BANKER KILLS FUGITIVE CONVICT

Heavy Wind, Rain And Hail Storms Lessen Heat In Two Areas Of State

DATE FOR JONES 'WELCOME HOME' BANQUET SET FOR TUESDAY NIGHT

TWINKLES

Supt. R. B. Fisher, now in Columbia university, New York City, writes that class work has "a real meaning" this summer. And with half the brains of the university in Washington, too.

Asked if he would not be surprised to see some of his congregation returning from beery Oklahoma, a local minister says he would be surprised to see them returning.

It will prove embarrassing for any minister or deacon to be called to Oklahoma "on business" now.

One Pampan, seeing white clouds in the east, remarked that the foam surely was rising across the state line.

Another Pampan surely was kicking about the high price of beer here and assigning reasons not very complimentary to a few folks.

Don't underestimate Old Man Texas. His wealth has increased 194 times since 1850 and is now over ten billions.

Test you forget: Texas will have another state fair, the dates falling on October 7-22.

DON'T QUIT THINKING

To turn national recovery over to Franklin D. Roosevelt and his associates at a time when he is emphasizing that success of the program depends in final analysis upon individuals and firms would be typically American, but disastrous. A relatively small percentage of businessmen have forced many of the most damaging deflation movements—of prices, wages and working conditions. That same small number, striving to make capital out of the new deal legislation, can defeat the entire program. A little improvement in business should not serve as a "shot in the arm" which numbs business men to the seriousness of the recovery problem.

IMPROVING, SURELY

The upbound from the depression's bottom has been largely inflationary. Prices are higher, but wages have not followed and cannot in most instances until agreements are uniform. Factories are turning, but until buying power is restored there is reason to believe that much of the goods will be unsalable. Conditions are improving, but there are 11,500,000 potential buyers without work. Seasonal and inflationary movements have reduced the relief lists by only 10 per cent. You can greatly improve business for a time and still do little for that huge breadline.

MORE THAN INFLATION

The work-relief-rehabilitation problem is more than bringing back a given price and wage level. Industry must be revamped to provide shorter hours per day and in many cases fewer days per week. We do not agree with some writers who believe that a high wage and less work can be brought about by a few agreements. But wages can be increased to keep pace with inflation, or nearly so, and the work can be divided among more persons.

BRIEF ENTERTAINMENT TO HAVE WIDE APPEAL

TUESDAY evening has definitely been set as the time for the All-Panhandle reception for Congressman Marvin Jones, sponsored by the Pampa Junior chamber of commerce.

Mr. Jones yesterday afternoon wired Gilmore N. Nunn, who is in charge of banquet arrangements, that he expected to be in the Panhandle by the date set and would make every effort to do so. If his services should be required a few more days by the administration, he will telegraph in ample time to change the banquet date.

Mr. Nunn announced, at the same time, that there had been a complete sell-out of reservations and that the requests arriving tardily could not be met. The capacity of the Schneider hotel dining room is 220. Ticket requests have been nearer 250, coming from all parts of the Panhandle.

Ferguson Urges Roper to Finish Dam at Cotulla

WASHINGTON, July 14 (AP)—James E. Ferguson, former governor of Texas and husband of Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson, today recommended to Secretary Roper use of federal public funds for completion of the Cotulla dam irrigation project in Texas.

Ferguson told the commerce department chief that a great deal of employment could be afforded Texas by using federal funds for drainage work.

He and Charles MacDonald called on Roper early today. He was the third cabinet official they had conferred with and most of the conversation related to public works plans. Roper is on the cabinet board on the industrial recovery law.

Secretary Roper is one of the most interesting men we have met here," Ferguson said. "He has had real experience in government and has a great store of knowledge about government functions."

"The secretary asked me what I might suggest in the way of spending federal funds in Texas to give employment and I cited the Cotulla dam project. It involved over 100,000 acres and was started before the depression. Then, it was indefinitely deferred."

CHICAGO, July 14 (AP)—Wheat soared abruptly to the season's highest levels in the last five minutes of trading today. May closed at $1.18. An upturn of almost 2 cents a bushel in the last few minutes enabled wheat to close as much as 1-4 cents above yesterday's finish.

E. G. Daily of Tulsa left yesterday after transacting business here.

Col. C. Williamson of Texas Military college, Terrell, was looking after interests in the city yesterday.

I SAW—

Miss Hermina Stover in the city park and she made this pun-of-a-sort after a person had observed that the six poplars in the park reminded one of a "leer" (lyre): "In other words you sort of leer at lyre!"

Vaughn Darnell, Mrs. Roy N. Jones and other charter members of the "hay fever club" congratulating themselves on having had only slight attacks this year. The drought was blamed.

MERCHANTS TO MEET MONDAY IN CONFERENCE

Trade Practices Codes And Recovery Act Will Be Subject of Gathering.

Because of the setting of the date for the Marvin Jones banquet here on Tuesday evening, the mass meeting of merchants scheduled for that night has been changed to Monday.

The merchants will meet to discuss the national industrial recovery act and the trade practices codes which have been demanded by the federal administration. There will be a round-table discussion of the purpose and effect of the codes and the other federal restrictions. The meeting will begin at 8 o'clock at the city hall. Everyone interested is invited to attend.

Potential Test Is Opposed By Oil Operators

AMARILLO, July 14 (AP)—Further testimony that a potential test of all oil wells in the Panhandle is not needed was heard by Ernest O. Thompson and C. V. Terrell, members of the Texas railroad commission here today.

It was pointed out that any operator not satisfied with his present allowable could ask for a test of his own wells any time he desired. Operators in the field generally have objected to a potential test at this time.

Six companies asked for permits to extract gasoline from 10 wells with a potential of 65,000,000 cubic feet of gas.

Balbo's Armada Is At Montreal

MONTREAL, July 14 (AP)—The air armada of seaplanes led by Gen. Italo Balbo across the north Atlantic for a visit to the Century of Progress exposition at Chicago, landed safely here this afternoon, completing the sixth lap of its daring flight.

Gen. Balbo and his aviators left Shediac this morning at 8:51 o'clock and this required 3 hours and 34 minutes to cover the 500-mile journey.

The armada flew over the state of Maine during its trip.

Farm Body To Be Formed Here

A Gray county agriculture association will be formed here soon, it was stated by C. L. Geesey, representative of the Panhandle Agriculture association.

The organization meeting will likely be called as soon as Roy Bourland arrives from St. Louis, where he is attending the Lions International convention.

Units of the Panhandle association were formed this week in Hemphill, Roberts, and other plains counties. The current project is securing of better apparatus for land for loans.

SIX-INCH HAIL INJURES TWO NEAR VERNON

KILGORE IN DARKNESS FOR HOUR DURING STORM

By The Associated Press.

HEAVY wind and rain storms brought relief to two widely separated portions of heat-stricken Texas yesterday but the rest of the state continued to sweeter in abnormal temperatures.

Winds which approached intensity of a tornado swept a long wide path across East Texas, blowing down trees in some places and leveling several derricks in the East Texas oil field. Starting in the vicinity of Paris, the wind blew across a path 50 miles wide to Carthage, near the Texas-Louisiana border.

Telephone lines were blown down, trees were damaged, two parked automobiles at Mount Pleasant were blown together and Kilgore was plunged into darkness for an hour when a tree struck by lightning tore down power lines. Showers at Tyler were beneficial to crops and lowered temperatures.

In far away Hardeman county in northwest Texas, hail and wind destroyed crops and seriously damaged buildings west and north of Quanah along the Red river. Hail which piled up six inches deep in places beat all vegetation into the ground in the Marshall community and injured two women but not seriously. A half mile of railroad track just north of the Red river was washed out.

A windstorm early today wrecked the hangar of the American Legion airport at Paris, smashed two airplanes stored inside and wrapped sheet metal around light poles across the highway, causing damage estimated at more than $2,500. Hail damaged crops in the immediate vicinity of the airport but other sections of the country were not hurt.

The last measurable rainfall at Fort Worth was .03 inch, June 13.

Baseball Game To Be Sponsored By Kiwanis Club

Members of the Kiwanis club were entertained today by the C. R. L. Vawter party. Whistling numbers were given by Mrs. Vawter and Billy Reeves and Howard House amused the members with drawing. Other members of the party are Dr. Vawter and Miss May Vawter.

President Dan McGree appointed committees to arrange for a baseball game soon, the proceeds of which will go to the underprivileged children's fund, and a committee to arrange for the annual Kiwanis picnic Friday, July 28.

Buckingham is chairman of the baseball committee and Jim Collins of the picnic committee.

CONSUMPTION OF COTTON IS AT NEW PEAK

Largest During June Since Census Began Keeping Record in Sept., 1912.

WASHINGTON, July 14 (AP)—Cotton consumption during June was the largest for any month since the census bureau began keeping monthly records in September, 1912.

The bureau said today that 696,472 bales were required by textile establishments during the 30 days.

The next largest consumption for any month since 1912 was 693,081 bales, reported for March, 1927.

Consumption during June exclusive of linters was more than double that of last year when 322,706 bales were required.

Particularly noticeable was the record consumption by establishments in cotton growing states during the month, also more than double that of June last year.

Southern textile mills used 565,644 bales during June compared with 275,832 bales last year.

Consumption of linters also increased sharply for the nation with 81,648 bales consumed during June compared with 46,775 for the month in 1932.

During the month 25,540,504 spindles were active in mills compared with 20,646,966 last year. Of these during June 17,593,128 spindles were active in cotton growing states, compared with 15,347,808 active there during that month last year.

For New England states 7,242,362 spindles were active in June, compared with 4,569,172 active in June, 1932.

KIDNAPING FLASHES

CHICAGO, July 14 (AP)—From a woman who is believed to have witnessed the $50,000 "down payment" that resulted in the release by kidnapers of John Factor, has come a clue that may help investigators find the men who abducted him.

ALBANY, N. Y., July 14 (AP)—Johnny O'Connell is alive and well—his family expressed this belief today after receiving a note signed by the kidnaped 24-year-old nephew of the politically powerful O'Connell brothers. The note addressed to the missing youth's Uncle Dan, directed the O'Connells to submit a new list of intermediaries, the 22 Albany men offered as negotiators having been rejected by the kidnapers.

ALTON, Ill., July 14 (AP)—Two notes demanding ransom for August Luer, 77-year-old Alton banker, have been received by Luer's family. It was announced here today. Agents for the family said neither of the notes bore Luer's handwriting. The family's agents, O. S. #### KANSANS SHOT IN ATTEMPTED BANK HOLDUP

PAIR ESCAPED WITH 11 OTHERS FROM KANSAS STATE PRISON

PARSONS, Kansas, July 14 (AP)—Firing with deadly aim from a prepared ambush, Isaac McCarty, 35-year-old cashier of the Labette County State bank at Altamont, shot and killed a robber identified by his companion as Kenneth Conn, escaped Kansas convict, although the fugitive was using the banker's wife as a shield against fire in an unsuccessful effort to rob the institution.

Standing on the bank's vault concealed by a curtain, McCarty dropped Alvin Payton, the companion, with a blast from a shotgun as the two men started to leave the bank after robbing it.

As Payton fell, wounded in the face, Robert Schooley, manager of the Home Telephone company, noticed a robbery was in progress, seized a rifle and shot the tires from the robbers' car, parked nearby.

Apparently Conn believed the shot which struck Payton had been fired from across the street. He ordered, A. H. McCarty, father of the cashier, to go into the street and order the firing to cease, or Mrs. McCarty would be slain. He then grabbed the banker's wife and with her fell beneath a counter.

With his wife crushed against the robber and his father walking across the lobby to order Schooley to cease firing, McCarty said he realized he could not fire again with his sawed-off 10-gauge shot gun so resorted to his rifle.

The banker said he took deliberate aim and shot Conn once in the head and once in the body. The convict, one of the eleven who escaped Memorial day by kidnaping Warden Kirk Prather, was killed instantly.

Had Ambush Prepared. In describing the robbery, the banker said he had acted entirely on a "hunch" which probably originated, he explained, because the two men in their automobile ap-

SAVING THE PUBLIC'S MONEY

By Bruce Catton

When a public official rolls up his sleeves and does battle to protect the public interest he deserves a cheer or two; and a little demonstration for Interior Secretary Harold Ickes seems to be in order just now.

When the cement makers offered their first bids for Boulder Dam, Mr. Ickes threw out all the bids on the ground that they were too high and looked remarkably like the product of a combination in restraint of trade.

So new bids were submitted, and again the secretary threw them out.

Then the cement makers hinted that if he expected to get any cement for Boulder Dam he had better speak a little more softly. Mr. Ickes, however, countered by threatening to have the government build its own cement mills and produce its own cement.

So at last he got some satisfactory bids—and as a result Uncle Sam has saved $500,000 on its bill for Boulder Dam cement.

Mr. Ickes seems to have a pretty good conception of the duties of a public official.

Turning Loss Into Profit

An article in the American Bankers Association Journal points out that it isn't always necessary for the man who is stuck with what looks like a bad real estate investment to take an unpleasant loss.

A New York savings bank, the article relates, issued a $40,000 mortgage several years ago on a group of East Side tenements. Hard times came, the owner began to let his property deteriorate, tenants began to move out and presently the owner couldn't pay.

The bank had to foreclose. So the bank found itself the owner of a $40,000 tenement block which looked as if it would be a steady loser for years to come.

But instead of taking the loss, the bank put $40,000 more into its investment. It modernized the tenements completely, installed a new heating system, incinerators and the like, did a lot of remodeling—and now has rented every single suite and is drawing $14,000 a year in rents. An apparent loss has been turned into a first-rate money maker.

proached the bank before it was opened for business.

The banker said he told Mrs. McCarty to open the institution, in the meanwhile walking toward his ambush which he had prepared in anticipation of a probable robbery.

"I heard the men hold up the employees and march them to the rear of the vault," McCarty said, but decided to withhold fire until they started away, for fear of shooting some of the others.

Mrs. McCarty, apparently suffering no ill-effects from her exciting experience, said that Conn expressed an intention of kidnaping her a moment before her husband shot down Payton.

"It's a little early, but we would like to deposit some money," Mrs. McCarty quoted the man as saying when she unlocked the bank door.

"All right," I replied, walking back to the cage. Conn followed me and drew a revolver. Payton went to a room where the others were assembled and marched them out into the main part of the bank behind the cage.

Payton Sure to Die. "After they had scooped up the money, Conn said, 'I guess we will take her along with us.'"

"Just as I told them I would accompany them my husband fired the charge that dropped Payton. As someone opened fire across the counter with him. He made Mr. McCarty's father get up off the floor where he had ordered the men to lie and shouted at him, 'I'll kill this girl and maybe some more of them in here.'"

As Conn and Mrs. McCarty crouched under the counter they faced the rear of the bank and the concealed banker. Conn was shot, the coroner said, directly beneath the heart from the front, the bullet striking his spine and killing him instantly.

Payton was taken to a hospital at Oswego where physicians said he was certain to die from his wound.

PAMPA BOYS PLAY BASEBALL AND WRITE 'VERSE' IN WYOMING CAMP

Although building a baseball diamond high in the Wyoming mountains is not easy, the Pampa boys at Saratoga reforestation camp have obtained baseball equipment and are practicing regularly, according to Devista Harvey.

"I know we will have a good team," Devista wrote his parents, "I wish the Palo Duro boys were near enough to be challenged. They have nothing on us. We wish we could meet Sam Kieth's bunch."

"Our 'cats' are O. k., even if we do have potatoes nearly every meal. The beans are usually scorched a little, but we are the healthiest fellows in Wyoming. We are building a new camp site and will have hot and cold showers. The water has been uncomfortably cold. Many of the boys have gone 'over the hill' to escape the monotony, and especially the work."

"Here is a poem about our life: 'Roosevelt is my shepherd, I shall not want; He maketh me to lie down on straw mattresses, He leadeth me inside a mess hall, He restoreth to me a job, He leadeth me in the path of reforestation, For his country's sake; 'Yes, though I walk through poison oak and ivy, I will fear no evil for he is for me

His blankets and O. Ds they cover me; He prepare a saw and an ax before me In the presence of commanding officers; He anointest my mind with discipline, My shoes runneth over from walking; Surely beans and employment follow me 'All the days of Roosevelt's administration 'And I shall dwell in a tent forever.' —LYMAN HUSTED.

"I am going to get acquainted with the Boy Scouts in Saratoga and continue my work if possible." Young Harvey's address is C. C. C. Company, 886, Saratoga, Wyo.

NEW YORK, July 14. (AP)—The stock market fluttered uncertainly today in the face of a large volume of profit taking which unsettled a number of the recently buoyant issues. # TWO VISITORS IN THE CITY ARE COMPLIMENTED WITH PARTIES

WEDDING ENDS ROMANCE BORN OF GOLD RUSH

Dance Hall Belle, Alaskan Miner Reunited

VANCOUVER, B. C., July 14 (AP)—A secret romance born on Christmas eve in 1900, in the gold-rush days at Dawson—with long years of absence from each other since—brings marriage to Klondike Kate, the belle of the dance halls, and John Matson, an Alaskan miner.

The silver-haired Matson, who remained in the northland working his claims but all the time recalling the vision of Kate, was at the boat dock this morning to meet her on arrival from Seattle. They will be wed "within a day or so."

"We've corresponded the past four years," he said, "and two weeks ago she came to Vancouver to meet me."

In the long years of separation, Klondike Kate came south with Alexander Pantages, the theater man, and won renown throughout the west as the girl who gave him his start in the theatrical world. She married in 1914 "home-steaded" in the high desert country of central Oregon.

Matson met her a few times in Alaska, after he first saw her in the old Savoy theater at Dawson that Christmas eve. He was among the miners who admired the colorful dance hall girl, and chose her for a sweetheart, but kept it a secret.

Four years ago he read she had attended the Seattle Stampede of the Sourdoughs, and later that she was the "mystery witness" summoned from Bend, Ore., to aid in the defense of Pantages in his colorful trial, although she was not called to testify.

He started a correspondence with her, and she welcomed his attentions. Finally, he asked her to marry him.

"I want to take care of you, and make you happy," he wrote.

VAWTER URGES LISTENERS TO TEST RELIGION

Tonight's Program of Music Is Announced

"Don't take what I say during this meeting," said Dr. C. D. E. Vawter in his sermon last night at the open air tabernacle by the Christian church, "without testing it by your Bible. Don't take what Mullen says and don't take what any other preacher says. All that we know about religion that is true, we got from the Bible. It is not we tell you anything that is different from what the Bible says it is not true. We read about one church in the Bible that searched the Scriptures daily to see whether or not the things Paul preached were true. Would that the churches of today would do this."

"In your Bible," he said, "you are told to add to our faith, virtue, and the word virtue means courage as used here. We think of virtue meaning purity of life. I hold that a Christian cannot add virtue to his Christianity. It is one of the fundamentals of Christianity. Without it one cannot be a Christian. Peter is saying here 'Add to your faith, courage that will make you live right; that will make you vote as you pray; that you will let men know who you are and what you are even if they scoff at you.'"

Two large delegations were present last night. The picture was won by the delegation from the P. T. A.

Tonight's program will include a trio for the Notre Dame chimes, marimba and piano, the entire evangelistic party playing. Mrs. Vawter will sing and there will be a whistling duet by Mrs. Vawter and Billy Reeves. Howard House will make a picture illustrating "Out in the Desert." The sermon, it was tentatively announced, would probably be on the subject "Does the Bible teach eternal punishment?" Services begin at 7:45.

Miss Helen Jo Daugherty was hostess to girls of the A. B. C. club at her home yesterday afternoon, in an informal hour of talk and games.

The lesson-sermon also includes citations from the Christian Science textbook by Mary Baker Eddy, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," one of which is as follows (p. 76): "When being is understood, Life will be recognized as neither material nor finite, but as infinite, as God, universal good; and the belief that life or mind, was ever in a finite form, or good in evil, will be destroyed. Suffering, sinning, dying beliefs are unreal. When divine Science is universally understood, they will have no power over man; for man is immortal and lives by divine authority."

He is survived by his wife and small son, his parents, three sisters, Mrs. C. T. Locke of Miami, Mrs. Fluke George of Shamrock and Mrs. Violet Mathers of Canadian. Mr. Rees was employed at the Santa Fe here until his death and is a long time resident of Miami.

Small Boy 'Plays' With Rattlesnake

TAHOKEA, July 14. (AP)—Little J. H. Edwards, Jr., found a new playmate, but an unfriendly one.

His mother, Mrs. Harold Edwards, and a neighbor, were attracted by a commotion in the yard of the Edwards' home. Excited, she cut off the reptile's rattles rather than his head. Every time he punched the snake struck, but the baby miraculously escaped each time.

Mrs. Edwards snatched the baby from danger, and attacked the rattler with a hoe. Excited, she cut off the reptile's rattles rather than his head, but the snake crawled away and died.

Julius Bednorz of White Deer visited in Pampa this morning.

Roosevelt May Use Big Stick On Industries

WASHINGTON, July 14. (AP)—President Roosevelt seriously pondered today a proposal by some advisers that he act to fix minimum rates of pay and maximum hours of work in all industries.

He was said to be pleased at what administrators of the recovery act interpreted as industry's increasing willingness to submit its own voluntary agreements to increase purchasing power. But in some quarters it was reported the four new "codes of fair competition" submitted yesterday were not enough.

So today the president planned to talk things over with his cabinet and Hugh S. Johnson, industrial administrator, before deciding what action might be thought necessary.

Administration leaders declined to detail prematurely the plan some had in mind, but Johnson has been framing a blanket order. Likewise,

GOAT PRICES RAISE

SAN ANGELO, July 14. (AP)—The goat business again is turning upward. Young muttons are being priced at $1.50, nannies $2.50 to $3. These prices are 300 per cent above those of two months ago.

Drought Relief Parley Called By Oklahoman

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 14. (AP)—A drought relief conference for Oklahoma, Kansas, Texas and Colorado was called by Governor Murray Thursday, to convene at Guyton, Okla., Monday.

He urged the governors of the three other states that plans would be laid whereby the arid plains sections of the southwest "may obtain a portion of the $3,300,000,000 appropriated by the national congress to build lakes and other enterprises that may come before this meeting."

In many parts of the drought area all vegetation has perished and there are acute water shortages.

The governors and their state directors of federal relief were asked to attend.

John Urbanecyk of White Deer spent yesterday afternoon in the city.

'Sign' Influences Negro Farmer to Reduce Acreage

ANDERSON, S. C., July 14. (AP)—It took a "sign from heaven" to convince a negro preacher he should plow up his cotton in accordance with the government acreage reduction campaign.

R. W. Hamilton, Clemson college extension worker, said the person, who operates a small farm in addition to preaching, declined to destroy his cotton because "it would be a sin to plow it up after it had started growing."

"A few days later," Hamilton said, "the person sent word he was ready to sign up. The committee went out and soon discovered why the sudden change of mind.

"Lightning had struck in the middle of the person's prized cotton patch, killing a large area of his best stand."

Lawton Hoffer of Miami was in the city last night.

John Flint of White Deer was here on business today.

THAT LAST WORD

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP)—James F. Ball's complaint in filing suit for divorce against his wife ran:

"That defendant, though deaf, could talk to plaintiff, but plaintiff could only talk to her by the use of the sign language, and that this defendant would argue and find fault with plaintiff in her normal voice, but the plaintiff, in order to answer or return her conversation, would have to converse in the sign language. This condition proved to be very hard on the plaintiff's nerves and life became unbearable."

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Worley of Canadian were visitors in Pampa yesterday.

DEE BLYTHE RETURNS

By the World FORGOT

A New Serial by Ruby M. Ayres

Chapter 35
THE WRONG BOX

HE was staring straight in front of him, his mouth set in lines of pain; then he said slowly,

"We're both in the wrong box, George, you and I, but we might help each other by being friends, don't you think?"

She did not speak, and he went on.

"When your mother wanted you to come here, I thought it would be a great nuisance. I'm not used to young people about me. Perhaps you will think it odd if I tell you that you've brought the only bit of sunshine I've had in my life for a great many years. We haven't spoken together much, you and I, but he took his arm away. "I should like to help you if I can."

He waited a moment and then asked, "Who's name was it you were afraid of reading in the paper just now?"

And George told him, "Nicholas Boyd's."

"The husband of—the woman here?" he asked.

"Yes."

"How did you know him, George?" he asked, and suddenly she found herself telling him—pouring out the thing which for so long she had been forced to keep to herself.

"And does he care for you?" Bishop asked when she had ended.

"No." George gave a little shaky laugh. "I'd give anything in the world if he did," she added in a broken whisper.

There was a little silence.

"And this woman, this Bernie Boyd," Bishop asked.

"I don't think she loves him," George said. "I don't know why, but somehow I don't think she does, or she would be with him now, wouldn't she?"

"A woman like that could not love anyone but herself," Bishop said. He stood up and began roaming restlessly round the room in the way that always made George think of a lion shut up in a cage. He came back to her at length, a tall gaunt figure in his dressing-gown, his hands thrust into his pockets.

"Is your mind set at rest now?" he asked.

"You mean because it wasn't his name in the paper?"

"Yes."

George sighed tragically. "If it had been I think I should have died."

"People do not die so easily," he answered.

Impulsively she stretched a hand to him, laying it on his arm.

"I never knew you could be so kind," she said.

"Kind!" he laughed rather grimly. "I suppose everyone is kind to one person once in a lifetime," he answered, and then, "You won't cry any more if I leave you?"

"I'll try not to."

"Goodnight then."

George stood up. "I need not ask you not to tell—Evelyn," she said timidly.

"No," he said. "I do not betray confidences."

He went away without another word or look at her, and George went on with her undressing.

They drove down in Bishop's big new Rolls.

"How much did it cost?" George asked in curiosity when she first saw it, and she gasped when her mother answered lightly—

"Oh, about ten thousand, I suppose."

It seemed an enormous sum, George thought, surely enough to keep half a dozen Nellys in breakfast and other necessities for the rest of their lives! It was queer how unevenly money was divided, some people had so much they did not know what to do with it, and other people had nothing at all.

She tried to remember what it was in the Bible that Christ had told someone to sell for three hundred pence and give to the poor, and she wondered if Bishop had ever heard about it, and what he would say were it suggested to him that he sell the big car and help people like Nelly.

But Bishop was very generous; out in America she had been told of some huge charitable organization which was entirely financed from his pocket, so perhaps one could not very well complain about the Rolls.

Bishop was very quiet as they drove out of London; he sat with his eyes closed, looking more tired and lined than usual, and now and then George glanced at him pityingly.

She wondered why Evelyn always insisted that there was nothing the matter with him! To her inexperienced eyes he looked a very sick man. Queer that with all his money he could not obtain the most desirable thing in the world, health. The most desirable thing after love that is, for George was still young and unsophisticated enough to believe that love came first, always.

THE studios were hot and dazzlingly lit, and full of men who all seemed very busy and important, and in a great hurry.

George was introduced to several of them, and they called her "my dear" and one of them told her she had a film face.

Bernie Boyd seemed to be the centre of attraction, and held court like a queen, her face made up in a way which George thought hideous, but which Evelyn explained was necessary for a successful picture.

Evelyn liked to think she knew all about the business in hand. She explained various details to George in an entirely incorrect manner, and appeared deeply interested.

"Well, what do you think of it?" Bishop asked George once. He was standing looking on with bored eyes. "Does it fire your ambition to be a star?"

"I don't think so," George said. "I wonder if men have to make up like that too?"

Somehow she could not imagine Nicholas being drilled and ordered about, and made to do the same thing over and over again until it was entirely to the director's satisfaction.

Presently she wandered off to a corner of the studio by herself where a pile of photographs which she knew were called "stills" lay in an untidy heap. She turned them over curiously—dozens of them were of Bernie Boyd—Bernie in all attitudes, registering delight, fear, sorrow. Yes, she certainly had a very beautiful face, George was bound to admit, more beautiful perhaps when assisted by the skill of a camera man than when left untouched.

Bishop spoke at her elbow again. "It's all right about your friend, the one who needs a job. Miss Boyd is willing to give her a trial."

"Oh, how sweet of you," she said gratefully, but to her surprise Bishop frowned.

"I dislike that expression," he said rather curtly, and then, "Don't begin copying your mother, George."

"I'm sorry," she said helplessly, and then she smiled.

"I told you last night we were both in the wrong box," he said.

Bernie came up to them at that moment; she was smiling and apparently very pleased with herself. She spoke to George and asked if she were enjoying herself.

"Yes, thank you," George said, and then, "Are you?" she asked.

Bernie laughed. "Does anyone enjoy work, I wonder?" she said.

She laid a very much whitened hand on Bishop's coat sleeve.

"So kind of you to come," she murmured in quite a different tone of voice.

Chapter 35
THE WRONG BOX

HE was staring straight in front of him, his mouth set in lines of pain; then he said slowly,

"We're both in the wrong box, George, you and I, but we might help each other by being friends, don't you think?"

She did not speak, and he went on.

"When your mother wanted you to come here, I thought it would be a great nuisance. I'm not used to young people about me. Perhaps you will think it odd if I tell you that you've brought the only bit of sunshine I've had in my life for a great many years. We haven't spoken together much, you and I, but he took his arm away. "I should like to help you if I can."

He waited a moment and then asked, "Who's name was it you were afraid of reading in the paper just now?"

And George told him, "Nicholas Boyd's."

"The husband of—the woman here?" he asked.

"Yes."

"How did you know him, George?" he asked, and suddenly she found herself telling him—pouring out the thing which for so long she had been forced to keep to herself.

"And does he care for you?" Bishop asked when she had ended.

"No." George gave a little shaky laugh. "I'd give anything in the world if he did," she added in a broken whisper.

There was a little silence.

"And this woman, this Bernie Boyd," Bishop asked.

"I don't think she loves him," George said. "I don't know why, but somehow I don't think she does, or she would be with him now, wouldn't she?"

"A woman like that could not love anyone but herself," Bishop said. He stood up and began roaming restlessly round the room in the way that always made George think of a lion shut up in a cage. He came back to her at length, a tall gaunt figure in his dressing-gown, his hands thrust into his pockets.

"Is your mind set at rest now?" he asked.

"You mean because it wasn't his name in the paper?"

"Yes."

George sighed tragically. "If it had been I think I should have died."

"People do not die so easily," he answered.

Impulsively she stretched a hand to him, laying it on his arm.

"I never knew you could be so kind," she said.

"Kind!" he laughed rather grimly. "I suppose everyone is kind to one person once in a lifetime," he answered, and then, "You won't cry any more if I leave you?"

"I'll try not to."

"Goodnight then."

George stood up. "I need not ask you not to tell—Evelyn," she said timidly.

"No," he said. "I do not betray confidences."

He went away without another word or look at her, and George went on with her undressing.

DOUBLEHEADER SET FOR MAG PARK SUNDAY

BUSBY'S INDIANS AND ALL STARS TO PLAY AMARILLO TEAMS

Two ball games will be played at Magnolia park Sunday afternoon with the opening game scheduled for 2 o'clock between the Pampa Indians and the McLean Juniors. The second game, to be called at 3:30 o'clock, will see the Pampa All Stars and the Put and Take Grocers of Amarillo in action. Admission will be 25 cents.

The All Stars have been working out three afternoons each week and feel ready to take on the Amarillo team which is considered one of the strongest in Amarillo. The Pampa team is made up of many well known players of former days.

Manager C. V. Lane has not definitely announced his starting pitcher but said yesterday that it would be either Vodie Clemmons or Charlie Stewart with Vernon Clemmons behind the bat. The Put and Take lineup is not available.

Manager C. O. Busby of the Indians will probably likely send Miles "Gomez" Marbaugh to the mound against the McLean team which has been winning a majority of games this season. Nunley will probably pitch for McLean with I. Hunt behind the bat. The battery defeated Heald 7 to 5 last Saturday in McLean.

The probable starting All Star lineup will be: Wyatt, 1b; Harris, 2b; G. Clemmons, ss; Romine, 3b; Lawson, lf; Hendron, cf; White, rf; Vernon Clemmons, c; Vodie Clemmons or Stewart, p.

B. L. Webb of Denworth visited here yesterday afternoon.

James K. Naylor of Wichita Falls is visiting friends here for a few days.

Gary Cooper's Girl Is Wife of Gus Sonnenberg

LOS ANGELES, July 14 (AP)—A former Boston society girl who aroused the jealousy of Gus Sonnenberg by appearing in public with Gary Cooper, the movie star, told a newspaper reporter today she is the wife of the heavyweight wrestler.

Judith Allen, 21-year-old featured player (Marie Elliott in real life), disclosed she had been masquerading under the name of Allen and that of Mari Colman in an effort to keep a secret of the marriage by agreement with Sonnenberg.

Sonnenberg, himself at one time billed as world's heavyweight champion wrestler gave away the identity of his wife as he lay in St. Vincent's hospital recovering from the effects of a bout with Jim Browning Wednesday night.

He told friends he was tired of having his wife's name linked with Cooper's in a Hollywood movie gossip column. Further, he said, he received no answer when he sent a dozen roses to Miss Allen's apartment.

Miss Allen was asked about the truth of the report as she sat on a set where a picture is being made at a movie studio.

"I don't want to hurt Gus," she replied, "but I do not love him, and all I can do, I suppose, is to obtain a divorce."

"We were married in the Little Church Around the Corner in New York March 12, 1931.

"I'm sorry Gus talked, but I'm glad this masquerading is over."

RAINS IN KILGORE
KILGORE, July 14 (AP)—A half-inch rain borne along by a wind and storm broke a protracted heat wave in this section of the East Texas oil field yesterday. Kilgore was in darkness an hour when a tree struck by lightning tore down power lines. A large derrick fell and water rose a foot deep in a downtown store at the height of the storm.

Mrs. Charles H. Robinson of Skellytown was a Pampa shopper yesterday.

At the recent dry convention which selected candidates for delegates to a state convention, several "ifs" were prominent in the discussions. Some delegates qualified their prophecies that the prohibition cause would triumph with the provision "if voters were sufficiently interested to go to the polls," and "if" what was termed "wet propaganda," "did not have too great an effect."

Many prohibitionists were disappointed at the size of the crowd at their conclave. Newspaper estimates placed the audience at approximately 1,000. To check their figures, correspondents asked several delegates to make an estimate and the result was approximately

SOME PROHIBITION LEADERS ARE DOUBTFUL OF SUCCESS AUG. 26

AUSTIN, July 14 (AP)—Some prohibition leaders are said to be doubtful of success in the Aug. 26 election when Texas voters will decide on retention or repeal of the eighteenth amendment and legalization of 32 beer.

At the recent dry convention which selected candidates for delegates to a state convention, several "ifs" were prominent in the discussions. Some delegates qualified their prophecies that the prohibition cause would triumph with the provision "if voters were sufficiently interested to go to the polls," and "if" what was termed "wet propaganda," "did not have too great an effect."

Many prohibitionists were disappointed at the size of the crowd at their conclave. Newspaper estimates placed the audience at approximately 1,000. To check their figures, correspondents asked several delegates to make an estimate and the result was approximately the same.

The small audience was one of the reasons why prohibitionist leaders were concerned over the question of interest. The convention, however, was considered representative of all sections of the state.

One of the staunchest prohibition campaigners of past years said in private conversations with newspapermen that he believed the drys had been "asleep at the switch" too long. He feared that repealists had made inroads into the dry strength that would be difficult to overcome. He said the expression of his opinion was "just among us boys" but nevertheless he would take the stump for the prohibition cause.

"This country doesn't want beer," he said. "They are trying to get hard liquor back."

A group of women standing in front of the doors of the convention hall were engaged in animated conversation about the campaign, just before the session opened.

Sixty Qualify For Tournament

Qualifying for the Gray County golf club's handicap tournament will meet immediately after the last card is turned in. They will set handicaps and decide on prizes.

Play will begin Sunday morning and last through the following Sunday when the winners will be declared and prizes awarded. A long list of prizes has been donated and they are prizes worth playing for.

Buster Kaufman, club pro, has been working the greens over and finished them yesterday. The fairways have also been gone over and the tee boxes leveled.

More than 60 Pampa golfers had qualified last night and several more were on the course this morning, shooting their qualifying rounds. It was expected that the course would be crowded this afternoon. Play will be over 54 holes.

The tournament committee will meet at 8 o'clock tonight in the City Drug Store.

DALLAS WHIPS BUGS 12 TO 4 AS BUFFS WIN

STEERS CHALK UP 19 HITS AND HOUSTON COLLECTS 15

By The Associated Press
The Dallas Steers, enjoying a notably successful road trip, hit Galveston's pitchers all over the lot Thursday night to win from the Islanders, 12 to 4.

Obviously strengthened by changes in the lineup, the Steers collected 19 clean blows off three Galveston hurlers. The victory gave Dallas a better grip on a first division place in the league and reduced Galveston's chances of overtaking the league-leading Houston club.

Houston, in a rare outburst of heavy hitting, clouted Oklahoma City pitchers for 15 safeties, taking the game by a score of 10 to 2. Mike Cwengros held the Indians to seven bingles.

Fort Worth bunched four runs in the fourth inning to defeat the faltering San Antonio Missions 7 to 6. It was a free-hitting contest, with eleven two-base hits rattling off the bats of the two clubs.

The Missions had one big inning, the third, when they jumped on Whitworth for three runs.

Scoring heavily in the closing innings, the Beaumont Exporters came from behind to trouble the Tulsa Oilers as they sought to tie the series. The Exporters bunched ten of their twelve hits in their last three innings.

Auker, holding the Oilers to seven scattered hits, turned in his thirteenth victory of the season.

MAGS TO FACE LEFTY DORMAN

Twitty Hurler Did Not Deal Much Destruction Last Month to Pampa Team.

The Pampa Magnolia baseball team goes to Twitty Sunday afternoon for a Cotton-Oil league game and will probably face the youthful Lefty Dorman, who has a record of 90 strikeouts in eight league games, according to a Twitty report.

"Dorman started the game against the "Mags" when the two teams met here last month, but was knocked from the box in the eighth inning by only five strikeouts in his seven innings in the box.

Twitty has a well balanced club that took second place in the first half of the league race which was won by the "Mags". The teams in the league are concentrating on Pampa this half so that a playoff will be necessary at the close of the season. The winner will receive a cup.

Manager Howard Buckingham of the "Mags" hopes to have a surprise ready for Twitty in the form of a new hurler. Rayburn Burke has been carrying the pitching brunt the last two weeks and is badly in need of a rest. He pitched nearly four full games in two weeks.

The "Mags" were called for a big practice session this afternoon.

Spitball Artist Is Looking For Big-Time Berth

CINCINNATI, July 14 (AP)—John Pius Quinn, veteran spitball pitcher, is footloose again.

The dean of major league hurlers, who celebrated his forty-eighth birthday anniversary only last week, today started for his home in Chicago, casting his eye about for another big-time berth. He was given his unconditional release yesterday by the Cincinnati Reds, who took him on as relief pitcher this spring.

The Athletics released him two years ago but he connected with the Brooklyn Dodgers and worked as relief pitcher in 131 and 42 last year.

Since he began his professional career in 1903 at the age of 18 with the Connellsville club of the Pennsylvania State league, Quinn has pitched 6,000 innings and won 211 games and lost 178. The Yankees brought him from Richmond in 1909 after he had won all 14 games he hurled for that club.

Besides the Reds, Athletics, Dodgers, and Yankees, he has played with the Red Sox and Braves and Baltimore of the old Federal league.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

General Topic: Deborah.
Scripture Lesson: Judges 4:4-10, 13-15; 5:1-3.
Judges 4:4. Now Deborah, a prophetess, the wife of Lappidoth, she judged Israel at that time.
5. And she dwelt under the palm-tree of Deborah between Ramah and Bethel in the hill-country of Ephraim and the children of Israel came up to her for judgment.
6. And she sent and called Barak the son of Abinoam out of Kedesh-naphtali, and said unto him, Hath not Jehovah, the God of Israel, commanded, saying, Go and draw unto mount Tabor, and take with thee ten thousand men of the children of Naphtali and of the children of Zebulun?
7. And I will draw unto thee, to the river Kishon, Sisera, the captain of Jabin's army, with his chariots and his multitude; and I will deliver him into thy hand.
8. And Barak said unto her, If thou wilt go with me, then I will go; but if thou wilt not go with me, I will not go.

9. And she said, I will surely go with thee: notwithstanding, the journey thia thou takest shall not be for thine honor; for Jehovah will sell Sisera into the hand of a woman. Deborah arose, and went with Barak to Kedesh.
10. And Barak called Zebulun and Naphtali together to Kedesh; and there went up ten thousand men at his feet; and Deborah went up with him.
13. And Sisera gathered together all his chariots, even nine hundred chariots of iron, and all the people that were with him, from Harosheth of the Gentiles, unto the river Kishon.
14. And Deborah said unto Barak, Up; for this is the day in which Jehovah hath delivered Sisera into thy hand; is not Jehovah gone out before thee? So Barak went down from mount Tabor, and ten thousand men followed him.
15. And Jehovah discomfited Sisera, and all his chariots, and all his host, with the edge of the sword before Barak; and Sisera alighted from his chariot, and fled away on his feet.
5:1. Then sang Deborah and Barak the son of Abinoam on that day, saying,
2. For that the leaders took the lead in Israel, for that the people offered themselves willingly, Bless ye Jehovah.
3. Hear, O ye kings; give ear, O ye princes; I, even I, will sing unto Jehovah; I will sing praise to Jehovah, the God of Israel.
Golden Text: God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble.—Psalm 45:1.
Time: About B. C. 1351 (Beecher).
Place: Deborah's home between Ramah and Bethel, Mount Tabor, the Plain of Esdraelon, and the River Kishon.

punished by God with a heathen foray upon the weakened people. The entire Book of Judges is a long, strikingly illustrated sermon on the misery which sin brings in its train, and the "blessedness" which attends the merciful providences of God.
Jabin and Sisera

After the victory of Ehud over the Moabites, the land of Canaan was at peace eighty years. After Ehud's death the Israelites again fell under the ever-present temptations of idolatry, and the Lord "sold them into the hand of another oppressor. The "purchaser" this time was a Canaanite king, Jabin, and a powerful general named Sisera. A large part of Sisera's power consisted in his possession of nine hundred "chariots of iron." These may have been war chariots armed with scythes protruding from the sides, which mowed down the ranks of the foes when driven by swift horses; but more likely they were ordinary war chariots, open behind, containing a driver, a warrior with bow, spear, and sword, and the fighter's shieldbearer—chariots fitted strongly with iron. The Israelites, whose territory was so hilly, fought on foot, and were unfamiliar with war chariots, which they greatly dreaded.

"Deborah, A Prophetess"
Deborah was a woman through whom God revealed his will, as he revealed it through the prophets Miriam, sister of Moses, most distinguished of the prophetesses. Huldah, who lived during the reign of King Josiah, was another of these holy women. It is recorded of the four virgin daughters of Philip the evangelist that they prophesied. Amos, who for many years visited the temple daily and who recognized the infant Jesus as the Messiah, was another prophetess. "She judged Israel at that time." At the time when Jabin and Sisera were harrying the people to the north of her, carrying off their harvests and cattle, pillaging their houses, working unmeasured distress throughout that region, Deborah had a heart of sympathy for all suffering, and she was a true patriot. This was one characteristic which put her in touch with the heart of God, and made her a prophetess, one through whom God could speak. "And she dwelt under the palm tree of Deborah." The palm, which once grew abundantly in Palestine but now has nearly disappeared, was the date palm, from sixty to eighty feet high, having a single straight trunk with a great bunch of feathery leaves at the top, always green, and about six feet long.

Deborah and Barak
"And she sent and called Barak." His name means "Lightning"—a good name for a soldier. Deborah must have known him as a skilled and spirited warrior before she summoned him. "And Barak said unto her, If thou wilt go with me, then I will go." Barak was less heroic than Deborah; for though the general would not go to the battle without the prophetess, Deborah, we may be sure, would have gone to the battle without Barak, if necessary. "But if thou wilt not go with me I will not go." Barak's refusal to go without Deborah may reasonably be attributed rather to piety than to fear. Especially as we read of no hesitation in coming

New Pastor at Church of Christ

E. C. MCKENZIE, evangelist and pastor, arrived in Pampa this week to assume the duties as minister in the Church of Christ. He comes from Canyon, where he has been serving as pastor, and has formerly held pastorates at Iowa Park, Dallas, and Tyler. He will conduct services at the church here Sunday.

at the first call of Deborah. "And she said, I will surely go with thee." No hesitation here, no doubt, no cowardly conditions. Deborah might have said, "I will go, if first you will raise an army of a hundred thousand men." But Deborah simply said, right off, "I will surely go with thee." "Notwithstanding, the journey that thou takest shall not be for thine honor; for Jehovah will sell Sisera into the hand of a woman." "Since thou wilt not go except a woman go with thee, the Lord will deliver thine adversary into the hand of a woman, and her name and not thine shall be handed down to future generations as the deliverer of her people."—Mrs. S. T. Martyn.

Sisera's Great Army
"And Sisera gathered together all his chariots, even nine hundred chariots of iron." It was a formidable army for those days, and must have presented a terrible appearance to the hastily gathered forces under Barak. "And Deborah said unto Barak, Up; for this is the day in which Jehovah hath delivered Sisera into thy hand." Her words sound like the peal of a trumpet. She was the real commander-in-chief. "Is not Jehovah gone out before thee?" That was the real confidence, the true omen of success. Any battle is already won by the army, however small, that has God on its side, confronted by however large a host.

Sisera's Defeat
"And Jehovah discomfited Sisera, and all his chariots, and all his host, with the edge of the sword before Barak." "The plain of Esdraelon hath in all ages been the battlefield of Palestine. Here fought Thothmes III., Rameses II., and Rameses III.; here Pharaoh Necho won that sad battle of Megiddo, in which King Josiah was slain, amid a slaughter so terrible that the great conflict of the apocalypse is called, from it, the battle of Armageddon—the hill of Megiddo. Here have fought in turn the armies of Assyria, of the Crusaders, and of Bonaparte, and it was on the mountains of Gilboa, at its east end, that Saul and Jonathan perished."—Cunningham Geikie. "And Sisera alighted from his chariot, and fled away on his feet." The course of the battle we are left to draw from Deborah's ode of triumph.—Judges 5:1-31.

Sisera's Death
"Sisera, vanquished, is forced to trust to his own feet, and, hard beset, jaded and exhausted, he arrives at the tent of Heber the Kehite. Jael, the wife of Heber comes forth to meet him, invites him hospitably into her tent and provides him with food and a couch. He falls asleep, imagining himself safe from his enemies. Then Jael, taking one of the pins of the tent, drives it with a hammer into the temples of the sleeping man, and

Baer-Schmeling Picture Arrives

Pictures of the Max Bear-Max Schmeling prize fight will be shown at the La Nora theater today and tomorrow. The pictures arrived this morning. They should have been here last week-end but were lost in transit.

The picture shows blow by blow and round by round the fight which went to Baer by a technical knockout in the tenth round. The picture is a talkie and many of the scenes are shown in slow motion so that fans can see the action.

J. E. Keller of Iowa Park is a visitor here.

he lies slain after all his valor and distinction, by the hand of a woman. Opinions have been divided as to the character of Jael's act. Did she avenge the wrongs of her country and so take her place beside such women as Joan of Arc, Charlotte Corday, and others whose patriotism none can doubt? Deborah, whose magnificent song of triumph runs the gamut of melody, said that Jael was blessed above all women. Deborah voiced the sentiment of the time. The stars in their courses had fought against Sisera, and it was his destiny to perish in the way that he would most have hated.—Margaret E. Sangster. "Would to God we had some Deborah or Joan of Arc to arouse the people of God today, and lift this old world out of its moral, social, and religious chaos. Something like that is going to whip the army of intemperance."—Rev. Len G. Broughton.

Oil-Gas Hearing Set For July 27

An important hearing of the Texas railroad commission will be called July 27 at the hearing room in the state capital, Austin, when 10 oil and gas dockets will be opened for discussion. The hearing will be open to every field and pool in the state.

At such hearing evidence will be received and a decision will be made as to whether or not existing rules, regulations and orders heretofore adopted and promulgated for the respective pools, counties, fields or districts shall be kept in full force and effect under their present terms and for an additional period, and also what further or additional rules, regulations or orders shall be adopted for the enforcement of or pertaining to the conservation of oil and gas in the State of Texas, including the counties and fields above described.

At such hearing the railroad commission of Texas will also hear evidence and adopt such rules, regulations and orders therefrom to carry into effect the various provisions of the law as adopted by the fourth called session of the forty-second legislature, known as senate bill No. 1, to prevent or lessen physical waste in Texas in the production of crude oil, and to protect the rights of the various producers of said oil.

Best Way to End Body Odor in This Hard Water

All who perspire freely know that bathing is often only temporary relief from body odor. That is because body odor is caused by stale perspiration deep in the pores. The thick, sticky lather of most ordinary toilet soaps is unsuited chemically to mix with this stale perspiration and flush it out. Instead it clogs the pores with curds.

Now research chemists give you a 100% pure vegetable oil soap—Kirk's lather instantly in hardest water. This bubbly lather goes deep into the pores, actually removes stale perspiration curds, then rinses out completely. This it ends body odor at its source—the only effective way. And being odorless, it leaves no unpleasant M.S. (medicine smell), to betray its purpose.

Kirk's Coco Castile is made by the largest soap makers in America. And quite amazingly it costs no more than the average toilet soap, although it is half again larger. On sale at a new reduced price—the lowest in history. Be sure to ask for Kirk's Castile by name—at your grocer's.

TOTAL OF 115 MILLION ALLOCATED FOR PUBLIC WORKS JOBS

WILL CREATE MILLION JOBS BY OCTOBER 1

DISTRIBUTION OF VAST SUM ANNOUNCED BY SECRETARY

WASHINGTON, July 14. (AP)—The public works administration today told how it intended to distribute $115,513,610 as the first step in a program to create a million new jobs by October 1.

That $115,513,610, Secretary Ickes announced, will be portioned this way: $64,561,542 for federal public works; $50,000,000 for roads in parks, forests, Indian reservations and public lands; $92,068 for municipal water and sewer plants.

These brought to $753,513,610 the total allocated from the $3,300,000,000 fund made available less than a month ago. Already, President Roosevelt had approved the expenditure of $238,000,000 on naval construction and $400,000,000 on highways. An additional rivers and harbors program awaits the presidential O. K.

"This $115,000,000 distribution," Ickes said, "is the first in the program of giving men work so that a million may be employed by October 1, in accordance with President Roosevelt's expressed wish."

A "vast number" of additional projects are yet pending before the public works board which he heads, Ickes said, adding that only the most controversial had been acted upon first.

The biggest single amount in the items announced today was $38,000,000 for the great power and irrigation project in the Boulder canyon in Colorado.

The international boundary commissions were allowed $1,528,000, chiefly for straightening the Rio Grande and controlling its flow, under a treaty with Mexico. This was contingent upon Mexico's furnishing part of the funds.

In most other cases, the federal funds were allotted by bureaus and departments. Individual projects in the class cannot be announced until governmental agencies revise their programs in accordance with President Roosevelt and the cabinet board in charge of the program.

To the agriculture department was given $2,060,154; to the commerce department $6,076,551, of which $5,353,551 is for the light-house service, $150,000 for the bureau of fisheries and $443,000 for bureau of aeronautics; to interior, $33,692,319, mostly for reclamation bureaus, but including $2,820,000 for Indian schools and hospitals and $1,250,000 for improvements to national parks; to labor, $1,344,480 for improving immigration stations.

The public works administration announced the $64,000,000 federal program would provide 250,200 man-months of labor, or give a year's work to 21,517 men in every state of the Union, Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

In allocating the $50,000,000 to roads, the cabinet board merely followed the injunction of the law under which it is operating, setting aside:

Forest highways, $15,000; forest roads, trails, etc., $10,000,000; national park roads, $16,000,000; roads in Indian reservations, $4,000,000; roads on the public domain, $5,000,000.

Immediate distribution of this money is contemplated.

The allotments to cities is tentative, subject to agreement on legal and financial details.

The law provides that such advances may be 30 per cent outright grants and 70 per cent loans, but the board did not announce whether that would be the basis.

George Philpott was in Pampa Thursday.

MUST BE FED
The right of every man to a job was not in the U. S. Bill of Rights, but if a new bill were being written today it likely would include this new need. Meanwhile, the hungry must be fed. Any government which sponsors destruction of wheat and cotton to bolster a demand-and-supply quotation must, to save its face, make sure that no one goes hungry and poorly clothed. Feeding of 18,000,000 men, women, and children every day is a tremendous burden, and one which unmistakably calls for a more even distribution of work, wealth, and opportunity. In more than half the states, the federal government is feeding the needy. That burden, plus the huge public works program, cannot be borne every year by Uncle Sam. The states must help. When the states start voting bonds, as Texas is asked to do in August, the people will realize that revamping of our business and industrial system is the only way to remove the burden of unemployment. The federal recovery act proposes such a reorganization, but disposition of each industry's problems is left to that industry. If industry can not or will not act in its own behalf, the government and the people will ultimately take steps which will shock and chasten business. Mr. Roosevelt isn't passing the buck, but he is putting the responsibility where it rightly belongs.

FAMILY AFFAIR
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Mike Genova's entire family went to his aid in a court contest over a $68.75 claim against his barber shop. Two daughters, Anna and Mary, high school pupils, drew up a reply to the suit and acted as counsel. Another daughter, Josephine, was interpreter. Mrs. Genova was the star witness. The court took the case under advisement.

WHAT'S A LAW!
OKLAHOMA CITY, July 14. (AP)—A 26-year-old thirst brooks no delay. Confronted by a state law that requires a 5-day wait before beer may be consumed on the premises where it is sold, some downtown purchasers of bottled goods merely sauntered out on the sidewalks and tilted the amber brew in the sunlight. Up to Tuesday's election when beer was legalized, Oklahoma had had no legal alcoholic beverages since statehood in 1907.

SEVEN KILLED
EL DORADO, Ark., July 14. (AP)—Seven men were killed and three others injured in an explosion that spread a sheet of flame from a treating plant of the H. H. Cross Oil refinery at Smackover yesterday.

Derrick Badly Burned Before Firemen Arrive

The Pampa fire department answered a call 5 miles south of town yesterday and extinguished a burning oil derrick before it had time to crash. The fire was in the derrick house of the Pure Oil company's No. 2 H. M. Davis in section 86, block B-2.

When the department arrived, the floor of the derrick house, bull wheel, and oil in the cellar were on fire. A 200-barrel water tank stood nearby. The pump on the large American LaFrance truck was connected and soon streams of water were pouring on the burning oil-soaked boards. It took most of the water in the tank to drown the fire.

The cause of the fire is unknown. Pulling of casing was in progress when the fire was discovered. The well was shut in and little gas was escaping.

The same well caught fire three years ago and was extinguished with little loss.
