Ferguson In New Bond Charge Asserts State Has Lost Million

OUR CONTEMPORARIES
T. A. Landers in McLean News: When Japanese 60 watt electric light bulbs began retailing in this country for 10 cents, one leading American manufacturer immediately met the price with a lamp that will burn 500 hours for this money, whereas the Jap lamp will burn only 30 hours on test. Here is a place where it pays to "Buy American."
(And in addition to that, the current consumed by these imported lamps is said to have cost millions more than that of American-made lamps.)

WANTS STORM SEWERS

R. H. Nichols in Vernon Record: A stranger coming to Vernon for the first time remarked upon the extraordinary amount of slush left on the Vernon streets by the fall of snow and sleet. The comment was enthusiastically received by the writer who has campaigned long and more or less vigorously for storm sewers for Vernon. Of course, we have let up in our efforts during the depression, but the need has not abated in the least and the project is something that should be kept in mind for early attention with the return to normalcy.
(This Pampa has not campaigned for storm sewers, believing that the few wet days in Pampa do not justify an expenditure of around $100,000. As a matter of fact, we know a lot of city dwelling wheat farmers who would knifely walk in rain up to their shoe-tops if they could get the rain. We do think, however, that somebody was negligent in letting snow and ice remain at the curbs here to melt slowly for days.)

NEED OF REPAIRS

Charles Guy in Lubbock Aviancher: The Abilene News comments at length upon a recent article in the Wichita Falls Times, citing the experience of a Wichitan who placed a classified ad in the paper announcing a well-located house in good repair for rent. The advertiser was surprised and puzzled when he received scores of responses to the ad. He was puzzled because with so many houses in every community, there should be scores of families seeking a place to live. The Times concludes, "The News continues, that the incident indicates a condition all too familiar to the prospective renter. While there are many empty houses, there are very few of them in a good state of repair. Many need papering and painting, some have defective plumbing, most are on lots grown up in weeds."
(Carpenters and many kinds of craftsmen are waiting for the opportunity to do needed repairing. The obstacles include difficulty of collecting rent, with high taxes and insurance rates, and scarcity of cash. . . . But now is the time to take advantage of cheap materials and low wage offers.)

OUR VAST RESOURCES

Homer Skoen in Floydada Hesperian: When the man on the street, in the office or in the field gets talking these days, he will tell you that all the money has gone, that nobody has any money any more except the few rich. But this statement is given the razzberry by the plain, cold figures of the last statement of banks' financial condition, in which it was shown that the saving deposits of the country have dropped only one-half of one per cent.
(Right, Homer. Just as credit expansion made the boom days a reality, so will our vast resources and savings, tapped by returning confidence, bring back a cycle of normal prosperity.)

HEARD--

Minstrel Cast Told to Destroy Its Manuscripts

"BURN up those manuscripts—we were through with them."
Such was the order of the Lions club minstrel production staff to the big cast yesterday afternoon at the close of a very satisfactory performance.
The more than a score of rollicking, tuneful songs were sung with an enthusiasm which develops from thorough familiarity with the words and music. The improvement of the singers was particularly apparent to Miss Jackie Jones, the amazing young woman who through the piano has a large part in training the cast. Miss Jones' versatility and skill in mastering the original arrangements of songs have won the admiration of the clubmen.
Ten selected Pampa girls who are assisting the clubmen have, as expected, been the first to master their parts. But while slower to learn, the nearly fifty business men have been trying hard and the public may be surprised, as were last year's audiences, at the result.
After the Little Theater's play is given tomorrow night, the city hall stage will be built to special minstrel specifications and the Russian rock garden scenery will be placed. Black-face bell hops will have the end-men songs, with "business" adapted to the setting. Soloists and quartets will contribute to the minstrel first part, while the second part will be announced soon. The entire program will move so rapidly that the final curtain will drop within an hour and a half.
The two performances of March 2 and 3 are going rapidly at Father's Drug No. 4.

DEPRECIATION OF CITY BONDS NOW CLAIMED

SECURITIES OF JOINT STOCK LAND BANK INVOLVED

AUSTIN, Feb. 20. (AP)—Governor Miriam A. Ferguson today sent to the legislature a message saying she had been informed securities placed with the state treasury by the Security Trust company of Austin to secure $1,490,874 state funds on deposit in that institution had depreciated in value until they were not worth more than 40 cents on the dollar.
The Governor said she had been informed that the securities in question consisted of county, city, irrigation and other district bonds, as well as joint stock land bank bonds, in the total of $1,720,613.
"I am further informed that the real value of the above security is not in excess of an average of 40 cents on the dollar, and perhaps less than that sum," the message said.
On last Monday Mrs. Ferguson advised the legislature that securities held by county banks to secure county trust deposits in the Security Trust company also had depreciated in value until they were not worth more than 40 cents on the dollar.
That message also advised that the state highway commission had impounded and was holding checks issued by county banks to secure company in payment of road construction work and as a result had sustained a loss of $1,000,000 in the state road fund.
The senate has under way an investigation of the allegations contained in the governor's highway message. Her latest message was referred to the senate state affairs committee without discussion.
In her latest message Mrs. Ferguson said, "If my information is correct, then there is an impairment in security for the state deposits of some $808,629, and the state would probably lose anywhere from $800,000 to $1,000,000."

MOON-MADNESS PLOT OF LITTLE THEATER PLAY HAS AROUSED BIG INTEREST, TICKET SALES SHOW

Curiosity of Many Is Drawn To Unique Thriller

A convincing spurt of ticket sales this morning indicated unusual interest in "Children of the Moon," Little Theater play which will be presented at the city auditorium at 8:15 tomorrow night. Club women and drug stores reported strong interest was being shown in "that moon-madness play."
Because it deals with that subject, it has drawn the attention of many persons who have never attended a Little Theater play. The curious have besieged members of the cast with inquiries regarding details of the plot. Although the play is not a tale of terror or horror, its plot deals with the fantastical and the supernatural. Ticket sellers have said that the unique plot would draw many spectators.
Paramount in the tense drama is the love that exists between Major Barnister (Paul M. LeBeur) and Jane Atherton (Mrs. A. B. Goldston). Their love even dwarfs the ravings of old moon-mad Judge Atherton (I. A. Freeman) and the cruel scheming of Laura Atherton (Mrs. E. M. Conley). Jane's selfish mother, jealous until Laura tells her daughter in a highly emotional scene that she inherited the moon-madness of her grandfather, "Jane can't and won't believe it. This scene it at the end of the second act, and from there until the end the drama moves swiftly, and the action is tense, gripping.
A dress rehearsal was held yesterday afternoon. The players knew their lines and there was no prompting. Director Dick Hughes was well pleased with the performance. He said the players knew what their roles called for and interpreted them capably.
Austin Changes Lighting
The stage property will be something new for the audience. The spectators will see nothing that will be familiar to their eyes, even the lighting has been changed. Charlie Austin, electrician of the Cabot company, has constructed an elaborate lighting system which includes a rheostat and colored lights. Mr. Austin will have complete charge of the lights tomorrow night. His work will reveal something new in that line to Pampans. Sound effects will be in charge of Ed Damon and Art Swanson, also of the Cabot company.
Other members of the cast include Mrs. Earl Powell, Madame Atherton; Diggs, airplane mechanic, Neal Bean; Thomas, old seadog-butler, Paul Camp, and Dr. Wetherell, Newt Dilley.

THE PEOPLE SHOULD KNOW

Dangerous and unfortunate is the delay in obtaining the right-of-way through the City of Pampa as the intra-city route of highway 33, from which highway 15 branches on the east.
There is a danger, menacing to South Pampa, that the highway will be routed around the city in such a way as to be an inconvenience and a trade barrier. But there is a much greater danger—that the state may abandon the whole remaining project because of shortage of funds.
Texas has borrowed federal funds from anticipate allotments to hasten the road paving in this state. Texas is now diverting to relief work certain millions obtained from the reconstruction finance corporation but in reality advanced from federal road aid allotments. Texas has moreover, diverted 1 cent of the 4-cent state gasoline tax to finance assumption of county indebtedness incurred in state road projects, amounting to a lessening of construction funds by more than six millions annually.
The state highway department will be looking for grounds to shorten its road paving program to fit reduced funds. Gray county must act quickly lest it furnish an excuse for abandoning expenditure of state funds in this area. It will be much to the benefit of South Pampa and the county at large to obtain the needed right-of-way immediately.

STATE CONVENTIONS TO MAKE ULTIMATE DECISION

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20. (AP)—The 13-year-old constitution amendment for national prohibition went back to the states for new decision today, on a 289 to 1 vote in the house of representatives.

Duplicating the senate action last week, when it favored submission of a repeal amendment to state conventions by a 63 to 23 vote, the house acted before being in session an hour and a half, cheered on part of the galleries and in the face of ominous silence on the part of others there. The latter protested many of the prohibition organizations, which served notice once through the anti-saloon league that the issue would be fought to a finish in state capitols.

The vote was sixteen more than the two-thirds required.

Speaker John N. Garner w greeted with cheers and applause on announcing the outcome.

Immediately, Chairman Sumner of the judiciary committee and others moved for a federal law setting up the machinery for state conventions at Adickson & G. W. front for this effort, however, Mr. Garner and others on other sides of the capitol have expressed the view that calling the conventions is a state function.

Clovis News-Journal: Eastern New Mexico's "badlands" have yielded another deplorable and tragedy. This time it wasn't a bank robbery, but a subsequent successful escape, but a heinous attack that resulted in inhuman torture of a lone squatter of the lonesome stretches of the Canadian river district. What a horror! The crime reminds us of that part of Eastern New Mexico harbor a nest of crooks, bank robbers, and murderers who should be cleaned out once and for all time.

"Probably so, but 'cleaning out' is not the simple matter it is in frontier days. The menace of the posse and posse to criminals has lost its force. The law which is intended to protect the law-abiding has, in some instances, tended to do just the opposite. Modern, fast transportation makes it possible to commit a crime and get before the crime is discovered. We need the New Mexico officers success—and a lot of luck.

Negro Lynched After Slaying

RINGGOLD, La., Feb. 20 (P)—A negro who kidnaped a bank cashier and his wife in an attempted robbery and killed the man for defending the woman against attack was lynched by a band of angry citizens at the scene of the slaying yesterday.

Officers said the negro, identified as Nelson Nash, 24, of Leesville, La., early yesterday entered the home of J. P. Bachelor, 30, cashier of the Ringgold bank, and forced Bachelor and his wife to take him to the bank and open the doors.

When Bachelor told the negro he could not open the vault the bandit nightclothes, to accompany him about a mile north of town, where he allegedly attempted to attack the woman.

Bachelor grappled with the negro as his wife ran to a nearby cabin to summon aid. The husband was severely beaten about the head, and died of his injuries.

As news of the crime spread several hundred citizens organized posses and captured Nash 15 miles away and brought him back to Ringgold where officers said he confessed the slaying.

The crowd spirited the negro away to the scene of the slaying, hanged him from a tree and riddled his body with bullets.

Representative Beck (R. Pa.), long an anti-prohibition leader, said for the first time since prohibition "we are going to give the people a chance to say whether they want to retain the 18th amendment."

"This is not a question of return of the saloon," Representative Dyer (R. Mo.) said.

"It is a question of repeal of the 18th amendment. I am proud to be here to help take that amendment out of the constitution that was put here over my protest years ago."

Blanton said that "from every mother in this country there comes today a cry 'hold that line!'"

SYNOPSIS: A dirty Arab brings a message from the King of Mekka to Major Napoleon Riccoli of the Foreign Legion. Riccoli has ambitions to be a ruler himself and plots treachery to France. Years before Riccoli was forced to leave the French regular army because Col. Le Sage found him out. And Otha Bellone, English gentleman and legionnaire, has been given a passport by the "Arab" who identifies him as a colonel who once had offered Otha a commission in the Secret Service. Otha's resentment is increased by apparently traitorous invitations from Bombelli. Riccoli entrusts the "Arab" with a dangerous message for the King of Mekka.

Chapter 10
BOMBELLI, OR LANGEAC?

SERGEANT-MAJOR VITTORELLI himself thereafter entertained the messenger, who seemed deeply interested in the men and ways of the post, and, after sunset, lantern in hand, escorted him to the gate, and saw him out into the night.

As the Moor swung down the hillside to where his camels were tethered, a mile or so from the fort, he frowned in deep thought.

"It might be a genuine coup," he mused. "It might. And then again, if I know my Riccoli, my budding Napoleon. . . . We shall see."

With a ragged tough-looking man, clad in a goat-hair cloak, whom he addressed as Pierrepont, but who appeared to be but a dirty Arab camel-driver, he discussed the matter at some length, and in the French tongue, as they drank coffee together.

"Wonder if Langeac will have any difficulty in joining us tonight?" mused the dirty camel-driver, changing the subject.

"Not he, my dear Pierrepont. Or if he has any difficulty, he'll overcome it."

Both men laughed.

"He saw you all right today?"

"He did."

"And you're sure he recognized you?"

"Quite. We fairly exchanged glances - after I'd made the sign."

"Yes. . . . Langeac will be with us by-and-by," he continued, "and then we'll get off as soon as possible."

"Langeac's the clever one," smiled the dirty camel-man.

"Clever as the devil," agreed the other.

The two sipped their coffee in silence for a while.

"What are you laughing at?" inquired the camel-driver.

"Thinking of Riccoli's face when I confront him with Langeac."

"May I be there to see," breathed the camel-driver fervently.

Sensation. . . .

Nine days' wonder.

An interest in life at last—an absolute tonic and a marvelous cure of incipient sun madness.

Bombelli had not lived in vain or he had deserted in the night—and given his legionnaires something to talk about.

At least, he was missing from his post, and he could hardly have vanished into thin air, been spirited away, kidnapped.

"What a fool!" said the legionnaires as one man.

Where on earth did he think he could get to, from there? How long did he think he was going to live in that desert without water?

The silly lunatic knew what a terrible business it had been for the properly-equipped section to reach the spot where they had built the post.

And how long did he suppose he was going to escape the attention, and attentions, of the Arabs—Bedouin, Touareg, Hoggar raiders, Moorish mountaineers? What did he suppose they'd do to him when they caught him, as most assuredly they would?

The poor pitiable silly fool. What worse spot could he have chosen in all Africa, from which to attempt to desert.

And what a queer thing, too, that a man who obviously stood high in the favor of the Sergeant-Major should desert! A man who was never "for it" never in cells, never in trouble of any sort—a man moreover, with good pickings as an officer's servant.

Well, well—if they'd been told that one of the Section was going to desert, the very last man they would have expected to do so would have been Major Riccoli's orderly.

Nor, it transpired, was that the queerest thing about this queer business, for it soon became known that Bombelli had deserted unarmed.

Absolutely unarmed; for, before going over the wall, he had leant his rifle and fixed bayonet against it, and there they were when the sergeant of the guard came to relieve him. Actually, Bombelli's rifle and bayonet, and no Bombelli, could you beat it?

Mad, of course—a clear case of madness.

And yet, who in the whole post had seemed a less likely subject for an attack of the desert-madness? That there should have been any other sort of attack was unthinkable.

Bombelli would have given the alarm, fired his rifle.

Besides, would rifle-thieves have left the rifle, even if they had taken the trouble to remove Bombelli's body?

"No," summed up old Tant de Soif. "Figure to yourselves, if you can, the species of sacred and infected camel that would call itself a rifle-thief and come and kill a sentry—only to carry away his corpse and leave his rifle behind! He would be as bad as this foolish child, Pousin, who, having had a glass of wine, put his uniform to bed and folded himself up, upon the shelf above.

"We exchanged glances—"

"No, Bombelli has deserted," and by this time tomorrow he'll be back, his tail between his legs, begging for a cup of water. . . . Or else he'll be brought back by "friendly" filleted like a sole, and with a few eyes, ears, lips and other spare-parts missing."

"Such are not spare-parts," objected Père Pousin.

Slowly turning a majestic gaze upon the foolish interrupter.

"Indeed?" replied Tant de Soif. "By the time poor Bombelli has been induced to spare them, I should have thought they'd have been remarkably spare-parts. But then, of course, unlike yourself, I am not a thinker. . . . Now, if anyone had said that a rum-bottle was a spare-part of you . . ."

"Yes, Bombelli has deserted and will either come back alive or be brought back dead—some of him, anyhow."

But Bombelli neither came back nor was brought back, and of all the puzzled men in Post One, none was more puzzled than Sergeant-Major Vittorelli—unless it were Major Riccoli.

LAMESA WILL BE HASVESTER FOE IN BI-DISTRICT FIGHT

ROPEVILLE IS BEATEN 35-27 IN DISTRICT 2

DECISIVE SCORES ARE AMASSED BY GOLDEN TORNADO

Lamesa is blocking the road of the Pampa Harvesters and a possible trip to the state basketball tournament on March 10 and 11. Lamesa won the district 2 championship Saturday night by defeating Ropesville, defending champions 35 to 27 after Ropesville had subdued the Lubbock Westerners 37 to 25.

Coach Odus Mitchell and Supt. R. B. Fisher planned to get in touch with Lamesa officials today to arrange a play-off schedule for this week-end. Every effort will be made to have Lamesa come to Pampa. The Golden Tornado gymnasium is reported to be small and not suitable for championship play.

The Harvesters' winners of district 1 in Canyon Saturday night, when they defeated Quitaque 31 to 26, were anything but impressive. They failed to show anything that resembled the style of playing that took them through a season of 27 games with only three defeats.

The tournament opened with Amarillo defeating the Pampa team 12 to 10. The Harvesters then nosed out Borger 33 to 30 and came back to send Amarillo home, 28 to 21. The tournament was not financially successful. Crowds were small, coming mostly from towns with teams entered in the tournament. Some disapproval of the officials and scorers was voiced by coaches of both winning and losing teams.

Coach Mitchell said this morning that he would put the Harvesters through light workouts this week. The team has played 31 games this season, which has been a hard grind. The local sub-section of the Panhandle basketball tournament was the largest in the district and the Harvesters had a hard Class A schedule as well.

Scorers Impressive
Lamesa opened the district 2 tournament at Lubbock Friday with a 32 to 24 win from Plainview. A guard by the name of Britt scored 12 points while Sturdivant, center, added 10 points. Britt came back as a forward Saturday morning when Lamesa defeated Shallowater 58 to 31, and made 26 points. Mathews, a guard in the first game but a forward against Shallowater, accounted for 12 points.

LAST TRIBUTE FOR CORBETT

Hundreds of Notables Pay Respect to Scientist of Boxing Ring.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20. (AP)—His friends and their name was legion—gathered today to pay a final tribute to James J. Corbett, heavyweight champion, actor and gentleman.

Funeral services for the man who introduced boxing science to the prize ring were arranged in St. Malachy's, the actor's church, at 11 a. m., with Corbett's parish priest, Father Hayes, celebrating the requiem mass. Burial was in Cypress Hills cemetery.

"Pompadour Jim," heavyweight champion of the world from 1891 to 1897, died Saturday of cancer of the liver and heart trouble after a long illness.

His death brought a spontaneous outpouring of tribute from notables in all walks of life but especially from sportsmen and stagefolk who knew him best. Hundreds visited the big house in Bayside, Long Island, where Corbett had lived for 30 years, to pay their respects to a dead champion.

His body lay in state in a second floor bedroom.

LATTA CONVICTED

UVALDE, Feb. 20. (AP)—Convicted of murder for the shooting of his wife, Lawrence Latta today faced a two-year prison sentence administered by a jury in district court here. Mrs. Latta was slain last March 8 at Del Rio and the case was transferred here on a change of venue. Latta claimed she was shot accidentally.

Following treatment for a knee injury received in an explosion, T. R. Mills of LeFors was able to leave Worley hospital yesterday. He is a Danciger employe.

Ropesville, Sturdivant scored 13 points while Britt made nine counts. Britt accounted for 47 points in the three games while Sturdivant scored 31 points.

Dawson and Gus Moreland Enter Houston Tourney

By BILL PARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer.

HOUSTON, Feb. 20. (AP)—Dominating by Gus Moreland of Dallas and Johnnie Dawson of Chicago, the huge field that will play in the Houston Country club invitation golf tournament marked time today until the qualifying round tomorrow.

Approximately 150 golfers played or had played the course yesterday when a downpour at mid-afternoon sent players and caddies running for shelter. It also stopped an exhibition match between Moreland and Willie Maguire Jr. of Houston against Dawson and Bub McKinney of Del Rio. When rain stopped the match the back nine, Dawson and McKinney were leading 3 up. Dawson was one under par.

All of Texas' best shot makers were here, including "Shorty" Long of Austin, runner-up to Moreland in the last state championship; Reynolds Smith, also runner-up to Moreland in a state championship; Chas. Dexter, George Rotan, Tom Cochran, and Ossie Carlton, all former state champions; Louis Nowlin the long hitter from Dallas, and David Goldman of Dallas, finalist in last year's Trans-Mississippi.

Because he holds the Houston invitation, Texas, Trans-Mississippi, and Western amateur titles, Moreland got the pre-tournament galleries along with Dawson, who was low amateur in most of the Pacific coast tournaments this year and who easily ranks as one of the finest golfers in the country. Dawson lost to Moreland in the last year Houston finals, 2 to 1.

Willie Maguire Sr., veteran Houston Country club professional, estimated the starting field would be about 250 players.

NEIGHBORS TO MEET

Royal Neighbors will meet this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Wynne-Merten building.

Young Corbett To Fight Jackie Fields For Title

NEW YORK, Feb. 20. (AP)—Young Corbett finally is going to get his chance at the world's welterweight championship.

The Fresno southpaw, a leading contender for several years, faces Champion Jackie Fields of Los Angeles in a ten-round championship match at San Francisco Wednesday afternoon.

Corbett, a rugged boxer whose southpaw stance annoys the right-handers, rules a 10 to 7 favorite in the betting odds although prospects were these would shrink to even money by ring time.

The welterweight title match naturally overshadows the rest of the national program. Madison Square Garden's Friday night card will be headed by a heavyweight encounter between King Levinsky of Chicago and Johnny Risko of Cleveland. Otto von Porat, clouting Norwegian, will make the first start of a new American campaign in a ten-round bout against Tuffy Griffiths of Sioux City, Iowa, at the Chicago Coliseum Friday night.

Spring Football Training Due To Begin Tomorrow

A change in plans for spring football training has been made and only boys who have had little or no previous experience will be called to start practice tomorrow afternoon.

Coach Odus Mitchell said this morning. They will work under Assistant Coach Argus Fox for a week or two. The boys who show the most promise will be kept to practice with other boys who will report at that time.

Members and prospective members of the track and field squad will probably have their first workout tomorrow afternoon at Harvester park. Coach Mitchell has hopes for one of the best teams in many years. He has several lettered back boys who failed to letter last year but showed remarkable ability should make things interesting for the veterans.

The track and field men will be given assignments until Coach Mitchell can be with them out basketball practice. They will start out with limbering exercises and easy races to develop wind and form. Sprint men will be numerous while the weight division should be well supplied with contestants. The distance men and jumpers will probably have to be developed.

Announcing The Amaryllis and Great West Flour

BAKING CONTEST

As a feature of the cooking school this week, and for the purpose of demonstrating to the home-makers of the city and vicinity through actual proof that AMARYLLIS and GREAT WEST FLOURS produce baking results which compare very favorably with those obtained with finest cake flour—The Great West Mill & Elevator Co. announces a new and novel type of baking contest! To enter the contest, just bake a shortening cake, a pie, or 36 cookies—or any two or three of these classifications—and bring them to the Cooking School next Friday morning before 11:00 a. m. The only requirement is that you use AMARYLLIS or GREAT WEST FLOUR.

15 Big Prizes!

There will be three baking contest prize groups as follows: Group One, SHORTENING CAKES; Group Two, PIES; Group Three, 36 COOKIES. Each of the three prize groups will receive prize awards as follows: First Prize in each group, $5.00; second, $2.00; third, 48 Lb. sack Amaryllis or Great West Flour; fourth, 24-lb. sack; fifth, 12 lb. sack.

Help The Needy School Children!

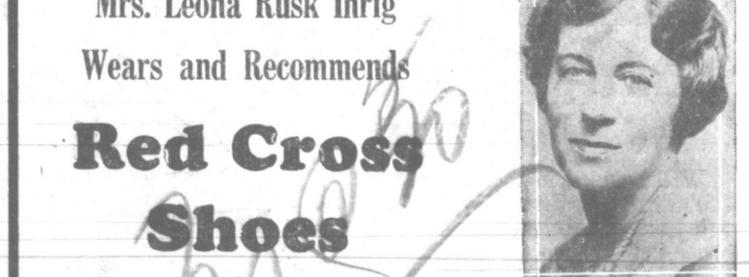

Mrs. Leona Rusk Ihrig will be the judge of the entries, and award the prizes. All bakings entered, whether or not they win prizes, go to the Parent-Teachers' Associations of Pampa. This group of organizations will conduct a sale of the cakes, pies, and cookies after the lecture next Friday afternoon. The remaining entries will be on display and sale next Friday evening and Saturday morning. The money realized from the prize baking sale goes entirely to the Parent-Teachers' Associations of the city, and will be used in the cafeteria and other much needed charity work among our school children. Thus you will help the very worthy projects of your Parent-Teachers' Associations by becoming a contestant in the baking contest, by buying some of the bakings entered, or by doing both. Plan now to do your part.

SMALL BUDGETS ARE TO BE CONSIDERED BY EXPERT IN LOCAL SCHOOL OF COOKERY

WOMEN INVITED TO BE GUESTS OF NEWS THIS WEEK

POCKET-BOOKS and personal tastes are not yet standardized, and probably will not be for a long time hence.

Economy in the family budget is just as vital to some housewives as tasty food, while it amounts to little, to other more fortunate ones. But there's no reason to worry at all, no matter how limited the grocer's and butcher's and baker's share of your monthly budget is, according to Leona Rusk Ihrig, the home economist whose free cooking school next Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday afternoons, in the city hall, is being looked forward to by hundreds of local women.

It's possible to serve just as nutritious and just as tasty meals on a small amount weekly as it is on your share of a millionaire's income, the kitchen expert declares. And just as great a variety is possible in menus in one budget as on the other.

Ability to manage her kitchen economically, both for food and time spent preparing it, is one of the main tests of the good housewife. Careful shoppers read the labels on packages carefully. These must describe the contents of the packages exactly, by government pure food regulations.

By watching carefully every item purchased, while it amounts to an exact accounting weekly — every housewife can keep her expenses within the family income, Mrs. Ihrig sincerely believes.

A great part of her cooking school program will be devoted to this all important theme—economy in buying and marketing, as well as in the actual cooking.

"Over cooking is now easy and economical, by the use of automatic constant heat, and time controls. But there are often great spaces left on the stove-top where heat escapes—especially in an open-top

HEADS FINANCE

THROUGH efforts of Mrs. J. D. Lawson, chairman of the finance committee, numerous undelays of the Horace Mann Parent-Teacher association have been financially successful. As a result, playground equipment, music, pictures, and four xylophones have been bought, modern cabinets have been placed in the cafeteria, and other repairs for the school have been secured. Mr. Hoover And White Deer Girl Marry Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hoover arrived in Pampa this morning to make their home at 719 N. West street.

Mr. Hoover and his bride, the former Miss Lula Mae Brady of White Deer, were married at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the home of the Rev. Gaston Foots, pastor of the San Jacinto Methodist church of Amarillo. The couple was to have had a large home wedding but because of the death of the bride's mother Feb. 5 the simpler ceremony was chosen.

Miss Brady, after being graduated from the White Deer high school, attended Texas Woman's college, Fort Worth. Mr. Hoover, geologist for the Humble Oil company, came to Pampa a year ago from East Texas. He is a former resident of Amarillo. Mr. Hoover is a former student at the University of Oklahoma, and studied for two years at Stanford university, California. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Hoover of Ardmore, Okla.

QUALITY IN CANNED FOODS IS OBJECT OF DEMONSTRATION IN GRAY COUNTY--MEETING HELD

VALUABLE SUGGESTIONS FOR CANNING GIVEN BY AGENT

STRIVING for quality canned goods throughout Gray county, the 4-H pantry demonstrators took one step toward their goal when they attended a demonstration in the apartment of Miss Ruby M. Adams, home demonstration agent, this morning. Vegetables scored were carrots, beans, English peas, cucumbers, beets, corn, tomatoes, Brussels sprouts, and asparagus.

Said Miss Adams: "Primitive people developed the art of preservation of foods by drying before they learned to cultivate the soil and plant seeds.

"The origin of the dried date and fig is shrouded in antiquity. Fish, berries, and roots were dried by all the numerous American Indians. Pioneer people in all countries have found this a practical way to keep the surplus of fruits of all kinds as well as vegetables, fish and meat.

"To a Frenchman named Appert must be given the honor for the discovery more than a hundred years ago of the art of canning. But to another famous Frenchman, Pasteur, must go the credit for the explanation and proof of the principles underlying the process; he proved that spoilage and decay is caused by micro-organisms known as molds, yeast or bacteria.

"These micro-organisms have peculiar habits. Some require air or oxygen to exist, others live without it only, while still others can live under either conditions. Thus decay is caused by micro-organisms known as molds, yeast or bacteria.

The regular weekly matches at the Pampa Rifle club range in the basement of the Brunow Building will start at 7:30 o'clock tonight. Shooting will be at 75 feet from prone and off-hand positions. The public is urged to attend and take part in the matches.

Entrants may use their own rifle or club guns. Ammunition will be supplied by the club at 50 rounds for 50 cents. Ten local men used the range last week, when several excellent scores were made.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Smith of Miami visited in the city yesterday.

Offended Girl Sends Admiring Men to Court

Two young men with nothing in particular to do for an hour while their car was being repaired were a little too interested in a pretty girl, and for their somewhat rude admiration got a free trip to Justice James Todd, Jr.'s court during the week-end.

After questioning the men and receiving assurance of their innocent intentions, Justice Todd released them with a mild warning.

Sheriff's officers took eight persons before Justice W. B. Baxter, four charged with vagrancy, two with drunkenness, and two for an fray.

Mrs. Grace Warhurst, whose trial on a complaint of using abusive language resulted in a fine last week, decided to plead guilty and paid a fine of $1 and costs.

Economy Group Submits Prison Recommendations

AUSTIN, Feb. 20. (AP)—Recommendation that the state adopt a policy of purchasing from the Texas prison system and clemensary institutions supplies needed by the departments, institutions and political subdivisions, which can be economical, produced, was made to the legislature today by the joint legislative committee on organization and economy.

It was proposed that the board of pardons and paroles be discontinued and its work, as well as the general supervision of the prison system, be placed with a department of public welfare. That department would control all clemensary, correctional and other welfare institutions of the state.

It also was recommended that the parole system be revised and plans made to gradually erect modern prison units at suitable locations.

The present management of the prison system was commended for its administration of the system, the maintenance of excellent morals among prisoners, and its efforts to broaden the prison's industrial

Triple Murder Puzzles Police

NEW YORK, Feb. 20. (AP)—John Sweeney, pending his papers, pushed into the midtown speakeasy known as "Porky's Place" early today and stumbled upon triple murder.

On the floor before the bar lay the bodies of a young brunette, attractive, and of John Egan, bandit and burglar of New York and New Jersey who performed last December the rare feat of escaping from Sing Sing prison. Behind the bar was the body of Michael Griffin, 45-year-old bartender.

Each had been killed by a shot which entered the right side of the head.

Police did not know who the woman was. She was about 25 years old, and attractive person modestly attired.

Sweeney, making his regular round of the midtown speakeasy with his newspapers, had run up the short flight of steps of the Brownstone house at 267 West 52nd street. Passing through the hall, he found the door leading to the barroom ajar. The bodies of the man and woman were almost at his feet as he pushed his way

Prisoners Flee After Officers Are Overpowered

WACO, Feb. 20. (AP)—In a desperate break for liberty last night, a pair of convicts overpowered officers guarding them, wrecked two automobiles and finally fled across country afoot. One of them was shot in the abdomen while struggling with an officer for possession of a pistol.

Sheriff W. B. Mobley and a deputy, H. S. Lake, of Waco, were bringing the convicts, Truman Timberlake and Fred Jennings, from the penitentiary for trial here on robbery charges. The convicts were riding in the back seat of the officers' car.

Near Riesel, about 18 miles south of Waco, Timberlake suddenly threw his handcuffed arms around Deputy Lake, jerking the officer's hands from the steering wheel. The automobile veered into a ditch, overturned and rolled back on its wheels.

When the car started off the road, Timberlake yelled to Jennings to seize Sheriff Mobley. Timberlake grabbed for Deputy Lake's gun but the officer reached it first and in the ensuing scuffle Timberlake was wounded in the abdomen. Apparently he wasn't hurt badly.

Timberlake then gained possession of the weapon and kicked officers at bay while he kicked glass from the rear compartment and crawled out. Sheriff Mobley's gun had dropped to the floor of the car and Jennings got it.

New Antiseptic Is In Ointment

NORWICH, N. Y., Feb. 20.—For the last five years, Unguentine, the well-known healing ointment, which is being used for such different purposes as the relief of burns, sunburn, minor wounds and skin irritations, has contained a new antiseptic, now revealed by the manufacturer, the Norwich Pharmaceutical company, to be anhydrosulphadiazine-mercuri-metha-cresol — or parahydrocin for short.

Although this antiseptic, discovered by the Norwich Pharmaceutical company, was not incorporated into Unguentine until painstaking investigation and long experience had demonstrated its absolute safety and effectiveness, it was not until it had been a secret component of Unguentine for five years, that the company decided to let the secret out of the bag.

According to Dr. John Paul Snyder, Norwich scientist, the antiseptic effect of Parahydrocin may be demonstrated in a dilution of one to several million. This accounts for the remarkable performance of Unguentine in the treatment of skin infections, eruptions and general complexion troubles reported by so many physicians who had previously only recommended it for burns.

Never Surrender Nor Retreat Is China's Answer

CHENFETEHFU (City of Jehol), Jehol Province, Feb. 20. (AP)—Here where the old Manchu emperors of China once had their summer capital, T. V. Soong, finance minister of the Nanking national government, declared today that China never will surrender Jehol province to the Japanese, who have announced that within a few weeks they will conquer it.

Dr. Soong came above the great wall with Chan Tso-Isiang, the former governor of Kirin, one of the three provinces making up Manchuria, to complete plans for resisting the Japanese invasion.

Cheering crowds greeted the two Chinese visitors in response to a speech of welcome, Dr. Soong said. "On behalf of the central government at Nanking I pledge you that we never will give up the northeast; we never will give up Jehol. The enemy may block our ports, they may capture Nanking, but there will be no one to sign the terms of surrender."

Referring to the report made public in Geneva yesterday, the finance minister said that "the League of Nations committee of nineteen has finally, after long, painful hesitation to offend another member of the league, completely vindicated our cause, which thus becomes the world's cause."

A. P. I. Directors In Program Session

Changes in the planned program for the March session of the Panhandle chapter of the American Petroleum Institute were made today at a meeting of the advisory board.

J. H. Mayar, president, presided. The complete program will be announced by Jack Davis, secretary, as soon as acceptances of assigned parts are received. The April program, which will be held in Borger, will be on carbon black, with papers probably prepared by H. W. Price of Borger and R. G. Allen of Pampa.

Members and guests at luncheon in the Schneider hotel today included J. H. Mayar, Stanolind; Clyde Shields of Borger, Sinclair-Frairie; Walter Bailey, Sinclair-Frairie; Howard Neath, Humble Pipeline; Max Mahaffey, Empire; Dan Gribbon, Texas company; Jack Davis, Humble; A. C. Willis, Shamrock Oil & Gas; Ed Dunigan, Dunigan Tool & Supply; Forrest Linquist, Cottex; Ed Bissett, Skelly; C. C. Rae, Skelly; R. G. Allen, Cabot; and Olin E. Hinkle, managing editor of The NEWS.

China Will Explode Predicts Official

PELPIING, China, Feb. 20. (AP)—The whole powder magazine of North China will explode if Jehol is invaded, T. V. Soong, the finance minister, said tonight shortly after his return from Jehol City. "Cutwardly" everything seems calm," he said, "but the limit of en-duration has been reached and if trouble comes I am sure the people of North China will prove as patriotic as the people of the south showed themselves to be the last year at Shanghai.

"As an illustration, when I brought up the question of financing the defense of Jehol in conversation with the northern bankers, it was not necessary to make any appeal for money. Without hesitation they subscribed an amount which I named as sufficient to cover the minimum requirements of the coming months."
