C. L. Stine, city manager of Pampa, was elected president of the Texas City Managers' association, at the annual convention at Mineral Wells today, according to a telegram received by Mayor W. A. Bratton this morning.

Mr. Stine decided late yesterday afternoon to attend the association's meeting.

The Pampa city official has been prominent in safety work in the association the last couple of years, and is regarded as an authority on traffic safety.

SPECIAL TRAIN TRIP PLANNED

A move to charter a special train to Port Arthur where the Pampa Harvesters play the Port Arthur Yellow Jackets on the night of Oct. 15 was started this morning by a group from the Harvester Mothers club.

The Santa Fe Railroad set a return trip price of about $9.65 per person if as many as 200 passengers were guaranteed. The trip would not be made in regulation Pullman cars but in special type coaches which are provided with collapsible beds to make beds. The railroad could not provide linen at that price but a couple of blankets or quilts could be taken along and a comfortable bed would result.

STIMSON ASKS EMBARGO ON JAP WAR SHIPMENTS

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (AP)—Former Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson today urged an immediate American and British embargo on the shipment of war materials to Japan.

Stimson, in a strongly-phrased, 4,000-word letter to the New York Times, declared that without such shipments by the two countries Japanese aggression would in all probability be promptly checked and cease.

SEEK TORTURE SLAYERS OF HANDSOME FLORIDAN

LAKELAND, Fla., Oct. 7 (AP)—City and county police followed slum cities today in their hunt for the torture slayers of handsome, 200-pound Douglas Beane.

Assistant State Attorney J. C. Rogers said he believed a band of men tortured Beane, mutilated his body and dumped him in a lonely "Lovers Lane" near Lake Deason.

PISTOL SHOOT WILL FEATURE FRIDAY EVENTS

Members of the South Oklahoma-North Texas Peace Officers association were officially welcomed to Pampa today in an address given by Mayor W. A. Bratton in the city hall auditorium.

"I have often thought that if we gave our officers, the men who protect our lives and property, a pat on the back they would feel more encouragement in doing their job. In closing, I expressed the hope that the visitors would take away a kindly feeling for Pampa, their convention city."

FAN CLAIMS SEAT ATOP YANK FIELD FLAGPOLE

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (AP)—The world series struck a humorous note today when Anthony Albano, 32-year-old father of six children, was discovered encoined in a "boat-swain's seat" on the flagpole in the Yankee stadium.

First man to pass through the bleacher gates for the opening game yesterday, Albano clambered on the pole during the night. His presence there was not noticed by stadium employees until 8:30 this morning. Then all was confusion.

Sergeant Charles Michie and a police emergency squad were summoned. Albano was established 100 feet in the air. Finally Michie's threats of dire consequences had their effect and Albano reluctantly came down.

The Roving Reporter Hears Cowboy Crimm

By THE ROVING REPORTER
The Roving Reporter got around to hearing Cowboy Crimm the other night.

It was "dollar night" because the revival was "behind on the budget," said Cowboy Crimm. It was "quarter night" last night and everybody was exerted to bring a quarter. "If everybody brings a quarter," said Crimm, "I won't take up another single collection this week."

About 400 persons hear him every night in the big tent that looks like a circus big top and is pitched right across the street from the First Baptist church which is the chief sponsor of Cowboy Crimm's third stand in Pampa. The other two Baptist churches, Central and Calvary, are also sponsors.

Hits At Pampa
Cowboy Crimm turned loose on Europeans who "criticize him." He said he sometimes wonders why he comes to this "fly-busted burg that is half-knee deep in dust."

Cowboy Crimm, long and fairly-lanky with a bony, knobby head, wears cowboy boots. He is partly bald. He calls himself a "story preacher." The Lord was a story preacher. Every time he preached he told a story. Crimm has preached in 15 states of the Union and 108,000 persons have been converted at his revivals, he said.

So Cowboy Crimm tells stories, most of them his personal experience, he used the personal pronoun "I" 229 times in one sermon the other night. Many of the experiences make you laugh, and others are calculated to make you cry. You may do neither or both. Cowboy Crimm's favorite stories are about hounds. He has owned packs of hounds for years. He keeps them at some indefinite place in "God's Country" which he says is East Texas. He runs after them in all-night fox hunts.

Dog Story Told
Here is one of what he calls his violations. He said that the Pampa Legion post had the reputation of being the outstanding civic service group in Pampa during the last year. Mr. Maisel's leadership was praised lavishly by both Commander Roberts and Judge Pickens.

The presiding judge of 84th district court declared that the Legion's Good Fellow activities last Christmas in sponsoring a movement to provide Christmas cheer for "unlucky" families was one of the outstanding achievements of the club.

He declared that as long as one's neighbors lacked the necessities of life "we have no right to sit by the luxuries." The subject of his talk was "Community Service."

Commander Roberts installed the new post commander, Howard Buckingham, and other officials. The new commander then took charge of the meeting, and announced that his policy would be to carry out the policies and projects started this last year, and to promote the building of a new home for the post. He appointed a building committee with Mike Roach as chairman to start functioning immediately.

The membership drive was begun last night with more than a score of the 34 members present paying their 1938 dues.

Committees were announced as follows:

Membership—Hamp Waddell, chairman; Ralph Thomas, co-chairman; A. D. Monteith, Earl Perkins, Dan Williams, John Crout, J. W. Woodworth.

House—W. V. Jarratt, chairman; Frank Shotwell, co-chairman; Guy

U. S. Condemnation Startles Japs

VIOLATION TO BE DISCUSSED IN CONFERENCE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 (AP)—Secretary Hull indicated today this government's firm intention of participating in a nine-power conference to consider the Far Eastern conflict.

The secretary of state said at his press conference no invitation to such a parley thus far has been received, but that naturally, as one of the signatories to the nine-power treaty guaranteeing China's territorial sovereignty, he "presumed" this government would accept if and when the bid is received.

The conference is being convoked on the recommendation of the League of Nations assembly.

By The Associated Press
Tokyo statesmen assembled in an emergency session today to discuss United States condemnation of Japan's invasion of China while Britain and France began an exchange of views with Washington on convocation of a nine-power conference aimed to curb hostilities in the far east.

Taken completely off guard, according to one of the highest Japanese government officials, the Tokyo statesmen were not expected, however, to reply immediately to the formal statement of the American state department accusing Japan of violating the nine-power act guaranteeing China's territorial integrity and the Kellogg pact outlawing war as an instrument of national policy.

"The prevailing sentiment of the Japanese government is that there is no reason for the (United States) action," the high official said. "We completely fail to understand the American action which is bound to make a very bad impression on the Japanese public."

In London, the possibility was advanced that the nine-power conference would be held in Washington.

Modern Menus By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX

Marriage bureaus announce that this is a big year for weddings, and the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, also, announces that it is a banner year for pears. Pears on the tree, of course, and ultimately on your grocer's stalls.

Bartletts are steadily becoming the darlings of the pear fancier's heart. Oregon and Washington are big pear producing states; by mid-September New York and Michigan join the procession and send their Bartletts all over the land. So by this time, all the best sources of these Bartletts are making everything fine and dandy for the eaters and canners.

The Bartlett is duck soup for the lazy man. Peeling being unnecessary, all he has to do is sink his teeth into it. Then reach for another. Kleffer pears are not so well known as the Bartlett, and cost less. But if carefully picked and allowed to ripen in a dark room at a temperature of from 60 to 65 degrees, their flavor can pretty well stand up to that of the better known Bartlett's.

Good pears should be soft but not mushy and of a deep yellow color. They should have no scale or worm damage, no skin spots, nor be shriveled. Buy pears marked U. S. No. 1 or for even more select, U. S. Fancy.

The little Seckel pear is always a favorite with youngsters. It has a high sugar content and tastes as good as candy. The Seckel is a handy size for pickles which will taste good this winter with meats.

Fall and winter pears are delicacies more of us should enjoy. Ask your grocer about these. Bosc (September 1 to December 15), Comice (November 1 to early in January), Nelis (December 1 to late May), Anjou (November 1 through April), and Hardy (through September and October).

PLACING THE BLAME FOR AERIAL BOMBINGS

It is impossible to read of the airplane bombing raids on Chinese cities without a sharp wave of indignation.

Japan, of course, is doing the bombing. But what do we mean by "Japan?"

In ordinary times we like the Japanese. They seem to be a courteous and a kindly people.

For the Japanese people have not been told about the bombing of noncombatants.

Naturally enough, the Japanese people have believed all of this. As far as they know, their airplanes have been scrupulous in observing the rules of civilized warfare.

The Japanese are about like everybody else. No nation as a whole is ever going to approve the killing of children or the bombing of homes.

Because the people at war will not know what their own governments are doing. Modern war is, above all, ruthless.

FEAR OF WAR BEHIND DICTATORS' MEETING

It was a great show that the Germans put on for Benito Mussolini last week.

But there was a grim and menacing undertone to the great celebration.

And no American can read of it, and think about the significance of it, without reflecting on the providential good fortune which is his as an American.

Lying between two great oceans, we escape the unending pressure which forces Germans and Italians to turn their nations into armed camps.

You can dramatize the contrast best by imagining that some foreign statesman—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain of England, for instance—had come to America and was being shown the sights by President Roosevelt.

What would the President show the prime minister? Would he not take him to those spots where America's great productive machinery is in high gear, so that the visitor might see how a nation enjoys the blessings of peace?

There would be a visit to the Detroit auto factories, no doubt, and to the Mahoning Valley steel belt; a look at the Tennessee Valley, with its great experiment in planned living; a glimpse at the western wheat belt, where rippling grain rolls to the horizon like a wind-touched sea; a visit to Chicago with its infinite network of busy railroads, and another to New York, where the innumerable

Scrap Iron from U. S. Deals Death in China

By RODNEY DUTCHER Pampa Daily News Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—It is perfectly true, as charged that Chinese and their allies are being destroyed with many tons of American—and other—scrap iron

On the other hand, the Chinese have been buying far more actual implements of war from us than have the Japanese.

Roughly speaking, assuming this year's exports from the United States have gone into the current warfare, the Japanese are hurling about $35,000,000 worth of our scrap at the Chinese

Embargo Would Aid Japan This appears to be the chief basis for complaints that the present official policy of neutrality, which allows virtually unrestricted sale of anything and everything to any nation which wants it now favors Japan

The State Department doesn't like that allegation. In fact, it's surprisingly easy to pick up around the department that the chief reason the President isn't applying the neutrality act is that China needs the arms

No Ban on Raw Materials The point is that, although an arms embargo—deklarable if the President found a state of war to exist—would automatically shut off all exports of planes, guns and munitions, there is no law under which exports of scrap iron, oil, copper and other war materials could be stopped.

Exports of oil and gasoline to Japan from Jan. to July, inclusive, amounted to about 15,000,000 barrels with a value of more than $22,000,000, according to Department of Commerce figures.

Export to Japan of copper, a very important war material, increased from 47,000,000 pounds to 85,000,000 pounds in value about $4,100,000,000 to $11,200,000.

China's January-July copper imports from this country rose from 3,000,000 pounds to 8,250,000. Her imports of scrap haven't been important enough for the Commerce Department to list.

Munitions export records show that the Japanese, eager copyists, often have ordered a single item—one propeller or one engine, perhaps—presumably to make their own instead of buying them here in quantities.

Almost anybody's old automobile, bed springs or radiator may have killed a few Chinese by now. But nothing can be done about it without another act of Congress.

The administration cold-shouldered the last series of proposals for a ban on export of scrap.

Book A Day

By BRUCE CATTON

"Their Eyes Were Watching God" (Lippincott; $2), is the third and finest of Zora Neale Hurston's penetrating novels of her own people.

With intelligence and compassion, Miss Hurston tells the story of Janie, a Florida Negro, and of the three men she loved and lived with.

She married Logan Killicks, the prosperous farmer, because her grandmother desired it. When love did not come to her with time, she left him for Joe Starks.

When she and Joe first met, he had nothing. But chance sent her to Eatonville, and there his ambition and lust for power made him mayor of the town.

As his power increased, his love for Janie and his kindness to her diminished. At last, his cruelty goaded her to madness and she killed him.

A long time passed, and then one day "Tea Cake," a young and debonaire and swaggering, stepped into her store. What happened to Janie after that brought her the only real happiness she ever knew.

"Their Eyes Were Watching God" is a moving story, told with humor great understanding. Miss Hurston has a sense of the dramatic which lifts and speeds her novel.

There is a tendency to write preciously and an intoxication with words, both of which tend to clutter a bit the simple story. On the other hand there is skillful writing and really magnificent handled Negro dialogue.

This novel is certainly one of the season's best, and adds weight to the conviction that one of these days Miss Hurston is going to produce the great Negro novel destined to come out of America.—E. M. T.

GOLD VACCINES HELP IN TESTS

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor
NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (AP)—Vaccines against the common cold, tried on 20,000 persons, helped 80 per cent of them—were useless for the others.

This verdict, the result of the largest, longest and most complete tests of common cold vaccination yet reported, was announced to the American Public Health association today.

All known kinds of cold vaccines were tried. All helped in the same way: They shortened the duration of common colds, kept people from feeling very sick, averted after-effects.

But none of them reduced the number of colds.

The report was made by Leverett D. Bristol, M. D., health director of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, New York City.

With these human tests he explained, there could be no "guinea pigs," such as some persons let unprotected to learn how much worse off they might be.

But the lack of this scientific verification was partly made up by the fact that five different companies, independently.

The still unidentified primary cause of colds is a virus. Its existence has been proven by isolation in laboratory experiments, but no one has been able to "cultivate" this virus to the extent that it can be used to make a vaccine.

Delegates were arriving continuously during the morning and when the convention opened a total of 42 had registered, six of that number being women.

First to register at convention headquarters, the Schneider Hotel, was Supt. Daley.

Then the following from Oklahoma City registered: Ray Nicholson, Lieut. Johnny Whalen, Capt. Jack Robert, Sgt. "Lefty" Walker, and "Red" Elliott. Roberts is with the Oklahoma Highway patrol.

Other officers attending included Sheriff Raymond Waters, Wheeler county; Sheriff Dan Harrison, Hutchinson; R. H. Routh, Amarillo, state inspector; R. N. Flat Foot Quartet Sings

The flat foot quartet, composed of Lieut. Johnny Whalen, Sergeant "Lefty" Walker, Fred Elliott and Captain Jack Roberts, drew applause by their songs, two sung in the city hall auditorium, and another, earlier in the morning, at the Schneider hotel.

Three songs sung by a Pampa high school choir were led by Helen Martin.

Invocation was given by Rev. John Mullen, pastor of the First Christian church of Pampa.

Mrs. S. A. Hurst and Mrs. Earl Talley will be hostesses to visiting ladies at an open-house to be held in the Talley apartments between 3:30 and 4:30 o'clock this afternoon. It was announced.

Speeches This Afternoon

The meeting adjourned until 2 o'clock this afternoon, when the program was to consist of an address by Judge W. R. Ewing, talks by Sheriff Pat Allen of Wichita Falls, William McConnell, Carson county district attorney, and by John W. Kelley, a special agent of the Mid-Continent Oil association, Breckenridge.

At five o'clock today the officers will enjoy a barbecue at Road Runner park.

In the evening, a dinner and dance will be given for the officers at the Southern Club and Schneider hotel, with free tickets to be presented those delegates who do not care to dance. The Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the old-time dance at the Schneider.

hound named Queen. For four nights straight Queen ran over the hills in hunts. On the fourth night, about midnight, everybody thought Queen was run to death, but Cow-boy Crimm heard her baying and, yelling every now and then, it appeared to him that she was in intense pain. The muscles in her hind legs had collapsed and she had become paralyzed. For four hours she had dragged herself over the frozen, frosty ground to the camp-fire. She had pulled every toe-nail out in her front feet and there was blood in every crack and hole.

Every crack and bloody. Cowboy Crimm said he picked her up and carried her over ploughed fields for three miles to the car, and cried every step of the way, "O God, let me be a stickler like Queen."

He said church members were of three kinds: quitters, spouters and stickers. Crimm says he never gets to his text until he's ready to quit.

Indian Plays Piano

There are three others, two persons, and a thing, in Cowboy Crimm's evangelistic party. The persons are Jewell Spencer, a full-blooded Cherokee Indian, and the thing is the grand piano that Jewell plays. Jewell can play "The Fight Is On" in a manner that makes everybody sit up and take notice. He is a master of runs and crescendos and pianissimos. He also sings high tenor. The other person is Harlan Powell, the song-leader, who has been with Cowboy Crimm for a decade. Powell directs the choir, which is built around the swelling, rolling voice of Mrs. Gattlin who can hold the high notes as long as Powell wishes.

Powell says Pampanians sing better than any congregation except those in Children.

Cowboy Crimm was born and raised in the "Free State of Van Zandt" county, notorious in Texas for its individuality. He has been preaching for 32 years. Before he was converted, liquor was his besetting sin, he said. He used to throw a monthly drunk. He said he has been with Cowboy Crimm for a decade. Powell directs the choir, which is built around the swelling, rolling voice of Mrs. Gattlin who can hold the high notes as long as Powell wishes.

In addition to hounds, he has horses. Right now, two are down with sleeping sickness at Lamesa. He knows how every one of his hounds breathes, and he can recognize them in pitch, dark by their breathing and by their bark.

Sis Part of Time

Cowboy Crimm is highly informal and unconventional while in the stands. He sits down as much as he stands up, and he leans over his high Bible stand as if he were leaning over a corral. He stomps the loose boards on the rostrum with his boot heels. After the first flush of his enthusiasm has passed, he yanks his shirt-collar loose. A few minutes later he removes his coat; ten minutes later he sits down and then he ties. Then he appears comfortable.

He said he acted just as he does now when he held a great revival in Euclid Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio. At that time, he said, John D. Rockefeller was senior deacon. He said he felt like a blind dog in a meat house while he was there. He said that John D. was a good man.

It's a wonder that he doesn't get Cotton is a major crop in 16 states.

Officials declined to say whether a flat request was made to hold the party in the American capital, but they did point out its suitability since it was there the treaty was negotiated in 1922.

Japs To Stay Out

The Domei (Japanese) news agency quoted an unnamed foreign official as saying "Japan is confident she will prove equal to the contingency" even in the face of possible concrete measures the powers might take. This same source said Japan, a signatory of the nine-power treaty, would not participate in a nine-power conference, if one were held.

"No matter what decision such a conference should take," Domei quoted a foreign official, "whether moral pressure, concrete measures or material sanctions against Japan, the empire's fundamental policy will remain unchanged."

The Washington condemnation, following by a day President Roosevelt's Chicago address in which he lashed at invader nations, was greeted with enthusiasm in London, Paris and Geneva, but less warmly welcomed in Rome.

Occupied with another cloud in the European situation, London powers considered "decisive action" to counter Italian intervention in Spain.

Show Down in Europe

President Roosevelt's pronouncement and the state department action were construed as a partial shouldering of the far eastern disturbance, permitting Britain, with France, to concentrate on a show down in the crisis which grew out of the 14-month old Spanish civil war.

Britain gave an unclarified hint of "decisive" action unless Premier Mussolini replied promptly to a seven-day old invitation to confer with France and England on withdrawal of foreign soldiers from Spain.

While diplomatic machinery moved swiftly to produce some form of action in the Sino-Japanese controversy, the undeclared war continued apace.

The Japanese flagship Izumo sent countless shells whistling over the international settlement in an effort to move the Chinese out of stubbornly defended positions on the Chapel and North Station battle fronts. The eight inch shells fell close to the sector guarded by United States Marines.

Chinese lines, executing a counter-attack in the early morning hours, emerged from their fortifications all along the 25-mile battle front from the North Station northwest to Lotien. They rushed the Japanese with ancient big swords and bayonets. In retaliation, the Japanese poured artillery fire into the Chinese lines.

More than 500 Chinese civilians were reported killed by mass bombing raids of Japanese warplanes in the rich Southern province of Kwangung.

Unofficial Chinese and Japanese sources at Peiping said Japan was sponsoring a northern Chinese army to "carry out a revolution against Nanking's tyranny."

The reports, unconfirmed in official circles, said the Japanese army command at Tientsin had given Tsao Kun, one-time president of China, permission to form an autonomous North China army.

The Japanese minister of war, Gen. Gen Sugiyama, in the first interview he has ever granted, at preaching justice and humanity for China, and at the same time, "directly countering every international law" by selling dum dum bullets for use against Japanese soldiers.

Sugiyama declared the outlawed munitions were going into China through Hongkong, the British Crown colony on the south coast of China, and "other routes."

Shells fell in steady succession near the sector guarded by the United States Marines on the northern boundary of the settlement. The American troops were forced to be constantly on the alert to avoid the hail of lead.

Ten miles northwest of Shanghai the opposed armies were locked in a fierce struggle for possession of the Shanghai-Luhong motor road.

Canton—was raided three times again this morning.

At Nanking, Chinese governmental officials expressed the utmost satisfaction at the American state department's condemnation of Japan for her undeclared war against China.

Here also will be exhibited school displays of art, maps, booklets, and industrial project models of oil wells, and displays representative of other industries.

Located not far from the school will be exhibits of horses, mules, and of beef and dairy cattle.

The executive committee for the fair is composed of W. E. James, Roy Sherrod, Harry Davis, R. M. Gibson, John Fulfer, Hall Bruce, Morris S. Ledger, Alaneerd superintendent of schools, and Ralph R. Thomas of Pampa, who is county agent.

Alaneerd's Longhorns, who are scheduled to play Pampa's Guerrillas, are coached by Troy Palmer.

Pampanians and citizens of all sections of Gray county are invited to come to Alaneerd on Oct. 22 and enjoy the entertainment and education provided by the affair.

JUDGE CHIDES OIL ATTORNEY

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 7 (AP)—Federal Judge Patrick T. Stone cracked down today on defense counsel Milliam J. Donovan's references to President Roosevelt as the one who personally sanctioned the gasoline price stabilization operations for which 23 major oil companies are on trial.

Referring to Donovan's opening statements to the jury yesterday in which the chief counsel pictured the big oil companies as the saviors of a distressed industry acting at the suggestion of the government under the NRA oil code, Judge Stone said:

"I don't want any more references to what President Roosevelt has said. I don't want any hearsay."

"We can call to the stand men who were present at conferences with the President," said Donovan, indicating some of the 46 oil executives who sat in court as defendants.

"You contend you acted with the authority of law," the judge replied. "That is all you have to prove."

Donovan had told the jury in the first two hours of his opening statement that both President Roosevelt and Secretary of the Interior Harold I. Ickes, who was administrator of the oil code before NRA was outlawed in 1935, had approved of the operations for which the 23 companies were indicted under the Sherman anti-trust act.

The remarks between defense counsel and the court were made while the jury was out of the courtroom. Later the jury was brought in and Donovan continued presentation of his case.

CALL LINDSEY DEATHS DOUBLE SUICIDE CASE

HUNTSVILLE, Oct. 7 (AP)—Justice of the Peace W. C. Lawviss said he would enter a verdict of double suicide today in the deaths yesterday of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Lindsey. Sheriff C. L. Mitchell told the coroner the couple drank a mixture of soda pop and poison and that Lindsey, after drinking the potion, shot himself through the heart.

City Officer F. C. Crittenden, driver of an automobile in which Mrs. Lindsey died as she was being taken to a hospital, said she told him they had made a suicide pact.

OFFICERS TOO BUSY TO PREFER CHARGES

Justice was delayed several hours today when arrival of convention delegates and visitors made the office force at the sheriff's department so busy that they were unable to find time to prefer charges against several prisoners arrested last night.

"We've been trying all day to get the papers drawn and prefer charges," said Office Deputy Buford Reed, but the convention opening has set the office routine back about four hours."

Deputy Reed said that charges were expected to be drawn this afternoon against five persons arrested following a fight in a South side cafe. Authorities said the trouble grew out of a domestic squabble between a man and his wife, in which the wife finished second best with a broken ankle and other injuries.

JOHNNY NOT PLAYING HOCKEY AS MUCH NOW

WALLY PLANS TO SPEND CHRISTMAS IN AMERICA

PARIS, Oct. 7 (AP)—The Duchess of Windsor made known today that she was planning to spend her first Christmas with her husband, the abdicated King Edward of England, "at home" in the United States.

Friends of the couple said they planned to sail from Europe the first week in November.

Argentina has recently put immigration on a selective basis in place of the former "open door" policy.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Caused by Tired Kidneys

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day of about 2 pounds of waste.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

JUDGE EWING SPEAKS AT 'LAWS' CONVENTION

Gray county district court went into recess this afternoon while District Judge W. R. Ewing took time out to address the convention session of the North Texas and South Oklahoma Peace Officers' association in City Hall auditorium.

Judge Ewing was listed as one of the principal speakers of the day and in order to keep his engagement he had to call a halt in the lawsuit of Clint Spivey, Pampa, against the Phillips Petroleum company which went into its fourth day after opening last Monday afternoon.

Judge Ewing indicated that he would be through with his part of the convention program in time to reconvene court at 3 p. m.

Court attaches said they expected the damage case would go to the jury tonight or tomorrow morning.

Spivey is seeking to collect damages allegedly inflicted when the defendant cut off gas supply to his home last December.

The Capital Jigsaw
By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, Oct. 7 (AP)—Sam Houston Allred, newly elected member of Governor James V. Allred's family, is doing very well, thank you.

Born March 17, St. Patrick's Day, Sam Houston weighed 22 pounds recently, a nice gain over the 8 1-4 pounds at which he tipped the scales soon after he took up life in the gubernatorial mansion.

Mrs. Alma Albert, governor's secretary, says the governor thinks Sam Houston is a very "remarkable child," chiefly because the baby "coos" when the governor plays with him.

The Parks board has had to follow the example of several other departments and seeking working quarters outside state buildings.

Long housed in the Walton building, which was re-modeled from the Travis County courthouse, the board has moved into what formerly was a church.

Not a great while ago the oil and gas division of the railroad commission took up abode in a former undertaking establishment.

It's an old story: The government has outgrown its plant.

It wouldn't be surprising if construction of a state office building was proposed at the upcoming special session of the legislature.

Rep. Lon E. Alsop of Carthage wants to build one by increasing the gasoline tax one cent for three months.

C. V. Terrell, chairman of the railroad commission, has added the skin of a bobcat to the collection displayed in his capitol office.

He bagged the cat on a hunting trip into southwest Texas last year and the skin was received only recently. It is a very handsome example of the taxidermist's art.

Already on display, as evidence of Terrell's hunting prowess, were heads of a moose, an elk and a black bear.

Reports the commissioner was out to get a specimen of every kind of wild beast could not be verified.

"If he brings in an elephant," sighed an employe, "I don't know where we'll put it."

They're at it again! Workmen repairing leaks in the capitol dome. The business almost never ceases.

At the end of a summer, however, there is more reason than ever to go into action. Heat in the day and cooling temperatures at night cause the copper plates to expand and contract with the result cracks appear here and there and must be sordered before heavy fall and winter rains set in.

The board of control is better fortified this year to carry on the work. The general session of the legislature, which adjourned in May, appropriated $25,000 for repairs to the dome, and the money was available Sept. 1.

Next year $15,000 will be available for painting it, inside and out, an event always of considerable interest.

Rep. Eugene Worley of Shamrock, young lawyer serving his second term in the legislature, left the ranks of the bachelor members recently.

He married Miss Anne Spivey of Bonham, an employe of the State Department of Labor. Both are former students of the University of Texas.

Senator Allan Shivers of Beaumont, Adams of the upper legislative branch, is to marry Miss Maryalice Shary of Sharyland Oct. 5.

Only bachelor remaining in the Senate after Shivers takes up matrimony will be E. Harold Beck of Texas.

500 CHINESE DIE IN AIR RAIDS YESTERDAY

SHANGHAI, Oct. 7 (AP)—More than 500 Chinese civilians were reported today to have been killed by mass bombing raids of Japanese warplanes on the rich southern province of Kwantung.

The Chinese Central News agency reported that eight Japanese planes, including two huge bombers, were shot down by a surprise Chinese defense of the strategic military railway linking Canton on the south coast and the Yangtze river port of Hankow.

The massed Japanese flights took to the air yesterday just as the League of Nations and the United States were condemning Japan for her treaty obligations by invasion of Chinese territory.

Bombing along the route from Canton to Hankow, Chinese dispatches said, killing and wounding more than 300 non-combatants in those towns alone.

In northern Kwantung province the raiding planes were said to have caused several hundred more casualties. Twenty bombs fell on the departmental capital city of Shu-chow alone, demolishing some 30 dwellings.

Mrs. P. Pharaoh, of 746 Adams St., Phoenix, Ariz., is publicly endorsing Van-Tage which is the "Amazing Mixture of Nature's Roots and Herbs and Other Splendid Ingredients," now being introduced in this city at the Gretney Drug Store, next to LaNora Theater.

I was just miserable all the time and Life Hardly Seemed Worth While! I just didn't seem to be able to get much help. I began reading about Van-Tage and I decided to try it. I began taking Van-Tage and now I am able to eat what I want and my food does not sour on my stomach. The gas swelling has gone down so much that people ask me if I am getting thinner, although I have not lost any weight. I have taken three bottles. I am feeling better than I have for years. AFL ASKS BOYCOTT ON 'MADE IN JAPAN' GOODS

DENVER, Oct. 7 (AP)—American Federation of Labor leaders called for a boycott today on goods labeled "Made in Japan."

"I am confident the American people will not want to assist Japan indirectly in its campaign of violent aggression and exploitation of Chinese resources by purchasing Japanese goods," said Charles P. Howard, president of the International Typographical union and C. I. O. secretary.

"I'm not only in favor of a boycott but I'm for putting anyone who bought Japanese goods in jail for 30 days," said Charles P. Howard, president of the International Typographical union and C. I. O. secretary.

L. M. Churn, secretary of the federation's union label department, said "we buy Japanese goods and it is our money that permits the war lords over there to wage war."

All three said they personally favored adoption of a boycott resolution at the federation's convention, although Howard added that a boycott should be handled carefully.

TWO VERSIONS OF GREENVILLE LIONS' WEIGHTS DIFFER AMAZINGLY

TEAM TO PLAY PAMPANS HERE FRIDAY NIGHT

Harvester coaches are in a quandary to know what to expect when the Greenville Lions arrive in Pampa for their game with the Harvesters Friday night. They don't know whether they will be confronted by a team of giants or a team of midgets when the whistle blows at 8 o'clock.

A newspaper list of weights of the starting lineup gives the team average at 152 pounds while a telegraphic report of the same 11 boys gives the average 174 pounds, with huge reserves.

For instance, Captain Mason is listed at 185 pounds in the newspaper clipping and at 245 pounds in the telegram. Morris is listed at 165 pounds in the paper and 250 pounds in the wire.

"We're ready for them whether they are giants or midgets," Coach Odus Mitchell announced after another hard practice session yesterday afternoon. "We just have to get even for that defeat down at Greenville last year."

Injuries which have played havoc with the Lions in losses to Sherman and Tyler will be missing when the team arrives here. With Franks back in uniform, the team will be bolstered in the ball carrying department and in passing and punting, all of which Franks is very adept at doing.

Johnny Stinebaugh, diminutive but fleet back, will be in the lineup along with Milton "Monkey" Naborney, dumpy ball carrier, both of whom were on the injured list along with Franks.

From Greenville comes word that on a long journey that will find few fans following them, the twice victorious, twice-defeated Greenville high school Lions will streak to the Panhandle this week to meet and halt a two-game losing streak that has played havoc with an otherwise perfect record for the season. They meet Pampa Friday.

Fired with determination after dropping games to Sherman and Tyler, Coach Stallworth's scarlet-clad youngsters were going about their business of preparation in earnest today. Only one more rigid workout remained before their embarking for the west on the longest road trip a Lion eleven has made in years.

Coaches Stallworth and Baker, dissatisfied and disappointed with blocking of their proteges, are giving that fundamental department full consideration in practice drills this week.

The almost total absence of blocking in last week's Tyler contest was pointed out by the Lion mentors as the reason for little yardage being gained from scrimmage.

The hard blocking drills this afternoon and yesterday were strenuous and lengthy.

Pampa high school, which makes a usual practice of turning out strong contenders for her district and the state titles, is believed to have no exception in their 1937 gridiron machine.

Critics are picking the Harvesters to win easily on their home gridiron against an eleven that has failed to display any sensationalism in its first four games on the season card.

The handicap brought by numerous Lion cripples in the past three games will be lessened, in the coaches' estimation, when Greenville reaches the West Texas city.

Miami-Phillips Game Friday To Be Broadcast

MIAMI, Oct. 6.—Through the courtesy of three local men, C. P. Fursley, A. J. Montgomery and Pedro Dial, the Miami Warriors and Phillips Blackhawk game will be broadcast Friday afternoon over radio station KPFD of Pampa with Bill Karn at the microphone.

This game will be of interest to such a number over the district that the broadcast will be welcomed by many who will be unable to attend the game.

Phillips is already a favorite to cop this district's class B crown, but in the Warriors they recognize a well-trained and determined foe. It promises to be a real game Friday.

Scholastic Grid Race Nears Halfway Mark

DALLAS, Oct. 7 (AP)—The Texas interscholastic league football parade rolled toward the halfway mark today, looking to a busy week-end to establish definite championship favorites, and at the same time thin out appreciably the teams boasting perfect records.

Twenty-two conference games, involving eleven districts, should furnish a fair index as to relative strength, but chief interest in most areas will rest on contests in which undefeated and untied teams figure as principals.

Four games stand out. One matches Highland Park of Dallas, and Sherman, a couple of powerhouse outfits that carry unsullied records. Another feature sends Paris against Sulphur Springs in a clash and in the same category is the battle between Bryan and Temple, whose joint headlines central Texas football for the week.

District 2 has two conference games, with Graham playing at Electra and Childress at Vernon, and the slate is full in the turbulent oil belt, all ten teams seeing championship action, with the Sweetwater-San Angelo and Stephenville-Breckenridge tilts as standouts. Ysleta and Fabens clash in a conference game in district 4 and two are on the schedule in the Fort Worth district, North Side meeting Masonic Home and Paschal battling Mineral Wells.

The fireworks start with a vim in the Dallas sector, Adamson clashing with Tech and Forest battling the district favorites, Woodrow Wilson.

Kilgore and Tyler clash in district 9 and three conference games are scheduled in district 10 with Athens Mexia and Henderson at Gaston. In addition to the Bryan-Temple tilt, the Waco Tigers, boasting one of the state's best records, battle Waxahachie in a game counting in the standings, while Hillsboro plays at Corsicana.

The week's schedule by districts: 1—Friday: Matador at Plainview; Quahar at Dorger, Greenville at Pampa; Thomas A. Edison (San Antonio) at Lubbock; Saturday: Norman, Okla., at Amarillo.

2—Friday: Cleburne at Wichita Falls; Graham at Electra (conference); Nocoona at Olney; Childress at Vernon (conference).

3—Friday: Abilene at Eastland (conference); Stephenville at Breckenridge (conference); Big Spring at Cisco (conference); Sweetwater at San Angelo (conference); Ranger at Brownwood (conference).

Port Arthur's Fight For 12th Grade Players Goes To Court

BEAUMONT, Oct. 7 (AP)—A court will be asked tomorrow to decide a question expected to have a strong bearing on limitations of the eight-semester rule in the Texas interscholastic league athletic program.

Judge R. L. Murray in 60th district court here will have before him a petition filed by the Port Arthur Independent school district trustees asking that the district 14 executive committee be restrained from enforcing a resolution which would call for eligibility of Port Arthur high school football players to begin in the eighth grade instead of the ninth.

The committee ruling would prevent Port Arthur's using twelfth graders as in the past. Other schools begin eligibility a year earlier, and end with the eleventh grade.

Port Arthur contends the constitution of the interscholastic league does not give the district committee power to legislate, and that in passing the special rule governing eligibility, the committee was legislating in violation of the constitution. The petition says that under the constitution all amendments to the constitution and rules of the league shall be made by the state executive committee, but at the same time the constitution says there is "no appeal from any action by the district committee."

Dr. A. M. McAfee, president of the Port Arthur board of education, said the matter was first carried to the state board but the board said its hands were tied by the later regulation, thus, in order to get an appeal, Port Arthur was forced to take the case to court.

Port Arthur is claiming a forfeit from Beaumont because of the latter's contention that the contract for a game between the two schools must make the district ruling a specific part.

The petition says the ruling violates the constitution which guarantees to all member schools the right to allow students to participate in all league contests who have been in attendance in high school for less than eight semesters.

The controversy began about five years ago but did not reach the stage of an actual break between the two schools until last year when Beaumont refused to sign a Port Arthur contract and the latter was given a forfeit.

The resolution complained of was passed in April of this year.

They're Subject to Call

BILL STILES

NORMAN COX

Two Harvesters who will be subject to call tomorrow night when the Greenville Lions roar at Harvester field will be Norman Cox and Bill Stiles. Cox, an end, has been working at both end and center this fall. He has been able to play only a few minutes, however, because of a knee injury. A special brace has been secured and Cox may get a call to take up either position. Bill Stiles, diminutive guard, has already proven his stuff this season. He played nearly the full game against Childress, worked in the Capital Hill game and played half of the Panhandle tussle. He is a fiery line-man who never gives up.

CAZZELL WILL BE VILLAIN AGAINST VIC WEBBER MONDAY

Vic Webber, one of the most popular middleweights in the country, will be in Pampa Monday night when he tackles Bill Cazzell of Amarillo in the main event of Cliff Chambers' show, which, by the way, will begin at 8 o'clock instead of 8:30 o'clock.

Promoter Chambers also announces for next week a change in the price of reserve seats which will be 65 cents, tax included, instead of 77 cents.

Cazzell has been throwing the preliminary boys around, trying to stay nice and scientific. But he has failed in his try and on the last two occasions turned rougher. Then he had the nerve to ask for a main event, and got it, with Vic Webber providing the opposition.

"That's better," remarked Indian Ike. "I'll give this Webber something to remember me by."

CANADIAN AND SPEARMAN TO PLAY FRIDAY

Class B football over this section of the Panhandle will prove interesting tomorrow with the headline games the clashes between Wheeler and Memphis in Memphis at night, and the invasion of the Phillips Blackhawks of Whittenton into the tepee of the Miami Warriors in the afternoon.

Other games should go to the favorites but in the game of football the dog often mauls the headline. McLean's Tigers should take Lakewood, but the Eagles have been flying high this season.

Canadian and Spearman are expected to have a tough battle in Spearman. Both teams have been underdogs in early season games.

Cubs Using Davis Against Sox

CHICAGO, Oct. 7 (AP)—One game on the way toward getting even for some of the recent abuse heaped upon them by the White Sox, Charles Grimms sent Righthander Curt Davis out today after their second straight victory in Chicago's city baseball title series.

The Cubs, backing up Tex Carleton's 5-hit hurling with a 15-hit blast at Teddy Lyons and Bill Dietrich yesterday, ended a long victory drought by winning the opening game, 7 to 3.

of Pampa fans, will tackle Bob Cummings in the semi-final of the evening. Frank figured he needed a rest after taking Buck to a cleaning.

Opening the card will be that old favorite, Sailor Tex Watkins, who will exchange holds, etc., with Don Rainey.

CHAPTER XX

Sergeant Dolan proceeded with his investigation.

"Mr. Smith," he said, addressing the young man in 2-B, "I understand you were not at home when the murder occurred?"

Mr. Smith repeated his wife's explanation to Detective Martin. They had spent the day in Rutherford, N. J., with relatives, not leaving there until 1:30. They did not hear of the tragedy until the following morning. Dolan looked to Martin for confirmation of this. Martin nodded. Evidently the Smith's alibi had checked.

Dolan turned again to the Hunters. "Where did you live before Hunter?" he demanded.

"In Brooklyn, sir. Down on Herkimer street. I was raised in Brooklyn. Never lived anywhere else."

"And you, Mrs. Hunter?"

Cilly looked at the woman as she rose to answer the sergeant's question. She appeared visibly shaken and nervous. Without doubt, she had been frightened by Cilly's revelation. Would the sergeant notice that, she wondered? He shrewd eyes, glancing over Mrs. Hunter, were unfathomable. "I've lived in Brooklyn, sir ever since my marriage—25 years ago. Before that I lived on Long Island in Farmingdale."

"You were married, therefore, when your husband became paralyzed?"

Mrs. Hunter's lower lip trembled, she fumbled in her bag for a handkerchief.

"Yes, sir."

"Was he in an accident?"

"Yes, sir... that is—oh, don't ask me to talk about it!" She burst into tears. "You tell him, George!" she pleaded. "You tell him about it. It's better if you do..."

"Hush, Nelle!" Mr. Hunter admonished, not kindly. "You see, sergeant," he explained, "my wife grieves about it. It gets her upset to talk about it."

"I see. It was an accident, Hunter?"

"Yes, sir. I had a fall, and then the doctors didn't treat it right, I guess. The old doctor down in Herkimer street who took care of me is dead, and I went to a couple of others, to please my wife, but they couldn't do anything for me."

Sergeant Dolan rubbed his chin thoughtfully for a moment, but his eyes never left the man's face.

"Hunter," he said finally, "it strikes me as queer that a man like you—tied to a wheel-chair—would want to live on the top floor of a walk-up apartment."

Cilly listened eagerly for Hunter's reply. Why hadn't she realized that before?

"Well, I guess it seems queer," Hunter admitted. "We can't afford an expensive apartment, in an elevator building. I can't work, you see, and we just live on a small income. We took the top floor because I like to get the air, and I don't like to sit out in the street. People stare at me. I begin up high, I can get out on the roof and sit there. Johnson always helps me up."

Sergeant Dolan looked inquiringly at the superintendent. "That right, Johnson?" he asked.

"Yes, sir, that's right. Sometimes in the afternoons, Mrs. Hunter gives me a buzz and I take Mr. Hunter up in the wheel-chair. Sometimes in the evening, if the weather is good."

"Did you help him up there last Sunday?"

"Yes, sir. About 1 o'clock last Sunday afternoon. Then just about 4, before I went out for the afternoon, I brought him down again."

"O. K., Johnson. Now tell me this: did Mrs. Wheeler say anything to you about going away?"

"No, sir, she didn't. It was a surprise to me when I went up there yesterday afternoon with Detective Martin. It certainly looked as if she'd cleared out."

"How long did she live in the Bayview, Johnson?"

The superintendent scratched his head thoughtfully for a moment. "Oh, I guess Mrs. Wheeler's been there three or four years."

"Remember where she came from?"

"Some place in Manhattan, I'm sure. She used to joke a lot about coming to live in Brooklyn. She said something about never living more than two doors from Broadway all her life, and what a come-down Brooklyn was."

"Did she ever say why she moved to Brooklyn?"

"No, she didn't. A good many folks come over from Manhattan lately to save money. Rents are cheaper in Brooklyn."

Dolan nodded. He looked over the Bayview tenants again. His eyes rested on the school teacher in 4-A.

"Miss Downey," he said, "what can you tell me?"

Miss Downey, prim and precise, rose to her feet, smoothing out her skirt as she did so. She held her head erect.

"Not a thing, Sergeant Dolan," she stated. "We can't tell you a thing. We heard the scream, of course—mother and I. And we rushed to the window to see what had happened. Other than that, we know nothing."

"I see. Have you always lived in Brooklyn, Miss Downey?"

"Oh, yes. I graduated from Erasmus High and Adelphi. We've been born down in 17th street, near Fourth avenue."

"Thank you, Miss Downey. And now, Mrs. Downey, is there anything you can tell me?"

Before Mrs. Downey could rise, her daughter answered for her.

"Mother can tell you nothing more than I have, sergeant."

The sergeant smiled courteously. "Suppose you let your mother speak for herself, Miss Downey. Did you hear or see anything unusual on Sunday night, Mrs. Downey?"

Mrs. Downey rose hesitantly to stand beside her daughter. She was a tubby, round-faced person; that here was a woman who would have a great deal to say, on any subject. Obviously, however, she was just a little in awe of this school-teaching daughter. She stood still for a moment, rubbing her hands together.

"It's as my daughter says, sergeant," she replied, hesitantly. "I guess I didn't hear a thing..."

"What do you mean—you guess, Mrs. Downey? Aren't you sure?"

"Well—I don't know..."

"Mother is very nervous, sergeant," Miss Downey interrupted. "Please believe me, she has nothing to tell you."

"Miss Downey," the sergeant said sharply, "you will sit down if you please. I am questioning your mother, and I want her to speak for herself."

Miss Downey sat down, decidedly annoyed.

In a more gentle tone, Sergeant Dolan turned to her mother.

"Now, Mrs. Downey," he said, "now just what did you hear?"

"I was going to tell you," Mrs.

Downey began at last. "That the moment I heard that poor girl scream I jumped from my bed, Lucille got up, too. Well, it was the most awful thing. She must have fallen right past our window. It was terrible. I tell you, never in my life have I had such a shock. I thought I was going to faint. My heart's not so good, sergeant..." She paused for breath and laid a plump hand over her bosom.

"Well, I went out into the kitchen for my tablets—I keep them over the sink where they'll be handy—and just as I got to the kitchen I heard someone running down the stairs. I'm sure of it, sergeant. I heard those steps just as well as I hear your voice now. It was a man running downstairs—you know how heavy a man's footsteps are. It was the murderer, sergeant. I know it."

Cilly stiffened, Mrs. Downey's words brought the case close to reality.

"And this was right after the girl's body hit the ground?" Dolan asked.

"Right afterward. Not two minutes after."

"Can you tell me how far downstairs the man went, Mrs. Downey? To the third floor, the second, the first?"

"I'm not so sure of that. I think he went below the third floor... at least I didn't hear him stop at the landing below us."

"Thank you, Mrs. Downey. You have done right to tell us..."

"But that isn't all, sergeant," she said. "That isn't all."

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson IN CHINA, CATCHING FIREFLIES IS AN INDUSTRY! THE INSECTS ARE USED IN THE MANUFACTURE OF CHINESE DRUGS AND MEDICINES. THE UNICORN FISH CARRIES A SINGLE HORN ON ITS HEAD. A PACK RAT IN YOSEMITE PARK CARRIED OFF HIS DIMES FROM THE PARK HOTEL, AND CACHED THEM AWAY IN HIS NEST.

UNITED STATES BRANDS JAPAN PACT VIOLATOR

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 (AP)—The United States government, branding Japan a treaty violator, branded itself solidly alongside the League of Nations today in its effort to stop hostilities in the far east.

Further American action appeared imminent in consequence of a formal state department pronouncement last night condemning the imperial Japanese government for its undeclared war in China.

This is expected to take the form of immediate consent to participate in a nine-power conference to consider possible new steps in the crisis.

The state department acted swiftly to give practical force to President Roosevelt's pledge of cooperation with all peace-loving nations to end what he described as the prevailing reign of international lawlessness.

Its stinging indictment of Japanese aggression was timed to coincide with similar action by the League of Nations assembly.

"In the light of unfolding developments in the far east," the department said, "the government of the United States has been forced to the conclusion that the action of Japan in China is inconsistent with the principles which should govern the relationships between nations and is contrary to the provisions of the nine-power treaty of Feb. 6, 1922, regarding principles and policies to be followed in matters concerning China, and to those of the Kellogg-Briand pact of Aug. 27, 1928."

It marked the second time in a little more than five years that the United States has resorted to this extreme in its far eastern policy. Similar action was taken in 1932 when he sought to call Japan to account for its invasion of Manchuria.

Significantly, the outspoken pronouncement said this government's conclusions with respect to Japan in the present crisis are "in general."

accord with those of the assembly of the League of Nations."

Authoritative persons professed to see in the state department's denunciation of Japan an indication of the extent the United States may be prepared to go in cooperating with the league.

This collaboration, they contend, is to be limited strictly for the moment at least to application of the utmost moral pressure, parallel to but completely independent of league action.

This course would be calculated to keep the United States rigidly aloof from assumption of responsibilities which go with membership in the league.

A high official acknowledged, however, that if the United States gives its unqualified support to the league's action yesterday, it will mean indefinite sidetracking of this country's neutrality law in the Sino-Japanese conflict.

YANKS' "FARM HANDS" WIN LITTLE SERIES

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 7 (AP)—If the New York Yankees don't win that big world series they can't blame it on their International league farm hands, the Newark Bears, for the bushers showed 'em how by wrapping up and tucking away the little world series championship.

While the "Papa" Yanks are out in front by winning the first game from the Giants, the "Baby" Yanks won their laurels the hard way—and proved their claims to the title of the "wonder club of the minors."

They clinched the championship on a muddly diamond here last night by romping over the Columbus Red Birds, American Association champs, by 10 to 4, or their fourth straight victory.

Alabama Angler Drowns in Gulf

GALVESTON, Oct. 7 (AP)—The body of Charles Stern, about 59, victim of drowning yesterday, was held here today, pending word from relatives in Alabama. He was drowned when he fell accidentally from a fishing boat near the jetties in the gulf. He was aboard a Mobile, Ala., fishing boat which put in here several days ago when a tropical disturbance developed in the gulf.

Lincoln Unveiled on Rushmore

High above towering fir trees, the head of Abraham Lincoln, right, was carved on the sharp granite face of Mount Rushmore, near Rapid City, S. D., by Gutzon Borglum, famous sculptor. The figure is shown above as it was unveiled, measuring 66 feet from chin to crown, and alongside the faces of George Washington and Thomas Jefferson, which already are well formed. When completed, it will show a bearded Lincoln. Within three years Borglum expects to carve a head of Theodore Roosevelt between Jefferson and Lincoln.
