Detroit Gang Is Suspected of Kidnapping Offense

OHIO CHIEF OF POLICE CLAIMS NEW HOT TIP

GO-BETWEEN SAYS HE EXPECTS TO GET RESULTS

SANDUSKY, O., March 12.—The connection of an alleged member of Detroit's notorious Purple gang with the kidnaping of Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr., remained in a highly speculative and mysterious state tonight after a flying trip here by a Detroit detective.
Information furnished by Chief of Police C. A. Weingates, Detroit, motored here and after a long conference with the chief departed alone for Detroit shortly before 9 o'clock.
The suspect, purported to be a lieutenant of Harry Fleisher, sought gangsters in Detroit last September, is not in custody, Chief Weingates declared.
The police officer said, however, he could "place his finger on him" whenever he desired.

Only He Knows
Chief Weingates, extremely reticent over the entire affair, said he was the only person who knew the identity of the suspect. He has remained steadfast in keeping a close silence. Detective Flannigan did not see the suspect but learned the details from Chief Weingates.
Upon his departure for Detroit, he said the story quoted by Weingates impressed him as true and checked with information in the hands of Detroit police. He said he would check some additional information in Detroit.

Says Peace Work Is Great Farce

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Representative Fish (R., N.Y.), said tonight large shipments of nitrates to Japan, a chief ingredient of high explosives, were "making" United States peace efforts "a gigantic farce" and "sheer hypocrisy."
The New Yorker, sponsor of a proposal to carry out the Kellogg-Briand pact through a multi-lateral agreement to prohibit the shipment of munitions to foreign nations, added:
"The American people have been participating in a gigantic farce if not a tragedy, in the last month while prating of peace and urging economic boycotts against Japan, numerous British and Japanese vessels have been loading up with thousands of tons of nitrate of soda from Hopewell, Virginia, for export to the Japanese ports of Kobe, Moki, Tokyo, and Yokohama.

Bill Payments Keep Credit

Everyone should be interested in maintaining Pampa's credit rating up to the highest standard. If Pampa merchants have extended credit to you, a sincere effort should be made to pay as agreed.
The city's rating is based on the ability of merchants and others to pay their bills. Pampa's merchants can't pay the wholesalers if their customers do not pay their accounts. Try to do your part.

MILLS BACKS HOOVER MOVE

TREASURY CHIEF SAYS PRESIDENT BEST INFORMED

WASHINGTON, March 12.—A group of house members were informed today by a cabinet member that since the president knows "more about the government than any other living man," he should be allowed broad power to superintend reorganization in the interests of economy.
Secretary Mills, in his appearance before the expenditures committee, supported the president's view that reorganization should be accomplished through the White House.
Democratic leaders of the house, however, think they should be allowed to do the consolidating, the senate yesterday rejected by two votes a proposal to give the president the powers he has recommended he be given.
Mills was testifying on several bills to merge all government construction activities into a public works administration.

Jolson to Sing Schick's Song in His Program's

Al Jolson will be singing "Way Down in Dixie—Where I Belong," a song written—both words and music—by Prof. Otto Schick of Pampa.
Jolson and his musical director, Mr. Fried, granted the Pampa colonosser an interview at Amarillo Friday evening, during which many of Schick's new songs were examined. These were the ones recently broadcast from KGSR at Amarillo.
As a result of the interviews, Jolson kept "Way Down in Dixie" with the promise that he would sing it in connection with his show. He said he had been looking for such a song, and that the local man's composition seemed made for his purpose.
Miss Lucille Shaffner, Fred Shaffner, and Mrs. Frank Keene motored to Amarillo with Prof. Schick and were present while Jolson was examining the songs. Mr. Schick is receiving many congratulations on having written a typical "Jolson" song.
Recently Prof. Schick sold a song to a southern firm for use in publicity work.

Loans To State Banks Are Ready

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The reconstruction finance corporation today announced itself "ready and willing" to make loans for distribution among depositors of closed state banks wherever the liquidating agent has legal authority to pledge assets as security.
Charles G. Dawes, president of the corporation, made the statement in replying to a letter from Senator Brookhart (R., Ia.), asking the prospect for loans to such institutions in this state. Under the reconstruction finance corporation act, $200,000,000 was set aside for loans to closed banks.

Governor Murray of Oklahoma, was visited by the Pampa delegation while in the Oklahoma capitol, an invited to attend Pampa's Frontier Days celebration May 26-27-28. He stated, however, that he could not promise to be present.
The Pampa party was composed of Ben Bratton, president of the Junior chamber; Jim Collins, and George Briggs.

HOME TALENT WILL BE GIVEN RECOGNITION THIS YEAR WHEN MUSIC WEEK ACTIVITIES BEGIN

Tentative plans for observation here of National Music week, beginning May 1, are taking form now, largely by home talent this year. Such programs everywhere will be featured one evening, and Pampa band and orchestra numbers will comprise the program for another.
The best in music will be stressed at all school assemblies during the week, both in programs and talks. It is likely that several afternoon pupils' recitals will be held also. Mrs. May Foreman Carr was chairman of the music week arrangements last year.

ARSON CHARGE QUICKLY FILED

Two Eastland Men Held After Fires Which Do $1500 Damage.
EASTLAND, March 12.—Frank Bida, operator of an automobile top and body works here, and Sam H. Baskin, one of his employees, were charged with arson today as result of two fires in widely separated parts of the city at 3 o'clock this morning.
Bida's shop, housed in a semi-fireproof one-story brick building in the heart of the downtown district, was destroyed by fire after an explosion of dynamite had wrecked it and shaken other business houses in a radius of several blocks. When the explosion occurred firemen were at the other end of the city, fighting a blaze in an unoccupied dwelling which also was destroyed.

PEACE OFFER IGNORED THEN "WAR" STARTS

ROOSEVELT FORCES IN MASSACHUSETTS DEFY SMITH

GOVERNOR GIVES ASSENT

THE STATE COMMITTEE ADAMANT FOR THEIR AL

BOSTON, March 12.—Open warfare broke out in the Massachusetts democratic camp today as supporters of Franklin D. Roosevelt announced their decision to place a Roosevelt-pledged slate in the primary field in opposition to one sworn to the candidacy of Alfred E. Smith.
The action of the democratic state committee in ignoring a peace offering from the Roosevelt ballklick brought about the decision and Governor Roosevelt wired his consent to the action.
A series of conferences during the past week between leaders of each faction came to a climax yesterday when the state committee announced the slate of delegates to the party's national convention. It was composed entirely of candidates pledged to Smith. The leaders of the Roosevelt forces hastily were summoned and they finally offered to withhold the filing of an opposition slate if the state committee would agree to send the Massachusetts delegates to the convention pledged to Smith until released and thereafter pledged to Roosevelt. They gave the committee until 5 p. m. today to accept the offer.
At 5 o'clock, Charles F. Riddan, vice-chairman of the committee, said "We have no reply to make to the Roosevelt supporters and none in prospect. We'll go on looking to the front and burning our bridges behind us."
Meanwhile the Roosevelt supporters were gathered in Mayor Curley's office awaiting an answer from the state committee. At 5:45 o'clock, when it was evident their offer was not to be answered, they announced it had been decided in view of the action of the state committee in ignoring their proposal, to file a slate of Roosevelt-pledged candidates.
Arrangements for handling the United States government loans for crop production in this area have been completed. County Agent Ralph Thomas has appointed only one committee in the county, since it is doubtful if anyone in the north half will be eligible to receive aid.
Reuben R. Cook of McLean, one of the committee, is enthusiastic about the loans and believes the plan will help the south part of the county. L. L. Palmer of Eldridge is another member of the committee. W. B. Wilson of McLean will replace C. S. Barrett of Pampa.
C. L. Geesey, field representative for eight Panhandle counties, will arrive here Monday to make his headquarters. He will office in the chamber of commerce rooms. Application for loans may be made at the chamber of commerce here, at the bank at McLean or at the chamber of commerce in Alameda.

SIX EMPLOYEES BADLY INJURED ON SATURDAY

SUPT. JOHN OAKES IS AMONG PERSONS HURT

TWO IN GREAT DANGER

GASOLINE BLASTS ARE CAUSE OF HEAVY DAMAGE

Billowing black smoke swirling skyward and fringed at the bottom by heavy bursts of flame Saturday afternoon attracted hundreds of spectators to the Wilcox refinery west of the city, where four men were critically burned and two badly scared in explosions which wrecked the plant.
The injured:
John Oakes, superintendent, seriously but not critically burned about the face and neck; too badly hurt to give a coherent explanation of the accident.
R. H. Bell, yard foreman, burned all over the body and in a critical condition.
L. C. Lafferty, employe, critically burned about, limbs, face and body.
Jay Warren, employe, in dangerous condition from burns on face and limbs.
W. L. Owens, employe, in critical condition from deep body burns.
"Slick" Hudkins, employe, deeply injured, critically burned about limbs.

Blast On Tower

The unexplained explosion was around a tower on the pipe stills where the six men hurt were working. Flaming oil and gasoline quickly ignited nearby gas and naphtha tanks. Recurring blasts and fires quickly fired the larger part of the plant, which late last night was burning itself out. Although local firemen made a fast run to the plant, there was nothing to be done to check the inferno and the injured men, some with their gamins nearly burned off, were taken to hospitals in cars. They were too badly hurt to discuss the fire.

Man Nearly Escapes

John Duncan, employe of the Lumsford Bio Shop, was standing by a boiler near the stills but was not injured. He saw a stream of oil run from a tank near the stills just before the first blast, but could not connect it with the explosion. He called to D. L. Lumsford, who was inside a boiler replacing flues, and the two rushed to the aid of the injured men who had run from the source of the fire.

Other Tanks Menaced

Only one still was standing last night. The boiler house, boiler, laboratory, eight tanks, and other equipment had been destroyed. In danger of being ignited were five oil and six tanks, including four partly filled with naphtha. About 5,000 barrels of gasoline burned, releasing a dense black smoke which could be seen many miles.
An employe of The NEWS, one of the first to reach the scene after the alarm was given, found John Oakes, the superintendent, searching amid blazing tanks for employes he thought might be in danger. He was persuaded to go to a hospital. His face and neck were seared and

Washington Daybook

WASHINGTON—Sen. Tom Connally of Texas twice in his career has quit the job he was doing at the moment to shoulder a gun and go away to fight in some war.

Back in 1898, he cut short his law course at the University of Texas to join the Second Texas Infantry and fight in the Spanish American war. He came out of that scrap a regimental sergeant major.

In 1918 he left his seat in congress to serve as a captain and adjutant with the 11th division in the World war.

Service in these two wars and years of work in congress have made of him as thorough a soldier as a politician.

When he is given the opportunity to combine the two, as he had the other day in the senate when he lashed out at the critics of Jack Garner, he is hard to handle.

There are few men in the senate more striking in appearance than Connally. Tall, broad of shoulders and compactly built, he has the carriage of a man schooled in the military.

His thrusters the other day at Moses of New Hampshire and Brookhart of Iowa as well as republicans in general were characteristically delivered.

Connally was a county prosecuting attorney before he came to congress and learned then how to take care of himself in a rough and tumble battle of words.

He returned in kind. He remembers names. Personally Connally is popular. He has a retentive memory for names and faces.

He is as popular among members of the house as he is in the senate. He served there 12 years before he moved across the hill. He never has lost contact with the house.

Connally has been a constant winner in politics. He was elected to the house six times and defeated three men for his seat in the senate.

NEW YORK—It was the sort of informal literary gathering one seldom has the good fortune to attend: There were no bores present.

Courtney Ryley Cooper, author of several books about circus life, was going strong.

He was asked to recite the most amusing experience he ever had in the show world. Having ripped off some classic yarns already, Cooper pondered, weighed his affair in which he was the tattoo man's rival for the love of the fire eating lady, then concluded:

"Looking back on it now, I guess my funniest experience with a show was my first, although it seemed quite a tragedy to me at the time."

PAMPA TOPICS OF OUR CITY

WITH CITY ELECTION TIME NEAR, it is appropriate that citizens give serious thought to the issues before the community. And believe it or not, they are not very complex.

Pampa has the manager-commission form of municipal government and an excellent city charter. The NEWS advocated this form of government and has never had any doubt of its worth.

Another issue might be public improvements, but there is none in sight now and no one of our knowledge has any desire to add to the city's indebtedness.

Lower taxes are always acceptable. City revenues have three main sources—taxes, water department profits, and fines. With no law enforcement problem, arrests are few compared with the period of rapid oil development.

Moreover, we must not lose sight of the fact that Pampa five years ago had a serious water problem. Santa Fe engineers tell us it is most difficult to obtain an adequate supply in this vicinity.

On our desk as this is written are statistics on the municipal government of many Texas cities. Tax rates range from $1 to $2. Pampa is near the average for cities of this size.

We wish to be clearly understood—we aspire to no political office. But if we were a commissioner, we believe we could work out some combinations within departments which would mean substantial economies.

For the next year, we personally believe, the city manager's salary should be in the neighborhood of $3,800, and allowance for upkeep of his own automobile used in city activities.

Pre-election promises are deceiving. No good candidate will attempt to forecast in advance his every move if he were elected.

In submitting a possible economy move involving discontinuance of extension services to the people for expressions of the public will, the commissioners court of Wilbarger county has taken a very commendable attitude.

Certainly the members of the commission can hardly be subjected to any adverse criticism because of this action. There have been some very insistent demands for tax reductions here of late.

County administrations seldom are responsible for big increases in expenses. Perhaps some officials use a few more assistants than necessary, and some economies probably can be effected along this line in almost every county in the state.

Now, reduction of expenditures to former levels naturally involves elimination or sharp restriction of these services. It is right and proper that the people should express themselves as to whether the saving to be effected is sufficient to warrant the curtailment of services.

Frankly, The Record feels that it would be false economy to discontinue the farm and home agents and county nurse. Through the counsel of the agents Wilbarger farmers are able to increase their incomes many times more than the amount of the agents' salaries; through the services of the nurse savings many times greater than her salary are effected.

At a time when the farmer is faced by the most abuse problem in the history of agriculture, it is hardly prudent to withdraw from him the benefit of technical advice.

The Record recognizes, the great need for economy, but believes that the county administration should be respectfully asked to search further for other means of reducing expenditures. At the same time it would remind taxpayers that too much zeal in economy leads to parsimony.

The Chinese army at Shanghai pulled a fast one. It retreated so rapidly the Japs didn't have time to change their demands before the Chinese had complied with the old ones.

KITTY FREW by JANE ABBOTT and motioned to Kitty to take it. He himself sat down on the rug before the fire, half-facing her, his long legs doubled to his chin.

"Now tell me all about it." "About what?" "Why you did it—why you married Gar."

"I loved one another so very much, of course. Well, what are you going to do with him, now that you have him?"

"Nor had Kitty answer for that, at once, and David finished dryly. 'I guess the boy's got some good stuff in him—if you're given half a chance.'"

"Of course." She had words now. "He has all sorts of plans. But he's going to begin in his father's office. We'll have a little home of our own, then."

"And just now Gar is loafing, eh? Honey-mooning?" "He's playing golf this afternoon—I didn't expect him back to dinner."

"Who—how are you? What do you want?" "And then Pound appeared, smiling. 'Good evening, Mr. David. It's nice to see you. But your father has telephoned that he's left for New York. You'll stay?' Mrs. Gar.

"I'm here by Pound's grace. We conspire, the two of us," David said.

There, will like your company. Dinner is ready." "So you are—Gar's wife?" David drew back.

"And you are David?" And because he hadn't come to tell her that Gar was killed Kitty laughed, too.

"Kitty. That name fits you rather nicely, Mrs. Gar." "It's really Katherine, though no one ever calls me that."

"Of course not, you're not big enough yet. You may grow into it." "I'm quite grown up."

"And wise and experienced, of course." Kitty laughed at his teasing. She had laughed frequently during the course of the dinner which Pound served to them with such care as though they were guests of state.

"I like a place like that," David said slowly. "A place that seems to put arms around you when you walk into it. I've got one—out or a by-road in the country."

"I'd love to see it," Kitty said softly. She bent a tender glance on David's head. There had been a lonely note in his voice that made her sorry for him.

And presently, with an eagerness born of a loneliness deep in her own heart, she was telling him more about Bridgewater, of its gay elies, of Sally Withers who was his closest friend, and of Phil who'd always been just like an older brother to her.

But he did not explain his pity and before Kitty could resent it he sprang to his feet in mock alarm. "Does he think we need cheer?" David laughed.

help her through a lonely evening he had given her a new attitude toward Gar. That it had in it something of his mother's indulgence did not occur to her.

He had gone with her to buy the new dress; after all, Kitty decided, that was the way it should be. "Do you like it?" Kitty would ask, anxiously, each time she appeared from her sitting room to meet his inspection.

"Gar, I could buy two dresses for that!" "Sure! You can have all the dresses you want! Take it. Let's get out and go somewhere for lunch."

She had worn the new dress that night to a dinner at the Country Club. She had felt gayer in it. Tubby had told her that she looked like a million dollars. Marge had admired it.

"You made a hit tonight, Kitty. That's what clothes can do," Gar had told her afterwards.

She recalled, with a little compassion, the hardness in David's voice when he had spoken of Gar's mother. Poor David. She would ask Gar more about him. What had made him so bitter, so intolerant?

Now, in her new-found confidence, she could plan a more secure place for herself in this household. As David had put it, she had been living only on the edge of it, but probably that was her own fault.

She'd be gayer, after this, with Gar's friends. Perhaps if she bought herself a new dress she would feel more really gay. The poor rust-colored silk and the flowered crepe had been worn to death.

She was really happy as she went upstairs to their room. Her fear that an accident had detained Gar had completely vanished.

She was asleep when Gar came in late. He sat down on the edge of the bed and slipped his arms about her, kissing her eyes to waken her.

"Kit, I was a beast to leave you alone so long. I didn't stay away because I was sore, Kit. Red's car broke down and the four of us had to go out in mine. Kit, were you awfully lonely? I missed you awfully, sweetheart."

His nearness, the tenderness of his ardor enveloped her. She snuggled closer into his arms.

"Kit, Red's been talking up a proposition to me. There's an automobile agency going to open—that new Skallow car I pointed out to you the other day. Red thinks I could get it."

"Things were dead for me without you, Kit. Everything all right, now, sweet?" She put her head in the hollow of his arm, with a little breath of contentment.

"Everything." During the days that followed Kitty thought often of David Frew. She had not told Gar of his coming to the house because she remembered that David had spoken of it as a conspiracy between Pound and himself.

"Not any oftener than I can help." "What does he do?" "Not much. Thinks he can write, but I guess nobody agrees with him."

"Where does he live?" "I'll drive you past his apartment some day and then you'll see what I mean when I say he's a wash-out. But why all this interest in David?" "He's your half-brother, Gar."

But he did not explain his pity and before Kitty could resent it he sprang to his feet in mock alarm. "Does he think we need cheer?" David laughed.

David had been kinder to her than he knew. He had done more than

FORT WORTH, March 12. (AP)—Weather close to freezing failed to check thirty-clads from smashing 12 records and establishing two ties at the tenth annual Southwestern Recreation Track and Field meet here today. Oklahoma A. & M. won first in the major university division with 40 points. Texas Christian university finished second with 36 1/2 points. Eight hundred entries competed.

The meet was split into five divisions. Abilene Christian college collected 51 points to win the college events. The junior college trophy went to Amarillo Junior college with 33 1/2 points. The Texas Christian university freshmen grabbed honors in the preparatory and academy division with 54 points. Thomas Jefferson of San Antonio scored 20 points to win the high school division.

The university division was the only one that failed to produce a new record. Glass of Oklahoma A. & M. tried to give the university division a new record in the century in racing away from Red Oliver of Texas.

Pampa Boys Star
Two former Pampa Harvesters won points for their colleges Saturday in the big track and field meet at Fort Worth.

Durwood Martindale, now of Oklahoma City university, was third in the 120-yard high hurdles and tied for third in the high jump. A record was set by Culppeper of North Texas teachers in the hurdles, being 15.5 seconds. The high jumped, hampered by the cold, went 5 feet 8 inches.

In the Junior college division, Troy Stalls of the Amarillo district was second in the discus throw, which went 131 feet 7 inches, a new record.

Christian, but his best was 9.7. He holds the southwestern record with Cy Leland, former T. C. U. star at 9.6.

Beats Oliver Again
Later in the meet, Glass and Oliver met in the 100-meter special exhibition. Glass again revealed a flying pair of heels to Oliver. He was clocked at 10.5.

The best record to be riddled was in the Junior college division, where Wilson of North Texas A. & M. broad-jumped 23 feet, 3 1/2 inches, beating the old mark of 21 feet, 10 1/2 inches.

The new records established were: Junior college division: 220-yard dash—Stitch of Amarillo Junior college, 21.9. Old record 22.5.

Discus throw—Neal, Arkansas Poly, 131 feet, 7 inches, old record 128 feet.

Broad jump—Wilson, North Texas A. & M., 23 feet, 3 1/2 inches, old record 21 feet, 10 1/2 inches.

Pole vault—Windham, Oklahoma A. & M. freshman, 12 feet. Old record 11 feet, 9 inches.

Academy division:
Pole vault—McGoffin, Texas Christian freshman, 10 feet, 6 inches. Old record 9 feet, 6 inches.

One mile run—Boswell, Texas

FIFTEEN GORILLAS RECEIVE SWEATERS FRIDAY MORNING

Coaches Make Speeches of Appreciation for Young Players' Efforts.

Fifteen members of the 1931 high school Gorilla football team were given letters at a chapel program Friday morning. The sweaters were presented by Coach W. O. Workman following short talks by Principal L. I. Sone and Coaches Odus Mitchell, Argus Fox and Warren Moore.

Coach Mitchell informed the boys that the Gorillas of yesterday will have to be the Harvesters of today and that he expected to field one of the strongest teams in many years from the Gorilla squad. He told the boys that every one of them would be given a chance to make good on the Harvester squad before the season opens.

Coach Workman told the boys he was proud of their work last season. They were practically unknown as everyone was interested in the Harvesters. This year they will be heard from, he declared.

Boys getting sweaters were Hoot Fullingim, Miles Marbaugh, Siler Faulkner, J. D. Wright, Hamilton Cooper, Fred Pribble, Earl Cooper, Walter Hears, Bert Stevens, Carmen Howard, Reginald Brown, Norvell Stevens, Floyd Hamilton, Clinton Adair, and Preston Owens.

Christian freshmen, 5 minutes, 14.4 seconds. Old record 5 minutes, 59.6 seconds.

Broad jump—Gastmyer, Dallas Terrill Prep, 21 feet, 5 1/2 inches. Old record 20 feet, 11 1/2 inches.

High school division:
Shot put—Assell, John Reagan of Houston, 48 feet, 1 1/2 inches. Old record 46 feet, 2 1/2 inches.

Broad jump—Sermisher, Thomas Jefferson of San Antonio, 22 feet, 3 inches. Old record 22 feet, 1 1/2 inches.

220-yard low hurdles—McClinton, Snyder, 25.9. Old record 26.1.

College division:
120-yard high hurdles—Culppeper, North Texas States Teachers, 15.5. Old record 15.6.

Broad jump—Lawrence, Abilene Christian college, 22 feet, 7 1/2 inches. Old record 22 feet, 3 inches.

Athletes to tie records were Gastmyer of Dallas Terrill Prep in the 220-yard dash in 23.1 and Stich of Amarillo Junior college who turned the 100-yard dash in 9.9.

The order of finish in the five divisions were:

University division:
Oklahoma A. & M., 40; Texas Christian university 36; University of Texas 32; Southwestern university, Oklahoma 14; Abilene Christian college 11 1/2; Texas A. & M. 5.

College division: Abilene Christian college 51; North Texas State Teachers college 41 2-3; Stephen F. Austin 15 1/2; Oklahoma City university 14 1/2.

Preparatory and academy division:
T. C. U. freshmen 54; Terrill school, Dallas, 39; Texas military institute 39; Nacogdoches academy 5.

High school division:
Thomas Jefferson, San Antonio, 20; Masonic Home, Fort Worth, second, 18; Snyder high school, Snyder, fourth, 9; Maude, Okla., fifth, 8 1-3.

Junior college division:
Amarillo Junior college, first 33 1/2; Arkansas Poly, second, 28; Cameron Aggies, third, 26; Oklahoma freshmen A. & M. and John Tarleton tied for fourth, 11 1/2.

Ben L. Britte of Brownsville was winner in the pentathlon with 3,966 points. R. Higgins of Oklahoma City was second with 3,532 points; Joe Davidson of Dallas, third with 3,328.

GRID GAME IS NOW SET FOR NEXT TUESDAY

WEATHER NEED ONLY BECOME "FAIRLY DECENT"

Tuesday afternoon at 3:40 o'clock has been set for the big spring football game between two squads of Pampa high school Harvesters. Dallas announced yesterday that they could not wait on the weather and would play the game "if the weather is fairly decent."

The long-awaited encounter has been postponed four times because of bad weather. The game will give coaches and fans a chance to look over the prospects for the 1932 football season. Passing of the one-year transfer rule will hit the Harvesters hard but will not prove disastrous as some of the most promising football players in the state will come up from the Gorillas.

Fans will see several players in new positions. Backfield men will be in the line while at least three linemen will appear in the backfield. A couple of new kickers will be seen in action as will some new pass receivers.

Coach Odus Mitchell will be in charge of the squad, composed of boys out for track and field work while Coach Argus M. Fox will be at the helm of the team composed of boys out for spring football practice. At least 45 boys will see action, coaches report.

Every boy that will have any kind of chance to make the Harvester squad will get a chance to play in the game," coaches reported. "We believe there is plenty of material hidden away that we haven't uncovered it and we want to uncover it."

The game will go the full distance.

Central Texas Loop Is Near

DALLAS, March 12. (AP)—Joe Gardner, leader in the movement to form the Central Texas baseball league, said today that organization of the loop probably would be completed at a meeting at Corsicana March 20.

Gardner disclosed it was a virtual certainty one of the clubs would have at its helm Hamilton Patterson, former manager and part owner of the Dallas team.

Plans called for a 14-man player limit, including manager, and for each team to carry at least ten rookies. The monthly salary limit will be $1,500, exclusive of manager. A 120-game schedule will be drafted.

Griffith Needs Classy Hurler

BILOXI, Miss., March 12. (AP)—Clark Griffith is looking for a first class major league pitcher to bolster the mound staff of the Washington Nationals.

He said today he was willing to pay $50,000 immediately for a pitcher—a winning pitcher who can go get me some ball games."

Griffith has six placed in the dependable column now—Lloyd Brown, Carl Fischer, Fred Marberry, Alvin Crowder, Bobby Burge, and Monte Weaver.

South Carolina, in 1787, passed a law classing actors as vagrants.

Joseph G. Richards was married, April 13, 1888. He was 13 years older than his wife. Years later their son married the daughter of a couple themselves married on April 13, 1870. The son died Dec. 13, 1896.

FRANCE'S BOUSSUS TO BE TOUGH FOR ALL FOES

By GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK, March 12. (AP)—Except for some 200 regulation tennis balls that were banged all out of shape, little damage was done today in the orgy of tennis that marked the opening of the thirty-third annual national indoor tournament.

None of the 13 seeded entrants experienced difficulty polishing off the opening opposition.

Christian Bousus, the French left-hander who suddenly has found himself in the unenviable position of a tournament favorite, disposed of Frank Brodia of Harvard, 6-2, 6-2, and he, without leaving the court, downed John Morrison, New York 6-0, 6-2.

Husky Frank Shields, favored American entry, defeated Simon Miller, New York, 6-4, 6-4, then Norman Neel, New York, 6-2, 6-0. Gregory Mangin, Newark, beat Martin Alexander, Brooklyn, 6-1, 6-0, and Ed-ward Tarangoli, New York, 6-4, 6-2.

George Lott, Jr., veteran Chicago star, opened with a 6-3, 6-2 triumph over Wilson Rogers, New York.

Jean Borotra, France, overwhelmed George Hartford of the Harvard tennis team, 6-1, 6-0.

Other favored sons who survived the day's play included Berkeley Bell, finalist against Borotra a year ago, Sidney Wood, Julius Seligson, Frank Bowden, Eugene McAuliff, and Eddie Jenkins of the American forces, as well as Antoine Gentien, third member of the French team. Eddie Jacobs of Baltimore was given until Monday to play his opening match.

All except Bowden won in the regulation two sets, but the tall New Yorker had to go three to dispose of Sidney Berger of New York university, 6-1, 4-6, 7-5.

In a practice match after completion of the regular program Berkeley Bell trimmed Borotra, 6-1, in a first set and had the Frenchman down, 4-2, in a second when they quit for the day. Bell, critics agree, is playing the most impressive tennis of his career.

ATHLETICS AND INDIANS TIE AS SHOWER FALLS

FT. MYERS, March 12. (AP)—A lone drawn out contest between the Philadelphia Athletics and the Indianapolis Indians was ended abruptly by a shower today and the boys went home to dinner in the eighth inning with the score at 9 to 9.

The Indians combed Pitchers Deshong, Rommel and Bowman for 14 base hits, while the A's made 11 off Thomas, Logan, and Ernie Kingard.

PLAYGROUND BALL IS FORM OF BASEBALL BUT MODIFIED

Larger, Soft Balls and Small Bats Are Used on Tiny Diamond Layouts.

Golfing Grows in Interest Tho Snow Interferes

There are many Pampans who do not know what soft-ball or playground baseball is or how it is played. A league is being formed here and team managers are anxious that Pampa fans become acquainted with the game before the season opens.

Playground ball is not hand ball, volleyball, one-eyed cat, duck-on-the-rock, or anything like that. Playground ball is simply a modified game of baseball. The ball is larger and the bat smaller. Only the catcher and first baseman are allowed to wear gloves. The ball must be thrown to the batter underhand. Otherwise, baseball rules cover nearly all the rest of the game.

A few of the rules of playground baseball follow:

The bases are 45 feet apart instead of 90 feet.

The distance between the pitchers box and the batter is 35 feet instead of 60 feet.

The ball is 12 inches in diameter, in seam or outseam.

Usually ten players are used instead of nine. The extra man may play between first and second base or any other position he desires.

A player cannot leave a base to steal until the pitched ball has passed the batter. He cannot steal on an overthrow.

A batter cannot bunt the ball but must make a complete swing.

Some people think that playground ball is for kids and girls. Playground ball is even faster than baseball because there is not the freedom of distance between bases and the ball can be hit almost as far as a baseball. Good pitchers can curve the ball and have blinding speed.

The game has become so popular in Florida that it is played at night under regulation lights and thousands attend all games. There are 1,000 organized teams playing playground baseball in Wisconsin.

WEARS A FROWN

NEW ORLEANS, March 12. (AP)—Manager Roger Peckinpaugh wore a frown today for the first time since the Cleveland Indians have been in camp. A scheduled game with the New Orleans Pelicans was called off because of cold weather, the fourth of five games to be cancelled.

GELBERT AND HAFEY ARE HOLDING OUT TIGHTLY

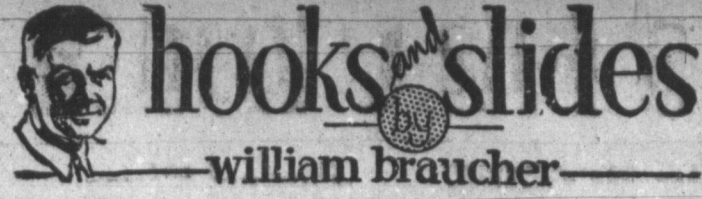

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 12. (AP)—Aside from the unexpected blow the weather dealt this week to all the major league baseball clubs training in the south, the outstanding wallops appear so far to have been absorbed by the world champion Cardinals.

It was embarrassing enough when John Leonard (Pepper) Martin struck out three times in his first game of 1932. Likewise, it was disconcerting when Jerome Herman (Dizzy) Dean, of whose pitching prowess so much has been broadcast, fell a victim to the Athletics' barrage of home runs, and the A's wound up two triumphs in the first three exhibition games of the spring world series. The situation became actually mortifying, however, when St. Louis was handed the white-wash brush by Cincinnati, the cellar club of the National league.

On top of all this, Charley Gelbert, the shortstop that the Cardinals need no more than their right eyes, has remained the most stubborn of holdouts, so has Chick Hafey, the league batting champion.

Already, other National league clubs have caught encouragement on the rebound from the showing of the Cardinals in early trials.

Brooklyn, not far away, has manufactured fresh hope under the rigid regime of Max Carey. The Dodgers act like a serious group of Eye, Eye, Bonus!

One important face will be missing from the lineup of the St. Louis Browns when the boys finish their spring training gestures in West Palm Beach.

Who? Why, Old Man Bonus!

Old Man Bonus was the clubhouse orator who made more errors last year than all the ball players in the world. Manager Bill Killefer of the Browns simply got tired of keeping books on the old fellow and chased him out of camp.

"The bonus almost made an auditor out of me, instead of a manager," Killefer told me. "If one pitcher seemed to be getting more chance to earn a little extra money than another pitcher, there was dissatisfaction and jealousy.

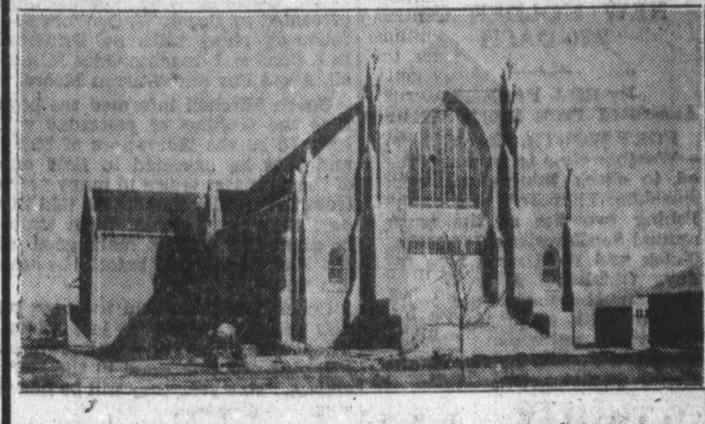

Look for Easy Spots

"You can see how, under the bonus system, all the Browns' pitchers would want to pitch only against the Red Sox and White Sox, so they could win and fatten the payroll.

"Every time I sent a pitcher out to finish a game after one of his mates had been knocked out, it was just like hiring somebody. Then athletes, instead of just the life of the party.

From far off California come the echoes of serious gestures by the New York Giants and Chicago Cubs. Right unseen, many of the experts already are picking the horse of McGraw to make it very tough. "I'll feel happier when I see fellows like Gelbert here but we still have a month to get going. We have not been hitting and the weather turned bad. When the gang's all here we will be ready to go."

STOCKS FIRM

NEW YORK, March 12. (AP)—The stock market tilted slightly upward in a quiet half-day session today.

Trading was pathetic and the last made little headway, but at least the emphatic heaviness of the previous session was overcome. Week-end retirement of short contracts apparently provided much of the buying.

The net advance for the day, as measured by the averages, was little more than half a point. The turnover was 649,015 shares.

Wall street was keenly interested in the tomorrow's election in Germany, in view of the possible effects upon European stability or any marked extremist gains. This factor undoubtedly contributed toward the hesitancy of the security markets.

Among the few issues which managed to come through the session with gains of about a point were Allied Chemical, American Can, DuPont, Eastman, Monsanto Chemical, National Steel, Real Silk Hosiery, and Safeway Stores. Fractional gains appeared in many prominent issues, including U. S. Steel, General Motors, General Electric, New York Central and Union Pacific.

WHEAT STRONGER

CHICAGO, March 12. (AP)—Increasing uneasiness over the condition of the United States winter wheat crop led to higher prices today.

Lowest temperatures yet in the present cold spell were reported from Kansas. Ohio acres indicated damage which would be augmented when wheat thawed out, and there were estimates that several million acres of hard winter wheat in Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Colorado, and Texas would require auspicious weather hereafter to overcome existing drawbacks.

Wheat closed firm  $\frac{1}{8}$  to  $\frac{1}{2}$  above yesterday's finish, corn unchanged to  $\frac{1}{4}$  lower, oats unchanged to  $\frac{1}{4}$  off, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 5 cents.

Corn and oats averaged lower, affected by heavier offerings of corn from rural sources, whereas corn shipping demand here was not improved.

Provisions displayed ability to absorb a heavy volume of hedging sales on the part of packers.

Closing indemnities—Wheat—May 60%  $\frac{1}{2}$ , 61%  $\frac{1}{4}$ ; July 62%  $\frac{1}{2}$ , 63%  $\frac{1}{4}$ ; Sept 64%, 65%. Corn—May 39%  $\frac{1}{2}$ , 40; July 41%  $\frac{1}{2}$ , 42  $\frac{1}{2}$ ; Sept. 43% bids.

COTTON LOWER

NEW ORLEANS, March 12. (AP)—Cotton opened moderately lower here at today's brief session but for the remainder of the morning showed a fairly steady tone. Weak cables and hedging depressed the market for the first fifteen minutes or so but a steady stock market and week-end trade buying soon turned the trend upward. Closing prices were at the highest levels of the day on the near months but there was a little realizing just at the end of the new crop months as temperatures moderated a bit in the belt.

May closed at 7.00; July at 7.16 and Oct. at 7.33, with net losses of 1 to 2 points for the day.

Port receipts 15,329 bales; for week 15,329; for season 8,739,592; last year 8,298,445. Exports 19,363; for week 19,363; for season 6,172,408; last year 5,133,726. Port stocks 4,467,100; last year 4,021,597. Shipboard stocks at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 224,153; last year 100,713.

KANSAS CITY LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, March 12. (AP)—(U. S. D. A.)—Cold weather which was general throughout the country was a boon to livestock trade this week as it had tendency to curtail receipts and stimulate materially demand for dressed meats. Price upturns of 25-75 were registered on most killing classes of cattle the fore part of the week but the better grades of fed steers and long yearlings closed slow with early upturns of 25-50 erased and the market on other killing classes eased off to a light extent. Total receipts at eleven markets were about the same as last week.

Sharp price upturns of 1.00-3.00 on dressed lambs were reflected in the live market with gains of 75-1.00. Choice fat lambs in Chicago cashed up to 7.75, the highest figure paid since October, 1931. Values on sheep were strong to 50 higher. The supply approximated 315,000, against 270,870 last week.

At the age of 21, Miss Kathleen Rushworth, of Blackpool, England, has never failed in an examination and has just become one of the youngest women lawyers.

It is estimated that 24.3 per cent of the autos in this country are driven by women. (Exclusive of 75 per cent driven from the back seat, of course).

blistered. He tossed a bunch of keys to Harry E. Hoare of The NEWS and mumbled through swelling lips for the pipeline department to sever connections.

Roll On Ground

Employees of the British-American Oil company nearby helped take the blackened, suffering men to local hospitals. Some of the men had rolled on the ground to extinguish the flames; others had leaped into a pool of water and mud. The lower limbs of one looked like black stumps as he was assisted into an automobile. Several were unconscious by the time they reached the hospitals.

Physicians believed all would live through the night, although Bell and Lafferty were in a critically dangerous condition.

Spectators, held far back because of the danger from tank explosions, shivered in a chilling wind, but three NEWS staff members and several oil company executives who approached the flames found heat to spare. The oil saturated ground was nearly red hot and flames flickered over it and raced up and down rivulets of oil and gasoline.

Stocks Were Low

A Santa Fe switch engine pulled a string of empty tank cars from the blaze before they were damaged. A large shipment of gasoline prevented heavier loss, the stocks on two days prior to the fire having reached nearly 40,000 barrels.

The refinery was established in 1927 by Dr. A. McClory of Wichita Falls and associates, assisted by local capital, and later sold to the H. F. Wilcox Oil & Gas company. Damaged somewhat in previous blasts during the last year, it was virtually demolished yesterday. No estimate of the loss was available, but it was probably well over $125,000.

About 11 o'clock last night citizens in town heard distinctly the explosion of two or more tanks, and could see jets of flame shooting many feet into the air.

Humble Pipeline employees reported that sparks were falling on their camp and that they had called Pampa firemen to guard their property. The highway was lined with cars and people attracted by the fire.

GWIN--

ent election political campaign as a major issue; and although unquestionably wholly unjustified and without cause, it has created a situation wherein a strictly non-political office is by certain selfish political interests now being made the hub around which local politics seem to revolve.

This, if continued, will unquestionably tend to ruin the principles of city manager government in Pampa and if organized political machines are tolerated by our people, it may result in fractional political domination rather than efficiency will qualify public servants at the city hall, and defeat the purpose of charter-manager city government that has met the needs of this city that has grown from 1,000 to 11,000 population in five years and supplied every modern improvement needed, with a tax rate and public debt lower than the average rate in cities where from 20 to 30 years were required to complete the same public improvements.

I do not feel that it is ethical for me to enter into political turmoil and it appearing impossible to remain out of it, without jeopardizing the best interests of our taxpayers, therefore, I herewith tender my resignation as city manager effective with the expiration of the term of office of the present city commission, and ask that you give it favorable consideration. In closing, please allow me to express my deep appreciation to the members of this commission for the wonderful co-operation you have always extended me and the constant counsel and direction of this body that it has been my privilege to enjoy. This has made a bright spot out of four years of strenuous service that we have shared as employer and employee, and may I add that in all my experience I have never shared public responsibility with groups of men who give their time quite so unselfishly to the public cause or were quite so vigilant to guard public welfare, as have the city commissioners with whom I have served since becoming city manager of Pampa.

I also wish to assure you that as a citizen of Pampa, I shall always stand ready to extend any service possible for her advancement and if I can be of service in helping your successors, after the election, to organize the new administration they have only to command and my services will be gladly theirs for a limited time.

Again expressing my appreciation to the members of this commission and the many friends throughout our citizenship, and assuring you that my resignation is for no personal reason, but merely the result of a political condition in which I cannot ethically become a participant, I am,

Sincerely yours,
F. M. GWIN, City Manager.

CITIZENS ARE URGED TO INSPECT NEW NORTH PAVEMENT

CONCRETE ON LEFORS, MIAMI ROADS RECENTLY OPENED FOR TRAFFIC BY STUCKEY COMPANY

CAREFUL CHECKING OF MIXTURES IS VERY NECESSARY

A suggestion that citizens of this community make a personal inspection of the new strip of paving on the north Miami road and the new strip on the LeFors road was offered by officials of the Stuckey Construction company yesterday. The Miami stretch was opened to traffic March 5.

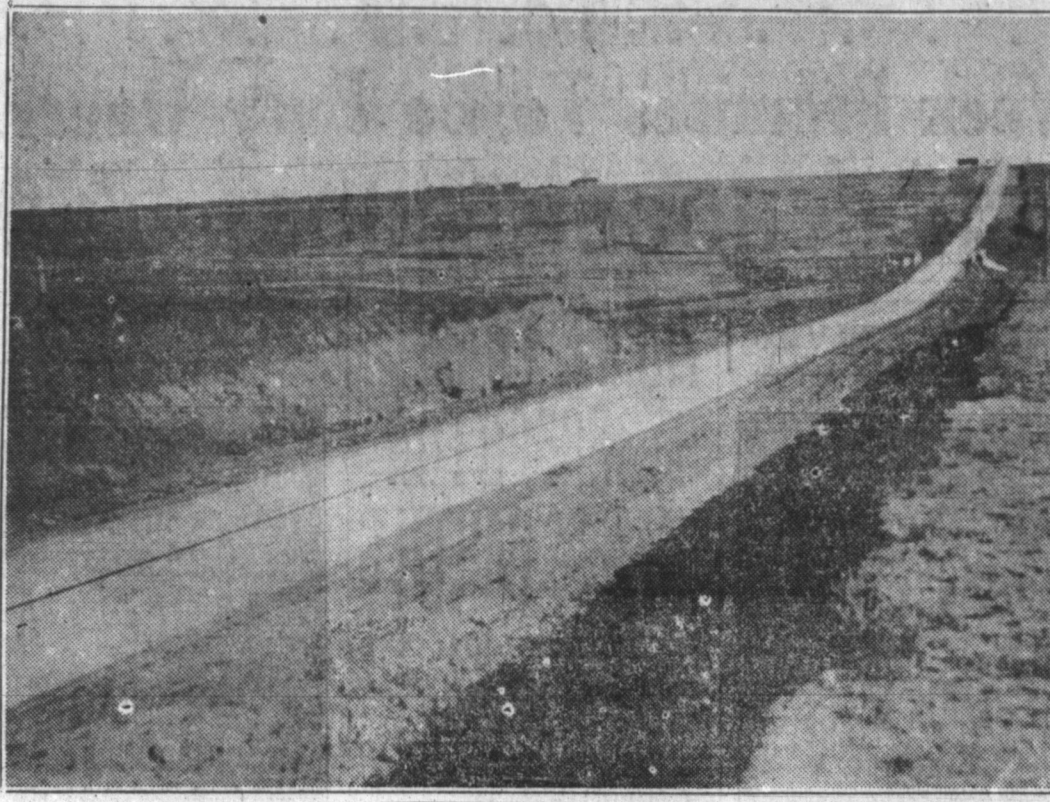

"The value of a concrete road can be best realized by a personal inspection," Earl Stuckey said. He declared the Stuckey Construction company is proud of these two concrete slabs.

Almost ideal weather prevailed while the Miami road was being constructed. The slab on this road now measures 5.26 miles and is one of the smoothest strips in the state. Bad weather frequently interrupted paving on the LeFors road.

"The day of guess-work in constructing highways is a thing of the past," Mr. Stuckey said. "In past years we only guessed at approximately the amount of sand, gravel, and cement to be used in the mixture, but today all are weighed separately and accurately. All material is weighed for voidage and results in a dense mixture—density is the life of all types of paving. The state or county has an inspector at the plant, who controls the mixture of the concrete. There is an inspector on the road who checks all loads; there is another at the mixer who checks the subgrade and the placing of the concrete. It is to see that the steel is of the required thickness. The equipment is so adjusted that it is possible to cut the subgrade to within one-sixty-fourth of an inch. The finishing machine is so set that it will leave the required depth of paving.

"This eliminates all questions regarding the thickness of the paving. Also, there is another man on every paving job known as the straight-edge inspector. His duty is to use a ten-foot straight edge on all pavement after the finishing machine has gone over it and if he should find any variations to exceed one-fourth of an inch it is corrected at that particular time. This man

Stuckey Co. Does Some Paving in Other Sections

Considerable paving has been done outside of Gray county by the Stuckey Construction company. The following strips of paving have been laid in Gray county by the company:

Borger road, 6.04 miles; Miami road, 5.26 miles; South road, 2.55 miles; LeFors road, 4.52 miles; and the Amarillo road, 7.39 miles—a total of 25.76 miles.

Paving can be laid cheaper now outside the county was as follows: Carson, seven miles; Young, 15 miles; Childress county, 15 miles; White Deer, 10,000 yards on streets.

Rifle Club Will Meet on Monday

A called meeting of members of the Pampa Rifle club will be held at 8 o'clock tomorrow night in the Schneider hotel board room. Arrangements for a series of indoor shoots will be completed. The first match will be March 21 in the basement of the Brunow building where the club has erected an indoor range. Prizes for high scores will be given at each shoot.

Arrangements for outdoor ranges for large caliber matches will also be discussed. The club has two good targets.

Excavations at Susa, capital of ancient Elam and one of the oldest cities, show that men rode horseback more than 5,000 years ago.

should be given credit for the smooth riding surface of the road. Regardless of how efficient the officials of a firm might be, it is impossible to accomplish efficiency without the co-operation of your organization. If the construction men and the engineers co-operate, the public gains as the result. This applies from the superintendent on down to the water boy."

Earl Stuckey Experienced

Thirty Years He Has Given To Building Streets and Good Roads.

Earl Stuckey, vice-president of the Stuckey Construction company, has had 30 years of experience in constructing roads and streets. He started out in life as a brick layer, setting brick on street paving jobs for his grandfather. He says that both he and his brother, Clyde Stuckey, have laid brick many a day. Mr. Stuckey has built roads from Colorado to Florida and from Nebraska to the Gulf of Mexico. He comes from a family of street and road builders. In 1905, he and his father laid the first brick paving in Tulsa, Okla. They also laid the first brick paving in Muskogee, Vinita, and Bartlesville. The paving laid in Tulsa in 1905 by Mr. Stuckey is still being used.

In 1926, T. C. Hughes, Tulsa engineer, wrote Mayor F. P. Reid of Pampa that "during the 15 years I was city engineer of Tulsa, Mr. Earl Stuckey and his father, W. A. Stuckey, did considerable work in the paving line here. They paved the first, at that time, main business streets with brick paving. This was about 1905 and the paving is still in use and in fair condition, considering 22 years' service of heavy traffic. A part of it in recent years has been covered with asphalt. Later, Mr. Earl Stuckey did a lot of paving, acting as manager and superintendent for several paving companies here, but not as a contractor on his own account, and this work done by him for these concerns was always to my satisfaction. He was conscientious, careful and painstaking with his work for his companies and I would have no doubt he would act the same if contracting on his own account."

During the 30 years he has been building roads and streets throughout the south and southwest, Mr.

Stuckey has laid all types of paving, including cressed wood blocks, rock asphalt, sheet asphalt, Topeka mix (asphalt in concrete), bituminous-vulcanite, asphalt blocks and concrete.

Before the Stuckey Construction company moved to Pampa, it had headquarters in Wichita Falls. Mr. Stuckey said that the high standards in road building which were his father's have influenced him through the years. An accusing finger backed by a charge of defective workmanship has never been pointed at him since he began building roads, he declared.

Mr. and Mrs. Miles O'Laughlin and daughter-in-law, Mrs. William O'Laughlin of Miami spent Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Via, 613 West Browning.

Alex Schneider returned Friday from Monroe, La., and Fort Worth.

STUCKEY FIRM REAL FAMILY INSTITUTION

SONS AND DAUGHTER AID FOUNDER OF CONCERN

The Stuckey Construction company is a family institution. W. A. Stuckey of Wichita Falls is president. Earl Stuckey is vice-president and general manager, and another son, C. A. Stuckey, is also vice-president. A daughter, Mrs. Grace M. Pool, is secretary and treasurer.

The other member of the organization is Mrs. Gladys Robinson. She is stenographer, bookkeeper, the person who answers the phone or what-have-you. Both Mrs. Pool and Mrs. Robinson are active and enthusiastic members of the Business and Professional Women's club. Earl Stuckey is a member of the Rotary club.

Kiwanians Hear Student Program

Children from the physical culture classes at Woodrow Wilson school entertained members of the Pampa Kiwanis club Friday noon at the Schneider hotel. Three classes gave exercises and stunts, which were well received.

Guy E. McTaggart and Ralph Senter were new members introduced into the club.

A. G. Post and Dan McGrew were chosen delegates to the International Kiwanis convention in Detroit in June. M. P. Downs and S. C. Clayman were named alternates.

A delegation of Pampa members will go to Shamrock Thursday to discuss the organization of a Kiwanis club there.

Garner should now run true to form and blame the president for all world ills.—Senator George Moses of New Hampshire.

Washington would have beaten any man for president who has held the office since his day.—Newton D. Baker, ex-secretary of war.

A baby became an aunt within a half hour after it was born! Mrs. Jesse Waller and Mrs. Cecil Palmer, mother and daughter respectively, of Pampa, Ill., recently gave birth to daughters within 30 minutes of each other in the same hospital.

SECRETARY

Mrs. Glen Pool, above, is secretary of the Stuckey Construction company and is one of the city's most prominent business women.

BRICK LAYING CHAMPION HAD STRONG BACK

"INDIAN JIM" BROWN OF WIDE FAME WORKED FOR STUCKEY

People of Pampa who were here in 1927 well remember "Indian Jim" Brown, the redskin marvel who was brought here by Stuckey Construction company to lay the brick pavement.

Jim was as tough as his copper skin. His back seemed never to tire as he stooped over the smooth sand cushion and dropped bricks with monotonous regularity. Four or five men could hardly keep up with him, and sometimes twice that number would carry bricks.

Jim was a champion, and he worked himself out of a job. Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Barnes have returned from Marshall where Mrs. Barnes has been taking medical treatment.

PAVING MUCH CHEAPER THAN FORMER PRICE

CONCRETE COMING TO OLD POPULARITY AGAIN

Paving can be laid cheaper now than at any time during the past, according to Earl Stuckey. A drop in the price of building materials, and the use of equipment which enables a contractor to obtain more production were responsible for this, he said.

Concrete paving was in disfavor in the Panhandle during the last year, but is coming back, Mr. Stuckey believes. The greatest objection to it was the expanding of the joints, producing waves in the road, and since engineers believe they have found a method to eliminate this, concrete is again in favor.

It is Mr. Stuckey's belief that concrete roads are cheaper at the end of five years than any other type of road.

Hindenburg and Hitler in Limelight

BERLIN, March 12. (P)—Germany's forty-four million voters must choose between Paul von Hindenburg, who is dedicated to the preservation of the young republic, and Adolf Hitler, apostle of its overthrow, at the presidential election tomorrow, the twelfth anniversary of the Kapp rebellion in which the very forces now opposing the venerable field marshal tried to usurp power.

The voting takes place exactly two years after President von Hindenburg signed the Young plan. His signature to that document, which continued the payment of war reparations, is one of the items in his record on which Hitler's fascists have centered their attacks during the bitter election campaign.

Although five candidates are running, the real issue lies between von Hindenburg and Hitler. Significance attaches to the candidacies of Theodore Heckerberg, nationalist, and Ernest Thaelmann, communist, only because they may get votes enough to prevent a decision on the first ballot, thus requiring a second election in April.

Mrs. Mary Slesger of McLean was in the city yesterday afternoon.

Good Paving Is Pride Of Stuckey Construction Company Officials

CUYLERBRICK PAVEMENT IS ONE EXAMPLE

SEVERE TESTS GIVEN ALL MATERIALS USED

The Stuckey Construction company was awarded its first brick paving contract in Pampa, Dec. 1, 1926. Since that time, the company has built approximately 12 and one-half miles of streets in the city and about 26 miles of concrete roads in the county.

Most any Pampa resident would testify to the excellence of the Stuckey paving. After five years the first job done by the company in the city, is in first-class condition. The same is true of other streets of the city.

It is the well-substantiated boast of the Stuckey company that only the best materials and equipment have been used in laying the various types of pavement in Gray county. Earl Stuckey, vice-president and general manager of the company, declared yesterday that Pampa has well constructed streets today because the steel, brick, sand, and gravel in them is the best that was possible to buy at the time, and because A. H. Doucette, engineer, was the most particular and accurate engineer with whom he ever had any dealings. Mr. Doucette supervised all city and county projects done by the Stuckey company with the single exception of the Amarillo highway paving.

All gravel used in the projects was purchased from the Panhandle Sand & Gravel company, and was shipped after being washed direct from Tascosa, the only source of supply of high-grade gravel in the Panhandle.

The Sheffield Steel corporation of Kansas City furnished the steel. Sand was obtained locally. All steel and cement was given the state and federal test by the Pittsburgh laboratories, Dallas, before being used. Sand and gravel was given the standard highway test by the county engineer.

Creating Ease Is Object of Group

To create poise and ease in appearing before an audience is the aim of the sixth grade dramatic club of Junior high school, which work toward this end is done under the direction of Miss Anne Louise Jones, sponsor.

The motto of the club is "Be Square the year round," the flower is the chrysanthemum, and the colors, green and gold.

Officers follow: President, Ruby Scaler; vice-president, Thomas Mitchell; secretary, Lorene Wood; publicity manager, Sibly Taylor; guard, Betty Curtis; cheer leaders, Pauline Stapp and Pauline Gregory.

The members are Bernice Barrett, Elizabeth Barbee, Beth, and the Robert Carpenter, Margaret Carr, Grace Coffin, Loudene Cooper, Betty Curtis, Bessie Belle Davis, Ralph Fogleson, Pauline Gregory, Marjorie Hampton.

Wyleaway Bridge Club Has Meeting

The recently organized Wyleaway Bridge club of Cabot camp, Kingsmill, met in the club house at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

After several rubbers of bridge were played, the hostesses, Mrs. Ed F. Mills and Mrs. Reno Stinson, served refreshments of sandwiches, olives, pineapple trifles, cakes, and coffee to the following: Mesdames M. L. White, O. E. Keplinger, J. F. Peacock, C. L. Austin, W. F. Arndt, A. D. Hasten, C. R. Fowler, H. H. Hahn, William Peacock, and L. B. Wright.

By vote of those present, the day of meeting was changed from Thursday to Wednesday in order to avoid conflict with the Parent-Teacher association meeting.

Mrs. H. F. Maxey is president of the club, Mrs. H. H. Hahn is vice-president, and Mrs. Reno Stinson is secretary-treasurer.

Two Hostesses Are For Altar Society

Mrs. Lewis Eckert and Mrs. A. M. Moore were hostesses to the Altar society, Holy Souls church, at a meeting held Wednesday afternoon at the Eckert home, 1512 Alcock street.

Those attending were Mesdames H. B. Carlson, Mary Conley, Agnes Croft, William Cunningham, J. A. Garman, F. E. Gill, L. H. Sulms, Leo Martin, and the hostesses.

The society will meet the afternoon of March 23 at the home of Mrs. Cunningham, 501 N. Faulkner.

Mrs. J. S. Fuqua of Miami was shopping in the city yesterday.

Mrs. Albert K. Bowers of Wheeler drove to Pampa yesterday on business.

Mrs. Walter Wise of LeFors made a business trip to the city Saturday.

SAFETY EDUCATION FOR ALL AGES STRESSED IN MEETING

Lack of Interest Locally Is Deplored; Oil Men of the Territory Attend.

Speakers at the safety meeting in the city hall auditorium Friday night sponsored by the Pampa Kiwanis club deplored the lack of interest Pampa citizens took in the meeting. Although several hundred attended the gathering, only a very small percentage were from Pampa. Oilfield workers turned out strongly, as did Boy Scouts and junior traffic police.

A. G. Post, president of the Kiwanis club, welcomed the audience on behalf of the club and explained its aim and activities. He said such meetings would be held frequently and that he hoped Pampa citizens would take more interest in the future. He told of the club's sponsoring the junior traffic police with the assistance of Joe Persky, and of erection of safety signs around Pampa schools. He introduced Max Mahaffey of the Empire Gas & Fuel company, who acted as master of ceremonies.

Thomas Sings, E. J. Thomas, local voice teacher, sang "Sweet Mystery of Life" and "When Shadows Fall," accompanied at the piano by Miss Louis Barton.

Carl H. Martin of Bartlesville, Okla., safety supervisor of the Phillips Petroleum company, opened the program with a talk on safety on the streets and in the schools. He declared that safety education should begin at home and that it should be followed throughout life.

There were 34,400 persons killed by automobiles in 1931. Nine states demand that drivers have licenses.

"Most accidents today are caused by the drivers and not the automobile," Mr. Martin declared. "A car driven at 60 miles an hour has the same destructive force as if it dropped 10 stories. Most adults resent safety suggestions. Phillips has reduced accident 54 per cent."

Not a serious accident has been reported in Pampa since the junior police was organized, Mr. Martin told the gathering.

"If one accident can be averted as a result of this meeting, the Pampa Kiwanis club can consider their work well done," A. R. Tillman of Albuquerque, safety supervisor of the Santa Fe railway, said in his talk on safety in connection with relation of the railway to the public.

Every railroad man is drilled in safety work, Mr. Tillman said. The company works 1,500 men and went the last two months without an accident. He declared that 18,000,000 persons were carried on trains in the United States last year and only seven were killed. Carelessness causes most accidents—for example, more people are killed by driving into the side of moving trains than are employees of the railroads.

The petroleum industry has become a safety organization in the belief of G. C. Lockwood of Bartlesville, safety director for the Empire

Ford Denounced by Marching Men

DETROIT, March 12. (AP)—Bearing banners denouncing Henry Ford and Mayor Frank Murphy for instituting what they termed a "police terror," approximately 4,000 persons today marched in the funeral procession of four persons shot to death in Monday's riot at the Ford Motor company's river rouge factory.

Strong details of police were stationed at important points along the parade route but no attempt was made to interfere with the marchers. There was no disorder.

Red banners and arm bands were much in evidence in the procession. Various labor organizations carried banners demanding indemnity for the four slain men or urging affiliation with communist organizations. Portions of the procession sang the "Internationale" as they marched.

May Cut Troop Strength Soon

AUSTIN, March 12. (AP)—Governor R. S. Sterling today said he would order a reduction in the number of troops in the East Texas oil field within the next few days unless something unexpected developed.

The troops have been held in the field to enforce the military orders of Governor Sterling regulating oil production.

Approximately 170 officers and men comprise the present martial law forces. Governor Sterling said he expected to order the withdrawal of 50 soldiers next week and that the force gradually would be reduced.

"There are three fundamentals in safety—education, co-operation, and organization," Mr. Lockwood declared. "Statistics show that 98 per cent of accidents are caused by somebody making a mistake and not by the act of God, as was an old idea."

R. G. Allen of the Cabot company made a short talk, stressing the statement that individuals can help a company or even "make" a company by obeying reasonable safety rules. He told of curtailment of accidents in the carbon black interests in recent years. Accidents can be stopped by public interest, not by signs and regulations, he said.

Vaccination against diphtheria and smallpox will do much to keep the child healthy and strong, Miss Ivan Mayfield, public health supervisor said. She recommended toxoid because there is no reaction, and it is permanent. She encouraged visits to the family doctor for regular examinations.

Final Honors to Briand Are Given

PARIS, March 12. (AP)—The world and his homeland gave final honors today to Aristide Briand. Half a million persons lined the streets of Paris as his body was borne from the foreign office, over which he presided so many years, to Passy cemetery.

Because Briand was the "apostle of peace" he was accorded a peacemaker's funeral. Instead of the usual gilded carriage an ordinary horse-drawn coach bore him to his grave, and the part played by the military arm of the nation was cut to the minimum.

In a funeral oration at the foreign office Premier Andre Tardieu called Briand the "Prince of Orators." At his funeral he received the last applause of his people.

DAUGHTER IS BORN

A daughter, Carolyn, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Munday, Amarillo, yesterday. Mrs. Munday is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Herbert Walker of Pampa.

Mt. Ida, Ark., is feminine in fact as well as name. All officials from the mayor down are women, and since they took it over only one arrest has been made for prohibition violation.

NEW METHOD FOR CONCRETE HELPS ROADS

WAVING IS ELIMINATED AND ATTITUDE CHANGES

Concrete paving steadily lost favor in the Panhandle last year due to the wavy condition of highway 33 in Carson county, and at various times the State Highway department expressed the belief that concrete paving was not suitable to the Panhandle and that henceforth "penetration" paving such as caliche and asphalt would be used.

However, in the last few months state engineers have discovered that by treating tight land with sand, there is little movement of the sub grade and the joints do not rise making the waves. Shortly after the state highway department issued a statement that concrete pavement was not suitable for the Panhandle, many counties decided to lay the penetration type of pavement. Most of those decisions were recently revoked when it was discovered that suitable caliche was not available in the Panhandle. Hemphill and Roberts counties intended to lay penetration paving, but recently decided to lay concrete on No. 33.

In order to eliminate waving, on highway 33 from Pampa to Kingsmill, the Stuckey company laid the joints 600 feet apart. Thus far, no waving has developed in the road. Because the land on the north Miami road is not so tight and there was no movement of the sub-grade, there is not a wave in the road. Therefore the strip of paving to the Roberts county line that was finished last Saturday was jointed every 120 feet.

Peace Near in Shanghai Now

WASHINGTON, March 12. (AP)—While Chinese and Japanese leaders have not reached a definite peace agreement in Shanghai, the opinion prevails in official circles here that the combatants soon will sign an agreement to end hostilities. Such action would open the way for the United States, France, Great Britain and Italy to join them in conference to settle the Shanghai dispute.

Informal conversations are known to be making progress toward peace. One of the stumbling blocks has been the best means of policing a neutral zone around the international settlement. Whether foreign soldiers or policemen should be used as guards, is a stubborn problem.

WORLD CHAMP LAID BRICKS

A world's champion brick layer—"Indian Jim"—laid the brick pavement in Pampa for Stuckey Construction company. He is shown above in one of the few pauses he made while placing the bricks with amazing speed.

PLAN CAMPAIGN

ABILENE, Mo. 12. (AP)—Chamber of Commerce leaders of this city will seek to raise a budget of $15,000 for 1932 operating funds during a campaign to be staged the week of March 21 to 26.

EMPLOYEES OF STUCKEY FIRM ARE SKILLFUL

ONE IS DESCRIBED AS "DOUBLE CHECKER" OF FIRM

Indispensable members of the Stuckey organization are William Dee and Dan MacNaughton, Earl Stuckey said. Mr. Dee has been superintendent of the paving work for the last five years, and Mr. MacNaughton has been material and cost man for an equal length of time.

Mr. MacNaughton was described as the checker for the company by Mrs. Grace M. Pool and Mrs. Gladys Robinson, office assistant, was described as the double-checker.

THREE-PLY MEET

HAMILTON, Bermuda, March 12. (AP)—The United States, Canada, and Bermuda will clash Sunday in an international 36-hole golf team contest for the Ellis trophy. The competition will be played over the Belmont Manor course.

The United States team will consist of George Voigt, Leonard Martin, Clive Alvord, Pennington Miller-Jones, Robert Lyle, Charles Sheldon, George Hackel, and Eddie Held.

It has been a pleasure to furnish the Stuckey Construction Company, in all its Paving in Gray County, with the best materials on the market, including—

SOME FAVORITES IN HORNED TOAD RACE

'Family Style' Texan Hotel

As the time for the big Legion derby and dance to be held next Wednesday night at the Pla-Mor auditorium draws near, trainers of various toads are working frantically to get their steeds in the best possible racing condition.

'Family Style Dinner' Mrs. Summers is training this toad and he will be carrying the colors of the Texan hotel, 210 N. Ballard.

'Friendly Five' This toad has been training as a dark entry and he sent chills up the spines of several trainers when he was publicly entered this morning.

'Billiards' The Club Royal is backing this entry. She really is a pony. Knew nothing but racing ever since she was a little shaver.

'Better Than Best' Ray De Orleans is training 'Better Than The Best' for the Texas Coffee shop, and believe me, after she wraps herself around one of those steak dinners Ray puts out, she feels better than the best.

'Holt's Service' The Adams hotel is pinning its hopes and ambitions on 'Holt's Service.' Geo. Holt, trainer, is training the steed on the same careful service and attention he has given the public for so long.

'Folger' Gray Co. Gro-Market

mistake at the last moment this title contender appears to be in the money. There is no room at the Adams hotel for second rate service and they decline to train second rate racers.

'Flowers By Wire' 'Flowers by Wire' is so popular with the young ladies that he quit making wrong with her was her shoes. Immediately they changed to Julian Kokenge Arch Support shoes and the toad began showing so much speed that they decided the only thing to do was enter her in the derby.

'Allen A. Hosiery' The Gordon store at 106 N. Cuyler are putting what it deems to be the best contender on the market in the race and that is none other than 'Allen A. Hosiery.'

'Pride of Pampa' This toad while not engaged in doing road work, helps out in the Pride Dry Cleaning plant. The plant is proud of its desert duster and guarantee quality.

'Levine's' Standing behind the counter ready to help you find anything you might desire is 'Levine's,' ace clerk and racer for Levine's Dry Goods and Ready-to-Wear Store at S. Cuyler.

'Perfecto' Perfecto Cleaners

ing condition. All know what a run they get for their money when they trade at Levine's and a toad trained there can be expected to give this same value.

'Old-Forsheim' This tried and true old toad is an inside track hugger and a slick article when it comes to racing.

'Daily' The never failing toad that you find at your doorstep each evening is 'Daily,' owned and trained by the Pampa Daily NEWS.

'Folger' This speedster belongs to the Gray County Grocery & Market, 104 North Cuyler. They are giving him the training and feeding of his life.

'Nothing Over 15c' Entry of F. W. Woolworth Co., at 105 South Cuyler. This little worker, yes, we have a worker among our racers, is especially busy at this time of year getting everybody fixed up, poned to a St. Patrick greeting or a shamrock. However he thought that he would have time to train up a little for the big event.

'Frederick' 'Frederick' is the fast stepping entry of the Aladdin Beauty Shoppe, 108 North Cuyler and is being shampooed, fingerwaved and manouevred until she will stand out as the best groomed toad in the race.

'Fast Pavement' Training in the Combs-Worley building is the speedy racer known as 'Fast Pavement,' pride of the Stuckey Construction company stables.

'Moe Bridges' Another real entry to break into the racing news is 'Moe Bridges,' pride of the light fixtures of the Rex Electric company, 318 1-2 West Foster.

'Perfecto' And that's just what the Perfecto Cleaners, 311 West Foster avenue, Mr. Cockrell says they have 'Perfecto' trained so well that he can't stand to have any spots around.

'Castor Oil' This is the fast stepping entry of the Richards Drug company, 107 West Kingsmill. They gave us a MORE ON GAL 3 little poem about their toad which runs something like this.

March Is First to Play Classic in Vocal Film

Fredric March, famous stage and screen star, plays the difficult dual role of 'Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde' in Paramount's new screen dramatization of Robert Louis Stevenson's weird story of man's dual nature.

March joins a long line of famous actors who have portrayed the Robert Louis Stevenson character. Richard Mansfield first enacted the part on the stage in Boston in May, 1887.

'Photos Live Forever' 'Photo' will carry the colors of Hester's Studio, 221 North Frost, in the big derby for frogs. He is going to carry a camera in the race and take snaps as he goes along.

Sister MARY'S KITCHEN

Very often, when vegetables are served in great variety, a vegetable cream soup is not wanted in the menu and a meat broth fails to give the required number of calories and nourishment. Of course there's always cream of mushroom soup, rich and delicious, but this is justifiable since one of the missions of a soup is to whet the appetite.

Cornmeal Soup Three tablespoons butter, 1-2 cup minced onion, 1-2 cup shredded sweet green pepper, 1 bay leaf, 1 teaspoon kitchen bouquet, 2 cups veal or chicken stock, 2 cups milk, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, 3 tablespoons flour, 4 tablespoons cornmeal, 1-2 cup grated cheese.

Melt butter in soup kettle and add onion and pepper. Stir and cook until onion is a golden straw color. Add seasoning, stock and milk. Add cornmeal and stir hard until mixture boils. Stir flour to a smooth paste with a little cold milk, adding hot soup slowly until mixture pours readily. Add to the soup, boiling point and cook fifteen minutes. When ready to serve sprinkle grated cheese over top of each bowl.

TOMORROW'S MENU BREAKFAST: Canned peaches stuffed with jelly, cereal, cream, eggs poached in tomato puree, toast, milk, coffee. LUNCHEON: Cornmeal soup, toast sticks, cress and apple salad, jelly roll cake, lemonade. DINNER: Baked halibut with lemon sauce, French fried sweet potatoes, cauliflower au gratin, stuffed celery and green pepper salad, sponge cake with strawberry fluff, milk, coffee.

can be made with half milk and half veal or chicken stock, or all milk as taste dictates. Parmesan cheese is preferred on account of its flavor, but any well-flavored cheese hard enough to grate can be used. Potatoes should not be repeated in the same meal with the potato and cheese soup.

Potato and Cheese Soup Three medium sized potatoes, 1 cup grated cheese, 4 cups milk, 4 tablespoons butter, 3 tablespoons flour, 2 teaspoons salt, 1-2 teaspoon white pepper, 2 teaspoons sugar, 2 tablespoons grated onion, 1 teaspoon tobacco sauce, 2 tablespoons minced parsley. Steam or boil potatoes in the "jackets." Peel and put through ricer. Melt butter and stir in flour. Add milk, stirring constantly, and bring to the boiling point. Add prepared potatoes, seasoning and cheese and boil one minute.

Playlet Is Held at WMS Meeting

Effectively costumed, a group of First Baptist W. M. S. members presented a playlet, "Journey of Home Mission Envelopes," in the last service held to observe week of prayer. The gathering was held Friday afternoon at the church.

Mrs. J. Powell Wehring was director, and the women were assisted by four children, Mary Kathryn and Carol Lee Shaw and Harold and Catherine Chisum.

Young People Are To Have Part in Service Tonight

The young people's department of the First Methodist church will have charge of the music and ushering at the regular church service this evening. Howard Zimmerman will sing a solo at that time.

The department also is making plans for a sunrise service to be held Easter morning at 6 o'clock under the direction of the Rev. C. A. Long.

All Methodist young people of Pampa are invited to join the department. A special devotional is held for the group each Sunday morning at 9:45 o'clock.

Artist Studied By Women Here

Mrs. Frank McAfee was hostess to the Child Study club at a meeting Thursday afternoon in her home, 306 N. Somerville, and the study was directed by Mrs. J. H. Patterson.

Mrs. Horace McBee discussed Michael Angelo and his masterpieces, and Mrs. Patterson told of the artist's pictures in the Sistine chapel in Rome. In discussing "The Madonna," Mrs. Raymond Harrah said: "It is most notable that the purer the artist's own understanding and character, the purer and finer will be the rendering of the Madonna theme." She showed two Madonna paintings.

A social hour and general discussion followed the program, and the hostess served refreshments.

Those present were Mesdames B. E. Finley, C. S. Barrett, Robert Gilchrist, Sherman White, Roy Finley, Frank McAfee, J. H. Patterson, Floyd McConnell, and Raymond Harrah.

Music Is Planned For Churches Here

This morning's program of music at the First Methodist church will be as follows: Prelude, Morning Mood (Grieg); anthem, Hock of Ages (Buck); R. B. Fisher and the choir; offertory, Nocturne in F-Sharp Minor (Chopin); Postlude in D (Kramer). This evening's numbers will include the following: Prelude, Improvisation in A-Flat (Schubert); offertory, Told at Sunset (Macdowell); postlude (Whiting).

R. B. Fisher is choir director and Mrs. May Foreman Carr is organist.

First Christian

This morning's program at the First Christian church will be as follows: Prelude, Wachterlied (Grieg); offertory, Consolation (F. Mendelssohn); march, Entry of the Procession (Schmeidler).

In the evening, a vocal quartet, "Nobody Told Me of Jesus," will be sung by Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Thomas, Miss Josephine Thomas, and Roy McAllen.

Wealth Studied By Baptist YWA

"What Is True Wealth?" was the subject for discussion by the Central Baptist Young Women's auxiliary Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. S. L. Anderson.

Following the devotional, led by Miss Kate Anderson, the following discussions were given: "What Is True Wealth?" Miss Ouida Coburn; "Danger of the Love of Money," Miss Elizabeth Waldron; "Woman of the Kingdom," Miss Mary Burks; "Only a Nickel for the Lord," Miss Mona Robinson.

A shadow program, "Money Spender's Conference," was given by the following characters: Selfishness, Miss Kate Anderson; pleasure, Miss Elizabeth Waldron; avarice, Miss Blanche Anderson; love, Miss Ouida Coburn.

Miss Ouida Coburn presided during the business session in the absence of the president, Miss Daphna Lunsford, and appointed a personal service committee composed of Miss Elizabeth Waldron, chairman, and Miss Louie Barton.

An offering for home missions was taken.

Those attending were Misses Elizabeth Waldron, Mona Robinson, Mary Burks, Esther Stark, Ouida Coburn, Kate Anderson, Blanche Anderson, and Mrs. George Berlin, counselor.

Luncheon Is Held For School Boys

Members of the Horace McJan Parent-Teacher association entertained with a noon luncheon in the school cafeteria Wednesday for J. L. Lester and boys of his manual training class. The courtesy was in appreciation to the boys for the work they had contributed in making the cabinets and tables for the cafeteria. If it had not been for their help, the articles could not have been obtained, Miss Josephine Thomas, principal, said.

Easter rabbits and chickens were used as table decorations, and handmade place cards furnished the Easter theme.

Mrs. J. M. Turner and her committee were in charge of the luncheon, and contributions were made by the members of the Parent-Teacher association.
