PAMPA DAY, tomorrow, will inaugurate an occasion which periodically will furnish extra entertainment—free—extra values, free souvenirs, and unusual opportunities for those who attend.

Free movies, band concerts, and other events outlined in Sunday's NEWS await young and old. Everyone should come early. The Rex and La Nora theaters will open their doors at 9:20 a. m. and will repeat the six-reel program at 10:30
a. m. for those who arrive late.
These shows are absolutely free to all as compliments of the theaters and the Pampa Daily News. The film program will include two comedies, news, reel, and cartoon.

Pampa merchants today were completing arrangements for their extra-value store events. Some had secured free souvenirs. Many were contributing substantially to the success of PAMPA DAY.

Band concerts on the streets, and east of the courthouse at 1 o'clock will be included in the program.
Don't forget that tomorrow—Tuesday—is PAMPA DAY. Young and old of this territory will find it worthwhile to come to Pampa on each occasion and local residents should not miss it. There are "no strings" to this big event—COME AND SEE.

Pampa's first PAMPA DAY will be closed with a big Pampa Day dance at the Pla-Mor auditorium tomorrow night. The dance will start at 9 o'clock and last until 7.

Admission will be 25 cents with dancing free. Music will be furnished by Amberson's Californians.

The orchestra will provide music in the downtown district from 12 until 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The Pla-Mor has been newly decorated and additional ventilation facilities have been installed.

Firemen's Meeting
Called Excellent

Fire Chief and Mrs. Clyde Gold and Firemen Rex Wilmester and Tommy Rodgers returned this morning from Austin where, Chief Gold and the firemen attended the State Fire Marshals and Fire Fighters convention last week. The Pampa delegates said the convention was one of the most successful they have ever attended.

The first two days of the session were divided into sections for the various departments. Each division had private instructions in their lines of work. Experts from the entire country were on the program.

The closing day was devoted to demonstrations and contests.

Special instruction for fire marshals was one of the highlights of the convention, while the drill work and fire fighting displays took the eye of the firemen. Study of what to do under all kinds of handicaps and conditions was made.

WEST TEXAS: Generally fair tonight and Tuesday except probably local showers in Panhandle.

OKLAHOMA: Partly cloudy, local thundershowers in north portion tonight and Tuesday, not quite so warm in central portion.

AND A SMILE
NEW YORK (AP)—They're beginning to call Mayor Walker "Uncle Jim," which is all right because he's 51 years old now. A huge birthday cake, in the shape of a heart, was presented to him yesterday on his natal anniversary and at the "Shield of David" home he was introduced as "Uncle Jim" to the orphan girls.
He played the piano for them but declined to sing.

FOUR THEFTS ON WEEK-END
INCLUDE TAKING OF GREASES AND OILS SATURDAY NIGHT

Electric Lamps Are Taken at Rex
Theater

Four thefts and burglaries committed here during the week-end had county and city officers busily investigating this morning.

The most costly of the four was at the Magnolia service station at 841 South Cuyler where burglars broke off a side door lock and cut a panel out of the door with a pocket-knife to gain entrance. Various greases and oils were stolen. A woman living across the street heard the burglars prying and cutting on the panel about 1:30 o'clock this morning. Her husband was absent from home and there was no telephone in the house.

A burglar robbed the Johnson cafe on North Cuyler street of $10 in cash and 14 cartons of cigarets.
To enter the cafe, the burglar removed the screen from a rear window.

Twenty-three light bulbs were stolen from the entrance to the Rex theater. Twenty of the bulbs were 50-watt and three were 25-watt bulbs.

Weldon Wilson, nightwatchman, frustrated the plans of a burglar at the Tom Rose Buick company. The thief ran away while Mr. Wilson was inspecting the premises, taking with him welding tips. By the rear door he left an acetylene torch and Lose. He also was in such a great hurry that he left his hat in the garage. The hat was bought at a local store.

Petroleum products stolen from the Magnolia station included six pounds of wax, three quarts of floor dressing, one five-pound can of grease, four 10-pound cans of grease, 11 three and one-half cans of gun oil, nine three and one-half ounces cans of domestic oil, two quarts of oil, one can of motor oil, one quart of water pump oil and four quarts of penetrating oil.

The cigarets stolen from the cafe included six different brands.

Sheriff Lon L. Blansett was inclined to believe that the Magnolia burglary was done by several boys. The burglars also pried off the soda pop lock and drank one bottle of pop, leaving the bottles under the box.

Cashiers at the local bank recommended that persons writing checks add two cents to the amount of the stub and in that way balances may be kept accurate. The two cents is NOT to be added to the amount of the check under any circumstance.

Section 751 of the Revenue Act of 1932 imposes a tax of 2c upon each check presented for payment between June 21, 1932, and June 1934, inclusive, and bankers have been informed that Travel Cheques are subject to this tax.

As the law further provides that the tax is to be paid by the maker or drawer, banks will be compelled to add the tax to the amount of the check and drafts issued by the banks as well as checks and other items of taxation on and after June 21, 1932.

Registration for Music Lessons to Close on Tuesday

Local people who wish to take advantage of free piano lessons must register before 8 o'clock Tuesday night.

Registrations will be received at Tartley Music store, where instructions are to be given, until tomorrow night. A large number of persons already have enrolled for the introductory course.

The lessons are through courtesy of The NEWS and the music store.

Chain Politics

"Show one to seven friends."

This notation, placed on a political postcard from one of the candidates for congressman-at-large shows that the chain letter idea has more than one use. The candidate, Julian Hyer of Fort Worth (place 3), is using the plan. Completely candid, he says: "I want this office very, very much, and if you will keep this card in your pocket and accept the job as my traveling campaign manager where-ever you are, I can be elected."

Doesn't Happen

A little figuring will show that if each of the seven men, "contacted" also see seven men, and indefinitely, the resulting vote result would be effective. Of course, things don't happen that way. Political friends are not often working friends. True, they will talk a lot, but often their talk is limited to a circle of friends of their own who believe similarly. This section knows little, having only one dominant party, of political campaigning as it is done in the middle states.

Days Gone By

In the old days, political newspapers of opinion were numerous. Laws were less strict then and real news was too expensive to collect as is done today. In the absence of the facts, newspapers presented opinions, colored and impregnated with personal abuse. There was enormous deception, for the people had no way of checking on the claims of the political organs.

Accuracy Today

Today it is different.
Newspapers carry lengthy statements carefully checked for accuracy and authenticity. The candidates are quoted verbatim on their important utterances. One

BORAH KICKS
OVER TRACES

WASHINGTON, June 20 (AP)— Senator Borah, a powerful supporter of President Hoover in the 1928 campaign, announced in the senate today he will not support the president for re-election on the platform adopted at the Chicago convention.

A crowded and intense senate listened to the Idaho orator as he began his long awaited speech on the plank adopted by the republican convention at Chicago last week favoring submission of a new amendment.

Borah said he would confine his remarks to the prohibition plank because the platform as a whole was "inadequate" and "fell dead at the feet of the American people."

W. S. Willis of the south side of the county made a trip to Pampa this morning.

I HEARD--

Captain Eddie Pullian of the Le-Fors baseball team asking the world in general what kind of a jinx the Magnolia "Maags" had over their team.

The two nines have met four times this season and the Pampans have won the first four games by one-run margins.

Several football boys asking one another if anyone had received a letter from Coach Odus Mitchell who is in California attending a coaching school. No one had. They decided the coach was saving everything until he returns after the Olympic games.

BEER IS SEIZED
Officers of the sheriff's department seized a quantity of beer and arrested Jess Fletcher Friday. He was charged with possession of intoxicating liquor for the purpose of sale and bound over to the grand jury.

Democratic Battle Forms

Stop-Roosevelt Movement Will Have Smith's Personal Supervision Soon.

CHICAGO, June 20 (AP)—The democratic presidential contest, revolving just now undecided New York and her two embittered prominent sons, Governor Roosevelt and Alfred E. Smith, moved rapidly ahead today at convention headquarters.

Joseph Israel, II, opened headquarters for Smith at the Congress hotel just above the suite presided over by James A. Farley, director of the Roosevelt forces. Smith was expected here Wednesday when he is expected to make his address to the delegates.

Carrying through a program to use their dominant strength to command the convention organization, Roosevelt leaders today announced J. Bruce Kremer of Montana as their choice for chairman of the powerful rules committee.

"The rules committee holds the first decision on continuation of the old two-thirds rule for nomination about which there has grown considerable speculation since Roosevelt's capture of the majority mark in his number of delegates pledged and claimed.

William G. McAdoo, of California, another leader of the anti-Roosevelt drive, will reach the scene tomorrow just ahead of Smith, Chairman John J. Raskob of the national committee, regarded as an ally of Thomas Sperry of Connecticut would lead the floor fight at the opening of the convention for J. Shouse as permanent chairman against Senator W. F. Murphy of Montana, the Roosevelt candidate.

A credentials sub-committee to hear the contests of delegations from Minnesota, Louisiana, Porto Rico and in one district at Wilkes-barre, Pa., Thursday was announced today. J. T. G. Crawford of Florida, is chairman and the members include Jed C. Adams of Texas.

Postal Hike Is Somewhat Later

Although federal tax on many items go into effect at midnight tonight, the hike in postal rates will not go into effect until next month.

Assistant Postmaster O. K. Gaylor announced this morning. The increase in second-class postage will be slight and will not go into effect until July 1.

A one-cent increase in first class postage will take effect July 6. Mr.
Gaylor said. Letters which take a two-cent stamp now will need three cents in stamps starting July 6.

There will be no increase in foreign postage at that time, however, the hike being confined to United States mail.

Air mail rates will also take a hike on that date. The increase will be from 5 cents to 8 cents on the first ounce and from 10 cents to 13 cents for each additional ounce.

Machine Gun Threats Result In Dismissal of Gangster's Charge

CHICAGO, June 20 (AP)—Machine gun threats prompted Cook county officials today to dismiss a bank robbery charge against Danny Mc-Geoghagan, beer hustler.

Assistant State's Attorney Walker
Butler asked Judge John Prystalski to dismiss the charge of robbing the State Bank of Clearing of $60,000
Dec. 6, 1930. A jury recently disagreed.

"If your reasons are not secret I would like to know them," the court said.

Lamber Bere and John Camp-house, officials of the bank who identified McGeoghagan in his first trial, asked me to do it," Butler said. "They have been under guard in a loop hotel since April 29, and their families and the bank need them."

"I don't believe the state's attorney should stand here and confess he is not big enough to keep these men protected," the court said. "I think Mr. Bere is big enough to take care of himself."

"Not when he is faced with a machine gun, your honor," Butler replied.

Judge Prystalski signed the order, saying the state could take the responsibility.

The gangster, grinning widely, walked from the room, free.

Theater Burns
At Gainesville

GAINESVILLE, June 20 (AP)—The Majestic theater was ruined by a mysterious fire early today. The loss was estimated at $55,000.

The showhouse was operated by A. V. Wade, vice-president of the Allied Theater Owners' association of Texas. It was equipped for sound, had a pipe organ, and an air cooling system.

Jayees To Meet

The regular monthly meeting of the junior chamber of commerce tonight will be presided over by Jim Collins, newly elected president.

The meeting will be called at 7:30 o'clock in the City hall auditorium.

The date for the luncheon meeting next month will also be set. A business meeting and luncheon meeting will be held monthly start-

ELEVEN ARRESTS
City police arrested 11 persons during the week-end on charges of vagrancy, intoxication and disturbing the peace. Out of seven persons arrested last night, five pled guilty to charges this morning before J. H. Blythe, police judge.
County officers made two arrests.

GOVERNOR STERLING NOT TO CALL SPECIAL SESSION BEFORE
NEXT FALL FOR ANY PURPOSES

FREDERICKSBURG, June 20 (AP)— The Gillespie county commissioners' court today requested Governor R. S. Sterling to call a special one-day session of the legislature, not later than July 8, to consider enactment of some measure whereby counties of Texas could be relieved of bonded indebtedness.

AUSTIN, June 20 (AP)—Governor R. S. Sterling said today he would not consider convening the Texas legislature in extraordinary session to consider relief legislation before next fall, if then.

Recently he had been petitioned by a number of county commissioners' courts to call a "one-day" special session for the purpose of allotting a portion of the four-cent gasoline tax to a fund to retire county bonds which were voted to

County Chairman Siler Faulkner in the courthouse.

It was unanimously voted that a double primary election be held in the county. The state election laws allow the committee to decide whether or not a second primary shall be held or whether officers shall be elected by a plurality or majority of the votes.

Gas And Oil To Increase In Price

The price of gasoline and motor lubricants will take another jump after midnight tonight, when the federal tax goes into effect. Gasoline will be raised one cent and lubricating oil four cents on the gallon, local dealers announced this morning.

In a letter which was sent to C. Sloan, local Gulf wholesale agent, came the information that state, county, and municipal governments would be free from the tax but that the federal government would be subject to the tax. Mr. Sloan says he has red to figure that out.

Red or ethyl gasoline will be 22 cents a gallon tomorrow. White gas will sell for 19 cents, while No. 3 gas will be 13 cents.

The tax on cosmetics, fountain material and some drugs and preparations, will also go into effect tomorrow. The tax on medicines, soaps, cosmetics, etc., will be placed by the manufacturer. The tax on soda fountain material will be absorbed by the retailer. The addition will be from 6 to 11 percent.

I SAW--

Hally Blumiller play his first game of bridge the other night, and subsequently affirm that it would be his last. He was astounded that people become so intense, frantic, belligerent, when worried, anxious,
while playing a game of bridge.

luxure for the Magnolia baseball team.
He said he didn't see the game yesterday because he had to "plant candidate knows next morning what his opponent said the night before 300 miles away. The radio carries the human voice to the ends of the earth. The newspaper follows candidates and speakers with the white light of truth, not with "doctored" opinions from a bitterly partisan standpoint. The news columns have taken over the burden of the political writing, and it is being done better and more intelligently than in any previous age.

For Thinkers
 Newspapers today are edited for people who think. The old habit of trying to digest, color, and insert bias in news before serving it to unsuspecting readers is gone. In the "good old days," people were credited with believing everything they read in the papers of their choice and affiliation. The result was anything but intelligent. . . . Today, as never before, people can believe what they read in the papers. The Associated Press, which serves The NEWS, is non-political, non-partisan, non-sectarian—presenting the news in factual form without any bias or viewpoint.

In The Minority
 There are some readers who prefer to let their newspaper think for them, but they are greatly in the minority. Most readers of today WANT THE NEWS, FULLY, ACCURATELY PRESENTED so that they may FORM CONCLUSIONS FOR THEMSELVES. And what greater need could there be than for an accurate, unprejudiced newspaper picture of what is going on in the state and nation? People's ideas today are not made in a day—they take form from day to day as the facts are presented. Newspapers provide the food with which people think about nearly every question. AND WHO CAN SAY THE MODERN NEWS-PAPER IS LESS INFLUENTIAL THAN THE OPINIONATED ORGANS OF OLD? The difference is that modern papers give readers credit for intelligence. But no less surely, the newspaper of today by giving the facts from day to day is moulding opinion just as surely—and in an infinitely better matter—as its predecessor.

"Black Sheep"
 There are in every profession "black sheep" which discredit their kind and mislead the public. Fortunately, these are relatively few. The Raskob-Fox short-selling pool in the stock market along with a few others probably had the benefit of special financial writers who boosted certain stocks for a consideration. Such writing can be accurate in the sense that predicted stock rises can be brought about by publicity. The result is no less criminal by reason of this accuracy when the market subsequently collapses under selling pressure and lack of bullish publicity. But our example shows why honesty in news writing, such as the Associated Press provides, is the greatest need of present-day thinkers.

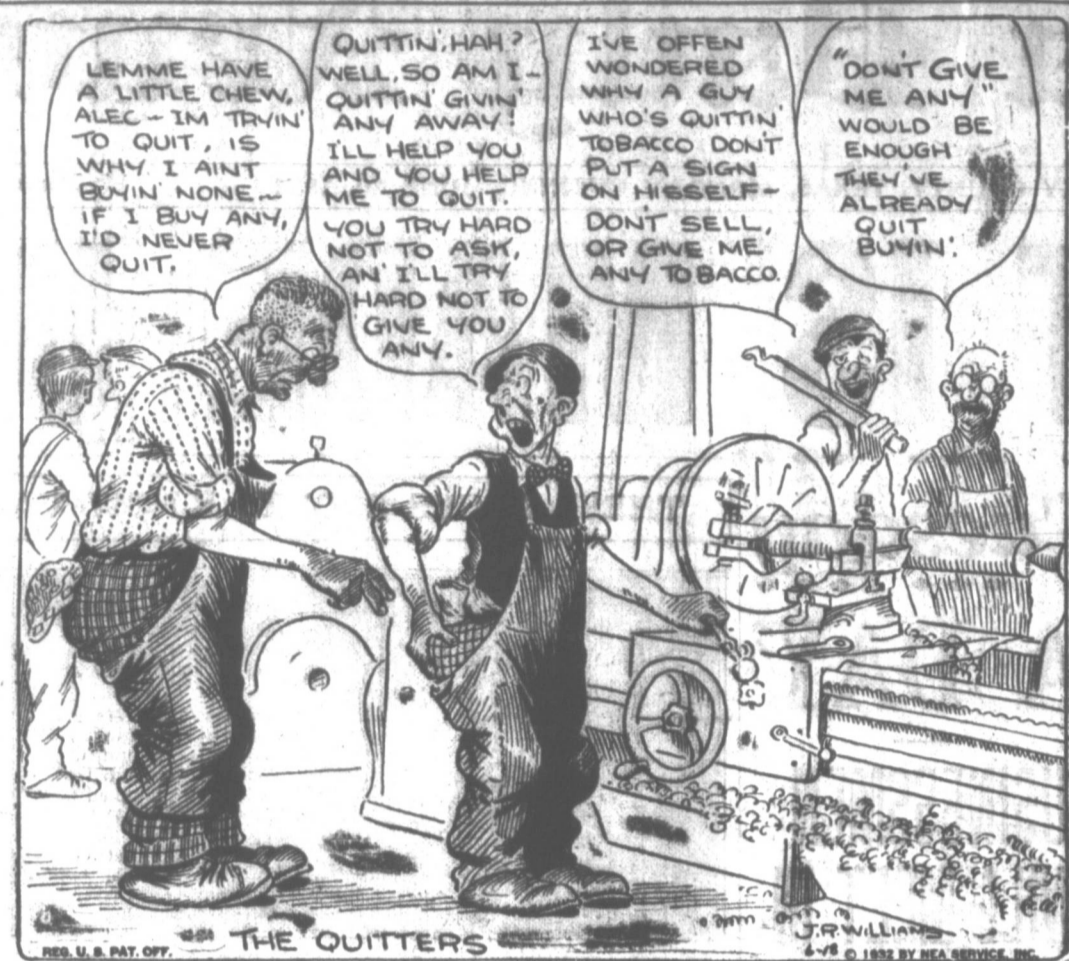

The Mexia editor says that he must either make up his mind on Sterling or Ferguson or go fishing. There are hundreds of editors who are not going to go fishing, and some who will go fishing. How's Red River, Ivy?

Twisters Seen in Carson county But Damage Uncertain

Full extent of damage done by two twisters which Kingmill citizens watch sweep over parts of Carson county early this afternoon, had not been learned at press time today.

From White Deer it was reported that small buildings were overturned there, and that a severe hail storm was in progress. Rainfall was also heavy.

OUT OUR WAY By WILLIAMS

NAVY ROMANCE AND SENTIMENT

One of the least important of recent news items, surely, was the little paragraph that got printed the other day saying that the old U. S. gunboat Helena has been decommissioned and is about to be sold at Cavite, in the Philippines. Yet a little dispatch like that can set one thinking, in a mildly romantic way, about the strange fate of ships, and ships-of-war especially, and the unexciting ways in which they can end their exciting careers.

This Helena was built way back in 1896. It served in the war with Spain, and until it was decommissioned it was one of the very few ships still surviving on the navy's active list to hold that distinction. And now, unless some shipyard buys it for its old iron, it will probably pass into the possession of some island trader and shorn of its martial character, wind up its career lugging freight about the East Indies.

That is perfectly proper, to be sure. But there is an effect of anti-climax to it, just as there is to the end of almost all warships.

A warship, you see, starts life more of a flourish than an ordinary merchant marine steamer. There is always some dignity, from a secretary of the navy on down to the mayor of some inland town, present to preside at its launching; and once commissioned, it goes into service with an air of pride and power. It never knows the rusty sides or littered decks of the merchant marine; day in and day out it is spick and span, and always it looks as if tomorrow, or the day after, it would steam off to romance and glory.

Its personnel adds to the atmosphere. To the warship come the bright-faced youngsters from Annapolis, the husky chaps from the training stations, competent-looking, eager, handsome in their bright uniforms; and for a time the ship is to these men a thing of great importance, splendid, shining, powerful.

But the navy has no pity for age; and when age descends on a warship the end is abrupt and inglorious. The vessel simply goes to the wreckers and is forgotten. The navy may be the delight of sentimentalists, but it has no sentiment itself—none whatsoever.

WIPES OUT FAMILY

CANTON, Ga., June 20 (AP)—Paul Hardin, 30-year-old farmer living ten miles southwest of here, shot his wife and four small children to death last night and committed suicide.

The tragedy was discovered this morning by John Henry Hardin, father of Paul, who went to his son's home for a visit. The elder Hardin found the house locked and, peering through a window, saw the bodies of the farmer, his 24-year-old wife, and their four children, Henry, 6, Ruth, 4, Dorothy, 2, and Pearl, 1. A pistol lay nearby.

READY FOR SIGNATURE

AUSTIN, June 20 (AP)—Neal Powers, assistant attorney general, said today signature of C. V. Terrell, chairman of the Texas railroad commission, was awaited to make effective as of June 18 lease on oil development of the state-owned Sabine river bed in the East Texas area.

THE ELDER HARM SAID HE THOUGHT HIS SON'S MIND HAD BEEN DERANGED BY BROODING OVER HIS RECENT ARREST ON A FEDERAL CHARGE OF VIOLATING THE LIQUOR LAWS.

RELIEF BILL IS BEING ARGUED

WASHINGTON, June 20 (AP)—Driving forward to a vote, the senate today considered amendments to the $2,000,000 domestic unemployment relief bill while a senate committee was beset with pleas for its enactment to ease the lot of the unfortunate.

Any line of witnesses, including protestants, Catholics and Jews, told the manufacturers committee it was the duty of congress to provide jobs through a building program. Some argued for the $5,000,000, 100,000-lafayette public works bond issue bill.

The administration is opposed to a bond issue as provided in both measures. Its leaders are seeking a compromise. The senate adopted an amendment to the $2,000,000 bill, sponsored by Senator Wagner (D. N. Y.), to permit loans for publicly-owned bridges paid for partly by tolls and partly by taxes.

Senator Coughlin (R. Mich.), uttered a motion to reconsider, saying such projects would not be self-liquidating. The amendment was offered by Senator Broussard (D. La.).

An amendment by Senator Fletcher (D. Fla.), was adopted adding canals to the list of self-liquidating public projects for which loans could be made to private construction corporations.

The difference is that modern papers give readers credit for intelligence. "Black Sheep" There is in every profession "black sheep" which discredit their kind and mislead the public. Fortunately, these are relatively few. NAVY ROMANCE AND SENTIMENT One of the least important of recent news items, surely, was the little paragraph that got printed the other day saying that the old U. S. gunboat Helena has been decommissioned and is about to be sold at Cavite, in the Philippines.

That is perfectly proper, to be sure. But there is an effect of anti-climax to it, just as there is to the end of almost all warships. A warship, you see, starts life more of a flourish than an ordinary merchant marine steamer.

KIWANIS CLUB FUND GROWS BY BIG SUM

LOCALS WILL DISABD FOR SEASON, SAYS CAHILL

The Magnolia "Mags" closed their ball season yesterday afternoon with a win and loss by one run margin in a big benefit game at Magnolia park. Magnolia, the "Mags" will be disbanded for this season, Manager Rube Cahill announced.

The underprivileged children's fund of the Kiwanis club was swelled by about $200 yesterday. Sale of tickets, pop, and ice cream all went to the fund. President A. G. Post, chairman of the committee, said they were pleased with the outcome of the year.

The "Mags" opened the afternoon with an 8 to 7 win over the LeFors "66", but lost the second game to the Skellytown Oilers 5 to 4. The Oilers won the LeFors nine was the fourth this season and all were by one-run margins. The first game went to the Pampa nine, 11 to 30. The second encounter saw the Magnolia aggregation win 2 to 1. The next game went to the Pampa nine 6 to 5, and yesterday's 8 to 7.

Shriver Wins It

Leo Shriver, big leftfielder, won the first game for the "Mags" when he hit a Texas leaguer over second to score Weathered and Cahill with the tying and winning runs. Weathered crossed the plate on a sacrifice of the plate. Fowler had to cross the plate earlier in the inning to help win the game.

Freddy Bozeman, Magnolia catcher, suffered a broken finger in the seventh inning of the first game. Fowler, former Borger player, took his place. Weathered caught the second game.

"Sug" Edwards, pitching the first game of the season, allowed the LeFors "66" 15 bingles but kept them so scattered that he had the game pretty well in hand. Freshour started the game for LeFors but was countered by Meeks in the sixth after the "Mags" had shoved across to victory.

Manager Cahill and Shriver were the big hitters for the home nine with three each to their credit. Shriver hit one of his for three bases. Weeks, Seago, and Bozeman collected two each. The Pampa nine got a total of 16 hits off the offerings of the LeFors batters.

Wright, LeFors shortstop, had three doubles in his first three games to the plate and scored on each occasion. However, Thomas, New-some, Pullian, and Roming hit safely twice.

The Magnolias committed four errors, three by Weathered at shortstop. Blue made the only bobbie of the game for the LeFors nine. Freshour had four strikeouts and Freshour one.

Score by innings:

Magnolias... 000 121 03-4 16 4
LeFors... 121 010 07-15 16 4
Batteries: Magnolias, Edwards and Bozeman, Fowler, Freshour, Meeks, and Pullian.

Bucks Divide With Panthers

The White Deer Bucks and the Panther Panthers split a double-header in White Deer yesterday afternoon, the Bucks taking the first game 11 to 3, with the Panthers coming back to take the nightcap affair 11 to 1. Each team hit hard to win its game.

Marshall, Wagner, Dillman, and Sturgeon, Pampa players, were the big noises in the White Deer win. Marshall hit three for five while Wagner and Dillman were batting three for six. Dillman hit a double to score three runs.

While the Bucks appeared invincible in the first game, they cracked in the second encounter when most of the Pampa players were relieved.

Mere Girl Among Golf Favorites

WICHITA FALLS, June 20 (AP)—Betsy Jameson, not much past the age for playing with dolls, was among the favored entrants today as the annual annual tournament of the Texas women's municipal golf association opened here.

The 13-year-old Dallas-municipal champion faced a field including Mrs. George Huckaby, fellow-townswoman and runner-up in last year's state tournament; Mrs. W. T. Stafford, whom she defeated recently in Dallas; and Mrs. W. H. Kay and Mrs. C. Scott of Houston.

Match play begins tomorrow, with the 36-hole finals scheduled Saturday.

Wimbledon Will Open Tourney

WIMBLEDON, Eng., June 20 (AP)—The Wimbledon tennis tournament, officially known as the British championships, opens today with eleven Americans facing the best players of Europe and Australia.

The entry of Mrs. Helen Wills Moody made it almost a foregone conclusion that at least the women's singles crown will go to the United States. Another Californian, Elisabeth Vines, the youthful American champion, is ranked among the favorites in men's singles and Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn are considered the outstanding doubles team.

Europe has high hopes of taking the women's doubles and mixed doubles and stands an even chance or more of knocking the favored Americans clear out of the picture in the other events.

Condolences

Marty McManus, second baseman of the Boston Red Sox, sat in a corner of the clubhouse, wearing a woeful look. The day before he had come charging in for a slow roller and had sprained his ankle.

He limped a few steps to shake hands. His legs were scarred from hours to handle with many spike wounds. Twelve years in the majors is a long time to be standing in front of sliding runners.

"Yeah," he replied to a question, "you're bound to get scratched up once in a while. I can look at my legs and read the score of stolen bases against Boston, not to mention close forecuts and two-base hits where the runner has to hit the floor at second."

BATTLERS TO TAKE IT EASY UNTIL FIGHT

Experts Predict Battle Will Go Limit But Men In Great Form Now.

Of Various Vintages

"Some of these marks are old ones, dating back to when I was with the Browns. Some of 'em I got wearing a Detroit uniform. A couple of 'em are strictly fresh, 1932 stock. If you know anybody who wants to buy some Sears and send around, I'll let you have a dozen cheap."

Marty limped away in search of tape. He wasn't going to take the day off even for a twisted ankle.

"I think I can get around on it, all right," he said with a grin.

The Sick Man

The reporter was waiting for John "Chauno" Collins, manager of the sorely beset, tail-end Red Sox. It developed that John had been sorely beset himself, suffering from nausea.

Of course, nausea might be a little enough to expect for a man managing a ball team that seemed to be hopelessly sunk in the depths of the cellar. But John's illness was not only mental but physical. He explained it himself when he came in.

"Road meals — it was something I et."

In view of John's unhappy condition, it was decided to cut the interview short. There would be only a few questions:

"What did the team need?"

"We need hitters. I think Jolley, Alexander and Johnson are going to help us a lot. Jolley and Alexander aren't the best fielders in the world, but we had to do something. They can't hurt us much. And Johnson is a good fielder. Jolley and Aleck are sure to hit."

John had turned in a good game since coming from the Yanks with Henry Johnson in the deal for MacFadden.

"He'll turn in more good games, too. I know we got the better of that deal with the Yanks, even though Johnson is still at home recovering from that appendicitis operation."

"They wanted to give us Wells for MacFadden. Can you imagine that?"

"When you need help in this league, try and get it. If you go hunting for players to strengthen your club and make a better race, you get a kick in the pants."

Let Others Go Hang

"I didn't seem to be good business, at that, to let a tailend club suffer as a drawing card."

"No, but that's the way it is. In the National league, they trade around. The teams are well balanced. In this league all the strength is in two or three teams. The others have to get along the best they can."

"Bob Quinn deserves a better break. He has tried hard to make the team a winner, but the others haven't helped him a bit."

At this point McManus interposed.

"Except Ponseca."

RED SOX NOW WITHOUT PILOT — COLLINS OUT

BOSTON, June 20 (AP)—The beleaguered Boston Red Sox, left at the post in the American league, were without a pilot today. Manager John "Chauno" Collins resigned after suffering 46 defeats against 11 victories this season.

The former White Sox star, who tasted the fruits of ascendancy as a member of pennant-winning Chicago teams in 1917 and 1918, wired President Bob Quinn from Cleveland yesterday that he felt he could no longer go on with a club that so often lost.

Marty McManus, aggressive second baseman, was named as acting manager until Quinn decides on a permanent pilot.

Quinn said the news was a surprise; that he had "no inkling" of the feelings of Collins. He said he gave him "every opportunity to reconsider."

"I know 'Chauno' has been having a hard time," said Quinn, "but I wonder how many people think I have enjoyed myself lately."

Collins, the fifth manager to come and go during the nine-year Quinn regime, was one of the few players to emerge unscathed from the "Black Sox" scandal of 1919.

PAMPA GOLF TEAM VICTORS

Even Slate With Borger By Winning 14 Tilts Here On Sunday.

The Red Deer golf club turned the tables on the Borger club here yesterday afternoon and won 14 matches to 12 lost or the same number of matches that Borger defeated Red Deer in Borger the previous Sunday. Pampa's "top-notchers" were decidedly off yesterday.

Earl Lanningham of Borger turned in low medal score with a 73, one stroke over par. Dr. R. A. Webb was low man of the Pampa team with a 76 score. Only four matches were won the 18th hole. Tommy White, city amateur champion, bowed to George Hodgins, 1 down. Don Donovan; Marvin Harris beat Mack Graham beat Ed Harvey, and Joe Swinson beat Jimmie Kmokl one down in their matches.

The tie will probably be played off at a later date. Captains of the two teams will match to see where the play-off will be. Mark Heath was well pleased with the showing made by most of his team yesterday although he lost to his old rival, Floyd Ward, whom he defeated in Borger.

How they stood:

Tommy White lost to George Hodgins, 1 down; Tom Perkins lost to Eddie Lewis, 3 down; Dr. R. A. Webb defeated C. R. Berrien, 3 up; Don Donovan won from Dr. Brooks, 1 up; Dr. H. H. Hicks went 4 down to Dr. Beckley; E. H. Swinson won from Jimmie Kmokl, 1 up; Joe Frants defeated W. F. Delameter, 3 up; Ben Farris went 5 down to Earl Lanningham; Gene Green lost to G. H. Whitlock, 4 down; Sam Ferguson lost the first nine hole to Dr. Hanson.

M. D. Oden beat Don Dillen, 4 up; Tom Darby went 4 down to Ed Warren; Bill Lang lost to E. R. Nunnally, 3 down; Ely West defeated C. S. Johnson, 3 up; John McFall lost to Don Baker, 2 down; Joe Berry went 2 down to W. B. Chapman; Marvin Harris beat Russell Cartwright, 5 up; Mac Graham won from Ed Harris, 1 up; Jimmie Weir defeated Ben Tucker, 4 up.

Jim Kolb beat Deacon Jones, 7 up; E. M. Conley won from Willis Wilkerson, 6 up; Poe Woodward beat Julius Atkinson, 7 up; Harry Bradley defeated Victor West, 2 up; Leonard Bailey won from Copeland, 9 up; Skeet Stewart lost to Hurl Wilkerson by 6 holes; Mark Heath went down to Floyd Ward.

NATIONAL HAS HEAVY BUNCH OF ASPIRANTS

ONLY CUBS AND REDS FAR SEPARATED TODAY

By HERBERT W. BARKEE Associated Press Sport Writer

Take a medium-sized blanket, put it over the National league field and the only clubs that might be left out in the cold would be the first-place Chicago Cubs and the last-place Cincinnati Reds.

Cold fingers would put it this way: The Boston Braves, in second place, lead Pittsburgh's Pirates by one game, with the Phillies, Brooklyn, St. Louis, and New York in a virtual tie for fourth place, two games behind the Pirates.

The Cubs, idle yesterday, nevertheless gained ground, their lead going to three and a half games when the Braves succumbed to St. Louis and the Reds, 5-0.

Singles by Paul Waner and Pie Traynor in the eighth drove in two runs and gave the Pirates a 2-1 decision over Brooklyn with Heinie Meine chalking up a pitching victory over William Watson Clark. The Cardinals trounced the Giants, 7-0, behind Tex Carleton's two-hit pitching.

The New York Yankees stretched their American League lead to seven and a half games as John Allen blanked Chicago on three singles, 1-0.

Philadelphia split even with St. Louis, winning the second game 6-3, after dropping the opener, 2-4 in 10 innings. Jimmy Fox clouted his 26th homer in the second.

Cleveland went into third place, displacing Washington, by tripping Boston twice, 9-3, and 6-3, while Washington was dropping an 8-5 decision to Detroit.

ANOTHER CAPORE QUERIED

CHICAGO, June 20 (AP)—Another Capone figured in the newspaper headlines today—Albert Capone, third of four surviving brothers, two of whom, Al and Ralph, have made gangland history in Chicago.

Albert was questioned by police in Cicero in connection with an attempt early yesterday to bomb the home of Mayor Joseph G. Cermey, whole election last April was hailed as a death blow to the rule of the Capone gang in Cicero's affairs.

Tire Industry Is Welcoming Raise

NEW YORK, June 20 (AP)—Leading tire and rubber companies will observe the inauguration of new federal excise tax schedules tomorrow by marking up prices 11 to 15 per cent.

This increase will take care of the added 10 per cent tax, and will leave a little over for added sales profit. The rubber industry for over three years has been operating under the heavy handicap of declining prices—both for crude rubber and for finished products—and welcomes the increase as a boon. Some executives believe it may signalize a return to orderly market conditions in the industry.

It was just a month ago today that Mrs. Putnam took off on her solo flight which ended in Ireland, where she was forced down in a pasture by a faulty exhaust manifold which had treated her plane with fire during almost the whole journey.

It was Mrs. Putnam's second experience of a New York welcome. Her first was in 1928 after the first ocean flight, as a passenger with two men fliers.

Veterans Plan To Oppose Hoover

WASHINGTON, June 20 (AP)—Stripped of an immediate objective by defeat of the bonus-payment bill, leaders of the vast veterans army camped here concentrated today on organizing ex-service men for election day action, making overtures to the democratic party.

Finding the 62 senators who voted down their bill a rather diffuse target, the legislative committee of the army allowed use against President Hoover and the republican party. Last night it voted to query all democratic presidential possibilities on their views about the bonus and other veterans' questions, at the same time directing letters to all posts of the American Legion and other ex-service men's organizations, informing them an effort "to place a bonus plank in the republican platform was laughed down and filed in the waste basket. Think it over, men."

Texas Socialists Chose Candidates

FORT WORTH, June 20 (AP)—Few but fervent leaders of Texas socialism assembled here yesterday and named their candidates for state offices.

George Clifton Edwards of Dallas, an attorney, was nominated as the party's gubernatorial hope in the November elections. A slogan, "100,000 socialist voters in Texas this year," was voted. Leaders of the party will meet at Dallas August 4 to hold the legally prescribed convention and certify the nominees after receiving their acceptances.

A platform was adopted denouncing the republican and democratic parties as tools of the rich. "The socialists denounce profit-seeking as a basis for society," it read, "and declare that it is immoral and out of order. We denounce planless, greedy struggle as a method of living and declare that it can bring only greater disasters if continued."

Gambler's Throw by Eustace L. Adams.

SYNOPSIS: Warned not to betray the location of a mysterious island where Emory Ashwood, a cultured gang leader is holding six prisoners for ransom, Jerry Calhoun hopes his friends, Emory, Battle and Stevens, a detective, will rescue him. He has come incognito, planning to help one of the prisoners, Nancy Westworth.

Chapter 19 AN ISLAND PRISON

THERE, on the beach, was their monoplanes. Half-way to the house, a little procession, led by Emory and Stevens, was plodding through the sawgrass. Behind his two companions strode four guards, one of whom held an automatic.

"Well, well, well, Captain Calhoun!" Ashwood turned to Jerry with a sardonic smile. "Now that I observe your comrade, Lieutenant Battles, coming to join our merry group, it seems hardly worth while for you to remain incognito, and, as I live and breathe, if this isn't the admirable Stevens! Well, well, what a wonderful little reunion!"

Emory waved an unabashed greeting to Jerry, then fell to studying the face of the white-haired cripple. Stevens, looking about him with his faded blue eyes, caught Jerry's glance.

"Joke's on us, kid," he said gloomily. "I'm losing my grip." Then, turning to Ashwood, he smiled amiably: "Hello, Limpy. Haven't seen you in a long time—professionally, that is."

"Let's hope that this isn't a professional visit," Ashwood protested suavely. "After you have conferred with the dictates of your conscience, you will realize that you may as well put your silver-plated shield in my safe and enjoy yourself for the remainder of your stay on the island. I've always longed to make your acquaintance under suitable circumstances, you know."

"Listen, Limpy," said Stevens, drily. "I'm getting pretty old to change my ways. If you are still free a couple of years from now—which I doubt—come out and pay me a visit at my peacan grove in California. Then we can be good and sociable. But between now and then I'm on Uncle Sam's payroll and I got to try to earn my pay, which, God knows, isn't much."

"Dear, dear, such nobility of character!" signed Ashwood, plaintively. "It is so stimulating. I'm sure you will enjoy meeting Mr. Luce!"

"No," grunted Stevens. "I don't even enjoy thinking about him, much less meeting him. I'm going to have to kill that fellow some day."

"Please wait," cried the cripple in mock alarm. "until I have collected my final board bill from his loving and loyal friends."

"I've got it!" interrupted Emory, suddenly. "Jerry, this is the bird we rescued from the British M.P.'s after the big party at the Claridge. He turned again to Ashwood. "My God, you've changed! What in the world happened to you to make you look like this?"

The scene came back to Jerry in a flash. A gay, rollicking British pilot, who had been drifting about with them all evening, from café to café. Then, after they had parted with assurances of life-long affection and esteem, the two Yanks had heard a sudden uproar and had raced through the darkened streets to find the young lieutenant in the clutches of three burly military police. With shouts of joy Jerry and Emory had fallen upon the patrol and, after a glorious fight, had saved their new friend from a probable court martial. After another drink together, the three had departed for their respective units. And here they were, again, reunited at last—and under what circumstances!

Ashwood looked first at Emory, then at Jerry, thoughtfully. "Come in, gentlemen. We'll have a drink and a little talk." Nodding to the guards, who departed forthwith, he led the way to the dining room.

Ashwood was first to speak. "All of us make mistakes at one time or another, but I had complimented myself that this little retreat of mine was well hidden. Since frankness is, at this moment, desirable, I wonder if you would mind telling me how you found this island?"

"Simplicity itself," grinned Jerry unhesitatingly. "We flew over you when you picked up that money off Montauk point and followed you as far south as Atlantic City. We established, on that flight, the fact that your base was somewhere south of the Jersey shore. When you picked up the satchel on Lake Michigan, we were flying over it at better than 20,000 feet, and

SCOUTS THIRD PARTY
WASHINGTON, June 20 (AP)—Walter W. Waters, commander-in-chief of the bonus marchers' army, today repudiated attempts of his chief lieutenants to stir up sentiment in the ranks for a third party leader. The veterans leader described a third party move as "a very dangerous thing," and asked his men to think of it only as an alternative to defeat of their interest in November elections.

WILDCAT IS SPUDED
SHERMAN, June 20 (AP)—Several thousand oil enthusiasts gathered at the Buddy-Mollie Williams No. 1 well four miles east of Van Alstyne yesterday as special machinery was used to drill the deepest test ever planned in this section. The test may be drilled to a depth of 7,000 feet or more.

in the sun so you wouldn't spot us. We followed you clear down to a point near Tallahassee, where we had to land. But since you were steering a perfectly straight compass course all day long, it seemed only reasonable to suppose that if we followed the same course the next morning, we'd find your hideaway sooner or later. And we did."

Ashwood smoked silently. Then he smiled wryly. "How elementary! It is, I think, the first serious slip I have made since I entered this highly diverting profession. I should most certainly have followed an irregular course and taken more care to watch for pursuing planes. It was your altitude and position that misled me."

His thoughtful eyes were fixed in a moody stare. Then, pulling himself out of his momentary abstraction, he glanced at the three with sudden decision. "I have a proposition to make in all seriousness and I am honest when I tell you that I hope it will be accepted. This island, as a prison, is an escape-proof as the strongest cell in the Tower of London. You haven't a dog's chance to escape and I hope that you won't attempt it. It would be absolute suicide. My guards have orders to shoot to kill every time they pull trigger."

"Stevens, I have the greatest respect in the world for you. Of all the policemen and detectives of one sort or another who have tried to trace this or that little matter to me, you have come the nearest to success. But you are too late, now. I have decided that this is to be my last trick and before you have an opportunity to use the evidence you now have against me, I will be in a spot where extradition will be impossible."

He turned to Jerry. "Calhoun, there was something about that turbulent evening we three had in London that has remained in my memory throughout these many years. As things turned out, it was the last really happy binge I ever had. Disasters of which there is no need to speak began a day or two later; things over which I had no control changed the entire course of my life. That is why, perhaps, I have a decidedly friendly feeling toward both of you."

"I am sorry that you two fellows have, by chance, been thrown into this affair. I'm sorry that we are, this time, on opposite sides of the fence. You cannot possibly win. My exits are too carefully worked out."

He lighted another cigarette amid thoughtful silence. When he spoke again there was no mistaking the sincerity in his voice. "Now here's my proposition. Give me your parole until, for one cause or another, I permit you, voluntarily, to leave this island. I shall do so, believe me, within three weeks at the most, perhaps much sooner. If you make me this promise not to interfere, you will be treated as guests and made as comfortable as we know how."

Turning to Stevens, he declared candidly: "Old man, I would not suggest this if I thought you had a sporting chance of accomplishing what you are paid to do."

He glanced briefly at the other two and his voice suddenly grew hard and cold. "The alternative, gentlemen, is this: I shall give you what freedom I can. But my men will watch you, if, at any time, you become dangerous to the success of our undertaking, we will not have the slightest hesitancy about killing you in cold blood, even though I should regret it later. There is too much at stake to permit interference."

"I may add this," he leaned across the table, his mouth tight and grim. "In the past few years I have come to regard human life as a matter of the slightest possible import. The world went on merrily for hundreds of thousands of years before we gladdened it with our presence. If I am forced to kill one, or all three of you, the affairs of the world will still function without interruption. You will be mourned by a few, but in the face of the appallingly fast propagation of the human race, your loss will be slight and soon forgotten."

"Now what's the answer?" The grim lines were suddenly erased. His eyes twinkled again. "Let me remind you that your parole cannot conceivably affect the final results, one way or another."
