Club at McLean Meets in Home Of Mrs. Mitchell

McLEAN, Oct. 6.—Mrs. L. N. Mitchell was hostess to the McLean Home Demonstration club when it met in her country home Friday for a demonstration on salads by Mrs. Julia E. Kelley, county agent.

"Salads make meals more appetizing, and should be used daily instead of only as a company dish as they contain minerals and vitamins," Mrs. Kelley told the group.

In her demonstration Mrs. Kelley made salads by combining shredded lettuce, cabbage, and cucumber with carrots and hard-boiled eggs; spinach, raw carrots, beef, green peppers, and onions; halved peaches and pears filled with raisins, cottage cheese, and nuts; lettuce rolls made by the same recipe as above and rolled in a large lettuce leaf, and all the remaining ingredients were made into a combination salad.

After lunch Mrs. Kelley gave a lecture on table manners and demonstrated a light blue cover.

"A warm cover must be light and fluffy, as a hard twisted blanket and closely quilted quilts are not warm," she said.

A short business session was conducted by Mrs. C. O. Goodman, vice president, following the discussion by Mrs. Kelley.

Recruits for the Royal Canadian Mounted Police are trained at Regina, Saskatchewan.

The salt content in Great Salt Lake has nearly reached saturation point.

Modern Menus

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX

Sooner or later every household has an invalid. A sick child is difficult to feed, a sick husband even more so. But it is all part of family life and must be done with skill and patience. Keep the invalid happy—feed him regularly, cheerfully, and make his food so attractive that he cannot resist it.

When the doctor says, "Give him a liquid diet" he means fruit juices of all kinds, water ices and broths. The fruit juices play a large part and should be varied. Orange juice mixed with grapefruit juice and a little fresh lime juice, tomato juice with grapefruit juice, beet and grapefruit juice—the list is endless. Try varieties that he never thought of himself—he will recover his health far quicker than you do.

A "soft diet," as ordered by the doctor, means soft cooked eggs, stewed fruits, fruit juices, cooked cereals, baked potatoes, creamed soups, custards, cornstarch puddings, ice cream, tea, coffee or milk.

In making out menus for a soft diet, contrast consistencies of food as much as possible so that the trays won't seem dull and tasteless. Here is a typical soft diet worked out for an entire day:

BREAKFAST: orange juice, cream of wheat, dry toast, coffee or milk, LUNCHEON: consommé with rice, baked potato, dry toast, fruit, ice cream, tea or milk. SUPPER: tomato bisque, poached eggs on toast, stewed apricots, tea or milk.

When the doctor says your patient may have a light diet, he means that you may serve everything the family eats except meat. When he orders a full or general diet for the patient, he means that things are coming along and that the patient may eat everything the family eats except pork and veal.

In serving food to invalids, always give small quantities. Serve more if children, a late newspaper for the adult invalid—all these things will help you accomplish your purpose. And that purpose is to nourish your patient back to vigorous health.

U. S. ANNUAL FIRE LOSS IS 263 MILLIONS

Fire gave the United States a $263,000,000 ash pile last year. Every year 7,000 persons, half of them children, are killed in burning homes. A third of America's annual fires consume dwellings.

Talks are being made this week in Pampa schools and clubs in connection with National Fire Prevention week, Oct. 3-9.

Ben White, chief of Pampa's fire department, today pointed out four ways whereby fire losses in private dwellings can be lessened:

Watch Wiring
Be sure floor lamps and extension cords are repaired. Disconnect electric appliances not in use. Use only appliances approved by testing bureaus.

Clean Safety
Never use gasoline or naphtha for home garment cleaning. Never start a fire with kerosene or gasoline. If you must keep such fluids, put them in safety cans, outdoors.

Keep Oil Outside
Set oily rags in open air, burn oily rags. Don't store inflammable materials in closets. Keep gas cocks closed; never look for gas leaks with a flame.

Smoke Carefully
Extinguish all cigar and cigarette butts in metal trays. Keep matches in metal containers, out of reach of the children. Don't smoke in bed.

The Capital Jigsaw

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, Oct. 6 (AP)—The spectre of another controversy involving race track betting is seen by a member of the Senate.

Opponents of the bill, he thinks, might attempt to attack a wagering-legalization amendment to an omnibus tax bill, which many believe the most likely form of legislation.

"The purpose would be, not to legalize race track betting, but to kill taxes," said the Senator. "If such an amendment were tacked on, the bill would be killed."

A tax on pari-mutuel wagering already has been proposed in a separate bill by Rep. Jo Ed Winfree of Houston.

Senator Weaver Moore of Houston was seen with heels on his desk in the Senate Chamber reading a book. The Senate had recessed for two days.

"What will the Senate do tomorrow?" he was asked.

"Recess or adjourn," said Moore. "What next week?"

"Same thing, probably."

"Then he thought a moment."

"After all," he queried, "What else can it do?"

"The Senate could not consider tax legislation, the purpose of the session, until the House passed a bill. There was no investigation in sight. In fact, there was nothing to do."

Nothing to do but recess or adjourn.

Pig-raising is a hobby with Rep. J. Bryan Bradbury of Abilene, who led the successful fight at the last session to repeal the race track betting law.

He has 16 pigs now and expects more. Several will be ready for market within a few weeks.

BILL ENDANGERS ROAD FUND, SAYS TARWATER

AUSTIN, Oct. 6 (AP)—Rep. A. B. Tarwater of Plainview announced today the federal bureau of public roads had ruled diversion of a road bond redemption funds to the general fund would deprive Texas of one-third of its federal aid for highway construction.

Tarwater, opponent of a bill before the legislature proposing the transfer, exhibited a letter from T. H. McDonald, chief of the federal bureau, stating enactment of the measure would constitute diversion of gasoline tax revenue to other than highway purposes within the meaning of the Hayden-Cartwright act.

Tarwater claimed enactment of the diversion bill would deprive the state of $4,013,534 in regular and extraordinary federal aid now available.

He said he would insist any balance in the bond redemption fund be applied to construction, particularly farm-to-market roads.

BISHOP PLEADS FOR WORLD UNDERSTANDING

CINCINNATI, Oct. 6 (AP)—The church's role in the social order where "men and women fight for their very bread" was thrust upon the thousands of delegates at the opening of the triennial convention of the Protestant Episcopal church here today.

The Rt. Rev. Edward L. Parsons, Bishop of California, pleaded for "intelligent sympathy and understanding . . . of the problems which beset us today."

His sermon came in the midst of a controversy over the church league for industrial democracy, which is seeking to put the church closer to the working man. He is one of the league leaders.

Parsons admitted. He doesn't regard that as anything to be ashamed of. "Pigs is pigs," he said, "and I'm raising 'em for fun. I like to tinker with them."

He mused. Furious debate over taxes was going on. He had been away from home several days. "For all I know," he said, "that sow may have had little ones already."

The third day of a legislative session is not a suitable time to ask an appropriation for an investigating committee.

Rep. Leland Johnson of Waxahachie, chairman of a committee which has investigated electrolytic institutions, knows that now. Johnson asked the House for $1,000 to carry on work of the committee and was promptly turned down. He plans to repeat the request later for his heart is up the inquiry and he thinks there is much which ought to be disclosed.

Had he made the request in the last 24 hours of a session it would have had much better chance for approval. Then members are restless and want to go home.

Almost anything has a chance of being approved at such a time. Especially investigations.

Before thronging spectators, German and foreign, who filled the stands, tanks and infantry put on the spectacularly realistic sham battle seen above, in which the most modern methods of warfare were demonstrated.

ARKANSAS MAGNATE WILL BUILD SAKE CAKE PLANT

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 5 (AP)—Development of the pulp-paper industry in Arkansas will bring the state a $1,500,000 salt cake plant, Harvey C. Couch, Pine Bluff utilities executive, announced here.

Couch, refusing to go into details, said the plant would be built "within less than 150 miles from Little Rock." He said salt cake, made from salt and sulphate, was used by pulp mills in making paper. There are two pulp mills in South Arkansas, at Crossett and Camden. Another large mill is being constructed south of the Arkansas border near Springhill, La.

PUTRID FOOD BANNED ON LONGHORN CAMPUS

AUSTIN, Oct. 6 (AP)—The state health department had taken action today against two cafes near the University of Texas campus where, according to the charges, adulterated and putrid food was offered for sale.

In one place, dead crickets, flies and bugs were found in food. In another place the restaurateur paid a fine for having an employ-who did not have a health certificate. In an investigation prompted by a student newspaper, it was found that only one out of 40 places sterilized their dishes.

FAILURES

During the current "breathing spell" the public should make every attempt to absorb the pro and con arguments relative to national problems with which Congress will have to deal next session.

The capital gains tax, which taxes capital gain but does not allow deductions for capital losses, accentuates fluctuations in the security markets. The undistributed earnings tax effectively prevents corporations—big and little—from accumulating reserve funds for the liquidation of debts, and plant improvements.

THE PRICE OF LIBERTY

Henry R. Luce, publisher of Time Magazine, recently said: "Unless the facts, the significant facts, the difficult, complicated facts of industry and finance and politics and technology are put before the people, the people cannot govern themselves in an industrial society."

Mr. Luce is correct. Industry, labor and the public must know the facts and cooperate with each other in the job of solving mutual problems of government and industry.

The world drift toward the totalitarian state is ominously clear. Country after country has been engulfed. The people of the United States must be saved from the deadening hand of such collectivism by continuously informing them of its dangers to our independent form of government.

A free press, free speech and the widest information are indispensable safeguards.

Washington Letter

WASHINGTON—A news writer in Moscow sends to America a dispatch beginning: "The new Russia is a land of inconsistencies, contrasts and strange events."

The President dedicates a new $75,000,000 dam, part of whose purpose is to irrigate new land and bring it into rich production. In Washington, the President's secretary of agriculture advances a plan to keep the country from raising too much farm produce.

Southern states are fighting the proposed wage and hour bill, but New England states are hopefully urging its passage because they expect it to increase costs of mill labor in Southern states. Southern states then would lose the advantage of cheap labor by which in recent years they have been driving New England's cotton mills out of business.

Some liberal senators denounce the President for his proposal to pipe the Supreme Court full of new blood, but clamor to climb upon his train when he journeys across the country to "feel the pulse" of his populace.

The federal government pays out millions daily for unemployment relief, but demand for cotton pickers is so great that Georgia farmers have trouble finding and keeping enough colored help.

The nation pleads for peace and disarmament and at the same time lays the keels of two whopping $60,000,000 battleships, multiplies its cruiser and submarine strength and proposes subsidies for fast tankers of sufficient speed to keep abreast of the oil burning battle fleet on distant missions.

The government complains that heavy construction industries, particularly large scale building, are lagging, and yet the federal reserve system keeps interest rates so low that bankers complain they cannot safely lend money at such rates on the "slow" paper involved in financing the building industry.

The department of justice and the federal trade commission, with varying spurts of activity, fight private monopolies, yet congress

This go to church campaign that is budding into full bloom in Pampa, bids fair to get almost everybody into the pews on Sunday, Oct. 17. It's a splendid movement, and it will succeed in its objective.

Most of us are too lax in our fidelity to the Church. We figure that if we make our financial contributions everything is fine and like to think that we are doing our share. However, that's not the case.

We say this with the greatest of ease, because we, personally, fall within that category. Perhaps the good rector of our church will be able to snap us out of the lethargy during the go-to-church campaign.

enacts a bill permitting manufacturers to fix prices on their products. And price-fixing is the principal monopolistic evil against which the two federal agencies fight.

The state department seeks to keep the country strictly neutral in the Oriental conflict, yet sanctions a "safety first" policy under which government-owned ships may not carry munitions or military supplies to the belligerents. The act chokes off supplies to China, which has no ships, but allows Japan, which has plenty of ships, to buy American munitions and airplanes with which to wallop the Chinese.

WHITE SOX WILL SEEK NINTH WIN OVER CUBS

CHICAGO, Oct. 6 (AP)—Chicago's White Sox, the American League's third-place club, goes back to work today on its most prized winning streak—an unfinished run of nine straight victories over the second-place National League Cubs in city series baseball strife.

The first two games of the series were up for decision at Comiskey park, home of the defending city champions. The next three will be played at Wrigley field, returning to Comiskey park if the series goes the limit of seven games.

CIO CANDIDATE GOES INTO DETROIT RUNOFF

DETROIT, Oct. 6 (AP)—The Committee for Industrial Organization, successful in nominating its candidates for mayor and city councilmen in yesterday's non-partisan primary, claimed a "substantial victory" today in its first major political campaign. CIO candidates did not lead the field, but its mayoralty candidate, Patrick H. O'Brien, former democratic attorney general of the state, beat John W. Smith, present head of the city council who was endorsed by the American Federation of Labor, Richard W. Reading, present city clerk, was high man in the field of five for the mayoralty nomination and will contest with O'Brien in the November 2 election.

Reading holds a withdrawal card from the Typographical union. Cut of nearly 327,000 votes, the largest number ever cast in a Detroit city primary. Reading received 137,984; O'Brien 99,129 and Smith 68,827. Two other candidates divided the remainder of the mayoralty votes; Clarence J. McLeod, former Republican congressman, with 19,542, and Ralph A. Philbrook, an attorney, with 1,251.

Not only did the CIO succeed in nominating O'Brien but it placed its five candidates for the city council among the 19 who will run for the nine council seats in the November election.

BRITISH PEACE STAND IN FAR EAST STIFFENS

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Oct. 6 (AP)—Britain's ministers today weighed emergency measures to curb the growing danger of world war on either side of the earth, with President Roosevelt's call for action against military aggression interpreted as inviting British cooperation in the far east.

Sentiment plainly was opposed to the possibility of a lone-handed fight against Japanese militarism but informed persons believed the cabinet, with United States assistance, might adopt a sterner attitude in the Sino-Japanese war.

What the cabinet sought was a magic formula to quarantine the twin "contagions" of war—as Mr. Roosevelt put it in his Chicago address—both in European Spain and on the Asiatic continent.

Mr. Roosevelt's virtual termination of the United States' policy of diplomatic isolationism today indicated the possible turning point, British observers believed.

Premier Mussolini's bold new aerial intervention in Spain, through a force of ace aerial bombers including his second son, and reports that the Italian Black Army brigade had reappeared in the northeastern Spanish fighting presented a grave threat to British and French efforts to localize Spain's war.

At the same time the cabinet had before it the implications of a pronouncement in Mussolini's Milan newspaper that the world was going fascist, with pointed references to the Orient and South America, and a renewal of pirate submarine activity in the Mediterranean.

Usually reliably informed sources asserted the cabinet had no plans to offer at present if Mussolini flatly refused or gave hedging approval to the projected British-French-Italian talks on intervention in Spain.

FAMOUS PASTOR PRAISES FOR'S PEACE SPEECH

SHANGHAI, Oct. 6 (AP)—Dr. Alfred Sze, former Chinese ambassador to Washington, in a broadcast to the United States today urged an American boycott of Japan to aid China in the undeclared Sino-Japanese war.

"If you boycott Japan," Dr. Sze said, "you will find you have contributed to the greatest single step of progress in history. You will prove that might is not right unless that might is backed by right."

Speaking on behalf of the American colony, the Rev. Emory Luccock, of Wooster, Ohio, pastor of the American Community church, eulogized President Roosevelt's Chicago speech against aggressor nations.

In Canton, south China metropolis, groups of foreigners organized a "Canton committee for justice to China."

ORCUTT ELIMINATED IN WOMEN'S GOLF TOURNEY

MEMPHIS Tenn. Oct. 6 (AP)—Thirty-two aspirants to the National Women's Golf title headed today into two rounds of matches from which only eight can emerge unbeaten.

Only Maureen Orcutt Haworth, N. J. veteran and 1936 finalist, was missing from the list of favorites who lined up for the morning matches.

Ellie was the first round victim of Mrs. George Brantley of Jacksonville, Fla. who met the medalist, Mrs. Estelle Law on Page of Greensboro, N. C. today.

Mrs. Page eliminated Marian Leachman of Berkeley Calif. 3 and 2 yesterday.

There was a possibility Marion Miley, highly-rated entrant from Cincinnati, would be unable to continue competition. She defeated Virginia Fox of Hershey, Pa. 6 and 4 yesterday but entered a hospital a few hours later suffering from a stomach ailment.

Atlanta's Dorothy Kirby, southern champion, whose sub-par firing yesterday eliminated Mrs. Gaither Hatcher of Memphis, matched shots with long-knocking Mrs. Dan Chandler of Dallas.

The luck of the draw pitted two entrants today in a battle of the Jamesons—Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Texas and Mrs. Jane Cotheran Jameson of Greenville, S. C.

LONG-RANGE PROGRAM FOR JOBLESS STUDIED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—President Roosevelt may recommend to Congress a long-range program for solving the unemployment problem, administration advisers said today.

Such a program, they said, would be based on results of the forthcoming unemployment census and would be a departure from the present year-to-year relief plans.

Spokesmen for industry, labor and agriculture may be called on to help draft a future program, it was said. Under tentative suggestions, federal spending for unemployment would be geared directly to the number of jobs provided by private industry.

NIGHT CLUB BARON AT GALVESTON ARRESTED

GALVESTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—Only three of the 19 persons in this area sought on federal narcotic indictments in New York were at large today.

Sixteen were arrested yesterday in Houston and Galveston. Many of them including Sam Maceo, night club baron, had been admitted to bond on a charge of conspiracy to violate the import and export acts, the tariff act and the Harrison narcotic act.

George John, assistant United States district attorney at Houston, said he will ask removal of the defendants to New York, where indictments against 74 persons have been returned.

What Two Things Happen When You Are Constipated?

When you are constipated two things happen. FIRST: Waste sores up the bowels and press on nerves in the digestive tract. This nerve pressure causes headaches, a dull, lazy feeling, listless, loss of appetite and dizziness. SECOND: Partly digested food starts to decay, forming GAS, bringing on sour stomach (acid indigestion), and heartburn, bloating you up until you sometimes gasp for breath.

Then you spend many miserable days. You can't eat. You can't sleep. Your stomach is sour. You feel tired out, grouchy and miserable.

To get the complete relief you seek you must do TWO things. 1. You must relieve the GAS. 2. You must clear the bowels and GET THAT PRESSURE OFF THE NERVES.

As soon as offending wastes are washed out you feel marvellously refreshed, blues vanish, the world looks bright again.

There is only one product on the market that gives you the double action you need. It is ADELERKA. This efficient, carminative cathartic relieves that awful GAS at once. It often removes bowel congestion in half an hour. No waiting for overstimulated relief. Adierka acts on the stomach and both bowels. Ordinary laxatives act on the lower bowel only.

Adierka has been recommended by many doctors and druggists for 35 years. No gripping, no after effects. Just QUICK relief. Try Adierka today. You'll say you have never used such an efficient intestinal cleanser.

FORT WORTH WINS DIXIE SERIES WITH 9-0 VICTORY OVER TRAVELERS

CATS CAPTURE TITLE AFTER SEVEN YEARS

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT
FORT WORTH, Oct. 6 (AP)—The Dixie series baseball pennant flattered atop a familiar flagpole today—back in Fort Worth for the first time in seven years but for the seventh time since the classic started 17 years ago.

Almost as they pleased Fort Worth's Panthers, Texas league titlists, took an abbreviated series from Little Rock's Travelers, Southern Association champions, winding up last night with a 9-0 victory that gave them a four-to-one edge in games.

For the second time Ed Selway, husky young right hander who didn't find himself until late season, shut out the Travelers. It also marked a run of 39 innings in which he allowed but one earned run—and only one other unearned run.

League officials announced 34,622 fans paid their way to see the five games, two of which were played in Little Rock. Last night's attendance fell off to 5,311.

Back in 1920 the series got off to an unofficial start when Fort Worth, Texas league winners, challenged Little Rock in a post-season series. It became an official, annual affair after that and Fort Worth, under the crafty guidance of Jackie Atz, battled in every series through 1925. They lost only once, to Mobile in 1922.

A tremendous roar went up last night when Atz hobbled in on a cane and watched the Cats bring in another flag. He has given up active managerial duties.

Four shutouts were registered in the series. Little Rock blasting the Cats in the opener, 10-0; Fort Worth taking the second, 3-0; the third by a similar count; the fourth by 3-2, and last night's by 9-0.

Three Little Rock hurriers tried vainly to stop Fort Worth in the finale. Bob Porter starting and giving way to Kola Sharpe and Lee Rogers in the late innings. Moore's walk, Greenberg's sacrifice and McCleod's single scored the first Cat tally in the second while a hit batsman, Shelley's double and Stebbins' single brought in the fifth inning run.

Les Mallon singled Moore home after the latter opened with a triple in the sixth.

Two walks, three singles and a hit batsman accounted for Fort Worth runs in the seventh and two singles and two errors put across the final two runs in the eighth.

Eyston's Racing Monster Arrives At Salt Flats

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah, Oct. 6 (AP)—The automobile world's most ponderous speedster—believed capable of 350 miles per hour—was unveiled here today.

One glimpse at the powerhouse on wheels brought gasps of astonishment and admiration from old-timers in this Utah-Nevada border district, where racing creations are common-place.

In this huge machine with eight wheels—the front tandem style—Captain George E. T. Eyston, of London expects to shatter the world land speed record of 301.12 m. p. h. which his compatriot, Sir Malcolm Campbell, wrote into the books on this saline course two years ago.

Eyston's nine mechanics, aided by a score of bystanders, pushed the twin-motored, 24 cylinder car 200 yards to a garage where the bespectacled Englishman will tune it up for trial runs over the week-end.

If the machine responds, then he'll go after the record, probably next week.

EDWARD, WALLIS TO SURVEY GERMAN LABOR

PARIS, Oct. 6 (AP)—A close friend of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor said today the couple planned to leave for Germany Sunday on the first stage of the survey of labor problems which will take them to the United States.

It was understood the former British monarch and his American-born bride would stay briefly in the Reich, then return to Paris to prepare for the more extensive study in the United States.

Specific plans for the American trip have not been arranged.

1930	McCarthy	Beat Chicago 4-2

Sports Roundup

NEW YORK, Oct. 6 (AP)—Plenty of deals being cooked up here as the baseball clans gather... Looks like the biggest winter turnover in years... One choice tidbit is that Cincinnati is out to get Bill McKechnie of the Bees as manager, with Gabby Hartnett and Jimmy Wilson also in the running... Just a question of whether the Reds can bag anyone of the trio... Reds to rebuild from ground up... Eleven of this year's team re-signed, but none of the others has been approached... Latter list includes such big shots as Ernie Lombardi, Gene Schott and Paul Derringer... If they go, who will take their places?

One burned up gent is Phillip K. Wrigley, owner of the Cubs... He didn't bother to stay home and root for his team in the city series against the White Sox... Phillip K. can't understand why the Cubs haven't come through this year and last, and promises Chicago fans more new faces than they can count in 1938... Dodgers topped off another wild season with a wild trade... Baseball men can't feature giving four players, including Bucher and Cooney for Leo Durocher... Leo may be past his prime as a player, but if the Dodgers are looking for a 1939 manager, maybe the trade wasn't such a bum one, at that.

Judge Landis' fresh hair cut is the talk of the hotel lobbies... Mickey Cochrane, back from Europe and looking very fit, got the glad hand on all sides... So did John A. Heydler, former president of the National League, who is turning out to be quite a golfer... Joe Gould, the fight manager, was spotted introducing Joe DiMaggio to Cliff Melton in the lobby of the hotel where all three live... A like dealer from Wichita, Kan., is here ready to give a brand new set to the first guy smacking out a homer... Joe Engel, the Chattanooga pooh bah, is looking for a manager.

Outside of the cooler weather, the only major change legislators found in Austin when they returned to argue taxes was lines of parking meters in the business area. The meters are on 90-day trial, with debate waxing war whether they should be made a fixture.

The "take" of the devices during the first 17 days of operation averaged $169.30 a day. The highest was $198.46 and the lowest $144.53.

It was not the meters but another matter for which the city of Austin was responsible which most "rired" one house member who prefers to remain anonymous.

The city forbids leaving automobiles on the streets overnight and this representative was the victim of that ordinance. He says he can't get a garage within a block of his house, and no danger exists of an accident in front of it because it is a boulevard and cars do not meet there. Nevertheless, he had to fork over $3.00.

City authorities maintain the ordinance is necessary to permit street sweeping.

Appointment of only three speaker-ship candidates on the five-member committee to escort the governor to the Rostrum when he delivered his message to the legislature

The senate had about as little to do in the first few days of the tax session as a reporter waiting for a jury to return a verdict. The Constitution provides all revenue measures must originate in the house. Senators could not be criticized for adjourning from Tuesday to Thursday the first week because there was nothing before them.

Fifteen Americans go abroad for each European coming to America.

Four Pampa school football teams will be in action this week when the Junior High Pee Wees clash with Panhandle Junior High here at 4:15 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, the Junior High Reapers invade Buchanan in Amarillo Friday afternoon, the Guerrillas go to Kelton Friday afternoon and the Harvesters entertain Greenville here Friday night.

Tomorrow's game which will be free will be the first of the season for the Pee Wees, seventh grade boys, who are coached by W. E. Leggett, formerly of Hedley. The youngsters will average less than 100 pounds but what they lack in size they make up in spirit and desire to be future Harvesters.

The little fellows have already mastered eight plays, and every one of them a Harvester play, too. They have learned to run interference, block and tackle like little demons. Coach Leggett is bringing them along slowly, teaching them fundamentals with enough plays mixed in to keep things interesting.

Panhandle will have a slightly larger eleven, the team being composed of both seventh and eighth grade students. In a wild and woolly session yesterday afternoon, the little Pee Wees showed a "the bigger they come the harder they fall" spirit as they worked out for their first game of the season.

The probable Pee Wee starting lineup will be:

James Mitchell and Glyn Martin, ends; Calvin Shaw and Earl Snyder, tackles; Ralph Porter and Bill Arthur, guards; Leslie Burge, center; Joe Moses, quarter; Kenneth Lard, fullback; Les Sanders, halves; Sherman Tillery, full.

The Reapers will go to Amarillo for their third conference battle. Last week they lost a 6 to 0 battle to Central Junior High in Amarillo. Buchanan held Borger's Bull Pups to a 13 to 13 tie on the same afternoon.

Coach Bob Curry and his Guerrillas will go to Kelton for a game with the big Kelton eleven on Friday afternoon. Last year the Guerrillas won a 12 to 6 game from Kelton here.

FEDERAL CARE OF SICK ASKED BY BROTHERHOOD

DENVER, Oct. 6 (AP)—Federal care of the sick as a part of the social security program was asked by the Brotherhood of Painters in a resolution prepared for introduction today at the American Federation of Labor convention.

Federation economists said a study of medical costs for families with incomes between $1,200 and $2,000 a year showed 218 of 1,000 families spent more than $100 for doctors' bills.

"Practically no family with an income of less than $5,000 could bear the costs of a major illness without undergoing hardships," a report of these economists said.

They pointed out one of two methods for removing these "hardships" could be adopted:

(1) Health insurance, with employers, employees or government (or all three) paying the premiums. This insurance would pay benefits during illness.

(2) placing all hospitals, clinics and dispensaries in the government's hands, with all physicians and surgeons on the government payroll.

The resolutions committee, it was learned, probably will propose a government study of health insurance and socialized medicine for the social security program.

June, 1938, will be observed as the centenary of the establishment of "New Sweden" in the Delaware valley.

GAZZELL AND VIC WEBBER TO WRESTLE

Change in time and price of ringside seats for wrestling matches at the Pampa Athletic arena on Monday night was announced today by Promoter Cliff B. Chambers. During the fall and winter months the first preliminary will be staged at 8 o'clock instead of 8:30 and the price of ringside seats will be 65 cents, tax paid, instead of 77 cents.

And for Monday night, Promoter Chambers has decided to give Bill Gazzell of Amarillo a lesson in the main event. Gazzell turned bad boy the last couple of weeks and made wise cracks about the "punks" he was being given to wrestle. Then came Mr. Webber, a real favorite here, and said he would teach Amello's Mr. Gazzell his place was not on a main event.

Big Bad Frank Wolff, who subdued Buck Lipscomb Monday night in a great battle, asked for a semi-final so he has been given Bob Cummings who doesn't mind whether they come rough, tough or big, or even all at the same time.

Opening the card, at 8 o'clock, will be Tex Watkins and Don Rainey. His lordship, Mr. Watkins, has been resting for a few weeks and therefore has to start at the bottom and work up on the card.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6 (AP)—Stalemate for the second year in a row by New York's pennant monopoly, 11 major league clubs have drafted 16 minor league players in preparation for the pursuit of the Yankees and Giants in 1938.

The Giants and Yankees with more important business at hand, didn't get a man at last night's draft meeting. The Boston Bees drafted three and the Phillies, Athletics and White Sox two each. The Detroit Tigers and Chicago Cubs took one apiece.

Some of the players are veterans, like Ruppert Thompson, jaunty outfielder the Bees sent to San Diego with Jim Chaplin for Vince DiMaggio last spring. Thompson comes back to the White Sox with a .327 batting average and a collection of 16 home runs.

Three infielders went to the Bees: Robert Kahle of Indianapolis of the American association, Joe Walsh of Little Rock in the Southern association and Earl Maggett of Houston in the Texas league. The records show Maggart is the best hitter for 1937. He sports a .346 mark.

Cincinnati and St. Louis Browns also got one man each. The Reds drafted outfielder Anthony Bongiovanni from Portland in the Pacific Coast league. He hit .336 with 11 home runs in 1937. George McQuinn of Newark goes to the Browns.

The Athletics took two pitchers, Nelson Potter of Columbus, American association, champions, and Ralph Buxton of Oklahoma City in the Texas league. Potter won 11 games and Buxton 13 in 1937.

Other acquisitions included: Pittsburgh, Pitcher Robert Klingler, of Sacramento, Pacific Coast league and Detroit, pitcher Ed Selway, Fort Worth, Texas league.

Sport Sparks

DALLAS, Oct. 6 (AP)—Insiders say popular Homer Peel, Fort Worth manager, will tender his resignation unless some changes are made around the front office... Peel, the Texas league's leading hitter, has been playing since July with a serious ailment that has slowed him down to a jog... He will enter a Temple sanitarium forthwith for a major operation.

Wes Jackie Reid, Fort Worth 45-year-old hurler, may never hurl again... His arm is very sore and anyway he has realized an ambition—that of playing in a Dixie series... He's almost certain to call it quits—angling cow bells, loud automobile horns and cowboy yells brought back baseball's "good old times" over at Fort Worth in the Dixie series.

Lean Jim Tabor, sensational young Little Rock third baseman, who made the series' choice fielding play when he made a diving stab of a hot grounder and threw out his man, is the youngest game swatter that spring training game homer off Bob Feller with the bases loaded back to the White Sox with a .327 batting average and a collection of 16 home runs.

Punts and passes: Husky Clyde Rogers, 22-pound Corpus Christi high tackle and kicking star, booted a 46-yard field goal recently against Sam Jacinto of Houston... He is no use, scouts, Rogers is headed for Texas Christian next year... Bald-pated Ed Cherry, the Hardin-Simmons powerhouse, has averaged better than a first down a game time he has hinged the ball to date. Not to mention five touchdowns he has packed across.

Hardin-Simmons will travel 7,000 miles and play five road games before they return to their Abilene balliwick Nov. 19... Economically-built Ken Mills, brother of the old Aggie grid captain, Tommie, is the Aggie backfielder to watch now... Five weeks ago he was a third-stringer Coach Norton "wished" was on his first string because of his kicking and passing... He has added all the missing links now and starred against Manhattan... Baylor's captain, bruising Carl Brazell, the fullback, didn't even letter as a sophomore... Si Marchbanks, captain of the West Texas State Teachers' College eleven, will watch his mates from the bench all season... A knee injury that kept him out of action most of last year will make a non-playing captain out of him again.

Baylor's freshman Cubs will play three games against Lon Morris Junior College, Texas Christian's Wogs and the Southern Methodist Colts... Down at Eagle Pass high school—they have several star performers who don't even live in the United States... They trot across the border daily from Piedras Negras, Mexico, to attend school... Arkansas' new football stadium, located in a valley at the foot of the Ozark Hills, will be one of the state's showspots... Carvers in the valley, it will seat 15,000 and be ready next season... the $100,000 field house has already been completed.

Correction Dept.: A poll revealed Southern Association club owners were for continuance of the Dixie series after all... This year's successful series between Little Rock and Fort Worth was the tonic needed.

CIO ORGANIZER BEATEN 2ND TIME AT MEMPHIS

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 6 (AP)—A CIO organizer beaten for a second time on Memphis streets served notice from a hospital bed today that "no thugs are going to drive me from the city" and his union backed him with demands that his assailants be punished.

"If they kill me, there are 400,000 other auto workers who will take my place," said Norman Smith, St. Louis, 230-pound organizer for the United States Automobile Workers of America.

Hospital attendants said Smith may have suffered a skull fracture from blows from a machinist's hammer and pistol butts wielded by "six or seven men."

13 Russians Given Death Sentences

MOSCOW, Oct. 6 (AP)—Thirteen persons were sentenced to death today on charges of spoiling grain supplies.

The first union label was used by San Francisco cigar makers about 1874.

BOYS TRAMPLE GUERRILLAS IN HARD WORKOUT

Following a long workout which included passing and punting for the backfield and ends and blocking and tackling for the linemen, the Harvesters and Guerrillas scrimmaged long and hard yesterday afternoon at Harvester field. For about 15 minutes the battle waged fierce. Then the Guerrillas started to weaken and the Harvesters ran over them.

A few new plays were rung in yesterday and they may be used to get the Greenville Lions in trouble Friday night under the lights at Harvester field. Game time will be 8 o'clock. Combination general admission and reserve seat tickets, in the east grandstand, went on sale at 1 o'clock this afternoon in the office of Roy McMillen in the city hall. The tickets for the one game are $1.

General admission duets, 75 cents for adults and 25 cents for students, went on sale this afternoon at Pampa Drug, Harvester Drug, Fathers Drug and Crestway. The boys are urged to purchase their tickets downtown.

The weight of the Greenville team has not been determined. Newspaper listings of the weights are different from weights on a telegram received here. There is as much as 100 pounds variation in weight of a player. A checkup is being made on the weights.

Four first string lettermen will be with the Lions when they arrive in Pampa by special bus Thursday night or early Friday morning. They will be Captain Fred Mason, big tackle, David Terry, halfback, George Cain, guard and Weidon Jaco, guard.

Lloyd "Candy" Franks, star backfield man, was injured in the Dallas Tech game, won by the Lions 12 to 0 in an upset, and has missed the last two games lost by the Lions. He will be in uniform for the game here according to Coach Stallworth.

The full Harvester team will be ready to take the field unless some unfortunate break occurs. Don Smith's ankle has mended and J. W. Graham's hip has responded to treatment. Bolls which have bothered J. P. Mathews are cleared up and now only Claude Heiskell is bothered with boils.

The Birds, American association champs, swept the three-game series at Newark, and then the Bears, international loop pennant winners by a 25 1-2 game margin, allowed the Birds a total of two runs in taking the three contests here. In the last three games the Bears outscored the Birds 10 to 2, last night's count being 10 to 1.

Chapter XIII

With a quiver of relief, Cilly awakened from a dream of horror. The warm morning sun shone through her open window. What a blessing the morning sun was! All through the night she had been in Bluefields, where every street was a pitch-black roof, bordered by yawning, treacherous chasms, into which one pitched at the first halting misstep. Where all these streets converged, Jim had stood with arms outstretched to greet her, though a thousand shadowy policemen struggled to hold him back. And along the way drunken Corbets mocked her, and paralyzed men arose from their wheel-chairs to block her path.

She sat up in bed and rubbed her eyes. Her heart still thumped in the excitement of her adventure in sleep. Under the blanket her feet were cold and damp. Her eyes traveled from one to another of the familiar objects in the room until she was finally thoroughly awake.

Today was Wednesday. Only two days since she had last heard of Jim, but what endless days they had been! How many more would she have to wait until he returned to lift the clouds? All the world would be right if she could hear his voice again, if she could feel the strength of his hand on hers.

Thoughtfully she rose and dressed. Then, because she was so miserably lonely and forlorn, she walked down to the drug store on the corner for breakfast. On the way she bought a newspaper. The murder of Amy Kerr, she noticed, was still front page news. She read it as she drank her coffee.

Returning to her room, she met Detective Martin in the hall. "Good morning, Miss Pierce," he greeted. "I've just been through the house. Dolan wants everyone down at police headquarters this morning at 10:30."

"Very well. I'll be there," Cilly assured him. She decided that she would be there at 10 o'clock to inform the sergeant of her latest discovery. He had ruled Mr. Hunter out as a possibility because of the man's physical incapacity. This morning, however, Hunter had been in Cilly's house as a very important possibility. Why would a man deliberately tie himself to a wheel-chair when he was well able to walk?

Later, however, when a burly policeman ushered her into a private room at Police headquarters, she discovered she would have no opportunity to see the sergeant alone. Several of the Bayview tenants had arrived before her. They sat in a semicircle around a plain flat top desk, nervously expectant. She recognized the Downeys; so obviously mother and daughter. Mr. Hunter, looking feeble and frail in his wheelchair, was there with his wife. A blanket covered his supposedly helpless limbs. Cilly felt an overwhelming urge to kick him in the shins as she passed, to see if he would jump. She wondered how the man had made his journey, when, where the light shone on their faces clearly and relentlessly. If they lied, Cilly thought, Dolan would be able to read it in their features.

"Everybody here, Martin?" Dolan asked.

Martin checked with a list in his hand. "Didn't get in touch with the Wheeler woman yet," he reported. "The three other tenants are still out of town—but I don't see the Corbets."

The Corbets, Cilly looked up in surprise. But, of course, they would be summoned. Mr. Corbett's mother was the only person who actually saw the murder committed. Her testimony would be very important.

Even as Martin spoke, the door opened and they entered. Mr. Corbett, Cilly noticed, had survived his drinking very well. He was immaculate in a light gray tropical worsted, and he carried himself with an air of assurance.

Mrs. Corbett, the same meek and humble woman Cilly had first met, followed her husband hesitantly into the room. She wore a nondescript blue wool dress, and hung limply on her thin frame. Her face was pale and drawn. Her mother-in-law, in spite of asthma, held her head high and entered the room with a firm step. There was a challenge in her dark eyes, and her chin was aggressive.

Small wonder, Cilly thought, that Mrs. Corbett was nervous and haggard. What a life she must endure as the buffer between these two dominant individuals—her husband and her mother.

As soon as they were seated, Sergeant Dolan addressed the group: "You all know," he began, in a calm, rather friendly voice, "a young woman was killed in a fall from the roof of the Bayview Apartments last Sunday night—or, to be more exact, at 12:20 early Monday morning. We have a witness present who can testify that the girl did not fall, but was deliberately thrown from the roof. This is a cold-blooded murder, ladies and gentlemen, which we are investigating, and I need not impress upon you the importance of absolute truth and accuracy in answering my questions. Mrs. Shaw, will you please tell us again, in your own words, just exactly what you saw occur on the roof of the Bayview?"

Mrs. Corbett's mother got to her feet. All eyes were turned upon her. Dramatically, she squared her shoulders and took a deep breath before she spoke.

"As I told you before, Sergeant," she said in clear, crisp tones, "I was seated at the window of my bedroom in the St. Ann apartments, I had not been feeling well, and I wanted to get out in the air. It was very dark—there were neither stars nor a moon—and ordinarily I could not see the roof opposite except when an occasional beam from one of the ships in the bay would pass over it. Suddenly I heard this frightful scream, and at that very instant a beam passed slowly over the roof opposite. I saw a man pick this girl up in his arms and deliberately fling her over the side of the house. That is all. I must have fainted. My daughter prepared an opiate for me, and I did not awaken until morning."

"Thank you, Mrs. Shaw. May I ask if the light was sufficient for you to recognize this man in any way?"

"It was not," Mrs. Shaw resumed her seat.

Sergeant Dolan scanned the faces before him. "Now I am going to ask each of you to remember very carefully what happened Sunday night. We'll start with you, Mr. Hunter. You live on the top floor, directly under the roof where the murder was committed. Did you hear any voices on the roof, any sign of quarrelling?"

"No, sergeant," Hunter replied. He spoke in a frail voice, as if to match the infirmity of his limbs. "I must have been asleep. It was the scream which woke me up. My wife ran to the window."

"Did you get up?"

"The man shook his head sorrowfully. "I couldn't do that, you see. He made a futile gesture toward his legs. "I haven't walked in 20 years."

Cilly stood up, her eyes aflame. "Sergeant Dolan," she cried, "will you ask Mr. Hunter how it happens, therefore, that last night from across the street I saw him walking about his bedroom in his pajamas?"

The man gasped; he turned to stare at Cilly, and in his eyes there blazed the malevolent fear of a trapped animal.

"Is that true, Hunter?" Dolan snapped.

"The girl's crazy," he choked thru dry lips. "She's crazy or—drunk. I can't walk... I have doctors' statements to prove it."

For a moment, Cilly regretted her impulsiveness. She should have told the sergeant about it privately, so that he could check for himself. Now it was merely her word against Hunter's, and he would take special care not to be discovered again.

"What time was this, Miss Pierce?" Dolan inquired.

"Eleven o'clock, sergeant. There is no mistake about it. I saw him..."

"Say! Wait a minute!"

Cilly spun around to face the man who suddenly interrupted her. It was Mr. Corbett. There was a malicious glint in his eyes.

"In another minute, sergeant, the young lady will be telling you about pink elephants," he offered with tolerant amusement. "At 11 o'clock last night she was in my apartment, drinking rye highballs. And, believe me, she was in condition to see a great many things walking."

"That's an outrageous lie, Mr. Corbett, and you know it!"

Cilly turned to the sergeant, shaking with fury. "But in his eyes she saw doubt and disappointment. It was part of his job to believe the worst—and he believed Corbett's story. She could see it. From now on, the fight would be doubly hard."

FIRES SHOULD BE REPORTED BY ADDRESSES

Pampa moves. Businesses don't always stay in same location month after month. So the Pampa fire department would like to inform the person that placed a call with the firemen Monday that the used car lot to which they were referred was in another location, and it caused Chief White's crew some trouble to find the fire.

Again the department reiterates its admonition: turn in fire alarms by address, not by name of place only. Be sure that you have the exact address, and not a hazy idea of where the fire is happening.

Also, Chief Ben White asks that in turning in a fire alarm to tell the telephone operator that you want to report a fire, not to simply call "fire department."

Pampa's fire loss up to Oct. 1: insured loss on buildings and contents, $5,878.03; uninsured loss on buildings and contents, $1,254.74; total fire loss of buildings and contents insured and uninsured, $7,132.77. One person had been injured in a fire in this city up to Oct. 1.

Husband Shoots Wife, Then Self; He Blames Love

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Oct. 6 (AP)-Justice of the peace Bat Corrigan said a slaying and a suicide were evident in the deaths last night of Mrs. Alice Kemper Allen, 38, and her husband, Edward B. Allen, 40.

Mrs. Allen, operator of a cafe, wounded three times, pronounced dead on arrival at a hospital. Allen, a deputy constable, who was shot through the heart, lived 15 minutes.

Justice Corrigan took statements from several of more than a dozen persons in the cafe when the shooting took place.

When the woman fell, witnesses told the coroner, Allen scribbled a note, shot himself through the heart and collapsed as he raised the gun toward his temple.

The note, forwarded by police, read "this is what love will do for man. I did not want to do it."

Autumn's in the Air Over Neptune's Domain

On land the southward flight of birds and the leaves turned gold and red herald the chill days of autumn. The sea-farer, too, reads signs of changing seasons. Who, standing at the rail of the liner Champlain in its stormy trip to America, could escape the look of fall in the majestic view spread before him? The sun shines coldly through lowering clouds on drab gray water that surges restlessly toward the horizon in towering waves.

SPEECH PAVES WAY TO BACK LEAGUE ACTION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP)-President Roosevelt's call for "concerted endeavors" in the interest of American support of the League of Nations in its efforts to halt the undeclared war between Japan and China.

A high authority expressed this view in interpreting the President's vigorous statement of foreign policy at Chicago yesterday as a determined move to mobilize world opinion against what Mr. Roosevelt termed the prevailing "reign of terror and international lawlessness."

There were strong indications the United States government would uphold the league's stand on the Sino-Japanese conflict at least to the extent that it would throw its full moral support behind League action.

The league advisory committee at Geneva approved a resolution yesterday recommending that signatories of the nine-power act to preserve China's territorial integrity met as soon as possible. The proposal came before the League assembly today.

The resolution called Japan guilty of violating the nine-power treaty, the Boxer protocol for the protection of foreigners in China and the Briand-Kellogg pact outlawing war.

In this respect it was strikingly like one section of Mr. Roosevelt's pronouncement at Chicago. He said some military actions were "definitely violations" of agreements. He specified the League of Nations covenant, the Briand-Kellogg pact and the nine-power treaty as having been violated.

While the President's address was so broad as to apply to aggression in any part of the world and while he specifically criticized nations "taking part in civil wars in nations that have never done them any harm," its principal effect was regarded here as applying to the far eastern conflict.

The President named no countries specifically, but it was apparent his remarks covered not only the Sino-Japanese trouble but also interference by other European countries in the Spanish civil war.

There was no indication in his speech, however, nor was there any suggestion in official quarters here that he contemplated joining in any forcible action to stop Japanese military operations in China. Neither did responsible officials believe they referred to a possible proposal for an international police force.

FDR EXPECTED TO DECIDE ON NEW SESSION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—President Roosevelt's return from his western trip forehadows quick decisions on a special session of congress and revision of the federal budget.

His Chicago speech yesterday indicated also a deep concern over the spread of war and the possibility that some early move may seek a "quarantine" against it. Mr. Roosevelt demanded a "concerted effort" on the part of peace-loving nations.

Throughout his western tour, the President stressed a desire to balance the federal budget. His first opportunity in this direction comes immediately in acting on an already over-due revision of the budget figures for the current fiscal year.

In two months he will be studying budget estimates for the 1938-39 fiscal year. These figures will be submitted to Congress in January.

November 15 has been mentioned as the likely date for a special session, should the President decide to call one. In order to give members of Congress—some of whom are scattered from Europe to Hawaii—time to assemble, he would have to issue his call within a few days.

The primary purpose of a special session would be to act on crop control legislation, which the President told an audience at Grand Forks, N. D., "ought to be passed at the earliest possible moment."

In his western speeches, the Chief Executive not only talked about crop control legislation, but also urged enactment of a wage-hour law. If he calls a special session, he undoubtedly will stress that almost equally with farm legislation.

FRENCHMAN SENTENCED FOR SELLING SECRETS

NANCY, France, Oct. 6 (AP)—Paul Gebus, 22-year-old French soldier was under sentence today of 20 years in prison and 20 years in exile for selling French military secrets in Germany.

Jurors Return 5 Indictments

Five indictments against four persons, one person being charged on two counts, were made by the grand jury of the 31st district court as it adjourned at noon yesterday. The jury is to return Oct. 18. They had been in session only since Monday this week.

Carl Blom, who is in county jail, was indicted on a charge of forgery and possession of a forged instrument, and with possession of forged instrument in writing with intent to pass.

Indictments were made against two other persons on forgery counts, and another was charged with driving an automobile upon a public highway while intoxicated.

COMPLIANCE WITH NRA OIL CODES QUESTIONED

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 6 (AP)—Defense counsel in the Sherman anti-trust act conspiracy trial involving 23 oil companies and their executives was called upon today to submit proof that the defendants had complied with NRA oil codes.

In requesting proof, Federal Judge Patrick T. Stone said he assumed the defendants would contend they were exempt from the Sherman act under the NRA and that after the blue eagle was killed "what the companies did was simply a continuance of what the government wanted them to do."

The government has charged the defendants artificially fixed gasoline prices in midwestern states in 1935 and 1936.

'SHIP-LIZARD' FROM TEXAS RECONSTRUCTED

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 6 (AP)—Harvard scientists working with fossil bones today finished reconstruction of one of the weirdest of the world's ancient inhabitants, a "ship-lizard" which lived in Texas 225,000,000 years ago.

Possilized remains of the animal were discovered in the Red river beds of northwest Texas by Prof. Alfred S. Romer.

This eight-foot predecessor of the massive dinosaurs gained its name from a sail-like fin about two feet high, rising from the backbone. Scientists can find no explanation for the fin.

GOLD EFFECTIVE IN CURING TUBERCULOSIS

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 6 (AP)—Gold, often charged with money as being "the root of all evil," was credited today with curative effect in some cases of tuberculosis.

Fifteen of 26 tubercular patients who received an injection of prepared gold showed "fairly encouraging" improvement, Dr. Melvin Tress reported in the American Review of Tuberculosis.

In the same 18-month study, only four patients in a control group not receiving the gold injections improved. All those treated were advanced cases at Koch hospital, a sanatorium here.

He warned against use of the gold treatment by general practitioners, but added, "I shall not hesitate to use gold in the future, subject to certain limitations."

AGGIE KILLED, ANOTHER WOUNDED IN AIR CRASH

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 6 (AP)—Victims of a plane crash, David Murphy Jr., 21, was dead today and Tom L. Forehand, 21, of Houston, remained in a hospital here in serious condition. Physicians said Forehand had a broken jaw and possibly a skull fracture. Murphy's body was taken to Mexico.

Both were students at Texas A. & M. College, Murphy a senior and Forehand a junior.

Robert Putz of Bryan, flying instructor and owner of the plane, said Forehand rented the plane, virtually a new ship which he and Forehand had flown from Houston about three weeks ago. The boys told him they planned to take aerial photographs of a streamlined train passing the college campus.

Ten minutes later, from an altitude of about 300 feet, the plane went into a spin, struck the top of a gin on the agricultural experiment farm west of the campus and slid off the side of the building.

An increase in subway, autobus and taxi fares became effective in Paris recently.

MINERAL WELLS HOST TODAY TO CIVIC LEAGUES

Neither City Manager C. L. Stine nor Mayor W. A. Bratton will attend the conventions of five state associations, each one affiliated with some phase of city government, which is being held in Mineral Wells today, Thursday and Friday, at the Baker Hotel.

Business prevented them from attending the conventions as they had hoped to do. City Manager C. L. Stine was keenly interested in a half-dozen topics listed on the program of addresses and discussion by city government experts.

The convention to end all conventions might be the theme of this week's meetings in the resort city.

It will be the 25th annual convention of the League of Texas Municipalities, the fifth annual meeting of the Texas chapter of the Municipal Finance Officers association; the 11th annual meeting of the Municipal Utilities league.

Also convening at that time, will be the Texas City Managers association and the city attorneys association. These are their annual meetings, although the number is not specified on the program.

HORSE THIEF 'DETECTIVES' STILL GET TOGETHER

GARNAVILLE, Iowa (AP)—The Garnaville Horse Thief Detective Association, organized in 1850, still functions.

Thirty members hold annual meetings on Whit Monday (second Monday after Ascension, in May) and they pay dues, elect a captain and eleven riders.

According to original plans the captain and his riders were notified when a horse was stolen. The "detectives" started search immediately. They were allowed $5 a day expenses and stood a good chance of getting the $50 reward if the thief was caught.

If the horse was recovered, the owner paid 10 per cent of its value into the association treasury; if not recovered the association paid 75 per cent of its actual value to the owner.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calumet—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning! Cartier's Little Liver Pills

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mass bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Cartier's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Healthy, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Cartier's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. See.
