenue."

Twenty-seven now, in "Everybody Was Very Nice" she has Wayne Morris as a 25-year-old son. "Three more years," says she, "and I'll be an ingenue. By that time I'll know enough to play one."

Narrow Escape

Fame has its perils along with its rewards. Sidney Blackmer was driving east recently to appear in a stage play. On an ice-covered highway near Cambridge, Ohio, his car skidded on the frozen road, did whirligigs, and crashed through a guard railing, its rear end balanced precariously over a 150-foot ravine.

A state highway patrolman stopped his motorcycle and offered aid. Blackmer and the officer were using a long pole as a lever to swing the vehicle back on the pavement again. In the midst of the swing the patrolman dropped the pole in surprise. "Aren't you Sidney Blackmer, the actor?"

"Yes," shouted Blackmer, "but grab this lever quick before I'm killed!"

They got the car back, and Blackmer gave his autograph in, one suspects, a jittery scrawl.

How's Your Health?

By IAGO GALDSTON, M.D.

If your head sinuses are in a healthy condition, you probably are only casually interested in their structure and function. You aren't aware of them or much concerned with them.

But when acute or chronic inflammatory processes affect the sinuses (that is, when sinusitis develops), the resulting pain and constitutional disorders almost certainly make you keenly aware of these air spaces.

A knowledge of the structure and location of the sinuses will help you to understand why they frequently become inflamed, why they do not always drain themselves clear and why certain treatment procedures, such as puncturing and washing out the sinuses, are sometimes necessary.

A sinus is an air cavity in one of the cranial (head) bones. The four para-nasal sinuses (called "para-nasal" because they surround and open into the nose) are placed symmetrically on either side of the nose. They are arranged on three tiers. The largest and lowest one is the maxillary sinus (also called the antrum). The second is the ethmoid sinus (divided into two parts, anterior and posterior). Behind the ethmoid is the sphenoid sinus, and above the eye orbit is the frontal sinus.

The para-nasal sinuses vary in size and shape in different individuals. And what is more significant, they vary in size and shape on the two sides of the face. For this reason, one side only may be affected.

Each sinus is connected with the nasal cavity through a small opening. The position of these openings varies. Sometimes the opening is so located as to make it difficult or impossible for the sinus to drain itself clear.

The para-nasal sinuses are lined with mucous membrane which is continuous with that of the nose. Under normal conditions, the mucous membrane lining the sinus secretes a small amount of mucus which is continuously being swept out from the sinuses by the whip-like projections (cilia) of the cells forming the lining membrane.

The function of the para-nasal sinuses is apparently that of resonance boxes for the human voice. The sinuses also "lighten" and strengthen the bony structure of the face.

The Capitol Jigsaw

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, Dec. 16 (AP)—There was more interest about the capitol in Farmer's declaration than some who don't like him want to admit. Speculation began immediately as to how many votes he would receive and, if he did not win, whom he might hurt or help. One of the chief figures in the Government, who would not allow his name to be used, suggested Farmer had a pretty good platform, so good, in fact, "he must have had some help in writing it."

That platform had for its main plank provision for the aged, for dependent children and for needy blind, quite in line with Farmer's repeated demands in the House of Representatives. There followed, among others, declarations for aid to tenants, known and country, in acquiring homes; liberal provision for education, fair treatment for business and industry and economy in Government.

Farmer's reason for attending recent oil prorations hearings, where he nearly "busted things up" by determinedly questioning witnesses, came into the open as he opposed, in the platform, any efforts to throttle the industry and favored giving Texas a fairer share of world markets. Apparently at the hearings he had been gathering campaign thunder.

Another person who will be one of the "big shots" in the gubernatorial race, likewise shunned comment on the farmer announcement, saying, "listen, my friend, I don't even want it said I didn't comment."

One source suggested that Farmer, who would have to get out of the House of Representatives should he carry through in the race for Governor, would never finish the contest, but would find a reason to withdraw and seek re-election to the legislature.

The first impression in Austin was that Farmer led in announcing for Governor, but now there is some question. The Sunday papers which carried Farmer's announcement also printed the brief: one of Doran John Marcus Haealy of Dallas, who, it seems, was the Republican candidate for United States Senator in 1930. Haealy was expected to campaign as a Democrat for a pension plan financed by a trans-action tax.

SENSIBLE ADVICE

A dozen leading economists recently presented to the special session of congress a four-point formula for ending the slump in business activity.

The gist of it, according to press dispatches: "Do something to encourage business." The four points included: Abolishment of the tax on undistributed profits; revision or abolishment of the tax on capital gains; ending of government competition with business; the bolstering of confidence by definitely indicating an intention to balance the budget as soon as practical and possible.

Among the economists were such recognized authorities as David Friday, Prof. Irving Fisher, Col. Leonard Ayres, B. M. Anderson and Paul Douglas.

In addition, members of the group advocated co-operation between labor and business on wages, prices and employment. All agreed with the statement of Mr. Friday when he said: "There is need of some definite, dramatic action to show that government promises of helping business are more than just a lot of talk."

Congress has been holding open season on business. Industry has been sniped at from all quarters. It has been reviled, denounced and saddled with an unprecedented weight of punitive laws. The inevitable results are seen today: Worried investors, discouraged managements, retrenchment of capital, all culminating in a major business recession. Continuance of this trend must inevitably turn the recession into a depression.

The four actions the economists lists would go a long way toward bringing back lost confidence. They would, instantly, encourage the spending of money, the building of plants, the expansion of inventories, and the employment of men and women. Congress never did get better advice.

A GOOD OLD CUSTOM

The penny Christmas Seal this year depicts a jolly colorful Town Crier. Garbed in his warm caped coat of blue and his three-cornered hat, he brings to mind one of the most popular and ancient characters of many lands—the man who went from house to house in the small towns and villages to warn of dangers, spread the news, and protect the householders.

When sickness, danger or disaster threatened, the Town Crier did much to avert it. Now, 300 years after its hey-day, it is fitting that the good old custom of the Town Crier should be recalled on this year's Christmas Seal, for these seals serve a purpose similar to that served by the Town Crier—they warn of danger, spread knowledge, and help to protect us.

Some day Christmas Seals may be relegated to that realm of almost forgotten "good old customs" along with the Town Crier who is so suitably pictured on the 1937 Christmas Seal.

But until that day it is our duty and our privilege to purchase them each Christmas season and thus aid in a small way the campaign that is being carried on throughout the nation.

FOOTBALL TAX KICK

It is rather surprising to learn that certain great state universities have filed suit to recover amusement taxes collected by the federal government on football tickets. The universities contend that football is an essential state function, that the government cannot rightfully tax a university for performing such a function, and that the amusement tax has therefore been wrongly collected.

Unless we are getting back to the old Roman idea—that it is the government's job to keep the populace amused—it is pretty difficult to see just how football can be defended as an essential state function even by the most elastic stretch of that term.

Football is a sport and a spectacle. It is fairly well professionalized, in its essentials, and the universities profit immensely by it. Few lawyers could take seriously the plea that it is such an essential part of the educational process that it should go untaxed.

ONLY TWO STATE GOP CHAIRMEN SELECTED

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 16 (AP)—Chairman John D. M. Hamilton of the Republican national committee disclosed today the committee being selected here to draft a new declaration of party principles will include only two state Republican chairmen.

"And insofar as I know none of our county chairmen nor any of the 106,000 precinct committeemen has been recommended or carried into the final list of the committee," he declared.

This statement reflected the earlier "blanket embargo" placed on present office holders, elected or appointed, as members of the steering committee.

Several members of the executive group expressed hope of adjourning late today.

Book A Day

—By BRUCE CATTON

Carl Carmer continues to delve industriously into the by-ways of American life; and he emerges, this time, with a book called "The Hurricane's Children" (Parr & Rinehart, $3), which is a breezy and interesting compilation of the folk-tales, myths and tall yarns of the American people.

There is a queer thing about American myths, says Mr. Carmer. Most people build their folk-lore around "the little people"—fairies, gnomes, elves, and such-like. Americans go to the other extreme; their mythical heroes are typified by Paul Bunyan. They are giants, men who can do the impossible, prodigious eaters and fighters and workers and, occasionally, extraordinary liars.

So here are some of these stories: stories about Mike Fink, the legendary Mississippi river flatboatman; about Pecos Bill, the greatest of all cowboys; about Kemp Morgan, boss of the oil drillers; about John Henry and Johnny Appleseed and that fabulous product of New Orleans, Anlie Christmas.

Then there are some Paul Bunyan stories. I especially liked the one about the time Paul hitched Babe the Blue Ox to one end of a crooked logging road, to straighten it. Babe heaved, the road came straight, and was so much shorter that Paul had 88 miles of road left over—which he smoothed up, polished, and presented to Minneapolis for a boulevard.

IGKES DIDN'T APPROVE OIL BUYING PRACTICES

MADISON, Wis., Dec. 16 (AP)—A statement that the major oil companies buying activities in 1935 were not approved "definitely" by Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes or by the petroleum administrative board was before the jury today in the federal government's gasoline price-fixing case.

Dr. John W. Frey, former University of Wisconsin geologist and now associate director of the petroleum conservation division of the interior department at Washington, gave this testimony yesterday during cross examination by a government prosecutor. The witness said he had been a member of the petroleum board during NRA code days.

Dr. Frey testified the board received from Charles Arnett, Socony-Vacuum official, an oral report on major company purchases of independent refiners' gasoline through the tank car stabilization committee.

Dr. Frey said Arnett had named this committee under authority of a letter sent him by Secretary Ickes.

Questioned by Federal Judge Patrick T. Stone, Dr. Frey said he thought the petroleum board did approve of the activities although he said he did not know whether the board really had any authority to give approval. Its work was done informally, he said.

NEUTRALITY ACT HIT BY UNIVERSITY PROF

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Dec. 16 (AP)—A Redlands University educator, Dr. Earl Cranston, tartly criticized United States neutrality legislation today before the institute of world affairs.

At one point in his speech, Dr. Cranston referred to it as "so-called neutrality legislation."

He said Congress seems satisfied at present in sort of waiting policy. To American public opinion, he attributed a rather amorphous attitude. Yet he credited the people with antagonism to war in general principles regardless of their vagueness as to actual preventive means.

Dr. Cranston posed possibility of alternating American neutrality legislation so as to permit the President "a much wider range of discretion."

Anticipating a contention that the executive should not be granted large powers, he said "it may be suggested that in days like these someone must have authority to act."

"While Democrats have hesitated, the dictators have been walking away with the spoils," Dr. Cranston observed.

Dr. Cranston contended all provisions of the present neutrality act are definitely negative in nature.

Schneider Hotel Garage Purchased By John Mobley

John T. Mobley, formerly superintendent of the service department of the Hampton & Campbell Garage, today announced that he had bought the Schneider Hotel Garage, in S. Frost street, from Howard Buckingham and C. H. Compton.

Mr. Mobley took possession of the garage this morning. At present he plans to give a complete automotive and garage service with a staff of a half dozen mechanics and attendants.

Within a very short time, Mr. Mobley plans to install an automobile sales agency, he stated.

Magazine Club Has Christmas Program

HIGGINS, Dec. 16—Mrs. L. D. Shaw was hostess to the Higgins Magazine club Wednesday afternoon when quotations of Christmas cheer were given in answer to roll call. The paper "Story of the Christmas Carols" was given by Mrs. Dora Congdon and was followed by "Christmas Carols" from Dickens, read entertainingly by Mrs. C. H. Hyde.

"Christmas in the South" was related by Mrs. Ben Roberts. The article's report by Mrs. Roy Landers was followed by interesting current events. Mrs. Joe Williams was a special guest while members present other than those mentioned included Mesdames A. L. Wissett, A. Essnitz, E. C. Peterson, B. C. Hurn, J. N. Millholten, Chas. Newcomer, and C. R. Patton.

Quilting Club Has Luncheon

HIGGINS, Dec. 16—Mrs. Virgil Dunkin was hostess to the Sunshine Quilting club Monday at a covered dish luncheon when Miss Roselyn Cain and Misses Harold Crouch and Roy Price were special guests. Quilting furnished the day's entertainment.

Members present included Mesdames Ora Vauters, Buel Barton, J. E. Tarbox, C. Baldwin, O. Chambers, J. Vauters, Dave Kitchin, J. N. Peterson, Oscar Peterson, LaFol Divon, Lucien Bybee, and Mrs. Alex Butch. The club enjoyed a Christmas party and exchange of gifts at the home of Mrs. Bunch Wednesday. Mrs. Barton will be club hostess at the regular meeting on December 29.

CHRISTMAS IS HERE FOR THE PAGE BOYS.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 68 page boys in congress wish special sessions would go on forever. They are the only capitol employees who are paid by the day and therefore collect an extra $12.784 for running congressional errands during the latest special session.

This is $4 per day each for these boys, who are all between 12 and 16 years old.

THIRTY BUFFALO CALVES TO BE SOLD AT HIGGINS ON TUESDAY

HIGGINS, Dec. 16—(Special)—With the roads covered with ice and sleet the ruin of livestock at the Higgins Live Stock Sale was unusually light. A few over a hundred head of cattle were consigned and two truck loads of good butcher hogs were brought in. A pair of big smooth mouthed horses were sold at good prices. Hogs were a good demand and all the offerings were taken by local farmers and ranchers for home killing.

H. E. Montague of Gem City consigned a load that sold up to $7.75 per hundred weight and Bert Hastings, local farmer, had a load of extra nice white hogs that brought up to $8.00 a hundred. Arch Merriam, Wichita, who owns and operates a ranch northwest of here purchased most of these for home use. Other local buyers were Fletcher Jones, Roy Landers and Fred Forbeur. In the cattle yards Charles Bird and Son of the Notia neighborhood sold more than a car load of medium grade cows. Ed Little, of Durham, purchased the top end of these cattle while J. N. Peterson, local rancher, bought the balance—21 head at $28.25 a head. Roy New, Arnett, had a truck load of fleshy yearlings of plain quality that sold up to 6c per pound.

Bob Dorsey and Jack Wagner of Arnett, bought the top heifer of the afternoon's sale to butcher for home use. A Jersey milch cow belonging to Ted Lorenz went through the ring at $34.50 to T. M. Mauldin. Mauldin also consigned about 59 head of white face calves on the light and thin order that brought up to $17.75 a head. A large run of livestock is expected for next week's sale, due to the inability of consigners to get over the bad roads to attend the sale this week. Thirty head of good buffalo calves will be sold next Tuesday in lots to suit the purchaser. The management has made arrangements with a local butcher so that those desiring buffalo meat for Christmas can have it slaughtered immediately.

SAMMY BAUGH BACK TO VISIT TEXAS FRIENDS

FORT WORTH, Dec. 16 (AP)—Sammy Baugh, the former T. C. U. Frog star who tossed the Washington Redskins to the national pro league title in Chicago last Sunday, came "home" today. He arrived with Phil Handler, coach of the Chicago Cards and also a former Frog.

Sam said he intended to visit his folks in Sweetwater today. Asked about his marriage to Edmonia Smith, T. C. U. co-ed from Sweetwater, Sam said "It might be this week." He said he would rejoin the Redskins in California in December and go with the team to Honolulu after games in San Francisco and Los Angeles.

"The Honolulu trip would be a fine honeymoon," Sam admitted.

SINCLAIR MOVES INTO SOUTH WICHITA FIELD

WICHITA FALLS, Dec. 16 (AP)—Another major oil company into the South Wichita County field Wednesday when the Sinclair-Prairie Oil Company completed purchase of leases totaling 317 acres in semi-wildcat territory.

Leases on two tracts were purchased from N. H. Martin of Wichita Falls. The leases are in the M. A. Willis survey, west and southwest of the King Oil Company's No. 1, Waggoner Brothers.

Consideration was approximately $75,000 in cash and oil.

RED HATS GIVEN NEW CARDINALS BY POPE

VATICAN CITY, Dec. 16 (AP)—Pope Pius placed red hats upon the heads of five new cardinals at a public consistory today.

The pontiff's face bore signs of a year's suffering due to the infirmities of age and his hands trembled slightly, but he held himself proudly erect upon his throne during the elaborate ceremony.

The five elevated were: Giuseppe Pizzardo, Vatican undersecretary of state, Ermenegildo Pelleginetti, papal nuncio to Yugoslavia; Giovanni Piazzas, patriarch of Venice; Arthur Hinsley, archbishop of Westminster, and Pierre Gerlier, archbishop of Lyon.

CARNERA, ILL. BUDAPEST, Dec. 16 (AP)—Primo Carnera, former world heavyweight champion, was in a sanitarium here today with kidney hemorrhage which physicians said was "possibly serious" and would require him to quit the ring indefinitely.

Five clarinets used in ancient Greece are preserved in the British museum.

NEW SPENDING DRIVE GETTING WIDE SUPPORT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16 (AP)—Strong support has developed in Congress, a survey showed today, for resumption of government spending on a modified scale in an attempt to spur business activity.

Some anti-administration senators, as well as some Roosevelt supporters said they believed new spending must start in January or February, but there was a difference of opinion as to whether it should be of the "pump priming" type.

'GALLOPING GALLOWS' MAY HANG MONTANAN

COLUMBUS, Mont., Dec. 16 (AP)—Stillwater county may borrow from Silver Bow county the latter's "galloping gallows" for the execution Jan. 15 of Frank Robideau, 47, alias Joseph L. Liberty, undersheriff Jack Benjamin said today.

The portable gallows has traveled over much of Montana to serve its grim duty. Robideau was sentenced yesterday to die for the murder of Mike Kuntz, Wheat Basin, Mont., elevator operator. Kuntz and his wife were slain, and their five-year-old son Larry was severely beaten, the night of November 26.

Robideau admitted both slayings, declaring Kuntz backed out of an agreement to "shoot it out" as a means of settling an argument over some wheat stored in Kuntz' elevator.

HUSBAND OF EARHART LEADS EXPEDITION

SAN PEDRO, Calif., Dec. 16 (AP)—If the movies want any of those cross word puzzle animals from South America, they'll have to look to some expedition other than the Putnam-Garnett group, which sails from here today.

Active head of the expedition is George Palmer Putnam, husband of Amelia Earhart, who, with Tay Garnett, of the movies, has underwritten it for the California Zoological Society.

"We aren't going after any rare animals," said Putnam, "but just the commoner ones, such as ocelots and tapirs, the usual parrots and macaws and other birds and some snakes. All will be presented to Zoo Park here.

The trip has another purpose, making a motion picture, but Putnam dismissed that angle with the statement, "we intend to photograph certain aspects of the expedition."

Putnam will take the Athene, Garnett's 110-foot Diesel yacht, to the Galapagos islands "as a matter of curiosity," and the party may visit the "head-hunting" San Blas Indians in Darien, below Panama.

Also out of curiosity, no doubt, and not as collectors. When completely filled, Lake Mead, created by the Colorado river backing up behind Boulder dam, will be 115 miles long.

AMERICA'S FAR EAST NAVY HAS UNIQUE RECORD

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16 (AP)—That little section of the American navy operating in Chinese waters, naval officials said today, probably has been under fire more frequently in the last 67 years than any other squadron.

Ever since 1870, they said, the story of the Yangtze river patrol and the south China patrol has been studded with deeds of heroism, struggles with floods, and gun battles with bandits, pirates and rioters.

The Panay, bombed Sunday by Japanese aviators, was the first of the force to be sunk by a foreign power. Activities of the last decade, however, were highlighted by riots in 1927 and bandit attacks in 1930-31.

In the earlier year, the patrol spent two months evacuating Americans and other foreigners from Hankow and other up-river cities. It had to call for reinforcements from the Asiatic fleet for a battle with rioting nationalist troops at Nanking.

During the eight-month period beginning in July, 1930, there were 37 bandit attacks on the patrol and 87 additional attacks on American guards stationed on commercial vessels. The patrol was established by

Firemen Pension Law To Be Tested January Seventh

AUSTIN, Dec. 16 (AP)—The new state firemen's pension law's constitutionality stood challenged in district court here today. A temporary order prohibiting collection of taxes for the pension fund from five fire insurance companies was issued yesterday by District Judge J. D. Moore who set the case for trial Jan. 7.

Enacted by the present legislature, the statute levied a two per cent tax on fire insurance premiums to finance pensions.

Beware Coughs That Hang On

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membranes and to loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm.

Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained from the very first bottle. Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

PAMPA COMES FROM BEHIND TO BEAT LEFORS 23-18 IN CLOSE GAME

B TEAM WINS FROM PIRATES BY BIG SCORE

The Harvesters last night were forced to overcome an 8-point lead piled up in the first and second quarters by the LeFors Pirates to nose out the invading cagers 23 to 18.

The Harvester B team had an easier time, winning 32 to 14.

Every one of the first string seemed to be badly off except Claude Heiskell, who looped five field goals and made two out of three free shots.

Bob Andis, the other Harvester forward, had the worst luck ever witnessed on the local court. He couldn't hit the basket from any angle. He had plenty of chances, and as the game progressed his shooting became desperate but to no avail. Despite his inability to swish the net, he made amazing interceptions of the ball which he handled well. Andis was high-point man at LeFors Tuesday night with 12 points. Last night he made one field goal.

Coach Mitchell used his entire first string. When he saw Andis not playing up to par he sent in Dunaway. Later A. C. Miller replaced Cunningham. Cox, who is still forced to favor an injured knee, played the greater part of the game at the center position.

A. C. Miller looked as good as anybody on the court. He is improving daily, and if he continues to look better he may be on the first string before long.

The score at the end of the first quarter was 11 to 7 with LeFors leading, and at the half the game was tied up 14 to 14.

Harrell Leads Scoring
Omer Harrell was the hot-shot for the B team, looping three field goals and making three free shots. Tidwell, substitute center, and Grover Lee Heiskell tied for second place scoring honors with six points each. Dull and Brown guards, both of whom fouled out, made two field goals each. Williams fouled out on the LeFors second string.

In the other game Reynolds, and Dent and Carruth, LeFors guards, left the game on personals. Officials Leggett and Ayer called a close game, but not too close. Observers felt that it is better to start calling them close now than to wait until the district meet.

ALABAMA PRISONERS RELEASED FOR XMAS

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Dec. 16 (AP)—Alabama's annual test of the honor of its convicts began today.

Prison gates swung open for the first of 544 prisoners, including 50 women, who were granted the coveted privilege of a two weeks parole by Governor Bibb Graves as a Christmas present upon their promise to return.

The custom of Christmas paroles on a "man-to-man" agreement was started by Governor Graves ten years ago.

Cowtown Writer Picks Steers Over Coyotes

By FRANK TOLBERT, Fort Worth Star-Telegram Sports Writer

Sammy Baugh a Hero Again

Sammy Baugh (center), Washington Redskins quarterback, whose sensational touchdown passes enabled the Redskins to beat the Chicago Bears for the professional football championship, shares the spotlight with Cliff Battles (left) and Wayne Miller, in the Chicago dressing room after the game in which all three starred.

Clumping through the chocolate goo of North Side's practice field in the rain yesterday, this department decided to select the starting Steers and Longview's loud young men as probable finalists in the Interscholastic League's football chase. As a result, today the rush of the conservative bettors toward Conroe and Wichita Falls should be terrific.

There could be no better place to make such a momentous decision than out there on that grassless, castron practice lot, scene of the Steers' roughhouse rehearsals, now beaten to a pudding softness by the rain.

Dealing with the record book realities there can be no other choices, we argued, even though the Red Coyotes of Wichita Falls are large lads and rougher than so many wrestlers. Even though the Wild Horses of Conroe have flamed through their season unbeaten and untied, the highest scorers in the state.

But the Coyotes have been strictly a swing-high swing-low run-hot run-cold outfit. The fact that they didn't turn in any sensational performances against El Paso Austin last week should give their coach, Ted Jeffries, a lot of hope. He might get them back to that stride they hit against Amarillo. And if he does, nothing can stand before the Coyotes.

Weight Tells Here.
Sam Oze, the tempestuous wingman, Gene Ashmore, all-district center, and Guard E. J. Kinder will be the Steers on whom the Coyotes' weight advantage of about 20 pounds to the man will work the greatest hardship. Each of these boys weighs around 140 pounds.

The other Steers linemen are light heavies, or thereabouts. You've heard the story by now of the Coyotes' strange season. The Coyotes have had their followers whistling through their teeth all season, one week because of their brilliance and the next for a contrasting reason.

You can be as light as the Steers and get away with it if you've got good boys. But it seems to me that the Conroe boys are just a shade too feathery to stop Longview's maulers.

And for another thing, Longview has such a many-pronged attack that it's like trying to milk nine goats at once to halt the Lobos.

For instance, in the Lobo backfield there are three amazingly good pass throwers, the brothers Miller, Fullback Hardy and Halfback Dandy Dick, and Frank Lebus.

This same threesome makes up one of the best ball-bearing combinations you'll ever see. Then the Lobos will throw a senior line from tackle to tackle on the field at Conroe Saturday afternoon.

Hardy Miller is a long range pitcher. He threw a 50-yard pass for a touchdown against Glade-water. Raymond Cantrell, the other Lobo secondaryman, carries the ball on reverse and is East Texas' premier blocking back.

The Steers yesterday took their first indoor workout of the week. Coach Herman Clark kept the boys in the North Side gymnasium all of the rainy afternoon.

Dub Matson, the Steers' injured halfback who hasn't played since the paschal game, was walking around the gym yesterday with only a vestige of limp. Maybe Dub might be ready by the time the Steers play in the finals. But that's only muttering in the dark. For the Steers wrestle with a short ton of Wichita Falls boys on the turtle-back Coyote stadium field at Wichita Falls Saturday afternoon.

OUTSTANDING COMEBACK MADE BY GOMEZ DURING LAST YEAR

ALAN REED TO HOLD TOURNEY

ALAN REED, Dec. 16 (AP)—Hero of the year's outstanding individual come-back in any sport, by expert vote, is Vernon Gomez, slender southpaw of the world champion Yankees, who took a big salary cut last winter and then proceeded to recapture No. 1 rank for effectiveness among American league pitchers.

Gomez, who climaxed the end of a two-year slump by standing the Giants on their ears twice in the world series, gained a decisive margin over all rivals in the seventh annual poll of leading sports writers by the Associated Press.

The tally today showed 19 first place votes for Gomez and a point total of 69, calculated on a 3-2-1 basis for the trio of come-back choices posted by each contributing expert. A total of 53 writers balloted.

Ralph Guldahl, who topped off a wonderful golfing comeback by capturing the United States open championship, beat heavyweight champion Joe Louis for runner-up honors. Guldahl collected nine first-place votes and outpointed Louis, 40 to 34. Louis got support for his rise to title heights after being knocked out the year before by Max Schmeling, the 1936 winner of the comeback poll.

Tabulation of the poll on come-backs follows: firsts, points.
Vernon Gomez, top-ranking American league pitcher, 16, 69.
Ralph Guldahl, U. S. open golf champion, 9, 40.
Joe Louis, world heavyweight champion, 6, 34.
Johnny Goodman, U. S. amateur golf champion, 3, 26.
Hank Greenberg, Detroit Tigers' first baseman, 2, 13.
Tony Lazzeri, New York Yankees' second baseman, 2, 12.
Bob Feller, Cleveland Indians' pitcher, 2, 10.
Charley Kirtsinger, jockey, 1, 9.
Johnny Allen, Cleveland Indians' pitcher, 1, 8.
Johnny Risko, Cleveland heavyweight boxer, 2, 6.

SOONER SCHEDULE.
NORMAN, Okla., Dec. 16 (AP)—The University of Oklahoma will meet all Big Six conference football foes in 1938 and the remainder of its opponents will be Southwestern teams. The 1938 schedule includes: October 1, Rice at Houston; October 8, Texas at Dallas.

Colorado Coach Was Team-Mate Of 'Red' Grange

BOULDER, Colo., Dec. 16 (AP)—Bernard Francis (Bunny) Oakes, coach of Colorado's undefeated Rocky Mountain conference football champions, is a hard worker on the practice field and expects the same of his players.

He demands strict training, contending a team that stays in condition will give the straightarm to the injury bugaboo. This was proved during the 1937 campaign as not a single Colorado regular missed an important contest because of injury. And they will be ready for Rice in the Cotton Bowl.

Oakes played football with "Red" Grange at Illinois. He was a line coach at Tennessee and then Nebraska, and came to Colorado as head man in 1935 after a four-season stretch as chief pilot at the University of Montana.

Oakes rates Byron (Whizzer) White, Colorado's all-American, as a better all-around back than Grange.

Christmas Light Halts Fast Train

DU QUOIN, Ill., Dec. 16 (AP)—Du Quoin's Christmas decorations were just too effective.

A city employe, railroad official said, placed a red light at the main street crossing.

The Florida-bound passenger train came to an abrupt halt. Quickly the bulb was changed to green.

The average vocabulary of a child of 12 is 14,000 words.

'PERFECT CARD' ARRANGED FOR MONDAY NIGHT

The almost perfect wrestling match has been arranged for next Monday night at the Pampa Athletic arena when Promoter Cliff Chambers will present a main event of Sailor Jack Moran of Bald Knob, Ark., and Jack Mandell, the Australian Kangaroo man. It's a natural that should have fans standing in the aisles.

As a supporting card, Chambers has outdone himself, again. The semi-final will send the likeable Andy Tremaine of Phoenix, Ariz., against Benny Wilson, the Fort Worth cowboy. While Wilson leans to the unorthodox style of grappling, Tremaine punishes 'em by holds.

The opener at 8 o'clock will see likeable Gust Johnson, who downed Cyclone Mackie last Monday night, in the ring with Otto Ludwig, the most unpopular grappler on the circuit at the present time.

Fans are urged to secure their reserve seat tickets early at Pampa Drug or by calling 905M. Reserve ringside seats duets are only 65 cents with general admission 40 cents.

Too much cannot be said about Mandell and his wrestling. He is a machine when it comes to getting holds. He never wastes a motion and is as smooth as molasses as he glides across the ring or leaps kangaroo style at his opponent.

The wild sailor wrestles as he thinks. If he is in a good humor, he is liable to go scientific but mostly he is on the opposite side of the fence.

Jack Kearns All Hopped Up About Jimmy Adamick

NEW YORK, Dec. 16 (AP)—Professor Jack Kearns, who has had more ups and downs than a ferris wheel since that long ago day when he and Jack Dempsey broke up their famous partnership, is back in town wearing cream spats and talking about Jimmy Adamick, his new heavyweight.

Once he gets warmed up on the subject (and he warms quickly), he's scarcely coherent. If what the professor says is half true, the Detroit youngster is a combination Dempsey, Mickey Walker and a sack full of wildcats.

"Without no kidding or anything else, Adamick is the boy who's going to bring back the million-dollar gate," he said without cracking a smile.

What has caused a lot of folks to listen is the fact that Kearns, despite the bumps he's taken, still is a smart hombre about fighters. That plus the fact that Joe Louis the other day made a particular point of saying he positively was not going to meet Adamick in one of his "warm-ups" this winter.

Kearns has brought Adamick, a former Golden Gloves champion, along slowly and carefully. Under Jack's wing he's piled up something like 50 knockouts, including a quick one over Maxie Rosenbloom. He's never fought in New York, but Jack says he's ready now.

Arlen Offers to Provide $5,000 For Golf Meet

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 16 (AP)—Actor Richard Arlen came to the rescue of the 13-year-old Los Angeles Open Golf tournament today with an offer to guarantee the purse up to $5,000.

"If anybody wants to add to that, very well, but if the boys will be willing to shoot for $5,000 I will have that much ready for them," Arlen said.

The tourney was dropped from the California winter links program Tuesday by the Los Angeles Junior chamber of commerce, because of failure to find a backer. Previously, the chamber has scaled down the purse from $10,000 to $8,000, without effect.

JOE HAYES

On a team which averages 6 feet 2½ inches in height and has a starting lineup averaging 6 feet 5 inches, Joe Hayes of Allison (above) is a short fellow at 5 feet 10. But the scrawny-topped junior is one of the cleverest ball handlers in Coach Al Baggett's camp and the mentor has made Hayes one of his twelve regulars. Tallest of the tall at West Texas State is Raymond Shackelford of Tell, center, who is 6 feet 9 inches tall—the tallest man in college sports today.

RICE DRILLS PASSERS.

HOUSTON, Dec. 16 (AP)—More passing drills for Ernie Lain, Red Vickers and Scot Sullivan, were slated today as the Rice Institute's Owls began work for their Cotton Bowl game at Dallas New Year's day against Colorado university. The squad, minus Ole Cordill, sophomore back, and 'Bm Nance, senior end, went to work yesterday after a 10-day layoff. Gordill and Nance are suffering from colds but are expected to begin practice next week.

GIRLS BASKETBALL SCHEDULE FOR REGION TWO ARRANGED

Representatives of several Panhandle schools gathered here yesterday afternoon to discuss the schedule for Region 2 of the Panhandle Girls' Basketball league organized last Saturday at a session in Amarillo. In the absence of Chairman John Peoples of Allison, Supt. C. A. Cryer of McLean presided.

It was decided that the teams would play a home and home schedule with the region divided into four brackets. Instead of conducting a tournament, district winners will play off to decide a regional champion. The winner in Region 2 will play the winner in Region 1 for the title.

Play will be under A. A. U. rules which will govern the state tournament this year.

Girls' basketball does not come under the Texas Interscholastic league but it is a state organization. The complete schedule for this region will be announced soon.

Sports Roundup

By EDDIE BREITS

NEW YORK, Dec. 16 (AP)—You can paste this right in the old hat bend, boys: neither Mr. Schmeling nor Mr. Louis will fight anybody of consequence before they collide in June right here in New York. . . . All this talk about Schmeling fighting Tommy Farr in Miami or Louis meeting Jimmy Adamick in Detroit is pure bunk. . . . Around Worcester, Mass., the hottest story right now is the calling off of the testimonial dinner to Bill Osmanski, Holy Cross star. . . . Cards were out. The hall was hired and the refreshments ordered when college authorities decided the thing smacked too much of commercialism and ordered all bets off.

Tony Galento, the Newark "night stick" hoisted 16 steins of beer in a Broadway spot the other night, then squawked his head off when they charged him $1 per stein. . . . The medico who delivered Max Baer's baby said the kid has the biggest hands and broadest shoulders he ever saw on an infant.

Officials who work the Rose Bowl game will receive $75 each. . . . Niles Kinnich, of Iowa, the most talked of sophomore back in the Big Ten last season, is a four-sports marvel. . . . Stars in baseball, track and basketball as well as football. . . . What happens when two Phi Beta Kappas meet on the gridiron is expected to be decided New Year's day when Whizzer White of Colorado and Jim Nance of Rice oppose each other in the Cotton Bowl.

As to the five-man line's future possibilities, they are convinced they lie in its use as a defensive variation rather than a set play.

FORMS IN MAIL.

AUSTIN, Dec. 16 (AP)—Sample forms of standard governmental accounting systems for Texas' 284 counties were in the mails today. State Comptroller George H. Shepherd, who sent the forms to county auditors, judges and clerks, said the systems had been worked out to standardize bookkeeping methods and permit an easy report.

The golfing duo is given official recognition in at least two spots. . . . There is a dubsread club at Orlando, Fla., and a dubbo club in New South Wales.

Linda did as she was told, looking very sweet and proud as she prepared to face Mrs. Trent.

PEOPLE trying to describe Linda often said that she was "different." They meant in part, no doubt, that she was made with a delicate fineness that suggested exquisite workmanship; in part brown hair, beautifully set dark-brown eyes like those of a sweet tempered, rather serious child, and an elusive quirk of a smile. But they meant, too, that there was about her a baffling simplicity and directness, together with a gracious dignity that somehow set her apart from other girls of her age. Perhaps this was because she had been educated abroad, entirely by tutors, under the close supervision of her aunt, who, rather than Linda's own mother, had been made her guardian at her mother's death.

Sometimes Linda had wished that she might go to school like other girls. She did not know that every phase of her life had been ordered to eradicate from her character all inherited likeness to the beautiful, temperamental, peasant mother whose sensational doings, on the stage and off, had made headlines for years; and to shield her from the scandalous repercussions of that mother's tragic death.

It was not until the day Linda came of age that she understood she was penniless. Although she knew little of her father's resources, she had always supposed she would have plenty. When she learned the truth, she determined with a steely purpose hard to reconcile with her dainty, rather gentle loveliness, that she could not be dependent any longer upon those who had kept her from her mother.

It was then that she began to understand that her carefully planned schooling—with its music, dancing, riding, languages, and smattering of art and literature—had left her pitifully unprepared to cope with life as she found it in the 20th century.

It was old Mr. Meredith, her father's attorney who suggested what seemed an immediate solution to her problem. A client of his, an elderly lady, slightly crippled and much alone, needed a companion and secretary.

"She insisted," Mr. Meredith said, "that I must have what she called 'the education and voice of a gentlewoman.' I thought of you at once, my dear . . . In all my life I remember just one voice as lovely as yours."

He means mother's voice, Linda thought, remembering the night, years ago, when her mother had taken her as a small child to the theater, and left her in a chair in the wings during the play. Linda had cried, clutched by a vague, unutterable grief at the heart-breaking magic of her mother's voice—without understanding a word, or knowing that beyond the footlights a crowded house wept with her . . . Her father had been very angry about that night. Linda was never taken again to see her mother play.

"I gave her your complete history, of course," Mr. Meredith was going on. "Miranda Trent is a great stickler for family traditions. And of course Geoffrey Benton's daughter would be welcome anywhere."

"Thank you," said Linda, sitting very straight and pale and young. "I will go if she wants me."

When Linda arrived one evening at the little town of Nordhof, she was met at the depot by a colored chauffeur who told her Mrs. Trent had sent him. Nordhof was a typical old fashioned county seat, which centered about a staid little grassy park enshrining a central monument and four cannon, and dotted with beds of cannas and geraniums. About the park clustered the Court House, two churches, and some of the business houses of the town. From it a broad, tree-arched avenue led on between rows of ancient brick dwellings with fanlights, and stoops neatly toting the sidewalks; and on past more pretentious looking homes with spacious grounds surrounded by walls of wrought-iron fences. The last and most impressive of these was "Trent Hall."

ACCUSTOMED as Linda was to life on a generous scale, there was something about this great gaunt house that made her feel very small, and a little frightened. It was as if she sensed about it grim unfriendliness—the dour secret hostility of that which was old and worn out and disillusioned for that which was young and fresh and hopeful.

Her childhood home had been built for gracious, sunny comfort. Here, one was conscious first of gloomy heights, of great spaces, and many doors opening into still other tall, shadowy chambers.

"The room to the right, Miss, please," said the elderly colored man who opened the door.

Linda found Miranda Trent seated in a straight chair with a high carved back, before an open

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Dec. 16 (AP)-Designers of the beach clothes to be worn at the winter resorts this year have made a bow to the modesty of grandmother's day but not so deep a bow that there won't be a beige sharkskin play suit having a bodiced top with puffed sleeves-all very prim so far, but worn with shorts.

Another indication of the trend was the length of the shorts, falling lower than formerly but still short-pajama-shorts, the new outfits were called.

Even a revealing halter outfit named "strip tease" had its covering of a sort. It consisted of a halter and separate skirt, shimmered about the hip, both of which came off to reveal a matching bathing suit of halter and shorts underwear.

GRANDMOTHER'S DAY FOR BEACH CLOTHES

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Dec. 16 (AP)-Designers of the beach clothes to be worn at the winter resorts this year have made a bow to the modesty of grandmother's day but not so deep a bow that there won't be a beige sharkskin play suit having a bodiced top with puffed sleeves-all very prim so far, but worn with shorts.

Another indication of the trend was the length of the shorts, falling lower than formerly but still short-pajama-shorts, the new outfits were called.

Even a revealing halter outfit named "strip tease" had its covering of a sort. It consisted of a halter and separate skirt, shimmered about the hip, both of which came off to reveal a matching bathing suit of halter and shorts underwear.

The juvenile court originated in the United States.

VOTING DATES LISTED TODAY

AUSTIN, Dec. 16 (AP)—The political-minded Texan might clip and paste at some handy spot this 1938 calendar compiled today by Vann M. Kennedy, secretary of the state Democratic executive committee:

Jan. 31—Last day for paying poll tax.

June 6—Last day for filing of Democratic primary candidates for state and district offices.

June 13—State executive committee meets to make up ballot for first primary and choose site for state Democratic convention in September.

June 20—Last day for filing of candidates for county and precinct offices.

June 20—County executive committees meet to determine by lot the order of names listed on the ballot, to estimate expenses of the primary and assess costs against candidates.

July 22—Democratic primary election; also precinct conventions meet and elect delegates to county conventions.

July 30—Democratic county executive committees meet to canvass results of first primary; county conventions meet to select delegates to district and state conventions.

Aug. 6—State executive committee meets at Austin to canvass results of first primary in all state and district races, list names to go on run-off ballot, and certify candidates nominated in first primary.

Aug. 27—Democratic run-off election.

Sept. 12—State executive committee convenes in city selected for state convention, canvasses returns of run-off, prescribes order of business for convention and prepares list of convention delegates.

Sept. 6 or 13—State Democratic convention for adoption of platform, declaration of nominations for state offices, election of state party chairman and new state executive committee of 21 men and 21 women.

Nov. 8—General election.

A conflict in election laws makes it uncertain whether the state convention will be on September 6 or 13. If on the earlier date, it will be before the state executive committee can officially certify the victors in the run-off primary.

CONSTITUTION NEGLECTS MOVIE QUORUMS.

WASHINGTON (AP)—For the education of his colleagues Senator Tom Connally of Texas has gone to considerable trouble to define the word "quorum."

"The Constitution requires the presence of a quorum," Connally shouted irritably, as he addressed rows of empty seats.

"That does not mean a quorum down in the dining room, that does not mean a quorum down at the picture show, that does not mean a quorum over in the office building; it means a quorum here on the floor of the senate," he roared. But still no one came in.

fireplace — a haggard but still handsome old woman, with lips drawn tight as if by suffering, bright dark eyes, and a pile of beautifully sculptured gray hair. She sat very straight, her hands resting on the top of a cane, without which, Linda was to learn, she never moved.

"Ah, Miss Benton," she said in a crisp, cool voice. "You may take off your galoshes and come in, please."

Linda did as she was told, looking very sweet and proud as she prepared to face Mrs. Trent.

"But—" Mrs. Trent's mouth grew straighter and tighter as she looked—"Mr. Meredith did not tell me he was sending a child. . . . You may replace your galoshes. I'm afraid you won't do."

"I'm sorry," Linda spoke for the first time, in her lovely, warm, gentle voice, with overtones that floated through the great room like the echo of a golden bell.

"But I really am 21, you know," she added and turned to go.

"Wait!" Miranda Trent looked startled, then thoughtful. "On second thought, you may stay. If you can make 'I am really 21, you know,' sound like something from 'A Midsummer Night's Dream,' you should be able to read Walker Pater without making him sound like a problem in trigonometry. . . . Do sit down—although I must say you do know how to stand like a lady. I can't bear people that fidget."

So Linda's initiation as a working woman began.

Her routine was simple to weariness. There were letters to be written at Mrs. Trent's dictation. There were flowers to be arranged in crystal and silver bowls. There were interminable games of Russian Bank by the drawing room fire, with old Miranda Trent offering tart instructions to supplement Linda's ineptness. There were long hours of reading aloud while Mrs. Trent knitted, and sometimes drowsed, her erect old back still proudly held. There were evenings when the old lady put aside her knitting, and with her fine slim hands folded on the top of her cane, talked out of her store of reminiscences.

Many of her reminiscences had to do with the glory of the house of Trent. The anecdotes were illustrated with a pointing cane by portraits on the walls. All Trent men, it seemed, had been honorable, distinguished, and above all, else, brave. All Trent women had been beautiful and accomplished; but as if that was not enough, the Trent women had been "brave, too. Courage was the quality Miranda Trent seemed to hold the most essential attribute of gentility."

But, always, sooner or later, the conversation turned to "the captain." "The captain" was Captain Barrymore Trent of the United States Naval Air Force. He was Mrs. Trent's orphaned grandson, whom she had reared from childhood. Sometimes the old lady got out a scrapbook of newspaper clippings, all dealing with exploits of brave,

CITATION BY PUBLICATION OF FINAL ACCOUNT.

THE STATE OF TEXAS.

To the Sheriff or Any Constable of Gray County—Greeting:

Bess Brashears, administratrix of the estate of Carl Brashears, deceased, having filed in our County Court her final account of the condition of the estate of said Carl Brashears, deceased, numbered 270 on the probate court docket of Gray county, together with an application to be discharged from said administration.

You are hereby commanded, that by publication of this writ for ten days, said publication to be made one time—ten days before the return day hereof—in a newspaper printed in the County of Gray, you give due notice to all persons interested in the account for final settlement of said estate, to appear and contest the same if they see proper so to do, on Monday, the 27th day of December, A. D. 1937, at the court house of said county in Pampa, Texas, when said account and application will be acted upon by said court.

Given under my hand and seal of said court, at my office in the City of Pampa this 15th day of December, A. D. 1937.

CHAPLIE THUT, Clerk, County Court, Gray County.

(SEAL.)

By ORA GREGORY, Deputy.

I hereby certify that the above and foregoing is a true and correct copy of the original writ now in my hands.

EARL TALLEY, Sheriff, Gray County, Texas.

By BUFORD REED, Deputy.

coming for the holidays on a month's leave, she wondered sometimes, how she was to endure so much perfection under one roof at one time. Often, afterwards, she was amused to remember this.

Popular President Of Railroad Dies

CLIFTON FORGE, Va., Dec. 15 (AP)—In roundhouse, shop and of the lines of the C. and O. Nickle Plate and Pere Marquette there was a note of sadness today because William Johnson Harahan was dead. The president of the three railroads, once units of the vast Van Sweringen system, enjoyed a wide popularity among every day workers on the lines, some of whom knew him in the early days of his career when he served in the shops, at the telegraph key and as maintenance engineer.

Harahan died last night in the C. & O. hospital here after a three weeks illness with septicaemia, just eight days short of his 70th birthday. He will be buried in Richmond Friday after funeral services there.

LACK OF A CHEMICAL KILLS MOTHER LOVE

BUFFALO, N. Y., Dec. 16 (AP)—Maternal love, glorified by countless poets, can be boiled down to a mere matter of chemicals, Dr. Elmer V. McCollum of Johns Hopkins university asserted last night.

"The lack of material instinct in a mother can be traced to a deficiency in manganese," Dr. McCollum told a University of Buffalo audience.

"Experiments have proven that lack of manganese will cause mother rats and guinea pigs to refuse to suckle or nurse their young," he explained.

When the rats were fed an infinitesimal bit of manganese chloride the mother instinct immediately was awakened, he said.
