

OCEAN FLIERS IN SAFE LANDINGS

WHAT GOOD NEWS, JACK?

"Smile and the whole world smiles with you—" so Jack Garner, Democratic vice presidential candidate, seems to be saying here. This striking close-up was taken at a Memphis airport where Garner was greeted by Tennessee Democratic leaders as his plane stopped while he was en route to his home in Texas after visiting Governor Roosevelt in New York. Judging from the photo, it seems that Jack had just received some good news about the Democratic party's prospects in Tennessee.

We appreciate this: "Dear Editor and Staff: We wish to let this little card express our gratitude for the splendid write-ups about our School of Instruction. ORDER EASTERN STAR, Pampa Chapter No. 65."

The NEWS exists to serve Pampa and this territory. It is proud of the organizations about which it writes so much. It is pleasure to serve people who appreciate it. And in this connection we wish to say that writing about local events is a two-fold activity. Reporters are not mind-readers. The public's cooperation is necessary. The Eastern Star members did cooperate with THE NEWS and that made possible full descriptions of the proceedings. Those clubs and individuals who help THE NEWS are in turn helped to the full extent of our ability. Don't think that the staff abhors suggestions about stories—we want the news and we accuse no one of being a publicity hunter. We are as near as your telephone.

A Pampa small boy, who with a companion was looking longingly and admiringly at a little red wagon in a show window, spoke in this wise: "Gee, I'd love to have that wagon, but gosh, times are so hard I have to save my money to buy something to eat." The depression teaches thrift. But we hope Santa Claus delivers the little red wagon.

Busy town—that's what we have here. Footballs are in the air, soft and regulation baseball teams are active, the women are going in for more sports, golf is popular, bowling will get more attention from now on, clubs are re-organizing, politics is in the air, a busy court session will start in September. It is a pleasure to record happenings in a busy city. In this connection, we might quote John I. Bradley, who has returned from El Paso, a city of 105,000. Said John: "I'm glad to be back where I can get all the news in one paper. In El Paso I had to buy all three papers and not a one was better than the Pampa Daily NEWS."

Of all the appeals we could make, we think none as touching as that of the children. School time is nearly here. There are many school children who cannot enter school unless they are given clothing. The Welfare Board needs a shower of serviceable garments for the young. Childhood is calling—won't you help by giving a few garments to the youngsters through the Welfare Board at the city hall?

Boyhood is a great time. It's truly formative. The child is father of the man.

LEADERSHIP IN FARM CIRCLES NOT ACCEPTED

SOME GROUPS SEEM TO WEAKEN, OTHERS SPREAD OUT

TEAR GAS IS USED TO SCATTER CROWD ON HIGHWAY

DES MOINES, Ia., Aug. 24 (AP)—Two victories marked the course of the mid-west farm strike for higher prices today, as the movement spread in some quarters and receded in others. Interference with rail transportation continued.

Both victories were scored in Nebraska, where milk producers gained higher prices for their products. At Omaha, officials of the Iowa-Nebraska co-operative milk association consented to pay $2 per hundredweight for milk, compared with a previous top of $1.45, while at Lincoln milk dealers agreed to pay $1.30, an increase of 40 cents over the previous.

More than 1,000 agriculturists were assembled in camps along the main highways leading into Omaha, but there were reports that some of the picketers were in a dispute as to the best method of enforcing the farmers' holiday. The army near Omaha was reported to be leaderless, one of the farmers declaring that the trouble was that they had too much leadership already.

Iowa sympathetic Reports of a spread of the strike came from Danbury, Rockford, Ma.

DUNCAN WILL BE HEARD ON AIR THURSDAY

Candidate for Representative Draws Commendation On His Fair Campaign.

Judge Ivy E. Duncan is a busy man, with campaigning requiring all of his time. Yesterday he spent the major portion of the day in the McLean county.

Tomorrow morning at 7:30 o'clock the judge will make a radio address from station KOPB in Amarillo. He is receiving much encouragement in the counties of Gray, Wheeler, Donley, and Collingsworth from persons who realize that the varied interests of the district demand a man of broad knowledge and experience and a technical knowledge of the oil and utility problems.

He also is being commended for the fair manner in which he is conducting his campaign for state representative.

Children's Shoes In Demand Here

No response to the Welfare Board's plea for clothing for school children had been received this morning.

"Mrs. W. H. Davis, manager, emphasized that the cloth to be given the local Red Cross chapter by the government could not be made up into garments by the opening of school. Before many local children of destitute families can attend school they will have to be supplied with clothing.

"I know Pampa residents will be generous—they have in the past and I am sure they will help in this emergency," Mrs. Davis said. "We have no children's shoes nor garments. If the good people would clean out their closets and chests I am sure they can find some children's garments which they can spare and which can be worn."

LOBBYING BY "JIM" TOLD BY SPEAKER HERE

Representative Bob Long in Address on Ferguson's Opposing Independents.

Jim Ferguson was labeled as a lobbyist for big business in an address here last evening by R. A. (Bob) Long of Wichita Falls, state representative.

Mr. Long, who said only four out of 225 Wichita Falls independent oil men had failed to endorse Ross Sterling over Mr. Ferguson for governor, charged that Ferguson lobbied against the gasoline marketing bill sponsored by the independents, had sought to defeat the pipeline bill which became a law signed by Governor Ferguson, had lobbied against a higher tax on Andrew Mellon's Texas Gulf Sulphur company products, and had been a paid lobbyist of the Texas Power and Light company.

The speaker, recently nominated for his third term over three opponents, with a majority of more than 1,500 votes, said that he knew authoritatively of what he told. He further stated that Ferguson's record included approval of the Texas company bill and the Humble bill, which made oil products monopolies possible and permitted the Standard Oil company to re-enter Texas by controlling stock in domestic concerns.

Unconvicted, a heckler approached the speaker and shouted: "You're not giving three days of your time to Sterling, you're paid by the Standard Oil company and you know it."

"You're a liar!" Representative Long countered heatedly. "And you're another!" added the heckler.

Continued repartee interrupted the course of the speech until the Texas state officer who was in the crowd halted the exchange and said only one could speak at a time.

The Wichita Falls speaker continued with a recital of Sterling's record with regard to the anti-trust laws. He cited that the governor had saved the $30,000 appropriation which made possible Attorney General Allred's big suit against the major companies. He said that

Odd Fellows In District Session

Odd Fellows of district 14 of the Grand Lodge of Texas were arriving rapidly at noon today to attend the annual district conference. Two state officers, T. W. Davidson of Dallas, grandmaster, and E. Q. Vestal of Dallas, grand secretary, were in attendance and others were expected this afternoon.

Grand Master Davidson, former lieutenant governor, was principal speaker this morning, describing the conditions of the order. He is presiding officer for the session.

The meeting will continue throughout the day. Grand lodge degrees will be conferred at 7:30 o'clock this evening, and at 9 o'clock the degree team of the local lodge will confer the first degree. Examinations in secret work will be held and certificates will be issued to those qualified to receive them.

The conference is to deal with the problems of building up the membership and organizing new lodges in the district, and is to consider the establishment of a system of field work.

No Rebekahs has arrived this morning, but some were expected this afternoon. They are to assist in serving refreshments this evening.

The district is composed of the following counties: Dallam, Sherman, Hansford, Ochiltree, Lipscomb, Hartley, Moore, Hutchinson, Gray, Roberts, Hemphill, Oldham, Potter, Carson, Deaf Smith, Randall, Armstrong, Donley, and Collingsworth.

Principal officers of the local lodge are: Noble Grand, Joe Brown; vice-grand, William Bonney; secretary, C. Rupp. All were in attendance this morning.

PROF. LESTER AND CLUB BOYS LEAVE FOR FARM ENCAMPMENT

J. L. Lester and a group of boys left Pampa this morning for the F. F. A. encampment to be held at the Tierra Blanca farm, one mile east of West Texas State Teachers college.

Boys making the trip were Carl Smith, Bill Seeds, Richard Montgomery, Maize Nash, Morris Enloe, Allen Hugel, H. B. Taylor, Lloyd Taylor, Clyde Baird, Wayne Hutchins, Bill Haner, Glenn Eldridge, Abram Lewis, Leroy Johnston, Herbert Babione, Charley Walton, Elmer Irving, Buck Mundy, Virgil Frasher, Ralph Bynum, Buford Archer, and Melvin Lancaster. They made the trip in a school bus.

STERLING HAS COMBED STATE IN BIG DRIVE

FERGUSON CONTINUES TO SPEAK IN CITIES

MANY VOLUNTEER TALKS

SPECIAL SESSION HAS BECOME ISSUE IN RACE

By R. W. BARRY Associated Press Staff Writer Governor R. S. Sterling and James E. Ferguson have only a few more political punches to take at each other and democrats of Texas will decide if the incumbent shall be renominated for the customary second term of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson allotted a belated honor of that nature.

Sterling has been literally combing the state in one of the most intensive drives for votes ever attempted, traveling to sparsely settled and thickly populated communities in an automobile and stopping in villages to shake hands with the storekeepers and sidewalk whittlers. Mrs. Sterling, too, has been out campaigning.

Both Sterling and Mrs. Ferguson have been reinforced by numbers of voluntary speakers. W. R. Ely, chairman of the state highway commission, object of a bitter attack

Voting Places To Be Same Used In First Primary

Voting places and presiding officers in the run-off primary Saturday will be the same as in the first primary, Siler Faulkner, county democratic chairman announced this morning.

Mr. Faulkner said that assistants and clerks might not be the same in some of the boxes. The power to change assistants lies within the discretion of the presiding officers, it was said. If voters are sure they voted at the right polling place in the first primary, they should vote in the same place Saturday. Mr. Faulkner declared.

The ballot is short compared with the one of July 27.

No Difficulty In Assessing of Oil

The first petroleum concern to appear before the county commissioners, sitting as a board of equalization to determine the amount of its taxable valuation for this year was one of the largest taxpayers in the county, the Phillips Petroleum company.

The Sunray Oil company was next, and this morning representatives of the Gulf Petroleum company and the Gulf Pipeline company were discussing valuations of their properties with the commissioners and officials of the Thomas Y. Pickett company of Dallas, oil assessor for Gray county.

The Gulf company is also one of the largest taxpayers in the county. Commissioner Lewis O. Cox described the hearings as harmonious and intelligent. The county and the companies are agreeing upon valuations without dissension, he said.

Absentee Vote Is Again Very Large

The usual last minute rush yesterday afternoon piled up a total of 76 absentee ballots in County Clerk Charlie Thut's office. Yesterday was the last day for absentee voting, but Mr. Thut was receiving votes cast in other sections of the state.

The number of absentee votes compared favorably with that of the first primary when about 280 persons decided they would not be in their voting precinct on election day. The run-off ballots might indicate that the vote will be as heavy Saturday as in July, and that interest in the outcome of the various races is just as high.

CESSNA OF WICHITA SHOVED OUT OF LEAD IN AIRPLANE DERBY AT ABILENE TODAY

More Fliers Slowed But Continue To Compete

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 24 (AP)—Roy Hunt of Norman, Okla., pushed his racing plane into municipal airport here at 12:25 p. m. today to maintain his lead in the Los Angeles to Cleveland wing of the national air derby.

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 24 (AP)—Fred Derset of Augusta, Ga., was the first of the Cord air derbyists to take off on the Jackson-Shreveport leg of the cross-country flight today, leaving the municipal airport at 9:55 a. m. (CST).

He was followed at two minute intervals by Helen McCloskey, Pittsburgh aviatrix, and leader in point standing; C. S. Huffman, Dayton, Ohio, and J. A. Fields, Bradford, Pa.

ABILENE, Aug. 24 (AP)—Eldon Cessna of Wichita, Kans., was replaced as leader of the transcontinental aerial derby when 5 of the 43 planes which left Lubbock this morning had settled down on the Abilene airport in a space of 16 minutes.

Roy Hunt of Norman, Okla., took the lead in points after leaving the flock into Abilene at 7:59 a. m. Hunt's total points including 150 handicap is now 815. Second into port and third in point standings was Gladys O'Donnell, with 416.5 points. Cessna, third to arrive, held second place with 312.76 points. His handicap is only 90.

Waldo Waterman of Santa Monica, Calif., was fourth into port with 90.26 points. J. S. McDonnell of Cleveland came in fifth with 146.10 points. Lloyd O'Donnell was sixth, his points being 252.25.

Seventeenth into the local port was Robert Buck Jr., Westfield, N. J., youngest member of the aeroclub and noted transcontinental flier.

Three Texans were among the contestants. They are Jean La Rene, a Dallas girl; Joe Thompson of San Antonio, and Jack Berke of Dallas.

Robert Duke, flight manager, announced at 9:30 when the planes began taking off for Oklahoma City, that he had accounted for all but five of them into the local airport. Ships that had failed to arrive, and were believed to be down, were those of Ross Hedley of Los Angeles, piloting a Seaplane No. NR-8909, and Bob Allen of Hobart, Okla., with an American Eagle MC-615-E.

Those still at Lubbock were W. R. Jack, Cleveland; Chas. Spencer Jr.

Rangers Look For Hunted Men Here

Three Texas rangers were making their headquarters in Pampa today, but the specific nature of their visit was not announced. However, it was indicated that they are interested in the arrest of persons thought to be in this territory.

The Rangers will likely remain here a week, it was said. The three are T. D. Whitcomb, Omer Baker, and Edgar T. Neal. Mr. Whitcomb arrived here last night, and the other two Rangers yesterday.

Mr. Baker is the latest addition to the Ranger force. He was for a number of years deputy sheriff and constable of Deaf Smith county.

FLIGHT HALTS IN CRASH BUT NO ONE HURT

CARL PATTERSON AND THOR SOLBERG IN ACCIDENT

RIVALRY WILL END THEM

ATLANTIC WILL BECOME CONGESTED IN FEW MORE DAYS

By The Associated Press

Anxiety for two teams of aspiring Atlantic fliers was ended today with reports that one plane had landed safely at Harbor Grace, N. F., and that the other had crashed 50 miles away without injury to the fliers. Both planes were long overdue.

The plane which crashed was that of Thor Solberg and Carl Patterson, which left Floyd Bennett Field, New York City, yesterday morning. The ship was so badly damaged the flight had to be abandoned.

After a night of anxiety for their welfare Clyde Lee and John Bohannon, who started from Barry, Va., yesterday, brought their plane down to a safe landing at Harbor Grace. Their next scheduled stop was Oslo, Norway, which was also the destination of the Solberg-Peterson plane.

The probability of them taking off today seemed remote as Hubert Huntington, their navigator, wired to remain at Harbor Grace to lend assistance to Thor Solberg and Carl Patterson, whose plane was wrecked 50 miles from Harbor Grace.

William Ulrich, Dr. Leon M. Picculli and Miss Edna Newcomer delayed until tomorrow the start from New York on an announced non-stop flight to Rome. They had intended getting away today.

Capt. J. A. Mollison, famous British flier who recently flew solo from Ireland to New York, expected to start his flight back to Britain Friday.

The German airman, Capt. Wolfgang Von Gronau, who is flying from Germany westward around the world, poised at Cordova, Alaska, with two companions for the next hop in his unhurried progress.

At St. John, N. B., it was stated a broken camera spring might delay the progress of the "Flying Hutchinsons" who arrived yesterday from New York on a leisurely flight to London, over the Arctic route.

GRANDVIEW HAS FEAST IN WAITING FOR LOCAL GROUP

Word came from the Grandview community this morning that the success of the Pampa-Grandview picnic to be held there tomorrow afternoon, beginning at 4 o'clock, now depends upon Pampa citizens.

Grandview is going to make the picnic a success as far as Grandview is concerned. Residents of the rural community are hoping that Pampa will make the picnic a success as far as Pampa is concerned.

The good will committee of the chamber of commerce learned this morning that the Grandview people are going to "turn out" for the event. They have been practicing for the baseball game which will be played between their team and Roy Bourland's team. The rumored caller of the Grandview team has caused Mr. Bourland to fret out as many good players as possible.

Both chambers of commerce are sponsoring the affair. They want a regular reunion of business men at Grandview tomorrow afternoon. The men, their wives and children, if any, are to meet at the chamber of commerce at 4 o'clock and drive immediately to Grandview. They will take ice cream with them. The Grandview women will furnish cake to go with it, and perhaps other eats.

The reason for the picnic is obvious. Pampa business men need to get acquainted with the Grandview people, not only for business reasons but for human reasons. A Pampa might form a friendship at Grandview tomorrow and that would be worth the trip—such was the attitude of the good will committee.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Hampton, their daughters Roje Mary and Frances, and son, H. T. Jr., returned yesterday from a two-week vacation trip to Colorado Springs, Estes Park, Colo., Yellowstone park and the Salt Lake City region.

Elderly Borger Man Dies Here

A resident of Borger for the last six years, George Munze Colter, 67, died at the home of his son, Joe Colter at 817 South Cuyler, here yesterday at 7:30 o'clock.

The body will be sent by Stephenson Mortuary to Mr. Colter's old home at Nowata, Okla., for funeral and burial services Friday. Mr. Colter was a member of the Modern Woodmen lodge and the Methodist church. He was associated with the Maloney Tank company at Borger for a number of years.

He is survived by his wife and son; two brothers, Fred and Sam; three sisters, Miss Florence Colter, Mrs. Lou Hunter, and Mrs. Jimmie Schultz, all of Chetopa, Okla.

A STERLING RECORD FOR TEXAS

Under the troublous and harassed conditions of the past two years it is an easy matter to overlook some of the very constructive things that have been accomplished under the sterling administration of Governor Ross Sterling. There are fairly well-read people who ask the question, "What has Governor Sterling done for the people of Texas?" which is a fair question and deserves a fair answer.

When Governor Sterling came into office Texas faced a deficit in operations of the state of $4,500,000, and excessive appropriation bills added to a shrinkage of tax collections, brought this deficit estimate up to $11,390,000. The governor spoke out boldly against such a deficit in government and vetoed $3,621,897, and then won his fight to tax sulphur, cement, natural gas and cigarettes, which brought the deficit to a negligible sum and will in another year wipe it entirely out.

Governor Sterling favored and made possible the amendment to be voted on in November exempting all homesteads up to $3,000 assessed valuation from state tax, which step is the first step in many years which gives direct relief to the small home and farm owners of Texas.

His administration directed the forces of the state government in pushing vigorously the drive against excessive and unlawful fees collected in Texas, and his office aided the work of the legislature in reducing the fee scale, which points to final abolishment.

One of the finest pieces of work under Governor Sterling has been the appointment of Lee Simmons as head of the penitentiary system of the state, and the complete rehabilitation of the costly and wasteful system until today it stands as a model system in the South and is now almost wholly self-sustaining, whereas it formerly cost the people of Texas millions of dollars every year.

Here in the Panhandle. We have seen more road construction than in the entire previous history of Texas, with over ten million dollars spent for high class highways and not a single charge of graft in connection with any contract. The present commission is the personification of the system adopted when Governor Sterling was chairman of the department, and the governor has seen that only good men and true have filled that important commission. Panhandle people, especially should be grateful and loyal to Governor Sterling for this one fine demonstration of governmental operations.

Down in East Texas, the prompt use of troops by the Governor, saved the oil industry and especially the land owner and small operator, from destruction, chaos and revolution. Oil had been put down to ten cents a barrel and the people were in a desperate state when relief came by enforced proration. Texas has been saved millions of dollars by Governor Sterling's courage and devotion to the best interests of all, as against the big oil companies.

Governor Sterling has made one of the finest records of public service of any executive in the history of Texas, and he deserves to be re-elected, since he has given the state honest government, responsible government and business-like government.

Texas needs two years more of Sterling government. Clarendon NEWS.

the man. Habits of cleanliness, honesty, thrift, modesty, cheerfulness—these are formed in boyhood through proper associations. We envy the lads who are in New Mexico studying Scoutcraft. They are having fun but the main thing is that they are learning clean habits, manly attitudes, wholesome activities.

Going to Grandview? Tired business men should drive down to that Community Thursday at 4 p. m. and feel young again. Baseball will loosen up the old joints and cakes and pies can be digested after the exercise. At any rate, his inter-community stunt recommends itself on its merits and should interest many Pampans.

"The voter must think," declares the Vernon RECORD. Surely not—the average person is so bewildered by the world chaos that thinking is impossible. Perhaps the voter should ignore the present and recall some of his best thoughts in the past. For instance, why not recall the days of hectic turmoil in past Fergusonian administrations?

SPEECH--

Sterling had recommended a $150 per ton tax on sulphur, but that the legislature, influenced by Jim Ferguson and other Mellon lobbyists, had placed the tax at 75 cents. He added that Sterling had approved the witness law, which enabled Allen to compel corporation officials to come to this state to testify. He said that Ross Sterling was the first governor to advance a tax on cement.

Turning to highways, Representative Long said that six years ago Sterling took over Ferguson's highway commission deficit of six millions, secured the replacement of federal aid which had been denied Ferguson, and started an unprecedented era of good road construction.

He pointed out that the Garner aid bill would give Texas fifteen millions, but that Ferguson's plan of distributing the gasoline tax would prevent Texas from taking advantage of that aid secured by Garner.

Concluding, Long said that he came to Pampa to speak the truth as he knew it. He said that the assumption of his interrupter that any Standard Oil lobbyist could be elected in Wichita county three times in succession was too preposterous to consider.

levelled by the Fergusons, and former Governor Dan Moody, who defeated Mrs. Ferguson for a second term six years ago, have been leaders of the auxiliary speaking forces for the Sterling cause. Maury Hughes of Dallas, Texan who achieved considerable attention at the national democratic convention, and C. C. McDonald, Wichita Falls attorney, have been outstanding stump speakers for the Fergusons.

Last night Governor Sterling finished a hard day with a rally at Robstown in South Texas, after having spoken at Victoria, Beeville, Sinton and Kingsville.

Ferguson spoke to a Dallas crowd. Ferguson charged in his Dallas speech that the real purpose of the special session called by Gov. Sterling to convene next Tuesday was to repeal the Robertson insurance law. He also said Sterling and his supporters, "panic stricken at the prospect of defeat," were planning to take away from the counties the two-thirds of the automobile license fees which they now receive.

Governor Sterling called the legislature for the announced purpose of submitting legislation that would permit the highway department to assume indebtedness of counties incurred in the construction of state highways and to consider other relief measures. Governor Sterling was scheduled to campaign in the San Antonio territory today, speaking in the Alamo city tonight. Ferguson was booked for an appearance at Athens.

north plains residents that the location of the road be left up to the highway department, provided that it be located on the south anywhere between Pampa and Miami and on the north anywhere between Perryton and Spearman. The idea is to induce the department to designate the road.

It was stated that each of the upper plains towns has its own ideas as to how the road should be routed. Perryton wants the road to be routed over highway 88 north to Spearman. Miami wants the road routed from Miami. The most impressive fact learned was that all the towns want such a road.

The Pampans also learned that the state still maintains highway 88 north of Spearman. Maintenance of the road from Pampa north was dropped several years ago because there is no bridge across the river.

The Pampans learned that residents of the Booker community would like to do their city shopping and business in Pampa. Now they drive 145 miles to Amarillo by way of Borger to transact business. Woodward, Okla., is also a shopping point for the Booker citizens. The Pampans believe that the road would bring much of the Spearman, Perryton, and Booker trade to Pampa, for the reason that the residents of those communities said themselves: Such a road would cut the distance from Pampa to Booker to 80 miles. The distance is now 120 miles over bad roads.

George Hutchinson, leading the party of eight, disclosed that the spring had been broken on the way yesterday and that he would not go on until it could be repaired for he expected to make several thousand feet of film on the way.

Lee and Bechkon said they flew about in the fog during the early part of the night and tried to establish communications with radio stations in an effort to find guidance. They finally decided to take no chances of damaging their plane and brought the green mountain boy down on the sandy beach at Burgeo. They had little difficulty getting their plane into the air they had to enable the wheels to grip in the sandy beach. A wing was slightly damaged but the airman said it was of no importance and would not impede the progress of their flight.

pleton and other points in Iowa. At Danbury fifty strikers unloaded a car of hogs bound for the Sioux City market, and chased the animals into a yard where they were reloaded by their owner onto a truck. The owner returned home taking the livestock with him. A somewhat similar move was made at Concord, Neb., where two cars of livestock were not allowed to proceed to market.

At Rockford, 75 farmers demanded that the Rockford creamery join the holiday movement and then moved on to other nearby towns to make similar demands.

Creamery and product houses at Mapleton and Monona have agreed to co-operate in the strike, reports from those towns said, but, on the other hand, the co-operative creamery at Sioux City, Ia., decided to continue operations despite threats. Hog receipts at 21 concentration points and seven packing plants in the interior of Iowa and Southern Minnesota were 12,300 yesterday, an increase of 2,000 over the same day a week ago.

Wisconsin Interested Although the strike wave appeared to weaken in some sections, the possibility loomed that the strikers might add two vitally important sectors to their warfare. Wisconsin dairymen are to meet at Marshfield, Sept. 2 to decide whether they will join the strike and Minnesota milk producers will gather at Farmington, Minn., Saturday to pass on the same question.

Tear bombs came into use at Council Bluffs, Ia., last night when sheriff's deputies employed them to scatter a crowd of 1,000 farm strikers and speculators who were blocking a highway. Each trucker left route to market was given a deputy escort and no violence resulted.

The State of Texas, County of Gray.

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Gray County—Greeting: You are hereby commanded to cause Mary L. Murray and her husband, A. G. Murray, to appear at the next regular term of the Gray County Court on the 11th day of February A. D. 1932, in a suit, number 3095, wherein Stuckey Construction Company, a Texas corporation, is Plaintiff, and Mary L. Murray and husband, A. G. Murray, are defendants, and a brief statement of plaintiff's cause of action, being as follows:

That heretofore, to-wit, on March 6, 1930, the City of Pampa, Gray County, Texas, a municipal corporation, according to law and as provided for in its charter, levied and assessed special assessment against the property abutting on Barnes Street to pay for the paving of said street, and as duly authorized said City of Pampa declared said assessment to be a lien against property abutting on said Barnes Street, to wit, Block Four, of the City of Pampa, said City of Pampa executed and delivered certificates of special assessment payable to plaintiff, said certificate being in the amount of $42.50, and being a lien against following described property abutting on Barnes Street: Lot Six, Block Four, of the City of Pampa, Addition to the City of Pampa, according to the map or plat of record of the County Clerk of Gray County, Texas. Said certificate further providing that the amount due thereunder was a personal charge against Robt. W. Cook, and that thereafter on or about July 16, 1930, said Cook conveyed said property to Mary L. Murray, the present owner of said property; said certificate further providing that the said assessment was payable in five equal installments after June 17, 1930, as follows: 1-5th thirty days after said date and 1-5th each successive year thereafter said date until said amount was paid. SYNOPSIS: Nan and Cynthia through are in a hopeless tangle. Cynthia desperately loves a man but they can't marry because of their poverty. Nan dreams of romance with Jervis Weare who doesn't even know her. Nan is a guest in a lawyer's office of which Jervis is a wealthy client. At last he will be wealthy when he inherits his grandfather's fortune, but Jervis must marry within three months and a day after the old man's death. He is engaged to his cousin Rosamund Carow. She gets a check by postponing the wedding until the last possible moment, now dangerously near, Rosamund will inherit the Weare fortune if Jervis fails to marry within the deadline.

"WE'VE SEEN PUPPETS"

NAN was very tired when she got back to the office. Cynthia was loving and sweet and gentle, but she was a dead weight, and there were times when it took the very last of Nan's strength to carry it.

She found Miss Villiers on her knees in the file room sorting papers after her own peculiarly languid and dilatory fashion.

"No, dear, I haven't found it. But I've had a perfectly lovely idea for making up that length of georgette I got—Oh dear, you're not going! I was sure you'd give me a hand when you got back."

sound to her; it left no mark. Jervis Weare spoke again.

"She's thrown me over." He said it twice. And then he laughed, still on that low, quiet tone; only just at the end it broke sharply, harshly, and so ceased.

"Miss Carew? Dear, dear—how's this?" Mr. Jervis, I—I—" Mr. Page stopped, commanded himself, and took up the last word again. "I am very much distressed at this. Is it—is it irremediable?"

"Oh, quite," said Jervis Weare. Mr. Page went across the room to the window, halted, and came back again. Then his professional voice, grave and concerned:

"Sit down, won't you? Yes—it will be better. This is a very serious matter. I don't mean only personally—though, as I am sure you know, you have my deep sympathy. But there is another aspect—" He stopped as if he balked at this aspect to which he alluded. "This—this unfortunate breach has a consequence which may not have occurred to you, and cannot have occurred to Miss Carew."

Nan seemed to see Jervis still standing with the office table between him and Mr. Page.

Half a minute went by. Then Jervis said harshly: "You think not?" Mr. Page coughed.

The outer door was flung open and Jervis Weare strode through the room.

"I've got the Harrington deeds to you," said Nan.

She took off her hat, sat down to the typewriter, and passed with relief into a formal world of set, correct phrases and stilted repetitions.

Mr. Page came in presently.

"Feeling all right again, Miss Forster?"

Nan began to feel less tired. It wasn't work that tired you; it was talking with yourself and trying to carry someone else all the time. If Cynthia would only get a job. But standing in a shop tired her feet, and typing made her back ache, and she didn't seem to be able to manage children. Besides—

And then suddenly the outer door was flung open and Jervis Weare strode through the room, wrenched at the handle of Mr. Page's sanctum, and disappeared, slamming the door behind him. Nan had the feeling that he had taken the room in his stride without seeing it, or anything in it. Then his voice struck harshly at her ears in a violent oath.

She stood up, shaking a little. He had slammed the door so violently that it had latched and then unlatched itself. It stood now an inch ajar, and she could hear Mr. Page's startled exclamation.

"Mr. Jervis! What has happened? I beg of you!"

Nan stood still in the middle of the door. It was most clearly her duty to close the door. She heard Jervis Weare go tramping through the room beyond; and as he tramped he swore in a steady bitter flow; not speaking loudly, but with a deadly effect of weighing every word.

"Mr. Jervis! Mr. Jervis! I beg of you! Something has happened—I beg that you will tell me what has happened, I—I—Mr. Jervis!"

There was a silence. Then Jervis said in quite a quiet, low voice:

"Rosamund's thrown me over."

Mr. Page exclaimed. Nan did not know what he said. It was just a

"Mr. Weare, I am obliged to point out that the terms of your grandfather's will make this breach a most serious matter. I am bound to tell you this, and to ask whether there is not any chance of—in short, a reconciliation."

Another measure of silence, and then Mr. Page breaking it.

"Mr. Weare—will you tell me what has happened? I am in ignorance. How can I advise you? Since you have come to me, I must suppose that you want my advice."

"No," said Jervis Weare—"not your advice, Mr. Page."

"Then what do you want?"

"I will tell you." He spoke now in a cold, composed tone.

"You say that I'm probably not aware of my position. That's a mistake. If I'm not married within three months of my grandfather's death, Miss Carew—the name halted him—" Miss Carew steps into my shoes. You talk about a quarrel. There hasn't been any quarrel, nothing but a polite note to say she's very sorry but she finds she can't marry me after all. My grandfather died on the fifteenth of May. This is the thirteenth of August. She wouldn't bear of being married before the fourteenth. She said it would give us both a pleasant thrill to feel we were running it so fine."

"No, no," said Mr. Page. "No, no—don't tell me the thing was planned!"

"And you've been a lawyer for forty years! Planned? Of course it was planned! And we've just been puppets—damned cardboard dolls—while Rosamund has pulled the strings and laughed at us. Why did he put that clause into his will? You don't know, and I don't know—but Rosamund knows, and now she's played the dirty trick she thinks she can get away with it and scoop the lot. Well, I'm damned if she will!"

You don't know, and I don't know—but Rosamund knows, and now she's played the dirty trick she thinks she can get away with it and scoop the lot. Well, I'm damned if she will!"

WAR MOVIE AT LA NORA

Scene from "The Doomed Battalion."

The mountain girt barrier which defends northern Italy has ever been a battle ground to thrill the imagination. Across its snow-filled passes Hannibal and Hamilar amazed the Italian world by throwing their elephant equipped legions. More successfully the Visigoths fought their way through rock and storm and destroyed the declining Roman Empire. Napoleon's army braved its terrors to triumph on the plains of Tuscany. But the most terrific conflict of all was reserved for the World War. The majestic snow-capped barrier was the No Man's Land between the Austrian and Italian armies. No great epic story like "All Quiet" by Remarque has ever been written of this terrific conflict. No moving picture like Universal's transcription of the Remarque story has brought its spectacular features to the screen. It remained for the producers of "All Quiet" to epitomize this embattled sector in a historic and dramatic document entitled "The Doomed Battalion" which will open at the LaNora theater on today.

This production, filmed in Hollywood and on Mt. Lagazol, took over a year in preparation and shooting and has emerged from Hollywood with the reputation of even greater thrills and far more story than "All Quiet on the Western Front." Like "All Quiet," it was based on actual experiences. In this instance, the experience of an Austrian officer, commissioned by the Austrian government to enlist a battalion of fighters unique in the history of warfare. This officer was Luis Trenker and the battalion he enlisted consisted of two hundred of the best-known sportsmen, mountain climbers, guides, and marksmen who had in peace time used this region as their playground, means of livelihood and tests of strength.

Trenker himself wrote the story of "The Doomed Battalion" and has devised a situation which not only has the virtue of actuality but sums up the entire effort of both armies on this most unusual war front in the world. It has been photographed spectacularly both at Universal City and on Mt. Lagazol. Nothing to compare with these night battle scenes on the mountain slopes has ever been attempted in moving pictures.

In portraying its tremendous drama, Carl Laemmle has assembled a cast which includes not only Luis Trenker, who after the War

Chaplin Opposes Sons' Movie Try

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 24 (AP)—One of the greatest of all movie successes himself, Charlie Chaplin is so opposed to his two young sons starting in his footsteps at their tender age he plans court action to prevent it.

Counsel for the famous pantomime artist said he intended to file, possibly by tomorrow, a petition contesting the right of his divorced wife, Lita Grey Chaplin, to take the children into the movies without Chaplin's sanction.

The former Mrs. Chaplin has had custody of the children since the sensational divorce some five years ago. She recently signed a contract for herself and the boys, Charles Jr., 6, and Sidney Earl, 5, to appear in pictures for Fox Film studio.

Chaplin's lawyer, Loyd Wright, said the divorce agreement was worded to prevent the boys being started on a professional career except by mutual consent of the parents. In the absence of comment from Chaplin, who was reported slightly ill at his home, Wright said the comedian felt that his sons were too young to subject to the influences of a movie career, that they should be given the best opportunity for normal boyhood development and allowed in later years to select their own careers. Chaplin also was represented as feeling that he had made ample financial provision for the boys.

AMY WONT TRY IT

LONDON, Aug. 24 (AP)—Amy Johnson, who used to do a lot of long distance flying before she was married, said today she had reconsidered her plan to fly across the Atlantic. This, she said, is in deference to the wishes of her husband, Captain J. A. Mollison, who made the first westward solo flight across the north Atlantic last week and who is in New York preparing to fly back.

Von Papan Warns Hitler To Prevent Further Attacks

BERLIN, Aug. 24 (AP)—Germany was told by manifesto today that the government of Chancellor Franz Von Papan would permit no one to revolt against the laws of the Reich.

The statement came a little more than 24 hours after five fascist followers of Adolf Hitler had been condemned to death for the political murder of a communist and was issued to meet a storm of protest that followed the death sentences, including a scathing denunciation of Von Papan by Hitler himself.

There was little doubt that the manifesto was aimed at Hitler, who declared his Nazis would be able to finish the "guiltless government," and pledged himself to do all possible to free the five doomed men. Issued jointly by the Reich and Prussian governments, the document stressed that the severest penalties for political violence would be in-

FORMER TEXAN SENTENCED

OAKLAND, Calif., Aug. 24 (AP)—Harrison G. Jackson, 64, who said he was a former minister, teacher, and Texas police officer, faced a life sentence in San Quentin prison today after pleading guilty to murder yesterday.

Jackson, employed as a house painter, shot and killed Thomas F. Kevan, a contractor, July 9.

voked "against every law breaker, regardless of person or party."

Emphasizing that the government was not willing to yield to political pressure in considering the cases of the five men, the manifesto ended:

"Violent charges against verdicts should be addressed to the originators of bloody occurrences and not to the government which in the interest of all had to resort to sharp measures. "The government will nip in the bud all attempts to tamper with the principles of the constitutional state and to incite political passion."

Jobs And Credit Are Being Hunted

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP)—More jobs and easier credit is the goal of the conference of America's business leaders opening here Friday with President Hoover.

The national gathering is timed to take full advantage of what government leaders say they believe is a definite upward break in the economic contest and administration officials are optimistic.

Mr. Hoover believes if the flow of capital can be speeded up and the jobs passed around to spread buying power, the conference will have contributed a big boost for an economic rise.

Democrats and republicans are joining in the push. Owen D. Young of New York, Atlee Pomerene of Ohio, the chairman of the reconstruction corporation, and Melvin Taylor of Chicago are among the outstanding democrats who will participate as members of the 12 business and industrial committees of the federal reserve system.

Trapshooters To See Action Today

VANDALLIA, O., Aug. 24 (AP)—America's best trapshooters—the best by test—will swing into action today in the fifth program of the thirty-third annual grand American tournament.

Today's card calls for the race between state champions, the professional clay target championship of North America, the selection of an all-American team and the veterans race for marksmen 70 years of age and over.

Picking an all-American team is an innovation in shooting circles. The ten high scorers in each state shoot will be eligible for competition and at the end of today's flying the high man from each state will become a member of the country's first mythical squad.

Yesterday's shooters continued their onslaught on perfect scores. So far this week 144,500 targets have been fired at and 93.86 per cent have been shattered—a mark that has never been equalled in the history of trapshooting.

Mrs. B. C. Low is a guest this week of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Lawright, at their summer home near Thermo, N. M. She will return the latter part of the week.

We believe it's Mildness and Better Taste

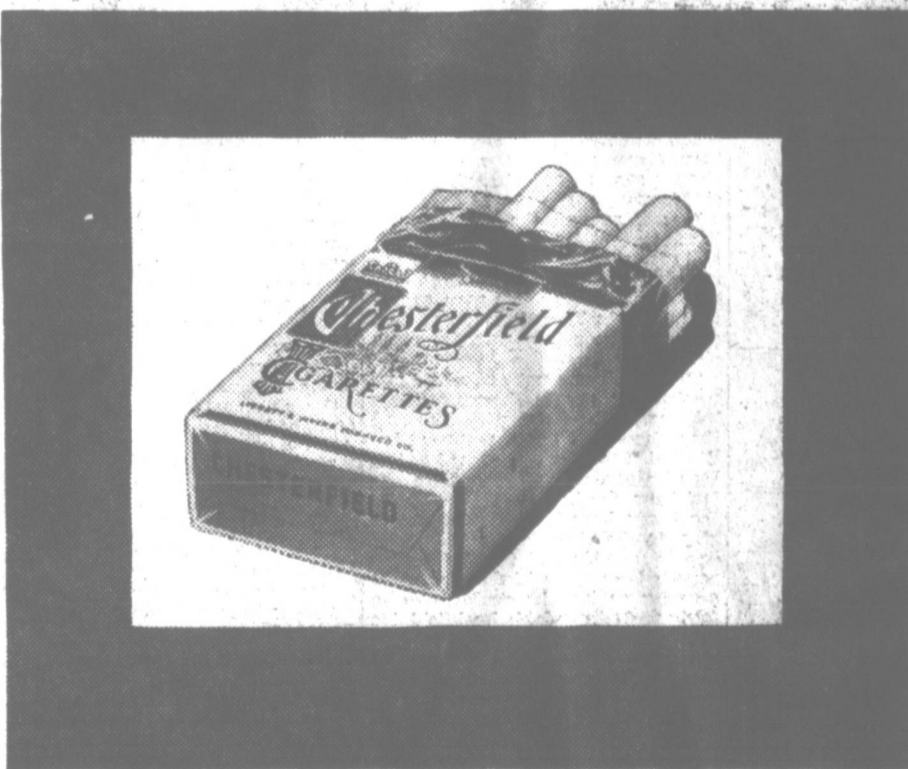

IF YOUR cigarette is mild—that is, not strong, not bitter, but smokes cool and smooth—then you'll like it and don't worry about how many you smoke.

If your cigarette tastes right; if it tastes better—that is, not oversweet; and if it has a pleasing aroma—then you enjoy it the more.

Everything known to Science is used to make

Chesterfield Cigarettes milder and taste better and to give them a pleasing aroma.

First, the right kind of ripe, sweet leaf tobacco—Domestic and Turkish. Then these tobaccos are blended and cross-blended to make sure that Chesterfields are milder and better-tasting. That's why "They Satisfy." Give Chesterfields a trial. They are certain to please you.

LOONEY'S CAFE TO BE OPPOSITION FOR MONEY WIN

Hooping hopefully today toward a victory which would mean being in the money at the Boney HERALD baseball tournament, the Pampa-LeFors team prepared to battle Looney's Cafe, one of the stronger outfits in the meet.

The Gray county men proved to be the sensation of the tournament yesterday when they rapped out the astonishing total of 54 hits to win a double-header. Their victims were the Panhandle team, defeated 27 to 1, and the Dumas outfit, beaten by a 13-6 score.

Kirkpatrick held Panhandle to 3 hits in the first encounter yesterday when his mates were bingling 36 times. In the second bill, Freshour allowed only 7 hits but his mates made 5 errors.

Looney's cafe showed up poorly in losing to Oklahoma City, 24-4 yesterday, but is expected to furnish stiff competition against the two-city entry today.

"Chick" Evans To Battle Don Moe

ROCKFORD, Ill., Aug. 24 (AP)—Don Moe of Portland, Ore., ran into that famous veteran of the fairways, Charles "Chick" Evans of Chicago, in his first battle to hold his western amateur golf crown today.

The young champion and the past master of golf, who was winning the national open and amateur titles when Moe was dashing around in a go-cart, were paired against each other in the initial struggle of the long match play grind, which does not let up until a new title-holder is crowned Saturday. It was an 18-hole struggle, one of the best starting "naturals" in many years for the western classic.

Moe, as defending champion, wasn't forced to qualify over the 36-hole route but Evans, who has copped the event eight times in his long and brilliant career, survived easily in the field, separated by only 15 shots, with a 148 or six strokes over par for the stretch.

Johnny Lehman, tall Chicagoan who captured the western in 1930 and lost it back to Moe last year, came in with a rousing 66 on his final jump to elicit the medal with a record-breaking score of 137. His total was the lowest in 32 years of qualifying play, chipping two shots from the former mark set by Dexter Cummings, another Chicago star of yesterday, at Lochmoor, Detroit, in 1925.

For his first round test today, Lehman was matched against Joe Shepherd of Kalamazoo, Mich., who came in with a 70 on his final round for a 149 total.

Dick Martin, former Big Ten champion and present Chicago district titleholder, who finished second to Lehman in the qualifying trial with a 72-68-140, faced Frank Justin, Chicago, with 150 shots. Other matches: L. E. "Pop" Bunning, Chicago; Harry Eichelberger, Los Angeles, vs. A. J. "Whitey" Holm, Rockford; Charles Seaver, Los Angeles star and Walker cup team member, vs. Frank Benwick, Aurora, Ill., and an Iowa duel between Arthur Bartlett and Bob McCrary.

NEWS Nine Wins Over Young Team

The Pampa Daily NEWS eleven had enough big innings last night to defeat an outfit of youngsters playing under the auspices of the Junior chamber of commerce. The score was 17 to 4.

The contest was much more interesting than the score indicates. For several innings the youngsters retired the newsmen in short order, making sensational stops of hard hit balls. The NEWS' score was mainly on clean hits.

In the NEWS' line-up were Pond, Ragdale, Wagner, Sturgeon, Johnson, Dillman, Hinkle, Myrick, and Oden. The juniors used Woodward, Berry C. Olson, White, Mayes, F. Olson, Walker, McFarland, and Montgomery.

It was the first contest for the younger team, which shows potential ability.

EXTRA-PIPE GONE!
HARMON, N. Y., Aug. 24 (AP)—The reason seems a bit obscure—but a famous underground pipe has gone into the discard, temporarily at least. Gen. Charles G. Dawes boarded a train for Chicago here yesterday after visiting friends and was smoking a new curved stem briar. He wouldn't throw any light on the fate of the underground one.

"This one draws pretty good," was all he said.

J. P. Smith of Basel, Kan., failed to arrive last night for the lecture he was to give at the Church of Christ. The reason was not known.

LARGE SQUAD OF GRIDDERS SEEMS EAGER

Coach Gives Lads Equal Chance To Play on Harvester Eleven.

The most encouraging thing about the 51 youngsters who trooped to Harvester park yesterday afternoon to make their initial bid for a place on the 1932 Harvester football team was their morale.

They faltered, stumbled, and panted, but they seemed willing, and they appeared to want to do exactly what Coach Odus Mitchell wants them to do. If they do that, he'll make a winning team out of them. That was their attitude as they went through the conditioning exercises—running, relays, kicking the ball, tossing it, pouncing one another's stomachs with it.

"Every man on the field knew that when he put on his uniform he wasn't any better nor any worse than anybody else," Coach Mitchell said. "This is one year when the boys started in with an equal chance for a place on the team." The coach then pointed out that the only regular left over from the 1931 eleven was Gerdis Schmidt. The boys who were members of the Harvester squad last year sat on the bench most of the time during the 1931 season, and they have no special claim to distinction as far as relying upon their reputation is concerned.

Chances Number 51
Coach Mitchell was prouder of the morale, the spirit and willingness of the boys than anything else. "It's better this year than it was last year, even better than in the preceding year," he said. "Not a solitary boy of those 51 can say anything about their football prowess that could impress the other 50 to a great extent. This year every boy knows he has just good a chance as the next fellow to make the team."

Some of the boys who kept in condition during the summer showed some agility and speed and accuracy in kicking and passing the ball, but not enough to brag about. Some of them have pretty good arms. Briefly, the coach knows he will not be able to finger on a man and call him good until several weeks.

Trained This Summer
Miles Marbaugh, a good but erratic kicker on the Gorrilla team last year, frequently handled and footed the ball this summer, and the coach watched his kicking encouragingly and judiciously. Dick Sullins trotted on the field as hard as nails. He wants to be a ball-totter de luxe. He was in pretty good condition and some of the curbstone coaches' eyes rested upon him frequently. Clinton Adair, one of last year's Gorrillas, also kicked and caught a few good ones and many bad ones. "Tuke" Salsbury seems to be a man with a purpose this year, but time will tell about that.

The coach's training program this year is going to be simple but effective and as ruthless as salt water. The boys are not going to try out for places; he's going to try them out. He has a lot of boys who want to carry the ball in fact everyone of the naive fledglings who want to carry the ball. Well, they will get a chance to carry the ball when they have done with limbering and hardening up, kicking, passing, blocking and tackling—and all that will take two or three weeks. It's a hard row of stinging nettles the boys will have to hoe until they can.

Shift System This Year
When the time comes for carrying the ball, the coach will send a quarter down the field and his best tackler and blockers on them. When the carrying period is over the coach will have them speed up, and then there will be the ever-coasting process of changing and shifting.

In one respect, the coach favors the fact that he has a new bunch of boys, even though they are inexperienced, for he is going to employ a shift system this year. Sometimes they will shift a great deal and sometimes they won't shift at all.

The coach was not optimistic nor pessimistic; simply determined. He believes his boys are with him and they showed it. His manner indicated that he believes he has boys he can depend upon. He has fast boys, fat boys, beefy boys. If the beefy boys have a capacity to play football a 170 to 175-pound line is possible. If the 155 to 165 pounds boys prove likely, also a 175 pound line is possible. He could have a fairly fast, dependable backfield. He can tell more about it as the days go by.

The condition of Mrs. Ethel Wilson McConnell, Pampa woman, who is seriously ill in Wichita Falls, was unimproved today.

ter 14 minutes and neither able to return within the ten seconds time limit; Bull Hefner, 225 Texas, was awarded the decision on a foul over Hardy Kruskamp, 206 Columbus, Ohio, (Kruskamp was disqualified for kicking after 19 minutes).

YOUNGER GRAPPLERS OF PLAINS BATTLE TONIGHT

Barber Kelly And Tommy Thomas Are Added To Program at Pla-Mor.

Barber Kelly of Pampa and Tommy Thomas of LeFors will open tonight's wrestling program at the Pla-Mor, it was announced this morning.

The semi-final will send into action the handsome Walter Stratton, who is matched with Roy Welch. Popular in Amarillo, Stratton is expected to be a favorite here. He is a strong man with several records, and is especially admired by the ladies, who will be admitted free this evening.

The main event will give Sammy George, the little but terrible pugilist, a chance to swap wallops and holds with Rob Roy. If George sets out to make it rough, either he or Roy will be carried out on a stretcher.

The curtain will rise at 8:30.

CUBS NEEDING 3 WINS WITH DODGERS NOW

AND AFTER THAT THEY CAN PLAN WORLD SERIES

By GAYLE TALBOT, Associated Press Writer.
Having been given a vote of confidence in the form of a contract to pilot the Chicago Cubs next season, Charley Grimm is afforded an opportunity to thank his employers in the big, expansive manner.

All Grimm needs do is drive his Cubs to victory over the second place Brooklyn Dodgers in their three-game "key series" starting today. Three straight from the Dodgers and they can just about start measuring Wrigley field for a world series that should break all attendance figures.

The Cubs beat the Phillies for the fourth straight time yesterday, 5 to 1, as Pat Malone gave a warm, but wild, demonstration of pitching skill. So successful was the veteran at making the Phils pop up that his side made only one assist, tying the major league record. He struck out eight and would have scored a shutout but for Hal Lee's homerun.

Pittsburgh beat the Giants, 4 to 3, to climb within a game of the idle Dodgers.

The Boston Braves climbed into fourth place by defeating St. Louis 6 to 3. Wally Berger banged a home run and two singles.

Washington and Cleveland gave the feature performance in the American league, the Senators winning a 13-inning struggle, 5 to 4, when Sam Rice singled to drive in Manush with the deciding run.

Tony Lazzeri's triple, a towering drive that Garms lost in the sun in the last of the ninth inning, drove across two runs and gave the Yankees an 8 to 7 decision over the St. Louis Browns.

Mickey Cochrane smote two home runs and two singles and drove in five runs as the Philadelphia Athletics battered the White Sox 15 to 7. Simmons, McNair, and Miller all hit for the circuit for the winners.

Although Uhle and Bridges held Boston to five hits, the Detroit Tigers had to stage a two-run rally in the eighth to nose out the Red Sox, 5 to 4.

Mrs. Pardue, a star in national tournaments several years ago, easily eliminated Mrs. Harold Foreman of Chicago, 6 and 5, and was expected to give Mrs. Hill plenty of trouble. The other Kansas City pair, Mrs. Robert Greenleaf and Mary Elizabeth Ford, moved up by victories over Virginia Ingram of Chicago and Alice Belle English, West Lafayette, Ind., respectively, and were paired with a pair of Chicagans, Jean Armstrong and Rena Nelson.

Mrs. J. Walter Beyer of Tulsa, Okla., trans-Mississippi titleholder and Oklahoma state champion, who yesterday shot a nice 77 in eliminating Mrs. A. W. Clapp of St. Paul, was matched against Jane Weiller of Chicago.

The other pairings were: Mrs. Tom Wallace, Tulsa, Okla., vs. Dorothy Gustafson, South Bend; Lucille Robinson, Des Moines, Ia., vs. Marion Miley, Lexington, Ky.; Mary K. Browne, Cleveland, vs. Mrs. Roy Greene, Glendale, Calif., and Mrs. Melvin Jones, Chicago, vs. Elizabeth Abbott, Los Angeles.

F. W. Gist, state and federal statistician, estimates Alabama's corn crop this year will total 43,798,000 bushels.

OUTSEAM BALL IS PICKED FOR LEAGUE PLAY

Roff Heads League, Which Will Have Ten Players For Each of 8 Teams.

H. D. Roff of the Danciger company was elected president of the Playground Ball league at a meeting of team managers last night at the city hall.

Mr. Roff appointed a committee which will draw up a schedule of the season for publication in a few days. Eight teams will compose the league in the first half. They are The NEWS, Santa Fe, Danciger, Phillips, Kiwanis, Rose building, Junior chamber of commerce, and Faculty.

The outseam ball was adopted after various managers discussed its advantages over the insam sphere. Ten players will compose a team. Four diamonds are available in the city, and one each at the Phillips and Danciger properties.

Connie Mack Has Won 2,500 Games

CHICAGO, Aug. 24 (AP)—Twenty-five hundred triumphs on the field of baseball.

That will be the achievement of Connie Mack, 69-year-old manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, if his players conquer St. Louis today and tomorrow.

Mack, oldest manager in the game, started piloting the A's 31 years ago. He says he won't quit until he feels he has become a handicap to the club.

The sloop-yacht "Nebulia," a 16 gross ton vessel built in 1885 in Boston, Mass., is the oldest pleasure vessel of its type remaining in service in the United States.

Scoring two runs in the last of the ninth, Tyler beat Galveston, 3 to 2.

Knowing they had to win or slip into a tie with Beaumont, the Dallas Steers pounded House and Hinson of San Antonio for thirteen hits and a 12 to 1 victory. Hal McKain pitched four-hit ball for the league leaders. He went five innings before allowing a hit. The Indians played erratic ball afield, making eight errors.

George Loopp's single with the bases loaded gave Fort Worth a 3 to 2 victory over Houston. Two were out when Loopp saved the Oats. Hinson filled the bases in the ninth and was relayed by Wyson who was touched for Loopp's hit.

EVANGELISTIC PARTY TO OPEN REVIVAL THIS EVENING

TABERNACLE IS TO BE ERECTED WITHOUT DELAY

FIRST SERMON TO BE PREACHED IN LOCAL CHURCH BUILDING

Local leaders of several denominations have announced their intention of assisting with the B. E. Crimm revival meeting which will begin tonight, and some of the churches have discontinued week-day gatherings in order that their members may be free to attend.

Evangelist Crimm, whose home is in Marshall, Mrs. Crimm, pianist, and an accompanied gospel singer were expected to arrive in Pampa about noon today to plan for the revival, which probably will last three weeks or longer.

The first service will be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the Central Baptist church building. As soon as possible a tabernacle will be erected, but if this is not done by tomorrow night, services will be held in some other church.

Mr. Crimm has had many years' experience in the evangelistic field and has conducted revival meetings throughout the United States.

Club Women Are Asked To Watch Public Finances

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP)—Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, widely-travelled new president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, today returned from still more travels to launch what she labeled as "the United States" movement among women.

More than 30,000 miles in 21 different countries has been her record and yet, she remarked: "We women need to narrow our horizons, rather than broaden them, right now. We should clean up our own back yards."

Mrs. Poole said she would urge the approximately two million women belonging to the 14,600 federated clubs under her supervision to "go down to the city hall or town hall" of their respective communities, "and ask to see how the money is spent."

Women should know, she contended, how the income is spent in state and town—and how it is used—for as spenders of the family income they have had wide experience in watching apportionment to prevent waste and they should use this experience to the advantage of the community.

"This close scrutiny of city hall and statehouse," Mrs. Poole said, would be the main objective of her administration.

But "just as a sideline," she also is launching a plan to take a large delegation of club women abroad next year, to meet European club women in London, Paris, Düsseldorf, Berlin, Prague, Vienna, and Geneva, ending at the league of nations meeting the first week of September.

CHINESE GIRL LEARNS TO FLY

Rose Lok, daughter of a wholesale merchant at Boston, has taken to flying with the hope of returning to her native China to enter the air service. She says one of the needs of China is for trained aviators, and she's an apt pupil, her instructor reports.

BOSTON (AP)—The Chinese air service is going to have a new attraction one of these days when Miss Rose Lok, pretty 20-year-old daughter of a Boston wholesale merchant, returns to her native land to seek a berth in her nation's aviation corps.

Miss Lok, student in a flying school here, recently made her first solo flight and now, with tail spins 4,000 feet to her credit, she looks toward eagerly to her pilot's license.

Although she has lived practically all her life in this country, with the exception of two return visits to her homeland, the girl feels keenly the troubles of her compatriots across the Pacific.

"We need men trained in aviation urgently," she said in faultless English as a serious expression replaced a smile on her face. "China's greatest difficulty has been internal dissension but I am confident the hour of national solidarity is not far distant. Then we are going to need a good aviation service against the common enemies of the country."

So great is interest in aviation among Boston Chinese that the Chinese Patriotic Flying club of New England has just been organized with 11 members, all men except Miss Lok.

The club hopes soon to purchase a plane of its own and its treasury recently was substantially aided by a three days' showing of pictures of the 19th army's def use of Shanghai against the Japanese.

Lt. Francis P. Kendall, 101st Massachusetts national guard aviation squadron, who is Miss Lok's instructor, believes she is one of his most apt pupils.

"She learned quickly and thoroughly," he said, "and seemed to take naturally to the air."

It was this "natural" element apparently that explains Miss Lok's proficiency. "I always thought flying would be lots of sport," she said, "and once a friend took me up, I was so delighted I decided to try lessons. Now I like it better than anything else."

And with a parting wave, she hoisted her five feet and four inches into a smart looking fledgling trainer biplane and soared aloft.

SIXTY ATTEND CLASS PICNIC HERE TUESDAY

SOFTBALL IS PLAYED; CHICKEN DINNER SERVED

A crowd of about sixty persons, members of the Winsome class of the First Baptist church, their husbands, and a number of special guests, joined in a lively picnic last evening at the Harvey park.

Leaving the church at 6:45 o'clock the group went together to the park, where games of softball held interest until dark.

Elaborate chicken dinners were spread and served buffet style.

Mrs. A. D. Bourland, social vice-president, was assisted by Mrs. H. M. Clay and Mrs. Osborne in planning the fun. Rev. C. E. Lancaster, pastor of the church, and Mrs. Lancaster were among the special guests.

My Beauty Hint

No girl wants a wrinkled, rough neck or a double chin. I have a beauty hint which I believe has aided me to avoid both.

First I pat my chin with the back of my hand. This is an excellent precaution against a fat or double chin. Next I keep the contours of my neck smooth with a light massage. Using the forefinger and middle finger of each hand, I start at the center of my neck and bring them back and upward to the ear lobe.

I also exercise my neck by bending my head. Following the treatment I brush tea over my neck.

Women Will Put Thumbs Down on Grotesque Style

NEW YORK—Says Miss Kathleen Howard, fashion expert: "Women—sensible women—from now on will buy clothes as men do, for neatness and practicality, and not because they want to be warm-blooded dummies for fashions that make them grotesque."

Jean Meyers Is Hostess at Party

Jean Meyers celebrated her fourth birthday with a party Monday afternoon. Games were played and a pink and white cake topped with four pink candles was served with lemonade. Balloons were given as favors.

Those present included Betty Ray and Harold Riley, Floyd and Billie Wallace, Conway and Bobbie Tyler, Francis and Dean Crocker, Gerald Bedenbender, Martin, Lyndall, Gene, and Jeannine May, Bill, Johnnie Leon, Alfred, Billie Hue and Donald Roy Ramsey, Mrs. Floyd Ramsey, Mrs. Roy Riley, Mrs. J. O. Leon, and the hostess.

Jean received many lovely gifts.

COMING EVENTS THURSDAY

Children's Bureau Is Twenty Years Old

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP)—The Federal Children's bureau yesterday celebrated the twentieth anniversary of its establishment—and of the day a woman first became head of a government bureau.

Miss Julia C. Lathrop became chief of the children's bureau on August 23, 1912. She died four months ago after having seen three other outstanding women follow the trail she blazed.

Commemorating 20 years of aid to inquiring mothers, Miss Katharine

LOCAL PERSONS ATTEND BRIDGE DANCE TUESDAY

PRESIDENT OF LEGION AUXILIARY HONORED IN AMARILLO

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. de Cordova and Mrs. J. B. de Cordova of Miami, Ariz., Mrs. J. A. Pearson, and Dr. R. A. Webb were those going from Pampa to Amarillo last evening to attend an entertainment given in honor of Mrs. Van W. Stewart of Perryton, Texas, department president of the auxiliary.

The function, held in the Amarillo Legion hut at 8 o'clock, was attended by more than one hundred persons, representing several units of the auxiliary and husbands of members. Bridge and dancing were diversion, and punch was served throughout the evening.

A gift was presented to Mrs. Stewart.

Mrs. Fraser Is London Bridge Club's Hostess

An afternoon of bridge was enjoyed in the home of Mrs. William T. Fraser Tuesday by members of the London Bridge club.

Mrs. P. C. Sanders scored high in the games, and Miss Virginia Faulkner was second high.

Mrs. Fraser served a salad course at the close of the games to two guests, Mrs. L. Nicholson and Mrs. J. M. Lybrand, and the following members: Mesdames Clarence Barrett, Julian Barrett, Bert Curry, P. C. Sanders, John Studer, Otto Studer, John Sturgeon, Arthur Swanson, and Roy Wright; Misses Margaret Buckler and Virginia Faulkner.

F. Lenroot, assistant children's bureau chief, today said:

"Jane Adams recently characterized as the great achievement of Miss Lathrop the fact that she made the women of the country—those organized into federations of clubs and leagues of women voters, as well as immigrant women living in crowded cities or mining districts and women living on remote farms—realize that the bureau belonged to them."

CITIZENS WILL HALT INVASION OF MINE UNION

Hundreds Are Armed And Mobilized To Prevent Strikers' Interference.

BENTON, Ill., Aug. 24 (AP)—Warlike preparations were under way in Franklin county today as citizens and officers banded together to throw up an armed barricade against a threatened invasion of striking coal miners from Central and Northern Illinois.

Answering the call of Sheriff Browning Robinson for volunteers, several hundred citizens of Benton and the surrounding countryside, armed with shotguns, pistols, blackjacks, and some with machine guns, trooped to the county jail to enroll as members of the force being organized to resist the invasion.

Meanwhile, at Gillespie, mining town about 90 miles northwest of here, leaders of the strike made final preparations for the march which they said would bring 25,000 striking miners into Franklin county to discourage operation of the coal mines under the $5 basic daily wage scale recently adopted over the opposition of approximately half of the state's miners.

State officials had made no more interment and both the strike leaders and officers and citizens of the Southern Illinois coal fields went ahead with their own plans to deal with any situation that might arise. Leaders of the strikers said they had ordered that none of the men moving on Franklin county be allowed to carry firearms and that while they were determined to go through with the invasion, there would be no violence on their side.

While the movement of the strikers was to get under way today, the leaders said the attempt to enter Franklin county would not be made until tomorrow. They planned to have their followers set up camp tonight near the western boundary of the county.

City Garage and Shop Are Considered

A tour of inspection which included observation of possible sites for a city garage, repair shop, and storage barn for equipment owned by the city, was made by city commissioners after the regular session yesterday afternoon. The board also visited several sections of the city which are without fire protection.

In the near future the court plans to construct a combination garage, repair shop, and storage barn for machinery owned by the city, and to provide fire protection for several outlying additions.

The commissioners rejected all bids for a tractor and a grader. Three were submitted. The city has made arrangements with the county to use machinery owned by the county in grading the city streets, it was announced. It was decided to ask for bids on an electric refrigerator for use in the health department.

The city garage has become almost necessary, it was explained. Recently thieves have stolen gasoline from city tractors. Machinery owned by the city has deteriorated to an expensive degree when allowed to remain exposed to summer heat and winter freezes and snow. A garage would also allow city mechanics and tractor and grader operators to repair machinery during periods when it would be impossible to use them. When the streets are covered with snow, the employees could be kept busy in the garage, it was said.

Civic Work Gets Praise at Rotary Club Luncheon

The necessity of all civic organizations, both as groups and as individuals, working to further the interest of students in continuing their studies in school was brought out in a talk before the Rotary club today by F. M. Gwin.

George Washington, during his second term of office as president, voiced the warning that if our government is to continue on a sound basis we must look after the proper education of our peoples," he said. He told of the illiteracy in many of the counties of the world during the last few years and emphasized the necessity of the United States keeping step with other countries.

Charles Thomas sang two solos accompanied by Miss Jackie Jones at the piano. Odus Mitchell told of his summer in California, his visits to various Rotary clubs on the coast, his impressions of the Olympic games, and the coaching school attended.

Visitors today were Tom Rose Jr., Tom Barnes, J. F. Kirkman, Seldon Faut, Oklahoma City, and Rotarian C. H. McClelland, Wichita Falls.

Guy Barlett of LeFors was a Pampa shopping visitor yesterday.

Household Work Is Plentiful Here

Girls of good reputation and character who desire household employment were asked this morning by Mrs. W. H. Davis of the Welfare Board to register at the office in the basement of the city hall.

Calls from Pampa residents for such girls have increased in the last two months. Remuneration for household work would be small but it would enable girls out of jobs to make a living, it was said.

ALL TOO REMARKABLE: WASHINGTON, Aug. 24 (AP)—When seventeen identical answers are given to the same questions by seventeen different young men, the navy department considers it somewhat more than accidental.

So the department has ruled that the seventeen who took Naval Academy entrance examinations at Columbia, Mo., can never enter the Annapolis institution.

With the approval of Secretary Adams, the group was ruled guilty of collusion and were barred from again trying for the academy.

Mrs. F. E. Hoffman has as her guests today, Mrs. Charles Gilmer, of Wichita, Kans.; Mrs. Fred Throckmorton of Whittsburg, and Mrs. H. J. Dodge of Borger.

Skellytown And City Nine To Play

A close contest is expected Friday evening when the Business and Professional Women's softball team meets the team of Skellytown women once more at the Magnolia park here at 8:10 o'clock.

Three games already have been played with Skellytown, with that town winning twice. The locals won the only game played on the home diamond. They have strengthened their ranks considerably since the last game.

W. M. "MACK" McWRIGHT, Formerly at Campbell's Barber Shop, now in charge of LA NORA BARBER SHOP. I will be glad to see all my old friends as well as new ones.
