LAYING OF STEEL ON NEW RAILROAD FINISHED

LAST SPIKE IS DRIVEN DOWN LAST EVENING

FAST PROGRESS MADE BY BIG CREW ON PROJECT

BALLASTING UNDER WAY

FIRST TRAIN MAY BE OPERATED WITHIN 10 DAYS

The last spike was driven at 6:40 p. m. yesterday in the construction of the Fort Worth & Denver Northern's 110-mile rail line from Childress to Pampa.

Delayed by rains for several days, the big crew made a dash for the station site yesterday and won a race with twilight. The smoothly working "steel gang" fed the 33-foot rails rapidly by the big machine, welded their hammers in a crescendo which quieted down with a touch of sentiment as the last tie was placed and the last spike driven in the last short rail needed to complete the road.

And as the echo of the last hammer blow died, railroad construction in the United States ceased. It was the only rail project under way, and the last big one expected to be launched soon. For the several hundred workmen there was regret in the ending of the project which meant employment to them. For W. H. Hillis, superintendent of construction, it meant the end of another history-making achievement for the Burlington system with which he has been connected for 17 years.

Citizens Helped
To Pampa the line means the realization of a dream conceived more than a decade ago. The Interstate Commerce Commission's permit for the road was obtained only after a two-year legal battle during which the certificate of public necessity was once denied but later granted when Pampa's need was presented forcefully by C. C. Cook, attorney for the Pampa Board of City Development, citizens, railway officials, and other towns along the route. The road has cost many thousands of dollars to Pampa citizens who are paying for the right-of-way in Gray county. The necessary fund is not entirely in hand, and what is believed by many to be exorbitant charges for right-of-way property are involved in costly litigation.

Opening Date Delayed
It had been intended to start acceptance of freight by June 20, but delays in construction of the line and the station will probably move back the date. The ballasting crew was working 3 miles this side of LeFors today. A substantial road is being constructed, but it will not be smooth until the roadbed has settled.

Rapid work was accomplished from the time the first tie was laid at Childress December 28, last. There was a delay of bridging the Red river early in the year, and subsequent delays along the line for other spans. The rails were laid at the rate of 2 miles per day.

MEETING POSTPONED
On account of the bankers convention and the absence of Commissioner R. Earle O'Keefe who was out of the city, the regular meeting of the city commissioners was postponed yesterday until this afternoon.

THE WEATHER

OKLAHOMA AND TEXAS: Generally fair tonight and Thursday continued warm. Moderate to fresh southerly winds on the coast.

Police said he tried to escape a hospital for insane on Ward's Island by swimming a stretch of the east river called Hell Gate 4 1/2 to treacherous.

RAPS BOARD

Tom F. Connolly of Clarendon, above, in speaking to Panhandle bankers here yesterday attacked federal farm board policies and extravagance and urged less governmental experimentation in price pegging attempts.

Strange Sight
These are unbelievable days, with extraordinary sights — for example, the scene in which Panhandle bankers gave away a 'grand' and rejoiced in doing so. Some of them were actually husky with emotion as they voted $1,000 toward the Panhandle-Plains Historical society museum fund.

Hoover Talks
There was no opposition. B. E. Finley of the resolutions committee presented the proposal as a recommendation. T. D. Hobart explained the need for matching the state's $25,000 or forfeit the appropriation on July 1. Then red-faced jovial H. E. Hoover of Canadian, chairman of the museum building committee, took the floor. He resurrected the spirits of the Mayflower party and tried in vain to learn their names and histories. He said that the pioneers of this section, their work, their equipment, would likewise be unknown in a few generations if historical societies did not perpetuate their memory.

First of Kind
Prof. L. F. Sheffey, field secretary of the society, said that if the museum were built it would be the first of its kind in Texas, a state of tremendous historic lore. The museum will be built. About $2,000 remains to be raised, but everybody interested knows that H. E. Hoover and T. D. Hobart would not stop short of the goal now. Contributions, however, are still necessary to complete the $25,000 fund, the raising of which under present conditions has been a monumental task.

Judge Paul For It
The dominant figure in making the gift to the museum was that sturdy old pioneer of Panhandle banking, J. C. Paul. He made the motion and spoke in favor of it. He made $1,000 without stuttering and without hesitation. The

SENATOR THOMAS TO GUIDE MEASURE TO BALLOT

WASHINGTON, June 15. (AP)—Immediate cash payment of the $2,400,000,000 soldiers' bonus certificates—demanded by 20,000 former service men, bivouacked in the capital—was approved today by the house.

The measure now goes to the senate where leaders claimed enough votes for rejection. President Hoover has promised a veto if the legislation reaches the White House.

The Patman bill passed by the house would redeem bonus certificates at their face value in new treasury notes distributed to the veterans through the Federal Reserve banks.

Before final approval, the measure was amended, to provide an equal issue of government bonds to be used for retiring the currency if the dollar became too cheap.

Former service men packed the galleries as the vote was taken. This was recommended by former Senator Robert L. Owen of Oklahoma and offered as an amendment by Representative Ragon (D. Ark.). It was adopted 161 to 79.

The bonds would be issued along with the treasury notes for paying the bonus. They would be held in reserve at the Federal Reserve banks.

It would be the duty of the reserve board to sell enough of these bonds from time to time if necessary to prevent the purchasing power of the dollar from dropping more than two per cent below its 1926 level.

An amendment by Representative Griffin (D. N. Y.) to specify that the bonus be paid at a rate not to exceed $30 a month and only to the needy was defeated 110 to 80.

The vote for the measure was 209 to 176.

Senator Thomas (D. Okla.) planned to ask for an immediate vote in the senate when the bill reached there from the house.

This would require unanimous consent to dispense with the usual procedure of referring the bill to a committee but leaders indicated they would accept the suggestion.

A single objection, however, would require the bill to be sent to the Senate Finance committee for study.

RICHEY GETS HIS BADGE

First to receive a badge issued for the republican national convention was Leutenant Richey, secretary to President Hoover, who is pictured here in the G. O. P. headquarters in Chicago as Miss Della Patman pinned the gold credential on his coat lapel.

DYNAMITING OF OIL PIPELINE GETS ATTENTION OF MARTIAL LAW AND OTHER AUTHORITIES

Tyler Company Has Been Foe Of Proration

KILGORE, June 15. (AP)—Military authorities today were conducting a "thorough investigation of the explosion which wrecked two joints of the Tyler Pipeline company's line one mile west of the old London field near Overton. Dynamite was believed to have been used.

Major-General Jacob F. Wolters, former commander of state troops enforcing proration in the East Texas field, hurried to the scene to aid Colonel L. S. Davidson and other authorities in their efforts to determine who was responsible.

Although the explosion occurred Monday night, no report was made of it either by military or civil officials. They evidently felt publicity would hinder the investigation.

The Tyler Pipeline company recently obtained an injunction in federal court to restrain military authorities from interfering with operations of their business.

The injunction was granted after the company had examined the company's books to determine if it had been running oil in excess of the allowable.

It was estimated that several thousand barrels of oil were lost when the explosion broke the line and allowed it to flow over the immediate area.

Grage had been protested to by workmen who claimed the contractors were not complying with the law by failing to pay wages equal to the prevalent scale in Austin for similar services. He held a hearing and decided the law was not being observed. He was preparing to file complaints against the contractors when they obtained a temporary injunction. Yesterday's opinion was based on a hearing involving merits of the case.

SNELL URGES HIS PARTY AS NATION'S HOPE

DEMOCRATS FLAYED AS HAVING NO TEAMWORK

HAWLEY-SMOOT TARIFF CALLED BULWARK OF INDUSTRY

CHICAGO, June 15. (AP)—Representative Bertrand H. Snell, permanent chairman of the Republican National convention, told its delegates today that the solidarity of their party in "this crisis means the salvation of the United States."

The New Yorker alternated denunciation of the democrats and praise of President Hoover but like Senator L. J. Dickinson of Iowa, in the keynote speech yesterday, he did not mention prohibition.

"By long trial in the actual responsibility of conducting the government," Snell said, the republican party has become capable of governing.

He asserted that outside the republican party is confusion and chaos, adding "the only sound and united public sentiment of the United States is represented in this convention."

In support of charges that the democratic party is "fatally weak" because it is "utterly lacking in teamwork," Snell referred to the house of representatives of which he is minority leader.

Placed in control there, he said, the opposition did well enough as long as it followed the president but once they "set out to carry forward their own program they exhibited colossal incapacity, hopeless division, and disintegration with the result that there was a complete collapse of their party machinery."

"The democratic party is a mob of feuds and factions," he continued, "unable to bring order out of chaos in its own ranks. How can it be expected to maintain order in government?"

Then followed: "If this country is to be governed with judgment and prudence, the republican party must do the job."

Praise of party policies, accompanied by the claim that the Smoot-Hawley tariff has been "the bulwark of defense against world-wide depression" was mingled with tributes to the chief executive.

The "enemy" was described as the "ghastly pestilence of world wide depression" and Mr. Hoover was termed well prepared for the task of combatting it.

PLAINTIFF IN DAMAGE SUIT HEARD TODAY

Value Placed Upon Belongings Is Attacked

Five pairs of pajamas, two of them valued at $26 by the plaintiff, and other valuable personal belongings, were destroyed when his house at LeFors burned, W. E. Keenan testified this morning in 114th district court in his suit for damage against the LeFors Petroleum company and the Prairie Oil & Gas company.

Mr. Keenan occupied the stand yesterday afternoon and this morning. He also testified that his two-room house, a diamond ring, his automobile, other articles of clothing, and other valuables were burned.

He claimed that waste oil from the LeFors and Prairie pits washed down to his house, was ignited and burned his property. He said the front room of his two-room house was used as his office and the back room as his bedroom. On the night of the fire, he said, the house was enveloped in flames when he awoke. He testified he did not have time to get his trousers before he left the structure.

The defense in cross-examining Mr. Keenan sought to show that the plaintiff had placed exorbitant values upon his belongings. He testified in response to questions asked by defense counsel, Charlie Cook, that he paid about $150 for a diamond ring lost in the fire, and that he valued it at $350 on a damage sheet introduced in court. He said the diamond increased in value.

Jurors in the case are M. M. Raef, L. C. O'Neal, W. S. Green, O. G. Killingsworth, M. V. Murray, Cyril Hamilton, Pink King, H. A. Sanders, Kyle Gutherie, Pete Zello, Don Cannon and D. R. Henry.

NEW JERSEY'S DELEGATES TO SEEK ORATOR

RESUBMISSION PLANK STILL AWAITED TODAY

REPEAL BLOC IS ACTIVE

DAWES REMOVES SELF AS VICE PRESIDENT HOPE

CHICAGO, June 15. (AP)—A movement originating in the New Jersey delegation led to a secret meeting late today of delegates from several states to attempt to work out a plan for putting Calvin Coolidge in the nomination for the presidency.

The participants acted as individual delegates and not as representatives of their delegations. They sought an outstanding orator who might be able to sway the convention.

CHICAGO, June 15. (AP)—Prohibition repeal advocates declared opposition to the administration resubmission compromise today as the republican platform committee took up the proposal approved early in the morning by a sub-committee.

The administration plank sent along by the subcommittee provided for resubmission to the people of a substitute for the 18th amendment.

It won a viva voce vote, Ambassador Edge of France, New Jersey's representative on the subcommittee, voted against the proposal, and joined with Senator Bingham of Connecticut to fight it in the whole committee.

However, administration forces held command as the prohibition controversy neared the convention floor.

Determined to avoid a long drawn battle on the floor, friends of the submission plank arranged for early state conferences on the acquisition of the delegates of its proponents.

State For Repeal
Meanwhile, the Pennsylvania delegation voted for a state repeal declaration. James M. Hales, of Philadelphia offered the resolution to instruct the state committee for repeal and immediate modification of the Volstead act. It carried 55 to 17. It made no attempt to upset yesterday's action by the delegation favoring a national resubmission plank.

The Pennsylvania compromise appeared satisfactory to the administration leaders who hurriedly went to the Pennsylvania caucus as it assembled.

Mesquite, the organized prohibition leaders reiterated their determination to withhold final comment on the prohibition plank until both national conventions have concluded.

Some republican prohibition advocates privately expressed approval of the submission plank agreed upon by the resolutions sub-committee.

Repeal of the 18th amendment is not asked for in the plank. It declares for federal control of the liquor traffic in the submission of an alternative to the 18th amendment to the states.

Drain On Supply Of Gold Withstood

NEW YORK, June 15 (AP)—The dollar glistened in victory today while the financial metropolis hailed the end of Europe's long drain on American gold.

The Bank of France converted the last of its dollar balances into gold yesterday for eventual lodgment in its own vaults. That meant America had successfully met all foreign demands on its gold supply, bankers said, and that the dollar had emerged a winner from the severest pressure ever imposed on a currency.

Thereupon there occurred in the foreign exchange market the strongest bull movement in dollars seen in many weeks. Bankers expressed satisfaction, seeing the removal of one of the principal factors leading to a lack of confidence in business and financial circles.

The Bank of France's withdrawal from this market yesterday of $85,000,000 balances ended what was described as one of the most remarkable achievements in financial history—the repayment by the United States since 1929 of all but $700,000,000 of the $3,000,000,000 of short-term funds lodged in this market by foreign central banks, governments and private investors.

"ECONOMY" SUGGESTIONS FOR CONGRESS

Furlough Plan Is To Save Millions

WASHINGTON, June 15. (AP)—The senate called upon President Hoover to recommend to congress specific governmental economies.

WASHINGTON, June 15. (AP)—Senator Smoot (R. Utah) said Tuesday the house and senate conferees on the national economy bill have agreed to the Hoover furlough plan and that the measure as decided upon carries savings of about $130,000,000.

Senator Smoot bore the news to resident Hoover at the White house and made the announcement public immediately afterward. Under the Hoover plan, voted by the senate, government employees could be furloughed without pay a month each year or placed on a five-day week. The house had voted instead an even per cent pay cut with $2,500 exemptions. The furlough-pay cut issue caused the heart of the economy bill with agreement on it, the work the conferees was virtually ended, Smoot said the conference report would be laid before the senate and house tomorrow.

WETS TO PARADE FORT WORTH, June 15. (AP)—A "peal parade" will be staged here in July by the crusaders in interest of passage of the demobilization primary July 23 of the proposal for resubmission by congress the prohibition question to state conventions. Elbur D. Bacon of San Antonio, director for the crusaders, a national organization for repeal of the 18th amendment, made the announcement today.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

IN THE SAN FRANCISCO EARTHQUAKE ... APRIL 18, 1906 ... THE STATUE OF LOUIS AGASSIZ, THE NATURALIST, DIVED FROM HIS NICHE AT LELAND STANFORD UNIVERSITY, AND STOOD ON ITS HEAD ON THE CAMPUS.

The TOTAL ECLIPSE of the SUN, ON TIN CAN ISLAND (IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC) ENDED ON THE DAY BEFORE IT STARTED! IT BEGAN ON OCTOBER 22, BY TIME KEPT IN AUSTRALIA AND ASIA, BUT AFTER CROSSING THE 180TH MERIDIAN, THE DATE WAS OCTOBER 21, U.S. TIME. 1930

... IN COLONIAL DAYS ... IT WAS CONSIDERED A SERIOUS OFFENSE TO SMOKE WITHIN TWO MILES OF A CHURCH ON SUNDAY.

"TIN CAN ISLAND" is so called because of its unusual method of getting mail. Letters and papers, sealed in tin cans, are dropped overboard from passing steamers, and natives swim out after them. The southeast trade winds throw up large waves on the shores, and because of the steep banks and lack of indentations for bays, it is extremely difficult to reach the island by boat. It is of volcanic origin and is one of the Tonga group, located in the South Pacific ocean. Astronomers traveled from all over the world to observe the solar eclipse there in 1930, although it lasted but 92 seconds.

RULES ON LOANS AUSTIN, June 15. (AP)—Attorney General James V. Allred ruled Tuesday that proceeds of a loan on an adjusted compensation certificate held by a world war veteran, deposited in a special account in a bank which is closed for liquidation, is a preferred claim against the closed bank. The opinion was given W. C. Torrence, state service officer.

Amarillo Man Hit By One-Time Pal

SAN ANTONIO, June 15. (AP)—T. B. Edmondson of Amarillo Tuesday was nursing a sore jaw given him by Nile Well Wright, once his pal and now on trial for the armed robbery of $75,000 from R. W. Morrison, rail magnate.

Edmondson, given immunity for his part in the holdup in exchange for his testimony, is here as the chief state witness against Wright. While walking out of the courtroom late yesterday, the defendant struck the witness, Edmondson said. "He passed me in the corridor and hit me once on the chin with his fist doubled up. He didn't say anything and I didn't either."

THREAT TO AMERICANS

SANTIAGO, Chile, June 15. (AP)—A renewed threat of confiscation of the $75,000,000 investment in the American-controlled Soesach nitrate combine was seen Monday in the resignation of Carlos Davila, former ambassador to Washington, from the socialist junta which controls the government. Senor Davila resigned last night from the week-old socialist regime which ousted the president, Juan Esteban Montero, June 4. His resignation was believed to have been forced by other members of the junta because his policy toward foreign interests, particularly Cochac, was considered too moderate.

but ACCURACY is Fundamental

COLORFUL, thrilling scenes will be enacted at the national political conventions in Chicago, banners flying, bands playing, delegates shouting. But these are the superficial aspects, the background against which history-making balloting will decide the Presidential candidates.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS dispatches on these conventions will bring to newspaper readers a vivid picture of the pageantry and excitement but that is not all. Expert reporters will write up-to-the-minute, accurate accounts of all vital angles, probe under the surface to interpret authoritatively the significance of each important move, and analyse fairly the ever-changing situations.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS staff is NOT concerned with the fate of candidates or parties, it is interested only in reporting the news, impartially and truthfully. Through unwavering adherence to that principle, "AP" has won world-wide preference.

PUBLIC FORUM

Editor, The NEWS: It has been the slogan of newspaper men, merchants, and various tradesmen to "Buy at Home".

There are so many ways to impress the public these days. The newspapers probably reach more people than any other form of communication.

So let us all get behind one of the biggest nation savers and put it over the top. Advertise it. Post it. Shout it. Sing it. Have Pampa be the first city in the state to go "American Made."

Editor's note—I am glad to have your letter. Pampa would have more jobs if local people confined their purchases largely to this city.

Drain On Supply Of Gold Withstood

NEW YORK, June 15 (AP)—The dollar glistered in victory today while the financial metropolis hailed the end of Europe's long drain on American gold.

The Bank of France converted the last of its dollar balances into gold yesterday for eventual shipment in its own vaults. That meant America had successfully met all foreign demands on its gold supply, bankers said, and that the dollar had emerged a winner from the severest pressure ever imposed on a currency.

Thereupon there occurred in the foreign exchange market the strongest bull movement in dollars seen in many weeks. Bankers expressed satisfaction, seeing the removal of one of the principal factors leading to a lack of confidence in business and financial circles.

The Bank of France's withdrawal from this market yesterday of $35,000,000 balances ended what was described as one of the most remarkable achievements in financial history—the repayment by the United States since 1925 of all but $100,000,000 of the $2,000,000,000 of short-term funds lodged in this market by foreign central banks, governments and private interests.

ough Plan Is To Save Millions

WASHINGTON, June 15. (AP)—Senate called upon President Hoover to recommend to congress governmental economies.

WASHINGTON, June 15. (AP)—Senator Smoot (R., Utah) said Tuesday the house and senate conferees on the national economy bill have agreed to the Hoover furlough plan that the measure as decided carries savings of about $130,000.

Senator Smoot bore the news to President Hoover at the White House and made the announcement immediately afterward. Under the Hoover plan, voted by the senate, government employees would be furloughed without pay for a month each year or placed on a five-day week.

The house had voted instead an eleven per cent pay cut with $2,500 exemptions.

The furlough-pay cut issue comprised the heart of the economy bill and with agreement on it, the work of the conferees was virtually concluded. Smoot said the conference report would be laid before the senate and house tomorrow.

THREAT TO AMERICANS

SANTIAGO, Chile, June 15. (AP)—A renewed threat of confiscation of the $75,000,000 investment in the American-controlled Sosac nitrate combine was seen Monday in the resignation of Carlos Davila, former ambassador to Washington, from the socialist junta which controls the government. Senor Davila resigned last night from the week-old socialist regime which ousted the president, Juan Esteban Montero, June 4. His resignation was believed to have been forced by other members of the junta because his policy toward foreign interests, particularly Coacach, was considered too moderate.

THE PAGEANTRY IS DRAMATIC

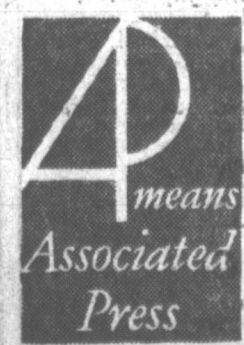

but ACCURACY is Fundamental

COLORFUL, thrilling scenes will be enacted at the national political conventions in Chicago, banners flying, bands playing, delegates shouting. But these are the superficial aspects, the background against which history-making balloting will decide the Presidential candidates.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS dispatches on these conventions will bring to newspaper readers a vivid picture of the pageantry and excitement but that is not all. Expert reporters will write up-to-the-minute, accurate accounts of all vital angles, probe under the surface to interpret authoritatively the significance of each important move, and analyse fairly the ever-changing situations.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS staff is NOT concerned with the fate of candidates or parties, it is interested only in reporting the news, impartially and truthfully. Through unwavering adherence to that principle, "AP" has won world-wide preference.

YANKEES' COSTLY NEW TALENT NOT OF MUCH ABILITY

VETERANS ARE SETTING PACE FOR LEAGUE

JIMMIE FOXX HITS HIS 24TH HOMER ON MONDAY

BY GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Yankees, plowing through the west and building up an imposing lead in the American league, owe very little of their success to the costly lot of new talent turned over to Manager Joe McCarthy this spring.

Except for the pitching staff, the club that today looks like an even bet to race unchallenged of the pennant is the same that finished second a year ago.

Gene Linder, pitcher, and Frank Crosetti of the Yankees infield, and in their places are Joe Sewell and Tony Lazzeri, veterans. Earle Combs is back at his old outfield post, playing some of the greatest ball of his career. All three played steady ball yesterday to help the leaders make it three out of four from Cleveland, 7 to 6, and give Danny MacFayen his first victory in a Yankee uniform.

The Athletics made it three out of four over Detroit, 10 to 5, and kept pace with the leaders as Jimmie Foxx propelled his 24th and 25th home runs of this year.

St. Louis' victory over Washington was their seventh in eight engagements this year. George Blaesholder tamed the Senators most of the way and won, 17-3.

Boston beat Ted Lyons and the Chicago White Sox, 5 to 4, in 11 innings.

Philadelphia and Cincinnati supplied all the action in the National league by dividing a doubleheader. The Phillies captured the first, 6 to 5, but the Reds came back to take the nightcap, 5 to 2.

Statesmen Are Meeting To Tackle Economic Muddle

LAUSANNE, Switzerland, June 15 (AP)—Statesmen of a dozen European countries began arriving here today in preparation for the opening of the international conference tomorrow which will make this Swiss city the center of much of the world's hopes for economic recovery.

The first problem to be discussed is relief for Germany from the burden of reparations payments, more than $300,000,000 of which will fall due July 15 unless a new arrangement is arrived at here.

The eve of the conference showed the whole problem shrouded in deep uncertainty. The most hopeful sign was the result of the conference last week-end in Paris between Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain and Premier Edouard Herriot of France.

While Prime Minister MacDonald made it clear after the conference there had been no bargaining or compromise, he said the British and French had discovered they were thinking along the same lines regarding the problems that have to be solved.

A new moratorium of from one to five years, was looked upon as the most likely solution of the reparations problem.

The Young plan advisory committee decided 6 months ago Germany was temporarily unable to make further payments on the total debt of $26,500,000,000 fixed in 1923 by the Young plan. This was to have been paid over 55 years, ending in 1988.

The conference opens in the Beau Rivage hotel and prime ministers of the larger powers are expected to tege the floor almost immediately to enter their pleas for or against cancellation of reparations and other inter-governmental obligations.

Former County Attorney Is Held In Bank Looting

WICHITA FALLS, June 14 (AP)—Oscar Herring, past county attorney of Palo Pinto county, was arrested in a private sanitarium here today by Texas rangers and local officers in connection with robbery of a bank at Seagraves, Gaines county, on the New Mexico border, May 28.

Publisher's Case In Appeals Court

AUSTIN, June 15 (AP)—A contempt of court case against C. H. Pease, publisher of the Hidalgo County Independent at Edinburg, was argued before the court of criminal appeals today. A decision will not be made before next Wednesday.

Pease was held in contempt of court by Judge R. M. Bounds of the 92nd district court of Hidalgo county in connection with publication in his paper of references to action of a grand jury in returning indictments against certain persons. He was sentenced to jail and ordered to pay a fine.

He presented an application to the appellate court for a habeas corpus two weeks ago and pending its disposition the court ordered him released on $250 bond.

SHARKEY HAS CONTEMPT FOR GERMAN AGE

SAYS CHANGE OF MAX' STYLE TO SUIT HIM FINE

ORANBURG, N. Y., June 15 (AP)—Jack Sharkey lolled about the dining room in his training camp quarters, waiting for the dinner bell.

He was calm and contented. He is bigger, stronger than ever and he had just outclassed Joe Sekyra in a boxing and punching match, the best trial of all his training for the 15-round heavyweight title match with Max Schmeling on Long Island Tuesday night.

His weight, now around 203 pounds, was responding readily to treatment. He is hitting harder than ever before in seven tumultuous years as a heavyweight contender. "There was a calm and ease about him."

"I see," he said, "that the 'Dutchman' has changed his style of fighting. He doesn't bob and weave any more. He stands up straight and comes in jabbing. Is that so?"

That was admittedly so. Schmeling had won four rounds un-til he won our first fight on a foul. He wasn't going to come on and win later. He was going to take a bigger beating the farther the fight went. And he knows that.

"So he's changed his style and he's a boxer now. The other way wouldn't do. Anything is an improvement."

"Well, let me tell you something. He's just committing suicide, that's all. Every time he straightened up and tried to box me two years ago I nailed him easily with left hooks and right crosses."

BUFFS GO ONE GAME AHEAD—BEAT STEERS

BEAUMONT SCORES 8 BUT LOSES

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Beaumont, Dallas and Longview, three of the four division clubs, were defeated yesterday but not the second place Houston Buffaloes who picked up a full game on the league leading Beaumont crew.

Beaumont dropped a 12 to 10 battle to Tyler. Del Baker's pace setters scored 8 runs in the ninth in a desperate attempt to stave off defeat, but that wasn't enough. Chas. McPhaul hit his baseball for Tyler until the ninth. McPhaul rushed to the rescue and managed to save the day.

Showing a noticeable let-down after their recent series with Beaumont, when they won three out of four crucial games, the Dallas Steers played listless ball to lose a 10 to 7 game to Houston.

Elmer Hanson held the Steers to six scattered hits. He struck out six and was light in the pinches.

The fourth place Longview Cardinals were tamed by San Antonio, 5 to 3. It was one of the best defensive games played at Longview this season.

Two former Dallas players won Fort Worth's game last night. Tom Nash singled in the eleventh to score George Lepp with a run that that gave Fort Worth a 5 to 4 victory over Galveston. Alex Hooks, a former Dallas sandlotter, now playing first for Fort Worth, led the score in the ninth with a double.

BACK of the SERVICE

WHAT'S happened to the light? you exclaim in surprise and consternation when you press a button and nothing happens.

Electric service is so uniformly good, and interruptions so infrequent, the public has taken for granted this high standard of service. Forgotten are the days when interruptions were accepted with resignation as being inevitable; the days when candles were always kept on hand "in case."

Like a man biting a dog, interruption in utility service nowadays is news.

Back of this high standard of service are long years of research and experiments. With high faith in the future and a determination to bring service to the highest possible standard, this company has taken advantage of every improvement in the art of generating and distributing electrical energy.

Edmund Lowe Is Star as Lawyer in LaNora Film

"Attorney for the Defense," at the LaNora theater today presents Edmund Lowe as a district attorney who pursues his profession when he finds he has sent an innocent man to the electric chair. No fitting suitable role could have been found for Lowe.

The erratic and highly dramatic life of a man, who as a public prosecutor turns persecutor to reach the governor's chair, until the death of a innocent man turns him suddenly away from the district attorneyship, move in the most active court in the world—New York City's Criminal court.

Lowe's superb performance is given admirable support by the portrayals of Evelyn Brent as Val Lorraine, a lady who loves only when there is money in it for her, and Constance Cummings, Lowe's secretary—faithful, adoring, efficient.

After Burton, District Attorney, determined to keep accused men out of the chair as he before had sent them there, he tries to make amends by taking under his care the wife and son of the innocent man for whose death he holds himself responsible.

Val Lorraine, his former pet, tries to encourage Burton to relent in his persecution of Nick Quinn, gangster, her present lover, through a Citizen's Committee. Burton has formed to get the real criminals that infest the city. Quinn laughs her away.

A sudden phone call one night from Val brings Burton to her apartment to find her murdered, and lying in a drunken stupor beside her, Paul Wallace, the boy whose innocent father Burton had sent to the chair when he was district attorney. Val had been working the boy to get the incriminating papers in Burton's possession. To shield Paul, Burton surrenders to the police and is brought to trial accused of the murder of Val Lorraine.

BY WARE TORREY
NEW YORK — "Thirty Clocks Strike the Hour," a collection of stories by V. Sackville-West, contains a series of charming vignettes and a wide variety of scenes and situations.

The title story is a vivid characterization of Miss Sackville-West's grandmother.

Another story, "Gottfried Kunster," describes Anna, a beautiful young woman of medieval times, suspected by her neighbors of being a witch, and Kunster, stricken with amnesia, whom she cares for.

Kunster, an ardent skier who has forgotten his former life since a fall on the ice, accepts Anna without question. Till the townspeople make trouble, the two live an isolated life that seems enchanted, as impersonal as their snowy woods, as easily passing as their swift skates over the ice.

In "The Death of Noble Godard," Miss Sackville-West creates a full atmosphere of unusual individuality, in showing the intricate entanglements of a family in the north of England. Striving to escape from each other or from the pressure of their personal situations, the members of the family are linked and destined by the kindred characteristics they have inherited.

Picturing Owen D. Young
"Owen D. Young: A New Type of Industrial Leader" is a new biography by Ida M. Tarbell, who some 30 years ago gained fame with "A History of the Standard Oil Company." She writes of Mr. Young in admirably complimentary terms because her "best research failed to show him as less good than he looks."

She describes him as a boy who took his food for a whole week to school, as a college student who was a leader, as a hard working lawyer in public utilities, as a farmer, as an educator, as an international negotiator, and as a business leader.

She concludes that "Owen Young has not yet tapped the full potentialities of his mind and spirit," and that "given life, he will grow, and that is sure, for possibly the most important thing about him is his faith in growth for himself and for all he undertakes, his patience in waiting on it."

Under Soviet Rule
A first-hand account of "Soviet rule in a Baltic town" is given by George Popoff in "The City of the Red Plague."

Executions, imprisonment and a famine beset the people of Riga. The author points out Soviet tactics and principles, through his narrative of events.

Among the other books are "Only the Rich," a novel in light vein of a modern young heiress and her ultra-modern grandmother, by Bruce Fletcher, and "The Experimental College," by Alexander Meiklejohn, a thorough presentation of the experiment undertaken at the University of Wisconsin, in form of a report to the University.

PARIS PRESENTS 'MAGPIE MODE': IT'S BLACK AND WHITE COMBINED

By DIANA MERWIN (Associated Press Fashion Editor)
PARIS, June 15 (AP)—A magpie mode—as "black and white" as the bird for which it is named—is the fashionable plumage these days.

Black frocks with white hats, black costumes with white beads, black and white, and white dresses with black gloves and girdles are seen wherever chic women gather.

Lenyin is one of the outstanding contributors to the black and white mode with dark frocks accented by white accessories. One of her newest novelties is of black wool with a button-on plastron bib of white; a pique covering the front of the bodice and attached to the shoulder line and waistline with jet buttons. It is worn with a big white straw sailor hat.

Another tailored street frock of black moiré is studded with white china ball buttons from wrist to elbow and worn with a choker necklace of white china beads and a white patent leather belt.

Molyneux reverses the color combination with a short sleeved frock of heavy white crepe, designed with a little waist-length cape and worn with elbow length black suede gloves, a black suede belt and a big white straw hat finished with a black band.

Coat of white diagonal weave wool with three-quarter sleeves banded in black fox and a black satin frock with four inset bands of heavy white lace in the full sleeves are other additions to the daytime magpie mode.

Among outstanding night-time black and white effects are full length coats of glaming white satin worn with black chiffon frock, and dinner dresses having skirts and bodices of black crepe with puffed sleeves of white crepe inset on a diagonal shoulder line.

Mrs. T. R. Martin and children, Anne and Eric, have returned from Dallas where they visited Mrs. Martin's mother.

DOLLY GANN READY TO FIGHT FOR BROTHER; WOMEN PRESS MANY CAUSES AT CONVENTION

CHICAGO, June 15 (AP)—One thing was clear through all the foginess of the vice-presidential situation today: Something will be heard from stalwart Dolly Gann should anything happen to her brother, Charles Curtis.

However potent may be "Princess Alice" Longworth's reported maneuvering in the down-with-Curtis movement, it doesn't take a thumbrust to tell how Dolly likes it. Nor to see that the very presence of the social-precedence opponent of the vice-presidential hostess hasn't slowed the tempo of Mrs. Gann's campaigning.

Arriving she tossed off suggestions of a successor for her brother with a single fighting gesture. Today Mrs. Gann was ceaselessly conferring with the leaders—and yesterday she held a levee for women delegates and committeewomen and put to many of them the blunt question, "How's yours?" meaning state delegation.

This little matter was the leading feminine bid for attention as the rank and file went to the second convention day's doings.

Women went before the resolutions committee far into the early hours to press many causes. A woman, Dr. Martha Robert de Romeu of Porto Rico, sat on that committee for the first time in history—sat as a militant feminist and a committed re-subsidiarist.

The story going the convention rounds is that Teddy Roosevelt's daughter suggested skids for the vice-president — and incidentally wouldn't object to seeing her own brother, Teddy, Jr., on the national ticket.

Gambler's Throw

by Eustace L. Adams

SYNOPSIS: Operating by airplane, a gang of kidnapers carry a four-million-dollar ransom to a tropical island, where they demand instalments of money from their friends and relatives. An airplane is heard over the island one day, and machine guns are made ready for an attack. The hydroplane is ready to take off. A detective who is searching for the kidnapers, Stevens, has joined forces with Jerry Calhoun, who was injured in a fight with the gang when Nancy was captured. Jerry and Stevens and Emory Battles, a friend of Jerry, in an airplane which Jerry pilots, search the islands when they take away the ransom money in a hydroplane. They follow the hydroplane, keeping out of sight. They plan to locate where the prisoners are held.

Chapter 15 THE COIN IS MATCHED

The tiny black dot in the air gradually assumed form. A single, silver wing developed atop a tapering cylindrical fuselage. Nancy watched it, her heart beating wildly. Could it be those flyers were searching for her and the other victims of the kidnapers? "Back in the house, everybody," Ashwood's voice was quiet, unworried.

From her bedroom window Nancy watched the monoplane buzzing onward toward the south. For a breathless seconds she thought that the flyers must have seen the house on the island, but her heart sank as it dropped steadily on. Without turning a hair's breadth from its course, it passed over the range of vision. In a few moments the snarl of its motor had dwindled into nothing.

"There's your peacan grove, old timer, if our luck holds out!" shouted Emory triumphantly, as Jerry pointed down at the tiny spit of land below. "There's a house big enough to hold a regiment, and a hangar, too. Whoops, sisters, whoops!"

"I'll say that's some navigating," grinned Jerry, watching the island glide beneath the gleaming wing. "Now we'll have to keep going until they'll think we haven't seen them. Then I'll glide down and come back just over the top of the water so they can't see us. Watch for an island down there that would make a good landing place."

"Make it far enough away so's they can't hear the motor," suggested Stevens, making a careful notation upon a large-scale map. "I don't aim to have them waiting for us with a couple dozen machine guns."

His jaws resumed their placid, rhythmic motion as he turned his attention to the machine gun, which he wiped as carefully as though it had received no care for weeks. Ahead, astern and to the left, the sea was dotted by thousands of tiny islands, hard-edged spots of dark green against the sapphire blue of the water. To the right there was nothing but the endless expanse of the Gulf of Mexico, extending to the very edge of the horizon. Except for the house and hangar they had just passed, there was no sign of a human in all the tremendous panorama beneath them. The silent islands were, for the most part, simply clumps of dense mangroves which seemed to have grown out of the water with no earth to give them anchorage and sustenance. Far over to the eastward the islands became more numerous until there was more land than water. Here, as the islands blended one into another, began the Everglades, which extended straight across the southern Florida peninsula to the Atlantic ocean.

As Jerry cut the throttle and nosed the monoplane into a thin glide, flocks of herons, cranes and pelicans lapped their wings and flew away from the strange air monster which had invaded their age-old privacy.

The pilot's spirits danced as he realized that they were at the end of their two-thousand mile chase. He had not the slightest doubt that in that low H-shaped house were to be found those who had disappeared so mysteriously from the midst of civilization, as well as those who had spirited them away.

Just ahead and seven or eight miles from the inhabited island, was a long, narrow key, bordered on the east by a mile-long stretch of sand which looked hard enough to sustain the monoplane's weight. Making one low flight across its entire length to assure himself that the beach held no obstacles which might trip the wheels, he dropped the plane, light as a bird, in a perfect three-point landing. Then, cutting the engine, he pushed himself out of his bucket-seat and stretched his tired muscles.

"Someone'll have to pry me out of here," muttered the detective, crossly. He climbed stiffly out of the cabin door.

"Pardon me if I seem to crow," offered Emory, "but you birds will have to admit that this was a pretty piece of navigating. You were both fit to be tied when that gasket blew out and we had to slide down near Tallahassee, leaving the amphibian to sail away on its merry course to the southward."

"Huh, you weren't doing any back-and-wing dance yourself?" retorted Jerry.

"Not at that moment," admitted his comrade. "But you'll grant that when I studied the map last night, used the ruler and projected the line of the amphibian's flight, I drew a circle around the Ten Thousand Islands on the extreme southwestern coast of Florida. I told you we'd find our little hide-and-go-seek partners somewhere within my pencilled line."

"I have a plan," announced Jerry, his face suddenly serious. "Now that we're here, we've got to do something about getting our feet on the island that house is on. We wouldn't get anywhere landing there with our plane. They've undoubtedly got machine guns and would wash us out before our propeller stopped whirling. We'll have to use strategy."

"What ho, the Delphic oracle speaks!" applauded Emory, his face solemn.

"One more peep out of you and I'll bury you alive in the sand!" Jerry threatened heatedly. "Now here's what I have in mind. We'll pump up the collapsible rubber boat. Then I'll paddle it from one island to another until I get to the one nearest them. I'll deflate the boat and hide it in the scrub, go to the shore toward the house and yell for help. They'll probably rescue me, out of curiosity. I'll tell them some kind of a cock-and-bull yarn and try to get the lay of the land and—"

"And tomorrow," interjected Emory, "Steve and I'll fly over the island and drop sand-burns on your grave."

"Shut up! Tomorrow, some time in the afternoon, you'll pour machine gun ready and, as our witty friend here suggested, fly over the island. If things are right, I'll find some way to show something white, a table cloth, or a sheet, or a napkin, out of a window or on the lawn. If you see it, come on down, ready for trouble, while I start some kind of a rumpus in the house to keep everyone annoyed."

"It's a lousy idea!" drawled Emory.

"Why?"

"Just this; I hate to throw money matters in your face, but I financed the expedition for the fun there would be in it. Now, the first time that it looks as though there might be a little excitement, you go and try to take the play away from me. Seems to me you might let me paddle over to the island and you and the old-timer here do the manna-from-heaven act."

Stevens spat reflectively and scratched himself.

"Me," he ventured, "I don't think it's so good, either. What we ought to do is to fly to the nearest town and get all the cops in sight and then come back in a boat and raid the place, good and proper. I'm a peaceable feller, and I smell trouble if we're going to mill around so impetuous-like. But, on the other hand, if we call in the bulls, we'll have to split the rewards twenty-thirty ways."

It was evident that the detective was on the horns of a dilemma and the others were quick to see their advantage.

"Sure," agree Jerry hastily. "To take a place like that island in a direct attack would give them time to prepare sand trenches and emplacements for their machine guns. If they haven't them already built. For a massed attack, fifty men would be none too many. We'd hardly get a nickel of the reward."

"Tell you what I'll do, Emory!" suggested Jerry, brightening. "I'll match you to see which of us goes alone to the island."

"Listen, fellers," interrupted Stevens. "Seems to me you are forgetting there are three of us. We'll match; the odd man goes. Gambler's throw, winner take all."

They matched. Emory and Stevens turned up heads. Jerry triumphantly exhibited a tail, gleefully pocketed the coin and strode toward the fuselage where the rubber boat was stowed. While his comrade glowered, Stevens shook his head sadly. Years ago, he remembered, he had been all get-up-and-go like these boys. Well, time would temper them unless they went and got themselves killed first.

The market soon eased off one to three points on realizing but rallied again, recovering 3 to 4 points from the lows with July at 5.18, October at 5.38 and December at 5.53.

This improvement was due to opening firmness in stocks.

Near the end of the first hour, the market was steady and near the highs, but traders appeared to be waiting for the weekly weather and crop summary which they expected to be favorable and therefore bearish.

GRAINS HIGHER

CHICAGO, June 15 (AP)—Grains scored private advances today after a sag at the beginning. Firmness of the New York stock market was a strengthening factor. Opening unchanged to 1/2 down, wheat later rose all around. Corn started at 1/2 decline to a shade advance and subsequently showed a general upturn.

Answered Chief J. I. Downs, "I was wondering myself why it didn't rain last night."

the subcommittee he was challenged by Ambassador Edge on the statement that all planks had unanimous approval.

Upon this statement of Edge, the chairman made an exception of the prohibition plank on which he deferred action until the committee in closed session had voted on the many other planks.

The administration submission proposal was approved by the subcommittee on a viva voce vote, but some of its language was left for final wording by the whole committee.

Deplores Issue

The prohibition plank deplores prohibition as an outstanding issue in the economic crisis and deprecates partisan consideration of the question.

It differs from the united repeal plank which recommends submission of a repeal amendment to state conventions. The administration proposal recommends federal control of liquor in any substitute for the 18th amendment while the anti-prohibition proposal favors state control.

CHICAGO STADIUM, June 15 (AP)—With a new show of confidence, the Hoover helmsmen steered the republican convention unflatteringly today through a second session which raised enthusiasm to the peak of a 20-minute demonstration for the president.

Hoover Convention

In old-time fashion, delegates from every state paraded their banners to the tune of "California, Here I Come," singing and clapping their hands, laughing and yelling, determined it seemed, to leave no doubt that this is a Hoover convention.

Then they got through some routine business and adjourned until 8 p. m. when the battle over a prohibition plank is to go to the floor and probably sweep on far into the night.

It was a mention of the president's name by Congressman Snell of New York, in his inaugural as permanent chairman of the convention, which set off the Hoover fever.

After quiet was restored, Snell went on with a speech hammering the democrats in picturing the nation's economic predicament in rounded periods that broke the big stadium crowd into repeated cheering.

Repeal Plank

CHICAGO, June 15 (AP)—Republican anti-prohibitionists on the resolutions committee today determined to fight for the following plank on the convention floor as a substitute for the administration re-submission proposal:

"We recommend that the congress of the United States immediately propose an amendment to the federal constitution repealing the 18th amendment thereto: To be submitted to conventions of the people of the several states called for that sole purpose in accordance with the provisions of article five of the constitution of the United States."

"Should the 18th amendment be repealed we pledge our best efforts toward enactment of such measures in the several states as will actually promote temperance, effectively abolish the saloon, whether open or concealed, and bring the liquor traffic itself under complete public supervision and control with revenues properly drawn from legalized sources for the relief of the burdened taxpayers."

Senator Bingham of Connecticut put the proposals before the whole resolutions committee today and long debate was in prospect in executive session.

The repeal advocates, reported to include several states in the east and far west, behind the Bingham plank.

Wants His Money

CHICAGO, June 15 (AP)—Sidney Storz, general manager of the Chicago stadium, told the republicans today to dig up $8,500 they owe him "or you won't have a hall tomorrow morning."

Storz said the amount is the balance due for construction work. "I've got to have my money," he said. "It must be paid tonight or the republicans won't have any hall tomorrow morning."

Convention officials seemed unconcerned, and there apparently was little fear that the $8,500 would not be forthcoming on time.

No one seemed to believe that the republican national convention would be like an indigent Uncle

Firestone Is Wet

CONVENTION HALL, June 15 (AP)—Gilbert Betham, one of the Ohio delegates to the republican convention, disclosed to newspapermen today that Harvey Firestone had wired an advocacy of prohibition repeal to the republican platform committee.

Hit Irregularly

CHICAGO, June 15 (AP)—The republican resolutions committee today approved after sharp debate a plan severely condemning party irregularity in congress.

The plank came from the administration-controlled subcommittee and went through with only two dissenting votes—Michigan and South Dakota.

Fred W. Green, former governor of Michigan, and representative for that state on the committee, took sharp issue over the declaration demanding that republicans in congress stand completely behind administration programs.

"I think that is a matter for the states," said Green as he left the committee room.

He said that he received support in opposition only from South Dakota.

The plank was obviously directed at the republican independents, particularly in the senate who have bolted the Hoover policies on farm relief and the tariff.

Pampans Enjoy Chicken Barbecue

About a score of Pampa citizens drove to Hoover last night and were served a chicken barbecue with additional "fixin's" by members of the ladies home demonstration club. Proceeds will be used to defray the expenses of a representative of the Hoover club to the Texas A. & M. short course this summer.

Mrs. Chas. I. Hughes said the food was the best she ever ate, and no Pampans disagreed with her. She regretted that more from Pampa did not attend the supper.

Among those from Pampa present were Mr. and Mrs. Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Briggs, Mr. and Mrs. Philip R. Pond, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Keim and son, Bur Jette, Paul LeBeuf, Dan McGrew, Jim Collins, Travis Livly, Raeburn Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Buckingham and son, and H. S. Ruby M. Adams, county home demonstration agent.

Many Arrests Are Made Lately

In the last seven days, city police have made 37 arrests, most of which were for traffic violations. Last night, ten participants in drinking party, five men and five women, were brought to the city hall on charges of being intoxicated and disturbing the peace. They spent the night in the city jail. A negro woman was arrested for vagrancy.

There have been more arrests in the last 15 days than in the preceding six weeks, according to Chief J. I. Downs.

LeFors Political Rally Is Large

The auditorium of the old Methodist church building at LeFors was packed last night when the largest political rally of the year was held. There was standing room only when the meeting convened.

The rally was sponsored by the ladies of the Methodist church.

Gaston B. Means Given 15 Years

WASHINGTON, June 15—Gaston B. Means, convicted in connection with obtaining $100,000 ransom money to pay to alleged kidnapers of the Lindbergh baby, received his sentence today.

Justice James M. Proctor in the District of Columbia supreme court sentenced the former justice department investigator to ten years on the larceny of $100,000 ransom money and five years for larceny of the $4,000 expense money. The latter sentence is to begin after the ten-year sentence has been fulfilled.

T. Morris Wampler, one of Means' defense counsel, noted an appeal.

Justice Proctor, in addressing Means, said "the verdict reveals that the defendant capitalized not only on the sweetest and tenderest emotions of the human heart but also on the basest in his clever and adult plan."

"The Lindbergh case brought out all the best in the hearts of men but also gave the opportunity to some to display the weakness and wickedness of human nature."
