

PROTEST FOLLOWS JAPAN'S NOTE

Settlement as Base of Attack Again Deplored

Invaders Would Cease Attacking If Assured "Disturbing Activities" Would Stop—Battle Is Raging

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4. (AP) — A new protest against the use by the Japanese of the International settlement as a base for their attacks on the Chinese went to Japan today from the British and American governments.

It closely followed announcement in Tokyo of a Japanese reply to the latest Anglo-American overtures for peace. The new representations follow the line of others which have contended that the Japanese were using the American marines in the International settlement at Shanghai as a shield. They have pointed out that the American marines were under orders to fire only in most extreme emergencies.

TOKYO, Feb. 4. (AP)—The reply of the Japanese government to the powers' proposal for peace in Shanghai, handed tonight to the ambassadors of the United States, Great Britain, and Italy, agreed to cease hostile acts there if Japan is assured the Chinese will "immediately and completely" cease their disturbing activities.

The reply, which was presented by Foreign Minister Kenkichi Hirohata after it had been approved by the cabinet and Emperor Hirohito, added, however, that if the Chinese regulars or non-uniformed forces persisted in their activities, Japan would be compelled to reserve full freedom of action.

A few minutes before the note was made public, it was learned that the government decided definitely to send a full division of army troops to Shanghai to take the place of the bluejackets who have been bearing the brunt of the fighting since last Friday.

"In view of the undesirable menace of the Chinese in the past and the gravity of the present situation," the reply added, "the government finds it impossible to renounce mobilization or preparations for hostilities, entirely."

The note was handed to Ambassador W. Cameron Forbes of the United States, Ambassador Sir Francis Lindley of Great Britain and Ambassador Giovanni Maloni of Italy.

The following is the text of the English translation of the note supplied by the foreign office: "First, the Japanese forces at Shanghai will cease hostile acts if it is assured that the Chinese forces will immediately and completely cease their menacing and disturbing activities. If, on the contrary, the Chinese, including both the regular

Support State on Route of Highway

Gray county commissioners are supporting the State Highway commission in its routing of highway No. 66 north of the Rock Island tracks in the south part of the county from Groom to Jericho.

Members of the county yesterday reiterated their position taken in the matter during a recent conference with Judge W. R. Ely at Abilene. At that time the commissioners assured Judge Ely that they would favor any location the commission might make.

The county will furnish right-of-way, 100 feet wide, for that portion of the highway now located in the county and will pay one-third of the cost as now located. In the event the commission changes the location of the road, Gray county will not pay any more than it would have had to pay had the change of location not been made.

Commissioner Lewis O. Cox said that Amarillo citizens are more anxious to have the road paved than any other road in the Panhandle, and that's why that city wants the road paved," he said. "Amarillo fears that Gray county will complete the McLean-Pampa and Pampa Clarendon roads before 66 is paved."

PROBLEM OF DRAINAGE AFTER RAINFALL DEBATED

VALUE OF ROAD IS CITED

NEGLIGENCE FACTOR IS NOT INVOLVED IN ACTION

The testimony of Commissioner Lewis O. Cox was the basis for the argument of plaintiff's attorney, W. M. Lewright, this morning in 114th district court, that a jury should award damages in the amount of $4,000 to Alex Smith against Gray county.

The attorney contended that the commissioner's testimony was adequate to warrant a judgment. Mr. Smith's suit against the county is based upon a claim that when the county removed a dam and widened barrow ditches in a road adjoining the Smith land, flood waters subsequently decreased the value of the land from $800 to $300 per acre.

Testimony in the trial closed yesterday afternoon, and Judge E. F. Ritchey spent the rest of the day and until 10:30 o'clock this morning preparing the court's charge to the jury. Nine special issues were submitted to the 12 men. Attorneys in the case argued the issues several hours, and Judge Ritchey revised them several times before the final draft was dictated.

Issues Defined

The court asked the jury to determine from a preponderance of the evidence whether there was an

East Texas Oil Wells Are Cut to 75 Barrels Daily

KILGORE, Feb. 4. (AP)—Brig. Gen. Jacob F. Wolters, acting under instructions from Gov. R. S. Sterling, issued a new martial law order in the East Texas oil field today reducing the production allowable from 100 barrels to 75 barrels per well daily.

Slightly more than 4,000 wells would be affected, cutting production approximately 100,000 barrels daily.

The order was not surprising, since many royalty owners and operators had requested the governor to take such action to promote reliable purchases throughout the field. They presented the argument that most purchasers were accepting only 75 barrels per well daily, as the amount that could be disposed of promptly, resulting in unequal withdrawals from the field.

Production figures for Tuesday showed a total withdrawal of 385,000 barrels.

Sixth of Pupils Are Reported Ill

Approximately one-sixth of the pupils of Central high school did not attend classes this morning on account of influenza, high school teachers reported to Supt. R. B. Fisher.

Out of the 650 pupils enrolled, 91 were reported suffering from some form of a mild influenza. The other schools of the system reported absences due to sickness, as follows: Junich high 98; Sam Houston, 32; Baker, 71; Woodrow Wilson, 33; Horace Mann, 54.

None of the absent students were seriously or critically ill, it was reported. Sore throats, head and nose colds, were the most frequent forms of influenza. Mr. Fisher urged pupils and parents to use more than ordinary precautions to avoid contracting the disease.

One pupil in a grade school was reported to be ill with meningitis. Chester Yankee who has been ill at the Shell camp west of the city is able to be up again.

More Rooms For Players Necessary

More rooms are needed for visiting basketball players attending the Pampa invitation tournament which opened this afternoon. Rooms will be needed tonight for those remaining in the play and for teams that play early tomorrow morning. Pampans who will supply rooms are urged to call the Board of City Development 384 or Warren Moore at 70.

It is expected that 150 visiting players and coaches will be here tomorrow night. Arrangements had been made to care for less than 100 at noon today. Meals need not be furnished as players will be fed at the high school cafeteria for 20 cents.

FIEND HUNTED AFTER CRIME IS DISCOVERED

She had been missing from her home since yesterday and Brooklyn policemen, armed with floodlights, had searched cellars, alleys, and housepots all night.

A widespread search for a maniac was immediately intensified. He was believed to have murdered another Brooklyn child last year, and attacked three others within the last two months.

The McDonnell child, a public school kindergarten student, was the daughter of Thomas and Eileen McDonnell of Brooklyn. She was last seen at 2 p. m. yesterday two blocks from her home and a few that she will develop into a film star.

Ten Men Killed In Tanker Blast

BULLETIN HARCUS HOOK, Pa., Feb. 4. (AP)—The Sun Oil company announced this afternoon that the list of dead in the explosion on the oil tanker Birwell early today has reached seventeen, with two men still missing.

MARCUS HOOK, Pa., Feb. 4. (AP)—Ten men were killed, three others are believed to be dead, a number are missing, and a woman and five men were injured when four terrific explosions wrecked the motor tank-ship Bidwell early today.

The explosions occurred at a pier at the foot of Market street where the vessel, owned by the Sun Oil company and chartered to the Sinclair Oil company, had removed a cargo of gasoline yesterday.

Those missing are believed to have been trapped in the hold of the fire swept ship, or to have drowned when they were hurled or leaped overboard to escape the flames which followed the blasts.

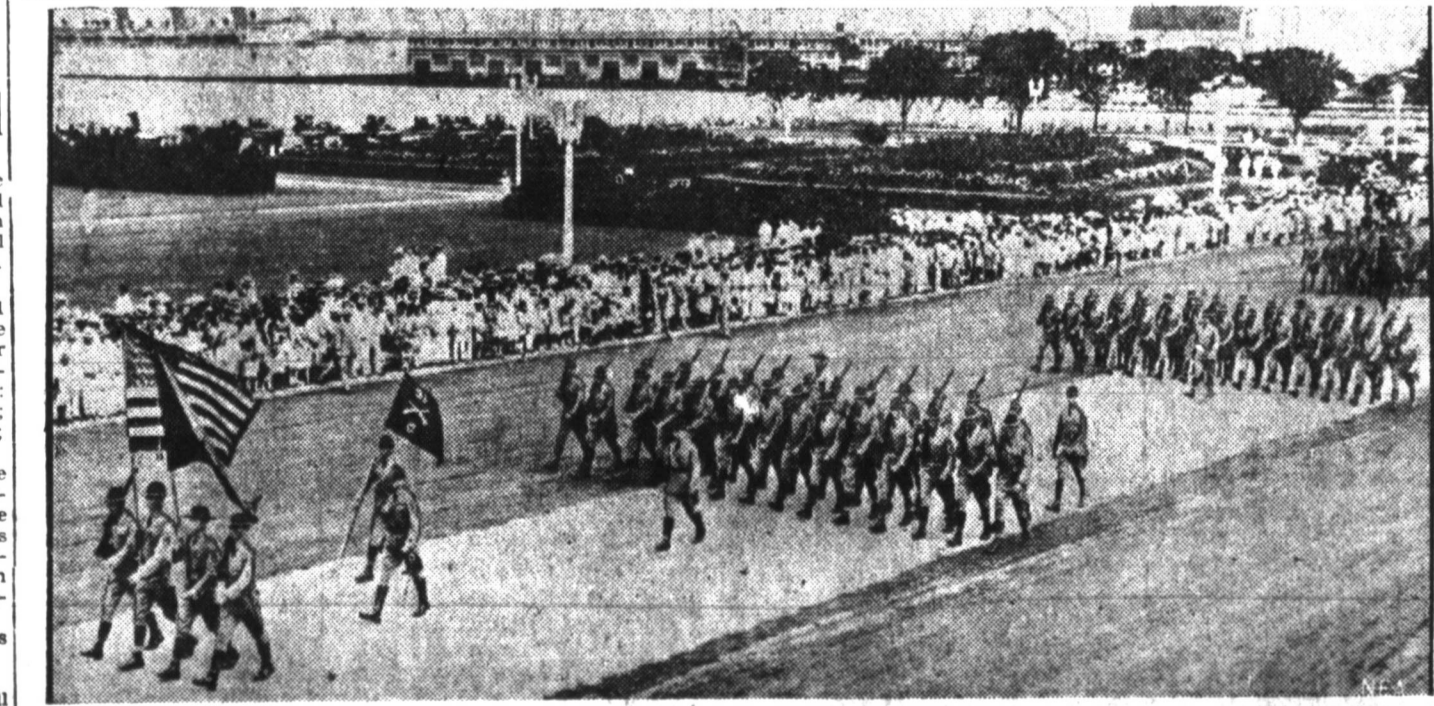

Six of the dead, charred so badly the identification of some may be impossible, were found by a searching party which combed the upper decks of the ship today. One body was found in the captain's cabin.

TOKYO TROOPS "MOVE UP"

Japanese army troops have been ordered to Shanghai to reinforce marines and bluejackets in the war zone. Constitutional

This writer is grateful for the gift of facsimiles of important documents by the Veterans of Foreign Wars. These include large, well printed specimens of the Declaration of Independence, Constitution, and Gettysburg address. Every person ought to read the United States constitution at least once a year. Then he would know that ours is a government of limited powers, derived from the governed, and that powers not granted to the central government are reserved to the states.

Bad News

Washington observers say that there is no inclination on the part of either party in congress to make changes in tariff schedules at this time. That is bad news for the states seeking an oil tariff. And now a boycott by Oklahoma, Louisiana, Texas, and New Mexico of the New England states is promised to force support for the tariff. In this country of many sections, strong measures are necessary to secure fair play. Political election years are, moreover, difficult periods in which to obtain a fair hearing. Justice is still an elusive thing for the western residents.

Lamentable

The more candidates there are for congressman-at-large the more the Texas votes will be split. And that will be about the only chance for the Panhandle candidates. East Texas, which blocked the re-districting required by law, expects to get more than her share of representation when the votes are counted. This is state sectionalism of the worst kind. It behooves West Texas to make a spirited fight for re-districting when the legislature meets again.

Right!

A. BRISBANE, HISTORIAN

Any editorial writer makes a mistake every now and then, but when Arthur Brisbane said the other day, "Japan is only doing in Manchuria what the United States did when it took Texas from Mexico," and that "We decided that we wanted Texas and that we could make better use of it than the Mexicans," he was heading straight for trouble.

Naturally Mr. Molyneux, who is well grounded in history himself, hopped on that statement like a duck on a junebug. Indeed, it does look as though the highest paid editor in the world should have a dim recollection of the fact that there was once a Texas revolution and a Republic of Texas.

"A small boy of Ipsydowich, Mich., has killed his grandmother. Scientists say that with the aid of surgery such things can be prevented. With the advantages of our time Hammurabi might have founded the Salvation Army or copyrighted the Ten Commandments."

If Texas readers insist upon such profundity, why not feed it to them made in Texas? Peter Molyneux could at least teach the writers of it some Texas history and make them stay taught.—NEWS, Dallas.

TARIFF ON OIL NEEDED

(Washington, D. C., HERALD)

The problem of prosperity for numerous states in the Union would be solved overnight by a prohibitive duty on imported petroleum.

No state would be injured. On the contrary, the Nation in general would profit both directly and indirectly by the stimulus to this particular national industry.

Money now sent abroad would be spent at home. American money now furnishing employment to labor in other lands would perform a more legitimate function in furnishing employment to American labor.

Fair prices would be assured by the very vigorous competition of American producers against other American producers which universally exists, while there would be an end to the present cut-throat competition forced upon them by excessive importations of foreign oil.

Such cut-throat competition prevents a fair return to capital and labor and general employment. Thus the country as a whole suffers from the foreign competition which is disrupting the domestic industry.

It is one of the many paradoxes of our present national problems that the United States is at once the world's greatest producer and greatest importer of oil.

Domestic production is decreasing, owing largely to the ruinous effect of foreign competition; but importations continue to represent a large amount of money sent out of the country to give employment to foreign labor.

Last summer there was a movement to induce the president to order an embargo on imported oil, but there was no authority for him to do so, and, even if there had been, there was no evidence of his inclination.

Fortunately, a presidential embargo is not necessary. Adequate protection for American oil can be afforded by a constitutionally-imposed high tariff on imported oil.

Congress and the president can do what the president alone could not do to restore prosperity to this important national industry.

Prosperity must begin somewhere, and it would begin at once in the oil-producing states of the Union if congress imposed a high duty on imported oil.

and older people as well. And it is a fact the mind had to be trained as well as the body—in those good old days when the whole family visited the school to hear John Henry debate.

Those were the good old days when debating was an art and the team had just as much fun as any football or basketball team has in these more modern days. The art of public speaking was taught and many a noted politician was given first lessons in the game by lambasting his opponent on the debating floor.

President Hoover evidently had a happy idea when he offered Andrew Mellon an ambassadorship to Great Britain. It would give Andy a way down from his high office as head of the treasury and self-appointed economic dictator of the administration.

The "war" has the fighting spirit of Americans aroused. And maybe they will get to work now and whip the depression.

And the latest "war" is on the flu, which, as you may remember, can put up a stiff battle.

THREE KINDS OF LOVE BY KAY CLEAVER STRAHAN

ANN and CECILY FENWICK have for years supported themselves, their younger sister, MARY FRANCES, and their grandparents, known as "HOB AND LEB" and "GRAND" because of the financial responsibility, Ann, who is 28, is unable to marry PHIL, ERROY, young lawyer to whom she has been engaged for eight years. Cecily, 22, loves HARRY MCKEEL, an engineer, but when he proposes she refuses to name their wedding date for the same reason.

"Good morning, Mr. Carmichael," "Nice morning, isn't it? On your way to school, I suppose?" "Yes, Mr. Carmichael." "School soon out now, isn't it?" "Yes, sir. We're having our finals this week. It is algebra today. I am dreadfully worried about it. It's so hard."

"Speaking of worries," said Mr. Carmichael, "I've been quite a bit worried myself, here of late. Very queer thing. For some time now I've noticed a young couple over in your yard—right near the corner. They meet there frequently. I wonder if your grandfather would like to have that sort of thing going on in his yard?"

"What sort of thing?" said Mary Frances. "Love making, I have no doubt. Innocent love making," modestly insisted Mr. Carmichael, "but—right after night. No. I am certain that your grandfather would not like it."

"I'm not so sure of that, young lady. I'm not so sure of that. Here is a peculiar thing. The girl is your size and build. In fact, if I didn't know what a sensible little lady you were, I'd be positive that she was you. But I know you too well to think that you'd be sparring out in the yard, night after night, when you should be in the house studying your algebra. That's the way I know this girl isn't you. You understand, I'm sure she isn't. In fact, I'm so sure of it that, unless I see the couple there again, I've decided not to mention it to your grandfather at all. Of course, if I should ever see them there again, even once more—and I feel it is my duty to watch out—then I'll be bound to inform your grandfather, and no it's nor and's about it."

Mary Frances' cheeks dimmed the roses' color. She said, "I'll have to hurry now, I guess. I always go by for my friend, Ermintrude Hill. Goodbye, Mr. Carmichael." and walked away so fast that she heard Mr. Carmichael say, "A word to the wise" only once, though he said it three times before he said, "Well, that's off my mind," and smiled his satisfaction, and went to take his car from the garage.

It was a pity, a great pity. But for Mr. Carmichael and his duty, there is a slim chance, at least, that

Mary Frances might not have flunked that in her algebra examination; and there is a stout certainty that she never would have written to Earl Dearmount:

Dear Prince Wenderl: All has been discovered. We dare never meet again. Whatever you do, don't come to see me tonight. I mean it really. This, dearest, is our first enforced absence from each other. Beloved, let us put our hearts together and get comfort. It is not a true separation to know that the rest of the world contains the rest of me. Oh, the rest of me, the rest of me that you are so, thinking of you, I can never be tired. I rest you! I will give this letter to my friend to take to you, and if you will answer in the enclosed, addressed, stamped envelope I should get it before I go to school in the morning. Answer at once, and be sure to use the envelope, because it is Ermintrude's writing, and if the family should see it before I do they would think I was getting a note from Ermintrude. Dearest, I love you so much, too much, I cannot write it. I am your most unhappy and loving, Franke.

It is difficult to know what to do with quotation marks in Mary Frances' letter. It is so mixed up. Perhaps the sections that she cribbed can be detected without pointing at them. The child had a certain genius for getting hold of books she would have done just as well or better without. Her plan for acquiring them had, as has much of genius, its roots, at least, in simplicity. She hunted hard, and high and low, for books that had the word "love" in their title, excluding only those that seemed to deal with religion or nature study. Rosalie's mind liked going the easy, anthological ways, and she frequently confessed that, though aware of her folly, she could read better with a pencil in her fingers; so the small bamboo stand behind her door ("My own intimate collection—my dearest friends. One should have them close at hand; don't you agree with me?") was richly fertile with ready reference material for Mary Frances.

The Englishwoman's Love Letters, however, had not been found in Rosalie's room. Their thin volume had been squeezed crooked between West Coast Shells and An Epitome of Modern European Literature (1883), in the library downstairs. It was filled with pressed, powdery, four-leaf clovers, which were a nuisance. In the front of it was a bookplate, undecorated, which read, "This Book Is the Property of A. N. Monks, and Must Be Returned to Him Without Fail." In the back of it, rubber stamped, were the purple words, "This Book is the property of the Cozy Nook Circulating Library, Wendling, Utah." Another of those black-sheep volumes that

To them is added the submarines, mine layers and mine sweepers of the navy, based on Pearl Harbor. Fixed and mobile artillery of all calibers and more than 100 planes are included. With these forces, numbering between 15,000 and 20,000 men, the black commander, Major General Brian H. Wells, is called on to maintain his control of the islands. Rear Admiral Geo. T. Pettengill commands the naval units of the Black forces. Given so inferior a naval force,

Black has no means of checking out his advance on the islands. Therein lies the first essential, and the most important one, to ultimate victory in a war on or over the ocean, namely, control of the sea. Given an open sea for us and a closed one for Black sooner or later we win. If more troops, planes, ships and supplies are wanted, we can call for them and they can come. Black cannot look to his homeland for succor as long as this condition prevails.

Sailor Will Go To Chicago Hospital

For almost two years, Artie C. Sailor has vainly sought relief from an ailment at hospitals throughout the southwest. Tomorrow, accompanied by Commissioner Lewis O. Cox of this precinct, he will leave for the veterans base hospital at Chicago for treatment. Mr. Sailor was stricken in July, 1930. He failed to obtain permanent relief at Muskogee, Oklahoma City and Temple, Texas, hospitals. He was a patient at the veterans hospital at Muskogee for several months. The best treatment that the government can give the ex-soldiers is available at the base hospital, Chicago, Mr. Cox said.

Members of the Kerley-Crossman post of the American Legion are hoping that Mr. Sailor will regain his health at the hospital. Mr. Sailor served two years with the American expeditionary forces in France. He was injured once. Cox served two years and two months as a trench sharpshooter in France.

CAPTAIN ZAHN TO BE BACK AT SPORT SOON

BY CAPTAIN WERNER ZAHN
German Bob Sled Champion
LAKE PLACID, N. Y., Feb. 4. (AP) My sail of 110 feet through the air after cracking in zigzag was the greatest thrill of my entire racing career.

The injury to my arm is nothing at all. As soon as it gets better I'm going right back to bob sledding. My injury is insignificant compared to the fact that our team will be unable to shoulder its responsibility to Germany in the Olympic games.

During my 20 years of bob sledding I've been in five accidents, not a bad average for any sport, but I never before took an airplane ride on a bob. You know, we really should have been killed—take a man and throw him through the air at terrific speed for 110 feet, then drop him 45 feet and land in a thicket of trees, stumps and rocks, and you expect to find him dead. I feel something like the cat with nine lives.

Every member of my team is keen to get back into the game. I guess that's what bob sledding does to you. You take hold of the handle and can't let it drop—at least until it drops you.

But I must say this is a wonderful place to have an accident if you must be injured somewhere. "If we can't race in the games at least we can take our places with the German delegation at the ceremonies today. I would do that if I had broken both legs.

SHREVEPORT IN NEW HANDS AS SEASON NEARS

FORTY THOUSAND SAID TO HAVE BEEN PAID

SHREVEPORT, La., Feb. 4. (AP)—The Shreveport Texas league baseball club is due to pass into new ownership tomorrow.

If arrangements go through as planned, O. L. Belderharn and T. S. Hickman, present owners, will dispose of the club to business men here, including Frankie Whitted, Jack Willis, and Ward Delaney.

The reported sale price is $40,000. The arrangement is an option whereby the prospective owners are to make a down payment of $14,000 in 10 days. At one time a purchase price of $150,000 was asked for the local baseball franchise.

The new purchasers will take an option to buy outright by Oct. 1, paying in the meantime six per cent interest on the purchase price, insurance, and all other incidentals. They have agreed that if, in the meantime, a better offer is submitted they will either take up the option or reject it altogether.

If the sale is consummated, Texas league owners have agreed to send from two to three players to Shreveport to give the new owners enough material to start building a club for the 1932 race.

J. Walter Morris, former owner of the Dallas club and ex-league president, has been mentioned as business manager along with Tom Conner, formerly of the San Antonio club.

Art Phelan, former manager at Shreveport and Fort Worth, and Snipe Conley, former manager at Dallas, have been mentioned as probable managers.

The Shreveport club last year was managed by Jake Atz, who will pilot New Orleans in the Southern association this season.

JUNIOR FIVES TAKE GAMES

Chinese Forward Stars With Local Team in Tilt With LeFors Boys.

Two basketball teams from Pampa junior high school coached by W. B. Weathered went to LeFors Tuesday night and won two games from LeFors teams. The junior high A team defeated the LeFors high school second string 12 to 8 while the Pampa B team won from the LeFors junior high aggregation 10 to 5.

It was Wah Him Quan, Pampa's Chinese forward, and Cloy Herring, center, that scored all the Pampa points. Jesse Mendoza's passing and floor work was instrumental in the win. The guards, Brown, and Willis played bang-up games from the first and LeFors got few chances under the baskets.

Stewart and Moore were the pick of the LeFors team.

Clarence Arnold was high scorer for the Pampa B team. His shooting was accurate but he had some tough luck. Norman Carr and George Nix also stood out.

A return game will probably be played here Tuesday night.

LAKE PLACID'S GREAT EVENT OPENS TODAY

SNOW BOUND VILLAGE HAS 331 GUEST ATHLETES

By EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer
LAKE PLACID, N. Y., Feb. 4. (AP)—It's the opening day of the winter Olympics in this tiny winter-bound village on the fringe of the lakes and frosty-topped Adirondack mountains, the biggest of all days in the lives of the 3,500 inhabitants. To help them entertain 331 athletes of 17 nations, who lined up for the formal march in alphabetical order to the opening ceremonies at 10 a. m. in the outdoor Olympic stadium, was Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt and his staff, official guests of the village.

In addition, parading the flag-draped streets early, suffling thru the snow that covers everything, were some 10,000 visitors, about half of them here for the duration of the games, the rest in town for the day from the surrounding countryside.

Two solid years of preparation and some $1,250,000 in cash have been expended in this mountain hamlet to set the stage for the third Olympic winter games, the first ever held in the United States. So sleigh bells jingled, the gaily-bedecked skiers wandered the streets and trails, heading for the opening ceremonies where a local boy, Jack Shea, waited to take the Olympic oath from Governor Roosevelt with all the athletes of all 17 nations, standing in a semi-circle behind him in salute.

HOCKEY TEAM HOPES TO WIN FROM CANADA

AMERICAN OUTFIT HAS TEAMWORK THAT MAY WIN

BY ALFRED WINSOR
U. S. Olympic Hockey Coach
LAKE PLACID, N. Y., Feb. 4. (AP) The effort of the United States hockey team to put an end to Canada's domination of Olympic competition will, in my opinion, provide one of the finest contests of the entire winter games.

We have a good team, a strong team, a well-knit organization with a fine sense of team play and exceptional spirit. Canada's entry, the Winnipeggers, justly has been made a strong favorite. But past experience has shown no hockey team is invincible.

For that reason, of course, Germany and Poland, the only other entries, might possibly come thru but it seems unlikely on the record

Fifteen Rounds to Be Legalized

CHICAGO, Feb. 4. (AP)—Chicago's fight for a 15-round boxing bill for heavyweight championship matches apparently has been won.

The bill has passed the state house and senate and will be sent to the governor for his signature after the two legislative branches agree on minor differences.

Fifteen per cent of the gross gate receipts from all such heavyweight championship matches in Illinois will go to the state under the terms of the bill, which concerns the heavyweight championship field only.

It is quite conceivable that Olympic rules will aid our chances, particularly if the tournament resolves into a Canadian-American fight. Olympic rules, which allow no forward passing in the middle of the offense zones, militate against the effectiveness of brilliant individuals.

At any rate, we will not have to wait long now to find out what our team of former college and club stars can do both with the Olympic rules and the Canadians. We tackle them today. We can win.

THREE STILL IN CUE EVENT

Otto Reisel Now Opposed by Kieckhefer, Chicago, and Jake Schaefer.

CHICAGO, Feb. 4. (AP)—The race for the world's three-cushion billiard championship was a three-man struggle today with Otto Reisel of Philadelphia in front with his string of seven victories and one defeat.

Reisel's closest rival was Augie Kieckhefer of Chicago, who had a record of six victories and two defeats. Close behind him, still a mathematical contender in the fast trading tournament, was Arthur Thurnblad of Chicago, defending champion. Thurnblad's hopes were scant, however, as he had three defeats recorded against him in eight starts.

Jake Schaefer, the world's 182 balkline champion from San Francisco, turned in another masterpiece last night by defeating Gus Copulos of Eugene, Ore., 50 to 21 in 33 innings.

The Finest Tire In The World!

This Is Not an Advertising Claim. It Is the Experienced Judgment of the Motor Car Owners of America.

This judgment of Goodyears as the best tire value, finds expression in the most convincing terms known. People do more than SAY they prefer Goodyears. They buy them in preference to all others. For 17 years it has been true, "More People Ride on Goodyear Tires Than on Any Other Kind."

Goodyear tires are better this year than ever before. The Famous All-Weather Tread is 10% THICKER, PUNCTURES are less likely to happen with Goodyears. The powerful carcass is made of patented Super-twist cord—extra elastic. It stretches without breaking up to 61% MORE than the cord used in other tires. Mileage averages 30% GREATER.

These are things which make Goodyears best in the experience of the people. And since Goodyears cost no more, naturally they outsell any other tire.

FEMININE FANCIES

By Hollye Sellers Hinkle

"Only men and apes catch cold." The above statement, while supposedly true, was only to catch your eye, ladies and gentlemen. The real problem is this: The cases of influenza and severe colds among Pampa people number into the hundreds. Evidently, our favorite home-fashioned remedies are falling in Pampa, as in other places, the situation is becoming serious, and preventives as well as cures are being urged by members of the city health department and by E. B. Fisher, superintendent of schools. "There are plenty of good medicines in the drug stores to prevent the 'flu,'" said Superintendent Fisher. "I'm not trying to sell any medicines, but there must be something done to prevent the spread of the epidemic, or it will be necessary to close the schools."

"To make matters worse," said the superintendent, "many who are trying to save money are depriving themselves of the necessary foods." Authorities in Cornell university, who have done much for the prevention and cure of colds, find diets important. They warn: "Not many sweets during the season of colds, October to April! Get a large supply of vitamins and alkalies. Include the following in the daily diet: Two to four glasses of milk, two helpings of leafy or fiber vegetables, one helping of fruit, and one or two salads."

For one who has already taken cold, these suggestions have been made by physicians: 1. Take an enema. 2. Drink an alkaline solution. 3. Apply a healing lubricating salve to lips, nose, and chest. 4. Take a hot mustard footbath to stimulate circulation. 5. Take a laxative. 6. Go to bed. 7. Keep the diet light. 8. Drink plenty of water.

Safe antiseptics for the nose and throat will do their part in preventing and curing colds.

Above all, remember this: The common cold is infectious. Be doubly precautions when you are with a person who has one.

"Pardon" for Andy Is Patman Charge

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4. (AP)—The appointment of Andrew W. Mellon as ambassador to Great Britain today was termed a presidential pardon by Representative Patman. (Demo., Texas), sponsor of impeachment charges against the treasury head.

"Of course," Patman said, "the impeachment charges now become an academic question. His appointment is equal to a presidential pardon while the jury still has the case under consideration and before a verdict is returned."

"This action practically dismisses the jury. You cannot impeach him if he leaves the office, but while he continues as secretary I intend to push my charges."

Lindberg Busy On His Birthday

It finds the prince of the sky ways even more skilled in the science he loves—and just as averse to talking about himself.

The aged phrase "business as usual" applies to him today—as on previous birthdays—so far as any one can discover. The world is left to guess whether there'll be a frost-cake at the Lindberghs' Jersey home for Charles Augustus Jr., now a toddling youngster, to admire.

W. Hornback and E. J. Hornback of Canadian were visitors here last night.

Jack Miller Is Made President Of Mobeetie Chamber

MObEETIE, Feb. 4. (Special)—At the annual meeting of the local chamber of commerce held Monday night, Jack Miller was elected president for the year 1932 and H. L. Flanagan was made secretary.

H. E. Castleberry is the new vice president, and with these officers the new board of directors is composed of Lee Long, Oliver Elliott, D. O. Beene, and Leonard Greene. D. O. Beene, outgoing secretary, in his report showed a balance on hand in the treasury of about $135, after all expenses for the year had been paid.

Two permanent committees were appointed by the new president. Nathan M. Hunt, Oliver Elliott, and H. E. Castleberry compose the charity committee. D. O. Beene, J. W. Mayfield, and H. E. Castleberry form the permanent good roads committee for the year.

Thousands Flee From Quake Zone

Nine persons were known dead and approximately 1,000 of the 70,000 population were treated for injuries. The damage was estimated in excess of $10,000,000 by officials who surveyed the ruins.

The exodus of residents to the high hills that surround Santiago on three sides was in strange contrast to the flight of hundreds yesterday to the Central Plaza, where frenzied invocations were made to the patron saint of Cuba for protection against the earthquakes.

Relief organizations continued their work today and aid was promised from the vessels of the United States scouting fleet based at Guantanamo bay.

Sunken Sub Is Found By Vessel

PORTLAND, England, Feb. 4. (AP)—Divers today were examining the wreck of the British submarine M-2 which sank Jan. 26 off the coast here and which was definitely located on the bottom of the channel late last night by sub-sea soundings.

Admiralty officials said it was unlikely that the hull of the submarine, which went down with 61 men aboard, would be salvaged before next summer. Westerly winds in the channel would be almost certain to interrupt the work if it were begun now, they said.

The vessel was located by the destroyer Torrid.

AIR MAIL PILOT DIES IN FALL

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Feb. 4. (AP)—Francis H. Rust, 34, Thompson Aeronautical corporation air mail pilot, who lay near his wrecked plane for 17 hours Tuesday in the wooded area north of Marcellus, his leg broken and severely bruised, died this morning in Bronson hospital here.

Rust crashed when caught in a snow squall after leaving Marcellus on a Kalamazoo to Chicago flight. He jumped when he saw a crash was inevitable, but was too low for his parachute to open properly. His fall was broken by trees and bushes.

Huron Smith, curator of the Milwaukee public museum, says there are 20,000 Indians in Wisconsin now compared to 6,000 or 7,000 in 1812.

Quinn, a veteran of almost 20 years service in the house, had been ill more than a month. Rutherford dropped dead while shaving at his hotel. He had been a member since 1925. Both were democrats.

Gus Rollnick of Dallas is here on business this week. He is with the Byer Hat company.

Colonial Theme Used in Party For Amusu Club

A colonial theme was prettily emphasized at a party given by Mrs. J. M. McDonald and Mrs. Dick Walker for members of the Amusu Bridge club and their husbands Tuesday evening, the event being held in Mrs. McDonald's home.

On one table was placed a surprise package. The man who progressed was given the name "George" and carried the package with him. At the close of the games the man who held the package, L. N. McCullough, was required to tell how he chopped down the cherry tree. The package contained a little hatchet. Mr. McCullough scored high among the men and Mrs. C. P. Buckler—was high among the women.

The George Washington theme also was stressed in game appointments, favors, and refreshments.

Members and their husbands attending were Messrs. and Mesdames Lynn Boyd, W. A. Bratton, C. P. Goldston and Mrs. Rittenhouse, D. O. Beene, and Leonard Greene, Faulkner, C. T. Hunkapillar, L. N. McCullough, George Walstead, Alex Schneider, Charles C. Cook, J. M. Dodson, Charlie Thut, J. M. McDonald, Dick Walker, and Tom E. Rose. Special guests were Messrs. and Mesdames J. E. At that time he ran on the republican national platform with its enforcement plank, adding a declaration that he would await for a final prohibition decision the report of the Wickersham commission.

SEVENTY-FIVE PRESENT FOR VARIOUS PROGRAMS PRESENTED AT FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Seventy-five persons gathered at the First Christian church last evening to hear a program presented under the direction of Mrs. J. L. Lester.

During a business session, presided over by Mrs. Ivy Duncan, president of the women's council, it was announced that Mrs. John Beverly was the new leader for division 6, and Mrs. E. B. Stevens, Mrs. Paul Hill, and Mrs. O. H. Ingram were appointed as a committee to nominate officers for the year beginning next July.

The meeting was opened with a song, "America the Beautiful," by the congregation, assisted by pupils of Miss Iva June Willis, and the Lord's prayer was offered.

Following devotionals by Mrs. Lester and prayer by Mrs. Beverly, a boys' quartet composed of Jack Benton, Dick Benton, Joe Kahl, and James Groom sang "Let the Lower Lights Be Burning" (Bliss). The quartet was directed by Miss Willis.

Mrs. H. D. Lewis spoke to the group on "Loneliness of the Missions," using life in Africa as an example.

Another quartet directed by Miss Willis, composed of Hester Ella Lester, Dorothy Dodd, Ed Whittenburg, and Norman Carr, sang "I Gave My Life for Thee" (Bliss).

Mrs. Helen Turner was director of an interesting playlet, "George and Martha Washington." Those taking part were Elizabeth a Wood, Janice Furdance, Kirk Duncan, and Wayne Coffee.

A vocal duet, "The King of Love My Shepherd Is" (Jerome), sung by Dorothy Dodd and Dorothy Doucette, also was directed by Miss Willis.

A beautiful climax to the program was furnished when Mrs. T. P. Morton read "Starless Crown." The Rev. F. W. O'Malley pronounced the benediction.

The first of the two permits was taken out by the First Presbyterian church and was for $2,500. The Presbyterians are building an educational building to the church. It will be brick and will be used for Sunday school classes and social gatherings. There will be a kitchen in connection with it.

The Episcopalians are erecting a parish house 25 feet wide by 60 feet long. It will be used for all church gatherings until a church can be erected. The building will be on the church property at the corner of West and Browning.

In fact, the entire sales force of the store had a hand in helping Miss Aggers and seeing that she was completely outfitted from top to toe. And Miss Aggers especially thanks The NEWS and Levine's for adding this special prize to the contest.

CAMPAIGN

The race is entirely too close, too hot, and too short; also, there are too many hearts set on the Buick, the Chevrolet, and the T. W. A. trip to permit any one candidate to feel in any measure sure of her finishing position on Feb. 10.

Next Few Days Count

Keep right on the job. This is certainly a time when to relax or temporize would be seriously detrimental to your chances on the prize you have made up your mind to win.

Destroyers Move Up

The heaviest shelling took place between 11 o'clock and noon, an eye witness reported. After that, Japanese destroyers crept up closer to the forts, he said, apparently in order to draw fire from the Chinese guns.

Easy Chair in Cloudland Provides Swift Vacation Travel of Fairyland Magic but Really Practical Worth

They don't look longingly at pictures of California—these vacationists in cloudland. They do not sit in an easy chair, surround themselves with pipe, streams, bemoan the fact that California is a long day off and let it go at that. No, instead, they change to another easy chair—an easy chair with wings, comfortably upholstered and conveniently close to a window from which one can see miles of magnificent panorama. They sit down and make themselves at home. And tomorrow they get a sun-tan on a California beach.

Sounds like an up-to-date paragraph from the story of Aladdin and his wonderful lamp, doesn't it? Well it is. And you are Aladdin! Magic Carpet A magic carpet hovers above the country today. It will take you from coast to coast in a brief 36 hours, landing you quickly in the midst of semi-tropical California sunshine in time to have the best part of your vacation time to enjoy yourself, without being hurried by thoughts of the long journey that it will take to get home.

There are three air routes across the continent. One is in the south and southwest beginning at Atlanta, Ga., going from there to Dallas and Fort Worth, Texas, spanning the cowboy country to Tucson and Phoenix, and then making a bee-line for Los Angeles.

A second, beginning at New York, touches at Cleveland and Chicago and then goes westward via Omaha, Cheyenne, and Salt Lake City, to make its first California stop at San Francisco.

The third also begins in New York. Its route, over which Transcontinental and Western Air planes operate across the country, is the shortest of the three, cutting through the heart of the corn belt via St. Louis and Kansas City and winging on westward through Amarillo, Albuquerque, and Winslow to both Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Two Miles a Minute. But routes—and the names of towns—do not tell you what it is like to travel by air. The speed of the flying machines, most of the passenger planes now travel two miles or more a minute—is not the only thing that has attracted travelers to the country's airways and accounted for more than half a million air passengers during the last year. Flying answers that imperative demand of the vacationist—the demand to view new and interesting scenes from a new and interesting angle.

You will find it a vacation to see even your own city—from the air. That little white square in the heart of town with the black dots on it is your office building. Residential districts are blurs of green, with only the house-tops and the trees showing. Automobiles look like tiny bugs; telephone poles like tooth-picks. And then you soar away to the westward, leaving your office behind in a wide wake of blue skies. You are California bound in your parlor car of the clouds.

They are luxuriously appointed, these modern ships of the air. Your seat is an easy chair, indeed. Accommodations are such, and the planes are so roomy, that you have a card table set up in front of you and write postcards to the friends back home while you fly thousands of feet above the earth. You may read or smoke. And you can look out the window. As a matter of fact, that is probably what you will do most of the time for the views from aloft are magnificent.

Seeing the Country Take, for example, a trip across the country over Transcontinental and Western Air. Leaving from Newark Airport, the New York City terminal, at 9:30 in the morning, you get a flying glimpse of the Gotham skyline before your plane booms westward. Camden and Philadelphia spread their network of streets under your wings. A little later you are over the Alleghenies, with the famous Horseshoe curve beneath you in magic miniature. Pittsburgh and its three rivers, the valley of the Ohio, Columbus, Indianapolis, Terre Haute—all are seen from your window in the clouds before the big TWA passenger plane roars across the Mississippi and lands briefly at St. Louis. It is in Kansas City before the end of the day's journey, and you go to bed at a local hotel with your mind fairly teeming with the view that you have seen.

But the best is yet to come. Ahead of you, on the next day's flight, are a galaxy of views that would satisfy the most critical traveler. You see a barren desert mesa west of Albuquerque, although the temperature in your plane will be comfortably cool—just as it is comfortably warm over the mountains. Then the plane passes directly over the Indian village of Laguna. To the southward is a group of crescent-shaped dunes of pinkish sand, and 12 miles to the south, plainly visible from the ship, lies the "Sky City" of Acoma—"people of the white rock"—and Indian Pueblo on a mesa 400 feet high, founded in prehistoric times as first heard of by Friar Marcos de Niza in 1539. Here, in 1599, the Spaniards conquered the Acomas in a three days' battle. Stretching to the south beyond it, is what is known as "The Enchanted Mesa," and on the north passengers get a fine view of Mt. Taylor, elevation 11,389 feet, an extinct volcano peak.

Just west of here the TWA plane passes over an enormous lava flow of recent origin. There are many legends among the Indians regarding the eruption which caused this flow, and one Indian house is standing where molten lava has flown in through the door. Sparse pine forests grow in the lava. The crater where it originated is visible from the north.

A short distance on and the plane passes over "Inscription Rock," now called El Morro National monument, which carries the names and brief records chiseled there in 1609 by Spanish conquistadores returning from their discovery of the Gulf of California. The Zuni mountains appear to the north and the plane passes over the Continental Divide, which has an approximate elevation of 6,700 feet. And so on north of the Petrified Forest, Holbrook and over Cottonwood Creek into Winslow.

Leaving Winslow, your Transcontinental and Western Air parlor car flies a losing race with the setting sun, but before the sun goes down many of the most interesting sights of the entire journey will be seen. First comes meteor crater, about 10 minutes west of Winslow, where an enormous meteor fell, creating a crater 4,000 feet in diameter, 600 feet deep and more than three miles in circumference. A short distance beyond the crater in Canyon Diablo, a narrow crooked gash in the plain, 225 feet deep, 55 feet wide, and many miles long.

The ground elevation has been rising rapidly as you view these sights and soon you see the great pines of the Coconino forests. Mountains shoulder up in the foreground. Then—almost as quickly as it takes to tell—you are beyond them and over the dark green orange groves of San Bernardino valley, a verdant carpet spread on the doorsteps of Los Angeles.

This traveling by air over TWA is not expensive. It costs no more than first-class travel on the surface. Sometimes it costs even less. You can make a trip like the one just described, flying from coast to coast in 36 hours, for only $160. Shorter trips are less in proportion. The average cost-per-mile for air travel over all the lines in the country is only seven cents.
