Somebody signaled diamonds and made it a love set—or what kind of a game is this? Anyway Oswald Jacoby, New York bridge expert, and Miss Mary Zita McFale, national public parks tennis champion of Dallas, Tex., have the contract and will be married at an early date, they announce. The set became love two after a week of whirlwind courtship during Jacoby's Texas lecture tour. He promptly discarded his clubs and made his bid. Both sides were vulnerable.

PAMPA TOPICS OF OUR CITY

By O.E.H.

Turning back the years for the Frontier Days celebration of May 26-28, let us not fail to appreciate the hardships the people underwent in "the old days".

Those Hardships

Fail not to consider the hardships of the pioneer women and girls. The Pampa wishes it strictly understood that in suggesting Frontier Days he was not advocating a return to old-time customs—except for a brief period in order to laugh at them. No sir, we have heard enough of even the gay '90s to avoid the wonders of that day as much as possible.

WARSAW (P)—Polish officials have put an O. K. on the American method of keeping the doctor away—an apple a day. Last fall they put out a prohibitive order against the American fruit. Now they realize what they're missing, so they've modified the order and, in due time, will be able to bite into a luscious northern spy with gusto.

MISS THOMAS UNSEATED BY COURT ORDER

GOVERNOR CONTINUES FIGHT TO REMOVE ENEMY

HIS POWER RESTRICTED

ONLY COURTS COULD TAKE DRASTIC ACTION

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 25 (P)—Nullifying an executive order of Governor William H. Murray, two district judges today ruled that Lew Wentz, wealthy Republican ousted from the Oklahoma highway commission April 1 by Murray, should be reinstated.

The decision vacated the appointment by Murray of Miss Maude O. Thomas, also a Republican, to succeed Wentz. An appeal to the state supreme court is expected.

The decision by Judges Lucius Babcock and Sam Hooker, was handed down as court opened today. Notice of motion for a new trial was given.

"We hold that the act of the legislature, chapter 68 of the session laws of 1929, is not contrary to any provisions of the state constitution, but is in all respects a constitutional law," declared Judge Babcock.

"We hold that this law is the sole and only source of the power of the governor to appoint a highway commissioner," the decision added. "Under its provisions, a highway commissioner, during the term for which he is appointed, may be removed from the office only by any court of competent jurisdiction."

The ruling specifically held that the governor has no power to remove a member of the highway commission, and that the "executive order of removal issued by the governor of the state of Oklahoma, April 1, 1932, declaring the removal of the defendant, Wentz, from office was null and void and the order of appointment declaring the appointment of plaintiff to be the Republican member of the state highway commission of the state of Oklahoma, in lieu of Lew H. Wentz, removed, to serve the unexpired term of the said Lew H. Wentz, is likewise void, and the defendant and not the plaintiff is a member of the state highway commission."

Borger Recall Vote Is Ordered

BORGER, April 25 (P)—District Judge E. J. Pickens today ordered the Borger city commission to call a recall election for Mayor John R. Miller and members of the city commission. His decision was made in connection with a spur by the state. Judge Pickens said he later would order the election called before some certain date.

That Clyde Gold, fire chief, knows that the wind blows in this country but he doesn't know whether it can be controlled. Clyde drove off No. 2 tee box at the Red Deer course yesterday morning and the ball went several hundred feet in the air—more or less. The pellet was about 200 feet high when it got over No. 2 green and Clyde yelled stop. A gust of wind stopped the ball dead and it dropped, hitting the side of the cup on the green. The ball then proceeded to bounce into the rough. It might have been a hole-in-one.

QUIZZED IN BEAR HUNT

Investigation of short selling on the New York stock market by the U. S. Senate committee brought to light "enormous losses" by one of New York's wealthiest men and a statement by a prominent broker that bear activity had nothing to do with the recent decline in the market. Percy Rockefeller, nephew of the Standard Oil millionaire, is shown in lower picture taking oath before testifying. He cited losses of several millions during the 1929 market crash. In the top photo, Matthew C. Brush, left, veteran Wall Street bear, testifies before the Senate committee on bear speculations, which he says are harmless. To his left is Senator Frederic C. Walcott of Connecticut.

STUCKEY AWARDED CONTRACT IN HEMPHILL COUNTY FOR 17 MILES FROM CANADIAN WEST

The Stuckey Construction company was awarded the contract to lay 16.9 miles of concrete paving on Highway 33 from the Roberts county line to Canadian by the State Highway department at Austin Saturday. Amount of the Stuckey bid was $279,191.

Paving of Highway 33 from the Oklahoma line at Higgins through Lipscomb county to Glazier was completed last week, and construction is now under way on an 8-mile strip from Glazier to Canadian. Contract to pave the highway in Roberts county will be let at the May meeting of the state highway commission, according to a communication received last week at Miami from Judge W. R. Ely, a member of the commission. Right-of-way for the road has been negotiated for, but county commissioners must sell more bonds before they will be able to pay for it.

Saturday, the department also let a contract to build 15.5 miles of caliche base road with a single bituminous surface from Clayton west to the Deaf Smith county line to the McClung Construction company of Wichita Falls. Provision has been made to pave the road from the Oklahoma line to Hereford this year. When the hard-surfacing projects in the various counties are completed, the road will be the longest concrete stretch in the Panhandle. Highway 33 is also U. S. Highway 60.

THOROUGH JOB OF THIEVING DONE AT FARM HOMES NORTH OF PAMPA—CLUES ARE FOUND

Thieves visited two homes north of Pampa Saturday afternoon and escaped with quantities of clothing, food and poultry. Sheriff Lon L. Blansett and other officers of the sheriff's department are working on the case. They have good descriptions of the men.

The home of Stanley Kretzmeier, one mile north and two miles west of Pampa, was entered while the family was in Pampa Saturday afternoon. Practically all of Mrs. Kretzmeier's clothing was stolen. The thieves went into the cellar and took several jars of canned meats, vegetables, and fruit. They then went to the poultry yard and gathered all the eggs.

WIDESPREAD DAMAGE DONE BY WINDS AND HAIL

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 25 (P)—At least two persons were killed, several others were reported killed and a score or more were injured by a tornado that twisted into the northern end of Shelby county, Tenn., today.

Mrs. T. J. Hale, 65, a farmer's wife, died at a Memphis hospital after the roof of her house near Scriverville caved in. A negro, Robert Harris, 65, of Millington, died en route to a Memphis hospital. Mrs. Dale's husband, who was working in the fields, was injured, as were three negroes working with him.

All were brought to hospitals here. Newspaper men who visited Millington, said about a dozen negroes were injured there and that although houses and other buildings were wrecked, there were no deaths there. The reporters hurried on a survey at the other towns reported hit.

C. D. Shelton, Rosemark merchant, said several persons were injured there but he could not give their names. Two of them were brought to a hospital here.

Other reports said at least two were killed at Rosemark. Most of the injured were taken to Brunswick for treatment. A dozen homes in and around Rosemark and Millington were demolished, the reports said. It was impossible at first to estimate damage.

First Judge of Panhandle to Be Buried Tomorrow

AMARILLO, April 25 (P)—Public services for Emanuel Dubbs, first judge in the Panhandle, will be held at Clarendon Wednesday.

Dubbs, who served as judge of Wheeler county from 1882 to 1890, died Saturday at his home in Millfield, Indiana. He first came to the Panhandle in 1871, as a buffalo hunter. He later entered the ministry and was pastor of the First Christian church at Clarendon, where he lived until 1922.

The body will be interred in the Clarendon cemetery beside his first wife, who died there in 1911. Services will be conducted by his grandson and namesake, the Rev. Emanuel Dubbs, pastor of the First Christian church at Drumright, Okla.

Five sons survive him. They are C. W. W. F. and S. S. of Amarillo, C. D. Newkirk, N. M., and F. A. Bristow, Okla.

Judge Dubbs was known by many old timers of Gray county and Pampa, including Newton P. Willis, whose father was judge of the 31st judicial district at Mobeetie during the 'eighties.

Mr. Dubbs mixed agriculture with his court activities, Judge Willis said. He used to bring eggs, vegetables, milk and butter into Mobeetie.

During the 'seventies and 'eighties, vegetables and produce brought fabulous prices at Fort Elliott and at Mobeetie. Eggs sometimes sold for a dollar a dozen.

ROTHSTEIN'S GIRL "CALLS"

Inez Norton, former sweetheart of the slain New York gambler, Arnold Rothstein, was "requested to call voluntarily" by Police Chief William Quinn of San Francisco and is shown chatting with him above. "I don't know any gangsters," Miss Norton said. "Mr. Rothstein did not permit me to meet his associates." Police lieutenants and a gangster squad inspector were present. Although Miss Norton's escort said it was a social call, Chief Quinn said, "I never saw her before." But he didn't say why she was quizzed.

STURGEON TO HELP ALLRED TEMPORARILY

Attorney's Injury Is Still Serious Ailment

A neck vertebrae injury suffered by District Attorney Raymond Allred in an automobile accident last November, has become so painful that Judge W. R. Ewing of 31st district court this morning appointed John Sturgeon to assist in the prosecution of criminal cases this week. The appointment was made at the suggestion of Mr. Allred.

The district attorney was injured while returning with Sheriff Lon L. Blansett and a prisoner from Huntsville to Pampa. The accident occurred near Vemon when a truck darted across the road. Sheriff Blansett was forced to go into the ditch to avoid a collision.

The injury was not particularly painful at first but as months passed, a nerve pressed by the vertebrae caused headaches. Several weeks ago, Mr. Allred went to Martin for medical treatment. He was advised by physicians to rest for several weeks and to avoid mental and physical exertion. Mr. Allred will continue to advise and assist Mr. Sturgeon in the trial of the cases. He will also sit with the grand jury which is in session this week.

Mr. Sturgeon is an experienced prosecutor and was formerly district attorney at Paris.

GRAPE INDUSTRY MENACED

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25 (P)—Revision of the eighteenth amendment to permit sale of naturally fermented beverages was advocated here today as a new policy of the California vineyardists' association by Donald D. Conn, managing director of the association.

In a report summarizing his administration for the last five years, Conn charged that a reversal of governmental prohibition enforcement policies threatened disaster of the grape industry and made legalization of wine-making imperative.

RANCHMAN STRUCK TEN TIMES—COUPLE JAILED

LUBBOCK, April 25 (P)—District Attorney A. J. Foley of 110th district court told THE JOURNAL over long distance telephone today that J. A. Cunningham, 68-year-old Motley county ranchman, had recently drawn up a will leaving his property to his housekeeper, Mrs. Ruth McComas, should she remain in his service until death.

Cunningham was slain with an ax at his ranch home 10 miles east of Matador about 10 o'clock Saturday morning. Saturday afternoon Mrs. McComas and her daughter were arrested, charged with murder and placed in the Motley county jail. They were removed to the Floyd county jail late Sunday.

Foley, found at Silverton where he is prosecuting in a term of the 119th district court, said the will in his possession expressly points out that Mrs. McComas "should not be the beneficiary should Cunningham's death be at her hands."

Second Statement. The prosecutor said Mrs. McComas made a second oral statement to him at 3 o'clock this morning, refuting her first statement, made after her arrest at Matador. In the second statement, according to Foley, Mrs. McComas took all blame for the slaying and said her daughter, Edith, 13, held jointly on murder charge, was guiltless.

Mrs. McComas' original statement said that the child, Edith Cunningham, when the ranchman attempted to attack her in her mother's absence from the headquarters.

Mrs. McComas gave her age as 31 and is a divorcee. She has two children younger than Edith. Cunningham, also divorced, has resided in Motley county for more than forty years. In addition to two brothers, he is survived by a daughter who resides in Los Angeles. Officers at Floydada said today that Cunningham had been struck

INTO THE RADICALS' HANDS MAY DAY used to bring thoughts of happy children dancing around a may pole. Nowadays it brings thoughts of unhappy radicals dancing around a city square to do the bids of bay policemen.

On the May Day that is at hand there will probably be a good many demonstrations by Communists, near-Communists and the like. And there is one thing that we need to remember about these people. Every last one of them has a martyr complex.

Nothing pleases the radical agitator better than to have something to happen to him which will enable him to call himself a martyr. It gives him a talking point, it helps him to gain converts. He actually wants the police to club him and drag him off to jail. A long prison sentence is even better. An actual execution is best of all.

As an example, consider the case of Tom Mooney. The decision turning down his plea for a pardon had hardly been given to the public when Mooney was announcing:

"This makes me the outstanding figure in the world's labor movement, and a symbol of the struggle of labor for its rights."

And you can depend upon it that that cry will be repeated by radical agitators all over the world. If Mooney had been pardoned a decade ago he would have been forgotten by now. As it is, he has furnished "the cause" with another martyr.

The point of all this is that May Day will provide the radical group with an excellent chance to enroll some more martyrs, unless police chiefs and city authorities everywhere exercise judgment.

Whenever a radical parade is broken up, wherever a radical agitator is thumped on the skull and tossed into jail—right there the Communists' most ardent wishes have been satisfied.

The answer, obviously, is to abstain from clubbing and jailing. Let them parade, let them talk, let them demonstrate. When you use force against them you are doing precisely what they want you to do.

probably no better than of this, but the measurements of morals were vastly different. Knees had not been discovered, and the young ladies—however devilish—were never-the-less straight-laced. rats" and "switches" the women wore! When I was about 12 years of age I was allowed to go to a singing party with about a dozen in the crowd. I had been going barefoot almost every summer and was healthy and strong. Now to dress for the party. My sister was seven years older than I. She and her chum dressed me for the occasion. I was plump, but I was forced, pushed, and drawn into my first corset. My sister's chum put her knee against my back while my sister pulled the strings. At last I was as straight as a board. My long braids of hair were loosened, ruffed up, and combed and twisted and turned into a graceful knot on the back of my head, then adorned with wire and bone hairpins.

My shoes were eight inches high and laced as tight as could be. My dress was five yards around the bottom and had five ruffles on it. I wore heavy outing flannel drawers and five petticoats and a hat with a feather in it.

I started out with the crowd. I wasn't to take too long a step, lest my skirts should flop too much. We had only three and one-half miles to walk—just a short distance for that day. I'd always been a good singer and had a beautiful voice, so they said. But let me tell you, when we arrived at our destination no word or words could express the agony I was in. Yet I dared not breathe a word of how I felt. My sister said, "Oh, doesn't she look heavenly—so pale—so sweet—so delicate—so you'd never have thought she could have looked like that if you'd seen her out riding her horses or calves." I sat there afraid to move or even take a decent breath for fear a string would pop. I tried to sing, but the squeaking of my corset and shoes and the grating of the hair-pins on my head and the weight of my done-up hair made me feel miserable. Nowadays they would call it static. I couldn't tell whether I was singing or not, I was so near out of breath. I simply fainted. Just think of it! And they didn't know what was wrong. From then on I wasn't allowed to play. I was too delicate; needed the tender care of my proud old parents. Then I was married to the second man I ever went with—but that's another story.

How wonderful it is today. May God grant that woman may never again have to go through the tortures of the '80s and '90s. The girls now are so free from such burdens and such worries. Home from school or work and it's, "Mother, don't bother about me—I just want a few minutes to bathe and rest and eat a hot-dog or drink a bottle of pop."

The phone rings. The youngster is up and ready to go for a car ride with someone who is waiting for her almost by the time the receiver is hung up. She starts out, saying, "Clothes, if you are going with me, hang on."

Now isn't it wonderful: the short hair dressed in a jiffy, sweetest of red lips, and the beautiful powders they have now for every occasion. The girls are happy. Very few homes now have an invalid sister as they did when I was a girl. Today in general appearance I look younger than when I was 16. Most of the girls now dye their hair to suit their callers—to match their boy friends. MRS. R. C. WYLIE 121 North Gray.

"The Man Who Played God" is a story of a musician of international fame, an essentially human being whose life and happiness revolves around his music and the pleasure he brings to countless thousands via the heaven-sent gift he possesses. Fate plays strange tricks on him giving and taking love, presenting the world for a plaything and then taking everything away. Arliiss portrays every step in the drama with nuances and shadings rarely seen on the screen. He is loved by two women, adored by thousands more. He was in love with one, a widow, played by Violet Heming, before she married another. She loves him but keeps her own counsel because she believes him to be in love with a young and beautiful girl, played by lovely Bette Davis, a newcomer to the screen whose work has been rewarded with a long term contract.

"The Man Who Played God" was directed by John G. Adolfi, also responsible for the direction of Mr. Arliiss' last two successes, "The Millionaire" and "Alexander Hamilton." The large cast includes Ivan Simpson, Louise Closser Hale, Oscar Apfel, Donald Cook, Raymond Millard, Murray Kinnell and many others. The production has been heralded as one of the year's best.

MAGNOLIA NOSES OUT LEFORS IN CLOSE TILT SUNDAY

MAGS WALLOP BALL HARD TO HOLD VISITORS

TEXAS COMPANY WILL PLAY HERE NEXT SUNDAY

The Magnolia Mags nosed out Lefors in a hit and run ball game at Magnolia park yesterday afternoon by an 11 to 10 score. The last three innings were scoreless for both teams. The Mags went into the lead in the last half of the sixth inning by sending two ruck across the street. Weeks got a single. Thorne followed with a double and Bozeman got his third straight hit to put both runners across.

The Mags made 15 hits off Clemens, Ellis, and Stewart while the Lefors boys were getting 12 hits off Voss and Burke. Bozeman caught the entire game for the Mags, while Caddy and Pullian exchanged places for Lefors.

Voss had four strikeouts to his credit, while Clemens made five Mags whiff the ozone. Cahill and Burke hit for three bases to help the good cause. Weathered, Marshall and Bozeman each hit two doubles. Hipps socked out three batters for the Lefors boys. Drake got a double.

Clemens started in the box for Lefors. Although hit freely, he is a real comer in the minds of Pampa baseball fans. Ellis relieved him in the sixth but was soon sent to the showers. Stewart held the Mags the rest of the game. Voss started the game but lasted only five innings. Lefors hit him for four runs in the third and the same number in the fifth. Burke went in and held Lefors to one run the rest of the game.

Hipps and Drake each made three hits for Lefors. Earpest hit two safe. Bozeman got three out of four for the Mags while nearly everyone else was getting two each.

Weathered, playing his first game of the season at short for the Mags, gave a great performance. He managed to knock down balls and get them to Jimmy Marshall at first for putouts. Manager Cahill also looked good at second. Thorne covered a lot of ground at third base. Newsome, Shriver, and Warren patrolled the outer garden.

Drake covered lots of ground around second base for Lefors while Romano was doing the same at third. Pockets Flynn was a strong contender for honors at the initial sack. Johnnie Munds, Earnest, and Hipps looked after the outfield work in good style.

Next Sunday the Mags will be at home to the Texas company of Amarello. Proceeds from all future games, above expenses, will go to the fund for underprivileged children sponsored by the Kiwanis club.

GOLFERS ARE LOSERS AGAIN

Iron Course Is Not Liking of Locals in Memphis on Sunday

The short course at the Memphis country club proved disastrous to Pampa golfers yesterday in a Cap Rock league match. Fourteen Pampa men hit the dust, but they put up a good battle. Known as an iron course, the Memphis playground proved hard on the Pampa wood shots.

Although the Pampans failed to win a match against the expert Memphis golfers, Dr. R. A. Webb took Baines West 21 holes before he went down. Tom Perkins also gave Carl Harrison lots of misery and went 20 holes with him. Charlie Cook, Mark Heath, and Tommy White shot remarkable golf only to lose. Ben Farris and Don Donovan also got some bad breaks.

Pampa golfers who made the trip were: Dr. H. H. Hicks, H. Otto Studer, Dr. R. A. Webb, Clarence Barrett, Mark Heath, Charlie Cook, Don Donovan, Earl Talley, Tom Darby, Tommy White, Tom Perkins, J. W. Brumley, Art Swinson, and Ben Farris.

Gallant Sir Is Horse to Watch

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 25 (AP)—Gallant Sir is now the standout "dark horse" in the prospective 1932 Kentucky derby field. Norman W. Church's eligible has attracted considerable following since he arrived from the far west after a successful campaign at the Tanforan track. The railbirds have been most impressed by Gallant Sir's size. "Almost as big as Phar Lap" is the way they put it.

Liberty Limited, owned by the Three D's stable, revealed yesterday he can run in the mud as well as on a fast track. He breezed the full derby distance of a mile and a quarter in 2:16 2-5, hard held. The track was sloppy after a heavy rain and the colt ran in the center of the track, not near the rail as usual.

EVANS SEE END OF NINE-YEAR "JINX" IN WINNING MIDWEST AMATEUR TOURNEY

CHICAGO, April 25, (AP)—An early April tournament victory, garnished with a brilliant round of 68 has given "Chick" Evans reason to believe he has shaken his golfing jinx. Evans, who was winning championships in 1909 and scored a double in 1916 by winning both the National amateur and National open tournaments, returned to the titular class after a nine-year depression when he captured the first annual midwest amateur tourney at French Lick, Ind.

Since 1923, the year he won the eighth of a string of Western amateur titles, the smiling Chicagoan had met with many a discouraging reversal in major tournaments. Harassed by shaky putting, a chronic complaint, he frequently failed to get past the qualifying rounds, though in 1927 he reached the final in the National amateur at Minikahda, only to be swamped by Bobby Jones, 8 and 7.

Now, as a result of his consistent play in the early Indiana meet, Evans has visions of regaining the place he once held as one of the country's major cup chasers, possibly matching the 1931 comeback of Francis Ouimet, who was a "boy wonder" contemporary of Evans' two decades ago.

Altogether Evans' record shows him to have been national amateur champion in 1916 and 1920; National open champion in 1916; Western amateur king in 1909, '12, '14, '15, '20, '21, '22 and '23; runner-up in the National open of 1914 and runner-up in the National amateur meets of 1912 and 1927.

OLYMPIC HOPES
Duluth, Minn., has started plans for a $1,000,000 Medical Arts office building, the largest building project in downtown Duluth since the world war.

Early spring track meets in the west not only have uncovered Ben Eastman as a possible winner of Olympic glory, but Jimmy Meeks as well. In case you never have heard of Meeks before, he is called the Occidental "iron man," being practically a one-man track team at Occidental College, Los Angeles. He is a high and hard hurdler, one of the best on the coast, and a quarter-mile of merit. Combining the two talents, he is expected to land a berth on Uncle Sam's 1932 team in the 400 meters hurdles event. He is a 49-second quarter-mile, and in a recent meet ran the low hurdles in 23.6 seconds and the highs in 15 seconds.

Observe the smile on Chick Evans' face. The former open and amateur champion in the midwest amateur has just come through with victory in his first important tourney in nine years. Belief that Chick has recovered a lost putting touch, seat of his troubles, is supported by a brilliant 68 in one round.

TWELVE-GAME CAMPAIGN OF CATS IS FINALLY REWARDED

Defeat Wichita Falls to Go to Top—Houston Drops as San Antonio Wins.

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer
The twelve-game fight of Fort Worth to gain undisputed leadership of the Texas League race was realized yesterday when the Cats beat Wichita Falls 7 to 6. Twice this season the Cats have been tied with Houston for first place.

The Cats got a good scare before victory. At the end of the first half of the seventh, Fort Worth held a 5 to 0 lead. Then Wichita Falls staged a six-run rally to take the lead. In the first of the ninth, the Cats wiped out the one-run deficit with two runs. Except for the seventh, McCabe pitched a fine ball game by keeping most of eleven hits scattered in the first six innings.

Houston slipped out of a tie for the league pinnacle by losing 7 to 1 to San Antonio. The veteran Tom Estell and his spital pounded the Bufaloes into the dust from the start. He gave up nine hits and was never worried. Medwick's sixth home run of the season in the fourth inning was Houston's lone tally. The victory shoved San Antonio into third place.

Dallas dropped to fourth place by losing a 3 to 2 game to Shreveport. It required ten innings for the Sports to beat the combined pitching of Minogue and Garland. In the tenth, Best doubled and O'Neil cracked a single to score Best with the victorious run. Milt Steingrafe hurled for the Sports and registered his third victory this season.

Beaumont got a brilliant two-hit game from Buck Marrow to beat Galveston 11 to 0. Marrow gave Allday and Cox a hit each and then shut the lid on all other Buccaneers. The Buccaneers committed eight errors.

See-Saw
Mrs. Hill was up at the first, square at the third; up at the fifth; square at the seventh; up at the eighth, and square at the ninth. She went up at the tenth and held that lead through the eleventh and twelfth.
She took a hard jolt at the thirteenth when, her own drive in the huge cross-bunker, Maureen's teeshot hit too low, caught the bank of the same bunker, and hopped upward and forward, to lie in the fairway a yard from the rim, giving her a good shot at the green. Severe
Mrs. Hill, outraged 80 yards at the fifteenth, planted a full soon shot inside Maureen's pitch for a half, and went up for the last time when Maureen was badly bunkered at the sixteenth.
Now Listen
With Mrs. Hill up by the pin for a men's birdie at the long seventeenth, Maureen sank a 30-foot putt for an eagle 3, to square the match again.
After being trapped from the tee and far off line on a rough bank with a great recovery, Mau-

WEAVER HAS PROVED GOOD AS PREDICTED

WALTER JOHNSON WAS BOOSTING OF HIM IN CAMP

BY HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Walter Johnson can discover no sound reason for embarrassment over his prediction early this spring that Monte Weaver would win plenty of ball games for Washington. He already owns three consecutive victories, two over the Philadelphia Athletics.

Yesterday the young right hander held the A's to seven scattered hits while Washington hit George Earnshaw and Joe Bowman for 14 safeties and won 8-2.

Detroit managed to keep a half game ahead of the Senators for the American League lead by ringing runs in the last two innings to conquer Chicago, 10-9.

George Pipgras pitched New York to an easy 9-2 verdict over the Boston Red Sox. He allowed only six hits and struck out a dozen.
Earl Averill came out of a batting slump to drive in seven runs with two home runs and a double as the Indians walloped St. Louis, 14-3.

In the National League, the pacesetter Boston Braves won their sixth consecutive game, nosing out the Phillies, 2-1, in a tight pitcher's duel between Brandt and Bengie.
The Cubs unleashed a 16-hit barrage that buried Pittsburgh, 12-3. Glenn Spencer had the doubtful distinction of pitching the whole game for the Pirates despite the heavy Cubs cannonading.

Carl Hubbell's five hit pitching, the New York Giants easily trounced Brooklyn, 7-2.
The world champion St. Louis Cardinals turned back Cincinnati, 8-3. Chick Hafey, making his first start in Cincinnati's outfield, collected three singles against his former teammates.

The Fighting Tigers
The Tigers had just won six out of their first eight games. For a team that missed finishing in the dampness of the American League cellar last year, the start this year was astounding. Bucky Harris was asked upon what meat these Tigers of his were feeding.
"Part of the answer is pitching."
"Part of the now somewhat grown-up 'boy manager'." "Do you know that the first two games we ever were pitched as well as any I lost saw? Vic Sorrell didn't deserve to lose those two. Bad breaks beat us."
"The four string pitchers we have been using so far have turned in some wonderful work. Wyatt, Whitehill, Sorrell and Uhl."
"That infield of Davis, Gehring, Rogell, Richardson and Rhel has been clicking. Of course, they did kick one game away for Sorrell."

Who Are These Boys?
There were some strange faces around us in the club house. Who were these new men? The Pampa bowler team won many individual prizes. Art Swanson took first place in the singles event with 599 pins. Clyde Fatheree took third place in the same event with 523 pins. Fatheree and Russ Allen, bowling in the doubles, won first honors with 1,167 pins. Fatheree ran up the remarkable score of 654 pins in the event. Swanson and Sam Penberg won second place in the doubles by dropping 1,076 pins. Alex Schneider and F. A. Peek took third place in the class A doubles.
To Sam Penberg went the first prize in "all events." The Pampa bowler topped a total of 1,670 pins. Art Swanson took second place by scoring 1,663 pins. Penberg rolled a remarkable game in the five man event when he dropped 610 pins.
Russ Allen rolled high game of the day with 246 pins. He came back to topple 223 pins in the following game.

The Schneider hotel team, ranked as one of the best in the state, was completely lost on the Wichita Falls alleys. Only one player on the team rolled a game of more than 200 pins.
WICHITA FALLS, April 25, (AP)—With Fort Worth awarded the 1932 tournament and Cecil Coombs of the Texas Bowling association, four pin championships had been awarded today after three week-ends of bowling here.
The Texas five-men title goes to Oklahoma City for the second successive year as the result of Sloan Forsberg Oil company's 2929 pins scored yesterday. Oklahoma City also landed the doubles and all-events titles the former going to Adams and Simms, with 1251 pins and the all-events to Guy Burkett with 1889. C. F. Sweeney of Wichita Falls kept the singles crown in Texas with a score of 713.
Other officers elected at the business meeting of the association were Clint Moss of Dallas, first Vice President; E. F. Fruichte, Wichita Falls, second vice president; J. S. Fox, Tyler, third vice president; M. H. Templemier, Fort Worth, secretary; and M. G. Boone, Fort Worth, treasurer.

Bucky traded Holloway and Tavener to the Indians for Uhl, and Billy Evans froms whenever he thinks of that one. Holloway and Tavener drifted out of the picture. Around Uhl, Sorrell and Whitehill, Bucky slowly built a pitching staff that gives trouble to every other team in the league.
The pitchers Bucky had in 1929 were Barnes, Billings, Carroll, Sam Gibson, Page, Pipgras (not George), Prudhomme, Smith, Sorrell, Stoner, Van Gilder, Whitehill and Yde. Nearly all of these men have been replaced.
The infielders of that far-off four years ago were Recruit Dale Alexander, Branom, Galloway, Gehring, McManus, Schuble and Sigalfoos.
Bucky's outfielders were Fothergill, Heilmann, Petre, Uhl, Rice, Ruble, Stone, Wade and Barnes. Most of those people have gone their way.
The new Tigers look like a ball club that will go pretty far this year. They are fast—and full of fight.

But Fourth Place Is Best
Team Score — Country Club Does It.

Outfield Wises Up
The outfield seemed to have learned why Uncle Frank Navin spent all that money in Louisville for bats.
"Yes, the outfield punch has improved. And it's as good a defensive outfield as there is in the league. Better than most of 'em."
Stone has been playing left, Gerald Walker center and Roy Johnson right. All of these men are fast. Walker hit 296 last year, and has been improving steadily with the bat this year. He can go, as Dan Howley would say, from here to Kokomo for a fly ball.
Roy Johnson has shown improvement over his batting form of the last two years. He hit 314 his first year up, 1929, then slumped. Johnny Stone has become one of the most dangerous batters in the American League. His four-year hitting average is .317, and he appears to be on the way to a better mark than this season.

Making a Team Over
When Harris went to Detroit in 1929 he faced a rebuilding job that seemed almost too much for one man to perform. There was dead wood in every department.
Bucky traded Holloway and Tavener to the Indians for Uhl, and Billy Evans froms whenever he thinks of that one. Holloway and Tavener drifted out of the picture. Around Uhl, Sorrell and Whitehill, Bucky slowly built a pitching staff that gives trouble to every other team in the league.

Associated Press Editors Assemble
NEW YORK, April 25. (AP)—Hundreds of newspaper publishers from all parts of the country began today a series of meetings that will last most of the week. The Associated Press held its 33rd annual meeting today and the American Newspaper Publishers Association will hold its 46th annual convention from tomorrow to Friday. Directors of the North American Newspaper Alliance also met today.
The Associated Press, which now has 1,205 members, had morning and afternoon business sessions. At a luncheon the members heard addresses by two guests, Opden E. Mills, secretary of the treasury, and John Walter, co-chief proprietor of the London Times. Mr. Mills' address was broadcast.
The presiding officer at the luncheon and business sessions was Frank B. Noyes, president of the Associated Press and president of the Washington Star.

BUSINESS WOMEN MEETING
CORISCANA, April 25. (AP)—Approximately 125 delegates had registered Saturday for the annual conference of district 2 of the Texas business and professional women's clubs.
The visitors were headed by Miss Mary Llyerstrom of Beaumont, state president; Miss Daisy Leake of Temple and Miss Mary Jane Higgins of Fort Worth, past presidents.

COUPLE BADLY HURT
DALLAS, April 25. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Stolp of Commerce were seriously hurt in an automobile collision Saturday 2 miles west of Forney. F. E. Cox, president of the First National bank of Canton, and J. H. Conahue of Canton were injured slightly.

OLD SOL HAS BEACH BEAUTIES IN THE BAG

It takes a lot of sand to wear this costume, which is 90 per cent cellophane. The other 10 per cent is bathing suit. It's the newest fad at Malibu beach, playspot of the Hollywood film colony. June Clyde is shown in a cellophane wrapper keeping her so-called complexion nice and fresh. Under the cellophane, so they say, the skin receives all benefits of ultra-violet sun rays, producing tan without sunburn. Save the surface and you save all!

Four Annual Events Are to Hold Interest of Parents, Teachers; Big Crowds Attend Conferences

Attendance at the district conferences held over the state has been the largest ever reported and more interest in child welfare from the local, city, county, district, state and national standpoint has been manifested than ever before. Beside delegates from the local units, there were representatives from 52 city councils and 104 county councils.

The publicity record books displayed at these conferences have been of the unusual high type and those sent to the National Convention were Wharton Parent-Teacher association, Houston; College Heights Parent-Teacher association, Abilene; Baker Parent-Teacher association, Pampa; Horace Mann Parent-Teacher association, Pampa; Austin Parent-Teacher association, Wichita Falls; East Ward Parent-Teacher association, Sweetwater; Banquette Parent-Teacher association, Banquette; Robert B. Green Parent-Teacher association, San Antonio; Brady Parent-Teacher association, Brady.

Four annual events are clamoring for the special attention of all Parent-Teacher workers now—May day, Music week, Boys week, and convention of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. May 1 is National Child Health day and material can be had for the asking by applying to the Bureau of Child Hygiene, State Department of Health, Austin. National Music week May 1-7, will be a good background for a little philanthropic attention to some of the local musicists. Mrs. F. L. Jaccard, state chairman of music, suggests that patriotic atmosphere be a fitting observance for present conditions. Pay special attention to America, America the Beautiful, and The Star Spangled Banner, with tableaux and the narration of their histories.

gotten as salad plants. They are a good green color and may be eaten raw. This makes them worth while on two counts.
Care should be taken in cooking green vegetables to preserve their color. The three rules for this are boiling water, uncovered kettle and short cooking period.
It's also interesting to know that while tomatoes and carrots and sweet potatoes are not green in color, they have the same vitamin A as the green ones. Investigation shows that the yellow vegetables are all good sources of vitamin A, the yellow color being associated with the vitamin much as the green coloring matter is associated with iron content and vitamin A in green vegetables.
While nearly all vegetables contribute other valuable substances beside this attribute, when tomatoes or carrots or any green vegetable is served, you may be sure that you are providing a food which promotes growth and affords protection against some of the everyday ailments of mankind.

Sister MARY'S KITCHEN
By SISTER MARY, NEA Service Writer
Green as a color in vegetables is worthy of consideration. The terms green, raw and fresh often applied to vegetables thoughtlessly without regard to their distinguishing characteristics. Food chemists have discovered many interesting and valuable facts about green colored vegetables that are of great help to mothers in menu making.
Vitamin A, that substance so very important for growth as well as the maintenance of health, is found in the green parts of vegetables. This same green color speaks the presence of iron so valuable for making good corpuscles in the blood.
No matter what the source of iron may be—egg yolk, liver, beef steak or a medical "tonic"—green vegetables should be included in the dietary because their verdure proclaim a quality which enables the body to use the supply of iron to the best advantage.
Hunger often is due to the absence of vegetables in the previous meal, especially in the case of children. The habit of eating between meals and an unwholesome craving for more food is never so prevalent among those who eat plenty of vegetables regularly.
Along the "Color" Line
The type of vegetable where this greenness is found is of small consequence if the vegetables are chosen for this quality alone. Sweet green peppers, which are so difficult for many persons to digest, are nevertheless valuable on their color count. Such vegetables as spinach, beets, peas, brussels sprouts and a host of others that are easy to digest are rich in other nutrients as well as their "color" content.
Broccoli, although it's a flower, is a good source of vitamin A and it's given color shows the presence of iron.
Leaf lettuce and the loose varieties of head lettuce that are green clear to the center are richer in vitamin A and iron than the tight, bleached heads most of us prefer. Romaine and cress and

PRESS OF NATION DELIVERS NEWS DESPITE DEPRESSION—ASSOCIATED PRESS EXPANDING

NEW YORK, April 25 (AP)—The newspapers of America "have not shirked their duty to the public of publishing the news in adequate form," in spite of present conditions, Kent Cooper, general manager of the Associated Press, said today in his annual report to the board of directors of the association.

"To maintain the standards reached in recent years all publishers have had to sustain severe losses," Mr. Cooper said. "Although advertising revenues have fallen off tremendously, circulation has not decreased materially. Sustained circulations in such times show that newspapers have established themselves as a necessity."

"Each community requires a complete supply of intelligence, more necessary in times of depression, perhaps, than in a prosperous era. To dig themselves out of depression people must think and they cannot think unless they are reliably informed. Newspapers have been carried on admirably and they have been laded to some extent in doing so. In spite of heavy losses, through increasing reliance upon the Associated Press."

Foreign News Covered
In reviewing the work of the Associated Press Mr. Cooper called attention to developments in both the domestic and foreign fields.

"The outbreak of trouble between Japan and China in Manchuria toward the end of 1931 and later the fighting at Shanghai caused an enormous increase in far eastern wordage. The staff for China and Japan was temporarily increased."

"Important sustained foreign subjects, besides the Manchuria and Shanghai fighting, were the Indian round-table conference and Mahatma Gandhi's journey to England; the economic upheaval in Europe and its political consequences, the creation of the new Spanish republic, the visits to the United States of Premier Laval of France and Foreign Minister Dino Grandi of Italy, and various disasters such as the Chinese flood and the sinking of a British submarine."

South America Hit
"The service delivered to South America held its own even though the countries served were among the first to feel the effects of economic distress and to suffer additionally because of many social and governmental revolutions. There was a net gain in the number of papers served, while the principal newspapers in the important cities were retained."

Mr. Cooper noted that the decline in trading on the securities markets had not lessened requests for addi-

Communists Are in Destructive Raids

AMOY, China, April 25 (AP)—Advices from Changchow today said the Chinese communist army had occupied the city and the soldiers were enjoying a carnival of looting which included raids on the homes of American missionaries, schools, churches and other foreign property.

The communists raided warehouses, stores and homes, the reports said, dividing the contents among themselves.

The belongings of one American missionary were saved by the quick thinking of the cook. The family had taken refuge here, but the cook stayed on the job. When the looters began hammering their way into the house she opened the door, inviting them in.

When they entered she treated them to American baked ham. After eating all they could they showed their appreciation by leaving the contents of the house intact. They even presented the cook a pair of slippers they had taken from the house next door.

Conditions here remained tense.

Mention also was made that the organization now was operating purely state services in every state in the union at a saving of many thousands of dollars to members, and attention was called to expansions in the sports department, the feature service, the picture mat service and the news photo service, which established a new peak record of efficiency.

Tuesday Votes May Decide Race

WASHINGTON, April 25 (AP)—A climactic decision which may virtually clinch the Democratic presidential nomination for Franklin D. Roosevelt or may cast tremendous odds against him impends in tomorrow's Massachusetts and Pennsylvania primaries.

In these two states the "Stop Roosevelt" forces—beaten back so far—have concentrated their strength behind Alfred E. Smith in a stupendous effort to halt the New York governor's triumphant piling up of pledged convention votes. The struggle resting with the victors today is square out. At stake, far more important than the 112 votes to be had, is the moral effect on political leaders and voters in the numerous states which yet have to choose their candidate.

The result, however, may be less definite than the issue. On the eve of the decision a summary or blending of opinion, partisan or neutral, appears to favor division in the votes of both states, Massachusetts throwing the bulk of its 38 to Smith, Pennsylvania giving a majority of its 76 delegates to Roosevelt.

Without the future accompanying the Democratic campaign the Republicans during this week will select 204 more delegates in thirteen states; practically every one of the votes is assured to President Hoover's column, which already counts 216. To all intents, the nomination is his now.

Three Men Die at Dam Project

MARMET, Va., April 25 (AP)—Earthworks at a government dam project collapsed Saturday killing three workmen and burying seven others under tons of mud.

Three bodies were recovered. Rescuers were digging frantically to free the men when the second slide occurred, trapping seven more.

The third slide, a few minutes later, endangered crowds of curious.

Timmy Collins, 15-year old waterboy was the first to be found dead beneath the slide. The other two were identified as Albert Rousch, 18, and Delbert Garden.

Massie's Plea of Insanity to Face Attacks Today

HONOLULU, April 25 (AP)—The insanity plea of Lieut. Thomas H. Massie, on trial with three others for the slaying of a native, faced a final attack today by another expert in the workings of the human mind.

To the testimony of two physicians that Massie was not insane when he slew Joseph Kahahawai, whom he was convicted criminally for the slaying of today by another expert in the workings of the human mind.

Dr. Catton was to take the witness stand to again stress to the jury of mixed origin the prosecution's contention the Hawaiian was slain by a sane man, killing with revenge in his heart. The defense contends the United States naval officer became temporarily insane while trying to obtain a confession that would restore his wife's good name.

Dr. Catton is the last witness by which Public Prosecutor John C. Kelley hopes to send Massie, his society matron mother-in-law, Mrs. Granville Fortescue and two navy enlisted men, Albert O. Jones and E. J. Lord, to prison.

The psychiatrist was brought here from the mainland last week and court was adjourned Saturday to permit him to complete his study of the case. Yesterday he submitted a long report to Kelley. It was learned Dr. Catton agreed with Drs. Paul Bowers and Robert Faus, the physicians who testified Friday that Massie was sane when he fired the shot that killed Kahahawai.

ADJUSTING TARIFFS

WASHINGTON, April 25 (AP)—prolonged negotiations between Spain and the United States to effect a more satisfactory application of Spanish tariff schedules on American imports now seem to be reaching a conclusion acceptable to American exporters.

Spanish imports to this country, chiefly olive oil, cork, grapes and other fruits, enjoy most favored nation treatment, but American exports to Spain have been subjected to rates which American exporters charge are disproportionately high.

You Can't Marry

by Julia Cleft-Addams

SYNOPSIS: "I'll marry you tomorrow if you like," George Revell tells Eddie Townsend. She makes one condition. The marriage must be kept secret for if her employer, Garth Matching, hears of it he will discharge her from the position she is now proud of. Eddie agrees, and they plan a week together before he leaves for Mexico. George takes the work she has been doing in to Matching. She has been alerted by called away from Ryder Vale's dinner party for this night work. Jenny has been interested in Garth Matching, whom Vale introduced to the girls this evening, but Aveney has seemed attracted to George and is now waiting outside Matching's house for her. Matching is warning his nephew to test the possibility that George is responsible for the "leak" of the firm's private business, and it has been implied that Aveney is the nephew.

Chapter 7 MISS LOYALTY

WITHOUT pause, Graton Matching seized a fountain-pen, signed the statement which he had just declared inaccurate from first word to last, and rang one of his many bells.

A door in a shadowed corner opened and a man-servant came in. He had a broad, slightly bent back, next to no neck and dark hair growing gray. George, who didn't like him, always thought of him as a mole.

"Take this to Townsend, the pilot." The Old Man's gray claws were surprisingly deft with the envelope, and seal. "Tell him to get straight away with it. He has his instructions—any speed that doesn't break his neck."

George, rubbing the finger that had been slapped, watched the valet take the packet and go. He walked with a curious, soft glide that was not a shuffle. It looked slow but actually it got him along with unusual speed. She turned to find Graton Matching's stony eyes upon her.

"Have you anything else for me tonight, sir?"

"No. Hurt your finger? Here, have some sweets."

She took the messy little bag he rooted out, thanked him and dropped it into her overall pocket. It lay against one he had given her a week ago when he had thrown a paper weight at her. He pulled himself higher against his pillows and stared her up and down. He pointed at the gleam of apricot velvet under the overall hem.

"Where were you when I sent for you? How many times have I told you, you're to be where I can get at you when I need you? What about the salary you're getting? What do you think you get it for? Keeping me waiting? Gadding about town with—who were you with?"

"Mr. Ryder Vale and a Mr. Aveney and my cousin."

"Male? Female?"

"The girl who shares my apartment. Georgina Revell—the same name as mine. But she shortens it to Jenny."

"I don't want to hear about her or her ridiculous name. I'm not concerned with your private affairs." (George's lips grew tighter in their effort to suppress a smile.) "But I won't be kept waiting. I won't be kept—waiting! Is that clear, Revell? Is that clear?"

"Quite, sir. Good-night."

She turned away.

A familiar sound followed her—the muffled hum of the model dynamo. Graton Matching had switched them on and, twisted grotesquely, his wig crooked, hung over them. He was talking to them but not in his dreadful falsetto.

"Pretty—oh, very pretty indeed." It was a thin monotone that merged into the humming of the wheels.

"Reserve of power there. And economical. And smooth. Smooth as velvet. Beautiful!"

George closed the door.

She took a deep breath. Thank heavens, those estimates were settled and on their way. The Old Man would be more bearable tomorrow. She hoped that Eddie wasn't breaking any records, getting down to the air field. He was a fine flier, an iron-nerved "bird-man," whose fame had spread, whose "luck" was a by-word. But George thought him—she put it bluntly—a rotten motorist. Whatever carried him, motor-cycle or car, he took insane risks with it.

George, passing the window that by daylight lit this upper hall, drew aside its tapestries and peered out. A car was at the door, an uncommonly nice car, in so far as the street-lights let her see it. The figure at the wheel was indistinct until another car passed and its headlights raked him. Garth Aveney.

She raised a half-amused eyebrow and proceeded on her way. In the bedroom permanently reserved for her, she pulled off her overall. Making up her face at the glass, she pondered on the odd chances of life

Of all the men she'd met, Aveney was the only one of the type that funny kid, Jenny, called "worthwhile." But George was not a flirt and she got no great pleasure out of the infatuation of a man who meant nothing to her. She wished she could tell him straight out that by this time tomorrow she would be Eddie Townsend's wife.

That reminder of tomorrow swept everybody but Eddie from her mind. She went into her working-room and found the promised scrawl upon the desk. "City hall twelve sharp. Will get one of car from someone."

Poor old Ed, spelling was not his strongest point! But what did that matter? He didn't need to spell, he hurried along in the air or on the earth, a big, simple, grinning, goodly boy! She thrilled to think she understood it. She was—outside the ruthless discipline of her job—like that herself.

Jenny knelt at the open window and watched the opposite rooftop young black and blacker as the moon in a distant square a clock chimed eleven? No, not yet, a quarter to her birthday was nearly over.

She put her forehead down on her cold, clasped hands and at once pictures were painted against the darkness. A clearing in a forest full of moonlight, a straight green tree with straight silver candles on it.

She unclasped her hands and moved them until they gripped her shoulders, half expecting to feel them buried in fur. White fur. But her shoulders were bare. And she was a fool to kneel here spilling the wonderful gown.

There was nothing—was there?—to agonize about, just because a tall, slim, hazel-eyed man had tumbled headlong into love with George and didn't trouble to conceal it. Even if his love was hopeless—and it would be, for George really did care more for Eddie—the elusive laughter would not be banished forever from the hazel eyes. He would forget—these mysterious, incalculable Garth Aveney would forget George in time; as completely as he had no doubt by now forgotten George's little cousin Jenny.

Eleven o'clock. With the last chime came the sound of George's key in the front door and the sound of her voice; and the sound of a man's voice answering her.

Jenny's face scorched suddenly in the darkness of the bedroom and she stumbled to her feet. When she had made a bad headache an excuse not to go on to the Crescendo with Ryder Vale, she had thought that she hadn't seen Garth Aveney again tonight. She had stupidly forgotten that George might bring him here and she had forgotten, too, that if George didn't go on to the Crescendo either, she wouldn't know that Jenny had come home.

The simplest thing, considered Jenny, would be to undress very quietly in the darkness and go to bed. She groped for the intricate fastenings of her new frock and at last stepped out of it and carried it to the wardrobe. The wardrobe stood across from the unused double doors which separated the bedroom from the living room and as she cautiously opened it she heard, as though she herself were in the living room, the click of the telephone receiver dropped back into its bracket and then Garth Aveney's voice.

"Well, now you've done your duty. You've phoned him at once you've made your attitude absolutely clear. Now I want you to let me tell you something else."

"There's really nothing you can say. I told you I'd have to phone him about you and I did. That finishes the whole affair." George sounded very curt.

"No, now I'm going to justify myself. I told him I would, once you'd refused."

Jenny stepped back from the wardrobe and swung its door shut so heavily that it slammed; she feared that George would hear the noise and investigate it. But George, still in the living room was loudly exclaiming over some thing—her voice ringing out of its usual crisp warmth into a shriller tone that came to her when she was indignant. Jenny assumed that she was indignant because Garth Aveney was trying to take her away from Eddie. Presently—just as Jenny slid into the little camp bed that had been put up for her alongside of George's—George's voice sounded in the hall and then Aveney's.

"Goodnight, Miss Loyalty," Aveney was saying, "I'm forgiven, then?"

MARKET IS CAUTIOUS

NEW YORK, April 25 (AP)—A cautious rally in the stock market was snuffed out by a 3-point break in Allied Chemical in the last hour of today's trading. The market closed with narrow changes and a barely steady tone. The session was one of the dulllest of the year, with transfer approximating 700,000 shares.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, April 25 (AP)—Wheat—No. 2 red 57; No. 3 red 56 1/2; No. 2 hard 57; No. 3 hard 56 1/2. Corn—No. 2 mixed 32-32 1/2; No. 3 mixed 31 1/2-32; No. 2 yellow 32 1/2-33; No. 3 yellow 31 1/2-32; No. 2 white 32 1/2-33. Oats—No. 2 white 22 1/2-24 1/2; No. 3 white 21-22 1/2. Wheat closed firm, 1/4-1/2 off to Saturday's finish, corn 1/4 off to a shade advance, oats unchanged to 1/4 down and provisions unchanged to a rise of 2 cents.

GRAINS OPEN HIGHER

CHICAGO, April 25 (AP)—Grain values averaged higher early today, influenced by reports that plans were afoot in Washington to permit the private wheat trade to take over the Federal Farm Board's wheat surplus. The reports said conferences to discuss the plans had been held in the offices of Secretary of Agriculture Hyde. Opening at 1-2 decline to 1-4 advance, wheat later showed a rise all around. Corn started 1-8 off to 1-4 up and subsequently scored general gains.

MARKETING ACT CALLED DETRIMENTAL TO BUSINESS

DALLAS, April 25 (AP)—Protests against the agricultural marketing act and the federal farm board were voiced today at the opening session of the Southwest Foreign Trade conference. The wheat and cotton trades, represented by Frank A. Thies of Kansas City and Walter Parker of New Orleans, presented their grievances against "governmental monopoly of agricultural commodities." They laid the blame for current difficulties on those who deliberately attempted artificial enhancement of values in defiance of all economic laws.

MARKETS AT A GLANCE

NEW YORK: Stocks steady; pivotal issues rally. Bonds irregular; U. S. government steady. Curb steady; some utilities advance. Foreign exchanges irregular; Sterling heavy. COTTON IRREGULAR

NEW ORLEANS, April 25 (AP)—The cotton market had rather an irregular opening today. Although Liverpool cables were better than due, sterling was much easier. Initial transactions here showed a gain of 2 points on May but the latter positions opened 2 to 3 points down. In the absence of the weather map, there was a disposition of traders to hold off but an easier opening of the stock market caused a slight decline after the start with May at 5.95, July at 6.12 and October to 6.35, or 3 to 4 points down from Saturday's close. Near the end of the first hour the market rallied 2 points on an improvement in stocks following the opening break. Leland C. NURSE---

To the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, Miss Moore's work will be known as the "summer roundup of the children." County Superintendent John B. Hessey and Miss Ivan Mayfield, city school nurse, will cooperate with Miss Moore in making examinations roundup of the children.

On dates to be announced later, Miss Moore will visit all schools in the county to make the physical inspections. If the examinations are not made at the school buildings, they will be conducted at some other place in the community.

The inspection will include complete information regarding the health of the child. A report will contain recommendations, if any, to the family physician or dentist, or both. Examination will be made of the eyes, feet, tonsils, nose, ears, heart, etc.

Miss Moore is sent by the state department of health to various counties in Texas. Last month she was in Atascosa county south of San Antonio. In February she was in Prio county. The department's idea in sending Miss Moore to Gray and other counties to make physical inspections is to emphasize to county commissioners the importance of a county health nurse. A group of McLea, citizens recently petitioned the commission to take the services of a health nurse for Gray county.

YOU DON'T pay so much for your cigarettes but what you can afford to smoke the best. It's a question then, of what is the best.

CHESTERFIELD Cigarettes are different from other cigarettes. They're unlike all the others, in that they're milder.

CHESTERFIELD Cigarettes taste better. That's to say... they are not raw ... and neither are they over-sweet.

CHESTERFIELD Cigarettes have a fine aroma and a taste that's altogether right.

CHESTERFIELD Cigarettes are pure. Everything that science knows is done to make them pure. They are just as pure as the food you eat ... just as pure as the water you drink.
