Non-Union Miners Run Picket Line

BOKOSHE, Okla., Aug. 18. (P)—A group of seven or eight non-union miners and two women who ran a line of union pickets to carry food to the workers were escorted last night from the Rees-Pittcock coal mine near here by county officers.

The men remained in the mine throughout yesterday while hundreds of union miners picketed the area.
Sheriff Marshal Blaylock of LeFlore county said he had orders from Governor Murray to remain at the mine as long as the picketing lasted and to advise the chief executive of the first sign of violence.

late, Newspapers are printed with matter approximating the length of a novel. Speed is more important than perfection. The Saturday Evening POST is proof-reading five times, but it is a weekly and stories are set in type weeks, or even months in advance of publication. . . . The common cold defies all the marvelous skill of the world's scientists.

Use For Cotton.
The Red Cross, appointed to learn how many persons would need cotton clothing next winter, already has proof that 7,998,000 individuals will be in want. Half a million bales of farm board cotton will be placed at the disposal of the Red Cross. As much as needed will be made into cloth. The Pampa chapter, which already is distributing flour has made requisition for a supply of cloth. Gingham and percale for children will be in most demand. Volunteers must give of their time to make the cloth into garments.

Men About Town.
The above picture, of local individuals who should be recognized without difficulty, is used to illustrate a unique difference between hunters and golfers. Note the broad smile on the face of the golfer—before he starts playing. And note the frowns and intense concentration of the hunters, also before they go into action. Now do a little sleuthing and note the later parallel, except that the hunters will come in smiling (see the birds) and the golfer will come in scowling. If a typical fisherman were pictured, he would show utter complacency both before and after fishing. "Fishing is eminently worthwhile," a Missouri angler once told us, "even if you don't catch a thing."

Ferguson Fallacy.
A typical political fallacy is that of the Ferguson speaker who says that while Sterling would save Gray county a million dollars in road paving cost, Jim Ferguson would relieve taxpayers of the state ad valorem tax forever. Absurd. Sterling could in two years build our roads, but Ferguson in two years would be retired from politics and any legislature could restore the ad valorem tax. The Sterling plan is so much better than Jim's that argument is unnecessary to anyone who will stop to analyze the propositions.

LOSES HIS FORTUNE

SALISBURY, Md., Aug. 18. (P)—Americus Baker, who saved $40,000 from his earnings and real estate deals during his eighty years, today had only $500 left.

"That amount was grabbed by his granddaughter as his one-room shack near Nelsonsia, Va., was destroyed by fire yesterday. An overheated stove, which he had left for a few minutes, was blamed for the fire."

Baker said he had his $40,000 in tobacco cans about the shack. After the fire, the cans were found but all they contained were ashes.

He took off from the airdrome here at 5:06 o'clock this morning (10:06 p. m., Wednesday, C. S. T.) after weeks of waiting for suitable weather conditions and at noon today his headquarters in Zurich received a radio message saying he had smashed his previous altitude mark.
The radio messages were the first ever received from the Stratosphere.

He said:
"We have crossed the Engadine mountains at an altitude of 16,500 meters."

Advice from various observation posts in this vicinity throughout the forenoon indicated that Dr. Piccard had equalled his previous record shortly after his takeoff. He was sighted frequently from Zurich to Sargans and then the balloon took a more southerly course, toward Italy, and was reported from Davos, St. Moritz and other points.

Trouquet. However, it has been converted virtually into a flying gasoline tank.
He said he hoped his round trip across the Atlantic would not require more than 2 1/2 days. Heart's Content, Newfoundland, would be the first landmark in North America Mollison would pass over if he held the course charted.
Radius 3,300 Miles.
All interior furnishings of the plane were sacrificed to gasoline. Mollison sat on a metal stool with his back against a newly installed 46-gallon tank. A tank holding 76 gallons was directly in front of him, just behind the motor. Those with the plane's customary wing tanks brought the total gasoline supply up to 162 gallons, which gave an estimated cruising radius of 3,300 miles.

The ordinary range of such planes is only 400 miles. The cruising speed is 110 miles an hour. Allowing for 20 mile head winds over the route, he hoped to reach Harbor Grace in about 22 hours. The direct distance is 1,900 miles but Mollison's course was a little longer, for over half the way he expected to steer well to the north to avoid the worst winds.
Fred Brownlee of Mogbette was in Pampa yesterday afternoon.

Frank Soodhalter returned last night from a business trip to Dallas.

Taking Office At Work Greeting Notables

HERE AND THERE WITH JIMMY WALKER

The Sports Fan As A Vacationist On Trial

JAMES J. WALKER took his first oath as mayor of what he characterized as "the best city in which to be born, and the best city in which to live" in 1925. . . . The honor came as a climax to his successful career of 15 years as a leader of the democrat in the New York state legislature. . . . He is a prolific worker, and an extremely speedy one, but he never has spent much time tied to his desk. . . . It is said he does most of his work while getting his morning shave.

WALKER raised the ceremony of greeting distinguished visitors to a fine art. . . . His speeches of welcome always have indicated that he was familiar with every detail of the exploits of the famous visitors, but the truth is that he often studied a resume of their history only a few seconds before each ceremony. . . . He has gained a reputation for being habitually late, but he doesn't waste time. . . . His welcomes never have been of the grandiose glad-hand variety, but rather informal and humorous.

THE smiling Jimmy has traveled more extensively than any other high official in this nation, and his personality has won the good will of folk in Europe, in the South and on the Pacific coast as much as it has his own constituents in New York city. . . . He has been one of the most ardent advocates of sports and amusements, sponsoring both boxing and Sunday movie legislation. . . . He is adept at teasing out the first ball to open the baseball season. . . . He skis, likes football and prize fights.

A FAVORITE son of Broadway and Tin Pan Alley, Walker began his career as a song writer. . . . He wrote "After They Gathered the Hay" especially for Jannette Allen, a vaudeville singer, and later married her. . . . In facing Samuel Seabury at the inquiry into his administration Walker didn't lose his sense of humor. . . . Even in this serious moment his flair for wise-cracking continually asserted itself. . . . As did his courage when on trial before Governor Roosevelt.

Extra to Get Break in Filming of "The Miracle"
By ROBBINS COONS.
HOLLYWOOD—More hope for the mob and the promise of a spectacular movie lies in the announcement that Max Reinhardt's famous production, "The Miracle," will be filmed with Loretta Young in the role of the nun played by Lady Diana Manners on the stage.

"The Miracle" is an odd among movie properties because it has been owned by Loretta Young First National for six years, the company delaying production because of litigation which only now has been cleared. In the interim First National, the purchaser, fell under control of Warner Brothers, the use of color on the screen was developed, talking pictures came in, and Loretta Young, then virtually unknown, has grown in years and importance to starring rank.

Warner Brothers hope to bring Reinhardt and his technical crew to Hollywood to help film the production, which in stage form was so large theaters had to be remodelled to present it.

Reinhardt was in Hollywood three or four years ago, conferring with Lillian Gish on plans for a picture he would direct for her. Nothing came of the negotiations. Miss Gish went to the stage, and Reinhardt returned to Germany.

Food—But Not To Eat.
The troupe was sitting around the festive board, had been sitting around it all morning. It was real food on the plates, real food that had to be replenished before each new take.

An ethereal-looking young extra was overheard in an aside to the "guest" on her right: "Gosh, will they never call lunch? If I have to look at food a minute longer, I'll perish!"

Jack Lall carries his prolific writing into pictures—The two birds-with-one-stone act. He came from New York to Hollywood to confer with Charles R. Rogers about two forthcoming screen stories, "I Can't Go Home" and "The Girl Without a Room." Then he'll go back east and write them up—for screen and serial publication simultaneously.

Movie Justice.
There's a supreme force for justice even in the movies. Paul Muni played a criminal path of crime and murder in "Scarface."

Allen Jenkins has a gunman in "Blessed Event" and a gangster in "Three On a Match."

John Wray did some fancy embezzling in "The Mouthpiece" and has villainized in many other movies.

The one truly silent actor in talkies is Johnnie Herman. He's a deaf mute, a newsboy, a protégé of director Mervyn Leroy, who uses him in all his pictures.

Over Million In Norge Contest On Cross Words

According to James A. Sterling, sales promotion manager of Norge Corporation, there are one and one-half million entrants in the Norge Rollator refrigerator cross word puzzle contest.

The local Norge dealers are the Foxworth-Galbraith Lumber company and the Davis Electric company.

"This record entry," said Mr.

Sterling, "shows the cross word puzzle still the strongest of all indoor sports for the entire family. The Norge contest started on July 11 and concludes on August 27, and we have reason to believe that these closing weeks will bring an even heavier registration. Our estimate of the total is based upon reports received from more than 5,000 Norge dealers, located in all sections of the United States."

Something of the popularity of the cross word puzzle is seen as contestants everywhere bring forth the puzzle book and pencil, wrinkle their brows and strive to find the fitting word. As stated by Mr. Sterling, "This contest is simplicity itself. Anyone who wishes to compete merely calls at the Norge dealer's showroom to receive the cross word puzzle book. This contains 15 complete puzzles, each of which mentions one or more Norge features. Clues to these features are provided in the descriptive text appearing below the puzzles. The contestant's name is registered so that there will be no possible discrepancy in the final result. And he or she goes on, figures the answers, writes a brief essay and returns the puzzle book when completed. Of course, the machinery necessary to judge the answers is set up to make it possible to handle the returns quickly and accurately. The final awards are to be announced immediately after the decisions are arrived at.

Many Pampa residents have entered the contest.

Cochet, Unbeaten In Spirit, Arrives To Defeat Vines

NEW YORK, Aug. 16. (AP)—Henri Cochet, who considers himself still the world's greatest tennis player despite his defeat by Ellsworth Vines, Jr., in Davis Cup play, arrived today on the liner Champlain to seek revenge for that defeat in the United States nationals Sept. 3-10. Accompanied by his youthful compatriot, Marcel Bernard, Cochet started at once for Boston to begin practice for the national doubles at Brookline next week. After that he will return to New York to practice for the national singles at Forest Hills where he hopes to lift Vines' title.

Escaped Convict Shot To Death

FORT WORTH, Aug. 16. (AP)—A street car robber, shot to death early today by Patrolman Charles Carmichael, was identified as a four times ex-convict, with a reward hanging over his head.

Finger prints and photographs found in the police department's Bertillon bureau identified the robber as Alfred Howe, 36, alias Alfred Howell, alias Alfred Young, alias Alfred Benson, alias James V. Reed. His criminal record includes two penitentiary terms at Folsom prison and one at San Quentin, California, and one at Leavenworth, and jail sentences at San Francisco and Denver.

A reward of $50 had been offered for his capture in connection with holding of the State theater in Martinez, Calif., on September 28, 1930, in which a robber bound and gagged an attendant after forcing him to open the safe.

Texas Rail Project Held Not Feasible

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16. (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission today denied the application of the Del Rio and Northern Railway company for permission to build 132 miles of railroad from Sonora to Quemado, Texas.

The road would have operated through Val Verde, Edwards, Sutton, Kinney, and Maverick counties.

The commission said that the record did not indicate an urgent need or "any great public convenience to be served to justify at this time the construction of the proposed line of railroad."

Del Rio and Eagle Pass and the districts surrounding them, the commission said, are served satisfactorily by the Southern Pacific. It also was not satisfactorily shown, the commission said, that the promoters would be able to finance the proposed construction, present financial conditions affording no justification for the prices at which the applicant indicates its securities can be sold.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 16. (AP)—The Newport Casino Tennis tournament was minus several favorite players today as it swung into the quarter-final stage.

Two Millions Damage Done In Enid Flood

ENID, Okla., Aug. 16. (AP)—Relief work in northwestern Oklahoma was pressed today as floods receded, leaving four known dead, several missing, hundreds homeless, rail and highway traffic disrupted and damage estimated as high as $2,000,000.

At Cherokee, which bore the brunt of the deluge, two were dead and more than 300 were homeless. Bert Dillon, 55, father of W. A. Dillon, Alfalfa county attorney, and Mrs. Sam Cellan, 60, were drowned. The bodies of Mrs. Maggie McFarland and an unidentified boy who drowned in the rampaging Boggy creek near Enid were not recovered.

Surging overflows from the Skeleton river north of Guthrie drove 75 families from rural homes and interrupted highway and rail traffic. The U. S. highway No. 77 bridge across the river was partly washed out and the Santa Fe railroad's bridge was under water.

About 75 Enid business houses were flooded and damage to paving was heavy. However, city officials advised Ralph Von Thurn, St. Louis Red Cross representative, Enid would need no outside aid and he hurried on to Cherokee.

At Alva, the principal damage was to livestock, many head in lowlands being drowned.

Cherokee was without rail service. Highways rapidly were being opened or detours established.

Hoover To Rest Before Conference

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16. (AP)—President Hoover went back to work today considering, among other things, the progress of his plans for the meeting next week which he hopes will put the active aid of many prominent men behind the drive for better business.

He was refreshed, tanned and taxed by his three-day fishing trip on Chesapeake bay, which ended yesterday. White House officials thought that after a few hours of work today the executive would go on to his Rapidan, Virginia, camp in the mountains to finish his longest vacation since last year.

The president found that during his absence aides had gone ahead gathering data to be presented to the business leaders when they gather here August 26. Already acceptances to join the conference have been received from numerous of the 159 financial and industrial representatives invited.

STALE GAS SHORT-CHANGES YOU

ONLY fresh GAS

GIVES YOU ALL THE POWER YOU PAY FOR

How much power's in a dollar's worth of gas? Maybe a dollar's worth. Maybe 80 cents worth. Maybe less. It all depends upon the FRESHNESS of the gasoline.

For as gas gets staler, it gets weaker. It loses volatile "easy starting" elements. And—due to a chemical change in gasoline—the staler it gets—the less power it gives! It gets stickier, too—and more apt to knock.

Gulf, after long study of gas deterioration, has now perfected a system that assures you of getting FRESH gas—packed with power. How? By refining out of its fine gasoline certain complex elements that have been found to cause rapid deterioration.

And by making sure that you get this FRESH gas in a hurry—giving it no time to get stale.

Gulf has geared its distribution system to high speed—has placed its huge refineries in many sections of the country, so that every Gulf station is close to a source of FRESH gas. A huge fleet of speedy trucks rushes FRESH-MADE gas to Gulf pumps every day.

Get all the power you pay for. Get FRESH gas—delivered FRESH—Gulf. And have a faster, cleaner, quieter motor.

get THAT GOOD GULF GASOLINE—it's fresh

Kay Francis Is Superb In Newest Of Screen Dramas

Kay Francis, undoubtedly the screen's most compelling brunette star, has never been more lovely nor more fascinating than in "Street of Women," her new Warner Bros. production which opened yesterday at the LaNora theater.

This drama of modern skyscrapers, the men who conceive and build them and the women who inspire them is an excellent vehicle for Miss Francis's beauty and dramatic ability. No one portrays better than she the young woman of 1932, intelligent and attractive, who makes a career for herself, only to find that success is only half of life, and the lesser half without love.

As Natalie Upton, the celebrated model who, against all her inclinations, finds herself the unwelcome side of a domestic triangle because of her love for Lawrence Baldwin, Miss Francis is in her element from start to finish. She gives a richly varied and deeply human portrayal, supported by a cast of players that is one of the ablest we have seen in any picture this season.

Allen Dinklage, as Larry, and Roland Young, as Link Gibson—the two men who are equally devoted to Natalie—are not only brilliant actors but splendid foils for each other. It is a pleasure to watch them, in their scenes with Miss Francis.

Marjorie Gateson as Lois Baldwin, the socially ambitious wife of Lawrence Baldwin, plays a disagreeable role with sureness and authenticity that wins for an uncoventional wife just the proper amount of sympathy and understanding.

Natalie's hot-headed brother, whose misunderstanding of his sister's devotion to Baldwin plays havoc with her lives for a while, Vincent plays the part of an impetuous over-idealistic boy with keen understanding.

In the role of Doris Baldwin, devoted equally to her father and mother and the only bond between them, Gloria Stuart stamps herself as one of the promising young actresses of the present season. This is almost her first picture experience; she brings to her performance an ease and poise that augurs well for her future.

The polemic human drama of "Street of Women" moves engrossingly against a brilliant background of New York's mansions, penthouses, "vacation" and night clubs, under the deft and able direction of Archie Mayo.

This picture will undoubtedly receive even greater following for the alluring star.

Sister Mary's Kitchen

By SISTER MARY, N.E.A. Service Writer.

Do you know your vegetables? It is amazing to realize that there are more than fifty varieties of vegetables generally cultivated and marketed. Out of these fifty, it should be easy to find plenty to please the family taste. While these vegetables are not always obtainable at this season of the year, the choice is particularly wide.

Perhaps one of the best ways to learn vegetables is to go to market and whenever you see something with which you aren't familiar ask the market man what it is, and how to cook or use it. He'll tell you every time. Then take some home and follow his instructions.

Leek and sweet fennel are two vegetables seldom used by the average home-maker. Leeks belong to the onion family but the more delicately flavored. They are used for seasoning in soups and salads, or the lower white portion is trimmed and cooked and served with butter or white sauce.

Forensic fennel or Finocchio is used extensively in Italy as a salad, but is particularly palatable when served boiled with a cream sauce. Its flavor is somewhat like celery, but it has a sweet taste and delicate odor. Try it with a fish menu.

The topeppo is a new vegetable rapidly gaining popularity. It is a cross between a sweet green pepper and a tomato. Of a waxy yellow color, it resembles the tomato in shape and the pepper in texture and flavor. The flesh is thicker than that of the pepper, but of the same crisp firmness. It's used raw in salads, or stuffed and baked, just as its ancestors are used.

Kohlrabi is a turnip-rooted member of the cabbage tribe. However, it is more delicately flavored than turnips and is of a finer grain and smoother texture. The thick outer covering is removed before cooking. Serve as you would turnips.

Broccoli belongs to the cauliflower

Tomorrow's Menu
BREAKFAST: Baked apples, cereal, cream, scrambled eggs, with fried dried beef, reheat-ed, rolls, marmalade, milk, coffee.

family and enjoys a long season. It should be used as soon as possible after cutting, for it loses delicate flavor if allowed to wilt. If the stalks are thick (as is often the case at this season of the year) it's a good plan to split them before cooking. Cook uncovered in water to cover. Hollandaise sauce is delicious with broccoli, although for sim-

COLLECTION OF DELINQUENT TAXES TO BE STARTED SOON

Unless more delinquent city taxes are paid before Sept. 1, several suits will be filed, commissioners agreed during a session yesterday afternoon. City Attorney Arthur Teed and Tax Collector J. H. Blythe were instructed to go ahead with preparations for filing suits for collection of delinquent taxes.

Several weeks ago the commission agreed to a split payment plan of delinquent payments and for the first week many took advantage of the offer. During the last two weeks few have paid the first installment and as a result collections will have to be started.

"It will be to the advantage of every property owner in the city to help collect delinquent taxes since the more paid in to the city the less the tax rate for next year will be," Mr. Blythe said this morning.

Under the new plan, a property owner whose taxes are delinquent may pay 25 per cent of the amount now and split payments on the balance and receive a full receipt when the last portion, plus penalty and interest, is paid. The offer will be open until Sept. 1.

The commission authorized the city manager to secure information on swimming pools and present the data at a later meeting. Several bills were passed for payment during the session.

Only One Man Is Taken To Prison

Only one prisoner left yesterday when Frank Crane, representing "Uncle Bud" Russell, called for prisoners for the penitentiary. Kenneth Jones, sentenced for two years for car theft, was the only inmate eligible for transfer to Huntsville. There were four Amarillo prisoners in the bus when it arrived in Pampa.

There are still 12 inmates in the county jail, but they are being held over for the 31st district grand jury which convenes next month. Jones will serve two two-year sentences, which will run concurrently.

The last time the "chain wagon" was here, five men made the trip.

B. F. Hartley of Dallas was a Pampa visitor yesterday.

COVER FABRICS ADD CHARM

Cotton fringe dresses up the chair covers.

By MARGERY TAYLOR (Copyright, 1932, By The McCall Company, For Pampa News) This is the summer of the trimmed slip cover—with gaudy and costly materials giving way to plain and inexpensive fabrics.

Artistic Talent Is Evidenced In Exhibit of Pictures by Local Folk

The fact that a great deal of artistic talent exists in Pampa was evidenced by the art exhibit held at the Presbyterian church annex Tuesday afternoon and evening by Mrs. John V. Andrews and her pupils.

An highly valued scene is the sunset on the sea which represents nearly three years' work. The picture was shown hanging over the piano.

Mrs. Andrews' pictures also included an autumn scene, which was displayed in the last fair here, and her latest picture, a scene near Canadian.

A woodland scene painted by Mary Maud Wright received much favorable comment, as did a large panel picture entitled "Snowballs" by Anne Cluff.

Phyllis Smith's first picture, a water scene, displayed much talent. Outstanding indeed was a ship picture by Mrs. Jack Mason, and other pictures of interest were of rocks near the sea painted by Dorothy Burton, and the same study by Edna Pruitt.

NATIONAL LEAGUE RACE BECOMING STEADILY WARMER

THREE TEAMS ARE BOUNCED AT LEAD NOW

CUBS NEED 19 INNINGS TO SUBDUDE BOSTON BRAVES

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, Jr., Associated Press Sports Writer

It is hard to imagine a pennant race any warmer than the current National League affair, in which the last place team is only 15 games behind the first and three teams are battling for the lead within a space of 2 1/2 games, but there are various signs and portents that it will become even more heated before the season ends.

Despite a record of 15 defeats in their last 17 games, many of them chargeable to left handed pitching, the Pittsburgh Pirates were only two games behind the league-leading Chicago Cubs today with the charge-lagging Brooklyn Dodgers another half game back and Pittsburgh was threatening to stage a comeback any moment while the danger signals were flying for Chicago.

It took just about everything the Cubs had yesterday to turn back the Boston Braves, now holders of sixth place. They waged the longest battle of the major league campaign—19 innings before Chicago finally won 3 to 2. Bud Tinning and Fred Frankhouse waged the major part of the struggle and the latter finally lost out when a single, a hit batsman and an intentional pass crowded the corners and Young Frank Demaree connected with one of the first offerings of Hub Pruett, successor to Frankhouse, for a long fly that brought in Bill Herman with the winning run.

Although Brooklyn closed the gap between second and third in a half game with a 4-1 victory over Pittsburgh, the Cubs showed plenty of fight. A three run rally off Bill Swift in the eighth won the game but Pittsburgh came back as soon as it was quelled and drove Freddy Heimach to cover. Van Mungo checked the threat with the bases full.

In the third National league game, Bill Terry of the New York Giants outplayed a homer, two doubles and two singles while Jim Mooney was holding Cincinnati to four hits and the Giants won easily, 8 to 0. Rain halted the Phillies and Cardinals.

Perhaps to emphasize the difference between the American league and the National, the National, New York, leaders of the junior circuit, won their tenth straight game, defeating Detroit 8 to 3, on a strong combination of steady pitching by George Piggas and effective hitting by Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig. The Babe made three hits, including the 34th homer, while Lou batted in three runners.

The triumph increased the Yankees lead to 11 1/2 games as the Philadelphia Athletics regained second place from Cleveland with a 11 to 0 victory over the Indians. Lefty Grove's four-hit hurling brought him his 18th victory and his fourth shutout.

Washington, in fourth place but far out of the picture, turned back the Chicago White Sox, 4 to 2, with a seventh inning rally that netted three runs off Ted Lyons. A six-hit mound performance by Paul Andrews and three blows apiece by Dale Alexander and Smead Jolley netted the Boston Red Sox a 7 to 3 triumph over the St. Louis Browns in the remaining contest.

BRUSHING UP ON SPORTS By LAUFER

ROB ROY WINS BUT WELCH IS GOOD MATMAN

KELLY AND BELCHER TAKE OTHER BOUTS

An improved Roy Welch of Berger, weight 165 pounds, gave Rob Roy, "mayor" of Goodnight as he was introduced by the one and only Dutch Mantell, one of the biggest bustles of his career. This match was anything but a friendly affair. Welch won the first fall in 17 minutes with an arm stretch followed by an arm struggle. Roy won the other two, one in eight minutes with an inside drop toe hold and the other in seven minutes with a series of Sonnenbergs.

Barber Kelley opened the first card in Pampa for some time with a win over J. C. Lewis in six minutes. The wrestling followed up a terrific body scissor with a slam which sent Lewis' shoulders to the mat.

Referee James Gotcher stole the second match when he disqualified Sammy George for using his fist and strangling and gave the match to Howard Belcher of Amarillo. The bout opened fast with George sliding in a few punches on the side but none of them escaped the eye of Gotcher, who started warning him in the first minute. Belcher started out with a couple of combination splits and toe-holds that had George doing plenty of squirming.

George, fast and slippery, also worked on Belcher's toes with effect and needn't have used his punches. After warning George for 10 minutes, big Gotcher piked him off Belcher, deposited him in the corner, and gave the match to the Amarillo boy to the huge delight of the crowd. It was the first disqualification here in years.

The main event started out like a lightweight affair. Welch got the opening hold, a nice head scissor, but Roy, who had the ropes, was not Rob stayed in the hold nearly two minutes with Welch bouncing back the top of his head on the mat whenever he tried to break the hold by falling over his opponent. Roy came out with a toe hold and Welch broke it by slugging. Then the roughness started. Both fists, feet, and what-have-you followed in quick succession. Roy got two drop toes but Welch went to the ropes. Welch then got Roy into plenty of trouble with an arm stretch but the new king refused to go to the ropes and finally broke the hold. Welch then started working on the sore left arm and finally won the fall after three arm struggles and an arm stretch.

Roy opened the second fall fast and got a punishing arm bar which he held for three minutes. Welch couldn't break it so he went to the ropes. He then slipped across a right to the jaw and a left to the body which gave Roy "see red." The Pampan from Goodnight then went after the Bergerite with everything he had and finally slipped across an inside drop toe hold with a split for added leverage and Welch couldn't find the ropes so patted the mat.

Action galore followed in the deciding fall. Welch opened up by rushing Roy into a corner where he had previously placed a towel across the top ropes. He proceeded to wrap the towel around Roy's neck and drag him into the center of the ring. Before Referee Howard Belcher could break the hold, Roy was almost choked.

However, Roy soon recovered and it was too bad for the referee. Roy slammed Welch around the ring with a few headlocks, followed up by a couple of Sonnenbergs. He kept up the procedure for more than a minute before falling on the badly battered Welch in seven minutes.

Young Ed Walsh, who is having a good season pitching for Oakland in the Pacific Coast league, is still the property of the Chicago White Sox.

Three golfers tied for first place at the 40 hole tournament at the Country club.

SHOOTING MEET OPENS
 VANDALLA, O., Aug. 18. (AP)—Preliminary firing was begun today in the 33rd annual Grand American Championship and Handicap Trap shooting tournament.

During the next nine days, 850 to 900 of the nation's best shotgun marksmen will participate in a long program. The main event will get under way Saturday with the second annual Open Championship at 200 targets. Clyde Mitchell, a Milwaukee professional, who won last year, will defend his title.

Scandinavian in Santa Barbara, Cal., have organized a soccer team.

Dark Horses To Test Favorites

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 18. (AP)—Third round matches in the men's singles held the spotlight today in the tenth annual National Public Park Tennis tournament here. Sixteen players remained in this division and among them were several favorites and "dark horses."

Rain disrupted yesterday's program and so slowed up the schedule that tournament officials shifted part of today's play from Shawnee park to a nearby boat club's courts.

In addition to the men's singles, other matches today were in women's singles and men doubles.

WILL REMOVE MEXICANS
 MEXICO CITY, Aug. 18. (AP)—The Mexican gunboat Progress, now doing coast guard duty on the Mexican west coast, has been ordered to proceed to San Pedro, Calif., to pick up six hundred Mexican repatriates and return them to Mexico City.

Sheldon Cunningham was the third golfer to make a hole-in-one on the Silverton, Ore., course.

invites me does not have to make a written agreement of it."

Coen also criticized the club's action last year in forcing the men to play two rounds in one day, which "the players felt was to reduce the expenses of the remaining entrants to a minimum."

He offers a good word for the west. "If hospitality is overdone in the west," Coen writes, "it at least makes one feel at home. The real issue at Seabright was the relationship set up between the club and the players."

That presents the players' side of the argument very well, it seems to me. But it leaves me wondering who are the "certain players who have to be put up in hotels where they can do no harm."

McManus' Turn

One way to become ill is to take over the job of managing the Boston Red Sox. Bill Carrigan wilted under the strain. Heinie Wagner worried himself into a hospital, Sauro Collins, after a year and a half in the same business, became so ill he could not go to the ball park.

The other day a physician was summoned to the club house to minister to Marty McManus, who succeeded Shauno, Marty was a well man when he took over the task about a month ago, but has been near nervous collapse for the last two weeks.

Speaking Right Up
 Wilbur Cohen takes pen in hand to explain the position of the 13 players who left the Seabright tennis tournament flat on its back. Writing in an issue of American Lawn Tennis, Wilbur says:

"We feel that the Seabright club looks and talks down to the players. They admit this when they say that the ideal practice of having players as the guests of families in their homes cannot be continued owing to abuses perpetrated by these players."

"To me this is on the borderline of insulting and prompts me to put the question to the club, 'Why do you ask these men back if they do not act as gentlemen?'"

"We are all condemned for the actions of a few. One of the officials remarked to me that certain players have to be put up in hotels where they can do no harm. What an odd situation!"

"Players invited to Seabright receive a folder itemizing a long list of incidents which the club mentions only to avoid any misunderstanding."

Apart Expenses
 "Now, amateurs, and there are some playing the American tournaments, resent this folder. I have never accepted incidental expenses and never will, but the club which

AMERICANS MASTER STROKES BUT BRITISH USE STAMINA

Better Condition Noticeable In Women's Matches—Invaders Harder Pressed Today.

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 18. (AP)—Americans' stars, for all their mastery of stroke, might learn a valuable lesson from a pair of British girls competing in the Women's National tournament at West Side Tennis club.

Mrs. Elsie Goldsack Pittman and her teammate, Joan Ridley, had reached the quarter-finals today largely because of their theory that physical condition is half of a tennis battle. They go in for condition in a big way, see to it that they are sound of wind and limb and let the pure mechanics of the game take care of themselves.

As though to prove their point, both foreigners went out yesterday and won over the longer route, in each instance leaving their American opponents virtually exhausted. Mrs. Pittman defeated Virginia Hill, leary of Philadelphia, 6-1, 3-6, 6-1, and Miss Ridley repulsed Alice Marble, the San Francisco star, 3-6, 6-4, 6-3.

Prospects were that both British entries would need all their stamina to survive today's quarter-final matches. Mrs. Pittman, generally considered the better player of the two, was down to match strokes with blond Mary Grief of Kansas City while Miss Ridley faced Mrs. Mar'orie Morrell Painter, seeded No. 3 on the Americans list.

Miss Grief played brilliant tennis yesterday in sugging Josephine Cruickshank, 6-1, 6-4.

Other pairings today put Helen Jacobs against Mrs. John Van Ryn and Mrs. Lawrence Harper against Carolyn Babcock, Los Angeles.

Lehtinen To Race Ralph Hill Again

CHICAGO, Aug. 18. (AP)—Lauri Lehtinen and Ralph Hill meet again tonight.

The winged peregrines of the cinder paths, whose battle in the 5,000 meters race prompted one of the loudest gallery storms of the recent Olympic games, were matched over the same distance again tonight under the arc lights of Soldier Field in the feature event of a post Olympic exhibition involving track and field stars from 15 nations.

Lehtinen won the 5,000-meter meter title for Finland but forced the officials into a long huddle before they decided that he didn't purposefully cross in front of Hill, University of Oregon star, twice in the final sprint. Both were credited with the same time of 14:30 for the event, however, and both extended their training activities for a final test tonight.

Babe Didrikson, the "Texasornado," and Stella Walsh, competing for Poland, were entered in the women's events. Officials of the meet, sponsored by the Chicago Daily News, hoped to match Miss Didrikson and Miss Walsh in the 100-meter race but the Texas girl decided to confine her activities tonight to the field events. She won the javelin throw and the 80-meter hurdles championship at the Olympic games while Miss Walsh was crowned Olympic champion in the 100-meters event.

TEXAS GAMES ARE STOPPED BY RAINFALL

BEAUMONT WILL NAME DATE FOR DELAYED CONTEST

By BILL PARKER.
 Associated Press Sports Writer.

There was no change in the second half Texas league pennant standing today. The final of the three crucial games between Beaumont and Dallas was washed out last night after Beaumont had won the first and Dallas the second. The exporters remained one full game ahead of Dallas.

The postponed game from last night will have to be played at Beaumont September 2, 3 or 4 since the exporters have paid their last visit to Steer stadium this season. Beaumont has the privilege of naming the date. That four games series will determine the second half championship.

After dropping two straight to Houston, Tyler switched the score yesterday to nose out the Buffaloes, 3 to 2. An estimated crowd of 2,500 saw Charlie Biggs allow Houston thirteen hits but still pitch well enough to win. Gilbert's home run with a runner on in the seventh proved the winning hit for Tyler.

Leung opened a three-game series against Galveston by winning the first, 10 to 2. The Cannibals pounded Carroll for fifteen hits while while Wiltze held the Buccaneers to six scattered singles.

Kowalk of San Antonio pitched one of his finest games of the season to shut out Fort Worth, 7 to 3. He held the Cats to six hits while his mates socked Whitworth, Parker and Appleton for sixteen.

The Faithful Cheat

SYNOPSIS: When Mark Merriman returns home to find his wife, Sondra, has been told to be loyal to him...

Chapter 34
A PACK OF LIES
It was terrible to Mark to be forced to stay in one room while outside the world hummed by a world which every night took Sondra from him.

With an effort he dragged himself up and across the room to the dressing table. He had certainly looked a scarecrow...

Whatever she is doing around about my wife—if there are any—they're a pack of lies. Mark said bitterly.

Women were wonderful! If they cared for a man there was nothing they would not do for him. From his mother's side at last he was able to admit to himself that he had no fault with his choice of a wife.

A quarter past three. It must be a very long lunch he thought.
