

WRIGLEY, OWNER OF CUBS, DEAD

Jealousy Is Advanced as Motive in Double Slaying

CRASH IS FATAL TO EDDIE STINSON

It's good to see men working on the Fort Worth and Denver Northern railroad just outside of Pampa. Many teams are being used to throw up the slight grade. Most of the cuts and fills between Pampa and LeFors have been completed.

Take a Look

Residents who have been wondering how the railroad could climb up out of the broken, sandy part of Central Gray county should inspect the route along the LeFors road. Caterpillar tractors and huge steam shovels have cut through the hills, filled up the ravines, and produced a gradually inclined grade.

Submerged Road

Some of the cuts are very deep, with fills nearby very high. But most peculiar of all are the cuts just a little below the level ground for considerable distances. It will be freakish to drive along level ground and see smoke arising from engines practically out of sight. But such was necessary in avoiding steep grades. Moreover, sharp curves in the cuts will make life hazardous for section workers and, at the crossings, for motorists.

Truly Scenic

It will be a picturesque manner of climbing up on the plains from the oil fields to our south. We imagine that travelers will believe Pampa is high up on the plains, where the cold winds blow. It will be a happy occasion when the steel ribbons are laid into Pampa and the first train pulls in from Fort Worth. Pampa will then, and not until then, be properly "annexed" to Texas commercially.

New Era

And furthermore, Pampa will then be the outlet to the south for people of this entire territory. Over-night pullman, express, and freight service from Central Texas points will introduce a new era in transportation. People will come here to entrain for points south. Pampa will have taken that most important step in the process of becoming the metropolis of the upper Panhandle plains.

No Longer Dream

When the Pampan came to this city nearly five years ago, the railroad from the south was a dream. Within this year it will be a reality. During that same period the C. & O. W. was completed—a road which will grow in importance as the country to the southeast of us develops. Ultimately highways and a

AGE OF FLIERS SUCCEUMBS TO CHEST INJURY

HIS HUGE PLANE LANDS ON FLAGPOLE WHEN MOTOR FAILS

WAS AVIATION PIONEER OPPOSED OCEAN TRIPS AS DETRIMENTAL TO BUSINESS

CHICAGO, Jan. 26. (P)—America's dean of aviators—Eddie Stinson is dead.

His long and sometimes perilous career as a flier came to an end early this morning in the Illinois Central hospital from injuries suffered when a huge Stinson-Detroiter plane fell to earth in a public golf links course in Jackson park, not far from the shoreline of Lake Michigan.

The accident occurred last evening while the noted flier and three companions were attempting to return to the Wayne, Mich., plant of the Detroit-Stinson corporation of which he was president.

While over the lake, motor trouble developed and Stinson maneuvered to make a safe but forced landing. The plane, however, struck a flagpole and was wrecked. Stinson, pinned beneath the wreckage, suffered a crushed chest and internal injuries which caused his death at 1 a. m. today.

Companions Escape—Clark Field of Kalamazoo, Mich., John Tompkins of East Chicago, Ind., and Frederick Gilles of Chicago, were injured but less seriously.

It was the first time Stinson had been injured in 20 years of flying, which had brought him numerous endurance records and the distinction of having been in the air more than any other man in the history of aviation—more than 14,000 hours, for a distance of nearly 1,500,000 miles, the equivalent of 60 times around the globe.

Stinson, who was but 38, pioneer-

SLAYER TERMED MAN "JUST GRAND" TO FRIENDS

DEFENSE IS OVERRULED STATE RESTS AS ITS REASON FOR ACT IS GIVEN

COURTHOUSE, PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 26. (P)—Winnie Ruth Judd's expressed opinion that J. J. Halloran, wealthy Phoenix lumberman "is perfectly grand" and her declaration that his friendship with other women "makes me so mad I think I'll go crazy" were told by two women closing the state's case today against the slender accused slayer of her friends.

County Attorney Lloyd C. Andrews held until the last his effort to establish jealousy as the motive for the slaying last Oct. 16 of Agnes Anne Lerol and Hedvig Samuelson. Miss Lucille Moore, nurse who said she met Mrs. Judd last Sept. 1, told of a ride she took with Mrs. Judd and Halloran on the evening of Oct. 15, the night before the slaying.

She had not, she said, met Halloran before he and Mrs. Judd came to her home that evening and asked her to go out with them.

The state rested at 10:57 a. m. Judge Howard C. Speakman overruled a defense motion that the jury be instructed to return a verdict of "not guilty or acquittal."

ACUTE INDIGESTION IS CAUSE FOR HIS PASSING

BOUGHT MUCH COTTON MILLIONAIRE PLANNED TO BUY PART OF 1932 CROP

William Wrigley Jr., of Chicago, Les Angeles and Phoenix, owner of the Chicago Cubs and chewing gum magnate, died in his winter home here at 2:15 o'clock this morning. He was 70 years old.

Death was due to complications of heart disease and acute indigestion. He had been confined to his bed since Jan. 18 when he suffered a severe attack of indigestion followed by apoplexy and a heart attack.

His condition, Dr. George Goodrich, his personal physician said, had been critical since he first became ill. Announcement of his death, however, came as a shock outside the immediately family as his household had maintained strict secrecy regarding his illness.

Had Improved The shock was increased by the fact R. A. Kirkman, Wrigley's secretary, last night informed newspaper reporters "Mr. Wrigley's condition is much improved, but he has been ordered by his doctors to remain in bed for a rest."

Mrs. Wrigley and their two children, Phillip K. Wrigley and Mrs. James R. Offield, were at the bedside when the end came. Dr. Goodrich said Wrigley had not been in attack at Catalina Island, off the coast of California, about a year ago.

In addition, he said, Wrigley was subject to indigestion. Wrigley owned Catalina Island.

Private funeral services, Kirkman said, probably will be held in Pasadena, Cal., Thursday or Friday, with memorial services at the same time.

Dr. Thomsen Shows Holy Land Scenes To Men Of Church

Fifty men who gathered for the monthly Presbyterian men's meeting last night at the church enjoyed an illustrated lecture on the Holy Land given by Dr. Thomsen, minister of the Central Presbyterian church of Amarillo.

The lecture was at the conclusion of a dinner served by women of the church.

Dr. Thomsen showed colored slides of such places as Jerusalem, Bethlehem, Rachel's tomb, David's well, Nazareth, Mount of Transfiguration, Sea of Galilee, Mount of Olives, Jericho, Garden of Gethsemane, Judaea, the River Jordan, and the Dead sea.

So realistic were the scenes depicted and illustrated that the audience asked Mr. Thomsen to extend his lecture.

SCHOOL DISTRICT TO NEED TAX PAYMENTS THIS SPRING

Delinquency to Be Serious Unless Collections Are Speeded Up Soon.

The Pampa independent school district is almost certain to face a shortage in funds before the end of this term unless tax payments reach a higher average in the next few months.

The situation was discussed at a meeting of the school board held yesterday afternoon. Joe M. Smith, business manager of the school system, reported that out of $277,116 due in taxes, only $20,000 has been collected. During the last half of January, 1931, 66 per cent of the taxes were collected. Before the first half of February of last year, 94 per cent of the taxes had been collected. This is the first year in a decade that at least 90 per cent of the taxes have not been collected before the latter part of January.

Mr. Smith said that when the school system budget was set last year, 10 per cent of the total revenue available was allowed for delinquent taxes. The delinquent tax percentage will be much larger this year.

Supr. R. B. Fisher and members of the school board urged citizens to pay their taxes to keep the school "out of the red." With only about 65 per cent of the taxes paid, the school system will face a shortage of funds unless citizens pay their taxes.

If all taxes are paid, the budget can be met nicely, Mr. Smith said. Salaries of teachers were cut last year to figures slightly lower than those of Class A schools in the state. The budget, based upon the tax money that will be available, forced the board to slash salaries.

"The only way to save the school from financial embarrassment is for citizens to pay their school taxes immediately," he was said.

It was erroneously stated in the NEWS Sunday that Burgher Pirle of Follett had moved here to become manager of the White House Lumber company. Mr. Pirle will be an employee, with R. W. Lane continuing as manager in the new plant being erected south of the Methodist church.

Skelly To Start New Wells Soon

The Skelly Oil company has made two new locations in Gray county. Rises are being erected and drilling will start immediately, according to reports. Both locations are west of Pampa and nearly on the Carson county line. They are on the Schaffer ranch.

The first location to be made was the Skelly No. 25 Schaffer in the southeast corner of the east half of section 189, block 3, I. & G. N. survey.

The Skelly No. 26 Schaffer will be in the southwest corner of the east half of section 189, block 3, I. & G. N. survey.

The new order, it was stated, was issued because of the increasing gravity of the Shanghai situation.

railroad will extend north from Pampa. Do not say that these cannot be secured—that is what pessimists said three years ago when the Fort Worth and Denver Northern project was suggested.

Oil Development: Discovery of oil on the Ledrick ranch nearly 30 miles north of Pampa may bring extensive development in that area in the next few years. If it does, it will cause an immediate demand for a good highway there.

More Theory: Back to economics: Are the economic laws so flexible as many would believe them? Many experts who have studied America's economic history for the last century say there are no such things as "normal conditions."

Millions Idle: Were the millions of men in the world producing wealth and consuming goods, prosperity would be a real thing. Nearly every country measures jobless men in terms of millions. You cannot explain that in terms of the politics of any one country.

This is a skeptical world. Nearly everyone has an explanation for the depression, and the world won't accept even one as the authentic explanation.

THREE KINDS OF LOVE BY KAY CLEAVER STRAHAN

ANN, CECILY and MARY FRANCES FENWICK live with their grandparents. The sisters have been orphaned since childhood. The grandparents—known as "HO-SAIES" and "CLAIR"—have long since lost their teeth and the household is supported by Ann and Cecily's earnings. For this reason, Ann, 28, and PHILIP ECHOYD, young lawyer, are still postponing their marriage though they have been engaged 8 years.

Cecily, 22, is in love with HARRY NICKEL, an engineer, but when he proposes she refuses to name the wedding date because she cannot leave Ann with the financial responsibility of the home.

Mary-Frances, 15, and still in school, strikes up an acquaintance with EARL DEARMOUNT, stock company actor. She meets him secretly on several occasions. Mary-Frances has led him to believe she is 18 years old. He tries to persuade her to become his partner in a vaudeville act.

Phil takes Ann to dinner and a girl she has never seen before sends him a note which he burns. Phil's explanation is vague and Ann decides to go home. On the way through the city streets she and Phil stop to investigate.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXVII ANN did not need to listen; so she breathed a smallish, confused prayer to the gods of garage men that this particular knock in Phil's automobile might emanate from some source, any source, other than clogged piston rods. Phil's responses to that special species of knock were invariable. He began by diagnosing the disease as fatal, since one mechanic named Jake Lucca had led town, and went frantically on from there.

His procedure was to drive the car for a few hundred yards and stop it, and leap out, and open the hood, and peer despairingly into the insides of the thing, and with an "o" of suppressing much prophecy that this was the end. Usually, since there was nothing else to be done, he would get into the car again, and start it with difficulty, and go for a few hundred yards more before he leaped out and lifted the hood, and peered, and so on.

Cars, Ann had learned, suffering from this maudlin, hysterical, hysterical things; they will knock like a woodpecker and then, once in a while, they will stop and refuse to go another step until, after a short rest, they will pick up with a spurt and stop knocking and pretend that nothing has ever been the matter with them.

If a garage is in sight they will recover completely—cars with disassembled piston rods dread garages—until the place has been left miles behind. Then, worn out with the extra exertion of simulating strength when there were only weakness and courage, they will break down for a time and refuse to budge. Ann knew her piston rods. But Phil was a proud man, and thrifty, and to drive a seemingly healthy car into a garage, and to subject himself, or his patient, to a charge of neuroticism and four or five dollars, was a performance in which he would take no part. So they always "shook" by the garages and broke down in some lonely spot on the highway. And then Phil would leap out, talking about Jake Lucca, and open the hood and peer...

CONVERSATION during calamity is heartless and footless, crippled and offensive, so Ann had long since ceased attempting it. They rode in silence, except for the knock. Phil had his head cocked to one side so that never a vibration of sound should escape him, and Ann had ever so much time to think about the girl who wrote notes that needed to be burned at once, and Phil's night work of late, and the hard, bright antagonism in the girl's eyes.

They had passed a garage in a small town, five miles back, so a relapse was due, and it came, scheduled precisely, on a deserted stretch of road. Phil leaped out; this made the ninth or tenth time within the hour. Ann, too, got out of the car—she usually did so: it seemed more helpful.

Phil lifted the hood and looked at the engine. Ann stood and watched the lights of an oncoming automobile growing larger and larger. She found no encouragement in the fact of its approach. Concerning Phil's conventions concerning piston rods was a refusal to ask for aid from other motorists. Jake Lucca alone, in a world full of men, could repair piston rods, and Jake was leagues upon leagues away.

The lights grew larger still, and dangerous seeming, and Ann stepped out of the glare just as the car—the sportiest sort of sports model—slowed and stopped, and a girl's voice called, "Hey, hey, Phil! Some more trouble!"

Phil had started the engine and had his ear to its breast so that he could hear the knocks. Ann receded farther into the shadows.

Letty stepped from the car, and crossed to Phil, and said, her childish voice raised high above the groans of the engine, "What is it, old dear? Piston rods again?"

Phil lifted his head, but he did not come back to a complete consciousness of the outside world—a headless, knockless world where piston rods were of secondary importance. A voice that he knew had greeted him, and he returned the greeting abstractedly.

"Hello, Letty," he said to Miss King, whose first name he was unsure of, could not really remember.

If one small oct sinks out of a bag, wisdom may attempt to capture. If dozens of spry black cats, loosed possibly on purpose and all at once, plunge forth to trip and skip and caracole into the night, confounding wisdom, courting and frolicking with folly, nothing much can be done about it. Letty's next remark, addressed to Ann in the shadows and made with one hand on Phil's arm, was, "Doesn't the poor darling have the foulest times with his old piston rods?"

Ann came forth and was introduced as Miss Fenwick to Miss King, and Miss King said politely, "Phil's told me a lot about you."

Miss King's escort came along. His name was Mr. Smith—a nice easy name to remember, and he was glad to know everyone, or so he said. He disclaimed all knowledge of things mechanical, but offered to give Phil a tow, if Phil had a rope. Phil had no rope.

Letty said to Phil, "Say, listen, sweetest darling," and Ann retreated again to the shadows, so she might have been out of earshot; but Kenneth Smith was right there until he walked back to the sporty sports model and climbed into it.

Phil said, "Never mind that, now, Letty," and she said, "Yes, but I want to tell you—"

Phil said, "Don't get on. Stay here." And Ann kept right on going, and Letty kept hold of Phil's arm.

Kenneth said to Ann, "Some crush over this," as if he were in pain, and Ann said brightly, "Yes, it does seem—"

Kenneth sighed; Ann did not. Kenneth offered, "She makes me sick, if I do say it. She used to be a swell woman, but since she's gone pash on that sheik she's one wet smack right. Can't see a heavy date; can't see but a couple dances after dinner; can't see a damn thing but sheiky and trailing him around. I'm fed. I'm bloated. I'm through. I'm not doing bloodhound-ing for a living. Not yet."

Ann said sweetly and with sympathy that she did not blame him in the least.

Kenneth opened the car door. "Won't you get in and sit down and wait?"

"Thank you," Ann accepted. "I'll get in and sit down," she sank into the wide depth of the seat, "but why wait?"

Kenneth said, after a moment, "I get you. I'd go in a hurry if my damn car wasn't busted down." "It isn't," said Ann. "It's his damn" (from Ann!) "stubbornness. The car would run well enough to get home if he'd run it instead of listening to it and looking at it. He'll have to, sooner or later. He has a knock in his engine—that's all. They will get home in good order, in time."

"Sure of it?" "Positive. Listen to his engine. It will run."

"I'm on!" said Kenneth, and reached with a gesture of violence for the clutch, and he and Ann were off.

For a short time Ann gave herself over completely to the soothing, heart-easing luxury afforded by the absence of piston rods; but presently, when Kenneth had reiterated and told the world for the third time that he was through with, or on of, Letty King for life, she felt sorry for him and said that she hoped she hadn't made trouble for him, and that he was not going to be unhappy.

"Any time!" He said it twice, and added that Letty King gave him a pain in the neck, and invited Ann to call him Ken, or Kenny, or anything she liked but Mr. Smith. He went on to say that he was unaccustomed to taking girls out for an evening and having them go so-eyed over other men, writing notes and sending them by waiters, and that he had no intentions of accustoming himself to such activities from his girl friends. They could stand him up once, just once; after that he'd show them whether or not he was dizzy.

Ann repeated that she did not blame him.

Unexpectedly Kenneth proffered the suggestion that they park in a road they would reach in a minute, and take a turn or two at necking.

Ann declined pleasantly, offering by way of apology eccentricity of habit. She had never gone in for that sort of thing.

"One big evening!" Kenneth remarked.

Ann again was sorry. "No, I didn't mean that," said Kenneth. "I don't go in much for necking myself. Oh, well—of course, I go in for it; but I don't get any kick out of it. Never have. Most girls do, though. That's all most girls care about. I just kind of thought it was a shame for you to have your evening wrecked. What a girl like you, so pretty and—and all, can see in a wet smack like that boy friend of Letty's, I don't know, if I do say it."

"I don't either," said Ann. "He's a cold dish if ever there was one."

"I rather think so, too," said Ann. "Letty gave me a bum steer then, as usual," he said. "She told me that you were engaged to him, and that he was trying to get out of it and couldn't. I thought she was lying all along, and after I saw you tonight I was certain she was. I'll tell the world you aren't hard to take, after Letty King. Yes, I was certain she was."

Ann was not the one to dispute with a certainty. "What a grand car you have," she said. "She goes," he said carelessly. "If she won't, I have another that will. Same with my speed boats. Got a couple. One to run and one to keep in reserve in case of accidents or anything."

"How wonderful," said Ann, "always to have something in reserve in case of accidents."

SPRING HATS ARE 'DOWN ON SIDE AND UP IN BACK'

SPRING is just around the corner—at least milinery styles say so. And here is what the smart spring hat will be like, according to Paris; first, it will be flowery—that is decked out in flowers, streamers and other novelties; next it will be light and small, and last it will be worn "down on the side, and up in the back."

By ADELAIDE KERR

PARIS, Jan. 26. (P)—Flowers, feathers and streamers deck the new spring hats already shown.

Foxties perched on the back, front and sides of the chapeaux promise one of the most flowery springtime modes the style world has seen in years. Quills, made of both paper and feathers, and streamers of velvet and silk add novelty to the varied style parade.

"Down on the side, and up in the back," is the slogan which governs the wearing of the new spring chapeaux.

The tilt over one eye has given way to the tilt to the right, while the line at the back is almost invariably turned up or given an upward effect by means of a feather or flower trim.

The new straws for dressy wear are as light as paper. Mother-of-pearl straws and the models made of the new fashionable transparent material are designed with flat crowns and narrow brims turned down on the front side and up in the back.

They are trimmed with narrow velvet crown bands strung with mother-of-pearl buttons—or with one tinted carnation perched on the brim.

The crocheted hat is another colorful part of the dressy hat picture. It is woven to pull down on the right-front side and turn up in the back, where it is trimmed with a mass of blooms of catching or contrasting color.

For street wear the "down on the side, and up in the back" design is almost universal. Milan, pilots and coarsely woven lacquered straws are often trimmed with quills perched at unexpected rakish angles.

Black with jade green trims, dark blue with navy or light blue, and green with white or tangerine are among the outstanding combinations.

"Our Night Out" Club May Cause Divorce Granting

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., Jan. 26. (P)—A young wife's refusal to tell where she went after attending pajama parties of a married women's "Our Night Out" club was the grounds today for the expected granting of a divorce to her husband.

Mrs. Treva Hostetter, 21, a vivacious brunette, denied, however, the accusation of her husband, Willard, 23, that she had slipped away from three club meetings to go automobile riding with the Rev. W. H. Sanders, 35.

The club was formed of nine young married women in the little village of Midvale, O., on the theory that wives sometimes are entitled to a little fun all by themselves with no husbands to bother. They played bridge, some of them smoked cigarettes and sometimes they assembled in pajamas.

BUILDERS of PAMPA

I. A. FREEMAN

The progress and development of any city is the result of the energy and effort of the business men and firms who make it up. The businesses listed on this page are permanent institutions and have contributed much to the upbuilding of Pampa.

This page will appear in the News one day each week and will contain something new and interesting each time. A study of its stories will give a new knowledge of the reasons for the individual successes. Help these merchants in their program.

GORDON STORE is Home of Values

Quality Merchandise is Offered at Popular Prices

Gordon Store was opened in Pampa in 1926 and has served the public well since that time. It has established itself as Pampa's largest independent popular price store, catering to the masses as well as the classes, with popular lines of merchandise for men, women and children.

Gordon Store has built a reputation for honesty, integrity and fair dealing with the thousands of people who make it a practice to always see what is new in the store; and there is always something new for the large patronage of the satisfied customers who keep the stocks moving, always giving the people of Pampa the market's latest in merchandise in both style and price.

In January, 1931, I. A. Freeman and R. A. Denebeim bought the entire interest, name and good will of Gordon Store and everything pertaining thereto. Since that time they have maintained the high standard of the store, emphasizing fair dealing for all alike.

Mr. Denebeim came to Pampa two years ago from Kansas City where he was in business. He has been with the store here since coming to Pampa. He has made many acquaintances here and is well liked for his genial and courteous way of doing business.

The above view shows the interior of Gordon Store, with the attractive display of merchandise, making shopping easy. Items are displayed where they may be easily examined by customers.

R. A. DENEBEIM

Mr. Freeman came to Pampa in August, 1930, from Chicago with a wide range of experience in merchandising. He was in business for himself several years and just prior to coming to Pampa was with a large chain organization as district manager, having direct charge of 22 stores in seven states. This experience fits him to select the right kind of merchandise and at the right prices for friends of Gordon Store.

The store, at all times, makes every effort to please its customers. Careful selection is made of the latest and most up-to-date apparel, never forgetting that customers and friends of the store come first in everything. Special attention is given to quality at low prices.

Ladies apparel is carefully selected from the eastern and California markets with every effort made to be first with the newest styles for women.

Well known, nationally advertised lines are handled, such as Allen A. Hosiery and Underwear, B. V. D., Manhattan Shirts and Underwear, Nunn-Bush Shoes, Tom Sawyer Togs for boys and kiddies, Elder Shirts for men and boys, and the well known Union-made Burlington Overalls and Pants for men and boys.

Of interest to the ladies of Pampa and the surrounding territory is the fact that the store is clearing out its entire stock of winter coats for women at half price.

The January Clearance Sale is in full swing. Hundreds of people have taken advantage of the opportunity to save. The sale closes Saturday, January 30.

PANHANDLE TEAM PASSES WAY TO WIN OVER HARVESTERS

PAUL VAUGHAN AND FELTS IN FINE SHOOTING

LOCAL BOYS TRAINING FOR LONG ROAD SCHEDULE

A little fellow by the name of Paul Vaughn looped three field goals within five minutes to give the Panhandle Panthers a 23 to 20 win over the Pampa Harvesters at the local gymnasium last night. Felts, center, broke through for two trip shots late in the game to cinch the score.

In defeating the Pampa quintet, the Panthers showed something that the Harvesters need—a passing attack. The little fellow from the Guernsey center took the ball thru the big Harvester team, passing brilliantly. Their passes were seldom more than three or four feet long and they were accurate. The long Harvester passes were intercepted repeatedly, the Panthers breaking through for numerous shots.

Both teams had tough luck with their shots but it was Enloe who was fanned last night. The Pampa flash rimmed the basket five straight shots and every one dropped out. Woodward also had tough luck. Twice the two boys broke through with a clear field ahead of them and shot without hindrance but both times the ball rimmed the ring and fell out.

Wayne Kelly made his one long shot to end the half 11 to 11. Fullingim played a hard game at guard. He covered F. Vaughn and held him to three points. Marbaugh had a couple of nice shots. The Harvesters were without the services of Captain Dinty Moore, who was out of the city and Jess Patton, who has been ill for the last week.

Panhandle fielded a team of brothers in the absence of Weaver and Stone, two star players who are ill with influenza. The Vaughn brothers went in at forward positions and the Dunaway brothers at guard. Felts held down the center job despite the fact he was just a little fellow. The Panhandle guards were strong and harassed the Harvesters every shot.

P. Vaughn was high scorer of the game. He made 10 points, eight of them almost impossible shots. Enloe and Felts tied for second honors with seven points each. Marbaugh made six while Woodward and F. Vaughn were looping five each.

Will Take Trip
The Harvesters will leave here tomorrow morning for Plainview, where they play Wednesday and Thursday nights. They will play at Lubbock Friday and Saturday.

The Harvester B squad under Coach Arvus M. Fox defeated the Panther B team 19 to 11 in the opening game. Ralph Poe, forward, was high point man of the game with nine points. Kelley looped three field goals to take second place in the scoring. Rogers was high scorer from Panhandle with four points.

The game opened with Panhandle scoring four points in the first two minutes of play. The Harvesters soon overcame the lead and went to the front. They were never headed during the rest of the game. Sullins and Schmidt guarded well. Dunaway played center for the B team, then took the floor at guard for the Panthers. It was a fast game from the first whistle.

BAYLOR HOLDS WEEK'S LEAD

Impressive Victory Over Owls Is Only Game of Week; Schedule Halted.

HOUSTON, Jan. 26. (AP)—The Baylor Bears were assured of the basketball leadership of the southwest conference for another week as a result of their impressive victory last night over the Rice Owls, 41 to 21.

Captain Raymond Strickland, Bruin center, scored eight field goals and four free throws. The big fellow also looked good on the defense. Coach Wiley's players missed only two of 13 charity tosses.

The Owls played almost in a par with the invaders during the first half, which ended 15 to 11. However, the pace was too fast for them. It was the only conference game of the week. Until next week the Cagers will have their hands full with the mid-year examinations in their studies.

Gangsters' Foe in Chicago Race

CHICAGO, Jan. 26. (AP)—A one-time teamster who came to Chicago from Tennessee 30 years ago was looking for a fight today, naming suppression of gunmen, bombers, kidnapers and racketeers in general as his objective.

The self-styled "nemesis of gangsters"—Municipal Judge John H. Lyle, who studied law during his teamster days, was the man. He made his declaration that he was out for a fight in formally announcing his candidacy for the republican nomination for state's attorney of Cook county.

"When the well-known hoodlums and gangsters who have headed the murderous gangster organizations of Chicago are arrested during my administration, they will at least have their hair mussed—if they are brought in alive," Judge Lyle said.

Mobeetie Team Beats Railroaders

MOBEETIE, Jan. 25. (Special)—The fast San Francisco basketball team from Amarillo met defeat here Saturday at the hands of the Mobeetie Independents. In a game played in Amarillo a few weeks ago the railroaders ran away with the Mobeetie boys. The score Saturday night was 38 and 37. The game was an exciting one from start to finish.

The Mobeetie Independents are sponsoring a tournament here Friday and Saturday, and several of the fast independent aggregations of the Panhandle have signed up for the classic. The games will be played in Mobeetie's school gymnasium.

Amateurs Complete Qualifying Today

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 26. (AP)—Amateurs in the annual Texas open golf tournament were forced to complete their qualifying play today. Johnny Dawson of Chicago, Gus Moreland and Johnny Avon of Dallas, and Bernard Schreiber, Texas Aggie star, were among the more celebrated players who waited until the final day to shoot their 18 holes. Nearly 100 professionals were on their way to San Antonio from Phoenix, Ariz. Among them was Ralph Guldahl, winner of the first money in the Phoenix open, concluded Sunday. Gene Sarazen, Harry Cooper, Ray Mangrum and Craig Wood were in the golf army.

There will be nothing but rest and practice tomorrow, with the pro-amateur best ball event Thursday, and medal play the following three days.

Otto Reisel At Top Of Billiards

CHICAGO, Jan. 23. (AP)—The crazy quilt of standings in the world's three cushion billiard tournament showed another new patch today as Otto Reisel of Philadelphia commanded the field.

He rose to the top yesterday partly through his own efforts and mostly through the brilliant victory of Jay Zozeman, the young Californian, over the hitherto unbeaten Arie Kieckhefer of Chicago.

In the shuffle Kieckhefer dropped into a tie for second place with Arthur Thurnblad of Chicago, the defending champion, with three games won and one defeat. Reisel had beaten Allen Hall, one of the early favorites, 50 to 46 in 50 innings.

Aggie Student Is Wounded By Pistol Kept In His Room

COLLEGE STATION, Jan. 26. (AP)—Glenn G. Commons, 19, of Mercedes, junior at Texas A. and M., was in a serious condition with a bullet wound in the head.

After regaining consciousness, Commons said he was examining a 22-caliber pistol in his room yesterday when it was discharged accidentally. An X-ray examination revealed a small object about the size of a 22-caliber bullet at the base of the youth's brain.

Physicians were considering the advisability of attempting to remove the shot.

A college rule forbids students from keeping private firearms in their rooms.

Ernie Nevers To Quit Grid Game

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 26. (AP)—Ernie Nevers, former Stanford university football described by Coach Glenn Warner as "the greatest player I ever coached or saw," is definitely out of the playing end of football, having announced his intention to quit the game while "still in one piece."

Nevers had been a professional since 1926. He played his final game at Kezar stadium here Sunday and carried out of it a broken wrist incurred in the last play.

Nevers' plans are indefinite, but he has ambitions to become a coach. He will confer with University of Nevada officials in the near future. He said, however, he would prefer to be an assistant coach at Stanford.

CRUSHED BY TRUCK

PECOS, Jan. 26. (AP)—Joe Walker, 30, of Whitesboro was running along a highway 60 miles west of here to keep warm when he stumbled over a rock. As he fell, a truck owned by a road contracting concern for which he worked crashed down on him. He was badly crushed and died in a Pecos hospital. The body was sent to Whitesboro.

County Agent Ralph Thomas made a trip to Alarreed today.

GOLF WINNERS NUMEROUS IN LATE EVENTS

SEVEN CHAMPIONS ARE CROWNED IN LAST 7 TOURNEYS

CHICAGO, Jan. 26. (AP)—America's professional golfing brigade is off to a wide open race in the struggle for gold and fame.

Since the start of the big money tournaments in the far west and south last month, seven of the most important events have returned no less than seven different winners by such commanding scores that the final rounds were robbed of much of their usual thrills.

There have been no resemblances of the famous play-offs or close finishes of other years when no one knew for sure who the winner was until almost the last man in the field posted his final round.

The one-man shows of winter golf started in the finals of the $7,500 San Francisco match play open championship when Willy Cox of New York galloped in with the title by crushing George Von Elm of Los Angeles by the one-sided margin of 6 and 5. The difference was slightly wider than that turned in by Leo Diegel of Agua Caliente, Mexico in '30 when he trounced Al Espinosa of Chicago 6 and 5.

Harry Cooper of Chicago staged the next one-man show of golf in the Pasadena open. With all entries using the newer and heavier ball for the first time in tournament play, Cooper rushed in with a 281 for first money, with seven shots to spare over Cox, the runner-up.

The largest margin of victory so far was recorded by Tommy Armour, the durable Scot from Detroit, who with a record-smashing 285 captured the $2,500 Miami open. His score was nine shots ahead of the runner-up.

MacDonald Smith breezed in with the rich Los Angeles open Jan. 11 with a four stroke margin. The closest approach to a traffic jam around first place came in the biggest money event of the year—the $15,000 Agua Caliente open but in the end Fred Morrison of Culver City, Calif., pocketed the $5,000 first prize by a two-stroke lead over Gene Sarazen of New York, 284 to 286. Ralph Guldahl had a healthy five stroke lead in his victory over a smart field in the Arizona open, which closed Sunday.

Morrison in Lead
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 26. (AP)—To Fred Morrison, strapping professional from Culver City, Calif., goes the privilege this season of taking the top place of the money golfers at the end of the far western gold trail.

Big, affable Fred, who won virtually no money in other years, amassed $5,746.66 playing five of the six tournaments with aggregate cash prizes of $39,000. First place in the Agua Caliente $15,000 open gave him $5,000.

Morrison took the golden throne vacated by George Von Elm of Los Angeles, who won $7,447 of the $51,200 prize money posted last season. Von Elm gathered in only $1,610 this season.

Gene Sarazen of New York, one of the greatest money winners of all time and leader at the end of the 1929 western season with $10,000, finished second to Morrison, collecting $2,850.

GAR WOOD IS NEAR RECORD

Speedboat Is Expected to Set New Mark When Engine Is Tuned.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 26. (AP)—A one-way trip to 111.14 miles an hour placed the world speedboat record almost within the reach of Gar Wood yesterday but motor trouble and broken timing equipment forced him to halt his trials until today.

The Detroit veteran pushed his Miss America IX above the present record of 110.223 miles an hour on a northward run over the Indian creek course here but motor trouble forced him down to 63 miles an hour on the southward trip and spoiled the necessary average.

The average speed of north and southbound runs over the measured nautical mile course is necessary in computing the record, rules of the yatchmen's association of America provide. The runs must be made within an hour so Wood's top speed of yesterday cannot be counted today.

Wood said he was confident the Miss America IX would better the world record made last July at Cape Garda, Italy, by Kaye Don, the British racer.

Battalino May Battle Petrolle

NEW YORK, Jan. 26. (AP)—Not satisfied with jumping up one division, Bat Battalino soon expects to be playing around with welterweights and more specifically with Billy Petrolle.

Madison Square Garden virtually has closed negotiations for a 15-round match between Petrolle and Battalino, at 140 pounds, on Feb. 26 or March 11.

Battalino was stripped of his featherweight title as far as the New York State Athletic commission is concerned when he came in at 135 3-4 pounds for a scheduled championship match with Lew Feldman here recently.

Claude Vance has been confined to his home by illness for the last few days.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. "Bill" Jackson and son W. B. Jr., left yesterday for their home in Hollywood, Cal., after spending a month visiting relatives and friends here.

41 MILES without Water...

Conoco Germ Processed Oil Saves Motor

When Walter H. Freed reached Pueblo, Colorado, after a 41-mile drive from Colorado Springs, his car was so hot it had to be put into gear before it would stop!

He had plenty of Conoco Germ Processed Oil in the car. No steam was coming from the radiator, so he did not suspect the cooling system.

But a garage man found not a drop of water in the radiator! The 41 miles had been driven without water in the radiator—only the oil to keep the motor from burning up.

Conoco Germ Processed Oil withstood this ordeal! Inspection of the motor revealed no damage done.

Convincing evidence of Germ Processed Oil's stability, of its sure protection under the most trying conditions! Proof that Conoco Germ Processed Oil offers you the safest lubrication for your car.

The oil that protects motors through such ordeals will lubricate your car better in every-day driving. For peace of mind, for economy and long motor life, change now to Conoco Germ Processed Oil at the sign of the Conoco Red Triangle.

We neither encourage "dry radiator" experiments nor guarantee success under all conditions. But uncollected letters from motorists, now in our files, testify to this and hundreds of other unusual tests of Conoco Germ Processed Oil—runs of ten to over fifty miles with the crankcase empty.

HOBO HOTEL REGISTER READS MUCH LIKE "HALL OF FAME"

The register of the city hall's "hobo hotel" reads like the roster in the hall of fame, or in Westminster abbey.

Every night, city police permit from one to a dozen to sleep in the jail. "Better have them in jail than walking the alleys," Chief J. I. Downs said.

An average of seven or eight have been sleeping in the jail nightly since last December. Few give their correct names, and those who don't are chided by police.

Before they are admitted to sleeping quarters in the jail, the visitors are required to sign the register—same as in any hotel. And here's some of the names on the register:

"Paul Bunyan," "Sir Herbert Hoover," "Lord Hoover," "Andy Mellon," "Abraham Lincoln," "William Shakespeare," "Greta Garbo," "Gary Cooper," "Hoot Gibson," "Jesse James," etc.

Total amount of taxes to be collected is $101,997 or about $500 less than last year. The total property valuation in the city is larger, but the rate is considerably lower.
