DENY RIGHT TO CONTEST BLACK SEAT

Last Drink for a Dying Friend

Heedlessly exposing himself to Japanese gunfire that felled his mount, this Chinese cavalryman pauses during a North China advance to give his dying horse a last drink of water. It's a moment of rare compassion. The soldier grieves for his dying mount, for the horse is a faithful, highly useful animal.

FDR May Tell Plans For Special Session In Speech Tomorrow

FOUR CHARGED IN COMPLAINTS

Complaints against three men and a woman were drawn today by County Attorney Joe Gordon at the request of Earl S. Carter, inspector for the Texas Liquor Control board. Inspector Carter, with Deputy Supervisor Garrett Hawkins of Amarillo and six inspectors from Dallas, Waxahachie and Amarillo, caused the citations to be made after raids Saturday night on two Pampa night clubs and a downtown cafe. The complaints charge F. R. Wallard, of the Eagle Buffet, with operating an open saloon, and J. L. Arendal, of the same address, with illegal possession of liquor as an agent and employe of Wallard; R. F. Warhurst, of the Shadowland night club with illegal possession and Lucille Billington, with illegal sale of whiskey. The officers reported confiscation of a quantity of liquor at the Eagle Buffet and at the Shadowland club. County Attorney Gordon said the four defendants probably would be haled into county court next week to answer to the accusations.

CHINA SELLS LIBERTY BONDS TO PAY FOR WAR

SHANGHAI, Oct. 11 (AP)—More than half of China's $150,000,000 "liberty loan bonds" to help finance the undeclared war with Japan had been subscribed today. Many of the bonds were paid for with materials and products of military value, including food, shoes, clothing and medicines. One dealer in skins bought bonds with a shipment of hides. Chinese postmen throughout the country are making a house-to-house canvass for sales.

'Why I Go To Church'

R. C. Wilson, county auditor, who is a member of the First Christian church and has belonged to that denomination for 20 years, said: "I go to church because I find there a sense of restfulness that I can find nowhere else. Also, because there is a sense of duty involved. "As one prepares against physical illness, and takes precaution to guard against sickness, isn't it just as logical to prepare against the troubles—and they are sure to come—that present-day living brings, which are especially brought about by the mental stress of today? "In the past five years, I know it has been the custom to adopt a cynical attitude toward life, to be happy-go-lucky. Yet, we all need an anchor, something to believe in when our mental and spiritual burdens become unbearable."

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11 (AP)—President Roosevelt may disclose in his "fireside chat" tomorrow night whether he will call a special session of Congress to enact farm control and wage-hour legislation. Most observers have predicted such a session in mid-November, but the President has withheld a decision until completing a canvass of the farm situation with Secretary Wallace. The principal doubt that Mr. Roosevelt would ask Congress to reassemble before January disappeared last Friday in the opinion of many Washingtonians when the federal crop report estimated the second biggest cotton harvest in the nation's history. Estimates for other crops today were expected to launch the special session prospects. There was no direct word, however, that Congress will be the subject of the President's talk tomorrow. The speech will be broadcast over nationwide radio hookups from 9:30 to 10 p. m. Eastern Standard Time. Speculation arose over the possibility the President might amplify his discussion of the international situation, to which he devoted a major speech in Chicago last Tuesday. Those who have followed the President's recent remarks believe the only thing which might avert a special session would be word that the Senate and House agriculture committees would not be ready with legislation by November.

COUNTY SCHOOL FUND ENRICHED BY $5,303.78

Gray county school coffers were enriched by $5,303.78 today as county Attorney Joe Gordon announced receipt of two checks for $2,651.89 each from the Cal Shelton estate, owner of Gray county school lands in Gaines county. The money comprises principal and interest due on lands sold by the county many years ago. Receipt of the checks, constituting payment in full for the Shelton estate land, came following word sent by County Attorney Gordon that suit was to be instituted to bring foreclosure. Interest amounted to $1,429.28 and principal totaled $3,874.50.

ALLRED'S SON, 7, BAGS 15 DOVES IN ONE DAY

AUSTIN, Oct. 11 (AP)—Jim Boy, 7-year old son of Governor and Mrs. James V. Allred, has graduated successfully from the air gun to shot gun grade. Hunting with his father over the week-end, Jim bagged 15 doves, the legal limit. It was the first time he had tested his skill against the winged targets. The Governor's bag: Three birds.

Special Train To Port Arthur Assured

TICKETS SOLD THIS MORNING TO GRID FANS

A special train carrying about 100 Pampa football fans, the Harvester football squad and coaches, and a 50-piece high school band will leave from the Santa Fe station at 6 o'clock Thursday evening for Port Arthur where the Harvesters play football Friday night. The train was assured this morning after an intensive ticket selling campaign conducted by team members, band members, Radio Station KPND and the Pampa Daily News. Dick Roberts, traveling freight and passenger agent for the Santa Fe, was here from Amarillo this morning and said that 10 or 12 coaches would be ready to take fans on their trip of more than 1,500 miles for $9.65 each, traveling and sleeping expenses. Meals and admission to the game will be other expenses excepting for those desiring to see Tulsa and Rice play Saturday afternoon in Houston where a stop will be made en route home. The plan calls for leaving Pampa at 6 o'clock Thursday night with stops at Temple for breakfast and probably at Houston for dinner, arriving in Port Arthur about 3:30 p. m. The train will leave Houston after midnight, arriving at Houston in the early morning. Fans will be able to see the Rice-Tulsa game or fish or anything they desire. Time of leaving Houston has not been set but it may be about midnight with arrival in Pampa Sunday evening. Admission tickets will be available at the Santa Fe station ticket office. Trippers will be required to take their own bedding, the coaches not being pullmans but tourist cars with folding seats for beds.

TRAIN KILLS SOONER YOUTH

ARDMORE, Okla., Oct. 11 (AP)—An apparent 20-mile ride on a step of a train's passenger coach step ended in death for Perry M. Griffin, 25-year-old Oklahoma City University student, who fell under a wheel of the car as the train slowed to halt here. Matt Alexander, a policeman, who was standing on the station platform as the train pulled in yesterday, said he noticed a man standing on the steps of one of the coaches about the middle of the train. Griffin was one of many Oklahoma fans who were returning from Saturday's Oklahoma-Texas football game at Dallas. "The door of the coach was closed and the man was hanging onto the handrail," Alexander said. "When the train had almost stopped, the man fell from the steps and directly beneath the train with his head toward the far rail." Small said he believed the youth probably stepped off the train at Marietta, Okla., 20 miles south of here, and had waited too long before attempting to board again. "He may have found the doors locked and decided to ride on the steps until he could get inside the coach when the train stopped here," said Alexander. "The youth's hat and coat were found in one of the coaches."

REBS SHELL MADRID ON SEVERAL FRONTS

MADRID, Oct. 11 (AP)—One of the heaviest artillery battles heard on the Madrid fronts in months turned into a general shelling of Madrid itself today. The artillery battle began about midnight with the government's extensive shelling of insurgent gun positions south of the city. In the upper Aragon front of northeast Spain yesterday insurgents launched an extensive attack on Casbas and Sordas, while in Asturias, on the northwest Biscayan front, insurgents dropped 150 bombs on Cangas de Onis, destroying one block of houses. (Dispatches from Hendaye, on the Franco-Spanish frontier, said insurgents occupied Cangas de Onis, finding that the retreating government troops had left much of the mountain village in ruins.) Big Publicity Drive To Precede Jobless Census Next Month

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11 (AP)—One of the biggest publicity campaigns ever undertaken will precede the government's census of America's unemployed next month. Frank R. Wilson, director of information at the national unemployment census office, said it would be comparable in scope to the campaigns organized to put across the NRA and Liberty Loan sales during the World War. The drive, which will include a fireside talk by President Roosevelt, will be designed to get every person in the country who is wholly or partially out of work to fill out a census card and put it in a mail box. Postmen will distribute the cards to the nation's 31,000,000 families on November 16 and 17. The deadline for returning them is midnight, November 20. The publicity campaign, Wilson said, will be based on the theory that "unemployment is a deficit on the balance sheet of everybody" and that all citizens, therefore, will benefit in obtaining an accurate survey. To carry on the drive then the census office is counting on the cooperation of the mayors of 12,000 cities, 700 radio stations which will be asked to make a total of 14,700 spot announcements, 12,000 weekly newspapers, hundreds of daily newspapers and thousands of civic leaders. In the making today were plans to have ministers talk about the count from their pulpits and luncheon speakers discuss it at club meetings. Key figures in the drive will be postmasters who will have direct supervision of distributing the cards in every city and town and along every rural mail route in the country.

SCHOOL FUND'S TAX SHARE HIT IN SENATE BILL

AUSTIN, Oct. 11 (AP)—The Senate plowed deeper into its economy program today when members voted, 14 to 11, to admit introduction of a bill limiting the available school fund's share of occupation taxes to one-fourth. Senator Clint Small of Amarillo, the author, specified the remaining three-fourths of such taxes should go to the general fund to reduce the deficit. The bill as introduced would become effective upon enactment but Small said he would amend the effective date to Sept. 1, 1938. He charged improper allocation of occupation levies, of which the school fund currently receives one-half from oil and one-third from cigarettes, unjustly penalized general revenue. A point of order that the measure was not within Governor James V. Allred's session call for raising new revenue was overruled by Senator H. Grady Woodruff of Decatur, presiding in the absence of Gov. Walter P. Woodfill. His ruling was sustained by members when Senator Gordon Burns of Huntsville appealed. Thus the upper legislative chamber, which last week forced introduction of a measure reconsidering departmental appropriations made last spring, drove another peg in its program diametrically opposed to the governor's recommendations. Governor Allred's opinion of the widening difference between house and senate remained unknown. He told press correspondents he "had no statement of any kind nor answers to any questions you have." Small said he would change the effective date of his bill after opponents held it would impair the school fund's ability to meet the $22 scholastic apportionment for the current year, although he expressed the opinion revenue would be far in excess of anticipations and more than pay the apportionment.

LABOR SPOKESMAN HITS WAGE AND HOUR BILL

DENVER, Oct. 11 (AP)—A labor spokesman's pointed denunciation of the Roosevelt administration's wage-hour bill coincided today with the long-awaited showdown on American Federation of Labor proposals to oust rebel CIO unions for "insurrection." Matthew Woll, A. F. of L. vice president and chairman of the federation convention's resolutions committee, issued a statement predicting the organization "will never again voluntarily submit itself or the workers in general to the whims and bureaucratic decisions and findings of any federal board." Wage and hour legislation, to be satisfactory to labor, he said, must fix minimum pay and maximum working hours in the law itself, eliminating any possibility of those standards being set by a bureau or commission. The move to expel from the A. F. of L. the ten CIO unions, headed by John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers of America, was to come before the convention with the report of Woll's resolutions committee.

500 DOGS AND OWNERS AT QUANAH FOR HUNT

QUANAH, Oct. 11 (AP)—Huntsmen members of the Texas-Oklahoma Wolf Hunters association gathered with their dogs here today for the third annual meeting of the group. Officials said registration would proceed today, and the first bench shows begin. For the first cast, Tuesday morning at dawn, they estimated a looting of 500 dogs.

EXPLOSIVES REMOVED FROM CHINESE HARBOR

CHEFOO, China, Oct. 11 (AP)—Upon the representations of American Consul Stuart Allen, the Chinese military authorities who last week prepared to dynamite the breakerwater to prevent the landing of Japanese troops have removed the mines and explosives from the harbor protection. Realizing the Japanese could land on many nearby beaches even if the breakerwater was blown up, the Chinese authorities fortified the city with machine gun nests, trenches and barbed wire barriers. ELIZABETHTOWN, N. Y., Oct. 11 (AP)—Residents of this little Adirondack mountain town prepared today for John Montague's day in court. As husky Essex County District Attorney Thomas W. McDonald put the finishing touches on the case by which he hopes to send "mysterious Monty" golfing pal of Hollywood notables, to jail for a seven-year-old robbery, villagers prepared for a summertime business boom. Meantime, no indication of the defense planned by attorneys for the man who admitted that he is Laverne Moore, of Syracuse, N. Y., and who disappeared after the $700 holdup of a roadhouse near Jay, N. Y., in 1930, was forthcoming.

ATTORNEY TO ADDRESS C-C TUESDAY NOON

The tax issue in regard to the oil and gas industry will be discussed by Chas. H. Keffer of Amarillo at the monthly meeting of the chamber of commerce tomorrow noon in the basement of First Methodist church. Tickets will be 50 cents and reservations should be made in advance by calling 384. Mr. Keffer has spent considerable time in Austin and is familiar with all of the tax bills proposed to raise government revenue. He will show where the proposed tax of 46 per cent on the oil and gas industry will affect every merchant in Pampa and the Panhandle. Merchants have a tendency to say, "How am I interested in the oil and gas industry taxes?" Mr. Keffer will point how business is affected should the oil industry be further penalized. President James Collins has issued an urgent call to all business men of Pampa, and oilmen, landowners and royalty owners, to attend the luncheon tomorrow. The program is being arranged by E. J. Tunigan, jr., and the oil and gas committee of the chamber of commerce.

CHINESE PRESS CENSOR LIBERAL TO AMERICANS

SHANGHAI, Oct. 11 (AP)—Hollington K. Tong, American educated Chinese newspaperman high in the confidence of China's military and civilian leaders, resumed his duties today as his nation's chief press censor. After a grave illness, Tong again watched the tremendous flow abroad of news of the Sino-Japanese war. He pledged liberalized treatment of dispatches which, in some instances until now, have been sharply censored. Imbued by his American journalistic training this friendly dictator is introducing startling new methods in the annals of Chinese press censorship. Tong informed the Associated Press that he finds it unnecessary to interfere to any great extent in what American correspondents write. "If it is true or a responsible authority says it is true, my motto is to pass it," is the way Tong summarizes his creed. The national government is not attempting to propagandize the world in China's behalf. "The folks speak for themselves. We are willing that an eager world know what is happening in China."

CCC APPLICANTS TO BE GIVEN TRANSPORTATION

Gray county applicants for the Civilian Conservation Corps will be provided transportation to Amarillo, where they are to report tomorrow. Mrs. Willie Bains, county welfare worker, said this morning. The applicants were to report at Memphis, but the district ORC office changed this to Amarillo. The county is furnishing a truck to take the boys over, and their transportation is assured, whether tomorrow's weather be clear or rainy. Gray county will send 30, and possibly more, applicants. The youths are to report at the court-house for the trip. The truck will leave at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning.

'MYSTERIOUS MONTY' ON TRIAL IN NEW JERSEY

ELIZABETHTOWN, N. Y., Oct. 11 (AP)—Residents of this little Adirondack mountain town prepared today for John Montague's day in court. As husky Essex County District Attorney Thomas W. McDonald put the finishing touches on the case by which he hopes to send "mysterious Monty" golfing pal of Hollywood notables, to jail for a seven-year-old robbery, villagers prepared for a summertime business boom. Meantime, no indication of the defense planned by attorneys for the man who admitted that he is Laverne Moore, of Syracuse, N. Y., and who disappeared after the $700 holdup of a roadhouse near Jay, N. Y., in 1930, was forthcoming.

Bisett Dies

ED W. BISETT Pictured above is Edward W. Bisett who died in a local hospital Saturday morning. He had been superintendent of production of the Skelly Oil company here for seven years and was one of the most popular oilmen in the Panhandle. The body was sent to Bradford, Pa., yesterday morning. Friends of Mr. Bisett will attend Requiem high mass at Holy Souls church here at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning, the hour funeral services will be conducted at his home church in Bradford, Pa. The Rev. Father Wondery, pastor, will be in charge.

CONVENTION TO OPEN TUESDAY

Physicians from 27 Panhandle counties will gather in Pampa tomorrow, opening day of the Panhandle District Medical Society convention which will last through Wednesday. Between 100 and 150 doctors are expected to attend. Host to the visitors will be the Gray-Wheeler Medical Society. Dr. H. L. Wilder of Pampa is president of the society and will head the welcoming committee. Plans have been made to hold meetings in the club rooms in the city hall. A banquet at the Schneider hotel, dance and golf tournament will be side-lighted. Registration will be at 9 o'clock in the lobby of the city hall. Wives attending will register at the Schneider hotel at the same hour. A varied and interesting program has been arranged for the women while their husbands are in session. The doctors have divided their program into general medicine, surgery and obstetrics, and eye, ear, nose and throat discussions. Some of the doctors on the program tomorrow will be Dr. Charles L. Martin of Dallas who will speak on X-ray and Radium Therapy; Dr. Paul C. Williams of Dallas who will discuss the spine; and physicians from Pampa, Amarillo, Plainview and Fort Worth. Surgery will be the principal subject of discussion at the Wednesday sessions.

WOMAN INJURED WHEN AUTOS COLLIDE SUNDAY

Mrs. G. H. Harris suffered several fractured ribs when the car in which she was riding was in collision with another machine west of Pampa yesterday. She was taken to Worley hospital where she was resting comfortably. There were four women in the car in which Mrs. Harris was riding. The other car was operated by a man, alone. Details of the accident have not been learned by officers.

LINDBERGH ARRIVE AT MUNICH AFTER FLIGHT

MUNICH, Oct. 11 (AP)—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh arrived here today at 11:55 a. m. (5:55 a. m. EST) from Frankfurt on the Main where they spent last night after a flight from England. They were welcomed by Baron von Koepfelle, of the German air ministry, and Major Truman Smith, the military attaché of the United States embassy.

LEVITT LOSES PETITIONS IN HIGHEST COURT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11 (AP)—The Supreme Court today rejected two petitions challenging Justice Hugo L. Black's eligibility to hold a seat on the high bench. The court denied motions by Albert Levitt, former federal judge in the Virgin Islands, and Patrick Henry Kelly, Boston attorney, who asked the court to determine Black's legal qualifications for the post.

LEVITT LOSES PETITIONS IN HIGHEST COURT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11 (AP)—The Supreme Court refused today to permit Albert Levitt, former federal judge in the Virgin Islands, and Patrick Henry Kelly, Boston attorney, to contest Justice Hugo L. Black's right to a seat on the bench. As far as the number of cases acted on was concerned, this was the biggest day of the court year. Most of the petitions that accumulated during the summer recess were affected. In attacking Black's eligibility, Levitt contended the retirement of Justice Willis Van Devanter, whom the new jurist succeeded, did not create a vacancy. Levitt asserted Van Devanter would have to resign and sever his connection with the court completely before there would be a vacancy. Retired justices now are subject to duty in lower courts. He also argued that Black was barred constitutionally because he was a member of the Senate which increased the "emoluments" of justices by permitting them to retire at full pay of $20,000 a year when they became 70 and had served 10 years. Kelly contended the retirement act, under which Van Devanter withdrew, was unconstitutional because Congress had no authority to relieve justices of their Supreme Court duties unless they actually resigned. Both Levitt and Kelly presented their motions to the court last Monday a few minutes after Black had taken his seat. Since then, the new jurist has kept in seclusion. There was speculation as to whether he had talked with President Roosevelt after telling the nation he had joined the Ku Klux Klan but had resigned. The Klan was not mentioned in the petitions before the court. Wagner Act Case Details of the cases involving administration laws: 1. The national labor relations board appealed in an attempt to conduct a hearing under the Wagner act on a complaint that the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, Ltd., had engaged in unfair labor practices at its Fore River, Mass., plant. The first circuit court of appeals enjoined.

WINDSOR AND DUCHESS VIEW GERMAN PLANTS

BERLIN, Oct. 11 (AP)—The Duke of Windsor, plunging speedily into a study of German social conditions, went on his first tour of inspection today soon after he and the Duchess arrived from Paris. The Duchess, fatigued by the journey, remained in their apartment which is located directly above rooms Adolf Hitler used to occupy before he became chancellor. One of the earliest callers was British Diplomat George Arthur D. Ogilvie-Forbes. When the Duke tried to enter an automobile, the crowd broke through police lines cheering wildly. He went to a stock plant, where he inspected a training school for young workers, sanitary and safety device arrangements, and was serenaded by the workers' orchestra. He returned early in the afternoon.

I SAW . . .

A man who said he would not go to church next Sunday because he wasn't going to be a hypocrite one Sunday out of the year, and Dick Hughes answered him, "Well, you might as well go—you're a hypocrite the other 51 Sundays, anyway." Every day this week from 10 to 10:15 o'clock movement over radio station KPND. This morning Ivy Duncan, chairman of the general committee, made the address. Tomorrow Mayor W. A. Bratton and W. A. Frasier will discuss, "What the Churches Mean to Pampa."

MONTE ROSENWALD WEDS SATURDAY EVENING IN AMARILLO

FORMER PAMPA MAN MARRIES AMARILLO GIRL

In an impressive candlelight ceremony Saturday evening at Amarillo Miss Marian Stewart, daughter of Mrs. Lola Stewart of that city, became the bride of Monte Rosenwald formerly of Pampa but now of Amarillo.

The nuptial vows were spoken in the parlor of the Park Street Methodist church where Dr. C. C. Grimes, pastor, officiated in the presence of a few relatives and friends of the couple.

An attractive arrangement of white asters, greenery and tall white tapers in candelabra furnished the background for the ceremony.

The pre-nuptial music included a violin number by Miss Helen Strite and a vocal solo by Melvin Hansen. They were accompanied by Miss Carolyn Pistor who later played the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin as the processional. As the vows were spoken, "Ave Maria" was played softly on the violin by Miss Strite.

The bride who was given in marriage by her uncle, Claude Walker of Kearney, Missouri, wore a becoming floor length dress of coronation blue velvet with a matching turban. Her bouquet was of Johanna Hill roses and she wore a filigree and turquoise bracelet that belonged to the bridegroom's grandmother.

Miss Maurine Stewart, sister of the bride, who was maid of honor, wore a floor length dress of rust velvet and a gold colored turban. She carried a bouquet of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums.

Theo Rosenwald of Albuquerque, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man.

Following a week's trip the couple will be at home at the Otis apartments in Amarillo.

Mrs. Rosenwald attended school in Newton, Kas., and for the past five years has been secretary to the sales manager of the Great West Mills.

She is principal violinist for the high school orchestra and a member of several popular radio groups including the Girls in Blue, the Modern Choir and the Sophistates.

Mrs. Rosenwald who is the son of Mrs. H. E. Rosenwald of Albuquerque, attended school in Albuquerque and at the New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell, N. M.

He was active in little theater work. He is now an announcer for radio station KGNC and he was formerly production manager of the Pampa station, KPND.

Horace Mann Band Parents Club to Meet This Evening

Special business will be conducted at the meeting of the Horace Mann band parents club which will meet this evening at 7:15 in the school auditorium.

Mrs. J. E. Honaker is chairman of this organization and all parents interested in band work are urged to attend the meeting.

CORRECTION. In the Garden club flower show article which appeared yesterday in the NEWS an error was made in the instructions given by Mr. Edward Damon for planting daffodils.

It was said in the article that daffodils may be planted 18 inches deep in the ground. Instead of the bulbs being planted 18 inches deep the bed where the bulbs are to be planted should be cultivated 18 inches deep and the bulbs should be covered three times the depth of the bulb.

Two Units of P-TA To Meet Tuesday

Both the Horace Mann and B. M. Baker Parent-Teacher associations will have meetings at their schools tomorrow afternoon.

The Horace Mann study club will meet at 3 o'clock with Mrs. Jack Starkey, study club leader, in charge. Mrs. Starkey urges that everyone who is interested in this work be present at this first meeting.

Two speakers on the program are Miss Josephine Thomas, who will talk on "Possibilities of the Study Club," and Mrs. C. E. Cary will discuss "How Parents Can Set the Pace."

B. M. BAKER P-T-A WILL HAVE REGULAR MEETING. B. M. Baker P-T-A will meet in the school auditorium for an executive meeting at 2 o'clock and a regular meeting of the unit at 2:30.

A scripture reading by Miss Crislie Turner will open the program. This will be followed with a singing to be led by Miss Sears and a fire prevention demonstration by the pupils from each room.

Family Cooperation for Health and Safety will be discussed by Mrs. Baird and the "History of Founders' Day" is to be given by Mrs. Claude Lard, who will have charge of the candle lighting ceremony.

The president of the band club and all committee chairmen are asked to be present at the board meeting preceding the program.

Committee chairmen at the school are Mrs. B. C. Dawson, program; Roy Holt, publicity; J. D. Smith, hospitality; E. H. Eads, finance; H. E. Symmond, membership; H. M. Proper, publication; J. H. Wise, welfare; Roy Van Winkle, summer round-up; E. L. Morris, menu; Holt, study group. Mrs. Smith will be assisted by the executive board.

Girl Scouts Study Flowers, Trees
Girl Scouts of the Sam Houston troop met in regular session Friday afternoon at the Scout House to practice signaling and work on plant study.

After the meeting the girls took a drive over town to identify flowers and trees along the streets. They had been cut down and each girl read the age of the tree by the ring on it. Several new leaves were added to the Scouts' collections.

On Saturday afternoon the girls went in a body to visit the flower show at the First Presbyterian church.

Signaling tests will be passed at the next meeting and maps of an observation tour will be made.

WEDNESDAY
Officers of the Dorcas class of the First Baptist church will meet at 2 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Dove Campbell, 1008 Alcock street.

Local Women's class of the First Christian church will meet in the church at 2:30.

Sam Houston school assembly will be held at 9 o'clock under the direction of Mrs. John Bradley who will be assisted by Mrs. Peres Humphreys and Miss Cleo Snodgrass.

First Christian Church Members Plan Rally Day

There were 353 present at the First Christian Sunday school yesterday and the past week's offering was $367.22.

Mr. Evert recommends milk and leafy vegetables (cabbage, lettuce, spinach) and fish and seafood for those who want to improve the condition of their hair. Italian girls owe liberal use of olive oil credit for their gorgeous, healthy tresses, he thinks.

The dietetic scientist advises every woman who has to worry about her weight to get a calorie chart from her doctor or the local board of health, and to watch it carefully when planning her menus. It is possible to have all you want to eat and NOT gain weight. The trick lies in eating quantities of low calorie and small portions of high calorie ones.

Naturally, adequate exercise, mental as well as physical, and sufficient sleep make for clear, sparkling, shiny hair and lovely skin, too. Loss of sleep over a continued period of weeks will do as much to make your complexion unattractive as over-indulgence in the wrong kind of food.

Pleasant Hour Plans Halloween Party

SKELLYTOWN, Oct. 11.—Mrs. A. McElrath entertained the Pleasant Hour Sewing club at her home in Pampa Friday afternoon.

Mrs. L. Roberts, president, conducted the business meeting, at which time plans were made for a Halloween party at the home of Mrs. G. F. Morris October 22. Masks are to be worn by the members. A grab-bag sale was also planned for that time. Members are asked to make the gifts and bring a quarter to buy one.

Mrs. Morris was elected secretary to fill the vacancy left by Mrs. Berry Barnes. Mrs. Joe Wedge was given a handkerchief shower in memory of her birthday. The hostess was presented a gift by the club members.

A contest was played with Mrs. W. W. Hughes winning the award. Two visitors, Mrs. Floyd Humphries, of Borger and Mrs. R. J. McGinnis of Abilene, were welcomed.

Ice cream soda and wafers were served to the following: Mmes. Roberts, Pat Morris, O. L. Satterfield, Humphries, McGinnis, Wedge, Arthur Johnson, Dallas Bowsher, Morris, M. E. Brannon, Hughes, and the hostess.

Laketon Club Has Meeting Recently

At the meeting of the Laketon Home Demonstration club which was held in the home of Mrs. Arthur Corse Thursday afternoon, the council representative, Mrs. Clyde Gray, gave a report on the last council meeting.

A shower was given for Mrs. Chess Terry in the social hour and a pot-pied plant was sent by the club to Mrs. Charles Talley who is in the hospital at Pampa.

Visitors who were present were Mmes. Sam Arnett, Ennis Jones, Jay Evans, E. C. Carter, Floyd McLaughlin, Addie Wood, W. H. Holland, and Casey of San Antonio.

Members attending were Mmes. Lawton Hoffer, Grady Bailey, Mart Cunningham, J. C. Terry, Clyde Gray, E. H. Tooley, and the hostess. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Clyde Gray on October 21.

Representative to State Convention Tells About Trip

Mrs. H. H. Keahey, Gray county county home demonstration club representative to the state convention at San Antonio, told the Bell Home Demonstration club about her trip at a meeting of the organization in the home of Mrs. T. L. Skibinski Wednesday afternoon.

It was decided at the convention that a Texas complete 4-H pantry would be displayed and that the owner of the pantry will also be sent along to tell about her pantry. Mrs. Keahey explained.

In the business session, officers who will assume their duties January 1 were elected. They are Mmes. H. H. Keahey, president; C. McNight, vice-president; L. C. O'Neal, secretary-treasurer; Miss Margaret Skibinski, council representative; Mmes. Laddie Kotara, alternate council representative, and C. McNight, reporter.

After the business session, a social hour was conducted in which eight members and two visitors, Mrs. S. C. Kalka and Miss Mary Bunch, played 4 Refreshments of coffee, cinnamon rolls and cherry nut cake were served to those present.

Mrs. Elbert Keahey will be hostess to the club on October 20 when Mrs. Julia E. Kelley, home demonstration agent, will give a demonstration on bread making.

Seventh Anniversary Observed by P-TA

SUNRAY, Oct. 11.—The Parent-Teacher association agreed to sponsor a show at the Sunray theater, planned a party for October 21, and elected Miss Kessler assistant secretary, at an interesting meeting Friday afternoon in the school auditorium.

The program included music by a 22-piece juvenile rhythm band, who were uniformed in white trousers and navy caps and caps, and directed by Master Ben Nix.

Mrs. V. A. Howard gave a history of the Sunray chapter, now seven years old, and of which Mrs. Howard and Mrs. Earl Sweatt were the only charter members present at this meeting.

Dr. Brown of Dumas was the principal speaker. The program was concluded with a pageant.

At noon, preceding the meeting, the juvenile band, directed by Mrs. H. A. Parks, was parading Main street, carrying a P-T-A banner.

Dumas citizens have sent $60 to be given to Sunray citizens who are in need of help as a result of the recent fire.

ARE YOU ONLY A THREE-QUARTER WIFE?

There are certain things a woman has to put up with and be a good sport. Men, because they are men, can never understand a three-quarter wife—a wife who is all love and kindness three weeks in a month and a hell cat the rest of the time.

No matter how your back aches—no matter how loudly your nerves scream—don't take it out on your husband.

Smile, Darn YOU

Look at the birdie! Snap-click! Open-mouthed, vacant expressions, round-eyed, wondering expressions, quizzical eye-brow expressions and foggy, bewildered expressions all caught and preserved with a slight thumb's pressure.

Everything there—sleepy, weary, exhausted, bored, gloomy or dreamy looks; everything but one "honest-to-gosh" sparkling, peppy, wide-awake smile! If one does happen to run across a smile, it looks sort of sickly and washed-out all by itself. Is it the hard lenses, the late hours or camera fright?

Why can't Senior High school students smile in front of a camera? It is a phobia? It's strange that a little piece of metal can make a strong person's knees turn to water and his hands to ice. Perhaps it's all based on vanity. Has one noticed how nervous the Harvesters become when their pictures are taken?

Try this year to overcome camera fright and show all those "toothsome toothies" in a big wide smile for the benefit of a bigger and better annual, a peppier-looking P.H.S.

Make Good Now

Students of Pampa High school don't stop when their high school days are over. That is, the most of them don't. Pampa is well represented in major schools of Texas and several other states. The ex-graduates are making their place in the best of the four years they spent in high school. How many of the students this year are making the best of their opportunities?

Have you seen Pete Dr. totin' his little pig skin? It seems that Brad Hayes resented the little quip in last week's column concerning his secret admirers. A would-be girlfriend states that he dislikes being twitted about his "Clark-Gabellish" appearance and his all too numerous girl friends. The writers of this column deeply apologize, sir, and beg your humble pardon.

Mr. Sone is an excellent airplane driver. Just ask the students of the fifth hour geometry class.

Two Little Harvester reporters were thrilled pink by an interview with R. B. Fisher, superintendent of schools. The adage on his desk, "Reputation is a bubble and when a man tries to blow it himself, it bursts," impressed the little reporters with the fact that it was more truth than poetry.

C. T. HUNKAPILLAR

C.T. Hunkapillar Likes Teachers

An enterprising interviewer walked boldly down the street with quaking knees and a smiling face. He made a little turn to the right and marched into the Pampa drug store. The owner, C. T. Hunkapillar, stood at the change counter idly eyeing the appetizing array of chewing gum packages.

Mr. Hunkapillar smiled at the green, young reporter and the reporter instantly felt much better, despite the fact that the man facing him was president of the school board.

After much tongue wetting, mutterings and stammerings, the reporter finally managed to mumble: "I wanna get a story about you for our school paper." That—all in one breath.

"Me?" laughed Mr. Hunkapillar. "I'm just getting old and bald-headed and all my teeth are falling out!"

Reporter, attempting to be serious: "Sir, do you have any criticisms of P.H.S. you would care to have published?"

Mr. Hunkapillar: "The only thing that's wrong with Pampa High school is the 'onery kids'!" Seeing the reporter stiffen in righteous indignation, Mr. Hunkapillar settled down to business. "The kids don't realize the seriousness of the school. They fail to realize that the school is for them and them alone—not for the parents or teachers! The students should get out of school all that is possible. They should particularly study mathematics and science. They have to study English," he added thoughtfully. "If the students of Senior High get all they can out of high school now, they'll have no trouble making any college in the country."

Very, very pleased with himself, as well as Mr. Hunkapillar, the reporter asked: "What is your opinion of the new 12 year grade system, sir?"

Mr. Hunkapillar enthusiastically replied: "It's the greatest thing in the world!"

Reporter: "This is very tactful manner."

Mr. Hunkapillar: "It keeps the kids in school longer—keeps them out of mischief, you know." Seriously again: "No, really, I believe this plan teaches the students more. I heartily approve of it."

The reporter, venturing into unknown territory inquired, "What is your opinion of the teachers of Pampa Senior High school, Mr. Hunkapillar?" Mr. Hunkapillar cheerfully answered: "They are a wonderful bunch of teachers—very good-looking."

The reporter politely but rather weakly agreed on this, and withdrew with his face registering surprise at the simplicity and ease of his first interview.

"Oh, don't put my picture in!" shouted Mr. Hunkapillar, but the reporter knew that Mr. Hunkapillar wouldn't mind if his picture was used in the paper.

Mr. Hunkapillar has lived in Pampa 20 years, and has been on the school board 15 years. He is one of the foremost citizens of Pampa.

P. H. S. To See Films

Three new motion picture films will be presented to the student body November 1 through the courtesy of the Culberson-Smalling Chevrolet company. One reel portrays a trip through an automobile factory, and another is a picture on safety. To top this is a hot sizzling picture of baseball, "On the Level."

"CAN'T SOMEONE HAVE PITTY?" SIGHS THE WEE OFFICE PHONE

Think what a telephone could tell if it could only talk! The poor abused little telephone in the school office could reveal many many exciting tales that have been whispered through its little black mouth. The poor thing is so mistreated that at times it could get up and walk away for good. It so happened that after one hard day it finally couldn't stand it any longer and told this pitiful story.

"Well another miserable day has passed. If the students would only learn how to use me. They come and hold long conversations when people are waiting to use me for business purposes. It isn't just the students either, it's the faculty as well. Today a careless gum chewing girl came into the office and banged

MODERN SWING WILL BE SWUNG BY P. H. S. BAND

Symphonic Orchestra Organized by Savage

The past week has seen the advent of many improvements in the P.H.S. band. Director P. W. Savage has organized a 30 piece symphonic orchestra which he hopes to present in assembly soon. He is inviting anyone with experience on a violin to join the orchestra.

Mr. Savage was given permission by the school board to buy 17 new uniforms bringing the total number of uniforms up to 60. The uniforms will be in about six weeks from now.

The band received 16 new swing numbers under the heading of American Swings. Among these numbers are: Tiger Rag, Darktown Struttin' the Ball, China Boy, Goofoo and others which everyone knows as among their favorites. Mr. Savage hopes to show everyone that his band can out swing the Capitol Hill band, so swing, Mr. Savage!

Dance Planned By Ex-Students

At a meeting last Monday, a banquet-dance was decided upon by the directors of Senior High school's ex-student association. The date was set for November 10. Tickets to the banquet-dance are one dollar, but 50 cents will admit one person to the dance. Tickets are on sale at the Pampa, Harvester and Fatherde drugs.

Last Monday the association's president, Miss Clara Brown, selected eight chairmen and their committees.

Present and past class presidents will make up the receiving line. About 250 people are expected to attend the social. The orchestra has not been named, but another directors' meeting is scheduled for tonight.

"We want the Harvesters to know that the ex-students association is still kicking for them," Miss Lillian Mullinax, chairman of the school paper and poster publicity committee, said.

Scholarship Given To Ex-Student of Senior High School

Another ex-student of Pampa High school makes a hit. This boy is none other than Bob Kilgore, the high stepping drum major of 1935-36 and part of 1937. He has received a scholarship to Hardin-Simmons university, where he is playing in the Hardin-Simmons cowboy band.

The part work in Senior High school was not confined to the band alone, of which he was a member for four years, but to the annual staff and other doings of the school. In the state band meet held last spring he won first rating in the state high school baton twirling contest and in the national he won second rating.

His sidekick is his twin brother, Richard Kilgore, who was in the champion one-act play cast and also on the golf and basketball team. Boys, all Pampa High school is proud of you.

Memories of Past Recalled by Sone and Fisher

Principal L. B. Sone and Superintendent R. B. Fisher have been practicing on an activity of their past. Together they taught a geometry class last Wednesday while B. G. Gordon was away. Mr. Sone was called out of the room about the middle of the class. Mr. Fisher continued the lesson. Mr. Fisher gave the class several tips and highlights on the art of working geometry. He seems to be a very popular teacher.

Home Ec Meeting

Miss Arlene Pattison and the Home Ec girls met at the La Nora theater Tuesday evening and saw "Vogues of 1938." They went as a group and the price was reduced to twenty-six cents.

Home Ec Meeting

Boy! What a job, this trying to figure out the mood of the school. Boy! Comes to school singing "Good Morning" and right behind her Albertson is warbling "Good-night, my Love." There's two persons with opposite moods. "I'm Bubbling Over" drifts from Miss Branom's room and mingles with "solitude" from Mrs. Wagner's room. After the first hour, Claude Lard is whistling "Zing, Went the Strings of My Heart." Bob, who is with him, is humming "I can't Lose That Longing for You." At the other end of the hall "Canadian Capers" is heard and "South Sea Island Magic" is giving it a close race. How can a fellow tell what kind of a mood his classmates are in when they differ so much? The songs from the Sunday musical show are the general order for the feeling. About the time you get to feeling fair someone starts to groan the lyrics of "Gloomy Sunday." The only rejoinder one can make about the mood of the school is "No Regrets."

Veterans of Foreign Wars to Give School Historic Shrine

"The shrine of the constitution is one of the most inspiring patriotic displays in the history of our nation." Pampa High school is to be presented one of these shrines by the Veterans of Foreign Wars as a part of their Americanization program it was decided in a meeting last Tuesday night.

The shrine is made of cast iron and stands six feet and three inches high. The reproduction of the Constitution and the Declaration of Independence is 29 inches by 24 inches. It has sheetrock back and is protected by cellulose sheet.

Made and sold by the United States Sesquicentennial commission, "the shrine will stand forever as permanent reminder that the Constitution is a dramatic presentation of the charter of our liberties. It is the supreme acknowledgment of a united loving people preparing to honor the immortal founders of our country." Time alone can not destroy this life-like, life-size reproduction of these two great documents of our country, the Declaration of Independence which covers one page of the shrine and the Constitution which covers four. The sixth page is taken up with pictures and signatures of the men who signed, wrote and fought for the Constitution.

Tumblers Give Fine Exhibition

The tumbling squad, which gave very fine exhibitions at the Capital Hill and Panhandle games, performed again for the Greenville Lions. They may go to Lubbock for the game there.

The performance for the Greenville game had the same stunts with variations. Among those were the triple roll, triple shuttle, belly pitch, straddle pitch and the teeter.

Boys who performed were: Earl McKinney, Pete Pendergrass, Clinton Stone, Douglas Keyser, Howard Buckingham, Neil McCullough, Buford Pendergrass, Lloyd Blackwell, Joe McCoy, Tabor Alford, Freeman Sullivan, Kelton Miller, Jim Callahan, Douglas Stark, Dewitt Henry, Bob Randolph, Bob Ward, Richard Kilgore, Arvo Goddard, Jack Johnson.

Great Contrast in Moods of Students Indicated by Songs

Boy! What a job, this trying to figure out the mood of the school. Boy! Comes to school singing "Good Morning" and right behind her Albertson is warbling "Good-night, my Love." P. H. S. Graduate Receives Honor At O. C. W.

Virginia Roberts, former Senior High student and daughter of Mrs. Lou Roberts, Senior school registrar, is attending Oklahoma college for women at Chickasha, Oklahoma, where she is a sophomore this year. Miss Roberts was in the Honor Roll assembly which is held each fall for those who made the honor roll in the spring. She was one of the nine out of 350 freshmen who was shown recognition at the fall assembly. Miss Roberts lacked 52 points getting the loving cup for the highest grades. It was won by a senior, Miss Roberts is majoring in chemistry.

STUDENTS WILL CHOOSE ANNUAL STAFF TUESDAY

Seven Candidates To Be Group Members

Petitions have been in circulation the past few days to have the names of over 30 students placed on the ballot tomorrow as candidates for the annual staff. Signatures of 50 classmates are required to make a candidate eligible. Petitions were required to be turned in to the office today.

Elections will be held during the home-room period tomorrow. Sophomores will select two members to the staff, juniors two and seniors three. If necessary, a run-off will be held Wednesday. Sophomores will vote only for sophomores juniors for juniors and seniors for seniors, as the staff is composed of class representatives.

Students interested in being on the annual staff met in the library with L. L. Sone last Thursday to discuss the duties and responsibilities as well as the honor involved before filing their petitions as candidates. The sale of annuals will be begun as soon as the staff is chosen. The first project to help finance the annual will be the all-school play directed by Kenneth Carman.

Harvesters Go To Port Arthur

The Harvesters will meet Port Arthur next Friday evening, October 15. The entire squad (composed of 31 boys) accompanied by coaches Odus Mitchell and J. C. Prejean and Superintendent R. B. Fisher will leave Pampa Thursday noon, October 14. Arrangements have been made for transit via Burlington railway in a special pullman coach.

Coach Mitchell expects one of the hardest battles of the season as Port Arthur has one of the best teams in the state. However, the coach announces that he is fully prepared for a victory with this starting line-up:

Ends—McMahon, Reynolds Tackles—Brown, Coshov Guards—Matthews, Nelson Backs—Graham, Karr, Smith and Heiskell or Williams Center—Harding

Band members are attempting to get a group large enough to charter a special train to Port Arthur. Santa Fe officials have offered a rate of $9.65 for the trip if 200 will go.

The Harvesters will return to Pampa Sunday afternoon, October 17.

Harvesters Tame Greenville Lions

The Green and Gold scored again Friday night, this time against the Greenville Lions from down-state. The Harvesters outclassed, outplayed, or what have you, the Lions from start to finish. The highly praised Lions were not what they were cracked up to be and as a result were just "cubs" to the over-ready Harvesters, who took their breaks and took advantage of them.

The Harvesters received the opening kickoff and did not lose the ball till Smith had run it over for a touchdown and Matthews failed to kick the extra point. In the second quarter Smith again carried the ball across for the second touchdown, again Matthews failed to kick the extra point. Late in the same quarter Graham made a sweeping end-run for the third counter for Pampa. Matthews kicked the extra point. The third quarter was scoreless. In the fourth quarter, Harvester fullback, ran 31 yards for the longest run of the game. He then ran the ball over in the next four plays. Matthews again failed to tally the extra point. The score, Pampa 25, Greenville 0.

The game was very fast as both exceptional clean one with Pampa being penalized once for substitute talking, and Greenville twice for off-sides.

The games were very fast as both teams were in there to win that "pigskin parade." However, leading the parade and keeping the Lions in their "cages" was none other than J. P. Matthews, Harvester guard, who played more in the Greenville backfield than they did. Preceding the game the stands were vacated because of a nice shower of rain which later made the game or rather the ball very slippery but Arthur Harding played the kind of ball that is seldom seen from a center in muddy weather. Fumbles were numerous for both sides. The Harvesters made six and the Lions made three.

Next week the home team goes to Port Arthur to battle the Yellow Jackets of that City. Good luck, boys!

SCHOOLS CHECKED

Superintendent R. B. Fisher and C. P. Buckler visited the local ward schools Wednesday to check on a possible remedy for the crowded condition. A tour of Junior and Senior High will be made later.

TRIGG, NEW DIRECTOR

Herman Trigg, new band director of Woodrow Wilson, is taking the place of Eugene Seastrand who is now at Houston. Mr. Trigg was formerly of Brownville, Texas.

J.R. WILLIAMS

Who's Who On the Squad

Junior Williams is the fair-haired boy who routed the Panhandle Panthers Friday night. His blocking and ball carrying ability was seen for the first time by Pampa fans. Junior is one of the best blockers, passers and punters, and the hardest running back on the Harvester squad. He is 17 years of age, 5 feet 10 inches tall and weighs 145 pounds. But in that mere 145 pounds there is dynamite and opponents say they had rather tackle a kicking mule than this blond-headed, gray-eyed thing on cleats.

Williams' hobby is dressing into football togs and sallying forth to chase the porkhide around the field. He is a good natured boy and a friend to everyone who knows him. He is noted by the fair sex of Senior High school by that flashing smile and dimpled chin. Incidentally, unlike all other Harvesters, Williams prefers blonds, brunettes, or any other color "skirt". In other words, it really doesn't make much difference to him, if "it" wears a skirt.

Williams lettered one year with Junior High and played one year with the Guerrillas before crashing the Harvester ranks in '36. This is his second year with the Harvesters. Although football is his hobby, Williams excels in all sports. He lettered in track last year when he ran the 440 yard relay in the regional meet at Canyon.

When asked what he planned to do after graduation, he replied, "I intend to work a year and then go to Curtis Wright Technical school in California and show those grease-monkeys how to make an airplane." There is no doubt that he will make good if he works as hard as he does at school.

Senior Pictures

Senior pictures for the annual are now being made at Wirsching studio. Students in senior home room 205 are having their pictures made this week. Below is a complete schedule for senior pictures:

- Oct. 8-16, Home room 205. Oct. 17-23, Home room 308. Oct. 24-30, Home room 307. Oct. 31-Nov. 6, Home room 301. Nov. 7-13, Home room 296. Nov. 14-20, Home room 314.

No charge will be made of the student if he has his picture made during the week assigned, according to special agreement made between the annual and Mr. Wirsching. If the senior has his picture made for the annual at any other date, a charge of $1 will be made. Names of students assigned for each week will be sent to the studio.

Chairman Elected

R. B. Fisher attended a meeting of the class A football association in Amarillo Saturday at 10:30 in the Amarillo hotel. Those present were representatives from Lubbock, Plainview, Borger, Pampa and Amarillo. Mr. Fisher is the secretary of the organization. G. E. Davis of Plainview, who was chairman, resigned and a new chairman was elected.

SENIOR HIGH STUDENT SPENDS SUMMER VACATIONING IN EUROPE

The story below was written by Anne Buckler concerning some of the interesting things she noticed while traveling on shipboard to Europe this summer. Anne and her family left New York City Saturday noon on the United States Steamship, Britannic. They landed in Southampton a week and a day later—Sunday at three o'clock. Most of all of the crew were English. The Bucklers returned on the Georgia.

The boat on which we traveled was just like a huge hotel, with about twenty-two hundred people and a working crew of one thousand. When I first got on, everything was awfully exciting because all the passengers were receiving flowers and telegrams and telling their friends "good-bye." When we "pulled out," things started happening! There were all sorts of games to play on deck, such as deck tennis and shuffle board. There was a gymnasium and each person had a deck chair and a blanket if he wanted it. There were rooms in which to read and write and there was a card room, a play room, a lounge, a barber shop a beauty parlor, a knick-knack shop and many others. They also had an elevator which we used to go from one floor to another. They had bridge, horse-racing, ping-pong and any kind of card game, picture shows and dancing every evening. The dining room was very large, but because the boat was so full, they had to set the table twice. We ate all the time! We had breakfast at seven-thirty or nine o'clock; soup at eleven o'clock; lunch at twelve or one-thirty o'clock; tea at four o'clock and dinner at six-thirty or eight o'clock. Everyone on the ship always dressed formal for dinner. There were three different classes aboard the ship. They were: Cabin class, which was the nicest—tourist class, which came next—and then third class. Each class had everything it needed and tourist and third class did not come over to the cabin class at all. Cabin class was in the center of the ship and the other two classes were on each end. We were doing something all the time and things never grew tiresome!

STUDENT COUNCIL PLANS BIG PARTY FOR HALLOWE'EN

Executive Committee Consists of All Chairmen

The committees and chairmen of the student council were appointed Monday night, October 4, at the home of Ernest Caba by the temporary executive committee. After the committees and chairmen had been appointed, plans and projects for the year were discussed. Those present at this meeting were: Topsy Reynolds, Noble Lane, Katherine Barrett, Hazel Claxton and Elmer Watkins.

Plans for a big all-school party were made at the meeting held Tuesday, October 5, during the third period. The social committee is in charge, but the other committees will lend any assistance necessary. The big party is to be on October 22, in the red brick building. The student council promises everyone a swell time and urges all P. H. S. pupils to attend. "Make it a night you will remember all the school year!" they say.

The student council is selling signs to put on automobiles in order to raise money for the big affair. M. Caba says, "We've going to 'duck for apples', tell ghosts stories, play spooky games, cheer strings, and do every other crazy thing you used to do. We won't let you in unless you're in costume! Plan for plenty of fun—and come one—come all!"

HOME ROOM MEETINGS

There were several other points brought up during this meeting. It was decided that presidents of the home rooms are to have charge of every home room period following a student council meeting. This is done in order to keep the students in contact with the student council.

It was also decided that if a member is absent twice without a representative or a reasonable excuse, he is to be exempted from the council.

Bill Kelly was appointed to take charge of the color guards and the bringing in of the United States flag in assembly.

COMMITTEES NAMED

The committees and chairmen are: Social committee: Elmer Watkins, Hazel Claxton, Jean Gaskins, Bill Kelley, J. Lee Jarvis, Katherine Barrett.

Building and ground committee: Aubrey Green, Roy Showers, Melvin Watkins, Robert Wisely, Bob Andis, Noble Lane.

Lost and found committee: Bill Kelly, Joan Curley, Luke Frasher, Meredith Wilson, L. V. McDonald.

Finance committee: Hazel Claxton, Elmer Watkins, Albert Kemp, Grover Heiskell.

Assembly committee: Jimmy Moseley, Arvo Goddard, Betty Jean Tieman, Jack Hessey, Ruby Eldridge, Chester Carpenter.

Constitution committee: Noble Lane, Madge Lawrence, Jimmy Moseley.

The executive committee is composed of the president, vice-president, secretary and the chairmen of all the committees.

Takes Students Three Minutes For Fire Drill

Bong! Bong! Bong! There goes the fire bell. The 750 students in Pampa High school walked quickly and quietly out the door and across the street. D. F. Osborne said it took two and a half or three minutes to clear the building. Windows were closed in most of the rooms. In case of fire, windows should be closed to prevent air getting to the blaze.

ECONOMIC ISSUES AND THE CHURCH'S ROLE

One of the most interesting experiments of recent years is about to be undertaken by the Congregational and Christian churches of the United States. They are going to hold a plebiscite of their members on economic issues, including: unemployment and relief, agricultural prices, labor organization, tariffs and other trade barriers, public utilities, consumers' co-operatives—and capitalism.

During the next few months the questions will be studied and debated. Some time next year a vote will be taken to see how the members of these churches stand on these matters.

It will be interesting to see what conclusions are reached; even more interesting, however, is the fact that the vote is being taken at all. For these churchmen have agreed to debate and vote on the most vitally controversial issues of the day. They certainly cannot be accused of remaining aloof from life's major problems—or of being afraid to pick up a hot potato.

The first question that will occur to most people, probably, is: Are these matters, properly, any of a church's business? Is it necessary, or even advisable, for a church to take a stand on them? What have such things to do with pure religion?

An excellent answer is continued in the current issue of Advance, the Congregationalists' monthly magazine.

"The affirmation: 'I am come that they might have life,' and the prayer: 'Give us this day our daily bread' are adequate warrant for every effort we make to achieve economic justice and economic security," says Advance. "The struggle to end the domination of poverty, destitution, and want is basically a religious struggle. It is an attempt to make the will of a just and loving God prevail among men."

"The questions of deep import are always those on which there is the most vigorous difference of opinion. And a religion which is realistic and which goes deeply into the perplexity of any generation must of necessity deal with those questions."

Washington Letter

By PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON—Saturday we went over to see if and when the post office department would stop the circulation of smutty publications.

Suppressing smut is one thing; that post office officials attack with a sort of spiritual fervor, as a rule. They would go into it head over heels if they had the money. But they don't have enough really to bring the fifth publishers to task. So suppressing smut becomes a sort of sporadic business.

Recently, we learned, there has been a lull in the drive to keep the mails clean of obscene matter, not because of any change of policy but for more casual reasons. First, the inspection service has been temporarily concentrated on other duties and, second, there was a slight abatement in violations.

Long ago many magazines publishing morbid, sexy stories got around the post office department's strict regulations against obscenity by shipping their publications in bulk by freight or express.

Postal regulations impose a $5,000 fine and five years imprisonment upon persons sending obscene matter through the mail.

There is punishment also for sending such stuff by freight or express in interstate commerce, but the percentage of detections is not so great as in the postal department.

There are several types of obscene publications which depend upon use of the mails to exist. First are certain kinds of correspondence clubs. Members of a given "club" exchange letters telling of cluttered up mental ravings, sometimes illustrated with drawings or photographs which would simply curl your moral fibre.

Others share by mail several varieties of Freudian exercises.

In another class are commercial distributors of obscene photographs, books, pseudo-medical treatises and the like. These often are hooked in with the correspondence clubs. In them lies the profit, which is big. The postoffice department says there has been a "tremendous" increase in recent years in this class of stuff.

Detecting the dirty stuff is difficult but quite possible when the postal inspection service has sufficient manpower to turn its attention to it. Getting convictions is another trick. Under the present law the senders, which for the most part are eastern publishing houses, can be prosecuted only at the place where they put it in the mail.

For a long time the department has appealed vainly to congress for an amendment to the law permitting the cases to be prosecuted at the point where the filth is delivered. Often enough the publications will fall in the

Yesteryear In Pampa

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY
In a contest which was held by the Rex theater and the Quality Jewelry shop to determine the most popular girl in Pampa, Miss Hazel Hawkins was leading with 14,800 votes.

An agreement with J. H. Ayers for the purchase of 40 acres of land to be used for a city dump ground and for the disposal plant site was reached by the city council.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

hands of individuals in Kansas, Texas, or elsewhere, who are only too glad to help get the case to court.

When witnesses are faced with the necessity of traveling from Kansas to New York, for instance, they often balk; and the expense to the department is terrific. Moreover, the department in years past has not had especially good luck in getting convictions in New York. New York juries are fairly liberal minded, it seems, and don't get especially excited at the complaint of an Iowa mother indignant at having a book of naughty pictures delivered to her 14-year-old son.

However, a jury in Judge Moscovitz' court in New York smacked down on a case recently. The judge praised the jury highly, and the post office department felt better.

Nevertheless, the principal publishers and distributors of dirty literature were not scared out, only a few of the smaller fry. The department expects the smaller ones will set up under other names in time. Usually they do.

A Study of Housing Problems

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—The recent allegation of critic baiting, hurled at Gilbert Miller by a London writer neither really dodged it, recalls the time George Arliss appeared in the Booth Tarkington piece, and the hilarious aftermath of the unfriendly criticisms which gave Arliss a pain and severed a beautiful friendship.

Arliss at the time was under the direction of George C. Tyler, who took his production activities seriously, and when the reviewers got through panning the play there was not much left. Tyler was furious. He summoned his ad-writers and next day this satirical advertisement appeared in the papers:

"The notoriously bad actor, George Arliss, is presented in a new play on the hackneyed theme of Americanism, Poldeklin, by the well known hack writer, Booth Tarkington. Direction George C. Taylor."

This action, it is said, pained Arliss very much and he never appeared under Tyler's management again.

Another who never hesitated to give the critics a piece of her mind was Ethel Barrymore. During an interview once, when questioned whether one of her children would follow in her footsteps, she threw back her head. "Certainly," she cried, "my family has always been on the stage and I consider my profession the highest, just as I consider yours the lowest."

This "quote" was published on Broadway and in papers up and down the land. As to be expected, a hue and cry arose, with the actress' producers vainly trying to have the critic "muzzled." Broadway writers gave it a play for months.

Miss Barrymore, as you recall, gave out an important statement several months ago, announcing that she had decided to retire. She was, she said, definitely through with the theater and would devote her time to helping youngsters get a start. The news services carried interviews and the news-reel cameramen shot streams of film on this last "farewell" of a great actress.

However, Miss Barrymore, as is her privilege, has changed her mind and is now rehearsing in a new play. Edward Arnold has an unusual offer from a Texas farmer. The good earth man scolded Arnold for making so much money, condemned him and other Hollywoodians as wastrels, and no-goods. He concluded with this offer: Arnold could benefit his soul by advancing $15,000 needed for new equipment on the old homestead. In return, farmer would give mortgage. Can you guess how Arnold replied?

People You Know

By ARCHER FULLINGIM

This one and some boys went on a picnic to a ranch north of town yesterday, but scenes of dead and dying horses brought sadness, and the boys' eyes became bright and large with pity as they looked at the beautiful, young mare, futilely pawing as she lay stretched out in the corral, caught in the numb pain of "sleeping sickness." The mare was insensible to the flies that swarmed around her. Once she opened an eye and it was choked with blood. "Seems like something like this (the sleeping sickness) always takes the prettiest one, said the cowboy and and grief was in his eyes as he looked at the inert form of the slim-hocked, cream-colored horse whose sleek hair was of the dun-colored shade so well-liked by all cowboys. Her mane and tail were white. "We did everything we could," the cowboy said. "We vaccinated our horses. I don't believe it does any good—just like I don't believe it's anything they are eating that's killing them. I kinda believe it's flies or mosquitoes or something like that. A mile away, near the ranch road, a white mare lay dead, and buzzards circled overhead. The mare's black colt stood by its dead mother, occasionally nibbling at grass near its feet. As the boys ran down to look at the dead horse, the colt ran excitedly away, neighing, but when the boys left it came back to its dead mother, and hours later when this one and the boys left the colt was still standing like a sentry above the bloated mare, a puzzled cast in its bearing as it turned his head in all directions, apparently aware of the purple shadows that spread over the valley and darkened the cottonwood trees on the creek in the fast-darkening twilight.

Around Hollywood

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Dorothy Arzner is getting sick and tired of being Hollywood's "only woman director."

"To women and girls everywhere she says in effect: 'Come on in, the water's fine.'"

Seriously, the slight, short-haired woman of the tailored suits and quiet manner is convinced that the next few years will see many more women becoming movie directors. Directing motion pictures, she says, "offers a fascinating career to women who are willing to devote all their attention to studying every phase of picture-making. Direction as a professional should appeal to talented women as greatly as the law or medicine. The courses of preparation are correspondingly long, and the rewards well worth the effort."

Miss Arzner herself went through a seven-year apprenticeship as secretary, script clerk, cutter and writer before she was entrusted with her first film. That was 10 years ago. Since then she has been one of the colony's leading directors, and has commanded the film work of stars from Esther Ralston and Clara Bow to the present-day luminaries, Katharine Hepburn and Joan Crawford. "There are no reasons why women should not succeed as producers and directors," she declared. "Many have earned distinction in other creative movie fields, as scenarists, costume designers, dance directors and film cutters."

Miss Arzner asks no concessions in working hours or conditions because of her sex. When doing a man's job she expects to meet the same hardships and strenuous demands of the post.

She thinks it is encouraging that, while Hollywood has had only four women producers in its history, all four have reached executive rank in recent years. She refers to Frances Marion, the scenarist-producer; Dorothy Davenport Reid, widow of the silent film star Wallace Reid; Irene Schreck, who gained her executive training as secretary to a studio manager; and Fanchon of Fanchon and Marco who first directed dance numbers for films and now produces her own pictures.

any, another gland of internal secretion, located at the base of the brain. He was operated upon, and a tumor removed from his gland. Oddly, not only did this operation arrest his acromegalia (enlargement of his bones notably those of the head, hands and feet) but his diabetes disappeared as well.

The association of the pituitary to diabetes has been known and established previously. In experimental animals it had been shown that the removal of the pituitary alleviates the symptoms of pancreatic diabetes. Now, to complicate matters, an English scientist, F. G. Young, reports that he has been able to render normal dogs permanently diabetic by injecting them with extracts from the pituitary glands of oxen. It is too early even to hazard a guess where this may lead, but it is no gamble to label this a most significant observation.

Sharing the Comforts Of Life

By R. C. HOILES.

CREDIT PRODUCES WEALTH? Probably one of the beliefs that has caused many heartaches and losses and much unemployment, is the belief that credit produces wealth.

On this subject, McCulloch, former professor of economics at London university, says: "A great effect has sometimes been ascribed to credit in the production of wealth; but this is a mistake. It is capital and not credit that produces. Credit is nothing more than the borrowing and lending of capital; and nations, or individuals, are said to be in high or low credit according to the greater or less facility they possess of obtaining loans. The advantage of credit consists in its tendency to distribute capital in the best manner. It enables those who have capital, and who do not choose to superintend their employment, to lend them to those who are desirous to obtain them. The state of credit, in any country, is always directly as the amount of its capital, and the freedom to dispose of it with security. Where there is no capital there can be no credit; and any obstructions given to borrowers and lenders in adjusting the terms of loans, or any distinction on the part of government to give full effect to these terms, has a certain and obvious tendency to diminish credit. But, whatever may be the state of credit in any country, it is still true that it is by the amount of its capital, and by its capacity of employing such capital with advantage, that its means of supporting population and of producing wealth, must always be estimated."

It is evident that we are now borrowing from people who do not know they are loaning. We are taking the capital and wealth from those people who have previously accumulated capital and wealth and transferred their savings into credit. This arbitrary appropriation of capital from people who do not know they are having it taken from them will sooner or later produce pandemonium. When the mass of people realize that they cannot save by loaning their wealth in the form of credit, that the interest will be stifled, unemployment will increase and poverty will be a much greater problem than it has been for the last eight years.

Book A Day

By BRUCE CATTON

Around the beauty and the heartbreaks, the fears, the hopes and the hypocrisies of the small town, Edgar Lee Masters wrote his "Spoon River Anthology" a few years back. Now he returns to the further chronicle of this region in "The Tide of Time" (Farrar and Rinehart: $3) and scores an equal triumph.

Here is an immensely greater canvas; for "The Tide of Time" is spread across some 680 pages to portray a middlewestern American community from the days of the Civil war through the 1930's. Written over a period of years, here is a novel of many people, many times, many places.

The panorama turns on the life of Leonard Westerfield, grandson of a Virginian who turned his face westward with the early emigrants. Born during the Mexican war, Leonard grew up on America green and as his home town, Ferrisburg, changed with it.

When the war of the states first flared in 1860 Leonard was in college. In the years that followed he became lawyer, congressman, judge, father, implacable foe of entrenched interests. He battled as did America and he emerged into old age as a deeply scarred. People honored Leonard Westerfield but he felt himself that his life had been defeat. He felt he had been choked in the relentless process of change.

"And everything has been said," writes Poet Masters in conclusion, "deserted America has been made and life in it is better than when Leonard Westerfield was born. Saga of the battles, the funerals, the loves, scandals, tragedies, marriages and deaths of a whole people, "The Tide of Time" is as vital as the years themselves.—P. G. F.

LEWIS REMOVES ALL CHANGES OF REUNION

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 11 (AP)—John L. Lewis removed virtually all chances of a reunion between his Committee for Industrial Organization and the American Federation of Labor today as he started discussions of C. I. O. extension with leaders of his 32 affiliated unions.

The federation's annual convention in Denver at the time moved toward a final disposition of the estrangement which began here two years ago but Lewis said the C. I. O. "doesn't have even a technical connection" with its arch rival.

Describing the federation's suspension of the original ten unions which formed his committee as a "frantic, cowardly, contemptible act," Lewis said:

"Our attitude is one of complete indifference. We are separate and apart."

He described as "silly conversation" the statement of William Green, president of the A. F. of L., that the federation would conduct a drive to crush the C. I. O.

Without disclosing the agenda for this week's discussions of policy, Lewis said his organization intended to "go forward" with formation of international unions to include "additional millions of American workers."

CHAPTER XXIII

Long before dawn on Thursday the rain started; by 9 o'clock it had settled to a dismal, depressing downpour. Alone in her apartment, Cilly shivered all day. They could be no more desolate than her own rooms, and not nearly as lonely.

After a quick breakfast, she put on a warm woolen dress, one which had been held over from the previous winter pending the emergency of just such a day as this. Then, fortified against the elements by a long raincoat and waterproof hat, she ventured downtown.

It was not quite 10 o'clock when she reached police headquarters. A youthful officer ushered her into a small ante-room off the same corridor as the meeting room which had held the investigation the day before. Sergeant Dolan, the officer explained, was busy for the moment, but would see her shortly.

She sat down to wait. The door into the corridor was left open, so that she could watch those who passed by. Beyond the door, she heard a woman sobbing, and the low murmur of a man's voice offering reassuring comfort. There was something familiar in the voice, low-pitched though it was. She watched the door for their approach. The woman was making an effort to control herself now; the sobs ceased, only the sharp intake of steady breaths was audible. They passed the door, directly in line of Cilly's vision. She sat up suddenly.

The man was Harvey Ames! And the woman who leaned against him, her face hidden in one of his voluminous handkerchiefs, was the one who had fled the Bayview apartments two days before . . . Mrs. Wheeler!

Cilly walked to the door and stared after them. There was something gently pathetic in their attitude, and she felt a warmth of sympathy toward them, despite the knowledge that they had defied the conventions.

"Good morning, Miss Pierce!" Cilly turned abruptly to face Sergeant Dolan.

"Been waiting for me long?" he asked. His voice was matter-of-fact and brusque; Cilly thought it lacked the rather cordial friendliness of other occasions. But perhaps she imagined that. He led the way back into the small ante-room, shutting the door behind him. "We can talk in here as well as any place," he observed.

"I see you've located Mrs. Wheeler?" Cilly mentioned. She resumed the same chair she had occupied these several minutes.

"Yes, Ames brought her in this morning." Dolan sat down opposite her. "The old story, Ames and his wife haven't hit it off for years, and Mrs. Wheeler's the other woman. Ames has children, and he's fearful of the scandal. I feel sort of sorry for them. . . ."

"I'm glad to find you so understanding this morning, sergeant," Cilly remarked.

"What do you mean?"

"I hope you'll be as kindly disposed to me."

"Any reason why I shouldn't be?"

"Yes. You believed what Mr. Corbett said about me yesterday."

"Did I?"

"It wasn't the truth, Sergeant Dolan. Please believe that. I went across the street with a definite idea in mind—to get up on the roof and see what was going on in somebody's doorbell in order to gain admittance to the house, and Corbett was the first name that popped into my head. I didn't go to call on them, but Mr. Corbett was feeling . . . a little genteel, you might say. He met me in the hall, and insisted on my stopping in for a drink—which I didn't finish, incidentally. When I insisted on leaving, he seemed a little disappointed. Perhaps I wounded his vanity in some way. . . . However, I went up on the roof to watch the people in our house, and what I told you about Mr. Hunter is absolutely true."

Dolan was looking out of the window thoughtfully.

"Well," he said, "I've already started a little investigation on Hunter. Don't think that I wasn't going to consider it. Matter of fact, I guess I'd take your word any day against Corbett's, Miss Pierce."

"Thank you, sergeant. You know this case means a great deal to me."

and you know that I'll do anything I can to disprove the theory you're working on."

Dolan turned his gaze to Cilly. "I'm sorry you feel that way," he said. "We all make mistakes, you know, and I think you're making a tremendous one in keeping faith with this Kerr. He's not worth it."

Cilly stiffened. "I still prefer to be the judge of that, Sergeant Dolan," she said quietly. "In the meantime, however, we have two new suspects: Harvey Ames and Hunter."

"Oh, they're not on the up and up, perhaps, but I don't think we can tie them to the murder. I'll admit both possibilities. And believe me, we'll check these new angles thoroughly. But I'm still looking for Kerr. I've got a tighter case against him than against either of the other two."

Cilly sighed. "I won't argue with you on that any more," she said. "I know that him will be back, but I can't expect you to feel the same way I do. That's not what I came to talk about today."

"What's new now?"

"It's about Hunter. I took it upon myself to call on Mrs. Hunter yesterday when I knew her husband was up on the roof. I thought I could wring the truth from her."

"Did you?"

"Yes," Cilly repeated the story which the woman had told her. Dolan listened attentively. When she finished, he looked at her quizzically.

"Who was this fellow they doofed?" he asked. "Did she tell you his name?"

Cilly shook her head. "No, I didn't ask her. That will be simple to find out, if you wish to question Mr. Hunter."

Dolan smiled. "You'll have to be a little more thorough before you qualify for police work, Miss Pierce," he admonished. "We found out yesterday afternoon who drove the car that knocked Hunter down. It was young Billy Harmon, the brother of that girl the Hutchins fellow is interested in."

Cilly's eyes widened in surprise. "What a small world this case involves," she murmured thoughtfully.

FOR MAY TRY TO END LABOR'S CIVIL WAR DENVER, Oct. 11 (AP)-Appearance of two federal officials at the American Federation of Labor convention gave rise to reports today that President Roosevelt might be actively interested in ending labor's big civil war.

First James F. Dewey, veteran labor department conciliator, appeared in the convention hall. Dewey spent several days quietly talking with federation leaders.

Then Senator Berry (D-Tenn.), a frequent White House caller when labor issues are of paramount interest, came to town, although he had told friends only a few weeks ago he doubted he would attend the convention.

Immediately after his arrival, Berry made a friendly speech to the convention, urging the federation to make known its legislative desires to him at all times. He concluded, however, by saying:

"I hope our statesmanship will assert itself to the point where we again will have a happy, united trade union movement in the United States."

Berry then started a round of hotel room conferences with A. F. of L. leaders.

Through Dewey and Berry might Mr. Roosevelt be trying to find out whether there would be a chance for him to do some successful missionary work toward ending the bitter battle between the A. F. of L. and John Lewis' rebel C. I. O.?

Justice Stone 65 Years Old Today WASHINGTON, Oct. 11 -Justice Harlan Fiske Stone of the Supreme Court was 65 years old today.

Attendance at a court session made it just another day in his judicial career.

The average age of the nine justices is now 69. Brandeis is 80; Hughes, McReynolds and Sutherland are 75; Butler, 71; Cardozo, 67; Roberts, 62; Black, 51.

STERILIZED HEIRESS HONEYMOONS IN OREGON GRANTS PASS, Ore. Oct. 11 (AP)-Honeymooning Ann Cooper Hewitt, 23, sterilized herself, and Ronald McMillan Gay, 32, garage worker, sought exclusion in southern Oregon tonight after explaining they came here for their wedding "to avoid publicity."

The bride, daughter and principal heir of the late inventor, Peter Cooper Hewitt, created a sensation and a unique legal problem in 1936 when she sued her mother and two physicians for $500,000, alleging she had been tricked into submitting to sterilization.

Mrs. Maryon Cooper Hewitt, the mother and the physician, contended the operation was for Miss Hewitt's welfare because she was feeble-minded and "dangerously over-sexed."

Ann refused to sponsor criminal charges against her mother and the physicians, whereupon San Francisco police initiated their prosecution on charges of conspiracy to commit mayhem.

The physicians, Dr. Tilton E. Tillman and Dr. Samuel G. Boyd, went free when the trial court dismissed the case after hearing the prosecution evidence. The court held the physicians had acted in good faith. Mrs. Hewitt never was brought to trial and the charges against her were dropped. The $500,000 suit is pending.

JAPAN'S SIDE OF WAR GIVEN BY MATSUOKA

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Japan's determination to get a "knockout decision" in China is explained in the following statement to the Associated Press by Yosuke Matsuoka, Japan's chief delegate to the League of Nations who walked out of the assembly in 1932 when the league commission condemned Japan's establishment of Manchoukuo. Matsuoka graduated from Oregon university and spent many years in the United States.)

By YOSUKE MATSUOKA President of the South Manchuria Railway Company

TOKYO, Oct. 11 - At last Japan in for the final, for the knock-out decision, the once for all house-cleaning of all tortuous tangles in the Sino-Japanese relations which have been plaguing the east for ages.

In 1904 she staked her national existence in a fight against Russia, but that was to beat back a military advance from without, an affair around outer fences.

This time she is dealing with a festering sore deep down within the bosom of eastern Asia, threatening her very life as well as those of all Asiatic races with sure and inescapable death. It is calling for heroic surgery. She has taken up her scalpel. She will permit no foreign interference whatsoever. Her plainly, therefore, the present crisis is infinitely bigger and more significant than the Russian war of thirty-three years ago.

One thing is clear. A constant and hearty cooperation between the peoples of Japan and of China, that and that alone, can work out the destiny of Asia.

Would Stifle Communism Nobody knows this better than Japan and she knows also the two things poisoning the atmosphere between the two peoples are the drunken orgy of China's war lords and politicians and the red communism eating into the heart of China from without. Japan is out today to put a potter's field wooden cross over these common enemies of the Chinese people and of the lasting peace of eastern Asia.

Japan has no quarrel whatever with the people of China. Our treatment of the Chinese who are living in Japan today is the most convincing comment on this point. In Hokkaido, in northern Japan, a Chinese committed suicide rather than be compelled to return to his native home, a little over a month ago. The Chinese in Japan were happy and well protected, enjoying all the freedom of a Japanese citizen even while the infamous Tungchow massacre of Japanese civilians in that Chinese city was all over the front pages of our newspapers.

War Recalled A historic fact dominates Asiatic scenes, namely, without Japan, there can be no China. Suppose Japan had chosen to play safe and crawled into her shell on her own tight little islands in 1904? Suppose again Japan had gone down before the tidal wave sweep of Russian advance for her own far eastern empire on the plains of Manchuria in the autumn of 1905? There would have been no Manchuria for which the Chinese patriots froth at the mouth or the League of Nations denounce Japan as an international robber, and in place of the proud republic of China one would have seen a crazy quilt of European colonies after the fond fancies of the author of the breakup of China--No Japan, no China!

We are free to admit Japan has been exceedingly annoying to her neighbor, China. Japan is expanding and has fallen to trying to its neighbors? Ask the American Indian or the Mexican how exasperatingly trying the young United States used to be once upon a time.

But Japan's expansion, like that of the United States, is as natural as the growth of a child. Only one thing stops a child from growing; death. Geneva has been trying to pass this death sentence on Japan since the Manchurian incident, but Japan does not seem amiable enough to die--even for the sweet sake of Geneva-made peace.

Two Brothers China and Japan are two brothers who have inherited a great mansion called eastern Asia. Adversity sent them both to the depths of poverty. The ne'er-do-well elder brother turned a dope fiend and a rogue but, the younger, rugged and ambitious, ever dreamed of bringing back past glories to the old house. He sold newspapers at a street-corner and worked hard to support the house. The elder flim-flamed the younger out of his meager savings and sold him out to their common enemy.

The younger in a towering rage beat up the elder, trying to beat into him some sense and shame and awaken some pride in the noble traditions of the great house. After many scraps the younger finally made up his mind to stage a showdown fight and that is the fight now raging along the North China and Shanghai fronts.

Dried sea horses are a common article of commerce in San Francisco's Chinatown.

STORIES IN STAMPS

No Army, No Navy. No Fortifications.

ISLAND of volcanic origin, land of geysers and hot springs, most sparsely populated country among nations.

Its area is nearly equal to that of Kentucky, yet almost four-fifths of it is uninhabited and almost uninhabitable. The land is treeless, has no railroads, and its 100,000 persons reside entirely along the coastline. Despite these bleakest of physical features, however, the chief occupation is farming.

Almost half of the people farm. Twenty thousand are occupied in fisheries.

But created as it has been of rich, natural resources, Iceland nevertheless is progressive, singularly productive. Its schools are outstanding, government is strict, efficient. It has no deficit and no unemployment. Its level of good health is high. And Iceland has navy, no army, nor fortifications.

Its postal connections are maintained with Denmark by steamers which sail from Copenhagen and call at Leith. Landing of the mail is portrayed on a 1925 issue, which also depicts the rugged character of the island. (Copyright, 1937, NEA Service, Inc.)

THREE STATES AGAIN BATTLE IN GREEN CASE

DALLAS, Oct. 11 (AP)—Attorneys and tax experts of four states, spurred to the utmost by about $6,000,000 in inheritance taxes hung up for the winner, were to debate here again at a hearing today the legal residence of the Col. E. H. R. Green.

The six foot, four inch son of the eccentric Hetty of Wall Street fame, himself called almost eccentric by witnesses who knew him, left something like $44,345,000 when he died, and Texas, vying as his place of residence, each asked the United States Supreme Court to determine which state was entitled to state inheritance taxes from the estate.

Federal taxes would take $20,812,000; Texas $5,326,554, if successful in supporting its claim.

The hearing opening here today, the second here since the first of the year, was to be before Special Master John S. Flannery, Washington attorney and representative of the Supreme Court.

The claims of Mrs. Mabel Harlow Green, the widow, who is supporting Texas because its laws do not recognize the prenuptial agreement by which she was alleged to have agreed to an annual income in lieu of a community share of the property, and Mrs. Hetty Sylvia Green Wilks, Green's sister, to whom he willed the estate, are not concerned directly in the current hearing.

Lawell B. Deane, assistant Texas attorney general who has been engaged on the case for months, says he has become convinced the Colone cared nothing about what became of his money after his death.

Duke said Green's last days as a "sick man in a wheelchair" were in contrast to an earlier rollicking life, filled with "fabulously bizarre" incidents.

At the hearing which lasted more than a week last spring, friends and acquaintances testified before special Commissioner Raymond C. Prime of Greene's life near the turn of the century, when he spent much time in Terrell and Dallas.

WALLACE'S REPORT TO BE HEARD AT TEMPLE

TEMPLE, Oct. 11 (AP)—Texas agricultural leaders were to come here today to hear a report on their proposed state soil conservation bill from National Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace.

The draft of the bill was submitted to Wallace after the group met last month in order that he might check its contents against requirements for federal participation in state soil conservation work.

V. C. Marshall, president of the Texas Soil and Water Conservation association, who said he had received an answer from Wallace, was to make the report.

The group then planned to complete plans for a submission of the measure to the legislature.

SUPREME LEADERSHIP EPISCOPALIAN ISSUE

CINCINNATI, Oct. 11 (AP)—A proposal to give the Protestant Episcopal church a supreme spiritual and temporal leader came up today for action in its house of bishops as a controversy over the church's leadership for industrial democracy flamed higher.

The bishops, in the church's triennial general convention, took up a recommendation of the national council to vest full administrative authority in the presiding bishop by making him president of the council. He already is considered the spiritual leader.

Beware The Cough
From a common cold
That Hangs On

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your common cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Creomulsion not only contains the soothing elements common to many cough remedies, such as Syrup of White Pine Compound with Tar, and fluid extract of Licorice Root, but it also has fluid extract of Ipecac and its powerful phlegm loosening effect, fluid extract of Cascara for its mild laxative effect, and, most important of all, Beechwood Creosote, perfectly blended with all of these so that it will reach the source of the trouble from the inside. Creomulsion can be taken frequently and continuously by both adults and children with remarkable results.

Thousands of people, who really know their drugs, use Creomulsion in their own families, realizing that this excellent preparation aids nature to soothe the inflamed mucous membranes, to heal the irritated tissues, and to loosen and expel the

GERM-INDEN PHEGM Druggists also know the effectiveness of Beechwood Creosote and they rank Creomulsion "tops" for coughs because you get a real dose of Creosote in Creomulsion, emulsified so that it is palatable, digestible, and active in going to the very seat of the trouble.

Creomulsion is generally found satisfactory in the treatment of colds, chest colds and bronchial irritation, especially those stubborn ones that start as just a common cold and hang on for dreadful days and nights thereafter. Even if other remedies have failed, your druggist is authorized to refund every cent of your money if you are not satisfied with the relief obtained from the very first bottle of Creomulsion. Don't worry through another sleepless night—use Creomulsion.

Night-time is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product, and the relief that you want. (Adv.)

ed the government from holding the hearing.

The Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock company in another case sought to prevent the labor board from holding a hearing to determine whether the shipbuilding concern had engaged in unfair labor practices in connection with the dismissal of employees. The fourth circuit court of appeals refused to enjoin the hearing.

It agreed to review two controversies involving to some extent Roosevelt administration laws.

It consented to pass on the question of whether the National Labor Relations Board can legally conduct a hearing to determine whether the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, Ltd., and the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company had engaged in unfair labor practices under the Wagner labor relations act.

The other controversy the tribunal consented to review was a Government appeal from a lower court decision that it must pay interest on Liberty bonds called for redemption in advance of the maturity date. This presumably will be argued with a similar case, filed by Robert A. Taft of Cincinnati, which the court agreed last spring to review.

Presumably Justice Black will participate in the arguments and decisions on these controversies.

The tribunal declined to review litigation involving:

Constitutionality of the 1936 act broadening federal regulation of commodity exchanges. That left in effect decisions by lower courts sustaining the legislation.

A procedural question over whether the Georgia Power Company, after losing in the Northern Georgia Federal District Court, could proceed in the Eastern Tennessee Federal District Court in attacking expansion of the Tennessee Valley Authority power program in Georgia.

A gold case brought by John Ogden of Indianapolis, who sought to compel the treasury to redeem in gold his Liberty bond which specifically provided for gold redemption. The high court's action left undisturbed a ruling of the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia dismissing the litigation.

Among the other 300 petitions acted upon, the court consented to pass on an appeal by the Aluminum Company of America in an effort to prevent the department of justice from proceeding in New York with an anti-trust dissolution case against the concern.

Stock Law Questioned

3. Members of the Chicago Mercantile Exchange, the Chicago Board of Trade, and the Kansas City Board of Trade filed three cases attacking constitutionality of the 1936 act broadening federal regulation of commodity exchanges. All three challenges failed in the lower courts. Legislation brought here, cotton, mill feeds, butter, eggs, and Irish potatoes within the regulatory provisions.

4. The Georgia Power company sought to proceed with litigation attacking the Tennessee Valley Authority in the eastern Tennessee federal district court after losing in the northern Georgia federal district court. It was trying to prevent the TVA from expanding its activities in Georgia. The fifth circuit court of appeals tarred the company from proceeding in Tennessee.

Gold Case

5. In one of the two gold cases, the government appealed from a decision by the fourth circuit court that it could not avoid payment of interest on a $1,000 3-1-2 per cent Liberty bond held by Arthur Machen of Baltimore, which was called for redemption in advance of the maturity date.

Former litigation filed by Robert A. Taft of Cincinnati, son of the former president, is awaiting argument.

The other gold petition involved an attempt by John Ogden of Indianapolis to compel the treasury to redeem in gold his fourth Liberty bonds with a face value of $6,000. The treasury refused to redeem them in gold—the specified medium of re-

JURORS BEING EXAMINED FOR MURDER TRIAL

Examination of the special venire for the case of State of Texas vs. Wayne Nicholson, indicted on a charge of murder, started at 11 o'clock this morning.

When the venire of 125 was sounded shortly after court opened at 10 o'clock, 81 responded. Six of the 10 were excused, nine failed to report, and others could not be served.

Those not selected to serve as jurors in this case are to report again at 9 a. m. Thursday Judge W. R. Ewing instructed. At that time, it is expected that the case of State of Texas vs. J. C. (Curley) Lewis, who has also been indicted on a murder charge in connection with the killing of Willie Allen on September 16, will be called for trial.

The State is represented in the trial begun this morning by District Attorney Lewis M. Goodrich, and Walter Rogers, the defense by Newton P. Willis and B. S. Vin.

At 10:40 a. m. both the state and the defense announced they were ready.

Suggestion of the state that the venire be informed in a group as to the general nature of the case was objected to by the defense.

Income of Texas Farmers Higher

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11 (AP)—The Agriculture Department reported today the total income of Texas farmers during the first eight months of the year from crops, livestock receipts and benefit payments was higher than in corresponding months of 1935 and 1936.

The total income for the current year as of September 1 was $262,493,000, compared with $196,688,000 in the first eight months of 1935 and $207,217,000 in 1936.

The income for August alone was $47,972,000 in 1937, compared with $30,888,000 in August, 1936.

Crops accounted for $35,848,000 of the August, 1937, income, or for $114,592,000 of the January-August total; livestock and livestock products in August amounted to $11,866,000 and to $112,821,000 during the eight months, and benefit payments during the one month amounted to $258,000, bringing the total for the current year up to September 1 to $35,080,000.

During the first eight months of 1935 crops accounted for $64,851,000 of the total income, and in 1936 for $91,811,000.

Livestock and livestock products netted $89,868,000 in the same months of 1935 and $95,304,000 in 1936. Benefit payments in that period of 1935 totaled $41,969,000 and in 1936 totaled $20,042,000.

TENANTS TO MOVE TO 20 FARMS NEXT FRIDAY

McGREGOR, Oct. 11 (AP)—Texas tenant farmers and many congressmen will be on hand next Friday when tenant families will move in on 20 fertile farms of which they will become owners under sponsorship of the Federal Farm Security Administration.

McLennan and Coryell county officials prepared to play hosts to perhaps 2,000 visitors for the ceremony for the new settlers will be held on the farm. The new settlers will be given their land under a 43-year, three per cent interest plan, with no down payment.

Highlight of the occasion will be the award of the address in which he will explain the aid offered tenant farmers. Jones, from Amarillo, is the author of this year's tenant legislation in Congress.

Rep. W. R. Poage of Waco, secretary of the Texas congressional delegation, said a majority of Texas congressmen would be on hand.

$3,680,000 TAX BILL PAID THROUGH FSA

Settlement of the debts of 62,099 farmers to the Farm Security Administration has made possible the payment of more than $3,680,000 in taxes to local governments, the Farm Security Administration announced today.

This figure is for the two-year period ending August 31, and the debt reduction total was $51,423,010 or 25.2 per cent. Before adjustment, debts amounted to $203,876,204; after adjustment, $152,453,194.

1,200 DRIVERS ON BUS LINES THREATEN STRIKE

CLEVELAND, Oct. 11 (AP)—Confederals of union and company officials intervened today in the threatened strike of 1,200 drivers on eight Greyhound bus lines. The strike, originally set for Sunday, was postponed until 5 a. m. Wednesday.

A meeting was scheduled late today between company officials and a committee of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen of which the drivers are members.

demption—and the court of appeals here dismissed Ogden's suit.

The government has barred payment of obligations in gold. In the famous "gold clause" decisions, the Supreme Court held this could be done as to private obligations but the government could not abrogate payment of its own debts in that medium if it was specified. It held, however, the litigant could not collect because no damage had been proved.

Japan Closing Door to 700 U. S. Articles

By The Associated Press

The question of imports for warring nations posed a major issue today for powers confronted by conflicts on both sides of the world.

Japan, seeking to pare its international bills and provide more cash for financing its war against China, closed the door to almost 700 imported articles.

In the western world, France considered throwing open her Pyrenees frontier to allow arms and volunteers to go to the Valencia government—a step raised as a possibility aimed to break a stalemate in the Anglo-French-Italian Mediterranean crisis.

The Japanese emergency action was one of the most drastic in modern economic history. It was designed to offset a 1937 unfavorable trade balance of $217,000,000 and a current estimated cost of $5,000,000 daily for the Chinese campaign.

Despite the extreme measure, Japan will continue one of the United States' best customers since its heavy purchases of oil, cotton, steel and machinery from this country were classified as "urgent" materials and exempted from the ban.

Talk of the Pyrenees frontier opening developed as a possible French counter blow to Italy's refusal of a Franco-British invitation to discuss withdrawal of Italian volunteers from the Spanish civil war.

Reports Italy planned to rush thousands of troops to Spain to bring about a quick insurgent victory were denied flatly by Italian authorities. Rome said these reports were the result of Soviet propaganda.

In Washington, Soviet Russia and Italy remained unknown but potentially important factors in a projected nine-power conference to consider action to end the Sino-Japanese war.

There was speculation whether Russia, not a signatory to the nine-power treaty which guarantees China's territorial integrity, would be asked to attend the conference.

OSBORNE SALE TO DRAW 300

Three hundred persons are expected to attend the Hereford sale on the J. P. Osborne ranch, 17 miles northeast of Pampa, Wednesday. The sale will start at 12:30 p. m.

No free lunch will be served but meals will be available upon the grounds.

A special tent has been provided for the sale cattle. It will be set up near the tent which covers the amphitheater for the sale.

All heifers and calves from each family in the herd will be grouped together in the tent, and the get of the herd bulls will be grouped alongside their sires.

The object is to show what kind of animals each sire is getting and the type represented by each cow family.

Mr. Osborne said that he will also sell the animals according to families and according to sires. They will be sold individually, of course, but all members of one family will be sold before another family is offered.

Nineteen bulls and 73 females will be sold by Earl Gartin, auctioneer.

Mrs. Page Takes 6 Years to Win Title

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 11 (AP)—Six years ago a duffer, today the national champion—that's the record of Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page, 29-year-old Greensboro, N. C. matron and the new U. S. Women's titleholder.

Her victory Saturday over the red-haired Patty Berg of Minneapolis at a 7 and 6 margin was not only a triumph over the medalist jinx but also a triumph for perseverance and patience.

Mrs. Page, a powerfully-built shot-maker who is amazingly accurate with long irons and woods, took the title this year and last, but never had advanced further than the third round.

Early this year, Mrs. Page, her eye on the national title, decided she would stay home and practice, and play in nearby meets rather than tour the winter circuit.

She got her reward Saturday for those endless practice rounds—even par for the 30 holes of the match with Miss Berg.

ASHES OF JAPANESE DEAD TAKEN HOME

SHANGHAI, Oct. 11 (AP)—Another hospital ship sailed down the Whangpoo river for Japan today carrying a consignment of small white cloth-wrapped urns, the earthly remains of Japan's Samurai soldiers who have died on the battlefields of Shanghai.

Japanese army authorities said it was a cargo of ashes from some of their dead estimated at 2,800 since the beginning of hostilities two months ago. This did not include 300 who died of cholera. The figure was 900 more than was admitted 11 days ago.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11 (AP)—A selling bonanza hit the stock market today and numerous leaders were cut down 1 to 5 or more points. Many 15 new highs for two years.

U. S. Steel touched off the decline with one of its sharpest post-depression setbacks. Motors, rail, coppers and miscellaneous issues were in the van of the retreat.

Insuring the dumping movement that the ticker tape behind in the final hour was another downfall in commodities.

Transfers were around 1,700,000 shares.

JAPAN CLOSES DOOR TO 700 U. S. ARTICLES

By The Associated Press

The question of imports for warring nations posed a major issue today for powers confronted by conflicts on both sides of the world.

Japan, seeking to pare its international bills and provide more cash for financing its war against China, closed the door to almost 700 imported articles.

In the western world, France considered throwing open her Pyrenees frontier to allow arms and volunteers to go to the Valencia government—a step raised as a possibility aimed to break a stalemate in the Anglo-French-Italian Mediterranean crisis.

The Japanese emergency action was one of the most drastic in modern economic history. It was designed to offset a 1937 unfavorable trade balance of $217,000,000 and a current estimated cost of $5,000,000 daily for the Chinese campaign.

Despite the extreme measure, Japan will continue one of the United States' best customers since its heavy purchases of oil, cotton, steel and machinery from this country were classified as "urgent" materials and exempted from the ban.

Talk of the Pyrenees frontier opening developed as a possible French counter blow to Italy's refusal of a Franco-British invitation to discuss withdrawal of Italian volunteers from the Spanish civil war.

Reports Italy planned to rush thousands of troops to Spain to bring about a quick insurgent victory were denied flatly by Italian authorities. Rome said these reports were the result of Soviet propaganda.

In Washington, Soviet Russia and Italy remained unknown but potentially important factors in a projected nine-power conference to consider action to end the Sino-Japanese war.

There was speculation whether Russia, not a signatory to the nine-power treaty which guarantees China's territorial integrity, would be asked to attend the conference.

OSBORNE SALE TO DRAW 300

Three hundred persons are expected to attend the Hereford sale on the J. P. Osborne ranch, 17 miles northeast of Pampa, Wednesday. The sale will start at 12:30 p. m.

No free lunch will be served but meals will be available upon the grounds.

A special tent has been provided for the sale cattle. It will be set up near the tent which covers the amphitheater for the sale.

All heifers and calves from each family in the herd will be grouped together in the tent, and the get of the herd bulls will be grouped alongside their sires.

The object is to show what kind of animals each sire is getting and the type represented by each cow family.

Mr. Osborne said that he will also sell the animals according to families and according to sires. They will be sold individually, of course, but all members of one family will be sold before another family is offered.

Nineteen bulls and 73 females will be sold by Earl Gartin, auctioneer.

Mrs. Page Takes 6 Years to Win Title

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 11 (AP)—Six years ago a duffer, today the national champion—that's the record of Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page, 29-year-old Greensboro, N. C. matron and the new U. S. Women's titleholder.

Her victory Saturday over the red-haired Patty Berg of Minneapolis at a 7 and 6 margin was not only a triumph over the medalist jinx but also a triumph for perseverance and patience.

Mrs. Page, a powerfully-built shot-maker who is amazingly accurate with long irons and woods, took the title this year and last, but never had advanced further than the third round.

Early this year, Mrs. Page, her eye on the national title, decided she would stay home and practice, and play in nearby meets rather than tour the winter circuit.

She got her reward Saturday for those endless practice rounds—even par for the 30 holes of the match with Miss Berg.

ASHES OF JAPANESE DEAD TAKEN HOME

SHANGHAI, Oct. 11 (AP)—Another hospital ship sailed down the Whangpoo river for Japan today carrying a consignment of small white cloth-wrapped urns, the earthly remains of Japan's Samurai soldiers who have died on the battlefields of Shanghai.

Japanese army authorities said it was a cargo of ashes from some of their dead estimated at 2,800 since the beginning of hostilities two months ago. This did not include 300 who died of cholera. The figure was 900 more than was admitted 11 days ago.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, Oct. 11 (AP)—A selling bonanza hit the stock market today and numerous leaders were cut down 1 to 5 or more points. Many 15 new highs for two years.

U. S. Steel touched off the decline with one of its sharpest post-depression setbacks. Motors, rail, coppers and miscellaneous issues were in the van of the retreat.

Insuring the dumping movement that the ticker tape behind in the final hour was another downfall in commodities.

Transfers were around 1,700,000 shares.
