Jack Factor, Noted Gambler, Kidnaped From Car By Mob Of Armed Men

MADE MILLION IN LAST WEEK REPORTS SAY

SON LATELY ABDUCTED AND RELEASED FOR RANSOM

CHICAGO, July 1 (AP)—Kidnaped in the presence of his son and wife, Jack Factor was held incommunicado tonight by his abductors. Eager to meet any ransom demand from his father's captors, the son, Jerome, himself a recent kidnap victim, kept vigil behind locked doors in a 40th story hotel suite awaiting communication from the band holding prisoner the stock market plunger and erstwhile barber.

A gay party in a Morton Grove roadhouse last night had been followed by the spectacular kidnaping.

Factor, habitue of gaming tables—the story runs that he has pocketed $1,000,000 from his play in recent weeks—was pounced on by two autoloids of kidnapers bristling with guns. From a car behind, Mrs. Factor and Mrs. Al Epstein, hysterical, watched their husbands dragged from the automobile young Jerome was driving.

Jerome was sent on his way. Epstein was put out some distance away.

They met in Factor's hotel quarters, announced they were eager to meet demands of the abductors, locked their doors and settled down for an anxious vigil.

Hours went by. Rumors ran that the anticipated bill for Factor's freedom had come through the usual underground route; $100,000 or $150,000 was the fancied price.

Late this afternoon, however, Lt. Leo Carr was admitted to the rooms and emerged shortly with the definite statement: "Not one word has been received from Factor or the kidnapers. If we had a message we would be greatly relieved."

Rev. Smith Will Take Charge Of Larger Church

The Rev. Newton C. Smith for 14 years with the local St. Matthews Episcopal church will leave Pampa in about two weeks to take charge of the larger church at Big Spring.

His sermons today may be his last in Pampa, since he will speak in Shamrock next Sunday according to his regular schedule. His successor has not yet been announced.

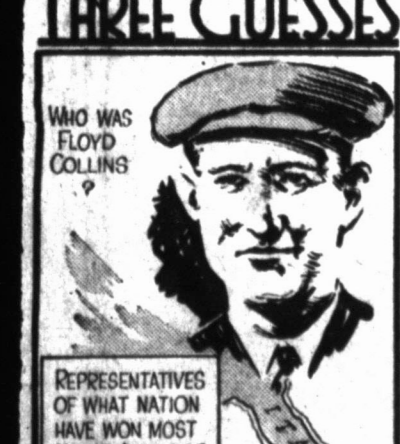

While considering the transfer a promotion, Rev. Smith is reluctantly leaving Pampa, he told. The NEWS. He said he had greatly enjoyed his work here and had a sincere affection for the people. A parish house has been built and the church membership doubled during his tenure.

The congregation at Big Spring is one-third larger and is one of the oldest in West Texas, a mission having been established there about 50 years ago.

EXILE IN MEXICO

MEXICO, D. F., July 1 (AP)—The relief that General Antonio I. Villarreal, erstwhile radical Mexican agrarian leader, had returned to Mexico and was in Monterrey, there establishing himself as within Mexico one year before the 1934 presidential elections, was expressed here tonight in anti-re-election party circles.

As Tempers Flared In Senate's Harriman Bank Inquiry

HERE is a tense moment in the Senate's New York inquiry into delayed prosecution of Harriman bank officials, as Nugent (left) former Assistant U. S. Attorney General, angrily answered the charge of incompetency made against him by Senator Mathew M. Neely of West Virginia (right). His honesty impugned, Senator Neely sprang to his feet and seized the water carafe seen on the table, but was calmed by Senator Henry F. Ashurst of Arizona, chairman, at his right. Senator Patrick McCarran is in the center of the photo.

Negro Admits 'Silk Stocking' Murder

Shows Detectives Where He Hid Four Rings Stolen From Dallas Woman

DALLAS, July 1 (AP)—The silk stocking strangulation of Mrs. H. K. "Smiley" Buchanan, attractive blonde film exchange employee, in her apartment last fall was solved today with a confession from a 25-year-old negro.

R. T. Bennett, diminutive negro, told authorities he had pulled the stockings where they would find the rings. A search in a house near Bennett's home disclosed four rings, two of which detectives identified at once as the property of Mrs. Buchanan.

The negro said he entered the woman's apartment the night of November 30, 1932, while "looking for an apartment to rent." After taking a purse from a dresser, he noticed the rings on Mrs. Buchanan's hands. She had just returned from a chili and drinking party at an apartment across the hall and had retired.

Fearing she might awaken, Bennett related how he choked her until he thought she was unconscious, attacked her, covered the body with red clothes, put a pillow under her head and took the rings off her finger.

Airman Killed On First Hop Of Air Armada

AMSTERDAM, July 1 (AP)—The arrival here today of the Italian air armada of 25 seaplanes en route to Chicago under command of Air Minister General Italo Balbo was marked by tragedy. One of the ships, captained on striking the water, resulted in the death of Sergeant Ugo Quintavalle and the injury of three other members of the crew.

General Balbo, the youthful bearded leader of the squadron, and his companions were much disturbed at the loss of life.

Shortly after midnight, however, he talked with attaches of the meteorological institute of Holland and then ordered the pilots to be ready to leave their hotel at 5 a. m. (11 p. m. Eastern standard time Sunday for Londonderry, Ireland, 40 minutes later.

The Italian squadron made a spectacular arrival here and received a warm welcome. The plane of which Sergeant Quintavalle was engineer turned over as it alighted and the sergeant was suffocated. The tragedy was for a while officially denied.

The commander of the ill-fated craft, Flight Lieut. Baldini, was stated to be suffering from concussion, Flying Officer Novelli, second in command, had a broken arm and leg, while another member of the crew suffered a fractured jaw and a broken shoulder bone. Only one member of the crew was unhurt.

MAILING OF COTTON CONTRACTS DELAYED BY HIGH ESTIMATES OF PROSPECTIVE 1933 PRODUCTION

Farmers Asked To Reduce Their Figures

Whereas the county average production per acre for the last 5 years is not over 172 pounds and the prospects this year are at least no better than this average, the estimates being placed total more than 200 pounds per acre. This is obviously inaccurate and will not be acceptable to the government. Cotton committees will spend part of this week asking farmers to reduce their estimates.

Next Saturday is the final day on which the retirement agreements may be signed. While there is a shortage of blanks, a new supply is expected by Monday. There has been no difficulty in getting signatures; indeed, the county retirement total is likely to pass the 5,000-acre mark. County Agent Ralph Thomas has received notice that retirement may be as much as 50 per cent, instead of 40 per cent as first allowed.

Committees have served notice that estimates on hillside land must come down or agreements will not be accepted. The government is interested only in clean, growing crops and what an accurate estimate would be of production.

The average yield per acre has been reported in recent years as follows: 1928, 214 pounds; 1929, 160 pounds; 1930, 127 pounds; 1931, 222 pounds; 1932, 135 pounds.

Interest in the cotton retirement plan, which gives farmers $6 per acre and up according to yield prospects, is county-wide.

CONVICT HUNTED WICHITA FALLS, July 1 (AP)—

The search for Milton Furr, 24-year-old convict charged with murder here in connection with the shooting of C. S. Carlisle, a police officer, and the wounding of E. M. McCord, another officer, and Henry Hughes, taxi driver, turned toward Dallas and Fort Worth today.

W. H. Ponder of LeFors was in the city last night.

Hitler May Change Religion

News Agency Denies Dictator Of Germany Will Join New Protestant Group

BERLIN, July 1 (AP)—Wolff's (German) agency tonight published an official statement denying that Chancellor Adolf Hitler had joined the new national Protestant church after abandoning his Roman Catholic faith.

Previously the Rev. Ludwig Mueller, Nazi church leader, announced the chancellor expected to join the church as soon as reorganization of Protestantism in the Reich had been completed. He added that the head of the Nazi movement will urge German Catholics to affiliate with the new church.

The revelation of this highly important change came after President Hindenburg, a strong Evangelical churchman, had appealed to Chancellor Hitler to compose the differences between the government and the Protestant church groups. In Protestant circles it was generally believed the chancellor's transfer from the Catholic communion to the Evangelical fold would be signalized as a dramatic feature of the nation-wide celebration of Martin Luther's 450th birthday anniversary October 10.

CHECK TAXES TOTAL $7,604 DURING YEAR

Bank Expenses Increased by Exacting Requirements of Federal Government.

Patrons of the First National bank of Pampa paid $7,604.18 to Uncle Sam through the tax of 2 cents on checks during the last twelve months, it was shown yesterday.

The tax law went into effect on June 21, 1932. The bank collected and paid to the government the following amounts by months:

Last 10 days of June, 1932, $212.50; July, $631.46; August, $647.70; September, $622.90; October, $660.94; November, $657.38; December, $695.08; January of 1933, $632.04; February, $563.54; March, $598.06; April, $627.68; May, $653.70; first 20 days of June, $401.20.

These sums were cited as evidence of the large income which may be derived from a seemingly small tax. But the large number of checks written by the average person and huge numbers written by business firms quickly magnified the tax, which was collected by the bank and paid monthly to the government.

Collecting of the tax and making of reports, together with extra bookkeeping involved, made it necessary for the bank to add to its staff. The government does not remunerate the bank for this overhead expense. Because of these and other expenses, the bank was obliged, officers said, to install a monthly service charge.

Requirements and regulations of the federal government in banking necessitate overhead costs which are generally unknown to the public.

OFFICIALS INDICTED

BEAUMONT, July 1 (AP)—The county grand jury here today indicted M. V. Proctor, county treasurer; Louis Welch, county commissioner of precinct 3, and H. M. Rosen, Port Arthur steel dealer, in three cases variously accusing the three men in connection with racketeering involving $2,654 in county funds.

Gray Oil Output Is Increased To 31,792 Barrels

The percentage of allowable oil to be produced in the Panhandle field under the new summary re-leased yesterday at the local office of the Texas Railroad commission was raised from 12.56 per cent to 17.06 per cent. The allowable under the new order has been advanced to 50,000 barrels or an increase of 6,000 barrels.

Gray county's output was increased 4,752 barrels through the new schedule. The additional production marks in a sense, the profit in production. In the past the production has barely allowed the producers to get by. The request for an enlarged allowable was made through the local office at a hearing in Amarillo last Monday.

Gray county's potential under the new schedule is 114,619 barrels and the allowable of prorateable oil 31,792 barrels.

The field production follows: Wells 828, including 252 marginal wells; potential 114,619 barrels; marginal oil, 13,791 barrels; exempt oil, 976 barrels; prorateable oil, 99,780 barrels; allowable, 31,792 barrels; water production, 8,609 barrels.

The field production follows: Wells, 1,861, including 896 marginal wells; potential 154,349 barrels; a marginal oil, 25,911 barrels; exempt oil, 2,621 barrels; prorateable oil, 125,817 barrels; allowable, 50,000 barrels; water production, 37,811 barrels.

The Gray county production on the new schedule follows: Wells 828, including 252 marginal wells; potential 114,619 barrels; marginal oil, 13,791 barrels; exempt oil, 976 barrels; prorateable oil, 99,780 barrels; allowable, 31,792 barrels; water production, 8,609 barrels.

TURNER SETS SPEED RECORD

BOARDMAN IS INJURED WHEN SHIP CRASHES

VETERAN PILOT WINS CROSS-COUNTRY PLANE RACE

MUNICIPAL AIRPORT LOS ANGELES, July 1 (AP)—Rocketing westward from New York to set a new transcontinental speed record from the Atlantic to the Pacific, Colonel Roscoe Turner, veteran racing pilot of Hollywood, won the cross-country dash of the national air races today with a time of 11 hours, 30 minutes.

Turner's flight broke his own record by 1 hour and 3 minutes, and Wedell was 33 minutes ahead of the mark the Pacific coast pilot set last fall.

In the wake of these two were four other fliers, one the transatlantic pilot, Amelia Earhart, all forced out of the gruelling race. One, Russell Boardman, holder of the American long distance flying record set in a flight from New York to Istanbul, lay in an Indianapolis hospital, seriously injured by the crash of his ship.

The other two, Lee Gehlbach and Russell Thaw, were forced out early in the race. Thaw broke a wing tip in landing at Indianapolis and a faulty gasoline line put Gehlbach out in an emergency landing near New Bethel, Ind., leaving only Turner and Wedell to finish.

Earhart, headed by Bert Currier, a refrigerator company, Doak's department store, Murfee's Inc., Pampa Furniture company, Levine's, Pampa Motor company, Gordon Store, P. K. One-Stop, Station, L. T. Hill company, Thompson, Hardware company, Globe Clothiers.

CHICAGO, July 1 (AP)—The plane carrying four fliers headed by Bert Alexander who plan to hunt for Jimmie Mattern, lost world flyer, left here at 5 p. m. (C. D. T.) today en route to Alaska.

They stopped here but briefly intent upon pushing on to Duluth, Minn., as rapidly as possible.

WASHINGTON, July 1 (AP)—In a message calculated to warn all retailers against price advances the administration does not consider warranted. Secretary Wallace informed Iowa Bakers late today that any unreasonable retail boosts would be prosecuted.

Four Men Slain In Argument At School Election

PRESTONBURG, Ky., July 1 (AP)—Four men were fatally wounded in a gun battle cross a table in a crowded election booth on Prater Creek today. Four others were wounded, and two of them may die.

The dead are Wilburn Conn, 30, and Wayne Click, 35, who were killed instantly; and Green Conn, 62, Wilburn's father, and Mimms Conn, 45, who died tonight.

The shooting occurred when supporters of Sol Sammons in a school trustee election, who was leading by two votes, claimed it was time to end the voting, while supporters of Sammons' opponent, Arnold Robinson, insisted two more minutes remained before closing time.

Lawrence Conn, 23, and Millard Conn, 21, sons of Mimms Conn, were critically wounded and may not survive. Hayden Howell, shot through the chest, and Ike Conn, shot in the right leg, are expected to recover.

Sheriff B. L. Sturgill said Ike Conn had been placed under arrest in connection with the shooting, which occurred while men, women and children were gathered about the table to witness settlement of the dispute.

'Get Under Wire' Wallace Asserts

WASHINGTON, July 1 (AP)—Secretary Wallace today urged that cotton producers "get under the wire" next week in signing offers to reduce acreage under the cotton program which contemplates the distribution of around $100,000,000 in cash benefits during the next two months.

Wallace issued a brief statement but in it avoided giving any indication of whether he is impressed with results obtained during the past week in the campaign being carried personally to every farmer in the 16 cotton growing states. In all, 22,000 workers are aiding in the drive.

Part Of Stores Will Be Closed Fourth Of July

Pampa department stores, men's stores, and hardware and furniture firms will be closed all day on Tuesday, July 4, it was indicated yesterday.

Most grocery stores, however, will remain open until near noon.

The NEWS will not print a paper on Tuesday, since it gives each July 4 to its employees.

MISS GREGORY WINS BIG CASH CONTEST PRIZE

"Miss Pampa" Gets $200 For Her Work During News-Sponsored Project

Miss Alene Gregory, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gregory, and well known by reason of having won the title of "Miss Pampa" last spring, was the winner of the Pampa Daily NEWS world's fair contest which closed at midnight Friday.

Other high ranking contestants were Mrs. Charles Wooley, Mrs. May Foreman Carr, Mrs. W. C. de Cordova, Miss Mildred Haggard, and Bennett Kell, who finished in the order given.

The judges in the contest, who tabulated the votes, were C. H. Walker and Jim Collins.

The contest was made possible by the NEWS and cooperating merchants. The business men gave votes with merchandise purchases and were well pleased with the results obtained. Printing of the paper "money" were larger than anticipated, making numerous reprints necessary.

Miss Gregory decided to accept the $200 cash prize in lieu of the trip to the world's fair with all expenses paid. She was very happy to learn that her efforts had been successful. She will use part of the money to pay her school expenses next term. This was one of the largest cash prizes ever awarded here for similar work.

The NEWS and the cooperating merchants are very appreciative of the efforts not only of Miss Gregory, but everyone who took part in the contest.

Firms participating were Richardson's Drug company, Mitchell's Texas Furniture company, Bert Currier Refrigeration company, Doak's department store, Murfee's Inc., Pampa Furniture company, Levine's, Pampa Motor company, Gordon Store, P. K. One-Stop, Station, L. T. Hill company, Thompson, Hardware company, Globe Clothiers.

Bakers Warned

WASHINGTON, July 1 (AP)—In a message calculated to warn all retailers against price advances the administration does not consider warranted. Secretary Wallace informed Iowa Bakers late today that any unreasonable retail boosts would be prosecuted.

The secretary told the Iowa Bakers the department was prepared to use the powers that had been lodged in it and the president to prevent unreasonable increases to be borne by the consumers.

"The recent advance of wheat prices plus the processing tax, when it is levied, would increase cost approximately one and one-third cents a pound loaf," he telegraphed the Bakers association.

"Under these conditions what is the justification for your proposed advance of three cents?"

The Bakers association announced yesterday it would increase the price of one pound loaves of bread from five to eight cents on July 5.

PAMPA GRAIN MARKET

No. 1 wheat was quoted at 84 cents per bushel in Pampa Saturday.

Heat-o-Graph

RIGHTEOUSNESS BRINGS PEACE: The work of righteousness shall be peace; and the effect of righteousness quietness and assurance for ever. And my people shall dwell in a peaceable habitation, and in sure dwellings, and in quiet resting places.—Isaiah 32:14.

A Long Honeymoon

Several weeks ago republican politicians attempted to "open up" on President Franklin D. Roosevelt and pick flaws with his "brain trust" program and bold strokes at entrenched privilege. But the people wouldn't stand for it.

So the "political honeymoon" which republicans said was over several weeks ago has lingered. No president of our memory ever so dominated congress. The crucial tests of lawmaking have passed; the equally difficult work of rebuilding the country economically has started.

Not every plan can succeed. Trends toward socialism will be fought. Capitalism has its merits and may stage a bigger comeback than ever even if for but a few years before another though perhaps more limited depression. Everett Sanders, republican national chairman, reserves the right to criticize the president "as a democratic principle."

Mr. Roosevelt's program, however, is aimed at decades, not processes which can be brought about in a year. He is trouble-shooting now, but the social revolution which he has accelerated will require years to smooth out in terms of social economics.

Profound Statements

President Roosevelt's "brain trust" may or may not prove equal to the practical tests of their theories, but no white house spokesmen since Woodrow Wilson have issued such profound statements and enunciation of principles. We have chosen at random extracts from a recent speech of Dr. Rexford G. Tugwell:

"There is no prearranged field of government which is set apart from the circumstances of those who are governed . . ."

"Government, or any part of it, is not in itself something; it is for something. It must do what we expect of it or it must be changed so that it will . . ."

"Only the unsound theorist counts upon a static world; he does so, I suspect, in order that his literary generalities may more accurately describe reality. Such theorists, however, (and they include many a hard-boiled business man) do not merely prefer to inhabit an unreal, static world; they also accumulate resistance, not always happily, to the recognition of change and the necessities for it . . ."

"Our loyalties and affections are apt to attach themselves to instruments rather than to functions. . . The constitution is used as a holy of holies within which the ugly practices of free competition can be hid from vulgar eyes. . ."

"Some two decades ago, it began to be apparent—or should have been—that competition and democracy were not Siamese twins, that they were separable, that, in fact, the separation had to be carried out if democracy were not to be stifled by competition, but public espousal of this cause was unpopular. (Woodrow Wilson outlined it in 1910 before the American Bar association)."

"The plowman no longer homeward plods his weary way; he rides a tractor; natural resources can no longer resist, with the same effectiveness, our instrumentalities for their exploitation. Our economic course has carried us from the era of economic development to the era which confronts us with the necessity for economic maintenance . . ."

"In this era of our economic existence, I believe it is manifest that a public interest well within the functions of government and well within the authority of government under our constitution commands the protection, the maintenance, the conservation of our industrial faculties against the destructive forces of the unrestrained competition. TODAY AND FOR TOMORROW our problem is that of our national economic maintenance for the public welfare of governmental intervention—any theory of government, law or economics to the contrary notwithstanding . . ."

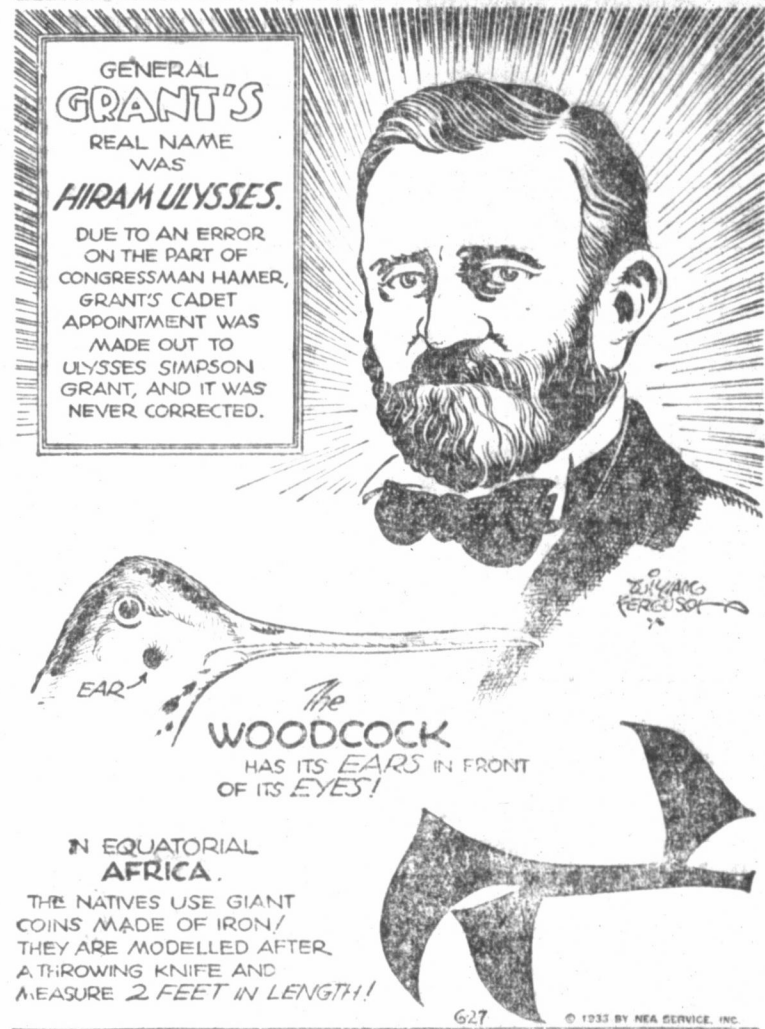

"Constitutional law, at any given time, is the then current theory of what ought and what ought not to be done under the constitution, a legalistic expression of the prevailing political and economic philosophy. And let me say that it is my view that what we have done is to rediscover the constitution, to revitalize the powers it was intended to create, many of which had been obscured in the interest of economic aims and purposes which have now become oppressively obsolescent. There is nothing in all this which violates the spirit of our constitution. As Justice Brandeis has said 'We do not need to amend the Constitution, we need to amend men's minds.'"

It is an experiment as all life is an experiment. We shall follow resolutely wherever the dictates of our minds propose. In the noble language of Mr. Justice Brandeis, if we would guide by the light of reason, we must let our minds be bold."

In the OIL FIELDS

The increase in the price of Panhandle crude oil and the recommendation of an increase in the field allowable, which was approved Friday, helped send daily production up 7,334 barrels to 50,179 barrels last week. Gray county showed nearly 5,000 barrels of the increase.

The new Panhandle allowable is 50,000 barrels, or an increase of 4,000 barrels. Recommendation of the raise was made at a meeting in Amarillo last Monday.

Bell Oil & Gas company shot its No. 4 Morse in section 1, block 26, Friday afternoon and the response was gratifying. Cleaning out is in progress. The well was brought in April 12, but on account of the price of crude oil it was let stand. A shot of 190 quarts was used. The well is believed good for 250 barrels a day.

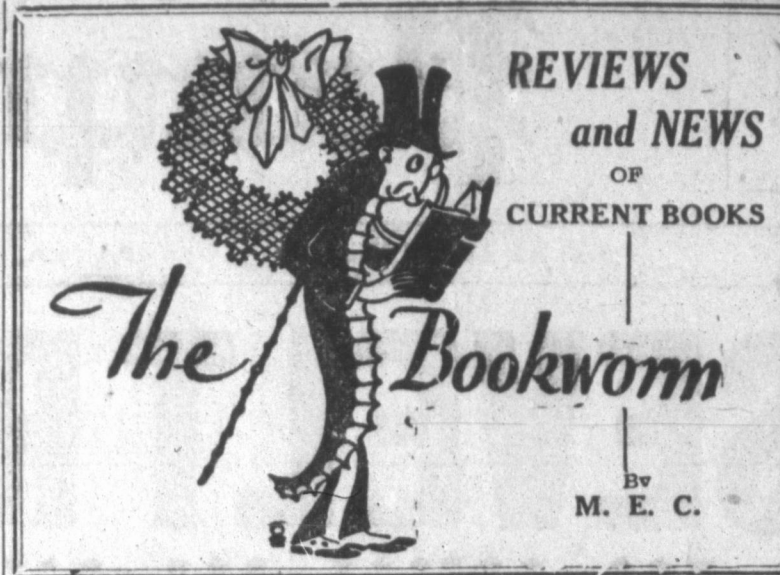

The Gulf Production company's No. 1 Catlin in section 57, block 3, is being completed with total depth at 3,153 feet. The new test swabbed 750 barrels the first 19 hours after pay was encountered. A small amount of gas was encountered.

Turkey Creek Is Dry 'First Time In Fifty Years'

Any skeptic wants proof that this is the driest year of the last century, he can get the proof in the Rev. J. E. "Uncle Jim" Williams, who has been in this section of the Pampa for five decades. For the first time in all the years Mr. Williams has spent in the Pampa, Turkey creek, south of LeFors, is dry.

Mr. Williams has owned the land through which a portion of the creek flows and it is the first time during his ownership that there has been no water there. Before acquiring the land, Mr. Williams rode at area. There is no mud in the bed of the creek at this time.

Mr. Williams visited the creek Saturday and was dismayed to find water gone.

I. H. Hester of LeFors was a visitor here Friday night.

A New Serial by Ruby M. Ayres.

SYNOPSIS: Georgie Bancroft romantically adores Nicholas Boyd, movie actor, whose career has been ended by a scarred face. But Boyd tells her he is about to leave the quiet village where he has been resting for Germany, and an operation that may restore his face. And a letter from her mother informs her that she and Georgie's stepfather will soon be in London as their duty from their New York home to Germany. Georgie learns the name of the doctor to whom Boyd will go from Clifford Asher, a young friend in London, who asks Georgie if he may see her often.

Boyd came on, slowly; was he coming to the house? Coming to see her? She could hardly breathe.

He drew level with the gate, and stopped, looking towards the house; then after a moment he went slowly on again.

Georgie could bear it no longer; she ran out into the road.

"Mr. Boyd—"

He stood still at once, turning to face her. She tried to think of something to say, but of all the hundreds of words that clamored at the door of her brain she could speak none. Then he said—

Chapter 25
THE CABLEGRAM

GEORGIE went home with a strange feeling of excitement, it almost seemed as if the closed doors of life, as other people knew it, had slowly begun to open and let her through.

She sighed and let herself into the house. It was five o'clock and there was a smell of burning toast in the house; why was it that Mrs. Drill could never make toast without burning it, Georgie wondered impatiently, and she thought rather wistfully of the wonderful lunch she had had; tea would probably have been just as good if they had had it in the same restaurant.

Mrs. Drill came out of the kitchen. "Your uncle's been hollerin' all over the place for you," she said.

"Where is he?" Georgie asked.

"Gone out, but there's a telegram on the dining-room table, and he said I was to tell you to read it."

Georgie went into the dining-room; the telegram lay on the tray beside an empty tumbler, and she took it up with a vague feeling of distaste.

Whoever could be sending a telegram? She could not remember ever having seen one in the house before. This was on different paper to the usual ones too; she looked at the printed heading curiously.

It was a cable, brief but to the point.

"Arriving Friday the twenty-second. Evelyn."

Georgie always thought it seemed funny her mother should invariably sign herself by her christian name and not "Mother."

Friday the twenty-second was next Friday; funny they should have troubled to cable her at all. She was of such little importance in the life of this woman who would sign herself Evelyn.

Mrs. Drill spoke from the doorway.

"No bad news, I hope?" She was all inquisitiveness.

"No, only that my mother is coming home," Georgie said.

"That will be nice," Mrs. Drill said a trifle disappointedly; to her way of thinking telegrams only meant one thing, and that was bad news. She waited a moment and then went back to the kitchen to finish burning the toast.

When Edward Bancroft came home later in the evening, he could talk of nothing else but the cablegram; he seemed to consider it as a personal insult.

"Wasting money—the kind of thing an empty headed woman would do. Why the devil does she want you to know that she arrives on Friday the twenty-second? She's not coming to see you, I'll bet a fever."

"I think it was kind of her," Georgie said.

"Kind!" Edward Bancroft roared like a bull. "She doesn't know the meaning of the word. Where's the whisky?"

Georgie escaped. She went out into the garden and looked at the moon. It was a young moon like a thin sickle, and it lay on its back, which Lovelock had always declared was a bad sign.

She supposed that the same moon shone down on Germany, where Nicholas would soon be; they would have that in common anyway; not that he cared whether they had anything in common or not.

Georgie opened the creaking front gate and looked out into the road. It was nearly nine o'clock, and everything was very still.

Up in a tree somewhere an owl called mournfully, and away in the distance a dog was barking; they were the only sounds to be heard except a slow footstep coming down the road.

A slow, uneven footstep.

Georgie's heart missed a beat; she would know that footstep any where; surely it she were dead and if passed over her grave she would know it.

She stood staring, her heart beating fast.

Tomorrow, Georgie has a strange talk with Nicholas.

Georgie felt the doors of life open. "It's a lovely night," Georgie looked up at the moon again.

"It's on its back," she said, "and that's a bad sign, isn't it?" but even as she spoke her heart denied the words; how could anything be a bad sign when this man was with her?

"Have you been to London?" he asked.

"Yes."

"Have a good time?"

"Yes."

The silence fell again, which Georgie broke restlessly.

"I'm so glad to see you. I wanted to say how sorry I am about yesterday."

"Sorry for what?"

"For being such a fool," she said vehemently. "I don't know what made me say all the silly things I did."

"You didn't mean them?" he asked quietly.

She shook her head.

"I'm glad," he said. "I'm glad to see you again too, now we can shake hands and part friends, can't we?"

"When are you going?"

"Tomorrow."

"Oh!" she did not know the desolation that rang through the little world, but after a moment she went on swiftly: "Can I walk down the road with you? Nobody will see us, and if it's for the last time—"

"Don't you want a hat?"

"No, I hardly ever wear one."

"Come along then."

Georgie caught her breath with a quick sigh; the moon might be on its back, but otherwise all was right with the world.

Tomorrow, Georgie has a strange talk with Nicholas.

Now that the huge public works bill has finally passed, it looks like President Roosevelt is getting ready to give unemployment the works.

ELEVENTH RODEO OF ANVIL PARK RANCH WILL BE BEGUN TOMORROW--LASTS 3 DAYS

Jingle Of Spurs Is Heard At Canadian as Ranch Hands Gather For Events.

CANADIAN, July 1.—Wide-brimmed 10-gallon hats are bobbing along above the straws and Panamas of the crowds in Canadian now. The clump of high-heeled boots and the jingle of spurs are heard on the side walks. The rodeo has come to town, bringing to this little western city the breath of the wide open spaces.

The show opens Monday at Anvil Park ranch for three days.

From a small start with a few in attendance, the Anvil Park rodeo has become the biggest thing of its kind in the Panhandle. It is now recognized not as just a wild west show, but as real competition for the best of range athletes.

From Monday until Wednesday, the 100 riders and ropers gathered from all over the western states will be holding forth at Canadian in daily competition. It is the most spectacular show of the kind held anywhere in this area.

The rodeo contestants have been warming up on the various ranches and are ready for the big show. The livestock has been in pastures adjacent to the rodeo grounds being grazed and conditioned for this show. The association is furnishing the bucking horses and steers that will be used in the competition among the riders, ropers, and bulldoggers.

It is an ironclad rule of rodeo competition that all the contestants must pay their own way to the scene of the show. The only money they are able to win in prize money. Thus many of the wide-brimmeds now in Canadian journeyed here by auto, carrying their ponies in trailers.

It takes about 100 head of steers and calves to keep the show in fodder for competition. J. G. Stuber, chairman of the Anvil Park Rodeo association, has big ranches devoted to little else but caring for rodeo livestock. The rodeo has become something of an industry.

One of the feature events of the show is the Brahma steer riding. A nice, untamed Brahma steer can buck higher and faster than the wildest bucking horse, so the steer is considered very keen competition. About 20 cowboys are entered in the steer riding events.

The cowboys who ride the steers draw for their mounts by lot the day before each contest. Any cowboy who draws a steer and refuses to ride on the day of the contest is disqualified from further competition. A refusal is very rare. It

Excessive Heat Melts Rollers—Delays Orders

The new production summary for the Panhandle field was not issued until yesterday afternoon because of the terrific heat. Members of the local office of the railroad commission were not overcome by the heat; but the rollers of the ditto machine on which the summary is printed caused the delay when they melted.

The heat Friday afternoon caused the composition material of which the rollers are made to melt and it was impossible to finish the work. New rollers were order shipped from Dallas, and they arrived here late yesterday afternoon.

The Panhandle output was increased 6,000 barrels to 50,000 barrels under the new summary.

takes a lot of nerve to attempt to ride these steers. There is an element of very serious danger in it. Sometimes a steer rider is thrown and gored before he can get himself out of the way of the animal. It takes a lot of nerve to ride the ride the bucking horses, too, for that matter, but a hot-tempered steer is more dangerous than a bucking horse after he has thrown his rider.

The 11th annual Anvil Park rodeo, opening tomorrow, is the biggest in the history of this competition. Moreover, it includes many champion riders and ropers never before seen in Canadian. The advance sale indicates that it is going to break attendance records for July 4; for the arena has come to know and love the war cry of the rodeo: "Ride 'em, cowboy!"

Thirty-Year Old Bill Paid By An Unknown Debtor

LAREDO, July 1 (AP)—A mysterious debtor, through the medium of a Catholic priest has paid to a Laredo wholesaler in groceries and feed stuffs a debt he said was about 30 years old. The money was delivered to the wholesaler by the priest; but the clergyman did not know the name of the mysterious man, hence the wholesaler does not know who to credit for the payment of $25.

Rev. Ladislao Lopez, pastor of Guadalupe church, walked into the wholesale grocery establishment of Julian Trevino.

"I have here for you," said the priest, "the sum of $25 to pay a debt about 30 years old."

"Whom shall I credit for the amount?" asked Trevino.

"I do not know the name of the man," replied the priest. "He merely came to me at my home, handed me the money and said to tell you it was in payment for a debt of 30 years ago he owed you."

The priest said he had never seen the man before. Trevino, who has been in business in Laredo 40 years or more—back in the days when ox cars plied between Laredo and Rio Grande City—realized he had many unpaid debts on his books in sums ranging around $25. But who was the mysterious man who had paid him?

Finally he wrote out a receipt

PHONE 105 F. M. FOSTER, Mgr. 120 W. FOSTER

Ford Motor Company, Dearborn, Mich.

In answer to a lady's letter

Henry Ford Dearborn, Mich.

A lady writes to say that she does not understand why an 8-cylinder car does not cost more to run than a car with fewer cylinders. She refers to my statement that our Ford V-8 develops more power on a gallon of gas than any car we have made.

The use of 8-cylinders does not mean the addition of two or four extra fuel consumers. It is not, for example, a 4-cylinder engine multiplied by two. Our 8-cylinder engine takes the fuel supply of an ordinary 4-cylinder engine and divides it eight ways. And why?

By reducing four larger explosions into eight smaller ones, we get engine smoothness and quietness. Eight-cylinders indicate the way the gas is used, not the amount. It is just the difference between going upstairs in four long jumps or in eight ordinary steps.

Two things use up gas—bad engine design and useless car weight. Besides having an engine that gets a high percentage of power out of the fuel, the Ford V-8 has a light, strong body and chassis so that no power is wasted in moving excess weight.

The only extravagance about the new Ford V-8 engine is in the building of it. The extravagance is ours—the economy is yours.

The whole question of car economy needs clearing up. An economical car gives economy all round. Price, operation, upkeep, all play their part. If what you save on gas you lose elsewhere, that is not economy. As to upkeep, our dealers say that in recent years the improved quality of Ford cars has cut down their repair business 50 per cent. As to price with quality,—judge for yourself.

As to economy, here is the record of a stock car three weeks out of shop in Oklahoma:

On a run of 10,054 miles at the rate of 1,000 miles a day—the Ford V-8 gave 18.8 miles per gallon of gas. Not a drop of water was added to the radiator. The oil was changed once in 1,000 miles.

That should answer a lot of questions.

PRESENCE OF VISITORS INSPIRES WEEK-END ENTERTAINMENTS

MRS WOLFE IS HOSTESS TO 3 HOUSE GUESTS

YOUNG VISITORS ARE HERE TO LIVE WEEK-END

VISITORS are adding new interest to the summer here, as they inspire entertainments both formal and informal. A feature event of recent days was given for house guests of Mrs. Philip Wolfe, and the week-end arrival of two young guests of Misses Frances and Ploy Dean Finley is important to younger Pampa.

Mrs. Wolfe was hostess at her home late Thursday afternoon complimenting her sister, Mrs. E. B. Masie, and niece, Mrs. Jack De Cordova and Miss Jessie Belle Masie, all of Corpus Christi.

Pupils Give Program
A group of Mrs. Wolfe's voice pupils were presented in studio recital, with their mothers and a few intimate friends as other guests. Appearing in vocal solos were Mrs. Raymond Harrah, Mrs. Earl Thomason, Mrs. J. W. Garman Jr., Mrs. Howard Neath, Miss Dorothy Dodd, Jimmy Baldwin.

After the recital of songs T. Duncan Stewart and Miss Eleanor Frey played a varied program of modern and classic compositions for the violin. Miss Frey, pupil of Mr. Stewart, played Bach's Prelude in E Major, and Kreisler's transcription of Rosamunde ballet music. Mr. Stewart closed the program with Danse Espagnole, DeFalco; Capriccio 24, Paganini-Auer; Weigenlied, Brahms-Stewart; and Chaconne from Bach's Fourth Sonata. He played encore numbers from Kreisler, Dvorak, Brahms, and Schubert.

Ices were served with home made cake after the program. The Misses Finley have as guests this week-end Miss Helen Hocken-hull of Clovis and Miss Frances Clarke of Taylor, for whom a group of gaily informal events are entertaining young social groups.

Mrs. De Cordova Honored
Mrs. De Cordova was the honoree Wednesday afternoon, and in the Hollis Rabb entertained two tables of players with bridge at an attractively appointed party.

A green and orange color note was emphasized with garden flowers, in tables laid in orange under-green tapers, and in the green and orange cards used in the games. Refreshments of frozen peaches with cream, angel food cakeiced in orange, and lime punch reflected the same colors.

Mrs. Ray Eaton received the high score award, and the honoree was given a favor. Other players were Mesdames E. J. Pafford, E. T. Hollingshead, Carleton Nance, A. C. Rabb, Jack Baker.

Mrs. Kolb Gives Party For Club

Mrs. Cora Kolb entertained three tables of members and guests with bridge, when she was hostess at her home Friday afternoon to the Gay Friday club.

Mrs. Robinson made high score for club members, and Mrs. Paul Caylor low. Mrs. Nadine Shields scored high and Mrs. Irwin low for guests. Mrs. Ethel West held the traveler prize, and cuts went to Mrs. E. V. Hogan, Mrs. Vera Riddle, and Mrs. Dunlap.

Other players were Mrs. Robert Woodward, Mrs. H. H. Isbell, and the hostess. An ice course was served after the games.

Auxiliary Carries On Veteran Relief Work In New Plan

Study of the new regulations under which government benefits to disabled veterans was made June 30, is being made by members of the American Legion Auxiliary, Mrs. W. C. de Cordova president of the Pampa unit of the Auxiliary, has announced. The Auxiliary will continue its work for the disabled men and their families under the new conditions resulting from the changed laws.

The economy act which became effective June 30 has wiped out the whole structure of veterans' legislation which has governed the compensation and care of the disabled, the widows and the fatherless children since the war, explained Mrs. de Cordova. It will be necessary for Legion and Auxiliary members engaged in work for the welfare of disabled veterans and dependents to become familiar with the new regulations.

The Auxiliary is supporting the Legion in its work for a permanent governmental policy toward veterans. The proposed permanent policy includes 4 points: 1. A governmental policy of equal treatment of veterans and dependents of all wars. 2. A permanent classification and standardization of benefits for all classes of veterans and their dependents, of all wars, past and future, upon which both the government and its dependents rely. 3. A governmental policy contemplating an adequate compensation and hospitalization for all veterans with war service connected disabilities without regard to their financial status or other means of support. 4. A governmental policy recognizing veterans without means of support without charges and wards of the federal and not of state and local governments, or of public charity.

New Talent

MISS HERMINA STOVER, shown above with her violin, is a recent addition to the musical talent of Pampa. The daughter of Mrs. Ben Stover, she recently received her bachelor's degree in music from the University of Kansas, where she was an honor violin student and concertmeister of the university symphony orchestra. ## Linen Shows Varied Moods And Modes

NEW YORK (AP)—When Dame Fashion sallies forth these summer days, like as not she'll be togged out in linen. Sometimes it's used alone, sometimes with another fabric for contrast; often there are two shades of linen for variety.

Some Linen Throughout.

ALONG Fifth Avenue shoppers may find upon a display including a costume sticking to the one fabric throughout. Thus, the suit is of natural linen, while the blouse with its scarf is of brown linen. A matching hat and white kid oxfords complete the outfit.

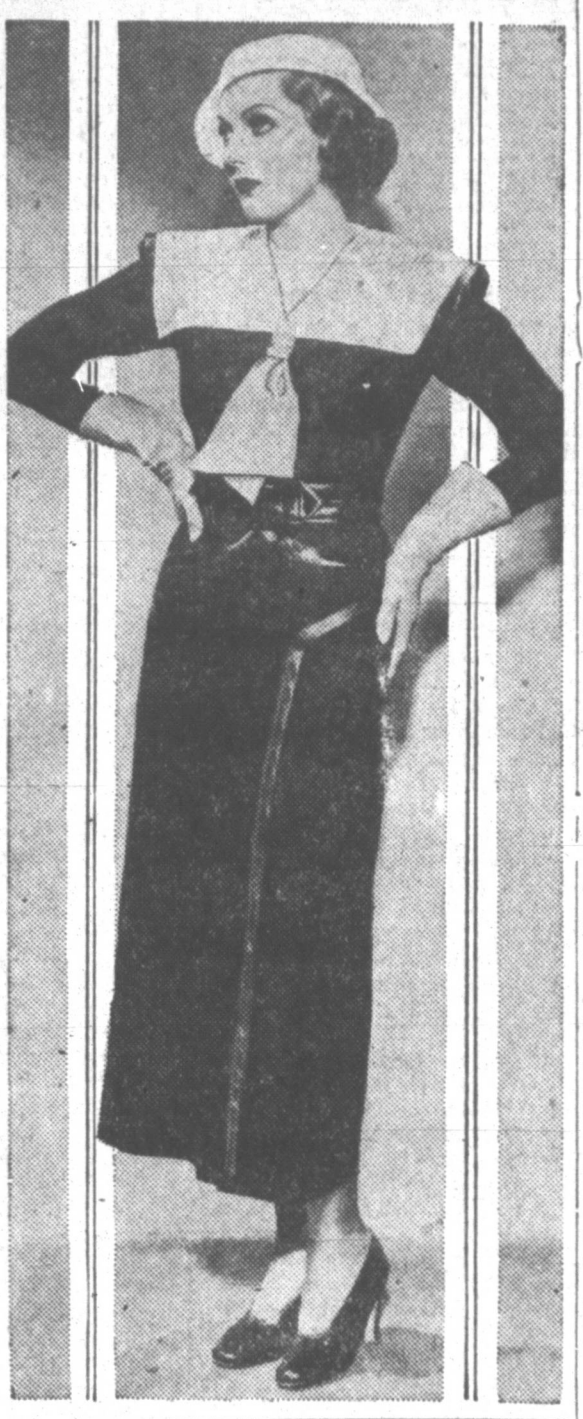

Then there's another—a string color linen suit worn with a blouse of coral linen. Hats are not forgotten—you'll find one in tweed linen, for instance.

Accents Are Varied.

AS FOR accents, sometimes there's crisp white organdie or pique to set off black or navy linen, along with other variations seen in style showings here and reflected in style news from Paris and Hollywood. Adrienne Ames, for instance, has adopted the plain linen vogue in one of her new frocks. Gay contrast was the result when the film actress a frequent visitor to New York, trimmed the two-piece costume with black silk braid and tucked white organdie and added a red pique tie and gloves to match.

For Dinner, Too.

A THREE-PIECE dinner suit of natural linen appears in another display, the long skirt having a slit on one side reaching to the knee. The sleeves of the mess jacket coat are pleated at the shoulder and a large bow gives the accompanying waist of black organdie a very saucy air.

SUMMER PROJECTS FOR P. T. A. GROUPS ARE SUGGESTED BY THE STATE CONGRESS FOR VACATION

Early Selection Of Work For Year Is Urged

By MRS. J. M. CRAIN, Claude, State Publicity Director Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers.

"Some of the projects sponsored by the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers are well adapted for the vacation period," avers Mrs. C. E. Maddocks, Ranger, seventh vice president of the Texas Congress and director of projects.

A careful study of conditions, needs, and resources of the community is advised in order to make a wise selection of the project or projects undertaken for the year. No association is expected to carry on all suggested projects at the same time or during the space of one year.

Projects Listed.
The list of projects in Texas that have proved to be both popular and practical are summer round-up, child guidance clinics, county library, mother singers, parents' day, survey, thrift banks, hot school lunch, home play, drama and pageantry, school and home gardens, humane education posters, bands of mercy, bird houses, story hour for community, magazines for schools, motion picture survey, and congress library.

The success of the summer round-up campaign largely depends on the follow-up work of the various committees during the summer. The follow-up committee should urge parents of children with defects to see the family physician and enlist for advice and treatment, in order that the children may enter school as free as possible from remediable defects.

Story Hour Enjoyed.
The story hour for the community is another worth-while project particularly suitable for summer time and is enjoyed by all ages. In any community people who are gifted in story-telling are found and are glad to contribute this talent for the uplift of the locality. Bible stories, fairy tales, history, and adventure are always in demand. The shady side of the school building is oftentimes used for an auditorium during vacation.

Every mother is eager to know how to keep her children happy at home, as the home is the center of the child's activities. Mrs. Maddocks states that home play is receiving interested attention from all child welfare workers just now, and many books are available on the subject. Two volumes especially fitted for play, the serious business of childhood, are: The Child and Play, by James Edward Rogers, Century Publishing company, New York, and Play Behaviour and Choice of Play Materials, by Dorothy Van Alstyne, University of Chicago Press, Chicago.

Gardens Popular.
School and home gardens have proved very popular these vacation days. The results show in better health for all engaged in this work. Some associations provided garden seeds to needy families. Well stocked pantries of home canned fruits and vegetables should be encouraged.

The drama plays an important part in the lives of children. "Make believe" fills many happy hours.

NAMES CHOSEN BY CAMP FIRE GIRLS FRIDAY

Sixteen girls were interested in selection of names and symbols, the theme of the study hour when Camp Fire girls met Friday at their club room. Several have chosen their Camp Fire names and completed logos and headbands, thereby winning honors toward first rank of wood gatherer.

A few minutes were spent in song and fun, then plans were made for a hike and sunrise breakfast next Friday morning. The girls will meet at 4:30 at the high school building.

Members present at the meeting were Anna Mae Jones, Roberta and Kathleen O'Hara, Ruth and Mattie Lee Clay, Mary Elizabeth Seeds, Katherine Ward, Herma and Edith Beckham, Catherine Culberson, Margaret Spangler, Rupert Calhoun, Elaine Croust, Muriel Estes, Verna Springer, Myrtle Ethel Seeds, and Mrs. Bo Barrett.

DENTON, July 1.—Announcement has been made of the appointment of Mrs. Mattie Lloyd Wooten, acting dean of women at the Texas State College for Women (CIA) to the position of dean of women by L. H. Hubbard, president of the college.

Mrs. Wooten has been conducting classes in sociology and serving as acting dean of women during the present summer term. She takes the place formerly held by Miss Estella G. Herley.

Japan Hopes Next Child Of Empress Will Be A Son

TOKYO, July 1 (AP)—The emperor of Japan expects another child in January, the imperial household ministry indicated today on the authority of court physician.

The emperor will soon go to Hamama, on the physicians' advice, to spend the summer quietly at his imperial villa on the seashore.

Their majesties still lack a son to inherit the throne, and therefore the court and the nation hope the next baby will be a boy.

WEST TEXAN CALLED ABLE SUCCESSOR OF FAMED ARCHBISHOP

Archbishop-Elect

BISHOP R. A. GERKEN of the diocese who was recently appointed archbishop of Santa Fe, is known by many residents of Pampa and the surrounding territory. He has officiated at services at the Holy Souls Catholic church here on numerous occasions.

BISHOP GERKEN WILL SOON GO TO SANTA FE

EXPECTED TO CONTINUE CONSTRUCTIVE WORK IN NEW MEXICO

By ARCHER FULLINGIM.
A PAPAL messenger, probably an American bishop or priest who has made a pilgrimage to the Vatican, will soon bring across the Atlantic a document which he received from the hands of Pope Pius XI and will deliver it personally to the Most Rev. Rudolph Aloysius Gerken, D. D., LL. D., bishop of the Amarillo diocese in which Holy Souls Catholic church of Pampa is located.

The document will announce the appointment of the tall, blonde, heavy recipient as the seventh archbishop of Santa Fe, an office made famous by New Mexico's great and good Bishop Lamy who was well-publicized in Novelista Willa Gather's DEATH COMES FOR THE ARCHBISHOP, history of the early Catholic church in New Mexico.

Has Building Reputation.
The written evidence will only confirm in the blunder-proof Catholic manner the appointment that was officially announced from the Vatican, June 5. The Iowa-born West Texan will not know when he is to be created archbishop until the messenger arrives.

Significance of the appointment: The usual run of avid or bored tourists, including weary escapists, "color" artists, who in the next 10 years, or perhaps less, visit New Mexico's famed Catholic churches and ruins of more famous ones, whether anchored on old-advertised Acoma ("City in the clouds," three miles from the Enchanted Mesa), or squatting amidst huts on an isolated pueblo, are almost certain to find architectural surprises—restoration, new churches, and well-kept old ones—awaiting them.

For it is not conceivable that Bishop Gerken will abandon the church-building and church resuscitating habits he acquired during the last 16 years, ten of which he spent as parish priest at Abilene and in the surrounding "oil belt" district, and six as bishop of the 72 counties in the Amarillo diocese.

His friends, both Catholics and Protestants, who watched 10 churches in the Abilene parish and 36 churches in the Amarillo diocese take form in brick and mortar, have confidently charted his course on the mesas and wastes and in the arid villages of New Mexico. They believe, and have sound reasons for believing, that Catholicism in New Mexico will be resuscitated to a point it has not reached since Bishop Lamy (Father Latour in DEATH COMES FOR THE ARCHBISHOP) died in 1888.

They have a belief that New Mexicans will eventually point to restorations instead of ruins and dilapidated structures; that relics will be left as such but that they will have a frame around them, so to speak.

Women In Nearby Cities Active In Summer Club, Social Events

MIAMI, July 1.—Miss Thelma Gill included two out-of-town guests when she entertained the Contract bridge club Tuesday evening. Mrs. Sherman Johnston of Fort Worth and Miss Albert Nell Stone of Marlow, Okla., were the two visitors.

Residents of the North Plains community met in a big picnic and fish fry last week-end. A large crowd was present, and enough fish were caught in the lake to satisfy all appetites.

Miss Leona Lewis of the Salem community entertained about 100 young people of that and adjoining neighborhoods at her home last week-end.

The Green Lake 4-H club welcomed a new member, Lovetta Hogan, when they met with Leona Lewis Tuesday. Lois Certain and Marion Ramsey were visitors from the 4-H club at Miami.

Former Resident Wed CANADIAN, July 1.—Miss Erpl lived among the Indians for 25 years before he was created archbishop. He never learned to drive a car. He was the first Santa Fe archbishop of German descent; the others were French. He was the essence of humility and simplicity.

Besides being a church leader, Bishop Gerken is a civic worker. He is a member of the Rotary club of Amarillo, and will quote Aristotle and St. Francis at the weekly luncheon program. The devout see in him the intense sincerity, devotion, and sanctity that characterized the personality of Bishop Lamy; among the Rotarians he will be a Public Servant, a civic worker, a "New-Mexican—Let's-Talk-New-Mexico" booster.

His yen to build and preserve will leave a favorable reaction in the archdiocese.

The Most Rev. Gerken was born March 7, 1887, at Dyersville, Iowa. He attended St. Francis' parish school, Dyersville, where he also completed high school courses under the Brothers of Mary. Next he attended Plo Nomo college, Milwaukee; also St. Joseph's college, Rensselaer, Ind. After teaching two years from 1910-12, he became a student and an instructor, teaching German and Latin, in the University of Dallas, preparatory to his entrance at Kenrick Seminary, St. Louis where he completed his course in philosophy and theology, and later taught in the language department. A few weeks following his entrance into the priesthood when he was ordained by his great and good friend, Bishop Lynch of Dallas, in June, 1917, he was made pastor of the Abilene parish. He was made dean of the Colorado river deanery in the fall of 1924 and at the same time was made consultant of the Dallas diocese. His elevation to the rank of bishop was announced from Rome, August 27, 1926.

Bishop Lamy may have been over the Vatican when Gerken was appointed. Can he fill the archbishop's shoes that have never been filled as they were by Bishop Lamy? West Texans believe he can. Bishop Gerken is waiting for the papal messenger to arrive before he begins what promises to be what he calls "an adventure with God."

Club Camp Planned WHEELER, July 1.—July 6 and 7 were chosen as dates for the annual encampment of Wheeler county home demonstration club women, when the council met recently. The encampment will be held this year at Riley's swimming pool.

Formal announcement was made Wednesday of the marriage of Miss Jerome Stanley and Thurman W. Adkins, which was solemnized May 6 in Sayre, Okla. The bride, daughter of Tom Stanley of Amarillo, is a descendant of two of Wheeler's oldest pioneer families. Mr. Adkins is the junior member of the firm of Wheeler and Adkins, local attorneys, and is a former member of the Texas legislature from Upshur county.

Mrs. Bronson Green was hostess with a lovely bridge party Tuesday at the home of Mrs. John Lewis. The Mobile home demonstration club met Tuesday evening at E. E. Johnson, with three visitors present in addition to members.

Sister MARY'S KITCHEN

BY SISTER MARY, NEA Service Writer.
MANY mothers have difficulty in persuading small persons to drink milk three times a day. If a chocolate milk drink is served for luncheon it helps to break the sameness and expectedness of plain milk and makes milk at the other meals less difficult.

Chocolate syrup is most convenient to have on hand. It can be used in numerous ways and makes it possible to prepare chocolate beverages with little effort and small expenditure of time.

Of course cocoa can be made in the usual way, quickly chilled and served but this takes longer than it does to add two or three tablespoons of chocolate syrup to a glass of cold milk.

Chocolate Syrup.
One-half cake bitter chocolate, 1½ cups granulated sugar, 2 cups water, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons vanilla. Grate chocolate. Mix sugar, salt, and chocolate. Add boiling water to make a smooth paste and slowly stir into 2 cups of boiling water. Boil until syrupy. Cool and add vanilla.

Use from two to three tablespoons of this syrup to a glass of milk.

Chocolate Flip.
This drink with a sandwich makes a splendid luncheon for a child on a hot day. One teaspoon dry cocoa and 2 tablespoons sugar can be used in place of the chocolate syrup if syrup is not at hand.

One egg, 2 tablespoons chocolate syrup, 1½ cups milk.
Separate white and yolk of egg and beat white until stiff. Beat in chocolate syrup. Add milk to yolk mixture, pouring the yolk mixture into the white. Mix well and serve. This will make two glasses. The milk should be well chilled in order to insure a palatable cold drink.

Never put ice into a drink made with milk. The ice dilutes the drink and makes it unpleasantly thin and tasteless.

The chocolate syrup can, if course, be added to hot milk to make a hot drink when wanted.

Tomorrow's Menu.
BREAKFAST: Blueberries and cream, cooked rice cereal, crisp broiled bacon, whole wheat toast, milk, coffee.
LUNCHEON: Chocolate flip, lettuce sandwiches, apple sauce, molasses cookies, tea.

DINNER: Baked bluefish, potato au gratin, buttered Bermuda onions, cottage cheese salad, compote of fresh fruits, milk, coffee.

NEW DINNER COSTUME MADE ON SPANISH LINES

PARIS (AP)—The Merry Widow hat is back in the mode. For wear with the most formal afternoon frocks a number of designers show hats with soft crush crowns and brims 12 inches wide. Soft straws, linen and organza are the favorite fabrics of the wide-brimmed hats, most of which are trimmed only with a narrow band ending in a small flat bow.

Do You Spend YOUR SUNDAY Sulking and Fretting and Being Bored...?

If you find yourself dreading next Sunday, that's a symptom. If Sunday, instead of being a rest day, is a lazy, listless, good-for-nothing day, that's another symptom. If you spend Sunday being bored with your own company, and bickering with the folks around you, that, too, is a symptom. Symptoms of what, you ask? Of this! Of a strongly-felt, though not always conscious, need in your life. Church! Come to Church Sunday and see what happens to you.

The Church Exhilarates

You will discover that Church provides mental and spiritual refreshment which will make Sunday, as well as all the days of the week to follow, more worth-while. Church exhilarates, Church lifts up. Church inspires. Church banishes worry. Now you know the symptoms, the malady, the cure. If you want to feel tip-top next Sunday, come to Church.

MAGS AND ROADRUNNERS TO DETERMINE BASEBALL SUPREMACY TODAY

Gus Moreland Shoots Four Birdies, Shatters Record and Wins Golf Title

WHEELER WILL ENGAGE MAGS IN 2ND GAME

BOTH LOCAL NINES ARE CLAIMING THEY WILL WIN OPENER

The Mags and the Roadrunners are going to settle a settling issue that has been flaring for weeks at Magnolia park this afternoon. Simply stated, the conflict will revolve around this claim that has been repeatedly hurled from both camps: "We can beat you any day in the week."

To hear members of both teams talk, the game will settle the baseball supremacy of Pampa. Odds were not available but reports came in yesterday that both teams are backing their claims with cash. The biggest crowd of the season is expected to see the game. Incidentally, there will be a doubleheader at the park, but the Mag-Wholeser tilt will be a side issue. The Danciger-Magnolia feud will be settled beginning at 2 o'clock, and the Wheeler entry in the Cotton-Oil league will take the diamond after the main bout.

The Pampa team was scheduled to play in Wheeler but the Roadrunners have been after the "Mags" for a game and Manager Howard Buckingham arranged for Wheeler to come to Pampa and they would play a doubleheader. Admission to both games will be 25 cents or the same price that has been charged for all single games this season.

Danciger has been strengthened by the addition of three well-known ball players and the "Mags" are scheduled to have a tough time this afternoon. In Roadrunner uniforms will be Hack Wilson, Ike Lister and Carl Stewart. They are well known in Pampa, especially Lister, who used to wear a Magnolia uniform, and Wilson, who used to wear a uniform of the Pampa Grays.

Neither Manager Earl C. Roff of the Roadrunners or Manager Howard Buckingham of the Magnolias has definitely announced starting hurlers. The Roadrunners will have Gedwin, Thomas and Stewart ready to mound duty while the Magnolias will have Burke, Rogers, and Stewart ready for action. The two pitchers by the same name are not related.

Wheeler has a strong team and the Pampa nine should have trouble with it. Pampa defeated Wheeler 14 to 9 in Wheeler but since the time the Wheeler team has been strengthened by several new players, Magnolia team officials have made preparation to handle the largest crowd of the season.

MAGICIANS IN FILM THRILLER SHOW TRICKS

"TRICK For Trick," the new mystery melodrama in which secrets of magic are revealed as two magicians vie with each other for superiority, comes to the Rex theater today to remain for an engagement of 2 days.

The film, directed by Hamilton MacFadden is said to show in a simple manner just how two adepts practice the black art. One of them suspects the other of a murder. The other, guilty or not guilty, wants at least to throw the first one off the track. In this party of wits and magic, they reveal to each other the utmost in their art.

In setting, lighting and musical accompaniment, "Trick For Trick" is said to set a new standard. It is reported as being entirely different from the type of mystery thriller often seen. It sets forth a unification of every element of mystery and suspense known to the cinema art. As the two magicians, Ralph Morgan and Victor Jory have been preparing for their roles more thoroughly than for any other they have ever played.

The romantic elements of the plot are depicted through the characters portrayed by Sally Blane and Clifford Jones. Miss Blane is rapidly rising to stellar heights on the screen. Clifford Jones is a newcomer to films, having already made a reputable success as an actor on the New York stage.

The supporting cast has been carefully selected for the various types in the film. It includes Tom Dugan, Luis Alberni, Ed Van Sloan, James Burtis, Adrain Morris, John George, Willard Robertson, Herbert Bunston, Dorothy Appleby, Boothe Howard and Jimmy Leong.

'BARBARIAN'S' BUILT ON NILE RIVER SETTING

NOVARRO IS DEPICTED AS CROOK-GUIDE OF TOURISTS

AS a change from the overflow of stories concerned with city life, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer brings to the La Nora screen starting today "The Barbarian," starring Ramon Novarro and described as a romantic comedy laid in the colorful, atmospheric background of the Nile River and Egyptian desert.

Novarro is seen as a resourceful rooster, ostensibly occupied in the legitimate business of guiding tourists through the picturesque pyramid sight-seeing country, but more subtly engaged in the more romantic activity of impressing wealthy widows with his charms. It is a new kind of "racket" and is ingeniously diverting, it is ingenious. Into the story enters Myrna Loy as a young English girl who has come to Cairo to marry the somewhat slow-witted engineer of a new aqueduct.

Novarro enters her employ as a guide, and from then on an exciting happening follows upon another with lightning-like rapidity.

The impetuous Egyptian falls head-over-heels in love with the girl and makes it his business to embarrass her confused fiancé at every opportunity, at the same time showing himself up in a prepossessing light. The girl, however, refuses to take him seriously and when all other means fail, Novarro contrives a daring coup as the result of which the heroine finds herself alone with him in the midst of the desert, and subsequently becomes his prisoner. Follows a number of entertaining episodes in which the girl escapes from her captor just as he is about to make her his tribeswoman, returns to her fiancé and then becomes embroiled in the midst of the most surprising climax of them all.

In "The Barbarian" Miss Loy makes her first screen appearance opposite Novarro, following her recent outstanding work with John Barrymore in "Topaze" and opposite Leslie Howard in "The Imperial Kingdom." Reginald Denny plays the slow-witted fiancé and Louise Closser Hale has another hilarious comedy role as Miss Loy's personal maid. The imposing cast also features C. Aubrey Smith, Edward Arnold, Blanche Frederici, Marcelle Corday, Hedda Hopper and Leni Stengel.

FILM PREVIEW OF CAGNEY DRAMA WILL BE GIVEN MONDAY NIGHT TO OPEN FOURTH CELEBRATION

"MAYOR OF HELL" TO SHOW REFORM SCHOOL

ONE of the largest casts of the year went into the making of the Warner Bros. picture, "The Mayor of Hell," the juvenile edition of "I Am a Fugitive From a Chain Gang," starring James Cagney, which comes to the La Nora theater Monday night at 11:30 p. m.

Some five hundred men, women and children, all playing bits and principal roles, were used in this stirring story which deals with a dramatic fight against graft and corruption in a boys' reform school. Approximately 350 young boys between the ages of 12 and 16 worked throughout the making of the film as inmates of a reform school, at which the treatment is worse than that of some of the chain gang camps. A number of these youngsters play roles equal in importance to those of the adult players. Among the young boys assigned outstanding parts are Frankie Darro, Farina, George Offerman, Jr., Sidney Miller, Mickey Bennett, Raymond Borzage and Charles Cane.

The leading feminine role in the picture was given to Madge Evans, who appears for the first time opposite James Cagney. The rare comedy of Allen Jenkins is given opportunity in another prominent part. Other screen favorites who have roles of importance include Dudley Digges, Arthur Byron, Sheila Terry, Robert Barrat, Harold Huber, Dorothy Peterson, George Pat Collins, Edwin Maxwell, John Marston, William V. Mong, Charles Wilson, Hobart Cavanaugh and George Humbert.

AMERICANS IN LAST EIGHT OF ENGLISH MEET

KING AND QUEEN SEE VINES DEFEAT GERMAN

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 1 (AP)—The Wimbledon tennis champion, Vines, today moved into the quarter-final stage of men's and women's singles with Americans surviving in each division—Ells worth Vines Jr. and Mrs. Helen Wills Moody both defending their titles.

The final "eight" with the title-holders after a week's play were Lester Stofen, victory yesterday in the fourth round and Helen Jacobs, the United States champion, who defeated her countryman, Mrs. Dorothy Andrus Burke, 6-0, 6-4, to gain her quarter-final brackets. Mrs. Moody won her fourth round encounter yesterday.

Vines drew the king and queen and a capacity gallery to see him slough off the former German champion, Dr. Daniel Prenn and the long-legged American gave a fine exhibition in winning 6-3, 6-2, 6-4. He was facing Prenn frequently with his cannonball service and had the match well in hand throughout to win at his own pleasure.

The main American setback was the defeat of David N. Jones, tenth ranking United States player and now first ranking star of Cambridge, by Henri Cochet.

The little Frenchman, seeking another meeting with Vines, defeated Jones 6-4, 6-8, 8-6, 6-0, improving as the string departed from Jones' service and overhead shots.

"TRICK For Trick," the new mystery melodrama in which secrets of magic are revealed as two magicians vie with each other for superiority, comes to the Rex theater today to remain for an engagement of 2 days.

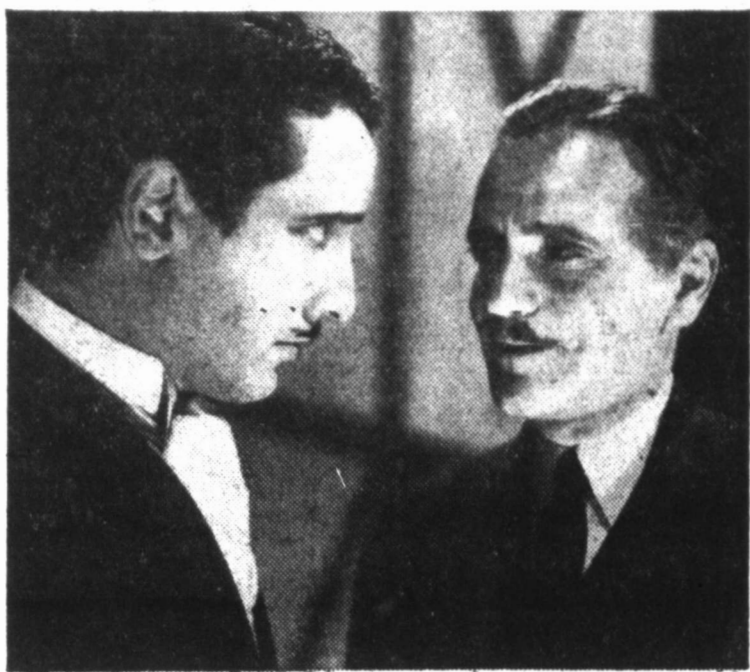

The film, directed by Hamilton MacFadden is said to show in a simple manner just how two adepts practice the black art. One of them suspects the other of a murder. The other, guilty or not guilty, wants at least to throw the first one off the track. In this party of wit and magic, they reveal to each other the utmost in their art.

In setting, lighting and musical accompaniment, "Trick For Trick" is said to set a new standard. It is reported as being entirely different from the type of mystery thriller often seen. It sets forth a unification of every element of mystery and suspense known to the cinematic art. As the two magicians, Ralph Morgan and Victor Jory, have been preparing for their roles more thoroughly than for any other they have ever played.

The romantic elements of the plot are depicted through the characters portrayed by Sally Blane and Clifford Jones. Miss Blane is rapidly rising to stellar heights on the screen. Clifford Jones is a newcomer to films, having already made a reputable success as an actor on the New York stage.

The supporting cast has been carefully selected for the various types in the film. It includes Tom Dugan, Luis Alberni, Ed Van Sloan, James Curtis, Adrain Morris, John George, Willard Robertson, Herbert Bunston, Dorothy Appleby, Boothie Howard and Jimmy Leong.

AMERICANS IN LAST EIGHT OF ENGLISH MEET

KING AND QUEEN SEE VINES DEFEAT GERMAN

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 1 (AP)—The Wimbledon tennis championships today moved into the quarter-final stage of men's and women's singles with Americans surviving in each division—Els worth Vines and Mrs. Helen Wills Moody both defending their titles.

The final "eight" with the title-holders after a week's play were Lester Stofen, victory yesterday in the fourth round and Helen Jacobs, the United States champion, who defeated her countryman Mrs. Dorothy Andrus Burke 6-0, 6-4, to gain her quarter-final brackets. Mrs. Moody won her fourth round encounter yesterday.

Vines drew the king and queen and a capacity gallery to see him "boosh off" the former German champion, Dr. Daniel Prehn and the long-legged American gave a fine exhibition in winning 6-3, 6-2, 6-4. He was being Prehn frequently with his cannonball service and had the match well in hand throughout to win at his own pleasure.

The main American setback was the defeat of David N. Jones, tenth ranking United States player and now first ranking star of Cambridge, by Henri Cochet.

The little Frenchman, seeking another meeting with Vines, defeated Jones 6-8, 8-6, 6-0, improving as the stars departed from Jones service and overhead shots.

'BARBARIAN' IS BUILT ON NILE RIVER SETTING

NOVARRO IS DEPICTED AS CROOK-GUIDE OF TOURISTS

AS a change from the overflow of stories concerned with city life, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer brings to the La Nora screen starting today "The Barbarian," starring Ramon Novarro and described as a romantic comedy laid in the colorful, atmospheric background of the Nile River and Egyptian desert.

Novarro is seen as a resourceful rogue ostensibly occupied in the legitimate business of guiding tourists through the picturesque pyramid-sight-seeing country, but mysteriously engaged in the more romantic activity of impressing wealthy widows with his charms. It is a new kind of "racket" and one said to be as diverting as it is ingenious. Into the story enters Myrna Loy as a young English girl who has come to Cairo to mark the somewhat slow-witted engineer of a new aqueduct. Novarro enters her employ as a guide and from then on one exciting happening follows upon another with lightning-like rapidity.

The impetuous Egyptian falls head-over-heels in love with the girl and makes it his business to embarrass her confused fiancé at every opportunity, at the same time showing himself up in a prepossessing light. The girl, however, refuses to take him seriously and when all other means fail, Novarro contrives a daring coup as the result of which the heroine finds herself alone with him in the midst of the desert, and subsequently becomes his prisoner. Follows a number of entertaining episodes in which the girl escapes from her captor just as he is about to make her his tribeswoman, returns to her fiancé and then becomes embroiled in the midst of the most surprising climax of them all.

"The Barbarian" Miss Loy makes her first screen appearance opposite Novarro, following her recent outstanding work with John Barrymore in "Topaze" and opposite Leslie Howard in "The Animal Kingdom." Reginald Denny plays the slow-witted fiancé and Louise Clouser Hale has another hilarious comedy role as Miss Loy's personal maid. The imposing cast also features C. Aubrey Smith, Edward Arnold, Blanche Frederick, Marcelle Corday, Hedda Hopper and Leni Stengel.

LAW REQUIRES SCHOOL TO FLY TEXAS FLAG ON REGULAR DAYS

British At Peace With Russia Again

AUSTIN, July 1 (AP)—The Texas legislature passed a bill of some three thousand words devoted to a description of the Texas flag and explaining the proper way to display it.

It was explained in the bill that "this act is not a substitute for any previous legislation pertaining to the lone star flag of Texas which may have been passed by either the republic or Texas or by the legislature of this state, but the sole purpose of this act is to clarify the description of the Texas flag, to standardize the star in the blue field, and to outline some important rules to govern the correct use of the Texas flag."

The bill contained a drawing of the flag "to illustrate the general outline of the three stripes, and the star in the blue field."

It defined the salute to the Texas flag as follows: "Honor the Texas flag of 1836; I pledge allegiance to thee, Texas, one and indivisible."

The three stripes of the flag are blood red, white and azure blue. The three colors were described as "imparting the lessons of the flag: Bravery, loyalty, and purity."

The law explains that "when the flag is displayed on a flagpole or staff, or flat on a plane surface, the white stripe should always be at the top of the flag with the red stripe directly underneath it."

There is a list of rules governing the use of the Texas flag. These follow closely the regulations laid down for paying proper respect to the United States flag.

"Every school in Texas should fly the Texas flag on all regular school days," the law directs. "This court-yes is due the lone star flag of Texas."

FILM PREVIEW OF CAGNEY DRAMA WILL BE GIVEN MONDAY NIGHT TO OPEN FOURTH CELEBRATION

"MAYOR OF HELL" TO SHOW REFORM SCHOOL

ONE of the largest casts of the year went into the making of the Warner Bros. picture, "The Mayor of Hell," the juvenile edition of "I Am a Fugitive From a Chain Gang," starring James Cagney, which comes to the La Nora theater Monday night at 11:30 p. m.

Some five hundred men, women and children, all playing bits and principal roles, were used in this stirring story which deals with a dramatic fight against graft and corruption in a boys' reform school.

Approximately 350 young boys between the ages of 12 and 16 worked throughout the making of the film as inmates of a reform school, at which the treatment is worse than that of some of the chain gang camps. A number of these youngsters play roles equal in importance to those of the adult players. Among the young boys assigned outstanding parts are Frankie Darro, Farina, George Offerman, Jr., Sidney Miller, Mickey Bennett, Raymond Borzage and Charles Cane.

The leading feminine role in the picture was given to Madge Evans, who appears for the first time opposite James Cagney. The rare comedy of Allen Jenkins is given opportunity in another prominent part. Other screen favorites who have roles of importance include Dudley Digges, Arthur Byron, Sheila Terry, Robert Barrat, Harold Huber, Dorothy Peterson, George Pat Collins, Edwin Maxwell, John Marston, William V. Mong, Charles Wilson, Hobart Cavanaugh and George Humbert.

The 62-year-old business executive who began as a bookkeeper, apparently planned deliberately to commit suicide. As his wife left him about 9 a. m. to go to breakfast he instructed her to send their adopted son, Albert Russell Erskine Jr. to his room.

Russell went to the father's chambers and there found the body, a gun nearby. In the room was a note addressed to the son. It read: "Russell: I can not go on any longer. Devotedly, A. R. E."

The suicide occurred at the Erskine estate, two miles south of here and about four miles from the gigantic motor plant of the Studebaker corporation.
