Political Follies of 1932

By RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON.—This campaign year of 1932 presents the greatest show on earth. It has everything. Everything, that is, except rhyme, reason and common sense.

The biggest nation in the world, in the trough of the worst depression in history, again piles into the two-ring circus of American politics...

The Tweedledum party and the Tweedledee party are about to nominate candidates for the presidency for whom there is hardly any enthusiasm even within party ranks.

Neither party will nominate its best man for the presidency. That wouldn't be good politics. Both, however, will write platforms designed to please everybody, which will be promptly forgotten.

Both for Prosperity. Fortunately, both parties are positively guaranteed to bring back prosperity. The politicians have been bringing it back for nearly three years...

There is a quaint theory that the people of the country have something to do with nominating the two presidential candidates, and it is true in about the same sense that the people of New York City have something to do with each of Babe Ruth's home runs.

The "Issues". In November, after a campaign which will cost plenty of money—but not as much as usual—the voters will ballot only indirectly for a president...

Meanwhile, thousands of politicians will be running for various offices solely on such issues as the Massie case, on which they will be found to hold firm, uncompromising opinions.

It'll Be a Good Show. But don't think it isn't going to be a swell show. It is. Everybody in politics is going to be fighting like the devil and a lot of tail feathers are going to be pulled out before it is over.

Large sections of the audience are more than a trifle sore, with rotten tomatoes and bad eggs stored up for good use. That's why the performers are going through their antics with much more than customary fervor.

The White House, the Senate and the House are all at stake. Prohibition—which provides an issue strikingly unpopular chords than any within memory—may receive its real coup de grace.

Far Enough, Not Too Far. As for the Chicago conventions, which are almost upon us, one will have to depend for excitement among the Republicans largely on the fight over the wet platform plank which the party is expected to adopt.

The Democrats nearly always put on a most spectacular program. They have not yet decided whether to nominate Governor Roosevelt on the convention floor or someone else in a smoke-filled room.

The tussling with that problem may provide as exciting a political spectacle as has been seen since 1924. Melodrama may reach its heights. Think of colorful, hard-hitting Al Smith being allied with his old bitter enemies Hearst and McAdoo against his former pal Roosevelt!

And of the probable desperate, canny maneuvering of the powerful eastern bosses as they clash with the more naive, but scrappy and more numerous Roosevelt supporters from the south and west.

Ring up the curtain! The 1932 extravaganza ought to be a wov.

SENTENCED TO PRISON HERE, MITCHELL WILL STUDY LAW

Two decisions were made yesterday by Joe Mitchell, who last week was found guilty of daylight burglary and given a two-year sentence.

First, Joe decided to accept the two-year sentence, and Judge W. R. Ewing sentenced him to two years confinement at the state penitentiary.

Next, Joe decided to take the advice of Judge Ewing and study law. Said Judge Ewing: "I think you did an unusually good job of defending yourself. If you had had a lawyer you'd have gotten 10 years. You surprised me, all right. You ought to be a lawyer yourself."

"I've been thinking that very same thing, your honor, and when I get to the pen, I'm going to study law, and when I come back I'm going to practice law," Mitchell replied.

Mitchell sprang many dramatic surprises upon state attorneys and court room attendants while defending himself. He made a fiery, impassioned and dramatic appeal to the jury after caustically cross-examining state witnesses. His wife was his chief witness. She testified that $5,000 worth of merchandise seized at his home belonged to her and her husband, and W. O. Speagle who is under indictment for daylight burglary.

Mitchell said that he had never been in the courtroom but four times in his life prior to his trial. He is six feet and six inches tall and weighs 200 pounds. Judge Ewing advised him to study English one if the two years while in the pen if he studied law.

THE CUSSWORD PUZZLE

Washington Daybook

By HERBERT PLUMMER

WASHINGTON.—Senator George of Georgia is, perhaps, one of the most zealous guardians of the traditions and time-honored customs of the United States senate.

He was on the supreme bench of his state before coming to the senate some nine years ago. Habits acquired there, in the dignified surroundings peculiar to the judiciary atmosphere, were easily retained when he became a senator.

It is not surprising, therefore, that he should become indignant when a newcomer such as Senator Huey Long of Louisiana attempts to take him and other senators to task.

The "vitality, vigor and breeziness" of Senator Huey, as one senator expresses it, has been getting on the nerves of some of his colleagues a great deal of late—especially since the senate embarked on the task of trying to balance the budget by passing an adequate revenue bill.

Despite his "newness" as a senator, Long has projected himself into the tax debate at every opportunity, and probably has had as much to say on the floor in debates as any one.

George Aroused. Long hasn't been particularly concerned as to whose toes he has tread upon in his locacity, either. That is what riled the sedate, serious senator from Georgia. It was getting around 10 o'clock in a particularly trying night session of the senate when George became really aroused at Long's tactics.

Stern, his pronounced southern accent almost lost in his indignation, he proceeded to denounce the Louisianaian in a way seldom heard on the floor of the senate.

Long Imperturbable. He chided him for what he termed his audacity in attempting to "lecture" senators, and advised him to wait until he had been in the senate long enough to "respect the convictions of his colleagues." He deplored the senator's "lack of courtesy—I was about to say decency."

"He is utterly lacking in the sensibilities which usually characterize the intercourse between men in this body," George shouted in conclusion.

But it didn't seem to faze the senator from Louisiana much. He heard it all and when George concluded, he naively asked him what he had said that was objectionable.

George in futile fashion replied if the senator was "unconscious" of what he had done, that was enough.

OLDTIMERS PROMISE TO BE BACK FOR OTHER REUNIONS — PRAISE IDEA OF OCCASION

"You've started something!" Visitors and local people Saturday enthusiastically looked forward in anticipation of many more Frontier Day celebrations.

Judge W. R. Ewing tried to endorse the idea when it was mentioned in The NEWS, was one of the most enthusiastic after the event closed. He believes that the celebration will become more popular every year and that this beginning was just a suggestion of the possibilities.

Sam Isaacs of Canadian said he felt that Pampa had done something very fine in providing an occasion to which the early settlers can come every year. He pointed out that it was the biggest gathering of pioneers the Panhandle has ever had, and expressed the belief that the oldtimers wished to return every year.

M. A. Green of Electra, who came to this section in 1875 as a buffalo hunter, was the first to register for the celebration and one of the most appreciative of the opportunity to greet old friends he had not seen in many years. He asked The NEWS to convey his sincere thanks for providing the enjoyable occasion.

Mark Huseby, one of the first men to come into the Panhandle of Texas and who still resides here, met friends he had not seen in 40 years. Although late in arriving,

Mr. Huseby had the time of his life and announced that he would return to Pampa every year in the hope of meeting others who did not attend this year.

President's Home Scene of Happy Time for Seniors

CANYON, May 28. (Special)—The outstanding social event of this week in Canyon was the reception given by Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Hill honoring the members of the senior class of the West Texas State Teachers college.

In the receiving line were Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Hill, Regent J. E. Hill and Mrs. Hill of Amarillo, Dr. and Mrs. R. P. Jarrett, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Shirley, Mr. and Mrs. Travis Shaw, Dr. and Mrs. Harris M. Cook, Mrs. Geraldine Green, Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Savage, Miss Jennie C. Ritchie and Mrs. T. V. Reeves.

During the hours from 8 to 11 more than one hundred members of the senior class enjoyed the hospitality of President and Mrs. Hill. The entertaining rooms were made beautiful with decorations of larkspur and roses. In the candle light dining room, refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Condon, Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Goodman, Miss Mary E. Hudspeth and Miss Helen White Moore, assisted by Misses Martha Nell Lang and Marian Hill.

Besides the seniors all members of the college faculty called during the evening.

Edgar Witt Out For Present Post. WACO, May 28. (P)—Edgar Witt of Waco today announced his candidacy for reelection to the office of Lieutenant Governor.

The former senator, had been considering a race for the governorship. He had waited before reaching a definite decision as to his plans until after Governor R. S. Sterling announced for reelection.

"I wish to express my great appreciation to many friends who have urged that I should be a candidate this year for governor of Texas, but I have decided that the wiser course is for me to run for reelection as Lieutenant Governor," Witt said.

"If I am re-elected, I pledge my best efforts to cooperate with whomsoever the people might select as governor and with the legislature in its efforts in behalf of the people for better and more economical government."

Elks Dividing State in Quarters. LAREDO, May 28 (P)—Texas Elks adjourned their annual state convention today after electing Harry E. Holmes of Temple as their new president. He was authorized to select the next convention city.

Other new officers included vice-presidents W. J. Mitchell of Houston, C. E. Smeltz of San Antonio, H. B. Buckalew of Burk Burnett, and Bismark Pope of Laredo; treasurer Meyer J. Rachofsky of Dallas; and secretary H. G. Schultz of Temple.

H. G. Rubenstein of Brenham, F. I. Downs of Temple, and J. K. Huzher of Abilene were appointed to the board of trustees.

The convention voted to divide the state into four districts, instead of the seven that have existed heretofore.

LEFORS MAN HELD. Melvin Boles of Lefors was being held in the county jail last night on a charge of theft filed after a saddle belonging to "Cowboy" McLean of Sun City, Kans., was found in his car yesterday afternoon.

Officers of the sheriff's department made the arrest. An attendant at the rodeo reported he saw the saddle loaded into the car. The raddle was borrowed from McLean for the rodeo.

State Hearing Is Set for June 6

The Texas railway commission will be in session at 10 a. m. June 6 to hear the application of F. C. Henderson, Inc., of Hutchinson county for permission to use Hutchinson county gas for purposes other than light and fuel. The company's refinery has been closed for the last month through a court order. The oil and gas division of the railway commission started procedure, claiming that the refinery was wasting gas.

The area from which the Henderson refinery draws gas produces a sour fuel. The company will ask that it be allowed to use the sour gas for manufacture of casinghead gasoline, it is understood. The railway commission claims that the residue gas, after the gasoline content has been removed, should be used instead of being allowed to go into the air. The contention was upheld by a Travis county jury and a three-judge ruling.

POLITICS at random

BY BYRON PRICE, Chief of Bureau, The Associated Press, Washington

Doubtless the eminent gentleman and scholars who recently appealed to congress for an end to "partisanship" had in mind a very broad and inclusive definition of the word.

Certainly, in the restricted sense of "high adjectives to party," partisanship already has almost disappeared in Washington.

Neither the republican party nor the democratic party has in either senate or house a dependable organization which can lay down a legislative policy with any hope that it will be accepted by the rank and file.

The lack of partisanship, in that sense, is perhaps the most impressive characteristic of the present congress. Tax bills, economy bills, appropriation bills, every kind of important legislation has been torn to tatters even after the leaders of both parties joined in its support.

It could not have been the old-fashioned, blow-in-the-bottle partisanship which Alfred E. Smith, Albert C. Ritchie, Nicholas Murray Butler, Frank O. Lowden and their co-signers of the no-partisanship round-robin were attacking. That was put to rout long ago.

Evil or Blessing. Some conspicuous figures in the national life appear to think that the flight of that kind of partisanship is exactly what is the matter in Washington.

On the day the round-robin was issued Owen D. Young said in an appeal for the democratic victory fund:

"I do not believe that we can do anything really fundamentally constructive unless we maintain intact our political order, which rests upon the effective functions of the bi-party system."

"What means strongly centralized political organization. It means effectively-functioning organizations, without which the certain result is political disintegration, bringing in its wake factional strife and the end of representative government."

Probably it was at "factional strife" or even personal and individual life in politics that the round-robin was directed. If that is true Washington presents a target easy to hit.

Each For Himself. The breakdown of party discipline has gone so far that it is hardly a question of factions and blocs any longer, but almost a case of every man for himself.

Such combinations as do appear are based on the most unexpected considerations of local and sectional and class interest.

In the recent sessions of the senate finance committee, especially its work on the tariff sections of the tax bill, vote-swapping became so notorious that some senators openly spoke of the committee proceedings as having set a new record for log-rolling.

The reasons for this situation are, first, the lack of leadership able to carry a policy through against the demands of self-interest, and, secondly, the worried state of mind of the members concerned almost without exception over their personal political fortunes, and weighted down by the pressure of criticism and even outright abuse which falls upon them daily from their own constituencies.

The primary result in Oregon, showing the probable defeat of Congressman Hawley for re-nomination after 25 years of security in office, is the sort of warning which sends shivers down the backs of all officeholders, high and low.

Self or Party. Self-preservation remains the first law of nature. When personal apprehension comes in the door, party fealty nearly always goes out the window.

There are exceptions, of course, but they are not so numerous today on capitol hill that you could build much of a monument out of them.

The reassuring thing about it is that the country has been through other seasons of political disorganization in the past, and usually has profited by them in the end.

FARMERS ARE INJURED. NACOGDOCHES, May 28 (P)—Tom Rector, 65, and Isom Mills, 59, farmers, were injured seriously today in an automobile accident near Nacogdoches. Rector was injured internally. They were brought to a hospital here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Wade Duncan of Mooreville visited relatives and friends here during Frontier Days.

MANY COLLEGE STUDENTS ARE WELCOMED HOME TO PAMPA

ARTIST AND BUSINESS GIRL

Bettina Hall, prima donna of a current Broadway musical hit, finds time between songs to run a hardware store on Staten Island and a dress shop on Fifth avenue, besides keeping an eye on several lesser ventures.

SONGS FOR SALE; ALSO NAILS, DRESSES; SEE BETTINA HALL, WOMAN OF MANY PROFESSIONS

NEW YORK (AP)—If it is an axiom that artistic folk know nothing about business, then Bettina Hall is a decided exception. The enviable salary checks that she earns as a prima donna go right into the several commercial enterprises in which she holds an interest.

Blue eyed Miss Hall and her equally famous sister, Natalie, are level headed, determined young beauties. They left their Massachusetts home with ambitions to become opera prima donnas, and they did.

Bettina sang two seasons with the American Opera company, during which she sang the role of Carmen more than 20 times. She will tell you, without either a twinkle in her eye or a quiver in her voice that she would rather be a famous Carmen than anything else in the world.

She went into the theater via "The Little Show," then, with Natalie, sang the leads in "Three Little Girls." This season she has been delighting Broadway in Jerome Kern's operetta, "The Cat and the Fiddle."

Pottery Exhibit Will be Brought Here Next Year

June weddings are just around the corner, and Sylvia Sidney of the films offers a tip to brides on what to wear. The gown and veil she shows are of hand-drawn alencon lace. Once more the long train takes its traditional place.

The bridesmaids are clad in frocks of apricot silk with hats of tulle trimmed with velvet flowers of the same color. Lilies of the valley and gardenias form the bride's bouquet while the bridesmaids carry yellow roses.

Thieves Enter Wiseman Home; Clothing Taken

Thieves cutting the screen, entered the back window of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse F. Wiseman Friday evening, taking a small amount of money, a shotgun, dress, two suits, shoes and a flash light, a shaving set, and all except one of Mr. Wiseman's shirts.

Mr. Wiseman, minister of the Church of Christ, and Mrs. Wiseman were in Panhandle attending a revival meeting at the time of the burglary.

Sister MARY'S KITCHEN

BY SISTER MARY NEA Service Writer

During the warm days of summer, gelatine dishes are sure to appeal to most people. Cool and appetizing, jellied concoctions add much to hot weather menus.

In addition to the attractiveness of gelatine combinations we find that gelatine itself is an important and wholesome protein food—that it not only is easily digested but that it assists in the digestion of other foods. It also tends to increase assimilation, making it possible for the body to use the maximum amount of nourishment in all foods.

Food chemists tell us that "gelatine is of animal origin, being prepared from the sinews, connective tissues and fresh bones of the steer by carefully regulated processes of liming, washing and extracting with hot water, filtering and drying." So you see it's a perfectly desirable food. Our grandmothers laboriously prepared for invalids a delicacy known as "calf's foot jelly" which is replaced by the commercial gelatine of today.

There are several brands of gelatine on the market, prepared in granulated form. The average amount needed to jelly one pint—two standard measuring cups—is one tablespoonful. This includes the amount of liquid used to soften and dissolve the gelatine as well as any liquid such as fruit juice, used for flavoring. However, during warm weather or when many extra materials like nuts and fruit are added or if the jelly must be made quickly, an extra half tablespoon of the granulated gelatine can be added for each pint of liquid.

Follow the Directions
No matter what brand of gelatine is used, follow the directions on the package implicitly. Every manufacturer is anxious to do all in his power to make his product one of never-failing success and the instructions accompanying each package are designed for this end. After the first using a few experiments make it possible to suit individual tastes if it's liked stiffer or of more pronounced flavor.

When fruit or other solid material is added to a jelly, it should not be added until the liquid has begun to thicken. This prevents the fruit from rising to the top and being all in one layer. The thickening jelly holds the solid material in suspension and permits it to be distributed evenly throughout the mold.

Gelatine added to a custard-like mixture of egg yolks and milk makes a dessert known as Spanish cream. The custard is made in a

EVANGELIST

C. Ellis McGaughey of Elk City, Okla., will conduct a revival meeting at the Church of Christ beginning today and continuing two weeks.

Mrs. J. S. Wadsworth of Panhandle drove to Pampa yesterday on a shopping trip.

John L. Ruppert of LeFors shopped in Pampa on Saturday.

C. O. Harvey of Roxana made a business trip to the city yesterday.

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST: Sliced fresh pineapple, broiled fresh fish, graham muffins, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON: Veal and macaroni pudding, tomato and celery salad, rhubarb whip, milk, tea.

DINNER: Fried spring chicken, cream gravy, rice timbales, green peas, mixed vegetables, salad, sponge cake filled with strawberry Bavarian cream, milk, coffee.

Eggs are folded into the mixture and the whole is turned into a mold to chill and become firm. Various flavorings can be used or the mold can be lined with fresh fruit before pouring in the cream.

Plain Bavarian cream adds whipped cream with the beaten egg whites to the custard prepared for Spanish cream. Fruit Bavarians substitute fruit juice and pulp for milk in the custard foundation.

Pineapple contains a constituent which prevents gelatine from stiffening, so remember to scald both the fruit and juice of fresh pineapple before using it with gelatine. Canned pineapple, of course, does not need further acidifying.

Any small fruit can be used in place of strawberries in the following recipe. Red raspberries are delicious. The cream can be turned into a mold lined with ladyfingers or sponge cake and served as an ice-box pudding, or it can be molded plain and served with cake or cookies.

Fruit Bavarian Cream
Two cups crushed fruit, 1-2 tablespoons granulated gelatine, 1-2 cup cold water, 1 cup sugar, 2 eggs, 1 cup whipping cream, few grains salt.

Soften gelatine in cold water for five minutes. Beat egg yolks with sugar and add fruit. Dissolve gelatine over hot water and add fruit mixture. Cook over hot water until mixture begins to thicken. Remove at once from heat and cool. Add whites of eggs beaten until stiff and cream whipped until firm with salt. Mix lightly and turn into a mold garnished with whole fruit. Put on ice to chill and become firm.

"POP" FRAZIER AND BAND IN DILEMMA BUT LEARN NUMBERS THAT SUIT RODEO'S DEMANDS

The kind of music that inspires football players is just so much static as far as horses are concerned, according to R. E. (Pop) Frazier, director of Pampa high school's band which furnished music for the rodeo.

"Pop" was instructed the first day by the rodeo judges not to play any football music, but an explanation was withheld by the rodeo bosses. "Pop" got curious and he thought he would experiment. So he turned his orchestra loose on the "Washington & Lee Swing" and you probably saw those horses! They stood, pranced and ran instead of bucking. The steers began bellowing, and the clown showed extreme disgust when "Dear Old Pampa High School" was played.

Thereafter, "Pop" and his musicians played rodeo music. Some of the bucking horses were so used to bucking to the strains of callopie and martial music that they refused to buck. That is why the band played when ever a horse, steer or calf left the shutes.

"Pop" found out that rodeo livestock and rodeo hands like rather gentle marches with the clarinet predominating. Horses also like the saxophone.

Mr. Frazier and his musicians furnished music for every rodeo performance. The band played for both parades.

'GAMEST GIRL IN AIR'—THAT'S AMELIA EARHART, SAY PILOTS

NEW YORK, May 25. (AP)—Ever since she flew the Atlantic with Wilmer Stultz and Lev Gordon in 1928, Amelia Earhart has had her mind on being the first woman to pilot a plane across the ocean alone.

Seasoned fliers call her the gamest girl in the air. They say that when she determines to do a thing there's no stopping her.

Her husband, George Palmer Putnam, the publisher, has said pretty much the same thing on occasions. He was her manager when she made that memorable hop to Wales in the monoplane Friendship, which he had built for her.

Her take-off on the first leg of her trans-Atlantic hop was without ballyhoo, a decisive, surprising and defiant gesture recalling the Lindbergh flight.

Her statement just prior to her 1928 crossing is characteristic of her daring. She said the only stake she hoped to win by the flight was Ever since their marriage, little more than a year ago, she has been their adventures in the air.

Her resemblance to Lindbergh has "the privilege of flying and the pleasure of having a hand in a fine adventure."

Miss Earhart was born in Atchison, Kan., in 1898. She is a college woman, and has been much interested in social welfare work.

Ed Bratford, and the other old cowhands—I don't care nothing about that rodeo. We used to have that every morning before breakfast.

Many Counties Represented
"Yeh, and sometimes three times a day." Mr. Johnson who came from San Jon, N. M., broke in.

Although seven states of the Union were represented at the oldtimers reunion, most of the visitors came from Panhandle counties—Gray, Wheeler, Ochiltree, Childress, Collinsworth, Moore, Potter, Carson, Hall, Wichita, Wilbarger, Roberts, Armstrong, Donley, Hemphill, Lipscomb, Hansford; Roger Mills county, Oklahoma; Randall, Hale, Lubbock, Oldham, Moore, Sherman.

Sam Howell came from Hot Springs, N. M., and Mr. Johnson from San Jon, Mr. and Mrs. Jim (Lengthy) Sutton came from Stacey, Mont., W. A. Schaffer from Niagara Falls, N. Y.; Charles Shaw from Texline, W. T. Melton from Anadarko, Okla., all for the specific purpose of attending the Frontier Days celebration.

Although the oldtimers spent most of the time in the lobby of the Schneider hotel exchanging reminiscences, when rodeo time rolled around most of them were waiting in the stands at Harvester park for the riding, roping, and bulldozing to begin.

Registration Grows
The first day a total of 136 oldtimers registered. The next day 100 came and yesterday 94 registered. Two pioneers of the panhandle were noticeably missing, and both were unable to come.

Among the former Texas Rangers who met here last week were F. W. Hoffer of Miami, W. T. Melton of Anadarko, and Charles Shaw of Texline. Mr. Hoffer and Mr. Shaw had not met in 40 years.

Only Three Women
J. L. (Jim) Stroop remembered that when he came here in 1881 there were only three women in the country.

tana, two months in order to "take in" Frontier Days. Mr. Sutton was born in Louisiana, Dec. 26, 1885. At the age of five years he moved in 1890 with his parents to Grayson county, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Sutton will return to Montana next week. "Are we coming back next year?" You ask me that—huh, you couldn't keep us away," he declared.

The Frontier Days celebration grew out of a suggestion in the "Pampa" column of the NEWS and was adopted as a project of the recently organized Junior chamber of commerce. The senior chamber offered its assistance immediately.

finance corporation act, sponsored by the president, could logically be referred to as a "pork barrel."

The speaker added that Mr. Hoover's campaign speeches in 1928 urging a billion dollar building program, illustrates the utter inconsistency of the president's present attitude.

Garner issued his statement shortly after majority leader Rainey made public a summary of the revised bill which increased the total from $2,146,874,468 to $2,309,084,337 or by $162,209,869.

A tax of one fourth of a cent a gallon on gasoline, estimated by the speaker to yield $42,500,000, would be sufficient, he said, to meet the interest and sinking fund requirements of bonds to be issued by the treasury under existing law to finance the public building program.

Mary McCormick Is Domesticated—And Very Happy

AMARILLO, May 28. (AP)—Mary McCormick, operatic soprano and native of Amarillo, is so much in love with her husband, Prince Serge Mdivani, that she "would not be unhappy if I never made another appearance," she said on a visit here.

Miss McCormick came to Amarillo, unheralded, for a visit with her father, J. H. Harris. Only the closest friends of the family knew she was in the city until she was ready to depart.

The famous star said she was willing to trade the plaudits of the world for domesticity, "for you see," she said, "my husband is becoming terribly domesticated."

Miss McCormick said recent salary cuts accepted by some of the world's best singers darkened the prospects for profitable concert appearances in the near future.
