Pal Says Guy Not Near Wanderwell Killing

WAS 30 MILES AWAY, CLAIMS NEW WITNESS

TESTIMONY IS SHOCK TO PROSECUTION ATTORNEYS

BAILIFFS FRUSTRATED

'CURLY' WORKED ALL DAY ON PLANE AT GLENDALE

LONG BEACH, Calif., Feb. 11. (AP)—An airplane mechanic who once worked with William J. Guy came to the defense of the handsome young adventurer today with testimony that Guy was 30 miles from here on the night the state charges he slipped aboard the schooner Carma and shot Captain Walter Wanderwell in the back.

The appearance of the witness, Ralph Dunlap, at the murder trial of Guy was a surprise to the prosecution, which later responded with a spirited cross examination.

Dunlap, a sandy-haired, broad-shouldered young man, precipitated frequent outbursts of laughter among the spectators much to the displeasure of bailiffs.

In a brief, direct examination, Dunlap testified that on December 5, the date of the killing of the South Sea cruise organizer, he saw "Curly" as he called Guy, working all day on the airplane of his employer, Edward De Larm, Indian aviator.

"Did you see Guy that evening?" "Yes."

"About what time?" "About 8:30 p. m."

"Where?" "At the De Larm home, where he was living."

Dunlap testified he went to the home to deliver a message concerning certain repair work being done on De Larm's plane. As he approached the house, he saw through a glassed door, the figure of "Curly" walking toward his bedroom.

The time stated by the witness was only 15 minutes before the time the state has established for the slaying of Wanderwell here, more than 30 miles from Glendale, Calif.

County Singers To Come Here Today

The Gray County Singing convention, headed by M. L. H. Baze as president, will meet here this afternoon at the Central Baptist church. The public is invited to join in singing sacred and popular songs. The convention will start the music at 2 p. m.

Mrs. Barney Stone of Kingsmill was admitted to Pampa hospital yesterday.

I HEARD--

That Kenneth Boehm was seen standing over a fire in a local drug store Wednesday during zero weather contentedly eating a double-decker ice cream cone. Weather means nothing to Ken if he can get his ice cream.

George Limerick frantically telling the Boy Scout police judge that he had to have his "convicts" on the streets yesterday afternoon. It seemed that the Scout police picked up George's pair of convicts advertising "20,000 Years in Sing Sing" and charged them with being escaped convicts. They were in striped suits.

LINCOLN 'LAZY'

"ABE LINCOLN was too lazy to split rails or do any other manual labor," says Mrs. Sarah Pearson, 90, above, of Indianapolis, who was a neighbor of the Lincoln family at Charleston, Ill., and whose curls, she says, the gangling Abe used to delight in pulling. "Abe's father, Thomas Lincoln, tried almost every known method of getting his tall, awkward son to work. Abe was nothing but a bother."

Japan Refuses To Drop State Of Manchukuo

TOKYO, Feb. 11. (AP)—An emphatic refusal to drop the state of Manchukuo, which Japan set up after driving the Chinese out of Manchuria, is in preparation as this government's reply to a league of nations proposal for settlement of the dispute over that territory.

It will be a proclamation to the world in unmistakable language that Japan is determined to maintain Manchukuo's independence regardless of the consequences.

It will assert that this country will refuse any circumstances to be restrained or deflected from its Manchurian policy by recommendations which a large committee completed today after several weeks of deliberation.

This information came from government sources which explained that the cabinet will take the opportunity, when it replies to the league, of restating its Manchurian position for the edification of the rest of the world. The league's oscillation committee of nineteen members asked a yes or no to the question as to whether Japan would agree to discontinuance of the Manchukuo regime.

Yusuke Matsuo, representing Japan at Geneva, framed the reply and called it here for approval. It is 17 pages long and Foreign Minister Uchida is revising it for circulation among the other cabinet members.

The revival will continue all this week in the Salvation Army hall at 606 S. Cuyler. The motto of the revival is "Come Every Soul By Sin Oppressed." Every one is invited.

OVER 300 BOYS MARCH IN ADOBE WALLS PARADE

Boy Scouts, Scouters, parents and friends are requested to be at the First Methodist church today at 2:30 p. m. to hear the annual Boy Scout message, which will be delivered by the Rev. F. W. O'Malley, minister of the First Christian church.

PAMPA and the Adobe Walls council were "Boy Scout conscious" during the 23rd anniversary week in which a high point of activity was reached here yesterday in the first annual roundup with Scouts and Scouters from all over the huge area participating.

The Scouts and visitors enjoyed a courtesy show at the La Nora theater, barbecue at the Junior high school cafeteria, and in the afternoon they took over the affairs of the city for nearly two hours, staged a parade, then last night staged a spectacular circus in the gymnasium.

Relief Agency Pays $481.40 To 141 Persons

One hundred and thirty-six men and 5 women were paid $481.70 from federal relief funds last week. Because of the severe cold, the amount was less than usual, but extra activity this week will likely make up the difference.

It was necessary to increase the allotment of groceries from the Welfare Board during the week. Beginning tomorrow, 40 men will be used at the site of the municipal swimming pool, 10 in cleaning up the dump grounds, 35 at the caliche pit, 10 on the streets, and 5 at the city park.

Effective for one week only, the relief committee will furnish caliche free at the pit, loaded, to any citizen who will provide transportation. This plan will enable citizens to place caliche on their driveways, tennis courts, and the like.

'Army' Commander Visits in Pampa

Col. and Mrs. David Main of Dallas, divisional commanders of the Salvation Army, and other officials were here Friday conferring with the Pampa corps.

They met the local advisory board and discussed local problems. In the evening they led the revival services in progress here and the group enjoyed a message by Col. Main. There were five conversions.

The revival will continue all this week in the Salvation Army hall at 606 S. Cuyler. The motto of the revival is "Come Every Soul By Sin Oppressed." Every one is invited.

'Ma' Refuses To Grant Extradition

AUSTIN, Feb. 11. (AP)—Governor Miriam A. Ferguson today refused a request of the governor of West Virginia for the return to that state of Harry W. Sheets, charged at Clarksburg with embezzlement.

T. H. McGregor, member of the Texas house of representatives, who represented Sheets, said Governor Ferguson refused to order Sheets' extradition because West Virginia had a statute that refused extradition for the same reasons.

Governor Ferguson could not be reached for a direct statement. Her secretaries simply said the extradition had been refused.

COPPER KING DIES QUICKLY

Death Ends Career of Ryan, Anaconda Chairman And Wilson Aide.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11. (AP)—One of the great romances of American business ended today with the sudden death of John D. Ryan.

Starting his career as a clerk and traveling salesman, Ryan ended it as chairman of the Anaconda Copper Mining company head of several subsidiaries, director of several utility companies, of the National City Bank of New York and the Postal Telegraph and Cable corporation.

He was 68 years old and had been ill for only a day. He died in his home of heart disease.

Under the joint guidance of Ryan and Cornelius F. Kelley, who is now president of Anaconda, the company developed into the world's leading producer of copper and the largest fabricator of copper products, with assets of more than $714,000,000.

After he came to New York to the Anaconda executive offices here, Ryan's interests branched out somewhat. At the time of his death he held directorships in American Power and Light, Consolidated Gas and American Brass companies. He was president of the Montana Power company and of the United Metals Selling company.

In 1918 President Wilson appointed Ryan director of aircraft production and chairman of the aircraft board. He was made second assistant secretary of war and plunged into the vast task of getting airplanes to the western front. Although only a few planes reached the front, it was said that by the end of the war Ryan had organized the work so that 23,000 planes a year could have been produced.

Allred Acts To Stop 'Hearsay' In Oil Inquiry

AUSTIN, Feb. 11. (AP)—A request to the Texas legislative oil investigation committee that it either exclude hearsay testimony or conditions for settlement under auspices precipitated a spirited argument this afternoon.

James V. Allred, attorney general, told the committee that the publicity attendant upon the "hearsay testimony" adduced in the investigation was detrimental to the interests of Texas and the oil industry.

"You are hurting the very industry and the very people you want to help," Allred said. "All these insinuations of overproduction and law violations in the East Texas field do no good to anyone. Of course, if the witnesses knew of such violations, that would be a different matter."

Allred warned that further evidence of price reductions might be forthcoming if the major purchasers got the impression from newspaper accounts that conditions in the huge field its inquiry in secret session.

Representative O. F. Chastain of Eastland started the debate when he said he was "disgusted" with the character of questions being asked witnesses and the "insinuations" which these questions contained.

MENOCAL SAYS TIME RIPE FOR CUBAN REVOLT

'NEW GOVERNMENT' TO ASSUME MACHADO INDEBTEDNESS

PLANS NOT DISCLOSED

FORECASTS DOWNFALL OF TYRANNICAL REGIME

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 11. (AP)—The time is at hand for a revolution in Cuba, General Marie G. Menocal, former president of the island nation, announced at his home here today.

"The fruit on the tree of revolt is ripe—it is time for those who love Cuba to shake the tree," declared the leader of forces opposing administration of President Garardo Machado.

Menocal said his people, the people who have banded together in the United States, in Mexico, Central America, and Europe, have seen what they believed to be forecasts of the downfall of the Machado regime.

"His time has come, and there can no longer be any reason for delay," Menocal said.

But he did not say what the opposition party's plan for revolution includes.

Boat Expedition Denied.

Instead, he denied emphatically that a boat, laden with arms and ammunition, was en route to Miami from Baltimore to pick up members of the Cuban political refugee colony here for a secret trip to the

Tulsa To Read Papers at A. P. I. Meeting Tuesday

Paul F. Lewis of Tulsa will read two important papers at the regular monthly meeting of the Panhandle chapter of the American Petroleum Institute Tuesday night.

The meeting will open at 7:30 o'clock in the city auditorium. John Meyer, chairman, will preside.

Mr. Lewis, connected with the American Glycerine company, will discuss "Use of Nitro Versus Acid Treatment to Increase Production in Lime Wells." Last meeting was devoted to the history of acid treatment of wells, showing methods and results. Mr. Lewis will also discuss "Sand Tamping and Shooting of Oil Wells."

The public is invited to attend the meeting. The talks will be of wide interest. Shooting of wells has always been a revelation to other than the oil fraternity, and Mr. Lewis' talk will give an insight into the talking of the nitro glycerine, its explosion and action in the ground.

Entertainment will be furnished by the Junior chamber of commerce, with Dan Gribbon in charge.

Blizzard Halts Dynamiting Of Lubbock House

LUBBOCK, Tex., Feb. 11. (AP)—Dynamiting of the residence of C. C. Lindsey, Lubbock theater operator, was halted here early Friday morning when the battery of a time bomb froze.

The bomb, containing five sticks of dynamite testing 60 per cent nitroglycerin, was set for 2:10 o'clock, apparently for that hour Friday morning. Mrs. Lindsey discovered the explosives in a brown paper sack on the lawn about 2 o'clock Friday afternoon. T. D. Whitehorn, special officer for the Lindsey theaters, revealed today.

Explosion of a series of stench bombs in the Lindsey theaters here was climaxed last memorial day with the bombing of two theater buildings almost simultaneously. The attack have been laid to labor disputes.

THE "PERFECT TRIBUTE"

Address delivered at the dedication of the Pampa Rifle Club's indoor range in the basement of the city hall tomorrow night along with the members. Visitors will be supplied a rifle and 50 rounds of ammunition for 50 cents or they may use their own rifle. If they provide their own ammunition, the price of the shooting will be 25 cents. Matches will start at 7:30 o'clock.

Shooting at 50 feet, sitting, and kneeling will be on the program. Efforts are being made to organize teams for city and inter-city matches.

After some discussion it was decided to ask the petitioner a few appropriate remarks," writes Tausek. This was done, the committee making it clear that his share was to be limited, and offering in no way to accommodate its plans to those of the president. Lincoln was allowed to ride to the battlefield almost unhonored on the platform. He was not asked to speak until Everett had concluded a two-hour spell-binder. Then Lincoln arose, and in two minutes delivered "one of the world's masterpieces in rhetorical art."

The concluding section of the sub-committee's report embodies the 10 points set forth in the Lytton document.

The sub-committee recommended the disputing parties enter negotiations. East Texas field were out of control of a special commission of the powers in which the United States and Russia would be invited to participate.

GENERAL 'UNCHANGED'

MIDLAND, Texas, Feb. 11. (AP)—Gen. John J. Pershing late today authorized the statement that his condition was unchanged.

The 72-year-old leader of America's expeditionary forces in the world war has been confined to his hotel room for three days with bronchitis and laryngitis and in addition has developed a chest pain. He expressed the opinion that he was "well run down."

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Campbell of LeFors were Pampa visitors yesterday.

Abraham Lincoln

BUT for an afterthought, Abraham Lincoln might never have delivered his famous Gettysburg address, says Joseph Tausek in book, "The True Story of Gettysburg Address," published coincidentally with his birthday observance. Lincoln was asked to speak only after he unexpectedly accepted an invitation to attend the ceremony, Tausek says.

LINCOLN WAS ASKED TO SPEAK AT GETTYSBURG AS AN "AFTER-THOUGHT," RECORD DISCLOSES

Edward Everett had first 2 hours on Program

NEW YORK, Feb. 11. (AP)—New Lincoln studies appearing coincidentally with the observance of his birthday anniversary show that the world owes what has been called "the perfect tribute" to an afterthought.

Edward Everett had been asked to deliver the oration at the consecration of the Gettysburg cemetery. He had, a little pompously, demanded that the exercises be postponed a month to accommodate his schedule, and what was done.

Then the committee in charge sent out a number of formal invitations to members of the cabinet and others. Joseph Tausek writes in "The True Story of the Gettysburg Address," just published, and included in this scattering list was one for the president. Unexpectedly, he accepted.

After some discussion it was decided to ask the petitioner a few appropriate remarks," writes Tausek. This was done, the committee making it clear that his share was to be limited, and offering in no way to accommodate its plans to those of the president. Lincoln was allowed to ride to the battlefield almost unhonored on the platform. He was not asked to speak until Everett had concluded a two-hour spell-binder. Japan Indicted By League For Chinese Policy

GENEVA, Feb. 11. (AP)—A draft report, constituting a strong indictment of Japan for its Manchurian policy, was completed by a sub-committee today and will be considered Monday by the committee of nineteen of the League of Nations assembly.

The historical section of the report accepts the first eight chapters of the report of the Lytton investigating commission as a basis for the period covered. These chapters generally recited the events which resulted in the Far Eastern hostilities. The concluding section of the sub-committee's report embodies the 10 points set forth in the Lytton document.

The sub-committee recommended the disputing parties enter negotiations. East Texas field were out of control of a special commission of the powers in which the United States and Russia would be invited to participate.

Another recommendation was that all members of the League of Nations continue to refuse to recognize the government of Manchukuo, which was set up with Japanese assistance to rule Manchuria.

SENATE'S AGRICULTURE COMMITTEE PARES MEASURE

MORTGAGE BILL VOTED

REPUBLICAN PROPOSES TAKING OUT 5 OF SEVEN CROPS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11. (AP)—Over the protest of the American farm bureau federation, the senate agriculture committee today stripped from the domestic allotment bill all products but wheat and cotton.

Also against the objections of President Edward A. O'Neal of the farm bureau, a banking sub-committee favorably reported the Hull bill for a two-year moratorium on farm mortgage foreclosures, extending it to take in city homes of $3,000 value or less.

Plans were made for reporting this bill to the full committee early next week and pushing it through the present session as an emergency measure in time to apply to spring mortgage payments.

By a vote of 12 to 2, the agriculture committee struck from the domestic allotment bill all provisions for applying its benefits to hogs, tobacco, rice, peanuts or dairy products.

Shortly before, it unanimously reported the Smith cotton bill designed to cut 1933 production by enabling producers to participate in a government cotton pool in return for cutting their output 30 per cent.

The elimination of five of the seven commodities included in the allotment bill by the house was proposed by Chairman McNary (R., Ore.).

The roll call was not made public but Senator Norbeck (R., S. D.) told newspapermen in response to questions that he had voted against the elimination of hogs.

McNary also has proposed that the acreage control provisions and

THE 'COLD' SHOULDER

DENVER—Hyman's Street's justice was all right—it was just the 17 below temperature that ured him into a police station.

"Send me back to Miami Beach, Fla., and I'll do that stretch for stealing a car," he told officers.

But the Florida police replied thus to a telegram informing them of Hyman's arrest:

"Let him freeze. We don't want him and we haven't got anybody who'd come up there after him."

Hyman was one of the very few persons on Denver streets last night.

ALLIANT DUST
by Percival Christopher Wren

SYNOPSIS: Et est, Napoleon Riccoli, who has ambitions to retrace the path to fame of his illustrious ancestor, has been tested and found wanting by Lieutenant Le Sage—and the Lieutenant's wife. He made advances to Madame Le Sage, and when caught he tried to murder her husband. But all this is in the past, and Major Riccoli still believes he is a "Man of Destiny."

Chapter 3
NAPOLEON AGAIN

MAJOR NAPOLEON RICCOLI rode at his head, looking, according to his wont, as Napoleonic as possible. Thus, he reflected, must his great ancestor—well, no, perhaps not exactly ancestor—his great namesake, prototype, forerunner, exemplar, what you will, have looked on the Retreat from Moscow.

Not that this Napoleon was retreating, of course. Au contraire, advancing. Very much so. Advancing a good deal farther than some people proposed, expected or intended.

Ho, ho! Advancing indeed . . . And with an independent command. An independent command at last; the chance for which this Man of Destiny had waited so long; worked and waited, plotted and schemed.

And actually on the very borders of Mezakzen!

An attack? Only a single shot.

Now the world should hear something; hear of a newer—and a greater—Napoleon.

Emperor Napoleon Riccoli—Emperor of the Sahara. Emperor of Northern Africa. Emperor of the World!

And meanwhile it was extremely cold, and the future Emperor had no handkerchief.

At the heels of the weary and half-starved horse that had the honor to carry Major Napoleon Riccoli—a horse named Marengo after another famous charger—strode Major Napoleon Riccoli's humble relative, henchman, and fervent admirer, the excellent Sergeant-Major Vittorelli.

Excellent indeed from the point of view of his superior officers, though the soldiers of his Section used other, many other, adjectives when describing Sergeant-Major Vittorelli.

What his men knew of Sergeant-Major Vittorelli was his harshness, brutality, love of fault-finding, merciless cruelty when provoked, his injustice; and, he it admitted, his ability, hardihood, and high courage.

"Thought you said this Africa was a 'ot country," grumbled the Legionnaire William Bossum to comrade Sailor Harris, marching on his right, near the head of the little column led by Major Napoleon Riccoli.

"So it is, 'ot in the 'ot parts—and the 'ot times," was the cold reply. "You'll be grumblin' because it's 'ot, 'ot soon."

"Roll on, the 'ot," observed Legionnaire William Bossum, and bent almost double against the bitter chill of the icy blast and beneath the weight of his snow-laden pack and sodden clothing, he breathed hard upon numbed fingers.

"That's no worse for you than what it is for nobody else, is it?" expostulated Sailor Harris.

"Ar," agreed Bossum. "There's something in that, as the monkey said when he sat on the bee-live."

"Goin' strong, boy?" said Joe Mummery to his left-hand man.

"Eht? What? Pon my word, I believe I was asleep," replied Otho Belléme.

Major Napoleon Riccoli revolved mighty plans in his head, tomorrow.

'Football Czars' Salaries Slashed

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 11. (AP)—With members assailing "football czars" and college athletics in general, the fees and salaries committee of the Oklahoma house of representatives today recommended, without dissent, the passage of a bill limiting salaries of college and high school coaches to the level of the lowest paid teachers.

"The present system," said Representative R. C. Garland of Latimer county, "leads to the creation of football czars like Bennie Owen at the university, and instead of developing the boys who need athletics, they pick on the huskies you couldn't kill with a 30-30 rifle."

IN MEMORY OF OLD SOLDIER IN PITTSBURGH

Stirring Scene Included His Assistance in Carrying Body From Theater.

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 11.—Of the half-dozen youthful blue-clad soldiers who carried the mortally wounded Lincoln from Ford's theater to his death-bed that fateful night of April 14, 1865, one still lives—the tragedy burned deeply into his memory.

A grayed and weather-beaten old soldier now is Jacob J. Soles. Eighty-seven, he lives with his memories in a little house in Turtle Creek, waiting the "taps" that all good soldiers know they must answer. A mine accident has cost him one eye; his other, he admits, "isn't as clear as it might be."

"But I live to bat 100," he exclaims. "I'll never forget that night. I don't need eyes to look back on it!"

Soles, three comrades of his company and two other young soldiers were seated together in Ford's theater in Washington on that eventful night to see "Our American Cousin." They were seated on the same side of the aisle, about 15 feet from the box where President Lincoln sat.

Recalls Tragic Moment.

"He was with a party," Soles relates. "From my seat I could see him clearly and noticed him laughing at one of the comical parts in the show."

"Then one of the actresses took the center of the stage—can't say I ever knew her name—but she was dressed in a long robe. I recall she kept on hardly with the audience."

"It was awfully still in the theater at that minute. Suddenly the sound of a shot cracked in the darkness."

"Mrs. Lincoln, I think it was, was the first to scream. 'The president is shot,' she cried. A man leaped from the box to the stage. It was John Wilkes Booth."

"We were at Lincoln's side in a second. We lifted him up. I remember he felt limp, as if all the fight had gone out of him."

"Guards cleared the aisles, and we walked to the door and then directly across the street—the six of us carrying him as gently as we could."

"Mr. Lincoln spoke only once and then in such a whisper that he could hardly hear himself heard. I think I caught the words, 'where are they taking me?'"

JACOB J. SOLES, sole survivor of the six Civil War soldiers who carried the mortally wounded President Lincoln from Ford's theater after he had been shot by the arch-assassin, John Wilkes Booth.

"We carried him across the street and up the steps of the house. Someone directed us to a room, where we put Lincoln on a bed."

"Back we went to the theater, but we weren't permitted to enter. But, even from the outside, we could hear the ram and jam behind the doors as guards tried to calm the people and prevent a stampede."

The night when he saw the Great Emancipator's face with death's shadow already across it, was not the first time this boy in blue had met the president. While an orderly, he frequently ran messages between his commanding officers at the barracks and the White House. Mr. Lincoln, he likes to recall, often would nod or smile at the brisk young messenger.

Old Sits-On-The-Hill Still Revered As Great Medicine Man by Indians

WHITE EAGLE, Okla., Feb. 11. (AP)—The medicine men of the various Indian tribes in Oklahoma, particularly those known formerly as the plains tribes, have not exerted their old time influence for the past decade chiefly because of the regulations of the United States government.

Mighty as one of the last medicine men of the Ponca tribe was old Sits-On-The-Hill, still revered by the fullbloods as one of the great men of the past century.

Sits-On-The-Hill was an outcast originally because he was bald, and was forced because of this to stay with the women and children while the men of the tribe were in council. They declared that his baldness was a mark put upon him by the devil himself. He proved to be, however, more of a student of nature and things in general than the other men of his period.

During the month of April, several months ahead of the annual sun dance, the men of the tribe were in council. Sits-On-The-Hill entered and began to address the assemblage:

"You tell me that my bald head is a mark of the devil. I tell you that the opposite is true. It is a favor bestowed upon me by God himself. And to prove to you that this is true I will cause a ring to form around the moon on the first night of the next sun dance, and on the third night there will come a storm that will lay low all the tepees."

And It Did

The members of the council laughed at Sits-On-The-Hill, held him in derision, but he made good with a vengeance, notwithstanding that his prophecy was made several months ahead of the scheduled sun dance. On the first night of the momentous event a ring formed around the moon and on the third night a storm did come that laid low every tepee in the camp. Thereafter Sits-On-The-Hill was regarded as having supernatural powers and therefore a medicine man to be feared. White men who knew

Stone Was Not Man Who Forgot To Return Home

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 11. (AP)—Leaving the district attorney's office early today, Lewis Stone, veteran film actor, remarked "I must look like all the husbands that ever forgot to go home."

An excited woman had told District Attorney Buron Fitts she thought Stone was the husband who left her 16 years ago. Stone was summoned.

"No," the woman said as he confronted her. "I've made a mistake. He's not the man."

The actor bowed politely and left.

MOORE DIES

SHREVEPORT, La., Feb. 11. (AP)—Vernon Eddie Moore, alias Sam Love, 27, died at a hospital here today from a bullet wound inflicted by Deputy Sheriff J. L. Butler who shot Moore as three men were robbing the First State bank of Plain Dealing last Monday.

AND NO RED COATS

PORTLAND, Ore.—Fox hunting was indulged in by deputy sheriffs here, but there were no hounds, no blare of horns, not even a horse. But L. N. Sandman complained two boxes had stolen 50 chickens and two ducks. Two deputies set out in hot pursuit, which at last report was not so hot.

The forces still had the situation well in hand.

TO DROP ACTION

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11. (AP)—The senate judiciary committee decided today to drop further action against David S. Barry, removed senate sergeant-at-arms, and the magazine, New Outlook, which printed his article saying some members of congress accept bribes.

him well say he was wise enough not to take too great advantage of his position.

GOATS WORRY GARNER

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11. (AP)—Coming from the mohair country, Speaker Garner—a goat raiser—wondered today about how the goats weathered the cold snap in the last 48 hours in Southwest Texas. "It was fourteen degrees above zero at Uvalde yesterday morning," he said. "I wonder how my goats are coming. You know they begin to shed that mohair about this time of the year down there and they have to shear them."

To Be Held At Ft. Worth Soon

After having been held for seven consecutive years at the breed headquarters at Des Moines, Iowa, the annual national show of Polled Hereford cattle will be held this year for the first time at Fort Worth, Texas, March 11 to 19 in connection with the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock show.

This national livestock event comes to Texas at the insistent invitation of Texas breeders of Polled Herefords who number over 700. These men for several years have been urging the officers of the American Polled Hereford Breeders' association, whose home office is at Des Moines, Iowa, to bring the big yearly show and sale to Fort Worth, thus giving to many who could not get to Iowa in mid-winter, an opportunity to exhibit their cattle and to see the best specimens from other herds in all parts of the country.

For several recent years there has been a sale and a sectional show of these naturally hornless purebred Herefords in connection with the stock show at Fort Worth, but never heretofore has the official national exhibition been held at any other point than Des Moines, Texas. Breeders are pleased that this first show to be held away from breed headquarters should be held in Texas.

The Polled Hereford breed has been making rapid growth in this state for the past several years, until now Texas ranks fourth in number of herds and second in number of members of the national breed association. Nearly 75 Texas breeders are active members of the American Polled Hereford Breeders' association.

Will Entertain 1,575 Visitors

By LORENA HICKOK.
NEW YORK, Feb. 11. (AP)—In preparation for starting March 4 her career as mistress of the White House by entertaining 1,575 guests, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt sat down today to write out her menus.

The first three meals of the Roosevelt family and their friends in the White House will be taken standing up, buffet style. It had to be done that way because of the numbers.

While she was conferring with a member of the White House staff on her recent visit, Mrs. Roosevelt was told it would be rather difficult to prepare and serve a dinner for 75 after having had 1,000 guests for tea.

"Well," she replied, "we'll have it buffet style."

For the first meal, luncheon, there will be 500 guests—members of the family, relatives, friends, democratic leaders. They will be served, buffet style, with bouillon, two kinds of sandwiches—whole wheat bread and cream cheese and white bread and lettuce—fish salad, chicken salad, ice cream, cake, and coffee.

For tea there will be 1,000 guests, including large delegations from Hyde Park and Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and Warm Springs, Ga., and for tea there will be tea and coffee and fruit punch, if it should be a warm day, assorted sandwiches, buttered nut bread, ice cream, and cake.

Only relatives will be present for dinner—but there will be 75 of them. The menu consists of oyster stew, scrambled eggs, a sausage, creamed chicken, fried potatoes, peas, buttered rolls, celery and olives, various kinds of jelly, charlotte russe, and coffee.

Parents and Teachers Turn Attention to Summer Round-Up; Health Will Be Stressed in Texas

DEFECTS WILL BE CORRECTED BEFORE FALL

PRE-SCHOOL CHILDREN OF NATION ARE TO BE EXAMINED

PARENT-Teacher associations and Miss Ivan Mayfield, public health supervisor, are turning their attention to the annual summer round-up of the pre-school child.

Following are some of the plans for the state and nation: By MRS. J. M. CRAIN, State Publicity Director.

"First to your child's entrance into school life, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers begins its interest in his fitness."

Old stockings notwithstanding, the tea was an event of rare beauty and was in keeping with the tendency to emphasize some distinct theme—another timely example of this tendency being the Colonial tea to be given Feb. 22 by the Episcopal auxiliary.

A near tragedy—the curtain fell! This mishap occurred shortly before the hour appointed for the Chinese play, given in connection with the tea.

Founders day is a time for seeing more clearly the real objectives for which Parent-Teacher associations are striving to attain.

Texas Is Studied By Club in Home Of Mrs. H. McBee

Texas Day was the theme of a program led by Mrs. Ralph Thomas at a meeting of the Child Study Club Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Horace McBee, 408 N. Somerville.

After the singing of Texas, Our Texas by the entire group, Mrs. Ralph Thomas gave an interesting discussion of Texas under six flags, and Mrs. Rufe Thompson told the story of the Alamo.

During the business session, presided over by Mrs. H. W. Johns, it was decided to cooperate with other clubs in giving a shower of linen, or dishes for the city hall club room.

MUSICIAN

VIRGINIA Lee Bechtelheimer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Bechtelheimer, is among the young pianists who will be presented in recital by Miss Madeline Tarpley Monday evening at the Methodist church.

SIDELIGHTS OF SOCIETY

Could they, oh, could they, have been old stockings? If so these lowly objects were transferred into heads of hair—cues and all—which would have made any Chinaman employ his most extravagant adjectives and gestures of delight.

Speaking of teas, one was served by the home economics girls of Pampa school Friday for 150 parents and teachers.

"Florodora hats!" Some of Pampa's older women have exclaimed in wonder. Yes, they have made their appearance at several local gatherings—and they are very, very similar to those worn by the fashionable maid and matron in 1900.

Society of the entire nation has its eyes on Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt. Nothing seems too big for her, and she typified the ideal American hostess the other day when she dismissed the possibility that a dinner crowd would be too large with the remark "We'll serve buffet style."

PARENTS VISIT SCHOOL FRIDAY TO VIEW WORK

REFRESHMENTS SERVED MOTHERS, FATHERS, AND TEACHERS

PARENTS of Pampa high school students visited their sons' and daughters' places of business Friday afternoon and found that place to be as efficiently managed as any down-town institution.

But business was changed to pleasure when the mothers, fathers, and teachers—150 of them—were invited to the home economics department for tea and cookies.

Mr. Fisher spoke to the crowd on ways the parents might aid the Parent-Teacher association and the school, and Principal L. L. Sone addressed the group.

The unusual gathering met with the approval of the large group, and the membership of the Parent-Teacher association was increased by 41.

NEARLY THREE HUNDRED MEN AND BOYS ENJOY FATHER AND SON BANQUET HERE FRIDAY

Featured by the good fellowship and good humor which predominate when men and boys get together, the Father and Son banquet was held at the First Baptist church Friday evening with nearly 300 persons present.

The Baptist troop and the Baptist ladies headed by Mrs. T. E. Rose had a mammoth task in feeding the "boys", but all were well fed. Boy Scouts, honored in song and speech, were present in uniform.

A. G. Post, president of the Adobe Walls council, as toastmaster presided over the program in which various council officials made awards to hard-working Scouts. These awards included the following:

Softened gelatin in cold water for five minutes. Dissolve in boiling water. Add gingerale, lemon juice and sirup from preserved ginger. When mixture begins to jelly add apples. Turn into mold and let stand until chilled and firm. Unmold and serve with mayonnaise combined with whipped cream and threads of preserved ginger. Surround the mold with cherries stuffed with pecan meats and inch slices of celery stuffed with cream cheese.

A ring mold is attractive for this salad, filling the center with mayonnaise mixture.

this educational movement. This program will have for each member a personal meaning. The National Congress has grown in stature but has its membership grown in grace? Are the workers today giving the best they have to child welfare?

This birthday will honor the memories of two great women, Mrs. Alice McLeelan Birney and Phoebe Apperson Hearst who founded this Congress. It was Mrs. David O'Mears who originated in 1910 the idea of the celebration of this memorable day.

Mrs. C. J. Farrell, Vernon, state chairman of Founders days, suggests that all parent-teacher members join together in saying: "We believe in the future of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers; we honor its founders; we endorse its principles; and we pledge our support to the interest of childhood everywhere."

Area "C" Child Welfare conference of the American Legion and the American Legion auxiliary will be held February 17 and 18, at the Baker hotel, Mineral Wells. Members of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers are especially invited to attend all sessions.

Many National child welfare experts will present different phases of child welfare on the program. Eleven southern states and Porto Rico comprise Area "C."

Sister MARYS KITCHEN

By SISTER MARY NEA Service Writer

These salad recipes may help you in your February menu planning. They are seasonal and easy to make and are sure to appeal both to the eye and the taste, all good points in salad making.

The first salad, tongue and spinach, is an excellent luncheon salad or it will work in nicely with a vegetable dinner.

Tongue and Spinach Salad
Chop cooked spinach very fine and season with salt, lemon juice and a little melted butter. Pack firmly into molds which are still buttered and fitted with a piece of buttered paper in the bottom of the mold. This paper trick insures waxy turning out of the molds. Put molds into ice box to chill. When ready to serve unmold on slices of cold boiled tongue. Drop a spoonful of prepared mayonnaise on each mold and garnish with match-like strips of tongue, eighth of hard-boiled eggs and crisp heart leaves of lettuce.

The mayonnaise is prepared especially for this salad and adds much to its popularity.

Prepared Mayonnaise
One cup mayonnaise, 4 stuffed olives, 3 tiny sweet cucumber pickles, 2 tablespoons capers, 1 teaspoon minced parsley. Chop olives, pickles and capers very fine and add with parsley to mayonnaise just before serving.

Gingerale Salad
Two tablespoons granulated gelatin, 4 tablespoons cold water, 1/2 cup. Finest minced parsley.

BREAKFAST: Baked bananas with lemon sauce, cereal, cream, ham omelet, reheated rolls, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON: Bouillon, crisp crackers, spinach and tongue salad, toasted rolls, jumbles, milk, tea.

DINNER: Stuffed breast of veal, potatoes baked with meat, stewed tomatoes with croutons, gingerale salad, chocolate pudding, milk, coffee.

Five-Year Veterans—1/2 cup boiling water, 1 cup gingerale, 1/2 cup lemon juice, 4 tablespoons ginger sirup, 1 cup diced apple, celery, cream cheese, canned red cherries, pecans, 1 cup mayonnaise, 1/2 cup whipping cream, preserved ginger.

Preserved ginger can be bought in small glass jars at any fancy grocery.

Soften gelatin in cold water for five minutes. Dissolve in boiling water. Add gingerale, lemon juice and sirup from preserved ginger. When mixture begins to jelly add apples. Turn into mold and let stand until chilled and firm. Unmold and serve with mayonnaise combined with whipped cream and threads of preserved ginger. Surround the mold with cherries stuffed with pecan meats and inch slices of celery stuffed with cream cheese.

Legislators Would Cut Salaries of Fee Officers But Leave Own Intact

AUSTIN, Feb. 11. (AP)—Sharp reductions in the maximum allowed county fee officers will be effected by the 43rd legislature if the initial sentiment in favor of the movement prevails to the end.

Without a dissenting voice the house committee on state affairs gave a favorable report to three bills that proposed lowering fees to officers. There was a conflict, however, in the maximum set in two of the bills. One fixed a top allowable of $6,500 and the other $5,000, as compared to the present maximum of $12,500.

The temper of the house has been to slash the pay of all persons on the public payroll. Reduction of the maximum would result in more excess fees being paid into the county treasuries and relieve to some extent the tax burden on real property. It was contended.

Many Plans Suggested
The state affairs committee voted out a bill by Rep. Sarah Hughes of Dallas that would give county commissioners court authority to determine the number of deputies and their salaries. Heretofore there has been no limit on the number of deputies that could be employed by the head of a fee office or their compensation.

It was alleged in the hearing on the Hughes bill that many county fee officers arranged their budgets so that very little in excess fees was turned over to the county treasuries.

The first allusion of the failure of the legislature to reduce its own compensation was made during hearings on the fee bills. One of the county officers opposing the cut proposed in the bills queried: "If the legislature wouldn't want to be unfair and cut our compensation so deeply when the legislature declined to cut its own salaries, would it?"

Senate Willing
Failure of the house to approve cutting the pay of its members from $10 to $7 a day, as proposed by the senate, was considered by some to give the senate a moral advantage over the house when free conference committees seek to adjust the differences between the house and senate appropriation bills.

In the past the house budgets have been uniformly lower than the senate's appropriations. It was expected that the senate conferees would emphasize the failure of the house to cut its own when it tries to gain senate concurrence in the house appropriations.

KANSAS CITY LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 11. (U. S. D. A.)—Cattle trade this week has shown a very erratic trend owing to cold weather and snow. Weather conditions necessarily limited receipts on Monday and prices were advanced around 25-50 on fed steers and yearlings. After midweek, however, temperatures moderated and marketings of cattle at various centers became burdensome. Several markets reported the early advance entirely canceled and prices on a steady basis with the close of last week while others listed steady to 25 higher levels on long yearlings, light steers, light fed heifers and mixed yearlings. Supplies of vealors were very scarce and under an active demand prices mounted higher by leaps and bounds. As compared with late last week, vealers closed unevenly 50-3.00 higher. Chicago reported late sales around 9.00-9.50 with a few at 10.00, while other markets listed top prices around 10.00-10.75. Chicago closed on a steady basis with light steers cleared around 8.00-7.10 while the general bulk of all representative weight steers brought around 3.75-5.50. Best weight steers in Chicago early brought 4.25, but on the close comparable kinds had fallen to 3.50. Receipts for the week totaled 138,070 against 138,264 last week and 140,175 a year ago.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Feb. 11. (U. S. D. A.)—Indications of better demand from overseas hoisted wheat prices late today. China was reported to have bought seven cargoes of Argentine wheat additional to recent requirements, and there were estimates 500,000 bushels of Canadian wheat had been taken for export to Europe. Other stimulating factors included Washington advice the senate agriculture committee had voted to restrict the domestic allotment bill to wheat and cotton. Wheat closed firm, 1/4 above yesterday's finish, corn unchanged to 1/8 higher, and provisions unchanged. Helping the upturn of wheat values were Paris cables telling of a formal proposal by the Argentine government to have the four leading export countries reduce their quotas. Earlier, the wheat market here was inclined to sag owing to a notable dearth of buying orders and because of the fact that Liverpool reported keen selling competition between Argentina and Canada. Large England confirmed reports that this wheat was being pressed forward regardless of increased British tariff barriers. Prediction were stressed that a decided increase of the amount of wheat afloat to importing countries would be shown on Monday. Argentine wheat was reported freely offered at a sharp discount under Canadian wheat from Vancouver, and there was talk that this condition would prevail until the peak of the Argentine export movement had been passed. An opposite factor was that a report of heavy snow sweeping down from the northwest tended to increase anxiety as to domestic wheat crop damage, but traders appear reluctant to purchase solely on account of low temperatures. Corn and oats were firm, influenced by reports of enlarged feedings use of corn. Provisions ruled easy, responsive to downturns of hog values. Closing indimites: Wheat—May 4 1/2, 48 1/2; July 48 1/2, 48 1/2; Sept. 49 1/2, 50 1/2. Corn—35 1/2-26, 26 1/2-31, 27 1/2, offers.

Jimmy St. Clair's Southern Methodist Mustangs 27 to 20. The score at the half was seven-all. Not a field goal was made in the first ten minutes of play. The visitors picked up in the second half, flashing brilliantly in spurts. The Bears had their share of hard luck, in addition to poor play. For the first time in several blue moons, Abe Barnett went out on too many personal fouls. Frank James again injured his lame ankle and also went out. That left Baylor without its two regular forwards, Burk Bradley, who replaced James, however, played splendid basketball. It was not an offensive game, so high point honors were divided by Johnson and Graber of the visitors, with eight each. Barnett played a brilliant game, as did the two Pony guards, who covered the Baylor stars and it was seldom that a Bear marksman got a good shot and even more seldom when he made one. The total of the Bears' offensive efforts amounted to six field goals.

Cuban coast, in expeditionary manner. He was equally emphatic in denial of reports received here today that an anti-Machado movement was to be started February 20 from Merida, Mexico, Miami and Guatemala coincident with bombings in Havana. "The story from Havana about the expeditionary boat is amusing," the opposition leader declared. "We have other—and better—means." He preserved an air of mystery about any other means the oppositionists may have to further their aims, which for several years has been the downfall of the Machado regime. Menocal, who arrived here three months ago, predicted the successful outcome of a revolution against President Machado and establishment of a new government. Would Assume Debts. Moreover, he assured interviewers the "new government" would take immediate steps to retire the island nation's bonded indebtedness. "When a new government goes into office," he predicted, "there can be nothing but assurance that the money loaned by the United States to the Machado government will be returned and that no debt of the nation will be repudiated."

La Nora Is Host To Boy Scouts

More than 450 persons, mostly Boy Scouts, enjoyed a courtesy show at the La Nora theater Saturday morning. The films included movies of last summer's camp in New Mexico, taken by H. W. Price of Borger, and Alaskan scenes also taken by Mr. Price. Spearman Troop 51 presented a play for the enjoyment of the big crowd. was 15 to 8 with the Harvesters leading. Difficult Defense Hedley used a few types of defense on the Harvesters that had them baffled for the first quarter when the Harve ers made only four points, all on free throws. The Hedley forward defense played on the center line with the other three players sticking to their men in the back zone. As a result, the Harvesters had considerable difficulty getting the ball past the center of the floor and then keeping it.

Marbaugh Opens Up

Armstrong broke through at the opening of the second quarter to score unopposed as the Harvesters loaded down the floor in a somewhat cocky manner. Fullingim then proceeded to pull the game out of the fire with two pretty field goals on rebound shots. Marbaugh followed with four free throws in a row. Fullingim, Marbaugh and Kelley then took passes under the basket for field shots, as Coach Mitchell sent in his substitutes, and Armstrong played merry with three overhand loops from outside. Evans added another as the Harvesters went back into the field.

Long One Sank

Pampa's center opened the second half with a nice field goal and Woodward followed with his only field goal, a long arc shot from the side. Marbaugh and Evans then broke even on free throws. Armstrong made a field goal and then Hedley looped a free throw in a row. Fullingim, Marbaugh and Kelley then took passes under the basket for field shots, as Coach Mitchell sent in his substitutes, and Armstrong played merry with three overhand loops from outside. Evans added another as the Harvesters went back into the field.

then led the parade in which more than 300 Boy Scouts from troops throughout the Adobe Walls council took part. The parade ended at the high school, when Troop 59 of Pollett performed the formal retreat. Troop 14, sponsored by the Parent Teachers association of Sam Houston school, won first place in the exhibit on display in the Erumov building. Pioneering was the theme of the display and all the work was done by boys of the troop. Buildings of log, corral, and other pioneer features were in the display. Second place went to troop 3, First Baptist church. Its display was a miniature Camp Cima del Mundo. The Cabot company troop from Kingsmill took third place with a handicraft display which included a large Scout shield, lighted map of the council area, first aid, and other Scout equipment. The Adobe Walls in 1928 and Adobe took fourth prize. It was by Troop 20, Rotary Club. More than 500 Scouts and Scouters from the council area registered. Many others failed to register during the day.

From Other Cities

Among the out-of-town Scouters who took part in the activities were Marvin J. Paul, C. B. Johnson, Zane Smith, Floyd Garwood, Johnnie Ekelund and Damon Blake, all of Amarillo, Judge Sewell of Pollett, H. W. Price of Borger, C. Chambers of Spearman, Mrs. Nicholson of Wheeler, J. D. Schultz of Pollett and others. A large audience attended the exhibition of troop stunts in the high school gymnasium. Presentation of visitors and officers by Marvin J. Paul of Amarillo opened the session. Mayor W. A. Bratton then made the welcoming address. Leading Scouts of the council were then introduced. The Scouts entered the large arena with flags and banners. H. W. Price of Borger took moving pictures of the entry and the audience. He also took pictures of some of the stunts. Troop 15, R. R. Watson, leader, opened the program with a signaling exhibition. A first aid demonstration was then given by boys of troop 18, Hopkins and Phillips, under John Shannon, scoutmaster, and W. O. Christian, committee man.

Many Stunts

An obstacle race and wall scaling exhibition was given by troops 1a and 21, with J. W. Martin in charge. Troop 9 put on a chariot race under Harold Holmes' supervision. The Rev. A. A. Hyde directed the play "The Eagle Scout Trail" by boys of troop 15. A pioneering demonstration was given by boys of troop 14 with T. M. Gillham in charge. Camping and fire building were demonstrated by troop 4, Earl Goodwin in charge. The Cabot company troop from Kingsmill gave a tumbling exhibition under Wm. Peacock. Troops from over the entire area took part in the Bicycle patrol stunt in charge of J. W. Martin. LeFors' troop harmonica band then delighted the audience. M. B. Brooks is leader of the troop. J. G. Schultz of Pollett put his troop through Scout drills. An archery exhibition was given by troop 20 under the direction of J. D. Sackett. The Battle of Adobe Walls was depicted by boys from Troop 20 under the leadership of R. L. Bowden. The stunt was of great interest to everyone present. President A. G. Post then presented the Hoover awards to troops making records. The roundup was closed with the Scout benediction at taps.

The PEOPLES COLUMN

Editor, The NEWS:

Now that almost everything has been said that can be said about the Boy Scout Week, the County Singing association, and the Pie Supper at "Hopkins University," why not say a few words about the fellows who make such things a success? Who would not take off his hat to Beck, Bridge, and Fuller of the Culbertson-Small company, A. B. Post of the American Legion and Kiwanis club, Dock of the Dock Department store, Dr. Earl Thomson, and I. A. Freeman, Miss Madeline Tarpley, and Prof. Otto Schick, representing the Gordon Dept. store who braved sub-zero weather to help make a Parent-Teacher supper a success? And who would not take off his hat to Smith, Kelly, et al of the harmony orchestra who not only braved the weather but donated their services? And what community would not like to have such a worker as Mrs. Chas. O'Connor, president of the Parent-Teacher organization, or the Good man, general utility man of the Phillips camp?

Such people as these, together with Briggs, Eurland, Schulkey, and others, and a newspaper such as yours devoted to the civic and community interest, as it is, will build cities and cement community and social intere. Much such as are connected with the commercial, civic, and service clubs of Pampa are many reasons why "Cities do not happen but are built."

"Hopkins university" is going to sponsor a social gathering, with the help of the local pec., and the clubs of Pampa—that will be as free as the air and devoted entirely to the promotion of good fellowship. M. L. H. BAZE.

(U. S. A. group of Rio Grande valley farmers in mass meeting here today resolved to cease harvesting vegetable crops until a "fair price" is paid for their produce. They defined a "fair price" as one which covered the cost of production and included a margin of profit. In their resolution they said, "if we do not get 100 per cent of the growers to sign a pledge not to deliver, we shall refuse to deliver and if they will not heed our request, we shall at the direction of the board of directors picket all highways and refuse any vegetables of any kind to pass our lines." Under the tentative plan drawn up, it was decided that if picketing became necessary, men would be placed under the direction of one "general" in each county participating. "It was further resolved that operators of shipping sheds be notified the day before orders were put in order that the shippers might complete any order he has for the day. The farmers agreed that if any grower was destitute, he would have to have something to eat until the price demand was met with orders of the pickets would designate a "lieutenant" to accompany the grower to a grocer and arrange for groceries. woman accused of vagrancy. She had been questioned searching by Scout Judge Harlan Martin, who obtained the confession that she had been in the company of the wrong crowd." Upon her promise to seek better company, she was released. So, too, were three others arrested by the regular police, including one youth arrested near his home for drunkenness. Glover Fined. Much merit was caused when a complaint was received from a drug store that certain citizens were disturbing the peace. Scout police rushed to the scene and arrested one M. K. Brown and Plin Jordan. The new policemen also arrested one John T. Glover, but his companion, said to have been O. L. Boyington, escaped. Glover was fined for disturbing the peace, mooching cigars, and resisting arrest. He was represented by John F. Studer and prosecuted by Scout Attorney Franklin Baer. He was fined $1. Argus M. Fox, arrested, made bond. Chief of Police John V. Andrews, on taking over his job after the big Scout staff retired, donated the $3 collected in fines to the Scout fund needed to defray expenses of the week. Loafing Deplured. The Scouts were out early to learn their duties before taking office. Scout Mayor Otto Rice Jr., after placing his staff, called a commission meeting in which many city problems were discussed. The police department was instructed to curb loafing about on the streets, the street department to use jobless men in removing snow and ice from curbs and sidewalks. It was decided to admit Eagle Scouts free to the municipal swimming pool so they can act as lifeguards when present. Another move was to utilize all windows and turn off as many electric lights as possible in the city hall. The library report showed that the commission showed 1,688 patrons in January, 3,303 books checked out, 46 books catalogued, 244 books mended, 34 books overdue, and 38 letters written for patrons. Recognizing that their tasks were just well begun, the Scout commission asked to have charge of the city for an entire day soon. The administration staff included the following: Mayor, Otto Rice Jr.; chief of police, Tom Swatman; desk sergeant, John Martin; policeman, Joe Meek Wheeler; policeman, Harold Wheeler; traffic officer, Frankie Baer; city judge, Harlan Martin; city librarian, Robert Harrison, LeFors; bookkeeper, Cy Patton; city manager, Bertou Doucette; city secretary, Earl Rice; building inspector, Dick Sullivan; health officer, Leon Robinson; commissioners, Melvin Qualls and Skeet Wise; fire chief, Edward Scott; firemen, Don Foster, Paul Schneider, C. A. Clark Jr., Travis Gee, Holt Hamlett, Jack Allison, George Nix, Calvin Dittmore; city engineer, Jim Bob Johnson; street superintendent, W. J. Brown; tax assessor, Elsie Vanderburg; tax collector, Gerald Maxey; city stenographer, Roscoe Pinnell; water clerk, Paul Buchanan.

In the OIL FIELDS

Activities in the Panhandle oil field were practically at a standstill due to the cold weather last week. Little drilling was in progress and work on new locations was abandoned. Pipelines, separators, and water wells on numerous locations through the field were frozen. Ernest O. Thompson's report to the Legislature that a tax of 10 cents a barrel on oil production should be placed was received here with a degree of surprise. Many were in favor of the tax, while others disagreed. The present tax is only 2 per cent on production or about one cent a barrel, prevailing prices of 30 cents, for the best grade. One oil well and one gas well were completed in Gray county during the week. The Bell Oil and Gas company's No. 2 Webb in section 61, block 25, southeast of LeFors, appears good for more than 200 barrels following a shot of 200 quarts of nitro in section 61, block 25. It came in for 25,000, 600 cubic feet but increased its flow to 36,000,000 cubic feet on a 72-hour test. The hole was bottomed at 2,685 feet. Frank Elliott of Borger was in Quicksand Oil company's No. 2 Pampa visitor Saturday.

LIFE AT SING SING DETAILED IN GREAT FILM

WARDEN LAWES' BOOK IS FAST-SELLING VOLUME

Sing Sing Prison, at Ossining, New York, which is the setting for the first National picture "Twenty Thousand Years in Sing Sing," featuring Spencer Tracy, and announced as the attraction at the La Nora theater today, is unquestionably the most famous of all penal institutions on the North American continent.

Several other American prisons are older—notably those at Charlestown, Mass., Eastern Penitentiary at Philadelphia, and the State Penitentiary at Columbus, Ohio, but none have achieved the notoriety and reputation that has belonged to the "big house" on the banks of the Hudson river, scarcely an hour's ride north of New York City.

Within the last year, the attention of the American public has been sharply focused upon Sing Sing by the monumental work that issued from the pen of its warden, Lewis E. Lawes. Under the title "Twenty Thousand Years in Sing Sing," Warden Lawes, admittedly one of the foremost authorities on prison conditions in the United States, sets forth the memoirs of his long wardenship in terms that took hold of the popular imagination with the force of a best-selling work of fiction. He described the system of government which he has been largely responsible for putting into effect at Sing Sing Prison.

Had Bad Record. For years, Sing Sing had held a record among American penal institutions that was both unsavory and gruesome. In the days when brutal and barbarous punishment were held to be a necessity of prison life, Sing Sing yielded to no prison in the United States for studied brutality and premeditated cruelty in the treatment of prisoners.

The Sing Sing of 1932, which is admitted by all authorities on psychology to be the most enlightened and intelligently administered prison in the country, is largely the work of Warden Lewis E. Lawes. Appointed to the command of the big prison in 1919, Lawes has held his position without interruption by political comings and goings since that time.

The picture differs materially from most other "big house" pictures that have been presented on the screen in its accurate and complete presentation, for the benefit of the layman, of every phase of a convict's life in such a modern prison as the present day Sing Sing. In following the story of Spencer Tracy as Tom Connors and his fellow convicts, the spectator passes through every phase of penitentiary life far more completely than would be possible, if he were enabled to make a personal tour of the institution.

During the last three years, Sing Sing has virtually moved into new and modern quarters, especially erected for the purpose. They are said to have cost the State of New York more money than any other state in the Union has spent upon its prisons.

New Cell Houses. Four new cell houses, with a total of 1752 cells, have been erected for the accommodations of Sing Sing's grey-suited population. This includes a receiving cell house containing 82 cells, a second cell house with 286, a third with accommodations for 680 on five tiers, and finally a four-tier cell house with 704 cells. The old system of housing two or more prisoners in the same cell has been done away with by the erection of these new buildings. Each prisoner has his own cell, with toilet and lavatory, a small locker, table and chair, and spring bed with mattress, chest, blankets and pillowcase. The other new buildings are a chapel, hospital building and commissary department. The hospital has a capacity of sixty beds, divided into three wards. A thoroughly equipped modern laboratory is available for clinical examinations and tests. Two operating units with X-ray equipment and fluoroscope are provided. The laboratory has bacteriological and chemical features that make it the peer of any American prison laboratory. The hospital at Sing Sing has ratings from the American College of Surgeons.

Two psychiatrists and a psychologist, on full time, are attached to the prison in addition to the regular medical staff. Sing Sing is unique among American prisons in that the convicts are fed on the cafeteria plan. This is another application of Warden Lawes' convictions as to the sensible method of handling prisoners and has vindicated itself in practice. Food is not rationed. At the head of the commissary is a trained dietitian. Vegetables are served every day, and fresh fruit three or four times a week. The steady monotony of prison fare has been abolished, and the standard of food served to the convicts is in line with the modern conviction that it is short-sighted folly to torture a man with indigestible and nauseating food because he happens to be a law-breaker.

KARLOFF HAS ANOTHER ROLE AS TERRORIST

TRAVELERS CAUGHT IN STORM MENACED BY SERVANT

With a more grotesque and terrifying makeup than that which startled the world in "Frankenstein," Karloff, sensational screen character returns to Pampa when Universal's "The Old Dark House" opens its long awaited engagement today at the Rex theater.

This terrifically tense drama is laid in the sinister setting of an ancient house in the lonely Welsh mountains where a group of travelers caught in a violent storm seek refuge in the night, only to discover that the inhabitants are tainted with insanity and ruled over by a gigantic, brutal servant who, becoming inflamed by drink, menaces the entire group. The desperate situation is heightened when the evil brute going mad himself with lust and ferocity decides to loose upon the house the murderer crazed brother kept in his charge in a locked room.

"The Old Dark House" features an exceptional cast of talented stage favorite assembled especially by Director James Whale to lend authentic portrayals to the exciting picturization of the celebrated J. B. Priestley novel of the same name. Charles Laughton, Melvyn Douglas, Lillian Bond, Ernest Thesiger, Eva Moore, Raymond Massey, and Gloria Stuart head the exceptional cast.

City Food Store Gives Stew to Men

Piping hot stew for men working on the city pool and hauling and leveling caliche was supplied by A. E. Zahn and J. L. Nance of the City Food store yesterday. Other needy citizens were supplied in the store at the corner of Foster and Russell, when they took meals. The hot stew was greatly appreciated by the men on the jobs. It was cold work but the men were warmed and went to work with a will. Hundreds of persons were given the food.

Forecaster Explains Only Scientific Way to Predict Weather Conditions

CHICAGO, Feb. 11. (AP)—In his aerie atop the federal building, high above the roar of Chicago's traffic, Weather Forecaster C. A. Donnel pointed to various gadgets and explained why they were used. He used such terms as "barometric gradient," "high and low pressure areas," "atmospheric phenomenon" and then threw up his hands and exclaimed: "The cold is just one of those things."

"It all goes back to the sun's effect on the earth," he said, "and in general is caused by the fact that the sun's output of heat varies greatly between the polar and equatorial regions. You shake a lot of cold air up from the sun to the south and warm air toward the equator. You have different surfaces, water and land, and on the land, mountains and valleys, and deserts, and stretches of thick vegetation.

"Air is constantly in motion over these varying surfaces, and there is the constant flux of the proportion of heat we receive from the sun to keep it changing, as well as the fact that the earth makes a complete rotation on its axis once a day. That explains why, with all these varying influences eternally at work, weather can not be predicted with any certainty more than a few days in advance.

"Heavy air makes high pressure areas and light air makes low pressure areas. You get a high pressure area built up somewhere up in Alaska, which is precisely what happens here, and if there happens to be in front of it an area of low pressure, as happened in Chicago, the cold snap is on its way immediately, rushing down to fill up that low pressure area. Snow makes a great difference in the degree of cold. When the ground is bare, low temperatures are more rare, since the cold from the snow rises skyward and chills the upper air.

"Deep snow, clear sky, a difference in air pressure between east and west, and there you are."

Record Snowfall Throughout East

By The Associated Press
Heavy snow fell throughout the east Saturday while the winter's mightiest storm appeared to be breaking up in other sections of the country.

It was the biggest snowfall since 1925 in New York City, and 30,000 men, including 18,000 unemployed, worked to clear the city's streets. Almost every line of communication in the metropolitan area was delayed, but it was not cold enough to cause much suffering.

New York's eight-inch fall, however, looked small beside reports from other cities. Springfield, Mass., was blanketed by 15 1/2 inches. Southern New Hampshire reported about a foot and Rhode Island nine inches. Maine had about 12 inches.

Pennsylvania was covered with from seven to 12 inches and the state put thousands to work at shovels. The middle west still was cold and more snow was anticipated at Chicago. That city listed 32 deaths attributed to the storm. Damage to crops also was great, the southern Illinois peach crop being particularly hard hit. From 50 to 90 per cent of the buds were killed.

NEXT LITTLE THEATER PLAY IS DESCRIBED AS A FANTASY WITH INTENSELY DRAMATIC SITUATIONS

Moon-Madness Play To Be Given On February 21

A WEEK from Tuesday night, the Pampa Little Theater will offer for the entertainment of its many patrons in this community, a fantasy that is strange enough to be weird and emotional enough to be beautiful.

The drama will be presented in the auditorium of the city hall, Tuesday evening, February 21, beginning at 8:15 o'clock. The city auditorium was chosen because there is no other stage in Pampa large enough to accommodate the action and the properties.

The play, "Children of the Moon," is not a ghost story, nor a play based on hysteria, according to Director Dick Hughes, but the story of a family whose members were victims of inherited "moon-madness," a malady which literature and medical history show is as old as civilization itself. Many of the famous Greek tragedies were based on moon-madness.

Victims Are Frequent. This disease is as prevalent today as it ever was, and the insane asylums are said to contain scores of its victims. It is not a superstition, but a psychological and medical fact.

"To the hundreds of people who have attended our plays this year I wish to state that 'Children of the Moon' is not a morbid melodrama," said Mr. Hughes. "It is the story of a beautiful and futile love affair. There is nothing in the play to repel the most sensitive temperament. Of course, the moon-madness in the Atherton family provides the action in the play, but it is not the plot. That develops when the youngest member of the Atherton family falls in love with a British girl whose plane is wrecked on the lonely beach near the Atherton's isolated home by the sea."

Play Is Thriller. As the play progresses, the fact becomes paramount that if Jane Atherton had never learned of her inherited tendency she would have been immune from the malady. All the members of her family have carefully guarded the secret from her, and she does not learn of it until her mother, Laura Atherton, fearful of the results of a marriage with Briton, Major Bannister, tells her. The plot is based on the thesis that the power of suggestion develops tendencies to a far greater extent than inheritance.

Rehearsals in the last week have revealed that the cast is fully competent to interpret the sensational roles and intensely dramatic situations. The play is truly a thriller that will draw both tears and laughter from the audience.

The cast follows: Judge Atherton, I. A. Freeman; Madame Atherton, Mrs. Earl Powell; Laura Atherton, Mrs. E. M. Conley; Jane Atherton, Mrs. A. B. Goldston; Major Bannister, Paul M. LeBeuf; Thomas, an old sea dog turned butler-servant, Paul Camp; Dr. Wetherell, Newt Dilley; Walter Higgs, Bannister's mechanic, Neal Bean.

Theater Meeting Is Delayed For 'Of Thee I Sing'

Because so many members of the Pampa Little Theater are planning to attend the production of "Of Thee I Sing," Pulitzer prize play, at Amarillo tomorrow evening, the regular meeting, scheduled for Monday night, has been postponed until Thursday evening. At that time, the meeting will be held in the club room of the city hall at 8 o'clock. A burlesque program will be given. On Sunday afternoon, February 19, the Little Theater will present an hour's program over an Amarillo broadcasting station, which will be sponsored by the Kerley-Crossman post of the American Legion of Pampa. A one-act play, several musical numbers and dramatized situations of Legion history and aims have been tentatively planned.

Prices Discussed By Graduate Nurses

Graduate nurses held a recent meeting at the Pampa hospital for the discussion of prices in this district and to form an association. The prices for the district are $8 for 20 hours' work, $6 for 12 hours, $1.50 for the first hour and 50 cents for each hour thereafter in hourly nursing, and $4 for 8-hour duty.

The association elected Mrs. C. H. Miller, president; Miss Esther Shell, vice-president; Mrs. J. G. Wheeler, secretary-treasurer.
