TYLER, May 4 (AP)—Chairman C. V. Terrell of the state railroad commission and Lon A. Smith, commission member, resolved themselves into a court of inquiry here today for the purpose of investigating alleged irregularities on the part of certain men in the employ of the commission in the east Texas oil field.

The entire east Texas personnel employed by the commission, from supervisors to checkers, was present. The employees had been summoned by Chairman Terrell.

Colonel L. S. Davidson, commander of troops enforcing production regulations in the field; Major Harry S. Johnson, provost marshal of the national guard; and Carl Bates, Tyler editor, also were due to testify.

California Man "Taken for Ride"

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4 (AP)—Mystery today shrouded the disappearance of Frank J. Egan, San Francisco public defender. He vanished Monday night after Charles Dulles, captain of detectives had received a telephone call, supposedly from Egan, saying: "These men have got me, captain."

Deputy Coroner Jane Walsh revealed Egan had been named chief beneficiary in the will of Mrs. Jessie Hughes, widow, whose body was found in a street gutter several days ago. Police believed Mrs. Hughes was either struck by a hit-run driver or killed and then thrown from an automobile. She was a friend of Egan's.

Conspiracy Trial Set For May 16

Trials of 23 present and former Gray county citizens, under an indictment charging conspiracy to violate the national prohibition laws, was set for the week of May 16 by Judge Wilson in U. S. District court, Amarillo, yesterday. It was learned here this morning.

Fletcher Acquitted in Liquor Trial

Jess Fletcher was acquitted by a 31st district court jury yesterday on a charge of possessing intoxicating liquor for the purpose of sale. Mr. Fletcher claimed that the whiskey found by officers of the sheriff's department near a house containing three apartments might have belonged to any one of the seven people living in the house. The whiskey was found in the back yard.

I HEARD--

A lot of noise in the front office this morning and looked up to see O. W. "Hootie" Harrah of White Deer standing in the doorway with a bunch of bats over his shoulder. "Here are these bats I made down in Arkansas and even I can hit home runs with them," Hootie declared.

A whistle blowing this morning and the telephone nearly jumping off the desk from ringing so much. An investigation brought to light the fact that the steam whistle at the laundry broke and it was necessary to let all the steam out of the boilers to stop the noise.

"RUBBER TRAMP" TOURISTS IN THIS SPRING'S JOURNEY NOT GETTING MANY FAVORS HERE

L. R. Bruner, chairman of the Junior chamber of commerce, has requested the Pampan to pass on an apology to those 15 or 20 fellows who could not find seats at the "Big Hat" dinner.

Sorry—Yet Delighted

The number of persons who attended virtually doubled the 103 reservations, and it was not anyone's fault that preparations could not accommodate an extra hundred on a moment's notice. Alex Schneider voluntarily allowed for 50 additional places in his calculations, but who could have foreseen the extra hundred? At any rate, the Jaysees were delighted with the turnout and genuinely regretful that any should be turned away.

Real Cowboys Few

If the dinner turnout is any indication of the interest in Frontier Days, the celebration should be largely attended. Moreover, the big event should grow in interest each year. The real cowboys are few, hence a revival of old time customs and sports is something of a novelty to most people. It should be in the mind of everyone, moreover, to extend the hand of appreciation and friendship to those fine old pioneers who will come here for the occasion.

A Hat Story

The Pampan is indebted to T. D. Hobart for a story about big hats and drug store cowboys. The tale was told about T. S. McClelland, oldtimer, by the celebrated Jot Gunter, who located lands for the New York and Texas Land company and other concerns in this section. The time was 1875, and the interrogator of McClelland was an eastern fellow who thought western clothing made the western man. The easterner greatly desired to be known as a Texan, and after donning chaps and a big hat, he said to McClelland, who stammered in his speech: "Am I not a Texan now, or what do I have to do next?"

"You'd have t-t-t-t-to b-b-b-be born again," McClelland said as gravely as a stuttering man could.

—AND A SMILE

SHIPNALL, Shropshire, Eng. (AP)—A New Mexico cowboy whose name is Charlie Mix is having his troubles capturing a Japanese deer which is out of the loose in the neighborhood. The deer escaped from a herd two years ago and has eluded capture. Mix got his lariat over the hind's horns once, but the hind, a smart critter, slipped the rope and galloped away.

Transients Will Not Receive Board's Help

"Rubber tramps" those itinerant families who gypsy from place to place in gaudy cars (wrecks of their former selves, mostly in the summertime, are going to get a cool reception in Pampa from now on, according to the action of the Welfare Board yesterday.

The Board, upon recommendation of Mrs. W. H. Davis, welfare worker, decided that no more transients would be given food, groceries, gasoline, or anything that the Board can give. Board members explained that Pampa will do well to take care of her own indigents and destitute people. Only half of the quota for welfare work was raised last fall.

In the last week, the annual spring trek of "rubber tramps" has hit Pampa. Families bound for nowhere in particular, assailed the Board for gasoline, groceries. This morning Mrs. Davis refused to give aid to a transient and he, vowing vengeance, reported her to the police. The Board served notice this morning that no more assistance will be given "rubber tramps" and transients.

Mrs. Davis pointed out this morning that such families, traveling in a Model T of 1917 vintage or of similar age could travel from Texas to Maine and Maine to Oregon in a summer if they happened to be armed with notes from their "pastor" asking welfare agencies to give assistance to them.

Several such families have, already "made" Pampa. These "rubber tramps" usually start out from South Texas in the spring and work north. They are always bound for the wheat harvest in Kansas, the

Mel Davis Will Be in Charge of Frontier Barbecue

Mel B. Davis, one of Gray county's old timers who was born and reared in the county, will be responsible for the free barbecue at the Pampa Frontier days celebration on May 26-27. Mr. Davis accepted the chairmanship of the committee when asked by Sheriff Lon L. Blansett, general chairman of the celebration.

The barbecue will be held at noon May 27. The location has not been decided. It will take many bees to feed the thousands of persons who will be in Pampa for the celebration, but Mr. Davis says he believes he can handle the situation. Mel, as he is known by everyone in this section of the Panhandle, is no novice when it comes to preparing barbecues. He has had plenty of experience and knows his bees.

Chutes, fences and corrals for the big rodeo performances at Harvey are being completed this afternoon. Sheriff Blansett announced this morning. Stock is also being gathered from all sections of the county.

Falls Release Will Be Soon

WASHINGTON, May 4 (AP)—Albert B. Fall probably will be released from prison in the next few days.

By deducting the time allowed for good behavior, May 8 is the expiration date for his sentence, imposed for accepting a bribe while Secretary of the Interior under President Harding.

Serving in the New Mexico state penitentiary because he invaded at Santa Fe was considered favorable to his bad health, Fall is understood by Washington officials to have behaved well. Though the $100,000 fine imposed with the year and day prison term has not been paid, the sentence is not understood by the justice department to require his confinement until it is paid or Fall takes a pauper's oath.

CORRECTION

In mention of the perjury charge yesterday, reference was inadvertently made in one sentence to "Cooper" as the defendant. This was in error, and Hulan Cooper was the state's witness and in no way implicated in the perjury charge. THE NEWS is glad to make this correction.

Fred Hobart Wins Cup Again In Pistol Shoot

Fred Hobart of Pampa and Hemphill county was expected to return today from Frederick, Okla., with a loving cup which he has retained for the second consecutive year.

He won the cup yesterday at the annual pistol shoot held by North Texas and Southern Oklahoma peace officers, taking first place in both rapid and slow fire. He won the cup last year at Amarillo, and should he win next year he will retain it permanently.

The former A. E. F. sharpshooter has a large collection of guns and is constantly adding to it. When he left from Frederick, he was not very confident of winning, not having practiced in several months with pistols.

REAL BEAUTY TO BE CHOSEN IN BIG CONTEST

Juvenile Division To Be Feature Of Occasion

"Miss North Plains" will be a girl with figure, poise, personality and beauty when she is selected to represent this section of the country in the annual "Queen of the West" pageant this year at Roswell, N. M., the third week in July, according to David Dallas, managing director of the Western Beauty Pageants.

It is not the purpose of the pageant to select some so-called "flapper" type, but rather a typical West Texas beauty. The fourteen merchants are to be commended on their choice of representative, Mr. Dallas said.

"Miss North Plains" will be selected from among 14 local beauties and seven out-of-town representatives at the La Nora Theater Thursday and Friday evening by out-of-town judges. On Thursday evening, the local girls will appear and six of the most charming will be selected to compete with the out-of-town representatives. A final rehearsal will be held at the La Nora Thursday noon for the contestants.

In addition to the pageant, a juvenile revue will be staged Friday night, while 18 little girls will compete between the ages of two to eight.

A dancing chorus under the direction of Miss Kathryn Vincent, and music by Emerson's "Californians" will complete the stage program.

STATION CONTRACT TO BE LET IN FORT WORTH

Completion of the Fort Worth and Denver railway from Childress to Pampa will be much earlier than anticipated, H. H. Durston, general executive to the vice-president, announced this morning upon arrival in Pampa on a business visit. He predicted that steel would be in Pampa by June 1.

Mr. Durston said that steel would reach Magic City by tomorrow night. Grade for the main line has been completed. The Roberts Construction company is building grade for the spur line into the Bowers field. It branches from the main line at the Colfax Gasoline Plant No. 3 this side of LeFors.

Bridge crews are at work on the trestle across McClelland creek. It will be completed by the time steel arrives at that point and the building of a bridge across the Red river southeast of LeFors will be started, Mr. Durston said.

Bids for the construction of the Pampa depot will be let in Fort Worth tomorrow. Four Pampa contracting firms have entered bids. Construction of the depot will start as soon as possible after the contract is let, Mr. Durston believes. The station will be on the Tenacore addition in South Pampa. Grade has been completed to the station site.

There will be eleven stations on the line including Pampa and Childress. The station from Pampa to Childress will be called: Pampa, LeFors, Mel Davis, Denworth, Magic City, Shamrock, Samnorwood, Wellington, Newlora, Smithdale and Childress.

Bids on Audit To Be Opened May 17

Bids for the next annual audit will be opened by city commissioners at a regular meeting May 17. It was decided at a meeting yesterday afternoon. The next audit will be for the year starting April 1, 1932 to April 1, 1933. Cornell and company of Amarillo have just completed the audit for 1931 and 32, ending April 1.

The commissioners discussed more applications of the city manager's office following the regular business session.

NEAR TRAGEDY

Rivaling Theodore Dreiser's "An American Tragedy," a tale of youthful love that flamed, faded and brought disaster was unfolded by a 16-year-old Pomona, Calif., high school girl, pictured above, at the trial in Los Angeles of Frank Newland, 19, her former sweetheart, below, charged with clubbing her and hurling her into an abandoned well. The prosecution charged the alleged attack followed Miss Wade's demand that Newland obtain a divorce and marry her. She says Newland kept pushing her back into the icy water as she tried desperately to climb from the well. Finally escaping, she was taken to a hospital by a passing motorist.

Should the remaining precincts hold up the Texan's lead and give him victory, which his forces were claiming, Garner will have seriously impeded the chances of Roosevelt for the presidential nomination. He also will have taken himself out of the favorite son class, as Texas has promised him her 46. With California's 44, he would have a block of 90 convention votes.

"Needs 700 Votes" Roosevelt, who appears to have captured Alabama's 24 votes in yesterday's primary, now has 313 pledged and claimed votes with at least 100 promised him from New York and Pennsylvania. A total of 770 are needed to win the nomination. Conservative republicans appeared to have won another northwestern

Garner, Born in Red River County, Typical Boy

JOHN NANCE GARNER, like Lincoln, was born in a log cabin, but the cabin no longer exists. His birthplace was in Red River county, Texas, and the date was November 22, 1869. His parents, John and Sarah Jane Garner, were of pioneer stock. He liked baseball and played shortstop for the Ooon Soup Hollow team, bitter rivals of the Possum Trot nine on diamonds of his section.

Garner attended school at Bogota and Blossom. At 19, moved to Detroit, Tex. Decided to become a lawyer. Ran for county attorney, but was beaten. Moved to Uvalde, and in 1895 married Ettie Rheiner. Practiced law, ran a paper, served as county judge and in state legislature. At 32 went to Washington to serve in congress. Has represented his district since.

The autocratic party leaders in Washington thought he was just another cow thief from Texas, Garner said. In congress he began his famous friendship with the late Nicholas Longworth. Won place on ways and means committee. Became finance and taxation expert. During world war he often went to White House after congress sessions to confer with President Wilson.

The Harding landslide of 1920 left Garner ranking minority member of the house. He led fights against republican tariff measures and Mellon tax plans. A few months ago he was elected to speakership of house. Has worked diligently to keep house calm during recent exciting months when budget balancing and financial legislation have broken party lines. Opponents fear him in debate.

Cactus Jack, as Garner is familiarly called, still wears a wide hat. When in Uvalde he works in his garden and pecan orchard. He eats pecans in his own office—peacans from his own orchard. He is known as plain-spoken. When camping with friends, Garner always has done the cooking. He never campaigned for re-election. Apparently he didn't have to.

from their homes along the border. Now, however common labor is much in demand and all work preferable should be done by the more permanent white residents.

Newspaper Costs Publishing a daily newspaper is tremendously expensive. And likewise are the weekly papers expensive if you figure it up. The Bowie, Ariz., TRIBUNE has figured it out this way for the weekly papers:

"The 12,000 weekly newspapers in the United States have figured out the actual cost in cash per line of every editorial, local, and news matter that goes into a newspaper, and the cost amounts to about 2 1/2 cents a line. So when you feel like cussing the editor for not publishing your spring poetry, just stop and think that it is going to cost him 2 cents or more per line in cash to put it in type, make it up in the newspaper forms, run the papers through the press, fold them, and then take the forms off the press and distribute the type again. . . . This newspaper work is a great game—yet there are scads of both men and women (who have never been in a print shop in their lives) who could—or think they could, run the newspapers better than they are being run."

High Fixed Costs Since the above was written, newspapers costs have mounted vastly on the per line basis. The reason is that there is less advertising, particularly national, more bad accounts, fewer pages and lines—hence higher cost for the space—and a small proportionate decrease in production expense. The fixed expense of a newspaper is perhaps greater in proportion to its gross revenue than in any other business.

Petitions are being circulated here by jobless men who seek to have all Mexican laborers removed from the section; and their jobs given to white men. The petitions will be sent to Marvin Jones, congressman, and President Hoover. The problem is, of course, more than local. The decision rests with railroad officials and would have to be voluntary except where the Mexicans are aliens. In other years, the Mexicans have been welcomed to the farms as cotton pickers and common laborers, and many of them have been attracted

GAS ROYALTY MEN TO RAISE NEEDED FUNDS

Many Gray county gas and royalty owners attended the meeting of the Panhandle Gas Royalty Owners in Amarillo yesterday when a plan for a source of revenue with which to carry the fight for a better price for royalty gas into the courts was adopted.

It was agreed by those present to assess themselves 5 per cent of all monies received from the income of sweet gas whether from gas royalties, rentals, bonuses, or renewals of leases, for the funds of the organization. It is estimated that the plan would raise $12,900 a year.

McL Davis, of Pampa, showed several gas contracts showing the price of gas in other fields in Kansas and Oklahoma, and all cases the figures were either eight or ten cents per 1,000 cubic feet. Mr. Davis brought out that the very size of the Panhandle field, which made possible the immense pipe line investments, made the gas in this field worth more than in smaller fields, where new sources of supply had to be continually sought. Panhandle gas is paid for at a rate of two cents per 1,000 cubic feet.

Senator Clint C. Small made an interesting talk which showed that his sympathies were with the royalty owners. He deplored the legal battle which follows the discovery of oil and gas.

Among the Gray county men who attended the meeting were Mel B. Davis, Lee McConnell, Roger McConnell, I. B. Hughey, Dave Pope, W. E. Cobb, N. A. Cobb, Brady Cobb, Gus Daurer, A. A. Tieman, C. L. Thomas, Homer Kees, Don Hurst, Siler Faulkner, E. O. Vance, Henry Schafer, Buck Miller, W. H. Davis and John Studer.

Massie Group To Be in Custody Of Naval Officers

HONOLULU, May 4. (P)—Definite assurances that Lieut. Thomas H. Massie and three others convicted with him of manslaughter will not go to prison as long as their fight against conviction is in progress were forthcoming today.

Both prosecution and defense counsel said the four probably would remain in custody of the navy at Pearl Harbor and it was authoritatively understood Judge Charles S. Davis would commit them to the custody of naval officers when they appear before him for sentences Friday.

Meanwhile, pressure was brought on Governor Lawrence M. Judd by official Washington and civilian circles to pardon the quartet convicted of lynching Joseph Kahahala who allegedly had confessed a criminal attack on the wife of the naval officer.

Assistant Defense Attorney George S. Lelsure said he would ask the court to leave the defendants at Pearl Harbor.

WOMEN TO APPEAR IN UNIQUE GARB FRONTIER DAYS

Children Enjoying Their Examinations at Methodist Church This Week

SOME ARE TO WEAR COWGIRL COSTUMES OR RIDING HABITS -- OTHERS TO BE AUTHENTIC

"BE A GOOD PIONEER AND SHOW ENTHUSIASM THROUGH YOUR COSTUME," URGES MRS. HARRAH, WARDROBE CHAIRMAN

Some will wear their frills and bonnets, others will wear their boots and big hats, but Pampa women will show by their costumes that they are 100 per cent back of Frontier Days!

"It matters little what type of costumes they choose," said Mrs. Raymond Harrah, wardrobe chairman, "but all Pampa women should enter into the spirit of the occasion by wearing something suggestive of frontier life. Forget your worries and be good pioneers on May 26, 27, and 28," she urged.

The chairman pointed out that all types of garments probably would be worn. Some, she said, will appear in the divided skirts which were used for riding 25 or 30 years ago. Others who play to ride in the parade will use side saddles.

Many Costumes
"It is not essential to be authentically dressed in every detail," said Mrs. Harrah, "and boots are not necessary. Some may get the frontier atmosphere merely through big hats and colored shirts. Some may appear in solid colored dresses with big hats and colored handkerchiefs. Some will wear trousers, others prefer skirts. It is the spirit of the thing that counts."

For those who wish to be more authentic in their dress, Mrs. Harrah suggested that the hair be worn high, and that dresses with long, full skirts, high collars, and shirt waists buttoned up the back or front were appropriate.

Styles Changed
"The styles changed in the earlier days just as they change now," said Mrs. J. S. Wynne, who has been a Pampa resident for many years. "Therefore it would be impossible to have any set style, either in the types of dresses worn or in the style of hair dressing."

"Of course in all of the dresses, more material was used than is used today—and there was no bobbed hair," she explained.

Dress in the Attic
The old-fashioned dress featuring a complete hoop was before the day of Mrs. T. D. Hobart—but she can remember finding one in the attic. And she can remember when very lovely dresses had a hoop at the sides and back, with elastic across the front.

"I can well remember," said Mrs. Hobart, "the old-time bustles and the dresses that trailed, even on the streets. At the time I was married that style had almost passed, but in my trousseau I had one trailing garment—a very dressy tea gown."

"Even in the early days of Pampa several petticoats were worn at one time. And I remember the high collars with white ties in the side. On one dress I had a very high velvet collar, the top of which was slightly turned back. Such collars could not be worn except when the hair was arranged high on the head."

So Pampa women have an endless variety of costume types from which to choose for Frontier days.

FIVE FOUND TO BE PERFECT IN TESTS TUESDAY

SERVICES ARE GIVEN WITHOUT CHARGE BY DOCTORS

The day when children trembled with fear when required to receive physical examinations evidently is over. The children are enjoying their tests this week at the Methodist church in connection with the summer round-up, and both the children and their parents are co-operating in the undertaking, Miss Iva Junie Willis, public school health supervisor, said.

Five of the 19 pre-school children of the Sam Houston district who were examined yesterday were found to be free of remedial defects, according to Mrs. A. L. Patrick, who was chosen by the Sam Houston Parent-Teacher association to direct the clinic of that school. The fortunate pupils were: Wanda Jean Workman, Gene Colburn, Doris Ann Davis, Bonnie Ruth Spees, and Clarice de Cordova.

Physicians who assisted were C. D. Hunter and R. A. Webb. Dentists were R. M. Johnson and E. A. Tidman. Miss Iva Junie Willis, assisted.

Members of the Parent-Teacher association are sponsoring the summer round-up, of which the clinic is a part, and members of that organization assisting were Mrs. A. L. Patrick, Mrs. W. C. de Cordova, Mrs. W. O. Workman, Mrs. C. G. Waggoner, and Mrs. A. C. Shaw. Today the pre-school children of the Horace Mann district are being examined. The Woodrow Wilson children will receive their examinations tomorrow and the Merten, Kingsmill, and Hoover children Friday.

It was stated that any of the Sam Houston children unable to receive their examinations yesterday might go today, tomorrow, or Friday. Mothers are urged to take advantage of the opportunity to receive free medical and dental examinations for their children.

ishings offer much inducement for the family's staying home. The decorative bill of course vary according to different tastes and styles of homes. A pot of geraniums will be fully as charming in a cottage as a reproduction of Venus De Milo in the hall-way of a mansion. And, if geraniums are the hobby of the owner, they will be far more gratifying.

The yard is the setting for the house, and it is as essentially a part of the home as that house. There are various ways of ward treatment, but since outdoor living rooms are so in vogue, it is a common practice to have a front lawn which is semi-public and a more private plot to the rear or side of the house enclosed by a picturesque fence or hedge. In this plot, called the outdoor living room, mother can cultivate her pet flower, father tell his fish stories, or sister entertain her bridge club. This supplementary living room makes it possible for each member of the family to pursue his or her hobby. The generosity of nature's lovers makes it easy to

Names Placed on Quilt by Class

Forty-one names were embroidered on a quilt by members of the Madonna Sunday school class, Central Baptist church, yesterday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Ben Siebold. The names at the close of yesterday's work totaled 113, and many more will be added next Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock when the class meets with Mrs. Homer Cone.

Ice cream and cake were served to two guests, Mrs. R. Black of Raton, N. M., and Mrs. Clifford McIntyre of Pampa and to the following members: Mesdames Cecil Lunsford, C. F. Naylor, George Berlin, R. M. Mitchell, Lester Lovell, D. H. Coffey, E. V. Davis, Bert Moore, and the hostess.

have such a sun room, for what man won't teach his neighbor to bid roses, or what woman doesn't exchange begonia cuttings, and what boy wouldn't help another make a martin house?

To us more or less material minded American it is also interesting to note how much such things as a production garden and happy home atmosphere increase the sale value of our property. It is an accepted fact, among dealers in real estate that new paint and the planting of suitable shrubbery can practically double the exchange value of property.

President Hoover recently sponsored a Better Homes Conference which was attended by representatives of the different medical, architectural, and civic clubs and unions over the entire country. This is conclusive evidence that America is actually becoming "Better Homes" conscious.

TREBLE CLEF MEMBERS GIVE GOOD PROGRAM

IMPRESSIVE CANTATA IS CLIMAX FOR THE EVENING

The Treble Clef club, which was organized several months ago for the promotion of good music in Pampa, proved its worth last evening when it gave a public concert in the city auditorium. The club assisted greatly in plans for national Music week, now being observed here.

The program was short but well-rounded, and the audience showed its approval by generous applause from the first number, a quartet, to the cantata, "A Day in Venice," which was an impressive climax for the evening.

Arthur M. Teed gave the opening remarks, after which the following numbers were heard:
Treble Clef quartet, "Sylvia" (Oley Speaks), Mrs. W. A. Bratton, Mrs. Earl Thomason, Miss Josephine Thomas, Mrs. Chas. Thut, accompanied by Miss Iva Junie Willis.
Soprano solo, "An Open Secret", Mrs. A. H. Doucette, accompanied by Mrs. Frank Keenan.

Full Line Frigidaire Products Handled by Bert Curry Refrigeration Co.

Advertising in The NEWS for months proclaimed the existence of the Bert Curry Refrigeration company which is operated by the titular head of the company at the Southwestern Public Service company's modernistic office on North Cuyler.

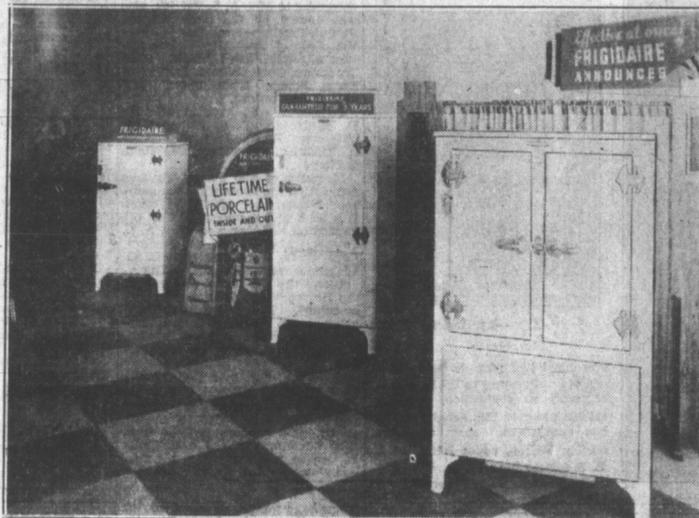

Mr. Curry organized the refrigeration company several months ago when he resigned as local manager of the utility corporation. Because Mr. Curry handles General Motors products, Tom Rose of the Tom Rose Buick company is half-owner.

Mr. Curry has been in Pampa five and one-half years, five of which were spent as manager of the electric company. He is a native of Georgia and received his college education at Georgia and received his college education at Georgia Tech. Mr. Curry says he endeavored to make his southern voice diplomatic while he was manager of the utility company here. Now his big job is to make it persuasive, he said.

The Bert Curry Refrigeration company has in stock all equipment for household and commercial refrigeration, ice cream cabinets, water coolers, grocery and meat market equipment, new Frigidaire air conditioning for homes and offices. This, Mr. Curry says, cools in summer and heats in winter.

The personnel of the company includes T. C. Shaw and Lewis Curry, salesmen; Jake W. Stiles, installation and service. All of the refrigeration products may be bought on a time-payment plan.

Annual Frigidaire Spring Showing Opens Friday; Souvenirs For All Visitors

Mr. Curry can get enthusiastic about his Frigidaire air conditioning. This installed in the home can regulate the temperature to suit, he said. The conditioning consists in cooling the atmosphere in the room before it gets to the room. The flow of cooled atmosphere into the room is continuous. In winter, the conditioning system will heat the room. The system is finding a ready market, Mr. Curry said.

"Frozen storage has a big future," Mr. Curry asserted and he began talking of the time when foods in grocery store, canned goods as well as meats, will be kept in refrigerated counters.

The prices of the Frigidaire refrigerator and other equipment sold by Mr. Curry, but especially of the refrigerator, have been drastically reduced in the last year, he said. The Frigidaire now costs only a fraction of what it cost in 1929, he said.

Mr. Curry has always been prominent in civic affairs—in the Lions club, B. C. D., Welfare Board, Chamber of Commerce.

Beginning Friday of this week the Annual Frigidaire Spring Showing, featuring all of the new products in the 1932 line, will open. There will be souvenirs for all guests visiting the show room of the Bert Curry Refrigeration Company during the showing which will continue for ten days. All housewives are cordially invited to attend.

TEXAS LEAGUE CONTINUES TO BE GAME OF CHECKERS

DALLAS GOES TO NEAR TOP WITH VICTORY

BUT FORT WORTH IS SAFE FOLLOWING WIN

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

A new move was made yesterday in the Texas league race. Dallas jumped Houston and went into second place because the Buffaloes were defeated by Wichita Falls while Dallas washed the war-paint off the San Antonio Indians. However, Fort Worth checked all movements to oust them from first place by beating Beaumont for their twentieth victory in twenty starts.

The Tigers beat San Antonio 3 to 2 to help George Murray, ace right-hander, chalk up his fourth victory this season. Both clubs made six hits. Sanders pitched well for the Indians. In spite of the good hurling, the game was lopsided.

"Cowboy" Jones, recently released by Dallas and signed by Beaumont, tried his best to give Fort Worth a victory over Fort Worth. He made two hits and batted in three runs but his major botch was the game in the pinches. Jones hit a triple and home run but errors in the seventh allowed Fort Worth to win.

Gus Whelan's home run in the second inning with two men on base was the blow that gave Shreveport, a 6 to 3 verdict over Galveston. Milt Steingrafe went the route for Shreveport and was hit hard but pulled through.

Manager Henry Severed of Wichita Falls showed his boys how when he hit a home run in the sixth inning with the bases loaded to help beat Houston 10 to 5. This rally enabled the Spudders to overcome a three-run lead. Presnell pitched a fine game, allowing only four hits. Two of them were successive home runs in the sixth by Joe Medwick and Homer Peel.

Whitney Horse
May Be Winner

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 4 (AP)—Whitney horse may win the Kentucky derby after all, in the opinion of scores of railbirds who thronged Churchill Downs to watch the first gallop of Stepenfitch and Overtime. Mrs. John Hay Whitney, wife of Saturday's $50,000 classic.

Withdrawing of C. V. Whitney's crack filly Top Flight and Mrs. Payne Whitney's Curacao from the derby field left Mrs. John Hay Whitney the only member of the prominent turf family to have representation in the historic race.

Stepenfitch will be ridden in the derby by the veteran jockey, L. Enzor. Earl Sande himself, who has had mounts on three derby winners, will ride Overtime in his attempt to make his recent turf comeback decisive.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 4 (AP)—Captain Eddie Warren of the Yale nine doesn't intend to have the loss of his left arm interfere with his baseball career.

Dissatisfied with watching his team from the bench, he convinced coaches and physicians that he still had a lot of good baseball in his system. Yesterday he went out to right field for the Yale-Wesleyan game to clinch his argument.

His contribution to the Yale 15 to 2 victory was one hit, one run, one out and one error in the snappy fielding of two hot liners.

Warren lost his arm in a motorboat accident last summer after receiving the baseball captaincy.

Rice Owls Are Ahead in League

COLLEGE STATION, May 4 (AP)—The Rice Owls today were ahead of Texas A. & M. and Baylor in their fight for third place in the southwest conference baseball race. The Owls yesterday defeated the Aggies 9 to 1 while Baylor was dropping a 2 to 1 contest at Dallas to Southern Methodist university.

"Smoky" Klauer, the Owl's ace, limited the farmers to five hits and struck out nine. The Owls got only three singles off Bob Scher but they were aided by six cadet errors.

Another pitchers' battle was staged at Dallas between Raymond Alford of the Bears and "Bud" McLeod of the Mustangs. A Baylor rally in the ninth was almost disastrous to the Methodist prospects of winning their first conference title of the season but a relief pitcher saved the game.

TWO PERSONS INJURED
CANYON, May 4 (AP)—Mrs. L. Stevens of near Wayside, Swisher county, suffered a dislocated hip, and Ralph Higgins, Panhandle high school senior returning from a camp picnic, was badly bruised in a three-car collision six miles southwest of Canyon yesterday afternoon. Three others were slightly injured.

DODGERS ARE HITTING WELL - IN ONE TILT

Dizzy Dean of Cardinals Hits Stride, Blanking Cincinnati 9 to 0.

By GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Brooklyn Dodgers, who have had neither pitching nor hitting to speak of since they completed their course in calisthenics this spring, at last show symptoms of recovering their batting eyes.

The latent power in their bats burst forth yesterday against the Giants. Trailing by five runs going into the ninth, they fell on three of McGraw's curves for eight runs to win, 11 to 7, and leave the Giants in complete possession of the National league cellar.

The Boston Braves and Chicago Cubs maintained their fight for first place in the senior league, the Braves clinging to their one-game advantage by defeating the Phillies, 9 to 4, while the Cubs came from behind to trim the Pirates, 8 to 6.

The Boston Braves and Chicago Cubs maintained their fight for first place in the senior league, the Braves clinging to their one-game advantage by defeating the Phillies, 9 to 4, while the Cubs came from behind to trim the Pirates, 8 to 6.

"Dizzy" Dean, the Cardinals' much publicized rookie, finally came through with shut-out victory over Cincinnati, 9 to 0. In winning their last three games, Hallahan, Johnson, and Dean have granted the opposition just two runs.

Although three Washington pitchers issued 16 passes, the Senators staggered through to a 5 to 4 win over the Yankees. It was the leaders' third straight over the Yanks and their sixth win in a row.

Cleveland's winning streak was snapped at nine straight when the St. Louis Browns outslug the Indians, 11 to 8.

George Earnshaw was in rare form, yielding only four hits as the Athletics won another from the Boston Red Sox, 6 to 1.

Detroit and Chicago were rained out.

MUCH GOLF TO BE PLAYED IN COUNTRY CLUB TOURNEY DURING REMAINDER OF WEEK

Entrants in the Country Club tournament which closes Sunday afternoon will have to shoot much golf during the rest of the week to qualify for prizes and title. Eighteen holes must be played during the week and another 18 holes on Sunday, which, added to the 18 holes last Sunday, will make the necessary number to compete for prizes.

A strong wind Monday kept golfers off the course. Yesterday a few of the hardy ones like Hoffman, Brown, Huskaphar, and a few more went the rounds despite the wind. Many others are expected to add another round to their total today. The 18 holes necessary during the week may be shot in two nines, but covering the entire course.

Fifty-six golfers shot the first 18 holes and subtracting his handicap, decided from scores in a previous flag tournament.

Some good scores have been made despite high winds. Ben Farris with a 76 leads the field. Dr. R. A. Webb follows with a 78. Skeet Stewart turned in an 81 yesterday, while Lem Sorz was making 89 and Odus Mitchell 97.

Woodward Will Run If Sterling Leaves Race

ABILENE, May 4 (AP)—State Senator Walter C. Woodward of Coleman intends to run for governor this year if Gov. R. S. Sterling does not stand for re-election.

"If Governor Sterling does not make the race, I will," Senator Woodward, an administration leader, added that "if Mr. Sterling comes up for a second term, it goes without saying that I will support him actively."

Governor Sterling's plans with regard to reelection have been the subject of considerable speculation. Some have expressed the opinion he might retire to devote his time to private business affairs. The chief executive, however, has made no statement indicating he was considering departing from the Texas custom of standing for a second term.

"Governor Sterling has never told me he would not again be a candidate, and so far as I am advised, he will," Senator Woodward said.

Senator Clint Small of Wellington is another West Texan who has announced he will run if Governor Sterling declines to make the race. Small and Woodward, who have fought side by side in many senate battles, thus would be cast in the roles of political adversaries.

Jubeeau will be reached at 7 o'clock the evening of June 11 and at 1 a. m. the following morning the steamer will proceed onward toward Skagway. However, virtually the entire stop at this city, nesting beneath towering peaks on Gastineau Channel, will be spent in daylight as the party will be far into the "Land of the Midnight Sun" by that date.

Short Time Is Left to Sign for Alaskan Trip

AMARILLO, May 4 (Sp)—With only 11 days remaining until May 15, plans for the News-Globe second annual goodwill tour rapidly are taking shape. Wilbur C. Hawk, sponsor, announced last night. The trip this year from June 2 to 21 is by far the most attractive ever planned from the Southwest, including thousands of miles by special trains in the United States and Western Canada and more than 2,000 miles by special steamer from Vancouver to Alaska and return.

In order to charter the giant ocean-going steamer from the Canadian steamship line exclusively for the News-Globe party, Mr. Hawk must have 200 reservations by May 15. He requires only one-fourth of the $300, entire cost of the trip, or $75 as a deposit by May 15 for a reservation.

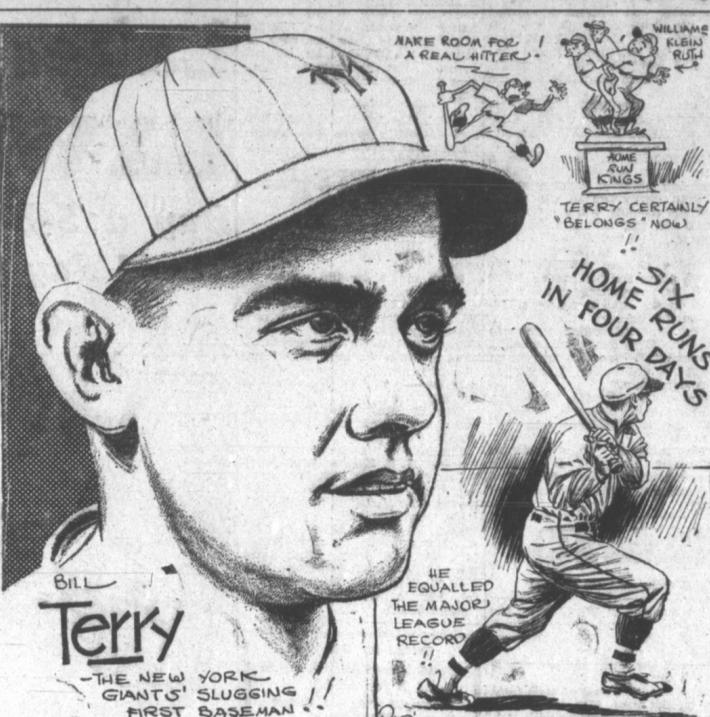

Reservations Coming In

Twenty cash reservations already have been turned in and 135 more have definitely promised to make their reservations within the next eight days. One hundred more prospects for the trip also are expected to sign up either with Mr. Hawk by letter to the News-Globe or get in touch with Mining King at the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce.

Juneau Point of Interest

One of the principal points of interest on the entire trip is Juneau capital of Alaska which is a stop on the trip north toward Skagway. Here the party will be officially greeted by the governor of Alaska.

NEWS Agrees to Play Phillips in Baseball Game

The NEWS playground ball team has accepted a challenge from the Phillips Petroleum company's gasoline department team, and the game will be played Tuesday afternoon on the Sam Houston diamond. The strength of the Phillips nine is not known, although their manager says they are just a bunch of "country boys."

"That sounds bad for the typographers, since these 'country boys' can usually sock a ball of any kind or description. All competition in the field has been eliminated by the '98' boys, so the NEWS is probably in for a tough evening."

There will be no admission charge and everyone is invited to attend the game and welcome the Phillips boys to Pampa.

Mags Will Play at Skellytown

The Magnolia "Mags" will play ball in Skellytown Sunday afternoon instead of at LeFors as formerly announced. The game with LeFors will be played the following Sunday. The "Mags" are standing at 500 with two wins and two losses. They defeated the Texaco Stars of Amarillo and LeFors and lost to Borger and the Texaco Stars.

Skellytown is reported to have a stronger team than last season when they gave the Magnolia aggregation plenty of opposition in the Gray-Carson league. Voss or Casey will probably get the call to coach the Skellytown team. Weather has been against the boys since the season opened.

Carroll is the Skellytown ace. He is the boy who pitched a no hit, no run game against Panhandle last season and a two-hit game against the same team this season. Bryant will be on the receiving end.

The "Mags" are practicing daily this week, getting into shape for the tilt. Errors lost the game to the Texaco Stars last Friday here.

DALLAS GOLF MEET OPENS

DALLAS, May 4 (AP)—Match play started today in the annual Dallas Golf Meet. Gus Moreland, Texas amateur champion, is defending champion over his home course, the Dallas country club. He met John Noble, crack municipal star, in his first round match after qualifying with a 154.

O'Golf champion, won medalist honors with a 75-73-148. Watts met David Clark, high school star, in his first round match.

Moreland, who plans to compete in one of this year's outstanding golf tournaments after winning eight major southwestern events last year, had one of his worst rounds yesterday since he attracted major attention. He carded an 80 after playing the first 18 holes in 125.

However, he was the outstanding favorite when the first round matches started today.

BIGGEST TIRE ARRIVES HERE FOR INSPECTION

The largest tire that the world has ever seen will be shown in Pampa after 5:30 today. Made by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company at its factory in Akron, Ohio, it is one of two which are touring the entire United States.

The tire weighs more than a thousand pounds and has an inner tube which weighs an additional 125 pounds. The Airwheel tire is inflated to a pressure of three pounds for traveling light, but if it were carrying the 25 ton load for which it is built it would be inflated to six pounds pressure.

Only three of the tires have been built, two of which are touring the country and one is in Akron as a spare. The only evidence of wear and tear is the number of pieces of rubber cut off by souvenir hunters.

The giant of the road will be in Pampa until 8 a. m. Thursday morning at Adkisson & Gunn tire company, local Goodyear dealers.

Not Your Lighting Bill but Your Electric Service Bill

If we itemized your electric bill you would then see that lighting is really only a small part. So accustomed have we become to the other electric services that we sometimes forget how many times a day electricity serves us. It makes our toast in the morning. It sweeps the rugs. It washes the clothes. Then it irons them. And almost everyone of the many services electricity performs in the home cost only a cent or so . . . many cost less. In fact, if you paid for electricity as you use it, you could really let your pennies pay your electric bill. Considering the time and labor it saves you, what other money you spend brings greater return in comfort and convenience?

You Can't Marry

by Julia Cleft-Addams

SYNOPSIS: The thin circle of a wedding ring may ruin George's life. He has married Edna Townsend, but she is pretending her cousin Jenny married him, for her employer insists that his women employees remain single. When Jenny is asked to marry him, she declines. She is wrecked, the doctor who examined her noticed Jenny was wearing no wedding ring. He comes to George, and tries to find out which girl is Mrs. Townsend. George is sure Jenny will be for her. She does not know that Jenny is unhappy because Garth Avenue, the nephew of George's employer, has seemed attracted to her. Jenny has promised to go into the country for a day's ride with Avenue, although she does not realize that she really likes her. George telephones her employer, to learn if he has heard of the marriage.

Chapter 15

GEORGIE'S TRUMP CARD
"GOOD EVENING, Miss Loyalty!" came the cool voice of Garth Avenue.

"Oh—it's you, is it, you hired assassin?" With an effort George threw slyness into her tone. "Put me through to my chief, will you, please?"

"You'll have to wait, I'm afraid. His doctor is with him. He had a slight attack after dinner. . . . No, he didn't eat too much, he saw something in an evening paper that upset him."

George leapt at her opportunity. "Something about me?"

"I gathered so. At any rate, he was removed having about the impossibility of ever replacing you."

"He needn't worry. That report in the Record, wasn't it?—it's about my cousin Jenny. She and I have exactly the same name, you see. Will you tell him, please?"

There was no answer. She frowned, biting her lip.

"Hello—"

"Sorry!" came Avenue's voice. "I'm just trying to get the hang of it all. You want me to tell the Old Man that it was your cousin who married Townsend this morning?"

"Don't you believe it?" She hoped her laugh sounded more convincing over the wires than it did in this empty room. "Why don't you believe it?"

Again there was so odd a pause that she hurried out her trump card.

"If your uncle is as skeptical as you, Jenny had better go and see him herself and assure him it really is true!"

"Perhaps she had."

"What are you laughing at?" demanded George.

"At what time will she come?"

"Oh tomorrow morning, I should think. He's always at home on Sunday morning, isn't he? Ask him to see her for a few minutes at ten."

"At ten, exactly. Good-night!" George cupped her chin in her hands, frowning intently. She ought to phone the hospital—and Jenny, too—but perhaps it was more important to speak to Gill, the superintendent.

She swung out of the apartment and down the stairs. Gill was smoking a pipe just inside his own room, near the door. He sat astride a chair, his folded arms along its back, and not for the first time she thought how arresting he was in appearance. Had he been taller he would have been strikingly handsome. As it was, his big, rugged head, grey-haired, was poised on shoulders that were too square and too high. He rose as she came towards him and his lumbering movements seemed alien to his deep, shrewd eyes and strong mouth.

"Oh, Gill! I wanted to speak to you."

He moved his chair for her to enter his little office. The most imposing thing in it was the telephone. Here, Gill received and forwarded the imperious messages that sent George flying to Rochester Gate from wherever she might chance to be. Remembering how well she paid him for these services, George spoke with confidence.

"Gill, I expect you've read of the accident to Mr. Townsend? You know, the alarm? You've seen him coming in and out here a lot."

Gill nodded. He was by nature silent. In fact, his taciturnity was a by-word.

"You may have read, too, that he was only married this morning?"

Gill said nothing.

"If anybody asks you," pursued George, "which of the two Miss Revells he married, what would you say? . . . It's rather important you should get it straight in your mind because newspaper-men may call."

"Gentleman who came to see you just now asked me a lot of questions," vouchsafed Gill.

"Oh, what did you—?"

"He didn't get nothing out of me," George whistled her relief. Gill's eyes twinkled and for a moment she thought he was going to laugh; but he swallowed it.

"It's Miss Jenny who married Mr. Townsend," said George, looking very straight at him. "I don't know whether I ever told you, but if I were to marry I should lose my job. So you'll remember which one of us it is who is really Mrs. Townsend, won't you?"

Gill crooked one knee across the other, standing precariously on one leg against the sole of his boot. George waited patiently. It was no use ever hurrying Gill. Then she remembered that she had not touched on monetary consideration.

"You may have to deal with quite a good many enquiries," she added. "Suppose I give you an extra five dollars a week for as long as I still work for Mr. Matching?"

Gill straightened himself. He seemed to be considering profoundly. She was just about to raise her eyes when he asked:

"Is that all right with Miss Jenny—my saying that?"

George frowned. Then she smiled. Gill couldn't know that Jenny had already consented to the—well, the lie.

"Because, seems to me," Gill was laboriously proceeding, "if I was to say Miss Jenny was married, to any friend of hers, well, seems to me it might give the wrong idea."

George laughed, amused.

"She hasn't any special friend who would care one way or the other." And then, as Gill looked unconvinced—"Perhaps you'd better ring her up and let her tell you herself that she doesn't object. Get the hotel, will you?"

He obeyed. And while she waited, she saw a Record in the corner, picked it up and read its stop-press news. "Mr. Eddie Townsend, who was at the wheel when his car came into collision with a bus had just left City Hall after his marriage to Miss Georgina Revell."

Wonderful, thought George grimly, what a lot they had given away in that one sentence! No wonder the Old Man had collapsed.

"The hotel, miss."

George took the receiver.

"I want to speak to Miss Revell."

Another delay. Then Jenny's voice murmured something.

"That you, Jen? You've seen the Record?"

"Yes, I've seen it."

"You'll help me out, of course? . . . You know in what way I mean?"

"—Yes, I know what you mean. But—"

"I want you to start by telling Gill—he's here now—how to stall off enquiries. . . . You know what I mean."

"Yes," repeated Jenny's voice, even more faintly. "I know what you mean. . . . Will it do if I see him tomorrow in the evening?"

"Well, but why not speak to him now?"

There was no answer.

"Besides, you must be round here early, honey, please. I've a lot to tell you—a lot has happened. There's bad news about Ed. And you must come with me to Rochester Gate. I've made an appointment for ten."

"Or no!" protested Jenny's voice quite sharply and distinctly. "Not at ten. I can't come at ten."

George nearly gaped.

"But you—but why not?" she demanded. Then, as silence again ensued, she added—"Believe me, when people make appointments with the Old Man, they keep 'em."

"I didn't make this one." A sharp, stubborn tone—quite an amazing tone from docile little Jenny.

"I'll come round," said George hurriedly. "When I explain about poor old Ed, you'll see that it's essential—"

"No, don't come, please, George. I'm too tired. I—I want to go to bed."

"Then I'll come tomorrow, about nine or half-past. When you hear how things are—"

"Goodnight," said Jenny. Slowly, George turned from the instrument.

"Miss Jenny will see you some time tomorrow, Gill. She's too tired tonight to speak to anyone."

Gill grinned. She felt his shrewd eyes follow her as she went up the stairs.

Disturbing echoes went with her—Jenny's mysterious "Not at ten!" and Garth Avenue's laughter and Gill's sceptical grunt. George couldn't think why any of these people should have been so difficult to handle; Jenny, on whom she had so confidently reckoned, the most difficult of all. . . . And suddenly she faced the fact that Jenny, in spite of her promise, in spite of Eddie's breakdown—Jenny might refuse to tell that terribly necessary lie.

(Copyright, Julia Cleft-Addams)
Jenny makes her decision, tomorrow. Will she lie for George?

Man Succumbs While at Cafe

A heart attack took the life of Andy Gunderson, about 50, while he sat in a local cafe at 2:30 o'clock this morning. Mr. Gunderson was rushed to Wesley Hospital in a C. C. Malone ambulance but died en route. He was drinking a cup of coffee with some friends when the attack seized him.

The body is at the Malone Funeral home awaiting the arrival of a brother from Newshone, Ia.

Mr. Gunderson had been a resident of Pampa for several years. He formerly operated a coal house in South Pampa. He was a member in good standing in the Elks club at Wichita Falls.

Youth Is Indicted On Perjury Charge

An indictment charging Lewis Pepper, McLean youth, with perjury in connection with his testimony in the trial of George H. (Hoss) Johnson, was returned by the 31st district court grand jury this morning.

Pepper was in the county jail when he was served with the indictment. His bond was set at $2,000 by Judge W. R. Ewing. He expected to make bond today.

The indictment was lengthy and contained in detail a description of Pepper's testimony. The McLean youth stee on the witness stand that a five-dollar check given Johnson by Ethan Cooper was a wager on the Pampa-Amarillo football game and not in payment for whiskey.

COTTON IS EASIER

NEW ORLEANS, May 4.—(AP)—Cotton opened slightly easier today in sympathy with lower cables than due. First trades here showed losses of 2 to 4 points. Prices recovered one to two points right after the start on a little covering, July trading at 5.70 and October at 5.93.

The market soon turned easier again owing to opening weakness in the stock market and a renewal of liquidation and July dropped to 5.50 and October to 5.84, down 11 to 12 points from yesterday's close.

Near the end of the first hour the market was quiet and rather easy, prices showing a downward tendency.

OIL INQUIRY

fy before the commission members this afternoon.

Asked how long the commission would sit as a court of inquiry, Chairman Terrell said: "We are going to stay here as long as it is necessary to develop facts pertinent to this investigation, even if it takes all summer."

Both commissioners praised the "alert and vigorous manner" in which District Attorney John Taylor of Longview and Colonel Davidson are pursuing their part of the investigation.

Replying to a telegram dispatched to them last night by Pat M. Neff, the other member of the commission, Terrell and Smith issued the following statement:

"Pat Neff, true to his projected program, again appears in the headlines of the daily press in the role of critic. He ever covets front page stuff, playing consistently to the galleries.

"We expected no cooperation from him, today, in our efforts to untangle a most complex web woven by experts in a game where only honest men should play.

"He Neff, sallies forth again from his tent as a mailed knight, who, like the ancient Achilles, seemed to think 'He, the Honorable Pat Neff, with many 'exes' attached to his name, is incalculable to public criticism."

A compensation suit, Ames Doyle vs Bankers Lloyd, was settled in 114th district court yesterday, with Judge E. F. Ritchey presiding.

GARNER--

victory in South Dakota where an uninstructed delegation of 11 friendly to President Hoover was maintaining a good lead over a faction pledged to a "progressive."

With these 11 and California's 47, the latter won without opposition, the president today boosted his pledged and claimed convention vote to 788 as Rhode Island instructed eight for him. Only 578 are required to nominate for the republicans.

Representative McDuffie of Alabama, the democratic whip, a Garner supporter, had this to say on the California returns:

"Mr. Garner has never been a party to the stop-Roosevelt movement and whatever happens at the national convention in Chicago, I hope the meeting will not be long drawn out and that a short platform will be adopted."

Garner Is Silent
Speaker Garner maintained his silence about the nomination when asked by newspapermen for comment on the returns from California, but he did say:

"The most interesting thing to me is the large democratic vote. I understand it was the largest on record in California. I think it most significant."

Senator Connally (D, Tex.) in a statement said "Garner's victory in California is significant and encouraging."

The factional fight between Smith and Roosevelt is making Garner stronger every day. The party can unite on Garner and elect him."

TRANSIENTS--

potato diggings in Washington, the grape, apricot, and peach pickings in California, or anything, else they can think of. They spend their winters in the south and their summers in the north.

There are thousands of such families on the road, Mrs. Davis said. She has been negotiating with welfare agency in Wichita Falls and other cities between here and there hoping to obtain assurance that they will cooperate with Pampa in giving no assistance to transients this summer.
