Hunter's Manager Takes Up Sterling Cause in Last of Campaign

PAMPA TOPICS OF OUR CITY By O.E.H.

Ensign J. F. Kirkman of the Salvation Army will be in his last local service Sunday night. His work here has attracted much favorable comment. Always busy, he has cooperated with other organizations and has had marked success in religious services. His tenure has added to the prestige of the organization, and there is genuine regret that he is leaving.

Two uniformed department of commerce officials, representing the always division, called on this writer yesterday. They were H. L. Curry, chief clerk and disbursing officer with headquarters in Fort Worth, and Geo. W. Bennett, who is in charge of the air route lighting mechanism from San Jan. N. M. to Higgins. Nice fellows, both.

They called to protest wanton theft of boundary lights at emergency landing fields and shooting at these lights by persons driving along the adjacent highways. Their protest is very much in order. These lights mark the boundaries of the fields and enable the tri-motored passenger planes to land at night. To destroy or remove these lights endangers human lives. Anyone having knowledge of this malicious mischief is asked to communicate at once with The NEWS. Offenders will be prosecuted in United States court, and the penalty will be severe.

Night flying is common here. Not only are local airmen doing much of it, but transcontinental fliers are constantly passing over. Night flying is very much in order. The 15-watt electric lamps are of little value to anyone but they are necessary to the fliers who depend upon them. Don't shoot them out; don't remove them.

Law-making is complex. It is essentially a legal matter. A law must not only mean what its title says, but must be what the author and the legislature intended when it has finally passed the courts. This is why it is important to have senators and representatives who are both right in intent and affiliation and have business experience and broad knowledge as well. Judge Ivy E. Duncan of Pampa, candidate for state representative, has all these necessary qualifications. We think he should be elected.

There are many men who would like to be representatives. Some of them have special grievances which they would like to work out. There are several scores of farmer-legislators in office now. They were supposed to be working for the farmers, and we do not doubt that they were trying hard enough. But it is a fact that they signed the truck license law which is deemed so unfair by farmers everywhere. "Jokers" occasionally slip by even those with good intentions and electing men with specialized knowledge, such as the law, is the best safeguard against such errors. That there are not more of them is due to the fact that there are many legal watch-dogs in the legislature.

Voters should be sure that the candidate voted for is honest and that he would serve the varied interests of his constituents impartially. They then should vote for best man offering himself in the race, considering the demands of the office. By this measure we have considered Judge Ivy E. Duncan. We say, without any bias, candidate for state representative, that in this particular time Judge Duncan is the man for the place. Knowledge of the vitally important Texas oil industry alone would merit support of him, for Texas prosperity rises or falls as the oil business thrives or founders. VOTE FOR DUNCAN.

SEVERAL OF PRECINCT CONTESTS WILL BE SETTLED

Election bulletin boards at The NEWS building will tell tomorrow night the story of the Gray county, district, and state balloting. The NEWS will have the exclusive election returns of the Texas Election Bureau, the only agency which tabulates the vote in this state.

Everyone is invited to attend the election party, which is another free service of this newspaper. The first substantial returns will begin arriving about 8 p. m., following close of the polls over the state at 7 p. m. Experience in the first primary showed that The NEWS should not attempt to give returns by telephone before 8:30 p. m., because the telephone lines are needed for collecting returns from county boxes. Please do not ask for such information before 8:30 p. m.

Commission Is Open Minded On New Gas Plans

The Railroad commission may or may not adopt any of the three plans drafted by petroleum engineers to control the Panhandle gas fields, but in any case an order will be issued following a hearing at Amarillo, September 1, according to representatives of the commission at Austin. J. M. McDonald, deputy supervisor for the Panhandle, received a telegram from R. D. Parker, supervisor, yesterday, which stated that E. V. Foran, technical adviser for the commission, will leave Austin Monday and arrive here Tuesday, to study the three plans. He will submit them at the hearing to be held at Amarillo next Thursday. All of the proposals provide for immediate relief of from 30 to 75 unconnected wells and for control of the gas production to prevent waste of gas.

Allred's Contest Again Is Delayed

Hearing of the election contest brought by District Attorney Raymond Allred to determine whether he or Lewis M. Goodrich received the most legal votes in the first democratic primary was again postponed at Wheeler yesterday. It was agreed by opposing attorneys, however, that the contest would be launched or dismissed next Wednesday. The district attorney, who was injured in a car accident several months ago, was said to be in a Marlin hospital. His brother, Renne Allred, was at Wheeler yesterday in his behalf.

Lead Will Be Not Under 150,000 Votes

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 26. (AP)—Victory with a total of 550,000 of the 850,000 votes expected in tomorrow's primary or a lead of 150,000 votes, was predicted for herself by Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson in a telegram today to the San Antonio LIGHT from Denton.

A "house cleaning" in the state ranger force was announced by Mrs. Ferguson, if she is elected, after the alleged attack upon a Ferguson supporter by Texas Ranger Otto Humphries here Wednesday night. A charge of simple assault and battery upon E. B. Pate was filed yesterday against Humphries. It was claimed that Pate was assaulted while distributing copies of the Ferguson FORUM at a Sterling campaign meeting Wednesday night.

Wolfe Invites Opponent To Make Charges In Open Meeting Tonight

An invitation to his opponent in the race for county judge, C. E. Cary, to make "any or all" charges public in an open meeting at the courthouse at 8:30 o'clock tonight was issued today by Philip Wolfe. Mr. Wolfe said that he wished an opportunity to hear charges being made against him and to answer them.

Cook Endorses Col. Thompson

Strongly endorsing the candidacy of Ernest O. Thompson for railroad commissioner, Chas. C. Cook, local attorney, told a radio audience last night that "the Panhandle people can without division unite in supporting this candidate." Mr. Cook traced the history of the railroad commission from the days of Governor Hogg and emphasized its present vital place in Texas government and industry. He stressed its control of utilities and the oil business, and pointed out that Thompson was famed for his work in the public interest. "It is my candid belief," he added, "that the people have more at stake in the election of a proper commission than they have in the election of any other public officer. The railroad commission will have more to do with affecting the fortunes of the rich and savings of the poor in

PICNIC GIVEN AT GRANDVIEW PLEASES ALL

Score in Baseball Game Is Tied, 6 To 6; as Darkness Forces Halt.

A big crowd attended and a good time was had by all, would be a trite but true way of describing the success of the Pampa-Grandview picnic held yesterday afternoon at the Grandview school house. Pampans about 40 of them, including wives, were enthusiastic in telling about the fun and enjoyment they had.

Pampa sent one of the largest delegations that has ever attended a rural gathering. The feature of the picnic was a baseball game between a baseball team of Pampans managed by Roy Bourland, and a Grandview team. The two umpires, Commissioner H. G. McCleskey and Sheriff Lon L. Blansett, decided that the game ended in a tie. At the end of the fifth inning the score was Grandview 6 and Pampa 6. In the sixth inning, the Pampans regained their composure and maneuvered the Grandview men out of six runs to tie the score. Then they wanted to quit. Another inning was played and no runs resulted. Darkness was coming on and the Pampans wanted to go home. One of the referees declared the game forfeited in favor of

CLOSE WATCH AT POLLS HAS BEEN DECIDED

STERLING TO CLOSE AT WACO HIS HARD CAMPAIGN

JIM OFF TO GREENVILLE

SCORES OF RALLIES TO BE HELD TONIGHT OVER STATE

BY CHARLES E. SIMONS
Associated Press Staff Writer
Governor R. S. Sterling, seeking re-nomination, planned today to maintain on the last day of the gubernatorial campaign the terrific pace at which he has traveled throughout the second contest by filling eight engagements in north central Texas with his final smash tonight at Waco. Most of his day's itinerary carried him through territory classified as leaning toward Ferguson or as doubtful.

James E. Ferguson, who has made stump speeches on only three days of each week, planned to close his drive for his wife, Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson tonight at Greenville in East Texas, a Ferguson stronghold.

The Sterling cause was taken up last night by George O. Wallace, campaign manager in the first primary for Tom F. Hunter, Wichita Falls oil man who ran third. Both factions have made a big play for the Hunter bloc of votes.

Interest aroused by the campaign was reflected by scores of rallies scheduled for tonight in virtually every village and hamlet in the state.

Campaign managers for both candidates were prepared to keep watch over the ballot boxes as a precaution.

Anxiety Felt for Pilots Flying To Land of Vikings

HARBOR GRACE, Aug. 26. (AP)—From the vast Atlantic came no word today of "The Green Mountain Boy" but there was confidence the big plane bearing Clyde Lee of Oskosh, Wis., and John Bookchin of Brooklyn was nearing Oslo, Norway, its goal.

When the fliers hopped yesterday morning at 9:02 (E. S. T.) on the second leg of their journey from Barre, Vermont, toward the land of the Vikings, they said they hoped to make it in 30 hours.

Some slight anxiety was felt because no vessel reported sighting the plane.

Flying the great circle, the red monoplane, according to its plotted course and estimated speed, should have hit the Irish coast near Galway at about 11 o'clock last night. The airmen planned to fly over Dublin, southern England and Cuxhaven, Germany, before coming down at Kjeller field, Oslo.

LONDON, Aug. 26. (AP)—The transatlantic plane "Green Mountain Boy" had not yet been reported from any part of the British Isles today, but all coastal points were watching closely.

EXTORTION IS BLAMED WHEN BOY IS SHOT

Amarillo Doctor Is Told To Deliver $200.00

AMARILLO, Aug. 26. (AP)—An extortion plot was revealed here today as officers sought to unravel the tangled circumstances surrounding the shooting of Ernest Bowen, 21, drug store delivery boy, who was wounded last night when he accompanied a telegraph messenger to a house in the most exclusive residential district of the city.

The messenger, Leroy Hollingshead, 13, said that when he answered a call to pick up a package at the address someone tried to seize him, and that when he fled to Bowen and their parked motorcycle, several shots were fired in their direction. The younger boy was uninjured. Bowen received a flesh wound in the calf of his leg.

Dr. A. J. Streit, prominent physician at whose home the shooting occurred, said that "several deputy sheriffs" stationed at the residence to watch for thieves and extortionists fired at the fleeing youths. He said he had not called a messenger.

Dr. Streit said his car was stripped by thieves several nights ago. He expressed the belief that the messenger was sent to his home by the alleged extortionists who expected him to deliver the money to the boy. The physician said he believed the messenger and delivery boy to be "innocent victims" of the plot.

GIVE STERLING SECOND TERM

It is freely predicted that the vote in tomorrow's second democratic primary election will be larger than that of the first primary. If this happens, it will be because the people of Texas recognize certain menaces to responsible government and rise again to keep their government amenable to their desires.

Tomorrow's first duty is TO VOTE. The second duty is to VOTE RIGHT. Passion and reason, prejudice and logic—these are not companion virtues. Let's enthroned REASON, let us dig out the truth from within the maze of propaganda which has engulfed Texas politics. BUT ABOVE ALL, LET US VOTE.

In the previous Sterling-Ferguson contest, The NEWS supported Ross Sterling as the more desirable of the two candidates. Our first choice was Clint Small. The intervening months have revealed Ross Sterling as a better governor than we had dared hope. His record, in fact, justifies his claim to a second term. Texas has always, excepting with the Fergusons, observed the democratic principle that a public servant is entitled to two terms unless his record is bad. On this ground alone, Sterling ranks. Above Fergusons, who have both an unsavory record and ample honors at the hands of Texas people.

Those of us who feared that Sterling as a big business man would enthrone big business in a still bigger way cannot say that such has been the case. Sterling's appointees have proved to be honest, capable men in most instances. His veto pencil has saved the taxpayers millions of dollars. His martial law in East Texas, while regrettable as to necessity, has saved untold millions for

UNITED ACTION URGED TO CAPITALIZE ON NEW HOPE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26. (AP)—President Hoover today told America's business chieftains, he was convinced the nation had overcome "the major financial crisis" and asked that they assume new initiative and responsibility to restore labor and agriculture to higher levels.

Speaking to an audience composing one of the most inclusive gatherings of national banking and business leaders in history, the president proposed specifically that credit be extended to vital points and that arrangements be made between employer and employe for shorter hours and wider distribution of jobs. He promised every cooperation of the government in the new endeavor and cited new agencies available for fresh economic attack but he emphasized it was now time for the bankers and business leaders to go to work in earnest.

Cites New Hope. "The reason for calling the conference at this particular moment," said Mr. Hoover, "is that we are convinced that we have overcome the major financial crisis—a crisis in severity unparalleled in the history of our country."

the state and for the landowners of East Texas, while enabling the other fields of the state to keep operating. As proof that Sterling's oil policies have helped the little man, we cite that independent oil men of Wichita Falls and San Angelo are especially active in his behalf. And as to anti-trust legislation, have you heard one criticism from Attorney General Alford that Sterling was blocking investigations of alleged trusts and monopolies? You have not and we cite that Sterling sent a message to the senate asking the $50,000 appropriation for an investigation of the oil companies and other big concerns. Ross Sterling has failed utterly to bear out the claims of those who said he would not do anything which would hamper the expansion of big business.

Not less significant is the fact that among the latest Sterling appointees is Col. Ernest Thompson of Amarillo. Col. Thompson has been the enemy of marauding utilities and we believe he desires to work for the interests of all true Texans. Sterling could have found thousands of men who would be more acceptable to big business than Thompson. We believe that the citizens of Texas who really think will always prefer the Sterling he has thus far proved to be above the Fergusons. And if this is true, THE BEST WAY FOR FERGUSON TO GET ROSS OUT OF OFFICE IS TO KEEP "MA" OUT OF TEXAS POLITICS.

A lot of people without the courage to recall the Ferguson record and fight against adding another chapter to it have turned pessimists in recent weeks. They HAVE TALKED LIKE REPUBLICANS, who have a logical reason for liking "Ma" Ferguson for their political opponent. The Republican party is growing more rapidly in Texas than many Democrats know. AND JIM FERGUSON IS THE BEST FRIEND THE TEXAS REPUBLICANS EVER HAD. Those who bolt the Democratic ticket if Jim is elected, via Ma's proxy, will doubtless cite Jim's notorious bolt and his so-called American party. Isn't it about time to make Jim re-assess his political wild oats? In the right moment to remove him from Texas politics so common sense voters and not vest pocket voters will rule and honest candidates without machines behind them will have a chance?

Let's give Texas elections back to the Democrats by letting the Fergusons know that there are other good Texans capable of opposing any incumbent who may be in office. LET'S SWAT FERGUSONISM TOMORROW AND RESTORE RESPONSIBLE, DEMOCRATIC GOVERNMENT TO A PLACE OF DIGNITY IN TEXAS. VOTE AGAINST JIM SATURDAY.

Fifth Cousins Are Cousins To Nomine

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 26, (AP)—Fifth cousins are cousins to Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt. He said so smilingly yesterday at Mayor James J. Walker's hearing, bringing a laugh from spectators who remembered that his relationship to the late Theodore Roosevelt has been the subject of comment.

A witness was being examined concerning his relatives and there followed a complicated genealogical discussion touching on cousins.

"Some people call first cousins 'cousins' the governor broke in."

Others call fifth cousins, cousins as I do.

Mr. Roosevelt is a fifth cousin of the late "T. R."

NOTICE TO VOTERS

The PEOPLES COLUMN

Editor, THE NEWS:

As there seems to be a hesitancy on the part of some of our substantial, law-abiding citizens about voting in the primary tomorrow, on account of the pledge at the top of the ballot, for fear their candidate should be defeated in the primary, let me submit the following opinion just received from the Hon. Thos. B. Love.

"The supreme court of Texas in the case of Love vs. Wilcox, 28 S. W. (2nd) page 525, held that in enacting the law providing for the pledge on the primary election ballot, the legislature expressly refused to either make the test pledge legally binding by imposing a penalty for its violation or to require the voter to agree not to vote for or support candidates of other parties in the general election after he has participated in the primary, and the court further declared in the same case that in the previous case of Westminster vs. Sims, 237 S. W. 178, the act was intended to constitute the statute as invariably requiring the test of a binding primary for all nominees of the primary."

It was, therefore, determined that the obligation assumed in taking the statutory pledge was a purely moral obligation binding no longer than it could be conscientiously performed.

"Also in the case of Gray vs. Symmer, 218 S. W. 419 and 221 S. W. 890, it was declared that 'the qualified elector who participated in a primary and took the statutory pledge was legally free to vote as he chose in the general election.'"

Now if all the conscientious voters stay away from the polls, we know the enemies of good government will nominate their candidates. Then it will be too late in Texas to remedy the evil. But I am sure in the decision and ruling we can all go to the polls and do our duty as good citizens. Then if the decision goes against us we have another chance in November and we will have the consciousness of doing what we could. I shall let my conscience be my guide.

PAMPA, CITIZEN.

Your Home County Man

The people of Gray county are much exercised over the state contest in this election.

There is another contest that means more to the people of this county than the Governor's or Railroad Commissioner's race.

Gray county has one, and only one candidate for Representative. This is the office that makes the laws you live under. It is extremely important.

Ivy Duncan is your home county man. He has been reared here, he has given of his time and means to develop Gray county, and we owe him a debt of gratitude. He has the ability, the inclination, the common honesty to make us a good Representative. Gray county has never had a Representative in the Texas legislature.

Duncan can win this race if the Gray county voters give him the support he deserves. Let's make it 100% in Pampa and Gray county.

About 275 people attended the picnic. The Grandview community turned out en masse. The ladies brought cake and the Pampans ice cream. Over 250 servings of ice cream were handed out the first round.

Business establishments of Pampa were well represented. Many of the county officers and candidates for offices were present; also professional people of the community. George W. Briggs, Mr. Collins and Mr. Lively said the two chambers of commerce were pleased with the attendance from Pampa. "As usual, everybody had a much better time than they expect to have at such gatherings," Mr. Briggs said.

Ivy Duncan gave a brief talk on good will and the friendly relations between that part of the county and Pampa.

of the world—and that with its relaxation confidence and hope have reappeared in the world. We are now able to take further steps in solution of the industrial and agricultural problems with which we are still confronted.

"What I wish is that banking and industry and business generally should in this new setting assume further initiative and responsibility and try should cooperate with agriculture and labor and the government agencies to organize and develop every possible avenue of coordinated effort on the economic front."

Beside the president on the platform of the commerce department auditorium were Secretary Mills and Owen D. Young, New York financier and democrat, who have worked out a program designed to aid in carrying out the plan for new jobs and credit.

Henry M. Robinson of Los Angeles introduced Mr. Hoover. The generals of American business listened intently and gave courteous applause at the finish.

For United Action

Mills then outlined the program of action, including a plan for creation of a central business committee to direct united action by the twelve banking and industrial committees of the nation.

The secretary of the treasury emphasized the central committee was not to be an economic council directing the economic policies of the nation but rather an organization to bring about cooperation between the government and private business.

Then one of the heads of the government agencies directly involved in the new economic drive for jobs and credit spoke to the meeting including such financial and business leaders as Myron T. Lor of the United States Steel corporation, Daniel Willard, of the railroad world; Edsel Ford, Detroit automobile manufacturer; and Marvin Traylor, Chicago banker.

Atlee Pomerene told of the hopes and purposes of the gigantic reconstruction finance corporation.

Franklin Fort, chairman of the new home loan banking board, explained this setup and announced the decision of Comptroller of the Currency Pole to order abandonment for 60 days of all foreclosure by national bank receivers.

"Organize for Action."

"It is not proposed," the president had explained, "to engage in artificialities. Nor is it proposed that you attempt to settle here and there a day great economic problems of the future. It is simply proposed that you organize for action in the problems immediately before us."

After the applause that followed his speech, the president took a seat on the platform while Robinson introduced Mills for the next speech.

Fort, speaking a little later, appealed for support in putting into operation the new home loan banking system which he promised to be a going function by October 15 with $134,000,000 available for home builders and owners.

"There are two major evils which can be attacked at once," he said. "The first is the foreclosure of existing mortgages—sometimes because of arrearages of interest or taxes, but quite as often because of refusal to renew or continue them. This condition has been accentuated by the tremendous number of receiverships of banks and other lending institutions."

Can Loosen Credit

"Many of the receivers, in their proper effort to pay dividends to depositors and creditors, have been demanding payment of mortgages and bringing foreclosure proceedings. The reconstruction finance corporation can loan to these receivers against the mortgage funds."

with which to pay out depositors. Therefore, such foreclosures must stop until the home loan banks are functioning and pouring new funds into the mortgage investment field.

"Then somebody must begin loaning now. There are two types of loans which the public must have and which, if made, will speed the general recovery. Recovery from depression begins when things wear out and must be replaced or repaired. Real estate agencies to preserve the value of property will be the first to help the building industry get. The funds must be found."

SYNOPSIS: Nan Forsyth follows Jervis Weare, who rapes her, to his home, Rossmore, where she finds him in the last moments of his life. She is married in three days.

"Nan Forsyth," said Nan. He took his hand off the table and swung a chair round. "You'd better sit down."

Chapter 5
TWO PROBLEMS SOLVED
"I WANT to speak to you," Nan said to Jervis.
"Why?"
"I am from Mr. Page's office. It's a business matter."
He paused, detached, not really aware of her.
"You are going home. Will you let me speak to you there?"
He stared for a moment longer. Then he said,
"Oh, certainly."
They went on together. The house rose up before Nan, heavy and square and grey. Jervis used a latchkey, and they went through the hall into a room at the back of the house—a man's room, littered with a man's belongings, littered also with what were obviously wedding presents. Two windows framed in dark velvet curtains looked out upon

"Nan Forsyth," said Nan. He took his hand off the table and swung a chair round. "You'd better sit down."
He came round, took the writing chair, picked up a pen and filled it. "Did you say Anne Forsyth?"
Nan came forward. Her legs felt as if they belonged to someone else. She sat down a little stiffly. She was being interviewed for the situation of Jervis Weare's wife. It was like something in a dream. But there was Jervis, looking at her and repeating,
"Anne Forsyth?"
"No—just Nan. I was christened Nan."
He wrote "Nan Forsyth," and without looking up asked her age.
"Twenty-two."
"Parents?"
"Dead."
"Any near relations?"
"A sister." She thought suddenly and warmly of Cynthia, and the dream shook a little.
"Older or younger?"
"Younger." She paused, then added, "Nineteen."
Jervis had stopped writing. His pen dug holes in the paper. He didn't really want to know the answers to any of these questions. She had a well-bred voice. If she was in Page's office, she was likely to be a respectable girl. . . .

"Ten thousand dollars," said Nan, and set her teeth.
A fair-sized garden bordered with trees.
Nan passed into this room and felt its atmosphere close about her. The door had brought her here. Now it ebbed away from her. She was Nan Forsyth facing something that was going to decide all the rest of her life, and all the rest of Jervis Weare's life. For a moment she felt as she had never felt before. And then courage rose in her like a flood.
He turned from the door and said, "Do you mind saying what you want? I'm rather busy."
"Yes," said Nan.
"I'm in Mr. Page's office. When you came in this afternoon you slammed the door. It didn't latch. I was in the office, I heard what you said to Mr. Page."
"You listened. Well?"
His look hurt her beyond bearing. But Jervis Weare did not see her wince. His anger turned a cold edge upon this confessed eavesdropper.
"Well?" he repeated.
"I heard what you said to Mr. Page," she told him again.
Jervis walked to the table and stood there. He must have been recalling his own words, for he was looking at her, really looking, for the first time.
He saw a girl in a neat grey dress and a close black hat, a girl who held herself very straight and looked at him with steady grey eyes. Her face was pale, her lips pressed firmly together. She held her head high.
"You said that you must be married by the sixteenth," she went on. "You asked him to find a girl who would marry you at 24 hours' notice."
"So that's it? You've got a nerve haven't you?"
Nan said, "Yes," quite soberly.
He burst out laughing.
"Well, why not? I haven't time to pick and choose. Since you overheard what we were saying you know that. So if you're really offering to step into the breach perhaps you'll begin by giving me your name."

"Why are you doing this? For money?"
There was only a moment's hesitation before she said,
"Yes. I'm earning my living. I'm doing it because I have to."
"Yes?" said Jervis.
"If I do this, I shall lose my job, and I've got someone depending on me."
She felt better when she had said that. But Jervis was staring at her.
"Depending?"
"Yes—my sister. I couldn't just take this on and leave her."
He threw himself back in his chair.
"Well, how much?"
"Ten thousand dollars," said Nan and set her teeth.
Jervis Weare regarded her with frank admiration.
"You certainly have a nerve!" he said.
"It's because of Cynthia. I can always get a job."
"And she can't?"
Nan shook her head. She looked young, mournful and serious. The contrast between her appearance and what Jervis Weare had just described as her nerve was so extreme as to be ludicrous.
Jervis pushed back his chair and got up.
"So you propose to turn ten thousand dollars over to Cynthia? And how much do you want for yourself?"
"I don't want anything—I can get a job."
"And why should I give Cynthia ten thousand dollars?"
Nan looked up at him with a perfectly steady gaze.
"You won't give it to Cynthia—you'll give it to me. Mr. Weare left you a million dollars. The ten thousand dollars will be my commission."
Jervis Weare walked across the room and back again.
"All right," he said, "you can have your commission."

Nurse Succumbs To Poison Today

Mrs. Leona Chidester, 27, local nurse, died from the effects of poison at a hospital at 1:15 o'clock this afternoon. A bottle that had contained the kind of poison which caused her death was found near her this morning when she was removed from her garage apartment in the northeast part of town to the hospital.
Friends of the young woman said she had been despondent for several weeks. She was unconscious when taken to the hospital and never regained consciousness.
Miss Chidester had lived here for two years. She came here from Tulsa, Okla., where she received training at Morningstar hospital. She was night nurse at one of the local hospitals for a time, and the rest of the time she did special duty. Her family lives at Bartlesville, Okla. A brother is en route to Pampa to make funeral arrangements with Stephenson Mortuary.

HITLER REPORTED ILL

BERLIN, Aug. 26 (P)—Adolf Hitler had disappeared from his accustomed haunts today and a rumor spread that he had been taken to a sanitarium after a nervous collapse.
Mrs. F. D. Breedlove of Kingsmill was shopping in the city Thursday. C. M. McDowell of McLean is at Worley hospital for treatment.
The nurse was found in an unconscious condition in the apartment with the ice man while the latter was making his rounds. A light which was seen in the apartment about 1 o'clock last night was still burning this morning. Physicians believed she had been suffering from the effects of the poison for several hours when found.

TO BE IN TABERNACLE TONIGHT

Evangelist B. B. Crimm, above, was heard by a crowd of about five hundred persons last night, the service being the second of a series which will continue one month. Tonight he will preach in the tabernacle which has been erected next to the First Baptist church, the same location occupied by the Harley Sadler show last week.

BUDGET PLAN OF WELFARE WORK IS RIGIDLY FOLLOWED BY BOARD

Another financial report will be issued by the Welfare Board at the close of the fiscal year which ends in December, members of the board announced yesterday. This policy was determined last year. A statement of receipts, expenditures and activities of the Board was published for the first six months of this year in July.
At that time, receipts for the six month period amounted to $2,288.74, and disbursements to $2,233.86. The balance on hand was $49.88. It has been the policy of the board directors to operate in the manner of other businesses and institutions, and to return a report at the end of the first six months and at the end of the fiscal year.
Mrs. W. H. Davis, manager, orders expenditures with the advice of board members. J. O. Gilliam, treasurer of the board of the community chest fund, places an amount of money each month in the Welfare board's fund at the bank. This monthly budget is determined by the board members. Mr. Gilliam keeps a complete record at the bank of receipts and expenditures. Monthly bills have never exceeded the budget, the six-month report revealed.
The Board gave aid to 223 families, comprising 1,004 persons. A total of 1,077 orders of groceries were distributed to these families. Mrs. Davis made 2,945 visits and interviews.
Administrative cost of operating the board will be given in the yearly fiscal report.
Board members have the attitude that the money expended for groceries, milk, medicine, clothing, shoes, doctors and nurses, is only a part of services given to the destitute families by the welfare work. Most of Mrs. Davis' activities

'Sleep Walking' at Marathon Is Shown In Daily News News-Reel

After 2,188 consecutive hours in a dance marathon now going on at Coney Island, eight couples are still dragging one foot after the other. Their "sleep walking" tactics offer an amusing episode in the current American scene, one of the events in today's issue of the Pampa Daily NEWS-Universal Newsreel, with Graham McNamee, ace radio announcer and the screen's talking reporter, as impresario for the occasion. Day after day, night after night, with only brief intervals of rest, the long-distance "hoppers" have kept at it for three months. Sixty-six couples started. Only eight remain on their feet, and they probably don't know it. They have to be carried out on the floor after their periods. It's all the same to them whether the music is a endless step, a fox-trot or a waltz. They just keep shuffling along.
McNamee also reports many important events in the newsreel, including the sensational finishes in the hotly-contested Olympic races. The spectacular Chicago fire, which razed a large section of the waterfront and did $6,000,000 damage, also is vividly presented. A colorful Japanese anniversary celebration, with elaborate gold and jewel-encrusted floats, and a series of encouraging scenes of factory openings with thousands going back to work in various sections of the United States, make interesting additions to the newsreel.

ELECTION ROW SERIOUS

AUSTIN, Aug. (P)—Clay White was unconscious in a hospital today, suffering from injuries sustained last night in an altercation growing out of the heated race for the 126th district judgeship. White is the reporter for the 126th district court. A charge of assault was filed against Vernon Pickle, who is the son of David J. Pickle, a candidate for the judgeship against Judge W. F. Robertson, appointed incumbent.
Judge in the case held that proration on the Danciger leases could not be enforced until the Supreme court handed down a ruling.
New information on the Danciger case was secured in a hearing held here this summer.

Supreme Court To Hear Danciger Debate Monday

Attorneys for the state and Danciger Refining company will appear before the supreme court Monday asking that the company's injunction suit against the Texas railroad (petition advanced by the head of the docket for the earliest possible consideration by the court.) This information was received here yesterday from Austin. It is understood that the case will be heard next week by the appeals commission of the court and that a ruling will be made almost immediately. The railroad commission will be represented by the attorney general's department. The petition to have the case advanced on the docket was drafted by the railroad commission and the attorney general's department in an effort to obtain a ruling on the case at the earliest possible moment.
The Danciger company, over a year ago, obtained an injunction restraining the commission and its agents from enforcing proration rules and regulations on any of its leases. The injunction was held invalid by the district court and by the court of civil appeals, but the

ABILENE, Aug. 26. (P)—Jack Christian, star lineman on the Abilene high school football team through 1927 and one the Texas A. & M. team until his graduation this year, lost his left hand at the wrist in an accident this morning at a local ice plant where he was employed. The hand was severed by an ice scoring machine.
A blood transfusion, in which S. L. Phelps, T. C. U. backfield man and star on the Abilene team of 1928 furnished the blood, was made at a local hospital.
Christian was elected assistant coach at Abilene high school this spring.

'Back To School' Matinee Popular

Between 350 and 400 children attended the J. C. Penney company's "back-to-school" matinee at the La Nora theater yesterday. H. D. Keys, manager of the Penney store was host.
The feature attraction was an "Our Gang" comedy about the first day of school. The children could be heard laughing and shouting in their enjoyment for half a block. No admittance was charged.

ESKIMOS ESCAPE

POINT BARROW, Alaska, Aug. 26. (P)—Carried 30 miles from shore on an Arctic ice floe, 28 Eskimo men were safe ashore today after spending four days on the ice pick and on the abandoned fur trader, the Baychino.

SOFTBALL GAINING FAVOR AS DIVERSION FOR WOMEN

Parties Are Given for Noelette Residents

BUSINESS TEAM AND SKELLY TO PLAY TONIGHT

GAMES ARE SCHEDULED FOR MONDAY AND TUESDAY

Softball is holding a new interest for Pampa women. Not only are they among the most enthusiastic rosters on the side-lines, but many of them are taking active part in the sport this season for the first time.

The game is the most popular picnic diversion of the season, and the specially challenged games are well attended.

Game Tonight Planned This evening at 6:10 o'clock the Business and Professional Women's team and the women of Skellytown will vie for honors at Magnolia park here. The game will be the fourth contest between the two teams. Skellytown having won two games out of three. Manager Gee believes the local team to be improved since the last game, however, and a hard fight is expected for this evening.

Monday evening the business women and Ensign J. F. Kirkman's team of girls will play, and on Tuesday evening Kirkman's team of girls will meet Skellytown here.

Skellytown girls who have been hard opponents for the local people, defeated Kirkman's team of Girls Scouts with a score of 30-14 Wednesday evening in Skellytown.

Helen Stein was the outstanding local player, having a home run to her credit, and all of the girls showed marked improvement since their last game.

BRIDGE GROUP COMPLIMENTED

MRS. I. B. HUGHEY IS HOSTESS TO QUEEN OF CLUBS

The morning hours Thursday were made pleasant ones for members of the Queen of Clubs, who were entertained at bridge in the home of Mrs. I. B. Hughey.

Mrs. T. R. Martin, who scored high among the special guests, was presented a deck of cards, and Mrs. L. W. McCullough, who was high among club members, received a cake. Mrs. Raymond W. Harrah received a plaque for high cut.

Refreshments were served in two courses with a lime drink at the close of the games.

Members and other guests for the party were Mesdames H. D. Keys, Carl Boyton, O. H. Booth, R. S. Lawrence, A. B. Goldston, Charles C. Cook, J. H. Kelley, John T. Glover, L. N. McCullough, Sherman White, T. R. Martin, J. M. Saunders of Amarillo, Bert Isbell, Raymond W. Harrah, A. M. Martini, and C. T. Hunkapillar.

Red Cross Will Furnish Cans On "Halves" Basis

Decision to buy 3,000 cans and offer them to community residents to fill with foodstuffs on the halves was made by the new Red Cross directors and officials at their first meeting yesterday.

The Red Cross will supply the cans and offer them to city as well as farm residents. According to the plan, 50 per cent of the cans that are filled would be returned to the Red Cross for distribution among the destitute families of the community.

This method of obtaining food is being used with success in various parts of the country. The theory is that the farmers and gardeners have the vegetables but are unable to buy cans. Farmers who do not have pressure cookers will be supplied with them.

The meeting was brief because most of those present had to leave early to attend the Grandview picnic. The problem of making the cloth to be sent to the Red Cross here by the government into clothing was discussed but no plan was adopted. B. W. Rose suggested that this problem be taken up with women's organizations of the city.

HOW'S your HEALTH

Edited by the New York School of Medicine. Speech and Intelligence. That there is some relationship between speech and intelligence has been appreciated by man. False corollaries, however, have been drawn on the basis of this appreciation.

While the most glib of tongues is not invariably the most intelligent, on its negative side, however, there is probably no better index of the possible subnormality of the intelligence of a child than the delay in its development of speech. This is commonly but not invariably the rule.

A few children of normal intelligence appear almost wilfully to abstain from speaking. Then too there are certain freak cases on record who for a while appear to be almost dumb and then speak fluently.

Dumb and large, however, the child who does not begin about the age of 18 months, to use common words to indicate familiar objects and basic wants should be given a thorough examination.

Too many parents are prone to delay having the child examined, believing that the failure to speak is either a prank on the part of the child or something that the child may "catch up on."

Binet, the founder of the intelligence test has classified mentally defective according to their use of speech. In his classification, idiots do not use words coherently, imbeciles use words but do not form them into coherent sentences, while the feeble-minded can use ordinary speech.

Certain speech defects are also indicative of abnormal conditions. The substitution of consonants and words is common in young children but if persistent requires attention.

Baby talk, however, is not uncommon in mentally well developed children who, however, have been spoiled by improper training which keeps them infantile.

Echolalia or the repetition by the child addressed of questions or statements, as if the child were but an echo, usually points to the existence of some type of mental defect.

WHITE CREPE DE CHINE CHOSEN BY MRS. STIMSON. WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Henry L. Stimson is wearing a dress of white crepe de chine with a three-quarter length coat to match. With this she wears a white straw hat.

My Beauty Hint

By MARIE DRESSLER

If the saying is true that the first hundred years are the hardest—then the 60-year-olds (like myself) are fast coming into their own.

What a relief it is—after years of effort to appear beautiful—to sit back in our mellow age and rest from our labors.

However, some elderly women don't appreciate this period of ease and continue to struggle with exterior beauty methods—not realizing that our beauty comes from within.

They go about with gayly made-up faces that only emphasize their old youth. They dash their lips with red and strive to hide their wrinkles by surgical methods, giving artificial reflections in place of middle-aged contentment.

To them I would suggest a comfy relaxation—a passing on of the paint pots to the younger generation—a relying on good old soap and water with a bit of powder for their beauty needs. By shedding our struggles, we have an opportunity of being natural—and naturalness and simplicity are youthful.

College Girls May Board for $20 Per Month This Winter

CANYON, Aug. 26 (AP)—The cost of education will be reduced to girls attending West Texas State Teachers college this winter.

Board and room at the two state-owned dormitories will be less than $200 for the entire nine months, or little more than $20 a month. If the entire amount is paid in advance, board and room for the nine months will be even $20 a month, or $180.

Girls caring to do light house-keeping may obtain rooms and kitchen privileges at $7.50 a month per person.

No Late Hours to Be Allowed for Boys or Girls

MEMPHIS, Aug. 26 (AP)—When someone recalled recently that Memphis had a curfew law on the records that had been forgotten 10 years, it was arranged to blow a whistle at the old hour of 9:15 p. m. much to the consternation of the city's youngsters.

The curfew ordinance was passed about 10 years ago and immediately forgotten. No attempt was ever made to enforce it. It provided that those under 19, unaccompanied by their parents, should scurry for home when the whistle blew.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Shearer and children, Edyth and Rex, have returned after vacation trip to Colorado and New Mexico.

SOCIETY FOLK MOURN DEATH OF DICTATOR

MRS. M'CORMICK DIES THURSDAY IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Aug. 26 (AP)—Death, near the close of her sixtieth year, has ended the career of Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick—social dictator, linguist, patron of the arts, who once was acclaimed the richest woman in the world.

She died peacefully after a lingering illness with cancer, the end coming in her Drake hotel suite at 3:40 p. m. (CST) yesterday. About here were her reunited family and Edwin Krenn, her faithful friend and business associate who tossed his personal fortune of more than $1,000,000 into the market in an attempt to bolster the dwindling fortune of John D. Rockefeller's younger daughter.

A brief bulletin from the physicians brought the word of her death, as serene as was her life, filled as it was with romance, social eminence, bitter personal disappointments, business successes, family unhappiness, and near the end, financial losses.

The bulletin said: "Mrs. McCormick died at 3:40 (CST). Death came peacefully. All members of her family were at her bedside."

In the group at the end game was Harold F. McCormick, whose devotion to the dying woman attested the friendliness he has always shown since their divorce in 1921. There, too, was Mrs. McCormick's only son, Fowler, who alone had never completely broken the family ties. Present also were her older daughter, Muriel, now Mrs. Elisha Dyer Hubbard of Middletown, Conn.; her third and youngest child, Mrs. Max Oser, the former Mathilde McCormick; Mrs. Fowler McCormick; the former Mrs. Stillman; Mrs. Stillman's son, Alexander Stillman; and Major Hubbard, Muriel's husband.

Arrangements for Mrs. McCormick's funeral had not been completed today, and it was considered extremely unlikely that John D. Rockefeller, now in his 93rd year, would be able to attend the last rites for his daughter. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., who visited his sister recently, is expected to come from his father's summer estate near Pocantico Hills, N. Y.

Had Mrs. McCormick lived until next Wednesday she would have been 60 years old.

NEW SHADES OF BLUE OFFERED FOR FALL

PARIS (AP)—Chinese porcelain blue is one couturier's most striking contribution to the fall color card.

The shade, which is an exact copy of that seen in old Chinese porcelains, is a vibrant blue tinged with green. It is generally used in crinkled silk crepe for afternoon frocks.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Simmons are expected home today after a vacation trip. They visited Mr. and Mrs. Paul Shepher in Casper, Wyo., and made a trip to Yellowstone National park.

ONCE WAS ROYAL—NOW PEDDLER

Louise of Saxony, once the gay belle shown here, approaching her sixty-second birthday on Sept. 2, reduced to earning her living by selling embroidery in Brussels.

By EDWARD TRAUS

BRUSSELS (AP)—Louise of Saxony, tragic, madcap princess, living alone in a little house in a humble suburban street, will be 62 on September 2.

Louise may have her bitter-sweet memories of the days when she was the talk of every European capital, but not many of the good burghers in her street are likely to remember the date.

The bent, gray-haired woman who can be seen, early mornings, washing her front stoop, or later in the day, trudging down the Avenue de Klauwaerts to peddle embroidery is a too-familiar figure in that neighborhood.

Her crash from world greatness happened so long ago that it is half forgotten.

Once she was a princess imperial of Austria, and her wedding in Vienna in November, 1891, was a social landmark. The waltz-mad capital danced its honor to the big-eyed royal bride.

Her husband, Crown Prince Frederick August, later became king of Saxony. He relinquished his crown to the general Germanic debacle of 1918 and died peacefully six months ago.

In the "gay eighties" Princess Louise, then in her twenties, was a proud and radiant figure. Chronicles of the time describe the beauty of her eyes, her grace, her charm, her wit.

Perhaps it was that very wit, extravagant and impatient, which brought about her catastrophe, so that afterwards she was known by the sad title of "Princess Bizzarra," the "madcap princess."

There was something too proud.

CRIMM HEARD BY CROWD OF LOCAL PEOPLE

PLAN OF SALVATION IS DISCUSSED BY EVANGELIST

Speaking at the First Baptist church last night before a crowd of about five hundred persons, Evangelist B. B. Crimm told what, in his opinion, was the plan of salvation. The service was the second of a series in a month's revival meeting. Tonight he will speak in a tabernacle which has been erected adjoining the First Baptist church lot.

"The plan of salvation," said the evangelist, "is not conviction for sin, it is not remorse, not fear of death, not quitting one's meanness. It is simply repentance toward God and faith toward the Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. Not a historical faith but a personal faith in and on Jesus Christ, is required."

H. M. Powell, a graduate of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago, is song leader and director of young people's work. Beginning probably next Monday, he will conduct services for young people beginning at 7 o'clock. He plans to organize an orchestra and to secure other special music for the meeting. Mrs. Crimm, wife of the evangelist, is pianist and often joins Mr. Powell in vocal duets.

The meeting is sponsored by no particular denomination, and Mr. Crimm has asked all churches and all Christian people to cooperate with him. "What Is a Revival?" is the subject for tonight.

MARK KOENIG PROVES VALUABLE INFIELDER FOR CUBS

VETERAN HAS GOOD EYE AND STEADY FEET

CHICAGO WINS NINE OF LAST 10 GAMES PLAYED

By GAYLE TALBOT.
Associated Press Sports Writer.
Mark Koenig, veteran shortstop of the Chicago Cubs reclaimed from big league oblivion three weeks ago to steady their infield, fast is proving himself the biggest $10,000 worth of baseball player to appear on the scene this season. His eyesight completely restored by an operation, Koenig has come back to the big show to play magnificent ball. With Koenig steadying the youthful Bill Herman at second base, the Cubs have won 9 of their last 10 games. He handled 10 chances perfectly yesterday as the Cubs repulsed Brooklyn again, 9 to 3, and extended their lead to five and one-half games.

The Pittsburgh Pirates also dropped further behind when the Phils. bombed them twice, 11 to 3 and 8 to 5, the latter going to 10 innings.

In the only other national league game, the Giants socked Bill Hallahan and two other St. Louis hurlers for 17 hits and a 6 to 5 win.

Lou Gehrig's 28th home run of the year with none on in the ninth inning clipped Cleveland, 4 to 3, and gave Lefty Gomez of the Yankees his 21st victory. Babe Ruth previously had batted his 36th homer with Combs on base.

Another game was decided by a circuit drive at Boston. Benny Tate of the Red Sox pounded one over the fence with one on to beat the Chicago White Sox, 5 to 4.

The Athletics went on a batting rampage behind Tony Freitas to overwhelm the St. Louis Browns, 15 to 5. Jimmie Fox hit his 46th homer to maintain his lead over Ruth and young Eric McNair hit his third round-tripper in as many days.

Washington collected 16 safeties off three Detroit flingers to win handily, 8 to 5.

HOOKS and SLIDES by WILLIAM BRAUCHER

Any Tricks, Boys?

Kaye Don and Gar Wood apparently have shaken hands and made up. Their boats, the Miss England III and Miss America X are screaming across the waters of Lake St. Clair, readying up for another Harnsworth trophy, Sept. 3 to 6.

Villagers from nearby Algonac come down to the lake in the early morning to watch the waterbugs go shrieking across the water at speeds of more than 100 miles an hour.

They cannot be excused for wondering if this year's race will be "on the up and up," or fraught with the stratagems that marked the heats last year. In other words, if this is going to be a boat race or a trick?

A Race? Oh Yes!

Don has brought a boat from Britain in which he set a world speed record of 119.81 miles an hour. The new Miss America X hasn't been clocked officially but the observant townspeople say it goes faster than Miss America IX, and the admiring tub pushed itself around at 111 miles an hour.

From which it might be gathered that this is going to be a race!

Beating the Gun

Last year's controversy seems to have been forgotten by the two men. Don took his defeat as a real sportsman. It will be recalled that Wood beat the gun with his Miss America IX, which lured Don's Miss England II across the line some seven seconds ahead of time. Both boats were disqualified, so the race was awarded to George Wood, pilot of Miss America VIII.

Wood both admitted and denied that he had deliberately tricked Don. I think the chairman of the race committee accounted for the unfortunate occurrence by Wood's "patriotic fervor"—anyway, that was that.

The Time? Who Knows?

The new Miss America X was built by Nap Lisee, who may know how fast it will go but who will not say. No one at Algonac will say, in fact. Wood has sworn to secrecy his mechanic, Orlin Johnson, and just about everybody else who might have a hunch on the craft's time.

The tryouts are spectacular enough in themselves. Wood's boat has 48 cylinders—24 in line—that give forth a terrific scream as the thing skims across the water.

The folk of Algonac, coming down to the lake in the early morning to watch the boat and hear its ear-splitting yell, cannot be convinced that Miss England III can beat the American entry in a race. Even though they don't know what time she can make!

Mrs. Dred Lee of White Deer was a Pampa shopping visitor yesterday.

SKILLED YOUNGSTERS ENTERING SEPTEMBER GOLF TOURNAMENT

By BILL PARKER.
Associated Press Sports Writer.
SCHUMACHER ENTERS
Pre-tournament indications are that for the Texas State Junior Golf championship at San Antonio next month will be a classic. The big shots of junior golf are entering, the latest being Don Schumacher, a 16-year-old aspirant from Dallas. Don was runner-up in the Texas municipal championship this year, and an entrant in the recent National Public Links tournament at Louisville, Ky. He failed by two strokes to qualify for the national money affair.

Fifty-eight of Texas best junior golfers have already entered more than two weeks before play starts. And some people still wonder why the kids are not playing baseball on the corner lots as they did in past years. It is golf on the links now, and if a golfer can thrill over tournament competition, it is the young fellows in a tournament of their own.

BABE IS RESTING

For the first time in two months, Mildred Babe Diddrikson, Texas superwoman athlete and Olympic star, is resting. Babe started training for the girls' national A. A. U. track and field meet last May and worked out daily until time to catch a train for Chicago where she won the meet single-handed. From the national she went to the Olympics and established two new world records. After the Olympics she returned to Dallas where she was honored guest at daily social affairs planned for her. From Dallas she went to Beaumont where she was paraded and lauded. From Beaumont she returned to Chicago for a post-Olympic meet. From Chicago she returned to Dallas.

FOOTBALL MEN HAVE UNIFORM NEED OF WORK

CHOOSING OF LINE-UP TO BE DELAYED FOR WEEKS

The boys in training at Harveyer park still remain an unknown quantity, and there was no indication that any team would win a position for several weeks.

In reality, not much should be written or said about Coach Odus Mitchell's team-in-the-making for an indefinite period, but it is the policy of newspapers to report great news and small, and certainly by 10 boys in Harveyer uniforms cannot be ignored.

After the setting-up exercises, Coach Mitchell permitted his pupils to carry the ball. A new figure on the field was that of Phillip Powell, a beefy, brawny fellow who confidently expects to turn the flesh on his body into hard muscle.

The coach divided his squad into two groups. In the most important one of the two, he had Pool as center in an imaginary line passing the ball to Kelley and Marbaugh who took turn about passing and punting it to Patton, Sammy Turner, Sullins, Powell, Schmidt, Salsbury, Ledrick, Walker, Adair, Stevens, the Owens brothers, Hamilton, and others.

Not So Bad

At the other end of the field, big Clovis Green shot the ball back to Fullington, who also punted and batted it to more points. When a boy caught the ball he ran through several men until he was blocked by a shoulder. At times several of the prospective carriers looked far more often they didn't. Sammy Turner, a 132-pound dynamo, Rufus Walker, Bert Stevens, Wayne Kelley, Hamilton, Sullins, Powell, were not bad to look at. An encouraging demonstration was the manner in which Miles Marbaugh hurls a pass—the ball goes just like a bullet and it ends always stays horizontal, headed toward the receiver. Kelley also revealed yesterday that he could punt creditably. At times, Marbaugh is as good a punter as one could want, but the team needs a consistent punter, and Miles is trying hard to be that.

Some Watches Em
The boys also tried tackling yesterday. Some of them got their man in the correct fashion some of the time—in fact most of them did at times. But the least that can be said about the tackling and blocking yesterday is the best that can be said. Principal L. L. Some was an interested observer of the workouts.

It was the first time he had occasion to view the prospects. "They look good, but are they?" was his comment. It was obvious to Mr. Some that the morale of the boys is splendid. They work hard and willingly. There are enough fast big boys and enough boys not so big but who are faster to make a good team. The principal in looking over the field pointed out boys who played with emphasis on the "with" the Harveyer squad last year. Schmidt was the only regular back. He believes Patton, Pool, and Kelly, who played

Clay Targets In Air at Vandalia

VANDALIA, Ohio, Aug. 26. (AP)—Clay targets that cost a cent apiece went whirling through the air here today carrying a purse of $11,000 to go with America's greatest trap-shooting honor, the Grand American championship.

A field exceeding 800 marksmen went to the firing line during the day seeking this highly coveted prize. Included in the list were eight former champions but the odds were strongly against them. They've been holding these grand Americans for 32 years and not once has it been won twice by the same shooter.

Yesterday 700 marksmen saw the $4,000 preliminary handicap go to a 17-year-old Lansing, Mich., farm-boy, Bobbie Olds, who pulled onions and sold vegetables to finance his trip to the tournament.

Olds posted a 99 out of 100 score early in the afternoon and then let veterans blaze away at his mark. Ted Renfro, of Dell, Montana, and George Ransom, of Springfield, Ill., came the closest with 98 each, the Illinois marksman winning second money in a shootout.

Mrs. Will R. Saunders, formerly of Pampa but now living in Amarillo, is guest of Mrs. A. B. Cochrane. She will return to Amarillo today.

JAYSEES GET ONE WIN OUT OF TWO TILTS

Rose Building's Fast Outfit Looms as Threat In Playground League

The Jaysees won and lost in two playground ball league games yesterday and Wednesday.

In the first game they walloped the Santa Fe 21 to 14 on the new Santa Fe diamond, one of the fastest in the city. The Rose building nine buried the Jaysees under a 36 to 9 score yesterday on the same diamond.

Bonnie Rose, manager of the Rose building squad, had his machine working perfectly. Poe and Lard batted extra well and often for the Rose team. Robert Woodward and Clarence Olsen were star batters for the Jaysees. Woodward made five runs and Olsen three.

The Rose roster included Lard, Green, Williams, Poe, Lawrence, Miller, Stapleton, Hubbard, and Stokes. The junior chamber of commerce line-up comprised Olsen, Walker, Berry, J. Olsen, Richard, White, Woodward, McFarlin, Henry Berry, and Butler.

Doubles Team Is Hard Pressed

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 26. (AP)—Half-raising play at the national doubles tennis tournament is becoming a daily occurrence in Longwood.

Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn, defending champions, put on a grueling three-hour five-set match in their semi-final round yesterday before eliminating George Lott and Frank Shields. The scores favored Allison and Van Ryn, 6-3, 2-6, 9-11, 6-4 and 13-11 but they didn't tell half the story.

Twice the defending champions were within two points of being dethroned. Players and gallery alike were all but exhausted.

The other semi-final match, which went over until today brought Henri Cochet and Marcel Bernard, the French team, against Keith Goddard and Ellsworth Vines.

The national mixed doubles quarter-final round was to be concluded today with Mr. and Mrs. Van Ryn opposing Sarah Palfrey and Fred Perry. In the afternoon the mixed doubles semi-final round schedule brought together Helen Jacobs and Ellsworth Vines and Dorance Chase and Marcel Bernard. The other bracket of the semi-finals found Virginia Rice and Henri Cochet opposing the winner of the Van Ryn-Palfrey and Perry match.

Col. Thompson presents unusual qualifications for this high position. He is well educated in the fundamentals of the oil and gas business. He is a lawyer of some practical experience. As mayor of Amarillo he has come into contact with every character of public utility and has fought to a winning fight the battles of the people against unfair rates.

"It is my belief that in the name of patriotism and local pride all the people of the Panhandle should unite Saturday behind Col. Thompson."

VISIT TARGET RANGE

LAREDO, Aug. 26 (AP)—Troops of the 12th U. S. cavalry from Fort Brown and Ringgold in the Lower Rio Grande valley continue to come and go to the target range of the 5th U. S. Engineers of Fort McIntosh located about five miles east of Laredo. The Fort Ringgold troops were compelled to desert their target range at Rio Grande City on account of oil development work that has extended to the rim of the military reservation.

hold interest in Gray county. In the 122nd representative district, Judge Ivy Duncan of Pampa is the opponent of John Puryear of Collingsworth county. County-wide races of interest include the contests for sheriff, county judge, and district clerk.

Much interest also attaches to the governor's race. In the first primary, the Gray county vote was split between Sterling, Ferguson, and Hunter, with Sterling leading. The trend of the Hunter vote will determine, therefore, the county's leaning in the gubernatorial campaign.

The ballot follows:

"I am a democrat, and pledge myself to support the nominees of this primary."

For Governor:
R. E. Sterling of Harris county.
Miriam A. Ferguson of Travis county.

For State Railroad Commissioner (6-year term):
C. V. Terrell of Wise county.
Lee Satterwhite of Ector county.

For State Railroad Commissioner (4-year term):
W. Gregory Hatcher of Dallas county.
Ernest O. Thompson of Potter county.

For Associate Justice of Supreme Court:
J. E. Hickman of Eastland county.
William Pierson of Hunt county.

For Congressman at Large, Place No. 1:

and revealed a preliminary audit of the highway department which he said disproved the Ferguson claim road money had been squandered.

Sterling called a special session of the legislature in the middle of the campaign, the legislators to meet two days after the primary for the purpose of allotting a portion of the gasoline money to retire bonds issued by counties to construct roads now a part of the state system. He argued that this would lift a heavy burden of taxation from the homes, farms, and ranches.

Ferguson told his auditors that the special session call was a political move and that gasoline tax money to retire county bonds would not be available.

He said the Sterling plan was to allow gasoline tax money to the counties but to take away from them money they now receive from automobile license fees.

Democrats also will nominate three congressmen-at-large, two members of the Texas railroad commission, and an associate justice of the supreme court.

Bailey vs. Davis.

Joseph Weldon Bailey of Dallas is matched against J. H. Cyclopedia Davis of Sulphur Springs for one of the congress-at-large places. Bailey is a son of the late United States senator from Texas who bore that name. Davis, in his late seventies, once served the state as a congressman-at-large and at one time was

She was defeated by Dan Moody in 1926 and she ran again in 1930, when Sterling was put up in Moody's successor and backed by him. She got into the run-off that time but Sterling won out.

This time she received in the first primary a larger vote than her most sanguine partisans hoped for, 42 per cent of the ballots cast. There were eight in the race. About one-third of the votes were marked for Sterling.

The largest vote in Texas history, nearly a million, was cast in the first primary.

Sterling, hailed two years ago as a successful business man, had made failure of administering the state's governmental affairs, the Ferguson's claimed. They said the treasury had been forced into "the red."

Sterling's opponents also charged that of funds collected and expended by the state highway department the past five and one-half years, the period during Sterling's incumbency as chairman of the highway commission and as governor, more than $100,000,000 had been unaccounted for.

On Even Keel.

Sterling presented what he said was official evidence that the state was on an "even financial keel."

nationally known for his prowess as a debater in favor of prohibition.

George B. Terrell of Alto and Pink Parrish of Lubbock, a state senator, and Sterling P. Strong of Dallas and Joe Burkett of San Antonio are paired for the other two congressional places.

The prohibition issue has been injected into that race by action of organizations favoring modification or repeal of the Eighteenth amendment endorsing Bailey, Terrell and Burkett.

William Pierson, incumbent, and J. E. Hickman of Eastland, chief justice of a state court of civil appeals, are candidates for supreme court justice.

C. V. Terrell, incumbent, and Lee Satterwhite, former speaker of the house of representatives, are opponents for a six-year term on the railroad commission. Ernest O. Thompson, former mayor of Amarillo, and W. Gregory Hatcher of Dallas, former state treasurer, are candidates for a four-year term on the railroad commission. Thompson now is a member of the commission by appointment.

STOCKS IN SPURT

NEW YORK, Aug. 26 (AP)—An abrupt reversal sent the stock market up swiftly in the late trading today after a slow decline had carried many issues off 1 to 4 points. Some of the leaders registered extreme gains of 2 to more than 3 points in the late trading, although there was a slight sag just before the close. The late tone was strong. Transfers approximated 3,000,000 shares.

FLAN NEW "INVASION"

GILLESPIE, Ill., Aug. 26 (AP)—A new invasion of southern Illinois coal fields in protest against the new $5 a day basic wage scale by a select group of quick moving miners was planned today by striking miners whose "peaceful" caravan was beaten back at the Franklin county line by gunfire and clubs of deputy sheriffs.

DEATH ENDS QUARREL

DALLAS, Aug. 26 (AP)—A lover's quarrel was believed to have precipitated the shooting last night in which Jack M. Rodden, 25, and his sweetheart, Miss Rose Pierce, 21, were killed. The shooting occurred on the porch at Miss Pierce's residence. She was found with a bullet in her heart. Rodden had been shot in the head. A pistol was clutched in his hand.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

International Sunday School Lesson for August 26.
General Topic: Gifts for Building the Tabernacle.

Scripture Lesson: Ex. 25:21-29.
21. And they came, every one whose heart stirred him up, and every one whom his spirit made willing, and brought Jehovah's offering, for the work of the tent of meeting, and for all the service thereof, and for the holy garments.

22. And they came, both men and women, as many as were willing-hearted, and brought brooches, and ear-rings, and signet-rings, and armlets, all jewels of gold; and every man that offered an offering of gold unto Jehovah.

23. And every man, with whom was found blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine linen, and goats' hair, and ram's skins dyed red, and sealions, brought them.

24. Every one that did offer an offering of silver and brass brought Jehovah's offering; and every man, with whom was found acacia wood for any work of the service, brought it.

25. And all the women that were wise-hearted did spin with their hands, and brought that which they had spun, the blue, and the purple, the scarlet, and the fine linen.

26. And all the women whose heart stirred them up in wisdom spun the goats' hair.

27. And the rulers brought the onyx stones, and the stones to be set, for the ephod, and for the breastplate.

28. And the spice, and the oil, for the light, and for the anointing oil, and for the sweet incense.

29. The children of Israel brought a free-will offering unto Jehovah; every man and woman, whose heart made them willing to bring for all the work, which Jehovah had commanded to be made by Moses.

Golden Text: Honor Jehovah with thy substance, and with the first-fruits of all thine increase.—Prov. 3:9.

Time: B. C. 1488.
Place: At Mt. Sinai.

Introduction.
The tabernacle or tent of meeting was the origin of Solomon's temple and its successors and of our modern cathedrals and churches. Therefore everything connected with it is of supreme interest to us. The plan of the tabernacle and all its particulars were revealed to Moses by Jehovah himself, who bade Moses to make it all "after their pattern, which hath been showed thee in the mount" (Ex. 25:9, 40), and so all parts of it were made of that day and this, but glorified in its materials and workmanship; the nearly flat tent-roof enlarged and multiplied, its windmill higher and more solid, and its partition, steeper in fabric, in colors, and embroidery.

Structure of Tabernacle.
The tabernacle structure was an oblong, measuring the length by ten cubits, the width being speaking roughly, about half a yard long. The entrance to the tabernacle, as to the temple, was toward the east, and the eastern and western sides were the short ones. The entrance occupied the entire front, but the rear and the two sides were of boards, forty-eight in number, twenty being on the north and south sides and eight on the west. These boards (necessarily formed of smaller boards fastened together as there were no large trees in the region) were each ten cubits long and one-half cubit broad, all being overlaid with gold—a gorgeous enclosure.

The house was made by setting these boards on end, side by side, each board overlaid with gold, and two staves sunk in silver sockets, the boards being held together by five rows of transverse bars of acacia wood, placed on the outside, and run through rings fastened to each plank. The entrance consisted of five pillars overlaid with gold, sunk in brass sockets and thus held upright, a curtain being stretched between them shutting off the interior from common view.

Interior of Tabernacle.
The tabernacle was divided into two parts, called the Holy Place and the Most Holy Place, the two together constituting "the sanctuary." The Holy Place was a rectangle, twenty cubits long and ten broad. To it the priests were admitted for the performance of a few rites, but no laymen. The Most Holy Place, or Holy of Holies, was a perfect cube, ten cubits in all dimensions. This was the special abode of Deity, and only the high priest entered it, and he only once a year, on the great Day of Atonement. Between it and the Holy Place was a great curtain, called "the veil," which hung from four pillars overlaid with gold and resting in silver sockets. This veil was of extraordinary thickness and weight, was woven of blue, purple, and scarlet, and embroidered with figures of cherubim who were supposed to be perpetually worshipping the Deity within.

Symbolism of Tabernacle.
Symbolically the tabernacle was at the center of every Hebrew worship, and for that reason it was erected in the center of the camp. It represented the presence of God with his people. It was the place of worship. All its appointments, the plan of construction, the arrangement and nature of its services, the regulations for priest and people, all spoke to Israel of the solemn meaning of the Divine presence.

"In the inmost sanctuary, or the Most Holy Place, was the ark of the covenant, containing the tables of the law. Above the ark was the mercy seat, on which, once a year, the high priest sprinkled blood; and on the mercy seat kneeled face to face, the golden cherubim with outspread wings; beneath that brought the appointed propitiation the holy God now held blessed intercourse with his creatures.

"In the outer sanctuary, or Holy Place, separated by a curtain from the inner, stood the altar of incense, the table of shew bread, the golden candlestick; and here, day by day, the priest came to offer incense with the daily sacrifice."

Offering of Willing Heart.
For the erection of the sanctuary, the people were commended to bring their offerings, but only as they were of a willing heart (Ex. 35:5). There was no assessment, no compulsion. In an impressive call (Ex. 35:4-19) Moses told them the various kinds of gifts that were needed and then sent them away to their tents to get what their hearts stirred them up to give.

Soon they were returning. "They came, every one whose heart stirred him up, and every one whom his spirit made willing." It was wholly voluntary, the command was from within, the voice of understanding and devotion and conscience. And that is the best kind of giving, being spiritual rather than legal, giving in which duty is glorified by desire. That reaches the plane of the Christian motive. It is not what one does under the compulsion of law, but what one chooses to do that reveals his heart, that is, himself.

Gift From Every One.
The men, women, and rulers all participated. It was a congregational movement. Those who had little and those who had much were equally interested. In many of our churches today is the large gift that are sought. We have heard of some ministers who are not in favor of a general appeal or an every-member canvass, utterly neglectful or ignorant of the meaning of participation in great enterprises to the spiritual life of boys and girls and those who have little. Moses did not call together the leaders and urge them to assume the whole burden; he spoke to all the people. And we can readily imagine the joy that came to those who had perhaps one golden trinket; or one rich piece of purple in the privilege of sharing in the holy work of building a sanctuary to their God. "Upon the first day of the week let each one of you lay by him in store, as he may prosper." As the circle of giving is enlarged, the joy and fellowship of the church are increased.

Less Than a Tenth?
"What ought we to give? You know that Jacob, in his vow to God, said, 'Of all that thou givest me, I will surely give back the tenth unto thee.' That was the rule of Moses in the Jewish legislation. It is still kept by all faithful Jews, and kept so strictly that they do not regard this tenth as belonging to themselves, but as a charity to be given to the tenth ends. Now, the gospel lays down no hard-and-fast rule. It only bids each man give as God hath prospered him, 'according to as he is disposed in his heart, cheerfully, as willing mind. But is Christianity meant to make us more selfish? Should not we give as much as the ancient Jews?'—F. W. Farrar.

Special Mission.
"We commonly think of giving as a duty, that which is due or owed, and this carries with it the unpleasant implications of a debt. But we should rise far above this conception and view, giving not simply as a duty and debt, but as a privilege and delight. The Hebrew worshippers, as the smoke of their offerings rose from the altar, blew their silver trumpets as an expression of the gladness with which they rendered this sacrifice and service. We, having passed into the life of the Spirit, should worship God with our offerings with even greater joy." Snowden.

THE STATE OF TEXAS.
To the Sheriff or any Constable of Gray County—GREETING:

J. S. Wynne, administrator with the will annexed of the estate of L. W. Chadwick, deceased, having filed in our county court his final account of the condition of the estate of said L. W. Chadwick, deceased, together with an application to be discharged from said administration, you are hereby commanded that by publication of this notice for ten (10) days in a newspaper regularly published in the County of Gray you give due notice to all persons interested in the account for final settlement of said estate, to file their objections thereto, if any they have, on or before Monday, September 5, 1932, which date has been fixed by the Clerk of the County Court of Gray County, Texas, as the term of the County Court to which this notice is returnable, such County Court to be holden at the courthouse of said county in Pampa, Texas, on the 5th day of September, 1932, when said account and application will be considered by said court.

Witness my hand and seal of said court at my office in the city of Pampa, Texas, this 25th day of August, 1932.

CHARLES THUT,
Clerk of the County Court of Gray County, Texas.

By OLA GREGORY, Deputy.
(SEAL)

A true copy, I certify:
LON BLANKET,
Sheriff, Gray County, Texas.

By J. F. ARCHER, Deputy.

TAX RATE CHANGED.
UVALDE, Aug. 26. (AP)—Rescinding a former action of reducing valuations 25 per cent on all real property in the county except that belonging to corporations, public utilities and railroads, the commissioners' court of Uvalde county has passed a new order calling for a 20 per cent reduction on all realty values in the county, based on the 1931 equalized taxable values shown by the tax rolls for that year.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Franklin and children of Pampa visited Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wood Tuesday.

MADE GOOD

An emergency brought Arthur Otto (Art) Scharein, above, into the big leagues this year. He is the young man now playing third base and batting .300 for the St. Louis Browns. Injuries put all the available Browns' first basemen on the shelf several weeks ago, making it necessary for Goose Goslin, the big outfielder to play the position one game. Scharein answered a hurry-up call, coming to fill the gap. The injured infielders have recovered, but Scharein continues to keep the job. He's good.

Highway Systems May Cooperate To Save In Distance

BEAUMONT, Aug. 26. (AP)—A proposed tieup of the Texas and Louisiana highway systems, with a resultant 56-mile slash in the distance from here to New Orleans, via Baton Rouge, was indicated when the Texas highway commission approved a survey of the project.

The proposed route is from the old Spanish Trail several miles east of Vidor to Hartburg, southwest of Deweyville. The distance is about 15 miles.

The state probably will share with Louisiana the expense of building a bridge over the Sabine river at Deweyville, it was said.

Taxes In Cameron County Reduced

BROWNSVILLE, Aug. 26. (AP)—Cameron county tax valuations for 1932 will be between six and seven million dollars under the valuations for 1931, which were $51,000,000, County Judge Oscar C. Dancy announced here.

Judge Dancy said no set scale of reductions is being carried out, but that this reduction in totals is being brought about by equalization. He said that roughly the unimproved land of the county is being reduced 25 per cent and improved land about 10 2-3 per cent. Practically no change is being made in city property. The court decided not to set the tax rate for the year until after the special session of the legislature in September.

DANCING PERMITTED SEAGRAVES, Aug. 26. (AP)—

The Seagraves city commission recently repealed a city ordinance adopted more than a year ago, by referendum prohibiting dancing within the city limits. It was stated that the repeal was a concession to a large number of transients here who had no other form of entertainment. It was indicated that the ordinance would be revised when the strangers were no longer within the gates.

Foreigners May Be Required To Work Before Departed

LAREDO, Aug. 26. (AP)—Foreigners detained in Mexico for deportation may be compelled to earn enough money to pay their transportation to the border or seaport, from which they are to be sent to their native countries. This information comes from Carlos A. Gomez, under-delegate of the Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, immigration service, who recently attended a service convention at Mexico City to discuss the subject.

The plan would provide for the founding of a colony on the island of Cozumel in the Caribbean sea, where foreigners to be deported would be held. They would be required to work on the island until they had saved enough money to pay their transportation to home countries. Delegates stated that, adoption of the plan would save Mexico much expense in shipping back undesirable who could not prove in what ship, or by what means, they "mind-entered" the country.

Another plan advanced required a deposit by Mexican laborers leaving the country for the first time to help defray the expense of future repatriation.

HARVEST UNDER WAY.
OLTON, Aug. 26. (AP)—Harvesting of the sudan crop in this part of Lamb county is under way, with scores of row binders at work. After the sudan, other row crops will be harvested. Feed crops here are reported in good shape, with a large acreage.

GET MORE MILEAGE.
DALHART, Aug. 26. (AP)—Claiming "more mileage for their power" the Rock Island now runs passenger engines from Dalhart to Tucuman, back through Dalhart to Trenton, Mo., and then back to Dalhart before they are stopped for repair. They formerly went only as far as Herington, Kansas, eastward.

One secret of getting ahead

You need good health to succeed. Many a man has seen his chances go because he was too sick to keep pace with competition. Often his poor health was due to constipation. This ailment frequently causes headaches, loss of energy, sleeplessness. It takes the "punch" out of your day's work.

Try eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Science shows this delicious cereal supplies "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and Vitamin B to tone the intestinal tract. Also iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of lettuce. How much safer than using pills and drugs—so often habit-forming.

Two tablespoonfuls daily will correct most types of constipation. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

In the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN Washington

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—Opinion around here has been tending more and more toward unanimity in the belief that Governor Roosevelt of New York hopes to have the privilege of removing Mayor Walker of New York City.

Court action may temporarily block the removal, but the governor's attitude during his examination of the mayor left little doubt in the most political minds here that the onus was darkening for Jimmy. Not only did Roosevelt seem incensed at some of Walker's answers, but he appears to have been the first inquirer to critic to get under the vice-cracking, debauched burlesomaster's hard-boiled shell of defense. For the first time Jimmy seemed to weaken and his defense of some of the things disclosed by the Seabury investigation obviously astounded the governor.

It didn't seem possible, but the mass of national political complications with which the case was surrounded has actually increased.

A New Kind of Rat

It also seems worthy of note that Albert M. Day, a Department of Agriculture biologist, has invented a steel trap which distinguishes as between animals and is designed to catch only the right ones. By an adjustment which makes the trap spring only under certain weights, it is possible to catch voles, coyotes, weasels and other heavy predatory animals without interfering with such innocuous critters as birds, rabbits, foxes and porcupines who under the present system are very often caught and serve to warn the more dangerous varmints from the vicinity.

To Teet or Not to Teet

The miniature mail trucks which run through the corridors of the long wide Navy building go at high speed. They became an actual traffic hazard and one woman employee had three toes broken in a collision with one. So it was decreed by the superintendent of the building that the trucks must wear horns which must be tooted.

Then the tooting began to bother the naval officers and their clerks and at last reports the police who guard the building were threaten-

City of Beaumont Forgets Franchise

BEAUMONT, Aug. 26. (AP)—Like Gov. Roosevelt's "forgotten man" the city of Beaumont has a number of "forgotten franchises."

In a check of the records the administration recently discovered 14 franchises granted to four railroads for tracking privileges over the city's streets had expired, some of them as far back as 1918. Renewals at the dates of expiration apparently had been forgotten.

The franchises, brought up to date, will enrich the city at least $1,500, and if they are extended for a 10-year period as is the custom, the amount collectable will approximate $4,000.

The railroads indicated they considered the tracking franchise charges fair and would make the necessary renewals.

Ray Hegels, former California football star who ran the wrong way in an annual Rose Bowl game, will be a high school coach in North Sacramento, Cal. high school this season.

ing to arrest anyone who did any more tooting.

Easing the Pressure

The Home Loan banks, which are supposed to make things easier for hard-up home owners haven't begun functioning yet. But the woman who sells home-made fudge in the office building where this is written and has such great difficulty making mortgage payments that she is threatened with foreclosure says that the officials of her building and loan association will her the new system doesn't make any difference.

There probably will be many such instances, but the easing of credits for mortgage holders is nevertheless expected to cause them to ease their pressure on many of the home owners.

Lamont Was "Fed Up"

One reason Robert R. Lamont resigned as secretary of commerce was that his business needed attention. Another one was that he was fed up.

He was a hard-boiled steel man, not a politician and sometimes objected to the "pollyanna" anti-depression statements issued in his name. He also found that his own entrance to the White House did not match that of Assistant Secretary Julius Klein although Klein and his friends again appear to be wondering why Julius wasn't appointed to the cabinet instead of Roy Chapman of Detroit.

Sister MARY'S KITCHEN

By SISTER MARY
NEA Service Writer

Whether canning is done on a large or small scale, the procedure is the same. The same precautions and requisites must be considered for one can or one hundred.

Communities, social service organizations and churches can take care of bushels of fruits and vegetables if they will work out a definite schedule and follow it in detail. Many hands make light work, if they are competently directed.

Fruits and vegetables must be in the best of condition. Everything must be tender, fresh and good. Stale, wilted vegetables are not restored by canning—they remain stale in their jars. Those too old have very poor flavor and are tough, while those with the slightest degree of over-ripeness and maturity are not safe for canning.

If vegetables have been ordered for a certain day the person in charge of the canning project must know how many workers can be depended on to take care of the vegetables as soon as they are delivered. All equipment should be ready, and each worker assigned her special task.

Community canning is home canning on a large scale. All the essentials that make for success at home make for success in the group plan. Absolute freshness of materials, perfect cleanliness and accurate timing and temperatures must be maintained throughout.

Wash Containers Well

Wash all cans, tops and rubbers in hot soap suds. Put jars and tops, with the exception of tin covers which have a rubber-like substance around the edge, into the boiler of the hot water bath outfit or any large pan. Completely cover with cold water and bring to the boiling point. Boil 15 minutes. Add rubbers for last five minutes of boiling. This sterilization of jars, tops and rubbers is vastly important and must be done thoroughly.

If enough help is available, one group of workers can be preparing the material for canning while another group is washing and sterilizing the jars. Otherwise wash the jars the day before they will be needed. Scald them well and turn them upside-down to drain.

Then sterilize them for 15 minutes while preparing the fruit or vegetables.

Put the food in the clean jars, removing the jars from the water crowding or crushing to within one-half inch from the top of the jar. Be sure not to crowd large pieces of food into the top or neck of the jar as they may act as a stopper and prevent the jar from being properly filled. Add syrup or liquid to cover the food, making sure that all spaces are filled. Slip a flexible knife or spatula down the side of the jar and gently press the food back to allow the air to escape and the liquid to fill the space.

The ring should be put in place before packing the jar.

Half seal. To do this for glass covered jar, place cover on jar and bring the longer bail over it into groove in top of cover. The second bail is snapped down to finish the seal at the end of the processing period. To half seal a screw top jar, screw top as tight as possible, using thumb and little finger. Or screw top down firmly as they are wanted for packing. Pack evenly and closely without and then give it about a quarter of a turn back to loosen it.

Be sure that the water in the water bath is at least two inches above the tops of the jars.

In using a steam pressure cooker for canning, remember not to open the petcock at the end of the sterilizing period in order to reduce the pressure to zero. Rather, let the cooker stand with the petcock closed until the gauge has gradually lowered to zero. To prevent loss of moisture in the jars during the sterilizing period, always maintain the required pressure by lowering and raising the heat under the cooker, rather than by allowing an excess of steam to escape through the steam escape valve.

If an excess of steam is allowed to escape from the cooker, either through the petcock or steam escape valve, some of the liquid may be drawn out of the jars.

Coffee Bean Plant Grows Near Lubbock

LUBBOCK, Aug. 26. (AP)—What is said to be one of the few coffee bean plants growing on the south plains is claimed by W. J. Hood, who lives in the Liberty community 8 miles northeast of Lubbock.

Mr. Hood saw that he had two plants growing in his garden last year. He saved the seed and this year planted a long row of them. The plants have blooms and fruit at the same time.

The beans, he said, grew close to the stalk. The bushes are two to three feet tall and at this time the first fruit is nearly ripe.

Mr. Hood said he was told by the house which the seed was bought that he was getting a "No-caffeine coffee bean."

LUBBOCK, Aug. 26. (AP)—Texas State Oil company No. 1 well which carries in 12 miles southwest of Vernon recently for an estimated 250-barrel producer promises an important extension to oil development in this county and an active drilling program for the immediate future. The test started flowing as soon as sand was tapped, 46 feet higher than the original Fluhmann sand and is now at a depth of 14.92 feet.

It is the first producer completed in this county outside of proven territory in about three years. It is about one mile west of producers in the Fluhmann field and it is believed to indicate a link between that area and the Thalia field.

WORK OF SALVATION ARMY MAN IS ENDORSED BY LIONS CLUB

Work of Ensign J. F. Kirkman, head of the Salvation Army here, was endorsed in a resolution passed by the Lions club at its luncheon yesterday.

Ensign Kirkman, who will leave soon, thanked the club for its support and detailed some of his activities here. Steady growth in the religious phase of the Army's work has been noted under his direction. The Girl Scout's troop has been active. Four boys have been taught to play musical instruments, and 103 families have been registered for relief.

Dr. H. H. Hicks made a talk stressing the need for more thorough reporting of medical statistics in Texas. He said a baby was born every 5 minutes in this state, and that a person dies somewhere in Texas every 9 minutes. Many of the births are never reported, and causes of deaths are often not indicated.

Principal L. L. Sone of Pampa high school praised the sportsmanship he saw at the Olympics while enrolled as a student in the University of Southern California. He said that Babe Didrikson, the Texas one-girl team, was praised by Los Angeles newspapers as one of the best athletes at the tournament.

Mrs. W. H. Davis, in discussing work of the Welfare Board, said that the purpose of the board was to supplement the charity program and hospitalization of the city and county and to assist those not eligible for help from those agencies. She described how necessary it was to keep full records on all cases. According to Mrs. Davis, much nursing is necessarily a part of the welfare program. This is especially true when there are maternity cases

TO USE TYPEWRITERS

DALLAS, Aug. 26. (AP)—Machinery of the courts, like Rev. Jasper's sun, "do move," notwithstanding a reputation for slow motion and reverence for tradition. According to an announcement by District Clerk J. Dale Finks, the fourteenth and sixteenth district courts will substitute typewriters after Sept. 1, for the longhand systems employed in most of the work at the present time. This action will be the last step in completely modernizing the clerical systems and involve the appointment of two new court clerks.

among the destitute. She told of the difficulty of caring for the families of men who desert them. But a man who deserts his family can be prosecuted, while this is not true in the case of a woman deserter.

Clarence Kennedy furnished cigars in token of the arrival of a new son, weight 9½ pounds, yesterday. Roy Bourland re-told the story of the baseball victory over the Rotarians and said the team was ready for the Kiwanians.

Dr. R. A. Webb was in charge of the program.

ALLIGATOR FOUND

QUANAH, Aug. 26. (AP)—Caddies at the Quanah Country club recently found a baby alligator in one of the drainage ditches near the club lake. They were unable to account for the reptile's presence unless someone had tired of it as a pet and released it. It was 24 inches long.

DATE OF FAIR SET

McKINNEY, Aug. 26. (AP)—Dates for the annual fair at Blue Ridge, in northeast Collin county this year will be Sept. 28, 29, 30, and Oct. 1. Officers are J. F. Dixon, president; Mrs. J. O. Nelson, secretary and treasurer. Many cash awards have been announced for winners in the various departments.

DENVER EMPLOYEE ARRIVES

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McAnally and daughter, Miss Viola, moved to Pampa this week to make their home here. Mr. McAnally will be yard foreman of the Fort Worth & Denver Northern railroads yards here. U-unbd, arM.I. ISRIII eocbaRtadp

Citrus Crop Is To Be Light This Year

MISSION, Aug. 26. (AP)—The Valley's citrus crop for this season, which opens in October, will be one of the lightest in years, and will probably not be more than half that of 1931-32.

F. C. Whittlesey, official of the Texas Citrus Fruit Growers exchange, is authority for this statement. He recently completed a tour of inspection of Valley citrus.

Whittlesey said the frost in March cut the crop. The trees were in bloom, with some small fruit formed at that time, and the cold weather damaged the bloom and tender fruit.

He said indications pointed to a better quality and larger fruit on the whole.

Last season the crop in the valley was more than 8,000 carloads, which was a record. This year the crop will be around 4,000 carloads.

GET COMMUNICATION

BROWNSVILLE, Aug. 26. (AP)—Telephone communication between Del Mar, Gulfside resort located on Brazos island, and the outside world, is expected to be available by Labor Day as a result of a contract signed between owners of the properties on the golf and the Rio Grande Valley Telephone company. A 25-mile hard-surfaced highway leads to Boca Chica beach on the mainland and the island resort but other means of communication have been lacking.

Mrs. Albert Wood left Thursday for Littlefield, where she will join her daughter, Elisabeth, who has been visiting there the last week. They will also visit relatives in Plainview a few days before returning home.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

The State of Texas, County of Gray.

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Gray County—Greeting: You are hereby commanded to summon Lois Millard by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest County where a newspaper is published, to appear at the next regular term of the 31st District Court of Gray County, to be held at the Court House thereof, in Pampa, Texas, on the 3rd Monday in September A. D. 1932, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court No. 3249, wherein E. M. Millard is Plaintiff, and Lois Millard is Defendant, and a brief statement of plaintiff's cause of action, being as follows:

That plaintiff has been an actual and bona fide resident and inhabitant of the state of Texas for more than twelve months, and of the County of Gray for more than six months, immediately next preceding the filing of this petition. That plaintiff and defendant, were duly and legally married on or about Oct. 1, 1929, and that there are no children and no community property. That the defendant was quarrelsome and nagging continually and that she frequently assaulted the plaintiff, forcing him to defend himself, and inflicting physical punishment, discomfort, and humiliation upon him, all of which conduct the plaintiff alleges constitute excesses, cruel and inhuman treatment of such a nature as renders their further living together insupportable.

Herein Fail Not but have before said Court, at its next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Pampa, Texas, on this 17th day of August A. D. 1932.

LEGISLATURE'S SESSION MAY SERVE AS TRAINING SCHOOL FOR FUTURE MAKERS OF LAW

By R. W. BARRY.
AUSTIN, Aug. 26. (AP)—The special session of the Texas legislature probably will serve as a training school for a large number of legislators and senators-elect. They will be given an opportunity to sit on the side lines and see how the laws are made.

It will be only a little while now until the new legislature will be moving in for a start of at least four months. Many of the veterans will give way to novices at the mandate of the electorate. Some of those recently elected very likely never have seen a legislature in action. The extraordinary session will give them an opportunity to "get on to the ropes."

There may be at least three vacancies in the house of representatives when the extraordinary session meets. John H. Veatch of Joshua, dean of them all, is dead. Victor B. Gilbert of Cisco has a place as assistant director of the motor bus division of the Texas Railroad commission; Homer C. DeWolfe of Goldthwaite has become an assistant attorney general and Dewey Young of Wellington has moved to Dallas. But the changes of occupation and residence may not preclude their service in the legislature.

In paving the way for consideration of modification of the Robertson insurance law, a was legislative issue in Texas for years, the governor has, in the opinion of veteran legislators, dissipated hope the special session could get through in less than the constitutional 30 days.

Always when repeal or modification of the Robertson law has before the legislature a powerful lobby moved in to work for changes and to oppose any alterations.

It was argued the requirement to invest 75 per cent of their legal premium reserve in Texas securities or real estate, was so harsh it could not be expected this state could be the business site of foreign concerns.

Proponents of modification claimed that to exhibit a friendly attitude toward the outsiders would mean additional money for development of Texas, employment for more persons and increased rentals for office building owners.

The other side had its arguments, too. Texas-owned companies complained that out-of-state insurance concerns collected premiums from Texans and invested the reserve thus created in foreign securities and real estate elsewhere to the detriment of the state's economic standing. It was pointed out that the Robertson insurance law served as a safeguard to Texas policyholders in the outside companies.

Rice Crop Damage Report Requested

BEAUMONT, Aug. 26. (AP)—A federal survey and estimate of the damage to the rice crop in Texas by the recent gulf storm likely will be requested of the United States department of agriculture by the American Rice Growers association, it was announced by A. H. Boyd, president of the organization.

The unofficial estimate, that the crop is off half million bales, is not considered entirely accurate by rice men. The crop adjacent to Beaumont was not damaged badly, but other sections report the crop ruined entirely.

The price of rice is advancing, having hiked from one-eight to one-quarter cent per pound, depending on the grade, Boyd said.

The first lot of new crop to reach Beaumont was from a grower at Elton, La. No Jefferson county rice has been sold yet, but Chambers county farmers have sold some to a Houston mill, it was learned here.

No More Wolves In McCulloch County

BRADY, Aug. 26. (AP)—No more does the howl of the wolf and coyote thrill through the night—as far as McCulloch county is concerned.

The last of these predatory animals was trapped more than a year ago. Wolf scalps in McCulloch county of past years have been worth $50—the bounty paid by the local wolf club.

No wolf scalp has been brought to the office of the club here in over twelve months; neither has the presence of a wolf been reported in this county during that time.

Ten years ago when local stockmen organized this wolf club, no farm flock was safe against the night raids of the pests. Ranchmen estimate the depredations to livestock by single wolf at one thousand dollars per year.

Almost 700 scalps have been turned in to the McCulloch Wolf club for bounty since 1922. It has cost the stockmen approximately $20,000 to get rid of this cagey thief, but they have saved $700,000 worth of live stock.

There has been a considerable growth in the turkey, chicken, sheep, and goat industry with the extermination of the killers.

Big Horse Show To Be Held Next Month

McINNEY, Aug. 26. (AP)—The annual horse show, one of the feature events of the Collin County Fair to be held here in September, promises to be the biggest ever held in the southwest. Horses will be entered from distant points. The first night of the show will be devoted to pony division; Collin county-owned horses the second night while the third and fourth nights will be open to horses from everywhere. The winners purse will be the largest in the history of Collin county for such an event.

West Texas Lambs Bring Higher Price

SAN ANGELO, Aug. 6. (AP)—A one-half cent a pound rise in range prices for West Texas feeder lambs was scored in Crockett county when 10,000 head of mixed feeders sold to the Culp Sheep company of Salt Lake City at 3 cents a pound. Further deals, which will bring the total of feeder lambs sold at this price to 20,000, are pending. Many West Texas ranchmen have refused 3 cents a pound for their lambs and are holding for higher prices.

The Culp lambs will be delivered October 1 at Barnhart, and an advance of 50 cents a head has been made. The lambs will weigh from 60 to 70 pounds at the time of delivery.

This is believed to be the first purchase made by the Culp company in Texas. Largest lamb feeding company in America, it has operated mainly in the northwestern and western part of the country in the past.

Prior to the 3 cent sale, representatives of other northern feeding companies had been in the country talking of 2 cent lambs. About 10,000 lambs had been sold at 2½ cents a pound in Crockett county before the sale.

Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Douglas have returned after a vacation trip in Arkansas, Missouri, and Oklahoma. They visited Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Roark at Van Buren, Ark.

HEADS MOOSE

Henry Busch, above, of Detroit, was slated for elevation to the post of supreme dictator of the Loyal Order of Moose at the 44th annual international convention of the organization in Cleveland, O. Busch has been supreme vice dictator for the last year. He succeeds Frederick N. Zihman of Cumberland, Md.

Cotton Growers To Hold Conferences

LUBBOCK, Aug. 26. (AP)—A series of conferences beginning August 29 and continuing through September 10, have been arranged for members of the Texas Cotton Cooperative association in district one, with R. J. Murray, general manager as chief speaker. The conferences will be held consecutively at Lamesa, O'Donnell, Brownfield, Levelland, Littlefield, Post, Plainview, Ralls, Paducah, Vernon, Childress, Memphis, and Wellington, ending here on the last day of the series.

The meetings have been designated "pre-delivery membership conferences."

N. H. Payne, district manager of the Lubbock district, and H. L. Gants, organization director, will also attend and speak.

Last year this district delivered over 102,000 bales of cotton, the largest in the state, to the T. C. C. A. Recently a final distribution of the seasonal pool was made, the area receiving the largest of any of the seven districts.

Not only is the district the largest area, 43 counties, with 33 known as cotton producers, but it has the most branch offices, 16 in all. It is probable there will be several additional offices before the season is well under way.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe G. Tyler and daughter, Mary Ann, have returned after a visit with relatives in Kansas City, St. Joseph, and other points in Missouri.
