

Chairman C. V. Terrell Promises That Gas Industry to Be Protected CHINESE TO REFUSE TO KNUCKLE

Horses, Still.

Mobeetic, birthplace of Panhandle civilization, has many modern facilities, but strangely enough has never departed from the horse age. Yessir, it's a fact and we can prove it by H. E. Castleberry, editor of THE MONITOR.

Hitching Racks.

H. E. divulged that the Business Men's club has just arranged to build hitching racks for the convenience of farmers coming into town. There has been a noticeable increase lately in the number of horse-drawn vehicles on Mobeetic streets. It will be an up-to-date hitching arrangement, with steel cable placed on rigid posts.

Reproductive.

We are not out of the horse age. In thickly settled communities, Old Dobbin still has a necessary place in the economic scheme of things. Horses would seem out of place on Pampa's paved streets, yet we would not be surprised to see a revival of horse transportation in the next decade as farming becomes more intensive. Old Dobbin is not a sign of backwardness, for though he is a perpetual hay-burner, his depreciation is very slow, and if he is a she, the replacement cost is sometimes nil.

The Stable Passes.

But the lamented livery stable is perhaps gone forever. And we are among those who saw it pass with some regret. It had a human environment as the husky, sweating, whooping freighters whipped their strings of mules into its open circle. True, it was a loafer's paradise, but it had "color" and the smell of warm leather harness against the sides of panting horse flesh.

Wagon Trains.

Well we remember the dusty wagon trains which used to move slowly down the Canadian river bottoms in Hemphill county long in 1908-15. You could see the dust long before the first wagon came into view. It took many mules to pull a long wagon bending down in the middle under its burden of golden wheat. Long, snake-like whips whirled and popped over the head of mules whose hoofs dug deeply into the soft sand and whose backs described arcs under the strain.

Hard Men, Hard Mules.

Tough were the freighters, and, when under the influence of hard liquor, violent in manner and cruel in handling of their animals. But tough, too, were the mules, often hard to "break". Cruel, slashing bits often were used, and these left the mouths of the beasts raw and bleeding.

NEW ORDER IS LIKELY TO BE NEEDED HERE

BUT ITS NATURE HAS NOT YET BEEN INDICATED

QUESTION OF WASTE IS NO LONGER BEING DISPUTED

BY ARCHER FULLINGIM

Before leaving Pampa, Chairman C. V. Terrell of the Texas Railroad commission, who held a hearing on gas waste in the Panhandle this week, assured local citizens that no order which would disrupt the gasoline industry in Gray, Hutchinson, and Wheeler counties would be issued.

That assurance was the most significant result of the meeting as far as the majority of citizens of this community are concerned. Mr. Terrell indicated that safe steps will be taken to solve the problem of the tremendous gas waste in the Panhandle, but that any order issued will not be to the detriment of the casinghead gasoline industry. Conjectures as to the kind of order the commission will enter were almost as many as the theories for solution of the problem that were submitted yesterday.

Waste Is Studied

Stated simply, the purpose of the hearing was to determine whether or not 470,000,000 feet of gas was escaping daily into the air in this field. That was established as a fact. Some practical and many impossible solutions to stop the waste were offered. Opponents of a plan to fix an oil and gas ratio for each well spent most of the time in attempts to discredit findings of J. M. McDonald, deputy oil and gas supervisor and to impugn the motives of the Texas company and national gas pipeline companies operating in the Panhandle. Mr. McDonald's data on 185 wells listed for investigation consisted of well logs, signed and sworn to by the companies owning the wells.

May Modify Plan

Mr. Terrell indicated that a modified form of the oil and gas ratio would be ordered. The Commission's witnesses denied that institution of the ratio plan would result in the "economic ruin" of the Phillips Petroleum company, Don Emery Phillips' company, described, and further denied that 4,500 men in this section would lose their jobs.

It is generally believed that if the federal court does not uphold the common purchase-carrier act as it pertains to gas pipe lines, the commission will grant permits to operate more casinghead gasoline and (See WASTE, page 6.)

"THE CRISIS" WILL BE PRACTICED THIS EVENING

Rehearsals for "The Crisis," which will be presented by the Pampa Little Theater next Tuesday evening, will be held this evening and tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock at the Methodist church. The time was changed from 7:30.

All four acts will be rehearsed two evenings.

LITTLE THEATER'S FOUR-ACT PLAY, "THE CRISIS" WILL BE ILLUSTRATIVE OF WAR PERIOD

"The Crisis," four-act play which will be presented by the Little Theater at the city auditorium next Tuesday night, portrays attitudes, opinions, and actions of the most critical period in American history—from 1860 to 1864. In fact "The Crisis" is synonymous with the Civil War as far as it is concerned. It has been a stage classic over a quarter of a century.

A melodrama, it has love, political, patriotic, and sectional interests. The old-time Southerner would not be offended in seeing "The Crisis," and neither would be the most bitter abolitionist of the '60s because in Colonel Carvel, southern slave-holding gentleman, played by W. O. Workman, and in Judge Whipple, Yankee lawyer, both attitudes are faithfully brought out.

Were it not for the dominating love interest in the play, the drama would be a pure historical play—but then it would not be any play at all. The story in "The Crisis" just happened to take place during the Civil War.

"WILDEST WILDCAT" WILL BE SPURRED IN TODAY

Humble Will Drill Deep Oil Test on J A Ranch in Briscoe County

Spurding in on one of the Panhandle's three "wildest wildcats" was scheduled to take place today. The latest wildcat is being drilled by the Humble Oil & Refining company and is on the J. A. ranch in Briscoe county. The test is about three miles from where Tule creek empties into the Palo Duro canyon.

A rotary will be used and the test will be a deep one, officials say. It was necessary to build a road from Tulla to the location, a distance of 38 miles in a northeasterly direction. The road was started Jan. 27 and has already been completed. A large block of leases have been secured.

The other Panhandle wildcats are in Roberts and Farmer counties, respectively. The Magnolia Petroleum company is drilling in Farmer county. The Chicken Creek Oil company is drilling a well in the center of Roberts county.

The Magnolia test is drilling at 3,825 feet. Sealevel is 4,882 feet. Lime formation is not expected here. 3,825 feet. Sea level is 4,882 feet. Is 42 miles southwest of Hereford and 27 miles east of Farwell.

The Chicken Creek test is drilling about 3,500 feet.

Feeding of Dairy Cattle Discussed

Economical feeding of dairy cattle in relation to cheap milk production was discussed by J. L. Lester, vocational agricultural teacher at the high school, Tuesday night at a meeting of farmers and boys in the vocational department. Dr. T. J. Worrell, of the city health department, discussed control and prevention of tuberculosis among dairy cattle and other livestock.

Mr. Lester emphasized the necessity of keeping the feed cost down when milk is selling at such low price. Economic and careful feeding is the only way to produce a margin for the dairyman farmer, he declared.

Dr. Worrell told the men that in 1934 all cattle going into stockyards will have to be given the tuberculin test for tuberculosis, provided such cattle are not from the accredited area. Information regarding the work is being sought, cattle from an accredited area bring 10 per cent more money on the market. Dr. Worrell said.

Those attending were Bill Haner, Reg. Brown, Lavern Wooten, H. B. Taylor, W. F. Minatree, C. H. Barness, J. C. Morris, Chester Yankee, Dee Love, Buck Mundy, P. B. Yankee, E. G. Frasier, A. A. Neal, Ben Barrett and C. C. Dodd.

Church Buildings Being Completed

Church buildings being erected by the Presbyterian and Episcopal churches are nearing completion. The Presbyterian building is ready for the brick, while the Episcopal church building is ready for the interior fixtures, pulpit, and pews.

The Presbyterians are erecting a Sunday school and educational addition to the rear of the present church building. It will be ready for occupation early next month, according to Tom Clayton, who has charge of construction. The Sunday school has increased its membership to 150 and the extra room is necessary. A kitchen is also being built so that social gatherings may be held.

The Episcopal building will be used for church services and all other gatherings for the present. It is the first church building the Episcopalians have had in Pampa. The Rev. Newton C. Smith is rector.

Massachusetts Too Far, So Young Woman Ends All at Amarillo

AMARILLO, Feb. 18 (AP)—Despondent because she could not obtain enough money to return to her Massachusetts home, Marian Winsor, 22, early today walked into her room at a local hotel and sent a bullet through her brain.

A coroner's verdict was suicide. A note addressed to her mother, Mrs. M. W. Winsor, East Saugus

Mad Trapper Is Shot to Death As Strength Fails

The mad trapper of Rat river died yesterday with a rifle stock tucked against his fur-jacketed shoulder and with a blue-cold finger on the trigger which had sent death to one moutain and dangerous wounds to another.

As he fell in snow he sent two bullets toward his attackers, dropping Staff Sergeant E. P. Hersey.

Yesterday the trail of the trapper, plain as print in fresh fallen snow, zig-zagged. It meant he was through, his strength, great though it was, was exhausted.

Staff Sergeant Hersey, forging ahead of the posse, came upon him first. Hersey fumbled to get his own weapon from the sled to which it was strapped. Too late. Two bullets tore into his body.

The full force of policemen, Indians and trappers came forward their guns speaking in unison. A single volley dropped the mad trapper of Rat river in the snow.

Mass. told of the contemplated suicide after the girl could not secure train fare for a trip home. Although her note indicated she was married, the girl apparently had been using her maiden name. She had been here a month in quest of work.

The boy died Sunday of intentional influenza. Survivors included his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Lary, Wilcox camp; Mrs. Rilla Moore, Gladewater; Mrs. Ruby Vanhouten, Longview; Mrs. Sina Duckett, Pampa; Albert Earl, Ruth, Tommy Jean, Dixie Billie Wynne, all of Pampa, and Mrs. Hazel Hammon, LeFors. ULTIMATUM IS GIVEN BEFORE BATTLE OPENS

JAPANESE IN DEMAND THAT FORTS BE JUNKED

STRONG THREAT IS GIVEN

MANCHURIAN STATE IS ANNOUNCED AT MUKDEN

BY MORRIS J. HARRIS SHANGHAI, Feb. 19. (PRIDAY)—Japan's ultimatum, repeating a series of demands which China regards as intolerable, was in the hands of the government at Loyang today but there was every indication the Chinese had no intention of knocking down. Last night General Kenkiichi Uyeda handed his demands to General Tsai Ting-Kai and Mayor Wu Teh-Chen. They stipulated that the Chinese army put an end to its hostilities and withdraw 12-12 miles from Shanghai; that the forts at Woosung and Poshan be dismantled; that the activities of Chinese plainclothes men be stopped, and that the Chinese retreat be supervised by Japanese observers.

It was polite enough, but the whip cracked in the last paragraph which read "unless the foregoing articles are complied with, Japanese troops will be compelled to take free action, in which case the Chinese soldiers must be held responsible for all the consequences resulting therefrom."

The mayor said he had sent a copy of the document to Loyang, temporary seat of the national government.

Lo Wen-Kan, the foreign minister, who was in Shanghai, said he was certain the demands would be rejected.

"I am ready to fight if the government orders me to," said General Tsai, the Chinese commander.

A group of Chinese leaders, after conferences with Japanese advisers, announced at Mukden they had proclaimed the independent state of Manchuria and would sever relations with China. The Japanese government announced it would not recognize the new Manchuria until its independence was actually established.

COSTS OF SELLING GOODS... The bureau of business research of the Harvard Business School in its 1931 report states that the percentage of expense for the operation of department stores has increased.

The Harvard report shows that there was an increase of 2 per cent in the department stores. That the increase should take place is no surprise.

The mercantile world has the extra expense of transportation and merchandising of the 16 2-3 articles, and yet his sales would be no larger in dollars.

In other words the people of Pampa should not expect our merchants to business at a loss. An effort to gain volume should not be made at the expense of a fair mark-up.

THREE KINDS OF LOVE BY KAY CLEAVER STRAHAN

BEGIN HERE TODAY ANN and Cecily Fenwick have for years supported themselves, their younger sister, MARY-FRAN GLENN, and their grandparents, known as "ROSE-LIE" and "GRAND." Because of this financial responsibility, Ann, who is 28, is unable to marry PHIL ECKROYD, to whom she has been engaged for eight years.

"What is it, dear? We've been frightened—horribly. Well, that's over with. Just now we are both sort of unmanly with disappointment. But that will pass, too; and be over with."

"Darling—you're getting into a habit. Can't you say, 'Yes, once or twice, for a change?'"

"No, I wasn't. But if we were engaged, I needn't be uncertain. Let's put romancing aside and be practically and conventionally engaged, for a short time at least, and—"

"And then what?" "What do you mean, 'And then what?'"

"After we've been engaged for a short time, properly and conventionally, then what shall we do? We won't be able to be properly and conventionally married, you know."

"No," said Cecily. "This great cold, draughtiness for Barry in the winter time, no sun—no fresh air unless one froze while getting it. He was not strong, though he thought that he was. The work, the thousand petty annoyances, and Barry's uncertain—well, temperamental ways. The financial burden. Suppose she lost her job? Dump the whole thing on Barry to keep up?"

"If you won't go with me, dear; if you persist in objecting to anything I may propose, it does get hopeless, doesn't it? I won't wait, year in and out. I can't. But there is nothing I won't do, aside from waiting, in order to marry you. I'll pocket my pride; come here and live; allow you to keep on working—"

"People," said Cecily, and went to stand alone near the fireplace, "can't be married feeling that way. You never like anything you pay too much for. You—one, I mean, of course, always feels sort of spiteful about it."

"Cecily, if you deliberately misinterpret everything I say—" Grand, looking grimmer than usual, followed by Rosalie, then fluttering about, came into the room. Cecily, who had put a hand on the mantel and was resting her head on it, did not trouble to lift her head; she merely rolled it to one side and looked at them. It was a relief, just the same, when midway of the room and after Grand had said, "Good evening, sir," to Barry, Ann came out from behind Rosalie.

"May I ask," Grand went on, "why you are here at my home, at this hour, with my granddaughter Cecily?" Barry did not do nearly so well as Phil had done. He did not flinch Grand's manner. He blushed. "We came in rather late, Mr. Fenwick. Cecily has suggested that I leave."

Cecily said, "You are only just coming in yourselves. Why shouldn't Barry be here? It is my home, too." Grand, Rosalie, and Ann all began, at the same instant, to say something. Rosalie won. "Of course, dear, it is your home," she said, "and has been for many, many happy years. A nest for our three little girls. But we thought, dear, that perhaps Barry—I may call you 'Barry,' mayn't I?—was hoping to persuade you to build a nest for two—you two—elsewhere?"

It will be the first amendment proposed since the adoption of the charter in November of 1927. The articles proposed to be changed now read as follows:

ELECTION DAY: The regular municipal election of the City of Pampa shall be held on the first Tuesday in April in the year A. D. 1932, and on each said day every two years thereafter.

TERM OF OFFICE: The mayor and each commissioner, except for the first term hereinafter provided, shall serve for a term of two (2) years and until his successor is elected and qualified, unless sooner removed from office as herein provided.

The Purpose

The intent of the change is to keep two experienced commissioners in office at all times, eliminating the possibility of putting the business of the City of Pampa in the hands of men unfamiliar with the routine. In order that one man might retire each election, it would be necessary in April to elect all three commissioners, of whom the mayor is one, this year, but with the amendment provides the mayor elected for 1 year, commissioner No. 1 for two years, and commissioner No. 2 for three years. Next year a new mayor would be chosen, the following year commissioner No. 1 would vacate, and the next year following would leave open the office of commissioner No. 2. Thereafter the rotation would be automatic on a 3-year term basis.

Wish Capable Men

Proponents of the change, who include many of those of the group which by appointment wrote the charter, point out that it has been increasingly difficult to induce men of business experience and ripe for judgment to run for the office of commissioner. This is particularly true, they add, when "tickets" are put out and bitterness develops. The new plan is advocated to enable the people to concentrate on adding to the commission one capable man each year, while eliminating the necessity of "drafting" an entire ticket each two years to make sure the city government is in safe hands.

Opposition to the amendment is expected to concentrate on the length of the proposed terms and certain features of the plan condemned as too inflexible.

Two Killed Halting Negro from Jail Break

Caesar Powell, a negro, after peaceably submitting to arrest for hacking his wife to death with a butcher knife, killed Sheriff Dave C. Humphries of Newton county, pictured left; B. A. Meador, a citizen, center, and was killed himself trying to escape jail at Newton, Texas, last week. This crazed negro first severely beat the jailer, Reedy Hamilton, with an iron pipe to get the keys, and nearly bit off the thumb of L. J. Davis, before R. G. Collins, Newton garage man, shot him four times, killing him. The picture at the right shows arrow pointing to the stair window, just inside which Meador and Humphries were killed.

OF NEW BOOKS

BY WARE TORREY
NEW YORK Theodore Dreiser, novelist, has turned social commentator with a vengeance in his new book, "Tragic America," which belabors almost every evidence of capitalism now existent.

He recently returned from the mine fields in Kentucky, where he observed conditions among the strikers, and after other investigations, offers virtually no encouraging features and pleads dramatically and voluminously for a change.

The author of the somber novel, "The American Tragedy," and other realistic and disturbing pictures of American life grows even more serious in his new book. He does not leave his work with any humor, and all angles of the situation are "real dummies" for withering and drastic assaults. He attacks capital for despoiling labor and the public, vehemently criticizes both public and private charity, the churches, the railroads and numerous evidences of America's individualistic system. While not specifically recommending communism as the way out, he regards a system similar to that in Russia as necessary to the proper and further progress of the nation.

On Making Decisions
A novel solution to wondering about the outcome of different choices in a decision is offered by Theodor Benson in her new book "Which Way?" Miss Benson's heroine, Claudia, receives three invitations for the same weekend.

In three succeeding divisions of the book her future life is described, as affected by the three men in the case, from the viewpoint of a different invitation accepted each time.

Opportunity for comparison between Claudia's development in each of the three courses of living is used by Miss Benson with cleverness, good psychology and indirect satire. "Small Town," by Bradda Field, has more serious intent. In "Small Town" a woman is caught in a vise of environment; her struggles to escape merely involve her more strongly.

ANALYZING WORLD PROBLEMS

Nicholas Murray Butler, joint recipient with Jane Addams of the Nobel peace prize for 1931, presents his views on many of the problems now perplexing the world in "Looking Forward," a volume which collects the addresses he has made in the last year before many distinguished groups. These addresses supplement each other in analyzing the difficulties in which the world now finds itself and in emphasizing the point that international co-operation must be relied upon to reach a solution of these difficulties.

In his introduction to the addresses Dr. Butler reiterates his belief that the world is facing a very real peril, which it must unite to overcome and concludes that "there is no time to be lost, for the fate of the world, which Liberty has so long ruled in proud confidence, is hanging in the balance."

Those who wish to refresh their memories on what has been reported in American newspapers regarding Paul von Hindenburg, president of Germany, will find "Hindenburg, The Man With Three Lives," useful.

It is by T. E. Ybarra, a former Berlin correspondent for the New York Times, and is a fast-moving impressionistic picture of the victor of Tannenberg as pre-war commander in chief and post-war bulwark of the German empire.

How One Woman Lost 10 lbs in a Week

Mrs. Betty Luedcke of Dayton writes: "I am using Kruschen to reduce weight—I lost 10 pounds in one week and cannot say too much to recommend it."

To take off fat easily SAFELY and HARMLESSLY—take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—it is the safe way to lose unsightly fat and one bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle. Get it at Richards Drug Store or any drugstore in America. If this first bottle fails to convince you this is the safest way to lose fat—money back.

But be sure and get Kruschen Saks—imitations are numerous and you must safeguard your health.

SEVENTY-FIVE PERSONS ATTEND FOUNDERS' DAY TEA

SCOTCH plaids or striped silk supplies a lively note in many smart costumes for spring. Clinking necklaces and modernistic bangles, in vogue last year, appear this season in subordinate roles which accent and harmonize with the color of the frock. Here Adrienne Ames of the films uses plaid about the neck for a color accent that enhances the attractiveness of her daytime outfit.

Color Will Dominate Accessories During Coming Months; Scarfs To Replace Necklines in Many Cases

BY DIANA MERWIN (Associated Press Fashion Editor.) PARIS, Feb. 18.—The accessory trinkets women wear this spring will be seen instead of the head.

Last year clinking necklaces and tinkling bracelets were the order of the day. This year color (built around the simplest designs) is the most important note. Modernistic bangles and futuristic angles have all been subjugated to the tint.

Scarfs and fichus of a bright hue designed to accent the neutral tones of the frock will entirely replace necklaces in many smart costumes. A swirl of Scotch plaid or striped silk twisted about the throat is often the sole ornament worn with the dress.

Necklaces and bracelets, when worn at all, are made from extraordinary scraps. A half dozen bright colored chenille threads, bits of gaily painted wood, a circle of celluloid or a twist of kitchen oilcloth are the stuffs of which they are made. They are always chosen to accent and harmonize with the color of the frock.

The sparkling bits of paste made to imitate precious stones are gone except in clips which promise to be worn much on formal day frocks. These are made of brilliant diamonds centered with a big oblong stone imitating a ruby, sapphire or emerald and are worn at some unexpected spot at the neckline.

Bangles likewise reflect the color note. They are generally made of rough pebbly leather or boarded calf in a simple medium pouch design, but their colors run the gamut from brilliant reds, greens and blues to the duller shades of all these tints.

TEACHERS AND PARENTS HAVE LOVELY EVENT

COLORS OF NATIONAL ORGANIZATION FEATURED

Mrs. Phoebe Apperson Hearst and Mrs. Alice McLellan Birney, founders of the national Congress of Parents and Teachers, were paid tribute at a tea given by the Baker Parent-Teacher association yesterday afternoon at the school. Seventy-five persons attended.

Blue and gold, which are the colors of both the national and local organizations, were attractively featured in decorations. There was a gold cake, topped with 35 blue candles, and in the candle lighting ceremony, gold tapers tied with bows of blue tulle were employed. Madeira linen covered the table, which was laid with silver and crystal. A crystal bowl, filled with sweet peas, centered the table.

As guests arrived, they were greeted by Principal J. A. Meek, Mrs. J. W. Crowder, Mrs. W. B. Murphy, and Mrs. Claude Lard. Mrs. Hoyt Allen presided at the registration table.

Mrs. H. G. Myers and Mrs. H. F. Beatty poured tea, and teachers of the school assisted in serving.

A pageant, "Seven Cardinal Principles of Education," was presented under the direction of Mrs. Murphy, and Miss Kathryn Vincent entertained with two vocal selections. A short talk was given by City Supt. R. B. Fisher.

Mrs. J. H. Blythe, past president, read during the candle lighting service, after which a birthday offering was taken.

Rose Vigor Is Secured Thru Plant Budding

Written for The Associated Press (The Pampa Daily News)

The first roses that were budded commercially were budded for growth in areas where nematodes and other root destroying parasites had made the growth of own-root roses no longer possible. They were budded into specie roses whose root systems were highly resistant to the ravages of such parasites.

Soon other benefits were found to arise from the new method of propagation. The methods originally employed naturally abounded in crudities, some of which yet abound to the present moment. But, despite its crudities, it quickly became apparent that almost without exception, plants produced by the budding method were more vigorous than were plants of the same varieties standing on their own roots. The use of the method quickly became worldwide in consequence.

New Vigor Found Through the development of the budding method of propagation, many exquisite varieties have been saved to the rose gardens of the world whose discarding would have therefore been compelled by want of vigor arising from inadequate rootage.

The first budded roses produced commercially were so produced within the memory of many now living. Three decades have passed since the great Permet introduced the blood of the Australian Briar into the garden rose and thereby brought into being the Permetiana race of rose of surpassing brilliancy. Had the development of the budding method of propagation not antedated that highly important hybridization, the great Permet would doubtless have died unremembered and unsung. The Permetiana race would have died aborting; for it as a race is without adequate rootage. It comes into its own only through the budding method of propagation.

In Field Drawing The budding method of propagation is peculiarly adapted to field growing. The production of own-root roses through field growing is attended by small ratios and stupendous losses. When cuttings of variety roses were replaced in the field by cuttings of specie roses for use as understocks, all ratios immediately bounded upward and losses vastly diminished.

The amazing fields of roses that may be seen today in rose producing sections would be practically impossible under any known method of field growing own-root roses. Today in rose parlance, the field, grown rose and the budded rose are synonymous.

New Varieties During the last two decades the rose has known greater and faster development than ever before. New varieties have appeared from the hands of the hybridizers in bewildering number. It is desirable that extremely great varieties among them be made available to the amateur as quickly as is possible without loss of vigor arising from abuse. The years do not return.

In the multiplication of a new variety from a single seedling or sport, the budding method of propagation is so much faster than any other method that through it the variety is given wide dissemination when it would otherwise still be only in the hands of the connoisseurs.

But the method of propagation has been abused as a method of multiplication. It has been abused through the use of budding eyes grown under glass and used in the field with little or no regard for the comparative degrees of maturity of the eyes and the understocks in which they are inserted. It has been abused through the use of budding eyes taken from plants in the trial garden and field that yet suffers from devitalization incidental to importation or to migration of plants. It has been abused through crude uses of force-budding methods of propagation.

GOODNIGHT AN' BORGER ARE FACED BY HARVESTER FIVE

LOCALS HAVE GOOD CHANCE TO BEAT BOTH

CANYON TOURNEY TO OPEN THERE IN AFTERNOON

The Harvester basketball team is in Canyon this afternoon taking part in the district tournament. They are scheduled to play the Goodnight Owls, who produced a surprise and defeated the fast Claude Mustangs.

Should the Harvesters defeat Goodnight, which they are hoped to do, they will meet the winners of the Borger Bulldog-Miami Warrior clash at 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The Bulldogs are expected to defeat the Warriors.

The Harvesters and Bulldogs have not met this season. Scheduled games had to be cancelled because of conflicting tournaments. The Bulldogs are strong again this year, but the green and gold are given a good chance of defeating their old rivals. Captain Flash Enloe will lead the Harvesters against his old team. The Pampa captain starred with the Bulldogs for three years.

Wayne Kelly, star Pampa guard, will make the trip to Canyon. He has been suffering with influenza, but was reported better this morning. His injured leg is also responding to treatment and he should be in good condition. Outside of Captain Enloe's injured ankle, the rest of the team is in tip-top shape.

Borger Bowlers To Play Pampans

Two bowling teams from Borger will invade Pampa tomorrow night to battle Pampa teams. All star teams from each city will battle in the opening event. The S. P. A. team of orger and the Peake & Landry team from Pampa will be the other participants in the evening's entertainment.

The All Stars will line up with Bill Holmes, Hap Baxter, Tom Darby, Joe Kahl and KaKri Cullum. Peake & Landry plan to use Fritchley, Young, Peck, Fischer and Penberg.

The teams split games rolled here last week.

Play Try-Outs to Be Held Tonight

Tryouts for "The High Heart," Pampa high school's entry in the one-act play tournament, will be held this evening, beginning at 7 o'clock in the high school auditorium.

Judges will be Dick Hughs, Mrs. Carson Loftus and Miss Dorothy Pollard. They will select the cast of seven characters from 24 high school boys and girls who are trying out for the various roles. Miss Arless O'Keefe, director, has given equal instruction and assistance to the four casts. Each group will present the play tonight.

"The High Heart" exploits the Civil war love-duty theme in an admiral manner. It concerns the unfortunate complications that ensue when a Union officer gives information to a Confederate spy. The play is a tragedy.

Those in the four casts are as follows:

Miss O'Keefe said that contestants will be permitted to read their speeches but that most of them have already memorized them. The entrants will appear in make-up.

BRUSHING UP SPORTS By LAUFER

THEY ALL LAUGHED WHEN Rube Waddell went to the mound against the Red Sox one day back in 1903. The Sox management had planned to frame Rube by having their big first baseman, "Candy" LaChance, engage Rube in a friendly wrestling match before the game to get him all tuckered out. After an hour of the most strenuous tugging and hauling, the Rube pinned "Candy." And all he did to the Sox that afternoon was to beat them 1 to 0, allowing three hits and striking out 14 batters. The wrestling had warmed him up!

KING LEVINSKY IS TO TRY FOR WIN OVER OLD MAULER

Fish Peddler Has Terrific Wallop Which May Be Hard On Dempsey

CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—(P)—Jack Dempsey's comeback trail leads back to a Chicago ring once more tonight but this time his obstacle isn't the cool, calculating Gene Tunney but the wild swinging ex-fish peddler, King Levinsky. The bout will go four rounds.

Since Dempsey started to blaze another comeback trail, he has smashed his way to victory after victory but hardly against fighting men of the Levinsky variety. Darling, cocksure and the owner of a terrific wallop, Levinsky was rated as the strongest test on the comeback journey. He has beaten Tommy Loughran and Poul Uzcudun, gave Primo Carners a great battle even in defeat and has worked hard for his best against Dempsey, certain victory.

Chicago, always a great show ground for Dempsey, was excited about the battle and a record crowd for an indoor professional boxing match, approximately 22,000 spectators, was expected to watch it. Dempsey already was named the winner at the box office with the privilege of taking 60 per cent of the gross and pay Levinsky $7,500 or take 45 per cent and leave Levinsky 15 per cent.

Those who know Dempsey and the "Kingfish" were almost overwhelmingly in favor of Dempsey tonight.

MONTREAL, Feb. 18.—(P)—With two Olympic champions at the head of the lists, nearly two dozen figure skaters, including nearly all of the world's outstanding stars, moved into the second and final stage of the world's figure skating championships today. The school figures were completed yesterday and the free figures were on today's schedule, to be followed by the long mathematical labor that eventually reveals the winners.

Wearing her rabbit's foot decoration, Sonna Henle, who has held the world's title continuously since 1926, topped the list of women skaters. Karl Schaefer of Vienna, also holder of the world's and Olympic championships, stood out among the nine men skaters from six countries.

GENE VENZKE BECOMES FINE STAR QUICKLY

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—(P)—Gene Venzke, who always wanted to be a runner but never thought he'd be good enough, has become the outstanding member of a quartet of track and field stars who have risen from places of obscurity to become America's leading Olympic hopes.

The other three are George Spitz, New York university's remarkable high jumper; Leo Sexton, shotput ace of the New York Athletic Club, and Emmett Toppino, sprinter from Loyola university of New Orleans.

Venzke leaped into the spotlight ten days ago when he smashed the indoor mile record with a 4:11 1-5 performance. He soared to even greater heights last night when he ran a 4:10 mile, the second fastest ever recorded. In winning the Baxter mile at the New York A. C. games in this remarkable team, Venzke not only smashed his own record but also the listed outdoor world mark of 5:10 2-5, held by Paavo Nurmi, leaving untouched only Jules Laloumeque's unofficial world record of 5:9 1-5.

It was an entirely an unpremeditated feat when the Pottstown, Pa. school boy made a new record last night. His only plan was to run the race and to "go out" if he felt his legs and the pace were right for fast time. Halfway through the race he decided he had plenty of

"IRON MAN" IS MERE YOUTH

Ben Eastman of Stamford Will Try All Middle Distances And Relay

BY RUSSELL J. NEWLAND, Associated Press Sports Writer, PALO ALTO, Calif., Feb. 18.—(P)—To Ben Eastman, a gangling youth of 19, will fall the distinction this year of enacting one of the greatest "iron man" stunts ever attempted in the history of track and field athletics.

The Stamford junior, who started the track world last year by tying the world's record for the quarter-mile and running the half in only a shade over record time, is being primed by Coach Dink Templeton to do almost everything except high jump and throw the weights.

The studious youngster is going to run the 220, 440 and 880-yard distances and carry the baton one lap on Stanford's mile relay team. Such a campaign promises to put

SKI PROTEST MAY BE MADE BY AMERICANS

FRENCH JUDGE RAPPED BECAUSE OF HIS SCORING

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 18.—(P)—Judging of the ski jumping event in the winter Olympics at Lake Placid, N. Y., was criticized today by Julius Begen, coach of the United States team, who recommended that a protest be filed with the International Ski federation.

Begen directed his criticism at Dr. Francois Lacroix of France, one of the three judges, asserting that his scoring unfairly shunted Casper Oimem, national champion, from third to fifth place. Oimem, who lives at Minot, N. D. skis for the Canton, S. D. club.

The coach made his recommendation in a report of the competition, in which Noyway made a clean sweep of the first four places, to L. Dyo of the Bear Mountain Sports association of New York, president of the National Ski association of America.

TRACK STARS ARE TO TRAIN Mitchell To Start New Sport Monday With Green Outfit

Coach Odus Mitchell has issued a call for track and field men to report Monday afternoon at Harvester park, weather permitting. The coach has no idea what his material will be this year and is anxious to get started.

Many of last year's stars have graduated but with the boys left over and some promising material coming up, the green and gold should be able to sponsor another strong team. Joe Kahl is the most promising of the boys left over from last year. However, Sullins, Marbaugh, Pool, Poe, and one or two others should be heard from.

Such stars as Albert Lard, Jim Ayres, Charles James, Pest Collins, Dale Dinty Moore, James Collins, and Sam Kleith will be missing.

A number of Gorillas will be coming up this year that should help replace the missing material. The Gorillas showed up strong last season.

GRAINS STRONGER

CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—(AP)—An upward trend of grain prices developed early today, influenced by relative strength of wheat quotations at Liverpool. Absence of wheat shipments from Balkan countries was a bullish factor at Liverpool, together with a reduction in the British bank rate. Opening unchanged to 3-8 higher, Chicago wheat futures afterward rose all around. Corn started at 1-8 decline to 1-4 advance and subsequently held near the initial limits.

"MY DEAR—" MARVELOUS

WASTE— Comes to Texas

(Continued from page 1) carbon plants in the Panhandle. If this takes place, gas pipeline companies which are now refusing to buy gas may be glad to purchase what is offered them. At present the statutes prohibit diversion of dry gas except for fuel purposes. The difficulty of determining the difference between (1) gas and what is commonly referred to as casinghead gas was brought out in the hearing.

The Phillips plan was an appeal to the commission to induce major gas pipeline companies selling gas out of the state to take one-half of the volume of waste gas and have the remainder shut in. Mr. Terrell pointed out that the state was powerless to force those companies to take any gas except their own until the common carrier act is upheld.

The 16 wells investigated are making about 4 per cent of oil and gas in the field, testimony showed. Just before the hearing closed yesterday, Mr. Emery attempted to discredit a large map upon which all of the commission's testimony was based. His motion to strike all references to the map out of the record was overruled by R. D. Parker, chairman of the oil and gas division who presided in the absence of Mr. Terrell.

Mr. McDonald was questioned over an hour by the Phillips attorney, and his answers indicated that the map was correct in general. Both Mr. McDonald and Mr. Parker admitted that the map was possibly incorrect in detail, but that it reflected in a general way the true pressure condition of the field. Mr. Parker emphasized before Mr. Emery began his cross-examination that the commission believed the map was fairly correct because it was based upon sworn statements of all companies except Phillips. A C. Smith, attorney for the Texas company, objected to Emery's motion upon the ground that striking out of the record all references to the map would ruin the effect of the hearing and destroy the commission's case.

Miss Eileen Penzra is visiting friends in Canyon this week.

Lien On Building Involved in Suit

John T. Glover's damage suit against H. A. Gilliland and Albert Combs opened in 114th district court this morning. A jury was due to be selected by noon, and introduction of testimony to start this afternoon.

Mr. Glover, claiming that he made a $1,500 contract with Mr. Gilliland in connection with construction of the La Nora theater building and also made a $200 contract for materials and supplies, is asking damages in the amount of $1,700.

Mr. Combs, claiming his lien is superior to any other indebtedness, has filed a cross-action for approximately $20,000. Mr. Glover alleges that he has a lien upon the building.

Attorneys for the plaintiff are W. M. Lewright and B. L. Parker. Chas. Cook of the firm of Cook, Smith, Teed, Sturgeon and Wade, is representing the defendant. Mr. Combs' attorney is Judge S. D. Stennis.

Nerve? Why Edmund Lowe's a daredevil and a great guy... he was one of the first to wear a HIGH HAT TO A "RIZEFIGHT" He can get away with it, because he's got the punch and six feet of brown! He's a college graduate, Edie might have been a big league ball player if the movies hadn't snatched him. He's a shrewd business man and has made a fortune. We don't know how much FOX paid him for "THE CISCO KID," but it was worth it. For six years he has smoked LUCKIES. He gets paid plenty for most things, but was paid nothing for his signed statement. We're deeply grateful, Edmund Lowe.

"It's that delightful taste after a cup of coffee that makes LUCKIES a hit with me. And naturally I protect my voice with LUCKIES. No harsh irritants for me... I reach for a LUCKY instead. Congratulations on your improved Cellophane wrapper. I can open it."

Local Girl Seeing Movie Studios on California Trip

More pleasure on her free trip to California won in the Pampa Daily NEWS circulation contest is reported by Maxine Aggers, local girl, in a letter written Saturday.

The letter: "Ambassador hotel—I went to see Mr. Arnold of the Los Angeles chamber of commerce and it is all arranged for me to go sight-seeing Monday morning bright and early, and to go through some of the large studios. Being Saturday, most of the studios will be closed at noon. "I then saw Mr. Stewart of the Wilmington Transportation company, who gave me free tickets to Catalina Island and all the attractions, which included lunch at the St. Catherine hotel and a trip on a glass-bottomed boat. I called Bill Jackson, who is to take me through some studios. He was so nice and is to call me Monday after he makes arrangements and learns what pictures are being 'shot.' Mrs. Jackson is to show me where all the stars live and other places of interest. "The flower stands along the streets are just lovely. If possible, I want to bring some to Pampa when I return. You know I can do so, for T. A. is only 7 hours from Pampa by air route."
