Resolution Would Let Texas Vote on Pro Resubmission In July

PROPOSAL IS NOW BEFORE PARTY HEADS

SENTIMENT IN FAVOR OF REFERENDUM IS STRONG

EXECUTIVE BODY MEETS

LUBBOCK SELECTED AS SITE OF SEPTEMBER CONVENTION

BULLETIN
AUSTIN, June 13 (P)—The Texas state democratic executive committee decided today to submit the question of repeal of the eighteenth amendment to a referendum of voters participating in the July party primaries.

AUSTIN, June 13. (P)—A resolution proposing that the matter of resubmitting repeal of the eighteenth amendment to the various states by the national congress be placed on the democratic July state primary ballots was presented for submission to the party executive committee here today.

Carl Estes of Tyler, member of the committee, drafted the resolution during a noon recess of the committee's session and it was to be presented this afternoon. The committee met for the purpose of preparing the official ballots for the primaries.

The resolution would provide for an expression of Texas democrats on the question whether the next congress would submit the question of retaining or repealing the federal constitution prohibition amendment to the "people through conventions especially elected in the separate states to consider that issue."

Lubbock Selected

AUSTIN, June 13. (P)—The state democratic executive committee today selected Lubbock as the site of the September state convention of the party when nominations of the primaries will be formally ratified and a platform of principals adopted.

Lubbock was selected unanimously before the roll call was completed. Austin, Fort Worth, and San Antonio had been nominated also.

Albert Sidney Johnson, secretary of the committee, received a telegram from Wright Morrow of Houston asking that his name not be considered as a candidate for governor. It had been filed with the committee by friends who had hoped to draft him as a candidate.

Sentiment in favor of a referendum on repeal of the eighteenth amendment was prominent. It seemed certain a proposal to submit the question to voters in the jury primary would be presented.

I SAW--

"Pop" Frazer and his orchestra making lively tunes at the Schneider while the bankers gathered. Maybe that was why the visitors were late in assembling at the city auditorium.

President J. A. Hill and Prof. L. M. Shetty of Canyon Teachers college talking to bankers. We'll wager they mentioned contributions to the historical museum.

George Briggs worrying over whether Mel Davis, Rufe Thompson, and L. R. Miller could get the barbecued meat across the rising North Fork.

OVER ALABAMA

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 13 (P)—A radio message from the dirigible Akron to the Birmingham weather bureau at 10:30 a. m. central time said the ship was over central Alabama and expected to pass Montgomery and Selma shortly.

THE WEATHER

OKLAHOMA: Cloudy, thunder-showers this afternoon or tonight in south and east portions; Tuesday partly cloudy, slightly cooler tonight in east and central portions.

WEST TEXAS: Generally fair south, partly cloudy with probably scattered showers in north portion tonight and Tuesday.

Suicides are increasing rapidly, but politicians seem to be immune.

If Governor Sterling is seeking to be governor again because he is "broke," he is in the best company he has found in several years. But we doubt it.

Clem Calhoun is seemingly trying to campaign on Borger's demerits. He claims to have cleaned up that town. But this claim is doubtful, and they hate him so much over there that many of them are ready to admit that the place never has been cleaned up. Probably the depression has done more cleaning for oil territories than the Rangers and Mr. Calhoun.

"Candidates get royal welcome," says a headline. But we'll bet they paid for it before they left.

Coax the government into big expenditures if you will, but remember, you'll have to pay for it. If you wish a good mental workout, read up on all the new federal taxes you'll be paying soon.

"Want Things"

We have an interesting communication from Henry T. Ewald, Detroit advertising expert. He says: "We have had a three-year slump in consumer buying—and therefore a three-year rise in potential demand—because there is no real 'saturation point' in human desire. It runs strongly today all through life, from the small boy calling for a radio set to world leaders seeking a solution for the politico-economic problems which affect the buying power of millions. 'ALL GOD'S CHILLUN WANT THINGS!'"

Big Gross Income

We quote this as another way of saying what this column has long preached—that the dam of human desire is ready to spill over and drop business into the laps of those who know how and are aggressive enough to go after it. Did you know that there are forty-three millions of persons still gainfully employed in this country? Did you know that their gross income is greater than that of all of Europe combined?

Build Preferences

Pent-up buying, when it is loosened, will be loosened by restored confidence and good advertising. Well sustained, well planned advertising geared to the mood and desires of today will get results by creating strong identity of individual products and stores, and by maintaining an indelible preference for these advertised things and firms. There is still a very rich potential market, and do not forget that, as the Detroit man says, "ALL GOD'S CHILLUN WANT THINGS!"

Disguised

Heard: A highway patrolman say he approached a one-armed driver and asked: "Brother, what is your name?"

Drys And Wets In Warm Fight at Chicago

CHICAGO, June 13 (P)—Anxious republican platform builders worked over a plank calling for resubmission of the prohibition amendment today as an answer to the wet and dry conflict raging on the eve of the national convention.

New York's unanimous vote last night for submission of repeal of the amendment to the state conventions brought on a new whirlwind of speculation and discussion today over the controversial issue.

The republican chiefs met until early this morning drafting a prohibition plank. They are looking for the middle ground and believe they have found it in a declaration providing for resubmission of prohibition with promise of congressional protection of the dry states.

PAMPA POLICE TO START TO SCHOOL TONIGHT TO LEARN ABOUT LAWS AND ORDINANCES

Skull practice for the Pampa police department will start tonight and will be held every Monday night in the basement of the city hall, City Manager C. L. Stine announced this morning. Arthur Teed, city attorney, will instruct the police on requirements of evidence to secure convictions tonight.

RECALL MOVE BEING ARGUED IN HIGH COURT

DELAY OF ELECTION IS CALLED 'ORGANIZED ANARCHY'

TEST VOTE POSTPONED

BALLOTING TO HAVE BEEN HELD LAST SATURDAY

AMARILLO, June 13 (P)—A recess was granted in the seventh court of civil appeals here at noon today to give counsel for the Borger city administration time to prepare answers to the state's contention that a recall election, scheduled at Borger last Saturday, should be held without further delay. The hearing was to be resumed at 4 p. m.

County Attorney Henry D. Meyers if Borger presented affidavits and copies of Borger city commission records to show that all preparations had been made, including naming of election judges and printing of ballots, for the recall June 11. This was done after a district court mandamus forced the city commission to call the election and such compliance constituted the carrying out of the district court's order so that the commission had no right to appeal afterwards to the seventh court here, Meyers argued.

E. A. Simpson, Amarillo attorney representing the state, referred to attempts to postpone municipal elections by appeals and lengthy court delays as "organized anarchy."

By a supersedeas bond, Mayor John R. Miller and Borger city commissioners appealed to the court here last Friday and, thus, temporarily at least, took the election matter out of the hands of the lower court. Meanwhile at Borger three rangers sent there Saturday had left. They were Hale Kirby, I. M. Huddleston and Roger Hamm. The first two were familiar figures to Borger in boom days.

Pampa Plane at Elk City Show

Several Pampa citizens were among the 10,000 persons who witnessed the Elk City air show in Elk City, Okla., yesterday. Races, stunts and passenger trips featured the closing day of the two-day celebration.

Elk City's new landing field was in poor condition because of recent rains and lack of time to get it into top shape. The soil was heavy and landing was dangerous. Only two ships crashed yesterday but damage was light. No one was injured.

PRISONERS RECAPTURED

RUSE, June 13 (AP)—Five of the seven prisoners who escaped from jail here yesterday by manipulating the combination lock on their cell door had been recaptured today.

AKRON IN SOUTH

JACKSON, Miss., June 13 (AP)—The Navy dirigible Akron passed overhead at 6:30 a. m. central standard time, heading eastward. It was moving slowly.

OFFICER IS ADDED TO NIGHT POLICE FORCE IN EFFORT TO NAB THIEVES AND BURGLARS

Elect Harrah New Residential Area Officer

One special officer was added to the city police force today and another will probably be added within the next few days in an effort to cope with thieving which has become a menace to Pampa homes and automobiles. Chief of Police J. I. Downs said this morning. Raymond Harrah, special county and city officer for several years, started his duties last night. He will patrol the residential section as well as a regular beat in the downtown section. H. L. Kenner is the third officer to be named. If the thefts continue, will also go on night duty. Chief Downs said.

There are two night watchmen, hired by the merchants, patrolling the business section which has been free from serious burglaries this year. They patrol the business district every 15 minutes during the night.

More than a dozen homes were entered during the past month. Many tires were stolen during the same period. Three arrests were made in connection with the robberies.

"We are going to do our best to stop this burglary epidemic," City Manager C. L. Stine declared this morning.

Completion Of Road Is Delayed Again By Rains

The Fort Worth and Denver railway line from Childress to Pampa will be delayed reaching its destination at least another two days, construction officials said this morning following heavy rain of today and yesterday. Wet weather has delayed work here three days during the past week.

Steel is less than one mile from the city limits. It will take less than one day of work to lay rails to the depot location in the fence addition in South Pampa. Work was stopped Friday afternoon because of a heavy rain that night. The fill is soft and will take at least two days to dry out if more rain does not fall.

Construction of the depot is also being delayed because of the weather.

The ballasting crew, working about a mile west of LeFors, is also idle today. Forty more local men were to have started work on the project this morning. They were ordered through the employment agency of the Board of City Development which has placed more than 50 unemployed men during the past week.

Scouting Trains Strong Leaders For Citizenship

Boy Scout leaders are producing for the nation its greatest need—men of character trained for citizenship.

The army of better citizenship is being mobilized for service to the boyhood of Pampa in a campaign that will be carried through next Monday, June 20.

The progress made has been pointed out as very pleasing thus far. A much larger year is scouting looms ahead according to officials looking after the work locally.

Regiments of troops in this army of better citizenship are being formed this week. The first of these is the artillery regiment which is to be headed by Roger McConnell, who will associate himself with a group to solicit the larger memberships or investments in boyhood.

The other regiment is an infantry unit, headed by Frank Keim. Mr. Keim has named two majors each of which will head a battalion recruited from the unit from which they have been selected. The majors are Philip Pond and Frank Foster. Each of these majors will select four captains and each captain in turn will select ten men.

The zero hour is 7:30 next Monday morning, June 20.

Friend of Violet Sharpe Is Released

DETROIT, June 13 (AP)—Robert Burns, held for questioning since Friday in connection with the Lindbergh baby kidnaping, was released today.

Burns was arrested when Detroit police said they were informed he was an acquaintance of Violet Sharpe, maid who took her own life in the home of Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow. New Jersey police questioned him and said they were satisfied he knew nothing of the kidnaping.

Steel Is Chairman
Vice-President L. B. Steel of Dalhart opened today's session in the city auditorium and had the audience stand for one minute in memory of Holman Kennedy, president of the Panhandle Bankers association who died at his own hand in Clarendon Saturday.

Major W. A. Bratton, with pardonable pride, welcomed the bankers to "this excellent city." He outlined its assets and issued a standing invitation to the association to return. The fitting response was by W. H. Patrick of Clarendon, who referred to Pampa as a "city of outstanding"

Panhandle bankers, assembled in 28th annual convention here today, stressed public confidence as a first requisite to business recovery, and expressed carefully tempered optimism that "the feeling has grown recently in many circles that the fall may usher in trade recovery to some degree."

This opinion, which was said to be shared by many bankers and financial leaders of Texas, was given by Melvin Rouff, vice-president of the Houston National bank and president of the Texas Bankers association.

Mr. Rouff referred to the debt and economic conferences aboard and party conventions at home as hurdles which business must surmount in the immediate future. He expressed the belief that the Federal Reserve policy toward freeing credit may become effective and that "there are signs that reduced building costs are stimulating construction." Strict budgeting of public and private business was advocated.

In closing his talk, the speaker pointed out that the country is "too energetic, too energetic, and too resourceful to rest supinely through any long period, and let us each make up our minds to help in our own way and in our own region in spreading the gospel of get-together, pull together, and cheer together, and the united force of our efforts will bring results."

Tonight's Bankers association entertainment will include the barbecue at the basement of the First Methodist church at 6:30 p. m. and a dance at the Schneider from 8:30 to 12 p. m. The barbecue was moved from the Mel Davis ranch because of the rain. The golf tournament scheduled for this afternoon will be played at the Country club tomorrow. The barbecue and dance must necessarily be limited to the visitors and a few invited local guests.

Some Statistics
"The total tax bill in the United States for the year 1930 was equal to one-fifth of the tax-rendered value of all property rendered for taxation in the 48 states. The tax bill in 1931 was equal to approximately one-twentieth of the total income of the nation. For fifteen years, the tax bill in the United States has increased at the rate of two million dollars per working day. The total tax payments in Texas for the year 1930 were more than the combined net income of all of the 15,000 corporations making an income tax return. It was approximately equal to the value of all farm crops."

"If we are to analyze the tax question and point out the causes which have increased our tax bill, one of the major importance will be found to be the almost unbelievable increase in the bonded debt of counties, cities and school districts. Ten years ago, this debt in the United States was a little more than three billion dollars. It has now mounted to more than ten billion dollars. Five large Texas cities which have better than average government are now spending from 33 to 34 per cent of all taxes collected to retire bonded debt."

"What has caused this tremendous increase of public debt? You cannot assign any one single thing as the cause; it is due to a number of causes. Prominent among them has been the desire to 'keep up with the Jones'. We have built a new court house, not because the old one was inadequate to meet our needs, but because a neighboring county has one and we must therefore have one; or perchance because some influential citizen desires to sell or develop some particular section of

VETERANS WIN STEP TOWARD BONUS VICTORY WHEN HOUSE VOTES TO BALLOT ON ISSUE

WASHINGTON, June 13. (P)—The House today voted to call up the $2,400,000,000 cash bonus payment legislation for formal consideration.

This action represented a step toward victory for the 20,000 war veterans who have poured into Washington to demand immediate payment of the bonus certificates.

While the vote was being taken, and long before, the house galleries were packed with former service men who watched tensely all proceedings. Outside long lines of veterans stood, hoping to gain admittance.

If the House approves the bonus payment on the final vote, the legislation still must run the gauntlet of the Senate and the White House. What action the Senate will take is problematical. But President Hoover has promised a veto.

Action today came on a motion to bring the resolution by Representative Patman (D. Texas), up for consideration. The vote was obtained through a petition signed by 145 house members.

The vote for consideration was 226 to 175.

TAX FACTS AS ECONOMY NEED CALLED VITAL

Dallas Speaker Sounds Warning To Voters—Drastic Steps Deplored.

That drastic economy can be an extravagance, but that the whole procedure in increasing taxation beyond the reasonable ability of the people to pay must be changed was declared by C. A. Jay, executive vice-president of the Industrial, Commercial and Agricultural conference, Dallas, in a main address to Panhandle bankers here today.

Mr. Jay's address follows, in part: "Taxpayers throughout the United States are today facing the problem of carrying the cost of government, which has increased beyond all reasonable demands, and they are being forced to pay this cost out of a very materially reduced income. One reason that we should exercise extreme care in expanding the functions of government is that, once a precedent is established to expend a certain amount of money, it is extremely difficult to reduce public expenditures below that point. The drain which the tax bill is now making on all lines of private industry and business is terrific."

I HEARD--

B. E. Finley declares this morning that it would rain on the Panhandle Bankers association convention here today and tomorrow. J. S. Wynne remarked that it could rain. Although the bankers were devising ways and means to end the depression they couldn't tell how to stop the rain.

Mrs. DeLena Vickers say that she had to stay at the registration table at the Schneider hotel so that Miss Leora Kinard, registrar, wouldn't be running away with some banker, and also to keep her at work. "No, I'm not working, there hasn't any one been able to get me to work," Mrs. Vickers declared.

The porter over at the First National bank say he was going over to the Schneider hotel to register and get "one of dem dem badges" like the rest of the big bankers were wearing.

No Longer News

Old-fashioned folks may remember when a murder was news. 'Tis no longer true. There is a daily average of better than one homicide a day in Texas.

Tourists Coming

Fourth of July speakers will have a really appropriate theme this year—the Texas centennial celebration.

Right In Line

The centennial is right in line with Pampa Frontier Days. A historical pageant with lots of action would attract statewide attention to Pampa and would bring thousands of persons to Pampa.

could be no better year in which to make the Pampa celebration truly historical. By 1936 the Frontier Day event should be well developed.

Longest On Coast

By centennial time, the great Hug-Coast highway will be completed, giving the tourists the longest scenic coast highway in the world.

NOTE SHERIFF'S SALE

THE STATE OF TEXAS COUNTY OF GRAY. By virtue of an execution and order of sale issued out of the Honorable 31st Judicial District Court of Gray County, Texas, by the Clerk thereof, on the 6th day of June, 1932, in the case of W. B. Wild vs. E. G. Alexander, et al., No. 2448.

public improvements by means of bond issues is sound, and it is often the best method. This plan of public improvement is here to stay, and blind opposition to all bond issues puts the taxpayer in the position of a chronic objector, rather than a constructive leader.

"When called upon to place a first mortgage on their property in the form of a bond issue, citizens should be given all of the facts. It was to make some of these facts available that the Industrial, Commercial and Agricultural Conference sponsored and aided in the passage of House Bill 975, enacted into law by the last legislature.

"In order to guarantee that voters have the facts before them when they are asked to mortgage their property by a bond issue, some states have used the state budget auditor as a board of review, and required by law that when any local unit of government of the state desired to issue bonds, a full statement of all reasons for such bond issue must go forward to this State Board; and it is the duty of the board to look into the request and write a full report recommending that the bonds be or not be issued.

Need the Facts

"The review of proposals to incur bonded debt has proved very effective in other states, and I see no reason why the plan would not be helpful in Texas. I know of many bonds and warrants issued in Texas which never would have been issued if the facts in the case had been brought to the attention of the taxpayers of some such officials as our State Board of Control or our state auditor.

Experience has also proved that the taxpayers in every tax unit should have organized committees who should make it their business to inquire into the merits of all proposed bond issues; they must see that the public has the facts, rather than a colored picture prepared by some special group of community boosters, who often have some axe to grind.

"We should certainly be able to see that if we continue to issue bonds at a rate where each year they take a larger part of our total tax funds, it will not be long before 50 per cent of all taxes, instead of 34 per cent will go to retire bonded debt, then 60 per cent, etc., until we actually acquire a non-retireable public debt—because public debt is increasing 25 or 30 times as fast as tax values. Some sane method of control must be worked out: mere shifting taxes from one class of property to another class will not meet the issue and solve the problem.

Few Short-Cuts

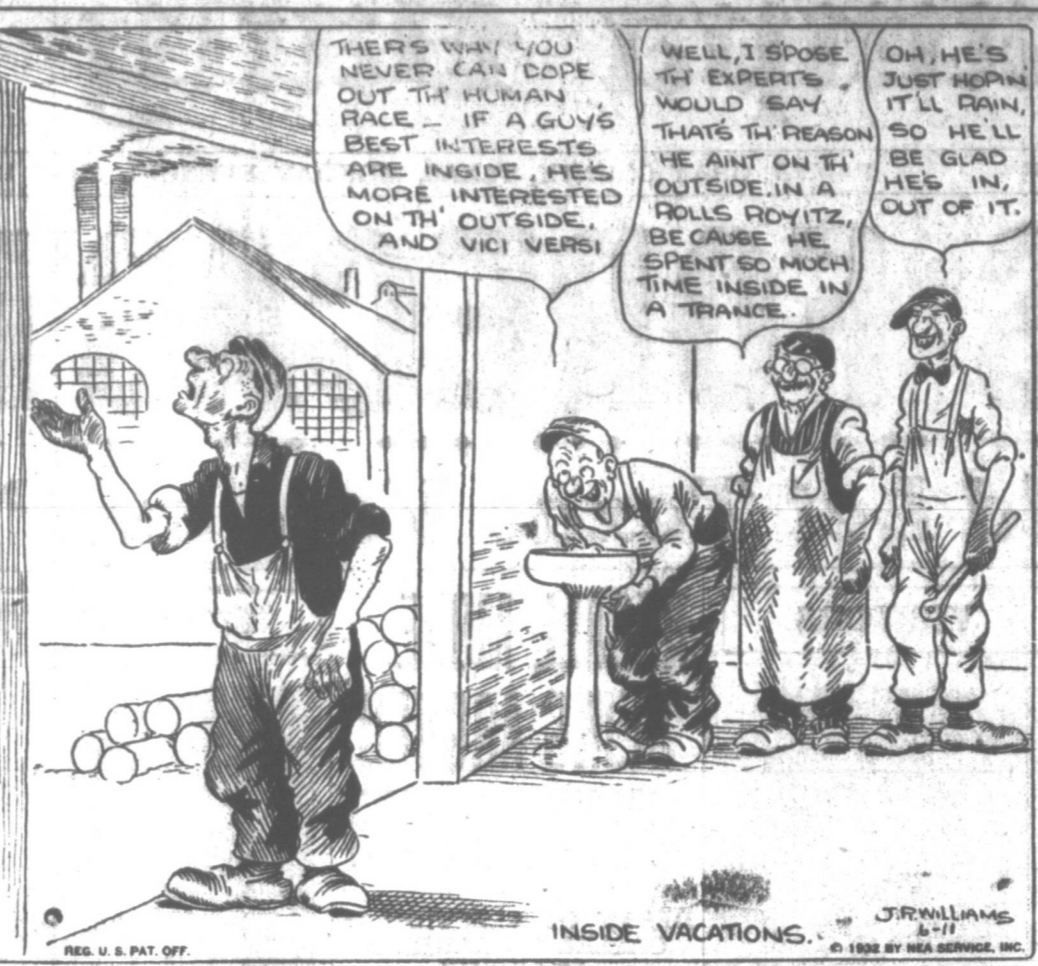

"It is my thought that, any effort to secure economy is government by short-cut methods such as wholesale salary reductions, without any consideration of the merits of individual cases, will probably prove ineffective; likewise, demands for reduced governmental appropriations, without a careful comparison of governmental expenditures in other states for various governmental functions will probably yield no results.

"The bonds must be so issued that the principal and interest will be retired during the useful life of the bond money.

"Bonds should never be issued to pay for constantly recurring items of expenditure.

"Bonds should never be issued even when all three of the conditions referred to above are met, unless taxpayers are able to stand the additional tax.

BEAUMONT LOSES TWICE TO DALLAS BUT STILL LEADS

LEADERS ARE WELL BUNCHED THIS SEASON

FORT WORTH GETS TWO OFF INDIANS SUNDAY

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

If the Texas league race was a carnival main show, the official Barker would get his crowd with an appeal about one of the lightest races in the history of the circuit.

When yesterday's games were over, Beaumont, pacesetter, was one and a half games in front of the second place Houston Buffaloes; and two and one-half games in front of the third place Dallas Steers. Longview, in fourth place, was only six games behind Houston.

Dallas had a field day yesterday by beating Beaumont twice, 8 to 7 in eleven innings, and 6 to 2 in the nightcap. The double win made it three straight for the Steers over the league leaders.

The Exporters lost the first game in the eleventh when Sullivan walked in the winning run. The nightcap saw the Steers rout scotchboy Rowe, ace of the Beaumont staff. Oscar Fuhr, veteran southpaw, limited the Exporters to three hits.

Houston got a split with Tyler. The first game went to Tyler, 10 to 5. The second to Houston, 4 to 2. Aaron Ward of Tyler and Joe Medwick of Houston put on a home run show in the opener. Ward hit two over the fence. Medwick duplicated with his 12th and 13th homers of the season. Gene Rye had a big hand in Tyler's defeat in the second game. Gene socked a homer in the first and a single in the second.

Fort Worth won a doubleheader from San Antonio, 5 to 2 and 6 to 2. In the first game, Manager McCabe held the Indians to six hits. Pickrel was even superior to McCabe in the second game. He held his opponents to 8 hits in the first.

Longview grabbed a doubleheader from Galveston, 7 to 6 and 6 to 4. Debs Garms collected three hits in the first game to lead his mates to victory.

DALLAS STAR GIRL ATHLETE BACK TO WORK

BABE DIDRIKSON WILL ENTER MANY OF EVENTS

DALLAS, June 13 (AP)—Mildred (Babe) Didrikson, who holds more records than she can remember off-hand, went back to work today for the bosses who will send her to the Olympic games.

With little of the loquacity traditionally ascribed to her sex, she said she was glad to be back on the job. She walked out on her employers a week ago when they declined to add another week's vacation to the six already arranged for her.

That was last Monday, so that the Babe has had the week, anyway. But she spent it here in Dallas applying for reinstatement—all except the first few hours after starting for Beaumont. She was so sorry about running away that she cried when reporters interviewed her.

The Babe will spend those six weeks at the National Women's A. U. track and field meet at Chicago and at the Olympic games. She said she would enter as many events as the officials would let her. She has beaten or equaled the world's records for women in the javelin, the discus, the 100 meters and the 80-meter hurdles.

In addition to these performances, the Babe holds the world's record for the baseball throw and for three years has been an all-American basketball star. She also swims, plays golf and tennis, roller skates and boxes.

She is blonde and nearly 19 but she admits she isn't pretty. "I try to be graceful," she says.

MAGNOLIA IN BALL WIN AT SKELLYTOWN

WARREN, LEFT FIELDER, SUFFERS INJURY TO HAND

Skellytown's ninth inning rally fell short of the early lead piled up by the Magnolia "Mags" in Skellytown yesterday afternoon and the Pampa nine won the rubber game of a three-game series, 11 to 9. One bad accident marred the game.

Warren, Magnolia left fielder, suffered two broken fingers when hit by a pitched ball in the third inning. The umpire refused to give him a base on balls and a substitute had to bat for him. A young riot followed the decision, both teams knowing that the umpire's decision was wrong. Newsome of LeFors replaced Marshall and on his next two trips hit a home run and triple.

Skellytown scored five runs in their ninth inning rally. They earned only one of their counters. Bozeman threw a strikeout over the first baseman's head to let two runs in. Voss was throwing "spitter" and the last one slipped out of Bozeman's glove, he picked up the wet side and the ball slipped. Thorne made another error in the same inning which accounted for two more counters.

Voss pitched his full nine innings for the first time this year and held Skellytown to four runs and six hits in eight innings. The five final runs were scored on three hits. Smoky Carroll of no hit, no run game started in the box for the Ollers but was relieved by Carmichael and Terry before the game was over.

The "Mags" made 13 hits in scoring their 11 runs. They made four errors, however. Manager Rusty Cahill and Freddy Bozeman were the big willow widders of the game with three hits each. Bozeman garnered a double and home run to boost his batting average over .500. Weeks and Newsome got two hits each. Harry Grover, playing his second game this season, got a double.

Terry was the big hitter for the Ollers with three safe singles, one good for three bases on any ball diamond. Fowlers connected for two trips to the plate. Parker made the only two errors chalked up against the Ollers.

Ridgeway, Magnolia shortstop, did some nice fielding but was weak at bat. The Pampa fielders were also on the job, camping over everything that came their way. Weeks to Marshall was the only double play combination of the day.

The Magnolias will play a benefit game here next Sunday with the LeFors nine. The proceeds will go to the crippled children's fund of the Kinwanis club.

LOCALS LOSE GOLF MATCH

Red Deer Players Drop 14 Out of 26 Matches on Borger Course.

Twenty-six Pampa golfers played over the Borger golf course yesterday afternoon losing 14 matches out of the 26. The Borger course, one of the toughest in this section, produced many traps and false distances that had the Pampa boys worried.

Mark Heath, owner and manager of the Red Deer course here, took the team to Borger. A return match will be played over the Red Deer course next Sunday. Borger players say they will come to Pampa stronger than Pampa went to Borger. They are anxious to play over the Red Deer course.

Jim Kolb had the toughest game of the day when he went 20 holes to beat Deason Jones of Borger. Joe Berry won his match one up while Swinson and Donovan were losing by the same margin. Mark Heath beat Floyd Ward 3 up.

Tommy White, city amateur champion, won his match 1 up while Tom Perkins, runner up in the championship flight, took his match 3 up.

Results follow:

Tommy White won from George Hodgins, 1 up; Skeet Stewart lost to Hurt Wilkins, 3 down; Don Donovan lost to Dee Brooks, 1 down; Dr. R. A. Webb lost to Cliff Berrien, 2 down; Floyd Hoffman bowed to Eddie Lewis, 3 down; Tom Perkins beat Al Taruer, 3 up; Warren Cretney lost to Jim Kmokl, 4 down; R. H. Swinson was beaten by Fred Young, 1 down.

Sam Fenberg lost to Dr. Hauson, 5 down; Gene Green lost to G. H. Whitlock, 1 down; Bill Lang lost to E. R. McSally, 2 down. Jno. McFall beat Fleet McClellan, 4 up; R. A. Lawrence was 4 down to C. S. BROWNS ARE CERTAIN JINX FOR SENATORS

KILLEFER'S CLUB HAS EASY TIME IN DOUBLE WIN

BY HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

For the information of American League pitchers, the one sure way of stopping Washington is to put on a St. Louis Browns uniform.

The Senators can hold their own with the rest of the league but as soon as they see one of Bill Killefer's elbows take the mound they roll over and play dead. So far they've played the Browns seven times and the Browns have won six games.

Killefer's outfit won both games of a double-header yesterday, 6-3 and 4-0. The first was a discouraging affair. What with Carl Fischer, former Senator, in a Brown uniform, and Dick Coffman, former Brown, pitching for the Senators, Fischer had all the better of the argument as he held Washington to seven hits.

Walter Stewart pitched his second shutout over the Senators in the nightcap.

George Herman Ruth personally conducted New York to a 13-5 victory over Cleveland, hitting his 19th and 20th homers and a double to drive in six runs. Detroit did some high-powered batting to tumble Philadelphia, 8-6. Pete Jablonowski, former Cleveland hurler, made his first start for Boston Red Sox and was the victim of his teammates' errors, bowing 4-1 to Chicago.

In the National League, Chicago stretched its lead to a game and a half by winning a wild 13-inning battle from Boston, 5-3, and one of a large group of St. Louis Cardinal graduates, Flint Rhem, pitched the Phillies to an easy 6-1 victory over the Cincinnati Reds. The other two National League games were rained out.

Jackson Wins Back Old Place

By The Associated Press

The upper division of the Cotton States league held its own during the week-end but Jackson braced to retrieve its fourth place position from El Dorado, the only edged team from Mississippians out for one day. Announcement was made last night that the league would officially complete the first half of the season July 3, and the following day will enter the second half with all clubs playing holiday double headers.

The league leader, Baton Rouge team took a long winded issue yesterday from Pine Bluff, winning 5 to 5 in 13 innings. The first game was so long that the second had to be called on account of darkness with the score tied at 8-8 in the seventh inning.

Monroe counted heaviest in the league engagements, winning both its games with El Dorado, the first 11 to 4 and the second 5 to 0.

Jackson split its pair with Port Arthur, winning the first 9 to 0, and the Texans taking the second 6 to 4. The games were played at Vicksburg, former home grounds for the Jackson team which has an agreement to play Sunday home games at Vicksburg. Errors handicapped the teams in the opener but they steadied in the second game and took an early lead.

Fifteen Athletes To Enter Olympics

CHICAGO, June 13 (AP)—Fifteen former stars who headed turn in an assortment of records in the N. C. A. A. championships, will go to the final Olympic trials at Palo Alto, Cal., July 15-16 at the expense of the American Olympic committee.

Those who landed among the first three in each event of last Saturday's record-smashing meet are eligible to compete in the final trials, but restricted finances will permit only the cream of the lot to go expenses.

BANKERS' WIVES WELCOMED TO CITY FOR CONVENTION

Flag Etiquet Given by Mrs. Lawson

ENTERTAINING DONE BY LOCAL WOMEN TODAY

VISITORS IN RECEIVING LINE FOR TEA THIS AFTERNOON

Wearing pretty corsages of sweet peas, presented them at the registration table, bankers' wives who are attending the meeting of Panhandle Bankers' association were greeted by many Pampa women before noon today, and were invited to the entertainment features planned for this afternoon and this evening.

The feminine visitors who had registered by 11 o'clock this morning were Mrs. Arthur Little of Texhoma, Okla., Mrs. C. A. Gibner of Spearman, Mrs. Lon C. McCroy of Dalhart, Mrs. L. B. Steele of Dalhart, Mrs. G. D. Anderson of Farwell, Mrs. C. A. Jay of Dallas, Mrs. C. E. Duke of Tulsa, Margaret Milam of Memphis, and Mildred Harrell of Memphis.

Weather permitting, other women were expected to arrive in time for the afternoon entertainments, planned under the direction of Mrs. A. H. Doucette, chairman, Mrs. Siler Faulkner, Mrs. G. H. Walker, and Mrs. Lynn Boyd.

A La Nora theater party was planned for 1:45 o'clock this afternoon, and a tea in the home of Mrs. Siler Faulkner at 3:30.

The visiting women will compose the receiving line for the tea, and concealed musicians, directed by Vern Springer, will furnish Hawaiian music for the occasion.

Tea will be poured by Miss Virginia Faulkner, daughter of the home hostess, at a table laid with Dresden china. The table will be decorated with pink roses and lighted with green tapers.

Other local women will assist in serving dainty sandwiches, flower-decorated cake, and pink and green candies.

Because of the inclement weather, the barbecue which was to have been held at Mel Davis ranch will be held instead in the basement of the Methodist church.

A semi-formal dance will be given from 8-12 o'clock at the Schneider hotel this evening, with music furnished by The Californians.

Little Norma June Johnson Has Party

Mrs. Morris Johnson entertained a group of children honoring her little daughter, Norma June, on her third birthday Thursday afternoon. Games were played and favors of popcorn and balloons were given.

At the close of the afternoon refreshments of Jell-o, whipped cream, and cake were served to the young honoree and to Gloria Kennedy, Hansel Kennedy, Deatrice Johns, Dale Watson, Virgie Symonds, Junior Duenkel, Bryan Rusk, Barbara June Morrow, Ramon Lewis Wilson, D. B. Jamison, Jr., and Ronald Bruce Johnson.

Women's Council Meets Wednesday

Officers for the coming year will be installed at a meeting of the Women's Council, First Christian church, Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the church. The meeting will be the last of this church year, and annual reports will be given.

BITS OF NEWS

Dr. and Mrs. L. V. Credit and daughter, Betty Rose, of Amarillo were dinner guests of Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Seydler of Pampa yesterday.

Mrs. Harry Marbaugh and sons, Max and Miles, left today for Canyon. Max will remain there to attend school this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Bridge and children, William Lewis Jr., Roy, and Addie Fay, motored to McLean yesterday to visit Mr. Bridge's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bridge.

Miss Loma Groom, who is attending college in Canyon this summer, spent the week-end in Pampa.

Mr. and Mrs. Olin E. Hinkle were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hinkle of Canyon yesterday and visited Palo Duro park.

The attendance goal of 176 set for the First Baptist Training service of last evening was exceeded by 29. There were 650 persons in Sunday school.

A meeting of the Young Women's auxiliary, First Baptist church, has been announced for Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the home of Miss Mildred Brake, 433 N. Crest.

Mr. and Mrs. James Rittenhouse and Miss Bonnie Strayhorn of Monte Bello, Cal., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Thomas. Miss Strayhorn will spend the summer, and the others are enroute to Indiana. Mrs. Rittenhouse, Mrs. Thomas, and Miss Strayhorn are sisters.

Cleveland has two fighters, Johnny Parr and Phil Zwick, whose hobby is the collection of ancient firearms.

PRETTY LITTLE FLOUR GIRL

More than food for the needy is contained in the sacks of flour which the Red Cross is distributing throughout the nation. The Red Cross is organizing sewing classes to make clothes—like the jumper dress worn here by little Miss Phyllis Smith of Washington—out of the sacks themselves.

LARGE CROWD IS DELIGHTED BY MUSIC PLAYED BY ENID GROUP ON UNIQUE INSTRUMENTS HERE

Variety of the musicians and variety and uniqueness of instruments delighted the large group of Pampans which gathered at the First Christian church yesterday afternoon to hear a concert presented by the Hanna Concert company of Phillips university, Enid.

The musicians, Brown Hanna, director, Earl Hanna, Victor Jacobs, and LeRoy Hay, left after the concert to continue their entertainment tour. They will play in California, Oregon, and Washington cities and will return to Enid in time for the fall term of college.

This season members feature a group of Swiss Hand Bell selections.

The bells, over fifty in number, are manipulated by four skilled players. The company is also a marimba band. Using a large concert marimba, the quartet of players is able to produce a wide variety of effects from the mellow tone of the pipe organ to the surging rhythm of the military band. The cathedral chimes, a rare instrument composed of 81 tubular bells, has also met with approval because of its pleasing musical qualities. Cricket bells, sleigh bells and other rare and unusual instruments are used. This collection of instruments is the only one of its kind being used for concert work and is the result of years of search.

CANYON STUDENTS ARE SERIOUS THIS YEAR; WALK STREETS TO SECURE PLACES TO EARN BOARD

CANYON, June 13. (SP)—Enrollment for the first half of the summer session at the West Texas State Teachers college is almost over, the final date on which students can enter being Monday June 13. At present the enrollment stands at 1150, with a surprisingly large number of advanced students. On the first day that classes were met, several instructors found themselves with classes of almost one hundred students. Adjustments will be made to correct this condition, according to heads of departments.

Dr. J. M. Hill states that he is much pleased with the way the summer session is beginning and that he has been particularly impressed with the maturity and seriousness of purpose shown by the students. A large part of the summer student body is made up of men and women who have attended college at the West Texas State Teachers college before, but the percentage of students who have never been on this campus is higher than usual, according to those in charge of enrollment.

Dr. H. M. Cook, dean of men states that there are more men in college already than attended during the entire summer last year.

Financial Difficulties Many young men and women are going to college on very little money. One girl went up one street and returned in another in Canyon, trying to find a place to work for her room and board, after all the places listed had been taken. She finally found a place where she could work for her room, and another where she could wash dishes and milk a cow to earn her board. In commenting upon this case, Mrs. Geraldine Green, dean of women, said, "I think if a girl wants an education that much, she should receive all the help we can give her."

President to N. E. A. As soon as the summer session is under way, Dr. J. A. Hill will leave for Atlantic City where he will attend the annual meeting of the National Education association. Dr. Hill will represent, not only his own college but the Texas State Teachers association of which he is president. He will be accompanied by his family and the trip will be made by motor to enable Dr. Hill to visit several colleges on the way.

Interest of this emergency offering, Rev. McKinley Norman of Waxahachie, will be the conference leader, and Dr. R. C. Campbell and L. D. Mitchell will be the inspirational speakers. Representatives from the many Baptist churches in this section are expected to be in attendance. The services will begin at 10 o'clock and continue until 3 in the afternoon.

Five Chicago boys were regulars on the University of Washington freshman football squad last fall.

Attention will also be called to the special emergency mission campaign for home and foreign missions, in which the Baptists of the South are seeking to raise $300,000. Texas Baptists have been asked to raise $40,000 of this amount. The conference in Amarillo, will be one of 11 to be held throughout the state during the week, in the

PAMPA PEOPLE ARE ASKED TO DISPLAY FLAG

IS TO BE SHOWN FROM SUNRISE TO SUNSET ON TUESDAY

"Display your flag tomorrow, flag day, and display it properly," urged Mrs. Al Lawson, chairman of the American committee of Pampa unit of the American Legion auxiliary, in a flag day message to the people of Pampa. The following rules governing the display of the flag were given by the local auxiliary unit:

The flag should be displayed only from sunrise to sunset.

When carried in a procession with another flag or flags, the United States flag should be on the marching right, or when there is a line of flags in front of the center of that line.

When displayed on a wall with another flag with crossed staffs, the United States flag should be on the observer's left, with its staff in front of the staff of the other flag.

When the flag is displayed from a pole projecting horizontally from a building, or on a rope stretched between a building and a pole, the union should be away from the building.

When the flag is displayed in any manner other than by being flown from a staff, it should be displayed flat, either indoors or out. When displayed against a wall, either horizontally or vertically, the union should be uppermost and to the flag's own right, that is to be observed. When displayed in a window it should be hung the same way, that is with the blue field to the left of the observer in the street. The flag should never be draped but bunting used for drapery.

When the flag is displayed on a motor car it should be on a staff firmly fixed to the body, or radiator cap, never draped over the hood, sides or rear.

When the flag is displayed over the middle of a street, the union should be to the north or east.

When the flag is used on a speaker's platform it should be displayed flat above and behind the speaker, or on a staff at the speaker's right.

CHURCH SCHOOL CLOSED; EXAMS TAKEN FRIDAY

The First Baptist church of Pampa was awarded second place for efficiency among the churches of the North Plains which conducted study courses during the last week. Gloude took first place and was presented the banner at a gathering held in Panhandle yesterday afternoon and attended by representatives from Claude, Pampa, Borger, Panhandle, Pierce Street, Amarillo, and San Jacinto, Amarillo.

The study course in Pampa was closed Friday evening, when 87 persons took examinations. Miss Grace Conn of Dallas, who directed the local school, left Saturday for Lamesa, where she opened a school yesterday.

Mrs. Frank Keehn Attends Luncheon

Mrs. Frank Keehn of Pampa spent Saturday in Amarillo and attended a prosperity luncheon given at the Capitol hotel by Mrs. A. M. Leslie of Dallas, state organizer for the Spencer Corset company.

Mrs. Keehn and the following other corset dealers attended: Mrs. Carl Kelley of Lubbock, Mrs. H. E. Hardeman and Mrs. Esther Irvin of Borger, Mrs. E. B. Miller of Morse, Mrs. W. E. White of Lubbock, Mrs. T. W. Welch of Glendon, and Mrs. Mabel Higgins, Mrs. Julia Moore, Mrs. Jessie M. Addison, Miss Birdie Lee, and Miss Pauline Lee all of Amarillo.

Women's Council Session Postponed

The meeting of division 5 of the First Christian Women's council, which was to be held this evening in the home of Mrs. S. A. Burns, has been postponed until Wednesday evening because of inclement weather.

Mrs. C. W. Stowell, leader, has announced the following program for the meetings: Devotional, Mrs. F. W. O'Malley; Searching Chinese By-Paths, Mrs. B. G. Gordon; It Is

Well With India's Daughters, Mrs. James Todd; A Lovely Daughter of Old Mexico, Mrs. H. H. Hicks; banjo solo, Vern Springer; A Voice From a Far Country, Mrs. Helen Turner; the story of a Chinese girl; and Jesse Love Me, sung in Chinese, Joyce Turner.

FOREST FIRE TOWERS ARE ALWAYS OPEN TO TOURISTS

Millions of Acres Free To All Comers — Camping Sites Ready To Move Into — Forest Fires a Never-Ending Menace — Work of the Rangers.

By GILBERT IRWIN

ALL of the great National Forest reserves, upward of 250,000 square miles in extent, the world's greatest camping grounds, are free and open to all campers, sportsmen and seekers of rest, health and recreation and afford unlimited opportunities for outdoor enjoyment. They are vast primeval wildernesses, located in many states from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico. With good motor roads, parks and camps, they are enjoyed annually by millions, largely by the economical mode of car and camp which is best adapted to this almost boundless outdoor enjoyment.

Nearly every state owns a million or more acres of public forests patterned after the National forests, and also having their parks and camps, outdoor ranges for all citizens, for every taxpayer is a partner and shareholder in both National and state public forests, and they offer about the best in nomadic enjoyment. Cities and towns have their camps, by the highways, private camps have been provided by the thousands, and our nation and the states have entered into the beneficence of the millionaire and the laborer, the farmer and the urban dweller of all ages. Both sexes, who pitch their tents side by side in the great outdoors, borrow each other's tobacco, fish together, swap yarns, mingle in the fraternity of motor camping which makes all humanity much akin

Great National Parks

Yellowstone, Yosemite, Sequoia, Glacier and Zion National Parks of the west, Superior, White Mountains, Shenandoah, Pisgah, Great Smokies and Florida in the middle and eastern states, are only a few of the hundreds all open under simple rules to all the people, and in addition there are the state forests, and those of Canada, thousands of miles of gypsy trails for the motor camping millions. By highway or by way you note the big "Welcome to the Public Forests" signs and when you pull into the camps you will find rustic shelters, big fireplaces, comfort stations, garbage consumers, sparkling water and plenty of firewood, although your little kerosene stove is the handiest for all camping purposes; and for those who do not care to rest there are nice bungalows at small cost.

Outdoor recreation has taken an intense grip upon the American people, and to most all there comes the time for a break from so-called civilization, the desire to revert to the primitive, to enjoy the independence that comes with car and camp migrations. The public forests provide the means, and the rules will be found safe ones for all your outdoor trips.

Keep Camp Grounds Clean

All natural features and curiosities must be preserved, no molesting or defacing permitted. Campgrounds must be thoroughly cleaned and left in the shape found, and garbage and refuse must be placed in receptacles provided for that purpose. Hunting and fishing are permitted in the public forests under the state laws, but not in the park areas, but cameras may be used freely. When you camp in the public forests you must take your reading from books, newspapers and the like, for no advertised months which bear the scenery and shut out the views are permitted, a rule which should be extended to all motorways. It will be well to leave canine pets at home for they may cause game and get you into trouble.

But the serious danger comes from forest fires, and the foresters tell you that more than 90% of these are due to human causes. "Golden Rule Guest, Welcome to the Forests," is the standing invitation to outsiders, and all along the forest trails are the curiously phrased cautions, "Kill your cigaret before it kills a good fellow's forest," "Help make this a smokeless forest," "A campfire is the best thing out."

Requests, hints and pleas couched in such terms that you begin to think that they have a force of expert slogan writers on the job, are to be seen all through the public forests, and there is no occasion for anyone to lapse to carelessness. "A cigar butt may be down but not out," "Sowing matches reaping ashes," "A burning forest is a burning Shame," "Forest fire prevention is just common sense," and hundred of others greet you. As you get into the heart of the big woods they become more emphatic. "This is God's country, don't set it on fire and make it look like hell," you read, and then when you come to a long stretch of blackened sticks and trunks, a former growing forest, and perhaps a big sign will read, "Damn it don't burn the bush," the righteous outburst of some forest ranger over the desolation caused by some careless outsider.

The Forest Rangers

You are not likely to be in a public forest camp long until a courteous forester, ranger or patrolman will emerge from the bush and greet you smilingly. He will hand you a folder and maps telling all about the section in which you camp, and which also gives you the plain and simple rules laid down for recreational enjoyment of the forests by all the people who care to visit them. Camping in National or state forest is something that no tourist wants to miss, for it combines the lessons and enjoyment of all other camping places and offers many things not to be had elsewhere.

Those solidly appearing foresters whom you meet back in the wilds, kahl clad doughboys of the timberlands, many of them World War veterans, are college trained in the new science of making trees grow on the waste lands to replace the primeval giants felled by the lumbermen, and are allies of nature in reforestation. In addition they are surveyors, geologists, help to stock the woods with game and the waters with fish, protect the sportive wild life and help eradicate the vermin. They have an interest in the game refuges which require about as much attention as chick brooders and wherein all kinds of game breed and multiply, and from which protected areas they go out to make good sport where hunting is permitted in season.

Work Of Foresters

Perhaps the forester or ranger will invite you on a hike around his big woodland farm, and if so you are in line for a wonderful insight into the interesting new business of scientific woods farming which has so many allied phases of interest to both country and urban dwellers. Millions of seedlings; conifers, hardwoods, nut trees, shrubs and vines are planted annually, the future timber supply and sources of food to furred, feathered and finned forest life. You will be shown the great stretches of planted evergreens, just like a big park, trees of varying sizes up to thirty years or more growth. Those forest workers are kept stepping with their all-year many sided tasks but they always find time to tell the citizens—stockholders in the public forests—all about this interesting work and to show them how the wheels go round, also to make their forest camping enjoyable.

When you sight a forest fire tower by highway or back along forest trail or fire lane you will find it open. In season the outlook man is perched in his lofty aerie surrounded by alidade, maps, binoculars and constantly scanning the forest for the first sign of the embryo forest fire, and he will explain his interesting work and give you the details of that magnificent view over woodlands, valleys and farmlands. There are thousands of these lofty towers perched on the highest points of peaks and ranges with their commanding views and they offer an aerial glance at the forests, without which your public forest trip is incomplete.

Wonderful Views

With each step you take to the top of the 80 or 100 foot tower a new range or peak appears beyond the one just seen. You appear to be in a bowl, hemmed in by the blue wooded ranges, and all through the timberlands are the old lumber roads, fire lanes, scenic forest routes for car, also for bear, deer and other wild life. Dofs which are forest fringed farms, verdant valleys with their silvery creeks and rivers, and shimmering lakes, fill in the nature painting.

A day or a week with forest ranger or outlook man brings most interesting lessons, on this new business of conserving the great outdoors, of forest farming which vitally enters into the every day life of the nation. You will have plenty of company back in the big public camps where you will find people and cars from many states and no fences or warning signs to keep you from the pretty spots. Camping and vacation sites by the highways may be narrowing, but in the lands beyond back where you are alone with nature, where sports afield are best and all those pleasures which urban dwellers seek are unrestricted and yearly widening Uncle Sam has provided for play and enjoyment, now a necessary part of American life.

DOLLS FROM ALL OVER THE WORLD

The National Museum's Great Collection, Which Illustrates Manners and Customs of Many Countries — Dolls That Are Divinities — Chinese and Japanese Dolls — Rag Dolls

COLLECTION of the dolls of all the races of mankind has been newly completed by the U. S. National Museum. It is particularly interesting for the reason that in all countries dolls are faithful counterfeits of living human beings, illustrating their dress and even their manners and customs. Thus, for example, the little daughter of the hunting Indian has a boy doll dressed in hunting costume and equipped with bow and arrow, in order that he may get something for the girl doll to eat. The Klowas of the Great Plains almost live on horseback; hence the dolls their children play with are riders, set a-straddle on a "doll steed."

famous blanket weavers, and their dolls have little blankets, just like the big ones made for real folks. When a child dies, her dolls are buried with her, in obedience to a custom that seems to be of great antiquity, for in that region dolls are often found in old graves.

Forest, famous by reason of the quaint folk-lore stories connected with it, is the principal home of the doll-makers, whose industry is carried on in their humble cottages. In each household all the family, including the grandfather and very young children, are engaged in the work. The mother and older girls make the bodies and stuff them; the boys carve and wire the joints, and father paints the faces. Some families make only wooden dolls; others specialize in dolls of papier mache, which is a mixture of mashed paper, flour, chalk and glue.

Continent dolls are often made of that material, and it is odd to consider the fact that the words "doll" and "idol" are both derived from the same Greek word, meaning image. From Korea comes a doll of straw, very crudely put together but most interesting in its use. A native of Korea, on the last day of the year, puts a copper coin in the stomach of such a doll and throws it out into the road. Along will surely come a beggar and pick it up, glad to get the coin. But thereby the beggar assumes responsibility for all the sins committed by the former possessor of the manikin during the past twelve months, who is accordingly enabled to start the new year with a clean slate.

LOCAL BANK, FOUNDED FIRST ON STATE CHARTER, HAS LONG RECORD OF SERVICE IN CITY

The first bank was established in Pampa in 1906. It was the First State Bank. It operated with a capital of $10,000. Two years later on May 25, 1908, the First State Bank became the First National Bank and the capital increased to $25,000.

The president of the state bank when it was founded here was J. R. P. Sewall, and the cashier was "Uncle" Joe Cole. The bank had operated about 10 months when B. E. Finley, now president of the First National Bank here, relieved "Uncle" Joe as cashier. At that time the bank was located in a tin building where the C. & C. grocery site is now.

The second president of the bank was R. H. Collier, now chief national bank examiner of the Eleventh Federal Reserve district. Mr. Finley was cashier. T. D. Hobart followed Mr. Collier with a five-year term. Mr. Finley was then elected president and has served in that capacity since. The capital of the bank was increased to $50,000 about 15 years ago.

Just about that time DeLea Vicars, now vice-president, was made cashier. His brother, Ed Vicars is cashier now. Both of the Vicars brothers were born in Virginia. Mr. Finley was born and reared in Ohio. He lived near Des Moines, Iowa, before coming to the Panhandle in 1906. Mrs. DeLea Vicars was formerly employed at the bank. Before her marriage she was Miss Beryl Wynne.

The bank was re-modeled and fitted with new fixtures in 1927. The interior with its marble and fine wood fixtures and furnishings is as modern as can be found in the Panhandle. Several old friends of B. E. Finley and other officials of the First National Bank here, have promised to attend the bankers convention as a gesture of good will and friendship. Among the visitors expected were H. L. Jarbee, president of the Drovers National Bank, J. J. Noone, vice-president of the Interstate National Bank, and Mr. Kennedy of the Peleity National Bank, all of Kansas City, Mo. The president of the First National Bank of Tucumcari, N. M., is due to be here. Mr. Finley once worked at the Tucumcari bank. The First National Bank & Trust Company of Oklahoma City will have a representative here.

CARNIVAL EMPLOYEE HURT
Jim Carlson, an employe at the Lowell carnival now in Pampa, suffered painful bruises and cuts about the face and head when he fell from a truck on Mary Ellen street last night. His injuries were so serious enough for hospital treatment and he was taken in a G. Malone ambulance to his hotel. Carlson lost his footing and fell on the truck to the pavement.

Sister MARY'S KITCHEN

BY SISTER MARY NEA Service Writer
Many a June bride will find that the planning of meals becomes an alarming problem. The food budget refuses to balance, "his" favorite dishes have lost their charm and left-overs have a way of accumulating that is most disconcerting.

There are a number of important factors that enter into menu planning. The age and occupations of the persons you are planning for must be considered. The amount of money you can afford to spend naturally influences the choice of foods to a great degree. The ability of the cook—whether it be yourself or someone else—and the amount of help in the kitchen also determine what you can have for dinner.

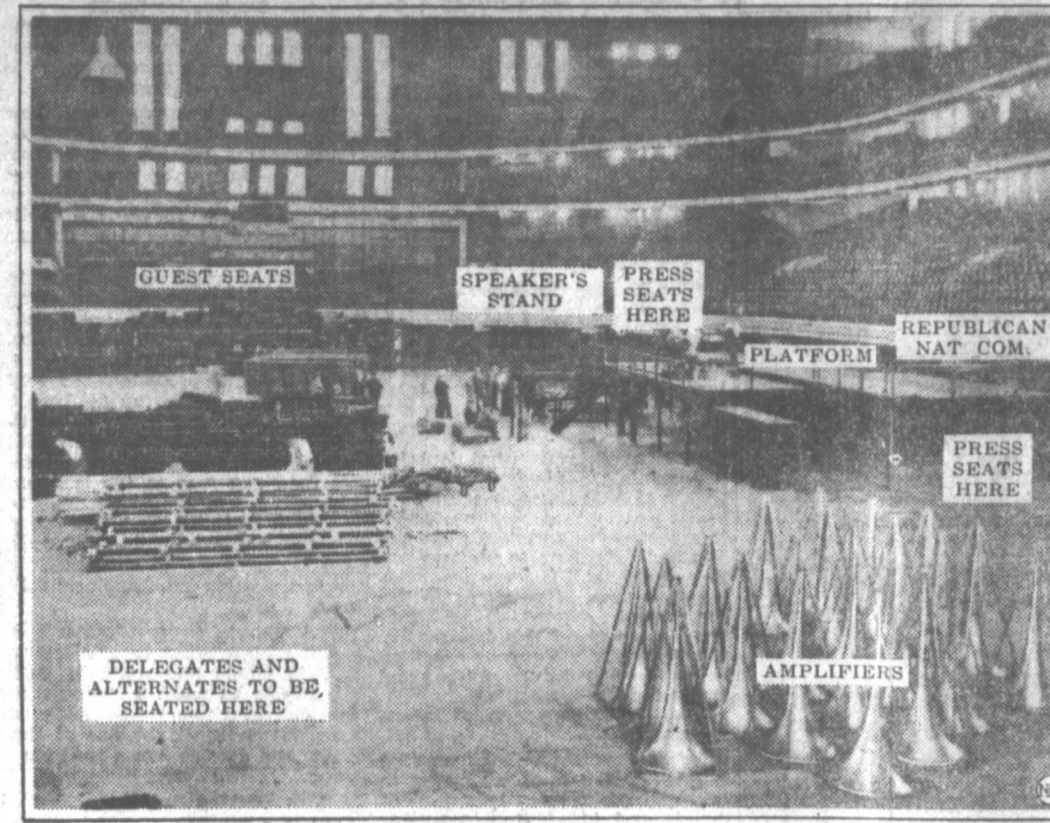

Over and above this, the needs of the body must be supplied in every meal of the day. The well-balanced menu is imperative and must contain three distinct food classes. First, fuel foods to furnish heat and energy for the activities of the body. Foods rich in sugar, starch and fat come under this head. Second, growing foods to provide material for the building and repair of body tissue. These are the foods rich in protein. Third, "protective" foods, containing mineral constituents and vitamins and adding bulk. Vegetables, fruits, milk and whole grains make up this group.

When it comes to actually making out menus in terms of meat and potatoes, variety, economy, and personal likes and dislikes enter into the problem. You will find that greater variety will be achieved and you will do your planning and ordering more competently and economically if you outline your menus for several days or a week in advance.

Tomorrow's Menu
BREAKFAST: Cherries, cereal, cream, baked eggs, toast, milk, coffee.
LUNCHEON: Casserole of spring vegetables, brown bread, and cottage cheese sandwiches, drop cookies, milk, tea.
DINNER: English mutton chops, scalloped potatoes, buttered new turnips, salad of cucumbers and celery in lime jelly, rhubarb and raisin pudding, milk, coffee.

One way to do this is to decide on the meats for a week. Then fill in with potatoes cooked in various ways and other seasonal cooked vegetables.

NOISY PRELUDE TO G. O. P. CONVENTION HEARD

To the din of hammers, saws and riveting machines, Chicago's block-square stadium is being decked out for the Republican National Convention which will open Tuesday, June 14. The above photo shows the work in progress. Shields of the 48 states and the territories will be hung against a background of flags and bunting. Fifteen hundred flags will be used, two of them 18 feet long, to be suspended from beams in the center of the stadium. Tri-colored pendants 20 feet long will flank the flags and a gold-encircled canopy made of 8 1/2 squares of bunting, each 15 by 21 feet, will form the ceiling. Construction, including platforms and dais, is costing Republicans $31,000. Most of the renovations and decorations will serve the Democratic convention as well.

Next, work out lunches for the week, using up left-overs as much as possible and supplying the second protein food—other than meat—providing a protein was not served for breakfast.

Then plan the breakfast fruits and cereals. Take care to avoid repetition. It won't cost a bit more to keep several different kinds of cereals open, using first one kind and then another, than to open one box and use it all up before opening another.

In order to include two servings of fruit daily, plan fruits for luncheon and dinner in the form of cocktails, salads and desserts. Finally, decide on the salads and desserts, breadstuffs and relishes. All the time you are planning menus, visualize them. Pay especial attention to contrast of color and texture. Avoid using colors that clash, as beets and carrots. Take care not to repeat foods of distinctive flavor in the day's menu.

In working over the left-overs it's a good plan to skip a day between their original and second appearances. This prevents monotony and any makes meals more interesting. Go to market yourself. You will find the trip more than repays you for the time it takes in the inspiration it gives you.

Two persons are dependent on appetite, variety of foods in the menu and the method of serving.

This Game of GOLF by O.B. KEELER

One of the finest ways of scaring up remarkable scores—varying on the "freak" class, you might say—is to disseminate such a card through the public prints.

Recently I had an account in this column of an exceptional round by John C. Parker at Moultrie, Ga. Three days after it appeared in an Oklahoma paper I received a letter from Joe C. Creager, of the Conoco Golf club, Ponca City, Okla., enclosing the card of a four ball match which, for low scoring by the quartet, rather lays in the shade any similar round I ever saw, or heard of.

The course of the Conoco Golf club offers a par of 72. It is not a long course—6,093 yards. And it has sand greens, and, according to Mr. Creager, plenty of trouble on it.

An Amazing Showing
Even so, the scoring is amazing. The star performer, with a card of 62, was E. J. Rogers, 1931 open champion of Oklahoma. He was paired with Walter Emery, runner-up in the 1931 Oklahoma amateur championship, against Jimmy Schatz and Charles Stohland, 17-year-old high school boys of Ponca City.

The match was an exhibition affair, and it would seem that the gallery got all that was coming to it in the way of golfing performance.

Following is the card, with par of the course:

Par (out)	543	444	443	35
Rogers	533	533	333	29
Emery	543	444	343	34
Stohland	433	343	433	32
Schatz	533	543	422	33
Par (in)	355	444	444	37-72
Rogers	444	433	344	33-62
Emery	345	543	453	36-70
Stohland	244	533	444	33-65
Schatz	316	543	443	36-69

Eleven Birdies
With his truly remarkable card, including eleven birdies and only one hole above par, Rogers' 62 had to be abetted at the last hole by a birdie 3 by his partner, to hold a margin of victory of 1 up.

The best-ball of the match was 15 up on par.

This seems pretty well to justify Mr. Creager's statement that Old Man Par never had such another drubbing as he got in this bout. The total of the four scores is 22 strokes better than par.

Is Your Answer Here?
This must be the inquisitive season. For several weeks questions from readers have been piling up. Accordingly, this bureau takes the day off to give a few answers, right or wrong. Now go on with the story:

- 1—Why did McGraw quit? Because his players got tired of people peering through keyholes at them to make sure that they ate their vegetables.
- 2—Can the Reds win a National League pennant this year? Not with that pitching staff.
- 3—Have the Braves been playing over their heads? Yes, the Braves have been playing very far over their heads.
- 4—How about those Dodgers? If the Cubs slip, the Dodgers will win the pennant.
- 5—Is this rookie, Vaughn, of the Pirates, a good ball player? Mr. Vaughn, the shortstop of the Pirates, is very green insofar as fielding a batted ball is concerned. But he is a natural hitter. Offhand, after seeing him in two games, this bureau would say that he is a good ball player.

12—What is the relationship between the Cardinals and the Reds?
I wish I knew, and so does Judge Landis.
13—Is Bill Terry a good manager?
Bill Terry is no better manager than Lew Fonseca of the White Sox. But Lew Fonseca is a rattling good manager, at that.
An Easy One
14—If you had a ball club, and wanted to win a series from a major league team, which team would you prefer to play, and which team would you prefer not to play?
This bureau would prefer not to play the Athletics but would be pleased and honored to play the Boston Red Sox.
15—Who is the wrestling champion of the world?
Well, now, I just wish you hadn't asked me that, folks.
16—Is Ben Eastman all that he's cracked up to be?
You can get odds from most of the track coaches in this country that Ben Eastman will not win one event in the Olympic games because he will be all tired out.

Ty Cobb had a batting average of .367 for his entire 24 years in big league baseball.
Dick Goldberg, home run slugger in the Western league, quite a career in dentistry to play for Wichita.
Intercollegiate football is to be resumed by Cumberland University, Lebanon, Tenn., this fall.
Eddie Moore, outfielder recently released by Fort Worth, held the Texas league record for consecutive games played with 973.

Over 5 Inches of Rain Fall Here

Since June 1, a total of 5.19 inches of rain has fallen in Pampa. Last night's rainfall totaled seven-tenths of an inch. A good rain has fallen almost every night for a week.

Showers fell at intervals in the city this morning. Rainfall for the month is already much above normal. Dirt roads in this section were all but impassable this morning, but travel was possible with chains on motor vehicles.

AMARILLO, June 13. (AP)—A general rain, averaging three-quarters of an inch, fell over the Texas Panhandle last night and threatening weather prevailed today.

Hail did extensive damage to crops in the vicinity of Washburn, near Amarillo. Unpaved highways were almost impassable at several points.

Rainfall in Amarillo since June 1 totals 5.07 inches. Normal for this period is 1.47.

NOT CANDIDATE

HOUSTON, June 13 (AP)—Wright Morrow will not be a candidate for governor, he announced today.

In a letter to the executive committee meeting today in Austin he requested that his name be not certified as a candidate.

Friends had filed an application to have his name placed on the ballot, Morrow announced, however, that after considering the various requests that he be a candidate, he had decided to decline.

Gambler's Throw

by Eustace L. Adams

SYNOPSIS: A new brand of kidnapping is introduced by a mysterious gang, who abduct Nancy Wentworth, a popular musical comedy star, Lucci, a notorious gangster, and four wealthy business men. Ransom money is used to ensure the prisoners' safety. Jerry Calhoun, airplane pilot, who was with Nancy when she was carried away, his friend Emory Bates and Stevens, a detective pick up the trail of the gang when the money is collected and follow the kidnapers' hydroplane in their own airplane. The captives find themselves in some tropical place, where the uncertainty and heat undermine their nerves. The leader of the gang, Ashwood, a cultured man who is very lame, watches their strained emotions. Lucci and Mallory, a millionaire stockbroker, in quarrel over Nancy, begin to quarrel, but Jerry Calhoun they start fighting what Nancy believes to be a "battle to the death."

Chapter 13
A FIGURE IN GANDGOM

LUCCI and Mallory went down in a reverberating crash, the gangster clinging to his adversary's throat like a bull terrier to a bone.

Mallory's knees came up in a spasm of pain. His face became mottled, his faded green eyes protruded like those of a gargoyle. His hands beat ineffectually against Lucci's rigid arms as the latter's thumbs pressed down into his windpipe. His arms and legs began to flutter, rapidly losing strength as the life-giving air was denied his labored lungs.

Then, suddenly, he became limp. Lucci held on, oblivious to all the world except that inhuman face before his eyes.

"That's enough!" Ashwood's voice snapped through the silent room like a pistol shot. Lucci held on.

The cripple hobbled across the floor with amazing speed. His face still bore an expression of disinterested enjoyment. A blue-black streak cut a half circle through the air as the butt of his heavy automatic crashed down on Lucci's head. Without a sigh or groan, the intent, rigid figure slumped down like a bundle of old clothes tossed across the insensible form of his enemy.

Ashwood turned away negligently, whistled a shrill, birdlike note and said:

"Put them to bed."

Four burly guards who had materialized out of nowhere at all picked up the two unconscious men and bore them from the room. Then, for the first time in her life, Nancy Wentworth fainted.

The long porch, under the caress of a faint morning trade wind, was almost endurable.

Ashwood lounged in a deck chair, smoking a cigarette and idly gazing over the turquoise water toward the tiny segment of horizon between two islands to the westward. A copy of "Soldiers of Fortune" lay open but forgotten on his knees. If he noticed the quiet man on the beach who lounged near a machine-gun tripod, he was not interested.

Nancy, very alluring in a simple dress of brown orandy, appeared at the door. Her golden hair seemed to catch all the light in that shady corner of the porch. She saw Ashwood and hesitated. The cripple snapped out of his abstraction, rose with surprising grace and bowed.

"Good morning, Miss Wentworth. There's a delightful breeze. Won't you join me?"

She looked at him in frank curiosity, then took the chair he had indicated.

"I am simply bursting with content," he said, easing himself into his chair. "That orandy dress is perfect. The arrogant saleslady tried to tell me I should have chosen green. She was wrong. I knew it then, and I'm positive of it now. You are very beautiful, Miss Wentworth."

"Do you mean to tell me," she demanded, "that you picked out the wardrobe I found in my closet?"

"I admit it with becoming blushes. I tottered from one end of Fifth avenue to another, simply overwhelming the salespeople with my unerring taste."

"What a strange person you are, Mr. Ashwood," she observed meditatively.

There was a half-mocking light in his eyes as he met her somber gaze.

"How penetrating!" he murmured.

She flushed at her own cliché. He did not push his advantage, but lay back in his chair and resumed his indolent watch over sea and sky.

"I can't imagine the same man enjoying shopping for feminine apparel one day and conducting a kidnaping expedition the next." She was determined to draw him out. He interested her, this frail man who looked and spoke like a scholarly sophisticate despite the obvious fact that he was a desperate criminal. "Mr. Lucci tells me that you are one of the greatest figures in gangdom."

"Mr. Lucci is too flattering," he replied drily. "It is true, of course, that we both come under the generic term of gangsters, but there is something direct and forceful about One-shot's work that I could never hope to equal."

Again that mocking gleam flashed from his vivid blue eyes.

"I would be more successful in my chosen career," he continued comfortably. "If I could be more like the worthy One-shot, who is downright, persevering and unimaginative. One of my little foibles is that bootlegging, per se, does not stimulate me."

He offered her a cigarette, then went on in a dry, almost pedantic tone.

"My own efforts, as you may have observed, run to more unusual things. This guest house of mine, for instance; you must admit that it offers a marvellous opportunity for profit, as well as a most intriguing laboratory for the study of human psychology. Where else might one have witnessed the elemental struggle which occurred last evening?"

"The effect of the heat and the enforced proximity, too, offers a study worthy of much consideration. Five carefully selected men and one woman. Out of the lot only you and Mr. Hamilton appear to have withstood the strain without cracking. And I have my doubts about Mr. Hamilton."

Ashwood produced a gold and platinum cigarette case and carefully selected another cigarette.

"But why," she demanded, "did you pick me out as one of your subjects? I'm not at all wealthy. There must be hundreds and hundreds of women who could pay you more than I. If you have already collected $600,000 from our folks, my share would have been $100,000. And if mother has paid you that, it has used up every cent I have in the world and more."

"My dear Miss Wentworth!" Ashwood's sardonic voice was shocked. "You don't think I am making you pay your own board bill, I hope?"

"Who is paying it then?"

(Copyright, Dial Press)

"How about the two of us hooking up?" Lucci proposes to Ashwood tomorrow. Ashwood sees the first threat to his kidnaping project.

DEAN OF PANHANDLE BANKERS

JUDGE J. C. PAUL
Founder of Panhandle Bank and Dean of Bankers in Northwest Texas.

The Panhandle and First National banks on May 6, passed another milestone in their long records of service. Judge Paul, who founded the Panhandle Bank May 6, 1888, is the dean of bankers of this section. The Panhandle First National bank is five years old. Little of the detailed work of the banks is handled by Judge Paul now. His son, Frank A. Paul, is head of the two banks and another son, J. Howard Paul, is president of the American State bank in Amarillo.

BANKERS—

Individuals.—Mr. Patrick urged bankers to take prominent places in community life.

Enjoyable music was provided by a mixed quartet, composed of DeLea Vears, Mrs. W. A. Bratton, Mrs. Earl Thomason, and John Sturgeon. Mr. Sturgeon led the opening singing, and the Rev. C. E. Lancaster offered prayer.

Chairman Steel appointed the following committees, which will report at the closing session tomorrow after the convention has heard addresses by James Shaw, Texas banking commissioner of Austin, Lyall Barnhart of Oklahoma City, and Tom F. Connally of Clarendon.

Two Committees

Resolutions—B. E. Finley, Pampa; W. D. Patrick, Clarendon; J. H. Paul, Amarillo.

Nominations—J. M. Crews, Clarendon; Ross Noland, Tulla; J. C. Anderson Jr., Amarillo.

Check on Checks

"Congress is really having a hard time balancing the budget, which is evidenced by the 2 cent tax placed on bank checks. There is a question as to whether that enactment was pure cussedness or ordinary ignorance. At any rate, it is unjust and unfair. It is an imposition upon legitimate business transactions and is in no wise comparable to a tax on gasoline, toilet articles, tobacco or any other kind of merchandise, because there is no profit involved."

"Handing checks is simply a free service which is being rendered by the banks for the convenience of the public. Free service should not be subject to taxation. It would be just as reasonable to impose a tax on a hat check in hotels where hats are being checked free of charge."

"Another injustice that is being imposed is the placing of responsibility of collecting this tax on the banks, without remuneration for the enormous detail and with a penalty attached for failure to perform this free service, at the same time adding thousands of employees to the government payroll to see that banks do perform this free service. This is not only a gross imposition on banks, but it is inconsistency and discrimination personified."

"I cannot refrain from calling further attention to the inconsistency of Congress in appropriating millions of dollars of tax money to prevent bank failures, important as that is, and, in addition to putting on a nationwide drive to bring money out of hiding, and at the same time, placing a 2 cent tax on all bank checks, which is sure to discourage bank deposits and put more money back in socks and tin cans. And, in addition to this, enclosure opening of Postal Savings banks in all small communities, with an added effort to raise the Postal Savings deposit limit."

Raps Farm Board

"While on this unpleasant subject, I want to register objection to the present operating methods of the Farm Board. Of course, this is a farm relief measure and it is true to name. In my opinion, it has relieved the farmers of all their profits for the past few years and large numbers of them are being relieved of their farms, because they cannot meet interest payments. It really is a relief measure. Will Rogers says it is help and not relief that they need."

"It isn't fair to place all the blame for these depressed conditions on Congress and the Farm Board, because there are other contributing factors. They are merely adding fuel to the flames."

"To be perfectly frank with ourselves, we must admit that we are responsible to a large degree for the overextended condition of our respective communities. We have not only done an injustice to our own institutions, but we have retarded the growth and development of our communities."

"Occasionally, our customers insist that I am responsible for their present plight, because I lent them too much money when times were good. That seems to smack of lack of appreciation, but it is too true to be taken lightly. It has been truly said, 'Lend a man too much money and you are sure to lose his friendship, and, usually, some money with it."

Destructive Credit

"Constructive credit is wholesome and fine, but when it is not properly administered, it often proves to be exceedingly destructive."

"No greater injustice can be done to a customer than to lend him too much money, because it is human nature to follow the lines of least resistance. There is no incentive for a customer to practice thrift and economy as long as he can use his local bank for a pie counter."

"It takes prosperous people to make prosperous communities. The fine thing about it is—we do not have to be rich to be prosperous. Prosperity is a relative term. A family becomes prosperous the very day it learns to live on its income and be happy and contented with it. It has been predicted that 1932 will produce more prosperous people than any year in the last ten. The very law of necessity is enforcing itself upon us, and, like every law God has written into the Book of Life, as soon as obedience is learned and heeded, happiness follows."

"It is unusual to see a farmer who makes up his mind to quit trying to make money and begins in real earnestness to make a living, who does not, in a reasonable length of time, get on the right side of the ledger and develop into a good customer."

Paying Penalty

"We have been taking a joy ride and are paying the penalty, as we always do. If we can't adjust the situation to our liking, the thing to do is to adjust ourselves to the situation. Incidentally, farmers and bankers are doing this in a remarkably fine way."

"Actually, the depression has caused no loss of real wealth. We still have countless millions of acres of farm and ranch lands capable of producing food for our entire population, feed for our livestock and a surplus to sell other nations. We are extremely rich in natural resources—mills, factories, etc. We still have cattle on a thousand hills, and enough wheat and other food stuffs on hand to feed the nation—and some to spare. As a matter, we have enough cotton on hand to clothe our people for two years and another good crop in sight. In fact, we have everything heart could wish for, except money, and we are learning to do without that."

"With great natural resources, conveniences, and services of the county and home agents at our command, we have a wonderful opportunity to make 'Every Farm a Factory Every Week in the Year,' which will, at least, hasten the return of prosperity to our communities."

"Credit Department Organization for the Small Bank" was the subject of a short talk by W. B. Cayce, assistant cashier of the Fort Worth National bank.

AMENDS TAX BILL

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—The house today voted to amend the new billion dollar revenue law so that excise taxes can be collected on purchases contracted for but not delivered before June 21.

ENGLAND AND FRANCE AGREED ON WAR DEBTS

PARIS, June 13. (AP)—France and England faced the coming Lausanne conference on war debts and reparations today agreed on "the basis of a common viewpoint" looking toward a solution of international problems.

This announcement was made after conferences yesterday between Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain and Premier Edouard Herriot of France.

As a first step toward re-establishment of world confidence, it was expected all nations represented at the conference, which opens Thursday, would be asked to promise to keep the peace.

Pertinax, political writer of L'Echo de Paris, said MacDonald abandoned the notion of asking Germany for a declaration of peaceful intentions regarding Poland, believing it would be refused, and that the general peaceful declaration of all the powers was probably what would be asked instead. In this, he said, the Kellogg-Briand pact to outlaw war would be recalled.

Premier Herriot would be included to accept a 5 to 10 per cent reduction of national defense budgets, he added.

Speaker Garner Is Ill In Bed

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—Speaker Garner was reported improved today although his physician ordered that he stay in bed.

The Texan's office was notified that his temperature was about normal but Dr. George Calver, house physician, fearing a possible setback from bronchitis, thought the speaker would not plan to return to work until the middle of the week.

Representative Rainey of Illinois, house democratic leader and speaker in Garner's absence, said he had talked with the speaker who "seemed to be feeling a lot better."

AMELIA DECORATED

BRUSSELS, Belgium, June 13 (AP)—Amelia Earhart, who was awarded the cross of the legion of honor by France, today received the order of Leopold from King Albert of the Belgians in recognition of her solo flight across the Atlantic.

E. J. Christesson of White Deer was a Pampa visitor yesterday.
