'FAITH HEALER' CONVICTED OF CHOKING CHILD

STARES INTENTLY OUT OF WINDOW WHILE VERDICT IS READ
NO SHOW OF EMOTION
INSANITY DEFENSE IS NOT ACCEPTED BY JURORS

LINDEN, May 6 (P)—Convicted of murder for the 'devil' slaying of Bernice Clayton, three-year-old invalid, Paul Oakley, 20, self-styled 'faith healer,' today was sentenced to 50 years' imprisonment.

The child died at her remote East Texas home after Oakley prayed and sang for five days last December in an effort to rid her of what he termed as a 'devil.' Bernice had been afflicted with infantile paralysis for several years.

While the prosecution expressed satisfaction with the decision, although it sought the death penalty, defense attorneys said they would 'not give up the fight to clear this man until we have exhausted every legal recourse at our command.'

I SAW--

T A Cox of the Santa Fe station and he was chuckling. It seems that the seven-car freight train which a Pampa woman saw coming into town recently, was only a part of the train. The other 116 cars were out of sight east of the city and the seven cars were to be left here. A Santa Fe freight train here with less than 100 cars would indeed be a rarity, if not an impossibility.

FEAR DESTROYED: Fear thou not; for I am with thee; be not dismayed; for I am thy God; I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee, yea I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness.—Isaiah 41:10.

The Law Enforced.

These are not happy days for officers of the law. Respect for law carries with it by implication at least respect for the officers who enforce it. Respect for law has suffered in recent years, remuneration of honest officers has declined, and modern transportation has made apprehension of criminals more difficult.

There are some laws, however, about which there are never any doubts. Bank robbery will never be popular, burglary is an offense against the home, and hijacking is not a pleasant experience for the victim.

Indeed, the resourcefulness of the peace officers has been of a somewhat higher order, at times, than the apparent ability of juries to see chances for convictions.

Note to Students.

About this time of year students take more than ordinary interest in what pedagogical device known as exams. Whether a student shall be passed or flunked is supposed to rest, in part, upon that phenomenon known as "finals".

It became their habit to stroll together after his day's duties were ended. He philosophized on life and letters while she marveled in rapt attention.

One day when she called for him at his office, he stuffed a pile of papers under his arm. He had given his hopeful students a written examination on a part of the course, and was all worn out from waiting for them to get through their long and painful labors with their pens.

The first trash receptacle they came to on the sidewalk the master raised the lid and deposited the whole mass of examination papers in the can.

She gasped—"Why, you haven't even looked at them!"

"Oh, that's all right," he responded wearily. "I don't have to look at them to know who's going to pass and who's not."

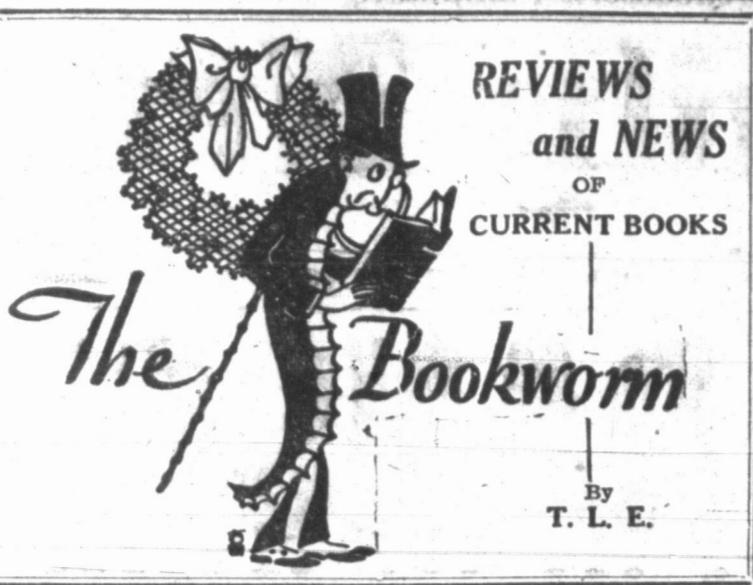

Causes for Alarm.

If you are one of those who likes to "view with alarm," the automobile accident toll with still give you the necessary statistics. A new survey shows that there is a serious auto accident every 57 seconds, a death every 25 minutes day and night.

Faulty lights and headlight glare headed the list of causes, with bad brakes and failure to use chains as runners-up. Negligence and carelessness were factors in 8 out of every 10 wrecks.

The last-year economic loss from accidents is quite appalling. Figures indicate that the United States would save enough in a year to meet the $500,000,000 national deficit more than twice over if John Careless Motorist learned to drive safely.

The year added appreciably to the grand total of auto death tolls, a total that in the last decade and a half has reached 325,000 in round figures.

VIEW OF SOUTH

STORM BEACH by Virginia Hersch; Houghton Mifflin Co.

The South is pictured from a point of view never before touched in this story of two generations of highly cultured Spanish-Portuguese Jews against a background of Charleston, S. C. The history of the Carvalho family gives the root and stem of American Judaism.

Ludwig Lewishon says: "This first American-Jewish historical novel is a very charming book... quite her best... a truly creative commentary on a romantic aspect of the American past."

Virginia Hersch, formerly known in California as Helen Virginia Davis, is the daughter of a pioneer merchant of San Francisco, a writer of promise, and one of the youngest members of the California bar.

HOLLYWOOD EXPOSED

CITY WITHOUT A HEART by Anonymous; Houghton Mifflin Co.

Captivated by Mary Frensell's English beauty and charm, a motion-picture magnate immediately began preparations to pitchfork her to stardom and the best commercial advantage.

THAT EXTRA TRICK by Robert Rendel; Houghton Mifflin Co. The book is to be recommended especially for the complete and clear exposition of the chapter entitled "The Squeeze." Frank England, one of the world's great bridge experts, says: "Contract players attach too much importance to the bidding of the cards—hence the importance of THAT EXTRA TRICK."

Another "AUTHORITY" WIN AT CONTRACT WITH ANY PARTNER by Shepherd Barclay; D. Appleton and Co.

It is the relief of Shepherd Barclay, "authority on authorities," that one should always prefer one's partner's system on the theory that two people cannot play a new system on the spur of the moment.

OUR STONE-PELTED PLANET—H. H. Nininger; Houghton Mifflin Co. What are meteorites? Where do they come from? Why are they valuable? When do they fall?

Mr. Nininger writes: "The state of Kansas comes in for a large share of consideration in the discussion of meteorites. For a survey of North America proves that not only has this Commonwealth proved attractive to reformers, blue-sky salesmen, grasshoppers, and politicians, but that it's level plains and fertile, mellow soil seem to have established an extra-mundane reputation as the safest landing-place for celestial visitors to our planet."

SEARCH FOR A SON

HUMAN NATURE, by Edith Wharton; Appleton and Co.

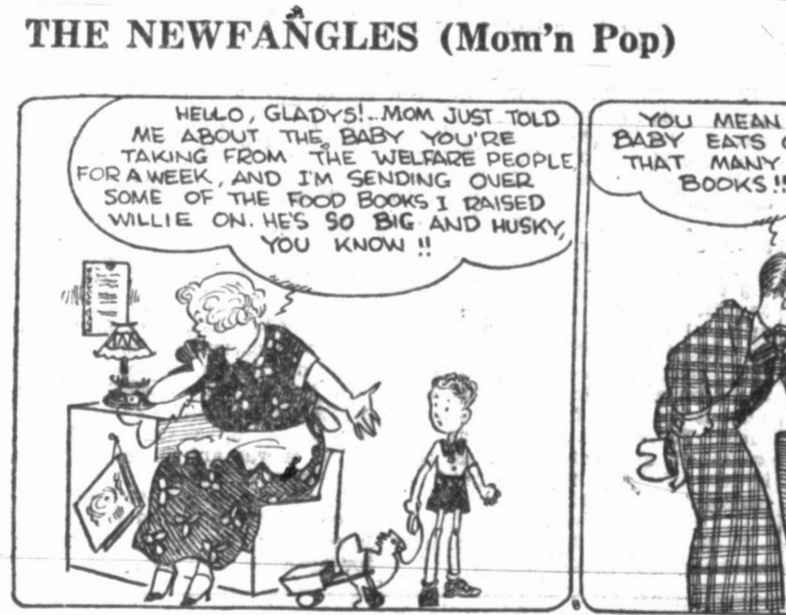

HER SON, a novelette included with a group of stories which comprise HUMAN NATURE, is written war of 1812, the Mexican war, the civil war, the Spanish-American and the world war. Americans who were killed in action or who died of wounds in all these conflicts numbered 169,827—a little more than one-half the estimated auto fatalities in the last 15 years.

Effort is being made in some quarters to require that cars have lights on their running-boards to prevent being sideswiped, but until now only end-of-load lights on trucks bulging with cargoes are required by law.

Authorities are agreed that the entire lighting problem, then, remains one that must largely be solved in the future. Meantime, all emphasize that the 1932 summaries indicate more than ever before that every effort should be made by the individual motorist to drive with care and to keep in good condition the equipment protecting his safety.

THE NEWFANGLES (Mom'n Pop)

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

in that type of fiction with which Mrs. Wharton deals so successfully. Mr. Stephen Glenn, an American widow, wanders over the map of Europe in search for an illegitimate son whom she had given to strangers at his birth. Her husband dead, her legitimate son killed in the world war, Mrs. Glenn, tortured by remorse, has longed for years to have him back, takes matters into her own hands meanwhile enlisting the aid of an old friend, Norcutt, in Paris.

PHILLIPS AND FACULTY WIN

Plumbers And Dips Beaten; Shoppers And Danciger Game Not Played.

Two close games were played in the Pampa Playground ball league Friday afternoon when Phillips defeated Davis Plumbers 6 to 4 and the Faculty won from the Double Dip boys, 12 to 9.

The game will be played Monday afternoon at the Fort Worth and Denver diamond.

Patrick, Faculty star hurler, went into the box with the score tied and held the Dippers while his teammates slipped across the winning runs.

The youngsters lack team work and confidence but in a few more games should be giving the leaders a battle.

Heronemus and Drain pitched steady ball in the Phillips-Davis battle at Phillips plant.
