

LEAGUE WILL CALL BIG SESSION
Two Young Burglars Tie Night Watchman and Rob Kirkland Bank

In debating, it is a time-honored custom to give opponents a chance at rebuttal argument. The Rev. J. Frank Norris, famed pastor of the First Baptist church at Fort Worth, chooses to answer this column by radio, rather than by manuscript.

Attention Called
Dr. Norris writes:
'My Dear Mr. Hinkle:
My attention has been called to your editorial on the letter I wrote Dr. Horn. The whole matter will be discussed over Radio KTAT Sunday night, February 28, and your editorial will be read at that time, together with the questionnaire sent Dr. Horn.

'I am sure you will be fair enough to publish this announcement and send me copy of same.
Yours very truly, J. FRANK NORRIS.'

About Atheism
Although we shall not attempt to give our own rebuttal in advance, we will remind readers of this column that we did not condone teaching of atheism in colleges. We condemn teaching of atheism on the same grounds that we condemn teaching of evolution as a fact, for there is proof of neither. And we added that denominationalism had no place in the curriculum of state schools as long as we have division of church and state in our form of government.

The Issue
We do hold freedom of thought to be an American axiom, and we did say that mature students should be allowed access to the issue shades of thought. The issue raised by the Rev. R. C. Campbell at Lubbock was whether atheism was being taught there, and it was upon that issue that we based our editorial, not on Dr. Norris' questionnaire, to which at this writing there has been no reply from Dr. Horn. Knowing Dr. Horn as we do, and being familiar with Dr. Norris' doctrine, we hazard the guess that their differences are not materially in doctrine, but in educational administration. And we doubt that any institution of higher learning can be operated in a manner to satisfy a thorough-going evangelist. We await developments with interest.

Leadership
It is getting to be an axiom of this column that Pampa should do two things: 1. Develop territorial leaders and 2. push them into places of prominence. Leadership is expected of a trading center. Pampa sponsorship of important movements...

THE WEATHER
WEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy, probably rain in south portion tonight and Saturday.
OKLAHOMA: Fair, somewhat colder in extreme east portion tonight; Saturday partly cloudy to cloudy.

ROUGHLY ATTIRED MEN ESCAPE TOWARD CHILDRESS

CHILDRESS, Feb. 19. (P)—The First State Bank of Kirkland, 10 miles east of Childress, was robbed of more than $400 early today by two men who held Night Watchman Frank Campbell captive while breaking into a vault.

Campbell said the robbers tied, gagged and blindfolded him with strips torn from an overcoat, then held him prisoner in the bank, which they entered through a window.

The robbers broke open a small safe after tearing down brick walls enclosing it. They made no attempt to open the bank's main vault.

They escaped in an automobile along the Childress highway, with them they took pennies and other small coins estimated as weighing 150 pounds.

Campbell was left in the bank after being attended to keep quiet. He said both robbers were young and roughly dressed. They took his pistol. He was able to work his hands free and notify other officers of the burglary a short time after the robbers fled.

He said they kidnaped him about 1 a. m., as he was making his rounds. They took him behind a store and bound him. He said they were in the bank about two hours.

FIVE-POINT HEALTH PROGRAM IS OUTLINED BY SUPERVISOR, WHO GIVES FLU PREVENTIVE

The Texas state department of health's 'five-point project' was set as the goal of achievement for Pampa schools by Miss Ivan Mayfield, school health supervisor, this morning. Each point of the Lone Star on the Texas flag was used by the Department to suggest the five points in the state's health program. The five points are as follows: Defects, corrected, health habits practiced, satisfaction of disease, satisfactory grades, vaccinated, toxoid or T. A. T. The purpose of the project is to build up an understanding of what each individual must do in order to maintain health, and a realization that health is not a mere negative or absence of disease, but a condition when every part of body and mind functions abundantly. It was emphasized. Miss Mayfield urged reasonable co-operation in the practices of health habits, and said students should be physically free from remediable defects, as to throat, teeth, eyes, hearing, posture, and should show satisfactory growth. Immunization against smallpox and diphtheria

RAILROAD COMMISSION READY TO TAKE CHARGE

OIL FIELD MAY OPEN UP

USE OF MILITARY IS HIT HARD BY DECISION

TYLER, Feb. 19. (P)—Apprehension that property might be destroyed was felt in some quarters today after a federal court decision that state authorities had exceeded authority in enforcing prohibition in the greatest oil field by military order.

The decision was a three-judge court, composed of Judges Randolph Bryant of Sherman, J. C. Hutcheson of Houston and William I. Grubb of Birmingham. It made permanent a temporary injunction restraining Gov. R. S. Sterling, Brig. Gen. Jacob Wolters and Adjt. Gen. W. W. Sterling from interfering with production of wells owned by the plaintiff, Eugene Constantin, J. E. Wraether and other independent oil operators.

After word of the decision, handed down by Tyler yesterday, had swept through the field, the Overton Refining company, one of the original plaintiffs, and the Arrow Refining company asked Gen. Wolters at his headquarters in Kilgore to assign troops to protect their properties. They declared they feared their wells would be destroyed.

His ouster and receivership suit against the Lone Star Gas company and affiliated concerns, dealers natural gas to 26 Oklahoma towns, was thrown out of the Jefferson county district court yesterday by Judge Eugene Rice, who sustained a plaintiff's demurrer to evidence.

Leon Hirsch, the governor's attorney, whom Murray credited with bringing about a rate reduction from the Oklahoma Natural Gas corporation early last year through threatened litigation, gave notice of appeal.

The Lone Star interests are fighting applications for rate reductions before the State Corporation commission. The case has not been decided.

From here food supplies can be taken into needy communities only by pack burros or horses.

Silverton, Colorado, isolated for 10 days, sent word over one available telephone line, the town had food for only a few days. Roads to the southwestern Colorado town were still snow-blocked.

CHINA ASKS JAPS TO MOVE OWN ARMY WAY BACK

P. I. LIPSEY, JR. GENEVA, Feb. 19. (P)—The League of Nations council decided tonight to call an extraordinary session of the full League assembly to consider the situation in the Far East.

This was done at the request of Dr. W. W. Yen, head of the Chinese delegation and over the objection of the Japanese representative.

The twelve neutral members of the council ruled this evening that Japan's objection to an assembly meeting on legal grounds was invalid.

Second Such Meeting This assembly meeting will be the second since establishment of the League of Nations. The first was in 1925 to consider admission of Germany to the League.

It is a particularly opportune time, for ranking members of the foreign offices of the member states are at present in Geneva as delegates to the disarmament conference.

Civic Clubs Join Jayvees As Part of National Effort for Unemployed

Pampa's job survey will be continued with increased intensity Monday morning. It was agreed last night at a meeting of representatives from the American Legion, Lions club, Rotary club, and Kiwanis club with the committee from the Pampa Junior chamber of commerce which started the drive.

The committees agreed to name workers to meet in the chamber of commerce rooms 9:30 o'clock Monday morning and start a house to house and store-to-store campaign for jobs for Pampa's unemployed.

The move is part of a nationwide campaign to secure work for unemployed. Up to last night, more than 41,000 men had been put back to work in the United States, a radio report stated.

'We do not ask that men be given steady employment, but a few hours work will help,' Jim Collins, chairman of the Jayvees committee that started the drive last month, said at the meeting.

'Every man in Pampa who can assist in the campaign is asked to meet Monday morning. They don't have to be club members to help in this great work. I hope Pampans will receive the workers cordially and tell them they will find a few hours work for one or two men.'

THREE KINDS OF LOVE BY KAY CLEAVER STRAHAN

CHAPTER XLVIII

ROSALIE occasionally inserted an explanatory phrase: Ann interrupted once or twice; Cecily asked several questions; but, on the whole, the three women sat quietly and listened while Grand kept right on talking on and on and on.

Cecily asked, "Do you feel as foolish as I feel?" "Pushed out of the nest," said Ann. They smiled together then, but not happily; fearfully, rather, and shamefacedly.

He had said, unmistakably, while Cissy there on the horsehair sofa pouted and looked sullen, that the dearest desire of his life and of Rosalie's life had ever been to see their darlings married to good, worthy men who loved them and whom they loved in return.

Rosalie had said that it was pleasanter than an expensive hotel. That it combined the qualities of the best hotels and the best private homes and was neither. That it was beautifully furnished, with a guaranteed temperature of 72 throughout the winter, and a charming, quiet dining room with wicker tables for two, and larger tables, if one desired them, and each table had a sweet little pink-shaded light on it.

He and Rosalie had waited now, patiently and long. They had paid the money for the livings in May, at a time when the vacancy had occurred, and at a time when their darlings' futures had seemed planned and secure. They had waited. They had not complained.

Cecily, so recently scolded concerning reticence had, here, spoken right out. "You have paid the money for the livings? Paid it in May? Did they give you a receipt? May I see it?" Grand had taken the paper from his old bill folder and had shown it and Ann had read it word for word with her own eyes.

Ann said, "But, Cissy, you shouldn't have," and went to the telephone. "Phil's coming," Ann said, a few minutes later. "I couldn't stop him. But I told him to park outside the grounds and walk up."

"I know," said Ann. "I'm glad to be glad to have Mary-Frances going to a different school. We'll live on the west side, near Phil's office. I don't mean to intrude, but a nice little girl. She is—a very nice little girl."

Building of Theater Being Argued in Suit for Damages

John T. Glover, local contractor testified yesterday in 114th district court that in November, 1930, he entered into a contract with H. A. Gilliland to build the LaNora theater for $1,500. The contract signed by Gilliland and Glover was submitted in evidence.

Mr. Glover was the first witness in his suit against Gilliland for damages in the amount of approximately $1,700. He occupied the stand most of yesterday afternoon. The defendant claimed that the failure of the plaintiff to buy a rip-saw for shaping ornaments and decorations in the building caused a long delay in the construction of the edifice which resulted in financial injury to himself. Mr. Glover testified that nothing was stated in the contract about a time-length for completing the building, and that he never heard of the complaint regarding the rip-saw until pleadings were filed.

At the close of a heated verbal clash between W. M. Lewright, attorney for the plaintiff, and Chas. C. Cook, attorney for the defendant, Judge E. F. Ritchey ruled that Mr. Glover had "constant supervision" over the construction of the building. The defense claimed that Mr. Glover did not give all of his time to the work as the contract calls for. The plaintiff testified that Glover was absent on a 7-day hunt and went to Dallas to a football game upon the invitation of Mr. Gilliland.

Testimony in the case is due to be completed today. Arguments will be delivered in the morning. B. L. Parker is assisting Mr. Lewright, and Judge S. D. Stennis is representing Albert Conch, who filed a cross claim, claiming a $20,000 lien owned by him was superior to the Glover lien. The plaintiff recognized the superiority of this lien yesterday.

Jurors in the case are as follows: Lewis Edwards, E. E. Morris, R. N. Ashby, A. Lawson, E. Brooks, E. H. Hankins, Norma Johnson, R. L. Carter, C. C. Cockrell, Sam McCellan, H. C. Polson and John Hudson.

"The Crisis," to be presented at the city auditorium Tuesday night, has been produced by the better stock companies for a number of years, but has only been released for Little Theater during the last year.

The Pampa Little Theater is bearing a heavy expense in presenting it in special costumes, scenery and royalty—all making it one of the most expensive plays ever attempted here.

Ray Weedman, as Clarence Colfax, a young southern gentleman, a duelist and a beau, is ideally cast and is drawing much favorable comment at rehearsals. Malcolm Carr as Ephum, the freed slave of Judge Whipple, is a treat, his young man is handling one of the few comedy roles in the play admirably.

Tickets are on sale by Little Theater members and at the City Drug store. All seats are reserved. Director of the play Jack Foster, who made a reputation as a capable actor at The Playhouse, University of Oklahoma. Mr. Foster did a fine piece of acting in "Dulcy," last offering of the Little Theater.

Mr. Foster was almost ready to promise last night that every person in the play would know his speeches. From the very beginning, he was determined that the Little Theater would present one play wherein the players would not have to be prompted Tuesday night, if an actor forgets his or her part, the players, not Mr. Foster, will be embarrassed. Costumes will exemplify the manner of dress that was in vogue just before and during the Civil War, the time of the play. The play has four acts, has a historical and love interest, and portrays typical characters of both north and south, their customs, attitudes, and opinions.

JAPANESE MAY BE UNABLE TO PIERCE CHINESE DEFENSES IN MUDDY SOIL BUT MAY CIRCLE

By Charles Stephenson Smith
WASHINGTON, Feb. 19. (AP)—Military experts in Washington doubt whether Japan will make an immediate frontal mass attack on the Chinese forces at Shanghai if General Tsai-Ting-Kai fails to withdraw in compliance with the Japanese ultimatum.

The Chinese have a line between twelve and fourteen miles in length extending from the international settlement to beyond the Woosung forts, they are thoroughly entrenched and protected by wire entanglements. Furthermore the terrain is chiefly flooded ground, so muddy that trucks and tanks mire and make slow progress.

Japanese bluejackets have made little headway in their attacks, the Chinese having shown remarkable strength and discipline. The Chinese chiefly flooded ground, which originally had 10,000 or 20,000 soldiers is now said to have been recruited up to 25,000 and reinforcements of about 40,000 are reported in readiness between Shanghai and Nanking.

To oppose the Chinese strength, the Japanese are now reported to have about 25,000 soldiers and 4,000 bluejackets in Shanghai. Consequently military tacticians are doubtful whether they will risk a general attack until reinforced. And some of the best informed military men in Washington who know the Shanghai terrain think that even with considerable reinforcement the Japanese will not attempt a frontal attack.

It is regarded as a possibility that the Japanese will not move from their present bases but will land troops north of Woosung forts on the Yangtze river and move along the rear of the Chinese, cutting off reinforcements.

BERNARD SHAW BADLY SHAKEN

CAPETOWN, Union of South Africa, Feb. 19.—George Bernard Shaw appeared more angry than hurt today as a result of an automobile accident Wednesday in which he and his wife were severely shaken and bruised. The Shaws are here on a vacation trip.

When he was called to the telephone today at his 2009, the noted playwright expressed annoyance that the news of his accident had leaked out and refused to discuss it.

It was understood the accident was not the reason he cancelled sailing reservations for England and that both he and his wife were completely recovered but are prolonging their stay indefinitely.

"You may run for sheriff and hold your job," Covington notified his men, "but if you run for any other office I want your resignations as soon as you enter the race."

TROUBLED ALL LIFE WITH CONSTIPATION

But Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Brought Real Relief

If you are subject to headaches, loss of appetite and energy, sleeplessness and other effects that so often result from constipation, read Mrs. Turner's voluntary letter.

"For the past six months I have been eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, and cannot praise it too highly. "Am fifty years of age. All my life have been troubled with constipation. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has not only helped me, but has cured me. "I thought I couldn't like the taste of bran, but Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is delicious."—Mrs. C. J. Turner, 507 Hanover Street, Fall River, Mass.

Tests show ALL-BRAN contains two things which overcome constipation: "Bulk" to exercise the intestines; Vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN also supplies iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of lettuce. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes.

Certainly this is more natural than taking pills and drugs—so often harmful. ALL-BRAN is not habit-forming. Two tablespoons daily will correct most types of constipation. If you have intestinal trouble not relieved this way, see your doctor.

CHURCHES

FISHING IN FEBRUARY

Interest is increasingly greater in the Assembly of God church revival at the corner of Brown and Cuyler streets. Evangelist Clyde G. Goree continues to expound the gospel with heart-gripping power. Come and hear the word of God preached as you seldom hear it in these days of modern thinking. "Fishing" is the subject for tonight.

"The church of Jesus Christ today has fallen away," declares Rev. Goree, "and the signs that should follow them that believe (Mark 16: 17-20) are not found it. The modern idea that the effective working power of God is past came from theological seminaries. Jesus Christ and his apostles had nothing to do with it." America's place in the prophesy of the Bible will be discussed by Rev. Goree. He has had wide and varied experience in the ministry and is district superintendent of the Christ's Ambassadors of the Texico district.

Special music is under the direction of Pastor M. C. Mitchell. Services are held nightly.

Cosgrave Gains in Irish Ballots

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Revisions and accumulations of returns from Tuesday's election showed William T. Cosgrave's government creeping up slightly on Eamon De Valera and his Fianna fall. De Valera lost three seats on revision alone under the proportional representation voting system.

The government party picked up four seats by accumulation and the independents held ten already credited to them. Labor allies of the Fianna Fall retained but five seats on the revision.

The count stood Fianna fall, 45; labor, 5; government, 36, and independents, 10. Thus the Fianna fall and allies held 50 seats while the government and its supporters held 46 seats.

SOUTHWESTERN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

Edison Is Topic Of Kiwanis Talk

Jack Cunningham, manager of the Southwestern Public Service company, made an interesting talk on the life and achievements of Thomas A. Edison at the Kiwanis club today. The program was held in observance of Edison's birthday.

Mr. Cunningham pointed out that Edison never allowed himself to be called a genius for his great inventions. He termed "genius" as nineteenth perspiration.

Plans are progressing for the mammoth Easter egg hunt to be sponsored by the Kiwanis club 26. The hunt is an annual event. More than thirty cases of eggs will be dyed and hidden for the event. All children of the county are invited to join in the hunt.

C. M. Carlock presented the plans for the job survey to be held next week and the members voted to join with the Junior chamber of commerce, American Legion and other civic clubs of the city in securing work for the unemployed. It is estimated that more than 5,000 hours of work can be secured with an intensive drive.

The Kiwanis club will hold a ladies' night program March 18.

Gen. Wolters, who already had been cited for contempt of court, replied he would give the protection but would not allow the wells to produce in excess of the 75 barrels daily authorized by the military action under martial law. He said:

the Overton Refining company had told him it planned to "open up" its wells as a result of the decision. AUSTIN, Feb. 19. (AP)—Governor R. S. Sterling refrained from commenting on the three-judge federal court decision affecting administration of martial law in the East Texas oil field today.

"I do not want to discuss the situation until we can determine our status there," Governor Sterling stated. "I do not want to say something that I will have to take back later."

CHINESE—

Shanghai, as Japan demands, only if the Japanese force will retire to an equal distance.

They will flatly refuse the demand to dismantle the forts at Woosung and Paoshan.

It was thought unlikely that these eleventh-hour negotiations would serve to stave off the expected Japanese attack.

Wang Ching-wei's reply was a five-point proposition.

First, he said, the proposal for withdrawal of both Chinese and Japanese was acceptable but the withdrawal of the Chinese only was a demand which the national government found impossible to accept.

Second, he promised that anti-Japanese activities will be dealt with according to the law, pointing out that freedom of speech and the press was guaranteed by law and could not be interfered with. If any Japanese activities got beyond the limits of the law, he said that such activities would be duly dealt with by the authorities.

Third, he insisted that any proposal for dismantling of the national defense was unacceptable. He was referring to the Japanese demand that the forts at Paoshan and Woosung be razed.

Fourth, in the ordinary course of events the Chinese government did not station troops in the Shanghai area, he said, adding that when normal conditions were restored the area would continue to be patrolled by Chinese police.

Fifth, the demand that Japanese airplanes should watch the withdrawal of the Chinese was declared unacceptable. Wang said investigators of such withdrawal if it were absolutely necessary, must be third

SHANGHAI, Feb. 20, (Saturday) (AP)—American citizens who live in the Hongkew area, at present one of the most dangerous in Shanghai, came across the boundaries into considerable numbers early this morning, conveyed by police and firemen.

The United States consul had advised them to get out of Hongkew for it seemed unlikely that anything could avert heavy fighting before many more hours.

LOCAL WOMAN IS GUEST AT LOVELY EVENT

MUSICALE-TEA IS HELD IN BORGER; THEME IS COLONIAL

BORGER, Feb. 19.—(Special)—Mrs. J. H. Combs of Pampa was a special guest for the traditional colonial musicale-tea of the Borger Music club, given in the home of Mrs. Howard W. Price, of Huber Camp, Tuesday afternoon. Other out-of-town guests for the affair included Miss Sophia Meyer, Mrs. A. E. Meyer, and Mrs. W. F. Dean of Amarillo. Mrs. John Hash and Mrs. Russell Brown of Stinnett.

The colonial tea has come to be a looked-forward-to event in Borger social circles. Other club women of the city are invited for the affair by the Music club each year. Particularly appropriate was the tea this year, in connection with the nation-wide observance of the George Washington bi-centennial.

In crinoline skirts, powdered wigs, ruffled pantaloons, lace mitts, and all the quaint styles of Martha Washington's day, members of the receiving group and those appearing on the program presented a most effective picture. Corsages of delicately tinted sweet peas formed a dainty note in the costuming.

Mrs. Price, Mrs. Ed Warren, Mrs. L. F. Hansen, Mrs. E. H. Shinn, and Mrs. Wayne O'Keefe were assisting. Mrs. Fred Greene presided at the guest register, and Mrs. Wade H. Purr and Mrs. W. M. Brown were in charge of introductions.

Numbers on the program included: "Minuet," Paderewski, by Mrs. Dwight Browder; two musical readings, "The Low Backed Car," and "The Sweetheart of Mine," by Mrs. Ed Swarthart; a piano duet, "Barcarolle," from Tales of Hoffman, by Misses Gloria Sowan and Shirley Sappington; two songs, "Trees," and "Flower Rain," by Mrs. L. M. Draper; Kreisler's "Caprice," by Miss La Trice Quattlebaum; "Canzonetta," Schult, and "Etude," Wollehaupt, by Mrs. E. F. Copeland.

Lace spread, the exquisitely appointed tea-table was centered with a silver bowl and snapperon. Tall tapers were in silver holders, and tea services and copotes of silver completed the charming effect. Mrs. Price and Mrs. Shinn were pouring. Sixty women called during the afternoon for this picturesque and brilliant affair.

Florists Object to Ban on Corsages

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Utah university co-eds may wear corsages to the junior prom tonight, protected by an injunction. George Thomas, university president, banned corsages in the interest of economy.

Officers of the Utah Floral association and other merchants have announced they will seek an injunction in district court today to restrain the president or his agents from removing corsages from co-eds or ejecting those who come so adorned.

Four co-eds signed the injunction petition which describes the president's edict as "unreasonable, arbitrary and something which cannot be construed as reasonably designed for a legitimate purpose."

ROCK GARDENS OUT OF PLACE IN THIS CITY

SPECIALIST SAYS THAT GRASS AND TREES ARE SUITABLE

Miss Inez Derryberry, state landscape specialist for the extension division of Texas A. & M. college, believes that the building of lily pools and rock gardens on the plains "should be deferred until the natural setting has been planted and grown to accommodate them." In other words, she believes that building rock gardens on a landscape that is essentially level is a waste of time, if one is seeking to achieve beauty.

Miss Derryberry is conducting a yard planning and planting demonstration today at the home of Mrs. T. C. Clayton in Pampa.

"A lily pool," she said, "should look as though planned by nature. This means that it must have shade and give a cool and inviting appearance. A lily pool without shade that is full of weeds, papers and other debris detracts from a home instead of adding beauty to it. There are only a few places in the plains where rock gardens must have a natural background of ruggedness. Since there are few such places in West Texas, amateur gardeners will do well to concentrate efforts in acquiring shade through the use of grass, shrubs and trees.

"Trees should be grouped to give shade and background. The lawn should not be broken by flower beds, and there should be foundation shrubs to tie the house to the ground—all these are much to be preferred in beginning a yard improvement program. Flowers may be planted at the rear of the house or at the sides of the yard."

Mr. and Mrs. M. Harmon entertained friends at their home four miles east of Pampa Wednesday evening.

Bridge and dancing were enjoyed until a late hour when refreshments were served to Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Saunders, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Lard, Mr. and Mrs. "Doc" Kitchings, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. TREE GETS IRON
LUBBOCK, Feb. 19.—(AP)—A tree on the courthouse lawn is getting its dose of iron by swallowing a horse-shoe which someone hung on a limb several years ago, probably as gesture of good fortune.

The iron shoe, nails and all, is gradually being devoured by the tree—and apparently with no ill effects.

G. C. Hubbard of the Malone funeral home has been confined to bed with influenza for two days. He expects to be up by tomorrow.

HELPS FORMER HUBBY WED

Not only did Mrs. Elizabeth Lawson, Pentecostal minister at Springfield, Mo., give her husband up to the "other woman" in a strange marital triangle, but she performed the marriage ceremony for them. Mrs. Lawson No. 1 had been divorced from Lawson two weeks previously, blaming Mrs. Velma Sneed for breaking up the marriage. When Lawson and Mrs. Sneed decided to marry, they asked the first Mrs. Lawson to officiate. She did, and above you see her (at the right) performing the ceremony.

HARVESTERS BEAT GOODNIGHT AND WILL PLAY BULLDOGS THIS AFTERNOON AT CANYON TOURNEY

BORGER FIVE LOOMS AS MEET FAVORITE TODAY

The Harvesters basketball team went into the second round of the district basketball championship tournament at Canyon yesterday afternoon when they defeated the fast Goodnight Owls 35 to 13.

The Harvesters are scheduled to meet the Borger Bulldogs at 5 o'clock this afternoon. The Bulldogs went into the second round with a win by default over the Miami Warriors, who were unable to attend because of illness.

Capital, Elmer, McRae, Pulling, and Bill Kelley were on the scoring end of the game, with Wayne K. by and Patton having a hand in the score. The guarding of Kelly and Patton was again spectacular. They bottled the Goodnight forwards and made them shoot from long range.

The Harvesters have a good chance of defeating the Bulldogs. It will be the first meeting of the two teams this season, scheduled games having been canceled. The Harvesters are tournament favorites, but the Harvesters may upset the dope bucket. They have been going strong the past three weeks.

Price Memorial to Play Tonight

Pampa basketball fans will see an added attraction tonight at the high school gymnasium when the Rice Memorial Cardinals meet a team of Pampa high school all-stars as part of the junior invitation tournament. The hour of the game had not been set at noon, but it will be played between one of the junior encounters.

Two Pampa boys, Burdette Keim and Herbert Davis, will be members of the Amarillo squad tonight. Coach Argus M. Fox will be in charge of the Pampa team. He will use Harvesters who are not in Canyon, and members of the Gorilla squad.

BUT OLD CHAMP HAS SAME OLD BOX OFFICE

By WILLIAM WEEKES
Associated Press Sports Writer.
CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—(P)—Jack Dempsey's promised land, in which he had visioned another chance at the heavyweight championship of the world, today seemed to have been only a mirage.

Last night at the Chicago stadium, before record-smashing crowd of 23,322 spectators who left $74,199.55 at the gates, Dempsey in the opinion of a big majority of newspaper men and customers, took a beating from King Levinsky, the socking Jewish boy from Chicago's ghetto.

The bout was billed as an exhibition and there was no official decision. A poll of writers at the ring-votes, two for Dempsey and four called it a draw. The ovation the grinning Kingfish received as he left the ring indicated the crowd felt the same way about it.

Until—
Giving away six and one-half pounds and nearly 16 years, Dempsey was the same scowling, glowering Dempsey who knocked out Jess Willard, Georges Carpentier and Louis Firpo—until we went into action. He came out weaving and bobbing, but slowly, and Levinsky, who radiated confidence from the time he climbed into the ring, met him, took everything the former champion had to offer, and gave back just a little bit more.

Dempsey had plenty on his vicious belts to the body in the first two rounds and the cocky King took a few and then held on. Starting with the third, there was less steam in the punches that used to lay opponents low and Levinsky cut loose and hammered both hands to Dempsey's head and body and built up the margin that convinced writers and spectators. Dempsey showed signs of wear after the first round when he stalked to his corner. After the other three rounds the stalk became a shuffle.

King Not Awed.
Levinsky, springy of leg and in no way awed by the former champion, even went so far in the fourth as to stop almost contemptuously as Dempsey plodded around him seeking, and beckon the Manassa man to come on and fight.

Joe Merka, Aggie pivot man, was high scorer with nine points. No Mustang scored more than three points.

OS ECKHARDT MAY OUTSHINE GREAT SHIRES

By The Associated Press.
Talk about Boston Braves' newcomers and Art Shires immediately comes to mind, but the Braves picked up at least one other youngster they think will add as much, if not more, punch than the great man himself.

He is Oscar Eckhardt, a big outfielder purchased from the San Francisco Missions of the Pacific Coast League. Born in Yorktown, Texas, in 1904, Eckhardt played ball at Texas university and then with Amarillo in 1928. He batted 376 that year and 354 with Seattle of the Coast League in 1929. With Beaumont in 1930 he amassed an average of .379. That took him back to the Coast League with the Missions and he responded with a mark of .369. If he can come within 40 points of that average with the Braves he'll be plenty useful.

He is a right handed batsman, 6 feet, 1 inch tall, and weighing 200 pounds.

Jack Shea Will Not Enter Skate Tourney Today

LAKE PLACID, N. Y., Feb. 19.—(P)—A crack international field was entered in the world's speed skating championships, starting here today, but the absence of Jack Shea and Irving Jaffe left the foreign stars without a chance for adequate revenge for the beating they took in the Olympics.

Texas Woman Is Not Convinced of Hard Times Now

HOUSTON, Feb. 19. (AP)—Hard times now? Mrs. Mary Mathis, 86-year-old Waller, Tex., pioneer thinks, emphatically, not.

At the current "hardships" she smiles, this woman who reared a family of nine children after the death of her husband half a century ago.

"I certainly wouldn't call these hard times," she assures the community. "I'm happy and enjoy life."

"When my husband died my oldest child was 14 and my youngest a baby. Our farm animals were stricken and died. I managed to buy a pair of oxen to make a crop."

"I made a bale of cotton and a little corn that year. Think of having to live on the proceeds of one bale of cotton for a year, especially with nine children!"

"Of course I did a man's work in the field. I would have to wash and iron at night. We had very little to eat, and we had to spin the cloth for the clothing we wore. We had no matches. We were obliged to keep a smoldering fire and if it went out we had to go to a neighbor and borrow fire coals."

"Well, we managed to pull thru it."

Rotary Clubs to Have Conference

MINERALS WELLS, Feb. (AP)—A joint conference of the three Texas districts of Rotary International will be held here May 2 and 3, the first statewide meeting since the participation of Texas into three districts in 1925.

Until 1931 such a meeting would have been prohibited under the international constitution but an amendment was finally adopted allowing districts to hold joint meetings.

Clinton Anderson, first vice president of Rotary International, and Sir Charles Mander, past president for the British Isles, will attend the sessions. Walter Jenwins, song leader at the Chicago and Vienna international conventions, will perform that function here. Twenty-five hundred to 3,500 Rotarians are expected from the 150 Texas clubs.

Tentative arrangements are for each of the three Texas district governors to preside over one general session. They are Dr. John A. Crockett of the forty-seventh district, Tom D. Brooks of the forty-first, and Jess A. McGill of the forty-eighth.

Business meetings for the three districts will be held separately, for nomination of officers and selection of cities to entertain the 1933 conferences, which will be held separately.

Scanning New Books

NEW YORK —Anne Parrish draws characters with a fine pen dipped in satire. In "Loads of Love" she shows a group of people, largely exasperating people, through conversation rather than direct description.

Bessie Plummer, insufferably dull but equipped with energy which drives that dullness like a dust storm into other people's lives, dominates the book like a stupid and complacent fate.

Bessie throws together two sensitive persons, Katherine and Edward, an artist and a novelist and makes their lives miserable with a collection of boring and inquisitive house guests. Bessie's friends are shown with artistry; they are humanly exact, well-meaning and supremely irritating. One reads about them with fascination, and would walk miles to avoid them.

Despite interference, Katherine and Edward fall in love. Whereupon Bessie brings in Jenny, a country girl, who interests Edward in spite of his loyalty to Katherine.

Well Picked Phrases
Anne Parrish's high art lies in her selection of the perfect phrases, trite and shallow, with which Bessie and her friends express themselves. From scenes with the intelligent and cultured characters, the book returns inevitably to Bessie, plied, the "loads of love" that weigh her down, and her unforgettably wrong remarks.

"Life and Andrew Otway," by Neil Bell tells with lingering detail the career of an eccentric promoter who urges from one enterprise to another with restless vitality.

Story of Three Days
In "The Birthday," Samuel Rogers shows from a perspective of three days Katherine Wielder at 19, at 22 and at 24, draws her moods and characters with clarity, and offers a comparison between her life with Albert whom she marries and the life she might have had if she had married Gabriel.

Anne Green with "Marletta" presents a forceful and magnetic girl, and the widespread effects of her influence.

Sir Oliver Lodge in an autobiography, "Past Years," relates the influential experiences of early years and later progress. One of the world's foremost physicists, a scientist who has spent a long life devoted to development of scientific facts, he tells how he became convinced through psychical research that, to him, spiritualism also is fact.

Eight of the 18 representatives in congress from Texas and both senators are former University of Texas students.

Short Selling Is Hurt by Decision

NEW YORK, Feb. 19. (AP)—Bear interests staggered today under the day-old decision of the New York stock exchange that members will not be allowed to "lend" securities purchased on margin without first obtaining the customers' consent in writing. The edict becomes effective April 1.

The decision, announced at the close of yesterday's market, declared stock exchange members shall not "lend, either to themselves as brokers, securities held on margin for customers unless they shall have obtained separate authorization in writing permitting the lending of such securities."

It was a blow at short selling, previously brokers executed general agreements with customers permitting the "loaning" of stocks to Bears so that they could sell short.

NEW YORK, Feb. 19. (AP)—The stock market soon regained its composure and developed quiet today after a bear stampede at the opening gave prices a violent convulsion.

An opening upswing of $1 to $7 a share was quickly cut in half after the bear demand for stocks to cover their short sales had been satisfied. The pace of trading dropped off sharply.

The market started upward again after midday and by early afternoon there were numerous net gains of $1 to $4 a share.

Bears appeared thoroughly frightened for a time over the stock exchange's order last night that after April 1 brokers must obtain specific permission from customers before loaning their stocks to short sellers.

Bestman Kodak, after running up $7 a share to $84.75, fell back to $80.62, then came up to around $82 by early afternoon.

Expectoration Is Issue at Court

Men who come to the courthouse and expect to enjoy a big chew of tobacco while listening to the proceedings in the district court room, had better bring a cuspidor with them or park themselves by one in the courtroom.

Judge E. F. Ritchey was not that blunt and abrupt yesterday when he admonished his hearers not to expectorate (spit is a horrid word) on the floor, but his hearers knew what he meant. He mentioned that the day before he saw impressive results of a tobacco-chewer on the floor. The court pointed out that it was a violation of the law to spit on the floors of the courthouse or to strike matches on the walls.

Ward's Offering Refrigerators at Lowest Prices

Shown for the first time, the new TruKold electric refrigerators on display at Montgomery Ward & Company, are part of the initial shipments introducing this simplified, advanced type of electrical refrigeration to the American public.

It is hailed as the answer to the need for a refrigerator dependably operated by electricity, in the low price field. Evidence of something decidedly new is indicated in the guarantee.

TruKold will be offered to the public only by Ward's. It is made for them by one of the largest and strongest, exclusive manufacturers of refrigerating equipment. "The Ward firm," stated E. M. Conley, manager of the local store, "has remained cautious about entering the field until positive that the right electric refrigerator could be developed to sell at a low price in reach of most homes, and be of such simplified, dependable construction that it could fully justify an unsurpassed guarantee."

"TruKold culminates many years of study and gradual improvement toward the successful design now offered at last," said Mr. Conley. "It has only three moving parts, yet the cooling principle is of the same type as is used in the huge capacity of refrigerators used in the largest homes. Still this cooling unit is so simplified and compact that it can be taken out of the cabinet by any one, and even carried on the back seat of a sedan."

Fenberg's Spurt Is Too Late In Match

Rolling a grand total of 4,211 pins in the 25-game series, Alex Schneider defeated Sam Fenberg for a $50 purse at the Pampa Bowling alleys. The series ended yesterday with Sam winning five of the last six games. The hotel man, however, has a lead of 203 pins to start the closing games and just coasted along.

The jeweler came out with a total of 4,091 pins. Mr. Schneider's average was 168 pins while Mr. Fenberg's was 164 pins. The games were rolled off in four series.

Tonight at 8 o'clock two bowling teams from Borger will meet Pampa teams.

OR 150.75 MILES AN HOUR, IS THE WORLD'S RECORD FOR MOTORCYCLES, MADE NEAR CORK, IRELAND, ON NOVEMBER 6, 1930. THE RECORD FOR STARTING MOTORS IN FASTEST TIME ON DAYS OF FREEZING COLD IS HELD BY PHILLIPS 66 GASOLINE. THE REASON IS THAT THIS SENSATIONAL, PERFORMING GASOLINE IS HONEST HIGH TEST. ITS GRAVITY RIGHT NOW RANGES FROM 65° TO 71.4°.

"HIGHEST TEST"

at the price of ordinary gasoline

Phillips 66 volatility is 69.6 per cent higher than the average of 28 competitive gasolines. Proved by unbiased laboratory tests based on distillation at 212 degrees.

You are missing a lot of motor efficiency and passing up real savings in money, if your tank is not filled with Phillips 66... the greater gasoline.

Remember, this is the motor fuel which built sensational sales in record-breaking time. And still is forging ahead with amazing speed. This outstanding public acceptance is based on one thing—higher test gasoline without higher price! Thus, throughout the winter, you get all summer high test benefits—from snappier pick-up to longer mileage. Plus split-second starting in freezing weather.

Remember, too, that Phillips is the world's largest producer of natural high gravity gasoline—which explains why you pay not a penny extra for extra high test gasoline, when you fill up at the Orange and Black 66 shield.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

International Sunday School Lesson for Feb. 21.

Jesus and the Good Shepherd Scripture Lesson: John 10:1-16.

1. Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that entereth not by the door into the fold of the sheep, but climbeth up some other way, the same is a thief and a robber.

2. But he that entereth in by the door is the shepherd of the sheep. 3. To him the porter openeth; and the sheep hear his voice; and he calleth his own sheep by name, and leadeth them out.

4. When he hath put forth all his own, he goeth before them, and the sheep follow him: for they know his voice.

5. And a stranger will they not follow, but will flee from him; for they know not the voice of strangers.

6. This parable spake Jesus unto them: but they understood not what things they were which he spake unto them.

7. Jesus therefore said unto them again: Verily, verily, I say unto you, I am the door of the sheep.

8. All that came before me are thieves and robbers; but the sheep did not hear them.

9. I am the door; by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved, and shall go in and go out, and shall find pasture.

10. The thief cometh not, but that he may steal, and kill, and destroy; I came that they may have life, and may have it abundantly.

11. I am the good shepherd; the good shepherd layeth down his life for the sheep.

12. He that is a hireling, and not a shepherd, whose own and the sheep are not, beholdeth the wolf coming, and leaveth the sheep, and fleeth, and the wolf snatcheth them, and scattereth them:

13. He fleeth because he is a hireling, and careth not for the sheep.

14. I am the good shepherd; and I know mine own, and mine own know me.

15. Even as the Father knoweth me, and I know the Father; and I lay down my life for the sheep.

16. And other sheep I have, which are not of this fold: them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice; and they shall become one flock, one shepherd.

Golden Text: Jehovah is my shepherd; I shall not want.—Ps. 23:1.

Time—October 11-18, A. D. 29, the third year of Christ's ministry (the feast of tabernacles). December 27 of the same year (the feast of dedication).

Place: Jerusalem.

INTRODUCTION Christian hymnology and art have made large use of this figure of Christ the Shepherd; have carried it out of the pastures of Judea into the universal Christian heart.

Likewise it has transmuted the twenty-third Psalm into the most Christian of all the chapters in the Bible. The poetry of pastoral life, especially as we find it in the Bible, and the unfamiliarity of most of us with sheep and shepherds, have doubtless heightened the fascination of the symbolism.

In "Pilgrim's Progress" Christian says to Formalist and Hypocrite, who come tumbling over the wall on the left hand of the narrow way: "Why came you not in at the gate, which standeth at the beginning of the way? Know you not that it is written that he that cometh not in by the door, but climbeth up some other way, the same is a thief and a robber?"

When Pilgrim met the shepherds feeding their flocks on the Delectable Mountain, he asked, "Whose Delectable Mountains are these? and whose be the sheep that feed upon them?" The shepherd replied: "These mountains are Emmanuel's and they are within sight of his city; and the sheep also are his, and he laid down his life for them."

"Other sheep I have, which are not of this fold," are one of the inscriptions on Livingstone's tombstone in Westminster Abbey.

THE JEHOVAH SHEPHERD In his early manhood our Lord was a carpenter, but he took time to walk in the fields and visit the sheepfolds about Nazareth. And the life of the shepherd with his flock fascinated him. It was the human counterpart of the Shepherd God portrayed in beautiful figure by prophet and psalmist in the Old Testament, as in Psalm 23, the Shepherd Psalm—"The Lord is my Shepherd, I shall not want." Moreover, it expressed his own feeling for the lost sheep of the house of Israel and the other sheep not of that fold. It became in his ministry the frequent vehicle of his own thought, as in this lesson. One recalls the parable of the Lost Sheep, the reference to the multitudes as sheep distressed and scattered and having no shepherd, and the picture of judgment in terms of the shepherd dividing the sheep from the goats.

Jesus, the Door, v. 7. "I am the door of the sheep." The door of access to the sheep, as in vs. 1, 2, and the door of entrance for the sheep, as in v. 9. "At Hebron a few years ago a traveler, noticing that the sheep-folds were mere S-shaped walls, asked a shepherd why they had no doors. He answered, 'I am the door: meaning that at night he lay wrapped in his cloak in the open entrance. At once one understands in that saying what Christ meant when he used it. In the fold of faith he has placed himself between those that are his and all the world. No sheep can wander without passing him, nor can any ravenous beast enter to devour but over his body. Outside are the trying things, the tempting things and dangers; within, all is peace and safety.'"

"Thieves and Robbers," v. 8. "All that came before me are thieves and robbers." Of course Christ did not refer to Moses and the prophets and John the Baptist, the great religious leaders of the Jews of whom he often spoke in praise and whose teachings he himself revered; but to the false religious leaders of his race whom he so bitterly denounced as "scribes, Pharisees, hypocrites." They were oppressors of the widows and the poor, they were blind leaders of the blind, and when our Lord saw the crowds that massed themselves about him, hungry for spiritual food, he had compassion on them as sheep that had no shepherds.

In Jesus-Protection and Freedom Verse 9. "I am the door." The vital necessity of Christ to the sheep, as expressed by this metaphor, is so important that it is repeated. "The door is the crucial point; past the door and you are all right; but turned back at the door and you are all wrong." "By me if any man enter in, he shall be saved, and shall go in and go out, and shall find pasture." "A door, through which you can pass in only one direction is not a door; it is a trap. Inward and outward—both ways the true door invites us. Protection and freedom; safety and struggle; worship and work; life enfolded in peace, and life enlarged in power—this is the two-fold significance of the door."—Rev. Henry van Dyke, D. D.

"He must be safe whom God shuts in. The moment that a poor sinner trusts in Christ, God shuts the door. There he is, and there he shall be, till time shall be no more. He is secure."—C. H. Spurgeon.

"I am the good Shepherd, v. 11. "I am the good shepherd." The true shepherd layeth down his life for the sheep. "To the mind of Christ this shepherd-life is the very shadow of the cross." "In the catacombs of Rome one may still see the rude figures of the Good Shepherd, by which disciples in days of persecution expressed their faith, and love, and trust." "Christ, was both the victim that was offered, herd dividing the sheep from the goats.

BEFORE STORM BROKE AT SENATE HEARING

Calm before the storm, Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley (standing, in center) and members of the Senate Committee on Territories and Insular Affairs are pictured here as they posed at the national capitol. The peaceful scene was broken when Secretary Hurley and Senators Harry E. Hawes of Missouri and William H. King of Utah engaged in bitter controversy over the former's denunciation of bills providing for early Philippine independence. Left to right, seated, are Senators Arthur Vandenburg of Michigan, Hiram Bingham of Connecticut, King, and Edwin S. Brousard of Louisiana. Standing, at left, is Senator Sergio Osmeña, acting president of the Philippine Senate, and at right, Manuel Roxas, Speaker of the House of the Philippine legislature.

"The Lamb of God who taketh away the sins of the world," and also the Priest who made the offering. "Is it not wonderful enough that God should care for men; should lead them, guide them, feed them, descend to call himself their shepherd? But what a noble blessed wonder, that the shepherd should give him his life for his sheep, that the master should give his life for the servant, the good for the bad, the king for those who had rebelled against him, the Creator for his creatures." "Often, in braving dangers for his sheep, he loses his own life. So the Good Shepherd yielded up himself, that we might be saved from our sins and live."

"A Hireling, and Not a Shepherd." Verse 12. "He that is a hireling, and not a shepherd, whose own the sheep are not." Our Lord pictures in these tense phases the religious leaders whose interests in their occupation are entirely selfish, who carry on religious work not because they love man but because they seek their own advancement, or merely for the money they get.

"He fleeth because he is a hireling, and careth not for the sheep." "A man does what he does because he is what he is. A hireling is one who works for pay, and for no other reason. The hireling's heart is wrong, therefore his act is wrong. The Christian man is Christianly because he is a Christian."

"I Know Mine Own," v. 14. "I am the good shepherd." This is the gracious refrain of this passage, which is an anthem of heavenly love. "And I know mine own, and mine own know me." "Christ, the Orientals tell of one brave boy who stood his ground against a whole band of robbers and slew every one of them. He himself, however, fell exhausted from his wounds. They found him dead in the midst of his flock, literally cut in pieces. The sheep mourned for him as if they were human. They refused to be folded anywhere except at the spot where he fell. There a fold was built at the dictation of the saved flock, and there it stood for centuries as the monument to the brave shepherd boy."—President David Gregg.

"Other Sheep I Have," vs. 16. "And other sheep I have, which are not of this fold." The Gentiles, who were children of God "scattered abroad" (John 11:52), outside the fold of the Jewish nation. As Christ said in a vision to Paul (Acts 18:10), "I have much people in this city," referring to that most heathenish city, Corinth. "Them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice." "Must" implies the Father's loving compulsion: "This commandment received I from my Father" (v. 18). "And they shall become one flock, one shepherd." Christ is to break down all barriers—those of jealous classes, and quarrelsome sects, and warring nations. All of Christ's people are to be brought together in one great flock, led by him in the green pastures and still waters of his love.

Gaylor Appeals For Support of Cash Payments

Leading citizens, business groups, civic welfare bodies, Chambers of Commerce and state legislatures throughout the country are falling in line in support of the present movement to secure immediate cash payment of World War adjusted service certificates.

"This was the gist of an appeal voiced by Commander O. K. Gaylor of the local post of Veterans of Foreign Wars to citizens and taxpayers as a whole for their help in securing passage of pending legislation.

"Immediate cash payment of the balance due the World War veteran should have the active support of landlords, merchants, doctors, and others whose ledgers are loaded with slow accounts that have no immediate prospects of being liquidated.

"If the business men of this city will make a survey of these accounts they will discover that a great proportion of their creditors are veterans who are in serious need of funds because of wage reductions and unemployment. The great majority of these veterans are anxious to pay their debts as quickly as possible, but unless there is an immediate return of prosperity or the government sees fit to pay them the balance that is due them on their adjusted service certificates, their hopes are futile.

"Hundreds of veterans in this community would be able to take care of themselves and their families without the need of outside assistance if they are only relieved of the debts with which they are saddled. The government owes nearly every one of these veterans approximately $500, a sum that will enable him to pay off his back rent, his grocery bills, his doctor and others and give him a chance to start afresh on the basis of his present income.

"For this reason, it behooves every business man in the city of Pampa to give this demand for cash payment his immediate support. He can help this movement by writing letters immediately to the representatives and senators from this district, pointing out that the payment of this debt to the veteran will constitute a reconstruction measure that can be put into effect without delay and one that will have a beneficial effect, not only for the veterans but to industry and commerce as well."

A Disturbing Occurrence

by John C. Terry

By HUBBARD KEAVY
HOLLYWOOD—Boy crashes studio gate... finds way into chief executive's office... is discovered there when occupant enters... talks rapidly for five minutes, convincing executive he should have a job...

All that actually happened, two years ago. Blond Carl Erickson, who looks like a sophomore, in his shell-rimmed glasses and shaggy sweater, and with his bulldog pipe, is the hero of this tale. He was a dishwasher when he so dramatically obtained his first job—a dishwasher out of work. Erickson says his act was almost that of a desperate man.

Out of The Kitchen
 The other day, after working for two years as a reader, Erickson submitted a story of his own, a piece titled "Competition." It happened to be the psychological moment, Warners, where Erickson had been reading stories to find screen material, needed a story for Chic Sale.

With the purchase of his story, Erickson was promoted to the writing department, where he will help write the continuity and dialog for Sale's next film. Erickson, only 24, hails from Detroit, Michigan, where he attended university for a year and did newspaper work. He spent his spare time writing poetry and plays.

He hitch-hiked to California, not with the hope of getting "in the movies," but because he disliked snow and cold weather so much.

Knows His Sauces
 The best employment he could find was dishwashing, and he learned a lot about the breakability of cups and saucers during six months as a kitchen mechanic. "I haven't done anything unusual," Erickson says modestly.

LIVED 111 YEARS

EAGLE PASS, Feb. 19, 1932—A man who fought for Emperor Maximilian of Mexico, who lived in Piedras Negras for 70 years, and who completed the almost unbelievable age of 111 years and 7 months, died recently at his home in the neighbor city. He was Pietro Suquet, father of five sons, the oldest of whom is 72 years old and a great grandfather and the youngest of whom is well past middle age.

Suquet came from France with Archduke Ferdinand Joseph, later Maximilian I, in 1860 and fought for the one and only Emperor of Mexico until the latter was finally defeated and executed in 1867. The aged war veteran delighted in recounting scenes of the famous battle at Pueblo in 1862 and of other encounters. He married a Mexican girl after the war was over and settled on the big San Vicente ranch in Coahuila, later buying himself a town house in Piedras Negras where he spent most of his declining years.

Mr. and Mrs. Red Ostrom of Whittensburg visited Mrs. Ostrom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Martin Sunday.

Sister MARY'S KITCHEN

By SISTER MARY, N.E.A. Service Writer

The tang of horseradish has a decided tonic effect at this season of the year and the clever cook uses it in many combinations. Roast beef with its horseradish sauce is a time-honored combination, but there are many other foods that gain much by a suggestion of this pungent root. Baked or broiled fish, veal, pork and ham are vastly improved if served with a horseradish sauce of some variety. The sauce may be hot or cold as preferred. And while horseradish itself has little fuel value, the sauce to which it is added increases the food worth of the meal by many calories—according to its ingredients. With a meat or fish lacking in fat a rich sauce is suitable. Many vegetables and salads gain interest by the addition of a bit of grated horseradish. Just as the discreet use of garlic on a crumb of bread in French dressings adds an indescribable flavor, so a little horseradish is needed to give zest in numerous instances. Mild flavored vegetables such as spinach and green beans become flavorful and savory when seasoned lightly with horseradish. Spinach With Horseradish Cream Two cups cooked and chopped spinach, 1 tablespoon butter, 1/2 cup cream, 1 teaspoon grated horseradish, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1/2 teaspoon salt. Put butter, cream, horseradish and salt in a saucepan. Add prepared spinach and stir over the fire until very hot. Add lemon juice and serve at once. An excellent sauce for steamed fish is made by adding four tablespoons prepared horseradish to two cups of rich cream sauce. The sauce should be made thicker than wanted for service because the acid of the horseradish will thin it. Horseradish cream and horseradish butter are delicious with roast beef, roast veal, baked ham and broiled fish. Horseradish Cream (Cold) One-half cup whipping cream, 4 tablespoons prepared mustard, 1/2 teaspoon sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt. Chill cream and whip until firm. Add remaining ingredients thoroughly chilled and serve. Horseradish Butter One-half cup butter, 2 tablespoons salt, 1/2 teaspoon sugar. Work butter with a fork until creamy. Beat in horseradish mixture and continue beating until thick and white. BREAKFAST: Orange juice, cereal, cream, scrambled eggs, date muffins, milk, coffee. LUNCHEON: Carrot puree, toast sticks, onion sandwiches, dried apricot pudding, grape juice. DINNER: Ham and potatoes en casserole, spinach with horseradish cream, pineapple and celery salad, cottage pudding with maple sauce, milk, coffee. Daily WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON. — One of the things that has made Speaker Jack Garner so popular in the House has been his willingness to let other members take such glory as they find in sponsoring bills.

He thinks too many bills are introduced and that there are too many laws. In 30 years here, he estimates, he has introduced about 60 measures, which is certainly a low record for such a long period. Prominent members are often asked by outside groups to sponsor bills in which they are interested; some congressmen and senators are very keen about doing that. But, although Garner has often been willing to prepare bills he has turned them over to others. In that way he has built up much good will among Democrats less influential than himself.

Represents 500,000 Persons
Representing a district of about 500,000 persons, the speaker, like all other members, sometimes has to introduce pensions and private relief bills. The only bill of greater import which he has put in this session is one which would deed the abandoned military reservation of Camp Eagle Pass to the city of Eagle Pass, which is in the Garner district.

"I think we could repeal about a third of our laws and the country would get along just as well," Garner says. "We have a lot of obsolete laws and there are many activities that could be cut out. Every law we pass means a certain additional expense, directly or indirectly. About 16,000 bills are presented here in the average Congress."

The great volume of bills consists of private measures—for the benefit, that is, of an individual, usually a veteran or his heirs. These are carefully scrutinized, but of course there is a liberal standing policy as regards all veterans.

More than 9000 bills have been introduced in the House already during this session and about 3700 in the Senate. Many of the Senate bills duplicate House bills. There are more public bills this year than ordinarily because so many problems are in the public mind which evoke schemes to solve them by legislation.

The Busy Mr. Crail
Mr. Joe Crail, congressman from Los Angeles, has introduced upwards of 400 bills, more than any other member of Congress. The vast majority are pensions and re-

BULLET IS REMOVED FROM BOY'S HEAD 3 YEARS LATE

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 19. (AP)—Gaudalupe Cabello, 6, carried a bullet in the top of his head for 3 years. Recently a delicate operation was performed and the slug removed.

Gaudalupe was playing in the yard of his home at Seguin in January, 1929, when a small rifle in the hands of a playmate was accidentally discharged. The bullet struck Gaudalupe between the eyes, ranged upward and lodged just under the skull at the top of his head.

For three years the bullet remained there without causing pain. Recently it worked through the bone and was removed by surgeons.

Included in the German post-office department are the government-owned telephone, telegraph, radio and postal bank services.

But of course the country's largest soldiers' home is in Crail's district and many old veterans go to California to spend their last days. And there are about 1,300,000 persons these, pending redistricting, which is a lot of folks to represent.

On the other hand, some representatives have introduced no bills at all, including Busby and Doxey of Texas, Drewry of Virginia, Dietrich and Granata of Illinois, Crump of Tennessee, Stokes of Pennsylvania and Wood of Georgia.

Sam Shortridge of California has been leading the Senate field. He has tossed in 201 bills prior to the holidays. Next were McNary of Oregon, 126; Walsh of Massachusetts, 108; Capper of Kansas, 92; Jones of Washington 86 and McKellar of Tennessee, 77.

Pampa Lions Club May Seek Honor at Lubbock District Convention

Pampa Lions will either enter a candidate for district governor of the West Texas area or will seek the 1933 convention, it was indicated at yesterday's luncheon. A large delegation will attend the Lubbock convention April 11 and 12. Decision on the project for the local club will be decided by a committee composed of John Sturgeon, H. Otto Studer, Ivy E. Duncan, Sherman White, Siler Faulkner, Arthur M. Teed, and Dr. R. A. Webb. A large number of Lions will go to McLean next Tuesday to attend a zone meeting of the organization. Yesterday's program, in charge of Lion A. A. Hyde, featured Scouting. Scouts Berton Doucette, Wilks Chapman, Buck Mundy, and Claude Sullins told of requirements for their Eagle ranking. Principal A. L. Patrick of the Sam Houston school made an impressive talk on what a boy means to a man.

This Barber Won't Cut Woman's Hair

FORT DAVIS, Feb. 19. (AP)—Nick Marsfelder, 50 years a barber, has never cut a woman's hair. And, "by gum," Nick adds, "I never will." Nick, the barber, was born in Bavaria in 1856, came to the United States when a boy and barbered in Austin several years in his early youth. He played the fiddle for country dances as a side line. He moved to Fort Davis in 1881, spent two years in the Texas Rangers, and then took to hair cutting permanently. He has become a stockholder in the Fort Davis State Bank, the largest hotel, and lends money to cattlemen on the side. He owned two of the first automobiles in West Texas, but rides a bicycle most of the time. He has been justice of the peace at Fort Davis almost as long as he has been the town's barber. Overalls and gingham have been established as the official graduating attire for seniors at Martin, Tenn., high school.

Three young ladies put their heads together...

THEY WERE TALKING ABOUT SMOKING . . . whether girls should or should not smoke; but it came out that all three of them had been smoking for a long time. They were asking each other what made a good cigarette. And after discussing one thing and another, they agreed that a cigarette should be milder. They thought also that it should taste just right—that is, not over-sweet, but on the other hand, not bitter—just sweet enough. And everybody, they said, wants anything that is placed in the mouth just as pure as can be. Then they began to think what cigarette, if any, filled this bill; and agreed that CHESTERFIELD was milder—tasted better—and was pure. The girls were satisfied, because "They Satisfy."
