200 FARMERS HEAR MARVIN JONES' SPEECH

How an idea of the financial structure as embodied in farm legislation adapted to the needs of the American farmer was conceived and established was reviewed by Rep. Marvin Jones at a meeting of 200 persons, held at 2:30 p. m. yesterday in the city hall auditorium. Challenging the belief that agricultural policies of the federal government were permanent, the representative said they were more properly named "long range," that nothing was permanent, that what one Congress enacted could easily be overturned by its successor.

FUNERAL FOR MOBEETIE PIONEER HELD TODAY

Death, following a stroke of paralysis yesterday, claimed W. H. Ellis, 66, Panhandle pioneer at his home in Mobeetie today. Mr. Ellis came to the Panhandle from Tennessee when a boy and settled with his family at what was then Fort Elliott.

NAZIS CLOSE PASTORS' TRAINING COLLEGES

BERLIN, Sept. 30 (AP)—Heinrich Himmler, chief of the German Secret Police, tightened the restrictions on the Protestant Confessional church today with a decree closing all pastor's training colleges or the equivalent educational facilities set up by the oppositional Protestant movement to train their own ministers.

WILL ANSWER KLAN CHARGES OVER HOOKUP

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30 (AP)—Associate Justice Hugo L. Black, President Roosevelt's appointee to the Supreme Court, will speak to the nation over the radio tomorrow night—presumably to reply to allegations that he is a member of the Ku Klux Klan.

National Broadcasting Company officials here announced that Black, who returned yesterday from a European vacation, would make his address over nation-wide radio facilities from 9:30 to 10 p. m. EST. Later it was announced that the address also would be carried over the Columbia Broadcasting System and the Mutual Broadcasting Company networks.

Upon his arrival in Norfolk, Va., yesterday, the justice told two score newsmen that whenever he had any statement to make on the Klan charges he would "make it in a way that can not be misquoted and so the nation can hear it."

Whether Black consulted with the President before making up his mind to give his side of the case over the air could not be learned, but few observers believed it likely that he had made his decision without presidential knowledge of his intentions.

The newly named jurist and his wife spent last night at the home of Mrs. Black's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Durr, near suburban Alexandria, Va.

This morning Black was up early and left the residence. Friends indicated he might visit his office in the Supreme Court building during the day.

There appeared to be no question that the justice would take his seat on the bench Monday when the court resumes after a summer recess.

Recipes Given for Final Day of Cooking School

Recipes used by Mrs. Martha McDonald yesterday morning in the last session of the cooking school, sponsored by the Daily News at the LaNora theater, are given below.

A list of the dishes prepared include: Broiled chicken, luncheon omelet, salad a la jardine, ham and vegetables in casserole, fricasse a la Madrid, mock strawberry pie, frozen coffee, magic chocolate cake, Columbia river pie, grape marshmallow whip, refrigerator cake, marble angel food cake, cream puffs, banana short cake, apple sauce cake.

Broiled Chicken
Have chickens dressed and split for broiling. Place them in a well greased pan, skin side down. Sprinkle with salt and seasoning and place small pieces of butter over them. Put in a hot oven (450 degrees) and bake 1-2 hour or more. Remove to a well greased broiler and broil over a clear fire to finish with skin side up. When done, place on a platter, brush with butter and chopped parsley and serve.

Luncheon Omelet
Four and one-half tablespoons butter, 4 tablespoons Gold Medal flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-2 cups milk, 4 eggs separated, 1 cup peas, 3 tomatoes sliced and broiled.

Prepare white sauce of first 4 ingredients. Beat egg yolks and stir into 1 cup white sauce. Carefully fold in beaten whites. Melt 1 tablespoon butter in skillet and pour in egg mixture. Cook over low heat till set (6 to 8 minutes). Then, set in oven (350 deg.) to brown on top and finish cooking. Add peas to remaining white sauce while hot. Spread over half of omelet and fold over. Slide onto hot platter and garnish with broiled tomatoes.

Salad a la Jardine
Two cups diced cooked chicken or pork, 1-2 cup asparagus tips, 1-2 cup peas, 1-2 cup chopped celery, 1-2 cup chopped nuts.

Toss together lightly with mayonnaise and serve on lettuce. Garnish with paprika and sliced stuffed olives.

Ham and Vegetables in Casserole
One slice ham—2 pounds, 2 tablespoons brown sugar, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard, 3 medium onions, 3 medium carrots, 4 medium potatoes, 2 pieces celery chopped, 2 cups milk, salt to taste—butter.

Rub ham with mustard and sugar. Place in casserole and cover with layer each of sliced vegetables. Add milk and cover. Bake 325 degrees for 1-2 hours.

Fricasse a la Madrid
Two pounds veal in small pieces, 3 tablespoons Mrs. Tucker's shortening, 2 tablespoons minced onion, 2 tablespoons minced sweet pepper, 1 cup tomato sauce, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon paprika or chili powder.

Fry veal in hot Mrs. Tucker's shortening until it is well browned. Remove meat and saute onions and pepper well. Place meat in skillet again and add all the ingredients. Cover and let simmer about 1 hour. Serve over boiled noodles, rice or spaghetti.

Mock Strawberry Pie
One cup ground raw cranberries, 1 cup ground tart apple, 1-4 cup crushed pineapple, 1 cup sugar, 1-2 pint whipping cream.

Combine ingredients and let stand in refrigerator. Place in baked pastry shell. Top with whipped cream.

Magic Chocolate Cake
Three-fourths cup Mrs. Tucker's shortening, 1-2 cups sugar, 3 eggs, 2 cups Gold Medal flour, 3 teaspoons KC baking powder, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1 cup milk, 2 squares chocolate, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Cream sugar and butter. Blend unbeaten yolks. Sift dry ingredients together and add to mixture alternately with milk. Fold in stiffly beaten whites and last add vanilla. Pour 1-3 of batter into one well greased and floured cake pan (layer). Blend melted chocolate into remaining batter. Pour into 2 layer pans. Bake 25 to 30 minutes at 375 degrees. Frost with Seven Minute Icing and cover with cocoanut.

Columbia River Pie
One pound can salmon (flaked), 1 cup diced celery, 2 tablespoons minced onion, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon paprika, 1 cup milk, biscuit dough.

Combine ingredients given, except biscuit dough. Turn into buttered casserole. Cut biscuits and place on top of mixture and bake in oven 400 degrees about 20 minutes or until brown.

Grape Marshmallow Whip
One can grape juice, 25 to 30 marshmallows, 1-2 pint whipping cream.

Heat grape juice and marshmallows and stir till dissolved. Whip cream and add to grape mixture after cold. Freeze in refrigerator.

Refrigerator Cake
One-half cup butter, 1-2 box confectioners sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 2 eggs, 1-2 cup sliced almonds or pecans, 1-2 green almond macaroons, 1-2 green lady fingers.

Cream butter and sugar, add eggs and vanilla. Line round or square pans with split lady fingers. Add nuts and crushed macaroons to mixture. Put layers of mixture and lady fingers alternately. Set in refrigerator overnight.

Marble Angel Food Cake
One and one-half cups egg whites, 1-2 cups sugar, 1 cup Gold Medal

Bryan Keithley's Mother Found Dead At Mineral Wells

MINERAL WELLS, Sept. 30 (AP)—Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. today for Mrs. Bryan Keithley, 68, mother of the Rev. Bryan Keithley, former national chaplain for the American Legion.

She was found dead on the porch of the Rev. Keithley's home by grandchildren when they returned home from school yesterday. She was caring for the grandchildren while the Rev. and Mrs. Keithley were in Europe where he was to be on a program dedicating American memorials. Her home was at Brandon.

Survivors, in addition to the Rev. Keithley, include six sons and a daughter, Matt Keithley, Dallas; Morris, Mexico; Hampton, Houston; Herschel, Halbert and Charley, Corsicana; Forest, Glendale, Calif.; and Mrs. C. A. Moson, Brandon.

Future Farmers Have Election of Officers
By MRS. JIM BACK
McLEAN, Sept. 30 (AP)—At the second meeting of the year, held Monday in the agriculture room at the high school, officers of the Future Farmers of America were elected.

Kid McCoy Jr. is district president; E. M. Gossett, local president; Paris Hess, vice-president; Ernie Black, secretary; Robert Wilson, treasurer; Duane Holmes, historian; Delos Hanes, parliamentarian; Clyde Carpenter, song leader; reporter, R. L. Floyd; watch dog, Joe Billy Bogan.

Sponsoring of a father-son banquet and financing the sending of a delegate to Kansas City were discussed but no action was taken. Clyde Magee is sponsor of the club.

AMERICA'S BIG STAKE IN A POWERFUL NAVY

Even the most convinced pacifist must have moments, these days, in which he feels like thanking his God for the United States Navy. We seem to have passed entirely out of the era in which international law or international treaties meant anything in particular.

A nation's only safeguard lies in its own strength; and it is extremely comforting to see that America's strength is fully implemented—shaped and made ready in a way no one can mistake.

We have been one of the world's luckiest nations for a century and a half—lucky because of our isolation, because of our infinite supply of natural resources, because destiny fixed things so that we could work out our own salvation in our own way.

But lucky nations are on the spot nowadays. The nations which have not been lucky have set out to take the things which have been denied them. In Ethiopia, in Spain and in China we have had ample opportunity to see just how determined and ruthless this desire to get a better share of the good things of this earth can make a people.

It used to be supposed that simply to possess strong armaments put a nation on its guard. Build a great fleet or a great army and you will sooner or later get looking for a chance to use it—so ran the argument. But our own recent experience disproves that. We have one of the two mightiest navies on earth—yet we have resolutely kept our skirts clean of all entanglements in the Mediterranean, and have followed, in China, precisely the course we would have followed if our fleet were small and weak.

And as we do this we have the comfort of knowing that the war cannot be brought to our own shores. What happened to Nanking and Madrid won't happen to San Francisco or New York. Not until our navy is destroyed—and there exists today no power that could destroy it—can that be inflicted on us.

Our old pre-war outlook, which held that strong armaments were somehow incompatible with peace-loving democracy, has had to change. Democracy today is on trial as never before. It has to be strong enough to defend itself against powers which would destroy it.

Until this turbulent and uncertain era passes, it is hard to see how we can do anything else than keep our fleet as strong as the strongest and as ready as the readiest.

Washington Letter

BY PRESTON GROVER Second of two articles on the Greenbelt Colony

WASHINGTON—If papa is a "joiner" and likes to spend four evenings a week at the Elks club and a fifth at a meeting of "older boys," he may have trouble getting his family into one of the suburban resettlement projects such as the one now opening near Washington.

Previously we mentioned the resettlement administration's searching examination into the private lives of prospective tenants of the three suburban projects inaugurated by Rex Tugwell before he left the government to work for a sugar company.

This bit will give an idea of the sort of communities the resettlement administration (now part of the farm administration) hopes to build up.

Greenbelt, 12 miles out of Washington, is now receiving tenants and will be a pattern for the other two, which are 70 per cent complete and will become a haven to rent-ridden residents of Cincinnati and Milwaukee in a few months.

Of course the government has had to subsidize the dwellings. Of the total cost of $14,227,000 for Greenbelt, $5,829,000 was charged off to work relief, land reserve and other items. The result is that the government can offer rental rates that curl the hair of local landlords. For instance, a four room house at Greenbelt, including electric refrigerator, range and bathroom gadgets, will be turned over to a man, wife and child for $29 to $31 a month.

In Washington the place would cost at least three times that amount. Of course, as explained yesterday, there is a hitch, for as the family to occupy the house must fall within certain income limits. If the income is less than $1,000 a year, Greenbelt doesn't want the family. After all, the rent must be paid and the place can't be turned into a charitable institution. If the income is more than $1,800, it is too much, and the family must be content with one room and bath at $50 in Washington.

Some folks always saw an aura of communism around Tugwell, so the present administration is careful to explain that while it is seeking to help the needy, it is certainly not banking for a hive of communism. It wants good-intentioned families who will hold their

Man About Manhattan

—BY GEORGE TUCKER NEW YORK—If you are in a mood for discovery a variety of odd shops offers delightful surprises to those who care to look for them.

One is a shop for fat men, and its slogan is: "If all men were fat there would be no wars! No girthing is too ample to be fitted, no beam too massive! Another is an emporium specializing in sandals made from the skins of reptiles.

There is one shop with a decided macabre touch. Its merchandise is mainly haberdashery, but its decor gives one the shivers. On one wall is an exhibit of rope—small fragments of half a dozen nooses with which criminals have been hanged.

In a similar mood is the display of waxen figures near the Brooklyn Bridge on the Brooklyn side. These are simulacrums of notorious villains who have come to untimely ends.

Nearly is another florist and a fishing tackle shop, but they seem to have their windows mixed up in an eye-witness. It is included in Tully's "Beggars Abroad," a sketch of his travels in Europe.

Incidentally, one of the most graphic descriptions of the Titanic disaster was written by Jim Tully, who got the story years later from an eye-witness. It is included in Tully's "Beggars Abroad," a sketch of his travels in Europe.

Constitution Adopted By Home Makers

By Miss JIM BACK McLEAD, Sept. 30—The program for the year read, constitution adopted, and plans made for a hay-ride as an initiation of new members, when 20 members attended the second meeting of the Future Home Makers club Tuesday evening, at the high school building.

Officers chosen last week were: Velma Thacker, president; Velma Mann, vice-president; Ruth Thacker, secretary; Helen Sherry, reporter; Dorothy Sue Young, social chairman; Ermadell Floyd, program chairman. The club is directed by Miss Betty Farley, teacher of home economics.

People You Know

By ARCHER FULLER The boy works in a store, and he cannot see over the great piles of goods that soar above him.

Deanna is the girl of the title, and father, Adolph Menjou, are the unemployed musician friends of her dream. Deanna recruits them into a symphony orchestra, ingeniously and perseveringly wangles the support of wealthy Eugene Pallette, and contrives to persuade Leopold to conduct her group at one benefit performance, thus assuring its success.

It is a well-plotted, brightly directed piece of entertainment, comically delightful and marked by much originality. Combining song (or Deanna) with symphony (by Stokowski) and comedy (by Mischa Auer, Pallette) and Billy Gilbert, Alice Brady, and Frank Jenks, whose taxi-driver is a classic, the picture is made for broad appeal and it should hit its mark.

Entertainment of a different sort is available in "The Prisoner of Zenda," a beautiful and authoritative production of the famous Anthony Hope novel. Here is screen romance lustrous and villainy rampant on a field of vivid action.

Ronald Colman gives two subtly shaded performances as the king and as Rudolph, Kaiserly and Madeleine Carroll is a lovely Flavia. Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., returns to the Hollywood scene in a role of swashbuckling villainy as Rupert of Hentzau, foreshadowing his reappearance in the same role in the sequel, Raymond Massey as Black Michael is an impressive heavy and a believable character.

"Zenda" is nearly perfect of its type, and its type is perfect screen material. The old office wife business is with us in "Wife, Doctor and Nurse," but the business is dressed differently and the result is rather worth seeing.

Loretta Young is wife, Warner Baxter is doctor, and Virginia Bruce is nurse. When Loretta learns that her husband's prized friend is beautiful, she takes the modern way of satisfying her doubts. She asks Virginia forthrightly if she is in love with her boss, which Virginia honestly denies. But the trouble begins: never having thought consciously of the matter before, Virginia now realizes that she is in love with Loretta's husband and has been for a long time. She leaves her job, causing the doctor to go into the doldrums, the wife to start for Reno. Moral: Wives should never ask questions.

Who is eligible to learn lip reading? Almost anyone who has eyes that were made to see with and a mind that was made to think with. One with a very slight hearing loss, or none at all, can profit from the ability to see, as well as hear, what has been said.

In many American cities, classes in lip reading are offered to adults and children. Those interested may write to the American Society for the Hard of Hearing, Washington, D. C.

How's Your Health?

By IAGO GALDSTON, M.D. Hearing by Sight

The American Society for the Hard of Hearing has long tried to bring the art of lip reading to the notice of those whose hearing is defective. Despite the fact that actual experience has shown lip reading to be a most effective aid in the understanding of speech, far too few of those who could benefit acquire the art.

Some progress in the popularization of lip reading, however, has been made. In several communities in the United States the elementary schools have established lip reading classes for hard of hearing pupils and the reports are encouraging.

It is not generally appreciated that hearing aid devices are not useful to those hard-of-hearing persons. Some cannot tolerate them. Others, those suffering from nerve deafness, cannot benefit by them. For such individuals, lip reading offers much relief.

In a paper on "Learning to Read the Lips," Ruth Bartlett of the American Society for the Hard of Hearing defines lip reading as the act of understanding the thought of the speaker by watching the movement of his lips, tongue, cheeks, eye, forehead and nose. Even the last can convey a pungent message at times.

G.O.P. Convention for 1938 Seems Certain

By RODNEY DUTCHER, Pampa Daily News Washington Correspondent. WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—The Republican National Committee is certain to call a national convention of the party for 1938.

C. O. P. leaders and workers throughout the country are insistent. They want "action." Only a few of the older hands, it appears, are worrying as to what the convention will be like and what will come out of it.

The party will have to agree on a statement of party principles and look over its presidential possibilities for 1940. The possibilities range between that of a glorious rejuvenation and that of a headache before, during and after.

Mr. Hull tells how three Englishmen, for a gag, form an elaborate conspiracy to pretend to murder a young chap named Monty. They tell Monty in on it and he plays his part bravely. One of the trio is to poison him, the second is to stab him, the third is to shoot him.

Mr. Hull tells how three Englishmen, for a gag, form an elaborate conspiracy to pretend to murder a young chap named Monty. They tell Monty in on it and he plays his part bravely. One of the trio is to poison him, the second is to stab him, the third is to shoot him.

Potential presidential candidates and others who don't think it would be an especially good idea are worrying lest Mr. Hoover leap back into party control. Word passed around by certain friends of the ex-President that he wouldn't accept a nomination in 1940 somehow has failed to receive widespread acceptance.

The anticipated convention declaration of "fundamental Republican principles" was carrying some worry when the party's national executive committee met here to pass the job of calling the big meeting along to the subcommittee.

Fundamental issues cover relief, farm legislation, labor, the Constitution and some others. The idea now is to have a few outstanding Republicans—who would include Hoover, Landon, Frank Lowden, Senator Vandenberg of Michigan and Senate Minority Leader Charles McNary of Oregon—sit down as a planning committee to exchange sentiment and work out a rough draft of policy.

Recent Republican conferences have produced a much informal nomination talk as you might expect. Vandenberg is by all odds the outstanding man in such discussions. There's some sentiment for Bridges of New Hampshire, Miss Republicans who don't know young Lodge ask about him, although expressing the opinion that he will still be too young for a presidential nomination in 1940.

John D. M. Hamilton appears to have solidified his position and influence as national chairman. This fact was partly indicated by resignation of once powerful National Committeeman Charles D. Ellis of New York. The two had been consistently at odds. Hiles, who had been raising the big money in New York for the party for many years, had found his old power steadily dwindling. He hadn't been raising much money for the party treasury lately and other

Book A Day

—BY BRUCE CATTON RICHARD HULL is one writer who believes in being flippant about murder. The result is a series of mystery stories that are funny as well as puzzling, and the newest one—"The Murderers of Monty" (Putnam, $2)—is one of the best of the lot.

Mr. Hull tells how three Englishmen, for a gag, form an elaborate conspiracy to pretend to murder a young chap named Monty. They tell Monty in on it and he plays his part bravely. One of the trio is to poison him, the second is to stab him, the third is to shoot him.

Another good mystery in which murder gets flippant treatment is "The Search for My Great Uncle's Head," by Peter Collin (Crime Club, $2). In this one somebody detached and conceals the head of a rich old curmudgeon who has invited his relatives in to hear him read his will. The will vanishes along with the head, and a bookish college professor finds himself playing the leading role. It's a good story, guaranteed to amuse as well as mystify.

"Murder of a Professor," by John Miller (Putnam, $2), is strictly serious—and somewhat pedestrian. A university professor is mysteriously slain and another professor, suspected of the deed, has to go abroad and solve it. The noteworthy part of this book is the fact that the author has discovered a brand-new way to commit murder.

PANHANDLE TEAM FAR WEAKER THAN THE 1936 CHAMPIONSHIP ELEVEN

ONLY THREE FIRST STRING PLAYERS BACK

By DAVID M. WARREN
PANHANDLE, Sept. 30 — Ten years ago and farther back, there was great rivalry between Panhandle and Pampa in football. But Pampa developed into an oil metropolis and Panhandle stood still, so there was little reason for football rivalry.

Panhandle and Pampa play at 8 o'clock Friday night in Pampa for the first time in ten years. Ten years ago this fall, Pampa was feeling the effects of its rapid growth as an oil city, and the Harvesters walked the Panthers 38 to 6.

Pampa passed on to Class A football, and Panhandle was contented to meet Class B teams. Coach Pat Gerald came to Panhandle in the fall of 1932 and football came to life. The Panthers went to the quarter-finals in Region 1 in 1934, to the semi-finals in 1935 and became champions in 1936.

Sparks Injured
 Coach Gerald went to the Vernon Lions and "Lefty" Fowler, his assistant, became head coach for the 1937 squad. Only three of the first string men of 1936 are back this year—Nolan Sparks, Aubrey Crawford and Charles Smith.

Sparks so far has been no good this season, although he is co-captain. His injuries are expected to be healed sufficiently for him to play against Pampa Friday.

Two games already have shown that the light Panthers are not the team they were in 1936. In the first game of the season, McLean and Panhandle tied 6 to 6. In that tilt, the Panthers' offense was fairly good, but the line didn't hold.

Last week Coach Fowler and Line Coach Jack Atkins put the pressure on the line and the Panthers went to Herford, defeating the Whitefaces 9 to 0. A year ago the Whitefaces lost to the Panthers 31 to 0. The defense was good in the Herford game, but the scoring punch was absent.

The Panthers made 11 to 3 first downs against Herford. They penetrated the 20 yard line five times and had the ball within the 5 yard line three times, but the old time punch was gone.

Some of the second string men of last year are developing, and it is believed that the team will yet make a good record in Class B. Deahl Howe is doing a good job at quarterback; Trotter Adams, 16 year old kid, has become a regular for the Cats. J. R. Sterling is doing well at end and David O'Keefe has developed into a first string player.

Ed Lewis is coming through as a guard. Co-captain James Mecskey is holding down his job at center satisfactorily.

Coach Fowler has 21 men of last year's squad on the team this year. Only three were first string men in the team's much lighter than last year's championship team.

Panhandle fans believe that the 1936 team would have given Pampa a great battle. The Cats are going into this game with a defeatist attitude, as they know that the Harvesters are much stronger than a year ago.

Band Coming
 However, Panhandle fans, high school band and pep squad will go to Pampa Friday night to root for the Panthers.

Others on this year's squad are: W. Coffey, Ed Little, C. Cox, W. Cox, Louis Anderson, C. M. Coffey, W. Dowlen, F. Slagle, L. Lemons, K. Walters and Edwin Schmitt.

Recruits coming on this year have been small. New squad members are: Beddingfield, Dennis, H. Dowlen, E. Howe, L. Sterling and Glover.

Fourteen of last year's squad are not here this year. Most of them graduated, but Bob Mecskey chose band instead of football this year. James Barrett, big guard of last year, who would have been a junior, is attending high school in South Texas.

Connie Sparks, all conference player and captain last year, has gone to Texas Christian University.

Class B Games Will Be Heated
 Several torrid Class B games are on the books for tomorrow over this section of the Panhandle. Probably the outstanding battle will be in White Deer where the Phillips Blackhawk of Coach Dumb Newman tangle with Gene McCoilum's Bucks.

Classed as the best in Class B ranks in the Panhandle, the Blackhawk will attempt to repeat previous performances with Perryton and Canadian. The Bucks are also undefeated, showing exceptional power against Flomont and Spearman. Game time will be 8 p. m.

McLean will play host to the Mobeetie Hornets tomorrow night in what should be an easy game for the Panthers of Coach Bill Allen. The Hornets have already dropped games to Memphis and Lefors but may rise up to sting the Tigers.

Lefors Pirates will have a tough assignment when they invade Memphis tomorrow night.

Lubbock, Sandies Will Play in Oklahoma City

McLEAN WILL PLAY HORNETS FRIDAY NIGHT

McLEAN, Sept. 30 (Special) — After a week's rest, the Tigers will meet the Mobeetie Hornets at Tiger field Friday night at 8 o'clock in McLean. The Tigers have played only one game this year and that was with Panhandle, a 6 to 6 tie.

The Tigers have not displayed their attack this year and their power is yet to be known. Injuries may keep a few regular starters out of the game and Harry Barnes will be out of the lineup for 2 weeks for infractions of training rules.

The Tigers are a heavier squad this year with a little more experience but will have to improve with every game to be a threat for district laurels. Coach Bill Allen says "We are still weak in a few departments but by the middle of the season we will be a threat for any ball club."

The past week was spent on scrimmages and reserve material showed up fine. A large crowd is expected to see the McLean-Mobeetie game and start the Tigers off to a good year.

Schedule:
 Mobeetie, Oct. 1, home.
 Lakewood, Oct. 8, home.
 Memphis, Oct. 15, at Memphis.
 Wellington, Oct. 22, home.
 Lefors, Nov. 5, home.
 Claremont, Nov. 12, at Claremont.
 Shamrock, Nov. 19, home.

Base-Running Causes Newark To Lose Game

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 30 (AP) — Base-running, say the oldtimers, isn't what it used to be when Ty Cobb was ghosting around the paths. But it's still a fine art that can mean the difference between winning and losing a ball game.

Ask the Newark Bears about it and they'll agree both observations are correct. They learned something about it in the first game of the little world series yesterday, their lesson contributing heavily to their losing to the Columbus Red Birds of the American Association.

The professor of how not to do it, it happened, was Charley Keller, the Maryland lad who won the international league batting crown this year, his first season in organized baseball. On base three times, he was picked off twice, losing one run for sure and removing himself as a scoring threat the second time. But Newark eventually lost by a one-run margin, 5 to 4.

Manager Oscar Vitt of the Bears was unperturbed. "It's all right," said he. "The kid was just a little too anxious, that's all. He'll learn, don't worry about that."

A four-hit, four-run spree in the seventh chased Joe Beggs from the mound and won the game for the Association champions.

DALLAS, Sept. 30 (AP) — The Texas Interscholastic League begins fitting the pieces into its gridiron jigsaw puzzle this week.

Fifteen district conference games, twenty-four inter-district contests and four intersectional tilts are included in a schedule that carries few "breathers" and which is destined to indicate the true strength of most of the so-called favorites.

From the turbulent western plains areas to the gulf they begin playing for championships with all guns loaded, the hurly-burly oil belt taking the spotlight in a knock-down, drag-out schedule that sends all ten teams into conference battle.

Breckenridge, the district favorite plays at Sweetwater, Ranger goes to Abilene, Brownwood at Big Spring, Eastland at San Angelo and Cisco at Stephenville.

In district two the defending champion Childers team has an inter-district game with Berger of the Panhandle and Electra and Quannah blast off the lid in one of the "keeps" battles.

Lubbock at Capitol Hill
 Two Panhandle powers figure in outstanding intersectional games. This district doesn't open its conference campaign until the latter part of October. Amarillo plays Classen High at Oklahoma City to find out if the Sooners are really strong or if Wichita Falls, which fell before Classen last week, has overrated Lubbock plays Capitol Hill at Oklahoma City.

There are no conference games in district four but El Paso high, the defending champion, plays an intersectional tilt with Albuquerque. N. M. Gainesville, titans of district five, entertain the double-tough Woodrow Wilson Wildcats of Dallas in a feature inter-district contest.

There are no championship games in district six but the Fort Worth sector starts the flag drive with a joust between Arlington Heights and the strong Poly Parrots, favored to fight it out with Paschal for the title.

GIANTS WILL PROBABLY WIN TITLE TODAY

By SID FEDER.
 Associated Press Sports Writer.
 This is the day the Giants probably will clinch the National League pennant.

There doesn't seem to be any way out of it. The probability is they'll take at least one game of their doubleheader with the down-trodden Phillies, and thus hang onto the flag. If they don't there's always the possibility the Cubs will drop one to the colossus Cincinnati Reds—and that will do just as well.

As matters now stand, any "combination of one" will turn the trick. And since the Giants haven't lost a doubleheader all season, there's no reason for them to start now when the chips are down and the stakes are high.

Heading into what is probably the last day of the pennant race, with the Giants 3 1/2 games ahead, this is the way things stand:

Club— W L To Play
 Giants..... 92 55 4
 Cubs..... 90 60 5

Thus, even if the Giants, by some freak of nature, should lose all their remaining games, the Cubs still would have to take four in a row to make it anything but a nickel series for little old New York.

The Giants could have done the job yesterday. After winning the opener of a double bill with the Phils, 6-3, with Skyscraper Cliff Melton taking his twentieth victory, the Terry Terriers needed only one win to clinch. But the small matter of a homer with the bases loaded in the first inning, and some fancy flinging by Lefty Lamaster gave the Phils a 6-3 edge in the nightcap.

A five-run Giant rally in the eighth frame, just before the game was called on account of darkness, almost made it a horse from a different garage.

Meantime, the Cubs, playing the million-to-one shot down to the wire, whipped the Reds, 3-0, on the strength of a 7-hit coat of whitewashing applied by Tex Carleton.

The Yankees, tuning up their sledge guns for the world series, bombarded the Athletics, 15-4, with a 16-hit attack in the first game of their bargain bill. But young Edgcar Smith, a southpaw with plenty of pitching punch, blanked them, 3-0, with one lone hit in the afterpiece, which was called in seven innings.

The Pirates' seventh-inning five-run surge whipped the St. Louis Cardinals, 7-5. The Dodgers and Bees were rained out.

Boston's Red Sox, hoping for a first-division cut of the world series pot, socked the Senators twice, 2-1 behind Lefty Grove and 7-4 behind Johnny Marcum's effective relief bowling. The Browns came from behind to squeeze out a 7-6 decision over the Detroit Tigers. Cleveland managed only an even break against the White Sox, taking the opener, 5-4, in 10 innings on Frank Pytkak's game-wrecking double, an dropping the abbreviated 4 1/2-inning nightcap, 1-0.

he had enough money salted away so he could afford to retire.

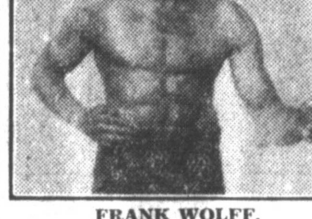

"What's the use of a fellow fighting any more after he's won the championship?" asked Louis.

"Win, lost or drawn with Schmeling, I'm going to quit."

BUCK RAGES OVER 'INSULT'

Buck Lipscomb is mad. In fact, he is a raving maniac according to word from Amarillo where he is being confined under the eagle eye of Dutch Mantell. It all happened when Buck read in a Lubbock paper that he was afraid of Frank Wolff and Sailor Moran.

Well, if he is afraid of Wolff, he can't do anything about it because Promoter Cliff Chambers has the two of them on a contract to meet in a main event here Monday night. Over in Amarillo Lipscomb raves that he will take both in one night or will beat Wolff next week and take Moran the next.

Lipscomb signed a contract to meet anyone in a main event here. He knew that Wolff was in Detroit so figured he was safe. But Promoter Chamber pulled a fast one. He wired Wolff to come back for a battle with Lipscomb and the big bad Wolff answered that he was on his way and to the Lipscomb up so that he would be here Monday night instead of being down in Mexico.

A semi-final that is another knockout has been arranged with Sailor Moran scheduled to battle Prof. Tesuro Higami, outstanding Japanese wrestler in the nation. The Jap is likely to give Mr. Moran a busy evening pressing nerves and using Jui Jitsu.

The preliminary has not yet been announced.

LOUIS TO QUIT RING AFTER BOUT IN JUNE

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30 (AP) — World's Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis wants to quit fighting after his bout with Max Schmeling in New York next June.

The sleepy-eyed Detroit negro said

Harvesters, Guerillas, Reapers Play Tomorrow

Three Pampa football teams will be in action tomorrow, two away from home in the afternoon and one on the home field at night. The Guerillas of Coach Bob Curry will be in Groom while the Reapers of Coach W. C. Hucks will angle with Central Junior high, Amarillo, both games start at 3 o'clock. The Harvesters will be host to the Panhandle Panthers here at 8 o'clock.

Both the Guerillas and Reapers will have tough sledding, according to advance dope. The Groom Tigers are a Class B aggregation, big and experienced. Amarillo's Central Junior high turns out manly season doped Reapers which means work for the inexperienced Harvesters.

Both teams, however, will enter games with the intention of winning. Coach Curry hopes that his speed and deception will offset the Groom power and experience while Coach Hucks will depend on speed and the toe of his big fullback, Junior Clements.

Railbirds got a real surprise at Harvester field yesterday afternoon when the Guerillas ran pell mell over the Reapers in a long, hard scrimmage session. Early season doped pointed to the Reapers, being cock of the walk at Harvester field. Fight, determination and ability, however, have come to the front for the Curry boys. They scored touchdown after touchdown on the Reapers who found it hard to make a first down.

It will be the first game of the season for the Guerillas and the second for the Reapers who downed Berger Bull Pups last Friday, 13 to 0.

Friday night, then, move to Fort Worth for games Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. They return to action here Thursday if a sixth game is necessary.

Manager Homer Peel of the Cats said Jackie Reid, slender little right-hander who used to toil for Newville in the Southern, would pitch the opener. Manager Doc Prothro of the Travelers wired Little Rock sports writers from Atlanta that he would use Lanky Dick Midkiff, also a right hander.

You Drink It With Pleasure and Serve It With Pride...

Coors Is THAT Kind of Beer

When guests drop in... after the amenities of arrival... when the time is right for that hospitable phrase — "Will you have a spot of something?" ... That's when every bounteous host should be prepared to say: "We have Coors, you know." This in itself establishes you as a lover of the good things of life — a judge of the world's finest — a debonaire dispenser of good cheer. For Coors, the Pure Rocky Mountain Spring Water brew, is in truth the kind of beer you drink with pleasure and serve with pride. It's tops — anywhere — any time.

CHAPTER XIV

All morning Cilly waited for Sergeant Dolan to put in an appearance, nervously eager to learn of her findings. The Utah newspapers, she felt sure, led the case definitely away from Jim Kerrigan, for it proved that someone in the house was implicated. Moreover, she felt convinced that it would be wise for the police to look into the habits and background of Mr. Johnson. He might be able to tell a great deal more than he had. His sudden recollection of a tenant from Salt Lake City had come naturally enough, but had she spoken the truth when he said he could not remember who it was?

A sudden realization halted her train of thought abruptly. However, had she neglected to consider it before? Mr. Johnson was the one person in the house who had the opportunity to commit the crime!

She had every reason to be up on the roof at midnight, if only to look about and see that no one was there before he locked the door for the night. And he was the only person Cilly had seen come out of the front door as she knelt beside Amy on the ground!

She had assumed, quite naturally, that he had come up from his rooms in the basement to look into the trouble. But was it not just as possible that he had come down the stairs from the roof?

Why hadn't she realized that before? Based solely on circumstantial evidence, Cilly knew that she could build just as conclusive a case against the superintendent as Sergeant Dolan believed he could against Jim.

There was, to be sure, no motive. There was no apparent reason why Mr. Johnson should want to kill Amy. Unless, of course, Cilly hesitated to admit the possibility, even to herself—unless the man were mentally deranged. A few hours before she would have banished the thought, but now she saw him in a new light.

If Mr. Johnson were just a normal, simple working man, why would he pore over his morbid literature down there alone in his basement room? For was not Cilly a thoroughly educated and intelligent young woman? Cilly remembered how methodically he had spelled out each word in the simple note he had received from Mrs. Elliott. How much more difficult therefore, he must have found it to understand the technical phraseology of his literature on insanity. What curious fascination did it have for him? What horrible, distorted ideas ran through his simple mind as he slowly and painstakingly worked out paragraph after paragraph?

However, in spite of Mr. Johnson's curious literary tastes, there was still the matter of the newspapers to be explained. Apparently they cleared Jim of any connection with Amy's death.

The funeral service for Amy Kerr was scheduled for two o'clock, so when 12:30 arrived and Sergeant Dolan had not put in his appearance, Cilly relinquished the hope of seeing him. She went into the bedroom to change into the dull black dress. It may be that the sergeant would stop at the funeral parlors, if only to look over the friends and acquaintances assembled.

Through the window, Cilly saw a taxi draw up to the house and top in front of her window. She hurried across the room to pull down the shade.

Vaguely she was conscious that the car's motor continued to run as she combed her hair and changed her dress. Someone in the house must have called and asked her to wait. Few people from the apartment ever phoned for a taxi; it was easier to walk down to the corner and hail one from the regular stand. You only phoned when it rained—or if you had heavy bundles.

Curious, Cilly raised the shade and looked out. A woman was getting into the car; the driver struggled to adjust two bags which he put in after her. Two large suitcases, to be exact, Cilly recognized the woman as one of the tenants from above. She did not know her by name, however.

She thought it rather unusual for her to be leaving the house at this time with suitcases. Hadn't Sergeant Dolan insisted that they all remain on hand for further questioning? So he instructed Cilly.

In a flash the truth dawned. The woman was running away to escape Sergeant Dolan's further questioning.

Quickly Cilly raised the window. "Taxi!" she called. "Taxi!" But she was just a minute too late. The car was already moving. The woman turned around, startled by the call, then leaped forward and urged the driver to greater haste. Cilly watched them disappear around the corner, annoyed at her own stupidity in letting the woman get away so smoothly.

A few minutes later, she was standing at the taxi stand on the corner, waiting for the same cab to return. She waited several minutes, growing a little nervous lest she be late for the funeral services. It was almost 1:30 when the driver finally drew up to the curb. She got into his car immediately.

"Greenwood Funeral Parlors," she directed.

As he started off, Cilly started conversation.

"I'm sorry, miss, I've been gone from the stand almost 40 minutes. Had to take a woman all the way down to the Atlantic Avenue Station."

"That's the Long Island Railroad, isn't it?"

"Yeah, she was in a hurry to catch a train. Going out on the Island somewhere, I guess."

Cilly felt a vague disappointment. Imagine trying to trace anybody who had left the Long Island Railroad station with two bags! A hundred people left on trains every minute and there were a thousand small towns on Long Island in which to hide out.

"Did the woman come from the Bayview Apartments?" Cilly pursued, nevertheless. "I thought I saw you pick up a fare there."

"That's right," the driver agreed affably. "She came from the same house where that girl was murdered."

Cilly leaned forward in the car. "The police will probably be asking you about it," she commented cautiously. "I don't think they would have permitted any of the tenants to go away until they found out who killed the girl."

"Jeez!" he murmured. "I never thought of that. Say, she might have been running away, huh?"

"She might have been; do you remember who she was?"

"Sure! She phoned for me. 'Send a cab,' she says, 'right away—Bayview Apartments. You can give my bell for me. . . Apartment 4-B.' So I go over and ring 4-B, and she's down in a minute, with her bags. Jeez! I never thought . . ."

Apartment 4-B. That was Mrs. Wheeler's room. She had thrown away those Utah newspapers. She too, might have let the murderer hide out in her apartment until the excitement had died down. . .

Magnate Dies on West Texas Visit
PLAINVIEW, Sept. 30 (AP)-The body of Alvin P. Howard, 48, New Orleans bank and newspaper executive, who died suddenly here yesterday, will be taken to New Orleans today. The body was to be accompanied by J. M. Massie of Floydada.
Howard, vice president of the Hibernal National Bank of New Orleans and vice president of the New Orleans Times-Picayune Publishing Company, was with Massie en route to Floydada when he complained of feeling ill. He was brought to a hospital here.
He and his brother, Edgar B. Howard of the University of Pennsylvania, had land holdings in Floyd, Briscoe, Motley and Hall counties. Massie was an agent for them.
Howard is survived by his widow, one son, a daughter, and the brother.

CHRIS MARTIN TAKES OVER TULSA DIVISION
Chris Martin, manager of the Jarecki Mfg. Co. in Pampa since 1929, left today for Tulsa where he is to take over tomorrow the sales management for the company of the Tulsa division.
He is being succeeded here by C. F. Walton, who has been in Pampa for a year as assistant manager of the local branch of the company. Mr. Walton came here from Russell, Kas.
Mr. Martin will be joined in Tulsa soon by members of his family who will remain here for a few weeks.
