ARE YOU ONLY A THREE-QUARTER WIFE?

THERE are certain things a woman has to put up with and be a good sport. Men, because they are men, can never understand a three-quarter wife—a wife who is all love and kindness three weeks in a month and a hell out the rest of the time.

No matter how your back aches no matter how kindly your nerves scream—don't take it out on your husband.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three critical years of life: From youth to womanhood, 2. From womanhood to motherhood, 3. Approaching "middle age."

Don't be a three-quarter wife! Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and go "smiling through."

UNION PICKET SHOT ON HOUSTON WATERFRONT

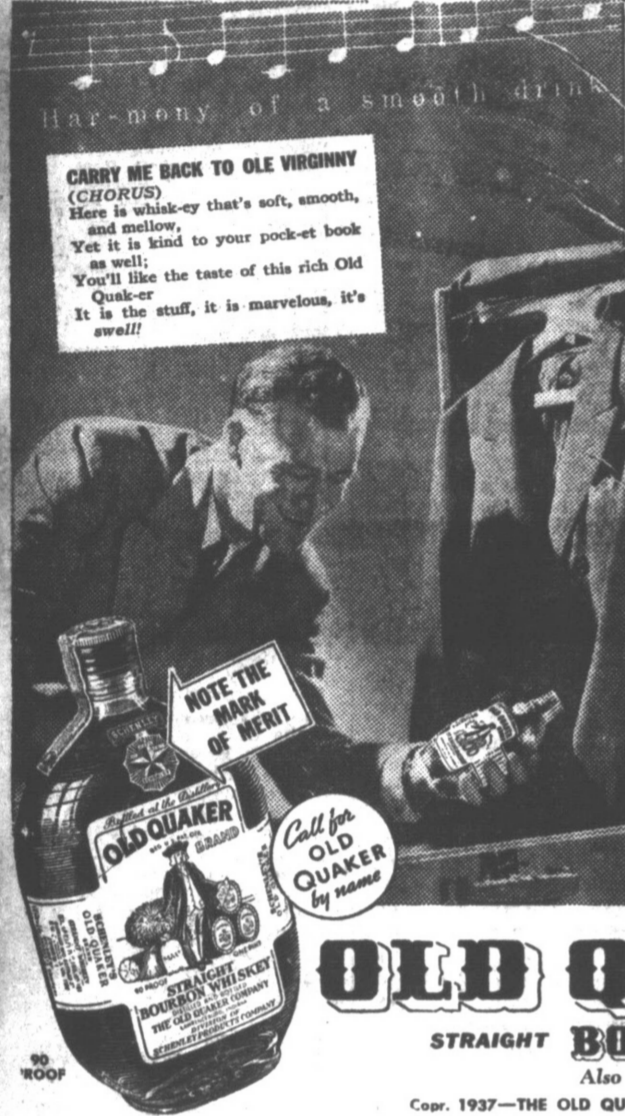

HOUSTON, Sept. 22 (AP)—Trouble flared on Houston's turbulent waterfront today as a national maritime union picket was shot in the hip and two special officers for a Shell company were held by police in the shooting. Edward J. Furr, the picket, fell after a shot was fired when non-union workers on a barge were being moved ashore. Witnesses said a barrage of bricks was hurled at the non-union men and a shot was fired from that area at pickets. Detective L. C. DeWeese of the police homicide squad said one of the special officers had made a statement but refused to sign it. W. K. Richardson, assistant district attorney, said the grand jury would probe the shooting tomorrow. The shooting came a few hours after police had formed a shore patrol in an effort to curb sniping at bargemen by sharpshooters along the shore. The barges were equipped with flares to signal the patrol whenever shots were fired.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, Sept. 22, (AP)—Many stocks extended the recovery move of the previous session in today's market, but most found the going slow and kept with profit selling difficulties.

It was an "up-and-down" day, with leaders led fractions to 2 or more points one minute and unchanged to lower shortly afterward. There were numerous wide gaps between bids and offers. A few steels and rails exhibited renewed strength, but others in the same category were in the losing division. Bonds, as well as stocks, were uneven at the finish.

On the exposition grounds early today were 10 visiting delegations, each accompanied by a band. Towns represented were Pampa, Dalhart, Clarendon, Happy, Tulla, Canyon, Panhandle, Memphis, Stratford, and Claude.

Ideal weather has prevailed since the opening. One of the features of the Hereford show. Largest livestock exhibit this year in Texas, was the clean sweep for Harrisdale Farms of Fort Worth made by five bulls, the get of one sire.

MEET YOUR TEACHERS

Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce members at a reception in the High school cafeteria tomorrow night will endeavor to let school teachers of the county know that the community recognizes them as a definite civic asset.

There will be a buffet luncheon and entertainment program, but the feature of the evening will be the opportunity afforded for Gray county teachers and their townpeople to become acquainted.

Leading business and professional men as well as those from all walks of life should make it a point to attend tomorrow night's get-together.

The teachers are cooperating to make the affair a success, and a majority of the 200 instructors in the county are expected to attend.

There is no group that is more important to any community than its teachers. They are the ones who shape the lives and characters of the generations to come. Their task is difficult and one that when successfully done, cannot be evaluated from a dollars and cents standpoint.

They are doing a good job in Pampa and the county. Go out tomorrow night and get acquainted with them.

TOWARD PENAL REFORM

Gov. E. D. Rivers of Georgia announces that his state's famous chain gang system is to be abolished and replaced by a more modern penal system.

The plan as he outlines it calls for continuance of prison road camps—with a vast difference in the method of operation. There would be a central prison to which all convicts would be sent. From it, drafts would be taken for road camps—but there would be no shackles or chains at the camps, and assignment to a camp definitely would be in the nature of a favor, a reward for good behavior at the prison.

Under such a system, Georgia could retain the advantages of her old system and do away with its disadvantages. Convict labor would continue to do useful work for the state, but the abuses which made the old chain gang notorious would be abolished. Altogether, it looks as if Governor Rivers had had a most excellent idea.

Washington Letter

By PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON—It is amazing how the defeat of the Supreme Court bill abruptly shut off the triumphant blizzard of speeches and handouts that blew from government offices through the long months of the fight.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace is a prime example of those whose verbal bombardments of the public ears ceased when the court plan went down for the tenth count.

During the progress of the court debate Wallace would be found speaking before colleges, farm groups and over the radio as often as three or four times a week. The speeches always dealt with some phase of agriculture, but it was uncanny the way he could weave into almost any farm subject an argument for jostling down the court to make room for younger men with plow-'em-under ideas.

Advance copies of speeches landed on correspondents' desks in Washington in columns of two to the bewilderment of persons who didn't know how well the Wallace lathe could turn out nice-rounded speeches.

But the present dearth of speeches is only a temporary affair. Wallace, like Roosevelt, has "just begun to fight" for the sort of farm bill he wants. Congress promised to make farm legislation No. 1 "must" on its calendar of business next time it meets, whether that be in special session or the regular session beginning in January.

The affair of Justice Black and the Klan has generated further doubt that there will be a special session, farm legislation or no farm legislation. Enough senators have boiled over in protest about not knowing of the alleged Klan affiliation to indicate that a special session would renew the nasty fight suspended when the court plan was shelved.

But there is a tip-off on the special session business that is being watched closely here. Members of the house agriculture sub-committee that is considering farm-price legislation said they expected to return to Washington a month ahead of the date of such a session, if one is called.

Should the sub-committee return in October, that would indicate the members had been advised by the President to have something ready to take up in November. One important member predicted that if a call should come for a special session in November, farm legislation could be completed by Christmas.

Incidentally, it would be a racy looking Christmas present for agriculture if there were stitched to it all the fancy work that members of congress hope to attach.

Senator Connally of Texas won't be satisfied unless the bill includes a subsidy for cotton growers to offset tariff protection on supplies they have to buy. Senator Ellender of

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—At a recent ball game, won in the ninth inning with a dramatic home run with two on base, one of the spectators was so overcome that he tumbled out of his seat in a faint. A few minutes later he was dead.

The coroner said his death had resulted from a heart attack brought on by intense excitement, but a doctor who knew him declined, privately, to accept this view. It was his theory that his friend had succumbed to what he called the "New York Rush." This, he insisted, was a malady peculiar to the island of Manhattan.

"My friend simply rushed himself to death," he told me. "I frequently warned him against this behavior, but he would not, or could not, listen. He arose at early hours, gulped hasty meals, leaped into subways, and, arriving at his office, attempted to do three days work in the space of one.

"He would not learn to relax. He could not walk at a leisurely gait. It was his misfortune to be cursed with a mania for keeping in step with the jittery, shakedown rhythm of the city. At night he tumbled from a shower into evening clothes, bucked traffic till he reached a taxi, and from there usually wound up in one or several nightclubs, entertaining friends, arriving back sometimes with no time for sleep at all. Each day the pace was dizzy and crazier.

"Naturally he was ready for some sort of explosion, and that ninth inning home run merely provided the necessary spark. That is the way the 'New York Rush' undermines you. One minute you are here and the next—poof—they are calling the coroner."

Of all upper bracket personalities, whose popularity seems to grow instead of diminish with time, Kate Smith is the most natural. Unmindful of the devotion most theatrical and radio stars have for diets, she eats what she wants, whenever she desires it, and has no qualms about tomorrow's verdict from the bathroom scales.

Furthermore, she heartily dislikes athletics, for herself, and would rather lie around reading a good book while munching a box of candy than do anything that comes to mind. "I adore loafing," says this Washington, D. C., gal, who, for your information, is one of the shrewdest business women in the country. "And I adore reading and doing what I like. Why shouldn't I? That's what they pay me for!"

Gregory Taylor, hotel impresario and man-about-New York, Key West, and other places, is all hepped up over the island he bought of the coast of Long Island. . . . I tiny pin point of land, it boasts a grove of seven or eight trees with a rustic dwelling augmented with huge, comfortable fireplaces and a carefully chosen library. Too, it is filled with fishing tackle and fowling pieces. . . . His yacht, 50 feet off the front porch, rests easily at the dock. . . . There is a parapet around the top of the house from which ducks may be shot during winter. . . . It takes him just 2 hours and 15 minutes to motor there from his office at the St. Moritz.

People You Know

By ARCHER FULLINGIM

Coach Bob Curry of the Guerrillas, we think you've got something there! Those boys of yours are building up a unique reputation, and if they keep on they're likely to be one of the fightingest teams that ever wore a Harvester uniform, discarded or new. Yesterday the football fans opened their eyes and kept them open as they watched the Guerrillas scrimmage the Harvesters. Of course, the Guerrillas, light and spindly, couldn't whip the Harvesters, but they had it on them in fight and in spirit. But don't get the idea that anybody ran over those Guerrillas. Rather, Mr. Curry's boys were in the big boys' hair every minute, and that goes to show that football players don't need any size as long as they have the morale.

Those Guerrillas have had the right idea since practice began. Bob has little to do, if he does not get up and hustle they'll beat him out to the field, and when they get there they go to work, and there is no horse-play, no standing around, no showing off and kidding. They get in there and keep busy whether the coach is there or not and talking among the boys is practically nil—they're usually working too hard to talk.

Whether they win, lose or draw, this one shall see every game those Guerrillas play if they show the fight they put out yesterday, and there is every reason in the world to believe they'll keep on staying right in there.

How's Your Health?

By IAGO GALDSTON, M.D.

Preventing Lockjaw
 Lockjaw (tetanus) is caused by a germ, or more precisely by the toxins produced by the tetanus germs. It is not caused simply by stepping on a rusty nail, nor by any injury to the web between the thumb and first finger.

It is interesting to fathom the basis of these two common beliefs on the origin of lockjaw. For, in fact, they are not entirely meaningless. The rusty nail theory arose from the common experience that, following such accidents, some individuals did develop lockjaw. The rusty nail entering the foot was therefore regarded as the specific cause of the disease. But why the foot, and why a rusty nail?

The explanation is found in the nature and distribution of tetanus germs. Tetanus germs are normally found in the gastro-intestinal tract, and also in the excreta of horses and cattle. Wherever these animals are, there also the soil is likely to contain tetanus germs, or their spores. The germs survive in decomposing protein material, and their spores are very hardy and will survive a long time even under adverse conditions.

Tetanus germs thrive in the absence of oxygen. Given a rusty nail (implying that it has come into intimate contact with soil, and is laden with tetanus germs), when one steps on it, a penetrating wound is likely to result and the circumstances there are favorable for lockjaw to develop. The germs of tetanus, having been carried into the wound, are protected from the oxygen in the air.

The belief that injury to the web between the thumb and index finger may cause lockjaw arose similarly. During Fourth of July celebra-

Around Hollywood

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Must be nice to have a fan club, Craig Reynolds thinks it is, and he ought to know. He has two.

A fan club, in case you haven't joined one, is a sort of chamber of commerce (at large) devoted to but one cause: the boosting of its pet movie player.

If you're an actor in pictures, all you need to have a fan club is enough admirers to start one. One fan will write you first, requesting permission to form an organization. You'll grant it, and how. Not merely because you're flattered like everybody else, but because you're smart and you know where your bread and butter, and swimming pool money comes from.

The organizer usually becomes president of the club, and pretty soon—because movies are seen in many places at the same time, and fans are fans of the world over—the club gets members and more members. One member may live in Assau and another in Weehawken, but they have a strong common bond in their devotion to you, their favorite movie actor. (Of course they may belong also to other fan clubs that boost other actors, but that doesn't detract from their loyalty to you.)

And if you think, from an actor's point of view, a fan club is a silly business, you're off base. Take it from Reynolds, who appreciates his, that a fan club is something to have. "You get a bunch of friends, most of whom you've never seen personally, pulling for you to succeed in this business and you've no idea how it helps," he says. "Not only from the good will angle, but the practical things they do. They write fan letters, knowing what those mean in the studio's eyes. When a picture of yours is playing, they'll go in a body—and afterward, they'll talk loudly enough about your performance to be sure the exhibitor will hear them. They're loyal, and they'll look for ways and means of helping you get places."

The fan club gets out a newspaper devoted solely to a record of club matters and the actor's career. Imagine coming home from the studio, after the director has bawled you out, to pick up a newspaper devoted exclusively to you and your fan club. (Craig's is called the "Reynolds Rumpus.")

Offer Good Criticism

In return for all this, the actor sees to it that his clubbers get frequent, individual gifts of personally autographed pictures. And he's nice to visiting club members when they come to Hollywood, as sooner or later they do.

Under the impression that a fan club constituted the last word in societies for those with nothing to do, I was surprised to hear Reynolds' testimony that the letters he gets are usually serious and intelligent criticism rather than meaningless gush.

When the president of his bigger fan club came to town, he was so impressed with her intelligence that he made her his secretary. She still is.

tions, those using toy cap pistols and certain types of firecrackers often suffered injury in this region. The resulting wounds were likely to be deep and to become contaminated with tetanus germs. In fact, before safe-and-sane celebrations became popular, every Independence day was followed by numerous cases of lockjaw.

It is a very serious disease. Fortunately it can be prevented by the timely use of tetanus antitoxin. To prove effective, however, the antitoxin must be administered as promptly as possible after any deep wound, likely to have become contaminated with soil or street dust, has been suffered.

'Tom and Ben' Blamed For FDR's Court Plan

By RODNEY DUTCHER, Pampa Daily News Washington Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Men closest to the Roosevelt "throne" always are subject to sharpshootings from those not so close, but wishing they were.

Embittered ex-members of the inner circle constantly snipe at them. They are bombarded by powerful outside opposition forces which find it easier to shoot at the President indirectly with the hope of dislodging those advisers and aides who remain.

Conservative hosannas greeted Tugwell's departure as a Roosevelt "shift to the right." Promptly, however, it became obvious the President was cooking up the most radical of his programs—the Supreme Court change plan.

And it took little time for the opposition, the would-be favorites and the ex-favorites to get their fire centered on two lawyers, Thomas V. Corcoran, 36, and Benjamin V. Cohen, 42. "Tom and Ben" are the opposition's latest candidates for the sausage-grinder.

Both Considered Geniuses. Neither functions as a general adviser of the Tugwell or Moley type. But their scalps, for anyone who would strike at Roosevelt, are well worth getting. Corcoran, ubiquitous, super-energetic, brilliant, is the President's favorite troubleshooter, liaison man, co-ordinator, conciliator, ghost-writer, and salesman.

Cohen, his teammate and roommate, has drafted laws—none of which has yet been found vulnerable by either Wall Street lawyers or the Supreme Court.

Both have been dragged unwillingly into the limelight. Cohen is naturally a recluse, but Corcoran was called by Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, "the most alive man I ever knew." Both were considered "geniuses" by their professors. Both have been exposed to the Brandeis-Frankfurter influence.

Corcoran was secretary to Justice Holmes and four years with a Wall Street law firm. Cohen was with Brandeis in the Zionist movement.

Includes Bob and Bill. Actually the "Bob and Bill" team also includes a "Tom and Ben," Assistant Attorney General Robert H. Jackson and SEC Commissioner William O. Douglas.

These four liberals, all promoted from obscurity in New Deal ranks because of jobs well handled, are expert in certain fields—Jackson on taxation, monopoly laws and successful argument before the Supreme Court; Douglas in corporate finance, reorganizations and other Wall Street devices; Cohen in legal draftsmanship and Corcoran in many fields, especially that of generalship behind the scenes. All have had extensive experience outside the New Deal.

Corcoran and Cohen rang as special assistants to the attorney general, in addition to important legal jobs under FDR and the National Power Policy Committee respectively. They seem to get the toughest White House assignments.

Much of the anti-Corcoran and Cohen attack is based on the delusion that they were responsible for the badly licked, perhaps fateful, court plan. Attorney General Cummings plotted that one exclusively with Roosevelt. This fact may help dispel the notion of "Tom and Ben" as top brain-trusters.

Nevertheless Roosevelt at once called them in as shock troops for the early administration drive for the plan. With Jackson they wrote speeches and arguments, recruited speakers, primed with members of Congress. Later command of the fight was taken over by the Justice Department and then by Senator Joe Robinson.

After the Rest Failed.

In the last campaign Corcoran, Stanley High and Judge Sam Boseman—who was on the presidential train—were collaborators on Roosevelt's campaign speeches. In the previous administration Corcoran and Cohen had fought the lobbyists of the stockbrokers, investment bankers and public utilities.

BATTLE FOR STARTING HONORS STILL RAGING AT HARVESTER FIELD

BOYS SEEKING POSITIONS IN TORRID LINE

The battle for starting honors has not been settled at Harvester field where the Pampa Harvesters are in training for their annual tussle with the Capitol Hill Indians of Oklahoma City which will be Friday night, beginning at 8 o'clock.

There are six tackles in the midst of a torrid fight to see which two will get the call and to date there hasn't been a great deal of difference in their play. First one and then the other looks good in scrimmage as Brown, Solomon, Coshow, Nichols, L. Dull and Hunkapillar get the call. The best two will get the nod against the Indians.

At the guard slots the going is tougher for a couple of the boys, where Mathews and Nelson, lettermen, have the inside track. Bill Stiles and Parish are giving the par fits and not letting them rest a minute.

Yesterday it was noticed that Melvin Turner, substitute back last year, and in early training, was working at the center position. His strength is on defense. Arthur Harding has been holding down the center assignment with Nichols his understudy. With Turner at center Nichols has been shifted to tackle.

Toppy Reynolds, Harry McMahon, Fleming and Bob Andis are the end candidates. In the backfield the battle wages more keenly. Don Smith was back yesterday still limping a little from a knee and ankle injury received at Childress. J. W. Graham, Pete Dunaway, Claude Heiskell and Bob Kay all were at it hammer and tongs in the workout. They popped out Kidwell, Kemp, Leavitt, Freeman, Watkins and even Junior Williams who has been out of the lineup for several weeks nursing a knee injury. The second string looked good against the Guerrillas in a scrimmage.

The Guerrillas looked potent during a scrimmage with the Harvesters seconds, assisted by several first stringers. The little fellows charged and scrapped and even scored a pair of touchdowns against their big brothers while holding them to three counters.

Coach Bob Curry will be ready to name his starting Guerrilla lineup within a day or two. He is anxious to secure games immediately to test out his eleven which at first was expected to be the doormat for even the junior high Reapers of Coach Euckeba. Yesterday's scrimmage, however, changed the picture. At the same time, Coach Euckeba put his Reapers through a long workout and pronounced them in pretty fair shape for the opening of the Junior High league with Amarillo and Borger.

Hartnett Leads Cubs in 7-5 Victory over Giants

By BILL BONI, Associated Press Sports Writer.

The Giants have had a dose of Dr. Charley Grimm's pet medicine—hope to call it "The Pennant Winner"—and they woke up today with a bitter taste in their mouths, a determination to do better and a National league lead that had dwindled to a game and a half.

Dr. Grimm's medicine, the one that has done such wonders for the cocky clubs on past afternoons, is a well-adjusted mixture of garrulous Gaby Hartnett's war club and smooth-flowing relief pitching by veteran Charley Root.

The Giants got both yesterday, to the delight of 34,807 Chicago customers and the dismay of Gotham's rooters for a nickel world series.

Garrulous Gaby, he of the wagging tongue and the flailing shlah, was in his best form. Missing only a homer on his triumphant tour, the big Cub backstop smashed out a triple with the bases loaded, a single that put him in position to score, and a double that drove home the final nail in the Giants' coffin and the final run in the Cubs' 7-5 victory.

While the Cubs and Giants battle tooth and nail to settle their pennant issue, the Yanks sit still and ease in. When the Tigers split their double-header in Boston yesterday, losing the first, 12-7, to a 10-run Red Sox fifth inning, and winning the second, 4-1, that made it so much simpler for the Ruppert riot squad.

By winning both games from the Browns today, they can eliminate Detroit from all consideration. The Yanks and Browns were kept level yesterday by the American Legion parade that tied up practically everything in New York.

The rest of the big league program saw the Dodgers drop two in St. Louis, 8-5 and 6-3; the Pirates sting the Bees, 9-2; the Phils lose the opener, 6-3; and win the nightcap from the Reds, 10-1; Wally Moses' 11th inning homer with a man on base beat the White Sox, 5-4, for the Athletics, and Johnny Allen of the Indians win his 13th straight—hasn't been beaten—with a 6-3 subjection of the Senators.

Ambers-Montanez Bout on Thursday Holds Spotlight

NEW YORK, Sept. 22 (AP)—The bout that's going to pack the biggest share of about $350,000 worth of customers into the Polo Grounds for the carnival of champions, tomorrow night appears to be the one between Lightweight Champion Lou Ambers and Pedro Montanez, the gay Puerto Rican.

That, at least, is the fight they all were talking about today. Promoter Mike Jacobs has dropped it in the "top" spot of the evening, the third card.

If you want to bet on either Pedro or Lou, you have to lay the odds with Jack Doyle, the Broadway commissioner. Five dollars will win you four, and you take your choice. In other words, Doyle considers it a dead-level proposition and doesn't really want to do much wagering.

On Doyle's books, Fred Apostol is favored to trim Marcel Thil, European middleweight, in the night's first feature while Barney Ross is Doyle's choice in the second dual over Challenger Cefterino Garcia from the Philippines.

Doyle's money also says that Sixto Escobar still will be bantamweight king when he and Harry Jeffra of Baltimore wind up the show.

Sport Sparks

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT

DALLAS, Sept. 22 (AP)—Twice in the past three years fate has dealt from the bottom of its deck to the University of Arkansas... tow-headed Jack Newby, captain-elect of the '36 Razorbacks and finest of all Arkansas centers, succumbed to pneumonia before his senior season.

Out at Childress the keeper of a rearing pond is wondering what sort of monkey business has been going on in his backwater. The red fish she had just hooked landed in her lap.

Ever see the like of good passers in the conference? Top notchers include Jack Morrison of SMU; Davey O'Brien of TCU; Ernie Lain of Rice; Jack Robbins of Arkansas; Billy Patterson of Baylor; Bullet Gray of Texas and Dick Todd and Walemon Price at Texas A. & M.

Out at McMurry College they like to tell you about a forward passer named Bill Gray from Cross Plains who recently unwound a pass that went 90 yards... It's no trick at all for him to do 50 or 60 yards at that's just what the Indians plan to do from midfield on fourth downs—have Gray hurl over the goal line with a pass that could either connect for a marker or do no harm.

Hottest recruit in the national professional football leagues, outside of Sammy Baugh, is Texas Tech's Jim Neill, the jarring fullback, so the eastern experts are penning Fort Worth, its pennant fever revived, is a madhouse again, baseball fans stood in line for blocks getting their pastebards for the opener against Oklahoma City Thursday night... Saddened they were, however, when the news spread around Ed Greer, the big hurler, had gone out with an appendectomy.

Should Star This Season

CAPT. J. W. GRAHAM.

The Harvesters of which great things are expected this season are Captain J. W. Graham, midget halfback, and J. P. Mathews, lefterman guard. Graham calls signals from the halfback position and his work in the game.

GUARD J. P. MATHEWS.

Childress last week made fans feel good. Mathews will be ready to go Friday night against the Capitol Hill Indians of Oklahoma City here. He was on the sidelines because of boils last Friday night. Mathews was one of the Harvesters standouts last season.

PANTHERS WIN FIRST BATTLE FROM SOONERS

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 22 (AP)—Oklahoma City's Indians pined together their shattered defense today and made ready to challenge the Fort Worth Cats a second time in their scrap for the Texas league baseball championship.

The Indians, who blew higher than the centerfield flagpole at the crucial spot in last night's title series opener, kicked away a perfectly good game and lined up squarely behind the eight-ball.

Although they rattled 11 hits off Jackie Reid, Fort Worth's 43-year-old righthander, the Indians failed to deliver in the pinches and the Panthers pocketed the first game of the four-out-of-seven series, 5 to 4.

It will be up to Clay Touchstone, righthand curve ball artist, to halt the rampaging Cats tonight. Touchstone, who is Manager Jim Keesey's choice for mound duty, has worked against the Pelicans five times this season and has no defeats but only one victory to show for his efforts.

Fort Worth's starting moundman likely will be Paul Leblanc. Ed MOON MULLINS TO COACH NOTRE DAME GRID STYLE.

LIPSCOMB TO TACKLE JOHN NEMANIC NEXT

Tired of seeing Buck Lipscomb, rough-house mauler from the Hoosier state, murder his scientific grapplers, Promoter Cliff Chambers has finally decided to turn a wildcat loose in the ring next Monday night in the person of John Nemanic from Denver, Colo.

When the first came to this country, John was a nice boy but after being on the receiving end of a couple of terrific beatings, he turned wildcat and has been one of the bad boys. He has been begging to get a crack at Lipscomb in a main event tussle.

A semi-final that is of main event caliber, will see Sailor Moran, one of the roughest and toughest in the game, meeting Bob Cummings. Moran will be making his first appearance here in a long, long time but fans will remember him well. Cummings, who breathes long and loud, has made a real hit with Pampans on his last two appearances.

Opening the card at 8:30 o'clock, Chambers will present Indian Bill Caswell and Don Rainey in what should be a 20-minute fireworks of scientific grappling.

OUT OF THE NIGHT

CHAPTER VI

Cilly led Sergeant Dolan into the living room, remembering as she did so, that she had not as yet told him the bridge table was set up as it had been the night before when Amy and she played against Jim and Harry Hutchins. There were ashes and cigar butts in the various ashtrays, and they lent a stale odor to the room.

Sergeant Dolan looked around, and Cilly knew that his sharp eyes were not missing one detail.

"Have a good night's rest?" he asked, pleasantly enough.

"Fairly," she answered.

One could not put too much faith in Sergeant Dolan's pleasant manner, as was reflected by the careless, guttural bulk of his speech, in the wide smile which came so easily to his lips. But his rather small, quick eyes belied all that. They were the eyes of the professional man-hunter, and Cilly made a mental note that she must not be deceived by his friendliness. She must wait to hear from Jim before she took Sergeant Dolan into her confidence.

"I'm sorry to say, Miss Pierce," the sergeant said, seating himself in the most comfortable armchair, "that this matter of Miss Kerr's accident, presents itself in rather a different light this morning."

Cilly sat down opposite him. "You've seen Mrs. Corbett then?" she asked.

"Who is Mrs. Corbett?" he counted.

"A neighbor from across the street. She called a few minutes ago—with some rather startling information, I suggested that she get in touch with you immediately."

"Oh—my—!" Dolan scratched his chin. "Just what was this startling information?" he asked.

Cilly hesitated. It would be wiser at present, she decided, to do no more talking than was necessary. "Perhaps it would be better to tell Sergeant Dolan," she suggested, "for you to hear Mrs. Corbett's story from her. She intended to phone you, I believe."

Dolan looked at Cilly shrewdly. "Here's a girl, he thought, 'who's nobody's fool.'"

Aloud he said: "She did get in touch with me. Thought I'd just stop in and get your version of the affair once more."

"I'll be glad to answer your questions, sergeant," Cilly offered courteously. She was more composed now, her natural well-poised self.

Sergeant Dolan took out his inevitable black book and an almost useless stub of pencil.

"How long did you tell me you've known Miss Kerr—Amy Kerr, that right?"

"Yes," Cilly repeated what she had told the night before. She met Amy some six months previous, in the Cannon building, where they both worked. "We frequently met downstairs in the tea shoppe for lunch," she added. "Amy spoke of the difficulty in finding a nice place to live in New York. She had been staying at a girl's residence club and did not like it very much. Finally I suggested that she share this apartment with me. That was two months ago."

"Remember the name of this residence club?"

Cilly named a modest but well-known clubhouse in the Seventies. "Did she have many friends?"

"Very few, I should say. Amy was a stranger in the city. I understood that she came from a town called Interlaken, in New Hampshire, where she had lived with an aunt. She came to New York less than a year ago and happened to find this position as secretary to Harvey Ames, of the real estate firm. They have offices on the same floor as ours."

"In his book, Sergeant Dolan wrote: 'See Harvey Ames.'"

"What company did you say you were with, Miss Pierce?" he asked. "Crowell and Burns, attorneys?"

"Secretary, I suppose."

"No, junior attorney. I was admitted to the bar two years ago."

Sergeant Dolan raised his eyebrows. He looked Cilly over with a new respect dawning in his eyes. "You don't say! Quite a youngster, aren't you?"

"Twenty-seven, eh? Well, you don't look it. Not a bit of it. And how old was Miss Kerr?"

"She was younger than I. We celebrated her 25th birthday together only a few weeks ago."

Sergeant Dolan nodded. His eyes never quiet for a second, were still roving about the room. They saw everything and they saw through everything, it seemed to Cilly. He went on:

"Was she unhappy about anything? Worried?"

"Not at all."

"Had she quarreled with anybody? Was there anybody, as far as you know, whom she particularly hated or feared?"

"Nobody that I ever heard of. Of course, she didn't speak of her past very much."

"Wasn't that unusual?"

"Not with Amy. She was naturally a reticent person; she never forced herself upon anyone."

For the first time, Cilly understood the attraction between Amy and Harry Hutchins. They were so totally different.

"Did she ever tell you why she left New Hampshire?"

"No. I assumed it was for the same reason that thousands of girls leave small towns for New York."

"Never mentioned any trouble at home?"

"No."

sure Amy didn't have any enemy. Again Cilly shook her head. "I'm sure Amy didn't have any enemy in the world."

Gas Odorant To Be In Lines By This Week-End

All apparatus for the supplying of an odorant into Pampa gas lines has been ordered and received, with the exception of one unit which is expected to be delivered this week.

It was expected that by Saturday or Sunday, the odorant would be turned into the lines. J. W. Garman, Central States Power & Light Corp. manager, said.

Installation of the equipment is in accordance with the July 27 order of the Texas Railroad Commission, believed to have been prompted by the New London school disaster that claimed the lives of 400 school children when natural gas that accumulated under the floor of the building exploded.

The new law was designed with the idea of preventing such disasters by making gas leaks more noticeable.

Pampa's odorant will not interfere in any way with use of the natural gas. Control of the odorant will be automatic, and the flow of the odorant into the lines will be in proportion to the volume of gas used.

PANHANDLE OIL FLOW SLASHED

AUSTIN, Sept. 22 (AP)—The Texas Railroad Commission today set the basic oil allowance for October at 1,405,844 barrels daily, 24,456 barrels a day under the recommendation of the United States Bureau of Mines.

The September basic allowance was 1,441,734 barrels. The figure had grown to 1,469,384 by last Saturday due to well completions.

C. V. Terrell, commission chairman, said that "we have set the figure sufficiently below the estimate of the Bureau of Mines that wells brought into production in October will not cause Texas to exceed market demand."

The proration factor in the vast East Texas field, 2.32 per cent of hourly potential, was left unchanged. Some oil men had taken the position the commission should endeavor to cut production there because of large pressure drops the last three months.

It will be the first time in many months the state's basic allowance has been below the market demand estimate of the Bureau of Mines.

The allowances by districts, effective Sept. 1 and Oct. 1, were as follows:

East Texas 475,308 and 480,154 (estimated); Panhandle, 76,230 and 71,540; Moore county 1,400 and 1,400; Osborne area 600 and 600; North Texas 63,600 and 61,285; Foard county 650 and 650; West Central 71,209 and 67,859; West Texas 193,469 and 183,505; East Central 110,934 and 106,440; Southwest Texas, 245,534 and 240,584; Gulf coast 202,749 and 189,817.

grand jury included that made on a statutory charge, and two on charges of driving an automobile while intoxicated.

Next week will be criminal-jury week. This week has been non-jury. Up to today, the court has granted three divorces, and has passed three removal orders, transferring three cases to the United States district court at Amarillo.

The case's ordered removed were: J. L. J. H., and W. C. Furneaux, trustees of the Furneaux Trust estate vs. Texas Company; another case, with same plaintiff vs. Bell Oil & Gas Company and Claude Drilling Company; and Oscar Huff et ux vs. Claude Drilling Company.

The latter case involved an alleged dispossession; the first two, the plaintiff asking $25,000 damages on complaint that defendant, it is alleged, failed to reasonably develop freehold.

PAMPAN WILL ATTEND BUICK DEALERS MEET

Hugh Johnson, sales manager for Tex Evans Buick Company, left today for Dallas to attend the Texas-Oklahoma Buick dealers preview showing of the new 1938 Buicks.

The two day meeting will be held in the Blue Room of the Adolphus Hotel. A complete line of the new 1938 Buicks will be presented to the dealers along with the sales program and features of the model.

Mr. Johnson stated that no definite time had been set as to the local showing of the new 1938 Buick here, but that on his return the latter part of the week he would have information on the new car as to price, features and changes in the new model.

JUDGE BOND ACCEPTS
