TERRELL INTERESTED IN NEW ROAD

Among the prominent men who will be here for the formal opening of the Pampa-Childress line of the Fort Worth & Denver Northern will be C. V. Terrell, chairman of the state railroad commission.

Mr. Terrell's interest in the new line is more than official. As one interested in the development of this agricultural empire we call the Panhandle, he naturally looked with favor upon Pampa's efforts to secure a north-south rail connection. Indeed, the Panhandle has received the lion's share—698 miles out of 1,200 miles—of new Texas rail construction since 1924.

Getting the Denver Northern was no easy task, even with the Burlington system eager to build. The project was tied into a complex rail situation farther south, and the needs of the territory south of Pampa were overlooked in the argument. The Interstate Commerce Commission denied the necessity of bringing the rails to Pampa.

The re-hearing of that decision, centering on the territory from Pampa south, resulted in a favorable verdict. In that re-hearing, an influential factor was a brief written in Mr. Terrell's department and carried to Washington by an assistant attorney general. This brief affirmed the need of the new construction.

Mr. Terrell is of course no stranger to this section, having held oil hearings in Pampa and having shaken hands with many citizens. The commission chairman is at home in a crowd—the more rural the better, for he likes to get next to the soil and trade yarns with the so-called common people. He will receive a warm welcome at the rail celebration.

There will be other notables present—high officials from the Denver and Burlington systems, prominent men of Dallas, Fort Worth, Wichita Falls. It should be a gala occasion, with, however, a minimum of entertainment—the main purpose is to get acquainted. A new territory is being opened up to Pampa and to the bigger cities of Texas.

chants, figuring they could deliver bills more cheaply than the government inquired if they could hire a delivery boy for the purpose. They were told that to do so would make them liable to a fine of $500 or six months imprisonment, or both, for each offense. Any such delivering will have to be done separately by each firm, and there are some constitutional lawyers who doubt the legality of delivering anything that is ordinarily sent through the mails. . . . But Uncle Sam is not so particular how he meddles in private business. He duplicates private business in hundreds of ways, one of which—that hurts small town printers cruelly—is by printing envelopes at cut-throat prices.

to be worried only by conditions in distant worlds? The University of Texas, hunting a location for a million dollar observatory, will be interested only in how the depressions in distant spheres can be viewed from various sites.

As we understand it, budgeting is figuring out what you can do without with the least pangs of regret.

If Texas turns down the referendum proposal, it will mean that the state is very dry. If the referendum is approved, it will mean that the uncertainty will be prolonged.

help elect a president. Then he heard about those hotel suite sessions. In fact, this country is too much run from hotel rooms. The method must be odious to those westerners who once ruled a frontier empire from the saddle. . . . But complexities of population growth make mass voting hard to predict, and politicians would have heart failure were they not able to cut and dry most everything that goes on at conventions.

FLOOD AT SWEETWATER, June 28 (AP)—A violent rain storm inundated the Sweetwater area last night, washing out railroad bridges, track and highways. Traffic was tied up in all directions. An unconfirmed estimate of the precipitation placed it at approximately 11 inches.

CHICAGO STADIUM, June 28 (AP)—Some close friends of J. J. Shouse today conceded that he would be defeated for the permanent chairmanship of the democratic convention by Senator Walsh of Montana, the Roosevelt choice.

Oil Theft Charged, June 28 (AP)—W. R. Sims, trucking contractor, was arrested today on a charge of stealing more than 600 barrels of oil from the Knowles No. 1 well located in the city of Kilgore. He waived preliminary hearing and was held under $1,000 bond. Officers said the oil had been taken from the well and loaded on a railroad tank car, which was held. Sims will be taken before a grand jury at Longview.

NEW RAINFALL RECORD, ABILENE, June 28 (AP)—More rainfall has fallen in Abilene the first six months of this year than any other like period since the weather bureau began keeping records—48 years. Total to date is 22.47 inches, more than half the record for any year. The six-month normal is 12.64 inches. Rain last night and this morning amounted to 1.47, swelling the June total to 4.05. The yearly normal is 24.45.

finally tipped the balancing scales with the needed votes, Senator Long jumped to his feet on his chair and waved the Louisiana state standard high at the center of a near-riotous celebration.

"This is a Roosevelt test," said Long. "This means Walsh's election and Roosevelt's nomination. Roosevelt will get at least 50 more than we did." Immediately behind the Louisiana const came one from Minnesota, and then the battle over the chairmanship.

The county agreed to pay the Pickett company 4c on each $100 valuation on oil property up to and exceeding $30,000,000 and 3 1/2c per $100 valuation for oil property over that amount, according to the contract. It was also stipulated that $500 be paid to the company on the second Monday of each of the first six months of 1932, the balance to be paid when the valuation is completed.

The subject has not been before the commissioners lately.

Pickett's County Contract Thought Binding for Year

It was erroneously stated in yesterday's NEWS that county commissioners reserved the right to cancel the county's contract with the Thomas Y. Pickett company which evaluates oil property in Gray county, at any time.

The court may terminate the contract for 1933 provided action is taken before Nov. 1, 1932. Mr. Pickett's contract with Gray county to assess oil property values was for 1932 and 1933. The contract is believed binding for this year.

This work has been largely in charge of two employees of the Pickett company, T. M. Cain and F. C. Cobb, and they are expected to come to Pampa in the late summer to assist in determining valuations in a hearing of the oil companies before county commissioners.

Brotherhood To Have Luncheon

The regular monthly luncheon meeting of the Men's Brotherhood of the First Presbyterian church has been advanced to 7 o'clock tonight, President Frank Foster said this morning. Several members have important meetings later in the evening.

A brief program will follow the luncheon, which will be prepared by ladies of the church. The meeting will close promptly at 8:15 o'clock so that members may attend other sessions.

"Every member of the church is invited to the meeting," Mr. Foster said. "There are at least 75 men eligible for membership and we are anxious to get in touch with every one of them."

Congress Without Knowledge of When Body to Adjourn

WASHINGTON, June 28 (AP)—Relief, economy and money legislation were tied up today in such a congressional whirlwind that nobody was sure just what the storm would leave behind.

The Senate for the time being held the key to most of the problems involved. Its leaders had a sort of reserve hope of adjournment Saturday but bent their immediate efforts toward passage of annual appropriations bills that should be law by the beginning of the new fiscal year at midnight Thursday. Otherwise, most of the government departments legally will have no money to spend.

The two biggest annual money measures of the Congress—those supplying nearly two billion dollars for the treasury, postoffice and independent offices—were before the Senate. Quick passage was necessary so they could be sent to conferees along with six others already ready there for an adjustment of differences between the House and Senate bills.

"PAST LIFE" OF NURSE BARRED

LOS ANGELES, June 28 (AP)—The "past life" of Myrtle Joan St. Pierre was the subject of an attack by defense counsel today in an attempt for $200,000 for alleged breach of promise against David Hutton, choir singer and husband of Almee Semple McPherson, evangelist.

Defense attorneys said Hutton probably would take the witness stand. His appearance will follow the testimony of witnesses, who, Hutton's attorneys said, will reveal that the 30-year-old, twice married, attractive nurse entertained men at her home prior to and subsequent to her alleged romance with the baritone.

Miss St. Pierre, in cross-examination of her story of alleged betrayal by Hutton prior to his marriage to the evangelist, denied having told a woman friend Hutton was "a pudding head and a mama's boy," and that she had "no use for him."

Repeal Plank of Wets Announced

CHICAGO, June 28 (AP)—The text of the prohibition repeal agreed to by wet leaders was announced today by Senator Walsh of Massachusetts as follows:

"We favor the repeal of the 18th amendment.

"We demand that the congress immediately propose such repeal to truly representative conventions in the states called to act solely on this proposal.

"We urge that the democratic party co-operate in the enactment of such measure by the several states as will actually promote temperance, effectively prevent the return of the saloon and bring the liquor traffic into the open under completely supervision and control by the states.

"We demand that the government effectively exercise its power to protect states against importation of intoxicating liquors in violation of their laws.

"Pending repeal, we favor immediate modification of the Volstead act to legalize the manufacture and sale of beer and other beverages of such alcoholic content as is permissible under the constitution and to provide therefrom a proper and needed revenue."

Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Dillard have moved to Canadian where Mr. Dillard is drilling a test for oil. The couple were married last week. Before her marriage, Mrs. Dillard was Mrs. Eleanor Koch.

Everett Willis Will Join Root's Law Firm Soon

Everett Willis, son of Newton P. Willis of Pampa, will enter the law firm of Root, Clark and Buckner, New York City, around Aug. 1, his father announced yesterday. Young Willis is visiting in Pampa this week.

The law firm was established by Edwin Root and is one of the oldest and most famous in New York.

Everett, now only 23 years old, was graduated from the Harvard law school this June with "magna cum laude," or highest honors, receiving his bachelor of laws degree. He received his bachelor of arts degree from the University of Missouri at the age of 19. He was a member of Phi Beta Kappa, national honor society, and Sigma Nu, social fraternity.

At the age of 15, he was graduated from the high school at Candia, Tex., where he was born. He was salutatorian at the high school commencement exercises.

At Harvard, he won several scholarships and was an editor of the Harvard Law Review. He maintained an "A" average throughout his law school course, and one of the 12 highest out of a class of 436.

Everett has been visiting at Candia for the last two weeks.

His father is a member of the firm of Willis, Studer and Studer. His grand-father, an uncle, Frank Willis, both deceased, and all served as judges to this judicial district.

Local Men Are "Batty" Over Trip

John B. Hessey returned from Carlsbad cavern in a "batty" condition Sunday. So did Ralph Thomas. All the two could talk about was bats—the five million bats that live in the caverns.

Once before Mr. Hessey went to see the cavern. This time, he said, he went to see the bats. Incidentally, Mr. Hessey mentioned that the new elevator requires a man to travel from the entrance to the cave to the bottom 750 feet below, although the Thomases and Hesseys chose to walk.

A "big shot" on bats at the cavern is Mr. Hessey. He never knew before that bats hibernate in winter like bears, that they give birth to their young in the manner of animals, that they are animals, not birds, that 99 per cent of the bats in the cavern are Mexican "free bats." The bats, 5,000,000 of them, fly out of the cavern in the evening and return next morning. During the night they travel thousands of miles and never alight. They take fuel and water on the wing, and the bat man estimated they consumed 15 tons of insects every night. The bats have eyes but can't see much out of them.

Oklahoma Floods Take Six Lives

CHICKASAW, Okla., June 28. (AP)—Sudden floods in south central Oklahoma were credited today with taking six lives and forecasts of additional showers stirred new anxiety.

Of thirteen persons plunged into swollen Rush creek when a small bridge collapsed under the wagon in which they were returning from church services at Kilgore school house, only eight escaped.

Two women, Mrs. John Lindsey and Mrs. Calvin Lindsey, were drowned and their bodies recovered. Three small children of Mrs. John Lindsey, Mary Ruth, one J. D. Lindsey, and Eugene, four, were missing, one believed dead. Hundreds engaged in fruitless search for their bodies. All lived near Cox. Royce Clamitt, two, was injured.

Near Tishomingo, Thomas D. Wade, 35, of Waurika, a highway worker, drove his automobile off a washed out bridge approach on Sandy creek and was drowned.

Streams subsided quickly after ponding at their banks.

The Canadian river was high but not dangerous at Oklahoma City. Heavy rains were general over the state, the fall averaging around two inches.

Catholic Pilgrims Beaten and Stormed

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, June 27. (AP)—Scores of Irish men and women nursed injuries today after a flailing of the ancient Fenian flag between the orange and the green yesterday.

In several parts of Northern Ireland closing ceremonies of the Eucharistic congress at Dublin, were attacked, stoned and beaten.

After earlier riots in four cities, seven of nine trains carrying the pilgrims were stoned between Portlarnon and Belfast. Excursion steamers carrying pilgrims also were pelted with stones at Larne and several men were struck. Stones also crashed through the windows of the St. Narcissus chapel at Larne.

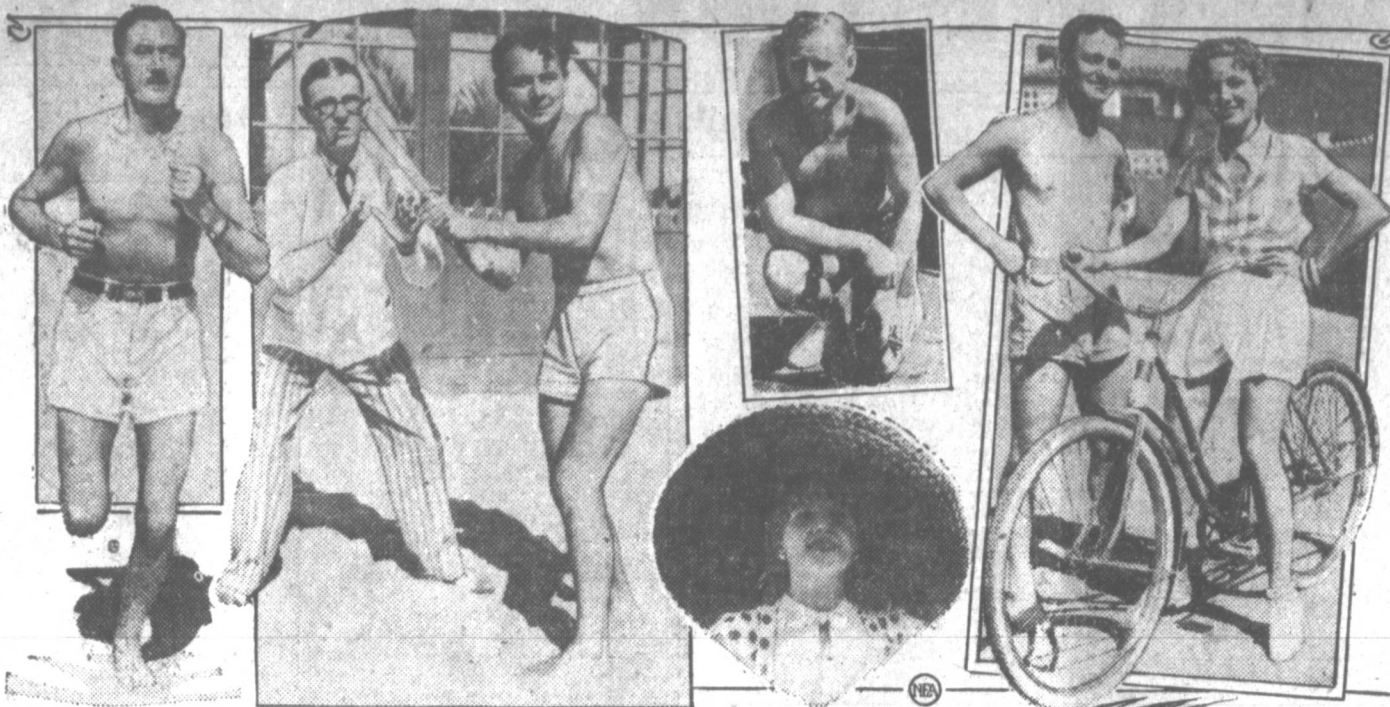

The worst outbreak occurred at Ballymena where the orangemen were on hand as hundreds of pilgrims gathered at the railway station to take their trains. Several pilgrims were beaten and kicked and women were roughed.

Before the attack began a large crowd of orangemen paraded thru the town singing party songs and hurling abuses at the pope.

THIRD PARTY THREAT

KENTON, O., June 28 (AP)—C. E. Wharton, of Kenton, president of the Federal Farm Clubs of America, said here today that his organization would project a third candidate into the presidential field if the democrats fail to nominate Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, of New York.

HOLLYWOOD'S STARS MEET THOSE NUDISTS HALF WAY

Hollywood's male stars are taking the short route to fashion on California beaches, as you'd judge by these brief glimpses of them. . . Harry Bannister, former husband of Ann Harding, gave the camera man a run for his money. . . Baseball stars might be more comfortable if they'd step up to the plate in the "uniform" that William Collier, Jr., wears in the next picture. The catcher, who's taking no chances on getting sun-burned, is Robert Woolsey. . . and Ralph Ince, who's seen (above) as he knelt to judge a toad race on Malibu Beach, suggests this sort of "robe" for all kinds of judges. . . There's nothing big-headed about Lillyan Tashman (below), but that floppy beach hat of hers must just about have taken the last straw. . . Lella Hayms and her husband, Phil Berg, are wearing beach outfits that might be called pedal exercisers.

Kiwanis Organization Reports on Great Accomplishments for Year

DETROIT, June 28.—Kiwanis as a social force in community affairs was shown today at the second day's sessions of the 16th annual convention of Kiwanis International being held here this week. General welfare, charity and relief work and under-privileged child assistance were all increased during the last year, officials said. "Clubs have given greater service to their communities in spite of the industrial and economic conditions," declared William O. Harris, of Los Angeles, international president.

The following results were shown in a statistical survey for club work in the United States and Canada during the past 12 months:

Engaged children	1,179
Agricultural projects	1,018
Vocational and educational work	1,856
Aid to business and industry	896
Improvement civic conditions	1,705
Health, sanitation and hospitals	321
General charity work	1,929
General boys' and girls' work	1,636
Playgrounds, recreation, athletics	966
Citizenship and patriotic endeavors	1,543

All clubs were urged to take active parts in the present-day great social problems by doing constructive and helpful work that would benefit the individual. Unemployment aid, citizenship and character training, traffic safety, urban-rural relations work, get-out-the-vote activity, promoting health and sanitation measures, child aid, and education to foster international good will were all emphasized as challenging objectives.

International Hour
The convention observed an International Hour during the morning program. George H. Ross, of Toronto, and Harry E. Karr, of Baltimore, both past International presidents of Kiwanis, spoke in behalf of their countries. The speakers praised the friendly relationship that has existed between Canada and the United States for over a century. In 1925, Kiwanis dedicated the President Harding International Good Will memorial at Vancouver, British Columbia, and it has been at this shrine the thousands of world travelers have seen exemplified the peaceful "fortifications" between the two countries. Mr. Karr stated:

"Fortune to Share"
"Profit, financial and spiritual, comes to the man who doesn't bark too eagerly on its trail," said Young New York City, told the assembled delegates. Young, a leading insurance solicitor writing over two million dollars each year, and he would never "go into any business venture if my happiness depends on the outcome." No business in the world is worth unhappy hours, he remarked, and suggested that recovery for people today will come when they banish fear, worry, anger and temper and begin to tap the life source of love and happiness.

Continent-Wide Meetings
William O. Harris, of Los Angeles, president, addressed all members of the North American continent last night. The occasion was the annual "All Kiwanis Night," and clubs in their local communities from the Atlantic to the Pacific met simultaneously. Members listened to the message of Mr. Harris and arranged a program for expressing gratitude for the fellowship and accomplishments of the organization during the last year.

Mr. Harris said, "Social, industrial, agricultural and economic problems are calling for champions. Governmental agencies are calling for help and cooperation and the very ideals of American and Canadian citizenship are being undermined with the attempt to destroy! Destructive influences are flourishing within our own communities and true citizenship is at the door of Kiwanis today! The trials and tribulations which have befallen all of us during the past twelve months serve only tonight to emphasize the true value of that spirit of fellowship and friendship which has always characterized the activities of Kiwanis.

"Seventeen years of constructive accomplishment, seventeen years of community service is the endowment of Kiwanis tonight. We can justly glory in the accomplishments

Tips on CONTRACT MAKE

By TOM O'NEIL
TRIUMPH AT THE WRONG MAKE

Some of the greatest thrills at contract come to the declarer when accidentally he finds himself playing a contract he had no intention of attempting and succeeding with it.

A hand that gave L. L. Engeling of New York a thrill was one in which he made a little slam at clubs, holding only three of them. He meant to raise his partner's five diamond bid to six diamonds. Inadvertently he said five clubs, an insufficient bid.

He then could have bid six diamonds, but in his excitement, thought he had to say six clubs. Because of Engeling's insufficient bid his partner, the original diamond bidder, was debarred from the contracting. Engeling found the trumps nicely distributed and was able to finesse a nine-spot successfully.

Local People at Funeral in Iowa

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Madorin and Morris Madorin are in Waterloo, Iowa, attending the funeral of Mrs. Madorin's brother, F. Earl Henney, who died following burns suffered when he touched a high tension wire. Mr. Henney had been connected with the Iowa Public Service company for the last 28 years.

Everett H. Ritchie, fellow workman, was killed instantly when he fell across three wires while rushing to the aid of Mr. Henney.

Mr. Henney fell 45 feet to the ground from the tower of a sub-station on which he was working. He suffered severe body and head injuries in the fall.

He is survived by two other sisters with whom he lived in Waterloo.

Fields Too Wet To Permit Harvest

Most wheat fields in the Pampa territory were still too wet to permit combine travel yesterday. The wheat has been ripe and ready for harvest for a week.

Practically no wheat has been harvested and no estimate as to the average test can be made at this time. However, wheat that has been harvested has tested from 44 to 53 pounds to the bushel.

The greatest menace to harvest at the present time is weeds, which are growing thickly and rapidly now account of the rain. The weeds are not thriving in wheat that is still green.

South opened with a bid of one diamond, west passed and north bid three diamonds. East passed and south jumped to five diamonds. West passed again and then came Engeling's slip and bid of six clubs, which was passed all around.

East led his fourth best heart, the six, which was taken by the declarer's ace. Engeling led the third dummy the seven. Another club led by Engeling put dummy in, and north's last trump was utilized to ruff a heart. A diamond led put south in again to pick up east's last trump. The king of spades was finessed to east's king, but that was the only trick lost by the declarer.

TEXANS STICK TO INSTRUCTION AND TO GARNER

BY FRED DYE
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, June 28 (AP)—Bound by the unit rule and the strict instructions of the state convention which rent them to the democratic national convention, the Texas delegates faced routine performances at today's session of the quadrennial gathering.

John N. Garner, speaker of the national house, had the unwavering support of the delegation in the face of reported shifts in sentiment among other delegations, and the Texas leaders continued hopefully in their effort to gain new adherents to the Texas-California standard.

"We are in a most strategic position," said W. A. Farver, Texas state commissioner of insurance and banking. "When the break comes, you will find the friends of Garner have worked very effectively. He has no enemies among the other delegations and he has friends and admirers in every delegation." Farver holds the proxy of Gov. R. S. Sterling.

There was an increasing number of visitors and well-wishers at the Garner headquarters last night. The avenue of headquarters down the long second floor corridor of the Congress hotel was packed well to wall with sightseers and others until after midnight. The big Garner room gathered its quota, with Walter Woodward, state senator; Edgar Witt, lieutenant governor; Amos G. Carter, the Fort Worth publisher; Walter Woodcut of Houston; Sillman Evans, Garner's national director of publicity, and others acting as greeters and expounding the virtues of the Texas candidate.

Today's program promised numerous hard floor fights, but by state convention and Chicago caucus, the Texas delegation had its ballots out-lying.

On the election of a permanent chairman, the delegation is bound by caucus to support J. J. Shouse. On rules it is bound to oppose abrogation of the two-thirds rule for nomination. Both matters received contrary committee recommendations last night but today was another time for another settlement, with the entire convention to pass on them.

BUCK HARRIS BUILDING FINE YOUNG TEAM AT DETROIT

'BOY MANAGER' OF TIGERS ON SECOND RUNG

HIS OUTFIT RECRUITED FROM INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

By GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Buck Harris' exploits at Washington in 1924 and '25, when he led the Senators to two pennants and one world championship, will pale by comparison if the former "boy manager" lands his Detroit Tigers as high as second place in the American league race.

That other team was a veteran unit, turned over to him intact. His present team is his own, one he has built in three years of honest effort.

Even now, on paper, the Tigers do not look impressive. They were recruited largely from the International league. Outside of the pitching staff, the only ones who could have been rated as major league stars a few months ago were Charlie Gehring, second baseman, and Earl Webb, slugger outfielder. But they are playing winning ball and they still were in second place today with the race nearly half gone.

Two of the brightest prospects are Gerald Walker, the young outfielder from Toronto who had a trial last year, and Iseadore Goldstein, the 22-year-old pitcher picked up from Beaumont in the Texas league. They were co-stars in yesterday's 9 to 3 win over the Chicago White Sox, Goldstein limiting the Sox to five hits and Walker connecting for three doubles.

Philadelphia supplied the day's other successes in the American league by walling the recumbent Boston Red Sox, 15 to 8 and 9 to 4.

St. Louis was rained out at Cleveland in the only other game scheduled.

Pittsburgh's now-won leadership of the National league grew to a full half game as the second place Chicago Cubs dropped the day's lone encounter to the Cardinals, 4 to 1.

Walker Cup Team Announced Today

NEW YORK, June 28. (AP)—Selection of a squad of ten players for the American Walker cup team, which will meet a British team in the international golf matches at Brookline, Mass., Sept. 1-2, was announced today by Herbert H. Ramsay, president of the United States Golf association.

Its makeup follows:

Francis Ouimet of Boston, captain.

George T. Dunlap, Jr., of Princeton.

Billy Howell of Richmond, Va.

Harrison R. (Jimmy) Johnston of St. Paul.

Donald K. Moe of Portland, Ore.

Maurice McCarthy, Jr., of New York.

Charles Seaver of Los Angeles.

Jess W. Sweetser of New York.

George J. Voigt of New York.

Jack Westland of Chicago.

RESTING FOR JOURNEY

This Game of GOLF

By O.B. KEELER

Play in the British championships, makes it appear that the United States is not to enjoy its biennial walk-over in the International Walker Cup match at the Country Club, Brookline, Mass., September 1 and 2.

The U. S. forces may win again, for the seventh straight anything certainly do not look for anything like the 11-1 and the 10-2 wallowing the Americans handed the Britons at the Chicago Golf club in 1928, and at Sandwich in 1930.

For one thing, a couple of stalwarts will be missing from the American ranks. Bobby Jones, who played in singles and only once in foursomes, is definitely out and so is George Von Elm.

Good old Francis Ouimet, the only American who has played in all six matches, will be captain, of course—he is amateur champion, and his wise old head is admirably fitted to wear the crown worn in 1928 and 1930 by Jones.

The American side will not be selected before the United States open championship, or thereabout, when the executive committee of the United States Golf association, now accumulating headaches individually over the problem, will get together and try to agree on something.

Candidates Many

Among the probabilities—setting Ouimet down at once as a certainty—we might suggest Jess Sweetser, a veteran who played in the first match in 1922; George Voigt; Harrison Johnston, another veteran; Maurice McCarthy, Jr.; Gene Homans, Johnny Lehman, Don Moe,

The McManus Fate

Marty McManus, still a young man at 32, has been in on just as much as the next veterans of 11 American League seasons. But as a reporter asked Martin Joseph when the announcement naming him successor to John Collins was made.

"What do you think?" Marty replied. "I suppose a lot of people won't consider it much of a promotion, but when I first broke into baseball I thought that some day I'd like to manage a team."

Well, if that is the real McManus sentiment, perhaps he deserves the fate.

All-Time Cellar Champs

Cinderella couldn't have experienced the drugery of the West Coast known since 1918, the last year of an American League pennant in Boston. The Sox have finished last in the league standings nine times, eight of them since 1918.

In making it easier for the rival clubs, particularly the Yankees, they've gained nothing but abuse. Shaugh Collins showed them a little party life last year, bring them up to sixth place. This year they slipped back farther than usual, if you can imagine that.

McManus would hardly pass for the Prince Charming of the nursery books. Still, he ought to qualify if he can rescue the Sox from the dark confines of the American League basement.

Siam's Monarch Now Plain King

BANGKOK, June 28. (AP)—King Prajadhipok renounced the throne of Siam Monday, a plain, constitutional monarch, and the meagre ranks of the world's absolute kingdoms was reduced by one.

A new Siam, with a constitution, was born of last week's revolution, by a proclamation signed yesterday by the king himself, his powers were limited, and all acts of the people's party, which supported the revolt, were legalized.

The somewhat frail king, whose word a few days ago was the law and who was held in semi-divine reverence as a descendant of Buddha, immediately set to work to study the new constitution.

He arrived here before dawn Sunday from Hualien, where he had spent a vacation, accompanied by Prince Suasti, Prince Purachatra and Prince Aloungkut.

Prince Aloungkut, former viceminister of war, left the train at the public railway station and was arrested immediately, taken to the throne hall of one of the palaces and placed with the other princes who were taken into custody when the revolt broke out last week. The two princes who remained with the king were not arrested.

The civilian leader of the people's party is Luang Pradit Manudharm, a brilliant young man who was educated in France.

BEAUMONT HAS HALF PENNANT AFTER VICTORY

SECOND HALF TO BEGIN TOMORROW WITH ALL EVEN

By The Associated Press

There are three games in the Texas league today, but they are purely commercial propositions.

Beaumont won the first half championship yesterday by virtue of a 6-2 victory over Fort Worth. Nothing that happens today can take first place away from Beaumont, second, from Houston, third from Dallas, or fourth from Longview.

Half a game to the rear, Fort Worth may possibly nose out Galveston for fifth place, but the prospect of such an occurrence is exciting comparatively little enthusiasm.

The Exporters, as related by the analysts of the city, had been waiting and patiently hoping for a championship for something like twenty years. Art Herring, who joined the club only two weeks ago, pitched the deciding contest, yielding seven scattered hits. Tommy Hughes was the offensive star. He got three for four, one of them a home run.

This game decided the race. Convinced, perhaps, of the futility of struggling, the Buffs played eight innings under the arc lights without scoring and lost out to Dallas, 3-1.

San Antonio made a good finish of a bad first half with an 8-3 victory over Tyler, the only club below them in the standings. Both teams will rest today and hope for better fortune in the second half, starting tomorrow.

The Galveston Buccaneers moved half a game ahead of Fort Worth by beating Longview 3 to 2.

Strikes In Mexico Trouble Country

MEXICO CITY, June 28. (AP)—A railway strike, involving 3,500 employees of the Southern Pacific railroad of Mexico, and the threat of several other strikes, cast a shadow over Mexico today.

The Southern Pacific employees went out on strike yesterday afternoon after negotiations for a settlement failed and operations on the 1,300-mile road were completely shut down.

Mexico City street car employees continued on strike today and there was a report the workers of the Mexican National railways were preparing to strike soon.

Fullman company employees and Mexico City bankers both have declared strikes for Thursday.

Breaking Club Means Sure "9"

By JOHNNY FARRELL

(As Told To Artie McGovern)

A good golf swing, embodying all the fundamental rules of the game, is essential in keeping scores below 100, but many golfers have excellent golf form but cannot turn in a good score, simply because of their frequent outbursts of temperament.

The golfer who misses his tee shot and tries to break his club in a fit of anger, is surely going to finish the hole with a 9. On the other hand, if he laughs it off, he still has a chance of making par by getting down in one putt.

In a tight situation, Mr. Average Golfer, starts to fret and get angry, working himself up to such a pitch that the chances are he will miss the next shot entirely. As soon as the next one that's important and that will count in your final score.

Remember that golf is a game to give you recreation, outdoor exercise, sunshine and fresh air. When you make a poor shot, assume the attitude that it's all in the game, and you will soon find an amazing difference in your score.

WILL CANVASS RETURNS

AMARILLO, June 28. (AP)—Official canvass of returns in Amarillo's special mayoralty election, June 14, will be made tonight. Unofficial returns gave Ross D. Rogers a lead of 170 votes over his nearest opponent, Lon D. Marrs, and only 18 less than both Marrs and H. A. Dank, a third candidate. The official count tonight will determine whether a run-off election will be necessary.

BROADCAST OF FOOTBALL MAY BE PREVENTED

EASTERN ASSOCIATION FACES DWINDLING RECEIPTS

NEW YORK, June 28. (AP)—Football and radio have come to the parting of the ways so far as the Eastern Intercollegiate Athletic association is concerned.

Faced with the prospect of dwindling receipts, this powerful group of 12 major eastern colleges and universities has voted to prohibit radio broadcasting of all football games played at their home stadiums or under their jurisdiction next season.

The association comprises a dozen of the largest schools in the east including Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Pennsylvania, Brown, Pittsburgh, Navy, Army, Columbia, Syracuse, Dartmouth, and Penn State.

Sidney Wood Is Beaten In Tennis

WIMBLEDON, Eng., June 28. (AP)—Sidney Wood, Jr., youthful American defender of the British title of the British tennis champion, was eliminated today in the quarter-finals by Jiro Satoh of Japan. The scores were 7-5, 7-6, 6-4.

Wood's defeat followed a decisive victory for Eilsworth Vines, U. S. United States singles champion, in another quarter-final match, over Enrique Maier, Spanish titleholder 6-2, 6-3, 6-2.

Mr. Treadwell was Hot . . . but His Motor Wasn't!

CONTINENTAL OIL COMPANY

"During my recent vacation I had occasion to give Conoco Processed Oil a real test, driving some 1,600 miles, temperature from 105 degrees to 111 degrees. The car never previously stayed as cool, and drove nicer, and I attribute it to no other cause than the use of Germ Processed Oil. Yours truly, T. P. TREADWELL."

Although Mr. Treadwell is Chief of the Fire Department at Fort Collins, Colorado, he must have been pretty hot in weather like that!

But is not 105 to 111-degree weather his motor didn't heat up! Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil withstands heat better because Conoco's exclusive, patented Germ Process gives it extra "oiliness" other oils don't have. That extra oiliness reduces motor operating temperatures. It guards against the burning caused by heat and crankcase dilution. It gives Germ Processed Oil more stability.

And, no matter how hot the weather, the Hidden Quart stays up in your motor and never drains away. It's always on duty when you start, cutting down costly wear during the starting period, when almost half of all motor accidents occur.

For summer, far winter, any time—Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil is a better oil for your car. Change over at any Conoco Red Tri-angel station.

This unpaid testimonial is on file at Conoco headquarters.

APPROVED FOR OLYMPIC TEAM

Here is the frock that will be the official street dress for the American team at the Olympic games this summer.

THE official "street dress" chosen by the Olympic committee for the American team is made of linen. The very decided kimono sleeves are the outstanding feature.

The dress is made of yellow linen, with a large white veelet effect in the front. The diagonal striped scarf belt incorporates the Olympic colors (blue, green, black, yellow, red and white).

The necklace is made of the same material, "dumb-bells" to match the bracelet. The bracelet is made of clustered beads, shaped like tiny dumb-bells.

THE NEWS IS STYLE CONSCIOUS "Style conscious" best expresses the position of THE NEWS regarding fashions for women.

Next month's Olympic games are making their impression on women's fashions. The official clothing chosen for the American team by the Olympic committee is decidedly interesting, and style perfect.

When a style illustration appears on the women's page of THE NEWS, it can be depended upon as an up-to-the-minute suggestion.

Political Follies of 1932 By RODNEY DUTCHER NEA Service Writer CHICAGO.—As if from so many booths at a gaudy carnival, the wares of the various (democratic) candidates are ballyhooed at a greater number of presidential headquarters than have been established at a national convention since nearly everyone went scrambling for nominations in 1920.

PARIS PREFERS BRIMS ON HATS; THEY ARE INCH TO FOOT WIDE

BY DIANA MERWIN (Associated Press Fashion Writer)

PARIS, June 28. (AP)—"Wear a brim for smartness" is the summer edict for chapeau chic.

In contrast to last season when berets were the rule, brims varying all the way from an inch to a foot in width are now seen wherever smart women gather.

Black, white, brown, blue, green and red straw saliors trimmed with nothing more than a ribbon band and cockade are seen more often than any other chapeau. They are a far cry from the old-fashioned round sailor, however, for they dip in unexpected angles and are worn at an exaggerated tilt on one side of the head.

Brims as wide as their mothers wore in the gay twenties are displayed by many Parisians at formal afternoon affairs. Huge black mil-laus with faulle crowns in white or pastel shades, and natural colored leghorns with flower trims lend a sophisticated air to tea costumes.

At theater and dancing wear where brims are out of the question the turban has replaced last year's beret. Little close-fitting turbans of shaded satin ribbon in shimmering hues of blue, green and rose are draped in openwork design to reveal the wave of the coiffure.

Scarves of striped jersey are wound about the head and finished in a high point at the left back and little jewel tinted velvet skull caps are designed to match the evening wraps with which they are worn.

White turbans and saliors are favorite chapeaus with black or dark blue clothes. They are always worn with white gauntlet gloves.

CHINA, JAPAN, AND RUSSIA TO BE STUDIED BY CULTURE CLUB A tentative outline for next year's study was made by the yearbook committee of the Twentieth Century Culture club yesterday in the home of Mrs. Carl Boston, chairman.

Full activities of the club will be begun with the presidents' breakfast Sept. 26, and a parliamentary program has been slated for Oct. 11. The next three programs will be based on Japan, and the country will be studied from the standpoint of education, religion, government, fine arts and social relations.

A Christmas and Bible program will be given on Dec. 13, and Federation day will be observed on Jan. 10. Similar to the programs on Japan will be three interesting programs on China, Russia and the study of the history of the group for the next five programs.

Special programs will be arranged for a tea on Jan. 31, and a Texas day observance at the open house to be held on May 23.

Those at yesterday's meeting were Mrs. F. Ewing Leech, club president, Mrs. Boston, committee chairman, Mrs. A. G. Post, Mrs. E. C. Will, and Mrs. Olin E. Hinkle.

LINDBERGH

(Continued from Page 1) bergh domestic staff, Betty Gow, the baby's nurse, and Mrs. Ollie Wheatley, the housekeeper. Both were at the Lindbergh home in Hopewell when the baby was stolen. Both were questioned at the time by police. And both were completely exonerated of any implication. Curtis' story of the kidnapping, as he told Lindbergh he learned it from the kidnapers themselves, was as follows according to Lindbergh's testimony today: The kidnaping was staged by two men, John and another known as Eric or Nils, who came from Neelaw. After conferring with the unnamed member of the Lindbergh household they chloroformed the baby, taking him from the house through the pantry door downstairs. A green sedan was parked a few hundred yards from the house and the baby was taken away in that, under care a nurse called Gretchen. With the baby lying in an improvised cradle in the car, the kidnapers drove to Cape May, N. J., where they boarded the schooner. Lindbergh said Curtis told him Gretchen wrote all the ransom notes. All during Lindbergh's testimony Curtis sat at the defense table, his head held high, listening intently. Shortly before he put out on the boat Cachalot on May 9 in a new effort to contact the kidnapers, Lindbergh continued, Curtis told him of meeting "Hilda," one of the alleged kidnap band, in a New York railroad station. "I feel I know too much for my own good about the people I'm dealing with," Col. Lindbergh quipped Curtis as telling him on that occasion. In telling of Curtis' remarks about a member of the Lindbergh household being implicated in the kidnaping, Col. Lindbergh expressed entire faith in his servants. "We have only three servants and have absolute faith in them," he testified. The third member of the Lindbergh household staff is Wheatley, husband of the housekeeper. He is the Butler. Prosecutor Anthony Hauck asked Lindbergh what explanation Curtis gave when efforts to make contact with the kidnapers repeatedly failed. "I said Hilda explained her husband was in a difficult position but would try to make contact," Lindbergh replied. "Mr. Curtis said he told her—using his words—if they were in pigging me to say so and get out." At last Col. Lindbergh came to the point in his story where he had to tell of the discovery of the baby's death. He had himself well in hand and spoke in a steady voice. "On May 12," he said, "Mr. Bruce

PATRONAGE OF HOME INDUSTRY IS STRESSED

FORT WORTH, June 28 (AP)—Progress through patronizing home industry was the theme expressed by speakers today at the annual convention of the Texas retail grocers' association here. W. H. Miller, San Antonio, vice-president, presided at the morning session. W. C. Edwards, Dallas, managing director of Progressive Texans, Inc., stressed the part the retailer must play in the industrial development of Texas. He said a recent survey showed Texas is supplying only 17 per cent of the fresh vegetables and truck consumed in Fort Worth and Dallas and other states are supplying 83 per cent. "Many Texas manufacturers and producers," he declared, "have carefully ignored the possibilities of both advertising and militant salesmanship. However, retailers of the state can count on more co-operation from wholesalers and manufacturers in this respect henceforth." He advised retail grocers to stock everything they can find that is produced or manufactured in Texas as if it were good. Florida money spent for food products out of state was reduced from $127,000,000 in 1927 to $50,000,000 in 1931. "I did you that my son's body had been found." "Did you identify the body?" the prosecutor asked. "Yes." "How?" "By the clothes and the feet." Col. Lindbergh said that when the baby was found dead Curtis told him he would do everything possible to bring the kidnapers to justice. Several heard said, Curtis repeated substantially all his story of negotiations with the kidnapers. The 13th is the first of five days mentioned in the indictment on which Curtis is alleged to have given false information. Curtis told his story that day, Lindbergh said, in the presence of state police and a federal operative. Col. Lindbergh said that while he was making the last effort to reach the kidnapers before it was learned the baby was dead he was not accompanied on the boat Cachalot by Curtis. "Mr. Curtis was ashore from the 10th to 12th of May," he said. "He said he had gone to Cape May where Hilda's sister, Inez, was operating the kidnapers' radio station. He said he was extremely afraid." The prosecution completed its direct examination of Col. Lindbergh at 11:05 a. m. eastern standard time and cross examination immediately begun.

Gambler's Throw by Eustace L. Adams

STROPIS: "Marry me," Jerry Calhoun tells Nancy Wentworth when she says that Jimmy Ashwood, the gangster who is keeping her and four men on an island for ransom, has threatened to make her become his wife. Jerry, Emory Battles and Stevens have been captured while trying to rescue the prisoners. Chapter 26 A THOUSAND DEVILS THE three stared at Jerry as though he had lost his mind. He sifted loose sand through his fingers, not looking up. "Of course," he continued slowly, "you understand that the marriage would be in name only. If we ever get back to civilization we could all work together and have it quietly annulled. Steve and Emory would be witnesses to prove that it had been done as the lesser of two evils." A thousand devils were grinning from Emory's dancing eyes as he glanced from the sober-faced, flushed Nancy to the embarrassed Jerry. "Fine scheme. If you ask me," Stevens said hastily. "You probably won't have to worry about a divorce, or an annulment, either, because if you aren't a widow by the time you leave here, it won't be Jerry's fault. He's more anxious to go and get himself killed than any fellow I ever saw—unless it's his addle-headed running mate, here." Jerry's ears burned as he saw the girl survey him thoughtfully. He had never been much of a ladies' man. But he did feel foolish, somehow. Talking about even this kind of a marriage as though they were discussing a missing engine or a spavined horse. A small hand suddenly rested upon his knee. He looked up to see Nancy smiling at him through tear-washed eyes. "You are a dear boy, Jerry, and I trust you," she said, simply. "I'll leave all the details to you three." She rose and walked rapidly toward the house. Emory brows into a chuckle. Jerry glared at him. "What are you laughing at, you snip? I've got a good mind to poke you in the nose!" "I'm laughing out of pure relief," gasped Emory, "that I wasn't the fair-haired laddie who thought of that wonderful scheme! Oh boy! Our little Jerry, restless wanderer of the air trails, married!" "Shut up!" growled Jerry morosely. "Didn't you hear the conversation?" "Sure, I heard it," Emory's grin was maddening. "Didn't you hear me say that the marriage would be in name only?" "Sure, oh sure, we heard it, didn't we, Steve?" The detective's eyes were twinkling, but his face was impassive. "Well, then don't be an ass!" muttered Jerry. "I heard you say it," glibbed Emory, "but it didn't mean anything. You wait." "It's just because I have a wonderful control over my temper," observed Jerry wittingly. "That I don't beat you up. I'd do it right now if we had any privacy." He rose and strode toward the house, very much on his dignity. The majestic hauteur of his retreat was not made easier by the sound of Emory's raucous laughter which followed him all the way to the porch steps. An almost unbearable aura of uneasiness pervaded everything within the house, blended with the

SECRET SOCIETIES BARRED

AUSTIN, June 28 (AP)—Regents of the University of Texas have adopted resolutions directing dismissal from the university of students who are members of secret political organizations and publishers or circulators of anonymous publications. The expression was prompted by appearance of the campus of a publication called "The Spark," purported to be published by the "University of Texas chapter of the national student league." The regents said there was no university chapter of the league. The resolution said "The Spark" tended to "inculcate a lack of respect for and violent opposition to established government, such that the result of its circulation would be to create discord and result in permanent injury to the university."
