CREDULITY COST $100,000

It was Mrs. Edward B. McLean, above, wife of a wealthy Washington publisher, who caused the arrest of Gaston B. Means several weeks after they had discussed plans for negotiating for the return of the kidnaped Lindbergh baby. Mrs. McLean told Department of Justice officials that she gave Means $100,000, but that no results were forthcoming.

Briggs Named On Regional Group

George W. Briggs, manager of the Board of City Development, returned yesterday from Mineral Wells, where he attended the annual meeting of the Texas Commercial Executives association in a three-day session. Mr. Briggs was named a member of the executive committee for this year.

The meeting was one of the most beneficial in the history of the organization, Mr. Briggs reported. Some of the most prominent speakers in the southwest were on the program and subjects of vital interest were discussed.

Mr. Briggs spent considerable time with Judge Clifford Braly, who is in Mineral Wells for his health. Mr. Briggs says the judge looked much improved.

Amos 'n' Andy To Start Early For Celebration

Dick Cann will leave Higgins May 22 and will arrive in Pampa in time for the Pampa Frontier Days celebration, which starts May 26, according to word received today. The distance is only 75 miles, but Mr. Cann will need that length of time to get here as Amos 'n' Andy can't travel very fast.

Amos 'n' Andy are a couple of old oxen which will take part in the parades during the celebration. Mr. Cann will drive the entire distance in a prairie schooner. He drove the team to Cheyenne, Okla., to the Cheyenne and Arapahoe celebration April 19.

The oxen are well known to oldtimers in this part of the country. Mr. Cann has had the beasts a number of years. They are well trained and appear unconcerned in large crowds.

At The Upturn?

History shows that past depressions ended about the time all the prophets began to admit they didn't know when normal times would return. And that cycle has just about been reached at the present time.

This Is Simple

"State Press" of The Dallas NEWS reduces that prognostication to a simple observation. He has noticed that when things get as bad as they can, we should be optimistic, for they are bound to change—for the better. But when prosperity comes, beware—any decided change will be for the worse.

Forward or Backward

Conditions, cities, men, and communities do not remain stationary very long. They either advance or slip back. That is why it is never wise to quit trying. Many of the greatest victories are won by default of the opposition. One town's drastic economy may be another's opportunity.

Great Tax Measure Is Reported

SENATE GETS OIL TARIFF IN NEW MEASURE

RATE SECTION IS NOT RE-OPENED THIS MORNING

ECONOMY BILL IS DWARF

PRESIDENT HOOVER IS WORKING HARD FOR SUPPORT

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP)—The big way tax bill was put on the mark for a sprint toward enactment today, while the party chieftains determined anew to supplement its dwarfed running mate—the economy bill. After refusing 2 to 6 to reopen the rate section of the $1,010,000 revenue measure, the Senate, finance committee reported it and bipartisan determination to press it through is evident.

Meanwhile, the senate appropriations committee went to work on the vital supply and economy bills, determined to bring about savings of more than $200,000,000 necessary to make the new tax bill balance the 1933 budget.

In the house, the economy committee which had its omnibus bill shattered was called to meet this afternoon on plans for other moves to cut government costs.

President Hoover worked steadily in a continued effort to rally support in the Republican-controlled senate jointly for the compromise tax bill and a $237,000,000 money-saving program.

Mr. Hoover intends to concentrate on senate affairs principally in coming days, since it now holds only the tax and economy bills but also a majority of the appropriation measures.

The bill raises the income tax and corporation rates above the increases voted by the house. It repeals many of the special excise levies provided import duty, higher automobile levies and greater admission taxes.

Four other tariff items, oil, coal, copper and lumber, remain in the bill.

In response to urging by President Hoover in week and conference, republican leaders intend to press for prompt senate consideration of the revenue measure.

Lindbergh Case Takes New Turn

NORFOLK, Va., May 9 (AP)—Some new turn in negotiations for the recovery of Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr., was indicated today by cessation of activities aboard the sea-going yacht Marcon and a supposed week-end plane trip by the negotiators.

The plane flight presumably was made by John Hughes Curtis, principal negotiator, and Lieutenant George L. Richard, naval officer, since Friday night when the Marcon returned from her latest cruise out to sea. Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh also was believed to have left the naval base by plane.

Rear Admiral Guy H. Buzza, retired, and the very Rev. H. Dobson-Peacock, associated with Mr. Curtis as intermediaries, refused to give any information today concerning the negotiations.

I SAW—

Early this morning, John Sturgeon driving what he calls his "big red job", and Mel Davis, right behind him, driving his Buick, from the Cook-Adams addition to town. It appeared that Mel was trying to catch up with John. Said the latter in explanation, "I beat him to the bridge and got a head start on him."

Mrs. Louise Miller Dunn, district clerk, and Miss Ola Gregory, deputy county clerk, out Kingsmill way yesterday, each astride a horse. They said they were practicing up for the Frontier Days celebration. Ola wanted to work standing up this morning. This was partially caused by the capers Ola's horse cut when the train went by.

Some men laughing at a Hoover joke going the rounds. This concerned a story that Hoover was kidnaped. The kidnapers sent the department of justice a note advising government officials that if they did not send $100,000 pronto they'd bring him back.

MURRAY FORCES BANKING COMMISSIONER TO LEAVE OFFICE WITHOUT REASON

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 9 (AP)—The resignation of C. G. Shull, state banking commissioner, was forced today by Governor William H. Murray. In announcing his resignation, Shull said he did not know the reason for Governor Murray's action, adding: "He called me to his office this morning and told me he wanted me to resign." Shull left his resignation with the governor. It becomes effective after today. He was appointed in October, 1927, by Governor Henry S. Johnston, who later was ousted from office. For 20 years previously, Shull had been in the banking business at Hugo.

GRAND JURORS ARE EXPECTED TO GET FACTS

R. E. CAMPBELL TELLS OF AFFAIRS THIS MORNING

BARBERS IN DIFFICULTY

A. H. GOSSETT ACCUSES CAMPBELL—BOND IS $750

R. E. Campbell, charged this morning with assault with intent to commit murder, was placed under a $750 bond at a preliminary hearing before James Tamm, Jr., in justice court this afternoon. The charge was filed by County Attorney Sherman White this morning. Campbell was charged in connection with the firing of two shots near the entrance of a North Cuyler street barber shop about 10 o'clock this morning. The complaint was signed by A. H. Gossett, also a barber.

At the hearing, Gossett, the only witness who testified, said that he and the defendant had not been on speaking terms in a week, and that they had several arguments about 15 witnesses were summoned after the hearing to testify before the grand jury. Mr. White said the grand jury would conduct an investigation today or tomorrow.

Gossett told officers that as he started to work out, the barber shop door, Campbell fired a shot from a .38 caliber revolver. The shot lodged in the wall of the shop. He said another shot was fired. The complainant said he ran into a nearby store when the second shot was fired.

Gossett told the county attorney that Campbell acquired the barber shop in a deal Friday night. Gossett was employed in the shop and came to work this morning.

The gun now in custody of the sheriff's department, showed an attempt had been made to fire three cartridges in the gun. The revolver was of the triggerless type, referred to by officers as a "thumb-buster."

Junior Play To Get "Panning" Of "Plant" Player

The audience at "Forty Miles From Nowhere," Junior play to be presented at the city auditorium tomorrow night, need not call for the law when a boisterous high school boys begins panning the play about his seat in the back of the house. It's a part of what Miss Arless O'Keefe has described as the funniest play that has ever been presented here—that is, in her memory.

This student will sit in the back of the house and tell just how rotten he thinks the play is, and it's a part of the show. The plot deals with a wealthy business man who imagines he was written the big hit of all time. Every character has a comedy role. The play is a farce throughout the three acts.

Miss O'Keefe said the play has developed a number of good actors. Leading roles are interpreted by Edmond and David Whittenburg, Vonell Kees, Clotilde McCallister, Jim Stone, Erlene Peters, Loretta Fletcher, Mildred Marshall, Wayne Hutchens, Clinton Evans.

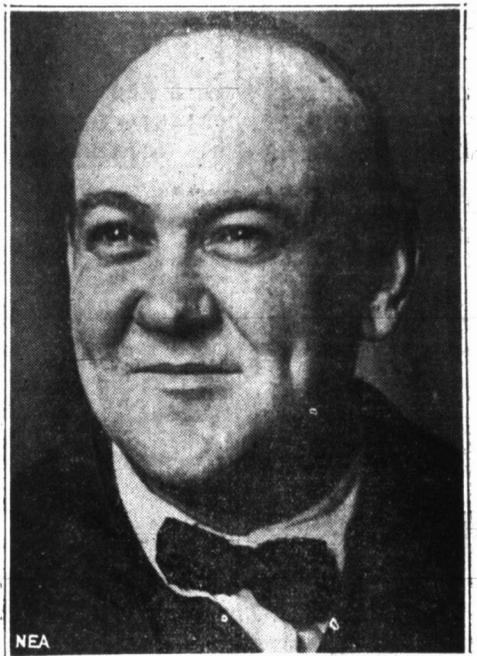

Most of the comedy situations develop when cast rehearse and present business man's play. Zenobia McFarlin is director. Miss O'Keefe directed the play while Miss McFarlin attended the state interscholastic meet at Austin last week.

Oil Gauges Are Stolen From Car

Two oil testing gauges and other valuable tools owned by Charles Hieronimus of the Cities Service company, stolen from his automobile Saturday night were found on a road near Pampa by Harold Baer and Bill Baird. The tools and gauges were valued at over $100. City Police said the thieves discarded the tools when they discovered what they had stolen.

Dr. A. W. Mann reported that a bath tub, washing basin bowl, and other bathroom fixtures were stolen from his house on South Wynne Saturday night. Police are investigating.

TOLD CONVINCING STORY

Gaston B. Means, above, told such a convincing story of being in touch with the kidnapers of the Lindbergh baby that he received, it is charged, $100,000 from the wife of a prominent Washington publisher to negotiate for the child's return. But she waited in vain, and finally consulted Department of Justice agents. They arrested Means, who himself is a former Federal investigator.

GREAT DIRIGIBLE IS PASSING OVER TEXAS ON WAY TO NAVAL MANEUVERS ON PACIFIC COAST

Passengers Enjoying News of World On Flight

BEAUMONT, May 9 (AP)—The Akron, world's largest airship, was brought over Texas soil near Beaumont at 1:05 p. m. (C. S. T.) this afternoon on its flight from Lakehurst to the Pacific coast.

NEW ORLEANS, May 9 (AP)—Peacefully sailing across the continent from its port in Lakehurst, N. J. to California, the dirigible Akron passed over New Orleans at 8 o'clock today and three hours later radioed to the United States naval station here that everything was going fine.

Rains and squalls were expected over Texas as the ship pointed toward Beaumont, said Commander C. E. Rosendahl.

The crew read and commented on the latest news dispatches at breakfast and whetted their appetites for a fine chicken lunch.

In California, the ship is to be moored to a temporary mast at the new Sunnyvale airbase now under construction. The Akron will engage in tactical exercises with the fleet over a period of time as yet undetermined and possibly depending on the volume of helium available at Sunnyvale.

I HEARD--

Joe Lazarus explaining to Mrs. Lazarus that it was necessary that he accompany "Miss North Plains" better known as Miss Jacque Downs, to Roswell where she will compete in a beauty contest for a trip to California. Miss Downs was the Brownbilt representative in the local contest. Mrs. Lazarus remarked that she is waiting to see whether Mrs. Limerick will let George make the trip. George is manager of the La Nora theater.

Walter Bill telling the world about that eight and one-half pound son of his. Walter's chest was sticking out like a Federal balloon tire. The boys over at Wall's tire station say he can hardly wait to tell the boy about the hole-in-one he made on the Red Deer course last year.

J. J. Simmons left this morning for Erick, Okla. Mrs. J. I. Downs will return with him. Mrs. Downs has been visiting at Erick for a month.

Wild Cattle To Be Available For Frontier Days

Just contracted for some of the best Brahma cattle in the State of Texas. Lon L. Blansett wired from Hebronville this morning.

The cattle will be used in the rodeo in connection with the First Annual Frontier Days celebration May 26-28. The sheriff left here Thursday and covered a large portion of southeast Texas looking for the wild cattle.

The sheriff wired that he would leave Hebronville this afternoon and arrive in Pampa Wednesday morning if not delayed in Amarillo, where federal court is in session. A number of fine horses are en route from Shiloh Springs, Okla.

Community Will Have Pie Supper

A lively community meeting at the Back school house this evening will take the form of a pie supper. The public is invited to attend, and it was stated by Miss Ruby Adams, county home demonstration agent, that practically all county officials would be present.

The event is sponsored by the Back home demonstration club, and proceeds will be used to pay the club's dues in the county council and to send a girl to the summer short course.

Hole-in-One Lands in Pocket Of Judge Duncan

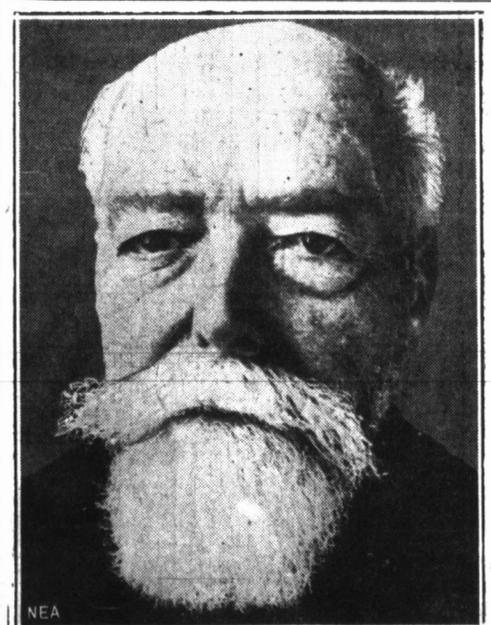

Believe it or not—a hole-in-one that is different was made on the Pampa Country Club course yesterday afternoon when Marvin Harris, Texas company wholesale representative, drove a ball 75 yards out of the rough into Ivy Duncan's hip pocket without its touching the ground.

Harris drove the ball from deep in the rough and as it sliced toward the green, Harris raised a shout. Mr. Duncan turned as the ball hit him. He then began looking for the ball but failed to find it on the ground. As he started to rub the injured hip, he felt the ball in his pocket.

The phenomenal spot was made on the 14th hole about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Other participants in the game were Mack Graham, Ben Farris, Tom Darby, and Bill Lang.

Mr. Lang is a hole-in-one golfer, but he made his in the cup on No. 5 hole two years ago.

A REAL HERO

Risking one's life in a brief and gallant gesture isn't half as hard as being consistently brave over a period of weeks. Perhaps this is why an unknown 12-year-old Eskimo boy is being acclaimed a hero today.

Not very long ago a sledge pulled into Wagner Inlet. Harnessed to it were two dogs and a sturdy, tired little boy. For weeks and weeks—so many he didn't try to remember them—the boy had pulled with the dogs. Under the blankets on the sled were a three-year-old boy and a woman who was dangerously ill.

The story the group told was very simple. When the Eskimo family had been left destitute at the death of the father, the boy had gone into the forests, hunting game and fish. One day he had too much meat for the dogs to pull. He fitted a harness to his own shoulders and helped to drag the provisions home. But he didn't complain. His mother, who had been ill when he left, was much worse. There was nothing to do but take his place with the dogs again and start on the 160-mile trip to the place where the nearest doctor had an office. For the last three days of the drive he had no food.

The boy didn't ask for any praise. His mother would live, he was told. That was enough reward for him.

The modesty of the lad, the fact that he did something brave merely because it was the duty, have attracted attention to him. It reminds us that the spectacular feat isn't necessarily the courageous one. It isn't so hard to rise to heights when the banners wave and the bands play. But to push through the northland, pulling with the dogs, racing against death, with nobody to know or care if you make it or if you don't—that requires stamina.

It is quite in keeping with the episode that the name of the youngster is no known. He wouldn't want to be.

Avoiding Casualties

Conditions are primarily concerned with unemployment. Anything which puts men to work ends that much abnormality. And any course which destroys a business or firm not only is wasteful of the firm's assets, but deprives a large group of employment. Panhandle publishers, meeting in Amarillo, reported almost universal decline of business, with resulting reduction of wages and overhead. The few newspapers which have defied fate and kept the old expense scale are menaced, and with that menace is the loss to employees. Wage reductions are regrettable, but they are preferable to business failures. Those firms which put their houses in order now will be able to go forward with each improvement in business. And the aggressive ones will win.

Big Fellows First!

The small firms of this western country are not in a position to hike buying power. Those giant institutions with reserves, plus the aid given by the government, must take the initiative in restoring the nation's buying power. Individuals, however, by abandoning hoarding can make a mighty ocean of buying if they so choose and ACT. Governments can help by reducing expenditures more in line with ability of taxpayers to pay. Whenever taxes amount to more than the income of property, then government is confiscating that property. Such confiscation must stop.

Statistics

The decline in ability to pay taxes is a matter of statistics. In 1929, the American citizens earned 95 billions, of which a huge block was used for governmental purposes and services. But last year these earnings had dropped to 62 billions, and taxes required 20 per cent of this sum. In other words, governments have not adjusted their expenditures in line with decreased earnings and the changed value of the dollar. We are paying our taxes with dollars which are harder to earn than formerly. More value for the tax dollar—this is nearer the need than mere tax reduction. Governments spend more money than private business to accomplish the same ends. And until recently a job with Uncle Sam was considered "soft".

Office Racket

Racketeering off of public offices has gone so far as to disgust the nation. Politicians have handed out jobs to uncles, cousins, aunts, sweethearts, and other favorites in profusion. Many, not satisfied with this graft, have gone the embezzlement route to ruin. Sweet are the words and clever the tongue of those politicians who are trying to fool the people in this election year.

Words vs. Influence

Big words and subtle appeals go too far in the home district as compared with the appeal in the legislature. More bills are passed by quiet interviews than by public operations. Many of the most useful and influential legislators do not break into the headlines with sensational statements. The obvious disregard paid to oratory is proof of what we say.

"The half has not been told" in many instances, and the first quarter wasn't worth the telling.

Considering how California went for our John Garner, we don't believe we will vacation in Florida, after all—when, if, and wherewithal.

Sweetwater, occupying a new federal building, at least proves that Uncle Sam will eventually finish what he started.

Reichers Plans Take Off Tuesday

NEWARK, N. J., May 9 (AP)—What Lou Reichers hopes will be the fastest flight across the Atlantic is scheduled to start tomorrow night. Reichers, long distance speed flier who hopes to cut in half the time of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh's crossing, will fly a low-winged monoplane by way of Harbor Grace, N. F., and Ireland, making stops in both countries.

HATCHER WILL RUN

DALLAS, May 9 (AP)—W. Gregory Hatcher of Dallas, former state treasurer, has entered in the railroad commission race. He announced yesterday he would run for the place now held by Pat M. Neff, president-elect of Baylor.

OUT OUR WAY By WILLIAMS

Sister MARY'S KITCHEN

BY SISTER MARY
NEA Service Writer

Spring breakfasts often seem particularly hard to plan. The family appetite is likely to be a bit difficult, and after a few attempts to serve something different and attractive, it's easier to settle down to toast and coffee and trust to luck that each member will eat an adequate luncheon.

If your family is not hungry for breakfast, try to choose those foods that concentrate in small quantity the largest amount of nourishment. You will find no better and cheaper source of such foods than in the cereals—and especially the whole grains which must be cooked.

The ready-to-serve cereals most assuredly have their place in the family dietary and are an excellent and important food, adding variety to breakfast menus. However, a small amount of cooked cereal is required to provide the same nourishment found in a larger amount of prepared cereal and furthermore the cooked cereal is much cheaper. This quantity of cup or cooked cereal affords 100 calories of food value, while from one and one-quarter to one and three-quarters cups of ready-to-serve cereal is needed to make the 100 calories.

There may be three reasons for the unpopularity of cooked cereals in many households. The cereal may be unpalatable because it is improperly prepared. Serving it with milk instead of thin cream may be another reason it is not welcome, and perhaps not enough sugar is allowed to make the taste pleasing. Lack of salt when a cereal is cooking makes the dish taste flat, too.

Adding Flavor to Cereal
Water for cereals must be rapidly boiling when the cereal is added in order to soften the cellulose and swell the starch grains. It's a good idea to add the salt to the water before stirring in the cereal. Salt added to this time brings out the full flavor of the grain.

Lumps in breakfast cereals spoil them for most people. Most cereal will not lump if carefully and slowly poured into actively boiling water and stirred with a slotted spoon or many-lined wooden fork. Very fine grained meals with a decided tendency to lump will cook more evenly if they are mixed with a little cold water before being stirred into boiling water.

Try cooking cereals in milk or equal parts of milk and water.

HOOT AND SALLY SPLIT

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., May 9 (AP)—Hoot Gibson and Sally Eilers have admitted they have separated. And the reason, says Gibson, is their professional careers in films. Gibson, who plays in western pictures, said the success of his wife "has made her a different girl." Miss Eilers recently starred in "Bad Girl" and "Dance Team."

Change in Soviet Plan Is Essential

MOSCOW, May 9 (AP)—The most fundamental change in dealing with the Soviet agricultural problem since collectivization began in earnest in 1928 was decreed here by the council of peoples commissars and the central committee of the communist party.

The decree alters the government's policy of grain collection, reducing appreciably the quotas assessed against collectives and individual farms. Its purpose is to encourage these groups to dispose of their surplus production in the open market.

The order was signed by V. M. Molotov, president of the council of peoples commissars, and Joseph Stalin, head of the communist party.

One of its effects will be to improve the supplies of grain for urban populations and apparently at the same time to enlarge the collectivized area by providing new inducements for peasants to enter collective farms.

The new regulation permits collectives and individual peasants to sell their surplus in the open market after January 31, 1933.

Koreans Plan To Slay Japanese

SHANGHAI, May 9 (AP)—Bomb attacks on Japanese leaders in Japan and Manchuria, similar to that which occurred in Hongkew park here April 29, were predicted today in a statement which emanated from the Korean colony.

It purported to give the true explanation of the Mongkew bombing ten days ago which resulted in the death of one high Japanese official and injury of several others.

It was signed by Kim Koo, a Korean said to be head of the Korean Patriots' society. It said he was the instigator of the Hongkew bombing and wanted the world to know the truth, so the Japanese would stop rounding up Koreans residents of Shanghai for questioning.

He said he sent Yun Kil, a young Korean revolutionary to Hongkew park that day with bombs and that the young man "achieved his purpose." Yun is now in the hands of the Japanese, he said, and "may be dead or alive."

Plea For Unity Made by Bishop

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 9 (AP)—A plea for a united American Methodism, with no "north" or "south," came to the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church today from the Methodist Episcopal church, south.

Bishop A. J. Moore of San Francisco, general superintendent of the Methodist Episcopal church, South on the Pacific coast, voiced the appeal.

"Whatever the differences of days gone by," he declared, "they are now infinitesimal and should be buried in oblivion."

Bishop Moore's plea was received enthusiastically. In 1884 northern and southern methodism divided over the question of slavery.

"The extreme urgency of the present world situation summons us to a united front," the Bishop continued. "Our division is more than unfortunate. It is wasteful, of time, energy and money. It is time that the prejudices of yesteryear are forgotten."

Hollywood Sleight of Hand

BY ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—It would be surprising now if Greta Garbo did not go home to Sweden.

The town's still talking about the bad taste displayed at the opening of her latest release, when Wallace Berry in grotesque feminine attire impersonated the shy Swede before an audience that had been led seriously to believe that Garbo, in deference to the occasion, had consented at last to appear in public.

For once in the lives of both of them, neither Berry nor Will Rogers, the master of ceremonies, was funny. The trick could not be construed but as an insult to both Garbo and the audience—to Garbo especially after the beautiful performance she had given in the film, after all she has meant to the company sponsoring the premiere.

No wonder that audience filed out silently, in disgust.

Meet Christian Rub

Christian Rub, a Bavarian actor you'll hear from, can usually be found putting around his bun-galow when he is not working. A mild middle-aged man, with an air of self-effacement although he is likely to be irritated by small annoyances—he works in his little garden, takes the wood, draws caricatures, takes photographs—of himself, too—with a new German camera he owns.

His passion is the collection of Kachinas. The gaily painted Indian ceremonial masks and dolls, several dozen of them, adorn his living room. Many of them he made himself.

A group of old-timers, real slapstick comedians, are getting their chance in one of the Olympic games pictures, along with some Gaiety. They include Chester Conklin, Ben Turpin, Hank Mann and James Finlayson. It's no doubt in reply to the popular craving for slapstick evinced in the recent poll.

Personal impression: Mae Murray works too hard at vivacity. "Look at me—I'm vivacious?" she seems to say.

Tribute to Joan

And another: A special bouquet to Joan Crawford for the way she made her part in "Grand Hotel" stand out, even in that generally scintillating cast.

Her dramatic power in this film presages a greater success in "Rain." And those who believe the multiplicity of stars in this picture will make future one-star vehicles look pale in comparison will find themselves mistaken. It should build new fans.

Maurice Chevalier was not always the entertainer he is today. He formerly did it in the guise of a burlesque clown. One night he decided to leave off the trick make-up and see how he fared on his own personality. You know how he fared.

HITS FEE SYSTEM

SAN ANTONIO, May 9 (AP)—The next Texas legislature will be compelled to abolish the "vicious fee system," of adjust it, Judge W. W. McCrory predicted in delivering a charge to a ninety-fourth district court grand jury here recently.

"The fee system is vicious and ought to be abolished," Judge McCrory said. "Many cases would not be in court if it were not for the fees they represent to officers. I predict that the legislature will be compelled to act at its next session."

The jury also was cautioned against allowing complainants to use it as a collection agency.

The laborer, officers said, used several names, one of which was Clarence Williams.

REMARKABLE ESCAPE

CROYDON, Eng., May 9 (AP)—The Imperial Airways liner Horatius, bound through the rain for Paris with 13 passengers, was struck by lightning today over the town of Tonbridge but the pilot turned around and landed here safely. The bolt blew out the cockpit windows and damaged two of the propellers. The uninjured passengers were transferred to another plane and took off again immediately.

TREE GOLFERS ARE TIED FOR TOURNAMENT HONORS

Magnolia and Skellytown Teams Victorious on Sunday

PLAY-OFF TO BE HELD SOON FOR DECISION

STEWART, VICARS AND MITCHELL KNOTTED IN EVENT

Skeet Stewart, Odus Mitchell and Edwin Vicars tied for first place in the Country club handicap tournament which closed yesterday afternoon following 54 hole of play.

The three golfers will shoot of the tie during the week, using the same handicaps established in the tournament. Three golfers tied for next place and they also will shoot off the tie. Mack Graham Bill Fraser, and Grover Austin are the others tied up.

Earl Talley won the driving contest with drives aggregating 659 yards. Tom Perkins took second place only eight yards behind the winner. Mr. Talley's drives were 232, 232, and 195 yards respectively.

Other information was not available this morning, but Dr. H. H. Hicks, chairman of the tournament committee, H. Otto Stader, and Bert Curry were checking and re-checking the scores and figuring handicaps this afternoon.

The scores are obtained by adding the handicap score turned in by the entrant to the 54 hole score made and dividing it by four, which gives the handicap score. The handicap score is multiplied by three and the 54-hole score subtracted from that total to give the score made.

Tournament officials were in a quandary this afternoon. Should the three men tied for first place get prizes, one, two, and three when they play off the tie, or should the three men tied for second place play off their tie and the winner take third place, or what?

Burgoo King Will Defend Laurels Next Saturday

NEW YORK, May 9. (AP)—Monarch of the three-year-olds today, Burgoo King will lose no time defending the thoroughbred crown won in a sensational victory in the Kentucky derby.

The newest champion of the famous racing establishment of Colonel Edward R. Bradley of Lexington, Ky., probably will go to the post this Saturday in the rich Preakness at Pimlico, Md., against most of the eastern colts beaten so soundly Saturday by the son of Bubbling Over.

Thus the tide of three-year-old battle is reversed with a western champion coming east to seek further conquests, where in the past two years Gallant Fox and Twenty Grand moved victoriously from east to west and back again.

Two records were smashed and a third equalled by Burgoo King's triumph in the 58th running of the derby, which carried a gross value of $62,875 and added $22,350 to the Bradley coffers.

It marked Col. Bradley's third victory, thereby breaking the deadlock he shared with three other owners. Likewise it gave his trainer, H. J. (Dick) Thompson, the distinction of saddling a third winner, for another record. Bradley entries ran one-two in 1921 with Behave Yourself-Black-Servant, and again in 1926 with Bubbling Over-Bagenbaggage.

EAST TEXAS PROVES VERY RECEPTIVE TO BASEBALL

Wichita Falls Rallies Late But Fails To Win As Beaumont Triumphs

By The Associated Press

The venture of the Texas league into the East Texas oil field area, forced upon it by the fire which destroyed the ball park at Shreveport, has been a happy one.

If the count was accurate, more than 4,000 persons saw the two games at Tyler played by San Antonio and Shreveport, and another 2,000 the single contest at Longview.

Those games at the "home" contests of the Sports, who went on the road today. They play series at Dallas, San Antonio, Beaumont, Galveston, and Houston before returning to Tyler to meet Wichita Falls May 21.

About 1,500 fans saw yesterday's game at Tyler in which San Antonio was defeated by Shreveport, 10 to 6. Ward's homer in the sixth with three on was the margin of victory. Ward hit another homer and two singles in addition to playing a fine game at field.

Although the Spudders staged a desperate ninth inning rally which netted two runs, the Beaumont Exporters won from Wichita Falls, 5 to 3, sweeping the series. Marrow pitched fine ball, holding Wichita Falls to six scattered hits, while Pressnal was hit freely by the Exporters, especially in late innings.

Other schedule today sent Wichita Falls again north to Ft. Worth, Shreveport against Fort Worth, Shreveport against Galveston and Beaumont against Houston, with all contests set for the night.

MUCH SCORING MARKS GAMES AS HITS FALL

HOOPER NINE AGAIN ON RAMPAGE—BEATS ODDFELLOWS

Big scores marked the Skellytown-Pampa baseball games in Skellytown yesterday. Qualifying play will end Friday afternoon and players will be matched and flights set for play to start Sunday.

At least five flights will tee off during the day. There will be 12 players to each flight, it is expected. The course is in good condition. The fairways have been mowed and the greens and tee boxes worked over during the past week.

There will be a driving tournament during the closing day of play. Each entrant will drive three balls and the total yardage of the balls which stay in the fairway will count for the prizes.

Golf Weather Fine for Women

FORT WORTH, May 9. (AP)—Idea golf weather greeted a field of approximately ninety players today at the sixteenth annual Texas Woman's Golf association state championship tournament started.

Rain yesterday left the Rivercrest country club course in excellent condition for today's 18 hole qualifying round. Match competition starts tomorrow.

Mrs. R. R. Fisk of Wichita Falls, defending champion; Mrs. F. C. Reebch of Wichita Falls, Texas municipal champion; Mrs. Peggy Chandler of Dallas; Mrs. M. M. Van Wormer of Beaumont and Miss Anela Gorceyca were some of the outstanding stars at the starting tee today.

Means Expected To Be Indicted

WASHINGTON, May 9. (AP)—Other actors were sought today in the case for which Gaston B. Means is alleged to have staged for Mrs. Edward B. McLean and $100,000 of her money.

From the many recorded pages of Means' exploits a hint was sought as to whom he enlisted to represent such-wives for the Lindbergh baby's kidnapers in those complicated negotiations and dramatic conferences from which the wealthy Washington woman emerged minus the huge sum she gave him as ransom money.

Quite confident that the District of Columbia grand jury would return an indictment against him tomorrow on the larceny after trust charge, government men directed their efforts toward building up a strong case. Means is in jail under $100,000 bond and will have difficulty getting out if District Attorney Lee A. Rover succeeds in acquiring that the bond be secured fully by four separate endorsers before the former government operative and convict can get loose.

The McLean money is still unaccounted for.

T. C. U. AND RICE ARE ONLY RIVALS OF LONGHORN TEAM

Southwest Conference May Be Decided Friday In Austin Encounter

DALLAS, May 9. (AP)—Four of the six southwest conference baseball teams will close their pennant campaigns this week-end. The University of Texas and Texas A. & M. will close the race May 20 and 21 at Austin in a two-game series.

As four of the teams go into the final lap, Texas Christian and Rice Institute are the only teams with a fair chance of winning from the Longhorns.

Texas Christian, in second place, faces three games this week—at Rice, Baylor and Texas. Rice is scheduled to battle the Progs and Southern Methodist.

If the Longhorns are successful against Texas Christian Friday at Austin it will practically mean the pennant for the Orange and White. Since Texas A. & M. is regarded as one of the weaker teams of the race.

The conference standing:

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Texas	10	3	.769
Texas Christian	5	2	.714
Rice	7	5	.583

Australia Has Strong Netters

KANSAS CITY, May 9. (AP)—Gene Dixon, non-playing captain of the United States Davis cup squad, looks on Australia as America's biggest hurdle in the coming international tests.

Here yesterday with three members of the squad for an exhibition engagement, Captain Dixon spoke enthusiastically of the United States team's chances of winning the cup.

The squad, consisting of Ellsworth Vines, Johnny Van Ryn and Francis X. Shields, today was enroute to New Orleans where play against the Mexican team starts Friday. Wilmer Allison did not accompany his teammates here, going to his home at Austin, Tex., for a rest.

Yesterday Vines outplayed Shields to win, 6-4, 5-7, 6-4.

KILLED BY FOUL

SAN ANTONIO, May 9. (AP)—This city suffered its second baseball fatality in two weeks yesterday when Francisco Soto, 12, was killed by a foul tip in a sandlot ball game. The boy was struck in the temple. Joseph Stephenson, 9, was killed April 25 when struck by a thrown ball.

Cultivating Ivory

The claim that caddying, and an ambition for a career in golf, attracts more boys than baseball nowadays has been frequently heard. It is one of the stock arguments of the men who declare that baseball is king of the "national pastime."

You see a great many boys on the golf courses, but some of these same youths have spent some time at baseball, too. This year 500,000 boys under 17 years of age will take part in the American Legion junior baseball tournament through out the United States.

The legion tournament is financed by a $50,000 fund furnished by the major leagues. The movement was started in 1926 as a legion venture. A Yonkers, N. Y., team won the championship that year. Because of a lack of funds there was no tournament in 1927.

Majors See Light

In 1928 the major leagues, alarmed at the steady decrease in minor leagues, and curtailment of the field from which big league stars were plucked, became interested. Since then the majors have financed national tournaments which have been growing in popularity.

The winning team annually is brought to the world series as a guest of National and American Leagues.

Forty-four states entered the program in 1928, and the team from Oakland, Calif., won the championship. The finals were staged in Chicago between Oakland and a team from Worcester, Mass. Nearly every locality having an American Legion Post had a team in the tournament in 1929. A team from Buffalo, N. Y., won the honors after a battle with the team from New Orleans in the finals at Louisville, Ky.

A Baltimore team carried off the legion pennant in 1930. Last year a team from South Chicago Ill., was victor.

State Tournaments

Under the direction of Russell Cook, national director of the American Legion, state championship tournaments are held during the summer in every state. State champion teams meet in regional tournaments during August.

Then regional winners in east west clash in two sectional tournaments, the final meeting in the junior world series, which will be held this year, Aug. 30-Sept. 1, at Manchester, N. H.

Major leagues have become seriously concerned with the decay of the minor leagues and the legion program is one of their plans for renewing interest in the game which blazed so brightly before the World War. In the last 15 years, more than 10 minor leagues have gasped their last.

How Buses Thinned Out

This year only about 17 minor leagues signified their ability to start the season. These range from the three Class AA loops, the American Association, International League and Pacific Coast League, down to three in Class D, the Arizona-Texas, Mississippi Valley and Nebraska State Leagues. There are four Class A leagues, immediately

GRIMES PUTS MORE POWER BEHIND CUBS

CHICAGO'S LEAD GOES TO THREE FULL GAMES

By HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Burleigh Grimes is back in harness again and the Chicago Cubs, tough enough without him, are just that much more formidable. An attack of influenza laid low the veteran right hander just as the campaign opened but he came back yesterday to survive a three-run attack by Brooklyn in the first inning and finally beat them 12-5. Dazzy Vance, usually extremely effective against the Cubs, had one man out in the third inning when he lost control, walked three men in a row and was removed. Before the inning was over the Cubs had taken a 7-4 lead.

That victory stretched Chicago's advantage in the National league to three full games as Boston lost their fourth straight to Cincinnati, 3-6.

The New York Giants and St. Louis Cardinals split a double bill. The Giants won the opener, 4-1, as Carl Hubbell allowed only six hits and the Cardinals the nightcap, 6-5, as the eccentric Dizzy Dean went the route.

The Washington Senators maintained their lead in the American league race by noosing out Chicago, 6-5, in 14 innings. Moe Berg's single drove home the winning run. Walter Johnson called on four pitchers, Marberry, Burke, Fischer and Ragland in that order.

Cleveland walloped Philadelphia again, 8-5, and Boston broke an eight game losing streak at St. Louis' expense, 7-5.

Travers Convinced of Golfing Ability

RIDGEWOOD, N. J., May 9. (AP)—His first test as a "business man golfer" has convinced Jerome D. Travers there's no reason why he shouldn't soon be playing as well as he ever did.

He shot no better than an 80 on a par 71 course here yesterday in an exhibition foursome but the former national amateur and open champion was by no means discouraged.

"All I need is rest and lots of practice," he said after the match. "I feel that I still have the foundations of my game and with a great deal of practice and some training in a gymnasium I will shortly be able to play as well as in former days."

"I find that I tire easily and playing becomes a strain."

SCIENTIFIC PRINCIPLES ARE VERY IMPORTANT IN COOKING

More than 35 per cent of the average family income is spent for food, according to Mrs. Leona Rush Thrig, who will conduct the 4-day Cooking School for The NEWS at the city auditorium.

On Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday and Friday, May 17-20, Mrs. Thrig will tell her audience in Pampa just why every housewife should know the scientific principles back of every-day cooking.

"Whether the family income is large or small," she says, "cooking and eating must go on. The kitchen is the heart of the home and it should be made a place of happiness. Disposition are made in the kitchen; and why not happy dispositions?"

"The woman who goes to her daily task in the kitchen with boredom, is missing a great enjoyment that can be hers. She can turn her kitchen into a laboratory of creativeness."

"So long as the housewife must cook for the family or must at least plan the meals, why not get some fun out of it?"

In her cooking school, Mrs. Thrig will teach the women of Pampa how to get fun out of the kitchen ... how to have a "Happy Kitchen," which is the name she gives her Model Kitchen, used in the demonstrations.

Come and see this "Happy Kitchen" and hear this charming woman discuss in the most practical way the science of cooking.

Each person was asked to register in the Mother's day book.

WE INVITE YOU—COME AS OUR GUEST

You Can't Marry

by Julia Cleft-Addams

SYNOPSIS: Jenny Revell is challenged by Graton Matching, employer of her cousin, George, when he asks her if she and Eddie Townsend are married. She must lie to save George, recently married to Eddie, from losing her job. Also she must keep Matching away from Eddie, who is nerve-shot after an accident.

Chapter 19

DEFIANCE

GEORGIE, over the old gray shoulder, looked harder still at Jenny.

"The message of George's eyes was very clear," Jenny, you must play up, you must!"

"Well, Eh?"

"Yes, I married Eddie Townsend. Is he here?"

Involuntarily Jenny glanced behind her at the closed kitchen door.

"I'll see him, then," announced the Old Man.

"Oh, no, you can't see him," said Jenny, surprising herself quite as much as her hearers.

George gasped. It was a quite distinct gasp and it surprised Jenny profoundly; she had never before realized that a towering, colossal, "boss" the Old Man was to George.

Whereas to Jenny he was just a cross old man with dyspepsia, not unlike her grandfather. She looked him firmly in the eye.

"I can't allow you to see Eddie today, I'm afraid. He is in a highly nervous state and he mustn't see anyone he doesn't want to see."

"Indeed! In-deed!" The gray, narrow face was twisted into a sneer. "That's very interesting, that he doesn't want to see me!"

"You find it so?" A lightning indignation had sprung up in Jenny and she did not care whether she showed it or not. Best stand up to him as she had so often had to stand up to grandfather!

"You find it merely interesting when a first-rate tier loses his chance of ever flying again—his whole future, his health and his strength, all gone? You should be ashamed to come here at all, if that is all you have to say!"

There was a most curious silence. George, her rich color ebbing and flowing, stared from one to the other. Jenny remained four-square in front of the kitchen door and, to give point to her remarks, turned the key and dropped it into the pocket of her little silk coat.

And Graton Matching—what in the world was this sound that was being wrung out of old Graton Matching? It was very like the rasp of a door on rusty hinges but it was undoubtedly a laugh. George's relieved smile showed it.

"You'll forgive my cousin, sir? She's not much more than a child—"

"Shut up, Revell!" His slate-gray eyes bored into Jenny's. "You're not asking me to forgive you for anything you've said or done, are you? Eh?"

"Certainly not," Jenny assured him. "I think it is you who should apologize. And then you should go away, since Eddie can't see you, and let me tell him that no one will worry him until he is better."

"I've never apologized to anyone in my life," declared the Old Man, "and as for worrying your careless fool of a husband, what about the suitcase I've been put to? Here he goes hurtling through the windshield of a car when he ought to be flying me tonight. Here I've got to go on some fool train instead!" He took an unexpected step towards her but she did not retreat. "Like to come on the trip with us?"

"Oh, I should have adored it!" (Why, he wasn't a terrible old man at all when you got to know him!

He was a lonely, eccentric, cross old hermit, that was all!" "But Eddie can't possibly be left."

"Like to come and have dinner with me at Rochester Gate some night? Wednesday night? Eh?"

"But won't you still be away?"

"Are you trying to teach me my business? Let me tell you, young woman—"

"Please," begged Jenny, as she had often and often begged her grandfather—"please don't shout so!"

"Are you coming to dinner on Wednesday night or not?" demanded the Old Man; but he did not shout.

"I shall be delighted," said Jenny; and, obeying some memory half lost in childhood, she dropped him a demure little curtsy.

"Jenny!" breathed George, utterly bewildered.

"Shut up, Revell! Why aren't you packing? Didn't you hear me say you had only ten minutes to pack? I'll wait in the car—no, thank you, I won't go in there."

The Old Man grimaced violently at the door of the living-room, which George flung open. "I know when I'm not wanted." He turned back to Jenny and it became evident that the grimace was a smile. "You're very young. As your cousin says, not much more than a child."

"I don't agree. I was 24 two days ago."

"Ha! And do you know what I did the day after I was 24? And as she shook her head—"I did just what you did yesterday."

"I don't remember," puzzled Jenny, completely off her guard, "doing anything special yesterday."

Graton Matching's grimace widened. He made no answer but gestured George imperiously to open the door of the apartment.

The sound of his footsteps had died away before George shut the door. She did it so clumsily that it half slammed and Jenny exclaimed—"Oh, be careful! You're making such a clatter!"

"Are you going to hector me as you hectored the Old Man, Jenny? You put it across with him magnificently—or perhaps he always has a soft spot for a blonde. But you mustn't, you know, take that tone with me."

Jenny wondered if the skies had fallen. She stood stupidly staring while George walked into her own room and closed the door behind her.

Jenny forced herself across the little hall to that closed door and every yard seemed a mile. She raised her hand to knock—and the door opened wide.

"Oh, Jenny pet, what under heaven got into me? It wasn't me speaking, not the real me. Forget it, lambie—for any sake, promise me you'll forget!"

They were clinging together.

"I'll forget," promised Jenny, "if you'll forgive the times I've snapped at you for calling me a child when I'm a full-grown woman—an old maid, a one might say—of 24. You're tired out, darling. Must you go with him?"

"Yes, I must. Can you pack for me? I don't believe I have ever slept really tired until now. I didn't sleep last night. . . . You were splendid with the Old Man, Jen. You sounded absolutely as though it was you who married Ed yesterday. It was horrible of me, but you made me jealous. What's the matter?"

GRAINS TURN HIGHER

CHICAGO, May 9. (AP)—Grain prices here tended upward early today, stimulated by an unexpected bulge in Liverpool wheat quotations and by reports that Russia continued to purchase. A big increase of the amount of wheat on ocean passage was virtually ignored. Opening at 3-8 to 3-4 advance, wheat futures in Chicago held near started to the initial limits. Corn started unchanged to 1-4 higher and later kept firm. Wheat closed irregular, 1/4 off to 1/4-3/4 up compared with Saturday's finish, corn at 1/4 decline to 1/4 advance, oats unchanged to 1/4-1/2 down and provisions unchanged to a setback of 2 cents.

COTTON OPENS QUIETLY

NEW ORLEANS, May 9. (AP)—The cotton market today had a quiet opening. First trades showed losses of 2 to 5 points and prices continued to ease off after the start with July trading at 5.77, October at 6.00 and December at 6.13 or 4 to 6 points below Saturday's close. This decline was attributed to an easy opening of the stock market and to absence of support due to congressional delay in balancing budget. Shortly after the first hour the market rallied 2 to 4 points on a slight improvement in the stock market, but trading continued very limited.

Mathis Case Is Called for Trial

The case of Mrs. Irene Mathis, charge with possession of intoxicating liquor for the purpose of sale, was called for trial in 31st district court this morning by Judge W. R. Ewing. The state reported ready. Defense attorneys, Willis, Studer & Studer, filed a motion for continuance, based upon the claim that a material witness could not be located. Judge Ewing will pass on the motion this afternoon. Mrs. Mathis was present in the court room. She was arrested recently when city officers raided her room and seized a quantity of alleged beer. The indictment on which Mrs. Mathis is due to be tried is based upon a chemical analysis of the beer made by J. T. Worrell, assistant city health officer. The grand jury ordered an analysis of the beverage. Cost to the county of making the examination was $10.
