FEMININE FANCIES

By Hollyce Sellers Hinkle

Thirty thousand words must be written and revised within a year by any one who would retain active membership as one of the Panhandle Pen Women. Many dream of becoming great writers but dreams without practice amount to nothing. The Pen Women are witnesses to the fact that dreams plus industry spell success. One of the women, Mrs. Herbert M. Timmons of Amarillo, sold 52,000 words to 17 publications during the last year. The general public is unaware that so many reasonably successful writers live in the Panhandle.

A visit to a meeting of the Pen Women is an opportunity to observe a number of its interesting characters. They are not the most beautiful women in the Panhandle, nor are they the best dressed. Their interest lies in their own individuality. Each woman is distinctly different from each of the other women in her group.

There is, for instance, the retiring president, Miss Lora V. Hamner of Amarillo. To the casual observer, she first leaves the impression of being a serious, slightly stern presiding officer. But during the serious discussion of the organization's finances Tuesday morning, the president brought a roar of laughter when she deplored the absence of her "gavel of flaming colors."

"I beg your pardon, Madame President," said one of the members, "but the gavel was in pastel shades—pink, purple, and wisteria."

During the morning hour Tuesday we noticed, casually, a neat, harmless-looking young woman. In the afternoon, she was asked to speak. "I am rather frightened at being asked to speak before this group of women," she apologized. But sympathy on the part of the audience was unequalled. As she stepped before the group, all her meekness was transferred into power, and the writers were captivated as Leta Edgar told of her adventures as a writer on a large New York newspaper, of her successful contributions to syndicates, of her interviews with editors of such well-known magazines as Colliers, American, Liberty, True Story, Cosmopolitan, and many others. Her home is in Enid, Okla., but she has traveled from coast to coast in her experiences as a writer.

There was Mrs. Harry Willis of Berger, a poet, whose beautiful language is very impressive. She says, for instance: "The friendly fog presses a cool, moist blanket down upon the prostrate and feverish city; it is a gentle nurse who silently withdraws at the approach of the doctor: Day."

One thing all the writers had in common was a sense of humor. Many of them were actually making a collection of rejection slips.

Mrs. E. F. Thomas and Mrs. May E. Carr were Amarillo visitors yesterday.

Carlisle, Ark. "I have taken Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the splendid general tonic, and Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Laxative Pellets," says Mrs. Grady Glover, "and a relative has taken Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, the herbal tonic for women, and we are perfectly satisfied with the beneficial results of each of these remedies. I am glad to say so at any time. I keep the 'Pellets' in my home all the time."

WOMEN'S COUNCIL PLANS TO AID NEEDY OF CITY

DIVISIONS TO MAKE CLOTHING AT GATHERINGS

WEDNESDAY MEETINGS HELD IN HOMES OF MEMBERS

At meetings of the various divisions of the women's council, First Christian church, yesterday afternoon plans were made to provide clothing to aid Pampa's needy. Study also held interest for the groups, and social periods followed.

Garments for the needy will be made by Division 4 at an all-day meeting Jan. 28 in the home of Mrs. Harry Marbaugh. A covered dish luncheon will be served.

Plans for the gathering were formulated at a meeting yesterday afternoon in the home of Mrs. E. R. Turman. The opening devotion, led by Mrs. J. F. Meers, was followed with a circle of prayer, and Mrs. Joe Berry presided for the business session. She also praised the work which had been accomplished by the division.

The lesson, based on Acts 7 and 8, was directed by Mrs. W. R. Barrett, and the closing prayer was led by Mrs. Marbaugh.

Refreshments were served by the hostess during a social half hour. One new member, Mrs. F. E. Wallace, three visitors, Mrs. A. A. Jones, Mrs. A. L. Porter, and Mrs. M. C. Mercer, and the following old members attended: Mesdames Roy McMillen, A. C. Jones, E. L. Estes, Carlson, E. B. Smith, H. J. Lippold, Lee Ledrick, W. R. Barrett, Corinne Bell, J. F. Meers, A. F. Pendergrass, J. M. Garrett, E. R. Turman, Joe Berry, Harry Marbaugh, and W. G. Kinzer.

In Woodward Home
Mrs. James Powers was co-hostess with Mrs. C. P. Woodward in the latter's home. Mrs. Charlie Thomas led the devotion, and Mrs. Jake Stiles, the lesson. A business session was presided over by Mr. Clyde Oswald.

The following attended: Mesdames D. C. Houk, Money, Ragsdale, H. H. Isbell, Otto Patton, Charles Thomas, Jake Stiles, C. F. Bastion, W. E. Noblitt, H. C. Schoolfield, Clyde Oswald, and the hostesses.

Lesson Presented
Mrs. Elbert Thomas, Mrs. J. B. Townsend, and Mrs. C. E. Hutchins presented the lesson at a meeting of division 2 in the home of Mrs. Paul Kaskie. Mrs. Hutchins is leader of the group.

Mrs. F. W. O'Malley led the opening devotion. Refreshments were served during a social period to Mrs. Ivy E. Duncan and Mrs. Clark, special guests, and the following members: Mesdames F. W. O'Malley, Carl Bra-shers, J. B. Townsend, Carl Abbott, John Sturgeon, Mel Davis, Garber, Weldon Wilson, C. E. Hutchins and the hostesses.

Members To Sew
Garments for the Welfare Board will be made by individual members of division 1, according to plans made at a meeting in the home of Mrs. Walter Sill.

Following the devotion led by Mrs. Bessie Martin, Mrs. Ila Riggan led in Bible study.

The hostess served cake and coffee to two new members, Mrs. M. V. Harris and Mrs. G. G. Frasher, and the following old members: Mesdames E. B. Stevens, A. Blatchley, DeLea Vicars, Ray Walker, Bessie Martin, Earl Rice, John Patton, E. A. Gragg, Ernest Sunkle, Reese, A. A. Tieman, Ila Riggan, and Fred Gantz.

Rev. Lancaster Speaks At Chapel

At the high school chapel exercise Wednesday morning, the devotion was conducted by the Rev. C. E. Lancaster, who took as his subject "What I Expect of Life." Among things that may be expected, he said, are health, a sense of economic security, friends that are trustworthy, a sense of social-mindedness, open-mindedness, a sense of the spiritual, and courage.

New Yorker Much Impressed By City

A. W. Penninge of New York City, a representative of the National Board of Insurance Underwriters, and Jim Burns of Austin, state arson investigator, arrived in Pampa yesterday afternoon and remained here until this morning. They were the guests of Chief and Mrs. Clyde Gold at the Pampa Fire station.

"This cannot be Pampa," Mr. Penninge said to the Texan as they drove into Pampa yesterday from Shamrock. "I was here last in 1921 and Pampa was just a wide place in the road. Of course I heard of the city's growth, but never realized that it could be like this."

The New Yorker passed through Pampa on his way to El Paso back in the "old days," but he remembered where many buildings stood. He had Chief Gold drive him over the city and on visits to the fine buildings.

Mr. Burns has made several visits to Pampa during the last few years.

THREE KINDS OF LOVE BY KAY CLEAVER STRAHAN

BEGIN HERE TODAY ANN, CECILY AND MARY FRANCES FENWICK live with their grandparents. The sisters have been orphaned since childhood.

HE glanced at her. "I see," he said. "Via Lullie, via Marta? I might have known—they're both lippy. I can't see that it matters a lot in hoes whether girls have loved me or not—the repeating of it sounds stinky and sickening, anyhow. But you'll have to take my word for it. I should know, shouldn't I? Those girls loved themselves a lot; they loved their vanity; they may, perhaps, have loved the love charily and spasmodically—but they didn't love me in the least. As I've told you, they didn't even like me."

CECILY said "Oh, but you couldn't know that, positively," and quailed at his frown and added hastily, "I read the other day," he answered, "about a man who, when he came home and found his dinner was not ready, held his wife's hands down on the hot cook-stove until she fainted. She'd have a reasonable right to decide, don't you think so, when she gets out of the hospital that the man didn't love her and had never loved her nor liked her as a real friend?"

"I'll tell you," he said. "I thought that I wouldn't. It is unnecessary, in a way. But you'll regard it as a confession, won't you, Cecily, and not as a warning? Quarels—do something to me that I can't endure. I can't explain the sensation better than by saying they extinguish me, suffocate me, though that isn't accurate, because I suffer all the time. Fact dear, a quarrel touches my mentality dangerously."

"I'm sure that I know how it came about. Mother and dad quarreled incessantly, frightfully during my childhood, and all the unpleasant things that happened to me happened in connection with these quarrels. I grew to hate them; I was afraid of the loud voices and the ugly words. Physically afraid. They made me ashamed, too. I knew that it was disgraceful, and I'd skip off into a closet and hide and cry."

Fat Girls! Here's A Tip for You

All over the world Kruschen Salts is appealing to girls and women who strive for an attractive, free from fat figure that cannot fail to win admiration.

Here's the recipe that banishes fat and brings into blossom all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses and does it SAFELY and HARMLESSLY.

In the morning take one half teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast—out down on pastry and fatty meats—go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar.

"It's the little daily dose that takes off the fat" and "brings that Kruschen feeling" of energetic health and activity that is reflected in bright eyes, clear skin, cheerful vivacity and charming figure.

But be sure for your health's sake that you get Kruschen. A bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but little. You can always get Kruschen at Richards Drug Co., and money back if not satisfied with results after first bottle.—adv.—2

Miss Bertha Keahey of Canadian was shopping in the city yesterday.

C. R. Fowler of Kingsmill made a shopping trip to Pampa Wednesday.

Mrs. Elmer Keahey of Canadian was shopping here yesterday.

H. M. Petre of Canadian arrested business here yesterday.

Well, never mind. I won't dramatize it. The house was on fire. The upper hall was thick with smoke. I was five years old. I ran to the front stairs, and flames were leaping up them. I couldn't get through the hall to the back stairway because the smoke was too thick. My picture of it now is exaggerated, of course. But I think of flames shooting out at me from everywhere—at my head and eyes and feet—leaping and licking and trying to catch me. Through it all I heard clanging and screams and shouts, as if the world were taking part in a final momentous quarrel. Five years old is too young to be as frightened as I was in that hall, choking with smoke that day.

"I RAN into the bathroom—some idea of water, I imagine. At any rate, it was at the side of the house where the fire had gained the least headway. Just as I got there a fireman, with his face blackened from smoke, came through the window. He let out a round oath and reached for me. That was the end of it—so far as I was concerned. He frightened me much more than the flames and the smoke. Like a good child, I had gone regularly to Sunday school. I thought the fireman was the devil, and that he'd come to catch me. I gave up the ghost right then and there. Fainted, you know."

"Strange but fires don't bother me in the least, and never have since then. I'll run as fast as the rest of them after the fire engine. But to this day I have to stop deliberately and rationalize the whole works before I can know that it was not the quarrel before the fire that day that caused the flames to lick at me and the smoke to choke me and the devil himself to come and get me."

"They brought me out of it all right that time. The next time the folks started a quarrel I ruined it by throwing something or other not unlike an epileptic fit. Scared the lives out of them. A couple of repetitions, and they sent me to grandma's to live for the winter. I recovered beautifully from the fits. But still I run for my closet and hide when I hear a quarrel. I don't coddle myself and think it is cute and original to be like that. I'm ashamed of it to the bone. But it's true. A quarrel takes something out of me that I don't ever get back. Now, do you think that a person who liked me, and to whom I'd explained all this—much more than I'll tell you—would drag me through the smoke and flames again, and give me over to the devil?"

"But—But Barry," Cecily quavered, "it—it is too terrible. It makes me afraid. Suppose, I'm scared to death. I'll never dare—"

"NO, no, darling. Nothing like that. I'm not a freak—and the fits were purely hysterical; I haven't had one for 13 years. I'm not a freak. I don't mean that I can't stand an argument nor a discussion nor that I have to have my own way about everything. You could tell me to go jump in the lake, if you felt like it, and didn't scream it. Don't ever scream at me, or call me names in a loud voice—will you?"

"Barry! But—But exactly how do you define a quarrel, dear?"

"Noise. Recriminations. Hot, ugly words. Loud voices. Squawking accusations—"

"But, Barry, your people couldn't have been—like that? They were both universally people, and your father was a member of Congress."

"He may have developed his voice there. It was suitable for nothing on earth but a snipeheaded snarling that voice of dad's. But they were good, worthy people—both of them. Overeducated a bit and—well, undervalued, or they couldn't have quarreled as they did. You see, they never liked each other at all, though for years were violently and vulgarly in love. Shall we talk about something else?"

"In just a minute," she said. "Barry—I'm still frightened. I'm afraid you have made a mistake. I'm afraid that I'm a quarrelsome person. Only this morning I was quarreling with my little sister."

He laughed. "I can hear you—chattering like a squirrel. Did you scream at her? Did you say one cruel, scorching thing to her. You did not. You couldn't. I'm sorry I told you. Please forget it, darling. And if, sometimes, I get unendurable, don't say a word. Just smack me down. I don't mind being smacked. It is only words that burn me up. You are always cool, Cecily. That is one of the things I love most about you. Your hands are cool to touch, and your voice is soft and cool, and your eyes are the color of cool rain clouds, and your cheeks are pinky like sea shells, and your lips—even when you cool and paint them up—are cool coral, and kiss-shaped."

Cecily shivered. "Boo! And my flesh is gooseflesh, and my teeth chatter, and my heart's in an ice chest, and I'll die unwarmed, unheated, and unthawed."

"That's a swell way to receive my instant flights of fancy, isn't it all right for you. I'll think of ahead of time, after this, and flames again, and give me over to the devil!"

"But—But Barry," Cecily quavered, "it—it is too terrible. It makes me afraid. Suppose, I'm scared to death. I'll never dare—"

HARVESTER TEAMS DEFEAT TWO CLARENDON AGGREGATIONS

MARKSMEN OF PAMPA SCHOOL ARE ACCURATE

LOCAL BAND INSPIRES ATHLETES WITH CONCERT

Harvester basketball teams continued their winning streak last night by taking two games from the Clarendon Bronchos at the local gymnasium.

The Harvester first string won 27 to 19, while the second string boys took their game 21 to 11. The games were rather slow but the evening was pepped up by Pop Frasier and the band.

Morris Enloe, Harvester forward, was again the big noise. He broke loose in the first half to make 11 points. Although closely guarded in the second period the sharpshooter added 6 more points to his credit. Marbaugh got few shots but he made his count and added 8 points to the score. Woodward looped the other basket. Wayne Kelly played another great game at guard. He is fast becoming the outstanding guard in this section, while Enloe has no peer in the opinion of fans and officials.

Martin, Broncho center, was the best man on the Clarendon squad. Although he looped only one field goal, he added five single points on seven attempts. Andis played hard in the second half, but had tough luck with his crisp shots. Clarendon scored only five field baskets on a number of crisp shots, from outside the black line. Nichols of football fame made five points, four on long shots.

Bill Kelley was high man in the second string victory. He scored seven points to be one above Green of Clarendon. Ralph Poe, used at center when Pool failed to find the basket on a number of crisp shots, played the hardest on the floor. He made four points and guarded hard. Gerdis Schmidt at guard played his best game of the season. Chastain played a good floor game and his defensive work was outstanding.

Coch Odus Mitchell used Woodward, Enloe, Marbaugh, Kelly, Patton, Fullingim, Brumley and Chastain. Moore was out of the game on account of his eyes, which are being treated. Their condition is improving.

The Bronchos lined up with Andis, Watson, Herndon, Martin, Reid, O'Mead and Nichols.

THREE STARS MAKE MICHIGAN FAVORITE TO REPEAT FOR COLLEGIATE SWIM VICTORIES

Outstanding Performers Are Sure to Battle Hard for Coveted Honors.

ANN HARBOR, Mich., Jan. 21. (P)—Three outstanding stars with a supporting cast of capable performers will represent University of Michigan in intercollegiate swimming competition this year.

The Wolverines are favored to repeat last year's triumph in Western conference and National Intercollegiate meets.

The stars of the Michigan team are Johnny Schmieler, of Pittsburg; Dick Degener, of Detroit, and Haylor Drysdale, of Highland Park, Mich. Schmieler swims the back stroke, breast stroke and free style events. As a sophomore last year he broke Big Ten records for the 220-yard free style, 150-yard back stroke and 200-yard breast stroke as part of one evening's performance.

He recently swam the 100-yard breast stroke in 1:07 to better the world's record.

Degener is a sophomore diver who Coach Matt Mann predicts will win national recognition. Drysdale, another sophomore, is a back stroke and free style man.

Coach Mann has made an imposing record since he became full time swimming coach at Michigan in 1926. Under his tutelage the Wolverines have lost only three dual meets in intercollegiate competition.

Recently on an invasion of the east they swam in four dual meets in five days, winning the first three and dropping the fourth to New York A. C. It was their first loss in three years of dual competition. Not satisfied with conquests of the collegiate swimming world, Coach Mann frequently schedules meets with athletic clubs made up of former college stars, believing that a "licking now and then is good for the team."

"When the team is too good," he says, "no one is anxious to meet us. If the team is too poor, the coach might lose his job."

Michigan won Western conference championships in 1927, 1928, 1929 and 1931 and carried off the National Intercollegiate title in three of the five meets which have been held, winning in 1927, 1928 and 1931.

The Wolverines placed second in the 1929 national meet.

Pictures above show two outstanding performers on the University of Michigan swimming team, intercollegiate champion, and Coach Matt Mann whose "tankers" have lost only three dual meets in collegiate competition in six years. Dick Degener specializes in spring board performances. Johnny Schmieler shines at back and breast stroke and free style.

SCHMELING IS DUE TO LOSE WORLD TITLE

N. B. A. CHETAINERS ARE TO TALK FAILURE TO SIGN

CHICAGO, Jan. 20. (P)—Max Schmeling's fate as undisputed king of the world's heavyweights rested in the hands of a National Boxing association jury today.

The jury, consisting of heads of 29 state commissions along with several in Canada and Cuba, was given the case on final instructions by Gen. John V. Cline of Chicago, president of the N. B. A., who contended the German champion should be dethroned for failing to protect his title within the specified period of six months.

A poll taken by The Associated Press of several jurors indicated today Schmeling would be deprived of his title. With few exceptions, all the jurors were solidly behind General Cline.

Cline's decision to send out ballots came after the collapse of the Mickey Walker-Schmeling fight, scheduled for Miami, Fla. Schmeling's time limit to sign for a championship battle under N. B. A. rules expired Jan. 3.

The boxing industry hummed in Chicago today because of the passage of the state senate of the 15-round boxing bill, which would legalize 15-round matches for heavyweights only. The bill passed the senate and was sent to the house, where passage was regarded as certain. Chicago stadium officials still hot after a Schmeling-Walker championship match here this spring, were optimistic over their chances to land the big match.

Mrs. V. R. Gher is making a market trip to Los Angeles. She is expected home about Tuesday.

GOLF INVOLVES MUCH LUCK IN GETTING WINS

HIGH QUALITY SKILL IS ALSO DEMANDED BY GAME

BY ALAN GOULD Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK, Jan. 21. (P)—It may be difficult to convince the average duffer, but golf, in the opinion of the nation's sports experts, simultaneously involves more luck and skill than any other branch of athletic activity.

They agree those two factors are the only ones involved in the pursuit of the royal and ancient game. Football leads all the rest where strategy is concerned and rowing is considered to require more strength and stamina than any other sport.

Those are the principal results of an Associated Press poll of sports editors and writers' opinions.

The views are widely divergent as to whether golf requires more skill than baseball, or, in fact, whether tennis is not entitled to the call over either. On the basis of votes, golf leads with 24, baseball comes next with 19, and tennis is third with 17.

On the side of baseball the argument is advanced that it takes a greater all-around combination of capabilities to be successful at this sport than is the case of golf. It is pointed out that many ball players can shoot a fine round of golf whereas the golfers who could perform well on the diamond are few and far between.

Although you hear more often of the "breaks" in baseball, the game of golf is considered twice as lucky. The vote on this element of competition shows: Golf 34, baseball 15, horse-racing 12, football and basketball 7 each, fishing 3.

"Football ranks first in the requirements of strategy," writes George White of the Dallas NEWS, "the result usually depending about 60 per cent on the correct diagnosis of the enemy's strength and weakness."

Chins on Wane in Modern Period

CHICAGO, Jan. 20. (P)—Some time in the dim and distant future the double chin problem may no longer be a source of worry to the women—or the men.

In fact, it is doubtful if they will have any chins at all, in the opinion of Dr. Isaac Abt, expressed yesterday before the Chicago Dental Society.

Dr. Abt, who is connected with the department of periatrics of Northwestern university, said it was all because the jaw seems "to be diminishing in size and the teeth are becoming crowded."

PLAYERS MAY NOT GO WHEN ASKED TO FLY

SOME MEN CERTAIN TO BALK AT PLANE TRAVEL

CHICAGO, Jan. 20. (P)—American association clubs may produce a new kind of baseball holdout next season—the player who refuses to fly.

As Thomas Hickey, president of the class AA loop, studied the proposal to ship the clubs from park to park by air today, he admitted some difficulty would be encountered with those players who think flying is about as safe as a groove ball to Babe Ruth.

"No doubt, we will have some aerial holdouts for a time if we go thru with our plan to use planes," President Hickey said, "but I don't think we will be troubled very long. When the Columbus team flew last summer, two of the players refused to fly. They were sent on by train but flew the next time with the rest of the boys and liked it."

American association club owners, at a special meeting yesterday, adopted a 168-game schedule to open on the eastern front April 12 and close Sept. 25.

Jean Borotra Is Out of Tennis

PARIS, Jan. 21. (P)—French sporting circles were much disturbed today over an article published in TENNIS AND GOLF announcing that Jean Borotra, noted French tennis player, does not intend to play as a member of the Davis Cup team this year.

Efforts were made to have him reconsider his decision because it is felt his absence from the team would threaten France's defense of the trophy. Borotra said pressure of business, fatigue and the fact he is 33 years old made him feel it advisable to retire from Davis Cup competition.

The chief burden of the defense of the cup now rests on Henri Cochet.

Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Bell Community Has 4-H Club

A new 4-H club was organized at Bell yesterday with six members by Miss Ruby Adams, county home demonstration agent. Miss Maurine Ford, teacher of the Bell school, is the local leader.

Miss Ford has had four years of experience in club work in West Virginia. She has already demonstrated efficiency in leadership in this group, Miss Adams said.

Officers elected were as follows: Geraldine Skibinski, president; Nellie Fox, vice president; Dorothy Skibinski, secretary-treasurer; Pauline Fox, song and recreational leader.

The club work for the year was outlined at the meeting yesterday. After each demonstration the club will sponsor was explained the demonstrators for the club were selected as follows: Wardrobe, Geraldine Skibinski; yard, Pauline Fox; poultry, Nellie Fox.

Miss Adams assigned a yard planning demonstration to each girl. Each member is to make a planting plan for her yard and during the year either lay a walk or make a doornest planting.

The yard demonstration will be followed for several years or until club girls have finished their planting plans.

In Harris county annual license tax collections are around $1,000,000 and they are similarly high in the four other "big" counties. The local commissioners contended the statute operated unfairly against this and the other "big" counties in that they were allowed to retain for their own use only a small percentage of their total collections, whereas many small counties were permitted to retain all their collections. The burden of building state highways the commissioners argued, was left primarily with the five large counties.

The state highway department was a co-defendant in the suit.

Moist Fog Has Enveloped Plains

Pampans woke up this morning to find that summer had disappeared again and in its place a damp fog was being whipped over the city by a cold northwest wind. The fog did not descend until nearly 6 o'clock this morning, according to several early birds.

Toward noon, the fog thinned and predictions of rain, clear weather, snow and other kinds of weather felt here this month were in the air.

Driving early this morning was dangerous. The fog was thick and car lights penetrated only a few yards. Streets were slippery and a few minor accidents were reported.

GOLD WAS CLUE
HOUSTON, Jan. 21. (AP)—A fruit jar containing more than $1,000 in gold was credited by officers today with contributing to solution of the robbery of a bank at Tomball.

After it had been found in the home of Harry Morris, 29, he made a statement to officers about the holdup of the bank last December in which approximately $4,000 was taken.

Election Law Is Again Explained

Many inquiries made in the last few days regarding the voting laws moved Tax Collector T. W. Barnes to simplify certain provisions that seem to be troubling voters.

Mr. Barnes explained that a citizen of Gray county who lived in any other Texas county on Jan. 1, 1931 should pay his poll tax in that county, but should vote in Gray county if he has lived there six months before the election in which he votes. If the voter moved to Gray county and was living here Jan. 1, 1931, he is entitled to pay his poll tax here and cast his ballot here.

A citizen who moved to Texas since Jan. 1, 1931, is not required to pay a poll tax in order to vote. It is necessary to live in the county six months and in the state one year. A person who was in the state over a year, Jan. 1, 1932, should pay a poll tax. The rule, stated briefly, is that a voter should pay the tax in the county where he was living Jan. 1, 1931, but should vote in the county where he has lived six months prior of the election.

Shell Plant To Be Dinner Host

The Shell Oil & Gas company believes in safety first. During the last year, only one accident happened in the three gasoline plants in the Panhandle field. As a result of that one accident, plant 17 at Skel-lown will be host to the other two plants at a banquet in the Schneider hotel dining room Feb. 3.

The safety contest was started Jan. 1, 1931 and closed Jan. 1, 1932. Prior to that time, the plants had gone three years of more than 100,000 hours working time without an accident.

Besides superintendents and employees of the three plants, company officials from Tulsa will attend the banquet. Among those who will be here are S. S. Smith, superintendent of the gasoline department, F. E. Shryock, assistant to Mr. Smith, and R. S. Lauder, head of the insurance department.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Brake recently returned from Kilgore where they lived for several months. They visited in Pampa yesterday.

MUCH MONEY IN INTEREST CHARGES REFUNDED IN GRAY

Recent Court Decision Is Cause of Action by T. W. Barnes Here.

In the last few days, T. W. Barnes tax collector, has refunded over $1,100 in interest charges on delinquent taxes. Yesterday, Mr. Barnes made one refund in the amount of $874.62. Joe Smith, tax collector for the Pampa Independent school district, has been making large refunds also.

The refunds became necessary when the supreme court recently upheld the constitutionality of a law passed by the last legislature that citizens would not have to pay interest charges on delinquent taxes if the latter were paid between Sept. 30, 1931 and Jan. 31, 1932. Previously Attorney General James V. Alfred declared the law was constitutional and instructed tax collectors to collect interest charges on all delinquent taxes.

Now, according to the supreme court decision, no interest charges will be collected on delinquent taxes paid by Jan. 31, but a charge of $2 will be made in each case, Mr. Barnes said.

A total of approximately $3,500 in taxes has been collected by Mr. Barnes this month. Last year over $100,000 in taxes was collected. The small collections were due to the split tax payment law passed by the last legislature which permitted tax-payors to pay half of their taxes in November and the other half by next June.
