'PRODUCTION COST' PLAN LOSES

British Agree To An Immediate Tariff Truce With United States

PAMPA TOPICS OF OUR CITY by O.E.H.

TWINKLES
Sometimes, when we read of the forestry work while our dust is flying, we wish we had a tree to hide behind.
We assume that school teachers—even lady ones—are lenient toward pupils who arrive with dirt in their ears these days.
Since Amarillo is nearer the source of dust than we are, we'd hate to live in that dirty place!

WAR DEBTS ARE STILL HURDLE TO AGREEMENT

COMPLETE SUCCESS IS INDICATED AFTER ANNOUNCEMENT

PACIFISM IS STRESSED

BRITON SAYS U. S. MAY SIGN WORTHY PEACE TREATIES

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP)—American hopes for an armistice on tariff-boosting to create a favorable atmosphere for the world economic conference in London soared today with word of British agreement to an immediate tariff truce.

And if it keeps us breathing dust until next election, every orator will be singing mud in a literal sense.

THESE WOMEN FOLK
When the women folk hang together, they usually get what they wish. Thirty-six of them who appeared before the county commission yesterday knew what they wanted and stated their belief in the home demonstration program with eloquence.

CITY WOMEN HELP
We think the "battle" to retain the agent showed one significant thing too often misconstrued—the city women appreciate the work of the rural women and unselfishly support the latter. The old-time differences between the city and rural women have largely disappeared.

OIL PEOPLE ALERT
More than this, there is another group of women who are similarly aggressive and resourceful—those who live in the oil camps. The home demonstration work is being extended to them.

Jaysees Might Delay Frontier Days Till Fall
Probability that the Pampa second annual Frontier Days celebration would be postponed until fall but that the water carnival and formal opening of the municipal swimming pool would be held next month was indicated at the Junior Chamber of Commerce luncheon today.

DILEMMA OF 32
The grand jury will soon learn that 32 per cent beer is coming into Pampa. It probably will consider, also, that there is a peculiar record for beer prosecution in Gray county.

Kenneth Sawyer, here on a visit from Harlingen, conveying best regards from Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stapleton, former Pampans who are now living in Harlingen. Kenneth reported only one rain in that country since last November and that everything had "burned up."

MANAGERS OF POOL HIRED
Harry Kelley and Pruitt To Be Operators; Opening Is Set For May 28.

WITH selection of Harry Kelley and V. D. Pruitt as co-managers of the municipal swimming pool, the city commission was able last night to set a tentative opening date as May 28.
Mr. Kelley will be in charge of sports and supervised play at the pool and Mr. Pruitt will be business manager and will have charge of the grounds and equipment control. They will be paid $100 per month. Any other employees found necessary will be employed by the city on recommendation of the managers.

Estimate Wheat Yield Will Be Millions Short
AMARILLO, May 9 (AP)—Managers of Amarillo's two largest grain elevators today estimated the 1933 Texas Panhandle wheat crop at from 8,000,000 to 12,000,000 bushels.

WOMAN AGENT TO BE RETAINED

POONA, India, May 9 (AP)—The Mahatma Gandhi whose three week's fast is just beginning, showed symptoms of nausea this evening.
A well known Bombay physician was summoned to Poona by Gandhi's friends, who fear that the fast, started Monday in protest against treatment of the lowest classes, may cost him his life.

WEALTHY MAN LETS HIMSELF BE KIDNAPED
TWO ALLEGED TO HAVE ABDUCTED MAN ARE HELD IN JAIL
SHERIFF KNOWS PLOT
MERCHANT AGREES TO KIDNAPING TO HELP TRAP PAIR

FREEPORT, Ill., May 9 (AP)—Because their wealthy victim let himself be kidnaped and the sheriff kept just a step ahead of their plot, two alleged abductors waited in a cell today to be prosecuted for a $40,000 ransom conspiracy.

W. T. Rawleigh, vice president of the W. T. Rawleigh company, walked from his office last evening looking forward to being kidnaped.

He was. Two men seized him, bundled him off to an abandoned farm and tossed him, gagged and bound, into the basement.

William Trevillian, vice president of the W. T. Rawleigh company, walked from his office last evening looking forward to being kidnaped.

As the plot unfolded, they returned to La Salle, informed Sheriff Walter J. Jones, manager of the Bureau of Investigation, and the sheriff invoked the aid of intelligence men from Chicago federal offices and also told Trevillian, who agreed to submit to kidnaping and help trap the pair, Stubbe and Moore.

The officers surrounded the farm near La Salle, after the abduction last night and with the aid of the Schultz brothers nabbed the alleged kidnapers.

Stubbe, married and the father of two children, according to the plans revealed by the sheriff, the wheat acreage still is intact, did not receive rain last week when the drought was relieved in much of the Panhandle country.

With the Trevillian kidnaping successfully consummated, the sheriff said the gang then planned to seize W. T. Rawleigh, head of the company and a relative of Trevillian by marriage.

The stake for his return was to be boosted to $100,000 and because of his state of health it was planned to entice a nurse into the plot and to use an ambulance if necessary.

Buck Exonerates His Brother
Alleged Kidnaping of Child, Says Brother Had Nothing To Do With Abduction.

BARNSTABLE, Mass., May 9 (AP)—Kenneth Buck, alleged kidnaper of Peggy McMath, today exonerated his brother Cyril, also under arrest for the crime, or any part in the abduction.

In a sworn statement made at the Barnstable county jail, where both men are held awaiting a hearing on May 22, Kenneth told police that Edward E. Hall, of Harwich, who he alone was to blame and responsible for the crime. Hall said Kenneth declared that he could "implicate no other person."

Meanwhile, Cyril Buck revealed to James F. Kierman, Wareham lawyer, that on two occasions he tried to induce Neil McMath, father of the kidnaped child, to inform police that he was in touch with the kidnapers. McMath, anxious for the return of his child, refused.

HOUSE BACKS PRESIDENT ON FARM RELIEF

FARM - INFLATION BILL SENT TO SENATE FOR ACTION

OBJECTORS SILENCED

PROVISION SOUGHT TO GUARANTEE COST OF PRODUCTION

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP)—The house stood squarely by the administration today, rejecting the "cost of production" amendment to the vast farm relief-inflation bill approving the rest of the measure and putting it up to the senate where quick agreement was expected.

The senate action, due tomorrow, will be the last step necessary to send the bill to President Roosevelt for signature, unless present indications are reversed and the senators decide to hold out for the Norris-Simpson clause which seeks to guarantee cost of production and a reasonable profit to the farmer.

The house stand was voted after the members adopted a rule offered by the democratic leaders to prevent republican opponents from making further technical delays. Only yesterday they had blocked the vote by making a point of order against a change in the bill made by the conferees. Today's rule forbids any more points of order.

TWO EXPERIMENTS IN GOVERNMENT

One more nation seems to have decided that the rights of the individual count for nothing in the highly-organized society of the industrial era. Germany, under a Fascist dictatorship, takes a leaf from Stalin's book and mobilizes labor, takes over labor unions and prepares to control all the big industries from top to bottom.

This scheme, which is nothing less than astounding in its scope, may mark the beginning of a new chapter in the history of human society. The combined parallel and contrast between Fascist Germany and Communist Russia is one of the most interesting sights the world has ever been permitted to watch.

Russia, acting by and for the man at the bottom of the ladder, turns an entire nation into one vast productive machine.

Germany, whose government seems to represent chiefly the man at the top, does precisely the same thing.

Seeking widely divergent goals, these two countries have adopted almost identical vehicles.

The development begun when James Watt put his steam engine on the market has carried mankind a long way, has brought it through some curious scenery, and now, at last, seems to have brought it to a great fork in the road. Russia has gone one way, Germany is starting down the other; and the most important question before the race today is whether these are the only two paths available.

Must we all follow either Germany or Russia? Must an industrial society, in the very nature of things, crush the last trace of individual freedom and choose between hard-boiled Communism or ruthless Fascism? Or is there, by a good luck, a third road?

The answer depends largely on our own United States.

We have started, amid social changes that we have hardly begun to understand, along a third road. We cling to the notion that it is possible to maintain an intricate industrial society without discarding the old ideals of liberty and individual initiative. Our "new deal," if it is to mean anything, must mean that we are now beginning a stupendous effort to prove that the notion is justified.

Farmers Plan To Plant Cotton in Wheat Sections

AMARILLO, May 9. (AP)—Cotton apparently will get a foothold this year in the wheat country of the upper Panhandle plains.

Thousands of acres of the wheat crop have been lost because of a long winter drought, poor preparation of the soil and high winds during the spring months. A movement is on foot now, even as far north as Pterryton to plant some of this acreage to cotton.

It was generally believed in former years that cotton would not grow above the caprock in the Panhandle. Later the territory was extended to Donley, Wheeler and Gray counties, and a few hundred acres were planted each year in Moore county.

At the present time Moore county has more than 5,000 acres in prospect. Approximately 3,000 has been pledged in the vicinity of Groom, Carson county, and a movement is under way in Ochilree county to plant cotton for a "money" crop to replace wheat to some extent the blow out wheat.

An old cotton gin at Hereford is being repaired. Dimmitt has plans under way for the replacement of its gin which burned last year, and Happy is seeking enough acreage to justify the construction of a gin there. Other localities are likely to join the cotton movement before the planting season has passed.

Texas Man Finds Cuds Chewed By Cave Dwellers

MCCAMEY, May 9. (AP)—V. D. Gilliland of this city is a self-taught archaeologist. Equipped with a shovel and a disregard for rattlesnakes, Gilliland has dug up Indian graves all over West Texas.

In his collection are skulls of flat-headed persons who lived in West Texas unknown generations ago, samples of basket weaving, grass skirts, beads, strings of lechugilla, moccasins, firesticks, and other articles used by ancient tribes.

On the Pecos river, Gilliland says, remains of Indian camps are found for a space of fifty miles from the river crossing down to Iran. In these camps he has found many arrow heads.

He thinks the communal life in the caves was much different from that on the banks of the Pecos. In the caves, he has found no stone implements. Practically every cave on the south side of the bluffs. Tops of the caves he has found were covered with hand prints in the soot. He said his greatest thrill was finding some cuds chewed by the cave dwellers. The cuds are about the size of a walnut and may be found in quantity in some of the caves. They are either of lechugilla or bear grass and prints of the teeth are plainly discernible.

"Some day I will find a sealed cave in this country," Gilliland said, calling to mind the discoveries of the rich Aztec tombs in Mexico. He believes the Aztecs were in this country, too, and that some time a cave that will yield a fortune in golden relics will be found.

Gordon Burns' Fight Did Not Help Lobbyists

AUSTIN, (AP)—Whatever may come from the recent melee in a hotel lobby that sent Rep. Gordon Burns of Huntsville to a hospital and caused the citation of three persons for contempt of the house, members generally agree that the incident will have a salutary effect on future lobbying practices.

Frequent rumblings had been heard concerning lobbyists prior to the Burns incident and a few of the outstanding opponents of the third house had sought to have its members banished from the capital.

The Burns affair allegedly resulted from remarks made by the Huntsville member against passage of a bill to establish a natural resource commission to replace the Texas railroad commission in the administration of oil and gas conservation laws.

The house voted unanimously for an inquiry into the fight, while the senate adopted a resolution to investigate both the alleged assault on Burns and lobbying in general.

One member reported there was more pressure upon the legislature in connection with the natural resource commission bill than any other proposal considered during the session. He said the pressure exerted on both sides had caused members more uncomfortable moments than prohibition, usually regarded the most controversial subject that can be brought up in the Texas legislature.

It was brought out that few members of the lobby have complied with the terms of a house resolution requiring them to register with the chief clerk and file certain information. The chief clerk's office reported that less than a dozen had registered.

STUNT RACER DIES

WICHITA FALLS, May 8. (AP)—Curtis F. Warner, motorcycle stunt performer and racer, was dead today as a result of colliding with a railing on the free bridge across the Red river near Burkburnett. The accident occurred late yesterday while the 32-year-old Grandfield, Okla., rider was en route to Wichita Falls to participate in a motorcycle polo game.

The White Cockatoo

SNOPSIS: Marcel, the little porter of the French hotel in which the tragedy is staged, is killed by a shot from the elevator just as he is telling Jim Sundeen what he knows about a previous murder. Then Sundeen himself is wounded. He and the detective, David Lorn, believe the events are part of a plot to rob Sue Kelly of the money by means of which she may claim half of her father's huge fortune. Marcel manages to guess that the alibi of the man known as Father Robert is false. When Sundeen tells Father Robert, the latter is so angry he nearly steps on the white cockatoo.

I sprang to my feet. She was standing there, glowing in the fresh cold air of the morning. A spark of laughter was dancing in her eyes, and her cheeks were pink. She wore some kind of tweed-looking jacket and skirt of a soft, warm gray, and a scarlet beret was perched on one side of her bright hair, and there was a touch of something scarlet at her throat, and she looked altogether very nice. "Nothing," I said slowly. Her face sobered. "Why—what is the matter? What have I done?" she asked in a small voice.

"Nothing at all. Nothing. There's nothing wrong." I realized that I was babbling and drew myself up short. "After all, I could scarcely tell the girl that I wished she wouldn't manage to look like that. She would say, and rightly: 'Why on earth not?' And I would say as rightly: 'No reason at all. It's nothing to me. Nothing.'" I was babbling again, fortunately not aloud this time.

"We were only talking," I said more loudly. "The priest and I. He explained the matter of his false alibi." I told her of the result of the encounter, and she listened gravely. "It sounds," she said when I'd finished, "rather reasonable. At least I think it will sound rather reasonable to the police."

"Perhaps," I agreed. "Nevertheless—I think the priest is not what he seems." She looked suddenly white again, as if my words had brought her too suddenly back to the horror that had visited the old hotel. "You don't think Father Robert—Oh, no, I can't consider it. We can't think that the murderer is here. Here among us. All the time. That would be too dreadful. Why—we would all be—gibbering idiots."

"I don't know," I said honestly. "I don't like to frighten you, but you must remember that it is at least a possibility. Good God, how I wish you could leave!" "That you want me out of the way," she said lightly, although her eyes leaped to mine. "There's nothing I should like better," I said brusquely. "I'm sorry, but I can't be light-headed about it."

Her smile vanished. She said gravely: "Let's not begin that again. I can't leave even if I would." She spoke very stiffly and coldly, and I felt puzzled and dismayed; I had only wanted to be sure she was safe. She leaned a little toward me and said suddenly: "Don't look like that. You've been everything that's—after a pause she said "kind," and I felt pleased and yet rather let down. "I'll be very careful. I won't take any chances at all. But I can't believe—it's mad even to consider the murderer's being one of us here in the hotel. Don't you see that it is?"

"I don't know," I said morosely. "I should say this crazy, dark, silent, old place might harbor anything." She shivered again and moved unconsciously nearer me and cried: "Don't!" "I'm a fool," I said brisly. "I'm an idiot. You're quite right. There's nothing for you to fear in the hotel." "I'm not—that is, I won't be scared. More than I can help at any rate," she added honestly. "Is your shoulder better?" "It really isn't bad. It's only stiff and sore."

"Has the doctor been here yet?" "No. Now then—" I hated to drag her back to the problems before her, but still it had to be done, so that she might get her millions. "Have you asked Lovachiem for the envelope you had him put in the safe?" "Yes." Her eyes had darkened again. "He gave it to you?" "No."

"No!" I had expected it. "What excuse did he give? Here, do all down." "She took the chair absent, and I drew one near her and sat down also, and Pucci at once flapped and sidled and clung till he got into my knee and then finally to my shoulder, with his head very near my mouth in a conspiratorial way.

"He said," Sue said me gravely, "that—he'd lost the combination." "And what," said Sue behind me, "did you do to Father Robert?" Mrs. Byng contributes, tomorrow, to the favorite tandem.

Pampa Orator's Coach Unable To Accompany Him

Mrs. W. J. Adkins of Panhandle, coach of Henry Will (Hoot) Fullingim, who will represent Texas in the semi-finals of the national oratorical contest at Kansas City, Saturday night, will not be able to accompany her pupil to the event unless she receives financial aid, she said today. This would mean that the Pampa contestant would make the trip alone, since a representative of the Amarillo Globe-News, which sponsored the contest in Texas, will not make the trip as had been planned.

Two civic organizations of Panhandle, on their own initiative, considered means of raising $20, the amount necessary to pay Mrs. Adkins' fare to Kansas City, but reached no agreement. Henry Will is a former student of Panhandle high school, although he has attended Pampa high school for the last two years and as been prominent in athletics. Belief that the youth has a splendid chance to win the Kansas City contest prompts the Panhandle groups to urge the coach to attend. They believe his chances will be diminished if she does not accompany him. It was said that Panhandle groups would raise the money if he were from Panhandle, but that he must register from Pampa. "Hoot" will leave Thursday night for the Missouri city to compete against champions from six southern and middle western states.

J. A. Summers of Skellytown visited in Pampa last night.

ERNEST O. THOMPSON ADVOCATES CHEAPER GASOLINE AND FLAYS MAJOR OIL COMPANY PRACTICES

TYLER, May 9. (AP)—Ernest O. Thompson, member of the state railroad commission, said today it was "highly significant" that plaintiffs in an attack on the last prorating order for the East Texas field "failed to go to bat when we were ready."

He referred to the Hunt Production company's withdrawal of a suit for a restraining order against the commission to prevent writing of a similar order after the hearing of operators at Austin May 15. The present allowable called for production of from 700,000 to 750,000 barrels, or 40 to 150 barrels per well.

"The significant fact I point out," Thompson said, "is that it appears to me that they didn't want to see our order held valid when today there is in Austin the matter of pipe line divorcement and in Washington the request on the part of certain people for an oil dictator to wrest from the people control of this great natural resource and place it away off yonder in Washington, where distance makes our problems hazy."

"This action today makes the sixth time that the present order has been an issue in the court, and each time the people and the railroad commission have come off victorious."

"We don't want any oil dictator. The very idea is obnoxious to a free people. The purpose of a dictatorship is not conservation. The purpose is to allow oil to be brought into our country from Venezuela to the tune of 162,000 barrels a day and, further, to permit certain big oil companies to correct a merchant's mistake which they made when they thought oil was going to play out in America and to buy 800,000,000 barrels overground—oil which they paid $3.50 a barrel for. They are trying to keep Texas oil in the ground so they can keep up the inventories on this high-priced stored oil, with insurance and storage charges added."

Should Be Cheap.

"The people of Texas are entitled to cheap gasoline, made from Texas oil, based on a fair price for crude. The price of gasoline should not be fixed by this $3.50 oil in storage. The big oil companies should face the situation squarely and sell gasoline on the basis of the present price."

"Gasoline should drop to correspond to the price of crude. All agree that there is no justification for the punitive price put on crude."

Cattle Sale To Be Held During Fall at Canadian

At a directors' meeting of the Northeast Panhandle Feeders association held at Canadian May 6, it was voted to lend all possible assistance to a group of cattle raisers in holding a sale of pure bred cattle in connection with the association's third annual fall auction sale of high grade Panhandle feeder cattle.

M. W. McIntyre, secretary of the association, was authorized to meet with a committee of pure bred breeders composed of R. T. Alexander, C. A. Studer, and M. H. Smith.

A tentative date was set for early in October for the sale. At the sale held last fall, several hundred cattlemen were present, making possible a wonderful outlet for registered bulls.

Wash lettuce thoroughly while dripping place in a tightly covered jar or pail. Store in a very cold place. The lettuce will remain crisp for several days and can be used when desired.

H. B. Jones Jr., of Amarillo was a visitor here today.

because of the action of the railroad commission of Texas in refusing to follow the dictates of those who would limit Texas production to 800,000 barrels for the entire state. "The whole problem will be settled when the legislature of Texas follows the advice of our great president of the United States when he said that pipe lines should be divorced from the business of producing oil. This was contained in his letter to the governors of the 17 oil-producing states. As usual, our president hit the nail on the head."

"We would not think of letting the railroads own coal mines and transport their coal over their roads and then sell that coal at retail yards of their own over the nation. That source of monopolistic control in that line was stopped years ago."

"We would not tolerate the packers selling meat at retail. That practice was stopped several years ago. Now, the next clear call to duty is to break up the oil monopoly which prevails from wells where oil is produced to filling stations in every hamlet in Texas."

Russian Steamer Carries Crew of Twenty to Bottom

LONGYEAR CITY, Spitzbergen, May 9. (AP)—The story of a shipwreck in which a gale-hammered Russian steamer carried 20 sailors to the bottom of the Arctic was told today.

"A last farewell to everybody, we are sinking," said a message flashed by the salvage vessel Rouslan, a craft of 200 tons, before she plunged to the bottom off South Cape, Spitzbergen, several hundred miles north of the Arctic circle.

The ship sank near the end of April, but details of the disaster were lacking until a party of Norwegian returned from a visit to the Soviet colony at Barentsburg, in the Spitzbergen archipelago. The wireless farewell was picked up at Barentsburg.

The Russian was towing the Soviet icebreaker Malugin from Spitzbergen where it had been stranded in pack ice. A tremendous gale on April 24 separated the ships; the Malugin was blown on to the ice and the Rouslan sprang a leak.

When she sank a sealing vessel picked up the first and second officer and another man, who has since died. One of the survivors was sent a message asking that his letters and photographs at Barentsburg be sent to his wife.

Shark Fishing Is Also Planned For Texas Coast

GALVESTON, May 9. (AP)—Local fishermen are said to be seeking to get promoters of a new industry now being developed on the Florida coast to come here also.

The industry is the utilization of shark liver oil for medical purposes. Cornell university scientists have discovered that shark liver oil is rich in vitamins A and D, and when concentrated by a certain process has a higher therapeutic value than cod liver oil.

Sharks in considerable numbers are found in the waters near Galveston, and fishermen here believe catching them would serve the purpose of destroying an enemy of edible fish, as well as adding to their income.

Magnolia Posts Lower Oil Price Only 8 Per Cent Slump in Demand For Carbon Black

DALLAS, May 9. (AP)—The Magnolia Petroleum company, effective at 7 a. m. today, posted reductions from 7 to 20 cents for oil in all Texas fields except East Texas.

In the Panhandle district, a price of 20 cents was posted an average decrease of 15 cents and change from gravity basis to flat price. In Carson and Hutchinson counties, the same change was made with an average decrease of 7 cents.

The reductions met lower prices posted by other purchasing companies last week.

AMARILLO, May 9. (AP)—The demand for carbon black has not slumped more than 8 per cent from the peak of consumption, said H. W. Huber of New York on a recent visit to inspect properties in the Panhandle field.

"That is why carbon black plants in the Panhandle have never shut down at any time during the economic slump," Huber said.

He said that 70 per cent of the world's carbon black was produced in the Panhandle. It is used in the manufacture of rubber, printing ink, paints, photographic records, and shoe and stove polish.

The Huber family has figured prominently in the development of colors, pigments, printer's ink, and carbon black.

Maine Town Almost Wiped Out By Fire

ELLSWORTH, Me., May 9. (AP)—Ellsworth counted its fire loss today at close to $3,000,000 and 400 persons homeless, the result of fast spreading flames which racing before a high wind last night destroyed more than 50 stores and shops in the center of the business district, and residences conservatively estimated to number more than 100.

Mayor Harold V. Moore said today he had no doubt but that the property damage would approach $3,000,000.

Cramps and Pains In Side and Back

"I had suffered with cramping and pain in my sides and back," writes Mrs. J. V. Boutique of Goumes, La. "I was so weak I could hardly walk. Cardui seemed to build me up, and after about twelve bottles I was better and stronger than I had been in years."

WASHINGTON, May 9. (AP)—House approval of additional economy powers for President Roosevelt, under which he could cancel air and ocean mail contracts, among other things, was assured today with adoption of a resolution attaching the legislation to a bill appropriating $355,000,000 for Federal independent offices.

Truckloads also came from Virginia and West Virginia.

The Bates girl was one of two white women who testified that they had been attacked by a group of negroes on a freight train in Alabama. She changed her testimony in a retrial of the case recently and said she had made the previous complaint because she feared for her life.

WOMEN'S PLEA TO RETAIN COUNTY H. D. AGENT IS GRANTED Sponsoring Club To Give Third Series Music Week Programs This Evening

COURT AGT TO SUSPEND WORK IS RESSCINDED

PETITIONS PRESENTED BY RURAL AND CITY WOMEN

GRAY county home demonstration club members, striving to keep abreast of the times socially, culturally, and in home-making, are very articulate in explaining why their work, directed by the demonstration agent, should be continued.

A recent action of the county commissioners suspending the services of Miss Ruby Adams, home demonstration agent, was rescinded yesterday afternoon after 36 women appeared before the commissioners.

After the women filed into the courtroom, Mrs. C. V. Talley presided. "We appreciate your cooperation in the past and seek it for the future," she began. She briefly outlined the desires of Gray county rural women to better themselves and to help their families through hard times.

She told the commissioners that there were ten home demonstration clubs organized and four others (Grandview, McLean 2, Davis) asking to be organized. Sixty-five girls are in clubs and fifteen girls at the Webb community have asked the privilege of enlisting.

Speaks For Women. Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, president of the Pampa City Council of Clubs, spoke on the work, pointing out that in food conservation, balanced dieting and improving their homes the rural women were doing work of vast importance.

Mrs. Katie Vincent of the Civic Culture club told of having been in a home demonstration club and of how the agent through transmission of new ideas could help women to better themselves and their families.

WOMEN MADE HAPPY. The deciding vote was signalled by a burst of hand-claps, then the women shook hands with all members of the court and Mrs. W. D. Benton invited all of them and Olin E. Hinkle, who was present, to attend a chicken barbecue at the Joe Lewis place next Friday.

LARGE NUMBER PUPILS APPEAR IN HOUSTON P. T. A. PROGRAM

COUNTY AGENT

The Pampa A. A. U. W. spoke similarly. The next speaker was Mrs. A. B. Goldston, representing the Arno Art Club and Junior 20th Century club. She stressed the welfare angle of the work. Mrs. Clyde Fatheree of the Garden club pointed out the yard beautification projects of the rural groups. Mrs. Hunkapillar then presented petitions showing that Pampa women, while not members of home demonstration clubs, believe strongly in the movement.

Reach Most Homes. Mrs. G. P. Bradbury of the Bell community told of home demonstration club expansion from 50 per cent to 79 per cent of Gray county rural homes in the last 2 years. Moreover, she added that members of the clubs by helping non-member neighbors were stretching still further the $1,280 which the county contributes to the program.

Mrs. J. H. Smith, pantry demonstrator for the Merten club last year and now president, told of how Gray county women last year canned 48,556 quarts of food and cured much more, with a total estimated value of $41,888.91. "That's how your money is coming back to you," she told the commissioners. "The average family conserved food valued at $248 to 'live at home.'"

Oil Folk Want Work. From the Busy Bee club came Mrs. W. D. Champion to point out that the oil interests pay 75 per cent of the taxes in Gray county. She said the oil people felt they were bona fide citizens and entitled to home demonstration work for the purpose of educational, cultural, and social benefits.

Mrs. O. G. Smith pointed to hook-ups of which members of the clubs have made more than 100. She also showed an exhibit of cheese and spoke of balanced diets for rural families. With two bottles of pickles, she showed the old way and the new of canning—the new being incomparably more appetizing in appearance. She added that the women had saved their families many hundreds of dollars through clothing work.

Mrs. C. T. O'Neal of McLean, frequent winner of home demonstration contest prizes, told of her five years in the work and of how a daughter won a $300 college scholarship in a statewide contest. Mrs. Frank McAfee of the Davis community, who was accompanied by Mrs. Dede Davis, presented a petition asking continuance of the agent on behalf of those who wished to form a club.

Miss Lucile Rice of McLean said the clubs followed the Biblical injunction to "gather up the fragments." She told of clothes closets filled with garments made by the women and girls. Mrs. C. A. Tignor, who has a statewide reputation for her work cited the high rank women of the county hold in the extension program.

Women were present from Lake, Bell, Merten, Busy Bee, McLean, Priscilla, Davis, Kingsmill, and Back communities. Earlier in the day a committee from the Kiwanis club composed of Lewis O. Cox, Pan McGee, Guy E. McTague, and Alex Schneider had appeared before the commissioners to urge continuance of the agent.

Before the question was opened for a vote of the commissioners, Judge Cary told the women that "you who are in this work and know its benefits have been silent while a number of non-participants had led county commissioners to believe that the agent could be suspended as a matter of economy without doing serious harm to your activities." Miss Minnie Mae Grubbs of College Station, district agent, was here yesterday in conference with the women and with the commissioners.

Hitler Foe Ends Life in Suicide

KIEL, Germany, May 9. (AP)—A rousing speech by Chancellor Hitler before 30,000 Nazi storm troopers, and the suicide of Dr. Ernst Oberfohren, nationalist floor leader of the Reichstag, drew attention today to this city.

Only a few hours before Hitler appeared before the Nazis last night, Dr. Oberfohren took his life in another part of the northern city. The nationalist, whose party is allied with Hitler's national socialists in the new government, was accused recently of plotting a monarchist push.

BERLIN, May 9. (AP)—Ernst Katz and Frau Katz, son-in-law and daughter of former Chancellor Schneidemann, socialist leader, were among a number of prominent persons who committed suicide in Germany over the week-end.

Former Mayor Vombrough of Leer, Doctor Goesser, official of a Stuttgart milk company, and Nelly Neppachs, former German tennis champion, were others. The latter suicide was attributed to ill health.

Bobby Campbell Wins New Bike

The second winner in the Gray County Creamery Speed-o-Byke contest was Bobby Campbell, 214 N. Starkweather. There are about 60 boys competing in this contest and the running is rather even. There were 16 new entrants last Saturday.

Mrs. Henry Gerhard says there are four more weeks in the Speed-o-Byke contest and still time to enter and win. Most of each Saturday is needed to count the votes.

the WORLD of STAMPS

By QUINTON JAMES LaPlata, founded by the government to become one of the great metropolises of Argentina, has never attained the prominence dreamed for it. Nevertheless, its fiftieth anniversary has been celebrated by the issuance of a commemorative set.

The 3-centavo picture the portrait of former President Roca, the 15-centavo shows the municipal palace, the 20-centavo picture the cathedral and the 30-centavo bears the portrait of Dr. Dardo Rocha.

EMBATTLED DERBY JOCKEYS FOUND GUILTY--SUSPENDED FOR THIRTY DAYS

MOVIES SHOW PAIR ENGAGED IN ENCOUNTER

EACH TRIED TO RETARD PROGRESS OF OTHER HORSE IN RACE

BALTIMORE, May 9.—The suspension of Don Meade for action during his ride of E. R. Bradley's Broker's Tip to victory in the Kentucky derby caused considerable speculation around the Pimlico track as to the jockey who will be up on the colt in the preakness Saturday.

Meade and Herb Fischer, rider of Head Play, were set down at Churchill Downs yesterday, each for 30 days for being guilty of grasping the equipment of the other during the derby and Fischer an additional five days for striking Meade after the race.

William Hurley, trainer for W. R. Coe's horses, said Ladyman, the derby favorite, is fourth, and Pomponious, came out of last Saturday's race in good shape.

SPORTS WRITERS PREDICTIONS THUS FAR PROVE HALF-RIGHT

Right on Steers' Pitchers And Wrong on Ft. Worth And Galveston. By BILL PARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer.

When the Houston Buffaloes rambaged on the winning streak that swept them into first place, Manager Carey Selph was the bell-wether of the drive.

After being released by the Dallas Steers, outfielder Tex Jeanes joined an amateur Fort Worth nine and tried to pitch.

Manager Art Griggs acquired Hooks, first basemen, after Manager Walter Holke had released him at Fort Worth.

So far the sports writers' predictions that Fort Worth would win the pennant have not seemed justified; but they have consolation in the fact they picked San Antonio for a first division berth.

Another big boxing show has been arranged for tomorrow night at the Pla-Mor auditorium, when Allen Whitlow and Frankie Karr meet in the 10-round main event and James Bradley and Joe Vernon box a return engagement, this time only six rounds.

Whitlow expected to leave here last week but he may get a chance to meet Freddy Miller, flyweight champion of the world, in Tucson, Ariz., and he is waiting for definite word. The bout would be non-title as Whitlow would be unable to make the weight for Miller.

The Fort Worth wildcat has been seen in action before and fans already know the way he fights. It should be a case of two aggressive boxers meeting and the result will be known after the fight.

PITCHER HUNTING FOR NEW 'WEAKNESS' OF ZEKE BONURA

Steers Clouter Has Learned To Smack Outside Curves With Fine Results.

By BILL PARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer. Bonura's Weakness. In the April 24 game at Dallas between the Steers and the Oklahoma City Indians, Bus Hamm, sports writer of the Daily Oklahoman, was hoping the Indians would beat the Steers and break a losing streak.

Hardly had the game started before Zeke Bonura, Dallas first baseman, connected with a fast inside pitch and knocked it into the left-field bleachers for his fourth home run of the season.

Hamm watched the ball sail out of the playing field and, turning to another sports writer in the press box, said: "You know what—if I was pitching to Bonura I would curve him low and outside. That's his weakness."

Zeke started off fielding well and left nothing to be desired in that department, but he could not hit that outside curve. Texas league pitchers almost drove him insane the first month.

Vol. 2 PAMPA HIGH SCHOOL, MAY 9, 1933 NO. 51

ASSEMBLY IS CONDUCTED BY SENIOR CLASS

FIFTEEN INSTALLED AS MEMBERS OF HONOR SOCIETY

SENIOR Class Day was observed this morning at the high school in the last assembly of the year. All 116 candidates for graduation took part in the exercises, which included a take-off on a senior's day in school and the installation of new members of the National Honor Society.

In a simple effective candle lighting ceremony ten seniors and five juniors were installed as members of the National Honor Society and were presented with the insignia of the organization. Harry Marbaugh, president of the high school P. T. A. Charles Frost, president of the local chapter, was in charge of the ceremony and was assisted by George Keahey, representing Scholarship; Clinton Evans, representing Leadership; Barton Doucette, representing Character; and Reed Clarke, representing Service. Those initiated were Josephine Lane, Loraine Noel, Dorothy Harris, Sue Dodson, and Samuel Sternis, Juniors; and Anna Mae Flesher, Yvonne Kees, Mildred Holt, Gladis McCallister, Margaret Beck, Wayne Hutchens, Louise Walstad, Iris Gillis, Fred Johnson, and Leo Stark, seniors. Old members other than those named who took part in the ceremony were Myrtle Faye Gilbert, Yvonne Stein, and Opal Deason.

The Class Day program proved to be a take-off on a senior's day at school. It opened in the principal's office with the teachers complaining about losing so much time from classes, only to be interrupted by the seniors' request for the day off for Class Day. Being refused that, they decided to follow the registration suggestion and take their guests, who had already been invited, to visit the various classes. In the public speaking class they heard a story of seniors who had escaped the "bumbers" marks and a tribute to the teachers. An account of the class' activities for the four years of high school was given in the history class. The commercial law class worked out a legal will for the class and its members, and the English class dramatized a scene from "Macbeth." The three who were winning up a charm from the senior memories, out of which the Snoopless Snooper got a prophecy. The last hour represented various school activities, particularly the sports. The program closed with the seniors' singing the Alma Mater, "Dear Old Pampa High School."

The program was in charge of Miss May, Miss McFarlin, and Mr. Workman, senior sponsors, and Miss Schulky, director of the National Honor Society.

Examiner Says Sooner Banker Mailed Threat

ALTUS, Okla., May 9. (AP)—Testimony that J. H. Brock, headrick bank president, told him a week before the slaying of W. C. Ernest, a state bank examiner, that the world "kill any man who closes my bank," was given in Brock's murder trial today by State Bank Commissioner W. J. Barnett.
Ernest was shot to death March 24 during an examination of Brock's bank, the Citizens State at Headrick.
Soon after Barnett's statement, state's attorneys gained admission into evidence of a photostatic copy of a threatening letter which prosecutors claim Brock wrote to L. J. Davis, Texas state bank examiner at Marlin, Texas.
Barnett and three of his assistants identified the handwriting of the letter as that of Brock. The witnesses said the letter, written four days before Ernest was shot, was a result of trouble between Davis and Brock at the time the latter was a banker at Walnut Springs, Texas.
The state rested at noon.

Insanity Issue Introduced In 'Honor Slaying'

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 9. (AP)—The world war discharge of Percy Merrick was introduced today by the defense in an effort to prove that the garage man was temporarily insane when he killed Henry Downs, Denver basketball player, the day after Downs allegedly was surprised in Mrs. Merrick's bedroom.
The high point of the murder trial was expected to be reached this afternoon with Mrs. Merrick scheduled to describe what took place on the night of April 14, when she allegedly was attacked by the athlete.
Dr. E. A. Werner, mental specialist, read from war department records that Merrick was discharged less than two months after he was drafted, because of a "constitutional psychopathic state and emotional insanity."
On cross-examination of Sanders Merrick, Percy's brother, the state attempted to show it would have been possible for Downs to have gone to Mrs. Merrick's bedroom by mistake while groping through a dim corridor in a strange house.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, May 9. (AP)—Stock prices were unable to overcome the weakness of grains today and consequently milled about in a highly haphazard fashion. A mild rally of foreign exchanges against the American dollar apparently had little rejuvenating effect. The close was about steady. Transfers approximated 2,400,000 shares.

HOUSE PASSES BILL TO CUT STATE DEPARTMENTS 139 TO 19

WAGERING ON HORSE RACES IS PROVIDED CERTIFICATE SYSTEM IS LEGALIZED IN RIDER

AUSTIN, May 9. (AP)—The Texas legislature reached the 120th day of its regular session today, showing little disposition to set a date for final adjournment.

After today, however, members will go on half pay of $5 per day.

Passage of the two remaining major appropriation bills would remove one of the obstacles to adjournment. One of them, the departmental, has been agreed upon in free conference and probably will be presented to the legislature Thursday. The other, the educational, was expected to be completed by the end of the week.

The house yesterday sent to the senate a bill to reorganize the state government by reducing the number of departmental divisions from 139 to 19. The bill received sufficient votes in the house to become operative at once if passed by a two-thirds vote in the senate and signed by the governor.

Sponsors were hopeful that it could be brought up in the senate before adjournment, confident that it would be passed.

The bill was drafted by a special legislative committee appointed by the 42nd legislature to investigate state departments and make recommendations for increasing their efficiency and reducing their expense.

Representative Harry N. Graves of Georgetown estimated the plan would effect an immediate saving of several million dollars annually and that this amount would be increased as the departments adapted themselves to the changes.

A rider was placed on the departmental appropriation bill by the free conference committee that would legalize the certificate system of wagering on horse races.

A bill to legalize the pari-mutuel system of wagering was defeated in the house several weeks ago and a stern fight on the rider was anticipated.

The rider was attached to the appropriation for the agricultural department. Part of the taxes levied against horse races would be used to promote breeding of thoroughbred stock.

Establishment of a racing commission, to be composed of the agricultural commissioner, tax commissioner and one to be appointed by the governor, was proposed.

Barney Berlinger, victor over Olympic Champion Jarring Jim Bausch in the Knights of Columbus indoor games, will have another chance to compete against the Art Shires of the track game July 4 and 5 in the National A. A. U. title games at Chicago. Berlinger is in training. He wants to win the American championship. The two lads are a little bit alike.

Berlinger can give himself an orchid with aplomb. He says he wants to establish himself definitely as the foremost athlete in the world. Barney traveled 23,000 miles in a tour of South Africa in 1931 and gave up the idea of competing in the Olympics because he was all "tracked up" after returning to Philly.

Cotton Orders Are Requested at Once Wheat farmers in the Pampa area who wish to plant a little cotton may obtain the seed from Roy Bourland at the B & B service station but their applications should be placed in advance.

Since no profit is being made in handling the cotton seed, it is necessary to place orders only on demand. To obtain the best graded and acclimated seed, immediate orders are advisable. Mr. Bourland said.

HOOKS and SLIDES by WILLIAM BRAUCHER

Making It Snappy: There was something cruel about that statement of Prexy Bill Veck's regarding Hornby when Bill told Grimm and Hartnett not to mingle with Hornby. "another washed up ball player." The transfer of George Uhle to the New York Giants brings to mind that there are so many former American leaguers getting by in the National league that the dear old National is being rated as the best of the minor leagues.

And One Kelly: The Oakland team of the Pacific Coast league is an All-America outfit. Here are some of the names: Malho, Uhalt, Anton, Pool, Wera, Raimondi, Kintana, Chosen, Joiner, Ludolph, Phebus, Salines, Hemenway, Glaister, Lavago, and oh, yes, Scott and Kelly, utility men.

Alleged Slayer Given 99 Years

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., May 9. (AP)—Judge Leonard E. Telleen today found Maurice Meyer guilty of the murder of Rose Gendler and sentenced him to 99 years in prison.

Judge Telleen heard the case without a jury and has had it under advisement since May 3.

The defense based its case on the claim of Meyer that the girl, whose body was found on the ice in Rock river last December, had been fatally injured in a fall at his cleaning plant in Moline, where he had taken her to see a picture of his niece.

Falling in his efforts to revive the girl after the fall, Meyer testified that he became panic stricken, and fearing that he would be charged with her death, he bound and gagged her and trussed her body into a gunny sack and dropped it off the bridge over Rock river near Moline.

Sister MARY'S KITCHEN

By SISTER MARY

Table linens and damasks seem more beautiful this year than ever before and since the life-long beauty of all linens is dependent on its care, perhaps a few suggestions regarding the laundering of linen will be helpful.

Correct methods of washing and ironing are vastly important. Careless handling and harsh soap solutions are often responsible for lusterless linens. Strong alkali soaps and bleaching mixtures destroy the natural luster of linen and the heavy satin texture of damask.

Choose a pure mild soap and wash linens in heavy suds, squeezing the sudsy water through the fabric rather than rubbing. Few laundresses realize that rubbing roughens the fine fiber and shortens the life of all linens. Linen naturally washes easily since it does not hold the dirt in the obstinate fashion characteristic of cotton.

Be Careful With Bluing

Use very little bluing in the last rinse water for linens. Linen absorbs bluing much more readily than do cotton fabrics. Be sure all linens are thoroughly rinsed before putting them in the bluing water.

Never starch linen. This applies to all household linens—table, bed linen and towels. Linen possesses a natural sheen and body that does not require the addition of starch. Many women make the mistake of not ironing their damask dry enough and not having it damp enough to begin with. Too hot an iron is another common fault. It takes time, patience and delight in the finished article to iron damask.

Egg stains should be washed in cold water until they completely disappear.

To remove coffee stains, stretch linen over a bowl and pour boiling water through it. For tea stains, first pour on glycerine and then pour boiling water through the stain.

Rust spots are easily removed by moistening the spot with lemon juice and covering with table salt. Let dry in the sun.
