COAST GUARD SAILING SEA FOR PARTY ON SCHOONER

LINDBERGH IS BROKE

'JAFSIE' STORIES ARE CAUSE OF HUNT FOR SHIP

HOPEWELL, May 16 (P)—The law flung a lariat of ships today onto the sea to snare the Lindbergh baby killers. Coast guard craft swept the waters in unceasing search. Their quarry was a fishing schooner—a boat of the type common in mackerel fleets.

Aboard that ship were five men and perhaps a woman. The hunted men, authorities believe, know the solution of the kidnaping murder. They know who took Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr., from his crib the night of March 1—and who killed him cold-bloodedly not many minutes later. And this gang knows police are certain, who buried the body hurriedly and heartlessly under a light layer of rotting leaves within rifle shot hearing of the Lindbergh home in the sombre Soudland hills.

There was no word from the sea search today. The coast guard craft planned to make no report to the New Jersey state police in charge of

SABINE BIDS ARE OPENED

Thirty-five Offers To Drill For State's Oil In River Are Received.

AUSTIN, May 16. (P)—Thirty-five bids for development of the Sabine river bed for oil and gas, expected to yield millions of dollars in revenue, were opened today by the state board for mineral development.

Governor S. Sterling expressed great satisfaction both at the number and terms stipulated. Few offers for a cash bonus were received, most bidders offering the state a percentage of the oil plus royalties. Several offers to drill for the state in event the board rejected the bids for leasing were received.

Had the board been permitted to lease the bed six months ago, numerous cash bonuses would have been offered, the governor stated.

The bed was advertised in eight tracts, the area comprising approximately 780 acres, property of the free public schools.

Several days will be required to tabulate and compare the bids, the board announced.

Tract No. 7 appeared to be the most sought-after tract, one bidder, the Brown Star Oil corporation of Longview, offering the state a flat 56 per cent of the oil and gas produced while wells on the tract were flowing and 38 per cent when put on pump. An alternative of 48 per cent of the production for the life of the wells was offered.

Burglars Loot Hawkins' Shop

Thieves broke into the Hawkins Radio Laboratories on West Foster street sometime Sunday morning and stole radios, radio equipment and barber supplies valued at approximately $300. Entry was gained through the front door where the lock was picked.

The laboratory was burglarized last Tuesday but only a few razors and some barber supplies were reported missing. The back door was broken in the first robbery.

Mr. Hawkins reported to city police that he missed a $140 Western Radio test set, a radio check set, a jeweler's, soldering iron, a box of knobs and a box of rheostats, tools, five razors and some barber supplies.

Officers are working on the burglary.

Manpower

Hospitality warms the heart even as it tickles the appetite. A few days ago the Pampan sat down at a business-oil men's banquet in Borger as the guest of J. C. Phillips of the Borger HERALD. More than two hundred men were seated while the orchestra of the First Christian church played lively tunes.

Of the several things which were especially impressive, the one most striking to this writer was the wealth of manpower in the audience. Big, broad-shouldered, well-dressed oil field executives mingled in their comradely yet not undignified manner. The brains and initiative in that audience, mustered and organized, would accomplish wonders in any man's town. The oil men came from far, but most of them were from the Borger area.

TOMORROW IS DAY COOKING SCHOOL BEGINS

FIRST SESSION AT 2:30 IN CITY AUDITORIUM TUESDAY

WILL LAST FOUR DAYS

MRS. IHRIG ARRIVES TO TAKE CHARGE OF PROGRAMS

The Time: 2:30 p. m. Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday.

The Place: City auditorium.

The Event: The Pampa Daily NEWS big FREE COOKING SCHOOL, 1931 household arts exposition for Pampa and all Gray county.

There will be gifts of all varieties and descriptions. Groceries, flour, baking powder, salt, canned goods, etc.—all will be given away.

New recipes, ways to make the old dishes look different, better—little tricks to brighten and lighten the home-maker's task—all will be given.

And if there is any question about pies and cakes bothering local housewives, they are invited to bring them all to the cooking school.

Mrs. Leona Rusk Ihrig, famed throughout the South for her knowledge of cooking and her insights into the everyday problems of the housewife, will be in charge of the programs.

She arrived in Pampa Saturday and immediately inspected the auditorium where the big event will be held.

She pronounced it perfect for the occasion, and declared she is looking forward to her appearance here as "one of the best cooking schools ever."

"We're just going to show you a sort of 1931 fashion revue in foods," says Mrs. Ihrig. "For fashions in food do change, you know."

Each day's program will be entirely different and no housewife should miss a minute of the entertaining demonstrations. For some forty distinct and separate dishes are to be made by the culinary artist at her four lectures, and you won't want to miss a one. Each day's work will be correlated with the program to come, yet each day will be a complete demonstration.

At the first session Mrs. Ihrig in cooking schools is, Mrs. Ihrig replied, "That's easy. It's the little things about the kitchen that count most."

"Most modern women are already good cooks. I don't even try to go through a full course in cookery, from

Oil Field Men And Old Timers Asked to Meet

Regular monthly meeting of the Pampa Junior chamber of com- merce in the city hall auditorium at 8 o'clock tonight will be attend- ed by several hundred oil field work- ers and old timers. A half-hour program under the supervision of L. R. Bruner will start promptly at 8 o'clock.

Any old timer or oil field worker who has not received a personal invitation should not feel slighted as it has been impossible to notify everyone. Those not seen should come and get acquainted with junior chamber of commerce work and with one another. President Bob Brashers says.

A short but important business session will follow the entertainment features. Further plans for the Frontier Days celebration May 26-28 will be made and the cooperation of every one present will be asked.

California Senator Favors Referendum

WASHINGTON, May 16. (P)—Senator Shortridge (R. Cal.) today said he favors "giving the people opportunity to exercise their right to modify or alter or repeal the eighteenth amendment to the constitution."

Shortridge has voted for enforcement measures, including the Jones "five and ten" law increasing the penalties for Volstead act violations. He comes up for re-election this year.

JAP PREMIER ASSASSINATED

Young Army and Navy Cadets Shoot Down Inukai In His Home.

By GLENN BABB
Associated Press Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, May 16 (P)—Premier Tsuyoshi Inukai, Japan's 77-year-old "old gray fox," was dead today, the second Japanese premier to die by an assassin's hand in less than a year.

Premier Inukai was shot down in his home yesterday by young army and naval cadets who apparently had hatched an abortive plot to destroy the government and seize the capital.

After the death of the premier, six hours after he was shot, the cabinet decided to resign and acting Premier, Korekiyo Takahashi, aged finance minister, called on Emperor Hirohito to hand in the resignations.

The emperor instructed Takahashi and the rest of the cabinet to continue in office until they received further orders. In the meantime, it was announced that the aged prince Saoinji, last of Japan's elder statesmen, was on his way to Tokyo from his villa at Okitsu to confer with the emperor about a new cabinet.

The fascist movement in Japan appeared to have suffered a nearly mortal blow as a result of the premier's assassination. General Sa-dao Araki, war minister, and admiral Osumi, minister of the navy, turned in their resignations with the rest of the cabinet.

Both officials, who have been considered leading spirits of the nationalist movement in Japan, strongly disavowed yesterday's events and said the perpetrators would be sternly dealt with. Both ministers also indicated they would retire from public life.

Five public buildings were bombed simultaneously with the assault on the premier. An attempt was made to destroy the transformer stations through which Tokyo's supply of electricity is carried and the homes of several officials were attacked.

A few hours afterward, 13 young army cadets, corresponding to West Point cadets in America, and five junior naval officers surrendered to the military police.

J., about four and one-half miles from the Lindbergh estate, where he came upon the baby's skeleton. At the left is Orville Wilson, truck driver, who had remained in the truck when Allen walked into the woods and discovered the corpse. The ex-convict negro called Wilson to the scene and the two notified Hopewell police. Soon thereafter word was flashed to the world that the 72-day search for the child had come to a tragic climax.

Washington today announced it had awarded the contract for construction of the new postoffice at Plainview, Texas, to W. B. Smith, El-dorado, Ark. Smith, who bid $89,750 must complete the work in 390 calendar days from date of receipt of notice to proceed. He will determine when the work will start. His bid was lowest of 24.

LONGVIEW, May 16 (P)—A total of 158 indictments was returned this afternoon by a grand jury investigating oil thefts in the East Texas field. The report said that many "flagrant violation of proration orders for personal and selfish reasons" had been discovered. The Grand county investigating body declared "co-operation of royalty and landowners with those illegally taking oil" had made the inquiry difficult. Less than two weeks ago the grand jury indicted 18 men in connection with alleged oil thefts. At that time it was announced that at least 1,000,000 barrels of oil had been pilfered from the rich field.

Nude Doukhobors Arrested; Total 511 Now In Jail

NELSON, B. C. May 16. (P)—A third Sunday raid on a parade of nude Doukhobors resulted in an increase of the jail population of members of the sect to 511 today.

For the third Sunday in succession the nudists gathered in an orchard at Thrusms yesterday and began disrobing. Police immediately ordered trucks sent from Nelson and loaded 254 naked men, women and children and brought them to the Nelson jail. There was no resistance.

The additional prisoners arrived as the Doukhobors already imprisoned abandoned a hunger strike they started last week. The strike was partly in protest against their imprisonment and partly against removal of children of the prisoners to institutions in Vancouver and Victoria.

Of the Doukhobors now in jail, 247 have been sentenced to three years each in the penitentiary for appearing in the nude. In all 595 have been arrested since the nude parades began, but 84 of the children have been sent to institutions on the coast.

BIG RAINS AND SANDSTORMS FEATURE PANHANDLE WEATHER

By The Associated Press
A severe storm which brought excessive rainfall, high winds and electrical disturbances to much of Texas had spent its fury today. With the exception of downpours in the extreme south portion, the state was clearing.

A cloudburst struck Waco last night, precipitating 3.71 inches. Water flooded some parts of the city to a depth of four feet. Electric power was cut off, preventing the opening of flood gates at Lake Waco dam for several hours. Waters of the Bosque, which feed the lake, boiled over the top of the dam. The Bosque was running 20 feet above normal and rising this morning.

Traffic over the Fort Worth and Denver railroad was resumed after track washed out by heavy rain near Hedley, had been repaired. A passenger train was delayed 15 hours.

Swollen streams washed out two bridges on a highway near Memphis, this traffic was detoured. Some hail was reported in that vicinity. Laredo reported nearly two inches of rain.

The forecast for East Texas was for generally fair weather tonight and tomorrow. It was expected to be cooler in the east and south portions tonight, with rising temperatures tomorrow.

West Texas was promised cooler weather in the southeast portion tonight. The section was in line for clear weather tonight and tomorrow. A rise in temperatures was due tomorrow.

The Trinity river had a stage of 21.1 feet at Dallas this morning. It was rising. At Fort Worth the river's stage was 10.5 feet. No floods were anticipated in the upper Trinity region.

ROOSEVELT FORCES FIGHTING TO ROUND UP MORE THAN 100 VOTES IN 10 STATES IN WEEK

WASHINGTON, May 16 (P)—Driving hard to enter the democratic national convention with a majority of the delegates, the Franklin D. Roosevelt campaign forces set out this week to round up one hundred or more additional votes.

Countryside conventions and primaries during the week, beginning with Connecticut, Kansas and New Mexico selections today, may yield him this result. A split preponderantly favoring Alfred E. Smith was the forecast for Connecticut with 16 votes. The Roosevelt men were confident of winning Kansas' 20 and New Mexico's six.

Today the democrat's leading candidate had 382 votes, instructed, pledged or claimed. His managers count 100 more in the uninstructed delegations, including New York, Pennsylvania and Louisiana, but Smith forces disputed the figure. To have a majority, 578 votes are required. One hundred corralled this week, one hundred from the uninstructed and 16 from delegations to be made up between this week and convention time would yield the majority. Nomination, however, requires two-thirds of the 1154 delegates.

Roosevelt forces are conceding without a struggle tomorrow's primary in New Jersey, selecting 32 uninstructed delegates leaning to Smith, or other candidates than Roosevelt. But they hope to win Montana's eight tomorrow, and the bulk of the week's remaining contests including:

Wednesday: South Carolina 18; Vermont 8; District of Columbia (primary) 6; Friday: Tennessee 24; Oregon 10; Saturday: Nevada 8. Republicans will select Hoover is expected to get enough out of these to give him the renomination on the strength of pledged delegates alone, excluding the bulk of uninstructed ones which are sure to vote for him.

San Rafael, Calif., May 16. (P)—Captain Robert Dollar, 88-year-old veteran of the shipping and lumber industries, died at his home here at 1:10 a. m. (PST) today after an illness of two weeks.

The "grand old man" of the Pacific coast is carried to the far corners of the earth by his fleets of merchant ships, drifted quietly away on his last long voyage as sorrowing members of his family watched at the bedside.

That the end was near was predicted last night by his physician, Dr. Rafael G. Duffley. He had been in a coma more than 36 hours. The illness started with a severe cold which developed into bronchial pneumonia.

Mrs. Dollar, who had been in faithful attendance since the illness began May 2, was supported by three sons, Harold, Stabley, and Melville Dollar, and their wives and children.

Last March 20, Captain Dollar celebrated his eighty-eighth birthday and in a statement said the world was "a fine place for those who liked to work." His entire life had been one of activity.

He was born in Falkirk, Scotland, March 20, 1844. He went to work as a boy in the shipyards and at the age of 14, with his father and brothers, went to Quebec, Canada, and obtained work in a stove factory at $6 a month.

When still a young man, he ventured into the timber country and eventually extended his holdings into Western Canada, Michigan, California and Washington. Successful in the lumber industry, he turned to trade with the Orient and later, at an age when most men are ready to retire, actively entered the shipping field. It was from these latter activities he won the title of the "grand old man of the Pacific."

RUM PLOT HAS GRAVES AND 6 AIDS CHARGED

TAKING OF TESTIMONY TO BEGIN THIS AFTERNOON

FOUR ARE FUGITIVES

JUDGE WILSON REFUSES TO DISMISS ANY INDICTMENTS

AMARILLO, May 16 (P)—Sixteen of 21 Gray county residents who were indicted a year ago on liquor conspiracy charges went to trial in United States district court here this afternoon.

The group included former Sheriff E. S. Graves, six of his deputies, C. E. Pipes, Herman Wachtendorf, Scott Rheudaill, Weldon Wilson, O. T. Smith, and Lee Banks, and Gravelle Parrish, a former constable.

The 16 defendants appearing for trial pleaded not guilty. Four were listed as fugitives and the bond of a fifth was forfeited when he failed to appear.

The offenses are alleged to have occurred during the period from 1926 to 1931. The taking of testimony will begin some time this afternoon.

The case of five men charged with theft from an interstate commerce shipment in Gray county was given to the jury this morning but a verdict had not been reached. Clarence Wilson of Pampa pleaded guilty, Lamar Smith of Melrose, N. M., Rex Smith and Tom Rasmussen of Amarillo, pleaded not guilty, and the charge was dismissed as to King Burk of Pampa.

GARNER AGAIN FLAYS HOOVER

Texas Says People Will Not Have Confidence While Hoover is President.

WASHINGTON, May 16. (P)—Renewing his criticism of the president, Speaker Garner said today "the truth is that just as long as President Hoover is in the White House, the people of this country will not have any confidence."

Asked at his daily conference with newspapermen whether he desired to answer the statement issued by Senator Moses in defense of Mr. Hoover, the Texan said:

"The president sent for the distinguished author of the 'sons of the wild jackals' to defend him. It must have gotten under somebody's skin. The truth is pretty effective."

"Senator Moses resorted to the old trick of confession by avoidance. He admitted what I said about the president was the truth but then said 'well look at yourself.'"

Garner said: "The president says on one hand not to spend any more money and then on the other hand sends messages up to congress asking for appropriations of millions of dollars."

"One day he says 'build public buildings to relieve employment.' And the next day he says 'don't issue any more bonds; his statements are contradictory.'"

Youth Arrested For Attempting To Cash Check

One youth is in jail and officers of the county and city forces are searching for a second youth in connection with an attempt to cash a check stolen from the Texas company offices at Kingsmill some weeks ago. The youths tendered a $58 check at Doak's Department store Saturday night in payment for some merchandise.

The cashier recognized the number of the check as being stolen from the Texas company and immediately notified the city police. Officers Charlie Pipes and H. L. Kenner arrived immediately. Officer Pipes caught one of the boys in front of the J. C. Penney store. The other youth showed a clean pair of heels to Officer Kenner who lost him in the crowded street and was unable to fire to halt him.

The city officers turned the youth arrested over to county authorities yesterday morning.

Washington Daybook

By HERBERT PLUMMER
WASHINGTON—If there be such a thing as a study in legislative psychology, then the house of representatives of this 72nd congress offers a rich opportunity to students of this subject.

Some workings of the congressional mind have been revealed this session with a clarity that both astonishes and puzzles. Those, who in the past, have prided themselves on their ability to foretell the future on capitol hill seem long since to have despaired.

One guess is about as good as another these days. Let's go back for a moment to the time when the revenue bill "to balance the budget" was before the house. Charlie Crisp of Georgia, acting chairman of the ways and means committee, stands out as a big figure in that fight.

There was never a time during consideration of that bill that Crisp couldn't still the turmoil and confusion in the house. All that he had to do was to advance to the well and start speaking.

Cheered, Then Beaten
They would listen to him, applaud him vociferously at times, and rise to their feet cheering when he concluded.

Yet when a vote was ordered, this same Mr. Crisp who had been cheered and applauded a moment before, would be licked to a frazzle.

The same thing happened with young Lou Douglas, an Arizona democrat, during the fight on the economy bill. Douglas, a world war veteran, the only congressman from a state that has more veterans per capita than any other, led the fight to reduce veterans' compensation.

His colleagues jumped to their feet and cheered him with high enthusiasm. But a few minutes later they voted to wipe out everything that he had supported.

Veterans Understand
How can you explain actions like that? Apparently in only one way—

Personally they admired Mr. Crisp and Mr. Douglas for daring to stand up and fight openly for their convictions. That's perhaps why they did all the cheering.

But at the same time they were convinced that things like that don't pay. They demonstrated that by their votes. No one knows better than the experienced member of congress just how much truth there is in that political axiom:

The people sometimes will not trouble to repay with reelection the service done for the public as a whole.

Supreme Court Is Guarded by Police

WASHINGTON, May 16. (AP)—Extra policemen watched the doors of the supreme court today after reports that communists planned a demonstration but the justices took their places with nothing to interrupt the calmness of judicial atmosphere.
In the clerk's office it was said it was the first time extra officers had been detailed to the court to forestall a reported communist demonstration.

While it has not yet formally reached the court, many letters have been received from communists in different countries urging the court to intervene in the Scottsboro, Alabama, case. In this case six negroes were condemned to death for assaulting two white girls.
The court, however, can not act until attorneys for the negroes file a formal petition and present indications are that the petition will not be filed during this term of court.

Draper, in a frank speech, said that Borger was suffering from civic lethargy, lost confidence, and selfishness. Of these, perhaps the most devastating would be lost confidence in public leaders. There is no other town like Borger. As one drives along its long streets, he sees children—hundreds of them—playing about unconcernedly. The good people of Borger need only to be organized to win the place the city deserves. It is no longer popular to talk of Borger as a "tough place" and it is no longer just. There are still things to correct, yet who shall be the first to cast stones in this regard?

Father and Son

The banquet program, presided over by the calm, serious Don Emery, included good music, clever dancing, readings, and talks by experts in oil field economics—a happy combination. Particularly unique were Eck Robinson Sr. and Jr. This father and son act on the violin and banjo is good enough to be on thirty Victor recordings. We are quite convinced that Pampa would do well to consider similar occasions. While it is true that the oil executives of this territory mingled freely with the local citizens and work with them, there is a need for a deeper understanding between city-country-oil field. The purpose of the Borger banquet was expressed as follows: "dedicated to mutual understanding and better acquaintance between the business men of Borger and the industrial leaders having in their charge the production and transportation of oil, gas, gasoline, and carbon black, upon which the very existence of our city depends."

Masterpiece

But that Missouri dinner—Mr. Via and the Pampan originated in Missouri—was the masterpiece of the evening. Fried chicken, stewed chicken, fried fish, and trimmings enough to make the table groan occupied this writer's attention for more than an hour. Others seated were Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Finley, Harry E. Hoare, and the Rev. Chas. Barron.

Independence

Such a meal reminds us again of that independence achieved by the pioneer families who, though lacking modern inventions, were virtually tax free and raised or hunted for all the food their tables could hold. Most of the modern difficulties arise from the complexities of modern civilization, which also make possible the luxuries which we enjoy.

"Missouri" Dinner

Still speaking of hospitality, we must mention the extraordinary incident in a "Missouri dinner" we attended at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Via. Mr. Via is a local attorney, but spends most of his time fishing. And when we say fishing, we mean FISHING. His tackle makes every angler wish to hold it indefinitely, just in meditation. And his auto (Gillie) camp trailer—you should see it. It looks like a metal trailer until it is opened up, then you find two standard size beds, ice box, stove, electric light, mosquito-proof tent-like covering, and other conveniences almost unbelievable in number. This instant "hotel" is can be set up in four minutes and "knocked down" about as quickly. Soon the Via party will start for points in Canada, camping and fishing as few people can enjoy it.

MUCH ONION SHIPPING

LAREDO, May 16. (AP)—With 892 carloads of Bermuda onions shipped from the Laredo district, the shipping season is practically at an end, although enough carloads may move out to bring the total to 900. The growers marketed 7.9 f their crop while prices were around and above $2.50 per crate, and the present low prices below 75 cents per crate are not causing them to rush final shipments.

THE EMPTY CRIB

Baby Lindbergh's crib became the symbol of a nation's grief as word was flashed from Hopewell of the discovery of the child's body in a gully near Mount Rose, N.J. The photo shows the crib in the nursery of the Lindbergh home from which kidnapers stole the child on the night of March 1. At its foot may be seen the highchair where the "world's most famous baby" clanged spoons against his plate like the humblest youngster in the land. The churches, men, cows and trees which adorned the nursery's wall paper were just beginning to excite the curly-headed boy's interest when kidnapers carried him out to his death. POLITICS at random

BY BYRON PRICE
President Hoover's public appeal for an end to wiggling and wobbling in congress is by all odds the most interesting political development Washington has produced in many a month.

It reflects a notable upturn in the barometer of Mr. Hoover's confidence, reverses his previous practice in dealing with legislation, and holds immeasurable promise of good or evil for his candidacy for reelection.

Wilds 'Big Stick'
That the whole executive branch of the government has been pretty deep down in the dumps is apparent to anyone who has observed a close range the disappointing and anxiety-flowing from congressional indecision over taxes and budget-balancing.

Many officials have accepted the congressional backing and filling as just one more of the calamities from which the Hoover administration must suffer.

The president's comparative silence hitherto would indicate that he shared that view.

He has been more impressed than some of his predecessors by the letter of the constitutional allotment of definite functions to congress. He accepted and signed a tariff bill exactly counter, in many respects, to his original recommendations.

Now, rather abruptly, he has undertaken to resurrect from the White House attic for the first time the big stick of public opinion, brandished over the heads of congress in other years by Roosevelt and Wilson. Thereby hangs a tale.

Eyeing The Nation
There is good evidence that the Hoover moratorium proposal of last summer was delayed by apprehension that the nation would not support so much-criticized a president in so far-reaching a venture.

Surprised and heartened by the cordial reception he received in his June trip to the mid-west, Mr. Hoover launched into the moratorium plan even while his train was on the way back east. It was received with almost universal acclaim, and all was smiles again to the White House.

Then followed a reaction (for the moment) virile democratic leadership in congress won the admiration of the country, and the worries and uncertainties of the republican administration multiplied.

Over a period of a few weeks all this changed once again. Congressional leadership suffered a decline as sensational as its previous rise to prestige. And just when a primary election was held in the President's home state of California.

In state after state, Mr. Hoover's name had been kept off the ballot, even though the stalwarts were taking moderate encouragement from victories for the regulars in the northwest.

In Maryland the party managers finally decided on a direct popular verdict between Hoover and Dr. Joseph P. France, and Hoover won overwhelmingly.

California voted the following day, and with no contest to attract to the polls, the President was given a rousing vote of confidence.

A California Devision
California voted May 3. The result was known May 4. Mr. Hoover began preparing his ultimatum to congress May 5. He dispatched it May 6. Congratulatory telegrams crowded the wires overnight, and he issued his appeal to the people May 7.

Means' Accuser Files Suit To Oust Husband

WASHINGTON, May 16. (AP)—Personal and business affairs of the prominent, Edward B. McLean came to court today in a suit which presents Gordon B. Means as a witness against the woman from whom he is charged with embezzling a small fortune.

The suit was an action by the three McLean children, through their mother, to oust the other as co-trustee of the McLean estate. This includes the Washington POST, of which McLean is publisher.

His attorney, Julius Peyer, named Means as a witness. He intended also to bring into the case the negotiations between Mrs. McLean and the former government detective for restoration of the ill-fated Lindbergh baby. The $104,000 embezzlement and larceny after trust indentments resulting from this deal.

Water Runs Four Feet Deep In Waco

WACO, May 16. (AP)—Water ran four feet deep in parts of Waco last night as 3.71 inches of rain fell. Some hail also fell.

The Brazos river was 20 feet above the normal level and still rising this morning.

Failure of electric power last night prevented opening of the flood gates at the Lake Waco dam for several hours. Water from the north and south branches of the Bosque river, flowing into the lake, boiled over the top of the dam to a depth of four feet.

Considerable damage was done to streets.

FLAMES DESTROY NEW YORK PIERS

Behind these rolling clouds of smoke, raging flames were sweeping a $2,500,000 pier of the Cunard Line in New York when this picture was taken. More than 700 firemen, fifty pieces of land fire apparatus and a half-dozen fireboats fought to prevent the blaze from spreading to adjoining piers, and surgeons treated scores of persons affected by the smoke. The liner California was moved out into the Hudson River to escape the flames.

Baxter Had Hard Time In Getting Start In Films

Warner Baxter is "the best damn caballerero in all Hollywood." He won that title as "The Cisco Kid." Then, discarding his spurs and sombrero, for a frock coat and top hat, he played the title role in "Daddy Long Legs." In his latest picture, "Amateur Daddy," which opened at the La Nora theater Sunday, his characterization is said to combine the romantic dash of "The Cisco Kid," with the human appeal of "Daddy Long Legs," and despite the fact that he wears neither spurs and sombrero, nor frock coat and high hat.

It was in Columbus, Ohio, that Baxter started his professional career. It was there that he met Dorothy Shoemaker while visiting the farm implement store. Miss Shoemaker was then an out-of-control girl, the place of her partner, confined to his bed, ill, so Baxter learned two songs and the 'business' on Sunday and opened Monday afternoon. But after four weeks his history became history and Baxter became an insurance agent. His earnings, however, proved less than his living expenses, so with the few dollars he had tucked away he opened a garage in Tulsa, Oklahoma. Expensive cars were soon rolling in and out and with them the last dime out of his pocket. It was then that he decided to devote his life to acting.

Garner Hits at Hoover Messages

WASHINGTON, May 16. (AP)—Speaker Garner, Saturday, leaned back in his chair, fingered the stub of a cigar and accused President Hoover of having "done more to prevent the return of public confidence than any other one thing." The silver-haired Texan chose his daily press conference as the occasion for criticizing what he called "the unending stream of statements from the White House."

The object of this conference is to present a comprehensive view of home economics as it is seen by some leaders in this field, and to receive suggestions from the National Congress of Parents and Teachers as to the ways in which the home economics program may be advanced to meet the needs of pupils and parents.

Other high points are: David Lawrence, president of the United States Daily, will talk on "Safeguarding Future Citizens." Mr. E. A. Thomas, secretary General of the World Federation of Education Associations, has for his topic, "World Conditions Affecting Childhood."

CHRISTIAN CHURCHES "Mortals and Immortals" was the lesson-sermon subject in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, May 15.

Romans 8:16 furnished the golden text: "The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God."

The lesson-sermon embraced the following verses from the Bible (Romans 8:8-9): "So then they that are in the flesh cannot please God. But ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God dwell in you."

Included in the service were the following citations from pages 250 and 265 of the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy:

"Mortal body and mind are one, and that one is called man; but a mortal is not man, for man is immortal. . . . The senses represent birth as untimely and death irresistible, as if man were a weed growing apace or a flower withered by the sun and nipped by untimely frosts; but this is true only of a mortal, not of a man in God's image and likeness."

The president of the seventh district Texas Federation of Women's clubs, Mrs. J. A. Hill of Canyon, was presented a federation pin at the close of the recent district meeting.

CLUBS CLOSING ACTIVITIES OF CURRENT YEAR

SUBJECTS FOR STUDY BEGINNING IN FALL ARE SELECTED

CANYON, May 16.—Most of the clubs of the seventh district are closing their year's work and members preparing to spend their summers in individual beautification projects around their homes or in vacation activities which will take some of them long distances from the district. Most of the clubs have already selected their subject of study for next year. As usual literature is the favorite topic but travel courses, study in local and federal government, art courses and history courses are receiving much attention.

Clubs throughout the seventh district are doing the thing at hand to be done, whether it be a pretentious project or not. At the Canadian meeting one member reported that they clean and store the curtains of the high school auditorium in order that this expensive equipment may be in good condition at the opening of the school each year. Another club showers thoughtful attention upon the older people of the community and those who are shut in.

Extracts from club talks made by Mrs. Phebe K. Warner of Claude, "We are supposed to realize our duties and attend to them," "Two thousand children were out of school because of lack of clothing in 1930. . . . If all the people of the United States wore all cotton clothes they could, the price of cotton would go up and the Texas children could be in school." "Curb markets which are being promoted by the Home Demonstration clubs and agents are a benefit to people of the town and country, to business men and to the women to prepare the things to sell."

The Twentieth Century club of Amarillo is one of those which devoted undertaking. No refreshments are served at its meetings.

Canadian has an unusual Junior club made up of girls from ten to fourteen. The club has been federated since 1930. The juniors are especially proud that one of their number won a prize in a spelling contest.

"There is no excuse for wearing shabby hose in your kitchen."

Says Mrs. Leona Rusk Ihrig, who will conduct the Daily News Free Cooking School beginning Tuesday.

"I know Allen A hosiery—I have worn Allen A for years—and when I see the sheer, high quality, that is now selling for so little money I can't understand why any housewife will wear old, 'runny' hose in her work at home. It surely isn't necessary now at the reduced prices on Allen A."

Mrs. Ihrig has selected Allen A hose to wear during the four days of her Cooking School in Pampa. Ask her about them. She will be glad to tell you why she prefers Allen A. Allen A Hose are guaranteed.

Grecian Gowns In Favor For Evening Wear

BY DIANA MERWIN (Associated Press Fashion Editor) PARIS, May 16. (P)—Fashion has gone back to the Greeks for inspiration for her newest evening gown.

High waists, accented busts, long unbroken lines and occasional draperies are all used in the evening mode to recall the Helen of Troy figures famous 2000 years ago.

A long and unbroken line is the thing which designers emphasize these days and figures are more important than faces in the evening mode.

The bodices of the new frocks are less décolleté than they were last year. Square décolletages, broadened shoulder lines and back-strap effects are all preferred to the "slashed to the waist" mode of last season.

When such heavy fabrics as crinkly crepe and used silks are often close fitting, but diaphanous materials such as chiffons are invariably made with a full hemline cut to ripple softly about the feet.

One designer is creating Grecian effect gowns of soft crepe with a loose drapery swung from one shoulder to the waist and back to the other shoulder.

Costume jewelry is never worn with the Grecian line frocks. The jewels which accompany them are genuine stones, offset by simple classic settings.

Sandals are the smartest evening slippers.

Tit for Tat But The Robbers Won

SAN BENITO, May 16. (P)—First, the bloodhounds caught the robbers. Then, the robbers caught the bloodhounds.

Tying together the collars of the bloodhounds, the robbers festooned the captive canines over the limb of a tree, and proceeded on their way.

Hot in pursuit, the possemen arrived, plucked the bloodhounds off the tree, and sicked them on the trail of the robbers again.

Solemn and earnest, as is the manner of all bloodhounds, they loped forward on the scent of the robbers.

Pressing forward through the underbrush, the possemen heard shots ahead in the darkness. No more was heard of the bloodhounds. Nor of the robbers.

Rain fell and obliterated the trail before a fresh consignment of bloodhounds could be procured.

All this happened last night after the robbers attempted to steal an automobile near the home of Police Chief Luke Waters.

Officers said they believed the men wanted to steal the car to transport loot taken in Hartgen last week.

You Can't Marry

by Julia Cleff-Addams

SYNOPSIS: Suddenly returning home from a business trip, George, Revell Townsend finds her cousin, Jenny taking care of her. George's husband, who is recovering from a serious breakdown, Jenny is in love with Garth Aveney, the nephew of George's employer, who doesn't know George is pretending that Jenny married Eddie.

Chapter 25

SCORCHING ANGER

"SUPPOSE you're going to the Old Man's to dinner?" George said.

"Yes . . . Did you come into the apartment just now and— and go out again?" Jenny asked.

"Two seemed to be company—" "How dare you, George!" And then—"Oh, we can't be quarreling! It's too fantastic, when he has been counting the hours till he sees you again! You must be tired or very unhappy to let yourself speak like this!"

Jenny's face was quivering and now George's, too, broke up and twisted her smile into a pathetic thing.

"Yes, I'm sorry. Yes, I'm tired and I'm unhappy, too. Don't hate me, honey, not anyway until we've talked this business out. Run along now, and stand up to the old devil all you can, he seems to like it. Oh, and, Jenny, if you should meet Garth Aveney at Rochester Gate—you remember the man I mean?—take most deadly care not to breathe a word about Ed and me. You'll probably find out why for yourself."

Jenny went on down the stairs and into the taxi which Gill had summoned for her and as she went she said to herself over and over again—"George's tired and unhappy, people don't know what they're saying when they are very tired and unhappy."

The taxi lurched along to the tune of it. "People don't know what they're saying—" But they ought to know! George ought to know that there were things one simply never, never allowed oneself to imagine! Jenny's hot, sudden anger scorched her again.

The anger did not last. Little Miss Georgina had learnt many useful lessons with granddaddy. It never was wise, she had learnt, to be angry because others did things that, oneself, one would never do. People were different, Jenny was Jenny; George was George. Jenny's sore mind went back to the night when George had said—"At a pinch I could say that it was you Eddie married, not me." Something coarse-grained in the nature that planned the telling of such a lie!

Perhaps, but—Jenny's curved hand slipped between two folds of frosty silver-green—there was so much else to remember. George gave and gave and never had enough of giving; when she chose a silver track for a little cousin, she did it royally, with a laugh and a kiss.

She woke up to the fact that the taxi had stopped and she hurried out. The high, dark-fronted house seemed familiar to her after George's intimate chatter about the old man who raised it; but Jenny was not prepared for the beauty of the hall. George had said nothing about the gleaming floors and the softly hanging Eastern silks and the silvered lights. As Jenny went under them in the wake of a gray butler, she felt as though she were a swan, swimming in a silver lake.

Perhaps she looked like one as she entered the big, glittering room at the end of the hall, for her host stared at her through suddenly narrowed eyes, faintly smiling, and seemed to forget that he had apologies to make, and explanations.

Jenny's heart tumbled suddenly, stopped, then went on.

"Mr. Matching isn't here yet?" she asked.

Garth Aveney collected himself.

"I'm sorry, I should have told you at once—he's not well enough to dine with us. Later on, if it wouldn't bore you, he would very much like to see you upstairs."

"I didn't know that he was ill," Jenny sat down weakly.

"He isn't ill exactly. But he has had an exhausting trip and he isn't robust. He forgets that he is an old man."

"Perhaps he doesn't feel old, in his heart."

"I've never before heard anybody suggest that he'd got one. 'You'll have a cocktail!'"

Jenny shook her head, then remembered that George had told her it was babyish, nowadays, to refuse, and took a little ice-cold glass from the silver tray a footman held before her.

"Don't drink it," said Aveney quietly, as the man left the room.

"You'll dislike it. Besides, it's not your pass."

She looked up at him, flushing deeply. No doubt, he was making fun of her, though there was no sign of it in his face. He stood with one shoulder against a high, carved mantel, his slenderness emphasized by the brightly paneled walls behind him. His face was half in shadow; and she remembered that in her dreams of him, it was always like this that she saw him—with his wide shoulders and slender hips and long, idle hands all clearly cut against the light, but his face hidden in shadow.

"I am wondering whether you will tell me something," he said, from out of his shadow.

"Yes, what is it you want to ask?"

"Why did you have yourself announced as 'Miss Revell'?"

Jenny sought in vain for an answer. He bent down and removed the little glass which she was still clutching.

"I shouldn't have thought that you were that sort."

"What sort?" managed Jenny.

"The sort that insists on being modern—though—married. The Brigitta Deering type. Or is it some league that makes you take a pledge never to use your husband's name? Anyway, it's a movement. And I shouldn't have thought that you would belong to it."

"I don't," said Jenny.

"Then why—?"

"I forgot, I mean, I forgot that I am supposed to be 'Mrs. Townsend'."

It is a lucky chance that Mr. Matching isn't here. But the explanation did not appear to satisfy him. He repeated "supposed to be" and laughed.

A door in the paneled opening. A footman stood rigidly by it, waiting. Garth Aveney shrugged and turned.

"Shall we dine?"

Her mind raced as she preceded him into the smaller room, on the other side of the bright panels and the silent servants. Why had he despaired her? Surely he could not think that it was she who had married Eddie? Surely he must have guessed, when his uncle ordered him to play host to 'Mrs. Townsend,' exactly what had happened. He must have assumed that George, whom he knew to be in love with Eddie ('He ought to thank his stars for you!'), had covered her marriage by making use of her cousin's identical name.

Aveney seated himself opposite her and began to talk, easily and brilliantly. All about Mexico, where, apparently, he had been for many years.

"Mexico?" she repeated, catching timidly at the name. "Eddie was to have gone there. But I don't believe he will ever be able to, now."

"I'm sincerely sorry to hear it. I was to have met him this week, but I understand he's not allowed to see anyone."

"I don't think he will fly again. I'm afraid not. I didn't know that you wanted to see him."

"You knew, surely, that he was to have returned to Mexico with me? I'm taking a pilot and observer back with me. He didn't tell you?"

"She shook her head. No, she had not been told. George, now she came to think of it, had explained very little. Her thoughts went confusedly back to her problems. Supposing she had been mistaken from the first and George had never fully explained to this man, either? She might, after all, have sent him away without saying a word of Eddie.

Then—then it would look as though she, Jenny Revell, were a very sordid type of creature, indeed, a girl who flirted languidly with one man while she was waiting to be married to another. A girl who made a "date" to go motoring when her husband of a day was ill and in need of her. A girl who would not take her husband's name or—she stared down at her bare hand—or wear his ring.

"You're not eating anything at all," said Aveney.

She chose one of the questions that were milling through her mind and, haltingly, put it.

"Was it—was it your uncle who told you that I was the Georgina Revell who—?"

"Who had married Townsend? He mentioned it, certainly, in fact he has been talking quite a lot about you. But I rather fancy that I got the news in the first place from your cousin."

"From George! And you believed her?"

"Copyright, Julia Cleff-Addams"

Aveney's lips lash Jenny to resentment and tears, in the next installment.

BABY ON 3400-MILE TRIP

When his job fizzled out in San Francisco and he couldn't find another, Charles Hyatt decided he'd go back to the paternal roof at Uniontown, Pa., with his girl wife, Reva, and their baby, Charles, Jr., 8 months old. Broke, they started across country in box cars when they could get 'em. Here they are at Cincinnati on the last lap of their 34,000-mile journey after 37 days on the road in freight cars and hiking.

JUDGE BRALY THINKS BAR CONVENTION TO BE GOOD

Noted Speakers Will Carry Messages of Value To All Delegates Present.

Judge Clifford Braly, prominent attorney of Pampa and a member of the attendance and publicity committee of the Texas Bar association, writes from Mineral Wells that from all indications it appeared that the annual meeting of the Texas Bar association there on May 18, 20 and 21 would be the most interesting and best attended meeting of the association has ever had. Judge Braly based his opinion upon advices from officers of the association to the effect that advance registrations are running far ahead of any similar period in the half century history of the Bar association, indicating that interest in the annual meeting of the association is more widespread over the state than ever before. This is accounted for, Mr. Braly believes, by the most unusual program that has been planned for this year's meeting and the excellent arrangements that have been made for the entertainment of visiting lawyers and their families.

In commenting upon this year's meeting, Mr. Braly pointed out several unusual features:

The program committee has secured the attendance of two of the most outstanding lawyers in the United States in the persons of the Hon. Martin Littleton of New York and the Hon. Guy A. Thompson, president of the American Bar association. Both Mr. Littleton and Mr. Thompson are to make addresses during the meeting. Capacity audiences are expected to hear each speaker.

The lawyers of Texas will take peculiar interest in the address of Mr. Littleton because of the fact that he is a native born Texan who, has become since his removal to New York one of the recognized leaders of the American bar. The address of Mr. Littleton will be on the subject of "What Price Progress," and will doubtless challenge the serious thoughts of every person who hears it.

The principal subjects to be discussed during the business sessions will be: "Lay and Corporate Encroachment on the Practice of the Law," "Raising the Standard for Admission to the Practice of the Law" and "The Self-Governing Bar Bill."

Foreshadowing the interest which will be taken in the matters to be discussed was the action of the Dallas Bar association and the San Antonio Bar association recommending drastic changes with reference to examination for admission to the practice of the law in this state. There is a wide divergence of opinion among the lawyers regarding the merits of each of the propositions mentioned and the discussion promises to be lively on each subject. As indicative of the character of debate that may be expected, it is expected that the argument in favor of the self governing bar bill will be led by the Hon. Harry Lawther of Dallas, while the argument against the self governing bar bill will be led by the Hon. W. P. Maston of Fort Worth, who has long been recognized as one of the ablest advocates in Texas.

German is being restored to the curricula of many high schools, but from the looks of things in the Far East, it might be better to teach Chinese and Japanese.

A RED-LETTER day in cooking is just around the corner. It's a day which will loom large in your memory for weeks afterward. For it marks the opening of this newspaper's annual FREE Cooking School—the "Kitchen Chautauqua."

We have planned these programs for months—getting seats ready, making arrangements to get together the best foodstuffs and home appliances, ironing out all the detail problems which crop up in arranging a truly great and truly memorable home exposition such as the Kitchen Chautauqua is to be.

A home economist who has talked before thousands of housewives, throughout the country, will be in direct charge of all the programs. She is noted for her practical knowledge of the art of cookery, the frills and furbelows as well as everyday roast beef and potatoes. MAGS NOSE OUT AMARILLO TEAM 7 TO 6 IN SANDSTORM

TRIPLE PLAY ON GROUNDER BIG FEATURE

LOCALS WIN IN NINTH ON RUSTY CAHILL'S DOUBLE

Manager Rusty Cahill's double, which scored Lister and Shriver in the ninth inning yesterday afternoon at Magnolia park gave the Magnolia Mags a 7 to 6 win over the Burlington Railroaders of Amarillo. The winning run marked the first time the "Mags" had been in front during the game. They tied the score twice but lost out on both occasions.

Rayburn Burke went the route for the Magnolias and pitched fine ball. He allowed 12 hits but most of them came during the sandstorm which blew up in the seventh inning. McDonald started in the box for the Railroaders but was replaced by McKnight in the sixth.

The feature play of the game was made in the fourth inning when the "Mags" pulled a triple play on a ground ball to third. Skeeter Thorne picked up the scorcher, touched third and threw to Weeks at second. Weeks' throw to first beat McDonald by inches. The play is believed to be the first made in Pampa on a ground ball. The dust storm blew up in the seventh with the score 3 to 3 in favor of the Railroaders. The Amarillo nine added two more in the first half of the ninth and appeared to have the game on ice. The "Mags" came to bat with Bozeman the willow wrecker and he proceeded to smack out his second double of the day. Weathered, next man up, singled, and Bozeman was caught trying to make home. Weathered tried to second on the play. Lister singled Weathered to third from which point he scored on Shriver's double. Manager Cahill then won the game with his double down the first base line.

Lister hit safely three times out of five trips to the plate to lead the Magnolia sluggers. Weathered and Shriver with two runs and two hits each were high scorers. Bozeman hit two doubles and was followed by Shriver. Cahill and Thorne with one each. Burke had five strikeouts to his credit.

Stidger wielded the big bat for the Railroaders with three safe hits on four trips to the plate. Guy Hayden led the scoring with a pair of runs. Story and Archibald accounted for doubles. McDonald and McKnight each had three strikeouts. The game was one of the best seen here this season. Up to the seventh inning it was anybody's ball game and from then on it was a toss-up who could take advantage of the wind. The "Mags" were on their feet throughout the game and were hitting the pill far.

The Mags will go to LeFors next Sunday for a return game.

Score by innings: R H E
Magnolias ... 001 10 103-7 13 6
Railroaders ... 012 001 003-6 12 5
Batteries—Magnolias: Burke and Bozeman. Railroaders: McDonald, McKnight and Ammons. Umpires: Buckingham and Bancroft.

Hoover-Defeats Miami 15 To 13 In Sandy Slugfest

A pitchers battle turned into a slugfest yesterday afternoon at Miami when Hoover defeated Miami 15 to 13 for the second win over the Chiefs this season. The score stood 5 and 4 in favor of Hoover at the end of the fourth when the sandstorm arrived on the scene.

Chastain for Hoover and Kivehlin of Miami went the distance and there was little difference in their performances. Chastain sent eight Miami batters to the bench via the strikeout route while Kivehlin was treating five Hoover batsmen to the same medicine. D. Benton caught for Hoover. J. Cunningham was behind the bat for Miami.

Lard and Saltzman soaked homers for the Hoovers. B. Cunningham got a four bagger for Miami.

Fielding was good until the fourth inning when the wind started doing tricks with the ball.

Hoover will be at home to the Pampa Oddfellows next Sunday afternoon.

Pine Bluff Game Behind Vicksburg

Pine Bluff edged a notch nearer a tie in the leadership of the Cotton States league with Vicksburg yesterday by handing the Mississippi Billies an 8-1 defeat. The victory gave the Arkansans eight wins to four defeats against Vicksburg's nine wins and three reverses. Berry held Vicksburg to six hits while his mates were collecting 17 safeties.

At Eldorado, the Lions trounced Baton Rouge 10 to 7, with the aid of nine hits and seven Baton Rouge errors, winning despite a ninth inning rally by the Louisianians that brought in five runs.

A hitting spree at Monroe gave the Oilers a 10-3 win over Port Arthur. Dunbar and Fyia led the slugging with homers and Gray and Fogelman each collected three hits in four times up.

Beaumont Makes Baseball Critics Look a Bit Silly

By The Associated Press
It must look funny to critics, who selected Dallas, Houston and Fort Worth to battle it out for the Texas league pennant, to see Beaumont on top.

But the Exporters are up there with perfectly good intentions of staying at the pinnacle. Yesterday they beat Dallas, 6 to 0. Rowe blanked the Steers with six hits. Erickson and Garland were easy for the Exporters who collected ten hits.

Some powerful fielding, timely hitting and heads-up baseball behind the pitching of Ralph Judd gave Houston a 7 to 3 verdict over Fort Worth. Judd was nipped for 11 hits, including two home runs, made several almost impossible catches for Houston and started three double plays.

Fred Vincent pitched a three-hit game for Wichita Falls to blank San Antonio, 6 to 0. Cy Smith and Joe Vance tried to stop the Spudlers but it was their day to lose. In a night game, Galveston won a five-inning game from Tyler, formerly Shreveport, at Galveston, had doubled for the Trojan's first of the sixth. Thormaehlen hurled five innings of hitless ball to give the Buccaneers a 3 to 0 victory. The sixth inning rain saved Thormaehlen's perfect record for when the downpour arrived. Benton of Tyler had doubled for the Trojan's first hit.

This Game of GOLF

By O.B. KEELER

I received the other day a chart of the golf course at the Moultrie country club, Moultrie, Ga., which merits notice. It was compiled by Dr. John C. Parker and reads 31-1-62.

The Moultrie course is a nine-hole affair, and not a very long one; it measures 2,900 yards, or 5,800 for the 18 holes, with not particularly exacting par of 72.

But a card of 62 is not exactly one to be laughed off, on any regular golf course. Especially with the features noted below.

Mr. Parker played the first hole in 2 each round. This hole is of 385 yards. It is not much of a par 4 hole, of course. But—well, a deuce is something to write home about, at that. And he did it twice. His third 2 in the round was at a hole of 210 yards; a par 3, and a good one.

Putting The Answer
On only one "green" of the 18 did Mr. Parker employ as many as two putts; the 475-yard fourth hole, in his second round, where he carded a par 5.

This is putting in anybody's language, on grass or sand or bent or what have you?

Mr. Parker's card shows one hole above par, 8 pars, 7 birdies, and a brace of eagles—good ones. It follows:

Par (out) ... 444 535 344-36
Parker ... 234 434 434-31
Par (in) ... 444 535 344-36-72
Parker ... 244 534 243-31-62

Fliers Will Try To Lower Record, Post And Gatty

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 16. (AP)—Two veteran aviators, Jimmie Mattern of Fort Worth and Bennett Griffin of Oklahoma City, plan to take off next month in an attempt to lower the globe-girdling record of eight days and eight hours held by Wiley Post and Harold Gatty.

The fliers left here last night for Fort Worth after details of flight had been worked out in a conference with John Mabee, Tulsa oil drilling contractor, and Harry Turner, Oklahoma City oil man, financial sponsors of the proposed record attempt.

The two expect to hop off either from Chicago or New York, flying to Harbor Grace, thence across the Atlantic ocean to Ireland, over England, Holland or Belgium, Germany, Poland, Soviet Russia, Alaska, and Canada.

Equipment and personnel of the flight were approved by Colonel Clarence M. Young, secretary of the aeronautics division of the department of commerce.

A new Lockheed Vega, powered with a Wasp motor, will be used. It has a cruising speed of 140 miles an hour and a cruising radius of 20 flight hours.

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., May 16. (AP)—John Boles, the Texas actor, left yesterday to make a personal appearance tour in the east.

SWETONIC IS BIG SENSATION OF NATIONALS

PITCHES 3RD SHUTOUT GAME YESTERDAY AGAINST ROBINS

By HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Steve Swetonic, a home-town boy who made good, fast is becoming the pitching sensation of the National league.

He cracked right hander of Pittsburgh pitched his third shutout of the season yesterday, halting Brooklyn with two hits for a 2 to 0 victory.

Previously he had blanked the Cardinals and the Cubs with three hits apiece. This season he has permitted only 14 hits in 36 innings and won three games and lost one.

The Boston Braves moved up to within one game of first place by wallowing St. Louis, 8-3, while the league leading Chicago Cubs were bowing to the Phillies, 8-6.

The Giants beat the Cincinnati Reds, 9-1.

In the American league, Charley Ruffing held the Cleveland Indians to four hits and struck out 12 men in a 5-0 victory that put the Yankees within a game and a half of the league leading Washington Senators.

The Senators were beaten by the St. Louis Browns as Walter Stewart allowed only four hits. Charley Gehringer's seventh home run marked a five inning rally that gave Detroit a 7-2 victory over Philadelphia.

Chicago White Sox pounded Wiley Post for nine hits and eight runs in the first two innings to beat Boston easily, 9-2.

Burgoo King Wins Big Sum In 8 Days

BALTIMORE, May 16. (AP)—With Burgoo King's triumph in the forty-second running of the preakness past, the Pimlico race track was deserted except for a few horses that remained to race today on a charity program.

The great chestnut colt of E. R. Bradley proved himself the premier three-year-old when he showed the heart Saturday to outrace Tick On, a favorite from the Loma stable, and W. M. Jefford's Boatwalk, for the $50,376 purse and a replica of the Woodlawn cup in the preakness.

The victory carried the King's winning in eight days to $102,990. Only a week before Burgoo King showed his hoofs to a class field in the derby.

Not only did the Bradley colt stamp himself the finest three-year-old of the season but also joined a select class of winners of both the derby and preakness: Sir Barton in 1919 and Gallant Fox in 1930 won the two classics.

HE LEARNS SOMETHING
MEMPHIS, May 16. (AP)—The next time Dr. J. A. Odum goes golfing he will be awakened by an alarm clock, having learned that train whistles sound more or less alike. Odum had planned an early morning game, intending to awake when the 5 a. m. train came through. He was awakened by a whistle, rushed to the golf course and waited for his opponent. Growing weary of waiting, he drove to a cafe for coffee and there learned that he still had an hour to wait for the 5 o'clock train.

Longhorns Have Good Chance To Cop Title Again

DALLAS, May 16. (AP)—The southwest conference baseball championship race will close this week with games Friday and Saturday at Austin between the University of Texas and Texas A. & M.

The Texas Longhorns must lose both games to the Aggies to lose the southwest championship. If they split even it will give them the title, but if they lose both, the Rice Owls of Houston will be champions.

The Owls have concluded their schedule and are in second place. In their recent series at College Station, the Longhorns won two games from the Aggies.

Australia And U. S. Paired In Finals

NEW YORK, May 16. (AP)—The Davis Cup scene shifts to Philadelphia this week when the United States and Australia paired in the North American zone finals.

Both registered clean-sweep victories in the semi-finals over the week-end, the United States eliminating Mexico, 5-0, and Australia disposing of Cuba by the same count.

The finals will open at Philadelphia Friday with two singles matches. The doubles will be played Saturday and the final two singles matches Monday.

Neither country has dominated a lineup but the chances are that Jack Crawford and Harry Hopman again will carry the entire burden for Australia and that Wilmer Allison and Ellsworth Vines will play singles and Allison and John Van Ryn the doubles for the United States.

It may turn out that an American victory will hinge on the doubles play of Allison and Van Ryn for some experts give Crawford and Van Ryn an even chance of winning both for his singles matches.

Lawyers To Meet Next Thursday

MINERAL WELLS, May 16. (AP)—The Texas Bar association will hold its fifty-first annual meeting at Mineral Wells May 19, 20 and 21. Many prominent lawyers and judges of the state will attend.

Among the program features are addresses to be made by Martin W. Littleton of the New York bar and Guy A. Thompson of St. Louis, president of the American Bar association.

Littleton will speak at the convention hall Thursday night, May 19, and Thompson Saturday morning.

W. O. Gross, of the Palo Pinto County Bar association, announced that the public was invited to hear these addresses. Littleton was paired at Weatherford and has many friends and acquaintances in this section, who will remember him as a railroad section hand and a young lawyer at Weatherford. He appeared for the defense in the famous Harry K. Thaw murder trial and has had a part in many other notable cases.
