Note to W. B. Henry: That monster egg you brought this columnist was a double-header. It was a normal egg except for size. AND A COMPLETELY NORMAL SIZED EGG WAS INSIDE THE BIG ONE, with the usual hard shell.

We love the soil, but doggone if we like to breathe it all the time.

If telling one "tall" yarn begets another, we'd better take the word of these fishermen with a bit of salt for a few weeks, remarks the West Foster group.

If the dust keeps blowing, those who go swimming in the municipal pool will look like tadpoles after they emerge to face a few "earthy" gusts.

School vacations will soon be here. Recreation for the idle youngsters—many of them, it is believed, is a problem for someone who will become interested.

Pampa women, believe it or not, are more active in territorial affairs and are better known for ability, resourcefulness, and culture than Pampa men. Do we get applause ladies?

END OF AN ERA
Historians incline to the belief that this nation and the world are at the end of an era—socially and economically. They do not see an immediate downfall of capitalism in the United States, but they do see centralization of power in Washington rather than in Wall Street. Managed money, big business controlled for the benefit of the unemployed and recently unemployed, federal support for railroads, insurance companies, banks—these things are strictly foreign to the old era when the problem was to curb rampant, marauding trusts.

COOLIDGE KNEW IT
President Coolidge had a formula for his administration, including economies, which sounded queer in the beginning of a super-inflation. Recently, in reviewing his life, we found this statement in one of his last interviews. It seems rather prophetic:

"I have been out of touch so long with political activities that I feel I no longer fit in with these times. Great changes can come in four years. These socialistic notions of government are not of my day. When I was in office, tax reduction, debt reduction, tariff stability, and economy were the things to which I gave attention. We succeeded on those lines. It has always seemed to me that common sense is the real solvent for the nation's problems at all times—common sense and hard work. When I read of the new-fangled things that are so popular now I realize that my

DEVIL SLEW BABY GIRL, DECLARES PREACHER

Paul Oakley Asserts He's Not Guilty In Testimony
LINDEN, Tex., May 2 (AP)—Paul Oakley, itinerant preacher among remote East Texas communities, started a crowded courtroom at his murder trial when he declared that he was not Paul Oakley but Lindbergh.

His unannounced declaration came when he was called before the bar to plead to the indictment. "Is your name Paul Oakley?" asked Elmer L. Lincoln, district attorney.

"No, it's not," replied the defendant solemnly. "I'm Lindbergh." Pressed to enter a plea, Oakley cried out: "Paul Oakley was not guilty."

George Wilson, aged farmer who lived near the home of Sherman Clayton, where fantastic religious rites ended in the death of Bernice Clayton, his 3-year-old daughter, last December, told of going to the home after hearing singing and praying for several days.

He said Coy Oakley, who, with the father will face trial later, called him a "devil" and slammed the door in his face. He said he saw Paul Oakley bending over the bed on which the child was lying and that he had his hands on the child's throat.

Wilson further said Sherman Clayton sat on the bed staring into space. Later, Paul Oakley came to his home with the announcement Bernice was dead and that he (Wilson) accused Oakley of choking her to death.

"No, I didn't," Wilson quoted Oakley as saying. "The devil did it."

Mrs. Wilson corroborated the latter part of her husband's testimony and said Oakley told her he had ended the child's life "because it was crying." Mrs. Wilson said she later examined the body and found marks on the throat.

It is ordered by the court that Deputy Sheriff H. C. Costrell, E. G. Stark, and R. B. Stout be paid $125 each per month beginning April 1, 1933. John White absent.

The action was based on an opinion by Homer C. DeWolfe, assistant attorney general, who said one statute forbade payment of salaries of such deputies, the commissioner's court shall have the power to pay the same out of the general fund of said county.

This opinion completely reverses one on the same subject made about 2 years ago by Attorney General James V. Allred. He will probably be necessary to amend the county budget before the salaries are paid on the basis of the opinion. It has been a matter of common knowledge for several years that fees of the sheriff had declined below a fair operating remuneration.

RHODE ISLAND, TOO
PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 2 (AP)—Rhode Island, third state to vote on repeal of the 18th amendment, today stood firmly in the anti-prohibition column.

Both houses already had voted to submit an amendment to the constitution to permit the manufacture and sale of 3.2 per cent beer. That election has been set for August 26.

Fort Worth Man Nominated District Governor at San Angelo Meeting.

SAN ANGELO, May 2 (AP)—O. B. Sellers, president of the Fort Worth Rotary club, was nominated governor of the forty-first district of Rotary International for the year beginning July 1 at the semi-annual general conference of the eighth annual session of the district at noon here today. He will be elected formally at the International convention at Boston June 26-30, succeeding H. C. Anderson of Ranger.

Sellers was nominated by acclamation. Anderson was presented with a chest of silver and a check that represented contributions from the 61 clubs in the district in excess of the cost of the gift, as a token of appreciation of his services.

Invitations from Abilene, Amarillo and Pampa for the 1934 convention were expected at the closing session this afternoon. Among resolutions to be presented was one expressing confidence in and pledging cooperation to President Roosevelt.

Speakers this morning included Dr. Thomas Taylor, president of Howard Payne college of Brownwood, Wis., Rotary International's representative to the district meeting. Jackson thrilled members with recitals of how "service above self" had changed the lives of many men and closed with this startling statement:

"I have heard in San Angelo the sweetest story of all. A man came to me last night and said 'if it wasn't for Rotary I would be a murderer, and the man I would have killed is a member of my club—and we are friends.'"

DEATH TOLL IN TORNADO AREA MOUNTS TO 63

STORM STRIKES AGAIN LEAVING 35 DEAD AT ONE TOWN
MINDEN, LOUISIANA, IS PARTLY DESTROYED BY ASSAULT

By The Associated Press.
TORNADIC disturbances in four Mississippi valley states claimed at least 63 lives during the last three days, leaving hundreds injured in their wake and property damage probably in excess of $2,000,000.

The latest assault occurred late yesterday near the Arkansas-Louisiana border, centering on the important Webster parish seat of Minden, La., a large section of that town was wrecked by the blow and first estimates of the dead there ran above 60, but only 35 bodies had actually been located in the debris today. Several hundred were critically hurt.

Magnolia, Ark., and Arcadia, La., each reported six dead, and Salem, Ark., 2. At least one death occurred at Camp, Ark., near the Missouri line.

Five persons died yesterday in an Illinois blow and over the week-end, eight lives were snuffed out at Lake Village, Ark., and Greenville and Yazoo City, Miss., when high winds swept those sections with large property damage.

Commissioners Order Deputy Salaries Paid

THE OLD question of whether the commissioners court can legally pay salaries of deputy sheriffs out of the general fund has been raised by a court minute entry as follows:

"It is ordered by the court that Deputy Sheriff H. C. Costrell, E. G. Stark, and R. B. Stout be paid $125 each per month beginning April 1, 1933. John White absent."

COLLEGIATE GOLD DIGGERS

COLORADO COEDS dig gold, all right—with a little assistance from their campus boys friends. In the foreground Gil Beck of Ogden, Utah, shows how it is done; behind him Ralph Blakey, Casper, Wyo., and Myers, Baumgardner, Boulder, Colo., have as overseers Patricia True of Great Falls, Mont., Betty Rurs of Albany, Tex., and (seated) Margaret Barnum of Pueblo, Colo.

BOULDER, Colo., May 2 (AP)—Betty Co-ed of the University of Colorado campus knows where the gold is. It's in them that well know hills, pard, and Betty goes and gets it herself.

Jobs Few, So They Dig
As a matter of fact, however, her campus boy friend is better at the job, and although Betty can go along, he does most of the work.

Depleted funds and fewer available "town jobs" made harder than ever the task of the 50 per cent of Colorado university's men students who work their way.

Beck, with the help of a mild winter and spring weather, has averaged from $6 to $10 per week from his mining. About $1 a day with luck, is an average run.

The Pampa Relief committee and office staff were highly commended for their efficiency when A. V. Elrod, field representative of the Texas Relief committee, visited Pampa this morning.

Mr. Elrod especially congratulated Mrs. W. H. Davis and J. P. Brown on the condition of their records of the work done and the way the unemployed were registered.

He told the office staff and some of the members of the committee that the first object of the distribution of the money was for the needy and destitute unemployed and not for the pauper, who has to be cared for by the county or the unemployed man who can get by without work.

He stated that the Pampa branch was getting along nicely and that no outside help was needed.

CUPLE SLAIN
SAN AUGUSTINE, May 2 (AP)—Knife and gunshot wounds had brought death today to Oscar Wilson, 54, and his wife, 26, a farm couple that lived in Magnolia community, fourteen miles southeast of San Augustine.

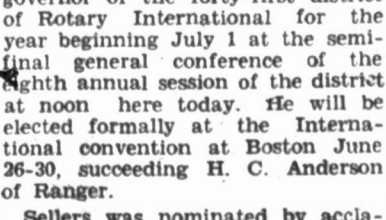

Final arrangements have been completed for a balloon expedition into the stratosphere, under supervision of Professor Auguste Piccard at Chicago's 1933 World's Fair—A Century of Progress.

The Chicago ascent will be made by Jean Piccard, twin brother of the Swiss scientist, Dr. Moulton said, and will be from Soldier Field some time during the summer.

While in Chicago recently, Prof. Piccard stated that he hopes to break his world-record adventure into the region beyond the atmosphere—53,866 feet above the earth—which he made from Zurich in August, 1932. By using a new type of equipment the Piccard brothers believe they will be successful in reaching an altitude of from 5,000 to 7,000 feet greater.

The apparatus is now being constructed under direction of Prof. Arthur H. Compton of the University of Chicago and will be much lighter than any used heretofore. The balloon bag will be lighter in weight and have a greater capacity.

O. B. SELLERS of Fort Worth, above, was slated to become district governor of the 41st Rotary district in the annual conference at San Angelo today.

STAR IN CAST
MISS LORENE ROBBINS of Canyon above is a leading character in and director of the Teachers college cast which will present a play and vaudeville program at La Nora theater next Friday evening for the benefit of the Panhandle Historical museum. PANHANDLE-PLAINS WOULD BE GIVEN ANOTHER CONGRESSMAN AS RESULT OF A COMPROMISE

AGREEMENT IS REACHED BY CONFERENCE COMMITTEE
GRAY IN DISTRICT 18
COUNTY WOULD BE ONE AMONG 18 OTHERS IN TERRITORY

AUSTIN, May 2 (AP)—Members of the free conference committee on congressional redistricting said today that they had reached an agreement on a compromise bill to be recommended to the legislature.

The bill would place Galveston county, represented in congress by Clay Stone Briggs of Galveston until his death a few days ago, in the same district with a group of other South Texas counties at present represented by J. J. Mansfield of Columbus.

As a result of a population increase, Texas now is entitled to 21 congressmen whereas it had only 18 before the last reapportionment.

The bill would give one of the new districts to Bexar county, a second to the Panhandle-Plains of West Texas and a third to Central West Texas. In addition, a south-east Texas district not now represented in congress as a result of Briggs' death would be entitled to name a representative.

Senator W. R. Poage of Waco, one of the conferees, said that Briggs' successor would be elected from the present district. The redistricting however, would become effective before the elections next year.

Following is in part the conference report grouping:

District 17: Fisher, Jones, Shackelford, Stephens, Palo Pinto, Nolan, Taylor, Callahan, Eastland, Erath, Comanche, Hamilton.

District 18: Dallam, Hartley, Oldham, Deaf Smith, Farmer, Castro, Swisher, Briscoe, Hall, Childress, Motley, Cottle, Collingsworth, Donley, Armstrong, Randall, Potter, Carson, Gray, Wheeler, Moore, Hutchinson, Roberts, Hemphill, Sherman, Hansford, Ochiltree, Lipscomb.

District 19 (New): Haskell, Bailey, Lamb, Hale, Floyd, Cochran, Hockley, Lubbock, Crisby, Dickens, King, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Kent, Stonewall, Gaines, Dawson, Borden, Scurry, Andrews, Martin, Howard, Mitchell.

Years later the bones of the herd were discovered and the horns mounted, and Mr. Nunn obtained the pair.

WORLD PARLEY MAY TURN TIDE

If anyone doubts the supreme importance of the forthcoming London conference on international finances and economic policies and disarmament, he has only to read the day-by-day news dispatches in the daily papers. If these do not convince him he is beyond persuasion.

Currently, we have a cable from Paris remarking that a spy scare like the one that swept Europe just before the World War is gripping France, Germany and Italy. France has been rounding up spies along her German and Italian borders.

Simultaneously, another cable from Paris reports that the United States and the principal European governments have lost all hope of immediate progress in disarmament, and adds that the situation will not grow easier until "the world-wide political tensions lessens."

On the heels of this, Chancellor Hitler declares in Berlin that "Germany can no longer be treated as a power of the second rank—she must be recognized as an equal partner; and the National Alliance of German Army Officers issues a statement declaring that restoration of the Hohenzollerns is the crowning goal of a reconstructed Germany.

Tie all of these dispatches together and you have as gloomy a picture as any Jeremiah would care to look upon. Then, to make the bill complete, lump in with them the innumerable stories testifying to economic breakdown in this country—the stories of cities that cannot pay their school teachers, their firemen and their policemen, the stories of closed banks that cannot reopen, the stories of mounting breadlines, of sweat-shop wage scales and the like.

What you get, beyond argument, is a picture of a world in turmoil and distress.

One hope is that the London conference can straighten out world difficulties and get us back on the right path again.

INFLATION FIRST CUTS BUYING POWER OF WAGES TRENDS TO INCREASE THE PAY Higher Cost of Living Will Be Noted—More Workmen Will Get Jobs.

By J. R. BRACKETT NEW YORK (AP)—Inflation, in its first stages, is a wage-cutter; in its second, a wage-raiser. The first thing inflation does is to send the prices of commodities, of wheat, cotton, copper, shoes, food, up. Since the prices of these items advance, the wage earner's dollar loses purchasing power.

May Stimulate Business. But, because prices do go up, inflationists predict a rise in business activity, with factories hiring more men and giving more hours of work to men already employed. In hiring more men the total payroll of the nation is raised; in adding to hours of work the income of the individual worker goes up.

As activity goes higher and more and more men go back to work, the bargaining power of the individual worker is increased. He may demand higher wages, and, depending on the extent of the inflation and business improvement, get his raise. History shows that inflation tends to raise more slowly than wages. So, when inflation is beginning, the salaried man will have to exercise even greater economy than he did in the last stages of deflation.

Salaries Rise More Slowly. The salary earner's wage goes through the same process at a slower rate. Salaries tend to rise more slowly than wages. So, when inflation is beginning, the salaried man will have to exercise even greater economy than he did in the last stages of deflation.

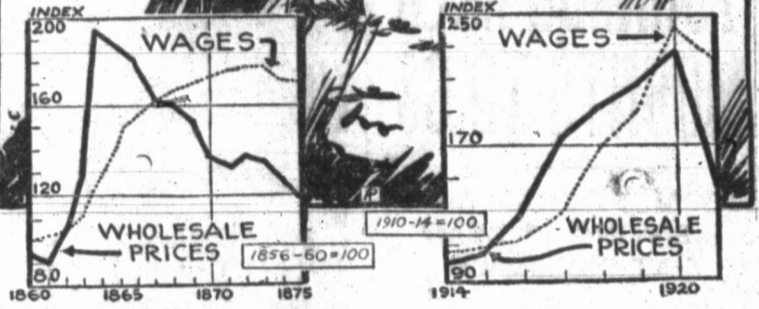

The first prices to go up are those for raw materials—cotton, copper, wheat, and so on. Next comes the manufacturer who fabricates these materials into finished goods, and finally the wholesaler or retailer advances his prices. All prices are likely to advance rather rapidly because sellers are trying to make profits to discount further price advances.

Common Stocks Have Edge. Persons holding common stocks stand to benefit quickly because these stocks represent claims on corporations which have large inventories. The raw material producer or manufacturer has large inventories he stands to benefit greatly, since he will sell his inventory at market prices, which will be considerably above what he paid for such inventories in the depression.

Savings Tend to Emerge. Until wage and salary rates do advance, public purchases are not likely to increase, although savings which have been held might be expected to flow rapidly into the market places to take advantage of low prices. Also, total purchasing power may increase quickly because of the additional employment.

Persons dependent on income from rents will not be able to increase rents rapidly because of the still low rate of purchasing power, and, since rents are fixed in leases, landlords must lag in increasing their incomes.

Persons dependent on income from interest will find their purchasing power definitely curtailed without any chance of increasing that in the near future.

EXPERIENCE from past inflations indicates that commodity prices begin their climb ahead of wages and salaries. The periods of inflation at the time of the war between the states and, more recently, accompanying the world war, are shown in the two charts illustrative of this tendency.

NEED NEW MINDS

Mr. Coolidge concluded: "We are in a new era to which I do not belong, and it would not be possible for me to adjust myself to it. These new ideas call for new men to develop them."

There are those who still believe in working hard and long to cure all ills. Men without jobs cannot subscribe to such a philosophy. The modern government must give much thought to providing opportunity for men to adjust myself to it.

The White Cockatoo by Mignon G. Eberhart

SYNOPSIS: Sue Tully, Jim Sandeen and the detective David Lorn band together to trap the person who murdered the Russian in the corridor of their hotel the person who shot five times at Sandeen, and the man who tried to abduct Sue. They believe the three incidents are part of an attempt to secure the token with which Sue must prove her title to a share in her father's fortune. But what occurs Sandeen meet in a bar that perhaps Sue is not playing quite square.

It seems that the priest had a touch of—"Stomach-ache," said Sue rapidly. "And rang for Marcel and Marcel brought him hot water and brandy and stayed with him all hour."

"Exactly," said the detective. "And further," said Sue. "I let your story of why you had gone to the lobby and stumbled upon the murdered man pass last night because I honestly didn't know what to do, and I could see they believed you at the moment. It's true I shrank from telling about that attempted abduction."

"The police would never believe the thing as it stands. But I can see now that I made a mistake, and I'm going to tell them the truth about it at once. I can give you a complete alibi, Mr. Sandeen, and I intend to do so."

"You know," said Lorn in a bored way, "there's no need for this discussion. I was about to remind you that these alibis are of practically no importance. In view of the recent discovery, I mean. The policeman."

He was right, of course. After a moment Sue rose. "It's late," she said wearily. "And we seem to be getting nowhere. It was a dreadful night, and it's been a crazy day, and I of my head." She paused and smiled a little wryly and said "When shall we three meet again?"

"When the harly-burly's done," said Lorn. "Tomorrow," said Lorn prosaically. "I don't wish to be over-couraging, Mr. Sandeen, but I really think you've given me something to go on. You are sure you've forgotten nothing?"

"There was on the landing a broken bit of something that looks like wax or rubber, and a brown leaf," I said thoughtfully. "I've got them here."

We all looked at the shriveled leaf and the bit of hard wax in the palm of my hand, but they were only a leaf and a scrap of reddish brown.

Lorn finally shrugged and dismissed them. "Nothing, probably," he said. "I'll keep them in mind, however."

"As the glow fell to ashes, I slept."

have thought it was some robber he'd killed. She would of course be alarmed if he had acted so impulsively.

"You may be right, of course," I continued, meeting Sue's eyes. "But it looks to me more as if she knew the murdered man and Lovschiem knew him. And why did Madame Lovschiem try to replace the dagger in the clock under my very eyes and suggest that we keep any knowledge of it from the police?"

"She did," I said. Lorn made no comment, and Sue finally said thoughtfully, but very stubbornly, it seemed to me:

"Perhaps Madame only wanted to keep the hotel out of as much scandal as was possible. And she thinks you didn't do it, Mr. Sandeen."

"Nice of her, I'm sure," I said, exasperated. Her eyes flared darker again, but Lorn intervened.

"YOU evidently don't know, Mr. Sandeen, that the police have gone quite thoroughly into the matter of alibis. The Lovschiems say they were within sight of each other and were actually talking when the bell rang and Lovschiem heard it. Marianne, the maid, says she was sound asleep, and the police had to bang on the door of her room."

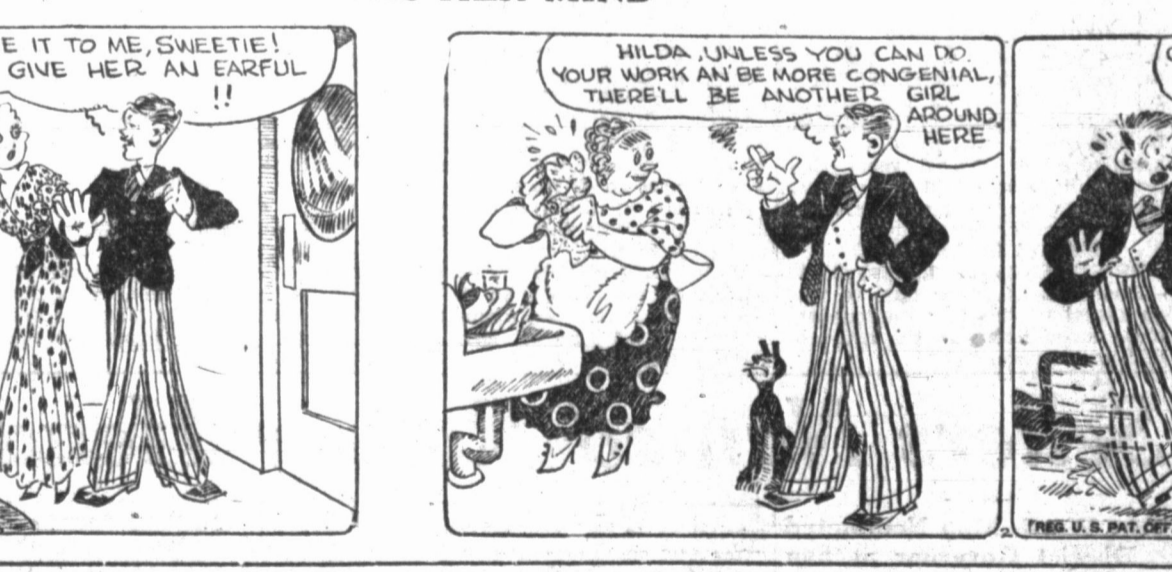

"Where is her room?" I interrupted to ask. "On the second floor back toward the service stair. It was the same with Mrs. Byge. The priest says Marcel had been with him up to a moment or two before Madame Lovschiem knocked on the door of his room and begged him to come to the dead man. Marcel agrees."

"What is the sinister thing abroad, tomorrow, in the creaking old hotel?"

CARBON BLACK IS LUBRICANT FOR MANY MOVING PARTS AND ASSISTS IN TERRIFIC HEAT

(Editor's note: This is the last of a series of articles on carbon black manufacture, from a speech delivered at a recent A. P. I. meeting.)

By H. W. PRICE
 It may be of interest to many to know how carbon lubrication of moving parts is accomplished in the presence of high heat and exposed machinery of carbon black plants. Where heat is very high, like that of the burner grid, no lubrication is necessary as the axis of a large number of flanged bearing wheels, which themselves run upon a steel rack. This gives us rolling friction, with very little wear resulting. The bearings in the alleys are either plain or roller type. The roller type usually lubricated by means of oil or grease. The roller type by means of compression grease. While carbon black seems to possess little or no lubricating properties, such as does graphite, in its dry state it serves as a very effective lubricant for the bearings which support the many sets of screw conveyors necessary to handle the black.

Conveying of the black is principally done by screw conveyors which operate at comparatively low speeds, seldom over 30 revolutions per minute, and due to the slip-back of the screw, it requires a motor of 2 to 3 horse power to convey the black from the farthest and nearest hothouse into the packing bin. In handling black within the packing house, vertical conveyor screws, inclined or vertical bucket elevators, and all lifts are used.

The black, upon reaching the packing house, is always bolted or sifted in various ways to eliminate foreign matter and break up the clumps formed on the channels. Bolting processes usually take one of the following forms: Brushing through a screen by rotating brushes, passing through a mill where a highly revolving set of blades or bars break up the black and force it through a fine screen, or blowing the black through a screen by the use of a fan or air blast and by air flotation.

The black, on being bolted in one of these ways, next is conveyed to a large bin in which it is agitated by various means to reduce the volume-weight relationship until it can be packed off in paper bags with the standard screw packer such as is used for sugar or flour.

Carbon black is one of the lightest of our known pigments. In the state in which it comes from the hothouse, it weighs about 4 pounds per cubic foot. Usually the bolting process further increases its volume to where it weighs but 2 to 3 pounds per cubic foot. Agitation within the bins then reduces this to about 2 pounds as it is packed off in bags for commercial use. Two sizes of packages are used, the small containing 12 1/2 pounds and requiring a satchel bottom bag 17 1/2 by 34 inches and the larger a bag 22 by 38 inches and holding 25 pounds. If the black is used in the rubber industry, it usually is compressed to half the above volumes. Domestic shipments are usually made by stacking the black directly in a paper-lined car, but foreign shipments are usually in wooden or fl. board boxes containing from 200 to 325 pounds net each.

Questions are often asked regarding the inflammability and fire hazard factor in handling of carbon black. It would appear to some that the black would explode. However, there is no record of there having been an explosion.

Carbon black, pure carbon, will burn and is often set on fire by friction of bearings in the agitation bins, and black has been known to stay on fire several days before coming to the surface. It will not burn with an open flame, but only with a reddish glow, consuming the oxygen contained between the fine particles of black. The product of combustion is very largely carbon monoxide, and in fighting a carbon black fire workmen must guard themselves against too much exposure to the gas, particularly in a closed building. Compression of carbon black, for storage and shipment, makes it practically non-inflammable, however, and there is a very small fire hazard.

LIVESTOCK FEEDING IS URGED BY SPUR EXPERIMENT STATION

SPUR, May 2. (AP)—Livestock feeding, which has brought profits to West Texas farmers during a period when they would have lost money by dumping their feed crops on the market, is being encouraged by the Spur experiment station.

Feeders from West Texas counties have been invited to the experiment station on May 5 to observe the results of 168-day feeding tests to determine the proper methods of feeding which should be practiced in the area. Forty or 50 counties will be represented. The tests will answer five questions for the farmers:

1. Which is the best variety of bundle feed?
2. Does it pay to grind feed for yearling steers?
3. Can cottonseed be profitably substituted for cottonseed meal in the fattening ration?
4. Is trench silage more profitable in the ration than cured bundle feed?
5. Is it profitable to add oyster shell flour to the ration of fattening steers?

The station has 85 steers, divided into eight groups, which are being used for the experiments.

CONGRESS MIGHT ABANDON THIRTY-HOUR WORK WEEK PROPOSAL

SESSION DUE TO END FIRST WEEK IN JUNE

MORE EMERGENCY PROPOSALS TO BE SUBMITTED

FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON Associated Press Staff Writer WASHINGTON, May 2. (AP)—President Roosevelt and congressional leaders are combining for a quick session of the extra session of Congress, with the first week in June as the goal.

Readily involved in international negotiations to further world recovery, Mr. Roosevelt will be giving attention almost exclusively after June 6 to the London economic conference, and it is his desire to have the extra session well rounded by then.

Within a short time the last two sessions of the president's major emergency proposals—a railroad reorganization and a public works program to aid employment—will be sent to Capitol Hill.

Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the energetic leader, pointed to the adjournment last night after conference with the president and indicated a preferred calendar of business.

This includes the Tennessee Valley Muscle Shoals bill now before the Senate; the home mortgage relief bill passed by the House; the regulation of the railroad public works measures.

Robinson said the 30 hour work week bill, passed by the Senate but held behind opposition in the House, is not in the picture at the moment. It was emphasized later that this did not mean that the White House had withdrawn support for this legislation.

Rather, administration is counting upon using it as a basis for legislation to extend federal supervision of the industry and wages. The delay is encountered, it is believed the president will not force an issue at this session.

Miss Frances Perkins, secretary of labor, asserted at a press conference that minimum wage laws must be passed to complete the reconstruction program. She made her statement after additional opposition had been recorded against such federal proposals in hearings before the House labor committee.

Each of the opposition is coming from organized labor which contends that a minimum wage becomes the maximum wage.

CHANGES FOR PASSING SALES TAX BILL SLIM

R. F. C. FUNDS MIGHT BE WITHDRAWN FROM TEXAS

AUSTIN, May 1. (AP)—Chances for a general sales tax bill to be passed by the Texas legislature were slim today after the House refused to consider the proposal at this time.

The vote to not consider the bill now was 73 to 51. It had been brought up as a suspension request by Representative Harold Kayton of San Antonio, its author.

The House several weeks ago refused to sanction another sales tax advocated by ex-Governor James E. Ferguson, husband of Governor Miriam A. Ferguson. Instead, an income tax bill was passed and sent to the Senate.

A resolution was engrossed in the Senate proposing a change in the constitution to provide for issuance of $20,000,000 in bonds to be used in unemployment relief work. The vote was 18 to 10, three short of the required 21 votes necessary to submit the proposition.

Failure to submit the amendment might result in the withdrawal of reconstruction finance corporation relief funds from Texas, the corporation having stated it would not be disposed to allot any more funds to Texas unless the state took steps to aid itself.

The governor signed two bills to grant relief to hard pressed property owners whose holdings were mortgaged and in danger of being disposed of at forced sale.

One of the bills would authorize district courts to postpone for 180 days the forced sale of property on affidavit and proof that the property would not sell for its actual value. Another extension of 180 days would be allowed if conditions had not improved by the end of the first period of grace.

The other bill would postpone until June the sale of real estate set for today under mortgage foreclosure actions and deeds of trust. Both laws became effective immediately.

The House had under consideration a bill to increase the appropriation for rural schools from $5,000,000 to $80,000,000 for the next biennium. Attempts to reduce the appropriation to the present amount were defeated.

GARDNER CONGRATULATES HIS LEAGUERS WHEN THEY FIGHT

Complimented Beaumont & Galveston For Recent Free-For-All.

By BILL PARKER Associated Press Sports Writer Suspensions and fines that resulted from the free-for-all battles between Washington and New York players recalls the Texas league rule that allows players to engage in fights without penalties as long as they merely are personal combats with fists only.

President Gardner of the Texas league likes to see the players fight for their rights on the field. He got a thrill out of the Zeke Bonura and Henry Greenberg fight last season. He complimented the Galveston and Beaumont players for their recent free-for-all at Galveston.

PIRATES ARE NEW MENACE AFTER DEBUT

PHILLIES BLANKED BY CORSAIRS IN 11TH TRIUMPH

By HERBERT W. BARKER Associated Press Sports Writer The east has taken one glance at George Gibson's Pittsburgh Pirates and hoisted storm warnings. Moving into the Atlantic seaboard a day ahead of their western confederates, the Buccaneers rattled 17 hits off the fences of Baker bowl yesterday, trounced their old jinx, the Phillies, 10-0, and strengthened their grip on the National League lead.

All in all, Gibson's men gave an impressive demonstration of the all-round strength many competent critics believe will take the Pirates into the world series next fall. Their hitting hardly could have been improved upon, they got effective pitching from Bill Swift, and played errorless ball in the field. The Corsairs triumph, their 11th in 14 games, left them two full games ahead of the New York Giants.

Two smashing home runs by Floyd Vaughan and Earl Grace, each with the bases loaded, spelled ruin for the Phillies and not a little embarrassment to "Fidgety Phil" Collins and Austin (Cy) Moore. Vaughan's round-trip drive was made off Collins in the third while Moore was the victim when Grace connected with two out in the seventh.

The intersection warfare will be on in earnest today. In the National league, the Pirates resumed hostilities with the Phillies, the Chicago Cubs were paired against the Giants, the St. Louis Cardinals against Brooklyn, and Cincinnati against Boston.

DERBY HOPE

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Only one filly—Regret—ever has led the field home in the $50,000 Kentucky Derby, but there are any number of astute horsemen who would not be surprised to see the miracle repeated on May 6.

Swivel, robust and powerful queen of the 1932 juveniles, appears to have an exceptionally good chance of duplicating the immortal Regret's triumph. Even if she fails, a lot of fancy colts will know they have been in the race.

Weighing 200 pounds more than Top Flight, the filly which was a winter book favorite in last year's derby, Swivel has a remarkably fine constitution for her sex. She thrives on distance and should be at her best in the mile and a quarter class.

Young Stanley, 140, of Amarillo, has been signed to meet Kayo Kitchens who has been coming to the front the last few weeks. Kayo won a technical knockout from the Macon, Ga., slugger, Kid Stampfer in Borger last week. He is developing a punch along with his speed.

Little Tuffy Simons, 103, of Borger, who has made a hit with Pampa fans, will return to meet Eddie Daniels, same weight, of Stihmet, in four rounds. Lefty Hawkins and Ray Phillips, two local 140-pounders, will meet in another four rounder. Two husky negroes, Mac Jenkins of Campbell Barber shop, will do battle with Kid Pollard, Bowers ranch. Both will weigh around 180 pounds.

ROOSEVELT PLANS TO ATTEND FAIR DURING SUMMER

WASHINGTON, May 2. (AP)—President Roosevelt is trying to arrange to get to Chicago to open the world fair there in June; and he also plans to spend most of the summer away from Washington.

His trip to Chicago is only tentative, at present, because he has agreed to go to Annapolis on June 1 to deliver a diploma to the naval academy class.

The fair is scheduled to open that day, but it was said at the White House that if that were postponed a day or two, the president might make the western trip.

His plans for the summer remain unsettled because of uncertainty on the time that congress will adjourn.

HOUSTON WINS SIXTH IN ROW TO HOLD LEAD

SCOUT NEWS

By BILL PARKER Associated Press Sports Writer Manager Carey Selph continues to be a success in his first year as a Texas league manager. Monday night his Houston Buffaloes retained their one and one-half game lead over the second place Galveston Buccaneers by blanking Fort Worth, 6 to 0.

When Mike Cvergros, southpaw, pitched the final ball and strolled from the mound, it made Houston's sixth consecutive win. Mike simply was invincible while the Buffaloes lost no time getting to pitcher Charles Biggs in the first inning when Selph, Stebbins and Goodman hit triples. Cvergros scattered eight Fort Worth hits. George Washington Miller had weakened. His double scored the two runs necessary victory.

Chief Ewell Moore, righthander, not only kept Galveston in second place with a 5 to 1 decision over Tulsa, but kept his 1933 mound record intact from 1933. It was fifth straight win and established him as the leading league pitcher games won.

Moore had no trouble with Tulsa. He did have a first base who nicked him for a double in the fifth with a run, and Governor's steal of third in first inning that resulted in a walk without the aid of a hit.

Pitcher Pabn Kowalik clouted double in the ninth with the lead to give San Antonio a 3 victory over Oklahoma City, only was he the hitting star, but saved the game with his relief hit in the eighth inning after Miller had weakened. His double scored the two runs necessary victory.

The Dallas and Beaumont teams were postponed because of grounds.

The WORLD of STAMPS

By QUINTON JAMES

Going right ahead with its five-year plan for philately, Soviet Russia announces two new issues.

One commemorates the fifteenth anniversary of the red army, observed on February 23. Each of its seven values is divided, the left side showing a branch of the army as it was in 1918; the right, as it is now.

The 3 kopek is devoted to the infantry, 5k cavalry, 10k artillery, 15k tanks, 20k aviation, 30k navy and 35k instructional department.

The other, to be issued in April in celebration of the tenth anniversary of the aviation and airmail, consists of five airmail values, 5, 10, 20, 50 and 80 kopek.

The designs for the first four show an airplane flying over some Soviet development; the airplane in the fifth hovers over a section of the arctic.

Check On Frankers

Many countries surcharge stamps to be used by government officials and departments. The practice enables the budget director, or whoever is in charge of such matters, to learn just how much postage each agency uses. At the same time it permits franked letters to be mailed abroad, something that cannot be done under the United States system.

The 1931 Indo-China issue has been surcharged "Service," and the Papuan 1932 issue "O. S."

Cleaning House

Collectors who have been vexed by certain philatelic practices in Lithuania may be glad to learn that the Lithuanian state attorney has ordered a close investigation of the postal administration of the past 13 years.

One newspaper of that country charges that intentional misprints in certain issues, intended to raise their value to collectors, yielded a profit of 3,000,000 lit (about $300,000).

LARGEST KNOWN SALT DOME IN WORLD LOCATED IN EAST TEXAS

GRAND SALINE, May 2. (AP)—The most confirmed pessimist should not feel concerned over possible shortage of salt as changes and additions are being made at the local salt plant and mine designed to increase production by 50 per cent. Even with increased production, it is estimated that the available supply of salt here cannot be exhausted in less than 2,400 years.

Belgium, once the salt center of Europe, required more than 1,000 years of mining to deplete its salt reserves. The salt industry of Texas promises to be more enduring inasmuch as the largest known salt dome in the world is located here.

The Grand Saline deposit is over two miles in length and one mile wide. Core tests show its surface is underlaid with 99 per cent pure white rock salt to a depth of about 3,000 feet. It is estimated the dome contains over 20 billion tons of pure salt.

At present salt is being mined at a maximum depth of about 800 feet through sixteen by sixteen foot shafts. The salt is ground to various degrees of fineness below ground and comes to the surface ready for shipment.

Experts say salt will be produced from the Grand Saline dome long after the oil and gas resources of Texas have been depleted. Unless a synthetic substitute is developed salt mining should take first place among Texas' natural resources. In the ranching country a part of the overhead expense is buying salt for the cattle. That expense is curtailed to a minimum here for there always plenty of waste salt at the mine that may be hauled away free. Home ice cream makers shave the budget by taking enough salt in one trip to make ice cream for a season or more.

Big Sums Being Spent to Develop Longhorn Cavern

BURNET, May 2. (AP)—The gigantic Longhorn cavern, a Texas state park, located on highway 66 midway between Burnet and Marble Falls, is the scene of one of the largest amusement developments in the state. A large sum of money is being expended on development and beautification of the cavern and the 500-acre surface park surrounding the entrance.

Dr. Frank Ernest Nicholson, author and explorer, who last July charted and explored some eight miles within Longhorn cavern, has returned here after resigning from the Amazon exploration expedition to resume his duties as spelunker for the Texas state parks board. Further development on the cavern will be under his direction.

Development now in progress consists of a new trail leading some three miles further into the earth, providing a smooth electrically illuminated path to the brink of the subterranean lake. Spectacular lighting and sound effects are being perfected in the big room—a chamber approximately 1,500 feet in length. This newest trail will more than double the area within

Pampan's Tire And Rim Stolen

Ochiltree county officers and the owner of a car stolen in Perryton late Sunday night were to come to Pampa this afternoon to return the car and a man arrested by City Officers W. C. Dillman and Bush Haggard early yesterday morning. The man was arrested on a charge of drunkenness, but it was later discovered that the car was stolen.

Several stolen cars have been recovered here this year. The officers are instructed to keep a close watch for "hot" cars.

Officers are still investigating the hijacking of the La Nora theater late Saturday night. No arrests have been made.

A tire and rim were removed from J. H. Buckingham's car sometime last night. The car was in the garage at the rear of the Buckingham residence, 1237 Mary Ellen street. The tire was a U. S. Royal.

The state of Michigan owns 166,191 acres in Chippewa county, or more than one-sixth of the entire county.
